Join Rachel Fesperman (UNC '12) for an interactive gallery talk on works by seven contemporary artists featured in the Ackland's exhibition New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011. The tour will focus on each artist's visual language and the aesthetic possibilities these represent.

Free

Slam Poetry Workshop with Sacrificial Poets

RSVP NOW!

Saturday, April 30
1:00 – 4:00 PM

The Ackland welcomes back nationally-recognized and award-winning local organization Sacrificial Poets. Come explore the art of spoken word "slam" poetry and delve into both writing and performance techniques that will help you take your art from the page to the stage.

Sacrificial Poets's mission is to inspire, foster, and promote artistic expression, personal growth, and social justice for youth in our collective communities through the use of the spoken and written word.

Teens and adults may register by contacting Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

IN THE GALLERIES:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

April 28
Out of the Studio: Sacrificial Poets
6:00 PM

April 30
Art-Ventures for Kids
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

April 30

Free to High School students / $25 Ackland members / $30 non-members.

Ackland Art Museum Spring Luncheon

Tickets Still Available!

Thursday, May 5
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM
The Carolina Inn

Held in conjunction with the Ackland's annual Master of Fine Arts exhibition: New Currents in Contemporary Art
15 April - 8 May 2011

Guest Speaker: Jeff Whetstone
Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies, Studio Art
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Hosted by The Friends of the Ackland
Single Tickets: $50

Following lunch, guests are invited to the Ackland to view the exhibition.
MFA students will be available in the galleries to talk about their work.

For ticket information,
email Pat Hall or call 919.843.3676.

Slam Poetry Workshop: with Sacrificial Poets
1:00 - 4:00 PM

April 30
Art Now/Cinema Now:
Lessons of Darkness
7:00 PM

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as JEN321@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29040678-5774387.1df4eaa86822fcf7c7763439288ee70d@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Lydia Anne McCarthy, Untitled, 2010, Digital C-print.

From: Center for Global Initiatives <cgi@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 1:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: CGI eBulletin: Carolina Papers, Kick for Kibera

April 19, 2011

Carolina Papers Collection

Deadline: Rolling
Promote your scholarship in the field of Democracy and Human Rights, International Development or International Health. Submit your m! asters thesis for inclusion in the Carolina Papers.

The series is interdisciplinary and accepts work from diverse fields, including Business, Education, Health Affairs, Humanities, Information Science, Law, and Social Science.

Who is eligible to submit their master's thesis? Any UNC graduate student who has successfully defended it. For more information, please contact Dr. Niklaus Steiner (nsteiner@unc.edu).

OUR EVENTS+RESOURCES

Kick for Kibera - CFK Soccer Clinic

Registration Deadline: Wednesday, April 20
Event: Saturday, April 23

Join players from UNC Women's Soccer for the 2011 Kick for Kibera Clinic! Participants will learn valuable soccer skills from top-level players as well as how Carolina for Kibera uses soccer to promote cross cultural understanding among youth in Kibera, the largest slum in East Africa.

Who: Girls of any skill level, ages 6-16
When and Where: Saturday, April 23rd, 2011 12:30-4pm at Eddie Smith Field House, UNC Campus
Cost: $40 per individual player, $30 per player for groups/families. Please inquire about team discounts! All proceeds benefit to Carolina for Kibera's Sports Association.
Register online: http://bit.ly/kickforkibera
Registration Deadline Extended to April 20th
Questions? Email soccerclinic@carolinaforkibera.org

International Coffee Hour

Tuesday, May 3
5:00 - 6:00 PM
4003 FedEx Global Education Center
Join us for a monthly social hour for international and American students, scholars, faculty, staff and families. Chat about resources, opportunities and

AWARDS+ FELLOWSHIPS

Matching Funds
Deadline: Ongoing

Conference Awards
Deadline: Ongoing

Student Research Circles
Deadline: Ongoing

Faculty Working Groups
Deadline: Ongoing

OTHER OPPORTUNITIES

International Development

challenges on campus. Each month is hosted by a different office with excellent resources to offer. May's host is the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs!

CGI Internship Openings

Get valuable professional experience relevant to Communications & Multimedia work, Non-profit & Grants Management, Event Planning, or developing community Business Partnerships. Excellent fit for students interested in global studies or internationally-focused careers and issues. Get the full details here and apply by August 25, 2011 for priority consideration.

Certificate

Deadline: Ongoing

Global Music Show

Post-War German and Krautrock Music
Wednesday April 27 9:00 - 10:00pm
WXYC 89.3FM or listen online at http://wxyc.org.

GLOBAL EVENTS + ANNOUNCEMENTS

Grants Available to NC Community College Faculty

Deadline: April 21
In collaboration with UNC and Duke's National Resource Centers, World View is facilitating grants to NC community college educators to create modules to internationalize coursework. Over 40 grants of $750 have been awarded to support module creation and travel to UNC-Chapel Hill for research in cosultation with librarians and faculty arranged by World View.

The Center for Global Initiatives is happy to support applications for any area of the world or a combination of several areas or countries.

Call for abstracts for 2011 Water and Health Conference

Presentation & Poster submission deadline: April 30
Conference: October 3-7 at UNC Chapel Hill
Join individuals and experts from academia, industry, NGOs, government and foundations to deal with critical concerns in water and health relevant to both the developing and developed worlds.

Center for Global Initiatives
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
FedEx Global Education Center
301 Pittsboro Street | Campus Box 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145
919 962 3094 | cgi@unc.edu

The Center for Global Initiatives is a catalyst for the innovative work of faculty and students at the University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill. It is entrepreneurial and nimble in its approach to fostering initiatives that deepen knowledge and understanding of our complex world. For its work, the Center is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as one of only eleven National Resource Centers in Global Studies.

This message was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu from:

Bevin Tighe | 301 Pittsboro Street Suite 3002 | CB 5145 | Chapel Hill, NC 27599

Email Marketing by iContact try it free

Manage Your Subscription

View this message in the iContact Community: View message Comment on this message Receive as RSS
Share this message with others: del.icio.us Digg reddit Facebook StumbleUpon

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 1:33 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Textbook Order Reminder!
Attach: Fall 2011 Textbook Submission Report_Through_April_15_2011.xls; Guaranteed Buyback Program Participants_Fall2011.doc

---

Dear Colleagues,

Just a friendly reminder to order your textbooks, or fill out a simple "No Text" form for Fall 2011 classes. This is important and helps assure that our students get cheaper prices on books!

Orders can be placed in one of 5 easy ways:

1) Use the Student Stores website: http://www.store.unc.edu

2) Fax your order to: (919) 962-3334

3) Email the Textbook Office textbook@unc.edu, or

George Morgan gfmorgan@store.unc.edu
Frank Bellamy fbellamy@email.unc.edu

4) Send your order by campus mail to the Course Materials Department at Campus Box #1530

5) Stop by the Textbook Office, 3rd floor, Student Stores

Thanks,
Travis

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29041188

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29041188-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1
2	Fall 2011 UNC Student Stores Due Date: March 25, 2011
3	GA's On-time Date: April 29, 2011								After Due Date
4
5							Courses with		Courses	No Text	Total #	Courses	Total %	Total
6				Courses#	On-time#		no information		added / cancelled	notification	Courses	ordering	Courses	courses
7	Dept	Courses#	No Text#	adjusted	courses	On-time%	by due date		after due date	after due date	adjusted	after due date	ordered	no info
8	AERO Aerospace Studies	10	0	10	0	0%	10		0	0	10	0	0%	10
9	AFAM African American Studies	19	1	18	6	33%	12		0	0	18	0	33%	12
10	AFRI African Studies	16	0	16	4	25%	12		0	0	16	0	25%	12
11	AMST American Studies	23	0	23	8	35%	15		0	0	23	0	35%	15
12	ANTH Anthropology	52	3	49	23	47%	26		0	0	49	0	47%	26
13	APPL Applied Sciences	9	3	6	0	0%	6		0	0	6	0	0%	6
14	ARAB Arabic	6	0	6	3	50%	3		0	0	6	0	50%	3
15	ARMY Army Studies	5	0	5	0	0%	5		0	0	5	0	0%	5
16	ART Art	57	0	57	4	7%	53		0	0	57	0	7%	53
17	ASIA Asian Studies	9	0	9	3	33%	6		0	0	9	0	33%	6
18	ASTR Astronomy	7	0	7	4	57%	3		0	0	7	0	57%	3
19	BIOL Biology	45	17	28	21	75%	7		0	0	28	0	75%	7
20	BUSI Business	50	0	50	2	4%	48		0	0	50	0	4%	48
21	CATA Catalan	0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
22	CHEM Chemistry	48	9	39	17	44%	22		0	0	39	0	44%	22
23	CHER Cherokee	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
24	CHIN Chinese	12	1	11	8	73%	3		0	0	11	0	73%	3
25	CLAR Classical Archaeology	5	0	5	4	80%	1		0	0	5	0	80%	1
26	CLAS Classics	6	0	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
27	CMPL Comparative Literature	9	0	9	1	11%	8		0	0	9	0	11%	8
28	COMM Communication Studies	71	3	68	27	40%	41		0	0	68	0	40%	41
29	COMP Computer Science	26	9	17	9	53%	8		0	0	17	0	53%	8
30	CZCH Czechoslovakian	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
31	DRAM Dramatic Arts	66	26	40	40	100%	0		0	0	40	0	100%	0
32	DTCH Dutch	1	0	1	1	100%	0		0	0	1	0	100%	0
33	ECON Economics	53	0	53	4	8%	49		0	0	53	0	8%	49
34	EDUC Education	70	0	70	8	11%	62		0	0	70	0	11%	62
35	EDUX Education	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
36	ENGL English	140	6	134	56	42%	78		0	0	134	0	42%	78
37	ENST Environmental Studies	13	1	12	1	8%	11		0	0	12	0	8%	11
38	EXSS Exercise & Sport Science	49	10	39	35	90%	4		0	0	39	0	90%	4
39	FOLK Folklore	8	0	8	3	38%	5		0	0	8	0	38%	5
40	FREN French	24	3	21	18	86%	3		0	0	21	0	86%	3
41	GEOG Geography	37	1	36	9	25%	27		0	0	36	0	25%	27
42	GEOL Geology	25	8	17	15	88%	2		0	0	17	0	88%	2
43	GERM German	19	2	17	12	71%	5		0	0	17	0	71%	5
44	GREK Greek	6	0	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
45	HEBR Hebrew	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
46	HIST History	73	4	69	24	35%	45		0	0	69	0	35%	45
47	HNRS Honors	6	1	5	1	20%	4		0	0	5	0	20%	4
48	HNUR Hindi/Urdu	4	0	4	0	0%	4		0	0	4	0	0%	4
49	HUNG Hungarian	3	1	2	1	50%	1		0	0	2	0	50%	1
50	INLS Information & Library Science	54	2	52	5	10%	47		0	0	52	0	10%	47
51	INTS International Studies	12	4	8	5	63%	3		0	0	8	0	63%	3
52	ITAL Italian	10	1	9	6	67%	3		0	0	9	0	67%	3
53	JAPN Japanese	7	0	7	1	14%	6		0	0	7	0	14%	6
54	JOMC Journalism & Mass Communication	104	4	100	24	24%	76		0	0	100	0	24%	76
55	JWST Jewish Studies (all x-listed)	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
56	KOR Korean	4	1	3	3	100%	0		0	0	3	0	100%	0
57	LATN Latin	13	0	13	11	85%	2		0	0	13	0	85%	2
58	LFIT Life Fitness	13	13	0	0	100%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
59	LGLA Lingala Language	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0
60	LING Linguistics	17	7	10	8	80%	2		0	0	10	0	80%	2
61	LTAM Latin American Studies	2	0	2	1	50%	1		0	0	2	0	50%	1

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
62	MASC Marine Science	10	6	4	2	50%	2		0	0	4	0	50%	2
63	MATH Mathematics	47	1	46	27	59%	19		0	0	46	0	59%	19
64	MAYA Maya Language	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
65	MTSC Material Science	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
66	MUSC Music	33	5	28	8	29%	20		0	0	28	0	29%	20
67	NAVS Navy Studies	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0			0	#DIV/0!
68	PHIL Philosophy	54	9	45	22	49%	23		0	0	45	0	49%	23
69	PHYA Physical Education Activity	25	12	13	12	92%	1		0	0	13	0	92%	1
70	PHYS Physics	27	0	27	15	56%	12		0	0	27	0	56%	12
71	PLAN City & Regional Planning	19	13	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
72	PLCY Public Policy	21	1	20	8	40%	12		0	0	20	0	40%	12
73	PLSH Polish	1	0	1	1	100%	0		0	0	1	0	100%	0
74	POLI Political Science	70	4	66	21	32%	45		0	0	66	0	32%	45
75	PORT Portuguese	10	0	10	10	100%	0		0	0	10	0	100%	0
76	PRSN Persian	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
77	PSYC Psychology	61	2	59	19	32%	40		0	0	59	0	32%	40
78	PUBA Public Administration	17	0	17	1	6%	16		0	0	17	0	6%	16
79	PWAD Peace War & Defense	4	0	4	0	0%	4		0	0	4	0	0%	4
80	RECR Recreation & Leisure Studies	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0
81	RELI Religious Studies	25	0	25	10	40%	15		0	0	25	0	40%	15
82	ROML Romance Language	6	0	6	4	67%	2		0	0	6	0	67%	2
83	RUES Russian & East European Studies	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
84	RUSS Russian	12	0	12	5	42%	7		0	0	12	0	42%	7
85	SECR Serbian & Croation	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
86	SLAV Slavic Languages	4	0	4	2	50%	2		0	0	4	0	50%	2
87	SOCI Sociology	57	4	53	25	47%	28		0	0	53	0	47%	28
88	SPAN Spanish	48	3	45	27	60%	18		0	0	45	0	60%	18
89	STOR Statistics & Operation Research	23	9	14	14	100%	0		0	0	14	0	100%	0

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
90	SWAH Swahili	5	0	5	1	20%	4		0	0	5	0	20%	4
91	TURK Turkey	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0			0	#DIV/0!
92	WMST Women's Studies	14	0	14	5	36%	9		0	0	14	0	36%	9
93	WOLO Wolof Language	3	0	3	0	0%	3		0	0	3	0	0%	3
94		1932	210	1722	699	41%	1023		0	0	1720	0	41%	1021

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AERO	101	001,002	DUFFY	064
8	AERO	101	001,002	DUFFY	064
9	AERO	201	001,002	DUFFY	064
10	AERO	201	001,002	DUFFY	064
11	AERO	301	001	HOLST	032
12	AERO	301	001	HOLST	032
13	AERO	401	001	KLUKOVICH	032
14	AERO	401	001	KLUKOVICH	032
15	AERO	500	401	STAFF	090
16	AERO	500	401	STAFF	090
17
18	ARMY	100	401	STAFF	090
19	ARMY	101	001	STAFF	020
20	ARMY	201	001, 002	FERNANDEZ	056
21	ARMY	301	001	CAROLLO	028
22	ARMY	401	001	YODER	032
23
24	NAVS	n/a

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AFAM	101	002	HILDEBRAND	066
8	AFAM	101	003	STAFF	066
9	AFAM	101	004	CALDWELL	066
10	AFAM	101	990	STAFF	010
11	AFAM	102	001	HALL	060
12	AFAM	102	002	STAFF	047
13	AFAM	190	001	STAFF	024
14	AFAM	259	001	HALL	040
15	AFAM	267	001	JANKEN	050
16	AFAM	293	001	JORDAN	040
17	AFAM	398	001	HILDEBRAND	020
18	AFAM	569	001	JACKSON	003
19
20	AFRI	101	002	ANDERSON	068
21	AFRI	101	003	NZONGOLA-NTALAJA	050
22	AFRI	101	005	STAFF	050
23	AFRI	101	951	PORTER	050
24	AFRI	190	001	PIER	030
25	AFRI	261	001	BOYD	030
26	AFRI	263	001	BOYD	050
27	AFRI	456	001	SECK	035
28	AFRI	521	001	NYANG'ORO	030
29	AFRI	523	001	NZONGOLA-NTALAJA	030
30	AFRI	524	001	SELASSIE	030
31	AFRI	600	001	SAHLE	016
32
33	LGLA	100%	adopted
34
35	SWAH	401	001,002	MUTIMA / REILLY	050
36	SWAH	403	001,002	MUTIMA	039
37	SWAH	406	001	STAFF	020
38	SWAH	408	001	STAFF	010
39
40	WOLO	401	001	SECK	025
41	WOLO	403	001	STAFF	016
42	WOLO	404	001	STAFF	019

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AMST	055H	001	MARR	024
8	AMST	060	001	FOSTER	022
9	AMST	089	001	CANTWELL	022
10	AMST	201	001	GARCIA	025
11	AMST	246	001	FOSTER	120
12	AMST	269	001	MARR	025
13	AMST	290	002	TONE-PAH-HOTE	025
14	AMST	290	003	STAFF	025
15	AMST	291	001	ROBINSON	025
16	AMST	390	001	COBB	025
17	AMST	393	001	CANTWELL	025
18	AMST	466	001	ROBERTS	025
19	AMST	499	001	STAFF	010
20	AMST	499	002	GARCIA	020
21	AMST	890	001	ALLEN	023
22
23	CHER	101	001	STAFF	020
24
25	FOLK	490	001	STAFF	005
26	FOLK	690	001	STAFF	005
27	FOLK	690	002	STAFF	010
28	FOLK	850	001	ROBERTS	012
29	FOLK	895	001	SAWIN	006

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ANTH	101	001	STAFF	035
8	ANTH	101	003	STAFF	035
9	ANTH	101	007	STAFF	190
10	ANTH	145	006	BILLMAN	225
11	ANTH	220	001	BILLMAN	035
12	ANTH	248	001	SLOCUM	025
13	ANTH	297	022	CRUMLEY	015
14	ANTH	414L	406	HUTCHINSON	015
15	ANTH / cmpl / folk	435	006	PEACOCK	055 / 000 / 005
16	ANTH	448	001	COLLOREDO-MANSFELS	035
17	ANTH	450	006	STEPONAITIS	120
18	ANTH	460	001	CRUMLEY	040
19	ANTH / folk	473	001	LACHICOTTE	032 / 002
20	ANTH	491	001	NONINI	030
21	ANTH	499	053	ESCOBAR	025
22	ANTH	499H	058	PEACOCK	015
23	ANTH	502	001	SMITH-NONINI	030
24	ANTH	578	001	NONINI	030
25	ANTH	699	001	SORENSEN / RIVKIN-FISH	020
26	ANTH	699	005	EVENS	005
27	ANTH	701	001	COLLOREDO-MANSFELD / NELSON	020
28	ANTH	703	001	SCARRY / SORENSEN	020
29	ANTH	897	053	ESCOBAR	015
30	ANTH	897	056	SLOCUM	012
31	ANTH	897	064	NELSON	015
32	ANTH	897	072	SAUNDERS	003

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	APPL	160	001	OLDENBURG	055
8	APPL	369	003	STAFF	010
9	APPL	450	001	FINLEY	032
10	APPL	460	400	FINLEY	035
11	APPL	490	001	GANZI	035
12	APPL	510	001	BANES	015
13
14	MTSC	615	001	QIN	010
15	MTSC	730	001	RUBINSTEIN	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ART	051	001	PAGE	015
8	ART	061	001	BOWLES	020
9	ART	079	001	PARDO	021
10	ART	089	001	VERKERK	020
11	ART	102	001	SHERRILL	015
12	ART	102	002	GRABOWSKI	015
13	ART	103	001	MUSINA	015
14	ART	103	003	LIM	015
15	ART	104	001	MCLAIN	022
16	ART	104	002	MCLAIN	022
17	ART	104	003	OSBORNE	022
18	ART	104	004	STAFF	022
19	ART	105	001	PAGE	016
20	ART	105	002	SOM	016
21	ART	106	001	STAFF	010
22	ART	106	002	STAFF	010
23	ART	151	001	DOUGLAS	280
24	ART	152	951	STAFF	022
25	ART	157	001	WILLIAMS	080
26	ART	158	001	LIN	080
27	ART	202	001	LOGAN	025
28	ART	202	002	ZABOROWSKI	025
29	ART	206	002	TRUONG	010
30	ART	208	001	SONNICHSEN	013
31	ART	213	001	NAM	010
32	ART	214	001	ZABOROWSKI	020
33	ART	233	001	PEREZ-MENDEZ	015
34	ART	266	001	GHOSH	029
35	ART	270	001	PARDO	040
36	ART	272	001	BRACHMANN	030
37	ART	275	001	ARPEN	029
38	ART	285	001	LEVINE	040
39	ART / afam	287	001	BOWLES	060 / 020
40	ART / afri / anth	353 / 353 / 343	001	MAGEE	030 / 005 / 005
41	ART	356	001	PAGE	030
42	ART	361	001	STAFF	040
43	ART	365	001	CHATTERJEE	040
44	ART	394	001	PAGE	020
45	ART	399	001	SLAVICK	025

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ART	416	001	TRUONG	010
47	ART	456	001	GHOSH	015
48	ART	466	001	VERKERK	040
49	ART	470	001	CHATTERJEE	029
50	ART	488	001	MAGEE	015
51	ART	554	001	WILLIAMS	025
52	ART	700	001	WHETSTONE	020
53	ART	850	001	PARDO	020
54	ART	910	001	BRACHMANN	015
55	ART	954	001	LIN	015
56	ART	959	001	DOUGLAS	015
57	ART	960	001	STURGEON	015
58	ART	984	001	LEVINE	015
59	ART	984	001	LEVINE	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ARAB	203	001-004	STAFF	080
8	ARAB	305	001,002	JOUKHADAR	050
9	ARAB	407	001	STAFF	015
10
11	ASIA	089	001	STAFF	024
12	ASIA	147	001	GOLD	030
13	ASIA	150	001	SHEMER	080
14	ASIA	490	001	ZULFIKAR	035
15	ASIA	490	002	PITELKA	030
16	ASIA	691H	001	DRISCOLL	012
17
18	CHIN	252	001,002	HENRY	140
19	CHIN	463	001	VISSER	035
20	CHIN	464	001	VISSER	030
21
22	HEBR	101	001,002	STAFF	039
23	HEBR	203	001	STAFF	020
24
25	HNUR	101	001-003	STAFF	060
26	HNUR	203	001,003	UMASHANKAR	040
27	HNUR	220	001	CALDWELL	025
28	HNUR	305	001	CALDWELL	018
29
30	JAPN	101	001-006	STAFF	120
31	JAPN	203	004, 005	SAWAMURA	040
32	JAPN	305	001,002	KATO	050
33	JAPN	408	001	ARATAKE	015
34	JAPN	412	001	KATO	020
35	JAPN	490	001	PITELKA	018
36
37	KOR	100%	adopted
38
39	PRSN	101	001,002	ADEL	040
40	PRSN	203	001	ADEL	020
41
42	TURK	101	001	ZULFIKAR	019
43	TURK	203	001	ZULFIKAR	019

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ASTR	101L	414-445	STAFF	280
8	ASTR	205	001	CLEMENS	026
9	ASTR	704	001	STAFF	006
10
11	PHYS	054	001	ILIADIS	024
12	PHYS	071	001	CECIL	024
13	PHYS	104L	413-542	STAFF	026
14	PHYS	105L	420-450	STAFF	012
15	PHYS	128L	417-447	STAFF	033
16	PHYS	211	001	LOPEZ	010
17	PHYS	481L	427	QIN	015
18	PHYS	543	001	WILKERSON	045
19	PHYS	715	001	STAFF	010
20	PHYS	721	001	DOLAN	020
21	PHYS	822	001	FRAMPTON	025
22	PHYS	832	001	EVANS	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	BIOL	213	001	REISNER	030
8	BIOL	450	001	LOHMANN	075
9	BIOL	461	001	UMBANHOWAR	024
10	BIOL	535	001	STAFFORD	015
11	BIOL / ecol	563	001	WEISS	010 / 010
12	BIOL / gnet	624	001	BAUTCH	010 / 005
13	BIOL	639	1	REED	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	BUSI	100	001	SKENDER	388
8	BUSI	101	001	SKENDER	350
9	BUSI	401	001, 002, 004	SETZER	060
10	BUSI	401	003, 005, 006	MEREDITH	060
11	BUSI	401	007, 008	HARMS	040
12	BUSI	401	009	FLOOD	020
13	BUSI	403	001, 002	PARLAKTURK	100
14	BUSI	403	003	MORGAN	050
15	BUSI	403	004	MANI	050
16	BUSI	404	001, 002	MANN	100
17	BUSI	404	003	PEIRCE	050
18	BUSI	405	001, 002	BLACKBURN	090
19	BUSI	405	003, 004	CHRISTIAN	090
20	BUSI	406	001-003	KUBOWICZ	150
21	BUSI	407	001	BLOCHER	045
22	BUSI	408	001-005	KHOKHER	245
23	BUSI	409	001-003	GANTCHEV	145
24	BUSI	410	001, 002	KOSTAMIS	100
25	BUSI	410	003, 004	JONES	100
26	BUSI	500	001, 002	ZOLLER	077
27	BUSI	505	001	VERNON / BARNER	045
28	BUSI	506	002	VERNON	045
29	BUSI	516	001	HAMNER	045
30	BUSI	517	001	HAMNER	080
31	BUSI	526	001	PEARMAN	015
32	BUSI	533	001	KOSTAMIS	045
33	BUSI	543	001	PEIRCE	045
34	BUSI	545	001	SUMANTH	036
35	BUSI	550	001	BLACKBURN	045
36	BUSI	561	001, 002	PETERSEN	080
37	BUSI	563	001	GIELENS	045
38	BUSI	564	001	BAYUS	040
39	BUSI	566	001, 002	ROSSI	090
40	BUSI	568	001	LIM	045
41	BUSI	580	001	GULTEKIN	045
42	BUSI	584	001, 002	GULTEKIN	090
43	BUSI	588	001, 002	GARCIA	090
44	BUSI	589	001-003	LE	135
45	BUSI	595	001	BROWN	045

	A	B	C	D	E
46	BUSI	597	001	GULTEKIN	045
47	BUSI	617	001	DIDOW	040
48	BUSI	618	001-003	JOTIKASTHIRA	096
49	BUSI	623	001	ZOLLER	045
50	BUSI	691H	001	HARMS	024
51	BUSI	698	001-003	KIM	175
52	BUSI	852	001	ROSEN	010
53	BUSI	880	001	LUNDBLAD	015
54	BUSI	882	001	OUIMET	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CHEM	073	001	FORBES	020
8	CHEM	101	951	VOLARIC	025
9	CHEM	102H	001	MORSE	050
10	CHEM	281	001	PAPANIKOLAS	095
11	CHEM / appl / mtsc	421	001	YOU	050 / 010 / 010
12	CHEM / appl / mtsc	422	001	SAMULSKI	025 / 010 / 004
13	CHEM	431	001	PIELAK	100
14	CHEM	451	001	LIN	030
15	CHEM	466	001	NICEWICZ	040
16	CHEM	470	001	SAMULSKI	030
17	CHEM	480	001	THOMPSON	051
18	CHEM	483	001	BAER	036
19	CHEM	484	001	RUBINSTEIN	020
20	CHEM	486	001	FECKO	015
21	CHEM	721	001	SHEYKO	036
22	CHEM	731	001	ERIE	036
23	CHEM	732	001	STAFF	020
24	CHEM	741	001	WIGHTMAN	036
25	CHEM	742	001	GLISH	036
26	CHEM	754	001	SCHAUER	050
27	CHEM	761	001	WATERS	040
28	CHEM	781	001	BERKOWITZ	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CLAR	120	951	STAFF	020
8
9	CLAS	100%	ADOPTED
10
11	GREK	100%	ADOPTED
12
13	LATN	203	001,002	STAFF	055
14	LATN	204	001	GELLAR-GOAD	025

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	COMM	085	001	LUNDBERG	016
8	COMM	113	001	LUNDBERG	190
9	COMM	140	001	PALM	140
10	COMM	142	001	GINSBERG	025
11	COMM	162	001	STAFF	025
12	COMM	170	002	STAFF	025
13	COMM	170	003	STAFF	025
14	COMM	170	004	STAFF	025
15	COMM	171	001	STAFF	030
16	COMM	223	001	STAFF	022
17	COMM	260	001	STAFF	020
18	COMM	318	001	STAFF	025
19	COMM	318	002	STAFF	025
20	COMM	350	001	STAFF	025
21	COMM	371	001	BALTHROP	050
22	COMM	374	001	BALTHROP	050
23	COMM	450	001	STAFF	025
24	COMM	450	002	ARIZZI	025
25	COMM	450	003	HOYNG	025
26	COMM	450	004	ROTTINGHAUS	025
27	COMM	472	001	BLAIR	030
28	COMM	521	001	WALTMAN	035
29	COMM	525	001	PARKER	030
30	COMM	532	001	MEGEL	012
31	COMM	550	001	CANTE	075
32	COMM	563	001	FERGUSON	020
33	COMM	571	001	WATTS	025
34	COMM	576	001	WATTS	025
35	COMM / art	636 / 406	001	RUDINSKY	012 / 004
36	COMM	639	001	RUDINSKY	012
37	COMM	639	006,007	MYERS	024
38	COMM	646	001	SHI	012
39	COMM	654	001	RANKUS	014
40	COMM	655	001	SHARMA	025
41	COMM	661	001	ALEXANDER	015
42	COMM	663	001	MEGEL	006
43	COMM	669	001	STAFF	015
44	COMM	682	001	CANTE	025
45	COMM	703	001	SHARMA	030

	A	B	C	D	E
46	COMM	812	001	BLAIR	015
47	COMM	844	001	POLLOCK	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	COMP	110	002	STAFF	080
8	COMP	110	003,004	HEDLUND	205
9	COMP	116	001	STAFF	072
10	COMP	116	002	CURTIS	040
11	COMP	380	001-003	NICHOLAS	120
12	COMP	410	001	BARUAH	075
13	COMP	590	039	BISHOP	012
14	COMP	590	040	JEFFAY	035

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	DRAM	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ECON	053	001	BENAVIE	020
8	ECON	056	001	ROSEFIELDE	020
9	ECON	101	005	MCCALLIE	090
10	ECON	101	006	BALABAN	410
11	ECON	101	008	TURCHI	420
12	ECON	101	951	STAFF	025
13	ECON	101	951	STAFF	025
14	ECON	101H	001	TURCHI	025
15	ECON	101H	002	CONWAY	025
16	ECON	310	001	STAFF	120
17	ECON	310	002	STAFF	100
18	ECON	320	001	STAFF	044
19	ECON	320	002	STAFF	045
20	ECON	325	001	STAFF	100
21	ECON	328	001	STEWART	040
22	ECON	345	001	STAFF	040
23	ECON / mngt	380	001	STAFF	040 / 005
24	ECON	400	001	LICH-TYLER	120
25	ECON	400	002	STAFF	120
26	ECON	400	003	STAFF	100
27	ECON	400	004	STAFF	100
28	ECON	410	001, 002	PETRANKA	480
29	ECON	410H	001	BIGLAISER	024
30	ECON	420	001, 002	AGUILAR	240
31	ECON	420	003	STAFF	100
32	ECON	420	004	STAFF	100
33	ECON	423	001	AGUILAR	036
34	ECON	440	001	HILL	040
35	ECON	445	001, 002	MCMANUS	096
36	ECON	450	001	AKIN	048
37	ECON / euro / pwad	460	001, 002	VAIDYANATHAN	084 / 003 / 005
38	ECON	465	001	PETER	048
39	ECON	465	001	VAIDYANATHAN	048
40	ECON	468	001	ROSEFIELDE	040
41	ECON	510	001	PETRANKA	025
42	ECON	510	002	STAFF	025
43	ECON	511	001	PARREIRAS	025
44	ECON	520	001	STAFF	025
45	ECON	560	001	CHARI	025

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ECON	570	001	CHAUDHURI	025
47	ECON	586	001	TURCHI	025
48	ECON	691H	001	FROYEN	025
49	ECON	720	001	HENDRICKS	044
50	ECON	770	001	RENAULT	044
51	ECON	810	001	PARREIRAS	035
52	ECON	846	001	BIGLAISER	044
53	ECON	861	001	CHARI	044
54	ECON	870	001	CHAUDHURI	048
55	ECON	880	001	PETER	044

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	EDUC	121	001	STAFF	052
8	EDUC	131	001	TAYLOR	030
9	EDUC	131	002	ANGLE	030
10	EDUC	221	001	SENTA	052
11	EDUC	309	001	BRODEUR	025
12	EDUC	317	001	KRYDER	025
13	EDUC	317	002	STAFF	025
14	EDUC	318	001	FISHER	020
15	EDUC	399	001	PERRY	045
16	EDUC	399	002	KESSLER	045
17	EDUC	402	001	PALSHA	025
18	EDUC	403	001	STAFF	030
19	EDUC	407	001	STAFF	025
20	EDUC	412	001, 003	WILKERSON	040
21	EDUC	412	002	BOLICK	020
22	EDUC	413	001	JUSTICE	030
23	EDUC	413	002	STAFF	030
24	EDUC	421	001, 002	HORTON	035
25	EDUC	441	001, 002	UNKS	282
26	EDUC	465	001	MORRISON	025
27	EDUC	465	002	GULLEDGE	020
28	EDUC	466	001	HAMM	025
29	EDUC	467	001	MORRISON	010
30	EDUC	467	002	JUSTICE	010
31	EDUC	467	003	HORTON	010
32	EDUC	467	004	GULLEDGE	010
33	EDUC	501	001	PALSHA	025
34	EDUC	513	001, 002	ANDERSON	050
35	EDUC	520	001	LLOYD	025
36	EDUC	521	001	STAFF	030
37	EDUC	523	001	STAFF	030
38	EDUC	533	001	SINCLAIR	025
39	EDUC	535	001	WRIGHT	015
40	EDUC	563	001	JUSTICE	025
41	EDUC	564	001	MORRISON	025
42	EDUC	565	001	HORTON	025
43	EDUC	566	001	LIU	025
44	EDUC	567	001	STAFF	025
45	EDUC	621	001	STAFF	045

	A	B	C	D	E
46	EDUC	631	001	BRUCE	025
47	EDUC	632	001	VEITCH	025
48	EDUC	633	001	STAFF	025
49	EDUC	635	001	SCHAINKER	025
50	EDUC	636	001	GRAHAM	025
51	EDUC	637	961	VEITCH	030
52	EDUC	638	956	SCHAINKER	030
53	EDUC	644	001, 002	MEECE	070
54	EDUC	645	002	NOBLIT	035
55	EDUC	645	003	GRUMET	035
56	EDUC	647	001	TRIER	025
57	EDUC	647	003	SCOTT	025
58	EDUC	647	004	HUFF	025
59	EDUC	647	005	PARSONS	025
60	EDUC	647	006	STAFF	025
61	EDUC	648	001	HUFF	025
62	EDUC	664	001	ABLE	030
63	EDUC	681	001	HUTCHISON-MALONE	030
64	EDUC	683	001	CIZEK	025
65	EDUC	684	001	WARE	045
66	EDUC	690	956, 957	MILLER	035
67	EDUC	701	001-003	LLOYD	030
68	EDUC	708	001	KNOTEK	012
69
70	EDUX	616	001	STAFF	030

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CMPL	121	001	COLLINS	030
8	CMPL	130	001	LEONARD	030
9	CMPL	143	001	STAFF	120
10	CMPL	251	001	MCGOWEN	030
11	CMPL	462	001	COLLINS	030
12	CMPL	472	001	LEONARD	030
13	CMPL	483	001	BRODEY	030
14	CMPL	490	001	BRODEY	008
15
16	ENGL	069	001	ANDERSON	022
17	ENGL	084H	001	DAVENPORT	018
18	ENGL	085	001	BAKER	024
19	ENGL	085H	001	KENDALL	024
20	ENGL	088	001	KIM	024
21	ENGL	089	001	AHUJA	024
22	ENGL	120	001	FLOYD-WILSON	035
23	ENGL	121	001	LENSING	022
24	ENGL	122	002	VEGGIAN	035
25	ENGL	123	001	TAYLOR	035
26	ENGL	123	002	STAFF	035
27	ENGL	123	003	STAFF	035
28	ENGL	123	004	STAFF	035
29	ENGL	123	005	STAFF	033
30	ENGL	123	006	NASH	035
31	ENGL	123	007	STAFF	035
32	ENGL	123	008	STAFF	035
33	ENGL	123	009	STAFF	035
34	ENGL	123	010	STAFF	034
35	ENGL	124	001	HENDERSON	035
36	ENGL	124	002	STAFF	035
37	ENGL	124	003	STAFF	035
38	ENGL	124	004	CRYSTALL	035
39	ENGL	125	001	SALVAGGIO	050
40	ENGL	126	001	STAFF	035
41	ENGL	127	001	STAFF	048
42	ENGL	127	951	ANDERSON	022
43	ENGL	127	951	ANDERSON	022
44	ENGL	128	001	STAFF	035
45	ENGL	128	002	STAFF	035

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ENGL	128	003	LAPRADE	035
47	ENGL	128	004	FROST	035
48	ENGL	129	001	FLANAGAN	035
49	ENGL	129	002	STAFF	035
50	ENGL	131	003	SHAPIRO	018
51	ENGL	132H	001	DURBAN	015
52	ENGL	140	001	WEBER	025
53	ENGL	142	001	TAYLOR	120
54	ENGL	143	001	OXMAN	035
55	ENGL	144	001	STAFF	035
56	ENGL	144	002	STAFF	035
57	ENGL	145	001	ROSENTHAL	035
58	ENGL	150	001	MOSKAL	022
59	ENGL	206	001	GINGHER	018
60	ENGL	208	002	GWIN	018
61	ENGL	209	001	MOOSE	018
62	ENGL	210	001	MOOSE	018
63	ENGL	225	001	BAKER	035
64	ENGL	225	003	MATCHINSKE	120
65	ENGL	228	001	ARMITAGE	035
66	ENGL	284	001	LANGBAUER	120
67	ENGL	300I	001	JACK	019
68	ENGL	307	001	GINGHER	018
69	ENGL	331	001	ROSENTHAL	035
70	ENGL	332	001	THOMPSON	035
71	ENGL	333	001	THOMPSON	035
72	ENGL	347	002	TAYLOR	035
73	ENGL	348	001	ELLIOTT	035
74	ENGL	350	001	LENSING	035
75	ENGL	356	001	COOPER	035
76	ENGL	367	001	FISHER	035
77	ENGL	367	002	HENDERSON	035
78	ENGL	373	001	IRONS	035
79	ENGL	381	001	STAFF	035
80	ENGL	406	001	DURBAN	018
81	ENGL	437	001	VISCOMI	035
82	ENGL	447	001	GWIN	035
83	ENGL	463	001	COOPER	035
84	ENGL	472	001	ELLIOTT	030
85	ENGL	601	001, 002	LEE	030
86	ENGL	659	001	ARMITAGE	035
87	ENGL	662	001	LEGASSIE	011
88	ENGL / cmpl	686 / 490	001	BRODEY	007 / 008
89	ENGL	693H	002	SHAPIRO	012
90	ENGL	762	001	AHUJA	011

	A	B	C	D	E
91	ENGL	783	001	LANGBAUER	015
92	ENGL	805	001	TAYLOR	011
93	ENGL	861	001	TAYLOR	011

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ENST	201	001	GANGI	160
8	ENST	201	002	COOKE	040
9	ENST	201H	143	GANGI	019
10	ENST	202	001	BELL	090
11	ENST	204	001	COOKE	030
12	ENST / afri	266	001	COOKE	015 / 002
13	ENST	352	001	BELL	020
14	ENST / ecol	490 / 891	002 / 001	BELL	010 / 010
15	ENST	490	003	CECIL	005
16	ENST	490	004	MITCHELL	005
17	ENST / envr / plan	581 / 781 / 781	001	MOREAU	020 / 010 / 010
18	ENST / envr	698	001-003	SHAY	048 / 006

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	EXSS	221	002	STROMAN	040
8	EXSS	360	001	STAFF	030
9	EXSS	700	001	SHIELDS	010
10	EXSS	780	001	BATTAGLINI	010
11
12	LFIT	100%	adopted
13
14	PHYA	223	001	STAFF	020
15
16	RECR	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	GEOG	056	001	CRAVEY	024
8	GEOG	111	001	KONRAD	141
9	GEOG	112	001	MOODY	045
10	GEOG	115	001	STAFF	021
11	GEOG / pwad	120	002	WARD	110 / 020
12	GEOG	121	001	GOKARIKSEL	150
13	GEOG	125	001	BIRDSALL	050
14	GEOG	130	001	HAVICE	050
15	GEOG	228	001	STAFF	044
16	GEOG	237	001	STAFF	024
17	GEOG	259	001	VALDIVIA	044
18	GEOG / asia	267	001	STAFF	020 / 005
19	GEOG	391	001	STAFF	024
20	GEOG	423	001	REYES	045
21	GEOG	428	001	MARTIN	050
22	GEOG / asia / ints	447	001	GOKARIKSEL	020 / 005 / 001
23	GEOG / asia / pwad	453	001	KIRSCH	045 / 005 / 005
24	GEOG	460	001	HAVICE	045
25	GEOG	477	001	MOODY	024
26	GEOG / plan	491	001	WALSH	055 / 000
27	GEOG	691H	001	STAFF	015
28	GEOG	703	001	PICKLES	012
29	GEOG	704	001	PICKLES	012
30	GEOG	804	001	MARTIN	015
31	GEOG	804	002	VALDIVIA	015
32	GEOG	900	001	STAFF	025
33	GEOG	900	002	PICKLES	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	GEOL	301L	401	COLEMAN	026
8	GEOL	504	001	GLAZNER	018

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CZCH	100%	adopted
8
9	DTCH	100%	adopted
10
11	GERM	059	001	PIKE	024
12	GERM	303	001	STAFF	020
13	GERM	303	002	TROP	020
14	GERM	390	001	PIKE	024
15	GERM	880	001	STAFF	015
16
17	HUNG	403	001	SHERWOOD	012
18
19	PLSH	100%	adopted
20
21	RUSS	208	002	STAFF	018
22	RUSS	270	001	STAFF	030
23	RUSS	321	001	STAFF	012
24	RUSS	411	001	MAGOMEDOVA	012
25	RUSS	425	001	STAFF	030
26	RUSS	513	001	MAGOMEDOVA	012
27	RUSS	790	001	MAGOMEDOVA	005
28
29	SECR	403	001	STAFF	012
30
31	SLAV	425	001	STAFF	030
32	SLAV	467	001	SHERWOOD	025

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	HIST	089	001	HAGEMANN	021
8	HIST	089	002	LINDSAY	021
9	HIST	089	003	STAFF	023
10	HIST	106	001	NAIDEN	035
11	HIST	110	001	COBB	140
12	HIST	127	001	GLATTHAAR	110
13	HIST	127	002	STAFF	165
14	HIST	127	951	STAFF	025
15	HIST	127	951	STAFF	025
16	HIST	128	001	MCNEIL	035
17	HIST	130	001	LEE	110
18	HIST	134	001	FLETCHER	035
19	HIST	140	006	HUNZIKER	165
20	HIST	151	006	HUNZIKER	165
21	HIST	151	007	MCINTOSH	165
22	HIST / aero / pwad	213	001	CADDELL	180 / 020 / 020
23	HIST	240	001	RADDING	110
24	HIST	255	001	NAIDEN	030
25	HIST / jwst / pwad	262	001	DUFFY	085 / 005 / 020
26	HIST	292	001	STAFF	030
27	HIST	292	002	TSIN	030
28	HIST	292H	002	STRING	024
29	HIST	368	001	GLATTHAAR	120
30	HIST	376	001	STAFF	035
31	HIST	391	001	PENNYBACKER	015
32	HIST	393	005	LA SERNA	015
33	HIST	393	007	STAFF	015
34	HIST	395	009	MCNEIL	015
35	HIST	466	001	KRAMER	035
36	HIST	490	002	STAFF	020
37	HIST	490H	001	PENNYBACKER	024
38	HIST	528	001	LA SERNA	035
39	HIST	533	001	CHASTEEN	023
40	HIST / folk	571	001	FERRIS	020 / 005
41	HIST	671	001	WHISNANT	025
42	HIST	691H	001	WHALEN	015
43	HIST	711	001	MCINTOSH	020
44	HIST	715	001	WATSON	015
45	HIST	717	001	LEE	015

	A	B	C	D	E
46	HIST	721	001	LINDSAY	015
47	HIST	783	001	STAFF	015
48	HIST	820	001	BURNS	020
49	HIST	870	001	JACKSON	020
50	HIST	890	001	HAGEMANN	020
51	HIST	890	002	LEE	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	HNRS	352	001	FERGUSON	012
8	HNRS	352	002	STEINER	018
9	HNRS	354	001, 002	GOLDBERG	048
10	HNRS	355	001	VISCOMI	018

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	INLS	089	001	POMERANTZ	025
8	INLS	101	001	KELLY	030
9	INLS	101	002	KAMPOV-POLEVOI	030
10	INLS	200	001	POMERANTZ	025
11	INLS	200	002	BAILEY	030
12	INLS	261	001	BERGQUIST	030
13	INLS	285	001	BERGQUIST	030
14	INLS	461	001	BERGQUIST	030
15	INLS	461	002	WEBSTER	030
16	INLS	490	046	TIBBO	030
17	INLS	490	161	MOORE	030
18	INLS	490	163	RAJASEKAR	030
19	INLS	500	001	BARREAU	030
20	INLS	500	003	SHEBLE	030
21	INLS	501	001	GOLLOP	030
22	INLS	501	002	CUSHING	030
23	INLS	502	001	CLEMENS	030
24	INLS	509	001	LOSEE	030
25	INLS	513	001	EDWARDS	024
26	INLS	513	002	LEE	024
27	INLS	515	001	MARSHALL	024
28	INLS	520	001	GREENBERG	030
29	INLS	520	002	SHAW	024
30	INLS	521	02W	SPURGIN	025
31	INLS	523	001	HAAS	030
32	INLS	523	002	MOSTAFA	030
33	INLS	525	001	MARCIANO	024
34	INLS	530	001	HUGHES-HASSELL	030
35	INLS	556	001	LEE	030
36	INLS	556	002	STAFF	024
37	INLS	558	001	STURM	015
38	INLS	566	001	ADAMS	030
39	INLS	572	001	HASSELL	030
40	INLS	582	001	HAAS	030
41	INLS	582	002	HASSELL	030
42	INLS	584	001	WILDEMUTH	024
43	INLS	585	001	MORAN / PATILLO	055
44	INLS	691H	001	KELLY	012
45	INLS	720	001	GREENBERG	024

	A	B	C	D	E
46	INLS	721	001	SAMPLES / STALBERG	030
47	INLS	723	001	RAJASEKAR	013
48	INLS	744	001	HUGHES-HASSELL	030
49	INLS	752	001	TIBBO	030
50	INLS	780	002	MARSHALL	030
51	INLS	818	001	CAPRA	012
52	INLS	881	001	BARREAU	014
53	INLS	889	001	WILDEMUTH	024

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	INTS	290	002	STAFF	020
8	INTS	390	002	WEILER	025
9	INTS	490	001	OSTERWEIL	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	JOMC	101	001	STAFF	025
8	JOMC	121	002	STAFF	016
9	JOMC	137	001, 002	BYARS / SINCLAIR	134
10	JOMC	153	001-013	STAFF	210
11	JOMC	180	001	LAUTERER	017
12	JOMC	180	002	DAVISON	018
13	JOMC	181	001	STEVENS	017
14	JOMC	182	001	OLIVER	018
15	JOMC	182	002	STAFF	018
16	JOMC	182	003	STAFF	018
17	JOMC	187	001	STAFF	018
18	JOMC	187	002	RUEL	018
19	JOMC	221	003	STAFF	018
20	JOMC	221	004	STAFF	018
21	JOMC	221	005	STAFF	018
22	JOMC	232	001	BRABHAM	018
23	JOMC	232	002	FIELDS	020
24	JOMC	232	003	STAFF	020
25	JOMC	232	004	STAFF	020
26	JOMC	242	001	FEE	025
27	JOMC	244	001	TOWNS	014
28	JOMC	245	001	CROTHERS	040
29	JOMC	256	001	LAUDER	018
30	JOMC	271	001	MCMAHAN	018
31	JOMC	271	002	ALLEN	018
32	JOMC	271	003	COBB	018
33	JOMC	272	001, 002	STAFF	036
34	JOMC	333	001	CURRAN	018
35	JOMC	340	001, 004	SMITH	095
36	JOMC	349	001	AIKAT	012
37	JOMC	394	001	EUBANK	030
38	JOMC	421	001	HEFNER	020
39	JOMC	422	001	HEFNER	020
40	JOMC	423	001	HEFNER	020
41	JOMC	426	001	HOCHBERG	015
42	JOMC	431	002	STAFF	020
43	JOMC	431	003	STAFF	018
44	JOMC	431	004	STAFF	018
45	JOMC	434	001	BRABHAM	018

	A	B	C	D	E
46	JOMC	434	002, 003	COMELLO	035
47	JOMC	434	004	MISNER	015
48	JOMC	443	001	VARGAS	020
49	JOMC	446	001	AIKAT	025
50	JOMC	458	001	GUILLORY	009
51	JOMC	459	001	LAUTERER	015
52	JOMC	463	001	STAFF	018
53	JOMC	473	001	MCMAHAN	018
54	JOMC	473	002	KEARNS	018
55	JOMC	480	001	DAVISON	018
56	JOMC	481	001	STEVENS	018
57	JOMC	482	001	NIBLOCK	018
58	JOMC	483	001	OLIVER	018
59	JOMC	484	001	KIRKMAN	018
60	JOMC	490	001	KAYYE	012
61	JOMC	491	003, 007	HOLLIMAN	036
62	JOMC	491	005	WITTEKIND	018
63	JOMC	491	008	THORNBURG	018
64	JOMC	551	001	ABERNATHY	030
65	JOMC	552	001	ABERNATHY	015
66	JOMC	581	001	RUEL	018
67	JOMC	582	001	STEVENS	018
68	JOMC	583	001	FERRIOLA-BRUCKENSTIEN	017
69	JOMC	585	001	FLOYD	018
70	JOMC	691H	001	BROWN	012
71	JOMC	701	001	JOHNSTON	040
72	JOMC	705	001	HESTER	015
73	JOMC	711	001	CARROLL	020
74	JOMC	714	001	TYBURSKI	015
75	JOMC	730	001	STRAUGHAN	015
76	JOMC	754	001	FRIEDMAN	009
77	JOMC	825	001	BROWN	009
78	JOMC	826	001	CATES	015
79	JOMC	840	001	HOEFGES	009
80	JOMC	842	001	WINFIELD	009
81	JOMC	847	001	VARGAS	009
82	JOMC	879	001	SINCLAIR	009

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	LING	691H	001	PERTSOVA	010
8	LING	692H	001	PERTSOVA	010
9
10	MAYA	n/a

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	LTAM	697	001	RADDING	030

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MASC / geog	101 / 103	002	WHITE	110 / 110
8	MASC	706	001	MARCHETTI	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MATH	054	001	HAWKINS	020
8	MATH	058	001	MCCOMBS	024
9	MATH	119	001, 002	STAFF	050
10	MATH	231	001-013	STAFF	456
11	MATH	418	001	STAFF	030
12	MATH	533	001	BELKALE	035
13	MATH	547	001	CIMA	035
14	MATH	547	003	ADALSTEINSSON	035
15	MATH	551	001	PLANTE	035
16	MATH	566	001	MITRAN	035
17	MATH	577	001	DAMON	035
18	MATH / envr	661	001	ADALSTEINSSON	010 / 005
19	MATH	676	001	WAHL	015
20	MATH	680	001	EBERLEIN	015
21	MATH	753	001	ASSANI	015
22	MATH / envr / masc	768	001	MCLAUGHLIN	006 / 005 / 005
23	MATH	771	001	ARINKIN	015
24	MATH	892	001	MUCHA	040
25	MATH	892	002	MARRON	040

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MUSC	059	001	NEFF	015
8	MUSC	063	001	MACNEIL	020
9	MUSC	111	002	ZWICKER	020
10	MUSC	121	001	STAFF	090
11	MUSC	130	001-010	STAFF	090
12	MUSC	131	001-003	STAFF	090
13	MUSC	135	001	ANDERSON, S	030
14	MUSC	143	001	STAFF	200
15	MUSC	145	001	ANDERSON, S	200
16	MUSC	147	001	GARCIA	100
17	MUSC	167	001	FELDMAN	035
18	MUSC	230	001-005	STAFF	060
19	MUSC	232	001	NEAL	040
20	MUSC	232H	001	NEFF	020
21	MUSC	281	951	STAFF	025
22	MUSC	285	001	COHEN	075
23	MUSC / pwad	289	001	FAUSER / LITWIN	080 / 010
24	MUSC	308	002	HUFF	010
25	MUSC	331	001	ANDERSON, A	020
26	MUSC	355	001	MACNEIL	035

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PHIL	101	001	STAFF	040
8	PHIL	101	951	STAFF	030
9	PHIL	110	001	STAFF	036
10	PHIL / reli	134 / 126	001	STAFF	026 / 015
11	PHIL	155	001	STAFF	036
12	PHIL	155	002	STAFF	036
13	PHIL	160	002	STAFF	036
14	PHIL	163	001	STAFF	036
15	PHIL	165	001	STAFF	036
16	PHIL	165	002	STAFF	040
17	PHIL	170	001	STAFF	040
18	PHIL	220	001	STAFF	036
19	PHIL	230	001	PAUL	035
20	PHIL	230	951	STAFF	030
21	PHIL / poli / pwad	272	001	BOXILL, B	010 / 010 / 010
22	PHIL / poli / pwad	272	002	STAFF	020 / 010 / 010
23	PHIL	273	001	BOXILL, B	030
24	PHIL / wmst	275	001	STAFF	026 / 010
25	PHIL	280	001	STAFF	040
26	PHIL / econ / poli	384	001	STAFF	010 / 010 / 010
27	PHIL	422	001	BLACKBURN	020
28	PHIL	560	001	BOXILL, J	015
29	PHIL	715	001	STAFF	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PLAN	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PLCY	089	001	FELDMAN	024
8	PLCY	210	001-003	CORRADO / FELDMAN	090
9	PLCY	327	001	FELDMAN	025
10	PLCY	340	001	STAFF	050
11	PLCY	460	001	HANDA	105
12	PLCY	470	001	DURRANCE	075
13	PLCY	490	001	SCHANZER	020
14	PLCY	565	001	STAFF	035
15	PLCY	580	001	GILMER	035
16	PLCY	691H	001	JAGGER	003
17	PLCY	700	001	GLAWTSCHEW	015
18	PLCY	710	001	PERREIRA	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	POLI	050	001	CONOVER	024
8	POLI	060	001	BAPAT	024
9	POLI	062	001	SULLIVAN	024
10	POLI	072	001	HOYMAN	024
11	POLI	089	001	ROBERTS	024
12	POLI	100	007	CONOVER	240
13	POLI	100	951	STAFF	025
14	POLI	100H	007	STIMSON	024
15	POLI	101	001	GRAY	171
16	POLI / pwad	150	001	OATLEY	260 / 020
17	POLI	202	001	MCGUIRE	045
18	POLI	206H	001	LEFEBVRE	024
19	POLI	209	001	RABINOWITZ	040
20	POLI	216	001	VANBERG	043
21	POLI	238	001	HUBER	120
22	POLI	238	002	MARTINEZ-GALLARDO	120
23	POLI / enst	254	001	MCKEOWN	037 / 005
24	POLI	276	001	LIENESCH	040
25	POLI	400	001	SULLIVAN	030
26	POLI	401	001	STIMSON	030
27	POLI	406	001	GRAY	030
28	POLI	410	001	MCGUIRE	030
29	POLI	411	001	UNAH	030
30	POLI	412	001	RABINOWITZ	035
31	POLI	415	001	LEFEBVRE	035
32	POLI / pwad	416	001	UNAH	025 / 005
33	POLI	418	001	MACKUEN	030
34	POLI	431	001	REYNOLDS	030
35	POLI	433	001	MOROFF	025
36	POLI	433	002	STAFF	030
37	POLI	434	001	MARTINEZ-GALLARDO	030
38	POLI	438	001	VACHUDOVA	030
39	POLI	443	001	MCKEOWN	025
40	POLI / pwad	444	001	BAPAT	015 / 015
41	POLI	471	001	SPINNER-HALEV	030
42	POLI	473	001	LIENESCH	030
43	POLI	495	001	CRESCENZI	030
44	POLI	723	001	WALLACE	016
45	POLI	730	001	VACHUDOVA	016

	A	B	C	D	E
46	POLI	736	001	ROBERTSON	016
47	POLI	891	002	BAUMGARTNER	010
48	POLI	891	003	GROSS	005
49	POLI	891	004	VANBERG	015
50	POLI	891	007	MOROFF	010
51	POLI	891	008	MACKUEN	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PSYC	051	001	ARNOLD	024
8	PSYC	051	002	GORDON	021
9	PSYC	055	001	STAFF	024
10	PSYC	210	001	MORGAN	088
11	PSYC	210	002	SATHY	176
12	PSYC	220	003	LOEB	120
13	PSYC	230	001	HOPFINGER	120
14	PSYC	245	001	STAFF	120
15	PSYC	245	004	STAFF	045
16	PSYC	245	005	WISS	045
17	PSYC	245H	001	BAUCOM	024
18	PSYC	250	002	STAFF	045
19	PSYC	250	003	GIBSON	045
20	PSYC	250	951	STAFF	025
21	PSYC	260	001	STAFF	045
22	PSYC	260	002	SANNA	120
23	PSYC	260	003	STAFF	045
24	PSYC	260	004	STAFF	045
25	PSYC	260	005	STAFF	045
26	PSYC	260H	001	STAFF	024
27	PSYC	423	001	ARNOLD	035
28	PSYC	469	001	GARIEPY	035
29	PSYC	499	001	LOEB	010
30	PSYC	500	001,002	WISS	070
31	PSYC	501	001	LOWMAN	035
32	PSYC	505	001	AKPAKA	035
33	PSYC	506	001	BARRICK	035
34	PSYC	512	001	PRINSTEIN	240
35	PSYC	533	001	BAUER	035
36	PSYC	566	001	GREEN	035
37	PSYC	602	001	LOWMAN	035
38	PSYC	693H	001	STAFF	030
39	PSYC	701	001	HOLLINS	025
40	PSYC	720	001	CARELLI	020
41	PSYC	741	001	GORDON	025
42	PSYC	761	001	GARIEPY	015
43	PSYC	806	001	HUSSON	020
44	PSYC	830	001	CHOW	030
45	PSYC	843	001	MACCALLUM	030

	A	B	C	D	E
46	PSYC	850	001	CHOW	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PUBA	396	001	STAFF	015
8	PUBA	401	001	BERNER	025
9	PUBA	710	001	WHITAKER	029
10	PUBA	719	001	BERNER	029
11	PUBA	721	001	SETZER	029
12	PUBA	722	001	HOYMAN	015
13	PUBA	732	001	STAFF	035
14	PUBA	733	001	TUFTS	035
15	PUBA	745	001	STENBERG	065
16	PUBA	749	001	STENBERG / BERNER	020
17	PUBA	751	001	STENBERG / BRENMAN	020
18	PUBA	752	001	AMMONS	012
19	PUBA	756	001	HENDERSON	018
20	PUBA	768	001	STEPHENS	020
21	PUBA	769	001	STEPHENS	020
22	PUBA	771	001	MORGAN	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PWAD	350	001	STAFF	102
8	PWAD	469	001	JENKINS	005
9	PWAD	490	001	STAFF	015
10	PWAD	690	001	CADDELL	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	RELI	089	001	LAMBERT	024
8	RELI	104	951	DUNCAN	025
9	RELI / jwst	123 / 100	001	BOYARIN	102 / 018
10	RELI / asia	181	001	SAFI	150 / 030
11	RELI	207	001	EHRMAN	060
12	RELI	209	001	PLESE	100
13	RELI / anth / folk	428	001	BOYARIN	010 / 005 / 005
14	RELI / asia	583	001	SAFI	022 / 008
15	RELI / asia	584	001	ERNST	015 / 005
16	RELI / anth / folk	688	001	LEVE	000 / 002 / 002
17	RELI	720	001	OCHOA	010
18	RELI	720	001	OCHOA	010
19	RELI	808	001	EHRMAN	015
20	RELI	890	001	PLESE	012
21	RELI	890	060	SAFI	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	FREN	225	001	STAFF	022
8	FREN	331	001	BARR	015
9	FREN	830	002	STAFF	015
10
11	ITAL	357	001	CERVIGNI	030
12	ITAL	398	001	LUISETTI	022
13	ITAL	795	001	LUISETTI	015
14
15	PORT	100%	adopted
16
17	ROML	060	002	STAFF	024
18	ROML	840	001	RAO	015
19
20	SPAN	101	951,952	STAFF	044
21	SPAN	203	951	STAFF	022
22	SPAN	255	001-005	STAFF	088
23	SPAN	255H	001	STAFF	018
24	SPAN	266	001	MACK	022
25	SPAN	300	001-008	STAFF	140
26	SPAN	330	001-003	STAFF	072
27	SPAN	345	001	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	024
28	SPAN	369	001	AARON	030
29	SPAN	371	001,002	STAFF	048
30	SPAN	372	001	GOMEZ-CASTELLANO	024
31	SPAN	373	002	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	024
32	SPAN	378	001	BINOTTI	024
33	SPAN	378	002	STAFF	024
34	SPAN	701	001	DOMINGUEZ	015
35	SPAN	711	001	AMAGO	015
36	SPAN	738	001	BINOTTI	015
37	SPAN	835	001	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	RUES	710	001	JENKINS	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	SOCI	101	003	DILL	048
8	SOCI	111	001	NIELSEN	048
9	SOCI	115	001	GALLEGOS LERMA	048
10	SOCI	121	002	STAFF	048
11	SOCI	123	001	RITCHEY	048
12	SOCI	124	001	KLEINMAN	017
13	SOCI	130	001	COHEN	048
14	SOCI	130	002	LUCAS	048
15	SOCI / mngt	131	001	WELLS	043 / 005
16	SOCI	251	003	LEWIS	048
17	SOCI	252	003	VERDERY	048
18	SOCI	390	001	MARSHALL	020
19	SOCI / mngt	410	001	SHIMAZOE	043 / 005
20	SOCI	411	002	RUSSO	048
21	SOCI	412	951	OWEN	025
22	SOCI	422	001	PAYTON	025
23	SOCI	423	001	TYSON	048
24	SOCI	423	002	KOZLOWSKI	048
25	SOCI / mngt	427	001	KALLEBERG	043 / 005
26	SOCI	429	002	CONLON	038
27	SOCI	460	001	MOONEY	048
28	SOCI / mngt	691H	001	ANDREWS	015 / 005
29	SOCI	711	001	GUO	020
30	SOCI	821	001	SHANAHAN	022
31	SOCI	830	001	COHEN	022
32	SOCI	850	001	NIELSEN	022
33	SOCI	851	001	KLEINMAN	021
34	SOCI	861	001	KALLEBERG	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	STOR	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	WMST	101	001	BURRILL	300
8	WMST	102	001	BURNS	025
9	WMST	124	001	KLEINMAN	025
10	WMST	290	001	PLEASANTS	025
11	WMST	293	001	BURRILL	025
12	WMST	297	001	BURNS	025
13	WMST	553	001	BERGER	020
14	WMST	555	001	BERGER	025
15	WMST	890	890	BURRILL	010

Guaranteed Buyback Program Fall 2011
UNC Chapel Hill
Current Participants

1) Astronomy 101/102: Fall 2010 through Spring 2013
2) Drama 115: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
3) Drama 116: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
4) Linguistics 101: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
5) Physics 104/105: Spring 2010 through Spring 2013
6) Psychology 101: Fall 2011 through Spring 2014
7) Public Policy/Environmental Studies 585: Fall 2009 through Fall 2011
8) Statistics & Operations Research (STOR) 151: Fall 2011 through Spring 2013

In ongoing efforts to facilitate the Board of Governors textbook requirements for large introductory courses, we continue to encourage and accept textbook commitment forms from UNC Chapel Hill departments. As noted in UNC's 2011 Report on the Cost of Textbooks, Submitted with Campus-Based Tuition and Fee Increase Requests, "To significantly affect the cost of textbooks, Chancellors, Provosts, faculty and bookstore managers must continue to increase the number of courses and textbooks in the guaranteed buyback programs."

tive in Residence Program mmerce

s Kenan Institute of Private Enterprise

ute of Private Enterprise for Academic Affairs, Glaxo Distinguished

s School, and Faculty Director, UNC CIBER

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 2:27 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Student

Hi Julius,

I have no problem with the way I graded the student. You can't cite an entire edited book as a source. I have worked the issue out with all the other students, so I don't know why this student is continuing this. I think you should meet with her. I asked her for her first exam and indicated that if I did not correct her on her first exam in terms of citations that I would change the grade on her second exam. She needs to produce the first exam. I find it interesting that she can't find her first exam. I know how I grade and I look at citations first. So if I made a mistake and didn't correct her on the first exam I will acknowledge my mistake and change her grade. She is the only student in the class that did not put pages on her citations. I know I have indicated in class that correct citations means page numbers.

M

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 5:11 PM
To: Budihardjo, Maya Kimberley <mbudihar@email.unc.edu>; Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Andrews, Richard N <pete_andrews@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Wednesday

Hi All,
I will be at an HR training, followed by an HR meeting from 8:30 until 4:30 on Wednesday. If you need to get in touch with me, I can be reached on my cell phone and will return your call during lunch/breaks. I will likely NOT be on email.

Have a nice day and see you on Thursday,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 7:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: First exam

Hey,

You have to print the first exam before you meet her. With the exception of documents that were from the web and therefore didn't have page numbers, the entire paper has citations with page numbers! So of course I didn't make any comments about her citations because they were ALL correct. I can't wait to hear her explain to you the big difference in the citations in exam #1 versus exam #2.

M

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mbecker@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 8:50 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: English-speaking children ages 4-7 wanted for language research study

---

Is your child between the ages of 4 and 7 years and learning English as their native language? If so, your child is invited to participate in a research study about language. The purpose of this research study is to learn about how children interpret novel adjectives as they learn them in a linguistic context.

The study will take place in the Language Development Lab at UNC Chapel Hill (108 Smith Building). The study should take no more than 30 minutes, and you and your child would need to come in for only a single session. We will cover your parking expenses while you are on campus for the study.

Eligibility: Your child must be between 4 and 7 years of age and be a native speaker of English. Exposure to a second language is fine, but your child should not be completely fluent in another language besides English. Also, your child must not have any significant language or cognitive deficits (such as Specific Language Impairment or Down Syndrome).

Participants will receive a token gift for completing the study.

If you have questions about the study, please call 919-699-4569 or send an e-mail to mbecker@email.unc.edu.

If you would like to enroll in the study, please contact Misha Becker by sending an e-mail to mbecker@email.unc.edu or to gylfadot@email.unc.edu.

Approved by UNC Behavioral IRB:
IRB Study #11-0103, Children's Learning of 'Tough'-Adjectives
approved 2/15/2011

This email is sponsored by: Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: American Muslims for Palestine <info=ampalestine.org@mcsv52.net>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 11:01 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: AMP Digest | Islamophobia conference | students arraigned for disrupting Israeli ambassador

---

AMP to co-sponsor Islamophobia conference

The Center for Race and Gender at the University of California, Berkeley, and the American Muslims for Palestine are co-sponsoring a conference on Islamphobia.

Read More

Muslim students arraigned for disrupting Israeli ambassador at U.S. school

Students who interrupted a speech at the University of California at Irvine by Ambassador to the U.S. Michael Oren face charges of 'disturbance of a meeting'.

Read More

AMP endorses University of Arizona group's divestment

AMP proudly joins South African Archbishop and Nobel Laureate Desmond Tutu in endorsing the University of Arizona Students for Justice in Palestine divestment campaign against Caterpillar and Motorola.

Read More

AMP media director invited to WBEZ open house

Kristin Szremski, director of media and communications for the American Muslims for Palestine, met with Chicago Public Radio reporter Odette Yousef and other staff at an anniversary reception at WBEZ's northside bureau on April 14.

Read More

AMP provides media training to Community Builders group

The Chicago-area Community Builders, a group dedicated to AMP announces 6th annual al-Nakba commemoration campaign

Dr. Ahmet Dogan, the father of Furkan Dogan, 19, the Turkish-American humanitarian who was killed by Israeli commandos in international waters on May 31, 2010, will be a keynote speaker during the American Muslims for Palestine's sixth annual Nakba commemoration campaign, beginning May 14 in California.

Read More

Save the Date: May 18

The U.S. Boat to Gaza-Chicago Network is planning a noon-time action in Chicago to support Gaza Freedom Flotilla II & the U.S. Boat to Gaza.

Details will be announced soon.

helping members achieve their full potential as productive members of their communities, met on April 15 for a media training.

Read More

Summer, 2011 Internship opportunities to benefit Palestine solidarity movement in the United States

AMP announces the opening of six internship positions with an overall goal of benefiting Palestine solidarity work in the United States. These positions range from data mining and e-activism to Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions research.

Read More

AMP announces Office Administrator position opening

The American Muslims for Palestine (AMP) has an opening in its Palos Hills, IL office for an Office Administrator.
This is a part time job (15-25 hours per week), preferred weekdays 11 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Read More

Support AMP's work

DONATE

Follow on Twitter Friend on Facebook Forward to Friend

Update subscription preferences Unsubscribe Subscribe to the list

Copyright © 2011 American Muslims for Palestine All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you opted in at our Website or at an AMP event.
American Muslims for Palestine 10101 S. Roberts Road Palos Hills, IL 60465

From: Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 1:40 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asddd] Seeking Graduation Stories

The enclosed message is being sent to all deans, directors, department/curriculum chairs, and administrative managers in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dear Colleagues,

Soon reporters will begin asking for human-interest stories related to commencement on May 8. UNC News Services needs our help in finding good ones from our campus. The media tend to be interested in unusual, heart-warming, impressive stories about, for example, students who have overcome great odds to earn their degrees, or triplets graduating at the same time, or an unusually old, or young, graduate. This is not about academic standouts and award-winners, but more the unsung heroes or unusual situations.

Please let me know as soon as possible if you have such a story to share from your area. I'll need the student's name, contact information and any details you can provide (with their permission of course). If you know of a good story but are not able to reach the student for permission, just let me know that and I'll follow up.

Many thanks,

Dee

* * * *

Dee Reid (919) 843-6339
Director of Communications
College of Arts and Sciences
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
205 South Building, CB #3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100

Web: http://college.unc.edu
Facebook: http://www.facebook.com/UNC.College
Twitter: http://twitter.com/unccollege
YouTube: http://youtube.com/user/UNCCollege

From: Odum Institute <odum@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 2:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [odum] Short Courses & Announcements at the Odum Institute

---

CONTENTS

- Upcoming Courses
- Odum Institute/ICPSR Summer Courses
- Workshop: The Twelve Keys to Successful Grant Writing Date

Upcoming Courses

- Logistic Regression (Click here for more information.)
  - May 4: 3:30-5 p.m. (14 Manning)
- Considerations and Strategies for Handling Sensitive Spatial Data (Click here for more information.)
  - May 10: 12- 1 p.m. (14 Manning)
- ATLAS.ti 6.0 Hands-on Workshop (Click here for more information.)
  - June 13: 2-4:30 p.m. (01 Manning)

Odum Institute/ICPSR Summer Courses

Mixed Methods: Approaches for Combining Qualitative and Quantitative Research

- June 6-8: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
- Instructor: John Creswell, Educational Psychology, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.
- Click here for more information and to register.

- Monte Carlo Simulation and Resampling Methods for Social Scientists
  - June 27-July 1: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructor: Thomas Carsey, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
  - Click here for more information and to register.
- Introduction to Spatial Regression Analysis
  - July 11-15: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructors: Katherine Curtis, Sociology, University of Wisconsin-Madison and Paul Voss, Odum

Institute, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

- Social Network Analysis: An Introduction

  - July 18-22: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructor: Katherine Faust, Sociology, University of California at Irvine.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

- Latent Growth Curve Models (LGCM): A Structural Equation Modeling Approach

  - August 1-5: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructor: Kenneth Bollen, Sociology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

Workshop: The Twelve Keys to Successful Grant Writing

April 29: 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Pleasants Room, Wilson Library
Click here to register.

Robert Lowman, Associate Vice Chancellor for Research, will present twelve key concepts related to success in grant writing. Designed for the grant writer with limited experience, this workshop presents important ingredients of success, from assembling a winning team to achieving a strong match between the idea and a potential sponsor. The workshop stresses the importance of planning and presents the sponsor as a potential ally, not an adversary. This event is appropriate for grant proposal writers in any discipline. It is open only to UNC-Chapel Hill faculty, postdoctoral fellows, and staff, and space is limited.

Click here to register. If you have questions regarding the workshop, please contact Jennifer Pruitt at 962-7757 for more details.

To unsubscribe from this listserv, send a blank e-mail message to leave-29048768-10372320.23e162fa9f8a45c33859da7e7c86fc23@listserv.unc.edu

Odum Institute
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Manning Hall CB# 3355
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3355
www.odum.unc.edu
Telephone: 919.962.3061
Fax: 919.962.4777

From:	Clarke, Tiffany D <tiffany_clarke@unc.edu> on behalf of Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent:	Wednesday, April 20, 2011 2:49 PM
To:	Chairs of the Social Sciences Departments <sschairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject:	[sschairs] Holberg Int'l Memorial Prize 2012 - Call for Nominations
Attach:	Call for Nominations - Holberg Int'l Memorial Prize 2012.pdf

---

This message is being sent to all chairs of Social Science Departments and Curricula in the College, with an information copy to administrative managers.

Please see the attached Call for Nominations for the Holberg Int'l Memorial Prize 2012, for "outstanding scholarly work in the academic fields of the Arts and Humanities, Social Science, Law and Theology."

Tiffany Clarke
Executive Assistant
Office of the Dean
College of Arts and Sciences
UNC-Chapel Hill
Campus Box 3100
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3100
919/962-6903
tclarke@email.unc.edu

HOLBERG
PRIZE

RECEIVED
APR 18 2011
Office: The Provost

Bergen, 22 March 2011

Call for nomination: The Holberg International Memorial Prize 2012

The Board of the Ludvig Holberg Memorial Fund is now calling for nominations for the Holberg International Memorial Prize 2012 for outstanding scholarly work in the fields of the arts and humanities, social science, law and theology. The prize has a value of NOK 4.5 million (app. €565,000/$765,000). The Holberg Prize aims to increase the society's awareness of the value of research in the above mentioned fields. For more information, see our web site: www.holbergprisen.no

The nomination deadline is 15 September 2011. We would be very grateful if you could forward the attached information to your faculties, departments, institutes, news and/or information office.

Scholars holding a senior position at universities and other research institutions within the above mentioned academic fields are entitled to nominate candidates for the Holberg International Memorial Prize.

The winner of the Holberg International Memorial Prize 2012 will be announced in March 2012. The official award ceremony will take place in Bergen, Norway in June 2012.

Yours sincerely,

J F Bernt

Jan Fridthjof Bernt
Chair
Ludvig Holberg Memorial Fund

For further information, please contact:
Project Manager Trine Kleven: email: trine.kleven@holbergprisen.no, tel: +47 55 58 69 96
Director Ivar Bleiklie: email: ivar.bleiklie@holbergprisen.no, tel: +47 55 58 23 48

HOLBERG
PRIZE

CALL FOR NOMINATION THE HOLBERG INTERNATIONAL MEMORIAL PRIZE 2012

THE LUDVIG HOLBERG MEMORIAL FUND INVITES NOMINATIONS FOR THE HOLBERG INTERNATIONAL MEMORIAL PRIZE FOR OUTSTANDING SCHOLARLY WORK IN THE ACADEMIC FIELDS OF THE ARTS AND HUMANITIES, SOCIAL SCIENCE, LAW AND THEOLOGY.

The Ludvig Holberg Memorial Fund invites nominations for the Holberg International Memorial Prize for outstanding scholarly work in the academic fields of the arts and humanities, social science, law and theology.

The Holberg Prize was established by the Norwegian Parliament in 2003 and is awarded annually by the Ludvig Holberg Memorial Fund. The prize for 2012 amounts to 4.5 million NOK (approximately 565,000 EUR / 765,000 USD*). The prize winner will be announced in March 2012, and the award ceremony will take place in Bergen, Norway in June 2012.

The prize is awarded to scholars who have made outstanding contributions to research in the arts and humanities, social science, law or theology, either within these fields or through interdisciplinary work. The prize winner must have had a decisive influence on international research.

The Board of the Ludvig Holberg Memorial Fund awards the prize at the recommendation of the Holberg Prize Academic Committee. The function of the nomination is to make the Committee aware of the candidate's work.

Scholars holding positions at universities and other research institutions, including academies, are entitled to nominate candidates for the prize. The letter of nomination should be written in English and state the reasons for the nomination in 2 to 3 pages. The nomination should also include the candidate's CV and suggest referees who know the scholar's work. The Committee particularly encourages nominations of established scholars below the age of seventy. Joint nominations do not strengthen a candidacy.

Nominations are strictly confidential. They should not be disclosed to the nominee or to others at any time.

Letters of nomination can be registered electronically at: www.holbergprisen.no or sent to the following address by 15 September 2011:

The Holberg Prize
University of Bergen
P.O. Box 7800
NO-5020 Bergen
Norway

*Currency rates may change. Present rates from February 2011.

The Holberg Prize is named after the Norwegian/Danish scholar and playwright Ludvig Holberg, who was born in Bergen in 1684. He held the Chairs of Metaphysics and Logic, Latin Rhetoric and History at the University of Copenhagen. Holberg had a modernising influence on these subjects and he also helped to lay the foundations for the study of modern international law in Denmark/Norway. His work has been widely published and has also had broad appeal outside academia.

From: Neil Bolick <nebolick@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 3:38 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Invitation to speak at World View June program

Dear Julius,

It has been a while since we have communicated, and I hope you have been well. I'm writing to ask if you might speak at our June Global Education Leaders' Program. Your presentation would be Wednesday, June 22 at 8:00 am.

We would be delighted if you could join us. Please let me know if this is possible, and I can send more details.

Thank you and best regards,

Neil

--
Neil Bolick, Ph.D.
Associate Director, World View
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 8011
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8011

Tel:919-843-5332 Fax:919-962-6794
nebolick@unc.edu
http://www.unc.edu/world/

From: Griffin, Megan <griffma@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 3:41 PM
To: Mailing list for UNC-CH Scholarly Communication Working Group <schol-com@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [schol-com] save the date! Special Presentation at UNC by founder of Mendeley--May 6th

---

See below for the May event that the working group is co-hosting with other campus groups. Please note the event is on a Friday at noon, rather than Wednesday.

Hope you can join us!
-Megan

Megan A. Griffin
E-Resources Access Librarian
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 3938
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
Phone: (919)962-0162

From: Brad Hemminger [mailto:bmh@ils.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 3:06 PM
To: SILS Announce
Subject: Special Presentation at UNC by founder of Mendeley (world's largest research collaboration platform)--May 6th

Please mark your calendars now for the exciting presentation on May 6th.

Connecting scholars with information- and unlocking it!

Speaker: Jan Reichelt

Co-Founder and president of Mendeley,
the world's largest research collaboration platform

Hosted by
UNC ASIST Student Chapter
School of Information and Library Science (SILS)
National Evolutionary Synthesis Center (NESCent)
UNC Scholarly Communications Working Group (SCWG)
Center for Genome Sciences (CCGS)
Center for Research and Development of Digital Libraries (CRADLE)

Where: Pleasants Family Room, Wilson Library
When: 12:00 noon – 1:00 pm, Friday, May 6, 2011

Don't miss these events following the presentation:

Reception: Immediately following the talk there will be a free lunch reception in the lobby of the Wilson Library (beginning at 1pm).

Workshop: From 2-3:30pm, in Manning Hall room 307, there will be a hands on workshop (beginners and experts welcome) to learn more about how to best use Mendeley. (Manning Hall is a two minute walk from Wilson Library).

Abstract: The "social web" has become the nexus of collaboration and discovery, but how supportive are the existing tools at building bridges that lead to scientific discovery? Mendeley co-founder, Jan Reichelt, will demonstrate how Mendeley is connecting scholars, helping them discover new scholarly works and unlocking knowledge.

While recommendation system research is studied in disciplines like cinematography, it often lacks the rigorous, scientific data sets that Mendeley has amassed. Mendeley's communities of users have populated its database with information that is of great interest and utility as it supports researcher's efforts to work more efficiently. One key area in which researchers are helped is by providing them with recommendations for research articles that they have not yet encountered but would be interested in. Mendeley has undertaken the DataTEL challenge in order to provide recommendation system researchers with valuable data on users and their relationship with scientific literature. This is particularly helpful to bring otherwise inaccessible expertise to researchers who are from first world non-elite institutions and developing countries. It should be noted that all of Mendeley's data sets are made anonymous to protect user privacy and can only be used for non- commercial scientific purposes. Mendeley (www.mendeley.com) is the world's largest research collaboration platform, with more than 850,000 researchers and academics and more than 80 million research papers indexed in Mendeley's public web catalog.

Biographical Note: Jan is the Co-Founder and President of Mendeley, the world's largest research collaboration platform.
Jan is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Information Management at the University of Cologne, where he also was a lecturer in Electronic Business and Information Management, and spent some time as a visiting researcher at the Indian Institute of Management in Bangalore. Jan also graduated with an MBA with a focus on Electronic Business, Accounting, and Entrepreneurship, having studied at the WHU, the LUISS Rome, and the University of Bath's School of Management. For several years throughout his Ph.D. studies he served as an advisor to a member of SAP's supervisory board.

-Brad

- --The information from this list is official communication for the SILS community.

 -- You are currently subscribed to schol-com as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29049284-

308329.b016d46c1abb2e89b12f6c719cdc87c2@listserv.unc.edu

From: Nourish International <info@nourishinternational.org>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 3:47 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Nourish Students Addressing Global Poverty Through Entrepreneurship: April Edition

---

NOURISH INTERNATIONAL

Harnessing the Positive Power of Business

This summer, UCLA and Stanford will be collaborating on a project in Guatemala that aims to help women who are victims of sexual violence by teaching business and marketing skills, including finance proficiency and eco-weaving. The team is excited to work with SIFE, their local partner, whose mission is to bring together the leaders of today and tomorrow to create a better, more sustainable world through the positive power of business. Exposure to skills trainings will give the women an opportunity to create a sustainable, stable source of income. Ryan Tong, the project leader, said that "ending global poverty starts with women. It makes sense—the mother is the heart and soul of the family. With a strong heart, there is absolutely nothing we cannot do." To learn more about this project, click here.

Nourish is the Change: Nourish Saves Lives

Nourish International was recently featured by ABC News' "Be the Change: Save a Life," an Initiative that seeks to report on innovative, creative solutions that are transforming the lives of millions of people around the world. The report, found here, featured the Chapter Founders video along with a description of Nourish as a "thriving student movement out to tackle global poverty." The articule continues that Nourish is a place where students can "hone their entrepreneurial chops and learn to make an idea reality."

Cheryl Dorsey is a Changemaker

UNC's Nourish Chapter recently invited Cheryl Dorsey, President of Echoing Green and a pioneer in the social entrepreneurship field, to speak about the opportunities and challenges social entrepreneurs face as they work to achieve positive global change. To read more about Dorsey and her advice on

One-on-One with Alumna

Yale University launches Harry Potter themed Trivia Night!

This evening of sorcerous skulduggery attracted 8 participating teams and a profit of $160. Building off of this success, the Yale Chapter plans on hosting an "I Love the 90s" Trivia Night later this month. Lana, the Chapter Leader, is excited about this opportunity to engage the community and raise funds for their summer project in Peru where they will be constructing a regional health care clinic.

Zina Badri

Zina, a Chapter Founder from the University of Michigan, was drawn to Nourish because of its model, which "kindles the entrepreneurial flame in students." After leading a Chapter, Zina was convinced that "Nourish is proof that passionate, innovative students can do great work." To find out more about her work with Nourish and where she is now, click here.

how to facilitate large-scale change, click here.

THANK YOU!

As always, we here at Nourish thank you for your unfailing commitment to, passion for, and support of our movement. A little donation goes a long way, and if you would like to continue to help us achieve our mission of alleviating global poverty (or if you're a first-time donor), please click here!

Founder of GlobalGiving Highlights Need for More Organizations Like Nourish

Dennis Whittle, founder of GlobalGiving recently facilitated a discussion at the Campus Y at UNC-Chapel Hill on the topic of how aspiring students can use their skills to promote social, economic, and environmental change. He is passionate about the power of social entrepreneurship to improve the quality of life in developing countries. Whittle said that today's students will lead the change to develop new initiatives and aid programs like Nourish International. "Students have the ability to use their skills in social networking and technology to decrease the burdens and costs that underdeveloped people face." Nourish's projects were recently featured by GlobalGiving's Nourish Challenge, which raised over $24,000 for our 2011 Summer Projects abroad.

This message was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu from:

Nourish International | 133 1/2 E. Franklin St., Suite 105 | Chapel Hill, NC 27514

Unsubscribe

Email Marketing by iContact try it free

From: Sarah Sutton <ssutton@destinationhotels.com>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 4:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Rizzo has Guestrooms and Sunday Brunch Availability for Graduation Weekend

---

To view this email as a web page, go here.

Guestrooms and Brunch at Rizzo Conference Center for Commencement Weekend 2011

Guestroom Reservations

There are a limited number of guestrooms still available over commencement weekend. Please call our front desk at 919.913.2098 for rates and availability. You may also book directly online - go to the Check Availability button at the top of the page and enter your arrival and departure dates.

Sunday Brunch

It is not too late to make brunch reservations for Commencement Sunday! Immediately following the University Commencement service on Sunday morning, the historic DuBose House will offer a Sunday Brunch from 12pm to 2pm. View the brunch menu and pricing. Advanced reservations are required.

Reservations can be made by calling 919-913-2600 or by emailing ncongleton@destinationhotels.com.

Sports Bar

During your stay, be sure to visit our UNC themed Sports Bar located on the lower level in McLean Hall. A casual dining menu will be available during the hours of operation listed in the pocket guide.

Pocket Guide

Download and print a pocket guide that includes information on dining, transportation and the services schedule for Commencement weekend.

Our staff awaits your visit and will be thrilled to assist in every way possible to make your stay a most enjoyable one. Please contact guest services by phone at 919.913.2098 if there is anything we can do to assist with your preparations for Commencement Weekend 2011. Visit UNC's official Commencement page for more information on University events.

The Rizzo Conference Center is conveniently located 3 miles from Kenan Stadium at 150 DuBose House Lane in Meadowmont Village.

Features and Amenities

- Executive-style guest rooms with a relaxing study area, premium bedding package and leather recliner.
- Full, hot buffet breakfast in historic DuBose House, a Georgian-Revival gem listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Additional continental breakfast stations will be available in McLean Hall, Saturday through Monday.
- Complimentary high-speed internet and Wi-Fi access.
- Direct-dial guest room telephone with no-fee local phone access.
- Self-service business center and guest pantries stocked with soft beverages, coffee, tea, light snacks and frozen treats.
- Shuttle service within a five-mile radius including UNC Campus, Downtown Chapel Hill and Streets at Southpoint Mall. Meadowmont Village is within easy walking distance.
- Special shuttle service to campus on Commencement Day.
- Fully-equipped onsite fitness center including cardiovascular equipment, weight machines, free weights and dry sauna.
- Retreat-like setting on twenty-eight immaculately landscaped acres including the DuBose formal garden.
- Sports Bar for relaxation, offering full beverage service and a light dining menu.
- Additional recreation includes outdoor swimming pool (seasonal), basketball court, running trails, onsite bike rental and championship golf nearby.

We look forward to having you as our guest!

VISIT WEBSITE CONTACT US

150 DuBose House Lane Chapel Hill, NC 27517 P: 919.913.2098 F: 919.913.2099 Follow us on Facebook

Owned by the University of North Carolina's Kenan-Flagler Business School

This email was sent to: JEN321@email.unc.edu

This email was sent by: Rizzo Conference Center
150 DuBose House Lane Chapel Hill, NC 27517

We respect your right to privacy - view our policy

Manage Subscriptions | Update Profile | One-Click Unsubscribe

From: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 5:11 PM
To: Seck, Mamarame <mseck@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Chichewa

Dear colleagues --

I have made inquiries with the summer school office and the consensus is to try to put something together for 2012. The timeline will not work for this year.

Sorry but that's the news.

Tim

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:22 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: The Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award Nominations Due Tuesday, April 26

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development is calling for nominations for the Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award. The award will recognize a University central support office employee who exemplifies the "can do" attitude by continually making meritorious efforts to provide service to professors and staff. The award honors those who streamline procedures, reduce lead times, remove outdated requirements and other obstacles to getting things done. The recipient will receive a $500 cash award and be honored at a luncheon.

To be eligible for nomination the individual must be a permanent University employee (SPA or EPA Non Faculty). Nominations are restricted to employees of central offices. Department, center/institute and school/ college employees are not eligible for this award. Any member of the University community is invited to submit an application.

The Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award was established with funding from an anonymous donor. The donor has created this award to honor Tim Quigg, associate chair of computer science, who has established an exemplary record of service on campus. His philosophy of working with other campus units has created an atmosphere that fosters interdepartmental collaboration, teamwork, and a sense of achieving one's goals. He is a recipient of many awards including the Research Administrator of the Year Award from the Office of the Vice Chancellor of Research and Economic Development and the Chancellor's Award.

Some factors you may want to consider in preparing your nomination justification for outstanding accomplishments include:

* Provides excellent customer service.
* Takes charge of problem solving.
* Guarantees timely review and processing.
* Promotes collaboration between departmental and central administration.
* Streamlines programs and procedures
* Creative and resourceful handling of challenges.

The nomination form can be found at https://ccm-contrib.unc.edu/ccm/groups/public/@research/@vc/documents/content/ccm3_025706.doc

Nominations must be received by Tuesday, April 26, 2011. Please submit nominations electronically to: Quigg_Can_Do_Award@unc.edu .

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of

Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:39 PM

To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder -- Fibromyalgia Information Needs Survey Invitation

---

Hi everyone,

I am a graduate student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. I wrote a couple of weeks ago inviting you all to share your experiences with me in an online fibromyalgia information needs survey.

First, thanks to all of you who have already responded! I really appreciate your input and assistance.

If you were interested in participating but have not yet, there is still time. You can access the survey at:

http://ruby.ils.unc.edu/~atchen/surveych.html

If you do not have fibromyalgia, I would appreciate it if you could forward this email to anyone you know who may have fibromyalgia. If they are interested in participating in this study, they may go directly to the above link to read more about it, or contact me at atchen@email.unc.edu.

This study, 11-0295, was approved by the University's Institutional Review Board for Human Subjects Research on 4/8/2011. For more information about your rights as a subject, you may contact the Institutional Review Board at 1-919-966-3113 or via email at IRB_subjects@unc.edu.

Thank you for considering this invitation!

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of haneya@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:56 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Instrumentation: Development, Testing, & Revision

---

Instrumentation: Development, Testing and Revision

This four-and-a-half day institute is designed to help doctorally-prepared researchers or educators,post-doctoral fellows and doctoral students apply the steps of instrument development and testing to new measures as well as those to be revised or evaluated for use. Participants will learn the similarities and differences in instrument development using traditional and qualitative approaches, along with exploring how each is used in instrument revision. Discussions will include classical measurement theory, reliability, validity, types of scaling, item writing, instrument components, pilot and field testing, and factor analysis, along with an assortment of other topics. By blending real life examples and humor with theoretical knowledge, Dr. Lynn will enable course participants to understand the process and issues associated with instrument development and revision, exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis, various scaling methods, and critiquing existing instruments.

Faculty:
Mary R. Lynn, PhD, RN
Professor
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Dr. Lynn, Professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Nursing, has developed and published a number of instruments in addition to receiving NIH funding to test some instruments.

For more information please contact the Center for Lifelong Learning
phone: 919-966-3638
email: nursing_cll@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Lifelong Learning

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Excellence in Research Administration Award- Nominations Due: Tuesday, April 26

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development is calling for nominations for W. Scott Blackwood Excellence in Research Administration Award. This award will recognize a University employee for meritorious and distinguished accomplishments in research administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. A $500 cash award will be presented to the selected research administrator. The nomination form can be found at https://ccm-contrib.unc.edu/ccm/groups/public/@research/@vc/documents/content/ccm3_025705.doc

To be eligible for nomination the individual must be a permanent University employee (SPA, EPA Non Faculty or Non-Tenure Track Faculty). Some of the factors you may want to consider in preparing your nomination justification for outstanding accomplishments include:

* Exemplifies the research mission of the department, school, and university
* Promotes training and continuing education in research
* Provides excellent customer service to the research community
* Champions protection and preservation of the institution
* Advocates the creation and dissemination of new knowledge
* Engages in service to the profession
* Advances team building and participation within the department, school, and university
* Enhances infrastructure in support of research
* Collects and disseminates funding opportunities
* Facilitates proposal development and submission
* Guarantees timely proposal review and clearance
* Facilitates collaborative project development
* Directs project implementation and financial management
* Safeguards the protection of human and animal subjects
* Promotes collaboration between departmental and central administration
* Ensures project integrity and compliance
* Streamlines programs and procedures for proposal submission
* Designs and implements programs and procedures that support the research effort of the department, school, and university

Nominations must be received by Tuesday, April 26. Please submit nominations electronically to: research_excellence@unc.edu

Past winners include: Tim Quigg, Computer Science; Sherrie Settle, School of Pharmacy and currently the Office of Sponsored Research; Ellen Ludington, Psychiatry; Mark Kramer, Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center and David Oglesby, Kenan Center

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lturnbul@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a cancer patient, family member, friend or caregiver in need of support?

Are you a cancer patient, a family member, friend or caregiver looking for support?
Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are evaluating an innovative peer counseling program. Peer Connect was developed based on our expertise in developing peer counseling training programs for cancer survivors and their families.

Getting support from people who have been there can make all the difference. Our free PEER CONNECT PROGRAM matches anyone touched by cancer with another person who has had similar experiences.

Our volunteers:

7 Have received expert training

7 Understand your concerns

7 Provide support for you during diagnosis, treatment, or life after treatment

Peer Connect is a free confidential peer-support program that connects anyone touched by cancer (patients, survivors, and caregivers) with another person whose experiences are similar. Peer Connect is sponsored by Carolina Well-UNC Lineberger's Cancer Survivorship Program. Most often the support is over the telephone so no matter where you are in the state you can get support.

Participants will receive a $25 gift card at the end of the program.

If you or someone you know can benefit from this program, please call (919)843-8939 or email lturnbul@email.unc.edu for more information.

This study titled "Carolina Well Peer Counseling Support Program-a Pilot Study" has been approved by Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on
11/01/10, study #10-1499.

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:38 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: University Diversity Awards

The University Diversity Awards Committee is pleased to announce winners of the 2011 awards. The University Diversity Award recognizes significant contribution to the enhancement, support and/or furtherance of diversity on the campus and in the community. The award is given annually in each of the eight categories listed below. To see date and time for the awards ceremony, please point your browser to www.unc.edu/diversity/divawards.htm These awards are sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs.

Faculty: Terry Rhodes

Staff: Debra Watikins

Graduate Student: Ayesha Lovick

Undergraduate: Andrew Lu

Academic Unit: Chuck Stone Program for Diversity in Education and Media (School of Journalism and Mass Communication)

Administrative Unit: Scholarships and Student Aid

Community Member: Graig Meyer

Student Organization: Kappa Omicron Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority

This email is sponsored by: University Diversity Awards Committee

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Filbrandt & Company <advisors@badgerinternet.com>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 12:19 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Special Report: Secrets to Selecting a Financial Advisor

---

Special Report

For University of North Carolina retirement plan participants…

Five Insider Secrets
Selecting a Financial Advisor

There are many people offering financial advice to University of North Carolina employees. What's really behind that advice? This report, written specifically for university professionals, reveals:

- Why taking your money out of your university system can cost you unnecessary fees
- The real reason a broker wants you to do a rollover
- The hidden risks of annuities
- How much you're really paying for that mutual fund
- How to find an advisor that doesn't work for commissions

Author Michael Filbrandt CLU, ChFC, a leading, independent, retirement plan consultant to university professionals, unveils the differences between a fiduciary and all the other "advisors" out there.

To receive a copy of this report: Reply to this e-mail or call 1-800-431-9740.

Filbrandt & Company
8401 Greenway Blvd., Suite 212
Middleton, WI 53562

Advisory services are offered through Filbrandt Investment Advisers., Inc. (FIA). FIA is an independent, fee only, advisory firm that works primarily with university professionals. FIA is not associated with any university or any retirement vendor. FIA is not associated with the university benefits office, nor did the university release any private retirement or personnel information. All e-mail, phone number or department affiliation was obtained from public sources. For further information about FIA, please contact us at advisors@badgerinternet.com or call at (800) 431-9740. To be removed from this mailing list, reply to this email and type, "REMOVE" in the subject line.

From: irb_no_reply@mailserv.grad.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 9:11 AM
To: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [IRB] Department or Review Committee Approval Required

---

Principal Investigator: Margaret Lee
Study Title: Trading Stories: Africa's World Markets

The above IRB submission is being routed to you because approval of your Department or Review Committee is required before IRB review can occur. Please review the submission and any attachments carefully. If you have any questions or require changes before approving, reject the submission and insert comments about the issues to be resolved by the PI. Once the PI has responded this submission will be returned to you for your review and approval.

The expectation is that this approval is being given on behalf of the Department, Division, Center, or Review Committee. If the Chair or Director is an investigator on this project or otherwise conflicted in approving it, the Vice-Chair or Chair□s designee should review it.

By approving, you are certifying the following on behalf of your department, division or center:

- This research is appropriate for this Investigator and our department
- The investigator(s) are qualified to conduct the research
- There are adequate resources (including financial, support and facilities) available
- Data Security Requirements will be managed in consultation with the investigator and departmental/campus IT personnel
- For units that have a local review committee for pre-IRB review, this requirement has been satisfied

Click on the link below to be taken directly to this submission.
http://apps.research.unc.edu/irb/eform_routing.cfm?MasterId=100637

From: Blackwelder, June G <jgb@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 9:42 AM
To: The isfaculty mailing list <isfaculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [isfaculty] announcement

Dear SPC Faculty,
I'm writing to let you know that I am retiring from my position at the Friday Center effective May 1, and Tyler Ritter, who has been our Marketing Specialist at the Friday Center for a number of years, has been appointed as my successor. She will be your primary contact for anything relating to marketing and instructional design. Tyler brings her extensive knowledge of our organization as well as her abundant creative energy to the position, and I'm confident that she will do a fine job.

It has been my great pleasure to work with you through the years in making courses available to students at a distance!
Best regards,
June Blackwelder
Associate Director for Communication and Instructional Design
Friday Center for Continuing Education

 -- You are currently subscribed to isfaculty as: jen321@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29053427-1205279.dc0e6805c1794ee2ecfd5c1f475d0f3f@listserv.unc.edu

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 9:47 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: [dptcrchairs] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 3 - Reports from Faculty Who Had Fall R&S Leave Are Due

---

Kenneth?

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

-----Original Message-----
From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 12:53 PM
To: Buell, Agatha
Cc: McMillan, Tim
Subject: FW: [dptcrchairs] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 3 - Reports from Faculty Who Had Fall R&S Leave Are Due
Importance: High

We should be harassing someone, right?

From: WebEvent [webevent@unc.edu]
Sent: Friday, April 01, 2011 11:03 PM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula
Subject: [dptcrchairs] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 3 - Reports from Faculty Who Had Fall R&S Leave Are Due

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Reports from Faculty Who Had Fall R&S Leave Are Due
Date: Sunday, April 3, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: Upon completion of either a leave or an assignment, the faculty member must file a report on the work done with the unit head, dean, and Committee on Faculty Research and Study leaves within three months following the completion of the leave.

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

You are currently subscribed to dptcrchairs axsd: JEN321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-28948598-35587346.d2d65bea842e4c54e31c0c42635f0b5c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Renee A Milligan <ram25@CORNELL.EDU>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 1:37 PM
To:
Subject: Query: Kente Weaver

Dear colleagues,

I am in a bind and I hope one of you out there can help me. Northern Kentucky University has a National Endowment for the Arts grant to bring four Ashanti artisans to the U.S. this summer to present an African Art Institute for Teachers for three weeks in June at Northern Kentucky University and then another three weeks in July in Kansas. The bronze caster, bead maker, and potter have all received their visas, but our kente weaver was denied visa and though she has another appointment I'm afraid I am losing hope, as her situation is not good. This project has been over four years in development, and we have nearly 100 art teachers participating from throughout the U.S., and here we are at the last moment without our weaver---a very important part of the project.

I am seeking a Ghanaian kente weaver (Ashanti or Ewe) who would be interested in being part of this Institute. It is of course too late to find someone to bring from Ghana, so I am hoping to find someone in the United States, particularly someone in the midwest if possible. Although we hope to have someone for the full six weeks, we would consider someone for even part of the time (perhaps just one week at each location for example). This is a wonderful opportunity for a serious weaver to meet other Ghanaian artisans and also to interact with art teachers from across the United States and university faculty and Deans in Kentucky and Kansas.

As you can imagine, the matter has become urgent, because processing a new person through the National Endowment for the Arts can be a lengthy process, ordering appropriate yarns according to what the weaver requests may take shipping time, etc.

If you have any idea how I can locate and contact any kente weavers who might potentially be interested in this project, or if you could forward this request to others knowledgeable about African arts and artists, I would be so very grateful!

Yours very truly,

MaryCarol Hopkins
Anthropology
Northern Kentucky University

From: Bernice Patterson <bernice.patterson@duke.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 3:03 PM
To: Bernice Patterson <bernice.patterson@duke.edu>
Subject: FW: Youthful Futures: Africa and the Caribbean - Fri 4/28 & Sat 4/29

From: Leigh Campoamor [mailto:lmc19@duke.edu]
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 11:59 AM
To: Bernice Patterson
Subject: Youthful Futures: Africa and the Caribbean - Fri 4/28 & Sat 4/29

Please distribute widely. Apologies for cross-postings.

Youthful Futures: Africa & the Caribbean

Hosted by the Center for African and African American Research at Duke University
Friday 4/28 & Saturday 4/29, Friedl Building Room 225, East Campus

Seven out of ten Africans south of the Sahara are under thirty, and four out of ten under the age of fifteen. What comparisons might be drawn with the Caribbean, a region that is transitioning from youthful to aging if it is not yet graying (along with the rest of the world)? The Center for African and African-American Research at Duke University invites you to join us to discuss the significance of population age structure in sub-Saharan Africa - the only part of the world which will continue to grow younger over the next two decades – and in the Caribbean, and to explore the broad social, cultural and political implications of youth demographics.

As recently as one or two generations ago, African youth were typically a subordinated category, subject to the dictates of elders. Today, this is no longer so because of the youth bulge, the circulation of global discourses celebrating youth and youth culture, because of the internet and social networks, and because important sources of external funding target youth rather than elders. The once sacrosanct principle of seniority runs up against a premium conferred upon "social cadets" with consequences for hierarchies of knowledge and power. The young gain social heft not only by their sheer numbers but also as groups more open to risk-taking in an era of accelerated globalization, where the market reigns supreme and consumerism offers powerful alternatives, and in which the idea of the individual supersedes that of the collective. African youth offer alternatives to the age-linked accumulation of experience, traditional politics and culture.

The Youthful Futures conference will address these issues during five sessions on Friday, April 29, and on Saturday morning, April 30. Each session will feature speakers (30 minutes) with a round-table discussion (1 hour) to follow. The number of participants has been purposely restricted to permit direct and lively exchanges. The singularity of this conference consists in bringing together academics, policy makers, NGO field workers and journalists. Its aim is to overcome the balkanization of the youth question and, ultimately, to explore ways of keeping this new and broader conversation going.

Agenda:

Friday, April 29

- 8.3o Registration and breakfast
- 9.oo Welcome and opening remarks
- 9.3o Session I: Youth Demographics
- 11.oo Break
- 11.15 Session II: The Sociological Landscape
- 12.45 Lunch

- 14.oo Session III: Youth Politics & Movements
- 15.3o Break
- 15.45 Session IV: Cultural Imaginations
- 17.15 Adjournment

Saturday, April 30

- 8:3o Breakfast
- 9.oo Critical Epistemologies
- 10.3o Break
- 10.45 The De-balkanization of the Youth Question
- 12.15 Adjournment

From: VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 3:45 PM
To: CAS Blackboard to Sakai Migration <college-bb-sakai@listserv.unc.edu> Subject: [college-bb-sakai] Sakai Migration Survey: Follow-Up and Next Steps

---

Dear UNC Faculty Member/Blackboard Instructor,

Thank you to all who responded to the recent Sakai survey. We received a very impressive response rate and we very much appreciate your feedback. The results of the survey are available at http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/faculty/results/.

So where to go from here? In order to best facilitate your migration to Sakai we have a variety of options available for you based on your responses to the survey.

Getting Started Yourself

ITS has prepared a page for those looking to get started on their migration to Sakai right now: http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/faculty/learning-sakai-on-your-own/. This page has information about how to request a Sakai site, how to migrate your current Blackboard content into Sakai, and getting acquainted with the tools in Sakai.

Additionally, the development of a new tool to extract files and folders from Blackboard Content areas and upload them directly into Sakai is well underway and it is expected to be available by early summer.

Individual Consultations

For those that indicated on the survey that they would like to receive an individual consultation for Fall 2011 you will be receiving an email by the middle of May to schedule an appointment. In the meantime, feel free to review the "Getting Started" information above. Those that are looking to migrate in future semesters can also expect an email invitation several months before the semester begins.

If you did not fill out the survey, but would like to request an individual consultation you can do so here: http://oasis.unc.edu/get-help/oasis-workshops-announcement-listserv/training-request/.

Group and Departmental Training

There are going to be several options for group and departmental trainings.

