Designing from scratch and evaluating to improve

1. Draw a boundary between the form and context.
2. Identify forces that make demands on the form.
3. Resolve related forces into diagrams.
4. Place the built form into context and look for misfits.