Worship With Us this Sunday, August 10

Worship with us at 10am this Sunday! Join us here at PUCC or on YouTube Live here (@parkwayuccstl)... or participate later on YouTube or find a link on our Facebook page – parkwayunitedchurchofchrist. [Click here for a short video highlighting the steps for how to watch the Worship Service through YouTube.]

We will read Isaiah 1:16-20 – a very consistent call/invitation to be willing and obedient to God's dream that we would do good: seek justice, rescue the oppressed, defend the orphan, plead for the widow.

Our gospel lesson from Luke 12:32-40 reminds us to be confident and assured, not fearful, as we stay alert to the opportunities to serve. We need to be ready to act. We are already equipped.

Worship bulletin here! please double check the link. Can also find on church website.

Songs include: Sanctuary; Breathe on Me, Breath of God; Spirit of the Living God; Jesus Loves Me; Make Me A Servant; Sweet Hour of Prayer; I'm Gonna Live So God Can Use Me

Meet Our New Nursery Childcare Providers: Katie & Kara!

The Childcare Provider Search Committee is thrilled to announce that our nursery will soon be staffed by two wonderful new caregivers—Katie and Kara—beginning Sunday, August 17!

Katie comes to us with childcare experience at both the JCC and the YMCA. Her gentle spirit and deep care for children were evident in her interview and echoed by her references. She's CPR certified and holds an associate's degree from the University of Missouri–St. Louis.

Kara brings a rich background in education and childcare, including work with TLC Family Care, KinderCare, and Rockwood School District. A mom of four and licensed foster parent, she is passionate about child-led care and is excited to thoughtfully incorporate Christian curriculum in the nursery. Kara is also CPR certified and holds a Master's in Secondary Education.

We're in the onboarding process with them now, and we are excited for the gifts Katie and Kara bring to this ministry and are confident they'll be a blessing to our youngest members, their families and all of us!

WELCOME, KATIE and KARA!

Nursery Sunday Hours

Besides during worship, the Nursery is also open before worship from 9:00–10:00am and after worship from 11:15am–12:15pm (on Sundays when we have a Speaker Series or other need for extended care) for infants and kids through 5th grade. There will be a Speaker Series event this Sunday, so if you're a parent, the nursery will be open for your kids if you want to attend that. We got you covered!

Parkway Inquirers Getting to Know PUCC—and Being Known

Tuesday, August 26 | 6:30-7:45pm | Heritage Room

Inquirer: someone who wants to know more about Parkway UCC. The next PARKWAY UCC Inquirers' Gathering will be a dessert night Tuesday, August 26 from 6:30-7:45pm in the Heritage Room. Our goals for that evening include:

- Getting to know one another a bit more
- Describing Parkway's worship, outreach, education, leadership, fellowship
- Taking a look at our denomination, the United Church of Christ
- Sharing ideas about the exciting future of Parkway UCC
- Soliciting your thoughts on how we can be a more welcoming and inviting community of faith
- Discussing some key issues of faith
- Answering any of your questions

You will find our time together meaningful and informative. Some churches call this sort of gathering a New Members Class - we do not. While we do know that there are a number of visitors who have expressed interest in becoming members of the church, we do not assume that Inquirers are seeking membership. We just want to be hospitable, get to know you and have the chance to express gratitude for your presence among us. Childcare is available that evening if requested ahead of time. Please let us know if you are planning to be with us! Contact kevin@parkwayucc.org for more info.

Other PUCC News Around the Bend

August 2025 Alzheimer's News

There are a lot of non-visible or hidden disabilities. Some of these conditions or chronic illnesses are not immediately obvious to others. For some people, this can make it hard to understand and believe that someone, with a "non-visible" condition genuinely needs support. Some people question whether you have a disability because you do not look "like you have a disability." That is why the Alzheimer's Association created the "Hidden Disabilities Sunflower" – to encourage inclusivity, acceptance and understanding. It is a simple tool for you to share that you have a hidden disability voluntarily. Simply by wearing the Sunflower, you are just letting everyone know that you might need extra help, understanding or just more time. Without a visual cue, it can be difficult for others to identify, acknowledge, or understand the daily barriers faced by people living with an invisible disability. We searched for a discreet sign that is clearly visible from a distance as well as being distinctive, joyful, and dynamic. We chose a sunflower as it suggests happiness, positivity, strength as well as growth and confidence and is universally known. Since its launch in 2016, businesses from every sector have been joining the global Sunflower network-ranging from retail, travel and tourism, transport including over 300 airports-as well as railway networks, coach and bus services and ferries, education, healthcare, central and local government agencies to football teams, theme parks, theaters, and financial institutions. The Sunflower has now been launched in Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, Ireland, Latin America, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the UK the UAE and the USA. Find out where it is known near you by going to hdsunflower.com/us/find-the-sunflower.

For more details on current and future Alzheimer's research, visit alz.org/Research You can learn more by going to www.alz.org/help-support/resources or the Alzheimer's Helpline which is accessible 24/7 via 800-272-3900 and staffed by master's level clinicians to assist with crisis situations, decision making, and disease information. Tools and support are also available in Spanish.

Something to Ponder

Valarie Kaur describes how the Sikh faith teaches the difference between rage stirred from personal frustration and rage that fights against injustice:

In the Sikh tradition, rage, or krodh, is one of the five thieves, a destructive impulse that can hijack who we want to be. Krodh is often paired with the word kaam, which refers to unhealthy desire. Kaam krodh suggests that vengeful wrath is tied to desire: When the world denies what we want, rage rises in us. Guru Nanak calls it a corrosive salt that destroys the gold in us. At the same time, Guru Nanak spoke in fiery language against injustice. Rage, when consciously harnessed, is a force that connects us with our power to fight for others, and for ourselves.

Kaur suggests:
When we bottle up our rage, it can go in two different places. One is to go inward, and that leads to all of the damage it can wreak inside of our nervous systems, our psychological health, our spiritual health. We're basically severing ourselves off from parts of our own hearts. We make ourselves sick. That is what so many women in particular have been forced to do in this culture. The other direction it can go is out to explode, creating harm, creating violence, the rage that drives the hatred and cruelty. We only have to look at the headlines to see what world that creates.

My invitation is to honor our rage, to name it, to find safe containers to process it, because it's also a way that we love ourselves. In Sikh wisdom, the very heart of the Sikh cosmic vision is Ik Onkar, oneness ever unfolding. It’s an invitation to look at anyone or anything and say, “You are a part of me I do not yet know.” Separateness is an illusion….

The true nature of reality is that we are one, but that oneness is both inward and outward. My invitation to see no stranger also begins within. ‘Oh, my pain! Oh, my shame! Oh, my rage! You are a part of me I do not yet know. Instead of banishing you or exiling you or suppressing you, can I be curious about you? Can I love you like a mother would?’

Even the hardest, potentially most shameful parts of ourselves have the potential to give us insight for healing, growth, and transformation. The more we are able to build our capacity to love all parts of ourselves, the deeper our capacity to love all parts of the world around us, the beloved within and without. That is the shift in consciousness and culture that I believe we desperately need in order to birth a new world, a way of seeing, a way of being that leaves no one outside of our circle of care. What we need is a revolution of the heart. This is why I believe revolutionary love is the call of our times.