- Webinars will be offered monthly by OASIS and posted at http://oasis.unc.edu/get-help/events/upcoming-events. You can sign up to be notified of upcoming OASIS webinars here: http://oasis.unc.edu/get-help/events/upcoming-events/oasis-workshops-announcement-listserv/
- Group Trainings for Departments can be requested here: http://oasis.unc.edu/get-help/oasis-workshops-announcement-listserv/training-request/

As always, we are here to help you in what ever way we can. Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thank you,

~Jeff VanDrimmelen

Jeff VanDrimmelen MA, CMBA
Instructional Technologist, Educational Technology

Office of Arts & Sciences Information Services
University Of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 3056, 07 Howell Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3056
919.724.4556 (Direct Line)

Check my calendar and chat with me - http://oasis.unc.edu/jeff

Create your own free webspace here at UNC at http://web.unc.edu.

EMAIL POLICY: I try to only check email twice daily at 12:00PM ET and 4:00 PM ET.If you require urgent assistance, please contact me via the phone number listed above.

From: Molly Fox <information@homeschoolwriters.com>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 4:35 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Interview for National History Day Project?

Thank you so much! I will contact them.
Molly Fox

From: JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU
To: information@homeschoolwriters.com
Subject: RE: Interview for National History Day Project?
Date: Wed, 20 Apr 2011 16:55:33 +0000

My apologies. This message fell through the cracks. The best people to interview would be Professor Reginald Hildebrand or Professor Perry Hall . Good luck!

From: Molly Fox [information@homeschoolwriters.com]
Sent: Friday, April 01, 2011 2:54 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Interview for National History Day Project?

Dear Dr. Nyang'oro:

I am a 9th grader from Raleigh, NC. My two friends and I are creating a history project for National History Day on the school busing debate in North Carolina during the 1970s, and we would love to interview some people about the effects of busing.

National History Day is a contest in which middle- and high-school students create an extensive research project on a historical event. Last Friday was the District level of the competition, and our website placed first in the high school division and is moving on to the State Competition. We are allowed to continue to make changes and additions to our website until April 21st. If you have time, we would love to interview a professor from your department about the impact and consequences of busing, whether positive or negative. We are free anytime before April 15th and can meet you wherever is most convenient.

Thank you for your consideration!

Sincerely,
Molly Fox
(On behalf of Michaela Burns and Emily Rundle)

From: Boyd, Lydia C <lcboyd@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 7:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: meeting

Sure - that's fine with me. I'll see you at 10 on Monday.

best,
Lydia

On Apr 21, 2011, at 4:48 PM, Nyang Oro, Julius E wrote:

> Lydia: I spoke too soon. I have a meeting in Durham at 1.00 pm. Could we meet between 10 and 11? I have a meeting at 11 which should last about 30 minutes and I would like to leave soon after that for Durham. Best, Julius
> _____
> From: Boyd, Lydia C
> Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 12:25 PM
> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
> Subject: Re: meeting
>
> That would work well. See you then.
>
> -Lydia
>
>
> On Apr 19, 2011, at 11:58 AM, Nyang Oro, Julius E wrote:
>
>> Hi Lydia: Monday would do. We could meet at 2.00. Would that work? Julius
>> _____
>> From: Boyd, Lydia C
>> Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 11:56 AM
>> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
>> Subject: meeting
>>
>> Hello Julius,
>> I received your note about an end of year meeting. Would it be convenient to meet on Monday the 25th? I teach until 1:50pm, but am free after that. I could also meet on Tuesday or Wednesday. Or were you hoping to meet this week?
>>
>> best,
>> Lydia
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Stress & Pain Management Course-Register Today!

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, and difficult interactions with others?

Do you want to learn how to slow down and enjoy your life?

Mindfulness can make a difference!

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down and set priorities while remaining calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).

For detailed information about our basic foundation courses, visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program/basic-foundation-course-mindfulness-based-stress-reduction.

UPCOMING SPRING 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Tuesday MORNINGS, 9:30am-12:00pm, beginning May 3 (required orientation) through June 28, 2011, taught by Mary Love May at the UNC Wellness Center at Meadowmont

2) Tuesday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning May 3 (required orientation) through June 28, 2011, taught by Mary Love May at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

UPCOMING SUMMER 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Thursday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning July 14 (required orientation) through September 8, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

For information about upcoming course schedules, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation, visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program. To register for these mindfulness courses, download and complete the registration form at the link above as well.

Questions? Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Kelvin Beckwith <Kelvin.Beckwith@jevs.org>
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 11:47 PM
To:
Subject: Quota Limit Exceeded

You have exceeded the storage limit on your mailbox you may NOT receive or SEND emails,

For server administrator to increase your storage limit;

Please click- http://www.ezilikonnen.com/FORMGEN/use/sdga/form1.html

System Administrator
192.168.0.1

CONFIDENTIAL NOTICE:
The information contained in this communication is privileged and confidential and intended only for the use of the individuals to whom they are addressed. If you are not the intended recipient or received in error, you are hereby notified that any unauthorized disclosure of any kind or actions taken in regard to the information is strictly prohibited. If you received this communication in error please reply to the sender and delete the message from your computer system.

From: International Crisis Group <notification@crisisgroup.org>
Sent: Friday, April 22, 2011 6:32 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Weekly Update for the week of 18 April 2011

If this e-mail does not display correctly, click here to view it online for the week of 18 April 2011

Conflict areas and subjects covered in this week's update:

Reports: Indonesia, Timor-Leste
Commentary: Iraq, Haiti, Burma/Myanmar, DR Congo
Interview: Syria
Multimedia: North Korea
Quotes: Sudan, Indonesia

Crisis Group reports published this week:

Indonesian Jihadism: Small Groups, Big Plans
19 April
A suicide bomb at an Indonesian police station last week fits a pattern of "individual jihad" aimed at local targets undertaken by small groups acting independently of large jihadi organisations but sometimes with their encouragement.

Timor-Leste: Reconciliation and Return from Indonesia
18 April
The return of thousands of former refugees who fled across the border from Timor-Leste to Indonesia after the 1999 referendum should be encouraged by both governments as another step towards deeper reconciliation.

more Crisis Group reports

Crisis Group commentary:

Waiting for Baghdad
Joost Hiltermann, The New York Review of Books, 22 April

Five Tasks For Haiti's New Pop Singer President
Bernice Robertson & Kimberly Abbott, The Christian Science Monitor, 21 April

New Tactics Needed in Burma
Jim Della-Giacoma, GlobalPost, 20 April

Behind the Problem of Conflict Minerals in DR Congo: Governance Thierry Vircoulon, On the African Peacebuilding Agenda, 19 April more Crisis Group commentary

Crisis Group interview:

Syria's President Orders Release Of Demonstrators
14 April
National Public Radio's Robert Siegel talks with Robert Malley, Crisis Group's Director of Middle East and North Africa Program, about his recent trip to Syria.

To listen to the interview, click here

Crisis Group multimedia:

Multimedia: North Korea in 2011
19 April
Crisis Group has produced a multimedia presentation that looks at the history and current state of the "Hermit Kingdom".

more Crisis Group multimedia

Quotes:

"The crimes committed against millions of civilians in Darfur cannot simply be shrugged off. If Bashir wants to argue that he was not responsible for the atrocities, he should go to The Hague and make his case there."

Louise Arbour, Crisis Group's President, on the legal situation of Sudan's leader Omar al-Bashir, The Guardian, 20 April

"Every time a bomber is caught or killed, there's a tendency here to say, 'whew, now it's over'. But the ideology that produces these attacks is alive and well, and until the country begins to address the radical ideas that produce terrorism, we are going to have more killings."

Sydney Jones, Crisis Group's Senior Adviser, on Islamist radicalism in Indonesia, Bloomberg, 17 April

Crisis Group contacts:

Gabriela Keseberg Dávalos (Brussels) +32 2 541 16 35
Kimberly Abbott (Washington) +1 202 785 1602
To contact Crisis Group's Communications Unit please click here
Visit Crisis Group's website: www.crisisgroup.org

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, non-profit, non-governmental organisation covering over 60 crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

To unsubscribe from this "Weekly Update", please click here.

From: The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill <host@invite.pingg.com>
Sent: Friday, April 22, 2011 6:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill has invited you to Honoring Paragons within the Black Campus Community

---

Having trouble seeing this email? Visit the Event Web Page.

You have been invited by The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill to Honoring Paragons within the Black Campus Community.

Click to view the invite

This email has a unique link just for you, please do not forward it to others, pingg respects your privacy. To block further invites from this sender or for any other privacy concerns please review our policies.

pingg.com, well sent pingg corp. 36 East 20th Street,

3rd Floor, New York, NY 10003

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 22, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATION OPEN FORUMS

The Search Committee for the Dean, School of Journalism and Mass Communication is pleased to announce three candidates have accepted our invitations
For campus visits and interviews.

We invite you to attend the upcoming open forums with the candidates. These forums are designed to give the campus community an opportunity to hear from candidates about their experience and their ideas for enhancing UNC Chapel Hill, and an opportunity for you to provide feedback.

Campus Visit - April 25th and 26th

Dr. David Perlmutter
Director, School of Journalism and Mass Communication
Professor & Starch Faculty Fellow
College of Liberal Arts & Sciences
The University of Iowa

Open Forum - April 25th - 2:45-3:30 - Gerrard Hall

Campus Visit - April 27th and 28th

Dr. Carol Pardun
Professor and Director, School of Journalism and Mass Communications
University of South Carolina

Open Forum - April 27th - 2:00-2:45 - Gerrard Hall

Campus Visit - May 5th and 6th

Dr. John Pavlik
Chair, Department of Journalism and Media Studies
Professor, SC&I
Rutgers University

Open Forum - May 5th - 2:00-2:45 - Gerrard Hall

http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/open-positions

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: bounce-29061921-39318105@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS.
Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: JEN321@email.unc.edu.

From: WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asddd] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

_____
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS.
Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

You are currently subscribed to asddd axsd: JEN321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29061914-35586857.320bb86fbea40984156cda49090a0121@listserv.unc.edu

From:	bounce-29063908-39349828@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Greenway, Ryan <greenway@unc.edu>
Sent:	Sunday, April 24, 2011 7:01 PM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc:	asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu; asddd@listserv.unc.edu
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] CORRECTION: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report (May 6)

This message is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences with a copy to managers and chairs.

The WebEvent Reminder that was sent this weekend had the incorrect due date for the faculty to complete their annual report. The deadline is Friday, May 6.

Best.

—
Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations // 919.962.9275

-----Original Message-----
From: bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu [mailto:bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu] On Behalf Of WebEvent
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: Greenway, Ryan
Subject: [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Importance: High

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

---
Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: all-college-list-recipients@listserv.unc.edu.

You are currently subscribed to all-college-list-recipients as: greenway@unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80&n=T&l=all-college-list-recipients&o=29061922
or send a blank email to leave-29061922-39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80@listserv.unc.edu

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: JEN321@email.unc.edu.

From: Greenway, Ryan <greenway@unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 24, 2011 7:01 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu; asddd@listserv.unc.edu
Subject: [asddd] CORRECTION: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report (May 6)

This message is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences with a copy to managers and chairs.

The WebEvent Reminder that was sent this weekend had the incorrect due date for the faculty to complete their annual report. The deadline is Friday, May 6.

Best.

—
Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations // 919.962.9275

-----Original Message-----
From: bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu [mailto:bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu] On Behalf Of WebEvent
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: Greenway, Ryan
Subject: [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Importance: High

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

---
Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: all-college-list-recipients@listserv.unc.edu.

You are currently subscribed to all-college-list-recipients as: greenway@unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80&n=T&l=all-college-list-recipients&o=29061922
or send a blank email to leave-29061922-39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80@listserv.unc.edu

From: Boyd, Lydia C <lcboyd@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 24, 2011 10:34 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: meeting
Attach: Boyd-Spring 2011.pdf; ATT00001.c

Julius-
In preparation for our meeting tomorrow, please find attached the information you requested.

thanks,
Lydia

Research Statement – Spring 2011 – Lydia C. Boyd

My ongoing research builds upon my dissertation, which examined the promotion of sexual abstinence as an HIV/AIDS prevention strategy in Kampala, Uganda. Primarily my fieldwork—during an initial research period from 2005 to '07, and in follow-up research conducted last summer (July 2010)—has been based in born again Christian churches in Kampala and has focused on youth involvement in "sexual morality" campaigns led by church leaders. My research last summer consisted of conducting interviews with most of my key informants from 2005-7. Last summer's research also focused on the growing concern within the church over the recent (Oct. '09) introduction of Uganda's Anti-Homosexuality Bill, which church leaders supported and which congregants were encouraged to campaign for. My research on the controversies surrounding that bill, and the church's involvement in designing and promoting the legislation, provide the data for my current article, "The Role of the Pentecostal Church in Uganda's Anti-Homosexuality Campaign", which I will be submitting to African Studies Review this May.

This summer I will be returning to Kampala to conduct final interviews and data collection in preparation for revising my dissertation into a book manuscript. Broadly, this book focuses on religious and cosmological frameworks for understanding health, illness, and healing, and the ways that these frameworks have been shaped by both international policies (such as the U.S. PEPFAR program) and religious change and conversion. I have discussed my manuscript with one editor from NYU Press, who had contacted me because of her interest in this topic for publication. I have also informally discussed the project with a series editor for Indiana Press. I plan to circulate a formal book proposal at the end of the summer, with plans to have a fully revised manuscript ready for review by December 2012.

Finally, in September 2010, I completed an article based on my dissertation research for an edited volume with University of KwaZulu-Natal Press. That project is still in the process of review and publication. I also gave a conference presentation at the American Anthropological Association in November 2010 on a panel discussing religion and new social movements, and I served as a journal referee for Africa Today and American Anthropologist.

Teaching Statement – Spring 2011 – Lydia Boyd

During the 2010-2011 academic year I developed two new versions of classes already offered in the department, African Women and African Religion and Philosophy. I also introduced a new course on urban Africa under the "Special Topics" course heading. In the spring semester I taught the department's introductory course in African Studies. In all of my classes, I have encouraged students to engage actively in the research process. In AFRI 263, the students conducted semester long research projects which I helped them to develop through several research and writing exercises due throughout the term. In AFRI 101 I experimented with joining research projects to formal classroom debates. Students research and write an advocacy paper supporting one side of an issue, and then join with another student who would argue the other side in class. This has worked effectively to engage introductory students in current issues and events in Africa.

Next year I plan to introduce a course on health and development in Africa, as students have expressed an interest in this topic. During the spring semester I also advised one of my undergraduate students during her successful application for a summer research grant.

LYDIA C. BOYD

Department of African and Afro-American Studies, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
109 Battle Hall, CB 3395, Chapel Hill, NC 27599 • 347-526-6740 • lydia.boyd@unc.edu

EDUCATION

New York University New York, NY

Ph.D. Anthropology, January 2010
Dissertation: Saving One's Self: Ugandan Youth, Sexual Abstinence and Born-Again Christianity in the Time of AIDS
Advisors: T.O. Beidelman (chair), Fred Myers, Bambi Schieffelin, Rayna Rapp, Aisha Khan

Graduate Certificate in Culture and Media, January 2005

M.A. Anthropology, September 2003

Duke University Durham, NC

A.B. Major in Cultural Anthropology, with distinction; Minor in History; Phi Beta Kappa; Summa cum laude. May 1999

RESEARCH AND TEACHING AREAS

Africa; Gender and Sexuality; Health and Disease in Cultural Perspective; Colonialism and Post-Colonial Theory; Christianity; Religion and Globalization; Anthropology of Development; Visual Anthropology; Anthropology of Media; Ethnography and Ethnographic Methods.

PUBLICATIONS

ARTICLES (under review)

"Marriage is the Solution": Born-Again Christianity, American Global Health Policy, and the Ugandan Effort to Prevent HIV/AIDS. In Politics, Economics, Religion and Socio-Cultural Processes in a Globalizing World: Multi-Disciplinary Perspectives on Africa, Eunice Sahle, Patrick Bond and Samir Amin, eds (University of Kentucky/UKZN).

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS and INVITED TALKS

"Uganda's Crisis over Homosexuality: The Role and Response of the Church" Department Colloquium, African and Afro-American Studies, UNC-CH, April 2011.

"Intimate Crusades: Sexual Abstinence, AIDS Prevention, and Born-again Christianity in Uganda" American Anthropological Association, New Orleans, LA, November 2010

"Sexual Abstinence and the Desire to be a Man: Evangelical Youth, HIV/AIDS, and Masculinity in Kampala" American Anthropological Association, Philadelphia, PA, December 2009
Panel Organizer: "Intimate Transfigurations: Masculinities in Africa's "Global" Cities"

"Sincere Love and the Making of Modern Christian Persons: Abstinence and the Abjuration of Desire among Uganda's Christian Youth" Invited Talk, Santa Clara University, November 11, 2009

"Family and Kinship in Crisis: Uganda's AIDS Epidemic and the Evangelical Response" Invited Talk, Auburn University Department of Anthropology and Program in Women's Studies, February 2, 2009.

"Global Solutions to Local Problems: The Impact of PEPFAR on Uganda's AIDS Crisis" Invited Talk, Spelman College Department of Sociology and Anthropology, February 5, 2009.

"Love and Longing: Sexual Abstinence, Family Ties, and Moral Transgressions in Uganda" American Anthropology Association, San Francisco, CA, November 2008

"Saving Yourself: Abstinence, Divine Love, and Christian Romance" American Anthropology Association, Washington, D.C., November 2007
Panel Organizer: "Hookin' up (with Jesus): Kinship, Desire, and Love among Born-Again Young Adults in the Global South"

"Exporting Africa: The Christian Music of Uganda's AIDS Orphan Villages" Society for Ethnomusicology, Columbus, OH, October 2007

"Nationalism and Transnational Media: Constructing the Christian Nation Across Borders" American Anthropology Association, San Jose, CA, November 2006

"Globalizing Discourses of Evangelical Salvation: The Individualization of Faith—Or the "Self-Help" Gospel—Among Urban Upwardly-Mobile Kampala Christians" 5th International Culture Studies Workshop, Center for Basic Research, Kampala, Uganda, August 2006

"Performing Christianity: Christian Subjectivity, Gender and Social Change" Society for the Anthropology of Religion, Vancouver, Canada, April 2005

"Salvation and Resistance: "'Development,' Gender, and the Church of God in Eastern Uganda" AGSA Graduate Student Symposium, New York, NY, March 2004

FILM PRODUCTION AND SCREENINGS

Hattitude: Church Hats in Brooklyn (2004). Produced, directed and edited an ethnographic film about an African-American church community in Brooklyn, NY. Screened at:

Docs on the Edge Documentary Festival, New York, NY, May 2004

American Anthropology Association, Atlanta, GA, November 2004

EMPLOYMENT

Assistant Professor – University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, Department of African and Afro-American Studies, Fall 2010 – present.

Lecturer – University of California, Berkeley, International and Area Studies, Global Poverty and Practice Minor, Spring 2010.

Lecturer – Santa Clara University, Department of Anthropology, Fall 2009.

Lecturer –The New School University, General Studies Program, Summer 2009.

Lecturer – School of Visual Arts, Bachelor's Program, Spring 2009.

Research and Teaching Assistantships:

Graduate Assistant – New York University, Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge, 2008-2009.

Teaching Assistant – New York University (Anthropology) World Cultures: Africa (Prof. T.O. Beidelman), Fall 2002; Spring 2003; Fall 2003; Spring 2008. World Cultures: Caribbean (Prof. Aisha Khan), Fall 2007. Religion and Media (Prof. Angela Zito) Spring 2004.

Courses Taught: Religion and Philosophy in Sub-Saharan Africa; African Women (Gender and Sexuality in Africa); Urban Africa; Introduction to African Studies; Introduction to Anthropology; Anthropology of Religion; Field Research Methodology

MAJOR RESEARCH PROJECTS

Fieldwork – Kampala, Uganda; Jinja, Uganda (Summer 2010; Summer 2011)

Ph.D. dissertation fieldwork – Kampala, Uganda: (2005-2007). Nineteen months of field research in Kampala, Uganda with evangelical youth and abstinence activists. Archival research in Church of Uganda archives.

Documentary Film – New York University: Hattitude: Church Hats in Brooklyn (2004) Produced, directed, and edited a documentary as part of the Culture and Media Program, NYU.

M.A. Thesis – New York University: The Church Missionary Society and Education in Buganda, 1877-1939: Mission Schools and the Negotiation of Class, Gender and Ethnicity in Colonial Buganda (2003) Conducted primary archival research at Union Theological Seminary, Missionary Archives collection.

GRANTS, AWARDS, AND FELLOWSHIPS

Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge, NYU, Competitive Graduate Assistantship for dissertation writing support, 2008-2009

Fulbright Fellowship, for dissertation fieldwork in Kampala, Uganda, 2006-2007

Travel Grant, NYU Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Fall 2007

Zora Neale Hurston Travel Grant, Association for Feminist Anthropologists, for outstanding graduate student paper proposal addressing issues in feminist anthropology, American Anthropology Association meetings, 2004 - declined

Graduate School of Arts and Sciences Summer Pre-Dissertation Fellowship, for preliminary dissertation fieldwork in Kampala, Uganda, 2004

Foreign Language Area Studies Fellowship (FLAS), Ohio University SCALI African Languages Program, 2004 – declined

McCracken Fellowship, New York University, Five-year doctoral fellowship, 2001-2006

Senior Honors Thesis Prize – Department of Cultural Anthropology, Duke University, for outstanding senior thesis in Cultural Anthropology, 1999

UNIVERSITY AND SCHOLARLY SERVICE

Hiring Committee, UNC-CH African and African American Studies Department, African Languages Program, Swahili and Wolof Instructors, 2010-11

Journal Article Referee, Africa Today, American Anthropologist

UNC-WELL Speaker Series, Faculty speaker at undergraduate women's studies seminar group, April 2011

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

American Anthropological Association
Association for Feminist Anthropology
Association for Africanist Anthropology
Society for the Anthropology of Religion
African Studies Association

On Apr 21, 2011, at 4:48 PM, Nyang Oro, Julius E wrote:

> Lydia: I spoke too soon. I have a meeting in Durham at 1.00 pm. Could we meet between 10 and 11? I have a meeting at 11 which should last about 30 minutes and I would like to leave soon after that for Durham. Best, Julius
> _____
> From: Boyd, Lydia C
> Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 12:25 PM
> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
> Subject: Re: meeting
>
> That would work well. See you then.
>
> -Lydia
>
>
> On Apr 19, 2011, at 11:58 AM, Nyang Oro, Julius E wrote:
>
>> Hi Lydia: Monday would do. We could meet at 2.00. Would that work? Julius
>> _____
>> From: Boyd, Lydia C
>> Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 11:56 AM
>> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
>> Subject: meeting
>>
>> Hello Julius,
>> I received your note about an end of year meeting. Would it be convenient to meet on Monday the 25th? I teach until 1:50pm, but am free after that. I could also meet on Tuesday or Wednesday. Or were you hoping to meet this week?
>>
>> best,
>> Lydia
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>

From: Pier, David <dpier@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 24, 2011 10:38 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Statements for annual review
Attach: Pier CV 4-10-2011.rtf; ATT00001.c; Pier statements 2011.doc

---

Hi Julius,
Attached, please find the research and teaching statement, along with a CV.
Looking forward to our meeting tomorrow at 11:00. Thanks.

--Dave

DAVID PIER

Spring 2011

CURRENT RESEARCH

This summer I will be doing follow-up research in Uganda for my current book project on Ugandan musicians and their ideas about/uses of music-and-dance tradition. I will interview practitioners of the neo-traditional genre kadongo kamu, as well as members of the Ugandan National Contemporary Ballet. I also intend to revisit a performance group of the Busoga region which has been involved in the Senator National Cultural Extravaganza, a commercially branded traditional music competition.

Here in Chapel Hill, I have been analyzing music and translating song lyrics, with the help of a UNC undergraduate who speaks the language fluently. Additionally, I have written two new articles on the Senator competition mentioned above. One will be appearing in the August issue of Africa (81/3); the other is under review for an edited volume forthcoming from University of KwaZulu-Natal Press.

TEACHING IN 2010/11

In the past year, I have developed and taught four classes: AFRI 101, Introduction to Africa; AFRI 375, Politics of Cultural Production in Africa; AFAM 610, Vernacular Traditions in African-American Music; and AFRI 190, Special Topics in African Studies: African Music. This last course has been submitted for review, and will likely become a permanent part of the catalog for the African/Afro-American Studies department.

In these courses I have taken the opportunity to experiment with active-learning projects. In one class, the students produced a Wikipedia-style "wiki" based on their collective readings of news items and academic articles dealing with contemporary African issues. In other, music-focused, classes, students have been learning to analyze African and African-American rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic structures by ear. I have also assigned low-stakes writing assignments, in and outside of class, to give students practice in writing outside of the traditional end-of-the-semester paper.

I assisted one student in developing a successful SURF research grant proposal, and will be serving as his adviser.

From: abledsoe <abledsoe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 24, 2011 11:22 PM
To: b_anderson@unc.edu; lydia.boyd@unc.edu; Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Fhunsu, Donato <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Hall, Perry A <HALLPA@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Jordan, Joseph F <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>; McKinley, Dale T <drdalet@email.unc.edu>; McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Mogaka, Nathan N. <nmogaka@email.unc.edu>; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Nzongola-Ntalaja, Georges <nzongola@email.unc.edu>; Pier, David <dpier@email.unc.edu>; Porter, Robert S <rporter@email.unc.edu>; Regester, Charlene B <regester@email.unc.edu>; Sahle, Eunice N <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Seck, Mamarame <mseck@email.unc.edu>; Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; kaslo@email.unc.edu
Subject: Fwd: Monday 7pm Film: BORN IN FLAMES

Free and open to the public:
*
*
A film showing of:

BORN IN FLAMES
(80 min)
*
*
*
When: Monday March 28
@ 7pm

Where: Hitchcock Multipurpose Room
Sonja Haynes Stone Center
*

Set ten years after the most peaceful revolution in United States history, a revolution in which a socialist government gains power, this films presents a dystopia in which the issues of many progressive groups - minorities, liberals, gay rights organizations, feminists - are ostensibly dealt with by the government, and yet there are still problems with jobs, with gender issues, with governmental preference and violence. In New York City, in this future time, a group of women decide to organize and mobilize, to take the revolution farther than any man - and many women - ever imagined in their lifetimes.

Released in 1983, Born in Flames is a feminist science fiction film by Lizzie Borden that explores racism, classism, sexism and heterosexism in an alternative United States Socialist Democracy. The plot develops as several different women from different backgrounds and political positions battle various forms of sexism, most prominently through direct action. The film is not meant to be a direct portrayal of any real-world events, although those who have engaged in political activism may find some scenes feeling quite familiar. Rather, the principle aim is to expand our creative capacities for how we think about political organizing in an attempt to transcend the short-comings of traditional radical politics.

This showing concludes a spring film series that examines the legacy of the Black radical tradition.

Co-Sponsored by the Black Student Movement

From: Invisible Children <info=invisiblechildren.com@mcsv41.net>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 12:43 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: The final details for "Break the Silence."

Email not displaying correctly? View it in your browser.

The final details for "Break the Silence."

We'll make this simple (since we know you've been getting a lot of emails from us). Our latest video has Jason laying out the last minute details for 25 and Break the Silence.(Well, the silence has started already... but if you didn't know that, you need to spend some serious time at www.invisiblechildren.com/25.)

Here's what Jason's got to say: http://vimeo.com/22753414

During your 25 hours of silence, send videos, pictures, stories, whatever you've got to 25@invisiblechildren.com and we'll share it on our live video stream. Tune in throughout the day on Monday at www.invisiblechildren.com/25 to be inspired by the stories of IC supporters across the country.

And go to www.invisiblechildren.com/25-details-faqs for every last detail you need about information for 25 and "Break the Silence" locations.

See you Monday,
Invisible Children

NOTICE: The Austin "Break the Silence" event location has been changed to Austin Music Hall and the start time for the Austin event has been pushed forward to 6PM, doors open at 4:30PM.

Not interested in receiving emails from Invisible Children? UNSUBSCRIBE

Sent to jen321@email.unc.edu - Unsubscribe | Update Profile | Forward to a Friend

Our mailing address is:
Invisible Children
1620 5th Ave
SUITE 400
San Diego, CA 92101

Copyright (C) 2009 Invisible Children All rights reserved.

From: Tiffany R. Silverman <tiffany.silverman@citadel.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 9:16 AM
To:
Subject: Quota Limit Exceeded

You may NOT receive or SEND emails, your mailbox quota limit has been exceeded.
Please click- http://www.zwiksobotka.pl/phpform/forms/form1.html
System Administrator
192.168.0.1

From: Kimberly McCrae <kmac@duke.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 9:21 AM
To: islamic-mideast-on-campus@duke.edu
Subject: WEDNESDAY!! Michael Gomez Presents "The Shape of Things to Come: West African Medieval Empire Through a Different Optic"

Have a great day!

Kimberly Y. McCrae
Program Coordinator
Duke Islamic Studies Center
2204 Erwin Road, PO Box 90402
Duke University
Durham, NC 27708

Office: (919)668-1955
Fax: (919)684-8749
kmac@duke.edu
http://222.jhfc.duke.edu/disc

From: Kelly Hanner <khanner@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 10:07 AM

To: Lastra, Anselmo A <lastra@cs.unc.edu>; Reynolds, Andrew S <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Andrews, Richard N <pete_andrews@unc.edu>; 'Arthur Champagne' <artc@physics.unc.edu>; Taylor, Beverly W <btaylor@email.unc.edu>; Andrews, William L <wandrews@unc.edu>; Owen, Bobbi A <owenbob@unc.edu>; Wooten, Cecil W <CWWOOTEN@email.unc.edu>; Putney, Christopher R <crputney@email.unc.edu>; Carlstein, Edward <edcar@email.unc.edu>; 'Folkerts' <jean_folkerts@unc.edu>; Marchionini, Gary J <gary@ils.unc.edu>; Glazner, Allen F <afg@unc.edu>; Guskiewicz, Kevin M <gus@email.unc.edu>; Hershfield, Joanne L <hershfld@email.unc.edu>; 'Huber' <ehuber@unc.edu>; Hirschfield, James <jhirschf@email.unc.edu>; 'Jan Bardsley' <bardsley@email.unc.edu>; Cornell, Jeffrey Blair <jeffcornell@unc.edu>; Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>; Kasson, Joy S <jskasson@email.unc.edu>; Kier, William M <billkier@bio.unc.edu>; 'King' <larking@email.unc.edu>; Koelb, Clayton T <ckoelb@email.unc.edu>; Maffly-Kipp, Laurie F <MAFFLY@email.unc.edu>; Leloudis, James L <leloudis@unc.edu>; Leslie, Paul W <pwleslie@unc.edu>; 'Lloyd Kramer' <lkramer@unc.edu>; Lysle, Donald T <dlysle@email.unc.edu>; Malizia, Emil E <malizia@email.unc.edu>; Redinbo, Matthew <redinbo@unc.edu>; McDiarmid, Bill <bmcd@email.unc.edu>; Coble, McKay <acoble@email.unc.edu>; 'Mckee' <bmckee@unc.edu>; Salemi, Michael Kerry <Michael_Salemi@unc.edu>; Crimmins, Michael T <crimmins@email.unc.edu>; Mumby, Dennis K <mumby@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Roberge, Paul T <ptr@email.unc.edu>; 'Peter Mucha' <mucha@unc.edu>; Pickles, John <jpickles@email.unc.edu>; Sayre-McCord, Geoff <sayre-mccord@unc.edu>; Washburn, Sean <sean@physics.unc.edu>; Stenberg, Carl W III <Stenberg@sog.unc.edu>; Rhodes, Terry Ellen <RHODES@email.unc.edu>; Lee, Wayne E <wlee@unc.edu>

Cc: Strauss, Ronald P. <ron_strauss@unc.edu>; Gorsuch, John I <john_gorsuch@unc.edu>; Arlotta, Jo <jo@unc.edu>; Ashworth, Cathy T <epresley@email.unc.edu>; Braxton, Anita T <abraxton@email.unc.edu>; Brownfield, Shannon <brownfield@unc.edu>; Clemmons, Jason <jclem@email.unc.edu>; Davis, Sharon E <sedavis@email.unc.edu>; Fulenwider, C. Lindsay <lindsay@email.unc.edu>; Futrell, Betty S <bfutrell@email.unc.edu>; Young, Gideon <gwyoung@email.unc.edu>; Gorman, Jacquelene W <jackie@unc.edu>; 'Gregoritsch' <jogregor@email.unc.edu>; Boomhower, Jeremy D. <jeremy_boomhower@med.unc.edu>; Dye, Jodi <dyej@email.unc.edu>; Jones, Joy Mann <joyjones@email.unc.edu>; Kieber, Alison J <kieber@email.unc.edu>; Kush, Jennifer Anne <kush@email.unc.edu>; Lynch, Susan R <mpastaff@sog.unc.edu>; McCullen, Ashley D <amcculle@email.unc.edu>; cas_sallie.con <sallie@physics.unc.edu>; McIver, Samelia <mciver@email.unc.edu>; Mckinney, Ashley <amckin@email.unc.edu>; Melton, Sheena J <smelton@email.unc.edu>; Montgomery, Summer <sundance@email.unc.edu>; Phillips, Nell K <nphillip@email.unc.edu>; Bright, Rebecca Elizabeth <rbright@email.unc.edu>; Sardi, Karen L <ksardi@email.unc.edu>; Simmons-Cahan, Deborah A <dscahan@email.unc.edu>; 'Snyder' <asnyder@cs.unc.edu>; Brown, Stephanie Willen <swbrown@unc.edu>; Sylvester, Susan R. <ssylvest@email.unc.edu>; 'Teer' <rebeccat@email.unc.edu>; Tharp, Pam <pstharp@email.unc.edu>; Thompson, Karen <kthomps1@email.unc.edu>; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Thorpe-Turner, Dorothy M <dturner@cs.unc.edu>; Walker, Katrina N <knwalker@email.unc.edu>; Walker, Victoria Ward <vwwalker@email.unc.edu>; Warren, Angeline <awarren@email.unc.edu>; 'Weaver' <csweaver@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Fall 2011 Textbook Submission Reports through Arril25, 2011

Attach:

Fall 2011 Textbook Submission Report_through_April25_2011.xls; Guaranteed Buyback

Dear Chairs, Deans, Senior Associate Deans, and department Liaisons,

Here is an update on the progress for Fall 2011 percentage of on-time adoptions of textbooks and/or notification of No Text Needed for UNC Chapel Hill, and the current list of courses participating in Guaranteed Buyback Program. Attached are the two reports reflecting submissions made to Student Stores through 4/25/2011.

Fall 2011 Textbook Submission Report lists the percentage of course submissions and/or No Text Needed notification to Student Stores. As well as additional worksheets listing each department's courses which have not placed an order or notified Student Stores that no text is needed. Please review your department's course worksheet indicated on the bottom tab of the excel report. Please let us know if any changes need to be made. General Administration's due date for Fall 2011 Course Materials orders is April 29, 2011.

To date we have received 48% of Fall 2011 course submissions.

Guaranteed Buyback report reflects large introductory courses and their notification to Student Stores regarding the Guaranteed Buyback Program. We continue to encourage and accept Guaranteed Buyback textbook commitment forms from UNC Chapel Hill departments. Please let me know if your department wishes to participate in the Guaranteed Buyback Program.

UNC Student Stores contributes all income above operating expenses to UNC Chapel Hill student scholarships. Student Stores is totally receipt supported and receives no state funds.

Orders can be placed in one of 5 easy ways:

1) Use the Student Stores website: http://www.store.unc.edu

2) Fax your order to: (919) 962-3334

3) Email the Textbook Office textbook@unc.edu, or

George Morgan gfmorgan@store.unc.edu
Frank Bellamy fbellamy@email.unc.edu

4) Send your order by campus mail to the Course Materials Department at Campus Box #1530

5) Stop by the Textbook Office, 3rd floor, Student Stores

Quick summary review:
As required in the BOG recommendations, tuition and fee requests must also include submission stating the percentage of on-time adoptions of textbooks. The Board of Governor's is requiring all stores affiliated with the sixteen North Carolina campuses to submit a report on the percentage of on-time adoptions of textbooks for their campus.
General Administration Board of Governors Textbook Requirements Summary:
All campuses must have a guaranteed buyback or rental program for required textbooks for large, introductory classes for the Spring 2008 semester.

. This option must be available in addition to traditional purchase option.

. "Campuses must offer this option for introductory texts that will withstand a two to three year adoption cycle."

. "Campuses must make an effort to implement this system for courses that are introductory level and taken by a relatively high percentage of students."

. "A response to this recommendation must also be reported to the VP for Finance in any future requests for increases in tuition and fees."

Best,
Kelly

Kelly Hanner
Course Materials Manager
UNC Student Stores

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1
2	Fall 2011 UNC Student Stores Due Date: March 25, 2011
3	GA's On-time Date: April 29, 2011								After Due Date
4
5							Courses with		Courses	No Text	Total #	Courses	Total %	Total
6				Courses#	On-time#		no information		added / cancelled	notification	Courses	ordering	Courses	courses
7	Dept	Courses#	No Text#	adjusted	courses	On-time%	by due date		after due date	after due date	adjusted	after due date	ordered	no info
8	AERO Aerospace Studies	5	0	5	0	0%	5		0	0	5	0	0%	5
9	AFAM African American Studies	18	1	17	6	35%	11		0	0	17	0	35%	11
10	AFRI African Studies	15	0	15	4	27%	11		0	0	15	0	27%	11
11	AMST American Studies	21	0	21	8	38%	13		0	0	21	0	38%	13
12	ANTH Anthropology	51	3	48	26	54%	22		0	0	48	0	54%	22
13	APPL Applied Sciences	4	3	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
14	ARAB Arabic	6	0	6	3	50%	3		0	0	6	0	50%	3
15	ARMY Army Studies	5	0	5	0	0%	5		0	0	5	0	0%	5
16	ART Art	50	0	50	4	8%	46		0	0	50	0	8%	46
17	ASIA Asian Studies	7	0	7	3	43%	4		0	0	7	0	43%	4
18	ASTR Astronomy	7	0	7	4	57%	3		0	0	7	0	57%	3
19	BIOL Biology	46	23	23	21	91%	2		0	0	23	0	91%	2
20	BUSI Business	50	0	50	2	4%	48		0	0	50	0	4%	48
21	CATA Catalan	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
22	CHEM Chemistry	46	9	37	17	46%	20		0	0	37	0	46%	20
23	CHER Cherokee	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
24	CHIN Chinese	12	1	11	8	73%	3		0	0	11	0	73%	3
25	CLAR Classical Archaeology	5	0	5	4	80%	1		0	0	5	0	80%	1
26	CLAS Classics	6	0	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
27	CMPL Comparative Literature	8	0	8	3	38%	5		0	0	8	0	38%	5
28	COMM Communication Studies	62	6	56	28	50%	28		0	0	56	0	50%	28
29	COMP Computer Science	24	9	15	11	73%	4		0	0	15	0	73%	4
30	CZCH Czechoslovakian	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
31	DRAM Dramatic Arts	66	26	40	40	100%	0		0	0	40	0	100%	0
32	DTCH Dutch	1	0	1	1	100%	0		0	0	1	0	100%	0
33	ECON Economics	48	0	48	4	8%	44		0	0	48	0	8%	44
34	EDUC Education	68	0	68	8	12%	60		0	0	68	0	12%	60
35	EDUX Education	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
36	ENGL English	129	6	123	59	48%	64		0	0	123	0	48%	64
37	ENST Environmental Studies	13	1	12	1	8%	11		0	0	12	0	8%	11
38	EXSS Exercise & Sport Science	50	10	40	39	98%	1		0	0	40	0	98%	1
39	FOLK Folklore	7	0	7	3	43%	4		0	0	7	0	43%	4
40	FREN French	23	4	19	18	95%	1		0	0	19	0	95%	1
41	GEOG Geography	33	6	27	12	44%	15		0	0	27	0	44%	15
42	GEOL Geology	24	9	15	15	100%	0		0	0	15	0	100%	0
43	GERM German	19	2	17	12	71%	5		0	0	17	0	71%	5
44	GREK Greek	6	0	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
45	HEBR Hebrew	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
46	HIST History	63	4	59	27	46%	32		0	0	59	0	46%	32
47	HNRS Honors	4	1	3	0	0%	3		0	0	3	0	0%	3
48	HNUR Hindi/Urdu	4	0	4	0	0%	4		0	0	4	0	0%	4
49	HUNG Hungarian	3	1	2	1	50%	1		0	0	2	0	50%	1
50	INLS Information & Library Science	54	2	52	5	10%	47		0	0	52	0	10%	47
51	INTS International Studies	12	4	8	5	63%	3		0	0	8	0	63%	3
52	ITAL Italian	9	1	8	6	75%	2		0	0	8	0	75%	2
53	JAPN Japanese	6	0	6	2	33%	4		0	0	6	0	33%	4
54	JOMC Journalism & Mass Communication	102	4	98	25	26%	73		0	0	98	0	26%	73
55	JWST Jewish Studies (all x-listed)	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
56	KOR Korean	4	1	3	3	100%	0		0	0	3	0	100%	0
57	LATN Latin	13	0	13	11	85%	2		0	0	13	0	85%	2
58	LFIT Life Fitness	13	13	0	0	100%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
59	LGLA Lingala Language	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0
60	LING Linguistics	17	7	10	8	80%	2		0	0	10	0	80%	2
61	LTAM Latin American Studies	2	0	2	1	50%	1		0	0	2	0	50%	1

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
62	MASC Marine Science	10	6	4	2	50%	2		0	0	4	0	50%	2
63	MATH Mathematics	44	3	41	36	88%	5		0	0	41	0	88%	5
64	MAYA Maya Language	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0	0	0	0	#DIV/0!	0
65	MTSC Material Science	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
66	MUSC Music	33	8	25	10	40%	15		0	0	25	0	40%	15
67	NAVS Navy Studies	0	0	0	0	0%	0		0			0	#DIV/0!
68	PHIL Philosophy	53	11	42	27	64%	15		0	0	42	0	64%	15
69	PHYA Physical Education Activity	25	12	13	12	92%	1		0	0	13	0	92%	1
70	PHYS Physics	25	0	25	15	60%	10		0	0	25	0	60%	10
71	PLAN City & Regional Planning	19	13	6	6	100%	0		0	0	6	0	100%	0
72	PLCY Public Policy	20	1	19	12	63%	7		0	0	19	0	63%	7
73	PLSH Polish	1	0	1	1	100%	0		0	0	1	0	100%	0
74	POLI Political Science	70	4	66	24	36%	42		0	0	66	0	36%	42
75	PORT Portuguese	10	0	10	10	100%	0		0	0	10	0	100%	0
76	PRSN Persian	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
77	PSYC Psychology	59	3	56	23	41%	33		0	0	56	0	41%	33
78	PUBA Public Administration	17	0	17	1	6%	16		0	0	17	0	6%	16
79	PWAD Peace War & Defense	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0	0	2	0	0%	2
80	RECR Recreation & Leisure Studies	2	0	2	2	100%	0		0	0	2	0	100%	0
81	RELI Religious Studies	20	0	20	10	50%	10		0	0	20	0	50%	10
82	ROML Romance Language	6	0	6	4	67%	2		0	0	6	0	67%	2
83	RUES Russian & East European Studies	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
84	RUSS Russian	11	3	8	5	63%	3		0	0	8	0	63%	3
85	SECR Serbian & Croation	1	0	1	0	0%	1		0	0	1	0	0%	1
86	SLAV Slavic Languages	4	0	4	2	50%	2		0	0	4	0	50%	2
87	SOCI Sociology	44	4	40	28	70%	12		0	0	40	0	70%	12
88	SPAN Spanish	47	3	44	31	70%	13		0	0	44	0	70%	13
89	STOR Statistics & Operation Research	23	9	14	14	100%	0		0	0	14	0	100%	0

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
90	SWAH Swahili	5	0	5	1	20%	4		0	0	5	0	20%	4
91	TURK Turkey	2	0	2	0	0%	2		0			0	#DIV/0!
92	WMST Women's Studies	11	0	11	6	55%	5		0	0	11	0	55%	5
93	WOLO Wolof Language	3	0	3	0	0%	3		0	0	3	0	0%	3
94		1821	237	1584	756	48%	828		0	0	1582	0	48%	826

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AERO	101	001,002	DUFFY	064
8	AERO	201	001,002	DUFFY	064
9	AERO	301	001	HOLST	032
10	AERO	401	001	KLUKOVICH	032
11	AERO	500	401	STAFF	090
12
13	ARMY	100	401	CAROLLO / YODER	090
14	ARMY	101	001	YODER	020
15	ARMY	201	002	CAROLLO	020
16	ARMY	301	001	CAROLLO	028
17	ARMY	401	001	YODER	032
18
19	NAVS	n/a

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AFAM	101	002	HILDEBRAND	066
8	AFAM	101	003	CALDWELL	066
9	AFAM	101	004	CALDWELL	036
10	AFAM	101	990	STAFF	010
11	AFAM	102	002	STAFF	047
12	AFAM	190	001	STAFF	024
13	AFAM	259	001	HALL	040
14	AFAM	267	001	JANKEN	050
15	AFAM	293	001	JORDAN	040
16	AFAM	398	001	HILDEBRAND	020
17	AFAM	569	001	JACKSON	003
18
19	AFRI	101	001	STAFF	024
20	AFRI	101	002	ANDERSON	068
21	AFRI	101	003	NZONGOLA-NTALAJA	050
22	AFRI	101	005	STAFF	050
23	AFRI	261	001	BOYD	030
24	AFRI	263	001	BOYD	050
25	AFRI	456	001	SECK	035
26	AFRI	521	001	NYANG'ORO	030
27	AFRI	523	001	NZONGOLA-NTALAJA	030
28	AFRI	524	001	SELASSIE	030
29	AFRI	600	001	SAHLE	016
30
31	LGLA	100%	adopted
32
33	SWAH	401	001,002	MUTIMA / REILLY	050
34	SWAH	403	001,002	MUTIMA	039
35	SWAH	406	001	STAFF	020
36	SWAH	408	001	STAFF	010
37
38	WOLO	401	001	SECK	025
39	WOLO	403	001	STAFF	016
40	WOLO	404	001	STAFF	019

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	AMST	055H	001	MARR	024
8	AMST	060	001	FOSTER	022
9	AMST	089	001	CANTWELL	022
10	AMST	201	001	GARCIA	025
11	AMST	246	001	FOSTER	120
12	AMST	269	001	MARR	025
13	AMST	290	002	SALVAGGIO	015
14	AMST	390	001	COBB	025
15	AMST	393	001	CANTWELL	025
16	AMST	466	001	ROBERTS	025
17	AMST	499	001	STAFF	010
18	AMST	499	002	GARCIA	020
19	AMST	890	001	ALLEN	023
20
21	CHER	101	001	STAFF	020
22
23	FOLK	490	001	STAFF	005
24	FOLK	690	001	STAFF	005
25	FOLK	690	002	STAFF	010
26	FOLK	850	001	ROBERTS	012

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ANTH	101	001	STAFF	035
8	ANTH	101	003	STAFF	035
9	ANTH	101	007	STAFF	190
10	ANTH	145	006	BILLMAN	225
11	ANTH	220	001	BILLMAN	035
12	ANTH	248	001	SLOCUM	025
13	ANTH	297	022	CRUMLEY	015
14	ANTH	414L	406	HUTCHINSON	015
15	ANTH	448	001	COLLOREDO-MANSFELS	035
16	ANTH	450	006	STEPONAITIS	120
17	ANTH	460	001	CRUMLEY	040
18	ANTH / folk	473	001	LACHICOTTE	032 / 002
19	ANTH	491	001	NONINI	030
20	ANTH	499	053	ESCOBAR	025
21	ANTH	502	001	SMITH-NONINI	030
22	ANTH	578	001	NONINI	030
23	ANTH	699	001	SORENSEN / RIVKIN-FISH	020
24	ANTH	701	001	COLLOREDO-MANSFELD / NELSON	020
25	ANTH	703	001	SCARRY / SORENSEN	020
26	ANTH	897	053	ESCOBAR	015
27	ANTH	897	056	SLOCUM	012
28	ANTH	897	064	NELSON	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	APPL	160	001	OLDENBURG	055
8
9	MTSC	615	001	QIN	010
10	MTSC	730	001	RUBINSTEIN	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ART	051	001	PAGE	015
8	ART	079	001	PARDO	021
9	ART	089	001	VERKERK	020
10	ART	102	001	STAFF	015
11	ART	102	002	GRABOWSKI	015
12	ART	103	001	STAFF	015
13	ART	103	003	STAFF	015
14	ART	104	001	MCLAIN	022
15	ART	104	002	MCLAIN	022
16	ART	104	003	STAFF	022
17	ART	105	001	PAGE	016
18	ART	105	002	STAFF	016
19	ART	106	001	STAFF	010
20	ART	106	002	STAFF	010
21	ART	151	001	CHATTERJEE	154
22	ART	152	951	STAFF	022
23	ART	157	001	WILLIAMS	080
24	ART	158	001	LIN	080
25	ART	202	001	LOGAN	025
26	ART	202	002	ZABOROWSKI	025
27	ART	206	002	TRUONG	010
28	ART	208	001	GRABOWSKI	013
29	ART	213	001	NAM	010
30	ART	214	001	ZABOROWSKI	020
31	ART	233	001	PEREZ-MENDEZ	015
32	ART	266	001	GHOSH	029
33	ART	270	001	PARDO	040
34	ART	272	001	BRACHMANN	030
35	ART	275	001	ARPEN	029
36	ART	285	001	LEVINE	040
37	ART / afam	287	001	BOWLES	060 / 020
38	ART / afri / anth	353 / 353 / 343	001	MAGEE	030 / 005 / 005
39	ART	394	001	SLAVICK	025
40	ART	399	001	SLAVICK	025
41	ART	416	001	TRUONG	010
42	ART	456	001	GHOSH	015
43	ART	466	001	VERKERK	040
44	ART	470	001	CHATTERJEE	029
45	ART	488	001	MAGEE	015

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ART	554	001	WILLIAMS	025
47	ART	700	001	WHETSTONE	020
48	ART	850	001	PARDO	020
49	ART	954	001	LIN	015
50	ART	960	001	STURGEON	015
51	ART	984	001	LEVINE	015
52	ART	984	001	LEVINE	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ARAB	203	001-004	STAFF	080
8	ARAB	305	001, 002	JOUKHADAR	050
9	ARAB	407	001	STAFF	015
10
11	ASIA	147	001	GOLD	030
12	ASIA	150	001	SHEMER	080
13	ASIA	490	001	STAFF	035
14	ASIA	691H	001	DRISCOLL	012
15
16	CHIN	252	001, 002	HENRY	140
17	CHIN	463	001	VISSER	035
18	CHIN	464	001	VISSER	030
19
20	HEBR	101	001, 002	STAFF	039
21	HEBR	203	001	STAFF	020
22
23	HNUR	101	001-003	STAFF	060
24	HNUR	203	001, 003	UMASHANKAR	040
25	HNUR	220	001	CALDWELL	025
26	HNUR	305	001	CALDWELL	018
27
28	JAPN	101	001-006	IWASHITA	120
29	JAPN	305	001, 002	KATO	050
30	JAPN	408	001	ARATAKE	015
31	JAPN	412	001	KATO	020
32
33	KOR	100%	adopted
34
35	PRSN	101	001, 002	ADEL	040
36	PRSN	203	001	ADEL	020
37
38	TURK	101	001	ZULFIKAR	019
39	TURK	203	001	ZULFIKAR	019

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ASTR	101L	414-446	STAFF	280
8	ASTR	205	001	CLEMENS	026
9	ASTR	704	001	STAFF	006
10
11	PHYS	104L	413-542	STAFF	026
12	PHYS	105L	420-450	STAFF	012
13	PHYS	128L	417-447	STAFF	033
14	PHYS	211	001	LOPEZ	010
15	PHYS	481L	427	QIN	015
16	PHYS	543	001	WILKERSON	045
17	PHYS	715	001	STAFF	010
18	PHYS	721	001	ENGEL	020
19	PHYS	822	001	FRAMPTON	025
20	PHYS	832	001	EVANS	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	BIOL	213	001	REISNER	030
8	BIOL / masc	462 / 440	001 / 001	BRUNO	080 / 040

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	BUSI	100	001	SKENDER	388
8	BUSI	101	001	SKENDER	350
9	BUSI	401	001, 002, 004	SETZER	060
10	BUSI	401	003, 005, 006	MEREDITH	060
11	BUSI	401	007, 008	HARMS	040
12	BUSI	401	009	FLOOD	020
13	BUSI	403	001, 002	PARLAKTURK	100
14	BUSI	403	003	MORGAN	050
15	BUSI	403	004	MANI	050
16	BUSI	404	001, 002	MANN	100
17	BUSI	404	3	PEIRCE	050
18	BUSI	405	002	BLACKBURN	045
19	BUSI	405	003, 004	CHRISTIAN	090
20	BUSI	406	001-003	KUBOWICZ	150
21	BUSI	407	001	BLOCHER	045
22	BUSI	408	001-005	KHOKHER	245
23	BUSI	409	001-003	GANTCHEV	145
24	BUSI	410	001, 002	KOSTAMIS	100
25	BUSI	410	003, 004	JONES	100
26	BUSI	500	001, 002	ZOLLER	077
27	BUSI	505	001	VERNON / BARNER	045
28	BUSI	506	002	VERNON	045
29	BUSI	516	001	HAMNER	045
30	BUSI	517	001	HAMNER	080
31	BUSI	526	001	PEARMAN	015
32	BUSI	533	001	KOSTAMIS	045
33	BUSI	543	001	PEIRCE	045
34	BUSI	545	001	SUMANTH	036
35	BUSI	550	001	BLACKBURN	045
36	BUSI	561	001, 002	PETERSEN	080
37	BUSI	563	001	GIELENS	045
38	BUSI	564	001	BAYUS	040
39	BUSI	566	001, 002	ROSSI	090
40	BUSI	568	001	LIM	045
41	BUSI	580	001	GULTEKIN	045
42	BUSI	584	001, 002	GULTEKIN	090
43	BUSI	588	001, 002	GARCIA	090
44	BUSI	589	001-003	LE	135
45	BUSI	595	001	BROWN	045

	A	B	C	D	E
46	BUSI	597	001	GULTEKIN	045
47	BUSI	617	001	DIDOW	040
48	BUSI	618	001-003	JOTIKASTHIRA	096
49	BUSI	623	001	ZOLLER	045
50	BUSI	691H	001	HARMS	024
51	BUSI	698	001-003	KIM	175
52	BUSI	852	001	ROSEN	010
53	BUSI	880	001	LUNDBLAD	015
54	BUSI	882	001	OUIMET	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CHEM	101	951	VOLARIC	025
8	CHEM	102H	001	MORSE	050
9	CHEM / appl / mtsc	421	001	YOU	050 / 010 / 010
10	CHEM / appl / mtsc	422	001	SAMULSKI	025 / 010 / 004
11	CHEM	431	001	PIELAK	100
12	CHEM	451	001	LIN	030
13	CHEM	466	001	NICEWICZ	040
14	CHEM	470	001	SAMULSKI	030
15	CHEM	480	001	THOMPSON	051
16	CHEM	482	001	BAER	036
17	CHEM	484	001	RUBINSTEIN	020
18	CHEM	486	001	FECKO	015
19	CHEM	721	001	SHEYKO	036
20	CHEM	731	001	ERIE	036
21	CHEM	732	001	STAFF	020
22	CHEM	741	001	WIGHTMAN	036
23	CHEM	742	001	GLISH	036
24	CHEM	754	001	SCHAUER	050
25	CHEM	761	001	WATERS	040
26	CHEM	781	001	BERKOWITZ	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CLAR	120	951	STAFF	020
8
9	CLAS	100%	ADOPTED
10
11	GREK	100%	ADOPTED
12
13	LATN	203	001, 002	STAFF	055
14	LATN	204	001	CREWS	025

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	COMM	113	001	LUNDBERG	190
8	COMM	140	001	PALM	140
9	COMM	142	001	GINSBERG	025
10	COMM	162	001	STAFF	025
11	COMM	170	002	STAFF	025
12	COMM	170	003	STAFF	025
13	COMM	170	004	STAFF	025
14	COMM	171	001	STAFF	030
15	COMM	223	001	STAFF	022
16	COMM	318	001	STAFF	025
17	COMM	318	002	STAFF	025
18	COMM	350	001	STAFF	025
19	COMM	371	001	BALTHROP	050
20	COMM	374	001	BALTHROP	050
21	COMM	450	001	STAFF	025
22	COMM	450	002	ARIZZI	025
23	COMM	450	003	HOYNG	025
24	COMM	450	004	ROTTINGHAUS	025
25	COMM	525	001	PARKER	030
26	COMM	550	001	CANTE	075
27	COMM	563	001	FERGUSON	020
28	COMM / art	636 / 406	001	RUDINSKY	012 / 004
29	COMM	639	001	RUDINSKY	012
30	COMM	639	006,007	MYERS	024
31	COMM	654	001	RANKUS	014
32	COMM	655	001	SHARMA	025
33	COMM	703	001	SHARMA	030
34	COMM	844	001	POLLOCK	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	COMP	116	001	NIETHAMMER	030
8	COMP	116	002	STAFF	040
9	COMP	380	001, 003	NICHOLAS	080
10	COMP	410	001	STOTTS	075

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	DRAM	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ECON	056	001	ROSEFIELDE	020
8	ECON	101	005	MCCALLIE	090
9	ECON	101	006	BALABAN	410
10	ECON	101	008	TURCHI	420
11	ECON	101	951	STAFF	025
12	ECON	101H	001	TURCHI	025
13	ECON	101H	002	CONWAY	025
14	ECON	310	001	STAFF	120
15	ECON	310	002	STAFF	100
16	ECON	320	001	STAFF	044
17	ECON	325	001	STAFF	100
18	ECON	328	001	STEWART	040
19	ECON	345	001	STAFF	040
20	ECON / mngt	380	001	STAFF	040 / 005
21	ECON	400	001, 002	LICH-TYLER	240
22	ECON	400	003	STAFF	100
23	ECON	400	004	STAFF	100
24	ECON	410	001, 002	PETRANKA	480
25	ECON	410H	001	BIGLAISER	024
26	ECON	420	001, 002	AGUILAR	240
27	ECON	420	003	STAFF	100
28	ECON	423	001	AGUILAR	036
29	ECON	440	001	HILL	040
30	ECON	445	001, 002	MCMANUS	096
31	ECON	450	001	AKIN	048
32	ECON / euro / pwad	460	001, 002	VAIDYANATHAN	084 / 003 / 005
33	ECON	465	001	VAIDYANATHAN	048
34	ECON	465	002	PETER	048
35	ECON	468	001	ROSEFIELDE	040
36	ECON	510	001	PETRANKA	025
37	ECON	510	002	KRISHNA / BIGLAISER	025
38	ECON	511H	001	PARREIRAS	007
39	ECON	520	001	FRANCIS / HENDRICKS	025
40	ECON	560	001	MONDRIA	025
41	ECON	570	001	CHAUDHURI	025
42	ECON	586	001	TURCHI	025
43	ECON	691H	001	FROYEN	025
44	ECON	720	001	HENDRICKS	044
45	ECON	770	001	RENAULT	044

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ECON	810	001	PARREIRAS	035
47	ECON	846	001	BIGLAISER	044
48	ECON	861	001	CHARI	044
49	ECON	870	001	CHAUDHURI	048
50	ECON	880	001	PETER	044

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	EDUC	121	001	LATHAN	052
8	EDUC	131	001	TAYLOR	030
9	EDUC	131	002	ANGLE	030
10	EDUC	221	001	SENTA	052
11	EDUC	317	001	KRYDER	025
12	EDUC	318	001	FISHER	020
13	EDUC	399	001	PERRY	045
14	EDUC	399	002	KESSLER	045
15	EDUC	402	001	PALSHA	025
16	EDUC	403	001	KNOTEK	030
17	EDUC	407	001	EVARRS	025
18	EDUC	412	001	STAFF	020
19	EDUC	413	001	LLOYD	030
20	EDUC	421	001, 002	HORTON	035
21	EDUC	441	001, 002	UNKS	282
22	EDUC	465	001	MORRISON	025
23	EDUC	465	002	GULLEDGE	020
24	EDUC	466	001	HAMM	025
25	EDUC	467	001	HAMM	010
26	EDUC	467	002	MORRISON	010
27	EDUC	467	003	GULLEDGE	010
28	EDUC	467	004	STAFF	010
29	EDUC	501	001	PALSHA	025
30	EDUC	513	001	ANDERSON	025
31	EDUC	513	002	STAFF	025
32	EDUC	520	001	LLOYD	025
33	EDUC	521	001	STAFF	030
34	EDUC	523	001	OHLE	030
35	EDUC	533	001	PARSONS	025
36	EDUC	535	001	STAFF	015
37	EDUC	563	001	HALL	025
38	EDUC	564	001	GULLEDGE	025
39	EDUC	565	001	HORTON	025
40	EDUC	566	001	LIU	025
41	EDUC	567	001	GRUMET	025
42	EDUC	621	001	HALL	045
43	EDUC	631	001	BRUCE	025
44	EDUC	632	001	VEITCH	025
45	EDUC	633	001	TILLMAN	025

	A	B	C	D	E
46	EDUC	635	001	SCHAINKER	025
47	EDUC	636	001	GRAHAM	025
48	EDUC	637	961	VEITCH	030
49	EDUC	638	956	SCHAINKER	030
50	EDUC	644	001	GREENE	035
51	EDUC	644	002	GREENE	035
52	EDUC	645	002	NOBLIT	035
53	EDUC	645	003	GRUMET	035
54	EDUC	647	001	TRIER	025
55	EDUC	647	003	SCOTT	025
56	EDUC	647	004	HUFF	025
57	EDUC	647	005	PARSONS	025
58	EDUC	647	006	STAFF	025
59	EDUC	648	001	HUFF	025
60	EDUC	664	001	ABLE	030
61	EDUC	681	001	MEECE	030
62	EDUC	684	001	WARE	045
63	EDUC	690	956, 957	MILLER	035
64	EDUC	701	001, 002	LLOYD	040
65	EDUC	701	003	MILLER	010
66	EDUC	708	001	KNOTEK	012
67
68	EDUX	616	001	STAFF	030

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CMPL	130	001	LEONARD	030
8	CMPL	251	001	MCGOWEN	030
9	CMPL	462	001	COLLINS	030
10	CMPL / asia	483	001	BRODEY	020 / 010
11	CMPL / asia / engl	486 / 486 / 686	001	BRODEY	007 / 004 / 004
12
13	ENGL	069	001	ANDERSON	022
14	ENGL	084H	001	DAVENPORT	018
15	ENGL	085H	001	KENDALL	024
16	ENGL	089	001	AHUJA	024
17	ENGL	121	001	STAFF	022
18	ENGL	122	002	VEGGIAN	035
19	ENGL	123	001	STAFF	035
20	ENGL	123	002	STAFF	035
21	ENGL	123	003	STAFF	035
22	ENGL	123	004	STAFF	035
23	ENGL	123	005	STAFF	033
24	ENGL	123	006	NASH	035
25	ENGL	123	007	STAFF	035
26	ENGL	123	008	STAFF	035
27	ENGL	123	009	STAFF	035
28	ENGL	123	010	STAFF	034
29	ENGL	124	001	HENDERSON	035
30	ENGL	124	002	STAFF	035
31	ENGL	124	003	STAFF	035
32	ENGL	124	004	CRYSTALL	035
33	ENGL	125	001	SALVAGGIO	050
34	ENGL	126	001	STAFF	035
35	ENGL	127	001	STAFF	048
36	ENGL	127	951	ANDERSON	022
37	ENGL	127	951	ANDERSON	022
38	ENGL	128	001	STAFF	035
39	ENGL	128	002	STAFF	035
40	ENGL	128	003	LAPRADE	035
41	ENGL	128	004	FROST	035
42	ENGL	129	002	STAFF	035
43	ENGL	131	003	SHAPIRO	018
44	ENGL	132H	001	DURBAN	015
45	ENGL	140	001	WEBER	025

	A	B	C	D	E
46	ENGL	142	001	TAYLOR	120
47	ENGL	143	001	OXMAN	035
48	ENGL	144	001	STAFF	035
49	ENGL	144	002	STAFF	035
50	ENGL	145	001	ROSENTHAL	035
51	ENGL	206	001	GINGHER	018
52	ENGL	208	002	GWIN	018
53	ENGL	209	001	MOOSE	018
54	ENGL	210	001	MOOSE	018
55	ENGL	225	001	BAKER	035
56	ENGL	225	003	MATCHINSKE	120
57	ENGL	228	001	ARMITAGE	035
58	ENGL	300I	001	JACK	019
59	ENGL	307	001	GINGHER	018
60	ENGL	332	001	THOMPSON	035
61	ENGL	333	001	THOMPSON	035
62	ENGL	348	001	ELLIOTT	035
63	ENGL	356	001	COOPER	035
64	ENGL	367	001	FISHER	035
65	ENGL	367	002	HENDERSON	035
66	ENGL	373	001	IRONS	035
67	ENGL	406	001	DURBAN	018
68	ENGL	437	001	VISCOMI	035
69	ENGL	447	001	GWIN	035
70	ENGL	463	001	COOPER	035
71	ENGL	472	001	ELLIOTT	030
72	ENGL	601	001, 002	LEE	030
73	ENGL	659	001	ARMITAGE	035
74	ENGL	693H	002	SHAPIRO	012
75	ENGL	762	001	AHUJA	011
76	ENGL	805	001	TAYLOR	011

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	ENST	201	001	GANGI	160
8	ENST	201	002	COOKE	040
9	ENST	201H	143	GANGI	019
10	ENST	202	001	BELL	090
11	ENST	204	001	COOKE	030
12	ENST / afri	266	001	COOKE	015 / 002
13	ENST	352	001	BELL	020
14	ENST / ecol	490 / 891	002 / 001	BELL	010 / 010
15	ENST	490	003	CECIL	005
16	ENST / envr / plan	581 / 781 / 781	001	MOREAU / BRECKHEIMER	020 / 010 / 010
17	ENST / envr	698	001-003	SHAY	048 / 006

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	EXSS	360	001	STAFF	030
8
9	LFIT	100%	adopted
10
11	PHYA	223	001	STAFF	020
12
13	RECR	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	GEOG	111	001	KONRAD	141
8	GEOG	112	001	MOODY	045
9	GEOG / pwad	120	002	WARD	110 / 020
10	GEOG	121	001	VALDIVIA	066
11	GEOG	237	001	DOBBS / PHILLIPS	024
12	GEOG	259	001	VALDIVIA	044
13	GEOG / asia	267	001	STAFF	020 / 005
14	GEOG	423	001	REYES	045
15	GEOG / asia / ints	447	001	GOKARIKSEL	020 / 005 / 001
16	GEOG	477	001	MOODY	024
17	GEOG	691H	001	STAFF	015
18	GEOG	704	001	PICKLES	012
19	GEOG	804	002	GOKARIKSEL	015
20	GEOG	900	001	STAFF	025
21	GEOG	900	002	PICKLES	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	GEOL	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	CZCH	100%	adopted
8
9	DTCH	100%	adopted
10
11	GERM	059	001	PIKE	024
12	GERM	303	001	STAFF	020
13	GERM	303	002	TROP	020
14	GERM	390	001	PIKE	024
15	GERM	880	001	STAFF	015
16
17	HUNG	403	001	SHERWOOD	012
18
19	PLSH	100%	adopted
20
21	RUSS	270	001	STAFF	030
22	RUSS	425	001	STAFF	030
23	RUSS	790	001	MAGOMEDOVA	005
24
25	SECR	403	001	STAFF	012
26
27	SLAV	425	001	STAFF	030
28	SLAV	467	001	SHERWOOD	025

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	HIST	106	001	NAIDEN	035
8	HIST	127	002	STAFF	165
9	HIST	127	951	STAFF	025
10	HIST	127	951	STAFF	025
11	HIST	128	001	MCNEIL	035
12	HIST	130	001	LEE	110
13	HIST	134	001	FLETCHER	035
14	HIST	140	006	HUNZIKER	165
15	HIST	151	006	HUNZIKER	165
16	HIST	151	007	MCINTOSH	165
17	HIST / aero / pwad	213	001	CADDELL	180 / 020 / 020
18	HIST / jwst / pwad	262	001	DUFFY	085 / 005 / 020
19	HIST	292	001	KING	030
20	HIST	292	002	TSIN	030
21	HIST	292H	002	STRING	024
22	HIST	376	001	STAFF	035
23	HIST	391	001	PENNYBACKER	015
24	HIST	393	005	LA SERNA	015
25	HIST	395	009	MCNEIL	015
26	HIST	466	001	KRAMER	035
27	HIST	490	002	STAFF	020
28	HIST	490H	001	PENNYBACKER	024
29	HIST	528	001	LA SERNA	035
30	HIST	533	001	CHASTEEN	023
31	HIST	671	001	WHISNANT	025
32	HIST	691H	001	WHALEN	015
33	HIST	711	001	MCINTOSH	020
34	HIST	715	001	WATSON	015
35	HIST	717	001	LEE	015
36	HIST	721	001	LEE	015
37	HIST	783	001	STAFF	015
38	HIST	870	001	JACKSON	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	HNRS	352	001	FERGUSON	012
8	HNRS	352	002	STEINER	018
9	HNRS	354	001, 002	GOLDBERG	048

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	INLS	089	001	POMERANTZ	025
8	INLS	101	001	KELLY	030
9	INLS	101	002	KAMPOV-POLEVOI	030
10	INLS	200	001	POMERANTZ	025
11	INLS	200	002	BAILEY	030
12	INLS	261	001	BERGQUIST	030
13	INLS	285	001	BERGQUIST	030
14	INLS	461	001	BERGQUIST	030
15	INLS	461	002	WEBSTER	030
16	INLS	490	046	TIBBO	030
17	INLS	490	161	MOORE	030
18	INLS	490	163	RAJASEKAR	030
19	INLS	500	001	BARREAU	030
20	INLS	500	003	SHEBLE	030
21	INLS	501	001	GOLLOP	030
22	INLS	501	002	CUSHING	030
23	INLS	502	001	CLEMENS	030
24	INLS	509	001	STAFF	030
25	INLS	513	001	EDWARDS	024
26	INLS	513	002	LEE	024
27	INLS	515	001	MARSHALL	024
28	INLS	520	001	CRYSTAL	030
29	INLS	520	002	SHAW	024
30	INLS	521	02W	SPURGIN	025
31	INLS	523	001	HAAS	030
32	INLS	523	002	MOSTAFA	030
33	INLS	525	001	MARCIANO	024
34	INLS	530	001	HUGHES-HASSELL	030
35	INLS	556	001	LEE	030
36	INLS	556	002	STAFF	024
37	INLS	558	001	STURM	015
38	INLS	566	001	ADAMS	030
39	INLS	572	001	HASSELL	030
40	INLS	582	001	HAAS	030
41	INLS	582	002	HASSELL	030
42	INLS	584	001	WILDEMUTH	024
43	INLS	585	001	MORAN / PATILLO	055
44	INLS	691H	001	KELLY	012
45	INLS	720	001	GREENBERG	024

	A	B	C	D	E
46	INLS	721	001	SAMPLES / STALBERG	030
47	INLS	723	001	RAJASEKAR	013
48	INLS	744	001	HUGHES-HASSELL	030
49	INLS	752	001	TIBBO	030
50	INLS	780	002	MARSHALL	030
51	INLS	818	001	CAPRA	012
52	INLS	881	001	BARREAU	014
53	INLS	889	001	HUGHES-HASSELL	024

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	INTS	290	002	HUQ	020
8	INTS	390	002	WEILER	025
9	INTS	490	001	OSTERWEIL	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	JOMC	100	001	HESTER	025
8	JOMC	101	001	MEADOWS	025
9	JOMC	121	002	NORTHUP	016
10	JOMC	137	001, 002	BYARS / SINCLAIR	134
11	JOMC	153	001-013	STAFF	210
12	JOMC	180	001	LAUTERER	017
13	JOMC	180	002	DAVISON	018
14	JOMC	181	001	STEVENS	017
15	JOMC	182	001	OLIVER	018
16	JOMC	182	002	STAFF	018
17	JOMC	182	003	STAFF	018
18	JOMC	187	001	STAFF	018
19	JOMC	187	002	RUEL	018
20	JOMC	221	003	NORTHUP	018
21	JOMC	221	004	MYRICK	018
22	JOMC	221	005	ROGERS	018
23	JOMC	232	001	BRABHAM	018
24	JOMC	232	002	FIELDS	020
25	JOMC	232	003	STAFF	020
26	JOMC	232	004	STAFF	020
27	JOMC	242	001	SHAW	025
28	JOMC	245	001	CROTHERS	040
29	JOMC	256	001	CUADROS	018
30	JOMC	271	001	MCMAHAN	018
31	JOMC	271	002	ALLEN	018
32	JOMC	271	003	COBB	018
33	JOMC	272	001	SINCLAIR	020
34	JOMC	272	002	HENNINK-KAMINSKI	020
35	JOMC	333	001	CURRAN	018
36	JOMC	340	001, 004	SMITH	095
37	JOMC	349	001	AIKAT	012
38	JOMC	394	001	EUBANK	030
39	JOMC	421	001	TUGGLE	020
40	JOMC	422	001	HEFNER	020
41	JOMC	423	001	HEFNER	020
42	JOMC	426	001	HOCHBERG	015
43	JOMC	431	002	ERBA	020
44	JOMC	431	003	STAFF	018
45	JOMC	431	004	STAFF	018

	A	B	C	D	E
46	JOMC	434	001	STAFF	018
47	JOMC	434	002, 003	COMELLO	035
48	JOMC	434	004	MISNER	015
49	JOMC	443	001	VARGAS	020
50	JOMC	446	001	AIKAT	025
51	JOMC	458	001	GUILLORY	009
52	JOMC	459	001	LAUTERER	015
53	JOMC	463	001	STAFF	018
54	JOMC	473	001	MCMAHAN	018
55	JOMC	473	002	KEARNS	018
56	JOMC	480	001	DAVISON	018
57	JOMC	481	001	STEVENS	018
58	JOMC	482	001	STAFF	018
59	JOMC	483	001	OLIVER	018
60	JOMC	484	001	STAFF	018
61	JOMC	490	001	KAYYE	012
62	JOMC	491	003, 007	HOLLIMAN	036
63	JOMC	551	001	ABERNATHY	030
64	JOMC	552	001	ABERNATHY	015
65	JOMC	581	001	RUEL	018
66	JOMC	582	001	STEVENS	018
67	JOMC	583	001	FERRIOLA-BRUCKENSTIEN	017
68	JOMC	585	001	FLOYD	018
69	JOMC	691H	001	BROWN	012
70	JOMC	705	001	HESTER	015
71	JOMC	711	966	CARROLL	020
72	JOMC	714	965	TYBURSKI	015
73	JOMC	730	001	STRAUGHAN	015
74	JOMC	754	001	FRIEDMAN	009
75	JOMC	825	001	STAFF	009
76	JOMC	826	001	CATES	015
77	JOMC	840	001	WALDEN	009
78	JOMC	842	001	FRIEDMAN	009
79	JOMC	847	001	VARGAS	009

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	LING	691H	001	PERTSOVA	010
8	LING	692H	001	PERTSOVA	010
9
10	MAYA	n/a

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	LTAM	697	001	RADDING	030

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MASC / geog	101 / 103	002	WHITE	110 / 110
8	MASC	706	001	MARCHETTI	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MATH	054H	001	HAWKINS	024
8	MATH	058	001	MCCOMBS	024
9	MATH	231	001-013	STAFF	456
10	MATH	533	001	BELKALE	035
11	MATH / envr / masc	768	001	MCLAUGHLIN	006 / 005 / 005

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	MUSC	121	001	WISSICK	030
8	MUSC	130	001-003	STAFF	090
9	MUSC	131	001-003	STAFF	090
10	MUSC	135	001	ANDERSON, S	030
11	MUSC	143	001	BRACKETT	116
12	MUSC	145	001	ANDERSON, S	200
13	MUSC	168	001	FELDMAN	015
14	MUSC	230	001, 002	STAFF	060
15	MUSC	232	001	ANDERSON, A	040
16	MUSC	232H	001	NEFF	020
17	MUSC	281	951	STAFF	025
18	MUSC	285	001	COHEN	075
19	MUSC	308	002	HUFF	010
20	MUSC	331	001	NEFF	015
21	MUSC	355	001	MACNEIL	035

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PHIL	101	001	STAFF	040
8	PHIL	101	951	STAFF	030
9	PHIL	110	001	STAFF	036
10	PHIL / reli	134 / 126	001	STAFF	026 / 015
11	PHIL	155	001	STAFF	036
12	PHIL	155	002	STAFF	036
13	PHIL	160	002	STAFF	036
14	PHIL	163	001	STAFF	036
15	PHIL	170	001	STAFF	040
16	PHIL	220	001	STAFF	036
17	PHIL	230	001	PAUL	035
18	PHIL	230	951	STAFF	030
19	PHIL / poli / pwad	272	002	STAFF	020 / 010 / 010
20	PHIL / wmst	275	001	STAFF	026 / 010
21	PHIL	422	001	BLACKBURN	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PLAN	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PLCY	089	001	FELDMAN	024
8	PLCY	327	001	FELDMAN	025
9	PLCY	340	001	STAFF	050
10	PLCY	460	001	HANDA	105
11	PLCY	490	001	SCHANZER	020
12	PLCY	580	001	GILMER	035
13	PLCY	710	001	PERREIRA	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	POLI	050	001	CONOVER	024
8	POLI	060	001	BAPAT	024
9	POLI	062	001	SULLIVAN	024
10	POLI	072	001	HOYMAN	024
11	POLI	089	001	ROBERTS	024
12	POLI	100	007	CONOVER	240
13	POLI	100	951	STAFF	025
14	POLI	100H	007	STIMSON	024
15	POLI	101	001	GRAY	171
16	POLI / pwad	150	001	OATLEY	260 / 020
17	POLI	202	001	MCGUIRE	045
18	POLI	206H	001	LEFEBVRE	024
19	POLI	209	001	RABINOWITZ	040
20	POLI	216	001	VANBERG	043
21	POLI	238	002	MARTINEZ-GALLARDO	120
22	POLI / enst	254	001	MCKEOWN	037 / 005
23	POLI	400	001	SULLIVAN	030
24	POLI	401	001	STIMSON	030
25	POLI	406	001	GRAY	030
26	POLI	410	001	MCGUIRE	030
27	POLI	411	001	UNAH	030
28	POLI	412	001	RABINOWITZ	035
29	POLI	415	001	LEFEBVRE	035
30	POLI / pwad	416	001	UNAH	025 / 005
31	POLI	418	001	MACKUEN	030
32	POLI	431	001	REYNOLDS	030
33	POLI	433	001	MOROFF	025
34	POLI	433	002	EDWARDS	030
35	POLI	434	001	MARTINEZ-GALLARDO	030
36	POLI	438	001	VACHUDOVA	030
37	POLI	443	001	MCKEOWN	025
38	POLI / pwad	444	001	BAPAT	015 / 015
39	POLI	471	001	SPINNER-HALEV	030
40	POLI	495	001	CRESCENZI	030
41	POLI	723	001	WALLACE	016
42	POLI	730	001	VACHUDOVA	016
43	POLI	736	001	ROBERTSON	016
44	POLI	891	002	BAUMGARTNER	010
45	POLI	891	003	GROSS	005

	A	B	C	D	E
46	POLI	891	004	VANBERG	015
47	POLI	891	007	MOROFF	010
48	POLI	891	008	MACKUEN	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PSYC	051	001	ARNOLD	024
8	PSYC	055	001	STAFF	024
9	PSYC	210	001	MORGAN-LOPEZ	088
10	PSYC	230	001	HOPFINGER	120
11	PSYC	245	001	STAFF	120
12	PSYC	245	004	STAFF	045
13	PSYC	245	005	WISS	045
14	PSYC	245H	001	BAUCOM	024
15	PSYC	250	002	STAFF	045
16	PSYC	250	003	GIBSON	045
17	PSYC	250	951	STAFF	025
18	PSYC	260	001	STAFF	045
19	PSYC	260	002	SANNA	120
20	PSYC	260	003	STAFF	045
21	PSYC	260	004	STAFF	045
22	PSYC	260	005	STAFF	045
23	PSYC	432	001	ARNOLD	035
24	PSYC	469	001	GARIEPY	035
25	PSYC	500	001,002	WISS	070
26	PSYC	505	001	AKPAKA	035
27	PSYC	506	001	BARRICK	035
28	PSYC	512	001	PRINSTEIN	240
29	PSYC	533	001	BAUER	035
30	PSYC	566	001	GREEN	035
31	PSYC	693H	001	ORNSTEIN	030
32	PSYC	701	001	HOLLINS	025
33	PSYC	720	001	CARELLI	020
34	PSYC	741	001	GORDON	025
35	PSYC	761	001	GARIEPY	015
36	PSYC	806	001	HUSSONG	020
37	PSYC	830	001	CHOW	030
38	PSYC	843	001	MACCALLUM	030
39	PSYC	850	001	CHOW	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PUBA	396	001	STAFF	015
8	PUBA	401	001	BERNER / CREEL	025
9	PUBA	710	001	WHITAKER	029
10	PUBA	719	001	BERNER	029
11	PUBA	721	001	SETZER	029
12	PUBA	722	001	HOYMAN	015
13	PUBA	732	001	STAFF	035
14	PUBA	733	001	TUFTS	035
15	PUBA	745	001	STENBERG	065
16	PUBA	749	001	STENBERG / BERNER	020
17	PUBA	751	001	STENBERG / BRENMAN	020
18	PUBA	752	001	AMMONS	012
19	PUBA	756	001	HENDERSON	018
20	PUBA	768	001	STEPHENS	020
21	PUBA	769	001	STEPHENS	020
22	PUBA	771	001	MORGAN	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	PWAD	350	001	STAFF	102
8	PWAD	690	001	CADDELL	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	RELI / jwst	123 / 100	001	BOYARIN	102 / 018
8	RELI / asia	181	001	SAFI	150 / 030
9	RELI	207	001	EHRMAN	060
10	RELI	209	001	PLESE	100
11	RELI / anth / folk	428	001, 002	BOYARIN / OCHOA	020 / 016/ 004
12	RELI / asia	583	001	SAFI	022 / 008
13	RELI / asia	584	001	STAFF	015 / 005
14	RELI	720	001	OCHOA	010
15	RELI	808	001	EHRMAN	015
16	RELI	890	060	SAFI	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	FREN	260	001	SAPP	020
8
9	ITAL	357	001	CERVIGNI	030
10	ITAL	398	001	STAFF	022
11
12	PORT	100%	adopted
13
14	ROML	840	001	RAO	015
15
16	SPAN	266	001	MACK	022
17	SPAN	300	001-008	STAFF	140
18	SPAN	330	001, 002	STAFF	046
19	SPAN	345	001	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	024
20	SPAN	369	001	AARON	030
21	SPAN	371	002	DOMINGUEZ	024
22	SPAN	372	001	GOMEZ-CASTELLANO	024
23	SPAN	373	002	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	024
24	SPAN	378	001	BINOTTI	024
25	SPAN	701	001	DOMINGUEZ	015
26	SPAN	711	001	STAFF	015
27	SPAN	738	001	BINOTTI	015
28	SPAN	835	001	GONZALEZ-ESPITIA	015

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	RUES	710	001	JENKINS	010

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	SOCI	111	001	NIELSEN	048
8	SOCI	124	001	KLEINMAN	017
9	SOCI / mngt	131	001	WELLS	043 / 005
10	SOCI	390	001	MARSHALL	020
11	SOCI	412	951	OWEN	025
12	SOCI	460	001	MOONEY	048
13	SOCI / mngt	691H	001	ANDREWS	015 / 005
14	SOCI	711	001	GUO	020
15	SOCI	821	001	SHANAHAN	022
16	SOCI	830	001	COHEN	022
17	SOCI	850	001	NIELSEN	022
18	SOCI	861	001	KALLEBERG	020

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	STOR	100%	adopted

	A	B	C	D	E
1
2	Courses that have NOT submitted COURSE MATERIAL ORDERS
3	or NO TEXT NEEDED notification
4
5	DEPARTMENT	COURSE	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	ENROLLMENT
6
7	WMST	102	001	BURNS	025
8	WMST	124	001	KLEINMAN	025
9	WMST	290	001	PLEASANTS	025
10	WMST	293	001	BURRILL	025
11	WMST	297	001	BURNS	025

Guaranteed Buyback Program Fall 2011
UNC Chapel Hill
Current Participants

In ongoing efforts to facilitate the Board of Governors textbook requirements for large introductory courses, we continue to encourage and accept textbook commitment forms from UNC Chapel Hill departments. As noted in UNC's 2011 Report on the Cost of Textbooks, Submitted with Campus-Based Tuition and Fee Increase Requests, "To significantly affect the cost of textbooks, Chancellors, Provosts, faculty and bookstore managers must continue to increase the number of courses and textbooks in the guaranteed buyback programs."

1) Astronomy 101/102: Fall 2010 through Spring 2013
   Chaisson Astronomy Today 9780321691439
   Valid through December 2012
   Submitted by Professor Dan Reichart

2) Drama 115: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
   GAINOR NORTON ANTHOLOGY OF DRAMA: SHORTER 978-0-393-93412-0
   Valid through December 2011
   Submitted by dept Chair Jeff Cornell

3) Drama 116: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
   JACOBUS COMPACT BEDFORD INTRO TO DRAMA 978-0-312-47489-8
   Valid through December 2011
   Submitted by dept Chair Jeff Cornell

4) Linguistics 101: Fall 2010 through Spring 2012
   OGRADY CONTEMPORARY LINGUISTICS 978-0-312-55528-3
   Valid through December 2011
   Submitted by dept Chair Randall Hendrick

5) Physics 104/105: Spring 2010 through Spring 2013
   Walker: PHYSICS 978-0-321-61111-6
   Valid through December 2012
   Submitted by Professor Alice Churukian

6) Psychology 101: Fall 2011 through Spring 2014
   WEITEN PSYCHOLOGY:THEME & VARIATIONS BRIEF 978-0-495-90386-4
   Valid through December 2013
   Submitted by dept. Chair Donald T. Lysle

7) Public Policy/Environmental Studies 585: Fall 2009 through Fall 2011
   ANDREWS: MANAGING THE ENVIRONMENT 978-0-300-11124-8
   Valid through May 2011
   Submitted by Professor Andrews

8) Statistics & Operations Research (STOR) 151: Fall 2011 through Spring 2013
JOHNSON STATISTICS 978-0-470-40927-5
Valid through December 2012
Submitted by dept. Chair Edward Carlstein

From: Sengupta, Sohini <sengups@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 10:33 AM
To: The CFEnetwork mailing list. <cfenetwork@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [cfenetwork] Course on Considerations and Strategies for Handling Sensitive Spatial Data--Please forward to your faculty and postdocs

---

The Odum Institute and the UNC Libraries present the fifth in a series of short courses on data management planning and resources. This course will focus on considerations and strategies for dealing with sensitive spatial data. See details below or here:
http://www.lib.unc.edu/reference/data_services/researchdatatoolkit/courses.html#current

Course 5: Considerations and Strategies for Handling Sensitive Spatial Data

Date: Tuesday, May 10, 12pm - 1pm

Location:
14 Manning Hall (No registration needed for in-class attendance)
OR
Online with prior registration. Register for online attendance here:
http://www.hsl.unc.edu/services/classes/classregistration.cfm

Presenter: Brian Frizzelle, Head, Carolina Population Center's Spatial Analysis Services
Research data involving human subjects present significant challenges for data sharing, but even more so when the data are analyzed in Geographic Information Systems (i.e., dynamic mapping software) and presented on maps. Brian Frizzelle from the UNC Carolina Population Center (CPC) will discuss key considerations for researchers for protecting sensitive data when presenting GIS analyses.
This course is the second of several which will address various aspects of managing and protecting sensitive research data.

==========

The Data Management Short Course series was initiated in November 2010 to examine funders' data management plan requirements and discuss resources available to assist researchers in preparing plans.

Sohini Sengupta, PhD, MPH
Research Coordinator
Center for Faculty Excellence
UNC-Chapel Hill, CB# 3470
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3470

Tel: 919-966-1741
Email: sengups@unc.edu
http://cfe.unc.edu

From: Griest, Laura Elisabet <lauragriest@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 11:27 AM
To: The CulturalEvents mailing list. <culturalevents@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [culturalevents] FedEx Global Education Center Upcoming Events

---

Please join us for these engaging events at the FedEx Global Education Center (corner of Pittsboro & McCauley Streets). For details and to learn about additional upcoming cultural events across campus, visit global.unc.edu.

Reframing Mexico
April 25th | 7:30 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Nelson Mandela Auditorium

The screening of Reframing Mexico follows a ten day-long foreign reporting assignment in which UNC journalism students collaborated with Tecnológico de Monterrey students to produce a multimedia website detailing the lives of citizens in Mexico City. The project is a "reframing" of the common portrayal of Mexico as violent and unstable by mainstream media. The students, guided by faculty and professional journalists, produced 12 short documentaries using photos, audio, video, 360º panoramic photos, information graphics and design to examine Mexico's social and cultural identity. The stories range from migration and informal economy to goth culture, women in prison, traditional wrestling, and much more.

Gendered Sufism: Women's Roles and Practices in Mystical Islam
April 26th | 6:00 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Room 1005

Zahra Ayubi will present on Islamic mysticism and women's roles in Islam as part of Islam in the Global Context Speaker Series: Islam and Gender. It is commonly held that Islamic mysticism is the unique realm of Islam that is most accommodating of women and where gender equality is observed. Zahra Ayubi's presentation problematizes this claim. While the study of Sufi women reveals great feats of mystical strength, and demonstrates expressions of power and feminine agency, Sufi women, like other women (and other Muslim women) have been subject to gendered power relations and patriarchal expectations of women. Zahra draws on a variety of pre-modern mystical sources such as poetry and prose by Rumi, Ibn Arabi, and Chishti Sufis, and medieval hagiographies of women Sufis to create a historical narrative of the ways gender operated in medieval Islamic mysticism. Shifting away from the women worthies model of studying individual Sufi women, towards critical examination of women's roles in Sufi circles tells us more about how gendered Sufism mirrors other Islamic discourses and practices as a potential, but not definitive, space for gender equality. Zahra Ayubi is a Ph.D. candidate in Religious Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Her research is on women, constructions of gender, and gender relations in ethical, philosophical, and mystical texts.

A Matter of the Few: Political Dynamics of Constitutional Reforms, Chile 1990-2010 with Claudio Fuentes
April 28th | 5:30 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Conference Room 2008

Claudio Fuentes is Professor of Political Science at the Universidad Diego Portales in Chile, and the Luksic Fellow at the David Rockefeller Center for Latin American Studies, Harvard University. From 2004-2006, he was President of the Asociación Chilena de Ciencia Política and from 2004-2008 served as the Director of the Facultad Latinoamericana de Ciencias Sociales (FLACSO) Chile office. Dr. Fuentes received his undergraduate degree from the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, and holds both a Masters and Ph.D. in political science from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has authored and edited six books and a multitude of articles on Latin American comparative politics and international relations. His most recent volume is "En Nombre del Pueblo: Debate sobre el cambio constitucional en Chile" (UDP/Fundación Boell, 2010, 299p).

A Window to the West? Poland and Late Socialism in the Soviet Bloc with William J. Risch

April 28th | 6:30 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Conference Room 4003

William J. Risch is an Associate Professor at Georgia College & State University. His main areas of interest are modern and twentieth-century Russia, imperial Russia (1700-1917), medieval Russia, Western interpretations of Soviet history, historical constructions of Eastern Europe, Eastern and Central European history, Asian Civilizations in the modern world, nations and globalization in the modern world, Europe since 1600, Germany and France since the Enlightenment, oral history, and American historiography in the twentieth century. Dr. Risch has received the Eugene and Daymel Shklar Fellowship in Ukrainian Studies (Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute, Spring Semester 2006); Kennan Institute Short-Term Grant (July 2005); Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Fellowship (1999-2000); Individual Research Program in Eurasia Fellowship, International Research and Exchanges Board (IREX), 1998-1999; Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Summer Fellowship (1993, 1998, 1999); Senkowsky Prize, Harvard Ukrainian Summer Institute (1997).

Visual Culture in South Asia Conference

April 29th | 08:30 AM to 7:30 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Conference Room 4003

A workshop co-organized by faculty at NCSU and UNC, titled "Visual Culture and Identity-Narratives in the Making of Modern India," is scheduled for April 29-30, 2011. The first day of the workshop, hosted by UNC, will take place in Room 4003 at the FedEx Global Education Center, and the second day, hosted by NCSU, at Withers 140. This international, interdisciplinary workshop, which is open to the public, will feature presentations (with copious visuals) by a cohort of scholars [Karline McLain, Afroz Taj, John Caldwell, Pamela Lothspeich, Robert Phillips, Sujata Mody, Anu Rao, Alison Shah, Yousuf Saeed, Abigail McGowan, and Sandria Freitag] who have been engaged in a sustained collaborative project to scrutinize processes of meaning-making imbricated with various types of visual culture relating to images, objects, and performance. The goal of the workshop is to engage dialogue on the inter-connectedness of seemingly diverse media and forms in South Asia which together work to shape identity— both individually and collectively, and to explore changing circumstances and processes within which S.A. visual culture is commodified and consumed.

International Coffee Hour

May 3rd | 5:00 PM to 6:00 PM | FedEx Global Education Center, Conference Room 4003

At this monthly social hour, international and American students, scholars, faculty, staff and families chat about resources and challenges on campus and share tips with others. Each month is hosted by a different office with resources. For more information, contact Bevin Tighe at (919) 962-3094. This event is sponsored by the Writing Center, the Center for Global Initiatives, the Graduate School, the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs, and the Office of International Student and Scholar Services.

The European Union & The €uro

May 12th to May 13th | Times vary | FedEx Global Education Center

Join colleagues for a 1½ day workshop designed to help North Carolina K-12 teachers better understand our interconnected world by learning more about the European Union. This workshop will include presentations by EU scholars on the European Union and the Euro currency and immigration. Resources that use technology to enhance content and better integrate the EU in the school's curriculum will be provided. One CEU will be offered.

The cost for the workshop is $50 per person which includes hotel accommodations on May 12 for participants traveling from outside the Triangle and lunch on May 13. Space is limited to the first 25 participants so register today!

If you would like to unsubscribe from this listserv, please reply to lauragriest@unc.edu and list the email address that is on the listserv. If this email was forwarded to you and you'd like to be added to this listserv, please reply to lauragriest@unc.edu and include the email address you'd like added.

Laura Griest
Manager of Global Events and Exhibitions
UNC Global, FedEx Global Education Center
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
301 Pittsboro Street, Office 1207 | Campus Box 3268 | Chapel Hill, NC 27599
lauragriest@unc.edu | (919) 962.0318 work | (919) 843.4814 fax

Learn about UNC's engaging global events at www.global.unc.edu!

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 11:48 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Piece on Ann Dunbar

Thanks, Julius.

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 4:27 PM
To: Caldwell, Kia L
Subject: RE: Piece on Ann Dunbar

Here it is!

From: Caldwell, Kia L
Sent: Monday, April 11, 2011 2:34 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Piece on Ann Dunbar

Hi Julius,
I was wondering if you would be able to write a short piece on Ann Dunbar for the newsletter. It would be good to include information on her contributions to the department , to UNC, and to the field of African Studies. We'll add this to the other pieces in tribute to her. Would you be able to send something by the end of this week?

Thanks,
Kia

Kia Lilly Caldwell, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
African & Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Battle Hall, CB #3395
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
Phone (919)962-0539
Fax (919) 962-2694
klcaldwe@email.unc.edu
www.unc.edu/depts/afriafam

From: M. Kyle McKay <mckay@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 12:25 PM
To:
Subject: 25% Off Everything at the Bull's Head Bookshop, Tuesday, April 26th

---

To help celebrate the end of the UNC semester, on Tuesday, April 26th, everything in the Bull's Head Bookshop (located in UNC Student Stores) is 25% off the regular price!

Newly released paper and hardbacks, great literature, travel books, moleskine, Carolina books (make great graduation presents), etc.

And be sure to check out our Mother's Day display.

Sale is for one day only and does not apply to magazines or newspapers.
Sale cannot be combined with any other sale, coupon, discount, etc.
Sale applies only to items that are currently in stock.

The store is open from 7:30am-8pm. Call 919-962-5060 with questions.

http://www.facebook.com/event.php?eid=126473567429001

To be removed from any future email notifications please email mckay@unc.edu.

From: SPH Office of Global Health <ogh@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 12:44 PM
To: TWIGH <thisweekinglobalhealth@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [thisweekinglobalhealth] TWIGH: April 25-May 1, 2011

This Week In Global Health

UNC
GILLINGS SCHOOL OF GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH

UNC-ChildFund Healthy and Secure 0-2 year-old project in the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health. Site visit to ChildFund Senegal: pregnant women's circle in Thies, early childhood development center in Baol, UNC team in Senegal, skills training center in Baol.

April 25-May 1, 2011

This Week in Global Health is a weekly, web-based newsletter published by the Office of Global Health (OGH) in the Gillings School of Global Public Health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The information below is a partial listing of the week's newsletter.
Please visit our website to view this week's FULL newsletter.

Table of Contents

- Events
- Announcements
- Undergraduate Highlights
- Conferences
- Student Feature
- Funding Opportunities
- Jobs and Internships

Weekly Feature

UNC Student Presentations: Globalization and Health

Tuesday, April 26
12:30-2:50pm

Room 3024
FedEx Global Education Center

Events on Campus and in the Community

View all events this week and more information

Monday, April 25
CSIS Webcast: Tackling Malaria through Private Sector Partnerships, Adel Chaouch, Director of Corporate Social Responsibility, Marathon Oil Corporation; Christopher Schwabe, Health and Public Finance Economist, Medical Care Development International; Michel Slotman, Assistant Professor, Department of Entomology, Texas A&M University; Luis Benavente, Director of Improving Malaria Diagnostics Project, Medical Care Development International, 3:00-4:30pm.

Microscale Liver Models for Investigating Drug-Induced Liver Injury and Infectious Disease, Salman Khetani, MS, PhD, 4:15-5:15pm, Room 124, Trent Hall, Duke University.

Global Health Certificate Capstone Poster Session, 5:30-7:00pm, Room 240, John Hope Franklin Center, Duke University.

Tuesday, April 26
Using high-throughput screening to identify host factors involved in viral infection, Sara Cherry, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, 9:30am, Room 1131, Bioinformatics Building, UNC. Refreshments Provided.

NC TraCS Child Helath Research Interest Group, 4:00-5:00pm, Room 219, Brinkhous-Bullitt Building, UNC.

UNC Student Presentations: Globalization and Health, 12:30-2:50pm, Room 3024, FedEx Global Education Center, UNC.

One Health presents: One Health in the Bigger Picture - Policy, Education, and Conclusions of How Human and Animal Health Collide at Home and in the Developing World, 5:30-7:30pm, North Carolina Biotechnology Center.

Wednesday, April 27
Global Health, Ethics, and the Global Economic Crisis, Solomon Benatar, MBChB, DSc, Emeritus Professor of Medicine, University of Cape Town, South Africa, 5:30pm, Nasher Museum of Art, Duke University.

Thursday, April 28
Professional Development Program for Life Sciences Professional, Judith Cone, UNC Special Assistant to the Chancellor; Linda Shields, MS; Christine Warrington, Chair Women In Bio; Anastacia Pucci, Caryle and Conlan, 1:00-6:00pm, North Carolina Biotechnology Center.

Friday, April 29
More than Money and Hardware: Water and Sanitation for Health in the Developing World, Peter J. Kolsky, Senior Water and Sanitation Specialist, World Bank, ESE Dinstinguished Alumni Award, UNC Barr Award Recipient, 12:00pm, Room 1301, McGavran Greenberg Hall, Gillings School of Global Public Health, UNC.

Save the Date

Monday, May 16
Executive Women's Panel: The State of the Healthcare Industry, Healthcare Businesswomen's Association, 5:30-8:30pm, GlaxoSmithKline's R & D Auditorium (Girolami Building-Building5), Research Triangle Park, NC.

Undergraduate Highlights

View all highlights this week

Center for Global Initiatives on Facebook and Twitter.

UNC student wins prestigious Davis Projects for Peace award! Yu Zhou, a UNC sophomore accepted into the Gillings School of Global Public Health's Bachelor of Science in Public Health (BSPH) program next fall, has been named a winner in the 2011 Davis Projects for Peace initiative.

Planning to travel? Need funding? The application period is now open for the Anonymous Donor Travel Fellowship Fund. Three awards, in the amount of $4,000 each, are made every Spring Semester to a deserving Carolina

Announcements

View all announcements this week and more information

NEW Abstract Submission for the 2011 Water and Health Conference. The 2011 Water and Health Conference, October 3-7, 2011, at UNC-Chapel Hill, will be accepting abstracts until April 30, 2011. The 2010 conference brought together over 400 people from over 40 countries, and this year's conference will continue to provide a unique blend of academic research and professional workshops spanning science, policy, and practice addressing drinking water supply, sanitation, hygiene, and water resources in both the developing and developed worlds with a strong public health emphasis.

NEW The University College of London - Health and Society Summer School is offering a summer school session on the Social Determinants of Health from July 4-8, 2011. This non-residential summer school is hosted by Professor Sir Michael Marmot, Head of the Department of Epidemiology and Chair of the WHO Commission of the Social Determinants of Health.

upperclass undergraduate student (Sophomore, Junior, or Senior) with applicable travel plan.

Undergraduate Public Health Learning Outcomes: Development Project. ASPH, working in partnership with the Association of American Colleges and Universities, Association for Prevention Teaching and Research, and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, developed a draft model of undergraduate public health learning outcomes.

NEW The Durham Country Public Health Department is seeking volunteers. The Durham Country Public Health Department will be moving into The Durham County Human Services Building. The Public Health Department is actively seeking 10 volunteers for this event to help greet and guide visitors within the Health Department in the new Human Services on April 18-21, and April 25-29. For more information contact Crystal Little.

NEW Sign-up to receive event notifications from the local chapter of the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association! To sign up to receive the announcements about the local chapter's HBA events, please go to the HBA website at www.hbanet.org and then click on the link in the upper right hand corner that says "Register for your free account".

Water, Food and Energy Nexus workshop at Water and Health Conference. The United Nations World Water Assessment Programme (WWAP) will be convening a workshop entitled "Water, food security and energy nexus and the related impacts on health". It will provide an out-of-the-box perspective exploring water, food and energy nexus; soil, water and food contamination, air pollution, and biofuels; and direct and indirect impacts on water. Additionally, the conference will have a session featuring research on Water, food and energy nexus and the related impacts on health. We are seeking high quality abstracts for oral and poster presentation. Deadline: April 30, 2011.

The UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health needs your help for Fall 2011. The Gillings School of Global Public Health is looking for student analysts with the right skills to work on competitive intelligence, benchmarking, and data visualization projects. Students will work approximately 10 hours a week. Ideal candidates would be second year master's students with a background in marketing analytics, management information systems, data management, balanced scorecards or other data intensive projects/positions. Advanced Excel knowledge is required.

Traveling this Summer? Review the UNC Travel Policy. All UNC public health students or students sponsored by a UNC public health program and planning to travel to other countries to fulfill academic requirements, travel with funding from a UNC group, or as part of a UNC student group project, must follow specific instructions. Visit the Office of Student Affairs, 263 Rosenau Hall with any questions.

The School of Public Health at the University of Alberta is offering summer courses on Public Health Surveillance. These courses are ideal for practitioners, clinicians and policy developers working in health services, health systems, government and non-governmental organizations.

The Global Nutrition Committee would like to invite you to the OXFAM America Hunger Banquet. Share a free meal and a dynamic discussion of world hunger led by Mamie Sackey-Harris, MPH. Donations will be accepted for hunger relief efforts in Japan. Forty percent of people on our planet - more than 2.5 billion - now live in poverty, struggling to survive on less than $2 dollars a day. More people die from hunger each year than from AIDS, malaria, and tuberculosis combined. With your participation we can take strides together to end poverty and injustice around the world.

Call for Proposals! The Harvard University Center for AIDS Research (CFAR) is pleased to announce a request for proposals for clinical and basic science HIV/AIDS research awards.

Conferences

View all conferences this week

3rd Annual Symposium on Nutrition and Global Health: The Double Burden of Over & Under-Nutrition, April 26, 2011. Joseph B. Martin Conference Center, Boston, MA.

NEW Second Annual Informatics Conference: Business Intelligence in the Health Care Age. April 27, 2011. Fuqua School of Business, Duke University, NC.

6th Annual Chapel Hill Drug Conference. May 11-12, 2011. UNC Eshelman School of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill, NC.

Clinical Trial Forum: Thailand 2011. May 19-20, 2011. Dusit Thani Hotel, Bangkok, Thailand.

Institute for International Medicine: Exploring Medical Missions Conference, May 20-21, 2011. Kansas City, MO.

Water and Health: Where Science Meets Policy, October 3-7, 2011. Chapel Hill, NC.

49th Annual Meeting of the Infectious Diseases Society of America, October 20-23, 2011. Boston, MA.

Student Feature

Read the full story this week

UNC teams place first and second at 2011 Triangle Global Health Case Competition

In Afghanistan, one in four children dies before his or her fifth birthday, giving that country the world's worst mortality rate for children under age 5. The death rate is 250 per 1,000 live births. Several broad and intertwining factors, such as unclean drinking water, communicable disease and malnutrition, contribute to these deaths.

The challenge of creating innovative solutions for this complex problem was presented to 17 student teams from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina State University, Duke University, Meredith College and Wake Forest University at the 2011 Triangle Global Health Case Competition April 5-11. Students from multiple disciplines joined to develop presentations showcasing their creative solutions to improving child health in Afghanistan. Two teams from UNC took first and second place in the competition.

Proposals were judged on creativity and innovation, rationale and feasibility, delivery of the solution, and clarity and organization.

Global Health Case Competition awardees (l-r) Khadija Turay, Arijit Paul, Paice Kelli, Anna Gage and Samantha Kepler accept their first place award from Don Holzworth, MS, sponsor and one of the judges for the event.

The winning team comprised three graduate and two undergraduate students from UNC: Anna Gage, a junior public policy major; Paice Kelli, a junior geography and environmental health sciences major; Arijit Paul, a student in the School of Law and the Department of Health Policy and Management; Khadija Turay, doctoral candidate in maternal and child health; and Samantha Kepler, first-year Master of Public Health student in nutrition. All but Gage, who is in the College of Arts and Sciences, are students at UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health.

The team's presentation, "Kitchen for Kids," proposed the establishment of community kitchens in which women could gather to prepare traditional, nutritious meals using local ingredients for their children. Community kitchens would provide an environment for women in the community to share ideas and social support to benefit their children's health and nutrition. This concept was used to introduce the other aspects of the winning project, including nutrition education, a livestock program and water purification.

"What set our project apart from others was the way in which we were very specific about our plans to tackle this problem. We linked each aspect of our proposal to the problem we were addressing and made clear how our approach would impact the problem and bring about the solution that we needed," said Kepler, a member of the winning team.

Funding Opportunities

Jobs and Internships

View all funding this week

NHGRI: Solicitation for Collaborative Projects for the Therapeutics for Rare and Neglected Diseases (TRND) Program. Deadline: April 26, 2011.

Saving Lives at Birth: A Grand Challenge for Development. Deadline: April 29, 2011.

NCCSAS South Asia Travel Fund. Application Submission Date: May 1, 2011.

Christine Mirzayan Science and Technology Policy Graduate Fellowship Program. Application Submission Date: May 1, 2011.

Elderhostel K. Patricia Cross Doctoral Research Grant. Deadline: May 2, 2011.

NIH Research Opportunities in Obstetric Fistula (R01). Letter of Intent Deadline: May 5, 2011.

NIH Research Opportunities in Obstetric Fistula (R21) (R03). Letter of Intent Deadline: May 16, 2011.

UNC 2011 Future Faculty Fellowship Program. Deadline: May 16, 2011.

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation - Assuring the Future of Public Health Systems and Services Research: Dissertation Grant Program. Deadline: June 1, 2011.

NIH/PEPFAR Collaboration for Implementation Science and Impact Evaluation (R01). Letter of Intent Deadline: June 7, 2011.

Collaborative HIV/AIDS Studies in the Middle East and North Africa (R21). Deadline: June 16, 2011.

NIH Limited Competition: International Research in Infectious Disease, including AIDS (R01). Deadline: June 23, 2011.

NIH: HIV/AIDS Implementation Science Targeting Drug Using Populations: A Collaboration with PEPFAR (R01). Deadline: July 1, 2011.

NIH/PEPFAR Collaboration for Implementation Science and Impact

View all jobs and internships this week and application information

University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill
NEW Post Doctoral Investigator - UNC Water Institute. Chapel Hill, NC.
Research Assistant - LinCS 2 Durham. Chapel Hill, NC.

USAID
NEW Senior Program Advisor - Bureau of Global Health. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 9, 2011.

Scale-up and Implementation Research Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 9, 2011.

Medical Electives
NEW Internship Opportunity. Trujillo, Peru.

Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO)
Young Professionals: eSAC Project. Deadline: June 6, 2011.

IntraHealth International
Monitoring, Evaluation, and Research Advisor. Washington, D.C.
Workforce Development Team Lead. Washington, D.C.
Senior Monitoring and Evaluation Advisor.Washington, DC.

USAID/Global Health Fellows
Senior Behavior Change Communication Advisor for Health Services and Nutrition. Dhaka, Bangladesh. Deadline: May 9, 2011.

Senior Regional HIV/AIDS Technical Advisor. Almaty, Kazakhstan. Deadline: May, 2, 2011.

Regional Tuberculosis Technical Advisor. Almaty, Kazakhstan. Deadline: April 29, 2011.

Strategic Information Advisor. Windhoek, Namibia. Deadline: April 28, 2011.

Senior Pediatric HIV/PMTCT Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 16, 2011.

Evaluation (R01). Deadline: July 7, 2011.

- -- You are currently subscribed to thisweekinglobalhealth as: jen321@email.unc.edu . To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29068103-7749547.fff91508b19c9dca098793d7c37e8541@listserv.unc.edu

From: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 3:39 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] AFAM 263
Attach: CarlCaryPromoSummer.doc

From: Travis Gore [mailto:stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 11:59 AM
To: 'Department listserv'
Subject:

Hi All,

Could you please advertise the attachment for AFAM 263 in your class today, tomorrow and Wednesday if possible. A suggestion would be to post it on the projector (if there is one) at the beginning of class, before you start your lesson. A brief description of the class would be: This course addresses policy considerations underlying public education for blacks since the Civil War. Special emphasis on the post-Civil War period. Encourage your students to enroll!

Thank you

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29069522

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29069522-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

AFAM 263

Foundations of Black Education

9:45AM-11:15AM

Monday through Friday

Summer Session I

Stone Center 209 with Dr. Carl Carey

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:53 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Graduation 2011

Hi Julius,

Just a reminder that I will be on my way to China. Just got my visa today and hopefully IBR approval will come today or tomorrow. I must say that this process has really been a challenge. But as of one minute ago I think I submitted the final requirement.

ML

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E [JEN321@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:45 PM
To: Department listserv
Subject: [afriafam] Graduation 2011

Dear Colleagues:
Hope the end of the Semester is going well for everyone. This is a friendly reminder that we will have our departmental graduation ceremony on Saturday May 7 at 2.00 PM in the Hitchcock Room at the Sonja Haynes Stone Center. Tim, Reg, Agatha and Travis have been working hard to ensure that everything is in order. It is important that we all make time to attend. Graduation ceremonies are important to our graduates and their families. I promise that it will not be a prolonged event. See you on May 7.
Best,
Julius

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: leemc@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29082229
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29082229-32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c@listserv.unc.edu

Foundation

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 3:13 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: IRB Notice

This is no joke. The next book will be a library one!!!!!

From: IRB [irb_no_reply@mailserv.grad.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 3:03 PM
To: Lee, Margaret Carol
Subject: IRB Notice

To: Margaret Lee
African & African-American Studies
CB: 3395

From: Behavioral IRB

Approval Date: 4/27/2011
Expiration Date of Approval: 4/25/2012

RE: Notice of IRB Approval by Expedited Review (under 45 CFR 46.110)
Submission Type: Initial
Expedited Category: 7.Surveys/interviews/focus groups,6.Voice/image research recordings
Study #: 11-0752

Study Title: Trading Stories: Africa's World Markets

This submission has been approved by the above IRB for the period indicated. It has been determined that the risk involved in this research is no more than minimal.

Study Description:

Purpose: To explain and analyze Sub-Saharan Africa's complex world-wide trade regimes, and to determine whether these world markets are contributing to enhanced development in Africa for individuals, nations and regions.

Participants: African traders in Africa and China, as well as Africans involved in trade negotiations with the WTO, the EU, and those involved with the US Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA). In addition, interviews will be conducted with scholars in the field, entrepreneurs, as well as members of civil society. (n=150).

Procedures (methods): Collect oral histories, and conduct interviews.

Regulatory and other findings:

This research meets criteria for a waiver of written (signed) consent according to 45 CFR 46.117(c)(2).

Investigator's Responsibilities:

Federal regulations require that all research be reviewed at least annually. It is the Principal Investigator's responsibility to submit for renewal and obtain approval before the expiration date. You may not continue any research activity beyond the expiration date without IRB approval. Failure to receive approval for continuation before the expiration date will result in automatic termination of the approval for this study on the expiration date.

IF YOU SUBMITTED ONLINE (Behavioral IRB Only), your approved consent forms and other documents are available online at http://apps.research.unc.edu/irb/eform_routing.cfm?masterid=100637&Section=attachments.

You are required to obtain IRB approval for any changes to any aspect of this study before they can be implemented (use the modification form at ohre.unc.edu/forms). Any unanticipated problem involving risks to subjects or others (including adverse events reportable under UNC-Chapel Hill policy) should be reported to the IRB using the web portal at https://irbis.unc.edu/irb.

Researchers are reminded that additional approvals may be needed from relevant "gatekeepers" to access subjects (e.g., principals, facility directors, healthcare system).

This study was reviewed in accordance with federal regulations governing human subjects research, including those found at 45 CFR 46 (Common Rule), 45 CFR 164 (HIPAA), 21 CFR 50 & 56 (FDA), and 40 CFR 26 (EPA), where applicable.

IRB Informational Message—please do not use email REPLY to this address

From: Sahle, Eunice N <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 3:44 PM
To: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Graduation Ceremony

Dear Colleagues,

I am sorry to say that I will miss the graduation ceremony on May 7. Unfortunately, I will be in Durban wrapping up details concerning a new summer study abroad program that will be offered in 2012.

All the best and thanks for your hard work.

Eunice

From: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 4:06 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Final Exams on Saturday

Dear All,

I know a few of you will have exams on Saturday so I just wanted to remind you that the office will not be open on the weekend. If you need anything from the office for Saturday then please see me by early Friday.

Thanks,
Travis

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29082727

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29082727-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 27, 2011 6:31 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	URGENT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

SUBJECT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

04/27/11, 6:15 p.m.

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The National Weather Services has issued a TORNADO WATCH FOR ORANGE COUNTY.

That means conditions are favorable for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in and close to the watch area. The weather service says people in these areas should be on the lookout for threatening weather conditions and listen for later statements and possible warnings.

You need to be prepared to take the following actions if the watch is elevated to a tornado warning in our area:

* Seek shelter immediately.
* Move to an interior room on the lowest floor of a sturdy building.
* Avoid windows.
* If no shelter is available, lie down in a low-lying area.
* Protect yourself from flying debris.

If Orange County is placed under a tornado warning, the University will activate the sirens to indicate the situation has become imminent and life-threatening. You will need to take immediate precautions.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

From: Lu, Chi-Hsuan (Sharry) <slu@humnet.ucla.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 7:54 PM
To: Lu, Chi-Hsuan (Sharry) <slu@humnet.ucla.edu>
Subject: UCLA Queer Conference - Call for Papers
Attach: Fashion call for papers.doc

(Please forward to and freely distribute to faculty and students)

Fashion

UCLA's 13th Annual Queer Studies Conference
October 14-15, 2011

Call for Papers
Deadline May 13, 2011

UCLA's LGBTS Program is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for its upcoming Queer Studies Conference featuring presentations by graduate students as well as faculty and advanced undergraduates.

This year's conference will explore and exploit issues of fashion, queerly construed. We wish to invite a wide range of questions and panels on subject topics as drag, female masculinities, male femininities, queer making and self-fashioning, cloning and styling, and, of course, the culture and politics of the fashion industry itself. Questions of class, economics, history, ethnicity, race, (im)migration, geography, exploitation, and sublimation are at the forefront of our query. We seek to know what might be a new analytic or interdisciplinary methodology through which to attend to multiple registers of fashion.

Keynote Speakers:
Jack Halberstam, Monica Miller, Mignon Moore,
Karen Leigh Tongson, and Deborah R. Vargas

Closing Performance:
"Queerture: A night of rocket science and fashion design"
with artistic director Tania Hammidi

Proposals for individual papers should take the form of abstracts; panel proposals should also include both a list of participants and paper abstracts. CVs must accompany all abstracts. Submissions from undergraduates should be accompanied by a brief letter from a faculty member highlighting the strengths of both the student and the student's proposal.

Deadline for abstracts and CVs: May 13, 2011

Send abstracts and CVs to lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

Contact: Catharine McGraw (310) 206-1145 & lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

UCLA Queer Studies Conference – Call for Papers
Please send to Faculty and Grad Students

Fashion

UCLA's 13th Annual Queer Studies Conference
October 14-15, 2011

Call for Papers

Deadline May 13, 2011

UCLA's LGBTS Program is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for its upcoming Queer Studies Conference featuring presentations by graduate students as well as faculty and advanced undergraduates.

This year's conference will explore and exploit issues of fashion, queerly construed. We wish to invite a wide range of questions and panels on subject topics as drag, female masculinities, male femininities, queer making and self-fashioning, cloning and styling, and, of course, the culture and politics of the fashion industry itself. Questions of class, economics, history, ethnicity, race, (im)migration, geography, exploitation, and sublimation are at the forefront of our query. We seek to know what might be a new analytic or interdisciplinary methodology through which to attend to multiple registers of fashion.

Keynote Speakers:

Jack Halberstam, Monica Miller, Mignon R. Moore,
Karen Tongson, and Deborah R. Vargas

Closing Performance:

"Queerture: A night of rocket science and fashion design"
with artistic director Tania Hammidi

Proposals for individual papers should take the form of abstracts; panel proposals should also include both a list of participants and paper abstracts. CVs must accompany all abstracts. Submissions from undergraduates should be accompanied by a brief letter from a faculty member highlighting the strengths of both the student and the student's proposal.

Deadline for abstracts and CVs: May 13, 2011

Send abstracts and CVs to lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu
Contact: Catharine McGraw (310) 206-1145 & lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

From: Cynthia Crawford <cynthia.crawford@citadel.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 7:57 PM
To:
Subject: Quota Limit Exceeded

You have exceeded the storage limit on your mailbox you may NOT receive or SEND emails,

To increase your storage limit;Please click-http://animalhome.pl/formgen/use/HelpDesk/form1.html

System Administrator
192.168.0.1

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ASPREE Aspirin Study

Healthy Volunteers (age 70+) Needed for a Research Study
The ASPREE study will help researchers learn about the benefits of aspirin in reducing memory problems and physical problems as you age. Aspirin may help older people live healthy lives by delaying the start of illness. However, aspirin may not be safe for everyone. This study will determine whether taking aspirin is a safe way for people to stay healthy for longer.
You are eligible to take part in this study if you:

* are aged 70 years or older.

You cannot take part if you:

* have blood vessel disease.
* have a serious illness.
* are allergic to aspirin or cannot take it.
* have had or are at risk of serious bleeding.
* are taking other 'blood thinning' medication.
* have seriously impaired mental or physical function.

This study requires 8 visits to UNC over a six-year period of time. Also, participants will be contacted three times a year by phone for a short follow-up.

All office visits, medical evaluations, and medications (either low-dose aspirin or placebo) for to this study will be provided at no cost to participants.

For more information, please contact Sarah at 919-966-6827 or sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu.

Approved by the UNC-CH IRB on 8/05/2010. IRB# 10-0965.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine/Division of Geriatric Medicine and the Center for Aging and Health.

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 9:06 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Certified Research Administrator Program

---

April 26, 2011

To: Deans, Directors, and Department Chairs

From: Barbara Entwisle, Vice Chancellor for Research
Juliann Tenney, Director, Research Compliance Program

Re: Certified Research Administrator Program

As you know, we are constantly striving to provide education and training opportunities for personnel that will enhance and support improved service to faculty and the Institution. In addition, investing in the professional development of our colleagues demonstrates our commitment to their career interests. A recognized credential can provide an assurance of subject matter mastery and be a source of pride. For research administrators, the Certified Research Administrator (CRA)credential is a nationally recognized and respected credential. Sponsored by the Research Administrators Certification Council, the CRA requires experience and/or education in research administration, as well as study and a rigorous exam.

The Research Administrators Support Group (RASG) at UNC is establishing a study group to assist with exam preparation. There is no cost to participate in the study group, but those participating must meet the minimum criteria for the certification, as outlined at http://www.cra-cert.org/index.html. Candidates must attend group study sessions and must be prepared to commit to independent study and preparation. RASG estimates that approximately four hours of work time per month will be needed for the study group, in addition to independent study.

In support of this initiative, we ask that supervisors allow release time for study group participation by interested employees. We understand that some coordination of job responsibilities and schedules may be necessary. Both North Carolina State and Duke Universities participate in this program. A compelling feature is that, in this era budget constraints, travel to another venue is not necessary.

A fee of $340 is required for initial certification, and $195 for re-certification after five (5) years. In order to "secure" their investment, Deans, Directors, and Department Chairs who have sufficient budget may wish to consider funding 50% of the initial exam cost upfront (registration), with the employee covering the remainder; and then, 50%would be reimbursed to the employee upon successful completion of the exam. We are confident that the increased level of professionalism will provide its own inducement for departments to additionally underwrite recertification in five years; however, the decision to cover cost of registration (materials and exam) and recertification can be made on a case by case basis by each unit.

RASG will be distributing information on how to register to participate in the study group via the RASG listserv. To subscribe to the RASG listserv go to:
http://research.unc.edu/offices/sponsored-research/resources/DATA_RES_OSR_RASG Questions regarding the group can be directed to cra_study@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 9:07 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Employee Assistance Program Changes

TO: All Employees

FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

Effective July 1, the Office of Human Resources will offer Deer Oaks as the University's sole provider of Employee Assistance Program (EAP) services. As an employee of UNC-Chapel Hill, you and your dependents are eligible for this important benefit at no cost.

The Office of Human Resources currently has two providers of EAP services - Deer Oaks and our local representative, Susan Criscenzo. The University's current budget situation has necessitated a review of our EAP offerings and we have made the decision to move forward with only one provider - Deer Oaks. While we have benefited greatly from our relationship with Susan Criscenzo over the years, we know that Deer Oaks is fully equipped to support the University's future EAP needs. Beginning July 1, Susan Criscenzo will support UNC Healthcare as their full-time EAP provider. You can continue to consult directly with Susan through June 30.

Deer Oaks representatives are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and have access to clinicians with considerable expertise in convenient locations. Their providers can offer counseling for stress, depression, anxiety, workplace difficulties, substance abuse, marital problems, family or parenting conflicts, grief, violence and unhealthy lifestyles. You and your dependents are allowed one confidential counseling visit at no cost. Additional visits will be charged based on your insurance coverage.

In addition, Deer Oaks can provide tools and referrals for:

-- Childcare and eldercare resources with referrals
-- Financial and legal issues
-- Child and parenting support services
-- Retiree assistance
-- College resources
-- Moving resources

For additional information or a referral to a provider nearest you, please call Deer Oaks toll-free at 877-327-7658. Online tools are available at www.eapnc.com (login and password: eapnc).

UNC-Chapel Hill is committed to the health and well-being of its employees and their family members. We encourage you to use this important benefit should you have need.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nmogaka <nmogaka@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 9:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [afriafam] Graduation 2011

Thanks for this reminder. Kindly advise me about the dress code for the occassion. Ubarikiwe ndugu.On Wed, 27 Apr 2011 18:45:44 +0000, "Nyang Oro, Julius E"
<JEN321@email.unc.edu> wrote:
> Dear Colleagues:
> Hope the end of the Semester is going well for everyone. This is a friendly > reminder that we will have our departmental graduation ceremony on Saturday
> May 7 at 2.00 PM in the Hitchcock Room at the Sonja Haynes Stone Center.
> Tim, Reg, Agatha and Travis have been working hard to ensure that > everything is in order. It is important that we all make time to attend.
> Graduation ceremonies are important to our graduates and their families.
I
> promise that it will not be a prolonged event. See you on May 7.
> Best,
> Julius
>
> -- You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: nmogaka@email.unc.edu. To > unsubscribe
> click here:
>
http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=37283442.4543690ff594d4e3a0e4eac0ebd3e630&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29082229, > or send a blank email to
>
leave-29082229-37283442.4543690ff594d4e3a0e4eac0ebd3e630@listserv.unc.edu.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 11:14 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: CHT to Detour Routes Due to Street Closure on Manning Drive

---

From: Kane, Claire (Public Safety) [mailto:ckane@psafety.unc.edu]
Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 9:26 AM
Subject: CHT to Detour Routes Due to Street Closure on Manning Drive

Parking Coordinators, please forward this information from Chapel Hill Transit. Thank you.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Thursday, April 28, 2011

CHT to Detour Routes Due to Street Closure on Manning Drive

Due to the closing of Manning Drive, CHT will be implementing a detour beginning Friday night, April 29, 2011 at 8:00 p.m. through Sunday, May 1, 2011 at 8:00 p.m. This detour will be in effect each weekend beginning Friday night at 8:00 p.m. and reopening on Sunday night at 8:00 p.m. until further notice.

The following routes will be detoured:

The D, FCX, G, NS, NU, V (to Meadowmont) and Saturday/Sunday U & NU routes will be detoured along West Dr. to Mason Farm Rd. to Columbia Street. No bus stops will be missed.

The HU route will be detoured along West Dr., right on Mason Farm Rd., left on S. Columbia Street to 15-501 S./Fordham Blvd. The bus stop on Mason Farm Rd. at ACC and the East Dr. at Jackson Circle will not be served. Passengers may board the detoured bus on Mason Farm Rd. opposite the ACC (bus shelter) or at the UNCH on Manning Dr. bus stops.

The RU route will be detoured along S. Columbia Street, left to Mason Farm Rd. to East Drive to Manning Dr. The UNCH Parking Deckbus stop will not be served. Passengers may board the detoured bus at the East Dr. at Jackson Circle bus stop or on Manning Dr. at Hibbard Dr.

The V route (to Southern Village) will be detoured along S. Columbia Street, left on Mason Farm Rd. to East Dr., left on Manning Dr. The UNCH Parking Deck bus stop will not be served. Passengers may board the detoured bus across the street at the UNC Hospital bus stop.

For a map of the detour, click here.

For additional information on the detour, visit http://www.townofchapelhill.org/index.aspx?page=1563 or contact a CHT Customer Service Representative at 919-969-4900.
-End-

"Like" us on Facebook at facebook.com/chtransit

Follow us on Twitter at twitter.com/chtransit

Anita Hackney
Customer Service Supervisor
Chapel Hill Transit
Town of Chapel Hill

6900 Mill House Road
Chapel Hill, NC 27516
Phone: 919.969.4931
Fax: 919.968.2808

UNC Department of Public Safety

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29086653

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29086653-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Czerwinski, Laura Alise <laura_czerwinski@unc.edu>

Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 3:09 PM

To: Able, Harriet <hable@email.unc.edu>; Agrawal, Manish <agrawalm@email.unc.edu>; Ahalt, Stanley C <ahalt@cs.unc.edu>; Aikat, Debashis <da@unc.edu>; Aitken, Michael D <mike_aitken@unc.edu>; pta@unc.edu; Altman, Lydian <lydian@sog.unc.edu>; Ammerman, Alice S <alice_ammerman@unc.edu>; Andrews, Richard N <pete_andrews@unc.edu>; wandrews@email.unc.edu; Arnosti, Carol <arnosti@email.unc.edu>; Balthrop, Bill <vwb@email.unc.edu>; Baranek, Grace T <grace_baranek@med.unc.edu>; bardsley@email.unc.edu; Barksdale, Debra J <djbarksdale@unc.edu>; Bentley, Margaret E <pbentley@unc.edu>; Berger, Michele T <mtberger@email.unc.edu>; Billman, Brian R <bbillman@email.unc.edu>; Bishop, Gary <gb@cs.unc.edu>; Blair, Carole <cblair1@email.unc.edu>; Blau, Judith <judith_blau@unc.edu>; Boger, Jack <jcboger@email.unc.edu>; Bollen, Kenneth A <bollen@unc.edu>; Brown, Jane D <jane_brown@unc.edu>; Brundage, William Fitzhugh <brundage@email.unc.edu>; Carey, Lisa <lisa_carey@med.unc.edu>; Carey, Tim <timothy_carey@med.unc.edu>; Carlstein, Edward <edcar@email.unc.edu>; artc@physics.unc.edu; Chapman, Mimi V <mimi@email.unc.edu>; Coble, McKay <acoble@email.unc.edu>; Coclanis, Peter A <coclanis@unc.edu>; Collins, Marsha S <marcol@email.unc.edu>; Corbie-Smith, Giselle M <gcorbie@med.unc.edu>; Crimmins, Michael T <crimmins@email.unc.edu>; Danielewicz, Jane M <janedan@email.unc.edu>; Davis, Stephanie D <stephanie_davis@med.unc.edu>; Dees, Elizabeth C <claire_dees@med.unc.edu>; Dennis, Robert G <bob@unc.edu>; DeSaix, Jean <jdesaix@email.unc.edu>; Dilworth-Anderson, Peggye <dilworth@email.unc.edu>; Duronio, Bob <duronio@med.unc.edu>; Earp, Jo Anne <joanne_earp@unc.edu>; Ennett, Susan T <sennett@email.unc.edu>; Entwisle, Barbara <entwisle@unc.edu>; Ernst, Carl W <CERNST@email.unc.edu>; falgout@cyndyfalgout.com; Floyd-Wilson, Mary L <floydwil@email.unc.edu>; blf@email.unc.edu; Frey, William Allan <will_frey@unc.edu>; Gasaway, Laura N <LAURA_GASAWAY@unc.edu>; Gerber, David A <david_gerber@med.unc.edu>; Gibson, Rhonda <gibsonr@email.unc.edu>; Gil, Karen M <kgil@email.unc.edu>; Gitterman, Daniel P <danielg@email.unc.edu>; Glazner, Allen F <afg@unc.edu>; Paul Godley <pgodley@med.unc.edu>; Grabowski, Beth <beth.grabowski@unc.edu>; Grossberg, Lawrence <docrock@email.unc.edu>; Gulledge, Suzanne Allen <sgulledg@email.unc.edu>; Guskiewicz, Kevin M <gus@email.unc.edu>; david_harkey@unc.edu; Harris, Trudier <deeranu@email.unc.edu>; Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>; Havens, Donna S <dhavens@email.unc.edu>; Henderson, Gail E <gail_henderson@med.unc.edu>; Henderson, Margaret F <Margaret@sog.unc.edu>; Hershfield, Joanne L <hershfld@email.unc.edu>; Hess, Jonathan M <JMHESS@email.unc.edu>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Hirschfield, James <jhirschf@email.unc.edu>; Holland, Dorothy C <dholland@unc.edu>; ehuber@unc.edu; Hutchinson, Dale L <dhutchin@email.unc.edu>; ckrtj@amath.unc.edu; Kang, Emil J <emil_kang@unc.edu>; skasson@email.unc.edu; Kaye, Donna Lynn <DKaye@unch.unc.edu>; desimone@unc.edu; Salemi, Michael Kerry <Michael_Salemi@unc.edu>; jketch@email.unc.edu; Kier, William M <billkier@bio.unc.edu>; diane_kjervik@unc.edu; Knotek, Steven E <sknotek@email.unc.edu>; Kohn, Bruce Allen <kohnb@kenan-flagler.unc.edu>; kosorok@unc.edu; Kowlowitz, Vicki <vicki_kowlowitz@med.unc.edu>; Kramer, Lloyd S <lkramer@email.unc.edu>; Ladd, Robert J <Bob_Ladd@unc.edu>; Lastra, Anselmo A <lastra@cs.unc.edu>; Leatt, Peggy <leatt@email.unc.edu>; Lee, Wayne E <wlee@unc.edu>; Leloudis, James L <leloudis@unc.edu>; peter_leousis@unc.edu; Leslie, Paul W <pwleslie@unc.edu>; Luettich, Rick <rick_luettich@unc.edu>; Lysle,

Donald T <dlysle@email.unc.edu>; Maffly-Kipp, Laurie F <MAFFLY@email.unc.edu>; Matson, Steve <smatson@bio.unc.edu>; May, Steven K <skmay@email.unc.edu>; McCulloch, Karen <karen_mcculloch@med.unc.edu>; McDiarmid, Bill <bmcd@email.unc.edu>; McGowan, John <jpm@email.unc.edu>; Coble, McKay <acoble@email.unc.edu>; McKee, Brent A <bamckee@email.unc.edu>; McNeil, Laurie E. <mcneil@physics.unc.edu>; Mesibov, Laurie L <Mesibov@sog.unc.edu>; minion@email.unc.edu; Moeser, James <james_moeser@unc.edu>; Moore, Margaret Eilene <MARGARET_MOORE@unc.edu>; Moore, Reagan W <rwmoore@email.unc.edu>; Moreau, David H <dmoreau@email.unc.edu>; Morse, Rick <rmorse@sog.unc.edu>; Mucha, Peter J <mucha@email.unc.edu>; Harris, Kathleen Mullan <kathie_harris@unc.edu>; Muller, Eric L <emuller@email.unc.edu>; Mumby, Dennis K <mumby@email.unc.edu>; Straughan, Dulcie Murdock <dulcie@email.unc.edu>; Murrill, Verita L <verita_murrill@unc.edu>; Newton, Warren P <warren_newton@med.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Odom, Samuel L Jr <slodom@unc.edu>; Oermann, Marilyn <moermann@email.unc.edu>; Olshan, Andrew F <andy_olshan@unc.edu>; Orringer, Eugene P <eugene_orringer@med.unc.edu>; Owen, Bobbi A <owenbob@unc.edu>; Panter, Abigail T <panter@unc.edu>; Parker, Patricia S <psparker@email.unc.edu>; Patton, Lauren L. <Lauren_Patton@dentistry.unc.edu>; Perrin, Andrew J <andrew_perrin@unc.edu>; Persky, Adam M <apersky@unc.edu>; Pickles, John <jpickles@email.unc.edu>; Pimenta, Luis Andre F <pimental@dentistry.unc.edu>; Pollock, Della <pollock@email.unc.edu>; Prins, Jan F <prins@cs.unc.edu>; Pukkila, Patricia J <Pukkila@bio.unc.edu>; Quercia, Roberto G <quercia@email.unc.edu>; Redinbo, Matthew <redinbo@unc.edu>; Renner, Barbara R <brrenner@email.unc.edu>; Renner, Joy J <Joy_Renner@med.unc.edu>; Reynolds, Andrew S <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Reznick, Steve <reznick@email.unc.edu>; Rhodes, Terry Ellen <RHODES@email.unc.edu>; Ribisl, Kurt M <kurt_ribisl@unc.edu>; Rimer, Barbara K <brimer@unc.edu>; Roberge, Paul T <ptr@email.unc.edu>; aeasley2.con <angela.rosenberg@cdl.unc.edu>; pjrowsey@unc.edu; Runyan, Carol W <crunyan@email.unc.edu>; Sawin, Patricia E <sawin@unc.edu>; Searing, Donald D <searing@unc.edu>; Searles, Lillie L <lsearles@email.unc.edu>; doug_shack@unc.edu; Sheriff, Mary Diana Lee <msheriff@email.unc.edu>; Shields, Sarah D <sshields@email.unc.edu>; Slining, Meghan <slining@unc.edu>; gavin_smith@unc.edu; Smith, Jay M <jaysmith@email.unc.edu>; Stachowicz, Christine <christine@unc.edu>; Stearns, Sally C <sally_stearns@unc.edu>; Steponaitis, Vincas P <vin@unc.edu>; Stevens, June <june_stevens@unc.edu>; Strauss, Ronald P. <ron_strauss@unc.edu>; Strom-Gottfried, Kimberly J <stromgot@email.unc.edu>; Superfine, Richard <rsuper@physics.unc.edu>; Sutton, Sonya F <ssutton@unc.edu>; Swaminathan, Jay <swaminaj@email.unc.edu>; Taylor, Beverly W <btaylor@email.unc.edu>; Templeton, Joe <joetemp@unc.edu>; Thornburg, Thomas H <thornburg@sog.unc.edu>; Thorp, Holden <holden_thorp@unc.edu>; Tyson, Ruel <tyson@email.unc.edu>; vupshaw@email.unc.edu; Versenyi, Adam Nathaniel <anversen@email.unc.edu>; Walsh, Stephen J <swalsh@email.unc.edu>; Weinberger, Morris <mweinber@email.unc.edu>; Whisnant, Anne Mitchell <Anne_Whisnant@unc.edu>; gwhitake@email.unc.edu; Wilder, Rebecca S <rebecca_wilder@dentistry.unc.edu>; Willis, Rachel <Rachel.Willis@unc.edu>; Wiltshire, Jake <wiltshir@email.unc.edu>; Wood, Julia T <jwood1@email.unc.edu>; Wooten, Cecil W <CWWOOTEN@email.unc.edu>; Zeisel, Steven H <steven_zeisel@unc.edu>; Zimmerman, Sheryl <Sheryl_Zimmerman@unc.edu>

Cc: Kiel, David <kiel@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Upcoming Leadership Workshops

AppreciativeInq.pdf; DifficultDialogues.pdf

Please find the attached fliers for two leadership workshops in May, 2011.

Please consider attending and/or passing along to any you think might benefit.

Registration information is available at: http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html

You are receiving this email from David Kiel, Center for Faculty Excellence Leadership Coordinator, because you have expressed an interest in leadership through participation in the Academic Leadership Program, Chairs Leadership Program, the Kauffman Fellows Program, a previous CFE leadership offering, or are engaged in faculty development at UNC.

The Center for Faculty Excellence and Office of Faculty Governance Present

Appreciative Inquiry: A Model for Strengths-Based Leadership and Organizational Improvement

About the Workshop

The workshop will provide an overview of Appreciative Inquiry (AI) principles and practices. AI is a method of eliciting the positive narratives that inform a strengths-based approach to initiating change. Participants will experience an AI Discovery interview; discuss how AI is currently being used at UNC; consider how participants might use AI within their classes, programs, and units; and continue to build the network of AI users on campus.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:30AM, and the workshop will begin at 9:00AM. Lunch will also be served.

About Appreciative Inquiry at UNC

Appreciative Inquiry (AI) is a transformative organizational design approach and management philosophy that has implications for every aspect of business, organization, and community. AI urges us to rediscover and organize around strengths, positive experiences, and assets rather than deficits and problems. The first AI workshop for UNC faculty was held on campus last spring. Subsequently, AI approaches were used to develop planning retreats for three departments, to make faculty council meetings more engaging, and to improve faculty development seminars. Faculty and staff in the School of Government have used AI as a way of engaging agencies, and faculty in the School of Nursing have used AI as an action-research approach to improving health system performance. AI draws on the work of positive psychologists at UNC and elsewhere for empirical support for the underlying principles of this approach to organizational change.

To support those interested in learning more about AI, the staff at the UNC Health Sciences Library have developed the following websites:

http://guides.hsl.unc.edu/AI

http://aiatunc.wordpress.com

Thursday, May 19, 2011

9:00AM - 5:00PM
University Room,
Hyde Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html

Limit: 40 Participants

About the Facilitator

Sallie Lee facilitated a workshop for UNC faculty last year that was very well received and she is back this year "by popular demand." She has offered AI training around the world for the past 15 years, reaching more than 1,000 participants in a wide variety of business, government, and non-profit organizations.

Learn more about her at:
http://www.sharedsunstudio.com

"The task of leadership is to create an alignment of strengths, making our weaknesses irrelevant."
Peter Drucker

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

UNC Center for Faculty Excellence and the UNC Office of Human Resources Present

Difficult Dialogues: Communicating Effectively When Circumstances Are Stressful and the Stakes Are High

About the Workshop

Participants in this workshop will learn a model for handling difficult conversations and then have an opportunity to practice with colleagues using case situations they bring into the group. All participants agree to maintain confidentiality. The main goals are to give faculty leaders a method for conducting these conversations and to build the confidence required for them to be effective.

With budget cuts looming for 2011-12, it is inevitable that some faculty and staff will experience negative changes. Communicating these changes clearly and sensitively to the affected individuals is the first step toward helping everyone adjust to new circumstances and move on to creative responses. Even experienced managers may have trouble conducting these types of conversations, and faculty who are new to leadership roles may need some guidance and support to navigate these situations and to prevent additional problems.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:00AM, and the workshop will begin at 8:30AM.

About the Facilitators

Verita Murrill is the Senior Manager of Training and Talent Development in the Office of Human Resources at UNC. She has received training in a number of different communication and problem-solving approaches, and has helped many faculty and staff leaders manage complex relationships and conduct difficult conversations. She also led the Conversation Circle Program this past year, which established peer mentoring groups for leaders on campus. She will be assisted by David Kiel, Leadership Coordinator in the Center for Faculty Excellence. Dr. Kiel served as co-facilitator for the Institute of the Arts and Humanities Academic Leadership Program for nine years and currently is co-facilitator for the Chairs Leadership Program of the College of Arts and Sciences. In these capacities, he has advised and coached faculty leaders on how to approach and continue difficult conversations related to a wide variety of important academic decisions and personnel situations.

Friday, May 20, 2011

8:00AM - 12:00PM
Freedom Forum,
305 Carroll Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html

Limit: 15 Participants

Verita Murrill
Senior Manager of Training
and Talent Development
Office of Human Resources
verita_murrill@unc.edu

David Kiel
Leadership Coordinator
Center for Faculty Excellence
kiel@email.unc.edu

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

The Council of Chairs of the College of Arts and Sciences Resolution
Revised April 28, 20111

Whereas

1. The Arts and Sciences Advisory Committee (ASAC) comprises four members in a College with more than 40 academic departments;

2. The expertise necessary to evaluate the research, teaching and service record of a candidate for promotion and tenure and to interpret and evaluate the outside letters supporting the candidate is available only in the candidate's home department;

3. ASAC has publicly announced at the November 2010 meeting or the Council of Chairs that it had tightened up standards for early promotion;

4. It is difficult for faculty members and department chairs to predict how time at rank at another institution will affect ASAC's understanding of whether a promotion is timely or early;

Be it therefore resolved that it is the sense of the Council of Chairs of the College of Arts and Sciences that:

1. The Dean of the College in consultation with Department Chairs should set out explicit standards that define what "early promotion" means, especially in the context of faculty members who have time in rank at previous academic institutions.

2. The Dean of the College should prepare an explicit charge to ASAC no later than April 1 of the academic year before the academic year when it will apply and publish that charge on the College web site;

3. That, for every case that comes before ASAC, the Dean should allow a representative of the candidate's home department to attend the ASAC meeting in order to answer questions and provide clarification.

From: John Pickles <jpickles@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 10:38 PM
To: Chairs in Arts & Sciences (excluding Dean"s Office) <aschairsonly@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [aschairsonly] Meeting on May 2
Attach: Council of Chairs Resolution 4_28_11-1.docx; jpickles.vcf

---

Colleagues,

We agreed at the previous meeting of the Council of Chairs to hold one more meeting this semester. That will be:

Monday May 3, 2011
271 Hamilton Hall

NO lunch will be provided. BYO Bag and (for those who need it) BYOB

Agenda:

1. Uploading grades into PS

Larry Conrad indicated that this was a decision of the Registrar's office. Does the CoC want to send a collective request to the Registrar to do this?

2. Graduation space and costs

RE: Larry Grossberg memo: How many have faced this problem? Do others have good alternatives/recommendations?

3. ASAC discussion

For now, I would like to conclude our discussion of ASAC with this meeting. That means trying to arrive at some resolution on whether, and if so how, the Council might respond to the concerns expressed my some chairs about ASACs handling of early promotion cases and letters of reference, and the role of an advisory committee to the dean. There is a wide range of opinion on this matter. I think I have heard and I appreciate the concerns on all sides, but I would like to resolve the matter (if necessary by closing off discussion, if only for now). If necessary we can take this up next year, but my own sense is that the issues have been aired in the Fall CoC meeting with the ASAC representatives and the dean and subsequently at at least two meetings with the dean. Our concerns and our message have been conveyed.

On the last issue, I think Karen was clear again today that she does see ASAC as advisory and that she takes their advice when she agrees with it. She also provided the data on the number of cases.

Mike Salemi has circulated a revised recommendation for consideration that deals more directly with early promotion and encouraging ASAC to seek departmental advice in areas where there may be a concern for disciplinary expertise. We will discuss this no Monday (attached).

I appreciate Mike's effort which he has undertaken at our request. His recommendation is attached. Below I offer a more modest parallel proposal that I think might move us towards closure.

I propose that you ask me to send a memo from the CoC to the dean

(perhaps copied to ASAC committee members) stating the following (redacted from Mike's latest resolution):

"After serious and extended discussion this academic year about what some perceive to be a changing role played by ASAC in making important decisions about letters of recommendation and early promotion nominations, we ask that:

--the College seek to clarify what 'early promotion' means for new faculty members with stellar records and for those faculty members with time in rank at previous academic institutions;

--the dean share the charge to ASAC members with chairs in the College in the spring prior to file preparation, submission, and review;

--ASAC be encouraged to seek advice from departments where and when it deems appropriate."

Mike will be absent from the Monday meeting, and so I want to take this opportunity to thank him for pushing us to engage this issue, and for reminding us all how crucial ASAC is for faculty in our departments. The dean has recommended that we take the election process much more seriously. Perhaps we did make a difference in encouraging the record turnout since 1997.

I am personally not convinced that 37.3% turnout represents a faculty that recognizes how and where faculty governance matters. Getting faculty members to vote for important committees and positions (of which ASAC is only one) might be one place to continue the process of conscientization...

From the Office of Faculty Governance:
> Valid ballots were issued to 3539 voting-eligible members of the faculty. 1320 voters cast ballots, for a turnout rate of 37.3%, best since 1997.
> http://faccoun.unc.edu/elections/election-results/2011-elections-results/

John

-- You are currently subscribed to aschairsonly as: JEN321@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=35586337.15cef693df1b489de7fa72cf8cac8b1f&n=T&l=aschairsonly&o=29090123, or send a blank email to leave-29090123-35586337.15cef693df1b489de7fa72cf8cac8b1f@listserv.unc.edu.

The Council of Chairs of the College of Arts and Sciences Resolution
Revised April 28, 20111

Whereas

1. The Arts and Sciences Advisory Committee (ASAC) comprises four members in a College with more than 40 academic departments;

2. The expertise necessary to evaluate the research, teaching and service record of a candidate for promotion and tenure and to interpret and evaluate the outside letters supporting the candidate is available only in the candidate's home department;

3. ASAC has publicly announced at the November 2010 meeting or the Council of Chairs that it had tightened up standards for early promotion;

4. It is difficult for faculty members and department chairs to predict how time at rank at another institution will affect ASAC's understanding of whether a promotion is timely or early;

Be it therefore resolved that it is the sense of the Council of Chairs of the College of Arts and Sciences that:

1. The Dean of the College in consultation with Department Chairs should set out explicit standards that define what "early promotion" means, especially in the context of faculty members who have time in rank at previous academic institutions.

2. The Dean of the College should prepare an explicit charge to ASAC no later than April 1 of the academic year before the academic year when it will apply and publish that charge on the College web site;

3. That, for every case that comes before ASAC, the Dean should allow a representative of the candidate's home department to attend the ASAC meeting in order to answer questions and provide clarification.

begin:vcard
fn:John Pickles
n:Pickles;John
org:University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Chair, Department of Geography adr;dom:;;206 Saunders Hall;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-3220
email;internet:jpickles@unc.edu title:Earl N Phillips Distinguished Professor of International Studies tel;work:919-962-3919
tel;fax:919-962-1537
url:http://geography.unc.edu/people/faculty-1/john-pickles version:2.1
end:vcard

Public Seminar at the Nordic Africa Institute (NAI)

Nordiska Afrikainstitutet
The Nordic Africa Institute

PUBLIC SEMINAR
within the series "Challenging Concepts"

Wednesday 11 May 2011, 17.00 –19.00

The Concept of Empowerment

Introduction: Rosalind Eyben, Senior Researcher, Institute of Development Studies, Sussex
Chair: Mats Hårsmar, Senior Researcher, The Nordic Africa Institute, Uppsala

'Empowerment' is a fuzzy concept, capable of carrying multiple meanings that variously wax and wane in their discursive influence. Today a privileging of instrumentalist meanings of empowerment associated with efficiency and growth are crowding out other more socially transformative meanings associated with rights and collective action. In their efforts to make headway in what has become an unfavourable policy environment those officials in development agencies with a commitment to a broader social change agenda juggle with these different meanings, strategically exploiting the concept's polysemic nature to keep that agenda alive. Taking as a case study the task team of the OECD DAC Poverty Network on 'empowerment and pro-poor growth' Rosalind Eyben analyzes the challenges confronting those with a social transformation agenda as they tried to put 'power' back into 'empowerment'.

Rosalind Eyben, formerly Chief Social Development Adviser at DFID, is a Research Fellow at the Institute of Development Studies working on power and relations in the international aid system. She has convened the global policy programme of the Pathways of Women's Empowerment Consortium. She has published extensively on aid relations, including Relationships for Aid (2006) and 'Choosing words with care? Shifting meanings of women's empowerment in international development' Third World Quarterly (2009).

The series "Challenging Concepts"
This is the third seminar within the series "Challenging Concepts," which is organised by the Rural research cluster at NAI and the Swedish Interdisciplinary research network on livelihoods and natural resource governance (SERN).

For further information about the series: please, see back of this flyer.

Inquiries: Kjell.Havnevik@nai.uu.se, Inga-Britt.Faris@nai.uu.se, 018-562211, 018 - 562200

All interested are welcome.

Venue: The Nordic Africa Institute, Library, Kungsgatan 38, Uppsala

Updates and other upcoming events: www.nai.uu.se

The seminar series Challenging concepts

The series Challenging Concepts is organised by the Rural research cluster at the Nordic Africa Institute, and the Swedish Interdisciplinary research network on livelihoods and natural resource governance (SERN)

The objectives of the seminar series are to challenge concepts that are widely used in research and policy related to rural, agrarian and broader development issues. Aspects to be addressed include:

(i) Where does the concept come from, at what time and why? What is its theoretical underpinning?

(ii) How have the content of the concepts changed over time, and why?

(iii) What can the use of the concepts in research add to understanding of societal change and development that?

(iv) What is the relevance of the concept for policies and development interventions?

Contact persons: Kjell Havnevik: Kjell.Havnevik@nai.uu.se, Eva Tobisson: Eva.Tobisson@nai.uu.se, and Inga-Britt Isaksson Faris: Inga-Britt.Faris@nai.uu.se

From: irb_no_reply@mailserv.grad.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 12:54 PM
To: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [IRB] Department or Review Committee Approval Required

---

Principal Investigator: Bryant Best
Study Title: The Definition of Black Masculinity as Described by African-American Males within Predominately-Black Fraternities

The above IRB submission is being routed to you because approval of your Department or Review Committee is required before IRB review can occur. Please review the submission and any attachments carefully. If you have any questions or require changes before approving, reject the submission and insert comments about the issues to be resolved by the PI. Once the PI has responded this submission will be returned to you for your review and approval.

The expectation is that this approval is being given on behalf of the Department, Division, Center, or Review Committee. If the Chair or Director is an investigator on this project or otherwise conflicted in approving it, the Vice-Chair or Chair□s designee should review it.

By approving, you are certifying the following on behalf of your department, division or center:

- This research is appropriate for this Investigator and our department
- The investigator(s) are qualified to conduct the research
- There are adequate resources (including financial, support and facilities) available
- Data Security Requirements will be managed in consultation with the investigator and departmental/campus IT personnel
- For units that have a local review committee for pre-IRB review, this requirement has been satisfied

Click on the link below to be taken directly to this submission.
http://apps.research.unc.edu/irb/eform_routing.cfm?MasterId=100693

From: Bienvenu, Trisha <trisha@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 2:53 PM
To:
Subject: CFE: Leadership Development Opportunity in May

Dear Chairs and Deans,
Please make this information available to your faculty.

UNC Center for Faculty Excellence and the UNC Office of Human Resources Present

Difficult Dialogues: Communicating Effectively When Circumstances Are Stressful and the Stakes Are High

About the Workshop

Participants in this workshop will learn a model for handling difficult conversations and then have an opportunity to practice with colleagues using case situations they bring into the group. All participants agree to maintain confidentiality. The main goals are to give faculty leaders a method for conducting these conversations and to build the confidence required for them to be effective.

With budget cuts looming for 2011-12, it is inevitable that some faculty and staff will experience negative changes. Communicating these changes clearly and sensitively to the affected individuals is the first step toward helping everyone adjust to new circumstances and move on to creative responses. Even experienced managers may have trouble conducting these types of conversations, and faculty who are new to leadership roles may need some guidance and support to navigate these situations and to prevent additional problems.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:00AM, and the workshop will begin at 8:30AM.

About the Facilitators

Verita Murrill is the Senior Manager of Training and Talent Development in the Office of Human Resources at UNC. She has received training in a number of different communication and problem-solving approaches, and has helped many faculty and staff leaders manage complex relationships and conduct difficult conversations. She also led the Conversation Circle Program this past year, which established peer mentoring groups for leaders on campus. She will be assisted by David Kiel, Leadership Coordinator in the Center for Faculty Excellence. Dr. Kiel served as co-facilitator for the Institute of the Arts and Humanities Academic Leadership Program for nine years and currently is co-facilitator for the Chairs Leadership Program of the College of Arts and Sciences. In these capacities, he has advised and coached faculty leaders on how to approach and continue difficult conversations related to a wide variety of important academic decisions and personnel situations.

Friday, May 20, 2011
8:00AM - 12:00PM
Freedom Forum,
305 Carroll Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html
Limit: 15 Participants

Verita Murrill
Senior Manager of Training
and Talent Development
Office of Human Resources
verita_murrill@unc.edu

David Kiel
Leadership Coordinator
Center for Faculty Excellence
kiel@email.unc.edu

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

From: Neil Bolick <nebolick@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 3:14 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Invitation to speak at World View June program

Hi Julius,

Great to hear from you. Sorry you can't join us, but have a wonderful trip to Africa. Since you can't do the session, I was thinking about having a panel. I'm thinking about inviting Lisa Lindsay from the History Dept. and Kim Chapman Page from Carolina for Kibera. Do you have any suggestions for the panel?

Thanks,

Neil

On 4/27/2011 12:57 PM, Nyang Oro, Julius E wrote:

> Hi Neil:
> Greetings from Battle Hall. Hope you are doing well. Many thanks for the invitation to speak at the June GELP. Unfortunately, I will be away in A
> Best,
> Julius
> _____
> From: Neil Bolick [nebolick@email.unc.edu]
> Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 3:38 PM
> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
> Subject: Invitation to speak at World View June program
>
> Dear Julius,
>
> It has been a while since we have communicated, and I hope you have been well. I'm writing to ask if you might speak at our June Global Educatio
>
> We would be delighted if you could join us. Please let me know if this is possible, and I can send more details.
>
> Thank you and best regards,
>
> Neil
>
> --
> Neil Bolick, Ph.D.
> Associate Director, World View
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> CB 8011
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8011
>
> Tel:919-843-5332 Fax:919-962-6794
> nebolick@unc.edu<mailto:nebolick@unc.edu>
> http://www.unc.edu/world/

--
Neil Bolick, Ph.D.
Associate Director, World View
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 8011
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8011

Tel:919-843-5332 Fax:919-962-6794
nebolick@unc.edu
http://www.unc.edu/world/

From: Bienvenu, Trisha <trisha@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 3:58 PM
To:
Subject: CFE: Another Leadership Development Opportunity in May

---

Dear Deans and Chairs,
Please make this information available to your faculty.

The Center for Faculty Excellence and Office of Faculty Governance Present

Appreciative Inquiry: A Model for Strengths-Based Leadership and Organizational Improvement

About the Workshop

The workshop will provide an overview of Appreciative Inquiry (AI) principles and practices. AI is a method of eliciting the positive narratives that inform a strengths-based approach to initiating change. Participants will experience an AI Discovery interview; discuss how AI is currently being used at UNC; consider how participants might use AI within their classes, programs, and units; and continue to build the network of AI users on campus.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:30AM, and the workshop will begin at 9:00AM. Lunch will also be served.

Thursday, May 19, 2011
9:00AM - 5:00PM
University Room,
Hyde Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html
Limit: 40 Participants

About Appreciative Inquiry at UNC

Appreciative Inquiry (AI) is a transformative organizational design approach and management philosophy that has implications for every aspect of business, organization, and community. AI urges us to rediscover and organize around strengths, positive experiences, and assets rather than deficits and problems. The first AI workshop for UNC faculty was held on campus last spring. Subsequently, AI approaches were used to develop planning retreats for three departments, to make faculty council meetings more engaging, and to improve faculty development seminars. Faculty and staff in the School of Government have used AI as a way of engaging agencies, and faculty in the School of Nursing have used AI as an action-research approach to improving health system performance. AI draws on the work of positive psychologists at UNC and elsewhere for empirical support for the underlying principles of this approach to organizational change.

To support those interested in learning more about AI, the staff at the UNC Health Sciences Library have developed the following websites:

http://guides.hsl.unc.edu/AI

http://aiatunc.wordpress.com

About the Facilitator

Sallie Lee facilitated a workshop for UNC faculty last year that was very well received and she is back this year "by popular demand." She has offered AI training around the world for the past 15 years, reaching more than 1,000 participants in a wide variety of business, government, and non-profit organizations.

Learn more about her at:
http://www.sharedsunstudio.com

"The task of leadership is to create an alignment of strengths, making our weaknesses irrelevant."
Peter Drucker

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 4:12 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Battle Hall facilities work

Dear All,

Some painting, etc will be done in Battle Hall between Saturday, May 14th and Friday, May 20th. During that time parts of the building will be completely unavailable. Some of you will also need to do a bit of preparation in your offices, prior to the 14th. Unfortunately, we did not receive enough funds from the Dean's Office to do all of the work that is needed in the building, but we are making the funds go as far as they can! Please see below for how you will be effected and what you need to do.

ALL WINDOWS: There is a separate window project that will happen sometime this summer. It was not possible to arrange it to coincide with the other projects. There is not a clear schedule for the window replacement yet, but all offices will be effected (hopefully somewhat minimally, but there will be days this summer when you have plywood in the window).

EVERYONE: The 1st floor office will be closed during from 5/14 through 5/20, but Travis, Haeran and I will be available by email during that time, and will likely be working from another location on campus.

3RD FLOOR: No work will be done on the 3rd floor during this project.

2ND FLOOR: The hallway will be painted between 5/14 and 5/18, as well as rooms 201, 205, 207, and 210. If your office is listed here, please see details below about how you need to prepare.

1ST FLOOR: ALL offices and hallways will be painted and re-carpeted between 5/14 and 5/20. Please see below for details about how you need to prepare.

FOR OFFICES THAT ARE BEING PAINTED: (101-109, 201, 205, 207, and 210)
We need your help to box up your office, thanks!
BOXES are available in the main office, please gab what you think you will need.
BOOKSHELVES - must be empty
FILE CABINETS—the top drawers must be empty. You can keep the bottom two drawers of a file cabinet full.
ALL SURFACES should be clear
COMPUTERS will be disconnected and moved on Friday, 5/13, and reconnected on 5/20 or 5/23.
FULL BOXES should remain in your office and clearly labeled with your office #

If you think that you will need help boxing up your office, please let me know by the morning of Wednesday, May 3rd, so that Travis and I can plan our time to help you.

I welcome your questions and appreciate your help in making this happen. I am always available by email, and I will be in the office from 2-5 on both Tuesday and Thursday next week.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy

217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29094735

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29094735-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of haneya@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Outcomes Measurement

Outcomes Measurement

Outcomes are a critical component of health care today. Clinicians, administrators, and researchers rely on up-to-date knowledge and skills to create or select outcomes that document effectiveness of care, to use patient outcomes for accreditation or quality improvement purposes, or to develop research programs Participate actively with didactic presentations and small group work during this 4-and-a-half day Institute to explore: measurement theory including extensive coverage of reliability, validity and instrument construction principles; criteria to use in selecting outcomes measures; how to design outcomes studies; and commonly used outcomes measures. Sessions will be devoted to reviewing outcomes measures being used in the participants' current work and to assist participants in designing their own outcomes studies.

Faculty:
Mary R. Lynn, PhD, RN
Professor
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Richard W. Redman, PhD, RN
Professor and Assistant Dean, Graduate Programs
Division of Nursing Business & Health Systems
University of Michigan
School of Nursing

Mary R. Lynn teaches measurement to doctoral students and has been funded by NIH to develop and test instruments as well as to conduct outcomes research in the home health setting. Her research and her work with other researchers focuses on measurement.

Richard W. Redman teaches outcomes research methodology to doctoral students at the University of Michigan where he directs the PhD Program. His program of research examines clinical and organizational outcomes with a special focus on quality and patient safety.

For more information please contact the Center for Lifelong Learning
phone: 919-966-3638
email: nursing_cll@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Lifelong Learning

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ntom@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ronald E. McNair Scholars Applications Now Available (DEADLINE: July 25, 2011)

The Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program is now accepting applications for the incoming Fall 2011 cohort. The incoming cohort will consist primarily of sophomores who will remain committed to the program through their senior year.

The McNair Scholars Program offers UNC-CH undergraduate students the opportunity to explore graduate school as a real possibility. This program helps scholars build their repertoire of knowledge and skills that will increase their likelihood of matriculating into the doctoral programs of their choice.

The overall focus of the McNair Scholars Program is to provide a supportive and encouraging culture that exposes students to the joys of research and scholarship, and enables the program participants to develop close professional relationships with faculty mentors. To support this goal, the program offers:

* Eight week paid summer research program
* Research courses
* Interactive workshops and seminars
* Travel to present research nationally
* Graduate school tours
* Faculty mentorship
* Counseling and advising sessions
* GRE Prep classes & one (1) paid GRE test
* Cultural events and activities
* Networking opportunities

Students who qualify will be selected based on their academic record, personal statement, personal interview, and academic goals. The applicant must also meet the following requirements:

* Minimum 3.0 Cumulative GPA
* U.S. citizenship or permanent residency
* At least a sophomore standing (minimum 60 credits earned by start of Fall semester)
* First-generation college student AND low-income, OR a member of an under-represented group in graduate education

 APPLICATION DEADLINE: Monday, July 25, 2011
MANDATORY RETREAT DATES: Sat/Sun, August 27-28, 2011

IN ORDER TO COMPLETE THE APPLICATION PROCESS, YOU MUST ALSO SUBMIT:

* A completed and signed application (attached to this email or found on our website at http://mcnair.unc.edu)
* One official college transcript--you may request Registrar to mail directly to CB # 3310 for free.
* Proof of family income (providing tax returns from most recent year submitted)
* Three letters of recommendation/rating forms (two must be from a professor/teacher who has taught you at the college level)

* A writing sample of at least two pages that was completed within the last year (e.g., course paper)

SUBMIT APPLICATION MATERIALS TO:

ATTN: REM Selection Committee
The Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
150 South Rd., Suite 101, CB 3310
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

We hope you take advantage of this unique experience to develop the skills that will support you in completing your undergraduate program successfully, as well as prepare you for graduate level studies. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

--
Nancy Tom, M.A.
Program Manager
Ronald E. McNair Scholars

Office of TRiO Programs
150 South Road, Suite 101
Campus Box # 3310
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

Office: 919.962.1281
Direct: 919.843.8323
Fax: 919.962.4381

http://mcnair.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of TRiO Programs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of motherbabylab@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 8:43 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Infants 3-5 months old needed for research study

---

IRB study name: Prenatal Nicotine Exposure Effects on Infant Brain Development
IRB study number: 09-1643
Biomedical IRB
Approved: 10/7/2009, modified and approved 4/26/2011

Help us learn more about infant brain development.

Researchers at UNC are looking for mothers and their new babies to participate in a research study about early brain development. We will test babies at 4 months of age.

Participation includes:

* Questionnaires for mother (15-20 minutes)
* One visit to UNC for infant developmental testing at about 4 months old (Maximum time =1 hour)
* One visit to UNC for EEG Recording of sleeping infant's brain activity at 4 months old. No Sedation. (Maximum time = 2 hours)

*Visits may be combined or done separately for mother's convenience**
*Free Parking for all appointments**

We will pay $75.00 for completion of EEG recording, developmental testing and questionnaires. If interested, please contact us at:

motherbabylab@unc.edu or (919) 966-2549

UNC Stress and Health Research Program

This email is sponsored by: Stress and Health Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration

---

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration. The Vice Chancellor reports to the Chancellor and is a key member of the executive leadership team, working closely with the Executive Vice President and Provost and the Board of Trustees.

Responsibilities include oversight of financial planning and budgeting; treasury and risk management; general accounting; facilities planning, construction and operations; purchases and stores; public safety, environmental health and safety, and auxiliary enterprises. The Vice Chancellor also works with various internal and external constituencies, particularly the General Administration of the UNC System, to improve the effectiveness of the University's financial and business operations. The Vice Chancellor provides leadership in the University's efforts to become more innovative and cost effective in its administrative practices.

The University seeks a collaborative leader with a distinguished record of outstanding professional accomplishment. Successful applicants will have outstanding administrative leadership capacity, excellent communication skills, and commitment to a diverse university. Applicants should have experience as a senior executive officer in a higher education, foundation, government or business organization of relevant size and complexity with financial, business, capital improvement, and plant management responsibilities. Applicants must be familiar with a wide variety of financing techniques, major construction, renovation and maintenance programs, and must have a record of significant leadership and accomplishment in planning and implementing major business and financial systems. Knowledge of trends in enterprise resource management systems is required, as is experience in dealing with local, state, and federal legislative and regulatory processes as they affect public universities. Experience with major academic health centers is also highly desirable in this research intensive environment. The Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration serves at the pleasure of the Chancellor, with a five year review.

Now in its third century, UNC Chapel Hill was the first public university in America to open its doors, and is one of the select group of institutions forming the Association of American Universities. With more than 29,000 students, UNC Chapel Hill's academic offerings span more than 100 fields, including bachelor's, master's, doctoral, and professional degrees. The University has a renowned College of Arts and Sciences and nationally recognized schools of business, dentistry, law, education, government, information and library science, journalism and mass communication, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, public health, and social work. For further information on The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, please visit the website at: http://www.unc.edu.

For more information please visit:

http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/open-positions

Confidential inquiries, nominations and applications may be sent to the University's consultants: Dr. Jean Dowdall, Alice Miller and Jane

Courson, at UNCVCFA@wittkieffer.com. Candidates should electronically submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position and a resume, in addition to the names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses of five references. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be asked for permission before references are contacted. The consultants can be reached by phone at (630) 575-6131. Review of applications will begin May 15, 2011 and will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is Summer 2011. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: UNC Office of University Development <development@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 30, 2011 5:48 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Carolina Connections Online

Carolina Connections

Highlighting how private giving is making a difference at UNC

Vol. 3, Issue 1, Spring 2011

Read the full issue online

Hello alumni and friends of Carolina,

Here's your spring 2011 issue of Carolina Connections Online, your source for news and updates about how private giving is making a difference in the lives of Carolina's students, faculty, staff and patients as well as in local communities, across the state and around the globe.

There is something for everyone, so please take a few moments to see what's happening at Carolina thanks to your generosity and that of many others. We hope the features and stories will pique your interest and help bring you a little closer to some of the people and programs that make UNC the best place to teach, learn and discover.

Feel free to share your comments and suggestions with us as well at development@unc.edu.

Thanks for all you do to help make Carolina great.

Matthew G. Kupec '80
Vice Chancellor for University Advancement

Trouble viewing this message?

Highlights from this issue

Blackstone Entrepreneurs Network joins UNC with Triangle universities and Council for Entrepreneurial Development to help fuel regional job growth.

Carolina Covenant Scholars demonstrate their initiative and appreciation through service.

NHL All-Stars give kids at N.C. Children's Hospital a high-tech haven to help connect with family and friends, cope with fears and conquer disease.

Triple Carolina graduate Robert Selden is leading the Old North State Dental Society's effort to establish a scholarship at the UNC School of Dentistry.

This message comes from the Office of University Development at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. If you have comments or questions, email development@unc.edu, call 919.843.7023 or send correspondence to the Office of University Development – Development Communications, PO Box 309, Chapel Hill, NC 27514–0309. Unsubscribe here.

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

704273328

From: bounce-29097503-39579516@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 30, 2011 11:03 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: May 6 - Last Day for Completion of Faculty Input for Departmental Annual Report

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Completion of Faculty Input for Departmental Annual Report
Date: Friday, May 6, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is May 6, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.

If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.

*For responses from previous years – Previous system.

Your Onyen

Website: http://onyen.unc.edu

Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT

Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website:

http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations
Dean's Office, College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 3100
919.962.9275

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: JEN321@email.unc.edu.

From: mailman-bounces@stratechkenya.stratechkenya.com on behalf of sales-owner@brooklyn-virtual.com
Sent: Sunday, May 1, 2011 1:03 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: brooklyn-virtual.com mailing list memberships reminder

---

This is a reminder, sent out once a month, about your brooklyn-virtual.com mailing list memberships. It includes your subscription info and how to use it to change it or unsubscribe from a list.

You can visit the URLs to change your membership status or configuration, including unsubscribing, setting digest-style delivery or disabling delivery altogether (e.g., for a vacation), and so on.

In addition to the URL interfaces, you can also use email to make such changes. For more info, send a message to the '-request' address of the list (for example, sales-request@brooklyn-virtual.com) containing just the word 'help' in the message body, and an email message will be sent to you with instructions.

If you have questions, problems, comments, etc, send them to sales-owner@brooklyn-virtual.com. Thanks!

Passwords for jen321@email.unc.edu:

List	Password // URL
sales@brooklyn-virtual.com	icasovir

http://brooklyn-virtual.com/mailman/options/sales_brooklyn-virtual.com/jen321%40email.unc.edu

From: mailman-bounces@stratechkenya.stratechkenya.com on behalf of mm-owner@marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com
Sent: Sunday, May 1, 2011 1:09 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com mailing list memberships reminder

---

This is a reminder, sent out once a month, about your marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com mailing list memberships. It includes your subscription info and how to use it to change it or unsubscribe from a list.

You can visit the URLs to change your membership status or configuration, including unsubscribing, setting digest-style delivery or disabling delivery altogether (e.g., for a vacation), and so on.

In addition to the URL interfaces, you can also use email to make such changes. For more info, send a message to the '-request' address of the list (for example, mm-request@marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com) containing just the word 'help' in the message body, and an email message will be sent to you with instructions.

If you have questions, problems, comments, etc, send them to mm-owner@marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com. Thanks!

Passwords for jen321@email.unc.edu:

List	Password // URL
mm@marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com	egguixsu

http://marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com/mailman/options/mm_marketing.brooklyn-virtual.com/jen321%40email.unc.edu

From: International Crisis Group <notification@crisisgroup.org>
Sent: Sunday, May 1, 2011 1:26 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: CrisisWatch N°93, 1 May 2011

If this email does not display correctly, click here to view it as a webpage

CrisisWatch N°93, 1 May 2011

The situation deteriorated in Sudan (Northern) as both North and South appear to be militarising Abyei ahead of the South Kordofan elections scheduled for May. Tensions triggered militia attacks in el-Faid town leaving at least seventeen dead and over 250 houses burned. President Bashir's removal of Salah Gosh from the national security committee signalled growing divisions within the ruling party.

Fighting intensified in Sudan (South) between government and rebel militias where mid-month clashes saw more than 165 casualties over a seven-day period. Tensions increased as a 27-28 April meeting of political party leaders to review the draft constitution failed to reach consensus.

Download the full issue of CrisisWatch N°93

The five-month stand-off in Côte d'Ivoire ended as forces loyal to president-elect Alassane Ouattara arrested former president Laurent Gbagbo on 11 April. While the arrest opens up political space for Ouattara, reports of his allies carrying out reprisal attacks against the Gbagbo camp, along with the outbreak of heavy clashes among forces supporting Ouattara, illustrate the scale of the challenges ahead.

Violence sharply escalated in Syria, where over a hundred anti-government protesters were reported killed on 22 April, the worst day of bloodshed so far in the regime's violent crackdown on dissent. There are fears of further violence as the government deployed troops across the country and used tanks to lay siege to the city of Deraa where the revolts began.

In Bahrain repressive measures against pro-democracy activists continued despite the marked decline in protests following the government's crackdown in March. Amidst a wave of arrests reports emerged that prisoners had been beaten and tortured by security forces.

There was no clear prospect for an end to fighting in Libya, which this month saw NATO bombing of government forces and installations, including an airstrike on Tripoli that reportedly killed Colonel Qadaffi's youngest son and three grandchildren. Qadaffi's calls for a ceasefire and negotiations were dismissed as a disingenuous ploy by rebels as Libyan forces continued shelling rebels and urban centres. Rebels claimed over 1,000 people have been killed in the besieged city of Misrata and the UN stated that government use of cluster munitions and targeting of medical facilities could amount to war crimes.

CrisisWatch again identifies a conflict risk alert and a conflict resolution opportunity in the coming month for Yemen. Both the government and the opposition have now, in principle, agreed to sign a power-transfer deal to get the country out of the crisis. With spoilers on both sides and youth groups rejecting the plan there is still a real risk of civil war.

A further wave of unrest swept Burkina Faso in mid-April as members of the presidential guard mutinied in Ouagadougou and looting and rioting spread to at least three other cities. Shopkeepers and students also staged violent protests. In an attempt to end the unrest, President Blaise Compaoré dismissed the government and military leaders. A subsequent police mutiny in the capital 27-28 April spread to several other cities and 34 opposition parties have called for Compaoré to step down.

Tensions escalated in Uganda where at least two were killed and dozens injured during Kampala riots on 29 April triggered by the violent arrest of opposition leader Kizza Besigye for defiance over the government ban on "walk to work" protests against surging food and fuel costs.

Violence flared along the border between Thailand and Cambodia towards the end of the month, with at least fifteen soldiers killed in clashes and tens of thousands displaced on both sides.

In Bosnia the ongoing political crisis intensified, in Belarus thirteen people were killed in a suspected terrorist attack on a Minsk subway station, and in Northern Ireland a police officer was killed in a car bomb attack by dissident republicans in Omagh at the beginni ng of the month.

CrisisWatch also highlights Sri Lanka, following the 26 April release of the report of the UN panel of experts finding "credible evidence" that violations committed during the civil war by both government forces and the Tamil Tigers (LTTE) likely cost "tens of thousands" of civilian lives and may have amounted to war crimes and crimes against humanity. The panel called for an "international mechanism" to probe the allegations further.

April 2011 TRENDS

Deteriorated Situations
Bahrain, Belarus, Bosnia, Burkina Faso, Libya, Northern Ireland, Sudan (Northern), Sudan (South), Syria, Thailand, Uganda Improved Situation

-

Unchanged Situations
Afghanistan, Albania, Algeria, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Basque Country (Spain), Benin, Bolivia, Burundi, Central African Republic, Chad, Colombia, Côte d'Ivoire, Cyprus, Democratic Republic of Congo, Djibouti, Ecuador, Egypt, Ethiopia, Georgia, Guatemala, Guinea, Haiti, India (non-Kashmir), Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Israel/Occupied Palestinian Territories, Jordan, Kashmir, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Kosovo, Kyrgyzstan, Lebanon, Liberia, Macedonia, Madagascar, Mali, Mauritania, Mexico, Morocco, Myanmar/Burma, Nagorno-Karabakh (Azerbaijan), Nepal, Niger, Nigeria, North Caucasus (Russia), North Korea, Oman, Pakistan, Philippines, Rwanda, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, Somalia, Sri Lanka, Tajikistan, Timor-Leste, Tunisia, Turkey, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan, Venezuela, Western Sahara, Yemen, Zimbabwe

May 2011 OUTLOOK

Conflict Risk Alert
Syria, Yemen

Conflict Resolution Opportunity
Côte d'Ivoire, Yemen

---

*NOTE: CrisisWatch indicators - up and down arrows, conflict risk alerts, and conflict resolution opportunities - are intended to reflect changes within countries or situations from month to month, not comparisons between countries. For example, no "conflict risk alert" is given for a country where violence has been occurring and is expected to continue in the coming month: such an indicator is given only where new or significantly escalated violence is feared.

Search current and all past editions of CrisisWatch by using the CrisisWatch Database. To unsubscribe from CrisisWatch, click here.

From: ramses@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 9:34 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RAMSeS: URGENT: Authorization Request - 11-4088

Proposal No.: 11-4088
Proposal Lead PI: Geeta Kapur
Proposal Title:THE DESEGREGATION SOLDIERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

The above eIPF is being routed to you for approval because your department (African and Afro-American Studies) has been identified as an approving department. Please review the eIPF on RAMSeS and its attachments carefully, add any notes as you deem appropriate, and provide your electronic authorization so that it can be forwarded to OSR/SPO/OCT.

You also have the option of rejecting the eIPF if you notice a serious mistake in it. But doing so will require you to provide an explanatory note for your rejection and will also cause the eIPF to be returned to the administrative award department for re-routing.

From: Andrea McCarthy <amccarthy@academickeys.com>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 10:03 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: University jobs in Humanities - General, and other related areas

---

Dear Colleague,

This month's issue of AcademicKeys' e-Flier for Humanities features 13 faculty openings, 9 senior administrative positions, and 4 post-doc opportunities and links to hundreds more positions in higher education.

Issue: Humanities May. 2nd, 2011
Circulation: 26,400

This AcademicKeys e-Flier contains higher education positions in:
- Humanities - General

NEW! AcademicKeys.com e-Fliers are now available as HTML e-mails:
- http://www.AcademicKeys.com/all/eflier_prefs.php?dothis=ap&e=jen321@email.unc.edu&f=h

Do you want to receive higher education positions in other academic fields, specific locations, or job categories? Log in or create an account at AcademicKeys.com to change your e-Flier preferences:
- http://www.AcademicKeys.com/all/eflier_prefs.php

POST YOUR JOB ANNOUNCEMENT

Add your department's positions to our next e-Flier, where 94% of the top 100 institutes in the US advertise their positions:
- http://Humanities.AcademicKeys.com/client_login.php?tag=HU110502m

---

FEATURED SERVICE

Do you have a Twitter account? Follow Academic Keys on Twitter!
- http://twitter.com/academickeys

SENIOR ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS:

NEW! - Dean -- Faculty of Humanities and Social Sci. (FHSS)
United Arab Emirates University
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (FHSS)
Al Ain, Abu Dhabi
United Arab Emirates
Date Posted: Apr. 15, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=30077&o=8777&t=HU110502m-8e

---

NEW! - Director -- Centre for Cultural Diversity and Well...

Victoria University
Faculty of Arts, Education and Human Development
Melbourne, Victoria
Australia
Date Posted: Apr. 8, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=30012&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Vice-Chancellor for Engineering, Dean of the Dwight Look ...
Texas A&M University - College Station
College of Engineering
College Station, TX
Date Posted: Feb. 22, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29266&o=8777&t=HU110502m-0e

---

Director -- China Studies Centre
University of Sydney
China Studies Centre
Sydney, New South Wales
Australia
Date Posted: Feb. 18, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29231&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

Director -- Museum of Art
Brigham Young University
College of Fine Arts and Communications
Provo, UT
Date Posted: Feb. 15, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29177&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

Dean -- Nursing Programs
Education Affiliates, Inc.
Nursing Programs (Countrywide)
Flexible, 00
Date Posted: Feb. 7, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29058&o=8777&t=HU110502m-0e

---

Dean -- Faculty of Language, Literature and Performing Ar...
Douglas College
Faculty of Language, Literature and Performing Arts (LLPA)
New Westminster, BC
Canada
Date Posted: Jan. 21, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=28786&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

Chair -- Classics Department
Baylor University
Classics Department
Waco, TX
Date Posted: Jan. 11, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=28536&o=8777&t=HU110502m-8e

---

Mattheis Chair On Rangeland Ecology and Management
University of Alberta
Faculty of Agricultural, Life & Environmental Sciences
Edmonton, AB
Canada
Date Posted: Dec. 21, 2010

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=28318&o=8777&t=HU110502m-0e

---

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

NEW! - Sessional Faculty Member -- History (Latin America...
University of the Fraser Valley
History Department
Abbotsford, BC
Canada
Date Posted: Apr. 25, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=30136&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

NEW! - Online Writing Tutors
SMARTHINKING, Inc.
Writing Department
Washington, D.C.
Date Posted: Apr. 15, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=30080&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

NEW! - Faculty Member -- History
Fresno Pacific University
School of Humanities, Religion and Social Science
Fresno, CA
Date Posted: Mar. 31, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29845&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Full Professors, Assoc. Professors, Asst. Professors and ...
Prince Mohammad Bin Fahd University
Humanities and Social Sciences Division
Al Khobar, Eastern
Saudi Arabia
Date Posted: Mar. 14, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29566&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Henry G. Fairbanks Visiting Humanities Scholar-in-Residence
Saint Michael's College
Humanities Program
Colchester, VT
Date Posted: Mar. 10, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29539&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Visiting Faculty Positions -- College of Innovative Learning
University of Toledo
College of Innovative Learning
Toledo, OH
Date Posted: Mar. 10, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29499&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Assistant Professor -- Philosophy
Texas A&M University, Kingsville
Department of History
Kingsville, TX
Date Posted: Feb. 22, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29288&o=8777&t=HU110502m-8e

---

AP Professors/Teachers Needed To Read/Score AP Exams
The College Board
Various Disciplines
Ewing, NJ
Date Posted: Feb. 10, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29098&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

Visiting Assistant Professor
Wellesley College
Classical Studies
Wellesley, MA
Date Posted: Feb. 4, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29037&o=8777&t=HU110502m-8e

---

Cluster Hire -- Urban Sustainability/Climate Science
Northeastern University
Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering
Boston, MA
Date Posted: Jan. 26, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=28850&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

Faculty Positions (Assistant, Assoc. and/Or Full Prof. Le...
Nanyang Technological University
School of Humanities and Social Sciences
Singapore
Singapore
Date Posted: Nov. 10, 2010

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=27524&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

2 Faculty Positions (Lecturer and Asst. Professor) -- Eng...
Nanyang Technological University
School of Humanities and Social Sciences -- Div. of Chinese Singapore
Singapore
Date Posted: Nov. 4, 2010

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=27400&o=8777&t=HU110502m-8e

---

Faculty Positions -- College of Arts and Sciences
The Ohio State University
College of Arts and Sciences
Columbus, OH
Date Posted: Nov. 2, 2010

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=27370&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

POST-DOCTORAL POSITIONS

---

2 Postdoctoral Research Fellows -- Early Modern English L...
University of Queensland
ARC Centre of Excellence for the History of Emotions
Brisbane, Queensland
Australia
Date Posted: Mar. 24, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29733&o=8777&t=HU110502m-4e

---

Postdoctoral Research Fellow
University of Sydney
Faculty of Arts and Social Sci. -- School of Letters, Ar...
Sydney, New South Wales
Australia
Date Posted: Mar. 18, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29648&o=8777&t=HU110502m-2e

---

Postdoctoral Research Associate
University of Sydney
Faculty of Arts and Social Sci. -- School of Letters, Ar...
Sydney, New South Wales
Australia
Date Posted: Mar. 18, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29647&o=8777&t=HU110502m-2e

---

Postdoctoral Teaching Fellowship (Visiting Asst. Prof. Le...
Carthage College
Div. of Interdisciplinary Studies -- Western Heritage Pro...
Kenosha, WI
Date Posted: Mar. 2, 2011

http://www.AcademicKeys.com/r?job=29390&o=8777&t=HU110502m-6e

---

To view more academic jobs, visit: http://www.AcademicKeys.com/

Change your email/subscribe directly:

Do you need to update your email information with us? Proceed to the following page:

http://www.academickeys.com/all/user_change_email.php

Did you receive this e-Flier from a colleague and would like to continue to receive this or other e-Fliers from Academic Keys? Please proceed to the following page:

http://www.academickeys.com/all/subscribe.php

UNSUBSCRIBE:

This e-Flier was sent to the e-mail address:

jen321@email.unc.edu

If you would like to unsubscribe from further e-Fliers and other correspondence from AcademicKeys.com, you must proceed to the following web page:

http://AcademicKeys.com/all/unsubscribe.php

Copy EXACTLY the e-mail address shown above into the form on that page and submit the form. Your request to unsubscribe will be processed within 24 hours.

We assure you that we make every attempt to honor requests to unsubscribe. Thank you for your patience! If you have any further comments or suggestions, please send an email to EmailUs@AcademicKeys.com

Sincerely,

Andrea McCarthy
amccarthy@academickeys.com
Academic Keys, LLC
1066 Storrs Road, Suite D
Storrs, CT 06268
USA

From: Rutgers University Press <bhammack@rutgerspress.rutgers.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 10:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Rutgers University Press Special Anniversary Promotion

Rutgers University Press

75TH ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL

Rutgers University Press is celebrating its founding in 1936 with a special online offer for our customers. Take 36% off the list price on all books you order from our website through June 25, 2011 (simply enter discount code 02ANNV11 in the shopping cart). In addition, for orders totaling over $75.00 after discounts, choose a free book from a selected list of titles. As always, enjoy free shipping on all orders from our website. This offer may not be combined with ANY other offers or discounts. Limited to titles in stock (no back orders). Please visit our website homepage for more details.

After June 25th you may continue to take advantage of a 20% discount offer on the titles we are featuring in this email.

To receive additional news and offers on other Rutgers University Press titles via email, please sign up now.

AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES AND RELATED TITLES

Announcing Two New Titles. Order Now at a 36% Discount. And Free Shipping!

A Complete Listing of African American Studies titles from Rutgers University Press.

First Paperback Edition

Integrating the Gridiron

Black Civil Rights and American College Football

Lane Demas

"This book contributes significantly to the fields of sports history, African American history, U.S. history, and civil rights history and provides a fresh look at the integration of college athletics from several different regions of the United States. This interregional focus illustrates the complex and multifaceted ways in which integration—primarily in college athletics—occurred in the post—World War II era. It also reveals much about the broader forces that shaped the push to dismantle barriers topolitical, economic, and social equality."

—Michael E. Lomax, University of Iowa, Department of Health and Sports Studies, Associate Professor of Sports History

Paper ISBN 978-0-8135-4997-2 ~~$25.95~~ $16.61

194 pages 10 photographs

More information on this title and TO ORDER

To order this title and receive your 36% discount and free shipping, enter discount code 02ANNV11 in the shopping cart.

First Paperback Edition

Blacks, Reds, and Russians

Sojourners in Search of the Soviet Promise

Joy Gleason Carew

"Blacks, Reds, and Russians is a well-organized and researched work that any person wishing to broaden their understanding of the varied means and methods African Americans implemented to combat racism and inequality should read with care."

—The Griot: The Journal of African American Studies

Paper ISBN 978-0-8135-4985-9 ~~$28.95~~ $18.53

296 pages 1 figure

More information on this title and TO ORDER

To order this title and receive your 36% discount and free shipping, enter discount code 02ANNV11 in the shopping cart.

To receive additional news and offers on other Rutgers University Press titles via email, please sign up now.

Interested in other African American Studies titles from Rutgers University Press?

Rutgers University Press
100 Joyce Kilmer Avenue
Piscataway, NJ 08854-8099

This is a commercial message.

If you would prefer not to receive further messages from this sender, please click on the following e-mail link and send a message with or without any text:

Click here for e-mail

You will receive one additional e-mail message confirming your removal.

From: Echo360, Inc. <noreply@marketing.echo360.com>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 11:08 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: What do these Deans know that you don't? LAST DAY TO REGISTER

If you have trouble displaying this email, view it as a web page.

From the Dean's Desk:
A CANDID DISCUSSION ABOUT LECTURE CAPTURE'S ROLE IN BLENDED LEARNING
A webinar event not to be missed.

echo Tuesday, May 3, 2011
3 PM - 4 PM EDT

Lecture capture has moved beyond the IT department and to the attention of the Office of the Dean. Join us for a panel-style discussion with three Deans who have witnessed the impact of lecture capture on their academic programs.

Hear how Deans are:

- Introducing technology into a blended learning strategy
- Helping faculty adapt to lecture capture as it is integrated into the curriculum
- Measuring learning outcomes and student adoption
- Driving their programs to be more competitive

Join us for this unprecedented event, and get a look into the mind of today's innovative Dean.

When: Tuesday, May 3rd, 3 PM – 4 PM EDT

Who Should Attend: Deans, Assistant Deans, Other Administrators, Department Chairs and Faculty, and Technologists with all levels of lecture capture know-how

This webinar is sponsored by Echo360 and hosted by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

Register today!

Follow the live event tweet at #deanweb

Panelists:

Nancy F. Langston, RN, PhD, FAAN
Dean and Professor, Virginia Commonwealth University, School of Nursing

C. Darrell Jennings, MD

Vice Chair for Education and Professor in the Department of Pathology and Senior Associate Dean, Education, University of Kentucky, College of Medicine

Ed Pittarelli
Dean of the School of Virtual Studies, Bergen Community College

Moderator:

Alan Greenberg
Senior Analyst & Partner, Wainhouse Research

Follow us on

© 2011 Echo360. All rights reserved. Echo360® and the Echo360 logo are registered trademarks of Echo360, Inc.
All other trademarks are property of their respective owners. | Call us: 877.ECHO360

To manage your subscriptions, click here.

From: SPH Office of Global Health <ogh@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 12:37 PM
To: TWIGH <thisweekinglobalhealth@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [thisweekinglobalhealth] TWIGH: May 2-8, 2011

This Week In Global Health

UNC
GILLINGS SCHOOL OF GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH

UNC-ChildFund Healthy and Secure 0-2 year-old project in the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health. Site visit to ChildFund Senegal, pregnant women's circle in Thies, early childhood development center in Baol, UNC team in Senegal, skills training center in Baol.

May 2-8, 2011

This Week in Global Health is a weekly, web-based newsletter published by the Office of Global Health (OGH) in the Gillings School of Global Public Health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The information below is a partial listing of the week's newsletter.
Please visit our website to view this week's FULL newsletter.

Table of Contents

- Events
- Announcements
- Undergraduate Highlights
- Conferences
- Faculty Feature
- Funding Opportunities
- Jobs and Internships

Weekly Feature

UNC Injury Prevention Research Center Seminar: Sexual Trauma in the Lives of Childbearing Women

Wednesday, May 4
4:00-5:00pm

Room 228, Rosenau Hall,

Events on Campus and in the Community

View all events this week and more information

Monday, May 2
Colloquium on public health and behavioral medicine, 3:00-4:30pm, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina Foundation Auditorium, Michael Hooker Research Center, Gillings School of Global Public Health, UNC.

Tuesday, May 3
Global Connections: International Coffee Hour, 5:00-6:00pm, Conference Room 4003, FedEx Global Education Center, UNC.

Global Cardiovascular Health: Experiences and Opportunities, Gerald Bloomfield, MD, MPH; Eric Velazquez, MD, 5:00-6:00pm, Room 2002, Duke North, Duke University.

UNC's Emerging Company Showcase 2011, 6:00-8:30pm, The William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education.

Wednesday, May 4

Gillings School of Global Public Health	Family Impact Seminar: Preventing Childhood Obesity: Policy and Practice Strategies for North Carolina, 10:00-1:15pm, North Carolina Legislative Auditorium, 16 West Jones Street, Raleigh, NC. Webcast: Moscow Ministerial Conference on Healthy Lifestyles and NCDs - Outcomes and Next Steps, 3:30-5:00pm. UNC Injury Prevention Research Center Seminar: Sexual Trauma in the Lives of Childbearing Women, Kathleen Kendall-Tackett, PhD, IBCLC, FAPA, Clinical Associate Professor of Pediatrics, Texas Tech University School of Medicine, 4:00-5:00pm, Room 228, Rosenau Hall, Gillings School of Global Public Health, UNC. Wednesday, May 11 Sixth Annual Chapel Hill Drug Conference: Comparative Effectiveness Research- Methods and Applications, May 11-12, 2011.
Undergraduate Highlights View all highlights this week Center for Global Initiatives on Facebook and Twitter. NEW The Triangle Global Health Consortium Internship Network. The TGHC is looking for undergraduate students who are interning with TGHC member organizations who wish to enrich their upcoming summer internship experience through the TGHC Internship Network Program. Undergraduate Public Health Learning Outcomes: Development Project. ASPH, working in partnership with the Association of American Colleges and Universities, Association for Prevention Teaching and Research, and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, developed a draft model of undergraduate public health learning outcomes.	Announcements View all announcements this week and more information NEW Gates Foundation Announced Grand Challenges Explorations Round 6 Grant Awards The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation today announced 88 grants to explore bold and largely unproven ways to improve global health. The grants of US$100,000 each will be made to researchers from 25 countries. This marks the sixth round of funding from Grand Challenges Explorations, an initiative to help lower the barriers for testing innovative ideas in global health. Projects selected for funding focused on polio eradication and vaccines, cell-phone applications for global health, new approaches to cure HIV, sanitation technologies, and new ideas to improve the health of mothers and newborns. The foundation is currently accepting proposals for Round 7 of Grand Challenges Explorations until May 19, 2011. NEW The Triangle Global Health Consortium Internship Network. The Triangle Global Health Consortium (TGHC) is looking for students who are interning with TGHC member organizations who wish to enrich their upcoming summer internship experience. The TGHC Internship Network will bring together RTP-based interns from across member organizations to create a cohort community to like-minded global health students, both undergraduate and graduate. The participating interns will form a network to exchange ideas and engage in supplemental learning opportunities. Application Deadline: May 9, 2011. Extended Abstract Deadline for 2011 Water and Health Conference, October 3-7, 2011 in Chapel Hill, NC. Many partners have expressed strong interest in convening workshops. Several organizations have requested an extension of the deadline to enable their networks to make submissions. The abstract submission deadline will be extended to May 16, 2011 to provide time for participants to submit work for presentation at the conference. Call for Friday Conference Speakers for 2011-2012. If you have projects you are excited about sharing with the ID/CFAR community, or know someone who would be good to hear, please contact Charlie Van Der Horst to compile a great slate of speakers for 2011-2012. Sign up to receive event notifications from the local chapter of the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association! To sign up to receive the announcements about the local chapter's HBA events, please go to the HBA website at www.hbanet.org and then click on the link in the upper right hand corner that says "Register for your free account".

Traveling this Summer? Review the UNC Travel Policy. All UNC public health students or students sponsored by a UNC public health program and planning to travel to other countries to fulfill academic requirements, travel with funding from a UNC group, or as part of a UNC student group project, must follow specific instructions. Visit the Office of Student Affairs, 263 Rosenau Hall for more information.

Conferences

View all conferences this week

6th Annual Chapel Hill Drug Conference. May 11-12, 2011. UNC Eshelman School of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill, NC.

Clinical Trial Forum: Thailand 2011. May 19-20, 2011. Dusit Thani Hotel, Bangkok, Thailand.

Institute for International Medicine: Exploring Medical Missions Conference, May 20-21, 2011. Kansas City, MO.

NEW 7th International Workshop on HIV and Hepatitis Co-Infection, June 1-3, 2011. Milan, Italy.

Research Advances in Malaria: Resistance to Existing Drugs and New Drug Development, June 2-3, 2011. Tres Cantos, Spain.

2011 In Vitro Biology Meeting. June 4-8, 2011. Raleigh, NC.

International Medicine Intensive Course. June 6-17, 2011. University of Missouri at Kansas City.

International Public Health Intensive Course. June 13-17, 2011. University of Missouri at Kansas City.

38th Annual International Conference in Global Health: Securing a Healthier Future in a Changing World, June 13-17, 2011. Omni Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D.C.

NEW 6th International Workshop on Clinical Pharmacology of Hepatitis Therapy, June 22-23, 2011. Boston, MA.

American Public Health Association Mid-Year Meeting: Implementing

Faculty Feature

Read the full story this week

School innovators selected for inaugural 'Innovation + Inspiration' awards

UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health has announced recipients of the inaugural Innovation + Inspiration Awards for faculty and staff members. Awardees are Ralph S. Baric, PhD, professor of epidemiology; Suzanne Havala Hobbs, DrPH, clinical associate professor of health policy and management and nutrition; and Glenn Walters, PhD, director of the ESE Design Center in the Department of Environmental Sciences and Engineering.

The criterion for selection is innovation - the production of ideas, programs, products or methods that have transformed disciplines and accelerated solutions for important public health problems.

Baric, recipient of the faculty research award, was among the first to employ synthetic biology to address problems in virology. He currently builds vaccines against common human respiratory viruses that cause high morbidity and mortality in the developing world. His lab was the first to demonstrate that noroviruses, which are responsible for 90 percent of epidemic nonbacterial outbreaks of gastroenteritis worldwide, evolve rapidly, resulting in new strains that emerge every two to three years. The discovery opened the door for norovirus vaccine development. One nominator said Baric's "professionalism and collaborative nature have allowed him to excel at building a productive laboratory. He is supportive, selfless, humble and generous with ideas and reagents. [This has] allowed him to build professional relationships with a diverse group of students, postdoctoral fellows and collaborators, and as a result, he has been extraordinarily productive."

Hobbs, who joined the UNC health policy and management faculty in 2002 as an adjunct assistant professor, was recognized for her innovations in teaching. She initiated the establishment of a consortium of schools committed to developing executive doctoral programs and helped extend the model as the world's first distance Doctor of Public Health (DrPH) program to use Internet video for real-time classes. Hobbs, who has directed the program since 2006, globalized it by piloting the inclusion of international students and addressing the need for interdisciplinary leadership development within the senior public health workforce. More than a dozen schools now participate in the consortium, including London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, University of Toronto, the French national school of public health and the Norwegian School of Management. Her award cites her "vision, perseverance and success in advancing health leadership education and capacity."

Walters received the staff Innovation + Inspiration Award for his Health Reform - A Public Health Approach, June 23-25, 2011. Chicago, Illinois.

International Society for STD Research: From Research to Intervention - Successes and Challenges, July 10-13, 2011. Quebec City, Quebec.

simple and elegant equipment designs. "He has the uncanny ability," one nominator said, "to evaluate the efficacy of a concept presented verbally or by way of [a rough sketch] ... and to modify existing instrumentation or sampling equipment to meet the intended use." One researcher praised him as "the most deserving unsung hero I have ever met." One of Walters' recent successes was the design of equipment for a mobile laboratory to remove nitrogen from hog waste. The project was part of a Gillings Innovation Laboratory led by Mike Aitken, PhD, professor and chair of environmental sciences and engineering. Read more about Aitken's Innovation Lab in Carolina Public Health magazine.

Funding Opportunities

View all funding this week

Opening a New Door for Unfunded Research Projects. The National Health Council(NHC) in conjunction with the National Institutes of Health (NIH) has developed a pathway to bring researchers with peer-reviewed, worthwhile, unfunded projects together with funding sources.

Elderhostel K. Patricia Cross Doctoral Research Grant. Deadline: May 2, 2011.

NIH Research Opportunities in Obstetric Fistula (R01). Letter of Intent Deadline: May 5, 2011.

NIAID Clinical Trial Planning Grant (R34). Deadline: May 13, 2011.

NIAID Clinical Trial Planning Grant (R34). Deadline: May 13, 2011.

NIAD Clinical Trial Implementation Cooperative Agreement (U01). Deadline: May 13, 2011.

NIH Research Opportunities in Obstetric Fistula (R21) (R03). Letter of Intent Deadline: May 16, 2011.

UNC 2011 Future Faculty Fellowship Program. Deadline: May 16, 2011.

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation - Assuring the Future of Public Health Systems and Services Research: Dissertation Grant Program. Deadline: June 1, 2011.

NIH/PEPFAR Collaboration for Implementation Science and Impact Evaluation (R01). Letter of Intent Deadline: June 7, 2011.

Collaborative HIV/AIDS Studies in the Middle East and North Africa (R21). Deadline: June 16, 2011.

Jobs and Internships

View all jobs and internships this week and application information

University of Bamako/Harvard
NEW Data Manager/Research Programmer.

Jhpiego
NEW Senior Program Officer- Kenya. Baltimore, MD.

University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill
NEW Officer Manager- APPLES Service-Learning Program. Chapel Hill, NC.

Post Doctoral Investigator - UNC Water Institute. Chapel Hill, NC.

Research Assistant - LinCS 2 Durham. Chapel Hill, NC.

University Research Co., LLC
NEW Senior Technical Advisor for Malaria and Other Infectious Diseases. Bethesda, MD.

USAID
NEW Senior Program Advisor - Bureau of Global Health. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 9, 2011.

Scale-up and Implementation Research Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 9, 2011.

IntraHealth International
NEW Monitoring, Evaluation, and Research Advisor. Washington, D.C.

Workforce Development Team Lead. Washington, D.C.

Senior Monitoring and Evaluation Advisor.Washington, DC.

NEW USAID/Global Health Fellows
Senior HIV/AIDS Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 30, 2011.

Saving Lives at Birth Program Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 30, 2011.

Senior Regional HIV/AIDS Technical Advisor. Almaty, Kazakhstan. Deadline: May, 2, 2011.

Senior Pediatric HIV/PMTCT Technical Advisor. Washington, D.C. Deadline: May 16, 2011.

NIH Limited Competition: International Research in Infectious Disease, including AIDS (R01).June 23, 2011. Deadline:

- -- You are currently subscribed to thisweekinglobalhealth as: jen321@email.unc.edu . To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29103205-7749547.fff91508b19c9dca098793d7c37e8541@listserv.unc.edu

From: NCBS <info@ncbsonline.org>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 1:12 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: NCBS 36th Annual Conference - ATLANTA, GA

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

36th Annual Conference

DATE:
March 7-10, 2012
LOCATION:
ATLANTA, GA
Sheraton Atlanta Hotel
165 Courtland St. NE
Atlanta, GA 30303

For more information:
www.ncbsonline.org

We are excited to announce our 36th Annual conference in the great city of Atlanta, GA. As we celebrate our 36th conference, we invite you to share this moment with us and create new memories. Please stay up to date on all conference information on our website and email list serve.
We hope you're as excited as we are!

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES
National Council for Black Studies
Atlanta, Georgia 30303
404-413-5131

Forward to a colleague

SafeUnsubscribe

Trusted Email from Constant Contact
Try it FREE today.

This email was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu by info@ncbsonline.org |
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES | National Council for Black Stu | P.O. Box 4109 | Atlanta | GA | 30303

From: Brad Hemminger <bmh@ils.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 3:30 PM
To: Mailing list for UNC-CH Scholarly Communication Working Group <schol-com@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [schol-com] Special Campus Presentation: Jan Reichelt, Founder of Mendeley--Connecting scholars with information

---

Please join us this Friday for this special presentation, co-hosted by multiple groups on campus, including SILS. Don't miss the free lunch and workshop afterwards!

-Brad

Connecting scholars with information-and unlocking it!

Speaker: Jan Reichelt

Co-Founder and president of Mendeley,
the world's largest research collaboration platform

Hosted by
UNC ASIST Student Chapter
School of Information and Library Science (SILS)
National Evolutionary Synthesis Center (NESCent)
UNC Scholarly Communications Working Group (SCWG)
Center for Genome Sciences (CCGS)
Center for Research and Development of Digital Libraries (CRADLE)

Where: Pleasants Family Room, Wilson Library
When: 12:00 noon – 1:00 pm, Friday, May 6, 2011

Don't miss these events following the presentation:

Reception: Immediately following the talk there will be a free lunch reception in the lobby of the Wilson Library (beginning at 1pm).

Workshop: From 2-3:30pm, in Manning Hall room 307, there will be a hands on workshop (beginners and experts welcome) to learn more about how to best use Mendeley. (Manning Hall is a two minute walk from Wilson Library).

Abstract: The "social web" has become the nexus of collaboration and discovery, but how supportive are the existing tools at building bridges that lead to scientific discovery? Mendeley co-founder, Jan Reichelt, will demonstrate how Mendeley is connecting scholars, helping them discover new scholarly works and unlocking knowledge.

While recommendation system research is studied in disciplines like cinematography, it often lacks the rigorous, scientific data sets that Mendeley has amassed. Mendeley's communities of users have populated its database with information that is of great interest and utility as it supports researcher's efforts to work more efficiently. One key area in which researchers are helped is by providing them with recommendations for research articles that they have not yet encountered but would be interested in. Mendeley has undertaken the DataTEL challenge in order to provide recommendation system researchers with valuable data on users and their relationship with scientific literature. This is particularly helpful to bring otherwise inaccessible expertise to researchers who are from first world non-elite institutions and developing countries. It should be noted that all of Mendeley's data sets are made anonymous to protect user privacy and can only be used for non- commercial scientific purposes. Mendeley (www.mendeley.com) is the world's largest research collaboration platform, with more than 850,000 researchers and academics and more than 80 million research papers indexed in Mendeley's public web catalog.

Biographical Note: Jan is the Co-Founder and President of Mendeley, the world's largest research collaboration platform.

Jan is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Information Management at the University of Cologne, where he also was a lecturer in Electronic Business and Information Management, and spent some time as a visiting researcher at the Indian Institute of Management in Bangalore. Jan also graduated with an MBA with a focus on Electronic Business, Accounting, and Entrepreneurship, having studied at the WHU, the LUISS Rome, and the University of Bath's School of Management. For several years throughout his Ph.D. studies he served as an advisor to a member of SAP's supervisory board.

 -- You are currently subscribed to schol-com as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29104283-308329.b016d46c1abb2e89b12f6c719cdc87c2@listserv.unc.edu

RESEARCH PROJECT: THE DESEGREGATION SOLDIERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

It was a warm day on the campus of the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill on September 16, 1955, as summer turned to autumn and the leaves on the trees began to display magnificent hues of red and orange. On the second floor of South Building the administration handled the affairs of the University as usual but on the first floor the history of higher education in America was changed forever. That great day three young black men from Durham's Hillside High School were finally admitted to the University by a Federal District Court's order. Their admission was the result of a legal battle against the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

John Brandon and brothers LeRoy Frasier, Jr. and Ralph Frasier applied for admission to the undergraduate school of UNC-Chapel Hill on April 19, 1955. On April 27, 1955, they all received identical letters denying them admission from the Director of Admissions because African Americans were not eligible to apply for admission to the undergraduate school. After receiving the denial, the three young men petitioned the University to reverse its policy of discrimination against African Americans. In response on May 23, 1955, the Board of Trustees passed a resolution that applications from African American students would not be accepted to the three branches of the Consolidated University. This resolution was passed after the monumental ruling of the United States Supreme Court ruling in Brown v. Board of Education in 1954 that held that separate educational facilities were inherently unequal and unconstitutional.

The three young men filed a lawsuit in Federal Court as plaintiffs on behalf of all African American citizens of North Carolina against the Board of Trustees. The Federal District Court ruled that the University Resolution by the Board of Trustees was unconstitutional and that the pronouncement in Brown v. Board of Education "applied with greater force to students of mature age in the concluding years of their formal education as they are about to engage in the serious business of adult life." The unanimous opinion issued on September 16, 1955 by the Federal District Court in Greensboro, NC ordered that the University of North Carolina was prohibited from denying admission to black applicants solely because of their race or color if they were qualified for admission.

The three young men were admitted that day and the Board of Trustees appealed the federal court's decision to the United States Supreme Court. On appeal, the three young men were represented by renowned civil rights attorneys Thurgood Marshall and Robert L. Carter, who had both served as legal counsel in Brown v. Board of Education. In a one line opinion, the United States Supreme Court affirmed the lower federal court's ruling on March 5, 1956. The policy of segregation in the nation's public universities and colleges was struck down by this case.

RESEARCH PROJECT DESCRIPTION AND OUTCOMES

This case ended segregation at public universities and colleges throughout the nation yet very few people know about this significant part of African American history. I discovered a picture of these three young men on display in the Wilson Library in January of 2010 and realized that although I spent seven years at the University completing my undergraduate and legal studies, I did not know this history. I had taken for granted that we had always been admitted to the University. It is now my mission to ensure that these men are honored for their courageous sacrifice and that their story is researched and memorialized in a book.

September 16, 2010 marked the 55th year anniversary of the desegregation at UNC-Chapel Hill and the three men were finally honored by the University in a series of events over the course of two days. However, as I planned the events I tailored them largely to the University community. The legacy of their story cannot end with that event.

It is time for the larger community of Chapel Hill, the entire state of North Carolina and the nation to know the impact these three young men made on the Civil Rights Movement before Martin Luther King, Jr. led the boycott in Alabama and long before Rosa Parks refused to get up. The Civil Rights Movement began in Chapel Hill in 1955 with the act of these three young men. As they walked on campus that day in 1955, they carried the entire African American race with them.

Therefore, I am humbly requesting funding in the amount of $10,000 from Strowd Rose Foundation to conduct extensive research that will document this history. The research will culminate in the following outcomes:

1. The writing of a historical, legal, and social analytical book provisionally titled "The Desegregation Soldiers of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill"; and

2. Educational Workshops provisionally titled "They Broke the Steel Door" that will be taught during Black History Month in the public schools of Chapel Hill and Durham led by university students.

BUDGET AND BUDGET JUSTIFICATION

Overhead Costs (Required for all University grants; 10 percent of the grant) $1,000

Personnel Costs

1. Principal Investigator Salary (no salary or stipend is provided by the African American Studies Department for Adjunct Faculty due to severe budgetary cuts and constraints) $0[1]

2. Research Assistant $2,000

   Justification: A full-time principal investigator must be devoted to this monumental research project for a period of one year. The principal investigator will have to expeditiously interview several relevant parties to this subject matter and obtain, review and synthesize archival materials as well as legal documents from the Federal Court and the United States Supreme Court. A Research Assistant will be instrumental in obtaining and reviewing archival records.

Copying and Production Costs

1. Estimated Copying costs $3,000+

   Justification: The principal investigator anticipates that there will be significant copying costs of obtaining transcripts from the court hearings as well as the legal filings and for obtaining archival video footage.
2. Education Workshop Training for UNC students $2,000
3. Printed Materials for Education Workshops in public schools $2,000

Travel Expenses by Location (not requested from Strowd Foundation)

1. New York City NAACP Legal Defense Headquarters
   Interview Mr. Leroy Frasier who lives in Brooklyn, NY
2. Jacksonville, Florida – Interview Mr. Ralph Frasier
3. Houston, Texas – Interview Mr. John Brandon
4. Chapel Hill, NC - Interview Mr. William Friday
5. Greensboro, NC – Federal Courthouse

TOTAL GRANT REQUESTED $10,000

OTHER POTENTIAL SOURCES OF FUNDING AND SUPPORT

1. University Research Council has made a grant of $5,000 to the Department of African American Studies for this project
2. Z Smith Reynolds Social Justice Grant
3. North Carolina Council on Humanities
4. Ford Foundation

[1] I am not requesting salaries or a stipend to conduct this project from Strowd Rose Foundation. I will apply for this funding from another source such as Z Smith Reynolds, the North Carolina Council on Humanities.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTERS

1. Mr. Alan McSurely, Civil Rights Attorney and Executive Member of NC NAACP
2. Dr. Gena Rae McNeil, Tenured Professor in the Department of History and Historian of Charles Hamilton Houston

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Update on transition from Blackboard to Sakai

---

In late February, the decision to move from Blackboard to Sakai by December 2012 was formally announced to campus by myself, Provost Bruce Carney, and Chair of the Faculty McKay Coble.

Since then, Information Technology Services (ITS) in collaboration with campus IT support staff have laid a strong foundation for a smooth transition.

One of our first initiatives was to survey faculty about their preferred personal migration timeline and the type of Sakai assistance desired.The response was impressive with 1094 faculty and instructors providing feedback. Results indicated that 43 percent of respondents preferred to start using Sakai for Fall 2011, and half reported wanting to learn Sakai on their own using the available resources. For additional information about the survey results, please see http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/faculty/results/ .

Two public informational meetings took place in April and two more are scheduled on May 11 and May 24. For more details, visit http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/migration/public-info-sessions/. Please encourage your faculty, staff and students to attend any of these meetings if they would like to learn more about Sakai and the transition process. In addition, several school-specific meetings have taken place. Please feel free to contact Kim Eke (kim_eke@unc.edu) in ITS/Teaching and Learning if you would like to schedule an informational meeting or hands-on workshop for your individual unit, department or school. We will continue to reach out to campus on a regular basis.

In June, the faculty cohort moving to Sakai for Fall 2011 will be identified. Over the summer, ITS and IT support staff will migrate the identified faculty courses for those instructors who requested help.

A new feature beginning later this fall, will allow all faculty to create their own course sites and not have to request them as previously required in Sakai. More information about that process will be made available in the next few months.

ITS has been working directly with individual unit, department and school IT support staff. Their cooperation and collaborative spirit has been outstanding and I would like to publicly recognize their efforts.Their assistance is critical to our success.

If you have any questions or concerns about the transition to Sakai, please contact Kim Eke at 445-9472 or kim_eke@unc.edu.

Larry Conrad
Vice Chancellor for Information Technology and Chief Information Officer

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Fitting in Fitness

You know fitness is important for your health and well-being, but finding time to exercise can be difficult. How can you find time for fitness? The key is to be flexible and make fitness a way of life. Remember all physical activity, not just formal exercise programs, can add up to a healthier you! If you are looking for ways to get back to a healthy, active lifestyle UNC Campus Recreation offers many ways for you to be active.

Visit the following website for more information:
www.campusrec.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Give a Hair Sample for Research if You have Jaw or Facial Pain

---

The Center for Neurosensory Disorders is currently recruiting for several studies. We are looking for men and women ages 18 to 60 years whose scalp hair is at least one and a half inches long.

Are you willing to have a few strands of hair cut from close to your scalp?
Are you willing to be screened for pain conditions in the region of your face, jaw, and ear?
Are you willing to complete several questionnaires?

We are recruiting people with pain in the facial area.
Please contact us if you are interesting in learning more about our studies and would like to participate in a screening session (Biomedical IRB#09-1485). Last approval 08/25/2010.

You should NOT participate if you are pregnant or if you have used either of the following in the last three months: hair color or glucocorticoids (including cortisol-containing creams and lotions. You should also NOT participate if you have any of the following conditions: diabetes, drug or alcohol abuse, heart trouble or disease, hypertension (high blood pressure) that is not well controlled with medication, hyperthyroidism, major psychiatric disorder requiring hospitalization within the last 6 months, chronic respiratory disease not controlled with medication, renal failure or dialysis, seizures, or if you are currently receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

$25 compensation will be provided for participating in a one visit screening session lasting less than one hour.
For more information, please call 966-1060.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of john_gorsuch@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 8:49 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: New Print Stop and Copy Center

UNC Student Stores is pleased to announce the opening of the Print Stop & Copy Center on May 2nd.

It is conveniently located at the center of campus on the third floor of Student Stores. The Print Stop offers printing and copying services for students, faculty, staff, and departments.

Services include: Black & White Copies, Color Copies, Digital Printing, Lamination, Posters & Banners, Binding, and FAX Services.

The Print Stop accepts all forms of payment: Cash, Check, VISA, MasterCard, American Express, UNC OneCard, and Departmental Accounts.

We are ready to assist you with your special project.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Student Stores

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 9:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Blood Drive June 7

FROM: Carolina Blood Drive Committee

Every two seconds, someone in the U.S. needs blood. In fact, more than 38,000 blood donations are needed every day. Those facts underscore the importance of the 23rd annual Carolina Blood Drive on Tuesday, June 7, from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Dean E. Smith Center.

Door prizes given randomly during the day will include UNC football and basketball tickets. After giving, donors may choose from pizza, cookies, sandwiches and more, and will receive commemorative 23rd anniversary T-shirts donated by UNC Student Stores and the American Red Cross. Presenting donors are automatically registered to win one of two pairs of round-trip Delta Air Lines tickets sponsored by the Carolinas Region of the American Red Cross.

Please take time out to help patients who so desperately need you. Time spent donating is considered work time with permission from a supervisor.

For details, the on-line registration form, donor eligibility, transportation plans and information on donating double red cells, visit www.unc.edu/blood or dial 96-BLOOD (962-5663).

Traditionally, blood donations drop in the summer due to vacations and school breaks. And hereabouts, habitual UNC student donors are away. Unfortunately, the need for blood often increases at the same time because of travel-related injuries.

By participating in the Carolina Blood Drive, you will not only represent the University's concern for local hospital patients, but also you will help save the life of someone in need.

Carolina Blood Drive Committee

This email is sponsored by Human Resources-Benefit Services, Student Stores, Athletics, Printing Services, the American Red Cross and a committee from across campus.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: International Crisis Group <notification@crisisgroup.org>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 6:18 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Syria: Quickly Going beyond the Point of No Return

To view this email as a webpage, click here

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW MEDIA RELEASE

Syria: Quickly Going beyond the Point of No Return

Brussels, 3 May 2011: The situation in Syria is quickly going beyond the point of no return. By denouncing all forms of protest as sedition, and dealing with them through escalating violence, the regime is closing the door on any possible honourable exit to a deepening national crisis. With little the international community can do, the optimal outcome is one whose chances are dwindling by the day: an immediate end to the violence and a genuine national dialogue to pave the way for a transition to a representative, democratic political order.

Over the past several weeks, a number of Syrians have taken to the streets chiefly to express frustration over their worsening economic predicament, outrage at the brutality and unaccountability of the security forces, and solidarity with parts of the country that have witnessed the fiercest forms of repression.

For a time, the regime acknowledged the existence of legitimate grievances. But it has now reverted to its initial characterisation of the protests as a global conspiracy, lumping together the U.S., Israel, Syria's Arab enemies in Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Qatar in particular, former regime officials and home-grown fundamentalists. Official media tell a tale in which the security apparatus features as sole victim, persecuted by armed groups, innocent of any misdeed and striving to uphold national unity. The regime blames all casualties on its foes -- agents provocateurs and, more recently, jihadis. Gruesome pictures of dead (and sometimes mutilated) bodies of security officials lie at the core of this narrative. The regime once paid tr ibute to civilian casualties as well. Ominously, no more.

Although one cannot exclude possible foreign involvement in the ongoing crisis, credible evidence points to abundant instances of excessive and indiscriminate state violence, including arbitrary arrests, torture and firing into peaceful crowds. At its core, this is a spontaneous, peaceful, popular uprising, fuelled far more by the regime's own actions than by any putative outside interference. There are plausible reports of security forces being ambushed by unidentified armed groups, as well as of protesters firing back when attacked. But for those on the ground, there can be no doubt that the vast majority of casualties are the result of regime brutality. The regime is also fanning the flames of sectarianism, spreading rumours of impending attacks targeting specific groups. Sectarian tendencies no doubt exist in parts of the country. But the authorities' tactics betray a determined and cynical attempt to exploit and exacerbate them.

At this point, moreover, questions are being raised both about the authorities' ability to control and discipline the security apparatus and about the security forces' willingness to convey to their political leadership a truthful picture of what is happening on the ground. Even at the best of times, large segments of the security services have been plagued by sectarianism, corruption, incompetence and a sense of wholesale impunity. These features are all the more likely to surface amid a crisis. To date, the leadership has evinced no readiness to impose clarity of mission, discipline or accountability on its security apparatus; there is, for example, not a single known instance of meaningful sanctions to punish unlawful or excessive use= 0of force.

The regime's violent, unlawful and disorderly response has only further deepened a pervasive sense of chaos. In turn, this has discredited the reforms it announced in hopes of defusing the situation and shoring up its political base. However meaningful or promising they might have been on paper, they have proven worthless in practice. The regime has lifted the emergency law but has since allowed the security services to conduct business as usual, thereby illustrating just how meaningless the concept of legality was in the first place. It authorises demonstrations even as it claims they no longer are justified and then labels them as treasonous. It speaks of reforming the media and, in the same breath, dismisses those who stray fr om the official line. It insists on ignoring the most outrageous symbols of corruption. Finally, and although it has engaged in numerous bilateral talks with local representatives, it resists convening a national dialogue, which might represent the last, slim chance for a peaceful way forward.

The regime's hope appears to be that a massive crackdown can bring the protesters to heel. Some claim that a show of force is required to restore calm and provide the room necessary to carry out reforms. Such a course of action would entail loss of life on a massive scale. It could usher in a period of sectarian fighting with devastating consequences for Syria. It could destabilise its neighbours. And, ultimately, it is highly unlikely to work.

Even if massive repression were to succeed in the short term, any such victory would at best be pyrrhic. In the wake of the crackdown, the security services would rule supreme. President Assad's domestic and international credibility would be shattered. Few countries would be willing to lend a hand to redress a devastated economy. Major investments, development projects and cultural ventures would find few foreign partners. Assad might well prevent forcible regime change, but the regime will have been fundamentally transformed all the same.

The only -- decreasingly realistic- chance to avoid this outcome would be for the regime to take immediate steps to rein in its security forces, take decisive action against those responsible for state violence and initiate a genuine, all-inclusive national dialogue. A halt to the cycle of violence could create the space necessary for representatives of the popular movement to articulate their demands and for negotiations on a real, far-reaching program of reforms to proceed. Most importantly, it would give the regime the opportunity to demonstrate it has more to offer than empty words and certain doom.

For the international community, the Syrian crisis poses a vexing challenge. Beyond denouncing the brutal repression, making clear to the regime that its conduct will lead to increased isolation, and urging it to implement long-overdue reforms and national dialogue, there unfortunately is little it can do. Outside actors possess little leverage, particularly at a time when the regime feels its survival is at stake. It has survived past periods of international isolation and likely feels it can weather the storm again. Even countries that have developed close ties to Damascus, such as Turkey, are viewed with growing suspicion by officials who are increasingly paranoid and consider anything short of outright support an act of betrayal. The sanctions targeting individual officials involved in acts of repression that have been announced are unlikely to have any effect; their impact would be maximised if, rather than simply naming individuals, the decisions were backed by solid, public evidence. Broader sanctions run the dual risk of serving the regime by bolstering the claim that it is facing a foreign conspiracy and of harming ordinary citizens, who are already paying a high price for their country's dramatic economic downturn.

Neighbouring states have an enormous stake in averting enduring instability. Chaos in an ethnically and confessionally heterogeneous Syria would have swift and potentially devastating impact on Turkey - a country with which it shares an 877 kilometre long and porous border; Lebanon, whose fate historically has been tied to its neighbour's; Jordan, a small state likewise at the mercy of Syrian developments; and Iraq, which is barely recovering from its civil war and can hardly afford sectarian fighting at its borders. As a result, they should strive to prevent any cross-border trafficking involving militants, weapons or money.

Some are calling for more from the international community. But a Libya-type military intervention is implausible, risky and undesirable, and any other form of direct outside help for the protesters inevitably would be used by the regime to depict them as foreign agents, thus exposing them to further repression without offering them any protection or materially affecting the outcome of the struggle.

In fashioning a proper international response, two more factors should be borne in mind.

First, although overall trends are increasingly clear, many specific allegations regarding developments in Syria (concerning for example possible dissent within the security forces; the scale of protests; the identity of those who have killed security officers) remain hard to verify. Because the regime has denied the international media access, many in the media have been forced to rely on uncorroborated material posted on the internet as well as on unvetted witness testimony. There is a risk in reacting immediately to such raw and inevitably partial accounts. It will be important for outside actors to base their actions on as thorough and level-headed as possible assessments of events on the ground.

Second, one should not ignore the views of many Syrians - even among those without sympathy for the regime - who continue to fear its precipitous collapse . They dread the breakup of a state whose institutions, including the military, are weak even by regional standards. They fear that sectarian dynamics or a hegemonic religious agenda could take hold. They are suspicious of possible foreign interference. And they distrust an exiled opposition that is all too reminiscent of Iraq's. Short of the regime's implosion, they seem persuaded that only an indigenous, negotiated solution can offer hope for a successful political transition.

The international community clearly has an important stake in the outcome of the current crisis, even if little capacity to influence it. That influence principally lies domestically: with the protesters, striving to claim their rights and whose greatest strength resides in their ability to remain peaceful, resilient and grounded in local support, and with the regime which must be brought to understand that continued resort to violence will only further deepen the crisis which it has brought upon itself.

Visit our website: http://www.crisisgroup.org
Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) +32 (0) 2 536 0071
Kimberly Abbott (Washington) +1 202 785 1602
To contact Crisis Group media please click here

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, non-profit, non-governmental organisation covering some 60 crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

From: The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill <host@invite.pingg.com>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 9:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill has updated your invitation to Honoring Paragons within the Black Campus Community

---

Having trouble seeing this email? Visit the Event Web Page.

You have been invited by The Black Student Movement of UNC Chapel Hill to Honoring Paragons within the Black Campus Community.

Click to view the invite

This email has a unique link just for you, please do not forward it to others, pingg respects your privacy. To block further invites from this sender or for any other privacy concerns please review our policies.

pingg
well sent

pingg corp. 36 East 20th Street,
3rd Floor, New York, NY 10003

From: Invitation Ifri <seaman@ifri.org>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 9:26 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Conference: Re-thinking China's Role in Africa

To: Dr. Julius NYANG'ORO

ifri

CONFERENCE

Friday 20th of May, from 9am to 12pm

Ifri, salle de conférence, 27 rue de la Procession, 75015 PARIS - Métro Volontaires (12) ou Pasteur (6)

The Center for Asian Studies and the sub-Saharan Africa Program are pleased to invite you to:

Re-thinking China's Role in Africa

with

Chris Alden
Senior Lecturer, London School of Economics

Daniel Large
Research Director, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London and

Zhu Ming
Research Fellow, Shanghai Institutes of International Studies

Chair
Vincent Darracq
Ifri sub-Saharan African Program

Since the end of the 1990's, China's growing economic and diplomatic presence in Africa has attracted attention, as well as concern. In the West, many analysts and diplomats are critical of a Chinese "grand plan" whose effects would be to loot African natural resources and undermine efforts to promote democracy and good governance (as well as move western companies out of African markets, in sectors such as construction). This view is partly based on misperceptions, especially about the Chinese government's capacity (and willingness) to give directions to the multitude of Chinese organizations and individuals setting foot in Africa.

And yet, Chinese policies in Africa have evolved. Now being an established power in Africa, China has gone through a learning process about the specificities of African contexts. This conference will discuss what this "normalization" of Chinese policies in Africa means.

ON LINE REGISTRATION

(subject to availability)

Contact: John Seaman - centreasie@ifri.org - 01 40 61 60 66

Should you wish to unsuscribe from this list, please send a blank email to this address

Institut français des relations internationales

27, rue de la Procession, 75740 Paris cedex 15

Tél : 01 40 61 60 00 - Fax : 01 40 61 60 60 - courriel : ifri@ifri.org

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 10:15 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] List of Graduating Seniors

Hi All,
I'm writing to see if we have a list of graduating seniors. I would like to include it in the newsletter and plan to finish it this week. If someone has the list, please forward it to me.

Thanks,
Kia

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29107975
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29107975-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Carolyn Pumphrey, Ph.D. <pumphrey@duke.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 10:49 AM
To: tisslist@duke.edu
Subject: FW: Panel Discussion: "Now What? Counterterrorism and American National Security in a Post Bin-Laden World"
Attach: OBL Panel Discussion.pdf

The Duke Program in American Grand Strategy and Triangle Center on Terrorism and Homeland Security Present:

"Now What? Counterterrorism and American National Security in a Post-Bin Laden World"

May 4, 2011
12:00-1:00 PM
| Sanford 223 | Rhodes Conference Room | Duke University |

Take a break from work or studying to join us for insight from some of Duke's leading experts on National Security and Counterterrorism.

Panelists: Peter Feaver, Professor of Political Science and Public Policy; Director, Triangle Institute for Security Studies and the Duke American Grand Strategy Program
Bruce Jentleson, Professor of Public Policy and Political Science
David Schanzer, Professor of the Practice for Public Policy; Director, Triangle Center for Terrorism and Homeland Security

Moderator: Seth Cantey, Graduate Student- Political Science

This event is also supported by the Triangle Institute for Security Studies, the Sanford School of Public Policy, and Duke's Department of Political Science.

*For additional information, please contact Jennifer Boyle (Jennifer.boyle@duke.edu) or 613-9301.

Jennifer Boyle
Program Assistant
TISS/AGS/TCTHS
Duke University, Sanford School of Public Policy-Rubenstein 138
Durham, NC 27708
919-613-9301

Now What?

Counterterrorism and American National Security in a Post-Bin Laden world

MAY 4, 2011 | SANFORD 223 | 12:00-1:00 PM

PETER FEAVER
Professor of Political Science and Public Policy

BRUCE JENTLESON
Professor of Public Policy and Political Science

DAVID SCHANZER
Associate Professor of the Practice, Public Policy

MODERATOR: SETH CANTEY
Graduate Student, Political Science

DUKE UNIVERSITY AMERICAN GRAND STRATEGY

Triangle Center on Terrorism and Homeland Security

TISS

Duke SANFORD SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

Duke Department of Political Science

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Nyang.Oro@email.unc.edu; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

This Week at the Ackland

Wednesday, May 4
12:00 - 1:00 PM

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about the art currently on view at the Ackland.

This Month:

"Joseph Beuys: Form, Power, Energy"

An illustrated talk by Gabriel Trop, Assistant Professor, Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures, UNC-Chapel Hill
in conjunction with the Ackland's current exhibition
DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Joseph Beuys uses the materials and forms of art to reveal how power is produced in social spaces and how art itself generates, impedes, and reorganizes energetic flows. Artistic forms are saturated with and surrounded by various metabolic processes: the exchange of commodities, the organization of public space, the circulation of blood, and the energy mobilized in political movements, for example. Gabriel Trop will put Beuys' work in dialogue with that of Sigmar Polke in an attempt to examine the intersection of aesthetic form, political power, and bio-physical energy.

No reservations required.
Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members

IN THE GALLERIES:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011 Through THIS SUNDAY, May 8

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

May 11
Tea at Two
with Timothy Riggs
2:00 - 3:30 PM
RSVP Now!

May 12
Out of the Studio:
Artist Carole Baker

For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Tea at Two

Wednesday, May 11
2:00 PM

The Ackland invites you to enjoy tea, refreshments, and conversation with Timothy Riggs, the Ackland's curator of collections, for an illustrated talk related to the current exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940.

Riggs will be discussing primitivism in German art of this period, from Moritz von Schwind to Hermann Max Pechstein.

Free to Ackland members | $10 non-members.
Space is limited. RSVP: aportnow@email.unc.edu or 919.843.3687.

MFA 2011

Don't miss New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011

Open through Sunday, May 8th!

The innovative works of photography, video, sculpture, and mixed media on view represent the culmination of two years of graduate study by featured artists Travis Donovan, Carolyn Janssen, Lydia Anne McCarthy, Jessye McDowell, John Hollin Kelse Norwood, Raymond Padrón, and Tracy Spencer-Stonestreet.

Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes

A reading by children's author Bob Forbes

Saturday, May 7, 2011
3:00 PM
Wilson Special Collections Library, Pleasants Family

6:00 PM

May 14
Art-Ventures for Kids
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

May 14
Drawing for Kids
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

May 14
Drawing in the Galleries
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

May 15
Music in the Galleries
2:00 PM

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

Assembly Room
Free and open to the public

All ages are invited to "a banquet of beastly rhymes" with author Bob Forbes, as he reads from his newest collection of poetry for children, in the Wilson Special Collections Library. Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes (Overlook Press) features thirty-three "delectable rhymes about animals naughty and nice" and characters such as a photogenic buffalo, a color-changing emu, and a well-dressed narwhal.

The reading will take place as part of an open house in Wilson Library from 1:00 to 5:00 PM, during which visitors will be able to see treasures from the special collections, view an exhibition of 38 original Searle illustrations for Forbes's book Beastly Feasts! A Mischievous Menagerie in Rhyme, and enjoy refreshments.

Forbes (UNC class of 1971) is the president of the magazine ForbesLife, the luxury lifestyle and culture publication of Forbes magazine.

Books will be available for sale and signing by Forbes, courtesy of the Bull's Head Bookshop.

The event is sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

The Ronald Searle illustrations will be on display in the Pleasants Family Assembly Room through July 31, 2011, and available for public viewing as meeting schedules allow.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as JEN321@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29108719-5774387.1df4eaa86822fcf7c7763439288ee70d@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Joseph Beuys, German, 1921 - 1986: Felt Postcard, 1985; printed felt. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection.

Hermann Max Pechstein, German, 1881–1955: Portrait of a Young Black Woman – Nelly, ca. 1910; watercolor over graphite. Ackland Fund.

Lydia Anne McCarthy, Untitled, 2010; digital chromogenic print.

Ronald Searle, cover illustration for Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes.

From: LearningEmall <inquiry@learningemall.com>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 11:31 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Highly Recommend - History

Dear Academic/Librarian,

LearningEmall.com would like to introduce the following educational programs to you!

www.learningemall.com e-Newsletter

Today's Topic : History

The following educational DVDs trace the American History as well as World History.

BARACK OBAMA, PART 1 - 2
This program traces the history of the racial and political barriers African-American's have faced in America from the time of slavery in America, right through to the election of President Obama. DVD / 2009 / 15 minutes
>>> more details <<<

AMERICA'S JOURNEY THROUGH SLAVERY, PART 1 - 5
Without President Abraham Lincoln's leadership, courage and determination to maintain the Union, the United States of America may have ceased to exist. DVD / 2008 / 12 minutes
>>> more details <<<

ARTIFACTS FROM 19TH CENTURY LIFE, PART 1 - 7
Visit a pioneer community on the western frontier to see how people lived over 150 years ago. Explore a pioneer's cabin and the village store to learn more about the tools used in those settings. DVD / 2008 / 5 minutes
>>> more details <<<

STORIES OF THE AMERICAN PUPPET
The American Puppet is the first documentary to chronicle this arts fascinating and colorful evolution. Narrated by film and TV actor Dan Lauria, this landmark documentary examines the lives and recounts the significant contributions of men and women who, throughout the years, have helped to shape puppetry in America. DVD / 2007 / 58 minutes
>>> more details <<<

CREATIVE NATIVE SEASON, PART 1 - 52
This program is dedicated to all the babies being born during the baby boom in the First Nation's community. As part of our examination of children in Canadian society, we look at the statistics. DVD / 2006 / 30 minutes
>>> more details <<<

GENOCIDE FACTOR, THE, PART 1 - 4
While the term "genocide" is a product of the 20th century, the phenomenon is not; massacres and brutality riddle humankind's past. DVD / 2001 / 57 minutes
>>> more details <<<

BIOGRAPHY OF AMERICA, A
A Biography of America presents history not simply as a series of irrefutable facts to be memorized, but as a living narrative. DVD / 2000 / 780 minutes

>>> more details <<<

Bridging World History
Bridging World History is a multimedia course for secondary school and college teachers that looks at global patterns through time, seeing history as an integrated whole. 5 DVDs / 2004 / 780 minutes
>>> more details <<<

AFRICANS, THE
Look back into the history of Africa with scholar Ali Mazrui to examine major influences on this complex continent: indigenous heritage, Western culture, and the Islamic religion. 5 DVDS / 1986 / 540 minutes
>>> more details <<<

BLACK AMERICAN EXPERIENCE THE , PART 1 - 10
The first Black surgeon to serve as an examiner on the American Board of Surgery. CHARLES DREW born 1904, was an African American physician and medical researcher who revolutionized the field of medicine with developments in blood-work.
>> more details <<<

For more DVD on History, please click HERE

ORDER

* Delivery charge additional. Prices are subject to change without prior notice *

REMOVAL

LearningEmail.com. All rights reserved.
Email: inquiry@learningemail.com Fax: (1) (206) 260-3618
Follow us:

If you do not want to receive our newsletters, please reply to this email with 'removal' as subject.

Disclaimer
This message contains confidential information and is intended only for the individual named. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify us immediately by e-mail if you have received this e-mail by mistake and delete this e-mail from your system. E-mail transmission cannot be guaranteed to be secured or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late or incomplete, or contain viruses. LearningEmail.com therefore does not accept liability for any errors or omissions in the contents of this message, which arise as a result of e-mail transmission.

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Printing Newsletter

Julius and Agatha,
I'm writing to see if we'll be able to make copies of the newsletter for graduation. It will be 10 pages long and color copies would be preferable. It would probably be good to make about 40 copies, for graduates and faculty. If the dept. does not have funds available, I should have some money left over from event funding that I received. I can check with Haeran.
Please let me know what you think and also whether Travis would be able to have the copies made. I'll be busy with the finals the rest of this week.

Thanks,
Kia

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:04 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Newsletter Draft for Review
Attach: Newsletter_May2011_Draft1.pub

Julius and Kenneth,

Here is a draft of the newsletter. A few items still need to be added. Please send your comments and suggestions by tomorrow.

The print is small when you read the newsletter on a computer. If you would like to enlarge the pages for easier viewing, you can pull down the "View" tab at the top of the screen and increase the size (I usually do 100%).

Julius - Would you please send text from your column "From the Chair's Desk" today or tomorrow (75-125 words).

I apologize for the short notice. I thought the dept. might want some copies on hand for graduation. They would need to be printed on Friday, if not sooner.

Thanks,
Kia

DEPARTMENT OF AFRICAN & AFRO-AMERICAN STUDIES UNC-CHAPEL HILL

CROSSROADS

VOLUME 3, NUMBER 1 SPRING 2011

SPECIAL POINTS OF INTEREST:

- Congraulations Class of 2011!
- Professor Sahle receives teaching award
- Department remembers Professor Roberta Ann Dunbar

INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

Faculty Scholarship	2
Screening of "Taking Root"	3
Legacy of the Wilmington Ten	4
Study Abroad in Venezuela	5
Tribute to Professor Dunbar	6-8
Graduating Seniors	9

Department Celebrates 40th Anniversary

A bold proposal for the establishment of "Afro-American and African Studies Curricula" was submitted to the university administration on April 16, 1969. The six member committee that drafted the proposal included a first year student named Evelyn Lewis, and a junior named Reginald Hawkins, who was also one of the founders of the Black Student Movement. Among the three faculty members on the committee was a young professor of English named C. T. Ludington. Last fall, those three 'founders' of our Department were invited back to celebrate our 40th anniversary.

Lewis is now a professor of law at the University of California, Davis. Reginald Hawkins is now Abdullah Salim, and practices law in Maryland. Prof. 'Towney' Ludington has retired after a long and distinguished career at Carolina. Our guests had lunch with our majors and were given a tour of the Sonja Haynes Stone

Left to right: Evelyn Lewis, Townsend Luddington, Abdullah Salim [Reginald Hawkins Jr.], and Perry

Center for Black Culture and History before they appeared on a panel where they reflected on the significance of what they did over 40 years ago. Also participating on the panel was Prof. Perry Hall, author of, In the Vineyard a highly regarded history of African American Studies programs. Majors Bianca Bell '11, Matthew Meyer '11, and Deja Wooden '11 offered comments and posed questions to the panelists.

Attorney Salim described the celebration as "a healing experience" and expressed "joy" to know that what they did over 40 years ago was "not in vain, and that the legacy is in good hands among such intelligent, insightful, vibrant and energetic students and concerned faculty."

- Reginald Hidebrand

From the Chair's Desk

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Your headline is an important part of the newsletter and should be considered carefully.

In a few words, it should accurately represent the contents of the story and draw readers into the story. Develop the headline before you write the story. This way, the headline will help you keep the story focused.

Examples of possible headlines include Product Wins Industry Award, New Product Can Save You Time!, Membership Drive Exceeds Goals, and New Office Opens Near You.

TRIBUTE TO

Abdullah Salim (formerly Reginald Hawkins jr.) in front of a mural depicting his father, Reginald Hawkins Sr. School of Government, UNC-Chapel Hill.

Prof. Eunice Sahle presented work at three recent conferences. "Contemporary Imperialism, Democracy and Un/freedom in Africa," Conference on Freedom and Democracy in an Imperial Context: Dialogues with James Tully, University of Victoria, May 27-29, 2010. "Coloniality in Africa and Framing Decoloniality in the 21st Century", November 19, 2010, Berlin,Germany. "Citizenship, Human Rights and New Democratic Constitution in Kenya," November 22-26, Kenya. Prof. Sahle's recently published the essay, "Post-Development and Alternatives to Development", in Paul Haslam, Pierre Beaudet, Jessica Schafer (eds*), Introduction to International Development Studies: Approaches, Actors and Issues* (Oxford University Press, 2011).

Prof. Bereket Selassie was selected to deliver the Annual Abiola Lecture (2010) at the 53rd Annual African Studies Association Meeting in San Francisco. The lecture, titled, Democracy and Peace in the Age of Globalization: Old Problems, New Challenges for Africa is being published by the African Studies Review. Prof. Selassie was also a Keynote Speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Third World Studies Association, which was held in Savannah, Georgia in October 2010. This lecture titled, "Framing the State in Post-Conflict Situations" is forthcoming in the Review of Third World Studies. The second volume of Prof. Selassie's memoirs was published under the title, "Wounded Nation…." by Red Sea Press in 2010. His piece on Africa in the Age of Obama was published by the African Studies Review. Prof. Selassie recently served as a member of an expert group who acted as consultants in the making of the Constitution of Kenya. In addition, he was invited to be a consultant in the constitution drafting of South Sudan; but for family reasons could not accept the invitation. He has provided views informally to some of the people involved in this work, primarily on issues of centralism and decentralization. On February 10, 2011, Prof. Selassie was featured in an interview on the National Public Radio Program Talk of the Nation. This interview focused on his role as the principal framer of the Eritrean Constitution.

Prof. Perry Hall has recently published two book chapters and one journal article: "African American Studies: Discourses and Paradigms " In African American Studies, edited by Jeanette R. Davidson, 15-34. Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 2010. "Perspectives on Interwar Culture: Remapping the New Negro Era." In The Harlem Renaissance Revisited: Politics, Arts, and Letters, edited by Jeffrey Ogbonna Green Ogbar, 195-210. Baltimore [Md.]: Johns Hopkins University Press, 2010. "Hip Hop and the Black Studies Canon," for a special issue of the International Journal of Africana Studies. Volume 16, Issue 1.

Prof. Julius Nyang'oro recently completed work on two book projects: JK: A Political Biography of Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, President of the United Republic of Tanzania (Trenton, NJ: Africa World Press, 2010). Swahili Translation: Ari Mpya, Kasi Mpya, Nguvu Mpya: Wasifu wa Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, Rais wa Jamhuri ya Muungano wa Tanzania (Trenton, NJ: Africa World Press) xlii+288pp. Prof. Nyang'oro's current research focuses on two areas: 1) Democratization and Security in Africa (Chad, Mauritania, Mali and Senegal) and 2) Politics and Public Policy in Tanzania.

Prof. Margaret Lee has received an Institute for the Arts and Humanities Fellowship for the fall 2011 semester to work on her book project, "Trading Stories: Africa's World Markets." The project has been commissioned by the Nordic Africa Institute in Uppsala, Sweden. In addition, to date she has received a generous grant from the UNC-Chapel Hill African Studies program and a small grant from the Institute for African American Studies to help complete collecting data for the project during the summer. Prof. Lee recently returned from Accra, Ghana in association with the Harry Frank Guggenheim's Young Scholars program. The program is designed to help train the next generation of African scholars. The program was started in 2003, and the workshop held in Accra from March 14-18, 2011 was for the fourth group of young scholars the Foundation is mentoring. Professor Lee has been an advisor to the program since it started. Prof. Lee presented a talk entitled "From Chocolate City in China to the Markets in East Africa: The Dynamics of Africa-China Trade," as part of the Carolina Seminar, sponsored by the African Studies by the African Studies Center on October 28, 2010; and a paper on "Humanizing the U.S. African Growth and Opportunity Act: A Peek inside the Textile and Apparel Sector," at a conference on "Dilemmas in Democracy in Africa," at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, March 7, 2011. In addition, she gave two lectures on "South Africa and Hugh Masekela in conjunction with his visit to UNC during the fall of 2010.

Faculty Scholarly Activities, Continued

Prof. Tim McMillan continues work on his project about memory and race at UNC. In February 2011 he presented my research at a conference on Universities and Slavery at Emory University, focusing on the controversies over the unsung founders' monument. The conference featured the presidents of Brown and Emory discussing legacies of slavery and modern reinterpretations of institutional histories as well as three days of panels addressing the effects of slavery on Clemson, USC, Harvard, and many other universities. In March 2011, he presented more material about this project at the "Memory: Silence, Screen, and Spectacle" conference at the New School for Social Research.

Prof. Kia Caldwell received a Developmental Award from the UNC-Chapel Hill Center for AIDS in April 2010. This award has been used to support research for the Sister Circle Study, which focuses on HIV prevention for African-American women in the Raleigh-Durham area. Prof. Caldwell gave presentations at the Brazilian Studies Association conference and Congress of Black Brazilian Researchers (COPENE), both of which were held in Brazil, during July 2010. Her article on the institutionalization of Black Women's Studies in the U.S. and Brazil was published by the Association of Black Brazilian Researchers in Volume 1 of Revista ABPN, the journal of the Association of Black Brazilian Researchers.

Department Co-Sponsors Screening of "Taking Root"

November 9, 2010 saw the screening of the award winning documentary "Taking Root: The Vision of Wangari Maathai" at the UNC's FedEx Global Center. The film focuses on the work of the Green Belt Movement, a grassroots environment and human rights movement foundered by Dr. Wangari Maathai the 2004 Nobel Laureate. The keynote speaker at this event was Kamoji Wachiira, former Professor in the Geography Department of Kenyatta University, political prisoner in Kenya, board member for the Green Belt Movement, and an advisor on global environmental issues to the Nobel Peace Laureate Dr. Wangari Maathai in 2004-2005. A multi-disciplinary panel addressing issues pertaining to environmental, human rights and peace -building grassroots movements in contemporary Africa, Latin America and Asia followed the screening of the film. The panel featured Kamoji Wachiira and UNC Professors Bereket Selassie, Arturo Escobar, Mark Driscoll and Eunice Sahle. The event was sponsored by the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, African Studies Center, Center for Global Initiatives, Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, and Curriculum in Global Studies and organized by Dr. Sahle. Participants at this event included students from various classes, faculty and members of the public from the Triangle region.

David Pier (front , second from left) with Ugandan musicians.

"The Wilmington Ten were sent to prison in 1972 on perjured testimony. Their convictions were overturned in 1980."

Department Welcomes New Faculty

DEONGIONDDEOGOINFAFACULT

Two new faculty members joined the department in the fall 2010.

Lydia Boyd is a cultural anthropologist whose current research concerns the promotion of sexual abstinence as an HIV/AIDS prevention strategy among born-again Christian youth in Kampala, Uganda. Over the past several years she has been conducting fieldwork with Christian youth there, examining the ways medical discourses about health and disease intersect with contemporary and historical anxieties concerning sexual morality and gender relations in Africa. Broadly her work concerns the experiences of gender, sexuality, health, and kinship, and the ways these experiences have been shaped by colonial era policies and the contemporary practices of "development" in East Africa. In addition to Intro to African Studies, this year she also taught courses on African women, urban African societies, and African religion and philosophy. She is also a documentary filmmaker and is developing a course in African documentary and ethnographic film, as well as a course on health and healing in Africa.

David Pier studies music and cultural production in Africa and the U.S. Currently he is researching musical constructions of Ugandan "traditions," and the ways these are being harnessed to multinational commercial brands. He has developed a new class on the music of Africa, and taught courses on the politics of African cultural production and vernacular African-American music.

The Legacy of the Wilmington Ten: 40 Years Later

On the evening of February 2, 2011, the Department co-sponsored a program on "The Legacy of the Wilmington Ten: 40 Years Later." The Institute of African American Research was the main sponsor and organizer; other sponsoring organizations were the Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History, the Center of for the Study of the American South, the United Church of Christ's Justice and Witness Ministries and the NAACP. The headline speaker was Dr. Benjamin Chavis, Jr. Additional remarks were offered by UNC Afro-American studies professor Kenneth Janken, Chapel Hill author and Wilmington native Larry Reni Thomas, and Willie Earl Vereen and Connie Tindall, two of the surviving members of the Wilmington Ten. UNC music professor and noted soprano Louise Toppin performed.

Chavis led ten civil rights activists who were accused of arson and conspiracy to fire on firefighters and law enforcement officers during unrest in Wilmington on Feb. 6, 1971. The 10 were convicted and sent to prison in 1972 on perjured testimony knowingly solicited by the state's attorney; the main witnesses for the prosecution later recanted their testimony. The case soon became known around the world. The Wilmington Ten were perceived to be political prisoners by groups including Amnesty International. The convictions were overturned in 1980.

Executive director of the NAACP from 1993-1994, Chavis is now cofounder, president and CEO of the Hip-Hop Summit Action Network, the world's largest coalition of hip-hop artists and recording industry executives.

- Kenneth Janken

Professor Sahle Receives Undergraduate Teaching Award

On April 12, 2011 Professor Eunice Sahle received an Undergraduate Teaching Award during a ceremony held in the Great Hall of the Student Union. This prestigious award was conferred by Chancellor Holden Thorpe in recognition of Professor Sahle's outstanding contributions to undergraduate education at UNC -Chapel Hill. Professor Sahle 's many teaching accomplishments include serving as co-director of a Study Abroad Program in Tanzania and Mexico during the Fall 2010 and teaching AFRI 416: Human Rights *. Professor Sahle is known as a rigorous instructor who motivates her students to achieve the highest standards of academic excellence, while also paying close attention to issues of justice. Congratulations, Professor Sahle!

Student Reflection: My Study Abroad Experience in Venezuela

I would always chuckle at the thought of those who went abroad to find themselves or get in touch with their roots. This all seemed too well-versed and convenient a solution proposed by those seeking to remedy the daily grind. When I finally decided to study abroad at the tail-end of my junior year, I was first swayed by the practical advantages of the trip—I would be completing my African American studies minor, gaining course and graded credit, engaging in public service, and adding to the attractive list of 'selling points' I'd begun compiling for future graduate program approval.

What I gained from the UNC in Venezuela program ultimately surpassed any practical aspirations and even eclipsed the aftershock of the beautiful weather, countless beaches, and charming melodies found within Higuerote. The program placed us in the Barlovento region of Venezuela, noted for its sizable black population and considered culturally rooted in the core of African values. If you are thinking There are blacks in Venezuela?! , you are not alone. Truthfully, the existence of blacks outside of Africa is widespread and explicitly observable in Latin America, though the population is often overtly denigrated and ignored. The emergence of Afro-Latin Americans largely dates back to the Atlantic slave trade from the sixteenth through nineteenth centuries. Many Africans were brought from Central and West Africa, forming homogenous diasporas across the Americas and merging ancestral languages, customs, and ideals. With this mixing of cultures came a hybrid of languages, dances, foods, theologies, and attitudes. Today, Afro-Venezuelans aim to preserve the traditional African values which constitute aspects of daily life and maintain cultural identity. Though their efforts are often thwarted by their pervasive exclusion in the country's history, education, levels of government, and overall population (either through faulty census recording or personal denial), they are not futile.

The Instituto Universitario de Barlovento, the local university with which the program was affiliated, has placed itself within the efforts of recognizing Afrovenezolanidad (Afro-Venezuelan identity). It is distinct for its emphasis on the cultural contributions of African ancestors. The university promotes the importance of an Afro-Venezuelan identity and highlights the roles of blacks in the country's development. This recognition is half of the battle. Many of the local intellectuals we had the opportunity to speak with stressed the importance of personal acceptance and support for the 'Afro' in front of their 'Venezuelan' national identity. Knowing one's history is integral to self-discovery and the advancement of a people. As Luisa Madríz, Professor of Afro-Epistemology and San Juan Festival Organizer, has stated, "Some people who are darker than me [she ran her finger along the length of her forearm] still do not believe they are black."

In a way, I did find myself in Venezuela. I did get in touch with my roots. I began to understand the struggle for equality on a broader spectrum. I soon realized the impact of cultural unity and the importance of reclaiming and preserving a collective and personal identity. Knowing who you are is something to be valued— feel free to remind yourself daily.

Signed,

A Proud Afro-Descendant
Kelsey Moeslinger
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill 2011
Psychology Major
African American Studies Minor

Tribute to Professor Roberta Ann Dunbar (1938 – 2010)

It is with both heavy and grateful hearts that members of the Department of African and Afro-American Studies remember and celebrate the life and legacy of Professor Roberta Ann Dunbar. Ann will live on the work of students and faculty in the Department. This section of the newsletter is dedicated to Ann's memory and all that she shared with and taught to those around her.

When Ann died on July 6, 2010, I lost more than a colleague. I lost someone I looked up to and considered as a friend and member of my family. I first met Ann on a sunny Spring morning in 1984 when she came to pick me up from the Carolina Inn. She was my designated chaperone for the day when I came to interview for a job in the then Curriculum in African and Afro-American Studies at Carolina. What struck me right away was her very welcoming sentiments and making me feel relaxed under the extreme tension of a job interview. By the end of the day as she drove me to the airport, I felt that if I got the job, there would be at least someone I could consult on how to negotiate the complicated world of the academy. When I was offered the job, I enthusiastically accepted the offer in part because of Ann's presence. Over the years, she became a valuable colleague and a trusted and loyal friend. I already miss her wise counsel and her sense of humor.

Ann was a fantastic scholar. Whatever she wrote stood the test of time. As a scholar and historian of West Africa, she wrote on Islam and Gender, particularly about Hausa women in both Niger and Nigeria. Her studies of Hausa women in Niger have been standard reference in the field for a long time. Unlike many foreign scholars who go to Africa to mine the continent of important information and leave, Ann always gave back. She regularly sent books to Niger; and in various ways both morally and materially, helped support Nigerien women scholars who not only had to deal with the economic hardships of underdevelopment, but also had to negotiate the tricky world of gender relations in society. Ann's commitment to Niger was such that in the last month of her illness, she made sure that her considerable collection of Nigerien academic materials was sent to a newly established Gender Institute in Niamey which is headed by Dr. Zeinabou Hadari, a former student of Ann's.

In more recent years, Ann expanded her regional focus of study to include East Africa, and Tanzania in particular. She collaborated with scholars at the Women Research and Documentation Project (WRDP) at the University of Dar es Salaam, and the Tanzania Gender Networking Program (TGNP), the leading gender focused Non-Governmental Organization in Tanzania. Ann was instrumental in getting a three year United States Information Agency collaborative grant between UNC-Chapel Hill and WRDP. The grant facilitated the exchange of twelve scholars between the two institutions in the late 1990s. As a result of Ann's efforts, UNC continues to have a vibrant link with the University of Dar es Salaam.

Perhaps above all, the Department of African and Afro-American Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill owes its existence to Ann's role in establishing the Curriculum in African Studies, along with the late Dr. Brewer who had the responsibility for the Curriculum in Afro-American Studies. Initially, the resources available to the two curricula were minimal, but Ann and Dr. Brewer persevered. Ann's move from the Department of History to African and Afro-American Studies gave the Curriculum a much needed stability at a critical moment. These earlier efforts in the establishment of our unit were deepened by the arrival of the late Dr. Sonja Haynes Stone. We are all beneficiaries of that move.

Many people knew Ann as a fantastic scholar with an academic reputation all over the world. The academy will miss her greatly. Our department will never fully recover from her passing as she touched every single individual in the department in a very special and personal way. For me personally, Ann was a friend and big sister. I will always miss her

- Julius E. Nyang'oro

Eulogy delivered by Reverend Jill Edens at Memorial Service for Ann Dunbar

Romans 14: 13-19, 15: 1-7

Not being welcome is the most elemental human fear, writes Henri Nouwen. It is the core spiritual battle where we each must contend with the forces of darkness that tell us that we or some "other" are not welcome in this life. Our spiritual task, then, is to choose the One who made us and reassures us that we are loved, we are welcomed. Our spiritual path then becomes one of practicing hospitality.

I am late among you in coming to know Ann. But I know this much. Ann was the soul of welcome, of hospitality. She was always working to bring people together. One of my favorite memories of Ann was an invitation that she offered to have brunch with Beverly Grier, having discovered our mutual friendship reaching back 31 years now to when Beverly, Rick and I were neighbors in Carrboro when Beverly was teaching at UNC. Beverly had moved back to North Carolina after many years away and Ann swiftly acted to get us all together in a happier time before we knew about the reoccurrence of her cancer. At the time I thought I could look forward to many happy times with Ann and Beverly, I did not appreciate how precious these times were to become.

And so I treasure this email from Beverly Grier to Ann's family offering this condolence:

In the 31 years that I knew Ann, I never heard her utter an unkind word to or about anyone. She was such a gentle (and, yet, firm!) soul. You and your family are blessed to have had such a remarkable sister, daughter, aunt, and cousin. The rest of us were blessed to have had such a remarkable friend. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.

Hospitality is the creation of a safe space where the "other" can enter and become a friend. Where, as Beverly rightly observed, someone who refrains from uttering an unkind word while offering a gentle yet firm presence is indeed a great blessing. Hospitality does not seek to change people, but to offer them the place where change can happen. Nouwen has an especially apt insight about a truly hospitable person, about people like Ann, "Hospitality is not an educated intimidation with good books, good stories and good works, but the liberation of fearful hearts so that words can find roots and bear much fruit." Ann created a zone of safety all around her so that unlikely friendships could and did blossom. Not only did Ann refrain from unkindness or any permutation of disrespect, her firm presence set this expectation of anyone who knew her! A remarkable example especially in what can be the harsh precincts of academia.

I knew Ann for the most part during her illness. As she endured treatment after treatment and became increasingly frail, I realized that I really did not know much about her, and had to insist on her telling me how she was. Ann seemingly remembered everything about us was quick to inquire about so many details about my world and about the world of United Church, and so time and time again she was so adept at distracting from her own situation, that I would leave each visit aware that I had talked overlong about myself and those around me without recognizing her skill at drawing me out and deflecting any concerns about herself. A soul that expresses such easy grace, changes things and our world is better because of the self-discipline that she exhibited for the good of other people, but also because she was genuinely more interested and curious about others than she was concerned for herself.

So our world is poorer without her, and therefore our task is to become Ann – like! To continue her subtle, and might I say, subversive work of freeing fearful hearts and opening them to surprising connections and enduring friendships. Being kind and gentle yet firm such that the world becomes a different place because of our insistence on a genuine and respectful welcome for every person.

I would like to end with John Dunbar's words about his sister, because they reflect the power of a life that welcomes truth and love:

From John:

Thanks for being a break-away,
For your courage to follow that path you saw to making a difference
To step outside
To see a different world
To live in it
And to share it in so many demanding, difficult, and quiet, caring ways
And so we gather today in the presence of God with thanksgiving for the gift of such an extraordinary person as Ann Dunbar.
Thank you God for Ann, help us to be more like her. Amen.

Tribute to Professor Roberta Ann Dunbar

Below are excerpts from remarks shared by Risa Ellovich and Nicki Florence during the memorial service for Ann Dunbar:

Risa Ellovich:

Ann was my colleague. She was trained as a historian and taught here in Chapel Hill. I teach anthropology at NC State. What we had in common was a geographic focus on Africa, specifically West Africa. As it so happens, we both did research on women, Ann in Niger and I in the Cote D'Ivoire (Ivory Coast). We shared syllabi and bibliographic references. We gnashed our collective teeth over course development and grant proposals. We often roomed together at ASA (African Studies Association) meetings. Once, on the way to the Cote d'Ivoire, I stopped to see Ann in Senegal where she was conducting archival research. We traveled to East Africa together (including a stop on the way back in Brussels and Paris) and to Emerald Isle and Belpre together-me, Ann, her broken wrist and 2 dogs. We spoke French together or, rather, Ann spoke French very well and I did not. As a colleague, I miss her profoundly.

Ann was also a very close friend for over 32 years. She was a model of generosity and dependability. I could count on her honesty, her thoughtfulness, and her unfailing support.

Nicki Florence:

Libby, my daughter who is now 15, said to me one day, "You know Mom, I think I am Ann's favorite, because I have the most special relationship with her." And I confirmed that yes she did. But the truth is, so did I. And so did you. Whether you were colleague, family, friend, or the person sitting beside her during chemo, Ann had the amazing ability to make us feel as if we were the most important person in the world. To me that was Ann's greatest gift. And so I can say with great confidence that we are a blessed people.

While I never had Ann as a professor, I learned so much from Ann. As I told Mr. Dunbar last winter, everything I know about being a good neighbor and a good friend, I learned from Ann. And I was lucky in that I got to walk alongside her during this past year. Every moment I spent with Ann was precious to me as she was teaching me until very early in the morning on July 6. Ann redefined the word courage as she battled her illness, never complaining, always thankful and never, ever giving up.

I miss Ann every day, as I am sure you do. But I know, in my heart, that she is in a wonderful place. Right now she's probably eating a steak sandwich with a fresh tomato, she's strong and healthy, surrounded by people she loves, all of that under a sky that is always and forever, Carolina Blue.

Graduating Seniors

Congratulations, Class of 2011!

Organization

BusinessName

Primary Business Address
Address Line 2
Address Line 3
Address Line 4
Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
E-mail: someone@example.com

Business Tagline or Motto

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

We're on the Web!
example.com

UNC-Chapel Hill Hosts African Languages and Literatures Sympoisum

Caption describing picture or graphic.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:27 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: RE:[afriafam] List of Graduating Seniors

Travis will send it to you.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Caldwell, Kia L [mailto:klcaldwe@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 10:15 AM
To: Department listserv
Subject: [afriafam] List of Graduating Seniors

Hi All,
I'm writing to see if we have a list of graduating seniors. I would like to include it in the newsletter and plan to finish it this week. If someone has the list, please forward it to me.

Thanks,
Kia

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: abuell@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361543.3a5003452eed7a6650715970af764463&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29107975
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29107975-32361543.3a5003452eed7a6650715970af764463@listserv.unc.edu
---
You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29109219
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29109219-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: International Studies Association <mescalan@u.arizona.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:28 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: REMINDER - 2012 ISA Annual Convention Call for Papers

---

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear Colleagues,

We would like to remind you that the deadline for submissions to the ISA 2012 Annual Convention in San Diego is June 1.

For the full call for papers, see the ISA 2012 page at: http://www.isanet.org/annual_convention/call-for-papers.html

International Studies Association
53rd Annual Convention
April 1-4, 2012, San Diego, California

"Power, Principles and Participation in the Global Information Age"

Canadian communication theorist Marshall McLuhan famously said, "The medium is the message," and coined the term "global village." McLuhan died in 1980, but his insights are even more relevant today. The information environment is drastically different from that of even a decade ago, as new forms of information flows come into existence almost annually. Facebook now has over 500 million users, and Twitter, a service barely in existence three years ago, counts over 175 million users. These tools are not only for finding long-lost school friends or sharing pictures of loved ones: they often are used for political purposes. For instance, both text messages and tweets served as vital communication tools during the 2010 post-election protests in Iran. Indeed, Reuters reported that United States government went so far as to ask Twitter to postpone maintenance and maintain service during this time. Humanitarian groups also use these communications technologies to bring attention to events worldwide: in the wake of Haiti's 2010 earthquake, the Red Cross collected $30 million in SMSbased donations from US phone users. And the 2010 elections witnessed US political candidates (and their staffs) tweeting and facebooking like never before.

The theme of this year's conference is inspired by the apparent impact of new information and communication technologies on international and transnational affairs. Information has altered power relations; it has help to globalize norms and principles; it has the potential to bring new participants into political and social processes world-wide. From geographic information systems that bring satellite images to our research to sophisticated form of electronic textual analysis to internet surveys, it is undeniable that a whole range of new technologies is affecting the way we think about and do research in international studies.

The deadline for paper and panel proposals, made through the ISA system, is June 1, 2011.

All proposals should be submitted online using the MyISA Conference Management System at http://isanet.ccit.arizona.edu/MyISA

Inquiries to the program chairs should be directed to isa2012@isanet.org

Judith Kelley
Department of Political Science
and Sanford School of Public Policy
Duke University

Box 90239
Durham, NC 27708-0239

Layna Mosley
Department of Political Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
361 Hamilton Hall, CB3265
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265

From: All For Africa <jon.keim@allforafrica.org>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Run For AFA in the ING NYC Marathon

allforafrica

ING NEW YORK CITY MARATHON
PREMIER EVENT OF NEW YORK ROAD RUNNERS

RUN FOR AFA IN THE 2011 ING NYC MARATHON

Verranzano-Narrows Bridge 2010 NYC Marathon

Have any Interest in running in the NYC Marathon on November 6th, 2011? If you run to support All For Africa, we may have a spot for you. Please email jon.keim@allforafrica.org for info on how to get involved. We will set you up on our website to facilitate your fundraising effort. But ACT FAST!! Spots are limited and going quicklly!! We can't wait to see all of you out there RUNNING OUT POVERTY!!!!

Joyce Runs Out Poverty in 2010 NYC Marathon

All For Africa | 245 Park Avenue 38th floor | New York, NY 10167 | info@allforafrica.org | Tel (212) 351- 0055

If you do not want to receive future emails from All For Africa, click Opt-Out.

powered by cvent

From:	owner-nai-public_seminar@LISTSERV.UU.SE on behalf of Isaksson Faris, Inga-Britt <Inga-Britt.Faris@nai.uu.se>
Sent:	Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:33 PM
To:	Public-Seminar@nai.uu.se
Subject:	Zimbabwean writer C Mlalazi at Uppsala stadsteater 5 May; Tickets: http://www.uppsalastadsteater.se/; http://www.uppsalastadsteater.se/2011/forfattarbesok-christopher-mlalazi/
Attach:	MLALAZI Stadsteatern 5 May 2011.pdf

Event with the Zimbabwean writer Chris Mlalazi at Uppsala stadsteater on May 5 at 19.00.
For more information: see attachment
Purchase of tickets (70 SEK): see links on subject line

Sorry for the short notice!

Nordiska Afrikainstitutet
The Nordic Africa Institute

Inga-Britt Isaksson Faris
Research Administrator
The Nordic Africa Institute
P.O Box 1703 SE-75147 Uppsala SWEDEN
Phone: +46 18 562211
Fax: +46 18 562290
Visiting Address: Kungsgatan 38 75421 Uppsala www.nai.uu.se

Nordiska Afrikainstitutet
The Nordic Africa Institute

UPPSALA STADSTEATER

CHRISTOPHER MLALAZI

Zimbabean writer

AT UPPSALA STADSTEATER

Tuesday 5 May at 19.00

Christopher Mlalazi writes prose, poetry and drama. He has published a short-story collection entitled Dancing with life; tales from the township, and the novel Many Rivers. He has recently finished writing a novel entitled "Autumn Leaves" and is presently working on yet another novel.

Mlalazi has received several international awards. His latest award is a 2011 National Arts Merit Award (Zimbabwe) for best Theatrical Production for his 2010 play entitled Election Day, which satirizes a dictator in an unnamed African country who is losing votes during a Presidential election, but who is swearing that he is not going anywhere

Mlalazi is currently visiting the Nordic Africa Institute, Uppsala, in the capacity of the Institute's guest writer for 2011.

On May 5th at Uppsala City Theatre (Uppsala stadsteater), Christopher Mlalazi will tell us about his authorship, and the actor Victor Nyström will read from Mlalazi's play Election Day. The moderator of the event is Stefan Helgesson, literary scholar, Stockholm University, and the Nordic Africa Institute.

The event is co-organised by Uppsala stadsteater and the Nordic Africa Institute.

For purchase of tickets (70 SEK), please visit: http://www.uppsalastadsteater.se/, or, http://www.uppsalastadsteater.se/2011/forfattarbesok-christopher-mlalazi/

Inquiries: Inga-Britt.Faris@nai.uu.se, phone: 018-562211.

Venue: Uppsala stadsteater, Kungsgatan 53, Uppsala

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:55 PM
To: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Printing Newsletter

Hi Kia,
That sounds like about $200+ to me, and the department doesn't have much money for this. We could definitely do some black and white copies on the copier…

Travis can likely have time for this on Friday morning or Wednesday.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Caldwell, Kia L
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 12:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Buell, Agatha
Subject: Printing Newsletter

Julius and Agatha,
I'm writing to see if we'll be able to make copies of the newsletter for graduation. It will be 10 pages long and color copies would be preferable. It would probably be good to make about 40 copies, for graduates and faculty. If the dept. does not have funds available, I should have some money left over from event funding that I received. I can check with Haeran.
Please let me know what you think and also whether Travis would be able to have the copies made. I'll be busy with the finals the rest of this week.

Thanks,
Kia

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 12:57 PM
To: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Printing Newsletter

Thanks, Agatha. I'll try to send the newsletter to Travis by Friday morning.

Kia

From: Buell, Agatha
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 12:54 PM
To: Caldwell, Kia L; Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Printing Newsletter

Hi Kia,
That sounds like about $200+ to me, and the department doesn't have much money for this. We could definitely do some black and white copies on the copier…

Travis can likely have time for this on Friday morning or Wednesday.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Caldwell, Kia L
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 12:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Buell, Agatha
Subject: Printing Newsletter

Julius and Agatha,
I'm writing to see if we'll be able to make copies of the newsletter for graduation. It will be 10 pages long and color copies would be preferable. It would probably be good to make about 40 copies, for graduates and faculty. If the dept. does not have funds available, I should have some money left over from event funding that I received. I can check with Haeran.
Please let me know what you think and also whether Travis would be able to have the copies made. I'll be busy with the finals the rest of this week.

Thanks,
Kia

From: Granda, Megan <mgranda@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 2:40 PM
To: All IAH Faculty and Leadership Fellows <iahcommunications@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Beattie, Kirsten <kbeattie@email.unc.edu>; Simmons, Jeanine M <jeanine.simmons@unc.edu>; Balthrop, Bill <vwb@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [iahcommunications] Graduate RA position at IAH for FY2011-12
Attach: Grad Assistant Description 2011-12.docx

Dear IAH Fellows,

The IAH is seeking a graduate student for a 20 hr/week research assistantship starting July 5th, 2011 and continue through the academic year 2011-12. Please share the attached position description with your students.

Thanks,
Megan

Megan R. Granda, Ph.D.
Executive Director
Institute for the Arts and Humanities
122 Hyde Hall
Campus Box 3322
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3322
T 919-843-2653
http://www.iah.unc.edu/

PROPOSAL
RESEARCH ASISTANT, FY 2011-12

The Institute for the Arts and Humanities (IAH) seeks a Research Assistant (RA) to work 20 hours per week for the Fall 2011 and Spring 2012 semesters, preferably beginning July 2011. Compensation is $16 per hour thought the University's monthly payroll system. The position begins July 5, 2011, and ends the week of December 12, 2011. The position will resume again the week of January 9, 2012, concluding at the end of the spring semester during the week of May 7, 2012.

The IAH will provide the RA with a semi-private office space in Hyde Hall, 24-hour swipe card access, as well as a dedicated computer, access to our shared network space, printers, fax machine and photocopiers for business purposes. The IAH requires a monthly timesheet be submitted to the IAH Business Manager indicating hours worked either on site or remotely. This position will report to the Executive Director of the IAH.

Major responsibilities for this position include:

- Assisting the Coordinator for Faculty Programs with administration and logistics involving the Faculty Fellows Program, the Academic Leadership Program, and the Chairs Leadership Program. Particular assistance may be needed on Wednesday mornings (8:00 – 9:30am) in the fall semester and on Wednesday mornings (8:00 – 9:30am) and Thursday afternoons (2:00 – 3:30pm) in the spring semester, depending on IAH work study availability.
- Assisting the Coordinator for Faculty Programs with administration and logistics of the application and selection process for the Faculty Fellows Program and the Academic Leadership Program. Particularly for the fall semester, this will include tracking incoming applications, corresponding/confirming with applicants as necessary and compiling materials for the selection committees for each fellowship.
- Assisting the Coordinator for Faculty Programs with administration and logistics of the Grants Mentoring Workshops in both the fall and spring semesters. This includes tasks such as monitoring and tracking RSVPs for the workshops, assisting the Executive Director in coordinating mentorship groups, and managing the post-workshop evaluations.
- Assisting the IAH Executive Director with special initiatives as needed.
- Assisting the IAH Assistant Director of Development and Communications as needed with composition, compilation and distribution of quarterly e-newsletters and various mailings.
- Assisting IAH staff with event logistics of major annual events such as the Reckford Lecture on European Studies.

From: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 3:34 PM
To: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: First session enrollments

Hi A and J --

I told her we would like to keep AFAM 263 even with the low enrollment. She said fine with her.

T

From: Yopp, Jan Johnson
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 2:19 PM
To: McMillan, Tim
Subject: First session enrollments

Hi, Tim,

In checking course enrollments for AFAM, AFRi and SWAH courses, all looks good except AFAM 263 that has 6 students. I am okay with keeping the course because the enrollments in other course/sections are good.

Your thoughts?

Jan

Jan Johnson Yopp
Dean, Summer School
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Office: 919.962.8266
Fax: 919.962.2752

Walter Spearman Professor
School of Journalism and Mass Communication
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Office: 919.962.4083
Fax: 919.962.0620
jyopp@email.unc.edu

From: Odum Institute <odum@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 5:48 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [odum] Special Graduate-level Courses in Survey Methodology (Fall 2011)

CONTENTS

- Upcoming Short Courses
- Special Graduate-level Courses in Survey Methodology (Fall 2011)

Upcoming Short Courses

- Logistic Regression (Click here for more information.)
  - May 4: 3:30-5 p.m. (14 Manning)

- Considerations and Strategies for Handling Sensitive Spatial Data (Click here for more information and to register.)
  - May 10: 12-1 p.m. (14 Manning)

- ATLAS.ti 6.0 Hands-on Workshop (Click here for more information.)
  - June 13: 2-4:30 p.m. (01 Manning)

Special Graduate-level Courses in Survey Methodology (Fall 2011)

- For information on the Certificate Program in Survey Methodology, click here.

  The following 3-credit hour, full-semester courses will be available next fall:

- Sociology 761: Questionnaire Design

  This course focuses on the design of questions and questionnaires used in survey research. The course will provide an overview of the theoretical and experimental literature related to question and questionnaire design as well as focusing on practical issues in the design, critique, and interpretation of survey questions that are often not taught in formal courses. Discussion will focus on the measurement of both subjective and objective phenomena. Topics will include the effects of question wording, response format, cognitive guidelines for question construction to ensure respondent comprehension, and techniques for measuring the occurrence of past behaviors and events. Other topics will involve question sequence on responses, an introduction to the psychometric perspectives in multi-item scale design, combining individual questions into a meaningful questionnaire, and special guidelines for self-completion surveys versus interview surveys. The class will also address strategies for obtaining sensitive or personal information, issues associated with translating survey questions, and an introduction to techniques for testing survey questions.

- Sociology 760: Data Collection Methods in Survey Research

  This course will present research work that attempts to understand the effect of data collection decisions on survey errors. This is not a how-to-do-it course on data collection, but instead presents materials that examine the effects of survey design decisons on data quality. This course is designed to sensitize students to alternative design decisions and their impact on the data obtained from surveys.

To unsubscribe from this listserv, send a blank e-mail message to leave-29111205-10372320.23e162fa9f8a45c33859da7e7c86fc23@listserv.unc.edu

Odum Institute
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Manning Hall CB# 3355
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3355
www.odum.unc.edu
Telephone: 919.962.3061
Fax: 919.962.4777

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of freshstart@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 8:24 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Struggling with your weight? Are you looking for a FRESH Start?

Researchers at UNC's Department of Nutrition want to compare diets in an 18-month weight loss study. The FRESH Start Study is currently recruiting 18 to 40 year olds, who are overweight (BMI>30) and otherwise healthy. Please go to http://FreshStartStudy.com to see if you may be eligible to participate in the FRESH (Finding Real Eating Solutions for Health) Start Study.

Study Benefits Include:
* Private nutrition counseling sessions (in-person and by phone)
* Group nutrition workshops (including handouts)
* Cooking demonstrations, food tastings, and recipes
* Gift baskets containing healthy foods
* Possible weight loss
* You will not be asked to take any medication

Compensation is a total of $300 in the form of American Express gift cards provided at 6 months ($50), 12 months ($50), and 18 months ($200).

For more information about this 18-month study, please call Chandra at: (919) 408-3320, ext. 27 or send an email to freshstart@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (04/04/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (10-0743)
Study Title: A Novel Diet-Phenotype Interaction Affecting Body Weight
Funded by: NIDDK (1 R01 DK085109-01)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 8:44 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Performance Rating & Competency Assessment Data Entry Schedule

---

TO: Deans, Directors, Department Heads

FROM: Gena J. Carter
Senior Director, Employee & Management Relations, Office of Human Resources
Jessica Moore
Senior Director, Classification & Compensation, Office of Human Resources

Annual Performance Appraisals and Employee Competency Assessments must be completed for SPA permanent employees by May 31. Department HR Facilitators must enter ratings into HRIS between May 16 and June 24. A separate communication has been sent to Facilitators.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT PROCESS
The performance management program is a communications system designed to help the employee succeed. It provides the structure through which work unit objectives, manner of supervision, performance expectations, and performance results are defined and clarified. Proper application of the performance management program is essential in the proper execution of other personnel policies, including proper classification and compensation, defensible disciplinary action, and appropriate layoff determination.

NO SELF-REPORTING OF RATINGS
The individual who will enter the department's ratings into HRIS must not enter their own rating. Instead, that employee's supervisor must complete the Performance & Competency Rating Manual Entry Form (available on the Office of Human Resources website) and either fax (962-8658) or mail to Employee & Management Relations in the Office of Human Resources, CB #1045 no later than June 24. Employee & Management Relations will enter the rating into HRIS.

WHO MUST RECEIVE PERFORMANCE APPRAISALS
All SPA permanent employees (including full-time, part-time, and time-limited) who are regularly scheduled to work 20 or more hours each work week and who by May 31 will have been working for at least three months under one or more work plans (this work may have been performed in more than one department) must have an annual performance appraisal.

Employees who began their permanent SPA employment on or after March 1, 2011, will receive a rating of "I" (Insufficient Time). Work performed on or after March 1 will be considered part of the employee's 2010-2011 performance cycle. However, supervisors are encouraged to complete a mid-cycle review for these employees after the employee has completed three months of work.

For employees who transferred into your department on or after March 1, an annual performance appraisal is still required. Supervisors have two options for addressing the appraisal:

Option 1: The supervisor may request that the employee's previous supervisor complete an annual performance appraisal for the period prior to the date of employee transfer. This rating would be entered as the employee's annual appraisal for this cycle. All work performed by the employee in the current position would be reflected in next year's performance appraisal. (This creates a slightly longer performance cycle for the employee for the coming cycle.)

Option 2: The supervisor may request a mid-cycle review or its equivalent from the previous supervisor to be considered in determining the overall rating for the employee for this performance cycle.

WHO MUST RECEIVE COMPETENCY ASSESSMENTS
All SPA permanent employees (including full-time, part-time, and time-limited) who are regularly scheduled to work 20 or more hours each work week and who by May 31 will have been working for at least three months in the current position must have an employee competency assessment.

Even if the employee's overall or component competency rating(s) have not changed, an assessment must be completed and entered into HRIS to reaffirm that no changes to the employee's ratings have occurred.

For employees who started in their position on or after March 1, the competency assessment must be completed at the time the employee has worked three months in the position.

QUESTIONS?
If you have questions about the performance management process or assigning appropriate ratings, contact your Employee & Management Relations Consultant.

If you have questions about the competency assessment process or assigning appropriate ratings, contact your Classification & Compensation Consultant.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 8:50 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Smoking Prohibited In and Around Kenan Woods

---

Dear Faculty, Staff and Students:

The State Fire Marshal has informed the University that smoking is prohibited throughout Kenan Woods (the wooded area between Kenan Stadium and Campus Health Services) and within 50 feet of the area surrounding Kenan Woods.

This prohibition, based on section 310.8 of the State Fire Code, is separate from the University's statutory authority to ban smoking in outdoor areas controlled by the University within 100 feet of University facilities.

People who violate the smoking ban in and around Kenan Woods will be asked by the University's public safety officers to stop smoking. Anyone who refuses to comply or has been warned previously is at risk of receiving a warning letter, and perhaps a civil summons, from the Office of State Fire Marshal.

The University has updated the campus map outlining the smoke-free areas on campus. In addition, the University continues to offer resources for people who would like to quit smoking. For more information about the smoke-free policy and smoking ban in Kenan Woods, including a link to the campus map, refer to http://ehs.unc.edu/healthy/smoking.shtml.

You can direct any questions to the Department of Environment, Health and Safety at 962-5507.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth Koza, Director
Department of Environment, Health and Safety

This email is sponsored by: Department of Environment, Health and Safety

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of megan_bell@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 9:52 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Campus-based instructional media development for faculty

---

Dear Faculty and Instructors,

With course loads and class size on the rise, your time is in more demand than ever. And teaching online has additional requirements. Rather than spending hours struggling with media software, you could use your time to focus on your research and teaching.

Contact ITS Teaching and Learning Interactive (ITS-TLI) for professional media development and consulting services tailored for your area of expertise, your teaching preferences, and for online delivery. Our staff includes project managers, instructional designers, graphic artists, Flash programmers, and video/audio producers, making us a one-stop source for your media development needs.

Since 2006, ITS-TLI (located on campus) has provided free consultations and fee-based media development services for the entire UNC-CH community. We collaborate with faculty and instructors, like you, to create online teaching materials specifically for higher education.

Visit our Web site [http://its.unc.edu/TeachingAndLearning/Interactive/tliworksamples/index.htm] to browse work samples and see our growing list of campus clients... and then begin imagining what we can create together.

Get one step closer to having your instructional media created: contact Megan R. Bell, MPM, at megan_bell@unc.edu or 919.445.9474.

This email is sponsored by: ITS Teaching and Learning Interactive

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wanchinw@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 10:04 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Staff Research Subjects Needed for query rating study

---

We are soliciting volunteer research subjects for a study investigating online search behavior.
This study takes approximately 1 hour and can be completed in our on-campus research laboratory. You will use an experimental website to rate queries that have been submitted to a search service, and engage in a short interview which is REQUIRED to be audio recorded after that. For the purpose of the study, it will be necessary for us to track your rating process on the screen and audio record the interview. You will receive $15.00 cash and will be entered into a drawing for one of two $50 gift cards to Target or Wal-Mart once you complete this study.
Email Wan-Ching Wu (wanchinw@email.unc.edu) to sign-up for this study.

You will not be offered or receive any special consideration if you take part in this research; it is purely voluntary. This study has been approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on April 28th (IRB Study# 11-0162).

Many Thanks,

Wan-Ching

Wan-Ching Wu/Ph.D. student
SILS/University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This email is sponsored by: school of information and library science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	messages-noreply@bounce.linkedin.com on behalf of Beverly Peters (LinkedIn Invitations) <invitations@linkedin.com>
Sent:	Wednesday, May 4, 2011 1:22 AM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	Reminder about your invitation from Beverly Peters

LinkedIn

REMINDER

This pending invitation is awaiting your response:

- From Beverly Peters

Don't want to receive email notifications? Adjust your message settings.

© 2011, LinkedIn Corporation

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 6:20 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Newsletter Draft for Review

Thank you for writing. I will have minimal email access until May 7. I will reply to all messages at my earliest opportunity. If you need to reach me regarding an urgent matter related to LinCS 2 or Sister Circle, please call me on my cell phone.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 10:08 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: HR Digest: May 3, 2011
Attach: 05.03.11_HR Information for Employees.pdf

From: Davis, Christie Wynette [mailto:christie_davis@unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 4:22 PM
To: Human Resources Facilitators
Subject: [hrfac] HR Digest: May 3, 2011

TO: HR Facilitators
FROM: Kathy Bryant, HR Communications & Talent Development

- Please forward the attachment titled "HR Employee Information" within your department(s).
- Full text of all articles in the weekly digest is available in the attachments and at http://hr.unc.edu/news-events/items.

Upcoming Dates & Deadlines

May 15: CUPA-HR membership deadline
May 20: Chancellor's Awards for Excellence nominations due
May 20: Excellence in Management Awards nominations due
Jun. 9: Benefits Services Workshop - A Baby! What do I do?
Jun. 16: Teacher & State Employees Retirement Workshop

Information for Employees

State Employee Recognition Week
The Governor's Office has proclaimed the week of May 1-7 to be State Employee Recognition Week. Wednesday, May 4, is State Employee Recognition Day. This is also Public Service Recognition Week. (See the attached proclamation.)

Benefits Services Workshop – Teacher & State Employees Retirement Workshop (Click here)
Benefits Services has scheduled the following workshop now open for registration:

Christie W. Davis
Public Communications Specialist
Office of Human Resources
UNC-Chapel Hill
104 Airport Drive, Campus Box 1045
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
Office: 919.962.9682
Email: Christie_davis@unc.edu
Website: http://hr.unc.edu

Ralph Waldo Emerson quote - "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29113877

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29113877-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

UNC
HUMAN RESOURCES

HR Information for Employees

Office of Human Resources
Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Upcoming Dates and Deadlines

May 15: CUPA-HR membership deadline
May 20: Chancellor's Awards for Excellence nominations due
May 20: Excellence in Management Awards nominations due
Jun. 9: Benefits Services workshop - A Baby! What do I do?
Jun. 16: Benefits Services workshop - Teacher & State Employees Retirement

Information for Employees

State Employee Recognition Week

FROM: Kathy Bryant, HR Communications & Talent Development
Office of Human Resources

The Governor's Office has proclaimed the week of May 1-7 to be State Employee Recognition Week. Wednesday, May 4, is State Employee Recognition Day. This is also Public Service Recognition Week. (See the attached proclamation.)

The Office of Human Resources encourages each school, department or work unit to participate in State Employee Recognition Week by taking this opportunity to recognize the accomplishments and contributions of all of its faculty and staff.

See attached document for more information.

Benefits Services Workshop - Teacher & State Employees Retirement Workshop

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

Benefits Services has scheduled the following workshop now open for registration:

This workshop is a comprehensive half-day program that takes the place of an individual counseling session, but promises the same personal attention in a group setting. Topics include retirement benefits, the paperwork process, Social Security, Medicare, financial planning and retiree health insurance.

Location: Bondurant Hall
Date: Thursday, Jun. 16
Time: 8:30 a.m. to noon

Sponsor: Benefits Services

State of North Carolina

BEVERLY EAVES PERDUE
GOVERNOR

STATE EMPLOYEE RECOGNITION WEEK

and

STATE EMPLOYEE APPRECIATION DAY

2011

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, North Carolina state government is served by more than 95,000 loyal and dedicated employees in many essential areas, including public health, safety, education and environmental preservation; and

WHEREAS, these employees represent North Carolina by having the highest levels of ethics, skills and professionalism, as well as having a determined commitment to the State and its citizens; and

WHEREAS, exemplary employees are dedicated to their work at all levels of state government, whether ensuring the safety of our citizens, protecting our natural resources, or research and development; and

WHEREAS, state employees are on duty every day, ready to render assistance with willingness and courage to their fellow North Carolinians in times of need;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BEVERLY EAVES PERDUE, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 1-7, 2011, as "STATE EMPLOYEE RECOGNITION WEEK" and May 4, 2011, as "STATE EMPLOYEE APPRECIATION DAY" and urge all citizens to take this opportunity to join me in expressing to all state employees our appreciation for their commendable service.

BEVERLY EAVES PERDUE

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina at the Capitol in Raleigh this fourteenth day of March in the year of our Lord two thousand and eleven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and thirty-fifth.

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 10:11 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Graduation 2011

Yeah boss,

We know the real question is the Stone Center and remaining Associate Profosser or "moving on up to the East Side" and becoming Professor!!!!

Didn't get a dime for China. The URC says they had 112 applications and could only make 36 awards, all of which were reduced because of the limited amount of money they had. So it's on me. Trying to decide if I should go to Beijing even though it will cost even more. To me going to China and not going to Bejing is like going to SA and not going to Jo'burg. What do you think?

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 8:21 AM
To: Lee, Margaret Carol
Subject: RE: Graduation 2011

What's more important, China or the Stone Center where you would be hobnobing with your wonderful colleagues?????:) Safew travels.

From: Lee, Margaret Carol
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:53 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Graduation 2011

Hi Julius,

Just a reminder that I will be on my way to China. Just got my visa today and hopefully IBR approval will come today or tomorrow. I must say that this process has really been a challenge. But as of one minute ago I think I submitted the final requirement.

ML

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E [JEN321@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:45 PM
To: Department listserv
Subject: [afriafam] Graduation 2011

Dear Colleagues:
Hope the end of the Semester is going well for everyone. This is a friendly reminder that we will have our departmental graduation ceremony on Saturday May 7 at 2.00 PM in the Hitchcock Room at the Sonja Haynes Stone Center. Tim, Reg, Agatha and Travis have been working hard to ensure that everything is in order. It is important that we all make time to attend. Graduation ceremonies are important to our graduates and their families. I promise that it will not be a prolonged event. See you on May 7.
Best,
Julius

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: leemc@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29082229
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29082229-32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 10:51 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Lane Closures on Portions of Manning Drive for 8-Weeks from May 9

From: Kane, Claire (Public Safety) [mailto:ckane@psafety.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 10:48 AM
Subject: Lane Closures on Portions of Manning Drive for 8-Weeks from May 9

Parking Coordinators, please distribute the following info:

An eight-week manhole construction project beginning Monday, May 9 will force the closure of two lanes of traffic adjacent to the Craige Parking Deck (from the entrance to the top level of the Deck east to the Manning Drive intersection with Paul Hardin and Craige Drives). Weather permitting, the project should be completed by Sunday, July 17. Through traffic will be maintained on Manning Drive throughout the duration of the project, though motorists should expect some delays, particularly during rush hours, and should plan accordingly. Click here to see a map of the affected area.

CHT will temporarily close the bus stops on Manning Drive at Public Safety and the Craige Deck until further notice. Passengers may board the buses at the alternate bus stops on Manning Drive at Hibbard Drive. Click here for the map received from Chapel Hill Transit.
Sidewalks will be blocked on the southern shoulder of Manning Drive in the construction area, and pedestrians will need to use sidewalks on the northern shoulder. Maps will be posted through the "Breaking News" link on the UNC Public Safety's homepage (www.dps.unc.edu).
Call 969-4900 or access www.chtransit.org for transit-related questions. Call (919) 962-3951 with additional questions or concerns.
Thank you,

The Department of Public Safety

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29114230

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29114230-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 1:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: Newsletter Draft for Review

Julius,
Would you like for us to state that contributions should be sent to the department? If so, how should checks be addressed? Should we also say something about contributions to the award created in honor of Ann?

Thanks,
Kia

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 6:19 AM
To: Caldwell, Kia L; Janken, Kenneth R
Subject: RE: Newsletter Draft for Review

Thanks Kia. I will send my piece in the next couple of hours. What I notice to be missing is a super short paragraph indicating where contributions (the address) can be sent. Congratulations to you and Kenneth for a job well done!

From: Caldwell, Kia L
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 12:04 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Janken, Kenneth R
Subject: Newsletter Draft for Review

Julius and Kenneth,
Here is a draft of the newsletter. A few items still need to be added. Please send your comments and suggestions by tomorrow.
The print is small when you read the newsletter on a computer. If you would like to enlarge the pages for easier viewing, you can pull down the "View" tab at the top of the screen and increase the size (I usually do 100%).

Julius - Would you please send text from your column "From the Chair's Desk" today or tomorrow (75-125 words).

I apologize for the short notice. I thought the dept. might want some copies on hand for graduation. They would need to be printed on Friday, if not sooner.

Thanks,
Kia

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 1:43 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE:

Thanks, Julius. We'll try to fit all of it in.

Kia

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 8:14 AM
To: Caldwell, Kia L; Janken, Kenneth R
Subject:

Kia anad Kenneth:
Attached is my draft of "From the Chair's Desk." Please feel free to edit as you see fit since I have exceeded the number of words "dictated" by Kia....:) Again, thanks both for your efforts on this Issue.
Julius

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 2:54 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Grants, contracts and proposals

Dear All,
This is a reminder that ALL proposals, contracts, funding agreements, etc MUST be approved by the Office of Sponsored Research BEFORE any agreements are made.

Specifically, if you are submitting a proposal or letter of intent requesting funding from any group outside of UNC-CH it must be submitted in the RAMSeS system no less than 5 days before the due date. If the funding will come through the department I am available to help with this process as well as assist with creating budgets, etc, but must receive your info about the proposal 10 days before the due date (that's 5 days for me + 5 days for OSR).

If you are directly contacted to work on a project with an institution outside of UNC-CH (with no competitive proposal process), you must still submit your scope of work, budget, etc to OSR as soon as possible.

ONLY OSR may enter into funding agreements for UNC.

As the Grants Coordinator for the department, I am generally the liaison between you and OSR – please contact me prior to contacting them (this is at their request, as many issues can be resolved without getting them involved, and they prefer to have one pint of contact in the department). Additionally, I prefer to be involved in your submissions to RAMSeS as well, so that I can double check that certain UNC required criteria are met (such as effort reporting, overhead requirements, etc).

Please let me know if you have questions, or have any proposals that you plan to submit in the coming months.
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29115805

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29115805-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 4:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE:

I'm really just the assistant, Julius. Overwhelming amount of credit goes to Kia.

_____
Kenneth R. Janken
Professor of Afro-American Studies
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB# 3395
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395

(919) 962-1519 (voice)
(919) 966-2694 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 8:14 AM
To: Caldwell, Kia L; Janken, Kenneth R
Subject:

Kia anad Kenneth:
Attached is my draft of "From the Chair's Desk." Please feel free to edit as you see fit since I have exceeded the number of words "dictated" by Kia....:) Again, thanks both for your efforts on this Issue.
Julius

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 6:09 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Rucker?

Hi Julius,
The Dean's Office would like the agreement and forms from Rucker by Monday… is this even remotely possible? Has he made a decision yet? I can send him the forms whenever is appropriate (but haven't yet), and then have him hand-deliver them to me on Monday (because I need originals)… What do you think?

Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 7:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE:

Hi Julius,
I was wondering if you would mind having me changed "died" to "passed away" in the pieces on Ann. It may be a euphemism, but I think it's a softer term. Let me know what you think.
The newsletter is almost finished!

Thanks,
Kia

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 8:14 AM
To: Caldwell, Kia L; Janken, Kenneth R
Subject:

Kia anad Kenneth:
Attached is my draft of "From the Chair's Desk." Please feel free to edit as you see fit since I have exceeded the number of words "dictated" by Kia....:) Again, thanks both for your efforts on this Issue.
Julius

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: State Health Plan Annual Enrollment Details

---

TO: All Permanent Employees

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Interim Senior Director, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

Annual enrollment for the State Health Plan begins May 9 and continues through June 8. The following email includes important coverage details and information that all State Health Plan members need to know. The annual enrollment materials have been mailed and should be arriving at your home address by week's end, but you can download an advance copy at http://shpnc.org/hbr-enrollment-matls/ae-kit-2011.pdf.

The University's enrollment website will open May 9. While enrollment continues through June 8, employees are encouraged to make their changes prior to May 24; otherwise, retroactive payroll deductions may be incurred as a result of any changes between May 24 and June 8.

ALL members with the State Health Plan as their primary health coverage will be moved to the 70/30 Basic plan, effective July 1. If members choose to remain on the Basic plan, no action is required unless members need to add or remove dependents. Access the University's enrollment website from the OHR website at http://hr.unc.edu/benefits/benefits-enrollment/CCM3_027450.

Here are important points about this year's enrollment:
-- Enrollments must be completed online; no paper forms will be accepted
-- You cannot enroll until May 9
-- You may enroll adult dependents, up to age 26, who are not eligible for their own employer-sponsored health coverage; regardless of student status, marital status or residential status
-- Employees must complete the questions concerning tobacco products and body mass index (BMI) to be eligible to re-enroll in the PPO Standard plan
-- Effective July 1, there will no longer be any pre-existing condition waiting periods for subscribers and/or dependents under the age of 19 enrolling in the State Health Plan for the 2011-2012 benefit year
-- On July 1, the State Health Plan will begin covering hearing aids and fittings for members 22 years of age and younger. A member can receive one hearing aid per hearing-impaired ear up to $2,500 once every three years. This benefit is subject to your deductible and coinsurance

The tobacco cessation component of the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative went into effect July 1, 2010, and the weight management component will go into effect July 1, 2011. The State Health Plan requires that all members start in the 70/30 Basic plan and must qualify for the 80/20 Standard plan. If members wish to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan, they must complete an Attestation Form declaring that they and, if applicable, their covered dependents:
-- do not use tobacco and have a Body Mass Index (BMI) less than 40
-- qualify for exemption due to participation in a tobacco cessation program and/or weight management program
-- have a medical condition that prevents the member from obtaining a healthy weight

Please note this does not apply to Medicare primary subscribers and their dependents.

A BMI calculator is available at the OHR website link above; you can use this to calculate your BMI prior to beginning the enrollment process.

The Attestation Form is a legally binding document that all employees must complete to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan.

If a member does not take action during annual enrollment, they will remain in the 70/30 Basic plan for the 2011/2012 benefit year.

Members claiming an exemption due to participation in a tobacco cessation program or weight management program, or due to a medical condition that prevents the member from obtaining a healthy weight must complete a physician certification form. The completed form must include a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant's dated signature or be obtained through QuitlineNC.

Members should keep the original, completed certification form for their records, as the Plan may request it at any time. The start date of the program on the physician certification form must be on or before July 1, 2011.

ENROLLMENT
Like last year, all enrollments will be completed online. This year, however, you will use your Onyen and password to sign on to the enrollment website. This is different from the login instructions provided in the enrollment booklet.

To obtain an Onyen, go to the following link: https://onyen.unc.edu/cgi-bin/unc_id/services. Call 962-HELP if you have login problems. For technical support once logged into the system, call 866-822-8688.

RETIREES (June 1 and July 1)
Pre-Medicare employees scheduled to retire either June 1 or July 1 will need to take the following action:
-- June 1 retiree -complete the Attestation process through the Retirement System's ORBIT site, or download the form and mail it to Retirement System.
-- July 1 retiree -follow the instructions given above to June 1 retirees, as well as log into http://unc.hrintouch.com using your Onyen and password and complete your elections for July 1
Additional retiree instructions can be found at the OHR website link above.

COMPREHENSIVE WELLNESS INITIATIVE SUPPORTS
NC HealthSmart, a State Health Plan initiative, offers a variety of resources to address concerns about tobacco use and weight management.

QuitlineNC offers tobacco cessation coaching and free over-the-counter generic nicotine replacement therapy patches to members, subject to specific limitations. 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669). QuitlineNC is available 8 a.m. to 3 a.m., seven days a week, in English and Spanish. In addition, a completed Physician Certification Form can be obtained from QuitlineNC free of charge.

Prescription medications for tobacco cessation, including patches, are covered. One-on-one counseling for tobacco use is also covered.

For weight management concerns, the Plan covers four visits per year for an in-network dietitian for primary care copay. Members with diabetes receive six free visits per year. In addition, FDA-approved weight management medications and certain medical procedures, including bariatric surgery, are covered. Restrictions do apply.

QUESTIONS
For detailed information on annual enrollment, the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative and additional resources and supports available to members, please visit the Benefits website at http://hr.unc.edu/benefits/benefit-plans/health-insurance/index.htm or call Benefit Services at 962-3071.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: Hellmark-Lindgren, Birgitta <Birgitta.Hellmark-Lindgren@nai.uu.se>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 7:17 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Johansson, Sonja <Sonja.Johansson@nai.uu.se>
Subject: An urgent request from the Nordic Africa Institute
Attach: Trading storiesBook ProposalZED.docx; Reader Questions - New Book Template.doc

---

Dear Professor Nyang'oro

The Nordic Africa Institute recently received a 7 page long book proposal aiming for the series Africa Now, which we publish together with ZED Books:

Proposed title:
Trading Stories: Africa's World Markets

Author: Margaret C. Lee
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Department of African and Afro-American Studies

You have been suggested as an external reviewer of the proposal and we would appreciate if you could make yourself available for this task. Attached you will find the book proposal, reader questions, introduction and sample chapters.

In return we can offer you two books from our book list:
http://www.nai.uu.se/publications/index.xml?Language=en&

"Africa Now is an exciting new series, published by ZED Books in association with the internationally respected Nordic Africa Institute. Featuring high-quality, cutting edge research from leading academics, the series will address the big issues confronting Africa today. Accessible but in-depth, and wide-ranging in its scope, Africa Now will engage with the critical political, economic, sociological and development debates affecting the continent, shedding new light on pressing concerns".

Please inform us, at your earliest convenience, if you are able and willing to accept the assignment.

Best regards,

Birgitta Hellmark Lindgren

Nordiska Afrikainstitutet
The Nordic Africa Institute

Birgitta Hellmark Lindgren
Head of communications
The Nordic Africa Institute/Nordiska Afrikainstitutet

P.O. Box 1703
SE - 751 47 Uppsala
(Kungsgatan 38, 75321 Uppsala) tel: +46 18 562200/562220(direct)
fax +46 18 562290
web: www.nai.uu.se

Zed Books
www.zedbooks.co.uk

Reader Questions – New Book

1. Quality

- Intellectually, is this a high-quality proposal?
- Is the proposal well-structured?
- Is it original?
- Does it engage thoroughly with the relevant material?
- Would the proposed book fit with perceptions of the Zed list?
- Are the title and subtitle appropriate?

2. Potential Market

- What would you envisage as the main market for this book?
- Would you use this book in your own teaching or research?
- In terms of style, structure etc. is the book well-tailored to the needs and expectations of this market?
- What, if any, books compete with this title? How would the proposed book differ?

3. Any other comments

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 9:59 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Rucker?

Okay, but I will need him to bring me original singed forms ON MONDAY. Should I go ahead and send the forms to him this week, so that he can get working on them if he thinks he might accept.

So much for his claim that he wants to stay in the Chapel Hill/Durham area!
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 05, 2011 6:09 AM
To: Buell, Agatha
Subject: RE: Rucker?

As I thought he would, he just told me that he has an offer from UConn and he is mulling over that. He wants to talk to me on Monday, but I will force the issue and talk to him Sat evening. We should have a determination of the issue at some point on Monday, hopefully early enough for us to do whatever is necessary.

From: Buell, Agatha
Sent: Wednesday, May 04, 2011 6:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Rucker?

Hi Julius,
The Dean's Office would like the agreement and forms from Rucker by Monday… is this even remotely possible? Has he made a decision yet? I can send him the forms whenever is appropriate (but haven't yet), and then have him hand-deliver them to me on Monday (because I need originals)… What do you think?

Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy

217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: ramses@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 11:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RAMSeS: URGENT: Authorization Request - 11-4088

Proposal No.: 11-4088
Proposal Lead PI: Geeta Kapur
Proposal Title:THE DESEGREGATION SOLDIERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

The above eIPF is being routed to you for approval because your department (African and Afro-American Studies) has been identified as an approving department. Please review the eIPF on RAMSeS and its attachments carefully, add any notes as you deem appropriate, and provide your electronic authorization so that it can be forwarded to OSR/SPO/OCT.

You also have the option of rejecting the eIPF if you notice a serious mistake in it. But doing so will require you to provide an explanatory note for your rejection and will also cause the eIPF to be returned to the administrative award department for re-routing.

From: ramses@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 11:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RAMSeS: URGENT: Certification Request - 11-4088

Proposal No.: 11-4088
Proposal Lead PI: Geeta Kapur
Proposal Title:THE DESEGREGATION SOLDIERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

The above eIPF naming you as PI has been submitted through RAMSeS, the UNC information management system for sponsored research programs. Your responsibility as PI is to log into RAMSeS now with your ONYEN or School of Medicine ID and password and in the "PI Certification Inbox" certify that you agree with the terms and conditions described therein.

It is critical that you complete this certification because without your certification, OSR/SPO/OCT will not submit your proposal to the sponsor. If there are multiple PIs named on this proposal, each one must complete the certification in RAMSeS.

RAMSeS also allows you to track the status and progress of your eIPF through the "PI Certification Inbox" click on the proposal number to view the status and monitor its progression through all affiliated departments.

From: coi@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 11:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Conflict of Interest Notification for RAMSeS Submission: 11-4088

To: Julius Nyang Oro

URGENT: Required action for Proposal Number: 11-4088 to Strowd Roses, Inc. Foundation titled THE DESEGREGATION SOLDIERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL is pending in the Office of Sponsored Research. You are identified as a Principal Investigator on the project.

University policy requires that every member of the research team certify Conflict of Interest status before a sponsored research application may be submitted. Please click here to complete a brief certification for this project.

Your prompt attention is appreciated. Failure to respond will prevent submission of this application. Questions on conflict of interest may be directed to coi@unc.edu or 919.843.5328.

 Please do not reply to this email.

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 12:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Afri 540

Hey,

On a very serious note, the next time I teach Afri 540 it must be with the "permission of the professor." Some of the students I have should still be in high school. I tell them over and over and over the same thing and for the life of them they don't or refuse to get it. In addition to this being a 540 level course, it is identified by the University as a "research intensive" course. I need students who know how to do research and are serious. I get 101 --- Baby steps, but I'm not feeling Baby steps in this course. That's why I designed it to be undergraduate/graduate.

OK. Needed to vent. Can's wait to get on that plane to China baby!

From: Sonia Gipson Rankin <sgrankin@unm.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 4:51 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Offering African American Courses online

Good afternoon, Dr. Nyang'oro,

My name is Sonia Gipson Rankin and I am the Associate Director of Africana Studies at the University of New Mexico. I am looking to start the process of offering Africana Studies courses through our online program here at UNM. I have been researching how cultural studies programs are working with online curriculum across the nation. I noticed UNM-Chapel Hill is offering three Summer and three Fall 2011 courses. http://www.fridaycenter.unc.edu/cp/cco/african.html I am interested in finding out more about your offering of online courses.

This is the busiest time at universities across the country, but I would love to ask you some questions, if you are free.

Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Sonia

Sonia M. Gipson Rankin, JD
Associate Director, Africana Studies
The University of New Mexico
Mesa Vista Hall 4th Floor MSC06 3730
Albuquerque, NM 87131
office 505.277.3769
fax 505.277.0730
sgrankin@unm.edu

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 5:51 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Latest Issue of Dept. Newsletter
Attach: CrossroadsNewsletter_Spring2011.pdf

Dear Colleagues:

Attached you will find the latest issue of the departmental newsletter, hot off the e-presses. Many thanks to everyone who submitted information, articles, and photos. Special thanks to Kenneth for helping to pull everything together.

Hard copies of the newsletter will be available at graduation on Saturday, as well.

Best regards,
Kia

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29121817
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29121817-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 6:09 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: RE:[afriafam] Latest Issue of Dept. Newsletter

Congratulations Kia. It looks great!

Margaret

From: Caldwell, Kia L [klcaldwe@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Thursday, May 05, 2011 5:50 PM
To: Department listserv
Subject: [afriafam] Latest Issue of Dept. Newsletter

Dear Colleagues:

Attached you will find the latest issue of the departmental newsletter, hot off the e-presses. Many thanks to everyone who submitted information, articles, and photos. Special thanks to Kenneth for helping to pull everything together.

Hard copies of the newsletter will be available at graduation on Saturday, as well.

Best regards,
Kia

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: leemc@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29121817
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29121817-32361602.0f47d9cb54cb465aee30529a6f2e272c@listserv.unc.edu
---
You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29121868
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29121868-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: State Budget Update

---

Dear Carolina Faculty and Staff:

This weekend, the greatest contribution Carolina makes will be proudly on display - smart and capable new graduates receiving hard-earned diplomas that you all helped make possible. With Commencement upon us, I wanted to share an update on the state budget process.

House Approves Budget Proposal

Yesterday, the House of Representatives gave final approval to its proposed budget for 2011-2013. The overall package mirrored fairly closely the targets set by the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Education several weeks ago.

This is just the next step in the budget process, following Governor Perdue's initial proposal in February. Now the Senate will develop its own budget, and we're optimistic that those reduction levels will be lower for the UNC system and education in general. Then both chambers will appoint a conference committee to negotiate over their differences before the Legislature votes on a final proposal to send to the governor.

Nevertheless, we remain very concerned, along with President Ross, about the disproportionate permanent cuts the House proposal would place on the UNC system - a net reduction of nearly $483 million (more than 17 percent) when factoring in proposed reductions to need-based financial aid.

At Carolina, our state dollars primarily support undergraduate instruction, so absorbing permanent cuts of this magnitude - more than $75 million - would mean long-term damage to how the faculty can teach students. We would have to make tough choices about dramatically increasing class sizes and reducing the number of sections we can offer. And there would be serious implications for the University's ability to pay for teaching positions at all levels that are supported by state funding, along with additional key staff positions.

We're thankful for the House's recognition of the importance of keeping tuition revenue on campus, fully funding enrollment growth and protecting the federal dollars the faculty attract for research - more than $800 million last year. The House budget preserves the state's contribution to the University Cancer Research Fund and provides for the possibility of some repair and renovation funding for buildings.

We've been consistent in asking the General Assembly to provide full flexibility in how we manage reductions, and that will be a very high priority moving forward.

Administrative Units Have Absorbed Major Cuts

We knew significant cuts were inevitable for this year. That's why we chose to proactively put in play a campus-wide $26 million (five percent) permanent cut, effective July 1, back in January. That will help cushion the blow of additional cuts, but we know there will be more and that they're going to be painful.

When the downturn began, we made a practical decision early on that administrative units would bear the heaviest burden to protect teaching and research. Finance and Administration, Information Technology Services and Human Resources have been hit particularly hard by cuts. Finance and Administration, for example, has absorbed reductions of more than 34 percent since 2008-2009, including permanent and one-time funding. That's not just a number. It represents people who have lost jobs and reduced services in campus services, finance, and facilities planning and construction.

Final Budget Timetable Uncertain

We can't make predictions about how long this year's budget process will take. Typically, questions about revenue issues like tuition come up at the end, so it's realistic to assume that, like last year, we won't have answers for our students and their parents about the increase they'll face next fall until the final budget has been approved.

When there are significant milestones to report, such as passage of a Senate version of a budget proposal, I plan to continue using University e-mail to keep the campus community informed. In the meantime, I'd also encourage you to visit our budget website, http://universityrelations.unc.edu/budget/, which is updated frequently.

It's hard to face the prospects of such a large cut, but I pledge to you that we'll keep making the strongest possible case for supporting our state universities. The commitment that President Ross has to higher education in North Carolina is incredibly important to us. His top priority is preserving the quality of the education we can provide to our students.

Please understand what a difficult challenge our legislative leaders have in coping with the state's budget difficulties this year. We're all hopeful that once we get through this budget cycle, future deliberations will be more positive as the state's economic recovery strengthens.

Thanks for all you do for Carolina.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Request for Proposals: 2011 Carolina Diversity Summit

---

Request for Proposals: "Intersectionality: Exploring Diversity from Varied Perspectives"

The 2011 Carolina Diversity Summit is sponsored by the Diversity Education Team (DET) and will be held on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in November, 2011. This day-long summit will feature a keynote speaker and concurrent breakout sessions in the morning and afternoon and will include a networking lunch. RFPs are now being solicited. Click here or point your web browser to www.unc.edu/diversity/2011diversitySummitRFP.pdf to access an RFP form.

Please submit RFPs electronically to Dr. Cookie Newsom via email at newsom@email.unc.edu by September 1, 2011. The DET welcomes RFPs from faculty, staff and students on any diversity issue, including, but not limited to: race, ethnicity, sexual orientation/identity, age, disability, gender, socio-economic status. We are particularly looking for presentations that are interactive and that deal with multiple or varied demographic topics. For questions please contact Dr. Cookie Newsom at: newsom@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 5, 2011 9:26 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: 2012 University Teaching Awards

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

SUBJECT: Teaching Award Nominations

As we prepare for Spring graduation, please consider nominating deserving teachers for the 2012 Teaching Awards. This is a particularly good time to reflect on the past year (or years) and remember teachers who have really made a difference. All members of the Carolina community are encouraged to nominate candidates for the 2012 awards.

The awards provide us with a way to acknowledge the central role of teaching at UNC-Chapel Hill by recognizing outstanding teachers and mentors. Some awards are available to graduate teaching assistants and staff, as well as to professors. Specific categories are shown below. Please read the award requirements carefully to determine eligibility.

Please provide comments in the nomination that will help the committee understand why your nominee is the best candidate for the award. Specific examples of particular ways in which the nominee has made a difference are especially effective. The comments will become part of the nominee's departmental personnel file. A nomination letter or statement must be included or the submission is invalid and will not be considered.
Nominations are accepted year round, but there are deadlines to observe. October 1 is the deadline for nominations for the awards to be announced in spring 2012. (This allows time for the committee to review the nominees, collect additional information about their teaching and recommend winners to the Chancellor.)

Please submit all nominations online at

http://provost.unc.edu/teaching-awards

Each year, we recognize faculty, staff and students for outstanding teaching. The University Committee on Teaching Awards strongly encourages you to nominate deserving faculty members and graduate teaching assistants for distinguished teaching awards. The committee will review the nominees, collect additional information and recommend winners to the Chancellor. This year, the committee will recommend recipients for six types of awards:

1. Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching: The Board of Governors gives this award to a tenured faculty member on each campus of the UNC System for excellent and exceptional undergraduate teaching over a sustained period of time.

2. Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement: This award acknowledges lifetime contributions to teaching, learning and mentoring beyond the classroom.

3. Distinguished Teaching Awards for Post-Baccalaureate Instruction: Four awards are given to faculty members for exceptional teaching of post-baccalaureate students.

4. Awards to Faculty for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching:

To full-time faculty members. Five Tanner Awards, one Friday Award, and two Sitterson Awards are given to full-time faculty members.

5. Tanner Awards to Graduate Teaching Assistants: Five Tanner Awards are given to graduate teaching assistants for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

6. Chapman Family Teaching Awards: Three or four Chapman Family Awards are given to full-time faculty members for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Thank you for your help in recognizing excellent teaching at Carolina!

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 5, 2011 10:31 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Assessing Performance Across Tasks 2

Assessing Performance Across Tasks 2: We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. Participants will spend approximately 30 minutes in our lab engaging in different tasks and earning money based on their decisions.
Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30 minutes
Pay: $7
IRB # 10 - 2032

Approved by the Behavioral IRB on November 11, 2010.

Please visit our website: www.c4dr.unc.edu to sign up.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of processing@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 10:51 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Learn more about Health Information!

Are you interested in learning more about health information?

Researchers at UNC Chapel Hill are conducting a study that is seeking to learn how people understand health information. To enroll in this study you must:

* speak English
* be between the ages 50-75 years
* not had a colorectal cancer screening in the past 5 years
* not have a family history of colorectal cancer
* not have a history of inflammatory bowel disease

Qualified participants must attend one interview that will last approximately 1 hour to 1 1/2 hours and will be conducted at the UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Participants will receive $30 in payment for their participation.

For more information, please call Karen at:(919) 351-9432 or (919) 843-8594 or send an email to processing@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (05/3/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (11-0746).
Study Title: Information Processing Test Study

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Julie M. Kinnaird <jmarante@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 6, 2011 2:12 PM
To: Global Updates K-12 Listserv <globalupdates@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: World View E.U. Workshop -- Space Available!

Last chance to sign up for this small, interactive workshop featuring experts on the European Union and materials for bringing Europe to your classroom! Space has become available for this small, interactive K-12 workshop. Registration fee of $50 includes one night accommodations at Aloft Hotel in Chapel Hill for the night of May 12 (for educators residing outside of the Triangle). Please call World View (919/962-9264) if you would like to join us next week!

The European Union & the €uro

A Workshop for K-12 Educators

Co-sponsored by World View and the UNC European Union Center of Excellence

May 12-13, 2011

FedEx Global Education Center, UNC at Chapel Hill

Join colleagues for a 1½ day workshop designed to help North Carolina K-12 teachers better understand our interconnected world by learning more about the European Union. This workshop will include presentations by EU scholars on the European Union and the Euro currency. Resources that use technology to enhance content and better integrate the EU in the school's curriculum will be provided. One CEU will be offered.

Session Highlights (Click here for current agenda)

The EU and the €uro Workshop for K-12 Educators

Cost: $50 per person
(includes hotel accommodations on May 12 for participants traveling from outside the Triangle and lunch on May 13)

To register: Call World View 919/962-9264

Space is limited to the first 25 participants.
Register today!
For more information please call 919/843-8210.

About Us

World View helps schools and colleges prepare students to succeed in an interconnected, diverse, and multicultural world.

World View
CB #8011, 208 N Columbia St
Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27599-8011

919/962-9264
unc.edu/world

- -- You are currently subscribed to globalupdates as: jen321@email.unc.edu To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29125803-5516874.70492b48a552675c322c54383e92d7fb@listserv.unc.edu

From: Greenway, Ryan <greenway@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 6, 2011 4:03 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asddd] FW: Fiscal Year-end Closing Dates and Procedures
Attach: 2011 Fiscal Year end dates and procedures.pdf

This message is being sent to all deans, directors, department heads, and managers in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Please see the attached memo with important dates leading up to the fiscal year-end.

From: Kelly-Scholle, Janet [mailto:janet_kelly-scholle@unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 03, 2011 1:10 PM
To: UNC Dept. Business Managers
Subject: [business_managers] Fiscal Year-end Closing Dates and Procedures

To: University Business Managers

From: Dennis Press, University Controller

Please see attached memo in PDF format regarding year-end procedures and accompanying dates.

- -- You are currently subscribed to business_managers as: betsy@unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29109459-35553178.e874753c4d7f1b04acdb80d922e8e433@listserv.unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY
of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

OFFICE OF THE CONTROLLER T 919-962-1370
104 AIRPORT DR., SUITE 3200 F 919-962-4140
CAMPUS BOX 1270
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-1270

MEMORANDUM

TO: University Business Managers

FROM: Dennis Press, University Controller

DATE: May 3, 2011

SUBJECT: Fiscal Year-end Closing Dates and Procedures

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide information concerning the year-end procedures and the dates that documentation must be received for payment in the fiscal year ending on June 30, 2011. It is important that these deadlines be met to ensure use of your 2010-2011 budgets rather than your 2011-2012 budgets.

Procurement Services Dates

June 3 — Last day to complete CABS ticket transactions for inclusion in fiscal year 2010-2011.

June 14 — Bank transmission date to UNC for June 2011. P-Card transactions completed prior to June 15 will appear on June statement provided the vendor transmits the charge information on the date of the transaction.

June 14 — Last day for delivery of e-commerce purchases from Staples, CDW-G, Fisher Scientific, Sigma Aldrich, VWR International, Perkin Elmer, Applied Biosys, DHL, FedEx, and National Welders to be billed in fiscal year 2010-2011.

June 14 — Last day for purchases from University storerooms to be billed in fiscal year 2010-2011.

June 16 — Last day to submit Check Requests, Independent Contractor, and Travel Reimbursement payments including appropriate documentation to Disbursement Services to ensure payment in fiscal year 2010-2011.

June 16 — Last day to submit invoices and receiving reports to Disbursement Services to ensure payment in fiscal year 2010-2011.

June 29 — Last day for ePro Vendor Catalog purchases from Staples, CDW-G, Grainger, MSC, Sigma Aldrich, VWR International, Perkin Elmer, Applied Biosys, and National Welders to be billed in fiscal year 2010-2011.

Accounting Services Dates

June 17	Last day to submit budgets for fiscal year 2010-2011 for select Trust Accounts with Contractual Agreements (Contract Trusts), Recharge Centers and Internal Service Funds.
June 17	Last day to submit paper account adjustments (includes internal invoices) to Accounting Services for processing in fiscal year 2010-2011.
June 24	Last day to submit online cash advance settlement journal entries.
June 29	Last date to submit approved (pre-audited) outgoing wire transfer instructions for processing in fiscal year 2010-2011.
June 30	Last day to submit account adjustments, via Online Journal Entry System for non-state funds. Last day to submit backup documentation for cash advance settlement entries.

Budget Office Dates

June 29	Last day to submit revisions for State and F&A funds.

Office of Student Accounts & University Receivables Dates

June 30	All receipts from credit card payments must be submitted via Departmental Deposits System by noon. Cash and check deposits must be received by noon.

Payroll Dates [Note that payroll dates refer to receipt of approved personnel actions in Payroll Services. Departments should allow for sufficient time for approval routing for personnel actions].

May 20	Last day approved personnel actions through EPA web will be accepted for the Summer Session I payroll paid on May 26 (first payment).
May 26	Last day approved personnel actions through HRIS and EPA web will be accepted for the biweekly payroll paid on June 3.
June 08	Last day approved personnel actions through EPA web will be accepted for the Summer Session I payroll paid on June 14 (second payment).
June 10	Last day approved personnel actions through HRIS and EPA web will be accepted for the biweekly payroll paid on June 17.
June 23	Last day approved personnel actions through EPA web will be accepted for monthly payroll paid on June 30.
June 27	Last day approved personnel actions through EPA web will be accepted for the Summer Session II payroll paid on July 1 (first payment).
July 18	Last day approved personnel actions through EPA web will be accepted for the Summer Session II payroll paid on July 22 (second payment).

Purchasing Considerations

All purchases in excess of $5,000 require competition. Any requirement for purchases in excess of $5,000 should be identified and subsequently approved prior to or no later than May 6 to ensure arrival prior to June 30th enabling payment by the end of the fiscal year. Regular purchase orders and blanket orders may be canceled using the Change Request form. Purchase orders that are not canceled or used will be carried forward to the new fiscal year and will obligate 2011-2012 budgets.

Disbursement Services Considerations

If the receiving has not been entered into the system, payment cannot be made and the purchase order will be charged against 2011-2012 budgets. Likewise, if the original vendor invoice is not received, payment cannot be made and the purchase order will be charged against 2011-2012 budgets. Incomplete documentation may delay your payment request; be certain that the item is fully documented before submitting it for processing. Payment cannot be made before the receipt of goods or services so do not indicate receipt of materials not received in order to use available funds or for any other reason.

Accounting Considerations

Cash deficits in most institutional trust and special fund accounts should be funded by June 30 through collection of receivables, transfers from other funds or other appropriate methods. Cash deficits should not be carried forward to the new fiscal year. If funds from University-related foundations on deposit in other FRS accounts will be used to fund expenditures for fiscal 2010-2011, the funds transfer request should be submitted by June 15.

State Budgeting Considerations

Sufficient budget balances or cash balances must be available to cover all disbursements from University accounts. The State does not allow deficits in any expenditure object. You should review your available budget balances on your monthly reports so all disbursements can be properly funded.

Cashiering Considerations

To comply with G.S. 147-77 and University policies, all departmental receipts must be deposited daily. Do not hold deposits for the new year. Delaying the deposit of University funds is a violation of State statutes. The Daily Cash Transmittal Form for electronic credit card deposits for 2010-2011 should be provided to the University Cashier no later than noon on June 30. If the person assigned with this responsibility is not at work on June 30, then the department is required to take appropriate measures to get the deposit entered by noon.

Payroll Considerations

The last biweekly payroll posted in the current year will be for the period ending June 5 (paid on June 17). The June monthly payroll will be paid and posted on June 30. Specific deadlines for the Summer Session payrolls have been established. (See year-end deadlines.) The Summer Session payroll dates are May 26 and June 14 for Session I and July 1 and July 22 for Session II.

Every effort will be made to effectively and efficiently use the University's resources. Your assistance in processing documents, monitoring your budgets and purchase orders, and adhering to deadlines is very important. Thank you for your cooperation.

From: Isaac Unah <unah@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 6, 2011 9:08 PM
To: Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Jordan, Joseph F <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Rosen, Richard A <rich_rosen@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Broun, Kenneth S <ksbroun@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Fwd: Deathwatch | endeavors

My Friends, I was recently interviewed for this Endeavors magazine article. I would like to share it with you in case you have not seen it yet. The photograph features Your's truly and Frank Baumgartner in front of Central Prison in Raleigh. A request for us to be photographed inside the execution chamber was denied.

---Isaac.

http://endeavors.unc.edu/deathwatch

From: Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, May 7, 2011 7:37 AM
To: Unah, Isaac J <unah@unc.edu>; Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Jordan, Joseph F <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Rosen, Richard A <rich_rosen@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Broun, Kenneth S <ksbroun@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: Deathwatch | endeavors

Isaac, your work on this cause has integrity and purpose and is quite literally a matter of life and death. Thanks much for sending the aricle. I'm proud to know you. -Reg

---

From: Isaac Unah [unah@unc.edu]
Sent: Friday, May 06, 2011 9:08 PM
To: Hildebrand, Reginald F; Selassie, Bereket H; Jordan, Joseph F; Rosen, Richard A; Nyang Oro, Julius E; Broun, Kenneth S
Subject: Fwd: Deathwatch | endeavors

My Friends, I was recently interviewed for this Endeavors magazine article. I would like to share it with you in case you have not seen it yet. The photograph features Your's truly and Frank Baumgartner in front of Central Prison in Raleigh. A request for us to be photographed inside the execution chamber was denied.

---Isaac.
http://endeavors.unc.edu/deathwatch

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, May 7, 2011 12:12 PM
To: Unah, Isaac J <unah@unc.edu>
Cc: Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Rosen, Richard A <rich_rosen@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Broun, Kenneth S <ksbroun@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Deathwatch | endeavors

Great work and great piece Isaac. Glad you are keeping this line of advocacy alive -- and pressing the powers that be!
On May 6, 2011, at 9:08 PM, Isaac Unah wrote:

> My Friends, I was recently interviewed for this Endeavors magazine article. I would like to share it with you in case you have not seen it yet. The photograph features Your's truly and Frank Baumgartner in front of Central Prison in Raleigh. A request for us to be photographed inside the execution chamber was denied.
>
> ---Isaac.
>
> http://endeavors.unc.edu/deathwatch

Joseph Jordan, Director
Sonja Haynes Stone Center
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
(919) 962-9001
jfjordan@email.unc.edu

From: Deborah Stroman <dstroman@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, May 8, 2011 12:22 AM
To: cbcchair@unc.edu
Subject: Carolina Black Caucus - E-News
Attach: CBC E-News 5.8.11.pdf

Happy Mother's Day to all the sisters who have mothered, instructed, mentored, and prayed for young people and our community.

We hope you can join us for a fun end-of-the-year event this Friday, May 13th at 5:00 p.m. at the Student Union's Cabaret Room. We have a delicious menu and Line Dancing scheduled to guarantee a good time. Never Line Danced before? (Electric Slide doesn't count!) Great! Our instructor, Leigh Williams, is one of the most beloved and talented teachers in the Triangle. Guests are welcome too.

Be sure to check the signage for entrance as the event is after-hours so many doors may be closed. If you have any achievements and announcements for recognition, please let us know. We want to celebrate our community!

Not a member of the Caucus yet? www.unc.edu/cbc
Please join us on Friday and meet new colleagues and friends.

Note: We apologize for any duplication in emails. This note was also sent in a separate listing to all Black tenured faculty.

Harambe,

debby

Deborah Stroman, Ph.D. CLU

Exercise and Sport Science Department
Sport Administration

CB 8700
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
919.843.0336

UNC
CAROLINA BLACK CAUCUS

Celebrating Our Community

UNC
CAROLINA BLACK CAUCUS
Celebrating Our Community

Our vision is a university community that consistently and enthusiastically fosters, supports and celebrates the achievement of Black employees at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

cbcinfo@unc.edu

OUR EVENTS

It's the end of the academic year – Let's Celebrate! Congratulations to all the parents of graduating students.

- "Spring Social" - Friday, May 13, 2011 at 5:00 p.m. Frank Porter Graham Student Union

Carolina Black Caucus
invites you to the
CBC Spring Social
Friday, May 13, 2011
5:00 - 8:00 P.M.
FPG Student Union - Cabaret Room
Step the night away with the Triangle's #1 Chicago Style Steppin' line dance instructor:
LEIGH WILLIAMS
Join us as we celebrate community and accomplishments. Enjoy great fellowship and food that will keep you light on your feet!
CBC Members - Free UNC Employees - $5
Guests - $15
(payment will be collected at the event)
Click this invitation to R.S.V.P. by May 6th

We look forward to gathering for our end-of-year event to fellowship and celebrate achievements. Members of the Bull City Sliders will be with us to help get the party started. ☺ We will also say goodbye to Herb Davis a true Carolina gem for our community. The food menu is delicious and the Line Dancing (Beginner's Welcome!) will certainly generate smiles and laughter. Note: The event is after-hours so look for signage to gain entrance to the Union's Cabaret Room. Guests are encouraged to join us so pass the word!

- Orange County Habitat for Humanity – Saturday, May 14 – Two Build shifts: 8:14 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. or 12:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. If interested, send a note to shandra_jones@unc.edu by this Thursday at noon.

YOU NEED TO KNOW…

- Visit Carolina Black Caucus website! http://www.unc.edu/cbc You may submit events (UNC and local community activities) on the calendar! Stay informed.

- There are no Membership Meetings over the summer. We will reconvene in August with the "Welcome Back" event. However, special CBC committee meetings or the Task Force on Athletics activities may be scheduled. E-Newsletters will be distributed, as necessary.

- The Caucus continues to gain awareness! Wear your Caucus hat with pride. Hats will be available at the Spring Social. $5 members and $10 non-members.

- The documentation of the history of the CBC is critical to our future. Representatives from the Library's Archivists and Center of the Study of the American South met with the Caucus chair to begin planning on the formal process. Thanks to Holly Smith for her leadership! If you are interested in serving on this important project please send a note to cbcinfo@unc.edu

- The Caucus would like to be the central aggregator of all Black-related events and programs. So if you are aware of events, please add them to the Caucus calendar. http://www.unc.edu/cbc/submit_event.html

- Caucus Cares (Athletics) – Many Black varsity student athletes will be on campus this summer. Caucus members interested in participating in this outreach, please contact cbcchair@unc.edu to receive updates and information.

- Interested in Gender Equity at UNC? The Committee on Gender Equity is comprised of leaders of the Faculty Council Committee on the Status of Women, the Association of Women Faculty and Professionals, the Association of Women in the Medical School, Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, the Women's Affairs subcommittee of Student Government, and representatives from the Graduate and Student Professional Association and the Employee Forum. If you are interested in serving, please send a note to cbcchair@unc.edu.

NON-CBC EVENTS

1. Jazz in Chapel Hill!! aLive Tuesdays is a FREE, ALL AGES night of jazz, Hip Hop and soul EVERY 2nd & 4th Tuesday at 9:00 p.m. at Jack Sprat (161 Franklin Street) hosted by THE BEAST. The food is always great at Sprat too. This month's line-up is awesome:

May 10 | Tim Smith - Effortless on the sax and flute, and has a beautiful voice to match. Leader of the Tim Smith Band, he puts on an incredible live show, which will include a touch of jazz, reggae and soul.

May 24 | Shirlette Ammons - Poet, emcee, bassist and activist. Leader of the hip hop/rock band Mosadi Music, her latest project is a collaborative venture with Chapel Hill's Dynamite Brothers. Her infectious energy and stage presence is not to be missed.

http://www.facebook.com/event.php?eid=164447583615436

2. "30 Americans" – NC Museum of Art - March 19–September 4, 2011
East Building, Meymandi Exhibition Gallery - 2110 Blue Ridge Road Raleigh – 919.839.6262

30 Americans presents more than 70 works of art by many of the leading contemporary African American artists. Organized by the Rubell Family Collection, an internationally renowned collection of contemporary art, the exhibition features painting, drawing, photography, video, sculpture, and mixed-media installations.30 Americans brings together established and emerging artists whose work explores issues of race, gender, identity, history, and popular culture. By featuring seminal figures such as Jean-Michael Basquiat and David Hammons alongside rising stars such as Nick Cave and Kehinde Wiley, 30 Americans also highlights artistic legacy and influence, and illustrates how a previous generation of African American artists has influenced artists working today.

3. Stay tuned! The 2011 Carolina Diversity Summit is sponsored by the Diversity Education Team (DET) and will be held on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in November, 2011. This day-long summit will feature a keynote speaker and concurrent breakout sessions in the morning and afternoon and will include a networking lunch. RFPs are now being solicited. Click here or point your web browser to www.unc.edu/diversity/2011diversitySummitRFP.pdf to access an RFP form. Please submit RFPs electronically to Dr. Cookie Newsom via email at newsom@email.unc.edu by September 1, 2011.

4. Blue Ribbon Mentor-Advocate Program needs mentors and advocates! Mentors work actively and directly with students, but they also help their mentees succeed by becoming advocates. A successful advocate makes sure that their mentee is receiving the services they need in school, and helps the student take advantage of other supports in the community. Kudos to Blue Ribbon Mentor-Advocate as they won a 2011 University Diversity Award!

Blue Ribbon
Mentor-Advocate
CHAPEL HILL-CARRBORO CITY SCHOOLS

5. DPAC - http://www.dpacnc.com/

- June 3 – BB King
- June 19 – Martin Lawrence

DPAC
DURHAM
PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Kudos to Herb Davis! Herb has served the university tirelessly and made a difference for our community as the Associate Director of Undergraduate Admissions. He retires on May 31 after 35 years of service. We will miss his leadership and inspirational service to the Caucus and the university community! Stay tuned for our salute to our "Gentle Giant"!

- Congratulations to Dr. Eunice Sahle who received the 2011 Student Undergraduate Teaching Award! Sahle is an associate professor with a joint appointment in African and Afro-American Studies and Global Studies. She teaches courses on human rights and ethics in the context of a globalizing world, Development theories and practices, international political economy and social movements in Africa and the African Diaspora. studies.

- Spotlight! William "Bus" Hubbard's first day on the job at UNC was in March 1953 – and even now, at the age of 76, he is not quite ready to consider when his last day might be. Mr. Hubbard is featured on the UNC homepage - http://www.unc.edu/spotlight/bus_hubbard

- Community News – Please send your organization's events and activity information to cbcinfo@unc.edu. We want to collect and share information (e.g., retirements, anniversaries, milestones, accomplishments, etc.) concerning Black employees.

UNC

CAROLINA BLACK CAUCUS

Celebrating Our Community

"In every community, there is work to be done. In every nation, there are wounds to heal.
In every heart, there is the power to do it." M. Williamson

From: Aldrich, Howard E <Howard_Aldrich@unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, May 8, 2011 2:53 PM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula <dptcrchairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [dptcrchairs] parking problems on Saturday for graduation ceremonies
Attach: Howard Aldrich.vcf

How many of you had reports of parents not finding legal parking spots on campus on Saturday and having the cars ticketed when they parked illegally?
Best,

Howard

Howard Aldrich
UNC Chapel Hill
Distinguished Professor/dept. ch...
Sociology
(919) 962-1008 Work
(919) 962-5044 Work
howard_aldrich@unc.edu
202 Hamilton Hall $ Sociology D... http://www.unc.edu/~healdric/

<><><><><><><><><><><><><><><><><><><><>

"It's taken me most of my life to know which notes not to play." Dizzy Gillespie.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 9:06 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Meeting with Carl

Julius-

Hope all is well. I am following up to see if you have heard from Carl about our possible meeting. Just let me know.

If not, maybe you can send a follow up note.

Thanks!

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Demetriou, Cynthia <cyndem@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 9:08 AM
To:
Subject: This Friday: Identifying Your Strengths and Using Them in Your Work with Students

---

Please join us this Friday for our last spring brown bag lunch!

Brown Bag Lunch Series on

THE CROSSROADS OF STUDENT SUCCESS: ACADEMICS, WELLNESS AND ENGAGEMENT

SPRING 2011 SCHEDULE

February 18th Living-Learning Communities and Student Success with Annice Fisher, Assistant Director for Academic Collaboration and Assessment, Housing & Residential Education

Carolina's Living-Learning Communities (LLC) give students a unique, inclusive residential learning experience that connects classroom learning with residence life. Students benefit from living among a group of students who share academic goals and interests. Through student, faculty and staff partnerships, as well as educational and cultural programs, students broaden their perspectives and understanding of the world around them. This holistic approach complements classroom experiences and lays the foundation for students to become better prepared to succeed in life beyond college. Join us for this session to learn more about how LLCs promote student success at Carolina!

March 18th Student Sexual Assault: Prevention and Support with Kelli Raker, Rape Prevention Education Coordinator, Counseling and Wellness Services

Statistics show that one in four women are sexually assaulted in their lifetimes. Unfortunately, the students at Carolina are not protected from this disturbing reality. Please join us to learn more about what we have learned about sexual assault on our campus and new initiatives in place to address the issue. We will also discuss how to best respond to students who disclose assault, resources in place to support survivors, and the process and importance of blind reporting.

April 15th Strategies for De-Escalating Upset Students with Greg Stonerock, M.A., Pre-doctoral Intern, Counseling and Wellness Services and Amy Schmitz-Sciborski, Clinical Psychologist, Counseling and Wellness Services

Have you ever worked with an irate student and nothing you say calms him or her down? In fact, the anger just seems to escalate? These situations can be frustrating, annoying, and even scary. Please join us to learn effective strategies for de-escalating upset students and how to stay mindful of your personal safety during potentially dangerous situations. Come ready to role play and please feel free to share your own experiences with these difficult encounters.

May 13th Identifying Your Strengths and Using Them in Your Work with Students with Demi Brown, Assistant Dean of Students, Office of the Dean of Students

What are your personal strengths? How can you recognize, nurture and build on your strengths in your work with students? In this session we will talk about identifying your personal strengths using the Strengths Finder program as well as how to use this information to enhance your work with students. The first 20 people who RSVP to this event to studentsuccess@unc.edu will be given a login to complete the Strengths Finder online. We will discuss results from the Strengths Finder during this session.

All lunches are from noon to 1:30 in Graham Memorial 011

Bring a friend!

For further information or requests for future topics, contact:

Cynthia Demetriou, Office of Undergraduate Education, cyndem@email.unc.edu

Alice Dawson, Academic Advising, adawson@email.unc.edu

Amy Schmitz-Sciborski, Counseling and Wellness Services, schmitzs@email.unc.edu

Cynthia Demetriou
Director for Retention
Office of Undergraduate Education
UNC Chapel Hill
3008 Steele Building, CB# 3504
(919) 843-5015

www.studentsuccess.unc.edu
www.firstgeneration.unc.edu

From: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 12:03 PM
To: Nzongola-Ntalaja, Georges <nzongola@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>; Clarke, Tiffany D <tiffany_clarke@unc.edu>
Subject: Acting directorship of the African Studies Center

Dear Georges,

I am pleased to hear that you are willing to consider the acting directorship of the African Studies Center for 2011-12, while Mike Lambert is teaching abroad and on a research and study assignment. I believe Mike has informed you of the principal responsibilities during this upcoming year of keeping current programs running – Barbara Anderson would remain active as associate director and Mike would be available through email if necessary.

Please make an appointment to see me, preferably for tomorrow Tuesday or for Wednesday, as I leave Thursday for a 10 day trip, either through Tiffany Clarke at 962-1165 or via email.

Thank you, Jonathan

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and
International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences
Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science
205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

From: Beacon Press <bpexam@beacon.org>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 1:32 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Ideal for courses:a psychiatrist & scholar on the racialization of Schizophrenia

---

A leading psychiatrist and scholar exposes the racialization of Schizophrenia—starting with the civil rights era and continuing today

---

cover

Ideal for courses in:
- African American Studies
- History of Civil Rights
- Psychiatry
- Medical Ethics
- Sociology of Mental Health
- Black Sociology
- American Studies
- Medical Sociology
- Medical Anthropology

- Read an excerpt
- Table of contents

The Protest Psychosis: How Schizophrenia Became a Black Disease

Jonathan M. Metzl

Paperback | 978-0-8070-0127-1 | 288 pgs
$22.00 | EXAM COPY PRICE: $11.00

The civil rights era is largely remembered as a time of sit-ins, boycotts, and riots. But a very different civil rights history evolved at the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane in Ionia, Michigan. Here, African American men suddenly appeared in the asylum's previously white, locked wards. Some of these men came to the attention of the state after participating in civil rights demonstrations, while others were sent by the military, the penal system, or the police. Once at Ionia, psychiatrists classified these men under a single diagnosis: schizophrenia.

In The Protest Psychosis, psychiatrist and cultural critic Jonathan Metzl tells the shocking story of how schizophrenia became the diagnostic term overwhelmingly applied to African American men. Expertly sifting through a vast array of cultural documents, Metzl shows how associations between schizophrenia and blackness emerged during the tumultuous decades of the 1960s and 1970s--and he provides a cautionary tale of how anxieties about race continue to impact doctor-patient interactions in our seemingly postracial era of genetics, pharmacokinetics, and brain scans.

Praise for The Protest Psychosis

"The most important book on schizophrenia in years." --Byron Good, Harvard Medical School

"A fascinating, penetrating book by one of medicine's most exceptional young scholars....Folding together equal measures of historical analysis, psychiatry,social criticism, and impeccable research, The Protest Psychosis offers not only psychiatrists but anyone involved in health care new insight into the nature of disease, the ongoing flux of medical knowledge, the influence of culture and politics on medicine and science, and the "unequal treatment" still at play regarding race in the United States." --Delese Wear, JAMA: The Journal of the American Medical Association

"[Metzl] meticulously uses statistical analyses to illustrate medicine's lack of objectivity and tendency to mirror mainstream attitudes-the effects of which include how contemporary mental institutions and prisons were created and how those incarcerated were overwhelmingly black....The Protest Psychosis convincingly portrays how mainstream values affected psychiatry and 'racialized' various mental disorders. In the process, Metzl presents the compelling historical, political and philosophical ideas that affected the very foundation of medicine in the 20th century." ---Manfred Tejerina, The New Physician

"A stunning and disturbing book. Jonathan Metzl shows how white fears of black militancy, radical shifts in diagnoses, the pharmaceutical industry's promotion of new antipsychotic drugs, and the rise of a carceral state converged to invent the schizophrenic Negro. The Protest Psychosis is a compelling cultural history that exposes postwar psychiatry's racist character and its enduring legacy." --Robin D. G. Kelley, author of Thelonious Monk: The Life and Times of an American Original

"The Protest Psychosis is a passionate condemnation of the relationship between psychiatric diagnosis and race." --Tanya M. Luhrmann, The American Journal of Psychiatry

"This important and engaging book addresses conceptions of schizophrenia in psychiatry as well as in broader social and political thinking....Metzl offers a bold and compelling alternative perspective that challenges notions of psychiatry as an objective and bias-free enterprise....Metzl addresses a long-standing diagnostic tension in psychiatry with insight, clarity, and informative historical detail." --Health Affairs

About the author

Jonathan M. Metzl is associate professor of psychiatry and women's studies and director of the Culture, Health, and Medicine Program at the University of Michigan. A 2008 Guggenheim Fellowship recipient, Metzl has written extensively for medical, psychiatry, and popular publications. His books include Prozac on the Couch and Difference and Identity in Medicine.

Examination copies of The Protest Psychosis are available from Random House Academic Resources. Exam copies are 50% off for paperback books whose price is over $20.00. For more information on ordering exam copies, please visit the Random House Academic Resources website. Exam copies may be ordered online with a credit card. You may also submit your request in writing on college letterhead stating the name and ISBN of the title, course name, and expected enrollment. Please make checks or money orders (no cash) payable to Random House, Inc. Requests on college letterhead should be sent to: Random House Academic Marketing, 1745 Broadway, 20-2, New York, NY 10019.

---

www.beacon.org | Beacon Press, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02108. Beacon Press is distributed by Random House Publishing Services.

This is a commercial message.

If you would prefer not to receive further messages from this sender, please click on the following e-mail link and send a message with or without any text:

Click here for e-mail

You will receive one additional e-mail message confirming your removal.

From:	Czerwinski, Laura Alise <laura_czerwinski@unc.edu>
Sent:	Monday, May 9, 2011 2:09 PM
To:	Kiel, David <kiel@email.unc.edu>
Cc:	Czerwinski, Laura Alise <laura_czerwinski@unc.edu>
Subject:	Upcoming Leadership Opportunities
Attach:	AppreciativeInq.pdf; DifficultDialogues.pdf

This is a reminder about the Center for Faculty Excellence's upcoming leadership opportunities. Please find the attached workshop flyers and pass them along to anyone you think might benefit. Details are also below.

Appreciative Inquiry: A Model for Strengths-Based Leadership and Organizational Improvement
Thursday, May 19, 2011. 9am – 5pm
Hyde Hall, University Room (109)
(continental breakfast and lunch provided) http://reg.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-c6dcfc7395604dc59a4b8b2290fa54fe

Difficult Dialogues: Communicating Effectively when Circumstances are Stressful and the Stakes Are High
Friday, May 20, 2011. 8:30am - 12:00pm
Carroll Hall, Freedom Forum Conference Center (continental breakfast provided) http://reg.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-1fcd351ca0c1411ba61828fd6b757d02

You are receiving this email from David Kiel, Center for Faculty Excellence Leadership Coordinator, because you have expressed an interest in leadership through participation in the Academic Leadership Program, Chairs Leadership Program, the Kauffman Fellows Program, a previous CFE leadership offering, or are engaged in faculty development at UNC. Several times a semester (not many) I will pass along a leadership program that might be of interest. If you want me to unsuscribe you from this list just let me know and I will.

The Center for Faculty Excellence and Office of Faculty Governance Present

Appreciative Inquiry: A Model for Strengths-Based Leadership and Organizational Improvement

About the Workshop

The workshop will provide an overview of Appreciative Inquiry (AI) principles and practices. AI is a method of eliciting the positive narratives that inform a strengths-based approach to initiating change. Participants will experience an AI Discovery interview; discuss how AI is currently being used at UNC; consider how participants might use AI within their classes, programs, and units; and continue to build the network of AI users on campus.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:30AM, and the workshop will begin at 9:00AM. Lunch will also be served.

About Appreciative Inquiry at UNC

Appreciative Inquiry (AI) is a transformative organizational design approach and management philosophy that has implications for every aspect of business, organization, and community. AI urges us to rediscover and organize around strengths, positive experiences, and assets rather than deficits and problems. The first AI workshop for UNC faculty was held on campus last spring. Subsequently, AI approaches were used to develop planning retreats for three departments, to make faculty council meetings more engaging, and to improve faculty development seminars. Faculty and staff in the School of Government have used AI as a way of engaging agencies, and faculty in the School of Nursing have used AI as an action-research approach to improving health system performance. AI draws on the work of positive psychologists at UNC and elsewhere for empirical support for the underlying principles of this approach to organizational change.

To support those interested in learning more about AI, the staff at the UNC Health Sciences Library have developed the following websites:

http://guides.hsl.unc.edu/AI

http://aiatunc.wordpress.com

Thursday, May 19, 2011

9:00AM - 5:00PM
University Room,
Hyde Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html

Limit: 40 Participants

About the Facilitator

Sallie Lee facilitated a workshop for UNC faculty last year that was very well received and she is back this year "by popular demand." She has offered AI training around the world for the past 15 years, reaching more than 1,000 participants in a wide variety of business, government, and non-profit organizations.

Learn more about her at:
http://www.sharedsunstudio.com

"The task of leadership is to create an alignment of strengths, making our weaknesses irrelevant."
Peter Drucker

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

UNC Center for Faculty Excellence and the UNC Office of Human Resources Present:

Difficult Dialogues: Communicating Effectively When Circumstances Are Stressful and the Stakes Are High

About the Workshop

Participants in this workshop will learn a model for handling difficult conversations and then have an opportunity to practice with colleagues using case situations they bring into the group. All participants agree to maintain confidentiality. The main goals are to give faculty leaders a method for conducting these conversations and to build the confidence required for them to be effective.

With budget cuts looming for 2011-12, it is inevitable that some faculty and staff will experience negative changes. Communicating these changes clearly and sensitively to the affected individuals is the first step toward helping everyone adjust to new circumstances and move on to creative responses. Even experienced managers may have trouble conducting these types of conversations, and faculty who are new to leadership roles may need some guidance and support to navigate these situations and to prevent additional problems.

A continental breakfast will be available at 8:00AM, and the workshop will begin at 8:30AM.

About the Facilitators

Verita Murrill is the Senior Manager of Training and Talent Development in the Office of Human Resources at UNC. She has received training in a number of different communication and problem-solving approaches, and has helped many faculty and staff leaders manage complex relationships and conduct difficult conversations. She also led the Conversation Circle Program this past year, which established peer mentoring groups for leaders on campus. She will be assisted by David Kiel, Leadership Coordinator in the Center for Faculty Excellence. Dr. Kiel served as co-facilitator for the Institute of the Arts and Humanities Academic Leadership Program for nine years and currently is co-facilitator for the Chairs Leadership Program of the College of Arts and Sciences. In these capacities, he has advised and coached faculty leaders on how to approach and continue difficult conversations related to a wide variety of important academic decisions and personnel situations.

Friday, May 20, 2011
8:00AM - 12:00PM
Freedom Forum,
305 Carroll Hall

To Register:
http://cfe.unc.edu/events.html
Limit: 15 Participants

Verita Murrill
Senior Manager of Training
and Talent Development
Office of Human Resources
verita_murrill@unc.edu

David Kiel
Leadership Coordinator
Center for Faculty Excellence
kiel@email.unc.edu

UNC
CENTER FOR
FACULTY EXCELLENCE

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 2:37 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Meeting with Carl

LOL, thanks!

Now when should I be planning my trip to South Africa? I am SO serious about wanting to go. As you know I am a planner and want to make sure I am doing/have done everything necessary.

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Monday, May 09, 2011 2:36 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Meeting with Carl

Hi Boss: I have sent a follow up. He should be around anyway because Summer School begins tomorrow. I am sure you are fine.....:)

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Monday, May 09, 2011 9:05 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Meeting with Carl

Julius-

Hope all is well. I am following up to see if you have heard from Carl about our possible meeting. Just let me know.

If not, maybe you can send a follow up note.

Thanks!

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: coi@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 4:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: COI Submission

Your COI submission has been received.

From: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 5:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Afri 101
Attach: Afri101Summer2010.doc

Here it is....

****

Travis Gore
Student Services Manager
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB# 3395
p 919.966.5496

INTRODUCTION TO AFRICAN CIVILIZATION

AFRICAN STUDIES 101 (9:45-11:15) SUMMER SESSION 1 2010

Julius E. Nyang'oro (jen321@email.unc.edu)
Office Hours: M, T, TR 2:00-4:00 Office: 101 Battle Hall

Course Description: This course is an introduction to the African continent. It is intended to fulfill two primary purposes: to acquaint the student with the African environment, its peoples, their culture, past and contemporary society, and to develop an appreciation for African civilization as it has evolved over the years. How Africa relates to a globalized world will be an important aspect covered by this course.

Course Requirements: Students will be responsible for material covered in lectures and assigned texts. Please note that a considerable amount of reading material has been placed on the reserve reading collection (Undergraduate Library). It is important that most of the assigned readings be completed before the day they appear on the syllabus. This will facilitate meaningful discussion in class. There will be 2 quizzes, a term paper, and a final exam. Class attendance in mandatory.

Dates of quizzes and exam	Percentage of Grade
Map quiz: May 18	20%
Mid-Term: May 28	20%
Term Paper: June 11	20%
Final Exam: June 14	40%

Tue May 11	Introduction: Understanding Contemporary Africa
Wed May 12	The Contemporary Map of Africa: Martin & O'Meara pp3-45
Th May 13	Country Projects: Assignments to be given in class
Fri May 14	Country Projects
Mon May 17	Reconstructing Africa's Past Martin & O'Meara Ch. 4
Tue May 18	MAP QUIZ The Languages of Africa: Bohannan & Curtin, Ch4 (Reserve)
Wed May 19	Traditional African Social & Political Systems Martin and O'Meara, Chs 4, 9, G&G Chs 9

Th May 20	Continue Traditional African Social & Political Systems Martin and O'Meara, Chs 4, 9, Gordon & Gordon, Ch 9
Fri May 21	Video: Mazrui, Legacy of Lifestyles
Mon May 24	TBA
Tue May 25	Religion in Africa (General) Gordon & Gordon Ch. 11
Wed May 26	Islam in Africa Martin & O'Meara Ch 5
Th May 27	Video: Gates "Wonders of Africa" Segment on Religion in Ethiopia
Fri May 28	MID-TERM
Tue June 1	The European Conquest of Africa Curtin et al Ch 15 (on Reserve), Martin & O'Meara: Chapter 6
Wed June 2	Imperialism and Colonial Rule: Impact on African Societies Martin & O'Meara, Ch. 7; Curtain et. al Ch 16 (on Reserve), Rodney Ch 5 (on Reserve)
Th June 3	Video: Mazuri, "Tools of Exploitation"
Fri June 4	African Decolonization/Nationalism Martin & O'Meara Ch 8
Mon June 7	Video: Mau Mau
Tue June 8	A Grain of Wheat as a Reflection of African Nationalist
Wed June 9	Post-Independence Politics in Africa Gordon & Gordon, Ch4
Th June 10	Your country examples
Fri June 11	End of Classes
Mon June 14	Final Exam 8:00-11:00am

From: Mail Delivery System [MAILER-DAEMON@mxip2i.isis.unc.edu]
Sent: 5/9/2011 11:29:48 PM
To: dlaborde@hermesllc.com
Subject: Undeliverable: My CV
Attachments: My CV

Your message
To: dlaborde@hermesllc.com
Subject: My CV
Sent: 5/9/2011 11:29:46 PM

Delivery has failed to these recipients or groups:

dlaborde@hermesllc.com
A problem occurred during the delivery of this message to this e-mail address. Try sending this message again. If the problem continues, please contact your helpdesk.

Diagnostic information for administrators:

Generating server: mxip2i.isis.unc.edu

dlaborde@hermesllc.com
#< #5.0.0 smtp; 5.1.2 - Bad destination host 'DNS Hard Error looking up hermesllc.com (MX): NXDomain' (delivery attempts: 0)> #SMTP#

Original message headers:

```
X-IronPort-Anti-Spam-Filtered: true
X-IronPort-Anti-Spam-Result: Av0EAON3yE2sG6xB/2dsb2JhbACCY6Med4hqngSWYohwhgwEnkI
X-IronPort-AV: E=Sophos;i="4.64,342,1301889600";
   d="doc'32?scan'32,208,217,32";a="78090790"
Received: from its-msxht0.ad.unc.edu ([172.27.172.65])  by mxip2o.isis.unc.edu with ESMTP; 09 May 2011 19:29:47 -0400
Received: from its-msxmbs3m.ad.unc.edu ([169.254.1.31]) by
 ITS-MSXHT0.ad.unc.edu ([172.27.172.65]) with mapi id 14.01.0289.001; Mon, 9
 May 2011 19:29:47 -0400
From: "Nyang Oro, Julius E" <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
To: "dlaborde@hermesllc.com" <dlaborde@hermesllc.com>
Subject: My CV
Thread-Topic: My CV
Thread-Index: AQHMDqD7BMor2eyWh0SVAiLu3AWwKw==
Date: Mon, 9 May 2011 23:29:46 +0000
Message-ID: <B13BDFFCAB80CA4AB4B227482F6249C20EA15AD2@ITS-MSXMBS3M.ad.unc.edu>
Accept-Language: en-US
Content-Language: en-US
X-MS-Has-Attach: yes
X-MS-TNEF-Correlator:
x-originating-ip: [152.19.236.2]
Content-Type: text/plain
MIME-Version: 1.0
```

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 7:30 PM
To: dlaborde@hermeslllc.com
Subject: My CV

--_004_B13BDFFCAB80CA4AB4B227482F6249C20EA15AD2ITSMSXMBS3Madun_--

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of susan_bream@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Free Esophageal Screening

Research Subjects Needed

Are you concerned about esophageal conditions? (i.e. acid reflux, family history or other possible reasons)

If you are in good health and between the ages of 40 and 85, you may be eligible for a research study involving a free screening of your esophagus to rule out any abnormalities. Study participation will last about 1-2 hours. Compensation may be included for eligible participants.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please call 919-966-7655 or e-mail susan_bream@med.unc.edu

IRB# 09-0300. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB 1-10-2011
This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of termaat@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:34 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Request for Annotation Study Participants

---

Be part of a research study...

Tell us how you annotate scholarly literature
and earn $30

You will be interviewed about your experience with annotations in scholarly and academic settings. You will also be asked to provide examples of your annotations and for your feedback on annotation tool interfaces.

The only requirements are
* you have a Ph.D. or are a doctoral student working towards a Ph.D.
* have 1 1/2 hours to spend being interviewed
* have experience making annotations on scholarly articles
* have experience sharing annotations with others

If you would like to participate, please contact Julia TerMaat by phone

(917) 968-4431

to schedule an interview time. Sessions will take place on UNC campus.

Study approved by the Behavioral Institutional Review Board,
IRB_subjects@unc.edu, Tel: 919-966-3113,
IRB Study # 11-0123, Approval date: 2/15/2011.

This email is sponsored by: SILS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:37 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for African American Individuals Ages 18-45 for a Research Study

---

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about schizophrenia please consider participating as a control subject in Dr. Aysenil Belger's research study, Mapping of Brain Functions (00-1425 or GCRC-1888).

If you meet the following criteria, please fill out our online questionnaire:
http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm.
Visit our website at: http://www.nirl.unc.edu/ for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 18-45
* Either sex
* African American
* Willing and able to participate in a research study involving EEGs and MRIs
* No history of psychiatric illness or neurodegenerative disorder
* No substance abuse disorders, no substance abuse within the past 6 weeks
* No learning disability
* No family history of neurologic or neurodegenerative disorders
* No family history of hospitalization or treatment of mental illness in a first degree relative
* No metal implants in body including permanent retainer

Total compensation for this research study: up to $270.

Thank you!

Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (00-1425, GCRC-1888)on 4-5-2011

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 10:55 AM
To: Chairs of the Social Sciences Departments <sschairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [sschairs] May 12-22

Dear colleagues,

I will be out of town May 12-May 22. During that time, I will have sometimes only sporadic access to email, depending on my schedule. I will make every effort to respond to important messages (it would be helpful if they were so identified in the subject heading). For urgent matters, please contact Tiffany Clarke in the Dean's office, 962-1165 or via email.

Thanks, Jonathan

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and
International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences
Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science
205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

From: Siedentop, Nicholas J <nick_siedentop@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 11:36 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

Dear Professor Nyang Oro,
Regarding the courses for follow-up from the Undergraduate Curriculum Review, Tim McMillan has already submitted the information for AFAM 50 and AFAM 259. I just need to know which General Education designations you wish to keep for AFRI 453 and AFRI 488. The deadline is Friday May, 2011. Please send the information to submitcourse@unc.edu.

Thanks for your help,
Nick

From: Siedentop, Nicholas J
Sent: Tuesday, February 22, 2011 3:53 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Cc: Lindemann, Erika
Subject: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

Dear Professor Nyang Oro,

As you already know, the Undergraduate Curriculum Review raised questions regarding several AFAM and AFRI courses that were selected as part of the syllabi review (see email from Dean Owen below). I've listed the courses and questions that were raised, below. Following the course list, I've provided information about what is needed to resolve the issue(s). In some cases, we'll need an updated syllabus (as a Word or PDF document) by May 13, 2011, so this is not urgent.

1. AFAM 50 – a. 10 pages of writing, or equivalent intellectual effort, was not evident on the syllabus.
   b. Re-evaluate for Communication Intensive (CI) requirement.
2. AFAM 259 – 10 pages of writing, or equivalent intellectual effort, was not evident on the syllabus.
3. AFRI 453 – Review 4 General Education tags. (VP, NA, GL, CI)
4. AFRI 488 – Review 4 General Education tags. (VP, GL, CI, BN)

10 pages of writing. Courses that fulfill a General Education requirement must include at least 10 pages of written work (or equivalent work by virtue of the intellectual labor expended) over the course of the semester, excluding pages written for essays on in-class examinations. I'm attaching criteria guidelines if you wish to read more about this requirement, including information about 10-pages of writing in large classes. Please ask the instructor for AFAM 50 and 259 to update the syllabus to include at least 10 pages of written work.

- Send the updated syllabus to submitcourse@unc.edu no later than May 13, 2011. The Office of Undergraduate Curricula will review the syllabus. If these courses are no longer offered, please inactivate this course by using the new Course Request Approval System (CRAS) in ConnectCarolina.

Re-evaluate for a specific General Education requirement. Please read the attached document to review the criteria for the Communication Intensive (CI) requirement. Based on the syllabus that was reviewed last summer, committee members had concerns that AFRI 50 did not meet the criteria for CI.

- Please send an updated syllabus reflecting the CI criteria to submitcourse@unc.edu no later than May 13, 2011. The Office of Undergraduate Curricula will review the syllabus.
- If this course no longer incorporates revision of written or oral work in response to instructor feedback, please let us know and we'll remove the CI designation, effective fall 2012.

Review 4 General Education tags. The Curriculum Review recommended that courses should satisfy no more than two General Education designations, as the norm. In some cases, Communication Intensive (CI) or Experiential Education (EE) may qualify as a third.

- Send an email to submitcourse@unc.edu by May 13, 2011 indicating which two (or three, if CI or EE) General Education requirements you would like AFRI 453 and 488 to fulfill. This change will not go into effect until fall 2012.

If you have any questions or concerns about these requests, please don't hesitate to contact Nick Siedentop (nick_siedentop@unc.edu) or Erika Lindemann (uline@email.unc.edu).

Best wishes,
Nick Siedentop

Nicholas Siedentop
Curriculum Coordinator for Undergraduate Education
3018A Steele Building, CB# 3504
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
nick_siedentop@unc.edu

Phone: 919-962-5819
Fax: 919-843-6557

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 12:53 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Construction Update and Window Repair Schedule
Attach: BVP Window Repair Schedule.pdf

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any help!

Thanks,
Travis

From: Hillis, Wendy (Facilities Planning) [mailto:Wendy.Hillis@facilities.unc.edu]
Sent: Thursday, April 28, 2011 2:18 PM
To: Gore, Travis; Mork, Peter J.
Subject: Construction Update and Window Repair Schedule

Travis and Peter: Please distribute to the building occupants.

Dear Building Occupants,

Thanks to all of you for your patience during this renovation project. We sincerely hope that the final results will be worth the inconveniences you have suffered. We are scheduled to complete the project (and remove the scaffolding) in August – just in time for the new school year.

Windows
As many of you may know, we have enough money left in the construction budget to undertake a complete renovation of all of the windows in all three buildings.

Schedule
I have attached a schedule showing the anticipated dates for each building and façade. The schedule is accompanied by building plans that are keyed to the item # in the first column of the spreadsheet. Windows will be removed on the start date indicated on the schedule and reinstalled by the end date (I will let you know if the schedule changes as we proceed). Plywood panels will be installed in the window openings while the window sash are removed. If you could please move all furniture that blocks the windows prior to the contractor coming in to remove them, it would help to expedite our process.

You may notice that windows on the north side of Vance Hall and the South side of Pettigrew Hall have been omitted from the schedule. I am waiting to hear back from the contractor on when work on those windows will take place and will update you as soon as I hear back from them.

A few notes on window scope:

- The wood window sash are being repaired and reinstalled, not replaced with new. Because the buildings are listed on the National Register of Historic Places and are in the Town's Historic District, replacement is not an option.
- The repaired sash will have all new weather-stripping and operating hardware. They should operate like new and be draft-free.
- New metal storm sash will be installed at the exterior face of the window openings. These, along with the new weather-stripping, should give the windows a thermal performance equal to new window sash.

- The storm sash will include screens.
- The storm sash on the west façade of the building will receive low-E glazing to counter solar glare and heat gain at this side of the building

Paint Color

We recently performed a paint analysis on all of the buildings' exterior painted features and learned that the original paint color for the windows and doors was a dark brown. This is substantiated by a historic photo of the building that can be viewed on line at http://dc.lib.unc.edu/cdm4/item_viewer.php?CISOROOT=/vir_museum&CISOPTR=541. As you can see, with windows and doors that contrast with (instead of match) the brick walls, the overall appearance of the building will be slightly different from that with which you are currently accustomed.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Wendy

Wendy Hillis, AIA, LEED™ AP
Campus Historic Preservation Officer
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 1090, Giles F. Horney Building
103 Airport Drive
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-1090
Office: (919) 843-3238
Fax: (919) 962-9103

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29139771

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29139771-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

Battle Vance and Pettigrew Halls - Window Repair Schedule 4/28/2011

Item #	Start Date	End Date	Building	Floor	Direction	Rooms
1	4/25/2011	5/3/2011	Vance	1	West	108, 109, 120, 124
2	5/4/2011	5/12/2011	Pettigrew	1	West	100, 104, 110, 111
3	5/6/2011	5/16/2011	Vance	2	West	214, 216, 220, 224
4	5/10/2011	5/18/2011	Pettigrew	2	West	200, 204, 210, 212
5	5/12/2011	5/20/2011	Vance	3	West	316, 318, 320, 322, 324
6	5/16/2011	5/24/2011	Pettigrew	3	West	300, 304, 306, 310, 312
7	5/18/2011	5/26/2011	Vance	1	East	113, 119, 120, 123
8	5/10/2011	5/30/2011	Pettigrew	1	East	101, 102, 103, 111, 112
9	5/24/2011	6/1/2011	Vance	2	East	215, 219, 221, 223
10	5/26/2011	6/3/2011	Pettigrew	2	East	201, 205, 211, 213
11	5/30/2011	6/7/2011	Vance	3	East	317, 319, 321, 323
12	6/1/2011	6/9/2011	Pettigrew	3	East	303, 305, 313, 315
13	6/8/2011	6/14/2011	Battle	1	West and SW	101, 102, 103
14	6/13/2011	6/17/2011	Battle	2	West and SW	201, 202, 204
15	6/16/2011	6/22/2011	Battle	3	West and SW	301, 302, 304
16	6/21/2011	6/27/2011	Battle	1	East and SE	107, 108, 109
17	6/24/2011	6/30/2011	Battle	2	East and SE	208, 209, 210
18	6/29/2011	7/5/2011	Battle	3	East and SE	307, 308, 309
19	7/4/2011	7/8/2011	Battle	1	North	103, 104, 106, 107
20	7/7/2011	7/13/2011	Battle	2	North	204, 205, 207, 208, 211
21	7/12/2011	7/18/2011	Battle	3	North	304, 305, 306, 307, 310

Battle: African American Studies.

Battle Hall
Basement Floor Plan
Bldg. # 056

Battle Hall
First Floor Plan
Bldg. # 056

Battle Hall
Second Floor Plan
Bldg. # 056

Battle Hall
Third Floor Plan
Bldg. # 056

Vance Hall
First Floor Plan
Bldg. # 057

Vance Hall
Second Floor Plan
Bldg. # 057

Vance Hall
Third Floor Plan
Bldg. # 057

Pettigrew :

1st Floor : Equal Opportunity Office

2nd + 3rd : Scholarships & Student Aid.

begin:vcard
fn:Karla Slocum
n:Slocum;Karla
org:UNC-Chapel Hill;Department of Anthropology
title:Associate Professor version:2.1
end:vcard

From: Siedentop, Nicholas J <nick_siedentop@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

You're absolutely right, Julius.

The Department of Art is dropping GL from ART/AFRI 453 (keeping VP, NA, and CI) and dropping VP and CI from ART/AFRI 488 (keeping GL and BN).

Thanks!
Nick

Nicholas Siedentop
Curriculum Coordinator for Undergraduate Education
3018A Steele Building, CB# 3504
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
nick_siedentop@unc.edu

Phone: 919-962-5819
Fax: 919-843-6557

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 12:45 PM
To: Siedentop, Nicholas J
Subject: RE: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

Hi Nick:
Greetings. The primary department for these two courses is Art. We are only cross listed with them. We will therefore take whatever designation the Art department has for them.
Thanks.
Julius

From: Siedentop, Nicholas J
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 11:36 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

Dear Professor Nyang Oro,
Regarding the courses for follow-up from the Undergraduate Curriculum Review, Tim McMillan has already submitted the information for AFAM 50 and AFAM 259. I just need to know which General Education designations you wish to keep for AFRI 453 and AFRI 488. The deadline is Friday May, 2011. Please send the information to submitcourse@unc.edu.

Thanks for your help,
Nick

From: Siedentop, Nicholas J
Sent: Tuesday, February 22, 2011 3:53 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Cc: Lindemann, Erika
Subject: Gen Ed Courses: AFRI/AFAM

Dear Professor Nyang Oro,

As you already know, the Undergraduate Curriculum Review raised questions regarding several AFAM and AFRI courses that were selected as part of the syllabi review (see email from Dean Owen below). I've listed the courses and questions that were raised, below. Following the course list, I've provided information about what is needed to resolve the issue(s). In some cases, we'll need an updated syllabus (as a Word or PDF document) by May 13, 2011, so this is not urgent.

1. AFAM 50 – a. 10 pages of writing, or equivalent intellectual effort, was not evident on the syllabus.
   b. Re-evaluate for Communication Intensive (CI) requirement.
2. AFAM 259 – 10 pages of writing, or equivalent intellectual effort, was not evident on the syllabus.
3. AFRI 453 – Review 4 General Education tags. (VP, NA, GL, CI)
4. AFRI 488 – Review 4 General Education tags. (VP, GL, CI, BN)

10 pages of writing. Courses that fulfill a General Education requirement must include at least 10 pages of written work (or equivalent work by virtue of the intellectual labor expended) over the course of the semester, excluding pages written for essays on in-class examinations. I'm attaching criteria guidelines if you wish to read more about this requirement, including information about 10-pages of writing in large classes. Please ask the instructor for AFAM 50 and 259 to update the syllabus to include at least 10 pages of written work.

- Send the updated syllabus to submitcourse@unc.edu no later than May 13, 2011. The Office of Undergraduate Curricula will review the syllabus. If these courses are no longer offered, please inactivate this course by using the new Course Request Approval System (CRAS) in ConnectCarolina.

Re-evaluate for a specific General Education requirement. Please read the attached document to review the criteria for the Communication Intensive (CI) requirement. Based on the syllabus that was reviewed last summer, committee members had concerns that AFRI 50 did not meet the criteria for CI.

- Please send an updated syllabus reflecting the CI criteria to submitcourse@unc.edu no later than May 13, 2011. The Office of Undergraduate Curricula will review the syllabus.
- If this course no longer incorporates revision of written or oral work in response to instructor feedback, please let us know and we'll remove the CI designation, effective fall 2012.

Review 4 General Education tags. The Curriculum Review recommended that courses should satisfy no more than two General Education designations, as the norm. In some cases, Communication Intensive (CI) or Experiential Education (EE) may qualify as a third.

- Send an email to submitcourse@unc.edu by May 13, 2011 indicating which two (or three, if CI or EE) General Education requirements you would like AFRI 453 and 488 to fulfill. This change will not go into effect until fall 2012.

If you have any questions or concerns about these requests, please don't hesitate to contact Nick Siedentop (nick_siedentop@unc.edu) or Erika Lindemann (uline@email.unc.edu).

Best wishes,
Nick Siedentop

Nicholas Siedentop
Curriculum Coordinator for Undergraduate Education
3018A Steele Building, CB# 3504
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
nick_siedentop@unc.edu

Phone: 919-962-5819
Fax: 919-843-6557

begin:vcard
fn:Karla Slocum
n:Slocum;Karla
org:UNC-Chapel Hill;Department of Anthropology
title:Associate Professor version:2.1
end:vcard

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:52 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Primitivism, Ukuleles, and the Ackland Museum Store!

This Week at the Ackland

Tea at Two

Wednesday, May 11
2:00 PM

At this month's Tea at Two, join Timothy Riggs, the Ackland's curator of collections, for an illustrated talk entitled "Forward to the Past: German Artists in Search of the Primitive."

Riggs will discuss how 19th-century German artists turned to styles that evoked the European past, or the primitive simplicity they believed they found in the art and cultures of Africa and the Pacific Islands. His talk will look at artists and artworks featured in the current exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840–1940.

Free to Ackland members | $10 non-members.
Space is limited. RSVP: aportnow@email.unc.edu or 919.843.3687.

"Out of the Studio" with Carole Baker

Thursday, May 12
6:00 PM

Working in traditional Byzantine iconography and contemporary painting and installation, much of Carole Baker's work explores themes and questions concerning the role of materiality in religious formation. Baker holds two degrees in theology (BA, MTS) and will begin pursuing her doctorate in theology at Duke University next fall. She lives and works in Durham, North Carolina.

FREE

IN THE GALLERIES:

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

May 18
International Art Museum Day

May 21
Art-Ventures for Kids

The Ackland Art Museum
is proud to host
the annual meeting of the
Print Council of America,

18-22 May 2011.

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, May 14
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "It's Worth Repeating "

In this program participants will examine prints from Germany to see the ideas and images that prompted people to make prints. Printmakers' processes allow artists to make more than one copy of the same image. In the studio, kids will make prints of their own big ideas.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials.
Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919.962.3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.
Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES

Saturday, May 14
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

Join the Ackland's Amanda Hughes for drawing in the Ackland galleries. Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

FREE

DRAWING FOR KIDS

DRAWING FOR KIDS

Saturday, May 14
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Nine- to twelve-year-olds practice techniques like contour drawing, linear perspective, shading, and drawing people. Materials provided.

Registration required and limited; to register, call 919.966.5736
Free to members | $5 non-members

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES

Ukulele Orchestra

Sunday, May 15
2:00 PM

Every third Sunday of the month, enjoy music in the Ackland galleries. A wide variety of performers can be heard, from classical quartets to bluegrass, to enhance your Museum experience.

This Sunday, join the Durham Ukulele Orchestra as they perform everything from 1920s standards to classic and modern rock—all played on five ukuleles! Featuring Marilee Annereau, Scot Billman, Jay Cunningham, Paul Overton, and Brian Lewis.

Reservations and tickets are NOT REQUIRED, but please arrive early to find a spot. For more information, contact Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

FREE

ACKLAND MUSEUM STORE - Now Open!

Ackland Museum Store

The Ackland Museum Store, on the corner of Franklin and Columbia, in downtown Chapel Hill, is now open!

All proceeds from the store support the Ackland's exhibition and education programs. Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as JEN321@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29141073-5774387.1df4eaa86822fcf7c7763439288ee70d@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Hermann Max Pechstein, German, 1881–1955: Portrait of a Young Black Woman – Nelly, ca. 1910; watercolor over graphite. Ackland Fund.

Carol Baker: Mary: The Paper Doll Project, 2009.

Egon Schiele, Austrian, 1890-1918: Seated Woman (detail), 1918; black colored pencil drawing. Burton Emmett Collection.

Norman Kent, American, born 1903: Young Boy Drawing (detail), 1930; linoleum-cut print. Burton Emmett Collection.

From: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 4:21 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FW: Afri 101 003
Attach: FW_ Afri 101 003.msg

Julius or Agatha, We're focusing on seats for incoming first year students - can you please let me know why this course is being cancelled? Thanks, Jonathan

Regarding:

From: Travis Gore [mailto:stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:05 PM
To: Lucido, Barbara E
Subject: Afri 101 003

Hi Barbara,

I wanted to let you know that I was informed today that unfortunately we will have to cancel Afri 101 003 in the Fall. I think you may have had 7 seats reserved for CTOPS in that class. Again, I am sorry but I thought I should tell you right away!

Thanks,
Travis

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and
International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences
Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science
205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

From: Lucido, Barbara E <blucido@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 4:02 PM
To: Owen, Bobbi A <owenbob@unc.edu>; Townley-Tilson, Karla A <mcclurek@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Maitland, George <gmaitlan@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FW: Afri 101 003

Losing 7 more seats....

Barbara Lucido
Assistant Dean, Academic Advising Program
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
College of Arts & Sciences and General College
1002 Steele Building; CB 3110
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3110
Phone: (919) 843-3341 Fax: (919) 962-6888
Academic Advising's webpage: http://advising.unc.edu

From: Travis Gore [mailto:stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:05 PM
To: Lucido, Barbara E
Subject: Afri 101 003

Hi Barbara,

I wanted to let you know that I was informed today that unfortunately we will have to cancel Afri 101 003 in the Fall. I think you may have had 7 seats reserved for CTOPS in that class. Again, I am sorry but I thought I should tell you right away!

Thanks,
Travis

****
Travis Gore
Student Services Manager
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB# 3395
p 919.966.5496

From: Carolina Annual Fund <rebecca_bramlett@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 5:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Carolina Burch Fellows: Imaginations Come to Life

View this email with images. | View the mobile friendly version.

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

CAROLINA ANNUAL FUND

annualfund.unc.edu

"Where else in the world will a stranger potentially invest in you, so that you can have a life-enhancing experience? With nothing else in return. That's what this fellowship does. And it's a remarkable thing."
–Rye Barcott '01, Burch Fellow

The Burch Fellows Program makes undergraduate students' imaginations come to life. Based in the UNC College of Arts and Sciences, the program recognizes undergraduates who demonstrate extraordinary ability, promise and commitment to furthering the University's mission. Funding from their Burch Fellowships enables these students to design off-campus experiences that engage their interests — and change their lives.

We hope you'll take a few minutes to view our video about the Burch Fellows Program and the work of one of its participants.

Gifts from Carolina alumni, students and friends ensure that all students, including Burch Fellows, can pursue their passions and reach their potential. Your gift will recognize their promise.

Trouble viewing the video? You may need to download the free Flash player, available at http://www.adobe.com/go/getflashplayer/.

UPDATE YOUR CONTACT INFO | MAKE A GIFT | MAXIMIZE YOUR GIFT'S IMPACT

Find Us On... Facebook Twitter YouTube Flickr

This email is for alumni, students, parents and friends of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Through this free service, the Office of University Development and the Annual Fund Program provide opportunities for you to learn about people, events and other issues at Carolina. If you have comments or questions, email Rebecca_Bramlett@unc.edu, telephone 919.843.3317, or write to the Office of University Development, Annual Fund, 208 West Franklin St., Campus Box 6100, Chapel Hill, NC 27599–6100. If you do not wish to receive future editions, unsubscribe here.

704273328

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 10, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Equal Opportunity/ADA Office new address

---

The Equal Opportunity/ADA Office has moved to our new location.

Our new address is:

Equal Opportunity/ADA Office
100 E. Franklin Street
Unit 110, CB# 9160
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
(919) 966-3576

This email is sponsored by: Equal Opportunity/ADA Office

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 8:35 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Unspecified Sender
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 3:19 AM
To:
Subject:

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 9:19 AM
To: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Afri 101 003

Dear Dean Hartlyn,
This course was supposed to be taught by Georges Nzongola-Ntalaja. He has been asked to be the Interim Director of the African Studies Center while Mike Lambert is away in 2011-12. Mike's appointment includes a course buyout for his work as director, so George is being given the buyout in 2011-12 and he would like to take it in Fall 2011, thus cancelling this section of AFRI 101.

We do have a number of other sections of AFRI 101 which I believe all have some seats held for CTOPs.

Please let us know if we need to adjust.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

-----Original Message-----
From: Hartlyn, Jonathan
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 4:21 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Cc: Buell, Agatha
Subject: FW: Afri 101 003

Julius or Agatha, We're focusing on seats for incoming first year students - can you please let me know why this course is being cancelled? Thanks, Jonathan

Regarding:

From: Travis Gore [mailto:stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:05 PM
To: Lucido, Barbara E
Subject: Afri 101 003

Hi Barbara,

I wanted to let you know that I was informed today that unfortunately we will have to cancel Afri 101 003 in the Fall. I think you may have had 7 seats reserved for CTOPS in that class. Again, I am sorry but I thought I should tell you right away!

Thanks,
Travis

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science

205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 9:34 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: DUS updates

Who are the DUS's in our department for 2011-12?
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Goodman, Paula [mailto:pgoodman@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:34 AM
To: All Administrative Managers in the College of Arts & Sciences
Subject: [asmgrs] DUS updates

Dear Managers:

I am getting ready to update our website, along with contact information for departmental Directors of Undergraduate Studies for the 2011-2012 Academic Year. If there is a new DUS please reply back to me along with their contact information. If there are no changes you need not reply.

Thanks.

Paula A. Goodman
Department Manager
Office of Undergraduate Education
919-843-9290

From: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 9:36 AM
To: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Afri 101 003

Agatha, Thank you for this. I was confused as on-line it looked like Kia Caldwell was the instructor. This is fine as long as it is not Georges only large enrollment class for the year. Thanks, Jonathan

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and
International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences
Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science
205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

-----Original Message-----
From: Buell, Agatha
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 9:19 AM
To: Hartlyn, Jonathan; Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Afri 101 003

Dear Dean Hartlyn,
This course was supposed to be taught by Georges Nzongola-Ntalaja. He has been asked to be the Interim Director of the African Studies Center while Mike Lambert is away in 2011-12. Mike's appointment includes a course buyout for his work as director, so George is being given the buyout in 2011-12 and he would like to take it in Fall 2011, thus cancelling this section of AFRI 101.

We do have a number of other sections of AFRI 101 which I believe all have some seats held for CTOPs.

Please let us know if we need to adjust.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

-----Original Message-----
From: Hartlyn, Jonathan
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 4:21 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Cc: Buell, Agatha
Subject: FW: Afri 101 003

Julius or Agatha, We're focusing on seats for incoming first year students - can you please let me know why this course is being cancelled? Thanks, Jonathan

Regarding:

From: Travis Gore [mailto:stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:05 PM
To: Lucido, Barbara E
Subject: Afri 101 003

Hi Barbara,

I wanted to let you know that I was informed today that unfortunately we will have to cancel Afri 101 003 in the Fall. I think you may have had 7 seats reserved for CTOPS in that class. Again, I am sorry but I thought I should tell you right away!

Thanks,
Travis

Jonathan Hartlyn
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences Kenneth J. Reckford Professor of Political Science
205 South Building, CB 3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100 USA
Email: hartlyn@unc.edu
Office: 919 962-1165 Fax: 919 962-2408

From: stanleyfoundation@stanleyfoundation.org
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 11:22 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: New Video: Upcoming Elections to Test Liberia's Peace, UN Resolve
Attach: promotracking.cfm

To make sure our e-mails reach you, please add StanleyFoundation@stanleyfoundation.org to your address book.
If you cannot view this e-mail, please go to http://www.stanleyfoundation.org/promo/promoemail051111.html.

Stanley Foundation on YouTube

NEW VIDEO: Upcoming Elections to Test Liberia's Peace, UN Resolve

The upcoming October presidential elections in Liberia—the second since the end of a bloody 14-year civil war—will serve as a test of the small West African country's commitment to peace. It will also test the United Nations' ability to shepherd a peace process through to success.

A new Stanley Foundation video report explores the upcoming election in the context of preventing further atrocities in Liberia.

Liberian President Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf, the 72-year-old grandmother credited with the country's recovery thus far, is running for a second term.

The United Nations still maintains a force of 8,000 peacekeepers and 1,300 police in Liberia. That force, however, will be drawn down significantly provided the elections are peaceful. Liberia will be the first country to transition from peacekeeping assistance to a formal peacebuilding process.

That has UN officials focusing their attention on a seamless transition to demonstrate the program's effectiveness at preventing atrocities.

"You can keep the peace, but if you don't build the peace, then history has shown us from so many other theaters that the moment you withdraw the peacekeeping mission—if underlying issues for the conflict have not been addressed—the risk of conflict erupting again is very high," said Ellen Margrethe Loj, head of the UN Mission in Liberia.

Related Material

Authors John Blaney, Jacques Paul Klein, and Sean McFate authored a policy analysis brief, Wider Lessons for Peacebuilding: Security Sector Reform in Liberia, examining the immediate post-conflict period and reflecting on lessons learned from the implementation of Liberian disarmament, demobilization, and reintegration and security sector reform programs.

The latest issue of Courier examines the prospects for peace in Liberia, the need for an international strategy to prevent mass atrocities, and the relationship between mass atrocities and armed conflict.

Share:

About The Stanley Foundation
The Stanley Foundation seeks a secure peace with freedom and justice, built on world citizenship and effective global governance. It brings fresh voices, original ideas, and lasting solutions to debates on global and regional problems. The foundation is a nonpartisan, private operating foundation, located in Muscatine, Iowa, that focuses on peace and security issues and advocates principled multilateralism. The foundation frequently collaborates with other organizations. It does not make grants. Online at www.stanleyfoundation.org.

This message has been sent by the Stanley Foundation as a courtesy to past participants of foundation events or others who have expressed interest in our work. To be removed from this list, simply reply to this message with the word "remove" in the subject line of your message.

Foundation

From: pbartolomeoz@notes.cc.sunysb.edu

Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 11:46 AM

To: mbailey@morehouse.edu; tmills@morehouse.edu; ajacobs@morehouse.edu; admissions@alasu.edu; alumni@hamptonu.edu; helpdesk@hamptonu.edu; tdepriest@spelman.edu; aarthur3@spelman.edu; tsimmons8@spelman.edu; nnkongo@howard.edu; lrjackson@howard.edu; gcarr@howard.edu; radams@fac.howard.edu; lammons@fac.howard.edu; ham2101@columbia.edu; gm522@columbia.edu; fh2170@columbia.edu; sm322@columbia.edu; skr2001@columbia.edu; sh2004@columbia.edu; jkassano@barnard.edu; africana@barnard.edu; africanstudies@georgetown.edu; william.darity@duke.edu; wah@duke.edu; crichlow@duke.edu; jose_bey@berea.edu; Alex.W.Willingham@williams.edu; David.L.Smith@williams.edu; Neil.Roberts@williams.edu; Kenda.B.Mutongi@williams.edu; James.Manigault-Bryant@williams.edu; Frederic.Bryant@williams.edu; Devyn.S.Benson@williams.edu; Shanti.M.Singham@williams.edu; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; afamstud@oberlin.edu; nwarren@emory.edu; daldri2@emory.edu; carol.anderson@emory.edu; lharr04@emory.edu; adupuy@wesleyan.edu; tnavarro@wesleyan.edu; emcalister@wesleyan.edu; lmwright@wesleyan.edu; wfalk@socy.umd.edu; sharley@aasp.umd.edu; jorichardson@aasp.umd.edu; smadhavan@aasp.umd.edu; ojohnson@umd.edu; gdinwiddie@aasp.umd.edu; mchateau@aasp.umd.edu; fayep@sas.upenn.edu; mbeje@sas.upenn.edu; shown@sas.upenn.edu; aadinar@sas.upenn.edu; lcassane@sas.upenn.edu; africana@gwu.edu; snq2@cornell.edu; sp91@cornell.edu; ea18@cornell.edu; tlv4@cornell.edu; rlh10@cornell.edu; fsteady@wellesley.edu; marty.correia@nyu.edu; awam.amkpa@nyu.edu; kilaymon@vassar.edu; calowe@vassar.edu; mimask@vassar.edu; mamiya@vassar.edu; licollins@vassar.edu; steph712@temple.edu; nathaniel.norment@temple.edu; afam@temple.edu; Kathy_Moyer@brown.edu; Carey_Ruo@brown.edu; Alonzo_Jones@brown.edu; Karen_Baxter@brown.edu; Constance_Crawford@brown.edu; Dawn_Jackson@brown.edu; George_Lamming@brown.edu; Ama_Ata_Aidoo@brown.edu; John_Edgar_Wideman@brown.edu; cdbwalker@brown.edu; Elmo_Terry-Morgan@brown.edu; Ruth_Simmons@brown.edu; Keisha-Khan_Perry@brown.edu; Nancy_Jacobs@brown.edu; Paget_Henry@brown.edu; Francoise_Hamlin@brown.edu; Anani_Dzidzienyo@brown.edu; Lundy_Braun@brown.edu; Barrymore_Bogues@brown.edu; Chinua_Achebe@brown.edu; Tricia_Rose@brown.edu; lwoodard@wesleyan.edu; gulysse@wesleyan.edu; arushdy@wesleyan.edu; pmark@wesleyan.edu; deudell@wesleyan.edu

Subject: Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies

Attach: GRAD CERT FLYER 3.pub

Hello All,

The Department of Africana Studies at SUNY Stony Brook is pleased to announce the Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies. We are now accepting applications for Fall of 2011. Applications are being accepted through July 1, 2011 for entry to the program. Please see the attached announcement.

Please share with your students and faculty associates, and appropriate departments on your campus.

Thank you,

Phyllis
631 632-7470

AFRICANA STUDIES GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

The Department of Africana Studies at Stony Brook University, New York, announces its new Graduate Certificate Program in Africana Studies. The Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies is interdisciplinary in scope and applies a variety of methodologies, concepts, and theories of the social sciences and humanities to research into the histories, literatures, political systems, cultures, arts, social theories, experiences, and perspectives of persons of African descent throughout the world. The program analyzes and researches issues affecting global Black communities in Africa, the United States, the Caribbean, and elsewhere from both historical and contemporary perspectives.

Graduate certification in Africana Studies enhances qualification for careers in a range of professions where knowledge of the Black diasporic experience and viewpoints is increasingly useful, such as international business, law, medicine, higher education, management, public health, public service, social welfare, and even museum curator studies. The Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies provides vital knowledge, expertise, and perspectives needed to understand and negotiate the diversified global and transnational environment that has evolved with the contemporary communication technologies that are bringing people together in previously unanticipated ways.

We invite you to visit the Department of Africana Studies on the web at www.sunysb.edu and view our University, Faculty, Staff, and programs for further information.

Phyllis Bartolomeo-Zenker
Assistant to The Chair/Graduate Coordinator
Department Of Africana Studies
SUNY Stony Brook
Social Behavioral Science S-249
Stony Brook, NY 11794-4340
631 632-7470
Fax: 632-5703

AFRICANA STUDIES
GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

The Department of Africana Studies at Stony Brook University, New York, announces its new Graduate Certificate Program in Africana Studies. The Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies is interdisciplinary in scope and applies a variety of methodologies, concepts, and theories of the social sciences and humanities to research into the histories, literatures, political systems, cultures, arts, social theories, experiences, and perspectives of persons of African descent throughout the world. The program analyzes and researches issues affecting global Black communities in Africa, the United States, the Caribbean, and elsewhere from both historical and contemporary perspectives.

Graduate certification in Africana Studies enhances qualification for careers in a range of professions where knowledge of the Black diasporic experience and viewpoints is increasingly useful, such as international business, law, medicine, higher education, management, public health, public service, social welfare, and even museum curator studies. The Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies provides vital knowledge, expertise, and perspectives needed to understand and negotiate the diversified global and transnational environment that has evolved with the contemporary communication technologies that are bringing people together in previously unanticipated ways.

We invite you to visit the Department of Africana Studies on the web at www.sunysb.edu and view our University, Faculty, Staff, and programs for further information.

The Department of Africana Studies at the New York State University of Stony Brook can be reached at:

University of Stony Brook
Social & Behavioral Sciences
Stony Brook, NY 11794-4340
(631) 632-7470
(631) 632-5703 FAX

STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY

Email: pbartolomeoz@notes.cc.sunysb.edu

Contact the Graduate School for an Application

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 12:36 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Any word from Carl?

Thanks!

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 2:06 PM
To: Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: AFAM 396: missing grades that were due Monday!

Hi Reg,
Please enter your grades for AFAM 396 as soon as possible – they were due this past MONDAY. They need to be entered immediately. If you have questions about how to enter the grades, please ask Travis – he can also enter them for you if necessary.

Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Bobbi Owen [mailto:owenbob@unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 1:58 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Buell, Agatha
Subject: missing grades that were due Monday!

Missing grades that were due Monday! Where are they??? Degrees are supposed to be posted tonight and these courses may prevent students from graduating. SWAH 404 is especially important.

Bobbi

Not Reviewed	UGRD	AFAM	396	002	A	5877008578	1INDEPENDENT STUDIES	7
Not Reviewed	UGRD	AFAM	398	001	A	5879005402	1AFAM SEMINAR	3
Not Reviewed	UGRD	AFRI	266	001	A	3611016147	1CONTEMPORARY AFRICA	18
Not Reviewed	UGRD	SWAH	404	001	A	5967019815	1KISWAHILI 4	21

--
Bobbi Owen
Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, and
Michael R. McVaugh Distinguished Professor of Dramatic Art
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 3504, 3011 Steele Building
214 East Cameron Avenue
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
Phone: 919 843-7773
FAX: 919 843-6557

From: UNC Minority Health Project <minority_health@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 2:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [mhpannounce] Coming June 7 - interactive broadcast on "Health Equity - Progress and Pitfalls"

(You can also read this announcement at www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/materials/announce.cfm)

PLEASE JOIN US - in person or online - for the 17th Annual Summer Public Health Research Videoconference on Minority Health.

When? Tuesday, June 7, 2011, 1:30-4:00pm EDT

Where? Webcast and Tate-Turner-Kuralt building auditorium - see www.minority.unc.edu

Topic: "Health Equity - Progress and Pitfalls"

Featuring:

Jeffrey A. Henderson, M.D., M.P.H., President and CEO, Black Hills Center for American Indian Health

Marilyn Aguirre-Molina, DrPH., Professor of Public Health, CUNY School of Public Health, and Director, CUNY Institute for Health Equity

Brian D. Smedley, Ph.D., Vice President and Director, Health Policy Institute, Joint Center for Political and Economic Studies

Barbara Pullen-Smith, M.P.H., Moderator, Director, North Carolina Office of Minority Health and Health Disparities

This interactive session will be broadcast with a live audience in the Tate-Turner-Kuralt auditorium at the UNC School of Social Work and can be viewed over the Internet (webcast). Questions will be taken from broadcast participants by email and toll-free telephone.

ALL VIDEOCONFERENCE INFORMATION: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/

To register a group viewing site: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/broadcast/

To view on your personal computer: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/broadcast/

To register for the studio audience at the TTK auditorium: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/studio/

Answers to frequently asked questions: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/faq.cfm

Comments from last year's participants: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/eval/comments.cfm

This year's Videoconference is presented by the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health Minority Health Project and UNC Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, in association with the UNC American Indian Center, UNC Institute of African American Research, and Norfolk State University Ethelyn R. Strong School of Social Work, a partner in the Commonwealth Public Health Training Center. Funding comes from (to date) UNC Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health, UNC Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research, UNC FPG Child Development Institute, UNC Counseling and Wellness Services,UNC American Indian Center, UNC Institute of African American Research, UNC Counseling and Wellness Services, and a growing list of cosponsors including in-kind support from the UNC School of Social Work and the UNC Department of Epidemiology. Please thank them - and consider becoming a cosponsor or providing an endorsement!

Vic Schoenbach (www.unc.edu/~vschoenb/)
Director, Minority Health Project
UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health

Cookie Newsom
Director of Diversity Education and Research UNC Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

---

* 20+ health disparities-related broadcasts and seminars are available as on-demand webcasts at www.minority.unc.edu/resources/webcasts/

mhpannounce

UNC
COLLEGE OF
ARTS & SCIENCES

THE UNIVERSITY
of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

OFFICE OF THE DEAN
205 SOUTH BUILDING
CAMPUS BOX 3100
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-3100

T 919.962.1165
F 919.962.2408
college.unc.edu

May 11, 2011

Professor Georges Nzongola-Ntalaja
African and African-American Studies
Campus Box 3395, 201 Battle Hall
Carolina Campus via email

Dear Georges:

Thank you for agreeing to serve as the Acting Director of the African Studies Center for academic year 2011-12, while Michael Lambert is on leave. The administrative supplement for this position is $4,000, paid over the period of your appointment. You will also receive a one-course release from your usual teaching responsibilities in the Department of African and Afro-American Studies; in exchange the College will compensate the Department according to our standard policy. The College confirms it will provide the Center with $4,000 during 2011-12, as specified in in an earlier letter to Professor Lambert. The College will also provide you with up to $500 as a research stipend and/or for research or conference travel and per diem support, to be expended during the academic year 2011-12. These funds will be available through the African and African-American Studies Department. Funds will not be able to roll-over past June 30, 2012.

If the above terms are satisfactory, please sign this letter and return it to me. We will then proceed with the necessary paperwork to make it official.

Thank you for agreeing to serve in this role. I look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Hartlyn
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and International Programs
K. J. Reckford Professor of Political Science

cc: Michael Lambert, Julius Nyang'oro, Becky Williams, Ryan Greenway

I accept the above terms:

_____
Georges Nzongola-Ntalaja

From: Bobbi Owen <owenbob@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 3:28 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Fwd: Re: grades submitted but not approved.

Can you tell me to approve these grades?
Are the other missing ones coming?
Bobbi

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: Re: grades submitted but not approved.
Date: Wed, 11 May 2011 15:24:57 -0400
From: Wayne Lee <welee@email.unc.edu>
To: Bobbi Owen <owenbob@unc.edu>

Bobbi,
This is not an instructor home based in PWAD. you should check with their home department.

Wayne E. Lee
Associate Professor of History
Chair of the Curriculum in Peace, War, and Defense
wlee@unc.edu
www.unc.edu/~welee

On 5/11/2011 3:23 PM, Bobbi Owen wrote:

> Hi - grades for this class have been submitted but not approved. If you tell me to approve them I can. The prof probably did not change that pull down menu and hit save again.
> Bobbi
>
> Ready to Review UGRD PWAD 520 001 A 8003018018 2SOUTHERN AFRICA 4
>
> --
> Bobbi Owen
> Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, and
> Michael R. McVaugh Distinguished Professor of Dramatic Art
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> CB# 3504, 3011 Steele Building
> 214 East Cameron Avenue
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
> Phone: 919 843-7773
> FAX: 919 843-6557

From: Bobbi Owen <owenbob@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 3:54 PM
To: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: grades submitted but not approved.

Thanks. SWAH is important so please let me know. when you hear. I
B.

On 5/11/2011 3:37 PM, Buell, Agatha wrote:

Hi Dean Owen,
-The grades for AFRI 266 were submitted this morning (but were on your list in your earlier email).
-The grades for AFAM 396 and AFAM 398 will be submitted soon – the instructor is working on it.
-The grades for SWAH 404 – we are trying to get in touch with the instructor, but haven't gotten to him yet – we're making it clear that this is the highest priority and should have been done well before now.
-The grades for PWAD/AFRI 520 – the instructor is travelling to/in China today. I have emailed her, but can't be sure that she will get back to us today. If the grades are there and just need to be marked "Approved", please go ahead and do so.

If there are any others, please let me know.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Bobbi Owen [mailto:owenbob@unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 3:28 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Buell, Agatha
Subject: Fwd: Re: grades submitted but not approved.

Can you tell me to approve these grades?
Are the other missing ones coming?
Bobbi

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: Re: grades submitted but not approved.
Date: Wed, 11 May 2011 15:24:57 -0400
From: Wayne Lee <welee@email.unc.edu>
To: Bobbi Owen <owenbob@unc.edu>

Bobbi,
This is not an instructor home based in PWAD. you should check with their home department.

Wayne E. Lee
Associate Professor of History
Chair of the Curriculum in Peace, War, and Defense
wlee@unc.edu
www.unc.edu/~welee

On 5/11/2011 3:23 PM, Bobbi Owen wrote:
Hi - grades for this class have been submitted but not approved. If you tell me to approve them I can. The prof probably did not change that pull down menu and hit save again.
Bobbi

Ready to Review UGRD	PWAD	520	001	A	8003018018	2SOUTHERN AFRICA	4

--
Bobbi Owen
Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, and
Michael R. McVaugh Distinguished Professor of Dramatic Art
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 3504, 3011 Steele Building
214 East Cameron Avenue
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
Phone: 919 843-7773
FAX: 919 843-6557

--
Bobbi Owen
Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, and
Michael R. McVaugh Distinguished Professor of Dramatic Art
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 3504, 3011 Steele Building
214 East Cameron Avenue
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
Phone: 919 843-7773
FAX: 919 843-6557

From: Lu, Chi-Hsuan (Sharry) <slu@humnet.ucla.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 7:11 PM
To:
Subject: UCLA Queer Conference - Call for Papers
Attach: Fashion call for papers.doc

UCLA Queer Studies Conference – DEADLINE EXTENDED
Please send to Faculty and Grad Students

Queer Fashion(s)
UCLA's 13th Annual Queer Studies Conference
October 14-15, 2011

Call for Papers

Deadline Extended June 6, 2011

UCLA's LGBTS Program is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for its upcoming Queer Studies Conference featuring presentations by graduate students as well as faculty and advanced undergraduates.

This year's conference will explore and exploit issues of fashion queerly construed. We wish to invite a wide range of questions and panels on subject topics as drag, female masculinities, male femininities, queer self-fashioning, cloning and styling, and, of course, the culture and politics of the fashion industry itself. Questions of class, economics, history, ethnicity, race, geography, exploitation, desire, style and sublimation are at the forefront of our query. We seek to know what might be a new analytic or interdisciplinary methodology through which to attend to multiple registers of queer fashion.

Keynote Speakers:
Michael Bronski, Jack Halberstam, Monica Miller,
Mignon R. Moore, Karen Tongson, and Deborah R. Vargas

Closing Performance:
"Queerture: A night of rocket science and fashion design"
with artistic director Tania Hammidi

Proposals for individual papers should take the form of abstracts; panel proposals should also include both a list of participants and paper abstracts. CVs must accompany all abstracts. Submissions from undergraduates should be accompanied by a brief letter from a faculty member highlighting the strengths of both the student and the student's proposal.

Deadline for abstracts and CVs: June 6, 2011

Send abstracts and CVs to lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

Contact: Catharine McGraw (310) 206-1145 & lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

--Sharry Lu
On behalf of Catharine McGraw
LGBT Studies Program Coordinator, UCLA
(310) 206-1145, mcgraw@humnet.ucla.edu
146 Humanities Building, Mail Code 138405

UCLA Queer Studies Conference – DEADLINE EXTENDED
Please send to Faculty and Grad Students

Queer Fashion(s)

UCLA's 13th Annual Queer Studies Conference

October 14-15, 2011

Call for Papers

Deadline Extended June 6, 2011

UCLA's LGBTS Program is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for its upcoming Queer Studies Conference featuring presentations by graduate students as well as faculty and advanced undergraduates.

This year's conference will explore and exploit issues of fashion queerly construed. We wish to invite a wide range of questions and panels on subject topics as drag, female masculinities, male femininities, queer self-fashioning, cloning and styling, and, of course, the culture and politics of the fashion industry itself. Questions of class, economics, history, ethnicity, race, geography, exploitation, desire, style and sublimation are at the forefront of our query. We seek to know what might be a new analytic or interdisciplinary methodology through which to attend to multiple registers of queer fashion.

Keynote Speakers:

Michael Bronski, Jack Halberstam, Monica Miller,
Mignon R. Moore, Karen Tongson, and Deborah R. Vargas

Closing Performance:

"Queerture: A night of rocket science and fashion design"
with artistic director Tania Hammidi

Proposals for individual papers should take the form of abstracts; panel proposals should also include both a list of participants and paper abstracts. CVs must accompany all abstracts. Submissions from undergraduates should be accompanied by a brief letter from a faculty member highlighting the strengths of both the student and the student's proposal.

Deadline for abstracts and CVs: June 6, 2011

Send abstracts and CVs to lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu
Contact: Catharine McGraw (310) 206-1145 & lgbts@humnet.ucla.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you interested in meditation?

Science has shown that meditation improves people's health and wellbeing. Help UNC researchers discover how it works.

We need people who are:
- between 35 and 64 years old
- fluent in written and spoken English
- not engaged in regular meditation practice

Participation includes:
- One 90-minute lab visit
- Online questionnaires
- Urine and blood sample

We will pay up to $50 for completion of the study.

For more information, please visit www.meditationstudy.org

This study is being conducted by Dr. Barbara Fredrickson and has been approved by the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics Behavioral IRB, study 10-1621, on 4/21/2011.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sumeet@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study of Online Teens

Are you the parent of a high-school teenager?
Do you worry about the accuracy of internet health information read by your teen?

UNC researchers are interested in studying the online health-related behaviors of teenagers. If your teen has access to the internet, we invite you to see if your son or daughter would like to participate in one of our teen focus groups with other children of the same or proximate age. Focus groups will last approximately 60 minutes and participants will be provided with free food and a $10 gift card. The feedback from these sessions will help us develop important public health messages targeted to online teens.

Please contact Sumeet Banker (sumeet@email.unc.edu) for further information.

Study Title: How Adolescents Use Social Media for Health Information
This study was approved on 5/03/2011 by the UNC Public Health-Nursing IRB, study # 11-0730.

This email is sponsored by: Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:51 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Administrative Review of Dr. Bill Roper

---

MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 11, 2011

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill Community
Faculty, Staff, Students and Alumni

FROM: Bruce Carney
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

RE: Administrative Review of William Roper, Dean School of Medicine CEO of the University of North Carolina Health Care System

I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process on behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of William Roper as Dean of the School of Medicine and CEO of UNC Health Care System.

This review, required by University regulations, will focus on William Roper's performance as Dean of the School of Medicine and the CEO of the University of North Carolina Health Care System over the past three years. The committee consists of Tim Burnett (Chair), Julia Grumbles, Shelton Earp III, Lisa Carey, Giselle Corbie-Smith, Warren Newton, Bill Miller, Jennifer Webster-Cyriaque, Tony Meyer and Mike Crimmins. As required by University regulations, this committee will review areas of accomplishment as Dean and CEO with respect to long-range planning, intellectual leadership, faculty and staff recruitment, retention and promotion, curriculum and program development, entrepreneurship, and the day-to-day management of the School of Medicine and the Health Care System. The committee invites your comment on these and related issues.

It is important for the committee to have some sense of how Dr. Roper is viewed by his peers at UNC-Chapel Hill as a colleague and citizen of the University Community.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1.The committee has scheduled two open sessions to receive comments. These times are:

June 2 - 2:00- 4:00 - DeBerry Board Room 3009 - Global Education Center Building

June 10 - 10:00 - 12:00 - DeBerry Board Room 3009 - Global Education Center Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (debbie_stevenson@unc.edu or 962-7882), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Roper's personnel file.

2. You may contribute to this review by providing written comments to the Chair. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. However, by law, all written communication, whether on paper or by email, becomes a confidential part of Dr. Roper's personnel file and as such, is open to examination by him. Oral communication (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Roper's personnel file. If you wish to provide oral comments, please contact the Chair or any member of the committee. University regulations prohibit consideration of anonymous letters in the review process.

All written comments should be sent to: Tim Burnett, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu.

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Roper's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for receiving comments is June 10th 2011.

Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: nmogaka <nmogaka@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 10:07 PM
To: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Seck, Mamarame <mseck@email.unc.edu>; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: SWAH 404: missing grades that were due Monday!

Hi Agatha,
I have entered SWAH 404 examinaion grades today; within three working days after the exam was done. The exam was done on Friday May 6, 2011 between 4:00 and 7:00pm.
Thanks.
Nathan Mogaka
On Wed, 11 May 2011 18:07:37 +0000, "Buell, Agatha" <abuell@email.unc.edu> wrote:
> Hi Nathan,
> Please enter your grades for SWAH 404 as soon as possible - they were due > this past MONDAY, and you are solely responsible for entering them in the > ConnectCarolina system. They need to be entered immediately. If you have > questions about how to enter the grades, please ask Travis - he can also > enter them for you if necessary, but would need you to email the details so > that he has a written record of the grades that you authorize.
>
> Thanks!
> Agatha
>
>
> ********
> Agatha Buell
> Business Officer
>
> Department of Public Policy
> 217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435
>
> Department of African & Afro-American Studies
> 109 Battle Hall, CB #3395
>
> University of North Carolina
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599
> p. 919.962.2788
> f. 919.962.5824
>
> From: Bobbi Owen [mailto:owenbob@unc.edu]
> Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 1:58 PM
> To: Nyang Oro, Julius E; Buell, Agatha
> Subject: missing grades that were due Monday!
>
> Missing grades that were due Monday! Where are they??? Degrees are > supposed to be posted tonight and these courses may prevent students from > graduating. SWAH 404 is especially important.
>
> Bobbi
> Not Reviewed
>
> UGRD
>

> AFAM
>
> 396
>
> 002
>
> A
>
> 5877
>
> 008578
>
> 1
>
> INDEPENDENT STUDIES
>
> 7
>
> Not Reviewed
>
> UGRD
>
> AFAM
>
> 398
>
> 001
>
> A
>
> 5879
>
> 005402
>
> 1
>
> AFAM SEMINAR
>
> 3
>
> Not Reviewed
>
> UGRD
>
> AFRI
>
> 266
>
> 001
>
> A
>
> 3611
>
> 016147
>
> 1
>
> CONTEMPORARY AFRICA
>
> 18
>
>
> Not Reviewed
>

> UGRD
>
> SWAH
>
> 404
>
> 001
>
> A
>
> 5967
>
> 019815
>
> 1
>
> KISWAHILI 4
>
> 21
>
>
> --
>
> Bobbi Owen
>
> Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education, and
>
> Michael R. McVaugh Distinguished Professor of Dramatic Art
>
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
>
> CB# 3504, 3011 Steele Building
>
> 214 East Cameron Avenue
>
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
>
> Phone: 919 843-7773
>
> FAX: 919 843-6557

From: Frontline Solutions International, LLC <bianca@frontlinesolutionsinc.ccsend.com>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 6:40 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Frontline In Focus Newsletter Spring 2011

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

Greetings!

This, our third issue of Frontline in Focus, is a good one. Partner Micah Gilmer talks about how our organization does social innovation differently; we share specific ways that we are helping philanthropy learn; and as usual, we promote the good work of two Frontline affiliates, Nikia Pinkney and Jessica Norwood, and their organizations.

We want to point out that our website, helpingchangehappen.com, just got a makeover. Along with adopting some new elements, the site now provides fresh content on a regular basis, including our newest publications. Be sure to check it out.

And once again, we invite you to forward this newsletter on to others you think it may benefit. Enjoy!

The Frontline Solutions Team

What We're Learning: Lessons from the Field

The best organizations are defined by taking clear assessments of themselves and their efforts. That is why much of Frontline's work centers on helping organizations learn. Two recent projects required us to study and apply the lessons of philanthropy to the field. The overarching question was, are organizations making a difference?
Read More ➡

What We've Been Doing: Leveraging Social Innovation

by Micah Gilmer

In this issue

- What We're Learning
- What We've Been Doing
- What Our Affiliates Are Doing

Appearances

5/14
Micah Gilmer joins panel at the 2011 Black Male Identity Summit, featuring Dr. Cornel West and Prof. Mark Anthony Neal (Raleigh, NC)

6/8
EPIP Professional Development Fund Gathering (New York, NY)

6/21
Marcus Littles Co-Presenting Frontline-authored Grantmaking for Community Impact report (NCRP) at Central City Funders Collaborative (New Orleans, LA)

HPJ Internship

Our HPJ Summer 2011 Fellows have been announced! We're looking forward to working with Brian Kennedy II, Hunter Bruton, Janae Edwards, Kenneth Westbury, Khala Deans, and Naomia Suggs-Brigety.

When I took a part-time gig as UNC Chapel Hill's first Social Entrepreneur in Residence in 2009, I had only a vague idea of how the work we were doing at Frontline Solutions (a social enterprise) connected to the emerging body of research and rhetoric surrounding social entrepreneurship. But from the start, I knew that Frontline's approach to social innovation would differ significantly from the mainstream of this new field.
Read More ➡

What Our Affiliates Are Doing: Jessica Norwood and Nikia Pinkney

Social change is not for the faint of heart or for those looking for immediate results. We find inspiration in the persistence our affiliates show and the breadth of vision they impart to their corners of the world. In this issue we're highlighting two such individuals, Nikia Pinkney and Jessica Norwood, and the change organizations they lead.
Read More ➡

New Frontline Phone Numbers

Frontline Solutions has a new phone system. You can reach staff through the following numbers:

Philadelphia - (215) 717-7139
Durham, N.C. - (919) 408-7477
Brooklyn - (718) 715-4411

Subscribe to our Newsletter

Privacy by SafeSubscribe℠
For Email Marketing you can trust

Copyright © 2011 FRONTLINE SOLUTIONS
Tel: 215.717.7139 | Fax: 347.823.1610 | Email: admin@frontlinesol.com | Web: helpingchangehappen.com
Follow Frontline

Forward email

SafeUnsubscribe

Trusted Email from Constant Contact
Try it FREE today.

This email was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu by admin@frontlinesol.com |
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

Frontline Solutions International, LLC | 100 S. Broad St., Suite 1524 | Philadelphia | PA | 19110

From: NAIINFO <nai.info@nai.uu.se>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 6:50 AM
To:
Subject: Writers' Africa 31 May
Attach: MLALAZI WA 31 May .pdf

Writers' Africa • Författarnas Afrika

Tuesday 31 May 2011, 18.00 – 19.30

We invite you to meet CHRISTOPHER MLALAZI Zimbabwean Writer in conversation with Maria Larsson, Journalist, The Africa Group in Uppsala

Christopher Mlalazi writes prose, poetry and drama and has won several awards, among them a 2011 National Arts Merit Award (Zimbabwe) for his 2010 play Election Day. His publications include the short story collection Dancing with Life, and the novel Many Rivers. His forthcoming novel is called "Autumn Leaves."

At the present event, we will meet Christopher Mlalazi in conversation with the journalist Maria Larsson from the Africa Group in Uppsala. Mlalazi will also read from *Dancing with Lif*e, about which Patricia Alden, Professor of African Literature has said: "Mlalazi depicts contemporary life in Zimbabwe with an uncompromising determination to explore grievous social wounds and with a creative panache that will win him readers within and beyond his home country."

Mlalazi is currently visiting the Nordic Africa Institute in the capacity of the Institute's guest writer for 2011.

Inquiries: Lina.Lorentz@nai.uu.se, Maria.Larsson@livjournalistik.se
Updates and upcoming events: www.nai.uu.se
Venue: The Nordic Africa Institute, library, Kungsgatan 38, Uppsala

Public Event at the Nordic Africa Institute (NAI)

Writers' Africa • Författarnas Afrika

Tuesday 31 May 2011, 18.00 – 19.30

We invite you to meet

CHRISTOPHER MLALAZI

Zimbabwean Writer

in conversation with Maria Larsson, Journalist
The Africa Group in Uppsala

Christopher Mlalazi writes prose, poetry and drama and has won several awards, among them a 2011 National Arts Merit Award (Zimbabwe) for his 2010 play Election Day. His publications include the short story collection Dancing with Life, and the novel Many Rivers. His forthcoming novel is called "Autumn Leaves."

At the present event, we will meet Christopher Mlalazi in conversation with the journalist Maria Larsson from the Africa Group in Uppsala. Mlalazi will also read from Dancing with Life, about which Patricia Alden, Professor of African Literature has said: "Mlalazi depicts contemporary life in Zimbabwe with an uncompromising determination to explore grievous social wounds and with a creative panache that will win him readers within and beyond his home country."

Mlalazi is currently visiting the Nordic Africa Institute in the capacity of the Institute's guest writer for 2011.

Inquiries: Lina.Lorentz@nai.uu.se, Maria.Larsson@livjournalistik.se
Updates and upcoming events: www.nai.uu.se

Venue: The Nordic Africa Institute, library, Kungsgatan 38, Uppsala

Afrika GRUPPERNA
Africa Groups of Sweden
Grupos África da Suécia

Nordiska Afrikainstitutet
The Nordic Africa Institute

From: NAIINFO <nai.info@nai.uu.se>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 6:54 AM
To:
Subject: Invitation to lecture on the human rights situation in Zimbabwe

---

"Beatings, bannings and bones: an update on the human rights context in Zimbabwe"

3.30 to 5 pm on 19 May in Missionskyrkan, Uppsala

The Solidarity Peace Trust is a non-governmental organisation, registered in South Africa. The objectives of STP are to assist individuals, organisations, churches and affiliated organisations in southern Africa, to build solidarity in the pursuit of justice, peace and social equality and equity in Zimbabwe. On 19 May the Central Church Office in Uppsala is visited by three representatives from SPT: Shari Eppel, Selvan Chetty and Prof. Brian Raftopoulos.

The lecture with Shari Eppel and Prof. Brian Raftopoulos will take place from 3.30 to 5 pm on 19 May in Missionskyrkan (S:t Olofsgatan 40, Uppsala). The presentation will focus on the ambiguities of the Global Political Agreement, examining both the constraints and opportunities it has offered and setting it in the context of broader current developments on the African continent. Furthermore, Ms. Eppel will discuss the recent highly partisan controversies over the exhumations of the remains of victims of war and political violence in Zimbabwe.

The lecture is conducted in consultation with the Dag Hammarskjöld Foundation and the Nordic Africa Institute.

Only a number of seats are available. Please confirm your participation by contacting Carina Björnlund at carina.bjornlund@svenskakyrkan.se no later than 17 May.

For more information about SPT visit http://www.solidaritypeacetrust.org/

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:05 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Sounds great!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:09 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Robert J. Kuhne, PhD <rjkuhnephd@academiccareersonline.com>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Your summer searches for African American Studies faculty

---

Dear Dr. Nyang'oro,

Any searches for African American Studies faculty, adjuncts, and post-docs extending into the summer? If so, AcademicCareers.com can help you by alerting qualified applicants.

All job postings on AcademicCareers.com include the Diversity Package, and using push-technology we alert applicants specifically searching for African American Studies positions. It is very proactive. An up to three-month job posting is 195 USD.

To post a search: www.AcademicCareers.com, select Employers enter here, then Register, and you can post your job(s) immediately thereafter. You will receive an invoice later and you can pay by purchase order, university check, or credit card.

Searches finished, frozen, or already on Academic Careers Online? Please enjoy the summer and keep us in mind for your future recruitment needs.

Regards,

Robert J. Kuhne, Ph.D.
Academic Careers Online
485 Devon Park Drive, Suite 116
Wayne, PA 19087, USA
Telephone: 610-964-9200
Email: Info@AcademicCareersOnline.com

.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Lol, ok but only if you get this deal closed!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

See you in Cape Town....

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:13 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Annual Report
Attach: CollegeAnnualReport-FacultySummary[1].pdf

Hi Julius,
The Annual Report for 2010-11 is just about complete. Please see the attached and let me know if I should change any answers and/or add additional information (this is the Unit Summary part, without all of the details about publishing, etc). I was guessing on most of these, so please do check thoroughly.

You can go into the Annual Report and edit these directly (on the Manage tab), or send me your edits and additions and I can add them in.

I am supposed to submit by tomorrow, but will ask for an extension until Monday (as I will be out tomorrow), so you have the weekend to look this over.
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

Annual Report
The College of Arts and Sciences

Department: African & African-Amer Studies
Year: May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011

I. Unit Organization

A. Does your department have an Associate Chair?
Yes

B. Does your department have a Director of Graduate Studies?
Yes

C. Does your department have a Director of Undergraduate Studies?
Yes

D. Advisory or Executive Committee
1. Does your department have an advisory or executive committee?
No
2. If yes is it:
n/a

E. Salary Committee
1. Does your department have a salary committee?
No
2. If yes is it:
n/a

F. Do your department meetings normally include all ranks of faculty?
Yes

II. Unit Development

A. [Faculty Mentoring] Mentoring Program
1. Does your department have a mentoring program for all junior faculty?
No
2. If yes, describe briefly describe

B. [Faculty Mentoring] Student Evaluation Frequency
1. How often are your tenured faculty required to conduct student evaluations:
All of their courses every semester
2. Comment: 500 words or less

C. [Faculty Mentoring] Compliance

1. Do you monitor compliance with the course evaluation requirement?
   Yes
2. Do you keep a record in the department?
   Yes
3. Do you notify faculty who are not in compliance?
   No
4. Comment: 500 words or less
   We sign up all of our courses to have students complete evaluations online via the UNC system. As the system is new, we have little control over whether or not students do in fact complete the evaluations, but we do keep a record of all submitted evaluations and we encourage faculty to allow time during class for students to complete them.

D. [Faculty Mentoring] Student Evaluation

1. Does student evaluation play an important role in your annual meetings with non-tenured faculty?
   Yes
2. In the reappointment of first-term, untenured faculty?
   Yes
3. In promotion and tenure decisions?
   Yes
4. In determining salary increases for faculty?
   No
5. Comment: 500 words or less

E. [Course Evaluation]

1. How often are your non-tenured faculty required to conduct student evaluations:
   All of their courses every semester
2. Comment: 500 words or less

III. Unit Comment

1. Please summarize in the space provided any additional comments that will assist in the interpretation of the data that you have provided.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

When do you plan to follow up with him? What are the next steps?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:12 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Deal!

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Lol, ok but only if you get this deal closed!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

See you in Cape Town....

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Sounds good. If we have not heard from him before I need next Friday, May 20 you can call my cell and let me know if I need to come to campus and meet you all.

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:27 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

He will be talking to Julius in the next few days. He knows that once Julius has given us a figure we will have to pull you into the discussion.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

When do you plan to follow up with him? What are the next steps?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:12 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Deal!

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E

Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Lol, ok but only if you get this deal closed!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

See you in Cape Town....

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street

Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:33 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Should have said before I "leave" next Friday.

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:32 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

OK Boss.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Sounds good. If we have not heard from him before I need next Friday, May 20 you can call my cell and let me know if I need to come to campus and meet you all.

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:27 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

He will be talking to Julius in the next few days. He knows that once Julius has given us a figure we will have to pull you into the discussion.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E

Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

When do you plan to follow up with him? What are the next steps?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:12 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Deal!

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Lol, ok but only if you get this deal closed!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

See you in Cape Town....

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street

Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:36 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

I am so glad we are on the same page…lol!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:35 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Understood.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:33 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Should have said before I "leave" next Friday.

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:32 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

OK Boss.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Sounds good. If we have not heard from him before I need next Friday, May 20 you can call my cell and let me know if I need to come to campus and meet you all.

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:27 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

He will be talking to Julius in the next few days. He knows that once Julius has given us a figure we will have to pull you into the discussion.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

When do you plan to follow up with him? What are the next steps?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:12 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Deal!

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Lol, ok but only if you get this deal closed!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street

Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

See you in Cape Town....

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

WOW.....good news!

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:10 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

For the first time I feel that Carl and I are on the same page.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

This all sounds great. Did you get a good feeling?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 2:04 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Had lunch with Carl. He says he now understands the whole proposal. He indicated that he would be getting back to me super soon with a response. I went for the maximum possible amount and he said all of that would relayed back to Julius who is in the process of making a decision about this.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of phonlab@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 12, 2011 8:27 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research study, Linguistics

Participants are needed for a research study that involves learning to recognize words in an artificial foreign language. The study last half an hour and pays $7. Participants should have English as their first language, and no diagnosed speech or hearing disorders. If interested, please email phonlab@unc.edu.

IRB # 07-1048, approved May 9, 2011 by the Behavioral IRB

This email is sponsored by: Department of Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of residency@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 8:47 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Residency Application Deadlines

Residency Application Deadlines for Academic Year 2011-2012

If your current residency status is nonresident and you believe you meet the requirements of NC G.S. ' 116-143.1 or 116-143.3, please file your application and supporting documentation to your admissions office by the appropriate dates below. It is the student's responsibility to provide the documentation necessary to support his or her claim for in-state residency for tuition purposes by the applicable deadlines.

A direct link to the North Carolina Manual for Tuition:
http://www.northcarolina.edu/legal/residence/committee/manual/Residence_Manual_Aug_2010.pdf

Form information: http://regweb.unc.edu/residency

Fall Semester 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m., September 6, 2011.

Spring Semester 2012 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. January 24, 2012.

Maymester and Summer Session I 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. May 30, 2011.

Summer Session II 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. July 6, 2011.

Active Military Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

NC Public School Teacher Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

UNC System Employee Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency. Employment must be active and in effect on the first day of classes for this benefit to be granted.

Spouse Benefit - requests for spousal benefits must be submitted to the Residence Status Committee, Registrar's Office CB# 2100, Suite 3105 SASB-N Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2100. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

Residency applications for an expired term are not accepted. Residency applications submitted after the posted deadlines are not accepted.

Please visit the Office of the University Registrar at http://regweb.unc.edu/residency or write to residency@unc.edu for additional information.

This email is sponsored by: Registrar's Office

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 12, 2011 9:00 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Update: UNC System Personnel Authority Initiative

---

TO: All Employees
FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

In March, I wrote to advise you regarding UNC General Administration's initiative to consolidate personnel authority for all UNC System employees under the Board of Governors. At that time, I promised to keep you informed of future developments, so I wanted to provide an update with some additional information.

Legislation authorizing personnel authority was introduced last month in the NC Senate as part of a larger bill (Senate Bill 575) covering a variety of items designed to provide additional efficiencies for both the UNC System and the state's community colleges. The bill has been referred to the Senate's Education/Higher Education committee for consideration.

In addition, General Administration has developed a question-and-answer (Q&A) document that includes many of the questions we received after our initial communication. This Q&A document has been posted on the OHR website at http://hr.unc.edu/faculty-and-staff/personnelflexibility/index.htm. I encourage you to review it, and to continue checking this web page throughout the summer for additional updates and information.

You may also be interested in a story in this week's University Gazette about the legislation. UNC System President Tom Ross visited the Employee Forum last week to directly address questions and concerns about the personnel authority legislation. Read the Gazette article at http://gazette.unc.edu/archives2/11may11/administration.html.

We invite you to continue sending questions to hr-personnel-flexibility@unc.edu for potential inclusion in future Q&A documents. Please note that we will not be able to answer individual emails, but all questions and comments are welcome and will be reviewed.

We appreciate your continued interest in this important issue.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mdev@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 9:43 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Hearing Study for Children

Need 4 - 10 year-old children with normal hearing, and no history of middle ear infections. The research study will consist of two to three visits of one hour each. The participants will sit in a sound-proof room and listen to beeps in noise. Participants will be compensated for their time at a rate of $15 per visit.

The purpose of this research study is to obtain a better understanding of hearing. The research study takes place in MacNider Hall

FOR MORE INFORMATION EMAIL
HearingLab@med.unc.edu

This research study has been reviewed and approved by the
Biomedical Institutional Review Board
Principal Investigator Joseph W. Hall, PhD 966-8926

IRB Approval Date: 10/04/10
Study#: 86-SURG-99

This email is sponsored by: Otolaryngology

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Otolaryngology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Bartolone, Regina F <regbart@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 13, 2011 10:24 AM
To: Regina Bartolone <regina_bartolone@unc.edu>
Subject: Internal Call for Nominations - 2011-2012 Mellon Foundation New Directions Fellowships

---

Mellon Foundation
New Directions Fellowships
Internal Deadline
June 6th

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has received an invitation to submit one nominee for the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation's New Directions Fellowships program. This program supports outstanding faculty in the humanities who would benefit from their acquiring systematic training outside their own discipline.

Candidates will be faculty members in the humanities, including the arts, history, languages, area studies, and zones of such fields as anthropology and geography that bridge the humanities and social sciences, who were awarded doctorates between 6 and 12 years ago and whose research interests call for formal training in a discipline other than the one in which they are expert.

In addition to facilitating the work of individual faculty members, these awards should benefit humanistic scholarship more generally by encouraging the highest standards in cross-disciplinary research. New Directions Fellowships are primarily for advanced training in pursuit of a specific research agenda. Unlike other fellowship awards, this program does not aim to facilitate short-term outcomes, such as completion of a book. New Directions Fellowships are meant to be viewed as longer-term investments in scholars' intellectual range and productivity.
Such training may consist of coursework or other programs of organized study. It may take place either at fellows' home institutions, or elsewhere as appropriate. Although it is anticipated that most fellows will seek to acquire deeper knowledge of other fields in the humanities or social sciences, proposals to study disciplines farther afield will also be eligible.
The principal criteria for selection are:
(1) the overall significance of the research
(2) the case for the importance of extra-disciplinary training for furthering the research
(3) the likely ability of the candidate to derive satisfactory results from the training program proposed
(4) a well-developed plan for acquiring the necessary training within a reasonable period of time
Fellows will receive:
(1) the equivalent of one academic year's salary
(2) two summers of additional support, each at the equivalent two-ninths of the previous academic year salary
(3) tuition or course fees or equivalent direct costs associated with the fellows' training programs.

To permit flexibility in meeting individual scholars' needs, these funds may be expended over a period not to exceed three full academic years following the date of the award. The Foundation also expects the fellow's home institution to use such budgetary relief as the award may occasion for academic purposes, preferably in the fellow's department.

Budgets commonly range from $175,000 to $250,000; the maximum is $300,000. No overhead or indirect costs are permitted.

This program limits the number of the university as a whole may submit to one, therefore, central coordination is necessary.

To view the full announcement, please click on the link below.

http://www.mellon.org/grant_programs/programs/higher-education-and-scholarship/new-directions-fellowships

Please note that Mellon has changed their requirements to candidates being 6-12 years from receiving their doctoral degrees. This change is NOT reflected on their website

.

In order to meet the Mellon Foundation's deadline of October 3, 2011, please send the following to Regina Bartolone, Associate Director, Office of Research Development in ONE document (either Word or PDF) to regina_bartolone@unc.edu or ord@unc.edu by no later than Monday, June 6, 2011

1. A letter of nomination for the candidate from her/his department chair, addressed to Jacqueline Resnick, Director, Office of Research Development. The letter should describe the importance of the candidate's proposed research for his or her field and appraise the candidate's scholarship and potential for the New Directions Fellowships;
2. A proposal of up to three pages describing the candidate's plan for future research including a brief outline of the anticipated program of study;
3. A preliminary (not more than one-half page) budget;
4. A current copy of the candidate's CV
5. The names of three UNC faculty members who could speak knowledgeably about your research in the event of an internal review. Please do NOT include the names of chairs or deans on this list in order to avoid a possible conflict of interest.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with questions at either regina_bartolone@unc.edu or 962-7504.

ReginaBartolone, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Office of Research Development
A Division of the Vice Chancellor for Research
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 4012, Bank of America Bldg., Suite 600
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
919-962-7504-Tel.
919-962-7505-Fax
regina_bartolone@unc.edu

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 13, 2011 12:30 PM
To: Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Steiner, Niklaus Andreas <nsteiner@unc.edu>; Reynolds, Andrew S <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Jackson, Fatimah L.C. <fatimahj@email.unc.edu>; McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Program/Co-Sponsorship Opportunities

Hello to all -- I wanted to send out this proposal to you before we begin scattering to the winds over the Summer. The Stone Center has invited (and she has accepted) an absolutely marvelous and visionary young woman to deliver the Fall 2011 African Diaspora Lecture. Zina Saro-Wiwa is a Nigerian (London-based now) multi-genre/ multidisciplinary artist who has, at a very young age, produced some remarkable creative work. Yes -- she is the daughter of Ken Saro-Wiwa.

However, ZIna seems to be carrying on the family legacy in ways that allow her to reach African and international audiences in very personal and touching ways. You may already have seen her HBO film This is My Africa (*if not it will be broadcast again on June 6). She has also worked on some cutting edge art installation projects (with Sharon Stone, for instance) and has now set up AfricaLab to bring together all of her interests across the genre's, and to foster more opportunities for artists to engage contemporary social issues.

She will screen This Is My Africa and deliver the lecture/discussion on Tuesday, September 20. I hope this is a project you would be interested in co-sponsoring. I mentioned to her that there are other units on campus that we work with on a regular basis that might be interested in doing a workshop, luncheon, classroom visit or related function. We of course would be open to those kinds of activities or, if you prefer, to simply sign on to support the lecture itself.

As you can see I am excited about her visit because I believe she will appeal to students and to a broad cross-section of the campus and surrounding community. Once you see the steady, thoughtful and nuanced vision she brings to This Is My Africa, you will also understand why she is in such demand. Please let me know, at your earliest convenience, if you are interested and your ideas about programming while she is here. Note we already have buy in from 3 student groups.

Thanks again, and thanks for the support you've given to Stone Center work over the years!

Best
Joseph

Link to AfricaLab:
here: http://www.africalab.org/
and here: http://us2.campaign-archive1.com/?u=648eccfa4de6b1d691ab16d36&id=434f36b394&e=

Link to This Is My Africa:
here: http://www.hbo.com/documentaries/this-is-my-africa/index.html#/documentaries/this-is-my-africa

Joseph Jordan, Director
Sonja Haynes Stone Center

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
(919) 962-9001
jfjordan@email.unc.edu

Accepted for publication in International Migration. (Date of acceptance: 23.01.2011)

Nigerians in China: A Second State of Immobility

Heidi Østbø Haugen

Department of Sociology and Human Geography, University of Oslo, Norway

ABSTRACT

China's rapid economic development has been accompanied by new forms of immigration. Investors and professionals from developed countries are increasingly joined by a diverse group of immigrants from around the world. While there is a large body of academic literature on Chinese emigration, China's new role as a country of immigration has received less scholarly attention. This article addresses the dynamics of South-South migration to China through a study of Nigerians in Guangzhou, a major international trading hub. The analysis is based on qualitative interviews and participant observation among African traders and migrants in Guangzhou. The article contends that Nigerian immigration to China epitomizes global migration trends towards a diversification of migration flows, commercialization of the migration process, and increased policing of foreigners within national borders. China was rarely the preferred destination of this study's Nigerian informants, but rather a palatable alternative as their aspirations to enter Europe and North America were curtailed by restrictive immigration regimes. They escaped a situation of involuntary immobility in Nigeria through short-term visas obtained with the help of migration brokers. However, opportunities for visa renewals are scant under the current Chinese immigration policy. Undocumented migrants find their mobility severely inhibited: They must carefully assess how, when, and with whom they move about in order to avoid police interception. This is a business impediment, as well as a source of personal distress for migrants who engage in trade and the provision of trade-related services. The situation can be described as a "second state of immobility": The migrants have succeeded in the difficult project of emigration, but find themselves spatially entrapped in new ways in their destination country.

INTRODUCTION

The fast economic growth and sweeping social changes in China over the past decades have been accompanied by new forms of immigration. Migration to China is remarkably diverse in terms of the migrants' countries of origin, social backgrounds, and purposes of migration: China attracts refugees from unstable neighboring regions, overseas Chinese investors, foreign students, members of the global professional elite, and traders from its borderlands and beyond. For the first time in history, Africans constitute a sizable group of immigrants in China. The fast-growing city of Guangzhou in Southern China has emerged as a center for immigration from Sub-Saharan Africa, in particular Nigeria.

The rise in African migration to China takes place in the context of strengthening relations between China and Africa. Migrants play a crucial role in Sino-African trade, which more than doubled in volume between 2005 and 2009 (UN Comtrade, 2010). Chinese migration to various African countries is increasingly well documented as part of the extensive body of research on the Chinese overseas. In contrast, the academic literature concerning African migrants in mainland China is so far limited to a handful of publications (Bertoncello and Bredeloup, 2009; Bodomo, 2010; Li et al., 2009; Lyons et al., 2008; Rennie, 2009; Zhang Li, 2008).

The migration from Nigeria to China epitomizes the general trends in international migration. Developing country migrants wishing to enter Europe and the US are increasingly prevented from doing so by restrictive immigration regimes. Some respond by undertaking high-risk migration to their preferred destinations, while others head for countries that are more open to immigration and/or less capable of enforcing immigration regulations. In China, as in many other parts of the world, localized forms of control within national borders force immigrants to constantly assess how, where, when, and with whom they move about.

This article introduces the concept of a "second state of immobility" to describe the situation of people who have managed to emigrate, but end up becoming spatially entrapped in new ways in the destination countries. The structure of the analysis follows the sequence of the migration process: it examines the ways in which Nigerians enter China, their experiences of immobility within China, and, finally, the possible avenues out of a second state of immobility. First, however, I will discuss the concepts of mobility and immobility in migration with reference to research from other parts of the world, and outline the methodological approach applied in this study.

MOBILITY AND IMMOBILITY

The past decades are marked by an unprecedented number of people moving across national borders . However, the impression projected by migration statistics must be balanced by descriptions of the mounting obstacles to international mobility (Smart and Smart, 2008). Immigration policies increasingly favor skilled migrants and female care and service workers (Misra et al., 2006), and are informed by discourses that frame migrants as a security threat (Obi, 2010). Men without higher education thus encounter particularly high barriers against migration.

The term "culture of migration" has been coined to describe places in which migration plays an important role in people's everyday experience and is a highly desired means for social advancement (Massey et al., 1993). In societies where migration is a customary strategy for economic and social advancement, impediments to international movement challenge identities and alter social relations (Elmhirst, 2007). The project of migration takes on added urgency for young men who lack the necessary resources for making the transformation into social adulthood, especially the material means to establish a family of their own (Lubkemann, 2008). Restrictive immigration regimes in traditional destination countries have resulted in a pervasive "involuntary immobility" among prospective migrants (Carling, 2002).

One response to the rising barriers to entry to Europe and North America is migration towards more accessible, but less attractive, countries within the developing world. This is one of the reasons why almost half of the world's registered international migrants now reside in the global South (Ratha and Shaw, 2007). Migration destinations in the South are often middle-income countries that attract migrants from nearby low-income economies (Hujo and Piper, 2007). In addition, common transit countries for migrants heading to the global North, such as Senegal, Morocco, Turkey, and Mexico, have become de facto destinations for migrants who fail to complete their intended journey. The ways in which emerging migration destinations respond to the political, legal, and social challenges brought about by immigration is crucial to the well-being of the foreigners who are there, whether by choice or by chance.

The national spaces the international migrants enter are often marked by new inequalities in mobility. While control at the national borders is a centralized task, the internal regulations of migrant mobility may vary across space due to locally improvised forms of intensified immigration enforcement (Chishti and Bergeron, 2010; De Genova, 2009). In a study of undocumented immigrants in the United States, Guillermina Gina Núñez and Josiah Heyman (2007) demonstrate how people respond to policing by restricting their own movements and devising ways to covertly defy movement controls. The general condition of "deportability" constitutes a disciplining force in the migrants' lives, and influences how they use and experience urban space (De Genova, 2005). The risk of interception by law enforcement officers – and thus the degree of spatial entrapment – varies depending on the migrants' perceived trustworthiness (Heyman, 2009).

Immobility in the destination country has also been explored within refugee studies. Many refugees live clandestinely in urban areas, instead of in official settlements. These migrants enjoy little legal protection and are vulnerable to arbitrary police arrest and expressions of xenophobia from the local population (Campbell, 2007). Several studies explore how refugees restrict their movements for fear that they will be identified. Research from Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, for example, documents the particular effects of urban immobility for children, the added efforts required by young men to remain unnoticed, and the ways in which the constraints imposed upon them by the host environment are compounded by ethnic tensions between refugees (Mann, 2002; Sommers, 2001).

There is ample documentation on how movement across international borders is influenced by personal resources and attributes. The research on undocumented migrants in the United States and urban refugees in Africa demonstrates that gender, ethnicity, age, skills, migration status, social networks, and a range of other characteristics also influence the migrants' mobility in their destination environment. The similarities in the experiences of immobility between divergent migration contexts demonstrate the importance of bridging the gap between refugee studies and broader social scientific studies of human mobility (cf. Bakewell, 2008). This article contributes to the existing literature by exploring the phenomenon of immobility in an emerging migration destination, and discussing connections between the circumstances of emigration and immobility at the point of destination.

METHODOLOGY

This article is based on four months of fieldwork in Guangzhou between May 2009 and May 2010, carried out in conjunction with a larger study on African migration to China. The high visibility of Nigerians compared to other Africans in the city prompted me to give particular attention to this group during the fieldwork and informed my decision to focus solely on Nigerians in this article.

I collected data through participant observation and semi-structured interviews. The resulting fieldnotes and interview transcripts were analyzed in the NVivo software package for qualitative analysis. Participant observation allowed me to obtain firsthand information about how migrants related to one another, non-migrants, and government officials, and their travelling patterns and behavior in public spaces. These events often became the topics of everyday conversation in the field, while the interviews allowed for in-depth discussions of some of them. During the interviews, informants were also asked to recount their migration histories, discuss experiences of immobility in China, and comment on their risk management strategies. The semi-structured nature of the interviews made comparisons between informants possible.

I took a site-based approach to recruit informants. I stayed in an apartment in a complex that hosted many Africans. Other fieldwork sites included trade centers and recreational spaces frequented by Africans, as well as one of the underground Pentecostal churches in Guangzhou. The latter site was especially important for recruiting informants among the affluent Africans who run businesses from offices in Guangzhou's business district. Wealthy immigrants formed part of the congregations of the church I attended, which was headed by a Nigerian pastor who consented to let me use the church as a fieldwork site. I occasionally recruited new informants through existing research participants, but snowball recruitment often proved ineffective due to widespread mistrust between migrants.

My main fieldwork languages were English and French. However, speaking Chinese was crucial for my rapport with African and Chinese informants alike: Migrants requested me to interpret for them in encounters with the Chinese police, immigration authorities, landlords, and migration agents. (They were made aware that these events would contribute data for my research).

When recruiting informants, I aimed to capture a range of experiences and engage with people who differed with respect to immigration status, length of stay in China, gender, religious affiliation, economic success, and family situation. The gender balance in all of my fieldwork sites was heavily skewed towards men. The degree of imbalance varied between groups: For example, I encountered women more frequently among itinerant traders and students than among undocumented migrants, and more commonly among Cameroonians than among Nigerians.

Some of my Nigerian informants had stayed in China for almost a decade, possessed residence permits, lived together with a Chinese or Nigerian spouse, and managed trading businesses with a high turnover. Others were fresh off the plane from Abuja, still deliberating whether to return before their visas expired or stay in China and try their luck as traders. However, the majority of the Nigerians I encountered during my fieldwork were undocumented male migrants without close family in China. All of my Nigerian informants engaged in trading or the provision of trade-related services, with various degrees of economic success. Informants who had arrived in China with aspirations to find salaried manual work quickly realized that unlike in Europe, this was virtually impossible, although some were taken in as apprentices by established Nigerian traders. Both apprentices and employers are represented in my group of informants.

The semi-structured interviews were carried out with 70 informants, of whom 34 were Nigerian. The other Africans I interviewed were of 14 different nationalities. I interviewed 12 female African migrants, and four Chinese girlfriends or fiancés of Nigerian migrants. Though I interacted with a few Nigerian women during participant observation, I did not interview any of them. I interviewed 17 of my informants from the Pentecostal church; all but four of them Nigerians.

Conducting research among undocumented migrants entails methodological and ethical challenges (van Liempt and Bilger, 2009). My Nigerian informants commonly described their own demeanor as "quiet" and "honest," and contrasted this with the disruptive behavior of some immigrants. Undocumented migrants are especially careful not to attract attention; however, jealous lovers, rowdy friends, criminal acquaintances, and discontented landlords can easily get them into trouble. Residence permits provide no guarantee against demands for bribes or forced repatriation. Nigerian migrants manage risks by limiting social interaction and adopting a cautious attitude towards others. The general atmosphere of mistrust was a challenge during the fieldwork, but could be turned into an advantage once trust had been established: Informants with few close friends in China appreciated the opportunity to discuss their lives and problems.

NIGERIANS IN GUANGZHOU

Guangzhou, the capital of Guangdong Province on the south-eastern coast of China, has played a key role in China's relationship with Africa since pre-modern times. A small number of people of African origins already lived in Guangzhou in the eleventh century (Wyatt, 2010). In Communist China, the economic and social reforms that started in 1978 were initiated by the Special Economic Zones in Guangdong Province. Guangzhou's international character and extensive export-oriented production form the foundation for African settlement in the city today.

There are no official statistics on the size of the African immigrant population in Guangzhou. A commonly quoted estimate is 20,000 people (Li et al., 2009:709), but this cannot be traced back to a reliable source. Chinese state media, which has access to classified government information, has reported that as many as 130,000 African immigrants were registered as residents in Guangzhou in 2008 (Economic Information Daily, 2009). In addition, the number of Africans staying in the city's hotels surpassed 60,000 in 2007 (Guangzhou Municipal Statistics Bureau, 2008). A valid visa or residence permit is required to file a residence registration or stay in a hotel. The figures therefore exclude undocumented immigrants and itinerant traders lodging in informal guesthouses.

Within Guangzhou, two areas are particularly influenced by African migration and trade (Lyons et al., 2008). Based on my fieldwork in these two areas, I contend that they differ with respect to ethnic composition and residential structure. Nigerians are concentrated in the trading centers around Guangyuan West Road. Some African itinerant traders stay in the area at night, but most Nigerians prefer to live in areas outside the city boundaries with less police controls.

The second African neighborhood is found in Yuexiu District. It is not dominated by any single nationality, but has a strong presence of Muslim and Francophone Africans. Many of the district's apartments and offices are occupied by Africans, and several hotels cater mainly to itinerant traders. The local police frequently check visas and local tenancy registrations, which has pushed undocumented migrants out of the district and forced some informal African guesthouses to shut down.

Information obtained through fieldwork indicates that Nigerians constitute by far the most numerous group of African migrants in Guangzhou. This is also the impression given by Chinese media reports (Huanqiu, 2010). Nigerians in Guangzhou can be divided into three main categories: (a) travelers on short business trips; (b) people who reside in China legally, and; (c) migrants who stay in China without valid visas or residence permits. People may move between these groups: Most Nigerians enter China with a valid visa, a number of them overstay and become undocumented migrants, while some undocumented immigrants raise sufficient resources to apply for a residence permit. Residence permits are subject to annual renewal, and migrants who fail to renew them become undocumented migrants if they remain in China.

Demographically, the Nigerian population in Guangzhou appears to be dominated by men in their twenties and thirties. Many are unmarried, and aim to earn enough money to form a family. Some eventually settle with a family in China, either marrying a Chinese woman or bringing a spouse from Nigeria. Migrants with legal residence described raising small children in China as relatively unproblematic. However, the fees charged by international schools are beyond the means of most Nigerians, who may end up sending their school-age children to their home country rather than enrolling them in Chinese schools. Guangzhou receives few unmarried female Nigerian migrants. My exchanges with female shop-owners in Guangyuan West Road suggest that most of them, unlike their male counterparts, are Cameroonian. Few of the African sex-workers that circulate quite openly in parts of Guangzhou are Nigerian, according to accounts by sex-workers and other informants.

Finding regular employment in Guangzhou is virtually impossible for Nigerian migrants, both due to their visa conditions and the high domestic labor supply. In addition to exporting goods for sale abroad, Nigerians provide support services for trade, such as logistics, money transfer, or delivery of home-cooked food. Nigerian itinerant traders often employ migrants as guides and agents.

Criminal activities and prostitution have given Nigerian migrants a poor reputation across the world (Carling, 2006). Crimes in Guangzhou involving Nigerians – especially drug-related offences – have received local and national media attention (see eg. You Chunliang, 2007). Nigerians have a negative image both among migrants from other parts of Africa and the Chinese. My informants describe the drug trade as a readily available option for those who are unable to succeed through other activities. Nigerians in Guangzhou are painfully aware of their reputation, and leaders of Nigerian immigrant associations have publically declared that they will combat the drug problem through their own networks and vigilante justice (Coloma, 2010).

Regardless of their own ethnic identification, my Nigerian informants shared the impression that the majority of Nigerian migrants in Guangzhou are Igbos. Nigerians of Hausa origin distinguish themselves from Nigerians of other ethnicities by operating among Muslim Africans in Yuexiu District. Because few Hausa Nigerians stay in Guangzhou for longer periods, they need to employ agents. Three such agents, all from Niger, were interviewed for this project. They mainly attributed their clients' preference for hiring non-Nigerian agents to mistrust across religious and ethnic divides in Nigeria. Moreover, the agents from Niger spoke Hausa and had useful contacts within logistics. They ship goods from China to the port of Cotonou in Benin, where they are loaded onto trucks, and driven into the Hausa-dominated northern Nigeria via Niger. Igbo traders who transport goods through Cotonou use other routes, most commonly the road to Lagos (Uzcátegui, 2009). Knowledge of smuggling procedures is crucial because the Nigerian government has banned the import of a wide range of manufactured products commonly brought from China (Taylor, 2007).

Nigerians in China supply goods to the rest of the Nigerian diaspora, as well as their home country. Family and kin in other parts of the world, thus, constitute an important business resource. Clothes, electronics, and counterfeit brand-name goods are shipped from China to Nigerians in Europe, the United States, and elsewhere. The economic links with the diaspora can involve intricate sets of inter-continental transactions: Some successful Nigerian migrants in China diversify their businesses by commissioning Nigerian migrants in other parts of the world to buy and ship goods to Nigeria for resale.

IMMOBILITY IN NIGERIA AND ENTRY TO CHINA

The desire to emigrate is pervasive in Nigeria, as documented through a number of studies (cf. IOM, 2009). In a recent survey, 48% of Nigerian adults reported that they would like to move permanently to another country if given the opportunity (Esipova et al., 2010). The strong emigration pressure is reflected in a high prevalence of trafficking and human smuggling, as well as regularized migration, from Nigeria (Carling, 2006). Although Nigerian migrants tend to prefer the United States and Europe, the majority are absorbed by more accessible African destination countries (IOM, 2009:56). China's emergence as a new migration destination begs the question: How is China ranked in a hierarchy of potential immigration countries?

Traders from across the Africa are attracted to China by its supply of cheap manufactured goods (Lyons et al., 2008). With some exceptions, my non-Nigerian African informants had chosen to migrate to China in order to run trading businesses. Some had extensive trading networks, considerable economic capital, and previous experience from Lomé, Dubai, and other trading hubs. Even the less experienced migrants were well informed about the economic opportunities in China prior to arrival.

While three of my Nigerian informants described their migration to China as motivated by trading opportunities, their positive evaluation of China represented an exception. The vast majority were attracted to China first and foremost by the relative ease of entry. China was sometimes seen as a springboard towards more desirable destinations, including Japan, Australia, and Europe. "I'm just here on my way to Ireland," a Nigerian informant explained, while admitting that onward migration proved harder than expected. The perception my Nigerian informants held of China as a second-tier migration destination set them apart from other Africans (cf. Lyons et al., 2008).

The retrospective accounts given by my Nigerian informants of their migration to China typically started with statements about a long-standing desire to leave Africa. Some had lost money to fraudulent migration agents, or were repatriated in previous migration attempts to Europe and the Middle East. Others never made a concrete effort to emigrate prior to their trip to China; the opportunity to move abroad seemed as unobtainable as it was attractive. Despite involuntary immobility, high-risk unauthorized migration was not necessarily a personally or socially acceptable choice. The dream was to undertake what one informant referred to as "genuine migration": Leaving Africa on an airplane with a visa stamped in their passports, as opposed to crossing into Europe illegally through a hazardous journey by road and sea.

Dissatisfaction with the opportunities for economic and social advancement in Nigeria played a central role in my informants' decision to migrate, as in the case with most migrants around the world. However, they also emphasized the high value attached to migration experience itself, beyond its expected benefits: Migrants were, for example, viewed as more independent and better able to stomach hardship than non-migrants. For some of my informants, the frustrations over immobility and desire to leave Nigeria had were intensified by personal problems, such as coercion into an undesired marriage, conflicts with senior family members, and frustrated professional ambitions. Such idiosyncratic events can intensify the search for migration opportunities and make potential migrants more inclined to head for less desirable destinations.

Entry into China is relatively easy, but by no means accessible to all; contacts and money are necessary to obtain a visa. My Nigerian informants typically recalled entering China on a 30-day tourist or business visa, sometimes obtained through migration brokers who charged between USD 1,000 and USD 2,000. . Travel agents and hotels in Guangzhou supply brokers with supporting documents for the visa applications, such as hotel reservations and invitation letters, against fairly standardized fees amounting to about USD 100. The remaining part of the brokerage charge covers rewards for the middlemen who recruit clients, official visa fees levied by the Chinese embassy, any informal payments to individual embassy officials, and the broker's profit.

Commercial migration agents are redundant for Nigerians with acquaintances who can help them in the visa application process. The distinction between operating commercially and extending favors to friends is blurred. Some do not charge money up front to help fellow Nigerians obtain a visa, but use it as a way to repay a social debt or regard it as a transaction in an ongoing exchange of favors. The same ambiguous division between commercial migration business and favors has been observed in the case of Chinese migration both to Africa and other parts of the world (Haugen and Carling, 2005; Zhang, 2008). There is also a fuzzy line between regular and irregular entry into China: Passage through authorized border crossing points with an authentic visa is technically irregular if the visa is issued based on false premises, such as spurious invitation letters.

Agents who facilitate migration to China have little interest in imparting accurate information about the country of destination. The commodification of migration through brokering services also encourages hasty migration decisions because establishing contact with an ostensibly reliable migration broker can be a rare opportunity. Under these conditions, many of my informants failed to seek out basic information about their destination. Some arrived in Beijing without knowing that Guangzhou was far away, grossly misinformed about the opportunities for landing a job and renewing visas, and surprised that English is not a common language of communication in China.

Information about the situation for Nigerian migrants in China is increasingly available through media reports, internet discussion fora, and popular culture. In the music album Things that happen in China, the Igbo vocalist describes police harassment, imprisonment, forced repatriation, casual sexual relations with Chinese girls, economic difficulties, and betrayal by family in Nigeria (Okeke, 2009). He concludes:

> China is hard!
> Only hard people will stay here.
> And if it is too hard for you > zou ba [Chinese: "go!"] to the country you came from!
>
> (Translated from Igbo)

An informant who produced songs with a similar message doubted that they would discourage new people from arriving. For the same reason, many of my informants said they would refrain from discussing their experiences in China after returning home. Economically successful migrants could be suspected of painting a bleak picture in order to prevent others from copying their achievement. The misfortune of those returning empty-handed might be attributed to laziness, lack of faith and perseverance, or worse: a façade put up to escape from the social obligations to share wealth they had, in fact, acquired.

Widespread adherence to Pentecostal Christianity adds to the reluctance to focus on the risks associated with migration. Nigerian Pentecostal churches tend to preach that good fortune and wealth will come to the true believer (Marshall, 2009). By extension, lack of belief in success through migration can be interpreted as weak faith in God.

Three points summarize my argument in this section: involuntary immobility is pervasive in Nigeria; there is widespread brokering of Chinese visas; and access to reliable information about China as a migration destination is limited. The general thrust of these factors is to drive up the number of migrants who leave Nigeria unprepared for the situation awaiting them, which makes them vulnerable to new forms of immobility once they reach China.

A SECOND STATE OF IMMOBILITY

Travelling to China resolves the initial problem of immobility for Nigerian migrants. They can move around freely for as long as their visas are valid. "A honeymoon!" one of my informants exclaimed, describing how he travelled to various factories and explored Guangzhou's nightlife during his first 30 days in China. Others are too overwhelmed by the new environment to take advantage of the mobility provided by a valid visa. As the visa is about to expire, they must decide whether to return home or stay clandestinely in China. Many opt for the latter, inspired by hopes of economic advancement or simply because they lack the money to return.

Expectations from family and friends in Nigeria can make migrants more reluctant to return while their visas are still valid. Family and friends who have funded the migration expect remittances in return for their assistance. Even when the primary motivation for leaving Nigeria is not economic, lack of business success can eventually keep migrants from returning because of the social expectations to accumulate wealth abroad. "When you go back to Nigeria, you are expected to ride a car, buy a house, set up a business. If you don't do that quickly, you are recognized as a loser," one informant explained.

The mobility of migrants in China is affected by national laws and their local implementation. The backbone of Chinese immigration legislation is the Law of the People's Republic of China on Control of the Entry and Exit of Aliens, adopted in 1985. The Ministry of Public Security and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs share responsibility for implementation of the law, which is enforced locally by several government bodies.

The 1985 Immigration Law and the institutions implementing it were not designed for a situation of high immigration pressure. According to Chinese media, this has resulted in plans to reform the current regulatory framework (Xinhua, 2010). The Chinese People's Consultative Conference (2008) has presented a discussion paper on immigrants in Guangzhou that outlined weaknesses in the current system in unusually stark terms. The report points to unreliable statistics, weak enforcement of tenancy registration, lack of control over the housing market for foreigners, insufficient cooperation between government bodies, and shortage of resources for law enforcement. It also describes how foreigners with uncultured manners and low "quality" (suzhi) cause anxiety among urban Chinese, characterizations that resemble discourses about internal migrants from rural China (cf. Yan Hairong, 2003).

Compulsory registration of tenancy is a central instrument in the monitoring of foreigners in China. Foreigners who stay in private accommodations must report their address to the local police station within 24 hours. Controls of tenancy registrations were frequent during my fieldwork, sometimes at the request of Chinese neighbors who were annoyed that Africans ran informal boarding houses out of their apartments. Foreigners with unregistered tenancy are brought to the local police station and released after paying a fine of "50 RMB at least" provided that they have valid visas (Dengfeng Police Station, 2009).

The right to stay in China is regulated by visas and residence permits. Foreigners caught without a valid visa are imprisoned, presented with a fine of more than RMB 5,000 (USD 750), and required to pay the costs of repatriation. Financial support is necessary not only to be released and repatriated, but also to endure detention. Detainees can receive money from the outside to buy extra food at inflated prices in prison. A Chinese informant whose Nigerian fiancé was detained estimated that a monthly contribution of RMB 2,000 (USD 300) would be needed for a satisfactory diet. Those with insufficient funds to be released may stay imprisoned for months and years. According to the BBC, more than 30 Nigerians have died in Chinese prisons (BBC News, 2009). The harsh treatment during arrest and in prison is infamous among Africans of all nationalities. My informants consequently went to great lengths to minimize the risk of being arrested.

The willingness to run the risk of intra-city travel depends on the purpose of the movement, and travel choices are grounded in certain "moralities of risk" (cf. Núñez and Heyman, 2007). The moral significance of attending church and the economic necessity of doing business justifies the risk of travelling for most of my informants, some of whom are quick to criticize people they perceive as reckless: "It must be something important before you go out. You should not just roam around like some people do. This place is not for sightseeing!" an economically successful migrant exclaimed. However, what might look like loitering can help less established migrants acquire information, solicit a free meal or money, or even land an apprenticeship.

Movement to other parts of China is also severely constrained for undocumented migrants. Nigerian traders who operate in markets for highly specialized goods purchase at factories far from Guangzhou. Long-distance travel is also necessary to reach the international wholesale market in Yiwu, from where much of the Chinese exports to Africa are sourced. Transaction costs increase as migrants without valid visas are forced to spend a long time travelling by bus instead of train or plane, or ride a costly taxi, rather than a public bus to evade police checks. Sometimes the travel is foregone altogether, incurring losses of business opportunities.

International travel is important to people engaged in intercontinental trade. Undocumented migrants cannot go to Nigeria and sell the goods they purchase in China themselves, but rely on family, friends and acquaintances to do it for them. My informants commonly complained that their business partners return less money than anticipated or fail to pay altogether. There may be good reasons why a batch of goods does not generate the expected profit, including volatile prices in Nigeria, high customs expenses, loss of goods in transportation, currency fluctuations, and delays in sales due to political unrest. However, the migrants have few opportunities to check the validity of such explanations, which gives rise to mistrust. In addition, some migrants have skills and personal networks that their partners at home lack, and may have obtained a higher turnover or better prices if they were able to market the goods themselves.

Migrants adopt a range of strategies to defy movement controls. They can increase their mobility by taking advantage of the fact that the Chinese legislation in unevenly implemented in time and space. For instance, the risk of being intercepted by the police varies with the time of the day: Travelling is perceived to be safest in the early morning, late at night, and during lunch-time because fewer police are on duty during these hours. The police are thought to be especially active on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the Nigerian trading centers are markedly less busy on those days. However, remaining in an apartment is not necessarily safe; the local police may come knocking at the door. Some prefer to leave their homes every morning and come back at night to demonstrate to neighbors that they are hard-working and law-abiding people.

The authorities in Guangzhou are perceived to be particularly hostile towards undocumented migrants. Most of my Nigerian informants without visas or residence permits therefore opted to live outside the city's jurisdictional boundaries. The neighboring district of Foshan was particularly popular. One informant commended the behavior of the Foshan police who raided his apartment in search for narcotics. His visa had expired, but the police refrained from arresting him, asking him instead to move out of their district. However, areas known for their leniency attract more migrants, which may provoke tougher law enforcement. By May 2010, many Nigerians had been forced to leave their apartments in Foshan, and there was a trend towards moving even further away from Guangzhou. Nigerians with residence permits, as well as undocumented migrants, prefer to live away from other migrants so as not to attract attention and to avoid requests for favors from compatriots.

An uneven and arbitrarily implemented legal framework concerning immigrants in China opens up opportunities for corruption. Informants referred to solicitations for money from police on or off duty who checked passports and visas as a common nuisance. Valid visas or residence permits make migrants less vulnerable to, but not completely shielded from, rent-seeking practices and arbitrary demands. When applying for the renewal of his residence permit, one of my informants was requested by government officials to pay the repatriation expenses of an imprisoned Nigerian. For a period, all Nigerian applicants for renewal of residence permits were asked by the Public Security Bureau to provide proof of adherence to an officially registered church, which became a problem for secular Nigerians, as well as members of underground churches.

The lack of coordination between different government bodies facilitates international mobility in some ways. Photographs and fingerprints from undocumented migrants who are repatriated have been collected for several years. Yet, some people were able to re-enter China with new passports under different identities at the time of my fieldwork. In 2010, however, the immigration checkpoint at the airport in Guangzhou introduced biometric screening. Depending on how data is stored and cross-checked, re-entry under new identities may become impossible. This was a cause for concern among some of my economically successful informants who stayed clandestinely in China: They wanted to repatriate to Nigeria, stay there for some time, and return to China on a different passport, but worried about being denied re-entry to China due to biometric screening.

The monitoring of migrants in Guangzhou appears to be intensifying. My informants related the initiations of stricter controls during the preparations for the 2008 Olympics in Beijing, the sixtieth anniversary of the People's Republic of China in 2009, and the Asian Games hosted by Guangzhou in November 2010. They had low confidence in the Nigerian Embassy's capacity to intervene on their behalf and ameliorate the situation. The Nigerian ambassador has publically defended tough policies towards Nigerian migrants by calling attention to the problems they create: "Of all the crimes committed by Africans in China, Nigerians occupy about 90 per cent," he claimed in 2009 (The Nation, 2009).

ESCAPE FROM A SECOND STATE OF IMMOBILITY

There are several ways to escape a second state of immobility, each requiring different sets of resources. The most accessible option is voluntary repatriation. Undocumented migrants in Guangzhou who wish to leave China must, as noted above, pay a fine of more than RMB 5,000 (USD 750) before they can apply for an exit visa. In addition, they must purchase a plane ticket home. The migrants need a passport in which an exit visa can be stamped. Some of my informants had lost, sold, or pawned their passports, and had to work through personal connections to obtain a temporary travel document from the Nigerian Embassy in Beijing. A strong deterrent against voluntary repatriation is the risk of imprisonment for immigration offences when one reports to the authorities to pay the fine and apply for an exit visa.

Secondly, annually renewable residence permits offer a way out of immobility that is more attractive, but less accessible. Applicants are required to rent an office, have Chinese employees, and pay taxes in China. This option is available only to economically successful migrants who have Chinese contacts to assist them in the application process. Residence permits allow for greater international mobility than visas because they do not carry restrictions on the number of entries. Informants who held residence permits cited the uncertainty associated with the annual renewal as a major source of distress.

Thirdly, immobility can be reduced through new visas obtained on the black market in China. During my fieldwork, a commonly quoted fee for a six-month visa for Nigerians was RMB 15,000 (USD 2,200), while other Africans typically paid around RMB 10,000 (USD 1,500). Some of my Nigerian informants believed that black market visa renewals had become impossible altogether by the end of 2009. Offering black market services to Nigerians may carry a greater risk for Chinese civil servants because of the poor reputation Nigerians have acquired in China. Black market visas are brokered by Chinese agents who may bring their African clients to distant parts of China where civil servants are less likely to get caught and thus more easily bribed. However, the risk of fraud is high, as migrants have few sanctions to apply against visa agents who fail to deliver.

A fourth way of escaping from immobility is to become a student at a Chinese university. Some Africans enroll in universities in Guangzhou primarily to be eligible for student visas. They attend classes and exams to maintain their status as students, but focus on trade. The school fees are around USD 2,000 per year, but the time and money spent on maintaining a student visa eliminates the risk of fraud associated with acquiring visas on the black market. However, universities in Guangzhou now routinely turn down applications from Nigerians, who are perceived as implausible genuine students.

Circular migration between Nigeria and China, rather than permanent settlement in China, is the ideal for many migrants. Traders who can move back and forth between the point of purchase and the markets have an advantage over immobile competitors. Biometric screening and more restrictive visa practices at Chinese embassies may make circular migration less viable in the future. However, stricter entry procedures will not necessarily reduce the number of illegal immigrants in China. Research from the United States suggests that migrants' duration of stay increases when circular migration is made more difficult (Reyes et al., 2002). Once the opportunities for re-entering China are curtailed, itinerant traders may instead opt to remain abroad. Nigeria's imports from China are currently the second highest in Africa according to official trade statistics, despite underreporting due to import bans (UN Comtrade, 2010). Shoes, clothes and handbags may need to be smuggled in, but computers, solar panels, motorcycle spare parts, agricultural machinery, and countless other Chinese products enter Nigeria freely. Nigerian migrants in Guangzhou become better positioned to profit from the high demand for Chinese goods when traders are prevented from travelling back and forth between Nigeria and China.

In December 2009, the Municipal Public Security Bureau took an unprecedented step to encourage migrants to repatriate voluntarily. For two months, undocumented migrants could apply for exit visas without risk of imprisonment and against a reduced fine of RMB 2,100 (USD 300). Upon obtaining the exit visa, they were given a few days to leave, and would be banned from re-entering China in the future. Three of my informants took advantage of the scheme to leave China during my fieldwork. The primary attraction of the scheme was the guarantee to personal safety; the reduction of the fine was offset by expensive holiday season plane tickets.

The management of the temporary scheme highlighted the coordination problems in Chinese immigration policy. The Public Security Bureau failed to pass on information about the scheme to the government service center set up in Yuexiu District, which mainly serves Africans. Instead, the Bureau worked through Nigerian associations and underground Pentecostal churches to convey information to undocumented migrants. Applicants for exit visas were initially required to show proof that they were lodging in a hotel, for which bribes were necessary because hotels are obliged by the government to verify the visas of their guests.

The voluntary repatriation initiative failed to impress my Nigerian informants. They compared China to European countries, in which undocumented immigrants are deported without fines, often at the expense of the host nation, and sometimes with a resettling grant (for a discusssion of different deportation regimes, see De Genova and Peutz, 2010).

Although the notion of exit visas distinguishes China from the United States and most of Europe, it is far from unique. For example, various form of exit visa policies are found in the Middle East, where some countries also punish undocumented migrants with fines and prison sentences (Cholewinski and Touzenis, 2009). In Singapore, undocumented migrants face caning in addition to prison terms (Immigration and Checkpoints Authority, 2010). The practice of commercial migration brokering is widespread in these countries, and migrants may solicit the help of migration agents for exiting, as well as for immigration.

CONCLUSION

As an emerging destination for intercontinental migration, China does not have an effective legal framework and enforcement capacity in place to manage high immigration pressure. The policing of migrants and other forms of control measures have been intensified as an ad hoc response in places where the immigrant population is perceived to have grown too large. This impairs the migrants' mobilities and economic prospects. The uneven law enforcement presents individual migrants with both opportunities and liabilities: Undocumented immigrants can exploit the "pockets" of time and space in which movement is relatively safe, while all migrants find long-term planning is difficult under a volatile immigration regime.

China's improvised and rapidly shifting policies towards migrants set the country apart from Europe and North America. However, the Arizona Immigration Law passed in 2010 allowing police to stop and question suspected illegal immigrants illustrates that improvised and localized forms of control are not an exclusive feature of new immigration destinations. Unlike most other developing countries, China has a highly organized state apparatus that can be applied to monitor immigration and foreign migrants if the country develops a more comprehensive immigration policy. Yet, the approaches taken by China so far have left a domestic impression of a lack of government control, generated negative international publicity, and strained bilateral relations with a number of African countries. This accentuates the need for the Chinese government to exert greater control over local enforcement agencies, and confront the legal, political, and humanitarian challenges presented by new immigration flows.

This article has demonstrated that the circumstances of emigration influence how vulnerable migrants are to ending up in a second state of immobility at the point of destination. My Nigerian informants were often willing to move to any country outside Africa, and arrived in China on a visa obtained through brokers. Guangzhou offers good prospects for Africans who engage in trade. However, Nigerian migrants who never intended to become traders may lack the necessary networks, financial resources, and skills to take advantage of these opportunities. As the size of the Nigerian population grows through brokered migration, the competition between exporters of Chinese goods to Nigeria intensifies, the ties of solidarity between migrants are strained, and the public image of Nigerians in Guangzhou deteriorates. The problems of immobility among Nigerians in China have, therefore, deepened over time.

REFERENCES

Bakewell, O.

2008 "Research Beyond the Categories: The Importance of Policy Irrelevant Research into Forced Migration", Journal of Refugee Studies, 23(2):432-453.

BBC News

2009 "Nigerian anger over China deaths", http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/africa/8274755.stm, [Accessed 05.02.10].

Bertoncello, B. and Bredeloup, S.

2009 "Chine-Afrique ou la valse des entrepreneurs-migrants", Revue Européenne des Migrations Internationales, 25(1):45-70.

Bodomo, A.

2010 "The African Trading Community in Guangzhou: An Emerging Bridge for Africa-China Relations", The China Quarterly, 203(4):693-707.

Campbell, E.H.

2007 "Urban Refugees in Nairobi: Problems of Protection, Mechanisms of Survival, and Possibilities for Integration ", Journal of Refugee Studies 19(3):396-413.

Carling, J.

2002 "Migration in the age of involuntary immobility: theoretical reflections and Cape Verdean experiences", Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies, 28(1):5-42.

Carling, J.

2006 Migration, human smuggling and trafficking from Nigeria to Europe. International Organization for Migration, Geneva.

Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference

2008 "Cong chuzuwu guanli rushou jiaqiang dui zai Sui juliu waiguoren de guanli (Strengthening the management of foreigners living in rented houses in Guangzhou)", Guangzhou, http://www.gzzx.gov.cn/lunzheng/content.aspx?id=633391252806005078442, [Accessed 01.02.2010].

Chishti, M. and Bergeron, C.

2010 "New Arizona Law Engulfs Immigration Debate ", Migration Information Source, Migration Policy Institute, Washington DC, http://www.migrationinformation.org/USFocus/display.cfm?ID=782, [Accessed 24.08.10].

Cholewinski, R. and Touzenis, K.

2009 Irregular migration into and through southern and eastern Mediterranean countries: Legal perspectives. CARIM Analytic and Synthetic Notes 2009/01, Geneva.

Coloma, T.

2010 "L'improbable saga des Africains en Chine ", Le Monde Diplomatique, 01 May:12-13.

De Genova, N.

2005 Working the Boundaries: Race, Space, and "Illegality" in Mexican Chicago, Duke University Press, Durham.

De Genova, N.

2009 "Conflicts of mobility, and the mobility of conflict: Rightlessness, presence, subjectivity, freedom", Subjectivity, 29:445-466.

De Genova, N. and Peutz, N., Eds

2010 The Deportation Regime: Sovereignty, Space, and the Freedom of Movement, Duke University Press, Durham.

Dengfeng Police Station

2009 Important Notice for Foreign Nationals, Information sheet. Dengfeng Police Station, Guangzhou.

Economic Information Daily

2009 "Guangzhou Feizhou yi juji qu jianwen (Information about African immigrants in Guangzhou)", Jingji Cankao Bao, Xinhua, http://jjckb.xinhuanet.com/whsh/2009-10/14/content_185139.htm, [Accessed 28.04.10].

Elmhirst, R.

2007 "Tigers and gangsters: masculinities and feminised migration in Indonesia", Population, Space and Place, 13(3):225-238.

Esipova, N., Srinivasan, R. and Gravelle, T.

2010 "Most desired migration destinations and antecedents of migration intent across the world", paper presented at "Migration: A World in Motion", University of Maastricht, Maastricht, 18-20 February.

Guangzhou Municipal Statistics Bureau

2008 Guangzhou Statistical Yearbook, China Statistics Press, Beijing.

Haugen, H.Ø. and Carling, J.

2005 "On the edge of the Chinese diaspora: The surge of baihuo business in an African city", Ethnic and Racial Studies, 28(4):639-662.

Heyman, J.M.

2009 "Risque et confiance dans le contrôle des frontières américaines", Politix, 3(87):21-46.

Huanqiu

2010 "Shi wan Feizhouren xun meng Guangzhou (A hundred thousand Africans chase Guangzhou dream)", Beijing, http://world.huanqiu.com/roll/2010-08/1011938.html, [Accessed 16.11.2010].

Hujo, K. and Piper, N.

2007 "South Migration: Challenges for development and social policy", Development, 50(4):1-7.

Immigration and Checkpoints Authority

2010 "Immigration Offenders Travel 'Business Class' Out of Singapore", Singapore, http://www.ica.gov.sg/news_details.aspx?nid=2849, [Accessed 22.11.2010].

IOM

2009 Migration in Nigeria: A Country Profile 2009. International Organization for Migration, Geneva.

Li, Z., Ma, L.J.C. and Xue, D.

2009 "An African Enclave in China: The Making of a New Transnational Urban Space", Eurasian Geography and Economics, 50(6):699-719.

Lubkemann, S.C.

2008 "Involuntary Immobility: On a Theoretical Invisibility in Forced Migration Studies", Journal of Refugee Studies, 21(4):454-475.

Lyons, M., Brown, A. and Li Zhigang

2008 "The "third tier" of globalization: African traders in Guangzhou", City: analysis of urban trends, culture, theory, policy, action, 12(2):196-206.

Mann, G.

2002 ""Wakimbizi, wakimbizi": Congolese refugee boys' and girls' perspectives on life in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania", Environment and urbanization, 14(2):115-122.

Marshall, R.

2009 Political spiritualities: the Pentecostal revolution in Nigeria, University of Chicago Press, Chicago.

Massey, D.S., Arango, J., Hugo, G., Kouaouci, A., Pellegrino, A. and Taylor, J.E.

1993 "Theories of International Migration: A Review and Appraisal", Population and Development Review, 19(3):431-466.

Misra, J., Woodring, J. and Merz, S.N.

2006 "The globalization of care work: Neoliberal economic restructuring and migration policy", Globalizations, 3(3):317-332.

Núñez, G.G. and Heyman, J.M.

2007 "Entrapment processes and immigrant communities in a time of heightened border vigilance", Human Organization, 66(4):354-365.

Obi, C.I.

2010 "African Migration as the Search for a Wonderful World: An Emerging Trans-global Security Threat?", African and Asian Studies, 9:128-148.

Okeke, B.

2009 Ife n'eme na Chinco (Things that happen in China). Shalom Music Ltd., Guangzhou.

Ratha, D. and Shaw, W.

2007 South-south migration and remittances, The World Bank, Washington, D.C.

Rennie, N.

2009 "The lion and the dragon: African experiences in China", Journal of African Media Studies, 1(3):379-414.

Reyes, B.I., Johnson, H.P. and Swearingen, R.V.

2002 Holding the line? The Effect of Recent Border Build-up on Unauthorized Immigration, Report. Public Policy Institute of California, San Fransisco.

Smart, A. and Smart, J.

2008 "Time-space Punctuation: Hong Kong's Border Regime and Limits on Mobility", Pacific Affairs, 81:175-193.

Sommers, M.

2001 Fear in Bongoland: Burundi refugees in urban Tanzania, Berghahn Books, New York.

Taylor, I.

2007 "China's relations with Nigeria", The Round Table: The Commonwealth Journal of International Affairs, 96(392):631-645.

The Nation

2009 "Nigerians: Crime beyond the border", Lagos, http://thenationonlineng.net/web2/articles/31880/1/Nigerians-Crime-beyond-the-borders/Page1.html, [Accessed 15.07.10].

UN Comtrade

2010 "United Nations Commodity Trade Statistics Database", United Nations Statistics Division, New York, http://comtrade.un.org/db/, [Accessed 25.08.10].

Uzcátegui, J.A.R.

2009 "The Igbo apprenticeship system and Hong Kong's role in informal education", paper presented at "The 108th American Anthropological Association Annual Meeting ", Philadelphia, December 2-6.

van Liempt, I. and Bilger, V., Eds

2009 The ethics of migration research methodology, Sussex Academic Press, Brighton.

Wyatt, D.J.

2010 The Blacks of Premodern China, University of Pennsylvania Press, Philadelphia.

Xinhua

2010 "China plans draft immigration law", China Daily, Beijing, http://www.chinadaily.com.cn/china/2010-05/22/content_9881622.htm, [Accessed 03.08.10].

Yan Hairong

2003 "Neoliberal governmentality and neohumanism: Organizing suzhi/value flow through labor recruitment networks", Cultural Anthropology, 18(4):493-523.

You Chunliang

2007 "Guangzhou jingnei waiguoren she du fanzui jizeng (Sharp increase in foreigners committing drug-related offenses in Guangzhou)", Fazhi Ribao, Beijing, http://www.dsb.gd.gov.cn/ruizheng/Article/ShowArticle.asp?ArticleID=6531, [Accessed 20.08.10].

Zhang Li

2008 "Ethnic congregation in a globalizing city: The case of Guangzhou, China", Cities, 25(6):383-395.

Zhang, S.X.

2008 Chinese human smuggling organizations. Families, social networks, and cultural imperatives, Stanford University Press, Stanford.

Accepted for publication in Forum for Development Studies. (Date of acceptance: 14.03.2011)

Chinese exports to Africa: Competition, complementarity and cooperation between micro-level actors

Heidi Østbø Haugen

Department of Sociology and Human Geography, University of Oslo, Norway

China's trade relations with Africa have displayed a striking dynamism in the past decade. The spatial distribution of these trade flows is highly uneven: Chinese imports are mainly sourced from a few resource-rich nations, while Chinese exports penetrate most African markets. Small-scale business enterprises have been crucial to the recent surge in the export of Chinese manufactured goods to Africa. The scholarship on the micro-level processes through which these commodities enter Africa has so far focused on the role of Chinese entrepreneurs. This article contributes to the existing literature by addressing the ways in which both African and Chinese actors play a part in strengthening Sino-African trade relations. Based on multi-sited fieldwork with semi-structured interviews and participant observation, it explores relationships of competition, complementarity and cooperation between Chinese and African traders. The macro-level trends in Sino-African trade are described using information extracted from the United Nations Commodity Trade Statistics Database. Given the economic and social significance of the exports from China to Africa, it is important to build a better understanding of the central role played by small-scale businesses and to recognize the role of Africans in shaping Sino-African links.

Keywords: China; Africa; international trade; small-scale entrepreneurs; migration; global economic crisis

When the first Forum on China-Africa Cooperation (FOCAC) concluded in October 2000, Chinese Premier Zhu Rongji predicted that it would 'enter the glorious annals of China-Africa friendship and co-operation' (FOCAC, 2000b). The expansion of bilateral trade between China and African countries featured on top of the list of objectives adopted during the meeting. Despite the highly ambitious targets set by the first FOCAC, major Western newspapers made only passing mention of the event (see eg. Smith, 2000). This lack of interest provides a stark contrast to the great attention given to the third FOCAC meeting in 2006, for which journalists, representatives from non-governmental organizations, and academics from around the world joined the African delegations in Beijing. By then, Premier Zhu's prediction had come to pass: The convocation of the first FOCAC was regarded as a key event in the history of international relations.

Western interest in China's activities in Africa was given momentum by increasing oil prices after the turn of the millennium. Consequently, discussions about Sino-African relations have often been cast in ways that emphasize China as an aggressive competitor to Europe and the US for natural resources. The bargaining position of African raw material producers has indeed been altered by Chinese demand. However, the emerging trade relations between China and Africa touch the lives of most Africans in a stronger and more direct way through the large amounts of Chinese consumer goods entering African markets. This article uses trade statistics to point out the importance of Chinese exports relative to its imports from Africa, both in terms of monetary value and number of African countries strongly impacted. Secondly, the article aims to demonstrate the role of Chinese and African individual traders and family enterprises in the export of manufactured goods from China to Africa. A large proportion of Sino-African trade is undertaken by small-scale enterprises, but these have received limited public attention in the West compared to the large, government-backed Chinese companies that organize the import of African raw materials to China.

The variety of experiences across the African continent precludes sweeping conclusions about the impact of China's mounting presence in Africa. A growing body of empirically-informed scholarship on Sino-African relations has contributed to pushing the discourses on China's Africa policies beyond a moral binary, casting China either as an all-weather friend or a neo-colonial predator. One of the ways in which these discourses have been sustained is through ignoring the role of Africans in shaping how their countries are influenced by China. This article contributes to the existing literature by focusing on the ways in which African, as well as Chinese traders play a part in strengthening Sino-African trade relations. It moves beyond the discussion of entrepreneurial cultures within certain ethnic groups by proposing that success in trade is the outcome of a fit between the resources of the traders and the environments they operate within. Furthermore, the article demonstrates that African and Chinese traders in African markets—while at times aggressive competitors—may also occupy complementary market niches or depend on inter-ethnic cooperation for success.

Below, I introduce the data sources and methodological approach that form the basis for this article. The subsequent discussion starts at the macro-level by describing the developments in Sino-African commercial relations through trade statistics disaggregated by year and country, followed by a brief account of different interpretative frameworks within which the surge in Sino-African trade has been understood. The second part of the article explores ways in which the increasing volumes of Chinese exports reach African markets, with an emphasis on relationships of economic competition, complementarity and cooperation between Chinese and African traders. The specific nature of these relationships varies greatly between countries and industries though, meriting greater contextualization than the scope of this article permits.

Methods and data

The statistical account for the developments in trade ties between China and Africa given in this article is based on data extracted from United Nations Commodity Trade Statistics Database (UN Comtrade). This database contains annual trade data reported by both the exporting and importing countries, and provides the most comprehensive dataset available on imports and exports between China and 53 African countries. Imports reported by one country coincide only approximately with exports reported by its trading partner for several reasons: Firstly, the valuation of imports includes transport to the importer's port (cost, insurance and freight), whereas exports do not comprise transportation costs (free on-board). Secondly, the timing of the valuation differs. Finally, there may be differences in inclusions and exclusions of particular commodities. To maintain consistency across the African countries, the analysis here is based on import and export data reported by China, not the various African trade partners.

Inaccuracies due to the deliberate exclusion of certain commodities is a great source of error for data on some commodities in the UN Comtrade database, such as firearms (Small Arms Survey, 2010). However, such imprecision is of limited consequence for data at aggregate levels, as countries may include the values of sensitive flows of trade under broader categories. Smuggling, on the other hand, seriously compromises the quality of the data on trade between China and Africa. A number of African countries, including Nigeria, China's second largest export market, ban the import of a range of goods in order to protect indigenous industries (Taylor, 2007). Such bans notwithstanding, Chinese goods are ubiquitous in African markets, entering by way of contraband trade through established regional smuggling networks (Lyons, Brown and Li Zhigang, 2008; Ugwoke, 2011; Uzcátegui, 2009). Moreover, traders reduce taxes and customs costs by under-reporting volumes, under-invoicing, misclassifying goods, and misreporting the country of origin and end destinations of their products. Official statistics therefore grossly underrate the value of Chinese exports to many African countries and the absolute numbers are highly unreliable. Nevertheless, the UN Comtrade data is useful for identifying general trends in the trade relations between China and African countries.

The qualitative analysis of how small-scale traders organize exports from China to Africa is based on several periods of fieldwork. It is also informed by secondary data from micro-level studies of trade in Chinese goods from a range of African countries. The primary data drawn upon in this article was collected through semi-structured interviews and participant observation in Cape Verde (2002–2003), China (2009–2010) and Nigeria (2011). Interview transcripts and field notes were organized in the NVivo software for qualitative analysis.

The data collection in Cape Verde was undertaken together with Jørgen Carling in Cape Verdean Creole and Mandarin Chinese. Our data comprised of transcripts of semi-structured interviews with Chinese immigrants and notes from participant observation and interviews with Cape Verdean government officials, workers in Chinese shops, and local shop owners.

The fieldwork in China was carried out by the author among African traders and their Chinese business associates. The main fieldwork site was the city of Guangzhou, which hosts the largest African immigrant population in China. A total of 70 semi-structured interviews were conducted with African itinerant traders and migrants. The principal sites of participant observation were trade centers, logistics offices, African Pentecostal churches, and the author's residence, which hosted many African tenants. The fieldwork was undertaken during a three-month period and three shorter stays between May 2009 and November 2010. Building relationships of trust with informants over time was important due to the informal and sometimes illegal nature of many of the economic transactions undertaken by African traders in Guangzhou.

The purpose of the fieldwork in Nigeria was two-fold: First, to re-interview informants from the fieldwork in China in order to trace how their trading businesses develop over time, and, secondly, to observe Chinese and African traders who operate in the same lines of business. Eight Nigerian traders from my fieldwork in Guangzhou were interviewed again in Lagos, and I collected data among both Chinese and Nigerian traders in two types of commodities—electrical cables and vehicle spare parts.

Expanding exports from China to Africa

The pace of growth in the commercial relations between China and African countries in the past decade has been remarkably high. Trade between China and Africa grew by an average of 28 percent per year between 1999 and 2009 in terms of monetary value adjusted for inflation.[1] The total trade value increased more than twelve-fold during this period, despite the drop from 2008 to 2009 due to the global economic recession. Before the recession set in, the target set by the Third Forum on China-Africa Cooperation of increasing Sino-African trade to an annual level of USD 100 billion was achieved, two years ahead of the predicted schedule.

[Figure 1 about here]

The remarkable overall growth in exports from China to Africa is illustrated in Figure 1. The graph is also evidence for the strikingly parallel manners in which Chinese exports to and imports from Africa have developed. Both trade flows rose relatively smoothly until 2008 and a drop in 2009. They are of comparable sizes, and China alternates between running a trade deficit and a trade surplus with Africa. Mineral products make up three quarters of China's imports from Africa. Exports, by contrast, are much more diversified, and the top five product groups account for less than one-fifth of the total exports (Trade Law Centre for Southern Africa, 2010). The role of small-scale traders in the marketing of three of the main export commodities—clothing, footwear and plastic products—is well documented in the literature on Chinese migration to Africa cited below. The two remaining export products—machinery and transport equipment—arrive in Africa as a result of both large Chinese investment projects in Africa and the activities of individual traders, as the data from my fieldwork in Nigeria verified.

[1] Trade with Hong Kong SAR is included in this and all the following figures.

Before discussing the current pattern of trade between China and Africa in more detail, the effects of the global economic recession warrant some attention. The developments in China's trade with Africa during the recession must be understood in light of Chinese economic policies in this period. Unlike most other countries, China showed robust economic growth throughout 2008 and 2009, although the growth rate fell somewhat below the double-digit level experienced in the preceding years (National Bureau of Statistics of China, 2010). The Chinese government introduced fiscal stimulus programs and lowered interest rates in order to offset the effect of the falling international demand for Chinese goods during the recession (AfDB/OECD, 2010). This package relied heavily on infrastructure construction, which in turn contributed to continued high demand for primary inputs sourced from Africa, including oil, copper, tin and lumber (Arieff, Weiss and Jones, 2010). The drop in Chinese imports from Africa from 2008 to 2009 resulted largely from the fall in world commodity prices, not decreasing volumes. Petroleum constitutes the greatest share of Chinese imports from Africa, and oil prices fell sharply in July 2008, followed by falling prices of minerals. However, the prices of crude oil, as well as diamonds, copper, aluminum, diamonds, cocoa, sugar and other key African export commodities rose again during the course of 2009 (AfDB/OECD, 2010:21-24).

Chinese exports to Africa fell less steeply than imports during the global economic crisis. China was also better able to sustain the levels of export to Africa than to other parts of the world: China's total export fell by 16 percent from 2008 to 2009, while exports from China to Africa merely decreased by 7 percent in the same period (UN Comtrade, 2010). This can partly be attributed to counter-cyclical effects of the Chinese aid and credit policy: Part of China's exports to Africa is linked to Chinese infrastructure projects on the continent, for which assistance was scaled up as part of the 2007–2009 China-Africa Cooperation Beijing Action Plan (FOCAC, 2009). In addition, the indigenously-driven African demand for Chinese goods was largely sustained through 2009 because the African region as a whole did not experience a recession, only severely reduced economic growth rates (Arieff et al., 2010).

The decline in trade caused by the global recession appears to be temporary; the value of Sino-African trade was predicted to reach an all-time high in 2010 according to a mid-year forecast released by the Chinese Ministry of Commerce (Xinhua, 2010).

[Figure 2 about here]

Whereas Chinese exports and imports from Africa have followed each other closely over time, their spatial patterns are highly disparate. Out of the 53 African countries for which trade data is reported, only 13 have a trade surplus with China, while the remaining 40 countries run a trade deficit.

The first point to be made with reference to Figure 2 is that the Chinese imports are more geographically concentrated than exports to Africa. China recorded imports of USD 100 million or more from only 23 African countries in 2009. Chinese exports to Africa, on the other hand, are remarkably diverse in terms of destination nations: China exported goods worth more than USD 100 million to 38 of Africa's 53 countries in 2009, despite the global economic crisis.

[Table 1 and Table 2 about here]

Secondly, China sources about two-thirds of its imports from Africa in three resource-rich nations: Angola, South Africa and Sudan (see Table 1). In contrast, the largest markets for Chinese exports are found in countries with large populations and/or a high GDP per capita, notably in North Africa, Nigeria and South Africa. The trade flow may be even more diverse than the statistics indicate. Part of the goods exported to Egypt and South Africa—two of the three largest export destinations for Chinese goods listed in Table 2—is resold in the regional trading hubs of Cairo and Johannesburg and consumed elsewhere in Africa.

Thirdly, and related to the previous point, the large sources of imports to China and large export destinations for Chinese goods do not coincide. Among China's top 20 trading partners in Africa, only South Africa and Libya have a fairly even ratio of imports to exports.

Effects on African economies

China's influence on African economies extends beyond the direct effects of bilateral trade. Chinese interests help African countries to foist tougher terms on Western firms that bid for contracts for raw material extraction, for example, for uranium in Niger, copper in Zambia, and oil in Nigeria (Wallis and Burgis, 2010). The terms of trade of African countries are affected by Chinese demand, regardless of the extent to which they trade directly with China. Several studies have sought to isolate the effects of China on the ratio of export prices to import prices in individual African economies (Villoria, 2009; Wang, 2007; Zafar, 2007). The losers are, predictably, identified as countries that have a large manufacturing sector and/or rely on energy import. Oil exporters and countries rich in natural resources experience improved terms of trade as a result of Chinese demand. These gains from increased commodity prices can translate into development, provided that they are reinvested in human or physical capital, rather than pocketed by the countries' elites. The devil is in this detail: Much of the contemporary debate about Sino-African relations revolves around the question of whether China breeds corruption in Africa, thus deepening rather than resolving the problems experienced by resource-rich countries.

The intensified ties between China and Africa have generated vigorous debates about the long-term effects of China's economic engagement on development in Africa. These arguments often hinge on claims about China's intentions on the African continent. On the one hand, some journalists and academics depict China as a country that scrambles for 'unfettered access to Africa's resources, as well as her markets' (Lee, 2006:303). According to this interpretation, the Chinese mercantilist expansion reproduces the same exploitative patterns that typified Africa's colonial relations with Europe. On the other hand, there are those who argue that China, with its impressive national development record, is more capable than any Western country of leading Africa out of poverty. The latter group is comprised of scholars who accentuate China and Africa's shared histories of colonialism and experiences as developing countries, as well as free-trade proponents who highlight China's role in improving African countries' terms of trade. A third position holds that China above all preserves the status quo in Africa by engaging with the continent in much the same way as Western countries do.

The notion that China engages with Africa in a distinctive normative mode is not exclusively a product of Western rhetoric: It also lies at the heart of China's Africa policy. The Chinese president Jiang Zemin has pledged to use trade as a means to create 'a new pattern of China-Africa economic relations and cooperation based on mutual benefit and aimed at common development' (FOCAC, 2000a). In a discourse that Chris Alden and Daniel Large (2011) have dubbed 'China's exceptionalism', Beijing emphasizes the principles of mutual economic gains and political equality between China and African countries made possible by shared histories of oppression and poverty. By virtue of this ideological stance, China needs to demonstrate that it is different from Western powers in the substantive nature of its relations with Africa. The challenge of reconciling ideal aspirations with actual behavior is immense, not least because of the multitude of Chinese actors on the African continent, including provincial-level governments, state-owned and private companies, as well as individual entrepreneurs and migrants.

Diverse actors

Beijing tends to stress the continuity in its relationship with Africa since the founding of the People's Republic in 1949. However, the current forms of Sino-African trade were made possible by two key policy shifts in the 1980s. The first is the decision to decentralize trade through abolishing state trading companies, which until 1985 held exclusive rights to export, import, and foreign exchange (Wang, 2007). This opened up the possibilities of trading with Africa for a variety of Chinese actors. Chinese entrepreneurship and market access in Africa has been further encouraged by finance provided by the Export-Import Bank of China, which was established in 1994, and the China-Africa Development Fund, set up by the China Development Bank in 2007 (Brautigam, 2009).

A second crucial change introduced as a part of the economic open-door policy was the liberalization of emigration in 1985. The composition of the Chinese population in Africa was consequently shifted: First-generation migrants from mainland China joined the established population of overseas Chinese, whose roots can be traced back to the 'coolie trade' in the 19th century (Kuang, 2008). Some of the new migrants from China have chosen African destinations to benefit from their emerging markets. Others see Africa as a stepping stone towards more attractive migration destinations. Contrary to popular belief in some African countries, the immigration of Chinese small-scale entrepreneurs is not state-sponsored. However, Chinese professionals and employees who go to Africa to work on bilateral development cooperation projects or for Chinese state-owned companies may stay on after their contracts end to establish their own businesses. Estimates of the Chinese migrant population in Africa show extreme variations due to poor statistical capacity in the countries of destination, unclear definitions of migrants, and occasional manipulation of figures for political ends. Depending on the sources used, the estimated number of Chinese on the African continent range from 580,000 to over 800,000 (Park, 2009).

The increased Chinese physical presence through migration is intimately linked to the surge in exports from China to Africa. This is not a unique feature of Sino-African trade; the export of British mass-produced goods in the 19th century, for example, was made possible through the establishment of mercantile houses, where exporters employed agents who could ensure that the British supply matched the local demand (Llorca-Jana, 2009). There is a rich and growing body of peer-reviewed scholarship on the linkages between commodity trade and Chinese migration to African countries, including Cape Verde (Haugen and Carling, 2005), Equatorial Guinea (Esteban, 2010), Ghana (Ho, 2008), Kenya (Gadzala, 2009), Mali (Bourdarias, 2009; Kernen and Vulliet, 2008), Namibia (Dobler, 2008, 2009), Senegal (Bredeloup, 2008), South Africa (Huynh, Park and Chen, 2010; Laribee, 2008; Park and Chen, 2009), Tanzania (Hsu, 2007) and Zambia (Gadzala, 2010; Yan and Sautman, 2010). Case studies from other parts of Africa have been published as book chapters, conference papers, reports and graduate theses.

So far, little scholarship has been devoted to the role of African entrepreneurs in the trade between China and Africa. African immigrants form part of the new wave of foreigners who arrive in China to take advantage of the country's fast economic growth and commercial opportunities. The fast-growing city of Guangzhou in Southern China has emerged as a center for African migrants and itinerant traders. These Africans are neither extremely wealthy, nor very poor; they belong to the dynamic African urban trading class (Lyons et al., 2008). There are no official statistics on the size of the African immigrant population in Guangzhou. Published estimates, none of which can be traced back to a reliable source, range from 20,000 to 130,000 people (Economic Information Daily, 2009; Li, Ma and Xue, 2009:709). In addition, about 60,000 African tourists, most of them presumably itinerant traders, stayed in hotels in Guangzhou in 2007 (Guangzhou Municipal Statistics Bureau, 2008).

The emergence of enclaves of African traders in Chinese cities indicates that Africans play an increasingly important role in the exchange of goods between China and Africa. Staying in China allows them to trade directly with Chinese factories and wholesalers, rather than through middlemen. Some African traders relocate to China, while others travel back and forth and commission African migrants in China to help them locate suppliers and manage procurement and logistics. The research published on African migration to mainland China has focused particularly on the ways in which migrants from Africa shape Chinese urbanity and the profiles and itineraries of African migrants who go to China (Bertoncello and Bredeloup, 2007; 2009; Bodomo, 2010; Haugen, forthcoming; Li et al., 2009; Lyons et al., 2008; Pelican and Tatah, 2009; Zhang Li, 2008). The economic organization of this trade has received little attention to date.

The body of scholarship on Chinese entrepreneurs in Africa has shown that the rapid expansion of Chinese exports to Africa has not been a frictionless process. Traders face steep learning curves in the process of identifying markets, suppliers, and ways to bring the goods from the points of production to the points of sale. Not all traders are successful in being intermediaries between Chinese producers and African consumers, and some Chinese entrepreneurs have left Africa with less money than they arrived with. Chinese goods are consumed in virtually all classes and sectors of African societies, but this does not imply that a demand necessarily emerges where there is a supply. Traders may find that their procurement and logistics arrangements are too inefficient to make a profit in increasingly competitive African markets, or they may be stuck with goods that are unsellable regardless of the price asked.

The growing number of Africans who source goods directly from China begs the question: What are the respective competitive edges of Chinese and African traders, and how do these affect their businesses? In the following sections, I will explore three types of relationships that have emerged between the two groups of traders: competition, complementarity, and cooperation.

Competition

'The more monks, the less porridge' (seng duo zhou shao), a Chinese shop owner in Cape Verde complained in 2003. He was referring to how the generous profit margins enjoyed by early Chinese entrepreneurs were squeezed by the cut-throat competition among an increasing population of Chinese migrants. Chinese shop owners had transformed the retail market in the small African island state in the course of a few years. In attempts to gain a competitive advantage, shop owners reduced their mark-up, increased business hours, opened more outlets, and established shops in more remote parts of the country (Haugen and Carling, 2005). Some talked with fondness about their first years in Cape

Verde, when the Chinese would get together to celebrate holidays and socialize after business hours. The intense competition resulted in an atmosphere fraught with suspicion, and several migrants investigated opportunities for moving to other African countries with fewer Chinese entrepreneurs. Based on the pace at which new migrants arrived from China, the Chinese shop owners in Cape Verde correctly predicted that profit margins would stay under pressure in the years to come. They were also wary of how European and Lebanese competitors—who had been in Cape Verde long before the Chinese arrived—reduced prices in order to retain their market share.

For all their concern with increased competition, Chinese shop owners did not at the time fear that African traders in Cape Verde would turn to suppliers in China. When asked about this possibility during interviews, they claimed that the ways in which Africans approach business make them unfit to trade in the market for cheap products. "Their attitudes to business are different; they must earn a lot on one thing," one informant remarked. "I think it's about habit. They are used to, say, 100% profit. We won't do that; we take maybe 30 or 50% profit." Moreover, they perceived African traders to lack both the skills and the zeal necessary to succeed in a treacherous Chinese business environment. Most of the Chinese merchandise sold in Cape Verde was sourced from the enormous wholesale market in the city of Yiwu. Here, extreme vigilance, as well as good bargaining skills, is necessary for a successful purchase, lest you end up with goods of a different quantity or quality than what you paid for.

The rising number of successful African traders in China has thoroughly disproved those who claim Africans to be unfit for the Chinese business environment. In the African business community in Guangzhou, one commonly encounters traders with extensive previous business experience from various African and even Asian countries, such as Dubai, India and Thailand. There are also Africans who arrive in China with no prior experience and successfully build up networks of clients and suppliers from scratch. Economic success is far from guaranteed for African migrants in China; many migrants return home or are deported with no money to show for their stay abroad. However, there seems to be a potential for profitable business activity throughout Africa. During my fieldwork in China, I encountered Africans who made a profit from export to virtually every country on the continent, Cape Verde included.

An African informant who purchased electronics in China for retail in Cape Verde said that the goods he sent were of the same quality as the electronics brought by Chinese migrants; in other words, they were competing in the same market segment. While my African informant was satisfied with how the business was running, he was convinced that the Chinese enjoy an unfair competitive advantage: "A black man will pay more than the Chinese to clear goods in Cape Verde. The Chinese work with the government, which allows them to pay less. That is why I only send by air cargo; shipping a container would cost too much." The Chinese traders in Cape Verde are aware of the popular impression that they pay reduced import duties and vehemently refute it. While Cape Verde offers tax breaks that are promoted to potential Chinese investors, these are geared towards larger companies and the tourism, international transport, light industry and fisheries sectors (China Daily, 2009). Similar rumors about tax breaks for Chinese small-scale retailers circulate in other African countries, often unsubstantiated. Indeed, in some parts of Africa, the income generated by port taxes on Chinese mass imports form the basis for elite political support behind Chinese traders (Axelsson and Sylvanus, 2010).

While Chinese traders may not enjoy tax breaks in Africa, they have other advantages over their African competitors. A Chinese dealer in spare parts for vehicles, for example, claimed that his profit in the highly competitive Nigerian market depended entirely on favorable exchange rates and tax refunds granted by the Chinese government through export promotion schemes (interview in Lagos, February 2011). Moreover, Chinese traders can more easily locate and assess potential suppliers due to their language skills and familiarity with the business context. A considerable economic risk is involved when ordering goods because of the standard down-payment of 30 percent of the total costs when the order is placed. The chances of disagreements over the delivery are reduced through including detailed product specifications on the deposit receipt. African traders may overcome some of the language barriers with the help of interpreters or Chinese secretaries, but many try to learn Chinese in order to communicate directly with suppliers and Chinese officials. The universities around Guangzhou and Yiwu are popular with African students who want to trade. Some of them arrive in China on their own initiative, while others are sent there by their families to study Chinese in order to prepare to work in the family trading enterprises.

Seasoned African traders who go to China often have extensive experience both in learning a foreign language for the purpose of trade and in inter-ethnic cooperation. A Malian informant who had been a trader in several African countries prior to arrival in China and learned to speak Chinese fairly fluently, claimed that the experience and language skills would reduce—but never eliminate—the advantage that Chinese traders have over their African competitors at the point of purchase:

> The advantage of the Chinese is that they can always get things a little cheaper than I can. It helps that I speak Chinese now, the factories I buy from like that. But the Chinese traders will still be able to bargain the price down a little further, though the difference it not that large. Their disadvantage is that they don't know what goods will move by themselves [are in high demand], but have to rely on copying things they see moving in Africa.
>
> (Malian wholesale trader interviewed in Guangzhou, October 2009)

Another business advantage enjoyed by Chinese traders is relatively unobstructed travel between Africa and China. In general, the immigration regimes in African countries are more relaxed than in China, with good opportunities for obtaining long-term and multiple-entry visas or residence permits. Chinese traders can therefore travel between the point of purchase and the point of sale, which is crucial for keeping updated about the market conditions at the point of sale, while retaining control over the procurement in China. There are risks and higher transaction costs associated with leaving business partners or family responsible either for the buying of goods in China or retail in Africa. African traders often have great difficulties in obtaining Chinese travel documents and many must leave China frequently in order to renew their short-term visas. Those who stay in China as undocumented immigrants after their visas expire face imprisonment, fines and repatriation if they are caught. They must therefore be cautious when they move about, which constrains their business opportunities and increases transaction costs.

Africans too possess some competitive advantages when they operate in the same market as Chinese traders. As suggested in the above quote of the informant from Mali, African traders often know the markets better at the points of sale and can use this information about local tastes and fashions when they purchase goods in China for export to Africa. Their chances of being stuck with surplus stocks or being forced to sell with a loss are therefore smaller. Traders, whether Africans or Chinese, commonly pass sample products from Africa to manufacturing agents and ask for copies. This strategy works more effectively for entrepreneurs who identify fashion trends early than for those who attempt to copy the commercial success of others: The preferences of fashion-conscious African consumers may have shifted by the time popular products are copied by Chinese traders. Samples are also sent in the other direction: From China to Africa. The purpose of this is getting feedback from local retailers and clients to know whether there is a market for the product. African traders are more likely to possess the social networks required to do such market research.

The poor reputation of Chinese goods in Africa provides African traders with another advantage vis-à-vis their Chinese competitors. It is easier for African traders to hide the origin of the goods they import from China, passing them off as European or local in order to obtain better prices. The reputation Chinese products have of being sub-standard can create a lock-in situation. Chinese shop owners in Cape Verde, for example, complained about being caught in a vicious circle: Customers expected their goods to be inferior and cheap, which prevented them from importing products of better quality from China to sell at higher prices.

Complementarity

Chinese and African traders may remain back-to-back competitors in the same market segments, each applying their specific resources in attempt to gain market shares. However, differences in competitive advantages may also lead them towards different lines of business. In other words, Chinese and African traders may engage in complementary, rather than competitive relationships.

One of the most thriving wholesale markets in Africa is found in Lomé, the capital of Togo. According to accounts by West African traders interviewed in Guangzhou, a division of labor has developed in this market between Chinese migrants who dispose over more efficient supply networks and African traders with detailed knowledge of their home markets. The trade in very cheap consumer goods sold in high volumes is dominated by Chinese entrepreneurs. Instead of challenging these traders, many African entrepreneurs procuring goods in China focus on higher quality products aimed at middle-class African customers. A great challenge associated with this strategy is to keep the prices down. The African traders adopted two strategies to benefit from economies of scale, despite their relatively small orders. One approach is to acquire a set of contacts in factories that produced high-quality goods for a Western market. These contacts would let the traders know when they had left-over or second-grade stocks that they were willing to sell cheaply. An alternative approach is to identify factories that are willing to add extra orders on top of existing production contracts with other customers. Both of these arrangements require intensive networking and high levels of trust between the Chinese producer and the African trader.

Private and public procurement are other arenas where Chinese and African traders often do not directly compete. During my fieldwork in Guangzhou, I commonly encountered Africans who ordered goods for hospitals, schools, banks, churches, branches of international companies, and other institutions in their home countries. Their contracts with the procurer varied: Some were paid a set commission, while others made purchases with their own funds and resold it with a profit to the procurer. Recently arrived Chinese migrants in Africa normally lack the social contacts required to land large procurement contracts. However, Chinese traders may also have entered the market through specific business networks. The Chinese entrepreneurs in Africa who initially arrived on the continent as employees in large Chinese companies or to work on development projects may have strong networks in the African private and public sectors that benefit their individual trading ventures.

An initial situation of complementarity can turn into competition. As Africans gain more experience in China, they are less at a disadvantage when they deal with Chinese suppliers. Likewise, over time, the Chinese in Africa improve their skills at predicting what goods will sell well and they establish contact networks in Africa that enable them to land large private and public procurement deals. The threat of being undercut by traders with different national backgrounds can serve as a deterrent against innovation. The ground-breaking trader bears the costs and risks of innovation, while the benefits of successful initiatives might accrue to a larger group of traders copying the original idea. For example, African informants in Guangzhou attempted to introduce products in their home countries that previously had not been sourced from China, ranging from canned tomato paste to solar panels. However, they were aware that Chinese traders may emulate their success if these endeavors are profitable, possibly using their superior knowledge of supply networks to undercut and outcompete them.

Cooperation

The differences in business advantages possessed by the Chinese and African traders indicate that cooperation is potentially profitable for both parties. Horizontal integration of Chinese and African small-scale trading ventures has received little attention so far in the literature on China and Africa. In contrast, intra-ethnic business cooperation is a central topic in the literature on ethnic Chinese businesses in other parts of the world. Academic, as well as popular writings on ethnic Chinese businesses in Southeast Asia have attributed the economic success of this group to a strong culture of intra-ethnic cooperation in hostile host country environments (Yeung, 2004). The common employment of the Chinese term guanxi in English language texts insinuates that interpersonal relations among Chinese entrepreneurs are qualitatively different from social networks in other ethnic groups. By contrast, interpersonal networks and social obligations in Africa are often portrayed as liabilities for individual entrepreneurs and obstacles to economic development (Meagher, 2010).

Studies of Chinese migrants in Africa do not lend consistent support to the thesis that difficult business conditions forge trust and cooperation among ethnic Chinese entrepreneurs. A few scholars have found examples of collaboration within Chinese migrant communities. In a study from Kenya, Aleksandra Gadzala (2009) argues that the high level of inter-personal trust endows Chinese business networks with significant competitive advantages. Close business relations are also common among the Chinese in Zanzibar (Hsu, 2007:122). More commonly, however, micro-level studies of Chinese entrepreneurs in Africa remark on the lack of cooperative behavior: In Mali, the social fragmentations among Chinese migrants run deep (Bourdarias, 2009:7); in Namibia, knowledge and business connections are not shared between Chinese shop owners (Dobler, 2008:247); in Cape Verde, mistrust among the Chinese is an obstacle to business innovation (Carling and Haugen, 2008:326). Chinese entrepreneurs in the Democratic Republic of Congo—which the World Bank (2009) ranks second last in the world with respect to ease of doing business—formed an association in 2002 to collectively manage their relationships with government authorities in Kinshasa. However, common ethnic origins were not enough to sustain their unity; differences in interests and intra-ethnic conflicts resulted in the formation of a competing Chinese association in 2006 (Vircoulon, 2009).

The variation regarding trust and cooperative behavior among the Chinese in Africa highlights the need to analyze how social networks are shaped not only by cultural identity, but also market characteristics, local power relations, and formal institutions (cf. Meagher, 2005). In the case of Sino-African trade, a number of circumstances coalesce to potentially make cooperation between Chinese and African entrepreneurs profitable for both parties. The two parties bring different economic and social assets into the business partnerships. An obvious example is inter-ethnic trading ventures where the Chinese partner identifies suitable suppliers and obtains goods at a low cost, while the African partner knows the demand in Africa and may have a network of potential buyers of Chinese exports. One of the parties may bring more economic capital to the table than the other, allowing them to better exploit the non-financial resources of the less affluent partner better. For example, a West African informant in Guangzhou entered into a business partnership with a Chinese migrant in Dakar. The Chinese partner provided the investment money for the venture, and the profit was split between them. They worked together for six years, during which time they gradually expanded their cooperation. My informant claimed that both had equally strong incentives to continue the partnership. "As a native, I know the market. I am able to tell the Chinese what will sell. Because of me, he can use his economic capital to be the first one to bring those types of products to the market," he explained. Both partners ran individual trading businesses as well, which allowed for risk diversification.

Trading between China and Africa often implies crossing both national and legal boundaries. Inter-ethnic partnerships may allow entrepreneurs to exploit the commercial opportunities created by these boundaries. An example is a Nigerian-Chinese married couple who jointly run a specialized logistics service from Guangzhou to Lagos. They bring luggage for customers who need to send goods quickly and informally between the two cities, flying back and forth up to twice a week. To increase the volume, they purchase extra baggage allowance, which is re-sold through logistics agents in Guangzhou. The Nigerian has contacts in his home country that allow him, his Chinese wife, and the goods to pass smoothly through the customs. Through his wife, a Chinese residence permit that allows him to travel freely between China and Africa was obtained. They also depend on social connections to obtain air tickets and extra baggage allowances at a heavily reduced price, without which it would be impossible to run the business profitably. Itinerant traders sometimes recover a part of their travel costs by selling baggage allotments. During my fieldwork, travelers were offered USD 9.5 per kilogram to carry goods by plane to Nigeria, which is not enough to cover the cost of regular plane tickets. However, the couple mentioned above could turn the travelling in itself into a profitable business by exploiting their different citizenships and social networks in China and Africa.

Inter-ethnic cooperation often entails higher risk than cooperation within ethnic groups. The elevated risk is not necessarily associated with ethnicity per se, but with the lack of informal and formal institutions through which sanctions can be applied in the case of a breach of trust. The hazard of opportunism increases when two partners in a business venture do not have common family relations, affiliations to religious institutions, or home towns. Formal institutions in China and Africa are often unsuited to enforce business agreements, either because they do not span national boundaries or because the transactions take place outside the formal economic sector. Informants both in Africa and China highlighted the importance of building trust over time by expanding the business relationships gradually. Some of my informants grounded inter-ethnic business partnerships in inter-ethnic romantic relationships. The trust associated with affectionate ties can reduce transaction costs, but there is also a danger of exploitation of emotional dependency and problems in the case of a break-up. Dramatic stories about the betrayal of trust between lovers and consequent economic losses circulated widely in Guangzhou at the time of my fieldwork.

Conclusion

The trade between China and Africa has grown fast over the past decade, and exports from China have penetrated the markets in most African countries. This phenomenon cannot be adequately accounted for as the story of a hegemonic country imposing its own terms on the local population. Nor can global differences in production costs alone explain this development. The expanding, diversifying and deepening trading networks that source goods from China and market them in Africa are key catalysts for the growth in Sino-African trade. Contrary to the common depiction of Chinese goods simply being 'dumped' on the African markets, the traders who connect Chinese producers and African consumers must do so skillfully in order to succeed. The different resources possessed by Chinese and Africans influence their ways of doing business and ability to capture a share of international value chains associated with Sino-African trade, and have lead to relationships of competition, complementarity and cooperation between the two groups.

Studies of small-scale entrepreneurs in the trade between China and Africa to date have largely focused on what is happening at the points of sale. Through this article, I have attempted to point towards more ways of exploring the trade links between China and Africa, while keeping the focus on the concrete ways in which these are forged, strengthened and transformed. Transnational phenomena are often best captured using multi-sited research designs. Future studies that follow both African and Chinese traders between the two continents would further improve our understanding of the comparative advantages and modi operandi of the different groups. Another issue worth exploring in more detail is the vertical linkages in the trade between China and Africa (for a rare in-depth discussion, see Lyons and Brown (2010)). Finally, there is a lack of scholarship on how production in China is adapted for export to Africa. Many Africans stick firmly to local fashions as far as the demand for clothes, textiles and many other goods is concerned. Thus, the export of low-end goods designed for a generic global customer has its clear commercial limitations. The current growth in Chinese exports to Africa has required adaptations in the production, as well as the distribution processes. Studies that focus on a wider group of actors, as well as new aspects of the commercial relationship between China and Africa, can help improve our understanding of the micro-level processes that underlie the strong macro-level trends seen in international trade statistics.

FIGURES

Figure 1: Sino-African trade, 1999-2009

Based on data from UN Comtrade 2010. Absolute numbers (not adjusted for inflation). As reported by the People's Republic of China, including Hong Kong.

Figure 2: The distribution of Chinese imports from Africa and exports to Africa, 2009

Based on data from UN Comtrade 2010. As reported by the People's Republic of China, including Hong Kong.

TABLES

Table 1: Chinese imports from Africa by largest trading partners, 2009

Country of origin	Value (USD million)	Proportion of total (%)
Angola	14 817	32
South Africa	10 394	23
Sudan	4 686	10
Africa, other	16 015	35
Total	45 911	100

Table 2: Chinese exports to Africa by largest trading partners, 2009

Country of destination	Value (USD million)	Proportion of total (%)
South Africa	7 965	16
Nigeria	5 707	11
Egypt	5 333	11
Africa, other	30 638	62
Total	49 643	100

Based on data from UN Comtrade 2010. As reported by the People's Republic of China, including Hong Kong.

REFERENCES

AfDB/OECD, 2010, 'African Economic Outlook 2010'. Tunis: African Development Bank & Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Alden, C.and D. Large, 2011, 'China's Exceptionalism and the Challenges of Delivering Difference in Africa' Journal of Contemporary China 20(68):21-38.

Arieff, A., M.A. Weiss, and V.C. Jones, 2010, 'The Global Economic Crisis: Impact on Sub-Saharan Africa and Global Policy Responses' in Congressional Research Service Report. Washington DC.

Axelsson, L.and N. Sylvanus, 2010, Navigating Chinese textile networks: women traders in Accra and Lomé' pp. 132-141 in The rise of China and India in Africa, edited by F. Cheru and C. Obi. London: Zed Books.

Bertoncello, B.and S. Bredeloup, 2007, 'The emergence of new African "Trading Posts" in Hong Kong and Guangzhou' Pp. 94-105 in China Perspectives. Hong Kong: GEFC.

Bertoncello, B.and S. Bredeloup, 2009, 'Chine-Afrique ou la valse des entrepreneurs-migrants' Revue Européenne des Migrations Internationales 25(1):45-70.

Bodomo, A., 2010, 'The African Trading Community in Guangzhou: An Emerging Bridge for Africa-China Relations' The China Quarterly 203(4):693-707.

Bourdarias, F., 2009, 'Migrants chinois au Mali: une pluralité de mondes sociaux' Revue européenne des migrations internationales 25(1):7-24.

Brautigam, D., 2009, The dragon's gift. The real story of China in Africa. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Bredeloup, S., 2008, Les entrepreneurs migrants chinois au Sénégal. La métaphore du jeu de go?' pp. 343-364 in Le Sénégal des migrations: mobilités, identités et sociétés, edited by M.C. Diop. Dakar: Crepos.

Carling, J.and H.Ø. Haugen, 2008, Mixed fates of a popular minority: Chinese migrants in Cape Verde' pp. 319-338 in China returns to Africa. A rising power and a continent embrace, edited by C. Alden, D. Large, and R. Soares de Oliveira. London: Hurst & Company.

China Daily, 2009, 'Cape Verde Special July 27 2009' China Daily. Available online at http://www.chinadaily.com.cn/cndy/2009-07/27/content_8474682.htm. [Accessed 21.06.10]

Dobler, G., 2008, Solidarity, xenophobia and the regulation of Chinese businesses in Namibia' pp. 237- 256 in China returns to Africa. A rising power and a continent embrace, edited by C. Alden, D. Large, and R. Soares de Oliveira. London: Hurst & Company.

—, 2009, 'Chinese Shops and the Formation of a Chinese Expatriate Community in Namibia' The China Quarterly 199:707-727.

Economic Information Daily, 2009, 'Guangzhou Feizhou yi juji qu jianwen (Information about African immigrants in Guangzhou)' Jingji Cankao Bao. Available online at http://jjckb.xinhuanet.com/whsh/2009-10/14/content_185139.htm. [Accessed 28.04.10]

Esteban, M., 2010, 'A Silent Invasion? African Views on the Growing Chinese Presence in Africa: The Case of Equatorial Guinea' African and Asian Studies 9:232-251.

FOCAC, 2000a, 'China and Africa Usher in the New Century Together' Speech by President Jiang Zemin of the People's Republic of China at the Opening Ceremony of the Forum on China-Africa Cooperation Ministerial Conference Beijing 2000. Available online at http://www.focac.org/eng/ltda/dyjbzjhy/SP12009/t606804.htm. [Accessed 13.12.2010]

—, 2000b, 'Strengthen Solidarity, Enhance Co-operation and Pursue Common Development' Speech at the Closing Ceremony of the Forum on China-Africa Cooperation Ministerial Conference Beijing 2000. Available online at http://www.focac.org/eng/ltda/dyjbzjhy/SP12009/t606810.htm. [Accessed 13.12.2010]

—, 2009, 'Forum on China-Africa Cooperation Sharm el Sheikh Action Plan (2010-2012)'. Available online at http://www.focac.org/eng/dsjbzjhy/hywj/t626387.htm. [Accessed 31.08.10]

Gadzala, A., 2009, 'Survival of the fittest? Kenya's jua kali and Chinese businesses' Journal of Eastern African Studies 3(2):202 - 220.

Gadzala, A.W., 2010, 'From formal- to informal-sector employment: examining the Chinese presence in Zambia' Review of African Political Economy 37(123):41-59.

Guangzhou Municipal Statistics Bureau, 2008, Guangzhou Statistical Yearbook. Beijing: China Statistics Press.

Haugen, H.Ø., forthcoming, 'Nigerians in China: In a second state of immobility' International Migration.

Haugen, H.Ø.and J. Carling, 2005, 'On the edge of the Chinese diaspora: The surge of baihuo business in an African city' Ethnic and Racial Studies 28(4):639-662.

Ho, C.G.-Y., 2008, 'The "Doing" and "Undoing" of Community: Chinese Networks in Ghana' Journal of Current Chinese Affairs - China aktuell 37(3):46-77.

Hsu, E., 2007, 'Zanzibar and its Chinese communities' Population, Space and Place 13(2):113-124.

Huynh, T.T., Y.J. Park, and A.Y. Chen, 2010, 'Faces of China: New Chinese Migrants in South Africa, 1980s to Present' African and Asian Studies 9:286-306.

Kernen, A.and B. Vulliet, 2008, 'Les petits commerçants et entrepreneurs chinois au Mali et au Sénégal' Afrique contemporaine 4(228):69-94.

Kuang, E.M.M., 2008, 'The new Chinese migration flows to Africa' Social Science Information 47(643).

Laribee, R., 2008, 'The China Shop Phenomenon: Trade Supply within the Chinese Diaspora in South Africa' Afrika Spectrum 43(3):353-370.

Lee, M.C., 2006, 'The 21st Century Scramble for Africa' Journal of Contemporary African Studies 24(3):303 - 330.

Li, Z., L.J.C. Ma, and D. Xue, 2009, 'An African Enclave in China: The Making of a New Transnational Urban Space' Eurasian Geography and Economics 50(6):699-719.

Llorca-Jana, M., 2009, 'Knowing the shape of demand: Britain's exports of ponchos to the Southern Cone, c. 1810s-70s' Business History 00051(00004):602-622.

Lyons, M.and A. Brown, 2010, 'Has Mercantilism Reduced Urban Poverty in SSA? Perception of Boom, Bust, and the China-Africa Trade in Lome and Bamako' World Development 38(5):771-782.

Lyons, M., A. Brown, and Li Zhigang, 2008, 'The "third tier" of globalization: African traders in Guangzhou' City: analysis of urban trends, culture, theory, policy, action 12(2):196-206.

Meagher, K., 2005, 'Social capital or analytical liability? Social networks and African informal economies' Global Networks 5(3):217-238.

—, 2010, Identity economics. Social networks & the informan economy in Nigeria. Suffolk: James Currey.

National Bureau of Statistics of China, 2010, China Statistical Yearbook 2009. Beijing: China Statistics Press.

Park, Y.J., 2009, 'Chinese Migration in Africa' in Occational paper No. 24, China in Africa Project: South African Institute of International Affairs.

Park, Y.J.and A.Y. Chen, 2009, 'Recent Chinese Migrants in small Towns of Post-apartheid South Africa' Revue Européenne des Migrations Internationales 25(1):25-44.

Pelican, M.and P. Tatah, 2009, 'Migration to the Gulf States and China: Local Perspectives from Cameroon' African Diaspora 1(2):229-244.

Small Arms Survey, 2010, Small Arms Survey 2010: Gangs, Groups, and Guns. Geneva: The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies.

Smith, C.S., 2000, 'World business briefing, Asia: China forgives some African debt' in The New York Times. New York.

Taylor, I., 2007, 'China's relations with Nigeria' The Round Table: The Commonwealth Journal of International Affairs 96(392):631-645.

Trade Law Centre for Southern Africa, 2010, 'Africa-China trading relationship'. Available online at http://www.tralac.org/cause_data/images/1694/tralac_Africa-China2010.pdf. [Accessed 11.03.2011]

Ugwoke, F., 2011, 'Treating smugglers with kids gloves' Pp. 27 in The Sunday Newspaper. Lagos.

UN Comtrade, 2010, 'United Nations Commodity Trade Statistics Database'. Available online at http://comtrade.un.org/db/. [Accessed 25.08.10]

Uzcátegui, J.A.R., 2009, 'The Igbo apprenticeship system and Hong Kong's role in informal education' in The 108th American Anthropological Association Annual Meeting Philadelphia.

Villoria, N.B., 2009, 'China and the Manufacturing Terms-of-Trade of African Exporters ' Journal of African Economics 18(5):781-823.

Vircoulon, T., 2009, 'Chinese ways to survive in Kinshasa, Democratic Republic of Congo' in Chinese in Africa/Africans in China. University of Johannesburg.

Wallis, W.and T. Burgis, 2010, 'Continent drives a harder bargain' Pp. 1 in Financial Times. London.

Wang, J.-Y., 2007, 'What Drives China's Growing Role in Africa?' in IMF Working Paper. Washington DC: International Monetary Fund.

World Bank, 2009, Doing Business 2010. Washington: Palgrave MacMillian.

Xinhua, 2010, 'China-Africa trade to top 100 billion USD again this year '. Available online at http://news.xinhuanet.com/english2010/business/2010-10/03/c_13540915.htm. [Accessed 13.12.2010]

Yan, H.and B. Sautman, 2010, 'Chinese Farms in Zambia: From Socialist to Agro-Imperialist Engagement?' African and Asian Studies 9:307-333.

Yeung, H.W.-C., 2004, Chinese capitalism in a global era: towards hybrid capitalism. London: Routledge.

Zafar, A., 2007, 'The growing relationship between China and Sub-Saharan Africa: Macroeconomic, trade, investment, and aid links' World Bank Research Observer 22(1):103-130.

Zhang Li, 2008, 'Ethnic congregation in a globalizing city: The case of Guangzhou, China' Cities 25(6):383-395.

From: Pasion, Jessica <jvpasion@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 13, 2011 2:48 PM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula <dptcrchairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: RE:[dptcrchairs] FROM THE DEAN: Position Authorizations Effective July 2012
Attach: Pos Auth Request Memo for July 2012 Authorizations.pdf

---

This message is sent to Department and Curriculum Chairs in the College, with an information copy to Administrative Managers.

Many of you may have noticed that the link in the attached memo directs you to the SurveyMonkey homepage. The link below will direct you to the correct website where you will be able to submit your position authorization requests.

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/req-new-pos

Please let me know if you encounter any other problems. As a reminder, submissions are due no later than 5pm on Monday, May 23rd.

Kind regards,
Jessica

Jessica Pasion
Executive Assistant to the Dean
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
College of Arts & Sciences, Dean's Office
205 South Building
Campus Box 3100
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
(919) 962-1165

From: Pasion, Jessica [mailto:jvpasion@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Thursday, March 31, 2011 11:43 AM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula
Subject: [dptcrchairs] FROM THE DEAN: Position Authorizations Effective July 2012

This message is sent on behalf of Dean Karen Gil to Department and Curriculum Chairs in the College, with an information copy to Administrative Managers.

Attached, please find important correspondence regarding 2011-2012 position authorization requests.

Jessica Pasion
Executive Assistant to the Dean
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
College of Arts & Sciences, Dean's Office
205 South Building
Campus Box 3100
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
(919) 962-1165

UNC
COLLEGE OF
ARTS & SCIENCES

THE UNIVERSITY
of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

OFFICE OF THE DEAN
205 SOUTH BUILDING
CAMPUS BOX 3100
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-3100

T 919.962.1165
F 919.962.2408
college.unc.edu

To: Department and Curriculum Chairs

From: Karen M. Gil, Dean

Date: March 31, 2011

Subject: Position Authorizations Effective July 2012

We are continuing with our state budget planning process for fiscal year 2011-2012 amidst great uncertainty. We do not expect significant state support for additional faculty positions for fiscal year 2011-2012. Nevertheless, we must plan ahead so that we are prepared to act should state budget decisions made later this year create opportunities. For this reason, we ask that you submit your authorization requests for faculty positions effective July 2012.

It is unlikely that we will be able to authorize more than one hire in any one department this year. Thus be sure to prioritize your requests if you ask for more than one position. Do NOT include requests for positions that have already been authorized. Positions for which you are searching (or completed a search) this year will automatically carry over to next year if the search is not successful this year.

New position authorization requests should be submitted online at http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/req-new-pos no later than May 23rd at 5pm. We will review these requests over the summer and make position authorizations as quickly as possible after the 2011/2012 state budget allocations and reductions have been finalized (which we hope will be no later than August, 2011).

cc: Department and Curriculum Managers

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Sunday, May 15, 2011 8:15 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2012 Holiday Calendar

TO: Deans, Directors, and Department Heads

FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

The State Personnel Act provides all State employees a holiday schedule that cannot exceed 11 paid holidays per year, except in those years in which Christmas Day falls on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday - when the schedule allows 12 paid holidays. For 2012, Christmas Day falls on a Monday; therefore, we have two paid holidays at Christmas (a total of 11 for the year).

UNC System institutions are also allowed to adjust the dates of the annual holidays to accommodate the academic schedule. Traditionally, UNC-Chapel Hill has moved the State's Veterans Day Holiday into either the Christmas holiday or New Year's (Eve) holiday period. For next year, 2012, the University will observe Monday, Dec. 31, as a holiday in lieu of Veterans Day.

It is noted that some departments have essential work that must be done on designated holidays. SPA employees who work on holidays are paid holiday premium pay, in addition to hour-for-hour compensatory time up to eight hours.

The 2012 holiday schedule is as follows:

New Year's Day -- Monday, Jan. 2
Martin Luther King Jr. Day -- Monday, Jan. 16
Spring Holiday -- Friday, April 6
Memorial Day -- Monday, May 28
Independence Day -- Wednesday, July 4
Labor Day -- Monday, Sept. 3
Thanksgiving -- Thursday and Friday, Nov. 22 and 23
Christmas -- Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 24 and 25
New Year's Eve -- Monday, Dec. 31

If you have questions, please contact your Benefits Specialist. You can search for your department's assigned Benefit Specialist using HR Connect (http://hrconnect.unc.edu/); select the topic, "Benefits Questions."

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, May 15, 2011 11:03 PM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula <dptcrchairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [dptcrchairs] WebEvent Reminder: May 23 - Deadline for Input for Position Authorizations Effective July 2012

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Deadline for Input for Position Authorizations Effective July 2012
Date: Monday, May 23, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: We are continuing with our state budget planning process for fiscal year 2011‐2012 amidst great uncertainty. We do not expect significant state support for additional faculty positions for fiscal year 2011‐2012. Nevertheless, we must plan ahead so that we are prepared to act should state budget decisions made later this year create opportunities. For this reason, we ask that you submit your authorization requests for faculty positions effective July 2012.

It is unlikely that we will be able to authorize more than one hire in any one department this year. Thus be sure to prioritize your requests if you ask for more than one position. Do NOT include requests for positions that have already been authorized. Positions for which you are searching (or completed a search) this year will automatically carry over to next year if the search is not successful this year.

New position authorization requests should be submitted online at http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/req-new-pos no later than May 23rd at 5pm. We will review these requests over the summer and make position authorizations as quickly as possible after the 2011/2012 state budget allocations and reductions have been finalized (which we hope will be no later than August, 2011).

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

You are currently subscribed to dptcrchairs axsd: JEN321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29162171-35587346.d2d65bea842e4c54e31c0c42635f0b5c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 12:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Rucker forms

Hi Julius,
I need your signature on 2 forms for Rucker, and the "Dean's Letter". Can you coordinate this with Travis – he is living in Abernethy Hall, room 218B this week, but I believe that he could go to meet you at your class, etc and give you the forms…

(Travis, the forms are on your desk).
Thanks!
Agatha

****

Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 4:03 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Carolina Blood Drive Update: 398 Donor Appointments and Counting!
Attach: Carolina Blood Drive Donor Prizes 2011 Approved.doc

From: Katrina Coble [mailto:coble@cs.unc.edu]
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 11:23 AM
To: UNC Dept. Business Managers
Subject: [business_managers] Carolina Blood Drive Update: 398 Donor Appointments and Counting!

PLEASE FORWARD IN YOUR UNIT: Carolina Blood Drive - Tuesday, June 7th, from 7a.m. - 6p.m. at the Smith Center

Carolina Blood Drive Donor sign-ups as of today are 358 Whole Blood Appointments and 39 Double Red Cell Appointments = TOTAL: 398 Donors, NEEDED: 1300 donor appointments to reach our goal of 1000 units in one day. Thanks to those who have already signed up! If you haven't done so - please sign up today to give blood or volunteer at www.unc.edu/blood, or with your departmental recruiter or call 962-5663. We cannot stress enough the importance of appointments for the Carolina Blood Drive coming soon. The American Red Cross has committed staff for 1000 donors but if we do not book 1000 or more donor appointments, staff could be reduced and IF by chance we get an influx of walk-in's the day of the drive without appointments, the wait could be extremely long. WE DO NOT WANT THAT TO HAPPEN!! Donor Appointments ARE Very Important!!!

If you have not viewed the article in the University Gazette about the newly launched Carolina Blood Drive Database visit it here:
Carolina Blood Drive launches database to track departmental competition - see:
http://gazette.unc.edu/archives2/11may11/public-service.html#1

Opportunities for Donor Door Prize Drawings are also attached.

Thanks in advance for your willingness to help save a life on Tuesday, June 7th,
Katrina Coble
Chair, Recruitment, Carolina Blood Drive
962-1801

"In everything give thanks-gratitude is the attitude that sets the altitude for living."

- -- You are currently subscribed to business_managers as: abuell@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29165096-23351052.88d152cd550c3f131cdc33d20bf62acb@listserv.unc.edu

---

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29166955

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29166955-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

2011 CAROLINA BLOOD DRIVE
DONOR OPPORTUNITIES FOR PRIZES

- All presenting donors and volunteers will receive commemorative 23rd anniversary t-shirts donated by UNC Student Stores and the American Red Cross.

- Presenting Double Red Cell donors will receive a can cooler and frisbee in addition to a t-shirt.

- All presenting donors will be registered automatically post-donation for a drawing to win one of two pairs of Roundtrip Delta Air Lines Tickets sponsored by the Carolina Regions of the American Red Cross.

- In addition, presenting donors will have an opportunity to win door prizes while at the Smith Center on June 7th. Door prizes will be given away randomly between 8a.m. – 7p.m. to include a chance to win one of three grand prizes:

    - Two tickets to the UNC-Chapel Hill vs. James Madison football on Saturday, September 3rd, Time TBA, in the New Kenan Stadium (Donation from UNC-Chapel Hill Athletics)
    - Two tickets to a non-conference to be determined UNC Men's Basketball game in December 2011 (Donation form UNC-Athletics)
    - Two tickets to a conference UNC Women's Basketball game in Carmichael during the 2011-2012 season (Donation from UNC-Athletics)

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 6:41 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Abernathy Hall this week

Hi All,

Battle Hall will be closed all week due to the paint and carpet job. I will be working from room 218B in Abernathy Hall this week. Let me know if you need anything. The best way to contact me would be through email. I will be out on Friday.

Thanks!
Travis

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29167540
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29167540-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 8:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Nominations for American Academy of Arts and Sciences

---

May 13, 2011

TO: Deans, Directors and Department Heads

FROM: Barbara Entwisle, Vice Chancellor for Research

SUBJECT: Nominations for American Academy of Arts and Sciences

Every spring, members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences have the opportunity to nominate their peers for membership in this distinguished organization. Nominations can only be made by current members. At the bottom of this memorandum is a list of the current members of the Academy from UNC-Chapel Hill.

Some members of the Academy on campus have asked for assistance in identifying those, both here and elsewhere, who may be sufficiently accomplished in their respective disciplines to warrant nomination for membership. The purpose of this memorandum is to encourage you to contact a relevant member of the Academy if you would like to propose a colleague for nomination. Normally it is best to contact a member who is in the same scientific or scholarly field or in a closely related field. Academy members realize, however, that some disciplines represented on campus are not yet represented among the current members of the Academy from UNC-Chapel Hill. In such cases, please contact Jo Ann Gustafson in my office (962-1319 or joann_gustafson@unc.edu) she will help find sponsors in cases where there is no obvious fit. Of course, any decision to submit a nomination is at the sole discretion of current Academy members.

To help Academy members avoid the work of preparing duplicate nominations, please let me know if you are suggesting a potential nominee. It would be most helpful if you make your suggestions prior to Friday, June 3.

A list of the members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences can be found at:
https://ccm-contrib.unc.edu/ccm/groups/public/@research/@vc/documents/content/ccm3_027647.pdf

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: @notify.unc.edu on behalf of @email.unc.edu

Sent: 8:42 PM

To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Spanish Speakers Needed for Linguistics Research Study

---

Hello,

My name is and I am a second-year Masters student in the Linguistics department. I am currently conducting a research study of how native Spanish speakers judge Spanish sentences and words. The study will involve listening to Spanish sentences and words and answering questions about them. It should take 30-60 minutes to complete and participants will be rewarded with a candy bar.

If you are a native Spanish speaker and would like to participate in this study, please contact email.unc.edu. The faculty advisor for this study is Professor Elliott Moreton, who can be reached at moreton@email.unc.edu. This study was approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on Thursday, .

Sincerely,

UNC-Lingusitics

This email is sponsored by: Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jacks@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 9:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUBJECTS NEEDED for Probiotic Study

---

Do you suffer from the following abdominal symptoms?

- Bloating
- Distension
- Fullness
- Gas
- Discomfort/Pain

If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the effect of a probiotic added to your diet on these symptoms.

Probiotics are a dietary supplement containing active, beneficial bacteria found in food like yogurt and cheese.

The First Study (IRB #10-0467) involves:
- This is a 6 week research study that involves 1 screening visit and 2 clinic visits to UNC Hospitals.
- Subjects should expect to record their symptoms on a paper diary, take a probiotic dietary supplement once daily, and avoid taking other probiotics and antibiotics.
- Subjects will be compensated $300 for complete participation in this study.

Additionally subjects participating in this study will be required to enroll in a Second Study (IRB #10-0718) at the same time:
- This is a 6 week research study that requires NO extra visits when combined with the first study
- Subjects will collect urine and stool samples at two time points of the study
- Subjects will be compensated $200 for complete participation in this study.

If you are interested in participating or want to learn more about this study and other studies please call the study coordinator, Jennica Jackson
Siddle at 919-843-0834 or jacks@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

This message and IRB Study #10-0467 was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB for 05/03/2011-05/02/2012.

This message and IRB Study #10-0718 was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB for 04/13/2011-04/11/2012

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gastroenterology & Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	@gmail.com on behalf of Sarah Quesada <quesada@stanford.edu>
Sent:	Monday, May 16, 2011 9:16 PM
To:	Sarah Quesada <quesada@stanford.edu>
Subject:	2011 Stanford African Studies Conference: CFP
Attach:	AF2011BlackAtlantic call for papers.pdf

Greetings,

We just wanted to confirm that you received the CFP attached for our 2011 Stanford African Studies Symposium. We would be delighted to have your department's research represented at our conference,

Thank you,

Sarah Quesada

--
Sarah Quesada
PhD Student
Division of Literatures, Cultures, and Languages
Stanford University

Stanford Forum for African Studies

Call for Papers for the 2011 Annual Meeting of the Stanford Forum for African Studies
The Black Atlantic: Colonial and Contemporary Exchanges

Stanford University, California
October 28-29, 2011

DEADLINE: June 1, 2011

The Stanford Forum for African Studies (SFAS) invites proposals for papers by graduate students, scholars, and faculty on the topics of slavery, migration and the African Diaspora, and how each of these affect social, economic, and political development in Africa in the past and present. Interested participants should submit abstracts by email to stanfordfas@gmail.com. Please also include your name, affiliation and contact details.

This interdisciplinary conference aims to examine the vestiges of the slave trade, along with the resulting economic and cultural exchanges, both within and from Africa. Scholars and activists have traditionally addressed matters relating to economic inequality, hierarchical racial segregation and ideology, and the transfer of cultural realities presented in art, music, and rituals, to mention a few major topics. Consistent with the theme of exploring the triangular interaction (involving Europe, Africa and the Americas) of the Black Atlantic, the symposium seeks to shed light on the effect of forced and voluntary migration on identity and culture, on social, economic, and political development in Africa and in the African Diaspora. We are soliciting proposals that combine insights, methods, and research from both the social sciences and the humanities, including the fields of anthropology, art history, economics, history, literature, political science, and psychology among others.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Identity formation in the Diaspora
- The spread and influence of African culture, art, and music
- The role of technology in connecting migrants to their home countries
- Regional integration and the economic effects of migration within Africa
- Brain drain out of Africa
- Migration and its relation to political and economic development in Africa
- Europe and its acknowledgment of the slave trade
- The role of remittances in modern day Africa
- The slave trade present in literature and/or music

Please contact Melina Platas at mplatas@stanford.edu with any further questions.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, May 16, 2011 9:25 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: UNC Libraries Online Service Outage Wed., May 18, 2:30 a.m. - Noon

---

UNC Libraries online services will be unavailable on Wednesday, May 18, 2011, from 2:30 a.m. until noon, because of a critical equipment upgrade.

This outage will affect all electronic services, including: the online catalog; digital collections; access to electronic journals, databases, and e-books; request forms; interlibrary loan; and the University Library website (http://www.lib.unc.edu). Both on-campus and off-campus access will be affected.

Desktop computers in Davis Library, the Undergraduate Library, Wilson Library, the science libraries, the Sloane Art Library, and the Music Library will also be unavailable.

We apologize for any inconvenience. If you have questions, please Ask a Librarian: http://www.lib.unc.edu/ask.html. Or call: Davis Library:(919-962-1151) or Undergraduate Library: (919-962-1355).

This email is sponsored by: University Libraries

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 10:24 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353
CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of IVFstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 10:44 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF?

Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF (in vitro fertilization)?

UNC Fertility Clinic is working on a research study for infertile couples who are considering IVF to help them conceive. Qualifying couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted rate.

Study Details:
* You and your partner will have a consultation appointment with a physician in our UNC Fertility Clinic to determine if you are a good candidate for IVF and for this study. Note that this visit is considered part of routine medical care.
* Female partner must be <41 years old to participate in this study.
* If you (your partner) are a good candidate for the study, you will undergo an IVF cycle with ovarian stimulation and egg retrieval, with the same methods that we routinely use for IVF.
* For the study, we will divide the eggs into two groups - half will be fertilized immediately, and the other half will be frozen and immediately thawed, and then fertilized. We will perform an embryo transfer using embryos derived from the freeze/thaw cycle.
* Note that couples planning IVF with an egg donor may qualify for the study as well. Female partner must be <48 years old in IVF cycles with an egg donor.

Benefits of participation:
* Enrolled couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted cost.

To learn if you (your partner) would qualify for this study, call us for a consultation appointment at (919-966-1150) or send an email to (IVFstudy@unc.edu) with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

The principal investigator for this study, "Clinical evaluation of egg cryopreservation", is Jennifer Mersereau, MD, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. This study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 12/16/2010, study # 10-1911.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 11:04 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study for People with Chronic Headaches

---

-Do you have chronic headaches at least 15 days per month?
-Have you suffered from headaches for at least 2 years?
-Are you at least 18 years of age?
-Have you been diagnosed with Chronic Daily Headache (CDH)?
-Are you receiving care from a neurologist or other headache specialist?
-Would you be willing to meet 6 times with a registered dietitian over a 12 week period?

If you answered yes to all the above questions, you may qualify for the Nutrition and Chronic Daily Headache (CDH) study. Your next step is to call the UNC Program on Integrative Medicine in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation to determine your eligibility for the study.

You will be compensated $145 for completing all sessions and filling out questionnaires and a daily headache diary throughout the study. You will also receive 2 prepared meals per day over a three month period and up to $13 per visit for transportation and parking.

If you would like to learn more about this study and/or see if you qualify, please call 919-966-8586, or send an e-mail to (@med.unc.edu), Chanee Lynch (chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu) or Becky Coble (rcoble@med.unc.edu) with "CDH STUDY" in the subject line.

This message was approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/23/2009 (IRB#09-0600), and is funded by the Mayday Fund.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 10:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] New Ackland Website: Please Update your Settings

---

The Ackland Art Museum has a new website!

Please update your settings to reflect our new URL: http://www.ackland.org/index.htm

(The URL http://www.ackland.org/index.php is no longer valid.)

Have a look around and let us know what you think!

Send your feedback to ackland@email.unc.edu.

Ackland Art Museum
101 S. Columbia Street
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
ackland.org

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 11:03 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Micah Gilmer

Hi Julius,
Do you want to reappoint Micah Gilmer as an Adjunct Assistant Professor? If so, please let me know and I will work on the paperwork. His current appointment with our department ends on 6/30/2011.
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 2:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Events & Exhibitions at the Ackland!

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

INTERNATIONAL ART MUSEUM DAY

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Wednesday, May 18

The Ackland Art Museum joins nearly 100 other art museums across North America in celebration of International Art Museum Day. Refreshments will be served from 12:30 PM to 2:00 PM.

A $5 discount will be given toward any new Ackland Art Museum membership purchased at the Museum or Museum Store on Wednesday, May 18th.

This year's International Art Museum Day theme is "Museum and Memory." You are invited to share memories of your Ackland visits on our Facebook page and via Twitter, or in person in the Museum lobby.

Guided Tour: Highlights from the Permanent Collection

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

IN THE GALLERIES:

NEW!
Adding to the Mix I: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

Thursday, May 19
6:00 PM

This week, the Ackland reinstalls numerous works from our Permanent Collection--including African masks, nineteenth-century European paintings, and twentieth-century multimedia pieces. Join Carolyn Allmendinger, Director of Academic Programs, for a guided tour highlighting selected works from the reinstallation.

Free. No reservation required.

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, May 21
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "A Place of My Own"

Using the landscapes on display as examples, students will learn how artists pick and choose elements to create an interesting composition. Then, they go to the studio to create their own multi-media landscape.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials.

Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919.962.3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.
Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

ACKLAND MUSEUM STORE - NOW OPEN!

The Ackland Museum Store, on the corner of Franklin and Columbia, in downtown Chapel Hill, is now open!

All proceeds from the store support the Ackland's exhibition and education programs. Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases.

"Like" the Ackland Museum Store on Facebook!

Check the UNC Events Calendar (keyword "ackland") for our upcoming events!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as JEN321@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-5774387.1df4eaa86822fcf7c7763439288ee70d@listserv.unc.edu.

From: ramses@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 3:27 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RAMSeS: URGENT: Authorization Request - 11-4317

Proposal No.: 11-4317
Proposal Lead PI: Kenneth Janken
Proposal Title:The Case of the Wilmington Ten: Legal Repression and Black Political Action in the 1970s

The above eIPF is being routed to you for approval because your department (African and Afro-American Studies) has been identified as an approving department. Please review the eIPF on RAMSeS and its attachments carefully, add any notes as you deem appropriate, and provide your electronic authorization so that it can be forwarded to OSR/SPO/OCT.

You also have the option of rejecting the eIPF if you notice a serious mistake in it. But doing so will require you to provide an explanatory note for your rejection and will also cause the eIPF to be returned to the administrative award department for re-routing.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 4:40 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Walkway Between Stadium Drive and Rams Head Plaza

---

From: Kane, Claire (Public Safety) [mailto:ckane@psafety.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 4:26 PM
Subject: Walkway Between Stadium Drive and Rams Head Plaza

Parking Coordinators, please distribute this information:

Attention Pedestrians:

A 30-day project will close the pedestrian walkway between Stadium Drive and the Rams Head Plaza from Monday, May 23 through Monday, June 27, 2011.

The project will bring that section of pedestrian walkway up to American Disabilities Act standards. During the project, pedestrians should use alternate routes. To see a map of the affected area please click here.

Call the Department of Public Safety at 962-3951 during normal business hours with other questions or concerns.

Thank you,

The Department of Public Safety

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29172737

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29172737-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Mary_owen@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you expecting twins?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or is someone you know expecting Twins?

The Early Brain Development in Twins Study is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. We are currently recruiting women expecting twins for this study.

Participants receive:
- 2 free prenatal ultrasounds (once during the second and once during the third trimester)
- $50 for each prenatal ultrasound
- $50 per child for each postnatal visit (potential total of $600)
- Reimbursement for mileage and parking
- Free testing to determine/confirm your twins are identical or fraternal

We need your help! By participating in this study you will be helping improve our understanding about normal brain and cognitive development in twins. Please share this message with friends or family.

To learn more about this study please call Mary Norton (919) 966-9290 or (866) 849-0541 (Toll Free), or send an email to mary_norton@med.unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. This is a confidential study: we will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.earlybrainresearch.org and click on "Twins" for more information.

The principal investigator for this study is John Gilmore, MD, UNC School of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry & co investigator, Honor Wolfe, MD, School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Early Brain Development in Twins Study and this message have received approval from the UNC Bio Medical IRB on 4/21/11, Study #03-PSYCH-198.

Esta esperando gemelos? Conoce alguien que este esperando gemelos?

El Estudio del Desarrollo Temprano del Cerebro en Gemelos es un estudio de investigacisn realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. En la actualidad buscamos mujeres esperando gemelos para este estudio.

Las participantes reciben:
-2 ultrasonidos prenatales gratis (uno durante el segundo trimestre y uno durante el tercero trimestre)
-$50 para cada ultrasonido prenatal
-$50 para cada nino para cada visita postnatal (suma posible de $600).
-Reembolsamos lo gastos de viaje y estacionamiento
-Prueba gratis para determinar/confirmar si sus gemelos son identicos o fraternales

!Le necesitamos! Al participar en este estudio usted ayudara a mejorar nuestro entendimiento sobre el desarrollo normal y cognicisn del cerebro en gemelos. Por favor, comparte este mensaje con sus amigas y familia.

Si desea averiguar mas sobre el estudio, por favor llama Mary Norton (919) 966-9290 or llama gratis al (866) 849-0541 o envma un correo electrsnico a mary_norton@med.unc.edu con su nombre, nzmero de telifono y horarios en los que podemos contactarle. No compartiremos su direccisn de correo electrsnico con personas ajenas a esta investigacisn. Para obtener mayor informacisn, visita nuestro sitio en Internet www.earlybrainresearch.org y hace clic en "Twins."

El investigador principal de este estudio es John Gilmore, MD, Departamento de Psiquiatrma y Departamento de Obstetricia Ginecologma de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio del Desarrollo Temprano del Cerebro en Gemelos y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisisn Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio #03-PSYCH-198.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

---

Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the position of Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural affairs. This person leads efforts to build a diverse faculty and an inclusive university environment that values and respects the contributions of all members of the community.

About the University

Chartered in 1789 as the first state university in the United States, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is regularly ranked as the best value for academic quality in U.S. public higher education. Carolina enrolls more than 18,500 undergraduates and nearly 11,000 graduate and professional students.

The University values diversity and recognizes it as critical to our pursuit of academic excellence. Carolina has a strong commitment to creating a diverse and inclusive community, which is reflected in our campus Diversity Plan. We aspire to be a more diverse campus that appreciates differences in race, culture, national origin, ethnicity, gender, religion, socioeconomic class, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, and physical and learning ability. We strive to maximize the development and contributions of each community member and to value civility and cordiality of discourse so all feel welcomed and free to express their ideas.

About the position.

The Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs is led by the Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs who reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and advises the Provost and Chancellor on diversity issues. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs serves as the chief diversity officer for the University, collaborating with Vice Chancellors, Deans, other administrators, faculty, staff, and students to generate and implement strategies and initiatives that will further our diversity goals.

Major areas of responsibility include:

*Strategic planning and policy development. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs develops and refines a comprehensive vision of campus diversity and generates long and short-range goals, strategies, and structures to realize this vision. This requires consultation and partnership with senior University leadership, the Diversity and Multicultural Affairs Advisory Board, and members of the wider campus community. A major responsibility will be to continually assess the status of these efforts and the outcomes and accomplishments that result. The person will present an Annual Report on the status of diversity endeavors to the Board of Trustees and to the Deans' Council.

*Program development, implementation, and evaluation. The individual in this position will oversee the planning, implementation, and evaluation of diversity initiatives and programs designed to further the University's diversity goals. The Associate Provost also will partner with administrative, research, instructional, and public service units whose programs and activities support and enhance diversity efforts.

*Promoting the recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty, staff, and student body. This position administers and supports programs and activities dedicated to recruiting and retaining students, faculty, and staff members of diverse backgrounds. This involves strong working partnerships with academic units, the EEO/ADA Office, and the Office of Human Resources regarding faculty and staff recruitment and retention, and the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and the graduate and professional schools to enhance the diversity of the student body. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs will collaborate with the Office of Scholarships and Student Aid and with the University's numerous student support, pipeline, and orientation offices and programs.

*External relations and partnership development. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs will represent the University in discussions of diversity in the national higher education community, participate in outreach programs to engage diverse local, state, and regional communities, and coordinate with the General Alumni Association on alumni outreach programs and with the Office of Development.

*Fiscal and administrative oversight and fundraising. The person in this position will be responsible for overseeing the Diversity and Multicultural Affairs office, including annual budget development and reporting and day-to-day budget management, and supervision of administrative and program staff. He or she will help seek internal and external sources of support, consult on fundraising strategies, and develop strategies for the allocation of resources to support existing and emerging diversity priorities.

Qualifications of the successful candidate must include:

*A distinguished record of experience as a leader, educator, advocate and/or scholar in an academic setting.
*An earned doctorate or terminal degree that will serve to enhance the stature and academic visibility of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs.
*Knowledge of major academic and diversity issues facing universities, and a strong vision for and commitment to diversity endeavors in a large, public research university.
*Excellent administrative skills, including strategic planning and evaluation, budgeting, personnel management, fundraising and public relations.
*An ability to work collaboratively and effectively with multiple administrative units throughout the campus. Excellent communication skills.
*Integrity, a passion for academic excellence, exceptional leadership skills, and compassion for students, staff and faculty.
*Demonstrated ability to be a strong advocate for the University both within and outside the academic environment. Commitment to engagement with local, state, national and international communities.
*Capacity to lead efforts to strengthen faculty, staff, student and alumni inclusivity.

Interested individuals should send a letter of application that relates the applicant's skills and experiences to the qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae that includes notable achievements, and contact information including mailing and email addresses and telephone numbers for five references who are able to speak to the candidate's qualifications as they relate to this position. The packet should be sent electronically (Microsoft Word attachments preferred) to leadership@wspelman.com. The subject line in email should be APDUNC. Confidential inquiries will be received at (603) 978-0316.

Documents that must be mailed should be sent to William Spelman Executive Search at 667 Midship Circle, Webster, NY 14580. Confidentiality will be maintained, and references will not be contacted without prior knowledge or approval of the candidate. Review of applications will begin on June 22, 2011 and continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is September, 2011. The University encourages nominations of and applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities.

The University of North Carolina is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Minorities are encouraged to apply.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 9:16 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: DDD: State Auditors on site

To: University Business Managers

From: Dennis Press, University Controller

Each year a financial audit of the University is conducted by the NC Office of the State Auditor. The state auditors are now on-site and have begun their work as part of the audit of the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011.
Although the Controller's Office serves as a central contact point for the financial audit and interacts extensively with the state audit staff, there are occasions when state audit staff members contact campus departmental staff directly.

My purpose is to provide notice that as part of their regularly-scheduled audit work, a state auditor staff member may contact you or a member of your campus unit. The state auditors may inquire about departmental processes to gain a better understanding of University internal controls, or may request information from you as part of their regular audit.

These contacts are routinely made each year, but hopefully this advance notice will be useful. Should you have any questions, you should contact my office at 962-1370. Thanks.

This memo has been sent to University Business Managers.

This email is sponsored by: University Controller

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 9:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2012 Holiday Calendar (Revised)

TO: Deans, Directors, and Department Heads

FROM: Brenda R. Malone, Vice Chancellor of Human Resources

This memo revises my earlier memo sent May 15, 2011. The State Personnel Act provides all State employees a holiday schedule that cannot exceed 11 paid holidays per year, except in those years in which Christmas Day falls on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday - when the schedule allows 12 paid holidays. For 2012, Christmas Day falls on a Tuesday; therefore, we have three paid holidays at Christmas (a total of 12 for the year).

Unfortunately, my original communication regarding the 2012 holiday calendar did not include the additional Christmas holiday. A revised 2012 holiday calendar is included below:

New Year's Day -- Monday, January 2, 2012
Martin Luther King Jr. Day -- Monday, January 16, 2012
Spring Holiday -- Friday, April 6, 2012
Memorial Day -- Monday, May 28, 2012
Independence Day -- Wednesday, July 4, 2012
Labor Day -- Monday, September 3, 2012
Thanksgiving -- Thursday and Friday, November 22-23, 2012
Winter Holiday -- Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 24-26, 2012
New Year's Eve -- Monday, Dec. 31, 2012

If you have questions, please contact your Benefits Specialist. You can search for your department's assigned Benefit Specialist using HR Connect (http://hrconnect.unc.edu/); select the topic, "Benefits Questions."

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: Adedokun, Laportia D. <Laportia.D.Adedokun-1@ou.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 11:49 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Graduate Certificate

Hello Dr. Nyang'oro- My name is Laportia Jeffery. I am highly interested in information about the Graduate certificate program in African Studies. I would like to be involved in the African studies community at UNC as a visiting student. My interests are African languages such as swahili, traditional arts/ cultural preservation- music dance and social issues of african nations. I will be residing in Raleigh Nc as of July 2011. I have just completed my Bachelors Degree in African and African Americans studies at the University of Oklahoma. I look forward to hearing from you and I thank you for your time.
Sincerely,

Laportia Jeffery

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 12:10 PM
To: Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Alassane Fall

Hi Julius and Mike,
With no approval yet for the first step of the H-1B (job rate classification) there is no way that Alassane will be able to start on July 1, 2011 – even if we expedited the second part of the application.

I suggest that we find funds to expedite the second part (additional $1,225) and aim for August 15th. What do you think? Can one of you talk with him about this? Mike, is your Title VI funding still intact?
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Williams, Rebecca B <rbwill@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 1:10 PM
To: Chairs of Departments and Curricula <dptcrchairs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [dptcrchairs] SPA Annual Performance Reviews

This message is being sent to all Chairs and Managers of Departments and Curricula in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Dear all:

Performance reviews should be completed for SPA employees by May 31, 2011. Please note the following:

- If Chairs/Directors desire feedback from the Dean's Office for your manager's performance review please e-mail me by Wednesday, May 25, and I will solicit comments from the Dean's Office on your behalf.
- Department managers should submit a signed copy of their performance review to the Dean's Office by Monday, June 13.
- All performance rating entries must be completed by June 24. If you need our assistance entering a department manager's performance rating in HRIS please notify your HR consultant by Monday, June 20.

For more information on SPA performance management policies and procedures please visit http://hr.unc.edu/policies-procedures-guidelines/spa-employee-policies/performance-management/PM-SPA. If you have additional questions or need assistance, please submit a remedy ticket to the HR team and your HR consultant will assist you.

Thank you,
Becky

Becky Williams
Director of Human Resources
UNC College of Arts & Sciences
CB# 3056, 03 Howell Hall
(919) 962-9276
rbwill@email.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Disaster Preparedness and Business Continuity Planning

---

May 18, 2011

To: Deans, Directors and Department Chairs

From: Mary Beth Koza, Director of Environment, Health & Safety
Jeff McCracken, Director and Chief of Public Safety
Steve Kenny, Director of Risk Management Services

Subject: Disaster Preparedness and Business Continuity Planning

In light of the devastating weather events that recently affected the southeast United States and our local area, we are writing to remind you of the importance of your department's disaster preparedness and business continuity planning. As part of this preparedness, campus departments are urged to have a current continuity of operations plan for their facilities.

To assist you with this planning process, the University has developed a "Facility Resiliency - Continuity of Operations Plan" template to help document your plans in the event of a loss or disruption to your facilities. This template prompts you to identify your key facilities, critical functions, communication needs, and mitigation and recovery strategies. An online version of this template can be found at: http://financepolicy.unc.edu/Form/results?ssCatId=74.

The University has also developed a Guide to Business Continuity and Recovery Planning on Campus. An online version of this guide can be found at: http://finance.unc.edu/images/stories/bus_con_guide.pdf. A hard copy can be requested from Treasury & Risk Management Services. This guide is not intended to replace the need for you to have a comprehensive continuity of operations plan for your facilities. Rather, it is provided as a simple and effective resource to help better prepare you for any event that may interrupt your department's operations.

Effective disaster preparedness is a shared responsibility from all levels of our University. Everyone can contribute to this process. And as the leader of your campus area, no one is in a better planning position to ensure your service is maintained during a crisis and that your respective area recovers from a disruption as quickly as possible.

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health and Safety, Department of Public Safety, and Risk Management

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fitnet@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in an exercise program?

Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in getting more physically active? Do you have an active Facebook account?

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying ways to promote physical activity among young adult cancer survivors using Facebook. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a research study that tests an exercise program designed specifically for young adult cancer survivors. Your participation will be some of the first data collected about an exercise program delivered through Facebook.

If you participate, you will receive exercise information via Facebook and a pedometer. You will be asked to complete two online questionnaires and may receive access to weekly group discussions and an exercise website. The entire 12-week study can be completed online.

You may be eligible if you:
-- are 21 to 39 years old
-- were diagnosed with cancer (excluding non-melanoma skin cancer) at age 18 or older
-- have completed cancer treatment
-- have an active Facebook account

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Participants will receive a $30 gift card after the 12-week assessment.

For more information and to see if you qualify, please go to:
www.fitnet-unc.org

The study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on 12/16/10 (Study # 10-2150).

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rebeccawilliams@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Make cash for a few hours of your time...

Are you between 18-20 years old?

Then we would like you to be part of a research study @ UNC.

Who is eligible?
* Adults aged 18-20 who...
* ...are fluent readers and writers of English
* ...do not reside in university housing
* ...reside within Orange County

What will I have to do?
* You will participate in an in-person orientation
* You will visit websites that sell alcohol while under supervision at our research offices and attempt to make purchases.
* You will receive and log alcohol purchases at your home.
* You will turn all alcohol deliveries received over to study staff.
* You will participate in a debriefing session upon completion of the study.

How much time will this take?
* Your participation will take about 7 hours over the course of several weeks.

Do I get anything for my time?
* You will be paid up to $65 for your time
* Help add to our knowledge about the online business practices of alcohol retailers to inform future legislation to restrict under age access to alcohol and other harmful products online.

How can I sign up?
Call Rebecca Williams at (919) 843-9465 or E-mail at UNCInternetStudy@gmail.com

Approved by the UNC Public Health-Nursing IRB on 5/5/2011
Study title: Purchase Survey for Internet Alcohol Sales to 18-20 Year Olds
Study #: 10-2115

This email is sponsored by: Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:51 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study at UNC

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is now enrolling adult volunteers into the LEADER research study.

LEADER^{TM} (Liraglutide Effect and Action in Diabetes: Evaluation of Cardiovascular Outcome Results) aims to assess and confirm the cardiovascular safety of Liraglutide (Victoza.) and potentially show the ability of Liraglutide to improve cardiovascular outcomes.

This is a long term cardiovascular research study of Liraglutide, you may either receive the study drug or placebo (it looks like study drug but is not active drug). Your participation will last until 2015 and consist of approximately 2-7 visits to the research site each year.

You may be eligible for the research study if you are age 50 years or older, have type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease and are not currently taking the diabetes drugs Victoza or Byetta.

If you are eligible you will receive diabetes care through the research study doctor, diabetes testing supplies, and study medication at no cost to you.

For more information about this trial please contact:
Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This study received IRB approval from the UNC office of Human Research Ethics, IRB Full board on 12/03/2010
IRB study # 10-1701

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Hartlyn, Jonathan <hartlyn@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 10:51 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Office Space

I am away from my desk through May20, 2011 and may not be able to respond to your email promptly. For urgent matters, please contact Tiffany Clarke (tiffany_clarke@unc.edu) in the Dean's office, telephone 919 962-1165.

From: Brad Hemminger <bmh@ils.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 19, 2011 11:59 AM
To: Mailing list for UNC-CH Scholarly Communication Working Group <schol-com@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [schol-com] A nightmare scenario for higher education--fair use challenge happening at Georgia State

---

Kevin Smith at Duke has a nice write-up about a scary scenario for fair use in the classroom that's occurring in lawsuit involving Georgia State. See http://blogs.library.duke.edu/scholcomm/2011/05/13/a-nightmare-scenario-for-higher-education/

-Brad

 -- You are currently subscribed to

schol-com as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29183118-308329.b016d46c1abb2e89b12f6c719cdc87c2@listserv.unc.edu

From: bounce-29184886-39778815@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 19, 2011 4:47 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [oasis-supported-faculty] Scheduled College file server maintenance: Friday (5/20)

Dear OASIS supported clients,

This coming Friday (5/20/11) from 5-7pm we will be performing routine maintenance on the College file server. The College file server will be unavailable during this time. Items affected include:

- Personal College storage space (often referred to as the Z-Drive)
- Departmental College storage space (often referred to as the Y-Drive)

It is recommended that you save all files by 5pm tomorrow in order to avoid any potential data loss. During the maintenance period any computer still connected to these folders may be disconnected from the server. If you are unable to save to the College file server during this time, save to your local hard drive until the server is again available.

You can check to see when the maintenance is complete by going to https://status.its.unc.edu/.

If you have a technical problem at any time you can always submit a Remedy ticket directly to OASIS via our website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy, or call 962-HELP.

Thank you,

OASIS Systems Group

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de&n=T&l=oasis-supported-faculty&o=29184882

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29184882-39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: JEN321@email.unc.edu.

From: bounce-29184974-39779101@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 19, 2011 4:49 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff <african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-staff] [oasis-supported-staff] Scheduled College file server maintenance: Friday (5/20)

Dear OASIS supported staff,

This coming Friday (5/20/11) from 5-7pm we will be performing routine maintenance on the College file server. The College file server will be unavailable during this time. Items affected include:

- Personal College storage space (often referred to as the Z-Drive)
- Departmental College storage space (often referred to as the Y-Drive)

It is recommended that you save all files by 5pm tomorrow in order to avoid any potential data loss. During the maintenance period any computer still connected to these folders may be disconnected from the server. If you are unable to save to the College file server during this time, save to your local hard drive until the server is again available.

You can check to see when the maintenance is complete by going to https://status.its.unc.edu/.

If you have a technical problem at any time you can always submit a Remedy ticket directly to OASIS via our website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy, or call 962-HELP.

Thank you,

OASIS Systems Group

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-staff as: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39800606.0a0d8aa2c69df1537cb02ad1c7e654cb&n=T&l=oasis-supported-staff&o=29184951

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29184951-39800606.0a0d8aa2c69df1537cb02ad1c7e654cb@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-staff as: JEN321@email.unc.edu.

From: Richard Andrews <andrewsr@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 19, 2011 5:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Annual performance review of Agatha Buell

Dear Julius:

I am putting together my Annual Performance Review for Agatha Buell this week and next. If you or others in AFAM wish to provide any feedback about her performance, I would be grateful.

Please let me know, and invite any others of your faculty to contact me directly as well, and your feedback will be incorporated into my overall review of her work.

I would be grateful to receive any responses by Tuesday, May 24, at 5pm, as I have several travel responsibilities beginning later that week and need to complete this review before leaving.

Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Pete

--

REPLY TO: pete_andrews@unc.edu

Richard N. (Pete) Andrews
Professor and Chair
Department of Public Policy (202A Abernethy Hall)
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3435 USA

tel: +1 919 843-5011 fax: +1 919 962-5824

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 9:40 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Any updates?

Julius,

Just checking in before I head out for a couple of weeks. Any word yet?

Ishna

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Bill Balthrop <iah@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 10:04 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: IAH News May 2011

---

having trouble viewing this email? click here

In this issue:

Articles
- Perspectives
  A True Conversation
- Insight
- 2011–12 Fellows
- 2011 Reckford Lecture
- 2011 Weil Lecture
- Featured Fellow: Andrew Perrin
- Grants mentoring program

News in Brief

Calendar
Fellowships
Invest in the IAH
Join us on Facebook

SURVEY

IAH News • May 2011

From the Director

PHOTO: DAN SEARS

We pride ourselves on promoting conversations at the Institute, but it seems as though this semester has raised the bar even for us. From weekly conversations to special lectures to strategic planning, it has been quite a busy few months. In this newsletter, we'll share the substance and fruits of some of those conversations.

In my Perspectives column, I reflect on my year as interim director at the IAH and explore what I see as the true value of conversation at Carolina, and at the Institute. Sometimes the conversation isn't just about the act, but about how it affects us.

Julia T. Wood, associate director of the Faculty Fellows Program, shares her experiences leading that program for the last nine years. It is with regret — and great pleasure for her — that we bid Julia farewell from her role at the IAH.

In the fall, we will welcome Jane Thrailkill, associate professor and assistant department chair of English and comparative literature, in that role on an interim basis until Laurie Maffly-Kipp, associate professor of religious studies, assumes the position of associate director in spring 2012. We are pleased to announce next year's Fellows in this newsletter, as well the application deadlines for the 2012–2013 academic year.

In addition to the weekly Fellows conversations that are part of our fabric, the IAH also promoted conversation through the Reckford and Weil Lectures this spring.

Chantal Mouffe, widely respected Belgian political theorist, presented a graduate seminar and our annual Reckford Lecture in European Studies, looking at the future of the European Union.

Our Weil Lecture on American Citizenship presented the opportunity for a series of conversations on religious pluralism and civil discourse, culminating in "Unfinished Dreams: America, Religion and Citizenship," a conversation between New York's Imam Feisal Abdul Rauf and UNC's own Hodding Carter, State Department spokesman for President Jimmy Carter.

One of several faculty members who played a significant role in the success of the Imam's visit is Andy Perrin, an associate professor of sociology and IAH Faculty Fellow (fall 2007) and Leadership Fellow (spring 2010). For his unflagging enthusiasm for Carolina — and the university in general—Andy is our Featured Fellow this newsletter.

The past few months have seen us deeply engaged in planning for the future. We look forward to presenting our renewed vision in the fall, after we have finalized our five-year strategic plan. We have great hopes and dreams for the future and look forward to sharing those aspirations with you soon.

One goal we've already undertaken is enhancing our grants mentoring program. We will all benefit from working together to attract more funding to Carolina, particularly in the arts and humanities, and the Institute continues to strategize ways to support faculty in that endeavor. Read about our current program and planned updates in this newsletter.

As always, we invite you to join the conversation. And to that end, I point you to our survey link, located in the navigation menu on the left side of the page. Let us know: What would you like to see in future newsletters?

Bill Balthrop
Interim Director, Institute for the Arts and Humanities

Perspectives: A True Conversation

What role can—and does—the Institute play in fostering conversation on campus?

By Bill Balthrop
Interim Director, Institute for the Arts and Humanities

As the year of my service as Interim Director winds down, I want to share with you my revised perspective toward the Institute for the Arts and Humanities. As someone who has long admired the work of the IAH and who has benefited from its various programs and activities, I thought — perhaps like many others — that I "knew" the IAH.

Well, it turns out that I did; but not in the way that I have now come to know the Institute and to appreciate how vital it is to the well being of our faculty and of the University.

John McGowan, who will resume his duties as director this summer, has often remarked that "we talk a lot around here." And, of course, that's true. But we talk and encourage talk in the form of a conversation, which has a whole set of assumptions embedded within it.

Read more...

Insight: A first-person view of the Faculty Fellows Program

By Julia T. Wood
IAH Associate Director, Faculty Fellows Program 2002–2011

Wednesday is my favorite day of the week. That's the day the IAH Faculty Fellows meet and engage in conversations that are uncommonly rich.

Each semester, I've had the privilege (and fun!) of facilitating a group of 8 to 12 faculty who are working on projects that range from showing how landscapes express society's views of what matters to creating a recording of Haydn's sonatas, from reexamining the character of pity in ancient Greek literature to producing, directing and filming a documentary on a world-class cross-country skier who is blind.

Our time together is not spent giving lectures to one another as academics are prone to do. Rather, we enjoy the singular pleasure of lively, sustained conversation graced by wisdom, curiosity and passion.

Read more...

Photo by Chris Carmichael

Photo by Justin Cook

IAH Announces 2011–12 Fellows

The IAH is pleased to announce the faculty members awarded Faculty Fellowships and Academic Leadership Fellowships for 2011–12.

The Faculty Fellows Program provides on-campus semester leaves for arts and humanities faculty to work on research and teaching projects. The Academic Leadership Program, open to all tenured UNC faculty, facilitates leadership skills growth and provides an arena for honest discussion and long-term networking.

The deadlines for both programs are also now set, and application materials will be made available later in the summer.

Read more...

Reckford Lecture explored cultural identity in the E.U.

Belgian political theorist Chantal Mouffe delivered the Mary Stevens Reckford Lecture in European Studies Feb. 10, the 17th hosted by the Institute for the Arts and Humanities since UNC Classics Professor Kenneth J. Reckford established the lecture series to honor his late wife, Mary Stevens Reckford.

In "An Agonistic Approach to the Future of Europe," Mouffe, who is a professor of political theory at the University of Westminster, London, reflected on the problems that confront the European Union today. While its members are legally and financially bound as never before, Europe is beset by a resurgence of nationalism, sectarianism and racism.

Read more...

Photo by Chris Carmichael

Photo by Chris Carmichael

NY Imam delivers 2011 Weil Lecture on American Citizenship

On March 16, Imam Feisal Abdul Rauf delivered the 2011 Weil Lecture on American Citizenship. During his talk, "Unfinished Dreams: America, Religion and Citizenship," a 90-minute conversation with UNC's Hodding Carter, the imam suggested that Islam and America share many ideals.

Abdul Rauf rose to national prominence last summer when the interfaith cultural center he proposed building in Manhattan took on the moniker of the "Ground Zero Mosque" in the media. The imam is the founder of the Cordoba Movement, which seeks to improve understanding among people of all cultures and faiths. In this capacity, he seeks to bridge relations between the U.S. and Muslims worldwide.

In addition to the lecture, which drew more than 650 audience members and earned a standing ovation from the Hill Hall audience, the IAH hosted two panels exploring civil discourse and religious pluralism in America.

Read more...

Featured Fellow: Andrew Perrin

You may have seen Andy Perrin, associate professor of sociology, in The New York Times this year addressing grade inflation, or perhaps you heard his name associated with the visit of Imam Feisal to campus this year. From teaching graduate and undergraduate courses to leading civil discourse conversations on campus, Perrin is one busy faculty member. He is also the Institute's Featured Fellow.

As a Faculty Fellow in the fall of 2007 and an Academic Leadership Fellow in the spring of 2010, Perrin identifies the Institute for the Arts and Humanities as a primary place on campus where "the life of the mind actually happens" — where thoughtful and critical conversations produce a synergy of ideas that is more than the sum of its parts.

"This is where the University nurtures big ideas that can't be constrained by disciplines or corralled into a given research project — but that really deserve to be given strong consideration and careful thought."

Read more...

Photo by Travis Dove

Photo by Justin Cook

IAH looks to expand grants mentoring program

The IAH Grants Mentoring Program aims to assist UNC faculty on the premise that focused mentorship for faculty grant writing will help to strengthen UNC's reputation for excellence in faculty scholarship. The basic components of the program are already in place, while other elements are in development.

Already in full swing at the IAH is a fruitful mentoring program that matches grant applicants with faculty members from UNC who have previously applied successfully for a grant from a specific institution.

Read more...

NEWS IN BRIEF

Save these dates:
August 24: Our first grants mentoring workshop will take place (RSVPs will collected later this summer)

August 25: Welcome Back Reception in Hyde Hall, open to all College faculty and Fellows

September 30: Deadline for applications for the IAH Faculty Fellowships and Faculty Arts Fellowships

October 1: Deadline for applications and nominations for the Chapman Family Teaching Award

November 1: Deadline for applications and nominations to the Academic Leadership Program

For the latest news on IAH events, visit iah.unc.edu/calendar.

SURVEY

Tell us what you think
We've added a link to the newsletter, or you can follow this link, to allow you to tell us what you think about our IAH e-newsletter. This very brief survey will help us make sure we're providing you with the content you want. Thank you for your time!

Bon voyage!
Best wishes to Meredith Daughtridge, who has left her position as the Events Coordinator at the Institute to pursue a great career opportunity. We will miss her talents greatly. For those needing assistance with room reservations, please continue to use our website to submit event requests, or write to iah@unc.edu so that we can field your request appropriately.

Copyright © 2011 Institute for the Arts and Humanities, College of Arts and Sciences
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box 3322 • Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3322 • phone 919.962.0249 • iah@unc.edu design by UNC Creative

Subscribe Unsubscribe Forward to a Friend

From: Julie M. Kinnaird <jmarante@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 12:17 PM
To: Global Updates K-12 Listserv <globalupdates@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: Global Updates from World View

If you are having difficulty viewing this newsletter, click here or paste http://www.unc.edu/world/Global_Updates_2011/May_June/May_11.htm in your browser.

Global Updates From World View May 2011

Testing Practices and Stories from Around the World

EOGs, EOCs, ABCs, oh my! We all know what May brings to North Carolina classrooms . . . tests. And more tests. World View wishes all of you well as you endure the challenges and opportunities that these tests bring to your classrooms. Below we give you a few snapshots of testing requirements in several countries. World View also asked a few foreign national educators from across the globe to share stories of testing from their home countries. These educators currently reside in the United States and are able to comment on their own personal experiences from abroad and in the U.S.

Click on a flag to learn more about testing in a particular country or to read a personal story!

A special thank you to Katharine Laco, World View Assistant Program Manager, for help in creating this issue and to World View friends who shared stories, adding a unique and personal perspective this month!

Argentina

The teaching style in Argentina is "learning by rote" where students copy notes from the blackboard into a "carpeta" or binder. Students are marked on the neatness and accuracy of their copying, and they are tested three times a year on the contents of

Announcements, Opportunities, and Resources

Register Now! World View's Fall Symposiums

Foreign Currency Kits Available

World View Magnet Partners Win Awards

Witness to Revolution in Egypt

Strategies for Reducing Test Anxiety

Testing Skills Rock!

Global Citizens Corps for Students

Using Past Editions of Global Updates

Archived Global Updates

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN!

World View's 2011 Symposiums explore the ten years post September 11 and how this significant 21st century event has shaped global perspectives in geopolitics, East-West relations, and educational discourse. We also will look at the nature and causes of international conflict, human rights, peace their "carpeta." In all subjects the exam pass rate is 7 out of 10. Students who do not pass their exams in every subject at the end of the school year are held back to repeat the year.

Costa Rica

The Costa Rica Ministry of Education requires testing of all students (private and public schools) at 6th grade, 9th grade, and the end of high school. The students must pass the exams to receive their high school diploma. The 6th grade exam, referred to as "Pruebas Nacionales de Sexto", tests students in Math, Social Studies, Science, and Spanish. The 9th grade exam adds English, French, and Civics. The final exam covers the same subjects. Upon passage, a student receives his/her high school diploma or bachillerato.

Stories from Costa Rica:
From my personal experience as an American living in Costa Rica with my two sons in a small private Costa Rican run elementary school, testing is standard practice throughout the year; this goes for the public schools as well. One of my sons is in fourth grade and the other is in second grade. Initially, I was very surprised by the four times a year organized school-wide testing periods. When I was teaching fourth and fifth grade in the public schools in Charlotte, NC I was used to the EOG and intense preparation. This testing of four times a year in CR seemed too much to me from the perspective of what a big deal the EOGs are and the pressure of them.

There seems to be no big over-the-top focus on the tests in terms of preparing or celebrating. No breakfasts or extra recess after. The students get percent grades on all their exams so they learn about scores very early, first grade actually.

There is a standardized national final high school exam in 11th grade. The marks received from this test determine certain opportunities into higher education. There is more preparation for this test where students might even use tutors to help prepare.

India

Under the current education system in India, students are required to take three to four exams per academic year before they are promoted to the next grade. At the end of 10th and 12th grades, students sit for a school board exam. These exams are conducted either statewide or nationwide, and are centrally prepared, administered, and graded. Performance on these exams is crucial for seeking admission to universities and colleges and to gain access to prestigious careers. Due to the importance of exam performance, students begin attending coaching classes at a young age and often continue their studies during school vacation.

Stories from India:
Annual exams happen in India in April before the summer vacation. Students take tests in each subject that they have been learning throughout the year. Usually the tests are out of 100 points (or marks as they are called in India) and usually the passing grade is 40 marks. Each student gets a syllabus for the exam to study and an exam schedule. Each exam is usually 2-3 hours. The exams run one in the morning and one in the afternoon with lunch in between. Based on their performance in the annual exams, students are promoted, failed, or promoted with warning. Each student is assigned a seat in their classroom and there are no open book exams. A teacher monitors the room during the exam. Usually report cards are distributed in class right before the summer vacation that begins in early-mid May.

It was always so stressful because if you fail, then you are held back and all your friends move on. You then have to spend the next year with your juniors who will be your new classmates and they will know that you were held back-that's was the worst possible embarrassment of all times... My parents didn't put any pressure, but it was obvious that you had to get "promoted".

resolutions, and more. These symposiums offer general sessions, concurrent sessions, and support for school and college-based teams in creating an Action Plan for globalizing schools and colleges. These programs are designed for administrators and teachers of all grade levels and disciplines, and provide current information and unique strategies for helping students learn about the world.

Location: The Friday Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Cost (North Carolina Educators):
Registration is $175 per person. A team of 4 is $600 (save $100). A team is comprised of 4 or more individuals organized from the same school, district, college. Only $150 for each additional team member.
Cost (Out-of-State Educators):
Registration is $275 per person.

For more information, please call the World View office at 919/962-9264 or visit www.unc.edu/world

To register go to:
www.unc.edu/world/regform.shtml

Foreign Currency Kits Available

Borrow Money from World View today!

What's a Foreign Currency Kit?

The Foreign Currency Kit contains currency, both bills and coins, from over 35 countries and may be borrowed by educators in North Carolina. It is designed for K-12 educators as a learning tool, using tangible items to teach about people and places, as well as a means for integrating global content across multiple subject areas. Interested higher education educators may also borrow the Kit.

How can I borrow a Kit?

Any North Carolina educator may borrow an available Kit for up to three weeks. To borrow a Kit, please download and read the lending policies and complete a "Lending Agreement".

What's in the Box?

Money! In each Currency Kit there are coins and bills from over 35 countries or territories. The Foreign Currency Kit also contains useful reference books, a map, an inventory of coins and bills included and their country or

Sweden

At the end of 5th grade, non-compulsory national tests are offered in Swedish, English, and Math. These tests have a diagnostic purpose, helping teachers understand their students' learning. Teachers consider not only the answer but also how students work the problem. Students can express their knowledge in different ways using pictures, words, and symbols. Also, the assessments include group and individual work as well as self-assessment. In 9th grade, the national tests are compulsory, but they may still include group work or an oral component. In upper secondary school, Swedish students are tested at the end of each course.

Taiwan

In Taiwan, students spend junior high preparing for the national senior high school entrance exams which they take at the end of 8th grade. Their scores determine which high school they can attend. Although school officially ends at 5pm, junior high students often stay until 8 or 9pm for supplementary instruction. Schools also hold "optional" supplementary classes during winter and summer vacation. In many cases, participation is mandatory. Once in senior high school, students then strive to score well enough on the national university entrance exams so they can attend a four-year university in Taiwan.

Tunisia

Tunisian students attend six years of primary school, and at the end of the sixth year, they must score above 50 percent on an exam in order to progress to the lower secondary level. After three years of lower secondary education, students sit for another exam. Upon passage, students receive the Diplôme de Fin d'Études de l'Enseignement which is required to begin secondary education. At the end of the fourth year of secondary studies, students take the Examen National du Baccalauréat which tests them on six core subjects. Only students attaining a diploma can pursue post-secondary education.

Zimbabwe

Students in Zimbabwe complete seven years of primary schooling before taking four nationally-set exams in Math, English, Shona or Ndebele (local languages), and Content (a combination of science and social science). Students take the national exams in November, as the school year runs January to December. Secondary school consists of four years of "O" level and two years of "A" level curriculum. Exams in "O" and "A" levels are offered in June and November, and exam topics range from biology and chemistry to metalwork and fashion & fabrics. As in the United States, grades of A, B, and C are considered passing.

Stories from China

At the final exam, before the test was given out to a class of 20 students, a Biology professor said to the class, "I am very happy to have you as my students this semester. I know all of you have been studying hard, and many of you will enter medical schools this fall. Therefore, I have an idea for today's test. If any of you will give up taking the test today, you will automatically get a "B". Hearing this, the students were surprised and excited. Many of them got up and walked to the professor. They thanked the professor, signed their names and left the classroom. After they left, the professor looked at those who stayed and offered them a final chance to leave. One more student got up, signed his name and left the classroom. The professor then closed the classroom door and looked at the small number of students who stayed. He said to them, "I am very pleased with the confidence you have with yourselves. All of you get an "A".

More from China
Some years ago, I took a course, an elective (I think), called Creative territory of origin, as well as suggested educator activities.

FOR MORE INFORMATION VISIT:
unc.edu/world/Currency_Kit/currencykit.shtml

Congratulations to World View's Magnet School Partners!

Farmington Woods International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme was named the top magnet elementary school in the nation this week by the Magnet Schools of America. The award includes a $2,500 prize for the school. Farmington Woods was selected out of 227 magnet schools from throughout the country. It was one of 15 Wake County magnet schools recognized in a variety of categories.

Other World View magnet partners in Wake receiving awards include:

- Joyner Center for Spanish Language/IB Magnet
- Garner IB Magnet High
- East Garner IB Magnet Middle

The full press release can be found here.

Congratulations also to World View partner Johnson Street Global Elementary in Guilford County for being awarded a School of Distinction from the Magnet Schools of America.

Witness to Revolution

American student Andrew Simon, witness to the Egyptian revolution, shares his photos and impressions of the uprising in Tahrir Square. This presentation was originally a Culture Cafe for online students of Arabic through NC Virtual Public School. It was produced in partnership with the Duke-UNC Consortium for Middle East Studies. It's now available online for viewing by all on TeacherTube. Here's the link:

Studies, (or something like that). I never went to the class. At the final exam, I wrote all Chinese characters in my answer upside down (or in reverse) except these few characters, "I am very creative, am I not?" I got the test back. The teacher gave me 09 (out of 100) as my test score and a comment that said, "reading score in reverse (backwards/upside down), you passed". Note: For Chinese tests (100 is the full score, 60 is the passing grade).

We cannot think of any celebration for the end of the class such as those we see in U.S. However, mostly at the K-12 level depending upon schools/teachers, 'graduation-like' ceremonies may be held on the last day of semester where a class's top 3 academic achievers are honored with certificates and gifts (books, pencils, pens, etc.).

Stories from Colombia

In my country, Colombia, the college admission process begins with a standardized test (similar to the SAT, but longer and more comprehensive) administered by the Instituto Colombiano para el Fomento de la Educación Superior prior to high school graduation. It is recognized nationally as the most important test since it qualifies students according to their actual academic skills and impacts acceptance outcomes at public and private colleges. When I took it in 1981 the highest possible score was in the low 400s and the minimum in order to pass and be able to graduate from high school was 213. The minimum to be able to apply for college was 250. More than 280, was considered a good score; above 300, was considered a very good score, and more than 340 was excellent.

I did have my period of agony the day we were receiving our scores in front of the whole class! My twin sister was one of the first to be called and she got a score above three hundred. As more classmates were being called to go and get their scores, I was praying in silence, convinced I was probably going to get one in the low 200s and maybe not even be able to graduate from high school that year. When my name was finally called towards the end, I found out that my score was also above 300, and only one point different from my twin sister. Through the years we have proved to be identical twin sisters in more than one way, I guess! It felt GREAT!!!

Stories from England

When I was in secondary school in England in the late 70's early 80's, there was no stress relief for testing. At the end of each school year when testing would take place, many of the teachers would let us bring in board games and other forms of amusement that could be easily administered in the classroom. We would have impromptu chess and draughts (Checkers) competitions, Monopoly, Sorry and Connect Four games abounded, while some of the students simply read books. Parties used to be at the discretion of individual teachers, but if administered, were always subdued and by no means raucous extravaganzas. The most significant event at the end of the school year was the selection of the student who was "fortunate" enough to take home the class rodent for the summer holidays. Some classes had a rabbit, some had mice, ours was a gerbil. This was a high honor indeed, but being a rather rambunctious youngster, one of my teachers even referred to me as loquacious, I never was selected, which was probably just as well.

Stories from France

We did not have different rooms for different classes; the teachers came into the rooms which were divided according to the age of the pupils. I was in boarding school, and it was a long time ago! We had a big test at the end of the year to see if we would pass to the other grade and we also had an award ceremony at the end of each school year. We actually were given medals for each subject and behavior.

http://bit.ly/lmdHR8 or click here.

The presentation and discussion is in English, with occasional Arabic (which is translated) and is appropriate for middle and high school students.

Click here for more information about Culture Cafes.
ncvpsculturecafe.blogspot.com/2009/07/ncvps-culture-cafe.html

For questions about Culture Cafes and online world language learning, contact Ellen Minter at ellen.minter@ncpublicschools.gov

For more information about Middle East outreach, contact Dr. Regina Higgins at regina_higgins@unc.edu

Teacher Strategies for Reducing Test Anxiety

- Discuss the purpose of the test and how it can help students progress academically.
- Have realistic expectations of students' performance while encouraging students to do their best.
- Allow students to express their anxiety verbally or in writing.
- Be careful not to overemphasize the importance of the test.

Testing Skills Rock!

(to the tune of "Jingle Bell Rock")

Testing skills, testing skills, testing skills rock
All these great ways to beat the clock.
Listening and following directions to be
As prepared as I should be.

Testing skills, testing skills, testing skills rock
Rested and fed so there's no brain-block
Skim the test first, looking for all the cues
These are the ways to cure test blues.

Testing skills, testing skills, testing skills rock
Taking my time…who cares 'bout the clock?
Stay calm and focused, I know it all well
My results will ring the bell!

written by a Missouri teacher

More from France
In the French educational system, the knowledge you've gained throughout high school culminates in a series of exams across various subjects at the end of your senior year called the Baccalaureat. In 10th grade, students are separated into "sections", which focus on an area of study – literature, economics and social sciences, and scientific. Although this focus allows students to allocate more weight to the exams in the subjects that fall under these sections, students are still required to take lengthy exams in all subjects spanning languages, physics and chemistry, math, philosophy, history, geography, and athletics, to name the ones I recall off the top of my head. The extreme relief that comes from wrapping up two weeks of intense testing is released into celebrations among friends and the prom, which is held a week after the exams are finished. Given that French high schools don't typically have a formal graduation event, walking out of your final test becomes a similar right of passage and as rewarding as high school graduation ceremonies.

Stories from Germany

There are regular tests and exams throughout the school year in Germany. There are no EOGs. The exception is the very strenuous and important Abitur exams (high school exams after the 12th grade). The Abitur exams are cumulative and can cover anything covered in the last two years of high school.

For the Abitur exams, because I chose English and French as my majors, I had a 4-6 hour written exam in English and one in French, a 2-3 hour exam in biology, and a 30-60 min. oral exam in social science. This all happens in a week or two, and the grades make up a big part of your final grade.

Many students "rush the school" a few weeks after the exams, play pranks on the teachers, and party with all students for a few hours during school time. For instance, we camped out at the school the night before the rush. We placed yoghurt cups filled with water on the stairs to the teacher's lounge and hid the key to the teacher's lounge in a hay stack. The longer it takes for the teachers to get into the teachers' lounge, the longer all other students at the school can party before classes can start. We also had a band from among our students that play in the school court yard for the party.

Many Abitur students also organize a ball/dance to celebrate more formally with the parents and teachers. However, this is completely dependent on the students, and they are the ones who organize it. As far as I know, high schools in Germany do not have a formal dance that they organize.

Some students do get stressed about the regular tests and exams, but again there is nothing official that is done. This is mostly handled by the families. Many students do some activities like sports, music, theater and other hobbies that could be considered a stress relief.

More from Germany
Germany does not have that test addiction as the US. Generally in Elementary School there are few tests and of course no EOGs. And tests are not the main source of grading. However, every teacher is pretty free how she handles tests. Very often they are not even coordinated within the grade level. That applies also to secondary schools where testing is common and especially in the advanced secondary schools, like Mittelschule and Gymnasium, an important source for the grading. Still there are no EOGs or EOCs. Tests are administered throughout the year approximately once a month or once every six weeks and feed into the grading.

We also do not have anything like AP or AP exams. At the end of the Gymnasium, very important end of school exams are administered as part of the Abitur examination. Similar exams (but not as challenging) are administered at the end of the 10th grade in order to determine whether a student qualifies for the upper level secondary school (grades 11 and 12) that lead to the Abitur with its certification to attend a university.

Global Citizen Corps for High School and University Students

Do you know high school or university students who care about global issues and want the skills to mobilize their communities to take action? Tell students to apply to the Global Citizen Corps Program -- an exciting and enriching opportunity that's fun, educational and gives you an opportunity to interact with youth from around the world.

Global Citizen Corps is an international network of youth who educate and mobilize their schools and communities to make a difference. Leaders work with Mercy Corps staff to get the training and tools to organize Global Action projects that address challenges linked to poverty, hunger, climate change, access to education, global health and conflict at a local level. Through the online network, live video conferences and international exchanges youth leaders share their projects and experiences across cultures, communities and countries.

The Global Citizen Corps has leadership programs in nine different countries: Gaza, Haiti, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq, Indonesia, Pakistan, US & UK. Participants can either join our online leadership program (with training opportunities throughout the year) or choose to attend our intensive national leadership training in Portland, OR from July 5-9th. Students will receive training from Mercy Corps experts, engage in a video-conference with their international peers and gain the skills necessary to take meaningful action.

Visit www.globalcitizencorps.org/leadership to apply and to learn more about what Global Citizen Corps is visit www.globalcitizencorps.org/us.

If you have any questions or would like printed materials please contact Sailesh Naidu directly at snaidu@nyc.mercycorps.org.

Past Editions of Global Updates Available

Traveling this summer and need tips on how to make the best of your international travel experience?

Stories from Mexico

The only tradition not student-based like "irse de pinta", which means skipping school after a test or other time the opportunity was given, is the traditional end of the year festival. I particularly remember one festival where I dressed as a chicken and had to sing a song called "la gallina turuleca". Every classroom would organize a dance. Perfect coordination was achieved through endless practice. During these times our PE class was substituted with dance preparations. Parents would volunteer to make the outfits for the class or the teacher would find a place where we all needed to purchase the pertinent uniform. Despite the craziness of these festivals, I have fond memories of them. I remember looking forward to taking the tests so that we could end the semester with what we all thought would be a grandiose performance.

Stories from Russia

Tests were just a part of life in Russia. It is an expectation and the norm, so normally it is not something to be anxious about - it's not like it is a surprise of sorts. We have been having tests since elementary school, whether as dictations, quizzes or regular tests (no multiple choice usually, mostly show the work types of tests or essay writing). The finals in the higher grades often ended with flowers or chocolate souvenirs to each teacher as a "thank you" at the end of the year. The "big finals" included written and oral exams. Oral exams produce some anxiety as the pull of questions is quite large and you are in front of a panel of several teachers who will drill you. Once you are done, you may end up with a party to celebrate the end of the school year, or even better, an outing to an amusement park or a café.

Coming to America, I found it very surprising to see an increasing number of children freaking out about the tests and having sometimes debilitating anxiety, especially among upper classmen.

Do you have information to share?

Do you have information that you would like to share with other educators across the state? You are welcome to submit interesting global education programs that are going on in your schools, announcements about global education seminars, new resources that others might find interesting, etc. Please email Julie at jmarante@email.unc.edu with your "update-worthy" items!

Reader Mailbag

If you have comments about any of the information contained in the Global Update, send us an email! Perhaps your comments will appear here in this new section of the Global Update.

Disclaimer
World View at UNC-Chapel Hill provides information, resources, and announcements for educational purposes only. It does not represent an endorsement of organizations or point

Looking for ideas to get your students involved in an international summer opportunity?

Need a good book to take to the beach?

Check out archived editions of Global Updates for tips on international travel, summer opportunities for educators and students, recommended "global" reads, world languages, globalizing curriculum on a budget, bringing the world to students through technology, adding a global dimension to your after school program, and much more.

Global Updates are developed around a theme, so even if the announcements from past editions are "out dated" much of the content in the issue is still useful!

www.unc.edu/world/Global_Updates.shtml of view by World View or The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

--
Julie M. Kinnaird, Assistant Director for Outreach
World View
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 8011
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8011

tel: 919.962.6785
fax: 919.962.6794
jmarante@email.unc.edu
http://www.unc.edu/world

- -- You are currently subscribed to globalupdates as: jen321@email.unc.edu To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29189793-5516874.70492b48a552675c322c54383e92d7fb@listserv.unc.edu

From: Stacey Sewall <sewall@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 12:47 PM
To: The asc_faculty mailing list. <asc_faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asc_faculty] Fwd: talk about Egypt on June 5th.
Attach: AgeofRevolution.doc; Attached Message Part; PastedGraphic-2.tiff; Attached Message Part

---

-------- Original Message --------
Subject:talk about Egypt on June 5th.
Date: Thu, 19 May 2011 14:12:23 -0400
From: Miriam Palacio <miriam@chi-cle.com>
To:CHICLE CHICLE <chicle@chi-cle.com>

CHICLE Language Institute
101 E Weaver Street
Carrboro, NC 27510
On the 3rd floor over Weaver Street Market
Free and open to the public
Sunday, June 5, 5:00 pm
www.chi-cle.com 919-933-0398

Egypt: Age of Revolution

Mohamed Abou el Seoud was in Egypt at the start of the revolution on January 25th. Egyptians stated their call for freedom, equality, and social justice on that date. In 12 days people in Egypt were able to get the freedom that they sought by ending 30 years of Mubarak's presidential era. Mohamed Abou El Seoud holds an MA in Libraries and Information Science, and is currently a PhD candidate in Cairo University, and currently works as the Middle East and African librarian at the UNC-Chapel Hill libraries. He will lead a discussion about his experiences.

CHICLE LANGUAGE INSTITUTE

Think Globally, Learn Locally

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 12:48 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] May 25th - June 5th

Dear All,
I will be in all day trainings and meetings on May 25th and 26th, followed by a vacation from May 27th to June 5th.

If there is anything pressing that you need before that, please let me know as soon as possible and I will try to fit it in. While I am away Travis and Haeran will be available.

Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29189971

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29189971-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

GARY GEDDES

DRINK THE BITTER ROOT

A WRITER'S SEARCH FOR JUSTICE AND REDEMPTION IN AFRICA

A NEW BOOK BY AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR GARY GEDDES

Drink the Bitter Root

A Writer's Search for Justice and Redemption in Africa

A deeply engaging investigation of trauma, justice and the redemptive powers of imagination from one of Canada's most celebrated writers

DRINK THE BITTER ROOT is a provocative and emotionally charged account of one writer's travels in sub-Saharan Africa. Haunted by the 1993 murder of a Somali teenager by Canadian soldiers in what became known as the Somalia affair, and long fascinated by the so-called "dark continent," Gary Geddes decides at the age of sixty-eight to make the trip. His explorations are guided by questions. How can a tribunal in a remote suburb of Europe possibly change things on the ground in Africa? Are international aid and intervention improving the lives of ordinary Africans or contributing to their suffering?

Geddes' search takes him to the International Criminal Court in The Hague, where he struggles with the idea of universal justice and visits a prison that puts local hotels to shame. In Rwanda and Uganda, he attends grassroots criminal courts and encounters rescued street kids, women raped and infected with HIV during the genocide, and victims mutilated by the Lord's Resistance Army. In the Democratic Republic of Congo, Ethiopia and Somaliland, with the help of fixers, guides and the occasional armed guard, Geddes finds himself in the instructive--and at times redeeming--presence of child soldiers, refugees and poets turned freedom fighters.

The stories Geddes brings back are haunting, uplifting, terrifying, stark, sometimes almost unbearable, but he presents them all with the essential lightness that Jean-Paul Sartre insisted is so crucial to good writing. His book, a masterful blend of history, reportage, testimonial and memoir, is a harsh condemnation of the horrors spawned by greed and corruption and an eloquent tribute to human resilience.

GARY GEDDES has written and edited more than forty books of poetry, fiction, drama, non-fiction and criticism and has received numerous literary awards, including the British Columbia Lieutenant Governor's Award for Literary Excellence and Chile's Gabriela Mistral Prize. He is the author of two best-selling travel memoirs, The Kingdom of Ten Thousand Things and Sailing Home. He lives on Thetis Island, British Columbia.

"Gary Geddes has raised the literary profile of both our province and nation, and has long been considered one of Canada's most important men of letters...In whatever genre he pursues, Geddes writes with eloquence and intense awareness of mystery within the commonplace, and the single human voice singing inside the crowd. He tells the truth, in all its rawness and splendour."—Jury citation, B.C. Lieutenant Governor's Award for Literary Excellence

HARDCOVER · 288 PAGES · $32.95 · ISBN: 978-1-55365-458-2 · AVAILABLE SEPTEMBER 2011

Beginning May 2011, order copies in advance at amazon.ca and indigo.ca or visit your local bookstore

Douglas & McIntyre
www.dmpibooks.com

Would you like to submit to FOUNDATIONS ?

Foundations is now accepting submissions. All papers must meet the following criteria:

- Must have been written while pursuing an undergraduate degree. Papers written as an undergraduate may be submitted until two years past the month of graduation.
- International submissions are accepted but all submissions must be written in English.
- Must have a historical theme (includes anthropology, art history, classics, economics, political science, etc.)
- Must be unpublished.
- Must employ primary sources.
- Must be typed in 12-point Times New Roman font, doublespaced, and titled.

Please submit all papers as e-mail attachments along with an abstract no longer than 100 words in Microsoft Word document format to foundations@jhu.edu. All papers are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the academic year and the summer. Authors are kindly requested to provide the following data in the body of the e-mail, not in the manuscript: name, school attended, graduation year, and e-mail address.

Foundations is an international academic undergraduate history journal published biannually. Visit http://www.jhu.edu/foundations for more information.

From: Williams, Rebecca B <rbwill@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 3:31 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: asMgrs@listserv.unc.edu
Subject: [asddd] EPA Non-Faculty Annual Performance Evaluations
Attach: Annual Evaluation of EPA Non-Faculty 10-11.docx

This message is being sent to all Chairs and Directors in the College of Arts and Sciences and copied to all managers.

Good afternoon.

According to University policy supervisors should conduct an annual review of all EPA Non-Faculty employees by June 30 each year. To document that the College is in compliance, we ask that each unit complete the attached form and return to Janet Farrell (jcfarrel@email.unc.edu) by June 30.

For additional information on EPA Non-Faculty performance evaluations please visit http://hr.unc.edu/policies-procedures-guidelines/epa-non-faculty-policies/epa-nf-performance/CCM1_018402.

Thank you,
Becky

Becky Williams
Director of Human Resources
UNC College of Arts & Sciences
CB# 3056, 03 Howell Hall
(919) 962-9276
rbwill@email.unc.edu

Annual Evaluation of Permanent EPA Non-Faculty Employees
Academic Year 2010-11

Department/Curriculum Name _____

Submitted By _____

NAME	TITLE	EPA NON-FACULTY POSITION #	SUPERVISOR WHO CONDUCTED REVIEW	DATE OF CONFERENCE WITH EMPLOYEE
EX: Jane Doe-Smith	Research Associate	233090	Thomas Brown	May 5, 2011

If your department has no EPA non-faculty employees, please indicate by checking here.

Each permanent EPA non-faculty employee must receive a written performance evaluation annually. The annual evaluation is intended to cover the period from the previous July 1 to June of the following year. Generally, the review should be prepared and delivered to the employee in the late June timeframe of each year.

Please return by e-mail attachment
(i.e., pdf format) to:
Janet Farrell
jcfarrel@email.unc.edu
Due Date: June 30, 2011

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 5:16 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Foundations: an Undergraduate Research Journal in History
Attach: Spring 2011 Foundations Policy.pdf

FYI

From: jhufoundations@gmail.com [jhufoundations@gmail.com] on behalf of Foundations [foundations@jhu.edu]
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 3:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Foundations: an Undergraduate Research Journal in History

Dear Professor Nyang'oro,

Hello, my name is Spencer Matson and I am an Assistant Editor for Foundations: An Undergraduate Research Journal in History. We are comprised of an undergraduate Editorial Board with an international Faculty Advisory Board, and we publish in association with the Department of History and Johns Hopkins University. I wanted to take this opportunity to introduce myself and our publication.
Although we are a history journal we recognize that students from cognate fields of study write historical papers that would fall under our scope, so we are trying to expand our contacts with various university departments. We are also interested in exploring audio/visual submissions, such as documentaries, to publish on our website. Are there any African & Afro-American Studies professors or undergraduates who would be interested in our journal? Could you forward this e-mail to your colleagues in the department or send this e-mail out to the department majors?
I've attached a printable PDF of our submissions guidelines, which I encourage you to read and distribute. You may have already received a copy as we also send a general submissions call to schools, but we also wanted to get in touch with you personally.
You can find more information and read our published issues at our website, http://www.jhu.edu/foundations. Please feel free to contact us with comments or questions at jhufoundations@gmail.com.

Best,
Spencer Matson
Assistant Editor, Foundations
http://www.jhu.edu/foundations
jhufoundations@gmail.comx

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29191484
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29191484-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

Would you like to submit to FOUNDATIONS ?

Foundations is now accepting submissions. All papers must meet the following criteria:

- Must have been written while pursuing an undergraduate degree. Papers written as an undergraduate may be submitted until two years past the month of graduation.
- International submissions are accepted but all submissions must be written in English.
- Must have a historical theme (includes anthropology, art history, classics, economics, political science, etc.)
- Must be unpublished.
- Must employ primary sources.
- Must be typed in 12-point Times New Roman font, doublespaced, and titled.

Please submit all papers as e-mail attachments along with an abstract no longer than 100 words in Microsoft Word document format to foundations@jhu.edu. All papers are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the academic year and the summer. Authors are kindly requested to provide the following data in the body of the e-mail, not in the manuscript: name, school attended, graduation year, and e-mail address.

Foundations is an international academic undergraduate history journal published biannually. Visit http://www.jhu.edu/foundations for more information.

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 5:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Foundations: an Undergraduate Research Journal in History

---

Thank you for writing. I will check my email on an infrequent basis through August 22, 2011. I will reply to all messages at my earliest opportunity. If you need to reach me regarding an urgent matter related to LinCS 2 or Sister Circle, please call me on my cell phone.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Lesbian Mothers and Gay Fathers for Brief Survey on Family Functioning

---

Study name: Lesbian-mother and gay-father parenting and family functioning study
Study ID#: 11-0769 (Behavioral IRB)
Approval date: 5/16/2011

If you are interested in participating in future research on parenting and family functioning in households headed by one or more lesbian mothers or gay fathers, please contact Dr. Roger Mills-Koonce (rmk@email.unc.edu) at the Center for Developmental Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. You will be asked to complete a brief questionnaire that will ask about your contact information as well as demographic information about yourself and your family. Upon completion of this questionnaire you will be included in a registry of parents who have consented to be contacted to participate in future research on this topic.

There is currently a very limited amount of research on the characteristics of family systems and parenting experiences of lesbian and gay parents. Families headed by lesbian mothers or gay fathers are a rapidly growing population in the United States and, despite considerable interests in the functioning and welfare of these families within political, judicial, and social spheres, there is a very limited longitudinal research focused on this subgroup of American families. Furthermore, more research is needed to better inform clinicians and practitioners who provide counseling, mental health and community support services to lesbian and gay parents and their children who likely experience unique challenges within and beyond the immediate household.
Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
W. Roger Mills-Koonce, Ph.D.
Research Scientist
Center for Developmental Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
100 East Franklin Street CB# 8115
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8115
rmk@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Developmental Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr.

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill Community
Faculty, Staff, and Students

FROM: Associate Vice Chancellor for Research on behalf of the Review Committee for Samuel Odom, Jr.

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr.
Director, Frank Porter Graham Child Development Institute and Professor, School of Education.

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr. Director, FPG Child Development Institute, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Martha Cox, Center for Developmental Science, Nancy Jenkins, Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research, Jonathan Kotch, Maternal and Child Health, Michael Lambert, Social Work, Kelly Maxwell, FPG Child Development Institute, Peter Ornstein, Psychology

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Odom's performance as Director of the FPG Child Development Institute over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. For more information about the FPG Child Development Institute visit their website: http://www.fpg.unc.edu/.

The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Odom's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill. Suggestions regarding improving the overall functioning of FPG Child Development Institute are also welcome.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Odom's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by her. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to:

The Review Committee, Samuel Odom Five-Year Review
Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor for Research
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box #4100, 301 Bynum Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-4100

2. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Odom's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Odom's performance to the committee is Tuesday, May 31, 2011. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Committee Chair

Martha Cox
Director, Center for Developmental Science
Director, Assoc Prv Acad Initiatives-UBC
Research Professor, School of Education
100 E Franklin Street Ste 200
Campus Box 8115
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-3509
martha_cox@unc.edu

Committee Members

Nancy K. Cheek Jenkins
Deputy Director for Business, Finance & Research Administration
Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research
725 Martin L King Jr Blvd
Campus Box 7590
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-7103
nancy_jenkins@unc.edu

Jonathan Kotch
Distinguished Professor, Maternal and Child Health
428 Rosenau Hall
Campus Box 7445
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-5976
jonathan_kotch@unc.edu

Michael C. Lambert
Professor, School of Social Work
402K Tate, Turner-Kuralt Building
325 Pittsboro Street, CB #3550
(919) 677-0101
mclamber@email.unc.edu

Kelly Maxwell
Scientist and Associate Director, FPG Child Development Institute
Research Assistant Professor, School of Education
105 Smith Level Rd
Campus Box 8180
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-9865
maxwell@unc.edu

Peter Ornstein
Distinguished Professor, Psychology
222 Davie Hall
Campus Box 3270
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 962-4138
peter_ornstein@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

The Centre for African Studies, UCT invites you to a seminar by

Steven Kuo

[illegible]

Thursday, 26 May 2011 at 13h00.
Centre for African Studies Gallery

Discussant: Dr Heidi Grunebaum
Enquiries: 0216502308

Die Geel Gevaar and Quantianhou pengyou:
Contesting Discourses on China's Current Emergence in Africa

From: Cookie Newsom <newsom@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 10:53 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: 2011 VC Lunch invitation

Cookie Newsom sent you an invitation to "2011 VC Lunch invitation " for Tuesday, June 7th at 11:30 AM at School of Social Work

Click envelope to view your Invitation

If you click here to add paperlesspost@paperlesspost.com to your address book, you will receive all mail from Cookie Newsom on time in the future. The delivery of this Paperless Mail may have been delayed due to your email and spam blocking settings

View invitation: http://www.paperlesspost.com/events/718309-86df311d/replies/19718232-4e2ea762

Add this event to your: Google Calendar Outlook iCal

The 17th Summer Annual Public Health Research Videoconference on Minority Health Planning Committee

invites you to a Luncheon with our speakers

June 7]from 11:30-1:00

School of Social Work
Fifth Floor Dining Room

Click this invitation to R.S.V.P.

Create and send your own custom cards at http://www.paperlesspost.com.

If you found this email in your junk/bulk folder, please add paperlesspost@paperlesspost.com to your address book to ensure that you'll receive all future Paperless Mail in your inbox.

Paperless Post respects your privacy. To see how we treat your information, please review our Privacy Policy.

Click here to stop receiving emails from Paperless Post.

© 2011 Paperless Post, 151 West 25th St, 9th Floor, New York, NY 10001

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 3:51 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Parking, Commuter, & Blood Drive Info

Please see the 3 message below about Parking, Commuting and the upcoming Blood Drive.
Thanks! Agatha

From: Kane, Claire (Public Safety) [mailto:ckane@psafety.unc.edu]
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 12:37 PM
Subject: Lane Closures on South Columbia Street

Parking Coordinators, please distribute this information:

Daily lane closures on South Columbia Street began on May 20 and are expected to continue through mid-August. At least one lane of South Columbia Street will be open at all times to traffic. Motorists are encouraged to use alternate routes to avoid traffic congestion.

Weather permitting, the N.C. Department of Transportation (www.ncdot.gov) will be closing various lanes of South Columbia Street between Purefoy Road and Manning Drive on weekdays from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The closures are necessary to perform routine maintenance and prepare for the upcoming project to widen and improve South Columbia Street.

Watch signs for construction information, stay alert and obey the posted speed limit. For real-time travel information at any time, call 511, visit www.ncdot.gov/travel or follow NCDOT on Twitter at www.ncdot.gov/travel/twitter.

Another option is NCDOT Mobile, a phone-friendly version of the NCDOT website. To access it, type "m.ncdot.gov" into the browser of your smartphone. Then, bookmark it to save for future reference. NCDOT Mobile is compatible with the iPhone, Android and some newer Blackberry phones.

For more information on the work, contact NCDOT Division 7 Resident Engineer Donnie Huffines at 336-570-6830.

Thank you,

The Department of Public Safety

From: Kane, Claire (Public Safety) [mailto:ckane@psafety.unc.edu]
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 2:47 PM
Subject: Commute Getting Expensive?

Parking Coordinators, please distribute this information:

Gas prices shouldn't take away your summer vacation, and here's a way to make sure that doesn't happen! UNC partnered with Zimride to create a private network for carpooling. This let's you easily find other people making the same commute, and only other UNC affiliates can access the site:

http://zimride.unc.edu

You work, on average, two hours a day to pay for transportation. This program can help your reduce that, and put your paycheck to better use. Zimride is free to use, just add your ride and the program does the matching!

http://zimride.unc.edu

Have a great summer!

Sincerely,

Claire Kane
UNC Transportation Demand Manager
(919) 843-4414
claire@unc.edu
Share your ride with UNC Zimride - http://zimride.unc.edu/
http://www.dps.unc.edu/EMPCAP

PLEASE FORWARD IN YOUR UNIT: Also read the latest news release on the Carolina Blood Drive entitled "Cancer battle changes view of donating blood" http://uncnews.unc.edu/content/view/4537/107/

A CALL FOR CAROLINA BLOOD DRIVE DONORS and VOLUNTEERS - See below! We need YOU to make the difference on Tuesday, June 7th from 7a.m. - 6p.m. at the Smith Center. Sign up today at www.unc.edu/blood.

Only 487 registered Donor Appointments on the schedule at this point. Please sign up!

Consider these facts from the following URL: http://www.redcrossblood.org/learn-about-blood/blood-facts-and-statistics#blood-supply

- One donation can help save the lives of up to three people
- Blood *cannot be manufactured - it can only come from generous donors
- Every two seconds someone in the U.S. needs blood
- Share of the U.S. population eligible to give blood: less than 38%
- A single car accident victim can require as many as 100 pints of blood
- More than 38,000 blood donations are needed every day.
- The blood used in an emergency is already on the shelves before the event occurs

Donor Opportunities for Prizes (can sign up at the Blood Drive):

- Double Red Cell donors will receive special thanks of a can cooler and Frisbee from the American Red Cross.

- All donors and volunteers will receive commemorative 23rd anniversary t-shirts donated by UNC Student Stores and the American Red Cross.
- All donors will automatically be registered post-donation for a drawing to win one of two pairs of Roundtrip Delta Air Lines Tickets compliments of the Carolina Regions of the American Red Cross.
- In addition, donors will have an opportunity to win door prizes while at the Smith Center on June 7th. Door prizes will be given away randomly between 8am – 7pm. to include a chance to win one of three grand prizes:
    - Two tickets to the UNC-Chapel Hill vs. James Madison on Saturday, September 3rd, 2011, Time TBA in the new Kenan Stadium (Donation from UNC-Chapel Hill Athletics)
    - Two tickets to a non-conference to be determined UNC Men's Basketball game in December 2011 (Donation from UNC-Athletics)
    - Two tickets to a conference UNC Women's Basketball game in Carmichael during the 2011-2012 season (Donation from UNC-Athletics)

Let us know if you have questions!
Sincerely,
Katrina Coble
Chair, Recruitment Carolina Blood Drive
962-1801

"In everything give thanks-gratitude is the attitude that sets the altitude for living."

- -- You are currently subscribed to business_managers as: abuell@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29202409-23351052.88d152cd550c3f131cdc33d20bf62acb@listserv.unc.edu

---

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29204318

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29204318-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: UNC Ticket Office <webtickets@uncaa.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 5:56 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: NCAA Baseball Postseason Ticket Request - Deadline May 31st 5:00 pm

---

TarHeelBlue.com

Coming off a great weekend series sweep against #1 Virginia, Carolina Athletics would like to offer you the opportunity to request tickets for potential NCAA Regional and Super Regional competition. The NCAA will announce the sixteen universities selected to host post-season competition on Sunday, May 29th.

If UNC is selected to host, the Regional will be held the weekend of June 3rd through June 6th at Boshamer Stadium. As we anticipate a strong fan response, it is definitely to your advantage to request tickets as early as possible.

If UNC hosts a Super Regional, it will be held the weekend of June 10th through June 13th at Boshamer Stadium. Ticket requests for the Super Regional can be placed now.

To request tickets, use the link below.

2011 NCAA Baseball Postseason Tickets - Click Here to Request Tickets

Follow us on Facebook

Enter your:

Customer Number: 704273328

and password you previously created.

All regional requests must be received by May 31st at 5:00pm. Requests will be fulfilled based on availability and Rams Club point priority. Seat assignments will be based on a variety of factors including: the needs of the UNC Baseball program, NCAA mandated visiting team seats, and the Rams Club priority point system. You will receive final confirmation from the Ticket Office and, if applicable, your credit card will be charged after 6:00pm on May 31st.

* By placing a request, you are not guaranteed to receive tickets. All orders are considered requests until confirmed by the Ticket Office on May 31st.*

Thank you for your continued support of Carolina Baseball. Go Heels!

NORTH CAROLINA TARHEELS

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jacks@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Colonoscopy Study

Research Subjects Needed for Study

Are you SCHEDULED to have a ROUTINE COLONOSCOPY performed at UNC in the near future?

* If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the role of bacteria found normally living in the gut.

* This study is recruiting both HEALTHY and IBS subjects suffering from diarrhea.

* This study will involve ONE screening visit and ONE procedure visit to have a "sigmoidoscopy" performed at UNC endoscopy clinics 1 to 3 weeks PRIOR to your planned colonoscopy at UNC.

* Subjects will be compensated $260 for complete participation in this study.

<Please note that this study does not provide the colonoscopy; this should be scheduled and covered by the research subject's insurance>

If you are interested in participating or would like to learn more about this study, please contact study coordinators Jennica Jackson Siddle at 919-843-8034 or email Jennica_Jackson@med.unc.edu or Katharine Thurlow at 919-843-1003 or email Katharine_Thurlow@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

Biomedical IRB approved study and message #10-0629 (approved for 05/18/11-05/01/2012)

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gastroenterology & Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acalingo@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:38 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Time-to-Pregnancy Research Study

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time to Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill that hopes to find a way to accurately measure a woman's fertility. Women between 30 and 44 years of age who are trying to become pregnant or about to start trying are eligible to participate in the study. Women are not eligible to participate if they or their partner have a history of infertility or fertility treatment.

Research study participants only need to attend ONE brief, on-site study visit in Chapel Hill or Raleigh. All other study activities are completed online.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Free online fertility tracker
- Monetary compensation for study activities

There are no medicines or pills to take and no changes to one's daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

If you or someone you know might be interested in learning more about this study, you can visit our website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive, call us at (919) 843-8246, or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: OB/GYN

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of younghearts@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:59 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Adolescents and Young Adults Living with Congenital Heart Disease

---

We're looking for adolescents and young adults (aged 19-29 years)to share their experience of living with congenital heart disease. If you agree to participate, you will be asked to complete one interview and 3 questionnaires. The interview and questionnaires will take about 2 hours of your time. During the interview you will be asked to talk about your personal experience of living with congenital heart disease. The interview will be tape recorded with your permission. The study will be take place at the BioBehavioral Lab, UNC School of Nursing, NC Children's Hospital Pediatric Cardiology Clinics, and the UNC Heart Center at Meadowmont. You may choose the site and time that is most convenient for you. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. You don't have to answer any questions you don't want to and you may stop being in the study at any time. All the information I receive from you, including your name will be totally private and will be kept under lock and key. You will be receive a $25.00 American Express gift card to thank you for your time and to recognize your contribution to the research. You will receive the gift card at the end of the study visit, even if you decide to withdraw or leave the study before completing the interview and/or questionnaires. To learn more and to volunteer to for this study, visit this email address: younghearts@unc.edu.

 Choosing or declining to participate in this study will not affect your class standing, grades, or employment at UNC-Chapel Hill. You will not be offered nor receive any special consideration if you take part in this research; it is purely voluntary. Your answers to the survey will remain completely anonymous at all times.

 This study has been approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB (IRB Study No. 11-0687, April 26, 2011).

Researcher: Dr. Patricia Moreland, Postdoctoral Fellow | School of Nursing
Supervisor: Dr. Sheila Santacroce, Faculty Advisor | School of Nursing

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 9:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Native Spanish-speakers needed for a study - Mensaje Biling|e

---

Are you a native-Spanish speaker interested in being in an educational research study about cancer prevention?

Researchers at UNC Chapel Hill are searching for participants to view a video in Spanish about cancer prevention and participate in a survey regarding the video.

Enrollees in this study must:

* be a native Spanish-speaker who prefers health services in Spanish
* be between the ages of 50-75
* meet other eligibility criteria

Qualified participants would need to participate in a 20 minute phone survey and also attend one interview at the UNC Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research that will last approximately 1 hour.

Participants will receive a $20 gift card for their participation in the phone survey and a $50 gift card at the conclusion of their interview at the Sheps Center.

For more information, please call 1(877) 829-0012 or email: opciones@schsr.unc.edu.

?Es usted hispanoparlante nativo que esta interesado en participar en un estudio de investigacisn de prevencisn del cancer?

Los investigadores de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill estan buscando personas para ver un video educativo en espaqol acerca de la prevencisn de cancer y participar en una entrevista.

Los participantes de este estudio necesitan:

-tener de 50 a 75 aqos de edad
-ser una persona hispanoparlante nativo/a que prefiere recibir los servicios de salud en espaqol.
-calificar a otras criterias de estudio.

Las personas que califican en este estudio completaran una encuesta que durara aproximadamente 20 minutos por telifono y tambiin necesitaran asistir una entrevista por una hora en nuestras oficinas de Sheps Center.

Los participantes recibiran una tarjeta de regalo de $20 por participar en la encuesta y otra tarjeta de $50 al terminar la entrevista en nuestras oficinas.

Si desea mas informacisn, llamenos al nzmero 1-877-829-0012 o contactenos por correo electrsnico: opciones@schsr.unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (05/20/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (5-40745). Study Title: Development of a Spanish Language Colorectal Cancer Screening Decision Aid

This email is sponsored by: Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 9:49 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Graduate School to use ApplyYourself for Online Admissions Application

---

DT: May 23, 2011

TO: Deans, Directors, Department Heads (DDD); Directors of Graduate Studies; Directors of Undergraduate Studies; Department Chairs

FROM: Dr. Bruce Carney, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost; Dr. Steven Matson, Dean, Graduate School

RE: UNC-Chapel Hill Graduate School to use ApplyYourself for Online Admissions Application

ApplyYourself will be the new graduate admissions solution for all programs overseen by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Graduate School. ApplyYourself is a product of Hobsons, a company which provides widely used online application software solutions to colleges and universities.

The ApplyYourself solution replaces the online application for Graduate School admissions developed in-house by ITS. The ApplyYouself online admissions application will share data with PeopleSoft (ConnectCarolina), and the Graduate School will continue to use ConnectCarolina for its non-admissions student services functions.

Applicants to the Graduate School will begin using ApplyYourself in fall 2011 for the graduate class entering in the fall of 2012. Letters of recommendation, evaluation of applications and accept/deny decisions will be handled by the ApplyYourself solution.

The ApplyYourself online application for admission will serve all graduate programs that are overseen by the Graduate School with very few exceptions.*

"We are utilizing the services of a company that provides an online admissions solution used by more than 400 graduate schools across the country, including many of our peer institutions," said Steve Matson, Dean of the Graduate School. "We believe this solution will address much of the feedback we received from staff and applicants about the fall 2011 application process. We are grateful to the ConnectCarolina team and ITS for diligently working with us on our online application needs, and look forward to continuing to work with the ConnectCarolina software for student services."

Hobsons is a provider of technology and integrated marketing solutions for the student lifecycle, including recruitment and admissions applications. With more than 30 years of education experience and market knowledge, Hobsons' clients include more than 5,000 global secondary schools, colleges and universities. Hobsons is the technology and service provider for the Common Application, providing the Common Application Online to its approximately 350 member institutions. UNC-Chapel Hill's Undergraduate Admissions will begin using the Common Application in fall 2011 for the first-year class of fall 2012.

*Exceptions of graduate programs that will not use ApplyYourself (these do not go through the Graduate School today):

Non-degree graduate programs and certifications
Gillings School of Global Public Health certificate programs
Kenan-Flagler Business School Masters programs
School of Education Masters for experienced teachers and school administration
School of Medicine Doctor of Audiology, Doctor of Physical Therapy, Master of Physical Therapy, and Master of Audiology

This email is sponsored by: Provost and Graduate School

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 1:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Lunch with One

Eve Duffy: "Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies"

Wednesday, June 1, 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about art in the German exhibitions currently on view in the Ackland's galleries.

Eve Duffy, Department of History, and Director, Program in the Humanities, UNC-Chapel Hill, will present an illustrated talk entitled "'Degenerate Art,' 'Great German Art': Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies."

No reservations required.

Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members

For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Out of the Studio: An Evening of Tibetan Culture and Performance

Thursday, June 2, 6:00 - 8:00 PM

Experience the ancient Tibetan cultural rituals of dance, chanting, prayers, and debate as the Tibetan monks of Drepung Gomang Monastery perform at the Ackland Art Museum in a free, all-ages program.

The program will include a prayer for His Holiness The Dalai Lama, the Yak Dance, the Dance of Shanak (Black Hat Dance), chanting of Jam Chenma (Madyamikavatara), and a demonstration of debate, the most important way to learn Buddhist philosophy in the monasteries.

Free and open to the public

Art and Literature in the Galleries

German Art and the Brothers Grimm

Thursday, June 2, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Read the selection, look at the art, and become part of the Ackland's Art & Literature series by joining the discussions on the third Thursday each month.

Ralph Manheim's translation of Grimms' Tales for Young and Old, the Complete Stories introduces the summer Art & Literature series in conjunction with the exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings.

What messages do many of these two hundred tales convey to readers? How might some of those messages be reflected in works of art made during the century following publication of the tales (1820–1858)?

Leslie Balkany, retired Ackland educator, will facilitate this discussion with Eric Downing, Professor of German, English and Comparative Literature, and Adjunct Professor of Classical Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Free to Ackland members, high school students, and UNC students who present a One Card. $5 for non-members.

Registration required. Email: acklandrsvp@unc.edu.

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romatic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

And Many More!

Closing on June 5th:

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

From: Pete Andrews <andrewsr@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 1:06 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: REMINDER (TODAY PLEASE): Annual performance review of Agatha Buell

---

Julius, I would be very grateful for your input to Agatha's review on behalf of AFAM. If you would prefer to provide it orally, you can call me up to 2:30 or so at 929-2988, or leave a message later this afternoon at 843-5011.

Thank you --

Pete

On 5/19/2011 5:01 PM, Richard Andrews wrote:
>
> Dear Julius:
>
> I am putting together my Annual Performance Review for Agatha Buell > this week and next. If you or others in AFAM wish to provide any > feedback about her performance, I would be grateful.
>
> Please let me know, and invite any others of your faculty to contact > me directly as well, and your feedback will be incorporated into my > overall review of her work.
>
> I would be grateful to receive any responses by Tuesday, May 24, at > 5pm, as I have several travel responsibilities beginning later that > week and need to complete this review before leaving.
>
> Many thanks.
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Pete
>

--

REPLY TO: pete_andrews@unc.edu

Richard N. (Pete) Andrews
Professor and Chair
Department of Public Policy (202A Abernethy Hall)
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3435 USA

tel: +1 919 843-5011 fax: +1 919 962-5824

From: NCBS/NBUF Grant Program <info@ncbsonline.org>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 2:48 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: NCBS/NBUF Community Engagement Grant

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

NCBS/NBUF Community Engagement Grant

The National Council for Black Studies (NCBS) is pleased to announce that proposals are now being accepted under the new NCBS Community Education and Civic Engagement Grants Program. This program has been made possible as a result of the generous contributions of federal employees through the National Black United Fund/Federation of Charities (NBUFC).

Under this program grants will be awarded to support projects in which Africana Studies knowledge and skills are made available to local communities. Projects must involve active engagement of faculty and students with community organizations or residents. Special preference will be given to projects providing opportunities for students to obtain practical experience in assisting communities in problem solving by applying knowledge gained in Black/Africana Studies courses. Faculty affiliated with Black/Africana Studies units that are current NCBS Institutional members are eligible to apply for grants up to $5,000.

We now have funding for individual members for up to $2,500.

For more information regarding the NCBS/NBUF Community Engagement Grant Program, please visit the NCBS website .

Sincerely,

National Council for Black Studies
NCBS/NBUF Grant Committee

Forward to a colleague

SafeUnsubscribe

Trusted Email from Constant Contact®

Try it FREE today.

This email was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu by info@ncbsonline.org |
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES | National Council for Black Stu | P.O. Box 4109 | Atlanta | GA | 30303

From: International Studies Association <mescalan@u.arizona.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 4:37 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: REMINDER - 2012 ISA Annual Convention Call for Papers

---

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear Colleagues,

We would like to remind you that the deadline for submissions to the ISA 2012 Annual Convention in San Diego is June 1.

For the full call for papers, see the ISA 2012 page at: http://www.isanet.org/annual_convention/call-for-papers.html

International Studies Association
53rd Annual Convention
April 1-4, 2012, San Diego, California

"Power, Principles and Participation in the Global Information Age"

Canadian communication theorist Marshall McLuhan famously said, "The medium is the message," and coined the term "global village." McLuhan died in 1980, but his insights are even more relevant today. The information environment is drastically different from that of even a decade ago, as new forms of information flows come into existence almost annually. Facebook now has over 500 million users, and Twitter, a service barely in existence three years ago, counts over 175 million users. These tools are not only for finding long-lost school friends or sharing pictures of loved ones: they often are used for political purposes. For instance, both text messages and tweets served as vital communication tools during the 2009 post-election protests in Iran. Indeed, Reuters reported that United States government went so far as to ask Twitter to postpone maintenance and maintain service during this time. Humanitarian groups also use these communications technologies to bring attention to events worldwide: in the wake of Haiti's 2010 earthquake, the Red Cross collected $30 million in SMSbased donations from US phone users. And the 2010 elections witnessed US political candidates (and their staffs) tweeting and facebooking like never before.

The theme of this year's conference is inspired by the apparent impact of new information and communication technologies on international and transnational affairs. Information has altered power relations; it has help to globalize norms and principles; it has the potential to bring new participants into political and social processes world-wide. From geographic information systems that bring satellite images to our research to sophisticated form of electronic textual analysis to internet surveys, it is undeniable that a whole range of new technologies is affecting the way we think about and do research in international studies.

The deadline for paper and panel proposals, made through the ISA system, is June 1, 2011.

All proposals should be submitted online using the MyISA Conference Management System at http://isanet.ccit.arizona.edu/MyISA

Inquiries to the program chairs should be directed to isa2012@isanet.org

Judith Kelley
Department of Political Science
and Sanford School of Public Policy
Duke University

Box 90239
Durham, NC 27708-0239

Layna Mosley
Department of Political Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
361 Hamilton Hall, CB3265
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 24, 2011 5:08 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	URGENT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

5/24/11 4:58 pm

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The National Weather Services has issued a TORNADO WATCH IN ORANGE COUNTY.

That means conditions are favorable for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in and close to the watch area. The weather service says people in these areas should be on the lookout for threatening weather conditions and listen for later statements and possible warnings.

The weather service updates this information regularly, so be sure to check http://alerts.weather.gov/cap/wwaatmget.php?x=NCC135 for the most current information about Orange County.

The University will not send additional text, e-mail or other notifications to the campus community about a tornado watch since the status of those often change frequently during such a weather event. If a new weather pattern enters the area that prompts a fresh watch after a 24-hour period, the University plans to reissue the watch notice as part of its ongoing monitoring efforts for potential serious weather conditions.

When Orange County is placed under a tornado warning, the University will activate the emergency sirens for an imminent, life-threatening emergency. Alert Carolina will send a text message to registered cell phones and start other notifications including campus e-mail.

For a tornado warning, you need to be prepared to take the following actions if the watch is elevated to a tornado warning in our area:

Seek shelter immediately.
Move to an interior room on the lowest floor of a sturdy building.
Avoid windows.
If no shelter is available, lie down in a low-lying area.
Protect yourself from flying debris.
For more information, see alertcarolina.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 5:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: Please Print and call me
Attach: Fall-7 - POSTING.docx

---

can you please print two copies of this for me? Thanks!

From: Buell, Agatha
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 5:08 PM
To: Gore, Travis
Subject: Please Print and call me

Hi Travis,
Can you please print 2 copies of this and give me a call ASAP?
Thanks!
Agatha
(415) 240-6638

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Gordon H. DeFriese Career Development in Aging Research Awards

---

The UNC Institute on Aging is pleased to announce that it is accepting nominations for the Gordon H. DeFriese Career Development in Aging Research Awards. These annual awards were established to recognize Dr. DeFriese's thirty-year distinguished career in the conduct and development of research to improve the quality of lives of older North Carolinians, and especially to his unwavering commitment to developing and supporting the careers of his colleagues. Three awards, one for junior faculty/ staff and two for doctoral students, will be given in the summer of 2011.

All nominees must have demonstrated evidence of research interests in, and contributions to, the field of aging that are related to any of the following areas: medical sociology, primary health care, rural health services, health service utilization behavior, dental care, medical self-care, health status measurement, cost effectiveness and cost benefit analysis of health policy and programs, and health promotion/disease prevention. All award recipients are expected to be involved in the activities of the UNC Institute on Aging by participating in research, education or service projects that are of interest. Thus, all nominees must submit their curriculum vitae, career development plans in aging, and how the award would be used.

Junior Faculty/ Staff Award: To be eligible for the junior faculty/staff award of $5,000, nominees must be employed full-time at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Faculty/ staff should also demonstrate investment in aging through scholarly contributions including a developing record of significant publications, research grants and teaching influence. It is also desirable that faculty/ staff nominees show evidence of contributions to professional organization or community groups that enhance the quality of life of older people in North Carolina or within the Southeast. Letters of support will be accepted from colleagues of faculty or staff nominees who are knowledgeable about the nominee's aging-related interests and activities.

Doctoral Student Award: To be eligible for the student award of $1,500, individuals must be enrolled as active, full-time doctoral students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, planning to take coursework or work on the dissertation during the 2011 academic year. Doctoral student nominees should demonstrate interest in aging as evidence by aging-related coursework, internships, participation in research projects and manuscript production. Letters of support will be accepted from faculty or field mentors of student nominees who are knowledgeable about the student's aging-related interests and activities.

The nomination form, with the nominee's curriculum vitae, career development plans in aging, statement on how the award would be used, and two letters of support, must be submitted to Sharon Bowers at the UNC Institute on Aging by 5 p.m. on Wednesday, June 1, 2011. The application is available online at the Institute on Aging website, http://www.aging.unc.edu/funding/ghd/

This email is sponsored by: UNC Institute on Aging

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for African American Individuals Ages 18-45 for a Research Study

---

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about schizophrenia please consider participating as a control subject in Dr. Aysenil Belger's research study, Mapping of Brain Functions (00-1425 or GCRC-1888).

If you meet the following criteria, please fill out our online questionnaire:
http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm.
Visit our website at: http://www.nirl.unc.edu/ for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 18-45
* Either sex
* African American
* Willing and able to participate in a research study involving EEGs and MRIs
* No history of psychiatric illness or neurodegenerative disorder
* No substance abuse disorders, no substance abuse within the past 6 weeks
* No learning disability
* No family history of neurologic or neurodegenerative disorders
* No family history of hospitalization or treatment of mental illness in a first degree relative
* No metal implants in body including permanent retainer

Total compensation for this research study: up to $270.

Thank you!

Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (00-1425, GCRC-1888)on 4-5-2011

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 8:26 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Any word from Carl?

Hey, hope you are well. Just checking in to see if you have heard anything or followed up with Carl?

Thanks

Connected by DROID on Verizon Wireless

From: Metz, Winifred F <freddie@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 12:03 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Wonders of the African World - dvd

Hi -
SO good to see you yesterday! I'm placing an order for this on DVD as you requested and will let you know as soon as it is available for use.

Winifred

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 12:27 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Any word from Carl?

Thank you for your email!

I will be out of the office until Friday, June 3 with limited access to email. If you need immediate assistance please contact Jeri Brown at 919-843-4884 or at jeri.brown@unc.edu. I will respond to all emails once I return.

Best,

Ishna

From: Salzburg Global Fellowship Office <Fellowship@salzburgseminar.org>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 1:09 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Salzburg Global Seminar eView Newsletter, Issue 2, 2011

If you have trouble reading this message, please click here

Edward Mortimer, Senior Vice President & Chief Program

As you make your plans for the latter half of 2011, I very much hope that you'll keep in mind the wide range of events that the Salzburg Global Seminar has to offer. Whether your interest is in law, health, American studies, arts & culture, economics, education, development issues, or any of a host of other challenges the world must come together to face, our 2011 program surely has something to offer you. A few of our forthcoming events are listed below, but please remember to take a look at our full calendar online. We're also particularly thankful for your recommendation of new Fellows. Should you see an event that is a great match for an up-and-coming leader you know, please point us in their direction!

Edward Mortimer, Senior Vice President & Chief Program Officer

Jump to: Upcoming Seminar News Fellow Updates Support Us

Upcoming Programs

The Rule of Law in a Globalized World: Why it Matters

(Aug 23-28) The rule of law as an essential ingredient in the economic development of nations is a universally accepted principle that must guide not only developed economies but more importantly, those nations with nascent entrepreneurial economies. In an attempt to bring practice more in line with principle, the Seminar has established the Lloyd N. Cutler Center for the Rule of Law. The agenda is to bring together emerging and established leaders to focus their attention on the rule of law in the development of their societies and economies and to work toward common, legal principles. This session will explore the rule of law as a principle both governing the internal organization of states and societies, and relations between them and identifying the legal tools of policies and institutions that strengthen equitable and sustainable economic development.

- Program and Registration Information

Innovating for Value in Health Care Delivery: Better Cross-border Learning, Smarter Adaptation and Adoption

(Sep 25-Oct 1) Countries around the world and across the range of wealth of nations are struggling to achieve the goal of providing their citizens with effective and efficient health care. With the intensifying challenges

Calendar

Global Citizenship: At Home (and?) in the World
(May 21-28 & May 29-Jun 5)

Learning to Live Together in the 21st Century
(Jun 3-6)
Klingenthal, France

Holocaust Education: Planning Meeting
(Jun 12-15)

Freeman Symposium: Strengthening Cooperation Between the US and East Asia
(Jun 17-22)

Support the Seminar

Help extend the Salzburg experience of the coming generation - fiscal pressures, demographic shift, the impacts of climate change and new disease patterns - it is increasingly urgent to work more creatively with the resources we have. This third session in the SGS health care series tackling these issues will focus on the ways in which the discipline of science and the discernment that comes from capturing experience across contexts - North and South - can foster innovation which enhances the value of health care.

- Program & Registration Information

Your contributions mean a great deal to us and are greatly appreciated.

News from the Salzburg Global Seminar

SGS helps create a "Brave New World"

Chris Cummins of Austria's FM4 radio station observed the Salzburg Global Seminar"s 44th session of the International Study Program (ISP), Global Citizenship: At Home (and?) In the World from March 26 to April 1. His interviews and discussions with the session's fifty students from Miami Dade College portray the impact the program has on the students' understanding of their place in a globalizing world and the challenges facing humanity and the planet. His feature story entitled, "A Brave New World" as well as the broadcast audio of the story can be found here:

- "A Brave New World" by Chris Cummins

Salzburg Statement on Shared Decision-making in Healthcare

Last December, the Seminar's second session in our series on health and healthcare focused on The Greatest Untapped Resource in Healthcare? Informing and Involving Patients in Decisions about Their Medical Care. Powerful conclusions emerged among the 58 participants from 18 countries: not only is it ethically right that patients should be involved more closely in decisions about their own medical care and the risks involved, but it is practical and brings costs down as well. Links to the Salzburg Statement, press releases, and roundtable discussions can be found via the following webpage.

- Salzburg Statement on Shared Decision Making

New Rules For Global Finance

At the March session on New Rules for Global Finance at the Austrian National Bank in Vienna, Fellows discussed how banks should react to the new regulatory framework and how business is now being done in international financial markets. Excerpts from the session including video of the presentation by Ewald Nowotny, Governor of the Austrian

The Transformative Power of Music

US State Department Legal Adviser delivers Cutler Lecture at Supreme Court

Council of Europe on "Living Together" in 21st-century Europe

Nippon Foundation's Japan disaster relief fund

SGS-UMD Study on Media Addiction and Student Behavior

Stay in Touch

Change of job or address? News for the community?

National Bank, an interview on national credit ratings with session faculty member Barbara Ridpath of the International Center for Financial Regulation, as well as a session report by Andrew Mortimer can be found via the links below.

- Video of Ewald Nowotny, ANB Governor

- FM4 interview on credit ratings with Barbara Ridpath

- Andrew Mortimer's report, "Changing the Rules"

Interested in meeting other alumni or organizing alumni in your area? Let us know!

Salzburg Global Fellowship Updates

Exploring the Arab Spring with Fellows in New England

On March 30, the award-winning journalist and executive editor of GlobalPost.com, Charles Sennott, delivered the 2011 Ithiel de Sola Pool Memorial Lecture based on his front line experience of reporting on the modern-day struggles for democracy in the Middle East and the ways in which new forms of communications technology are contributing to those causes for freedom. The Salzburg Global Fellows who gathered at Boston's the Old State House heard Mr. Sennott describe his coverage in Cairo and specifically the role that he observed the Muslim Brotherhood playing in the February revolution.

- Keynote Address Audio

Justice Richard Goldstone at San José Fellowship Gathering

On April 9, Salzburg Global Fellows gathered in San José, California for a day-long program entitled Global Citizenship and the International Rule of Law. Hosted by San José State University and the Seminar's International Study Program, conversations that day began by exploring issues of global concern such energy consumption, economic development, and global population, and then also focused on the role that academia has in educating a population about its role in an ever more interconnected world. Finally, the evening keynote address by SGS board member, Justice Richard J. Goldstone, gave a personal look into his experiences in setting up such bodies of justice as the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda.

- Full Report from San José

Fellow Events

View our full list of offerings for Salzburg Global Fellows

Learning to Live Together in the 21st Century: How can schools best enhance community relations and inclusion?
(June 3-6)
Klingenthal, France

Continuity and Change in US Presidential Foreign Policy: Plans, Policies and Doctrines
(Oct 6-10)
Salzburg, Austria

Philadelphia Fellowship Gathering
(Oct 18)
Philadelphia , PA, USA

Max Reinhardt Invites... A Masked Ball at Schloss Leopoldskron
(Dec 31-Jan 1)
Salzburg, Austria

Congratulations

Darci Arnold

Darci Arnold was honored with a First Prize Award at the 25th Annual California State University Research Competition. Her project on Planet Building: A Case Study of Corporate Sustainability for a Globalized World, chosen from a group of nearly 225 other projects, has also received twelve major national awards. For more see the SJSU Salzburg Program website.

Ela Bhatt & Yoc

Ela Bhatt and Yochai Benkler were named "Social Change Visionaries" by the Ford Foundation. As part of a group of 12 social innovators, each received a $100,000 award for the work in "improving the lives of millions of people". The prizes were given in recognition of the Foundation's 75th anniversary. For more on Ela and Yochai's work, visit FordFoundation.org.

Alemayehu Fent

Alemayehu Fentaw, has moved to a new position as National Peace Advisor to the Ministry of Federal Affairs, seconded by the German Agency for International Cooperation (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit GmbH).

Roman Gerodimos

Roman Gerodimos won the 2010 Arthur MacDougall Fund Prize for the Best Dissertation in Elections, Electoral Systems or Representation, which is given annually by the (UK) Political Studies Association. More can be found on Roman and his work on RomanGerodimos.com.

Andrew Ingram

Andrew Ingram and Mojgan Mohammadi were selected by San José State University president, William Kassing, as the University's Outstanding Graduating Seniors. Both will be serving as members of the Platform Party at Commencement, along with a third SJSU Salzburg Scholar, Tomasz Kolodziejak. For more, please visit SJSU Today.

Tracy Parkinson

Tracy Parkinson, dean of the faculty and associate vice president for academic affairs at King College, in Tennessee, will begin as provost at Coker College, in South Carolina, on July 1. For more on Tracy and his new position, visit Coker.edu.

Lucjan Pawłowski

Lucjan Pawłowski professor of the Department of Water, Wastewater and Waste at Lublin University of Technology, was elected a member of the Polish Academy of Science. A compilation of his works can be found on the University's Faculty of Environmental Engineering website.

Hafeeza Rahman

Hafeeza Rahman had the honor of introducing US President Barrack Obama before his presentation at Miami Dade College's commencement speech. Links to a video of the introduction and speech and recent coverage of MDC in the New York Times are available on SalzburgGlobal.org.

John Swallow

John Swallow will be taking a leave of absence from his position at Davidson College to serve as acting provost for the 2011-2012 year at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee where he will lead strategic planning and other initiatives under President John McCardell. More about his new responsibilities can be found on Davidson.edu.

Guthrie Veech

Guthrie Veech has moved from Kentucky Christian College and is now serving as the President of Saint Louis Christian College. More information about Guthrie and the College can be found on SLCConline.edu.

Publications

Adel Dajani

Adel Dajani has co-authored the book Islamic Frontiers of China- Peoples of the Silk Road which explores the regions of the Asian borderlands where the traditions of Islam and China interact. A further description and a link to purchase the book is available on Ibtauris.com.

Sonja M. Hedgepeth

Sonja M. Hedgepeth and Rochelle G. Saidel co-edited Sexual Violence against Jewish Women during the Holocaust, published by Brandeis University Press/University Press of New England. The book is part of the Hadassah-Brandeis Institute Series on Jewish Women. For more information, please see RememberWomen.org.

Moses Kanduri

Moses Kanduri has recently been interviewed about his activism with The New Ghana Youth for Governance Movement. He is pressing for an appropriate place in governance for African youths in general and Ghanaian youths in particular. The article can be found on ModernGhana.com.

Richard McCoy

Richard McCoy was recently interviewed about his work with crowdsourcing in the documentation of art at the Indianapolis Museum of Art. For more information about his use of crowdsourcing and public access tools in documenting public art can be found on TechnologyInTheArts.org.

In Memoriam

David Broder

David Broder, a Pultizer-Prize winning columnist for The Washington Post, died March 9 of complications from diabetes. He was 81. Broder's 2001 article about the Seminar, "Lessons on Freedom," is available online via the archives of The Washington Post.

Warr en
Chri
stop

Warren Christopher, who served as US Secretary of State under President Bill Clinton, Deputy Secretary of State under President Carter, and Deputy Attorney General under President Johnson, passed away on March 18 at the age of 85. Mr. Christopher was remembered in a number of media outlets, including NYTimes.com.

Salzburg Global Seminar
Schloss Leopoldskron
P.O. Box 129
5010 Salzburg
Austria
+43(662)839830

You are currently subscribed to eview as: jen321@email.unc.edu To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-327314-61628T@lyris.SalzburgGlobal.org

If you do not wish to receive any more e-mail from the Salzburg Global Seminar, please send an e-mail to nomail@SalzburgGlobal.org

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 1:22 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: receipts

Julius,
I'm letting you know that I just came to the Abernethy Hall because my computer in the Battle Hall was not working properly. I tried to tell you when I left, but you were on the phone. As soon as I get all the receipts from your travel, I will process your reimbursement.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: receipts

Yes, it was not a good excuse to get out of the Battle Hall today. ☺
Sure, I will be ready when you're ready.
Thanks,
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:38 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: RE: receipts

Hi Haeran: Computer not working? What a lousy excuse!!!!!!!!!:) No problem. I am missing one important receipt. Once I locate it I will send you a message. Julius

---

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 1:22 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: receipts

Julius,
I'm letting you know that I just came to the Abernethy Hall because my computer in the Battle Hall was not working properly. I tried to tell you when I left, but you were on the phone. As soon as I get all the receipts from your travel, I will process your reimbursement.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: unc_listmaster@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:50 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [listserv_admins] UNC Listserver team wants your input

---

You are receiving this message because you are an administrator of at least one mailing list on the UNC Campus Listserver.

We are soliciting feedback from listserv administrators on how we can improve the campus Listserver service, which currently runs Lyris ListManager. We are particularly interested in gauging the need for more and/or better marketing features like those offered by commercial internet email marketing firms.

Are there other new features or functionality you would like to see included? Are there things you would like to see changed with the Listserver? Or, are you pleased with the way things are right now? We are standing by to receive your constructive comments or concerns. Our hope is your feedback will allow us to make improvements to this service.

Please direct your responses to unc_listmaster@unc.edu

Thank you
The UNC Listserver team

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 6:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: 3287 charge for $125

Hi Julius,
Is this something that you approved? If not, it may just be a mistake and we can fix it.

There is an internal finance request to pay $125 for

"Co-sponsorship for Soyini Madison visit, Feb. 9 - 13, 2011. Corporate Rituals and Staging 'Water Rites.' This talk was part of the Carolina Seminar in African Ecology and Social Processes."

Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:11 PM
To: Buell, Agatha
Subject: RE: 3287 charge for $125

HI Agatha,
No, I haven't heard about this from anyone. You may want to ask Julius about it.
Thanks,
Haeran

From: Buell, Agatha
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 4:47 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: 3287 charge for $125

There is an FRS action for 3287 to pay $125 for

"Co-sponsorship for Soyini Madison visit, Feb. 9 - 13, 2011. Corporate Rituals and Staging 'Water Rites.' This talk was part of the Carolina Seminar in African Ecology and Social Processes."

Is this something that you have heard about? I'm not sure if I should ask Julius or approve it or reject it.
Thanks!
Agatha

****

Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of leedanb@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Subjects needed for African American Psychology Research Study

---

To: Daniel Lee
Psychology From: Behavioral IRB
Approval Date: 5/03/2011
Expiration Date of Approval: 5/01/2012
RE: Notice of IRB Approval by Expedited Review (under 45 CFR 46.110)
Submission Type: Initial
Expedited Category: 7.Surveys/interviews/focus groups
Study #: 11-0748
Study
Title: Stress, Personality, Coping, and African American Well-Being

Seeking African American Participants (ages 18-24) for a study examining the influence of personality and coping strategies in the relationship between stress and well-being (Earn $10)

The study aims to examine how personality and coping strategies influence the relationship between stress and well-being for African Americans. You must self-identify as African American and be 18-24 years old to participate.
During the experiment, you will fill out questionnaires pertaining to stressful situations, coping, personality and well-being.

One visit to the laboratory is required. The visit lasts about one hour.
You will receive $10.

For more information, please contact:
Daniel B. Lee, B.A. (Principal Investigator)
Email: leedanb@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 8:43 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Improving Information Security at Carolina

---

MEMORANDUM

TO: Deans, Directors, and Department Heads

FROM: Larry Conrad, Vice Chancellor for IT and CIO

DATE: May 25, 2011

SUBJECT: Improving Information Security at Carolina

In response to an audit of campus information security exposures last year by the State Auditor General's Office, Chancellor Thorp has assigned to the Vice Chancellor for IT and CIO overall responsibility for ensuring the campus University's IT systems, data, and infrastructure are appropriately protected. This note is to inform you of our plans to work together with the campus community to reduce the present level of exposure, which is unacceptably high.

The attacks on the Carolina community are sophisticated, relentless, automated, and worldwide. Our monitoring systems tell us that the University receives in excess of 30,000 outside attacks on a daily basis. Unfortunately, there is no "magic bullet"...no way to absolutely guarantee the campus is safe from these attacks. However, experience at universities around the nation has shown that a multi-layered approach with broad involvement and support from the University community can substantially reduce the risks. For several months, I have been working with the ITS Information Security Office as well as IT leaders across campus to architect what we think is the most effective approach for better securing the campus IT environment.

We are focusing on a five-pronged approach:

1. Bringing the campus into compliance with the ten existing Information Security policies released since last summer. The State Auditor is also requiring an annual attestation from all staff and faculty that they understand these policies, which can be found at: http://its.unc.edu/ITS/About_ITS/ITS_Policies/index.htm.

2. Adequately protecting the campus network from outside attacks by establishing a border protection strategy, e.g., implementing firewalls and blocking certain problematic network traffic.

3. Ensuring every campus server is supported/maintained by a capable system administrator appropriately trained in information security defensive techniques.

4. Increased focus on securing research data and servers which contain or process sensitive data or support mission critical operations.

5. Increased focus on laptop encryption to protect sensitive data.

We are working with the campus IT community to lay out the best way to actualize the above approach. The reality, though, is that improving Information Security will have an impact on campus units in terms of additional work efforts and financial implications. The challenge is to find the right mix of "control" vs. "openness" which will minimize that impact.

I want to draw specific attention to #3 above: ensuring every campus server is supported/maintained by a capable systems administrator. This is a crucial underlying component for everything else we need to accomplish to adequately secure campus IT. If the setup and maintenance of campus servers is handled in an insecure way, then we simply cannot adequately protect Carolina from attack, period.

We will be providing further guidance on how units will be able to demonstrate competency shortly, but I want to bring this to your attention, now, so you can begin making plans for addressing this fundamental need. At a high level, the approach will be comprised of the following elements:

* System and system administrator identification;
* system administrator information security expectations and responsibility training;
* system maintenance scanning and monitoring for security weaknesses; and
* fee based system administration services for systems that are identified as having persistent security weaknesses--units will be responsible for these fees.

A separate memo will be distributed shortly outlining the plan for improving laptop encryption.

This is where we're headed and further details will be provided in the coming weeks. Please contact Stan Waddell (stan_waddell@unc.edu), who is the campus Information Security Officer here in ITS, or myself (larry_conrad@unc.edu) if you have any questions about how this program will work. Either of us can also be reached at 962-3444.

We appreciate your commitment and support in ensuring the Carolina IT systems and data are adequately protected.

ldc

cc: Bruce Carney Holden Thorp Stan Waddell

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

From: WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 11:03 PM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asddd] WebEvent Reminder: May 31 - SPA Annual Performance Reviews

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: SPA Annual Performance Reviews
Date: Tuesday, May 31, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: Performance reviews should be completed for SPA employees by May 31, 2011. Please note the following:

- If Chairs/Directors desire feedback from the Dean's Office for your manager's performance review please e-mail me by Wednesday, May 25, and I will solicit comments from the Dean's Office on your behalf.
- Department managers should submit a signed copy of their performance review to the Dean's Office by Monday, June 13.
- All performance rating entries must be completed by June 24. If you need our assistance entering a department manager's performance rating in HRIS please notify your HR consultant by Monday, June 20.

For more information on SPA performance management policies and procedures please visit http://hr.unc.edu/policies-procedures-guidelines/spa-employee-policies/performance-management/PM-SPA. If you have additional questions or need assistance, please submit a remedy ticket to the HR team and your HR consultant will assist you.

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

You are currently subscribed to asddd axsd: JEN321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29219934-35586857.320bb86fbea40984156cda49090a0121@listserv.unc.edu

Ardeshir Amir Arjomand

The Present Status and Future Prospects of the Green Movement in Iran

Ardeshir Amir Arjomand, former Professor of Law at Beheshti University (Iran) and top adviser to Mir-Hossein Mousavi, the reformist candidate in the 2009 Iranian presidential elections and leader of the opposition during the protests following the elections, is the representative and spokes-person for the Coordinating Council of the Green Path of Hope.

Sponsored by the Center for Middle Eastern Studies at Rutgers University, the Campaign in Solidarity with the Iranian People's Green Movement, and Where is My Vote? - New York.

Murray Hall Room 210, College Avenue Campus

510 George Street, New Brunswick, NJ

7-9pm, June 13, 2011

From: FYI Carolina <FYICarolina@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:43 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Commencement coverage/Carolina gets social/Blackstone gift boosts RTP entrepreneurs - May FYI Carolina

---

Having trouble viewing this email? Read it in your browser.

FYI CAROLINA

NEWS FOR ALUMNI, PARENTS AND FRIENDS
MAY 2011

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

Every Gift Matters. Give to UNC.

Commencement Highlights:

TAR HEELS CELEBRATE ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Carolina's newest graduates went out in style during the traditional Kenan Stadium ceremony. Undergraduates wore a new true Carolina blue robe designed by Alexander Julian, UNC Class of '70 and an award-winning colorist and fashion designer. They heard remarks from Edward Wilson, a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, who offered warnings about the Earth's future and advice. Click here to see highlights including a 30-second time-lapse video.

In their Own Words: Undergrad Researchers

In this video, six undergraduates who immersed themselves in research describe their experiences. They majored in different disciplines, worked in laboratories, spent time talking with North Carolinians or sweated over field research.

Raising Carolina's Social Media Profile

From Twitter to Facebook to Vimeo and YouTube, Carolina creates compelling content to keep you in touch with Chapel Hill. The homepage has a link where you can access all official social media accounts. Also check out the General Alumni Association's UNC Mobile App.

UNC-led study signals

NBC spotlights National

major progress in AIDS battle

A UNC-led study has made a major discovery in efforts to halt the spread of HIV, which causes AIDS. The international clinical trial found that treating HIV-infected individuals while their immune systems are still strong reduces the risk of their sexual partners contracting the virus.

College Advising Corps

NBC Nightly News featured the National College Advising Corps based at Carolina in its "Making a Difference" feature. Thanks to the life-changing advice of UNC graduates, high school students are becoming the first in their families to go to college.

Hall selected for American Academy off Arts & Sciences

Jacquelyn Dowd Hall, the Julia Cherry Spruill Professor of History, has been elected a fellow in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, one of the nation's most prestigious honorary societies. The pioneering scholar is founding director of the Southern Oral History Program.

Aerotropolis: A world-changing idea

An "aerotropolis" is what John Kasarda calls a city built around an airport instead of the other way around. In a nod to his research, Time named the "aerotropolis" one of "10 ideas that will change the world." Watch a video about Kasarda's research and new book.

Blackstone gift to bolster RTP entrepreneurs

The Blackstone Charitable Foundation, the Center for Entrepreneurial Development and Triangle universities – UNC, Duke, NC State and NC Central – launched an effort to help the Research Triangle create a network of entrepreneurial assistance similar to those in Silicon Valley and the Boston Corridor.

More State Budget Cuts Inevitable

The General Assembly continues working through a multi-billion-dollar shortfall for fiscal 2011–13. Anticipating significant reductions, Chancellor Holden Thorp decided in January to make $26 million in permanent cuts, effective July 1. However, additional reductions are inevitable.

FOLLOW CAROLINA | YouTube | iTunes U | Twitter | Facebook

FYI Carolina Online is for alumni, parents of current students and friends of the University. Through this free service, the Office of University Relations shares information about people, events and issues at Carolina. To ask questions or share comments, e-mail FYICarolina@unc.edu, telephone, (919) 962-8593 or write, Office of University Communications, 210 Pittsboro St., Chapel Hill, NC 27599-6210.

If you don't want to receive these e-mails in the future, unsubscribe here.

704273328

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 9:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: your paycheck

Good morning Julius,
I'm letting you know your Summer School paycheck is in the office. Since your mailbox is not ready yet, please see Travis for your check.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 9:17 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Travis & Haeran's Annual Review
Attach: AnnualReview-TravisGore2011.doc; AnnualReview-HaeranMillerMay2011.doc

---

Hi Julius,
Attached are drafts of Travis and Haeran's Annual Performance Reviews. I will be meeting with each of them later today.
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Hall, Ishna <ishna.hall@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 9:24 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

Ok thanks, remind me when do you leave?

Ishna J. Hall
Associate Director of Capital Gifts
The Arts and Sciences Foundation
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
134 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514
(919) 843-4885 (office)
(919) 962-2531 (fax)

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 12:27 PM
To: Hall, Ishna
Subject: RE: Any word from Carl?

No. Saw him yesterday and said that he was still waiting for a final determination by the subject. Will let you know as soon as I get the word.

From: Hall, Ishna
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Any word from Carl?

Hey, hope you are well. Just checking in to see if you have heard anything or followed up with Carl?

Thanks

Connected by DROID on Verizon Wireless

From: Cookie Newsom <newsom@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 10:23 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: 2011 VC Reception Invitation II

Dear Julius Nyang Oro,

If you click here to add paperlesspost@paperlesspost.com to your address book, you will receive all mail from Cookie Newsom on time in the future. The delivery of this Paperless Mail may have been delayed due to your email and spam blocking settings

Click invitation to RSVP

The 17th Summer Annual Public Health ResearchVideoconference
on Minority Health
Planning Committee asks that you

Please join us at a
Reception with our speakers
on

June 6]from 3-5

School of Social Work
Fifth Floor Dining Room

Click this invitation to R.S.V.P.

This Invitation is intended for Julius Nyang Oro and was sent by Cookie Newsom. Please paste the following link into a new browser window if you are having trouble viewing this card.

http://www.paperlesspost.com/events/718287-9340e1ff/replies/19778306-0679bccf

Add this event to your: Google Calendar Outlook iCal

The 17th Summer Annual Public Health ResearchVideoconference on Minority Health Planning Committee asks that you

Please join us at a Reception with our speakers
on

June 6]from 3-5

School of Social Work
Fifth Floor Dining Room

Click this invitation to R.S.V.P.

Create and send your own custom cards at http://www.paperlesspost.com.

If you found this email in your junk/bulk folder, please add paperlesspost@paperlesspost.com to your address book to ensure that you'll receive all future Paperless Mail in your inbox.

Paperless Post respects your privacy. To see how we treat your information, please review our Privacy Policy.

Click here to stop receiving emails from Paperless Post.

© 2011 Paperless Post, 151 West 25th St, 9th Floor, New York, NY 10001

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Travis & Haeran's Annual Review

Thank you for your email,
I am in all day trainings and meetings for the remainder of the week, followed by vacation from May 27th through June 5th. I will attempt to resond to critical messages prior to May 27th.

If you need more immediate assistance, please contact one of the people below:
Department of Public Policy - Maya Budihardjo, Student Services Manager - (919) 962-1600
Department of African & Afro-American Studies - Travis Gore, Student Services Manager - (919) 966-5496
Accountant for both departments - Haeran Miller - hrmiller@email.unc.edu

Take care,
Agatha Buell

From: Carolina Annual Fund <rebecca_bramlett@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 3:12 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Carolina Bell Ringers Honor Roll Draft

View this email with images.

CAROLINA ANNUAL FUND
annualfund.unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

DRAFT

We are Carolina.

- We open doors for bright and talented students.
- We guide and mentor.
- We seek knowledge and take action.
- We challenge and achieve.
- We are committed to the highest level of academic excellence.
- We are dedicated to serving our community, state, nation and the world.

Your annual gifts support Carolina's ability to continue to provide an excellent academic experience, especially as we anticipate further reductions in state funding next academic year.

Please visit the DRAFT of the 2011 Carolina Bell Ringers Honor Roll. All donors who have renewed their gifts to Carolina this academic year as of May 23, 2011 are Carolina Bell Ringers and should be included in this draft. Please review the list carefully to make sure your name is included and spelled correctly. If any changes or corrections are necessary, contact Rebecca Bramlett, Interim Director of Annual Giving, at Rebecca_Bramlett@unc.edu or (919) 843-3317.

There is still time to have your name included if you have not made your annual gift to Carolina this academic year (July 1, 2010 to June 30, 2011). Please make your gift at our secure website by June 29th to ensure your membership as a Carolina Bell Ringer and inclusion in this year's honor roll.

We are grateful for the loyalty shown by our steadfast supporters, Carolina Bell Ringers. Thank you for your continued support.

This email is for alumni, students and friends of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Through this free service, the Office of University Development and the Annual Fund Program provide opportunities for you to learn about people, events and other issues at Carolina. If you have comments or questions, email Rebecca_Bramlett@unc.edu, telephone (919) 843-3317, or write to the Office of University Development, Annual Fund, PO Box 309, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0309. If you do not wish to receive future editions, unsubscribe here.

704273328

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cts2014@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for alcohol consumption and decision making study

---

Do you ever drink alcohol?

Are you interested in making $10 for completing a 1 hour task?

Study requires participants to view images and make simple decisions about their contents.

You are eligible if:
1. You are between the ages of 18-40 years old
2. You are NOT taking illicit drugs
3. You are NOT taking psychoactive medications
4. You have NEVER sought treatment for a substance use disorder
5. You are a native English speaker
6. You have graduated high school or earned a GED
7. You have no known psychiatric or neurological problems

If interested, please contact Chris at 919-962-8340 or cts2014@email.unc.edu to schedule a time for participation.

(This study, entitled "Decision Making and Drinking Habits of Young Adults" has been approved by the UNC Institutional Review Board, Study #: 09-0001 on 12/09/2010, and is sponsored by the UNC Department of Psychology.)

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:22 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kparry@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Calling All Women!!

Calling all women: be a part of an exciting research study!

Researchers at the University of Chapel Hill want to learn more about how women interpret advertising that targets pregnant and new mothers. They are looking for women who are planning to become pregnant within the coming three years, pregnant women, and women who have a child three years of age or younger to participate in an hour-and-a-half conversation about advertising, led by a professional. You'll be asked to look at and read the advertisements, and share what you think about them. Everything will be confidential and anonymous.

If you participate in the full focus group, you will receive a goodie bag of incentives from local businesses. Refreshments will also be provided.

If you have questions or you want to sign up, please contact Kathy Parry at kparry@email.unc.edu or 919.966.8588.

Study Title: "Discovering Mothers' Understanding of Infant Formula Advertising"
UNC IRB Approval # 10-2198
Approving Body: Nursing/Public Health
Approval Date: 11/12/2010

This email is sponsored by: Maternal & Child Health, Gillings School of Global Public Health

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 7:03 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: Rucker/Teaching

Hello --

Back from Massachusetts as of last night. Weather was much better than here. I think an AFAM 190 on Resistance and Rebellion would be great. if we let majors/minors and history know I think we could get 20/25 students. The other possibility is 293 (Diaspora) but that might step on Kia's toes. We definitely don't need another AFAM 101 this term.

Hope summer is going well for everyone.

T

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 6:24 PM
To: McMillan, Tim
Cc: Buell, Agatha
Subject: Rucker/Teaching

Hi Tim: Now that Rucker has accepted our offer, we need to assign him a class to teach. He needs to know soon so that he can prepare. Per his contract, in Fall he will be teaching only one class. Any urgent need??????? Hope all is well.

From: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 7:10 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: Rucker/Teaching

Hello all --

Back from Massachusetts as of last night. Cool and beautiful. I think a 190 on Resistance and rebellion would be a great intro to Rucker for our students. Between majors/minors and the history department we should be able to get the class to 20/25 no trouble. The other possibility would be 293 but that might step on Kia's toes at this juncture. We don't need an AFAM 101 right now.

Hope summer is going well. I'll be around the department next week.

T

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 6:24 PM
To: McMillan, Tim
Cc: Buell, Agatha
Subject: Rucker/Teaching

Hi Tim: Now that Rucker has accepted our offer, we need to assign him a class to teach. He needs to know soon so that he can prepare. Per his contract, in Fall he will be teaching only one class. Any urgent need??????? Hope all is well.

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 9:43 AM

To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>

Subject: [afriafam] Parking 2011-12

Dear All,
Please email me by Friday, June 3rd if you would like to be put into the running for a parking permit on campus for August 15, 2011 - August 14, 2012. This year's department allocation includes:
NG1/Swain Lot - 3 permits
N2 - 4 Permits
N5 - 2 permits
ND/Cobb Deck - 3 permits

If you would like to be in the running, please let me know your preference for WHICH LOT. Also, please let me know which lot you would like to be put on the wait list for if you are not given a permit through this initial distribution (you can be put on the wait list for any available lot on campus).

A map of all available campus parking lots is here:
http://www.dps.unc.edu/Parking/services/permitparkingmaps/permitparkingmaps.cfm

The permit rates for gated lots are as follows (deducted each month from your paycheck):
Salary Scale (Base Rate) = Annual Permit Rate
$25,000 - $50,000 = $601.64
$50,000 - $100,000 = $759.72
>$100,000 = $1,173.64

Permits are distributed based on total state service date, rank and prior parking history.
Take care,
Agatha

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29228975

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29228975-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 10:18 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: Professional Fundraising Workshop for Deans, Department Chairs, and Aspiring Academic Leaders

---

FYI

Kia Lilly Caldwell, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
Afro-American Studies
UNC-Chapel Hill
CB #3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
klcaldwe@email.unc.edu
http://www.unc.edu/depts/afriafam

From: The Chronicle of Higher Education [chronicle@chroniclefyi.com]
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 11:01 AM
To: Caldwell, Kia L
Subject: Professional Fundraising Workshop for Deans, Department Chairs, and Aspiring Academic Leaders

This message is sent to you by The Chronicle of Higher Education on behalf of Advancement Resources.

Increasingly, universities are including fundraising experience and skills in the professional requirements for academic leadership positions. To prepare yourself for such a career opportunity and gain critical knowledge in this discipline, attend Professional Fundraising Workshop for Deans, Department Chairs, and Aspiring Academic Leaders on August 3 in Denver.

This comprehensive, one-day workshop explores donor motivation and the essential roles that deans, faculty, and other academic leaders play in helping donors and donor prospects make significant gifts to the institution. Participants will also focus on crafting and articulating a compelling Vision Story for your department/program. Theworkshop will:

- Provide a strong research-based foundation to create meaningful opportunities for your institution and your work
- Offer an understanding of development from the donor's perspective that will allow you to engage benefactors more efficiently and effectively
- Introduce tools and concepts to help identify potential major donors and build a process-based strategy

Space for this workshop on August 3 in Denver is limited. We invite you to register today at www.ar-deans.org or by calling 866-398-3376.

Advancement Resources www.advancementresources.org is the nation's leading provider of research-based development training. Our extensive curriculum features targeted, robust workshops designed to create powerful learning experiences that help participants build their organization's culture of philanthropy.

To opt out of future email messages from Advancement Resources, send an email to info@advancementresources with CHE Opt Out in the subject line.

Advancement Resources
3349 Southgate Court SW, Cedar Rapids, IA 52404

You are receiving this e-mail message because The Chronicle of Higher Education believes that you, as a Chronicle account holder, may be interested in products or services offered by our advertisers. For more information, please read our privacy policy.

If you do not wish to receive such messages from The Chronicle please go here.
The Chronicle 1255 Twenty-Third Street, NW Washington, DC 20037

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 11:00 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Book Order

Hi Julius,
Please email to Haeran the books that you would like to order – anything you want! If you can get to it today before 2pm that would be ideal, otherwise by Monday, please.
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 12:15 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: receipts

Hi Julius,
I agreed to serve on the interview team for one of the positions in the Carolina Institute of Public Policy and there are three interviews scheduled today until 2:30p and I will try to drop by the office if I can. Otherwise, I will go to the Battle Hall on Wednesday, 6/1/11 and will stay the whole day.

Oh, by the way, if there are anything you want to order, please let me know at your earliest convenience.
Thanks and I hope you enjoy your long weekend!
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 9:42 AM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: RE: receipts

Hi: I have all the receipts now. I am off to class but I have given them to Travis. See you later.

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: RE: receipts

Yes, it was not a good excuse to get out of the Battle Hall today. ☺
Sure, I will be ready when you're ready.
Thanks,
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 3:38 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: RE: receipts

Hi Haeran: Computer not working? What a lousy excuse!!!!!!!!!:) No problem. I am missing one important receipt. Once I locate it I will send you a message. Julius

---

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Wednesday, May 25, 2011 1:22 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: receipts

Julius,
I'm letting you know that I just came to the Abernethy Hall because my computer in the Battle Hall was not working properly. I tried to tell you when I left, but you were on the phone. As soon as I get all the receipts from your travel, I will process your reimbursement.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆
Haeran Miller

Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 12:46 PM
To: The asc_faculty mailing list. <asc_faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asc_faculty] AORC funding cancelled

Dear Colleagues:
This is for general distribution. UNC African Studies relies heavily on the West African Research Center in Dakar, and I know that other world regions also rely on American Overseas Research Centers--the new competition for funding has been canceled altogether. Please take the time to sign the petition and to circulate. Thanks. Barbara

Petition to Restore AORC Funding

CAORC has put together a petition to restore funding to the Department of Education Title VI AORC Program. We are trying to gather as many signatures as possible to help show the impact AORCs have had on the American and global academic community when we fight to restore funding for FY2012. Please share this link with your and your Centers' contacts. Please also encourage people to include comments on their experience and connection with AORCs.

http://www.thepetitionsite.com/takeaction/984/379/072/

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
African Studies Center, CB#7582
3027 FedEx Global Education Center
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 962-1406 office
(919) 843-2102 fax
b_anderson@unc.edu
www.africa.unc.edu

You are currently subscribed to asc_faculty axsd: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29230208-9477646.4e04cbced80258f8228807e1c238f51a@listserv.unc.edu

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 2:11 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Book Order

Thank you for your email,
I am on vacation through June 5th.

If you need more immediate assistance, please contact one of the people below:
Department of Public Policy - Maya Budihardjo, Student Services Manager - (919) 962-1600
Department of African & Afro-American Studies - Travis Gore, Student Services Manager - (919) 966-5496
Accountant for both departments - Haeran Miller - hrmiller@email.unc.edu

Take care,
Agatha Buell

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 7:13 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: UNC's Kristen Maye One of Ten Students in the Nation Named Lehrman History Scholar

---

From: Hildebrand, Reginald F
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 9:39 PM
To: Gore, Travis
Subject: UNC's Kristen Maye One of Ten Students in the Nation Named Gilder Lehrman History Scholar

Dear Colleagues, I thought that you would be interested to know that one of our majors, KIRSTEN MAYE, was one of ten student selected from across the nation to be a Gilder Lehrman Scholar. She is a double major (history) who will be a senior in the fall. We must be doing something right.

All the Best, -Reg

From: Press [mailto:press@gilderlehrman.org]
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:22 PM
To: cascott@email.unc.edu
Subject: The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Kristen Maye One of Ten Students in the Nation Named Gilder Lehrman History Scholar

THE GILDER LEHRMAN
INSTITUTE of AMERICAN HISTORY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Chelsea Van der Gaag
The Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History
Office: 646-366-9666 x11
vandergaag@gilderlehrman.org

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Kristen Maye One of Ten Students in the Nation Named Gilder Lehrman History Scholar

NEW YORK, NY (May 10, 2011) –Kristen Maye, a rising senior at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, of Charlotte, North Carolina, has been named to the 2011 Gilder Lehrman History Scholars Program. One of ten students in the nation selected for this prestigious scholarship, Maye will participate in a five-week intensive history research program in New York City this summer.

The Gilder Lehrman History Scholars Program identifies and supports the top undergraduate majors in American history across the country. Recipients of the five-week scholarship develop primary source research projects using rare, unpublished historical documents in the Gilder Lehrman Collection on the founding era, slavery and abolition, or the Civil War. History Scholars meet and study in small seminars led by distinguished historians. In past years, seminars have been led by renowned professors such as David Blight, Eric Foner, and Carol Berkin. The students also receive behind-the-scenes tours of rare archives at such iconic New York institutions as the New-York Historical Society, the New York Public Library, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Since 2003, more than 400 college sophomores and juniors have been named to the Gilder Lehrman History Scholars Program, and many have gone on to pursue graduate studies at leading universities including Cambridge, Columbia, Harvard, Oxford, UCLA, the University of Michigan, and Yale. This year, ten students have received five-week history scholarships and thirty have been awarded scholarships for a one-week program. To find out more, visit http://www.gilderlehrman.org/education/hs_overview.php.

Founded in 1994, the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History is a nonprofit organization improving and enriching American history education through a wide range of programs and resources for students, teachers, scholars, and history enthusiasts throughout the nation. In addition to its History Scholars Program for college undergraduates, Gilder Lehrman creates and works closely with history-focused schools; organizes summer seminars and development programs for teachers; produces print and digital publications and traveling exhibitions; hosts lectures by eminent historians; administers a History Teacher of the Year Award in every state and US territory; and offers national book prizes and fellowships for scholars to work in the Gilder Lehrman Collection as well as other renowned archives. Gilder Lehrman hosts www.gilderlehrman.org, serving as the gateway to American history online and featuring the quarterly online journal History Now, designed specifically for K–12 teachers and students.

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29231939
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29231939-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lturnbul@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a cancer patient, family member, friend or caregiver in need of support?

Are you a cancer patient, a family member, friend or caregiver looking for support?
Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are evaluating an innovative peer counseling program. Peer Connect was developed based on our expertise in developing peer counseling training programs for cancer survivors and their families.

Getting support from people who have been there can make all the difference. Our free PEER CONNECT PROGRAM matches anyone touched by cancer with another person who has had similar experiences.

Our volunteers:

- Have received expert training

- Understand your concerns

- Provide support for you during diagnosis, treatment, or life after treatment

Peer Connect is a free confidential peer-support program that connects anyone touched by cancer (patients, survivors, and caregivers) with another person whose experiences are similar. Peer Connect is sponsored by Carolina Well-UNC Lineberger's Cancer Survivorship Program. Most often the support is over the telephone so no matter where you are in the state you can get support.

Participants will receive a $25 gift card at the end of the program.

If you or someone you know can benefit from this program, please call (919)843-8939 or email lturnbul@email.unc.edu for more information.

This study titled "Carolina Well Peer Counseling Support Program-a Pilot Study" has been approved by Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on
11/01/10, study #10-1499.

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cbt4bn@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 8:37 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Bulimia Nervosa Treatment Study

The UNC Eating Disorders Program is conducting a research study to treat bulimia. Eligible participants receive 16 sessions of cognitive behavioral (CBT) group therapy specifically designed to reduce binge eating and purging. All sessions are offered at no cost.

You must 18 years or older and have a home computer with internet access to participate.

Please call Sara at 919.966.2882 or email cbt4bn@unc.edu for more information.

www.cbt4bn.unc.edu

Title: Optimizing Technology in the Treatment of Bulimia Nervosa
IRB #07-2002
Renewed: 12/6/2010
Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: UNC Eating Disorders Program

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Lunch with One

Eve Duffy: "Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies"

Wednesday, June 1, 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about art in the German exhibitions currently on view in the Ackland's galleries.

Eve Duffy, Department of History, and Director, Program in the Humanities, UNC-Chapel Hill, will present an illustrated talk entitled "'Degenerate Art,' 'Great German Art': Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies."

No reservations required.

Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members

For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Out of the Studio: An Evening of Tibetan Culture and Performance

Thursday, June 2, 6:00 - 8:00 PM

THE LAST PUBLIC PERFORMANCE OF THE SACRED ARTS TOUR 2011

Experience the ancient Tibetan cultural rituals of dance, chanting, prayers, and debate as the Tibetan monks of Drepung Gomang Monastery perform at the Ackland Art Museum in a free, all-ages program.

The program will include a prayer for His Holiness The Dalai Lama, the Yak Dance, the Dance of Shanak (Black Hat Dance), chanting of Jam Chenma (Madyamikavatara), and a demonstration of debate, the most important way to learn Buddhist philosophy in the monasteries.

Free and open to the public

Art and Literature in the Galleries

German Art and the Brothers Grimm

Thursday, June 2, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Read the selection, look at the art, and become part of the Ackland's Art & Literature series by joining the discussions on the third Thursday each month.

Ralph Manheim's translation of *Grimms' Tales for Young and Old, the Complete Stories*introduces the summer Art & Literature series in conjunction with the exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings.

What messages do many of these two hundred tales convey to readers? How might some of those messages be reflected in works of art made during the century following publication of the tales (1820–1858)?

Leslie Balkany, retired Ackland educator, will facilitate this discussion with Eric Downing, Professor of German, English and Comparative Literature, and Adjunct Professor of Classical Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Free to Ackland members, high school students, and UNC students who present a One Card. $5 for non-members.

Registration required. Email: acklandrsvp@unc.edu.

Closing on June 5th:

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Sorry.

This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Sorry.

This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing(1982)

Sorry.

This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romatic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

And Many More!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

From: Apache <apache@yorktown.lib.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 11:25 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Your film request for 2011-06-01

Your reservation request for Tools of exploitation [videocassette] from 2011-05-31 through 2011-06-02 has been approved.

You may pick up the film at the MRC as early as 8am the first day of your reservation.

Staff Notes:
Tools of exploitation [videocassette]: 65-V1274 c.1

Please note that the film(s) listed will only be checked out to the person that appears on the booking form submitted to the MRC.
Other arrangements must be made in advance, and in writing, with the MRC.
If you have any questions you can contact us via email at mrc@unc.edu or by phone at 962-2559.

This automated email was sent at 05-31-2011 11:25 am
------Mail generated at May.31.2011 11:05:27

From: International Studies Association <mescalan@u.arizona.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 1:39 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: REMINDER - 2012 ISA Annual Convention Call for Papers

---

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear Colleagues,

We want to remind you that tomorrow, June 1, is the deadline for submission proposals for the ISA 2012 Convention in San Diego. This year our convention will be held at the Hilton Bayfront Hotel, right on San Diego Bay and just minutes from the downtown Gaslamp District.

For the full call for papers, see the ISA 2012 page at: http://www.isanet.org/annual_convention/call-for-papers.html

International Studies Association
53rd Annual Convention
April 1-4, 2012, San Diego, California

"Power, Principles and Participation in the Global Information Age"

Canadian communication theorist Marshall McLuhan famously said, "The medium is the message," and coined the term "global village." McLuhan died in 1980, but his insights are even more relevant today. The information environment is drastically different from that of even a decade ago, as new forms of information flows come into existence almost annually. Facebook now has over 500 million users, and Twitter, a service barely in existence three years ago, counts over 175 million users. These tools are not only for finding long-lost school friends or sharing pictures of loved ones: they often are used for political purposes. For instance, both text messages and tweets served as vital communication tools during the 2009 post-election protests in Iran. Indeed, Reuters reported that United States government went so far as to ask Twitter to postpone maintenance and maintain service during this time. Humanitarian groups also use these communications technologies to bring attention to events worldwide: in the wake of Haiti's 2010 earthquake, the Red Cross collected $30 million in SMSbased donations from US phone users. And the 2010 elections witnessed US political candidates (and their staffs) tweeting and facebooking like never before.

The theme of this year's conference is inspired by the apparent impact of new information and communication technologies on international and transnational affairs. Information has altered power relations; it has help to globalize norms and principles; it has the potential to bring new participants into political and social processes world-wide. From geographic information systems that bring satellite images to our research to sophisticated form of electronic textual analysis to internet surveys, it is undeniable that a whole range of new technologies is affecting the way we think about and do research in international studies.

The deadline for paper and panel proposals, made through the ISA system, is June 1, 2011.

All proposals should be submitted online using the MyISA Conference Management System at http://isanet.ccit.arizona.edu/MyISA

Inquiries to the program chairs should be directed to isa2012@isanet.org

Judith Kelley
Department of Political Science
and Sanford School of Public Policy

Duke University
Box 90239
Durham, NC 27708-0239

Layna Mosley
Department of Political Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
361 Hamilton Hall, CB3265
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265

From: Apache <apache@yorktown.lib.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 2:38 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Your film request for 2011-06-01

Your reservation request for Tools of exploitation [videocassette] from 2011-05-31 through 2011-06-02 has been approved.

You may pick up the film at the MRC as early as 8am the first day of your reservation.

Staff Notes:
Tools of exploitation [videocassette]: 65-V1274 c.1

Please note that the film(s) listed will only be checked out to the person that appears on the booking form submitted to the MRC.
Other arrangements must be made in advance, and in writing, with the MRC.
If you have any questions you can contact us via email at mrc@unc.edu or by phone at 962-2559.

This automated email was sent at 05-31-2011 14:37 pm
------Mail generated at May.31.2011 14:05:39

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bmteague@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for Latina pregnancy research study

---

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

I need your help! By participating in this research study, you will be helping improve our understanding of the family involvement during the pregnancies of Latinas who are separated from their country of origin. You will also be helping an undergraduate at UNC with research for her honors thesis. Please share this message with friends and family.

This project was supported by an honors thesis research grant, administered by Honors Carolina at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. My faculty advisor, Dr. Julia Cardona Mack, from the Romance Languages and Literatures Department at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will be assisting me in the project. I am currently recruiting participants for my research study.

You will be eligible to participate in the study if:
* You are a Latina and are no longer in your country of origin
* You live in the Triangle or surrounding area
* You will be in the third trimester of your pregnancy or several months postpartum between May and August 2011
* You have private health insurance
* Family that you consider as being close to you (mother, father, sister, brother, aunt, cousin, etc.) are still in your country of origin

Participation includes two interviews (between May and August 2011) at a location that is mutually agreed upon, including your house or on UNC campus, at times that best fit your schedule.

Participants will receive a $20 gift card to Wal-Mart or Target at the end of the first interview, and a photo album at the end of the second interview. Participants will also receive a summary of the results of my research study upon completion of my honors thesis in May 2012.

To learn more about this study, please contact the principal investigator, Brittany Teague, at bmteague@email.unc.edu with your name, phone number, and times that you can be reached. This is a confidential study: I will not share any of your personal information, including your email address, with anyone outside of the study.

The study and this message have been reviewed by the UNC Behavioral IRB, Study #11-0668, approved on 5/06/2011.

!Necesito su ayuda! Por participacisn en este estudio de investigacisn, usted estara ayudando a mejorar nuestra comprensisn de la participacisn de la familia durante los embarazos de las latinas que estan separados de sus pamses de origen. Tambiin se ayuda a un estudiante en la UNC con la investigacisn para su tesis de honores. Por favor, comparta este mensaje con sus amigos y familiares.

Este proyecto fue financiado por una beca de investigacisn de tesis de honores, administrado por Carolina Honores en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Mi consejera de la facultad, la Dra. Julia Cardona Mack, del Departamento de Lenguas Romances y Literaturas en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill, me ayudara en el proyecto. Estoy actualmente reclutando participantes para mi estudio de investigacisn.

Usted sera elegible para participar en el estudio si:
* Usted es una mujer latina y ya no esta en su pams de origen
* Usted vive en El Triangulo o el area circundante
* Usted estara en el tercer trimestre de su embarazo o varios meses despuis del parto entre mayo y agosto 2011.
* Usted tiene seguro de salud privado
* Un miembro de la familia (o mas) muy mntimo a usted (madre, padre, hermana, hermano, tma, primo, o otro) esta todavma en su pams de origen

La participacisn incluye dos entrevistas (entre mayo y agosto de 2011) en un lugar que es de mutuo acuerdo, incluyendo su casa o en el campus de UNC, en el momento que mejor se adapten a su horario.

Los participantes recibiran una tarjeta de regalo de Wal-Mart o Target de $20 al final de la primera entrevista, y un album de fotos al final de la segunda entrevista. Los participantes tambiin recibiran un resumen de los resultados de mi estudio de investigacisn sobre la finalizacisn de mi tesis de honores en mayo de 2012.

Para obtener mas informacisn sobre este estudio, por favor contacte con la investigadora principal, Brittany Teague, en bmteague@email.unc.edu con su nombre, nzmero de telifono y las horas que usted esta disponible. Este es un estudio confidencial: No compartiri su informacisn personal, incluyendo su direccisn de correo electrsnico, con nadie fuera del estudio.

El estudio y el mensaje de este han sido revisados por IRB UNC Conductual, Estudio #11-0668, en 06/5/2011.

This email is sponsored by: Honors Carolina

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: 23rd Annual Carolina Blood Drive Next Tuesday

---

Dear Faculty and Staff:

We need your help for the upcoming 23rd Annual Carolina Blood Drive next week. Appointments for the event are lagging. To ensure patients get the life-saving blood they need, please sign up now at www.unc.edu/blood for the drive, Tuesday (June 7), from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., at the Dean Smith Center.

Door prizes include football and basketball tickets. Presenting donors will receive a T-shirt and will be automatically entered in a drawing for one of two $3,000 American Express gift cards useable toward rent, mortgage payments, food or gas--as well as one of two pairs of round-trip Delta Airline tickets.

Patti and I will visit the drive, as will Coach Butch Davis and Tammy Davis; Bill Roper, chief executive officer of the UNC Health Care System and dean of the School of Medicine; radio personality and Tar Heel basketball alumnus Eric Montross; and Carolina football players.

Every two seconds, someone in the United States needs blood to survive. One donation--one pint of blood--can help save up to three lives. Please take this opportunity to give the gift of life at the Carolina Blood Drive. For eligibility requirements and other information, visit redcrossblood.org.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Dr. Boyce Watkins: Your Black World <info@boycewatkins.com>
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:28 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: 40-Yr Worst Reached on Black Male Employment

Your Black News. Your Black Life . Your Black World

Brought to you by The Great Black Speakers Burea, the #1 Black speakers bureau in the world. To join the Your Black World Coalition, please visit YourBlackWorld.com.

The Latest from Your Black World

Percentage of Employed Black Men Is Lowest It's Been in 40 Years

Dr. Boyce: Why Black Men Continue to Suffer, and Why It Must End Now

A Stunning Tribute to Black Mommas: Is This Your Mother by Chance?

Dr. Boyce Watkins and Richelle Carey Discuss Black Men in America

Meet Dr. Jennifer Caudle: Physician, Musician and Miss Iowa 1999

Black Women Facing HIV Epidemic in Massachusetts, Other States

12-Year Old Girl Robs Market with Handgun

To Help Family Financially

Yes, Bill Collectors May Be Following You on Facebook and Twitter

Delores Jones: “Why I Threw a Shoe at My Ex-Husband in Front of the Judge”

Police Can Break Into Your Home if They Smell Marijuana

Model’s Boyfriend Gives Tearful Account of How She Fell Out of 10-Story Window

Teacher Says She Was Fired for Praying in School

12-Year Old Boy Murdered in Baltimore

Actress Sanaa Lathan Speaks with Marc Lamont Hill

Mother Caught On Camera Trying to Kill Her Baby

Dr. Boyce Spotlight: Having the Courage to Pursue Your Dreams

Woman Stoned to Death for Being in Beauty Pageant

Julianne Malveaux: History's Hostages and the Paradox of Loyalty

Dr. King's Daughter Says She's Leaving Eddie Long's Church

Was Judge Mathis Too Harsh on the Deadbeat Dad? Probably Not

This message was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu from:

Dr. Boyce Watkins | 23F Queens Way | Camillus, ny 13031

Unsubscribe | Forward To a Friend

Email Marketing by iContact try it free

From: ASMEA Conference <info=asmeascholars.org@mcsv173.net>
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 10:27 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FINAL DAY: Call for Papers 2011

Email not displaying correctly? View it in your browser.

ASMEA
ASSOCIATION FOR THE STUDY
OF THE MIDDLE EAST AND AFRICA

 CALL FOR PAPERS ***

4th Annual ASMEA Conference

Out of the Past, Into the Future:
Reflections on the Middle East and Africa

November 3-5, 2011
Key Bridge Marriott Hotel * Washington, D.C.

ASMEA is currently seeking proposals for paper presentations at the 2011 annual conference. Members from any discipline, tenured or untenured faculty or those otherwise affiliated with a recognized research institution, may submit proposals to participate in the conference. Unique proposals from senior graduate students (ABD) will also be considered. Abstracts on topics related to the Middle East and Africa should consist of a one-page outline of the proposed subject to be presented. A recent C.V. and all contact data must be attached to the proposal (name, e-mail, phone number, affiliation). The due date for proposals is Wednesday, June 1, 2011. Proposals should be sent to: info@asmeascholars.org. Completed papers are due by September 5, 2011.

Referees and Discussants

ASMEA Members interested in participating in the conference as referees of papers or discussants should contact ASMEA by e-mail with a letter of interest containing the topics that can be covered. Please include a C.V. and all current contact data (name, e-mail, phone number) and a brief recitation of your past experience in these roles. Send e-mail to: info@asmeascholars.org.

Registration

Space is limited, register for the 4th Annual ASMEA Conference here. Any questions or for more information, contact ASMEA at 202.429.8860 or info@asmeascholars.org.

Association for the Study of the Middle East and Africa
www.asmeascholars.org

Unsubscribe jen321@email.unc.edu from this list | Forward to a friend | Update your profile

You are receiving this email because you opted in at our website www.asmeascholars.org.

Our mailing address is:
ASMEA
PO Box 33699
Washington, DC 20033

Add us to your address book

Copyright (C) 2011 ASMEA All rights reserved.

From: NCBS <info@ncbsonline.org>
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 1:12 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: NCBS 36th Annual Conference - ATLANTA, GA

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

36th Annual Conference

DATE:
March 7-10, 2012
LOCATION:
ATLANTA, GA
Sheraton Atlanta Hotel
165 Courtland St. NE
Atlanta, GA 30303

For more information:
www.ncbsonline.org

We are excited to announce our 36th Annual conference in the great city of Atlanta, GA. As we celebrate our 36th conference, we invite you to share this moment with us and create new memories. Please stay up to date on all conference information on our website and email list serve.
We hope you're as excited as we are!

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES
National Council for Black Studies
Atlanta, Georgia 30303
404-413-5131

Forward to a colleague

SafeUnsubscribe

Trusted Email from Constant Contact
Try it FREE today.

This email was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu by info@ncbsonline.org |
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES | National Council for Black Stu | P.O. Box 4109 | Atlanta | GA | 30303

From: robyn.day@roadscholar.org
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 3:24 PM
To:
Subject:
Attach: DIV_HilliardAwardFlyer_Apr11.pdf

Dear Applicant:

I am writing to you on behalf of Road Scholar following up on our earlier communication announcing the Asa Grant Hilliard III Road Scholar Award for Lifelong Learning in memory of the late Dr. Asa Grant Hilliard III.

This award is open to educators with at least 10 years experience who are:

- members of the National Alliance of Black School Educators,
- members of the Association for the Study of African American Life and History,
- on faculty at a Historically Black College and University, or
- Professors of African American studies.
- People who are interested in continuous lifelong leaning

The winner will receive a $5,000 travel voucher award toward a Road Scholar program.

The deadline for applications has been extended to Wednesday day, September 28, 2011. To apply or nominate an educator, please visit:

http://www.roadscholar.org/hilliardaward/hilliard_award.asp

Please feel free to forward this scholarship information on to your colleagues who may be interested in applying for this special award in memory of late Dr. Asa Grant Hilliard III, a lifelong learner and a strong proponent of learning and travel. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me directly at (617) 457-5528.

Very truly yours,

Kathy Taylor, Associate Vice President, Community Relations
Road Scholar
11 Avenue de Lafayette
Boston, MA 02111
(617) 457-5591 (direct line)
(617) 556-3948 (fax)

Robyn Carroll-Day
Road Scholar

11 Ave de Lafayette | Boston, MA 02111 | (617) 457-5580 tel. | (617) 457-5577 fax
robyn.day@roadscholar.org | www.roadscholar.org

Elderhostel, Inc, the not-for-profit world leader in lifelong learning since 1975, is the creator of Road Scholar educational adventures.*

ROAD SCHOLAR

Adventures in Lifelong Learning

ASA GRANT HILLIARD III ROAD SCHOLAR AWARD FOR LIFELONG LEARNING

Road Scholar, the world leader in lifelong learning, is pleased to honor the memory of Dr. Asa Grant Hilliard III, who lived the values we espouse — as a lifelong learner and a strong proponent of learning and travel.

ELIGIBILITY

This award is open to educators with at least 10 years experience who are either members of the National Alliance of Black School Educators (NABSE), faculty of Historically Black Colleges and Universities, professors of African American studies or a supporter of lifelong learning.

Applications will be reviewed by a panel of prominent leaders, including a member of the Hilliard family, as well as a representative from NABSE.

The winner will receive a $5,000 travel award toward a Road Scholar program. This award will be presented at the annual meeting of the National Alliance of Black School Educators — the largest national association of African American teachers and educators.

TO APPLY

To apply or to nominate an experienced educator, please visit www.roadscholar.org/hilliardaward.
The deadline for applications is September 30, 2011.

▲ Top: As an authority on indigenous ancient African history, Dr. Asa Grant Hilliard III helped shed light on the myster ies of one of the world's great civilizations.

◄ Bottom: From left to right: Elderhostel President James Moses; Elderhostel Associate Vice President for Community Development Kathy Taylor, Girl Friend; and Patsy Jo Hilliard, wife of Asa Hilliard and former mayor of East Point, Georgia. Photo by Phillip McCollum.

Elderhostel, Inc. the not-for-profit world leader in lifelong learning since 1975, is the creator of Road Scholar educational adventures.

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 3:58 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FW: Damages Form
Attach: 20110601154347856.pdf

---

can you open this attachment and print for me? Thanks! Gore

_____
From: Burton, Nancy (Housekeeping Services) [Nancy.Burton@facilities.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, June 01, 2011 3:52 PM
To: Gore, Travis
Subject: FW: Damages Form

Please sign and fax back to me at 962-4638.

Thanks

-----Original Message-----
From: scanner@unc.edu [mailto:scanner@unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, June 01, 2011 3:44 PM
To: Burton, Nancy (Housekeeping Services)
Subject:

This E-mail was sent from "R10601" (Aficio MP 3500).

Scan Date: 06.01.2011 15:43:47 (-0400)
Queries to: scanner@unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA
AT CHAPEL HILL

Facilities Services
Housekeeping

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 1850
505 West Cameron Ave.
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-1850

(919) 962-6586 FAX: (919) 962-4638

TO: UNC Housekeeping Services, Moving Crew

Subject: Damages

The UNC Housekeeping Department offers moving services to the University community at a charge of $29.20 per person per hour for each crew member. In order to provide this service, we do not provide insurance to cover accidental damage. If we were to purchase damage insurance coverage, we would be required to physically assess each item to be moved for condition, scratches, blemishes, and so forth, and retain condition records of each assessment. This would be time-consuming and costly for our customers. The Housekeeping Department moving crews are very careful with everything that is moved and take pride in the quality of their work. But the department can not provide this service at this low cost if the department is also required to cover damage or loss as a result.

- If you have an item that is particularly important, you should consider contracting with a commercial moving firm that provides damage insurance.
- The Coordinator or a knowledgeable representative must be present at the time and the location of the move/loans drop off and pick up.
- This form has to be signed and faxed back to the Housekeeping Department before your move/loan is conducted. Please sign below to acknowledge your agreement that Housekeeping will not be financially responsible for any damage or loss either to the building, furniture, and equipment being moved(If your move is for the loan of tables/chairs only, the damage reference only refers to damage to your building or contents). If a signed copy of this form is not in the hands of the moving crew leader prior to his arrival he will not show up for the scheduled move.
- An account number to be charged must be provided at the time of scheduling.

Department contact: _____

Account Number: _____

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Recycled Paper

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 4:55 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: Professional Fundraising Workshop for Deans, Department Chairs, and Aspiring Academic Leaders

---

Thank you for writing. I will check my email on an infrequent basis through August 22, 2011. I will reply to all messages at my earliest opportunity. If you need to reach me regarding an urgent matter related to LinCS 2 or Sister Circle, please call me on my cell phone.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vprice@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Mail List Review for State Budget Office

---

Deans, Directors and Department Contacts,

North Carolina General Statute 143-169.1 states that public document mailing lists must be reviewed, updated and corrected during each fiscal year. Each list should include only persons or organizations who have requested (or who have renewed their request) to be included on the list, or who receive the document by reason of their official duties (e.g., the State Librarian). This law requires the Chancellor to report the University's compliance to the state budget office, and to certify that mailing lists subject to GS 143-169.1 have been updated since July 2010.

 Please send your response to the query below to vprice@email.unc.edu by June 22, 2011. When you reply, enter your department, school or division name in the subject line. *****

Mailing lists subject to North Carolina General Statute 143-169.1 have very narrow qualifying conditions. Please follow the process below in sequential order to determine if your mailing list qualifies.

1. This law applies only to paper, not electronic, publications that were printed in quantities of 200 or more and mailed all at once. If none of your publications meet these criteria, please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

For publications that do meet the criteria in #1, please ask yourself:

2. Were 200 or more printed, paper copies mailed all at once to any of the following groups:
Alumni?
Paying subscribers?
Enrolled students?
Faculty/staff?
Foundation or other University-related group members?
Other educational institutions and organizations?
Governmental agencies?
Private foundations?
Those billed for purchases of goods or services?
Those on the mailing list by express provisions of statute, or by express provision of judicial order?

If your answer to ANY portion of this question was "yes," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

If your answers to #2 were all "no," please ask yourself:

3. Was the publication published with state-appropriated funds?

If your answer to #3 was "no," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

If your answer to #3 was "yes," please ask yourself:

4. Was it issued by an officer of a school, department or other University unit (not including foundations and privately incorporated or non-University entities)?

If your answer to #4 was "no," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

IF YOUR ANSWER WAS "YES," YOUR MAILING LIST IS SUBJECT TO NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL STATUTE 143-169.1. Go to http://www.unc.edu/depts/pubserv/mailing_list_report.html, download and fill out the form electronically, and reply to this email with the form as an attachment to: vprice@email.unc.edu. You may stop here.

_____OUR UNIT HAS NO MAILING LISTS THAT ARE SUBJECT TO NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL STATUTE 143-169.1.

Signed: (Name) _____ (Telephone number) _____

(Name of your school, department, or division) _____

Are you responding for the (a) entire school, (b) department, or (c) division?

Please remember to send your responses to vprice@email.unc.edu by June 22, 2011. Thank you for your assistance.

Valerie Price, Editor
UNC Publications Services
Office of University Relations

This email is sponsored by: UNC Publications Services

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cjgillen@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study on Alcohol Consumption and Addiction

---

IRB# 09-0939

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking volunteers for a research study using an FDA approved medication for the treatment of heavy alcohol drinking. The research study will involve a free evaluation interview and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. If you're between the ages of 18 and 65 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical research study.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Cody at 919-966-0011 or email at cjgillen@email.unc.edu

This study was approved on 07/24/09 by the Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB # 09-0939.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:30 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 4-12 Year Olds Needed for Study

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 4-12 Year Olds Needed for Study

From: Jeanne Lovmo Murphy <jlmurphy@med.unc.edu>
Date: 5-26-11
To: UNC Mass E-Mail (employees)

The Sensory Experiences Project Needs You!
We are currently recruiting children, ages 4 to 12 years, with typical development to participate in our research studies about sensory experiences. Our eye tracking study is exploring the relationship between visual attention and sensory experiences and our brain wave study looks at the potential causes of sound sensitivities in children.

* Children will participate in a computerized eye tracking task, an EEG and developmental assessments
* Parents will complete a packet of questionnaires and interviews about their child
* Time commitment ranges from 5-8 hours

Once you have completed the studies you will receive
* a summary of results of the developmental assessments,
* a certificate with a picture of your child's brain waves,
* financial incentives up to $195 if your child qualifies for all parts of the research study,
* and mileage reimbursement if you are traveling more than 20 miles each way.

For more information about SEP visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/sep or call our toll free line at 1.800.514.9981.

If you are interested in participating in the research studies, please complete the contact form on our website: https://www.med.unc.edu/ahs/ocsci/sep/sep-contact-us-form.

SEP is funded by the National Institute of Child Health & Human Development (Grant# HD42168).The Principal Investigator is Dr. Grace Baranek. This study has been reviewed and approved by the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board (IRB # 07-1926; approval date 10-22-10).

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences, Division of Occupational Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Fatimah Jackson <fatimahj@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 1:39 PM
To:
Subject: IAAR's Annual Report for FY11 and an update on the proposed closing of IAAR
Attach: IAAR Performance Review for FY11.docx; MISSION, GOALS, & ACTIVITIES.pdf

---

Dear Colleague,
Please find attached our most recent Annual Report for FY11. We had a wonderful year, thanks to the help of many. We were able to assist 31 UNC faculty with their research and we formed collaborations with 21 centers, institutes, and academic departments.

We've submitted grant proposals totaling more than $900,000 and we are part of a recently funded European Union Training Grant on the History, Archaeology, and New Genetics of the Transatlantic Slave Trade. This grant, administered by the University of Copenhagen, will receive 46 million euros (about US$60 million, I'm told).

In spite of this record of accomplishment, I was informed by our Provost, Bruce Carney, that the Institute of African American Research is scheduled to be closed as early as the end of this month.

If you can give us any support at this time, we'd appreciate it. We have worked very hard to turn the IAAR into an active research unit, and to my thinking, the unit serves a vital role on this Research 1 campus. I know that the State budget is horrific, but sacrificing this small unit seems hardly worth the "benefit".

During this fiscal year, over half our budget ($125,000) was returned to the State on March 1, 2011, we were subjected to three hiring freezes, and hence we had no full time or permanent employees for FY11. Yet, we still managed to be extremely productive with part-time, temporary workers, independent contractors, and volunteers.

I think we've shown our resourcefulness and commitment. Closing this 15 year old IAAR would be a significant step backward for the University of North Carolina and for the State. Please help us get this message out to the campus, state, and national decision makers.

Thanks very much,
Fatimah

--
Fatimah L.C. Jackson, Ph.D.
Professor of Biological Anthropology
Director, Institute of African American Research
919-843-1898

REVIEW OF FY11 INITIATIVES, PROGRESS ASSESSMENT, STATUS REPORT, AND IDENTIFICATION OF FY12 PRIORITIES FOR THE INSTITUTE OF AFRICAN AMERICAN RESEARCH

Self-Assessment for July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2011

Dr. Fatimah Jackson, Director

Five goals from FY11 are addressed in this report.

FY11 Goal #1:

Increase the research capacity of the IAAR.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

The following activities and research projects were undertaken by the IAAR during FY11:

IAAR ACTIVITY/PROJECT	UNC FACULTY PARTICIPANTS	IMPACT ON UNC FACULTY
Black Theodicy Forum	Reginald Hildebrand, Laura Maffley-Kipp, Michael Lambert, Carl Ernst, Todd Ochoa, Charles Price, and Fatimah Jackson	Provided multiple opportunities for faculty engagement in the issue of group suffering and the contrasting approaches of Christianity and Islam in this discourse
Hugh Masekela Panel	Michelle Lee, David Pier	Highlighted faculty research on ethnomusicology of Masekela's performance style and faculty field work in South Africa
"Picking Cotton: A Conversation about Race, Sexual Assault, and the U.S. Justice System" Panel	Frank Baumgartner	Highlighted faculty research on racial disparities in the arrest and sentencing of Black men accused of raping White women.
Cecil Brown Lecture: George Moses Horton, NC Poet	Glenn Hinson	Provided opportunity for faculty commentary on the folklore aspects of George Moses Horton's poetry during the time of slavery in NC.
Support for Medical Anthropology Visiting Lecturer Professor Carolyn Rouse	Michelle Rifkin-Fish	IAAR provided travel and meal support for a visiting scholar who spoke during a faculty member's Medical Anthropology class.
Support for African Brazilian Movement Visiting Lecturer Professor Joselina da Silva	Kia Caldwell	IAAR provided travel support for a visiting scholar who spoke during a special session on the African Brazilian Movement.
African American Economic Summit - 2	Karolyn Tyson Fatimah Jackson	Provided UNC faculty input into AAES-2 topic "Deeper into the Recession"
Support for Play	Sherryl Kleinman	Provided support for a very well attended play at the Stone Center.
Support for Campus Visit of Professor Tony Whitehead: 16th Annual Videoconference on Minority Health Disparities and	Vic Schoenbach	Dr. Whitehead's presence provided a scholar's perspective at the Videoconference. Subsequently, Dr. Whitehead lead an excellent teaching

Workshop Leader on Ethnographically Informed Focus Groups		workshop that was attended by several UNC faculty, staff, and students.
red, black, and Green Panel	Phil Berke	Introduced IAAR to the Institute for the Environment and began discussions on future research collaborations.
Wilmington 10 40th Anniversary Commemoration	Kenneth Janken, Louise Toppin	Brought Dr. Ben Chavis to campus and facilitated the research of Dr. Janken and the performance of Dr. Toppin
IAAR Small Grants awards	Michelle Lee, Glenn Hinson, Kenneth Janken, Genna Rae McNeil, and Iris Carlton-LaNey	Enhanced faculty research capacity by providing summer research support for five faculty (as well as four graduate students and one undergraduate)
Support for ELITE Faculty Working Group	Diane Rowley, Vijaya Hogan, Trude Bennett	Supports faculty interaction, development of the AAES-3 conference, and research proposal development (NIH-NICHD/NIMHD)
Support for Videmus	Louise Toppin	Supports faculty proposal and performance program development
Uprising! Faculty Working Group	Allen Anderson, Diane Pozefsky, Heather Williams, Mamarame Seck, Anna Agbe-Davis, Charles Price	Provides for submission of internal funding support, external funding proposal under discussion, novel, innovative interdisciplinary research
Sauratown Project	Anna Agbe-Davis Charles Price	External funding inquiry submitted, field site investigations planned
Epigenetics of Breast Cancer	Theresa Swift-Scanlan Melissa Troester	External funding proposal under consideration
Environmental Modulators of Early Onset Breast Cancer	Fatimah Jackson	R01 Resubmission to National Cancer Institute on 5/27/11

FY12 Priorities:

Continue to encourage and support UNC faculty research engagement via three routes:

1. Identify faculty-initiated research projects that IAAR helps to bring to fruition by providing research proposal support, comprehensive administrative assistance in proposal processing and management services, office and meeting space for faculty working groups, access to office equipment, and routine notices of funding availability on topics relevant to exploration of the African American experience,
2. Expand IAAR-initiated projects so that they are guided by substantial UNC faculty participation and input. In these cases, faculty research interests will play a major role in guiding project outcome,
3. Support UNC departmental initiatives (e.g., Department of African and Afro-American Studies, Department of Political Science, Department of History, Department of Anthropology, Department of Music).

FY11 Goal #2:
Increase IAAR's direct collaboration with diverse UNC-CH academic units, campus research groups, and Centers and Institutes.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

1. CENTER, INSTITUTE, AND DEPARTMENT COLLABORATORS
   A number of important UNC Academic Units/Centers/Institutes have collaborated with IAAR during FY11. These include: The FedEx Center for Global Education, The Center for African Studies, the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, The Department of Music, The Department of History, The Department of Political Sciences, The Center for the Study of the American South, The Carolina Women's Center, The Department of Anthropology, The Office of the Executive Director for the Arts and Carolina Performing Arts, The Southern Historical Collection, The Institute for the Environment, The Center for Jewish Studies, The Center for the Study of Middle East and Muslim Civilizations, The Center for European Studies, The Stone Center, The Triangle African American History Consortium, The Gillings School of Global Public Health, The Department of Maternal and Child Health, The American Indian Center, The College of Education.

2. PROJECTS COMPLETED IN FY11: Black Theodicy Forum, African American Economic Summit 2, GATC community workshops at 2010 International Grand Conclave of Omega Psi Phi, Wilmington 10 - 40th Anniversary Commemoration, Graduate Student Research Mixer, Series of Faculty Mini-Seminars, Panels, and Special Lectures.

3. PROJECTS UNDER CONTINUING DEVELOPMENT INTO FY12: International Conference on the Genetics of the Peoples of Africa and the Transatlantic African Diaspora, Skeletal Biology Database, Anti-Racism projects (Hate groups genetics information survey /Recent Immigrant sensitivity enhancement), NC Jazz Podcasts, (1811) Uprising!, Epigenetics of Breast Cancer & West African Ancestry, Sauratown Project.

FY12 Priorities: Continue to seek out the heads of UNC-CH academic units, campus research groups, and diverse Centers and Institutes to introduce them to the IAAR, identify research targets within those units that the IAAR can contribute towards, join existing campus initiatives and link those with IAAR's needs (e.g., database development and archiving), and identify faculty within the units with whom we can develop research collaborations.

We plan to continue to use the Innovate@Carolina Roadmap to guide our collaborations and translate important ideas generated at UNC with the goal of disseminating works to the broader global community. In FY12, we hope to continue to use the Creative Campus, Innovation Initiative (IAH) to strength our connections and collaborations between humanities scholars, basic and social sciences and hybrid disciplines with business leadership across academic units. In this capacity, IAAR will serve as a catalyst to support and coordinate these efforts.

We also want to increase the recognition and prominence of IAAR as a clearinghouse for African American Research projects across the disciplines. We plan to tackle this in FY12 through implementation of a concerted marketing plan.

FY11 Goal #3:
Increase external research funding to IAAR.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

1. EXTERNAL GRANTS SUBMITTED FOR FUNDING: NIH NIMHD R-13 Support for Conference and Scientific Meetings, 2012 International Conference on the Genetics of the Peoples of Africa and the Transatlantic African Diaspora; Resubmission of NIH-NCI P01 on West African Ancestry and Breast Cancer.

2. ADVANCE MEETINGS WITH FUNDERS: Director to NIH Institutes and Centers in Bethesda, MD; North Carolina Humanities Council Symposia: "The Black Atlantic and the Biographical Turn: Slavery, Migration, and the Origins of the Modern World" February 24–26; Presented IAAR research projects at NIH/NHGRI 2011 ELSI Congress, April 12-14.

3. FUNDERS DATABASE DEVELOPMENT: Research Assistants, under the guidance of IAAR staff, have identified and reviewed multiple alternative funding resources for 2012 International Genetics Conference.

4. DEVELOPMENT OF PROPOSAL WRITING TEAMS: IAAR hosts the following faculty working groups: ELITE group and Videmus are faculty-initiated working groups with grant proposal funding initiatives in progress; IAH Innovation Fund application explicitly outlines interdisciplinary collaboration among Uprising! UNC Faculty collaborators: Mamarame Seck, Heather Williams, Diane Pozefsky, Anna Agbe-Davies, Allen Anderson, and Charles Price.

FY12 Priorities: We hope to shorten our response time to funding applications and increase the probability of successful funding by continuing to:

1. Develop systematic and timely responses to RFPs, RFAs;
2. Meet in advance with potential funders;
3. Build a working database of foundations to be contacted for research support;
4. Develop highly communicative proposal writing teams to facilitate intra-UNC cooperation and collaboration.
5. Identify new sources of funding and establish a long-term development plan; and
6. Strengthen the sustainability of IAAR with independent and extramural support by:
    a. Using UNC Centers and Institutes with strong donor bases, e.g. Center for the Study of the American South, as models;
    b. Identifying and establishing a pool of individuals, foundations and corporate donors;
    c. Working with development professionals to establish a tradition of giving; and
    d. Participating in UNC's emerging culture of entrepreneurship and innovation.

FY11 Goal #4:
Benefit from Internal and External Advisory Boards inputs to accomplish IAAR mission, goals and activities.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

Internal Advisory Board meeting was convened in the Fall semester and again in the Spring semester of FY11 to update the IAB on IAAR progress and receive their input on personnel issues, budget, funding initiatives, and collaborative efforts. External Advisory Board was contacted individually by Director and by mail on March 5, 2011 to inform them of IAAR progress, personnel changes, budget, funding initiatives, and collaborative efforts. Written and oral feedback was received by Director from External Advisory Board members.

FY12 Priorities:

Revitalize the membership of the Internal Advisory Board and expand the kinds of disciplinary expertise represented on the IAB. Identify and request specific tasks for the External Advisory Board members in support of the IAAR.

FY11 Goal #5:
Leverage the resources of IAAR to increase the capacity and quality of research at UNC-Chapel Hill.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

During FY11, the IAAR has:

1. Initiated interdisciplinary research projects and actively recruiting faculty participants,
2. Established working groups surrounding specific issues to encourage faculty to generate interdisciplinary projects,
3. Used IAAR public events as a means to foster quality interdisciplinary dialogue,
4. Established a small grants funding program in support of faculty, graduate student, and undergraduate research. We initially devoted $5000 towards our small grants program.
5. Used IAAR financial resources to support various UNC academic department initiatives including support for the 40th Anniversary of the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, visiting lecturer support in the Department of Anthropology, visiting lecturer support in the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, support of the national African American History Conference in Raleigh, support of the Omega Conclave Health Workshop in Raleigh, and the director spent many hours in support of the minority hiring efforts of the Department of Political Science,

6. Modified Suites 309 and 305 to better facilitate our administrative and research needs, respectively, and provide common research space for IAAR fellows and interns,
7. Initiated and fostered a culture of graduate student and faculty engagement in IAAR that promotes cross-disciplinary faculty-student mentoring relationships and provides experience for student involvement in IAAR mission-oriented research. Towards this end, the IAAR supported a Graduate Student Research Mixer,
8. Initiated and supported the Humanities Script Writing Contest with a recent award of $1000 to the winner.

FY12 Priorities: Continue to structurally and functionally facilitate a strong and sustainable culture of interdisciplinary research at the IAAR to enhance the national and international standing of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Institute of African American Research

MISSION

The Institute of African American Research (IAAR) has, as its central mission, to advance scholarly identification, investigation, analysis, interpretation, evaluation, and dissemination of broad-based, interdisciplinary research on peoples of recent African descent through the Transatlantic African Diaspora, with a particular emphasis on Black Americans.

The IAAR is concerned with the history, biology, culture, social experiences, and thought of African Americans.

Three research units drive the IAAR's core mission:

- The Endogenous Knowledge Unit (EKU) is tasked with documentation of the indigenous African American (emic perspectives on a cross-section of topics.
- The Integrated Research Liaison Unit is expected to develop collaboration leading to the creation of sophisticated, nuanced models of the African American experience for incorporation in to scientific research.
- The Research Technology Unit will design computational science models and products that both depict and predict diverse aspects of African American life.

GOALS

The IAAR must become primarily a research-oriented unit, capable of generating and testing hypotheses, providing interdisciplinary approaches and insights to an array of issues affecting African Americans in particular.

The IAAR must develop authentic models of the African American experience that can be applied cross-disciplinarily.

The IAAR must become a campus-wide clearing house for research on African Americans and African American issues

The IAAR must become a national and international authority on African American research from multiple perspectives and intellectual orientations.

The IAAR must serve as a reliable site for scholarship on African Americans that can be broadly accessed and utilized.

ACTIVITIES

Developing research proposals and completing research projects that advance and expand inquiry in all dimensions of an enlarged and multidisciplinary field of African American Studies;

Integrating the scholarly contributions of both faculty and students across a wide array of disciplines into IAAR research, programming, and product development;

Mentoring junior scholars who will enter the field by maintaining various outlets for their work and by amassing information relevant to their further development;

Conceptualizing, documenting, designing, and executing topical, interdisciplinary symposia, conferences, summits, forum, and workshops with clear scientific objectives and scholarly end-product goals; and

Utilizing computational technology to assist in the depiction, analysis, and dissemination of research, and the creation of products and publications that facilitate, augment, and document the work of UNC-CH researchers.

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 1:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: please sign

Hi Julius,
I will ask Travis to bring your travel reimbursement request when he goes back to Battle Hall after he buys the charger for your laptop today. Please sign the first two pages and return them to my mailbox.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 2:44 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: please sign

Thanks and please don't forget to send me a list of books in case you're ready...
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, June 02, 2011 2:37 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: RE: please sign

Ok will do.

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Thursday, June 02, 2011 1:40 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: please sign

Hi Julius,
I will ask Travis to bring your travel reimbursement request when he goes back to Battle Hall after he buys the charger for your laptop today. Please sign the first two pages and return them to my mailbox.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hartcp@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Participants for Study of Sleep Apnea and Memory

---

The Clinical & Cognitive Sleep Research Lab (CCSRL) at UNC-CH is conducting a research study to evaluate the effects of CPAP therapy on memory in people with sleep apnea. If you are interested in participating you would sleep for three nights in the sleep laboratory, complete brief questionnaires, and participate in a computer attention and learning activity. Compensation is $75 per night, and $225 for all three nights of participation. Please contact us if you have any questions and might be interested in participating and you meet the eligibility criteria below.

Eligibility criteria
1. You need to have a formal diagnosis of sleep apnea and have been on PAP therapy for at least 1 month.
2. You need to be between 18 and 45 years of age.
3. You cannot have any history of a major brain neurological disorders or a major psychiatric illness.
4. You cannot be taking the following medications:
Antidepressants that that might disrupt sleep (e.g. Prozac-fluoxetine, Wellbutrin-Buproprion, Effexor-Venlafaxine, or Amitryptaline-Elavil),
Medications that can suppress memory including muscle relaxants and anxiety medications (Valium-Diazepam, Ativan-Lorazepam, Klonopin-Clonazepam),
Sleep aid medications that can affect memory (Zolpidem-Ambien, Eszopiclone-Lunesta, Trazodone-Desyrel, Mirtazepine-Remeron),
Beta blocker medications (e.g. Propranolol, Metoprolol, Atenolol),
Bronchodilator medications (albuterol or theophylline),
Stimulants (e.g. Ritalin, Adderall, Concerta, Modafanil), or Prednisone.
5. You may not have a diagnosis of a learning disability or attention deficit disorder.
6. You cannot be a night shift worker.
7. You cannot be a user of recreational drugs, including marijuana.

If you meet the above criteria, and are interested in the study, we would be very happy to hear from you. Please contact us at rothsleeplab@gmail.com to receive more details about study enrollment. It would be helpful if you can include in your response, your name, e-mail and phone number, as well as the best time to call you, so we are better able to reach you.

This message was approved by the Biomedical IRB 05/04/2011 (IRB# 09-1944, "The Effect of Disrupted Sleep on Sleep Dependent Memory Processes"), and is funded by the UNC Department of Neurology.

This email is sponsored by: Neurology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Summer Nature Camp for Kids

There is still space available in the following summer nature camps at the North Carolina Botanical Garden!

Habitat Heroes (for 6-7 year-olds)--only 1 spot left!
Dates: June 27-July 1
Time: 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
Fee: $295 ($265 members)
Food, water, shelter, space--a habitat is a wonderful place. Discover the awesome diversity of places that the animals and plants of North Carolina call home and why we need to care for these amazing wildlife habitats. We'll investigate stream, pond, meadow, and woods and learn how to create and restore habitat using native plants, feeders, natural shelters, water sources, and more. Hands-on explorations, games, stories, and take-home projects will empower children to be stewards of their local ecosystems--even in their own backyards.

Junior Naturalists (for 8-9 year-olds)
Dates: July 25 - 29
Time: 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
Fee: $295 ($265 members)
Whether your child is interested in frogs, birds, bugs, or plants, this is the camp for kids who love nature Campers spend the week learning the tools and trade of a naturalist as we explore the forests, wetlands, and underworld of the Botanical Garden. Guest naturalists, journal-keeping, nature crafts, and field trips to neighboring natural gem, Mason Farm, will enrich our nature study and fun. Campers will also learn how they can be citizen scientists and participate in local projects. Become a "Junior Naturalist" by the end of the week!

Before and after care available. All sessions taught by experienced environmental educators and maintain a camper-to-staff ratio of 6:1.

View the 2011 camp brochure online:
http://ncbg.unc.edu/uploads/files/2011SummerCampBbrochure.pdf (includes registration form). To register, mail or hand-deliver a completed camp registration form and full payment. To check for space availability or for more information, please call 919-962-0522.

This email is sponsored by: N.C. Botanical Garden

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibdtrials@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Are You Living With Crohn's Disease?

INFORMATIONAL: Are You Living With Crohn's Disease?

An ongoing study is looking at the safety and effectiveness of an investigational medication for the treatment of Crohn's disease.

Eligible participants must:

* Be 18-80 years of age
* Have been diagnosed with moderate/severe Crohn's disease at least 3 months before study enrollment
* Not have adequate relief of symptoms with current or past Crohn's disease treatment
* Other eligibility criteria apply

Qualified participants will receive study medication and study related medical evaluations at no cost.

To learn more, please contact the Study Coordinator at 919-843-3873 or ibdtrials@med.unc.edu

This study, "A Phase 3, Randomized, Placebo-Controlled, Blinded, Multicenter Study of the Induction of Clinical Response and Remission by Vedolizumab in Patients with Moderate to Severe Crohn's Disease" has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 2/18/2011, Study # 10-2127

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

This email is sponsored by: Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 8:13 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Book Order

HI Julius,
Your books are ordered and I will let you know when they arrive. I hope you have a safe trip!
Thanks,
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Thursday, June 02, 2011 5:18 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Subject: Book Order

Hi Haeran: Attached is my list of books to order. Thanks. Julius

From: UNC-CH SPH Minority Health Project <minority_health@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 10:40 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [mhpannounce] Broadcast next Tuesday - "Health Equity: Progress and Pitfalls"

(You can also read this announcement at www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/materials/announce.cfm)

PLEASE JOIN US NEXT TUESDAY - in person or online - for the 17th Annual Summer Public Health Research Videoconference on Minority Health.

When? Tuesday, June 7, 2011, 1:30-4:00pm EDT

Where? Webcast and Tate-Turner-Kuralt building auditorium - see www.minority.unc.edu

Topic: "Health Equity - Progress and Pitfalls"

Featuring:

Marilyn Aguirre-Molina, Ed.D., M.S., Professor of Public Health, CUNY School of Public Health, and Director, CUNY Institute for Health Equity

Jeffrey A. Henderson, M.D., M.P.H., President and CEO, Black Hills Center for American Indian Health

Brian D. Smedley, Ph.D., Vice President and Director, Health Policy Institute, Joint Center for Political and Economic Studies

Barbara Pullen-Smith, M.P.H., Moderator, Director, North Carolina Office of Minority Health and Health Disparities (and UNC alumna)

This live, interactive session will be broadcast with a studio audience in the Tate-Turner-Kuralt auditorium at the UNC School of Social Work and can be viewed over the Internet (webcast). Questions will be taken from broadcast participants by email and toll-free telephone.

ALL VIDEOCONFERENCE INFORMATION: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/

To view on your personal computer: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/broadcast/

To sit in the studio audience at the TTK auditorium: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/studio/

Presentation abstracts and Powerpoint slides: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/abstracts.cfm

Answers to frequently asked questions: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/faq.cfm

Comments from last year's participants: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/eval/comments.cfm

Cosponsorships, partners, and endorsements: www.minority.unc.edu/institute/2011/cosponsors.cfm

This year's Videoconference is presented by the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health Minority Health Project and UNC Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, in association with the UNC American Indian Center, UNC Institute of African American Research, and Norfolk State University Ethelyn R.

Strong School of Social Work, a partner in the Commonwealth Public Health Training Center.

Funding has been provided by UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health, UNC Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, Norfolk State University Ethelyn R. Strong School of Social Work, UNC Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research, UNC FPG Child Development Institute, UNC Counseling and Wellness Services, UNC American Indian Center, UNC Institute of African American Research, UNC College of Arts and Sciences, Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, The Graduate School, and UNC School of Information and Library Science, with in-kind support from the UNC School of Social Work, UNC Department of Epidemiology, and the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, UNC. Please thank them - and consider becoming a cosponsor or providing an endorsement!

Vic Schoenbach, PhD (www.unc.edu/~vschoenb/)
Director, Minority Health Project
UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health

Cookie Newsom, PhD
Director of Diversity Education and Research UNC Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

Bill Jenkins, MS, PhD, MPH
Co-Director, Minority Health Project, Senior Scholar, UNC Institute of African American Research
(formerly Director, Research Center for Health Disparities, Morehouse College)

 20+ health disparities-related broadcasts and seminars are available as on-demand webcasts at www.minority.unc.edu/resources/webcasts/

mhpannounce

From: Nicklis, Ashley <anicklis@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 11:42 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Annual Enrollment Reminder

You are receiving this email as a friendly reminder that you have not yet taken action under the State Health Plan annual enrollment period.

This year the enrollment period is May 9 through June 8, 2011. Your new elections will go into effect on July 1, 2011.

Here are important points about this year's enrollment:

- Employees must enroll online. Paper enrollment forms will not be accepted. The link to enroll online is http://unc.hrintouch.com
- Login has changed to your ONYEN and password
- The State Health Plan will move all employees, and their covered dependents, currently enrolled in the PPO Standard (80/20) plan to the PPO Basic (70/30) plan if no enrollment action is taken
- Employees must complete the questions concerning use of tobacco products and/or participation in a tobacco cessation program to be eligible to re-enroll in the PPO Standard plan
- Employees must also complete the question concerning their body mass index (BMI) to be eligible to re-enroll in the PPO Standard plan

To log on to the enrollment website you will need your ONYEN and password. To obtain an ONYEN, go to the following link https://onyen.unc.edu/cgi-bin/unc_id/services. Should you have difficulties logging in contact 962-HELP. For technical support once logged into the system, call 1-866-822-8688.

The benefits office will be available on the following dates to assist you with enrollments:

- Porthole Training Facility 10:00 am to 2:00 pm on June 6th
- EE Forum Community Meeting, Great Hall 10:00 am to 1:00 pm on June 8th

The State Health Plan Customer Services hours have been extended during Annual Enrollment from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on the following days:

- Every Monday
- June 6, 7 and 8 (Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday)

The Customer Services toll-free number is 1-888-234-2416.

The Benefits Services staff is also available to assist employees during the enrollment period. You can reach Benefits Services at 919-962-3071.

Ashley Nicklis, PHR, CBP, CCP
Director Benefits Services
104 Airport Drive
CB 1045
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-1045
T: 919-962-6255
F: 919-962-6010

anicklis@unc.edu
http://hr.unc.edu

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE:

This e-mail and any transmitted documents contain private, privileged and confidential information belonging to the sender. The information therein is solely for the use of the addressee. If your receipt of this transmission has occurred as the result of an error, please immediately notify us so we can arrange for the return of the documents. In such circumstances, you are advised that you may not disclose copy, distribute, or take any other action in reliance on the information transmitted.

From: United Nations Human Resources <evacancies@un-csdonline.org>
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 1:07 PM
To:
Subject: eNews Letter-UNCSD now Recruiting
Attach: UNCSD Current Openings.pdf

The Commission for Social Development (CSocD) is a functional commission of the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) of the United Nations. It consists of 46 members elected by ECOSOC.

Since the convening of the World Summit for Social Development in Copenhagen in 1995, the Commission has been the key UN body in charge of the follow-up and implementation of the Copenhagen Declaration and Programme of Action. As a result of the Summit, the mandate of the Commission was reviewed and its membership expanded from 32 to 46 members in 1996. It meets once a year in New York, usually in February.

Each year since 1995, the Commission has taken up key social development themes as part of its follow-up to the outcome of the Copenhagen Summit. The Commission's Programme of Work contains all documentation of the Commission for each of its sessions since the Summit.

Please see the attached for details of current international job openings and you may wish to apply to any position you feel qualified.

Sincerely Yours,
Phyllis Mtamayani Horea
eRecruitment Unit
UNCSD,NYC

The Commission for Social Development (CSocD) is a functional commission of the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) of the United Nations. It consists of 46 members elected by ECOSOC.

Since the convening of the World Summit for Social Development in Copenhagen in 1995, the Commission has been the key UN body in charge of the follow-up and implementation of the Copenhagen Declaration and Programme of Action. As a result of the Summit, the mandate of the Commission was reviewed and its membership expanded from 32 to 46 members in 1996. It meets once a year in New York, usually in February.

Each year since 1995, the Commission has taken up key social development themes as part of its follow-up to the outcome of the Copenhagen Summit. The Commission's Programme of Work contains all documentation of the Commission for each of its sessions since the Summit

Current Field Mission vacancies

Position: Associate General Services Officer
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-AGS-PMSS-414457-R-MULTIPLE D/S

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered.

Responsibilities:
(The following duties are generic and may differ depending on the requirements of the mission.)Within delegated authority, the Associate General Services Officer is responsible for the following duties: Support General Services' operations in the field or at the Headquarter, supervise and train junior staff, supervise day-to-day operational activities in the area of the following Units: Travel and Traffic, Receiving and Inspection, Property Control and Inventory, Mail and Records Management, Claims/Property Survey; Track and follow up on claims brought forward and liaise with necessary parties to secure paperwork required to complete the case at HQ; coordinate shipment and recording of non-expendable and attractive items moved from field location and acknowledging receipt of same for PCIU; Communicate official travel plans of staff in a sector to locations outside mission area requiring support of the mission HQ Travel Unit; Advise Travel Unit of special visa requirements in advance; Prepare work plans and support objectives of General Services Units in Sector; Prepare weekly General Services activity reports, advise Chief General Services on areas needing special attention,liaise closely with Regional Administrator and representatives of other sections to devise most efficient use of resources and staff; represent General Services Section in coordination meetings.

Competencies:
Professionalism - Ability to grasp complex concepts and take a logical and analytical approach to solving problems; commitment to implementing the goal of gender equality by ensuring the equal participation and full involvement of women and men in all aspects of peace operations. Judgment and Decision-Making - Discretion and sound judgment in applying expertise to complex and/or sensitive issues which are typically broad in scope. Planning and Organizing - Demonstrated planning and organizational skills and ability to coordinate the work of others; ability to work to tight deadlines and handle multiple concurrent projects/activities. Technological Awareness - Fully proficient computer skills and use of relevant software and other applications. Communications - Ability to write in a clear and concise manner and to communicate effectively orally; ability to prepare reports, formulating positions on issues, articulating options concisely, conveying information, and making and defending recommendations. Teamwork - Excellent interpersonal skills and ability to establish and maintain effective working relations in a multicultural, multi-ethnic environment with sensitivity and respect for diversity.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education
Advanced university degree (Master's degree or equivalent) preferably in Business Administration, Public Administration, Logistics, Law, Accounting, or related fields. A first level university degree with a relevant combination of academic qualifications and experience may be accepted in lieu of the advanced university degree.

Work Experience
At least 2 years of relevant progressively responsible experience in administration or logistics (preferably in supply, transport or receiving and inspection). Relevant experience in an international, governmental or non-governmental organization. Previous peacekeeping mission related field experience is desirable.

Languages
Fluency in spoken and written English or French; knowledge of a second UN language is an advantage and sometimes a requirement. Fluency in the local language may be essential.

Position: Administrative Officer,
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-AO-PMSS-414457-R-MULTIPLE D/S
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered.

Responsibilities:
(The following duties are generic and may differ depending on the requirements of the mission.) Within delegated authority, the Administrative Officer will be responsible for the following duties: Effectively coordinate actions relative to the administration of human resource activities, ensuring consistency in the application of UN rules and procedures; Take the lead with respect to the preparation and implementation of the work program, ensuring that financial resources are utilized to implement activities in accordance with the Mission Budget and allotments issued; Monitor and review the work program and budget by conducting regular and special reviews to assess progress of actual work versus the programme plan; Define requirements and work with systems units with respect to improving budget reporting systems and cost effective utilization of program resources; Supervise and/or provide guidance on financial administration and management information issues and practices to colleagues; Provide guidance and leadership to more junior staff; Oversee work related to billing and receipt of income from various services, operational travel programme, monitoring and evaluation of vendor contracts/payment to vendors and individual contractors for services. Review adequacy of space requirements; Oversee the identification of office technology needs and maintenance of equipment, software and systems; Perform other related work as required; Incumbent may be deployed to a regional field office and provide administrative support to military and police component of the mission.

Competencies:
Professionalism - Proven conceptual analytical, and evaluative skills and ability to conduct independent research and analysis, identifying issues, formulating options and making conclusions and recommended; Commitment to implementing the goal of gender equality by ensuring the equal participation and full involvement of women and men in all aspects of peace operation; Planning and Organizing - Ability to establish priorities and to plan, coordinate and monitor own work plan and those under his/her supervision; Client Orientation - Ability to identify clients' needs and appropriate solutions; ability to establish and maintain productive partnerships with clients; Technological Awareness - Solid computer skills, including proficiency in word processing, spreadsheets, IMIS, and relevant software packages; Communication - Proven ability to write in a clear and concise manner and to communicate effectively orally; ability to prepare reports, formulate positions on issues, articulate options concisely conveying maximum necessary information, and make and defend recommendations; Teamwork - Demonstrated interpersonal skills and the ability to work in a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic environment with sensitivity and respect for diversity.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education
Advanced university degree (Master's degree or equivalent) in business administration, finance, accounting or related fields. A first level university degree with a relevant combination of academic qualifications and experience may be accepted in lieu of the advanced university degree.

Work Experience
At least 5 years of progressively responsible experience in administration and human resources or financial/budget operations. Relevant professional experience in international, governmental or non-governmental organizations.

Languages
Fluency in spoken and written English or French; knowledge of a second official UN language an advantage and sometimes a requirement. Fluency in the local language may be essential.

Other Skills
Supervisory experience in mission administration is an asset. Experience in UN field missions would be an advantage.

Position: Welfare Officer,
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-WO-PMSS-414457-R-MULTIPLE D/S
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered.

Responsibilities:
(The following duties are generic and may differ depending on the requirements of the mission.) The Welfare Officer is responsible for the welfare provision for all members of staff within the mission. The incumbent's responsibilities are, but are not limited to: coordinating activities with the Civilian Staff Welfare Officers based in other Sectors, the Military Staff Welfare Officer, Contingent Welfare focal points and police welfare focal point where applicable; increasing staff awareness and information about social and recreational opportunities available to them in the mission through contributing to the induction training of new staff by producing a guide to the local amenities, regularly updating information posted on the internal internet system, facilitating access to housing information, and developing links with local resources as appropriate; collaborating with the Training Unit to implement "Cultural Awareness" training for staff in the mission; improving the recreational and social opportunities for staff by convening representative staff welfare committees; developing regular recreational activities for staff (such as outings, film nights and other social events) and working in partnership with administration to secure a staff recreation space and gym; establishing an information resource center and organizing a book/DVD library for staff; facilitating increased welfare initiatives in the Team sites through offering support to committees and fostering the development of new committees; participating in developing the expertise, profile, and capacity of the Welfare Unit by identifying funding opportunities; assessing welfare needs within the mission and providing a focal point for welfare initiatives within the mission; acting as a non-clinical counseling resource to any staff member within mission area requiring non-judgmental support and assistance in resolving any personal and/or work-related problem(s) in consultation with the Staff Counselors as necessary; organising memorial services for international civilian staff in cases of death in the mission area; performing any other duties as may be required.

Competencies:
Professionalism - Strong related background and working experience in a multi-cultural environment, especially in initiating and encouraging participation in welfare/social activities. Judgment and Decision-making - Discretion and sound judgment in dealing with sensitive issues. Planning and Organization - Demonstrated planning and organizational skills; ability to handle multiple concurrent projects/activities and to implement activities. Leadership - Strong negotiating skills and ability to influence others to reach agreement; ability to motivate mentor and develop staff; the ability to take initiative and work independently. Technological Awareness - Fully proficient computer skills and use of relevant software and other applications. Communication - Highly developed communication skills (spoken, written); the ability to manage expectations constructively. Teamwork - Excellent interpersonal skills and ability to establish and maintain effective working relations, with sensitivity and respect for diversity in a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic environment.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education
Masters Degree in Sociology, Social Work, Social Science or similar discipline. A relevant combination of education and experience in a closely related area of expertise can be considered in lieu of an advanced university degree.

Work Experience

At least 7 years experience in planning large scale recreational and welfare events; Excellent organizational, communication and computer skills; Experience in organizing conferences, corporate events or management of leisure facilities is higly desirable; Knowledge of the UN rules, regulations and working experience in a United Nations field mission or other similar operational environment would be an advantage.

Languages
Fluency in spoken and written English or French; knowledge of a second UN language is an advantage and sometimes a requirement. Fluency in local language is an advatange.

Coordination Officer, P-4
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-CO-PMSS-414457-R-MULTIPLE D/S

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered.
More Info

Responsibilities
(The following duties are generic and may differ depending on the requirements of the mission.) Under the supervision of the Senior Coordination Officer, the Coordination Officer will be responsible for the following; Coordinate relevant mission-wide, multi-component activities; Collect, review and assess information from reports produced by different components; Draft routine and ad hoc situation reports/briefing notes, prepare verbal and written briefings and updates using visual tools, and prepare and update maps; Ensure that technical queries and inquiries from the field offices are pursued and assists as may be requested, in internal coordination and follow-up; Respond to requests for information from senior leadership within the mission and from DPKO Situation Center; Monitor and report on the overall operational situation within the mission; Perform other duties as instructed by supervisor.

Competencies
Professionalism - Ability to identify issues to be monitored, formulate options and present conclusions and recommendations; experience with international organization and crisis management; ability to work independently and exercise good judgment in a stressful environment; commitment to implementing the goal of gender equality by ensuring the equal participation and full involvement of women and men in all aspects of peace operations. Planning and Organizing - Ability to establish priorities and to plan and execute own work plans. Teamwork - Excellent interpersonal skills; the incumbent must be able to interact and to establish and maintain effective working relationships, both as a team member and, in some situations, as a team leader in a multicultural, multi-ethnic environment with sensitivity and respect for diversity. Client Orientation - Ability to identify the needs of clients and match them to appropriate solutions; ability to establish and maintain productive partnerships. Communication - Excellent drafting skills in English or French and ability to communicate effectively verbally, especially by phone. Technological Awareness - Proficiency in MS Word and Internet browsing, and experience in use of databases, PowerPoint, and electronic media applications.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education
Advanced university degree (Master's degree or equivalent) in political science, history, international affairs or related fields. Military Staff College graduation or first level university degree in combination with extensive experience in operational and analytical work in the field of international affairs may be accepted in lieu of the advanced university degree.

Work Experience
At least 5 years of progressively responsible experience coordinating development activities in national governments and at the international level. Experience in coordination of development activities in post-conflict countries. Previous experience in international organizations or peacekeeping operations is an asset.

Languages
Fluency in spoken and written English or French; knowledge of a second UN language is an advantage and sometimes a requirement. Fluency in the local language may be essential.

Position: Programme Officer, P-4
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-PO-PMSS-414457-R

Responsibilities
The post is located in the Monitoring, Evaluation, Risk Management and Statistics (MERS) Section, Office of the Director, Division of Conference Management. The Programme Officer will be responsible for the following duties:

o Participates in the development, implementation and evaluation of assigned programmes/projects, etc.; monitors and analyzes programme/project development and implementation; reviews relevant documents and reports; identifies problems and issues to be addressed and proposes corrective actions; liaises with relevant parties; identifies and tracks follow-up actions. o Researches, analyzes and presents information gathered from diverse sources. o Assists in policy development, including the review and analysis of issues and trends, preparation of evaluations or other research activities and studies. o Undertakes survey initiatives; designs data collection tools; reviews, analyzes and interprets responses, identifies problems/issues and prepares conclusions. o Prepares various written outputs, e.g. draft background papers, analysis, sections of reports and studies, inputs to publications, etc. o Conducts training workshops, seminars, etc.; makes presentations on assigned topics/activities. o Performs other duties as required.

Competencies

PROFESSIONALISM:__Knowledge and understanding of theories, concepts and approaches relevant to monitoring, evaluation, risk management and statistics. Ability to identify issues, analyze and participate in the resolution of issues/problems. Ability to collect data using various methods. Ability to apply judgment in the context of assignments given, plan own work and manage conflicting priorities.__Demonstrates professional competence and mastery of subject matter; is conscientious and efficient in meeting commitments, observing deadlines and achieving results; shows persistence when faced with difficult problems or challenges; remains calm in stressful situations; expertise in results-based management (RBM). __ COMMUNICATION:__ Speaks and writes clearly and effectively; listens to others, correctly interprets messages from others and responds appropriately; asks questions to clarify, and exhibits interest in having two-way communication; tailors language, tone, style and format to match audience; demonstrates openness in sharing information and keeping people informed.__ TEAMWORK:__Works collaboratively with colleagues to achieve organizational goals; solicits input and is willing to learn from others; supports and acts in accordance with final group decision, even when such decisions may not entirely reflect own position; shares credit for team accomplishments and accepts joint responsibility for team shortcomings.__ PLANNING AND ORGANIZING:__Develops clear goals that are consistent with agreed strategies; identifies priority activities and assignments; adjusts priorities as required; allocates appropriate amount of time and resources for completing work; foresees risks and allows for contingencies when planning; monitors and adjusts plans and actions as necessary; uses time efficiently.__ CLIENT ORIENTATION:__Considers all those to whom services are provided to be "clients" and seeks to see things from clients' point of view; establishes and maintains productive partnerships with clients by gaining their trust and respect; identifies clients' needs and matches them to appropriate solutions; monitors ongoing developments inside and outside the clients' environment to keep informed and anticipate problems; keeps clients informed of progress or setbacks in projects; meets timeline for delivery of products or services to client.__ TECHNOLOGICAL AWARENESS:__Familiarity with results-based reporting systems (e.g. IMDIS). Database skills. Able to use enterprise resource systems (e.g. IMIS, Galaxy, etc.).

Education
Advanced university degree (Master's degree or equivalent) in business administration, management, economics or a related field. A first-level university degree in combination with qualifying experience may be accepted in lieu of the advanced university degree.

Work Experience
A minimum of five years of progressively responsible experience in project or programme management, administration or related area.

Languages
Fluency in English or French; knowledge of the other is desirable. Knowledge of another UN official language is an advantage

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered

Position: Project Officer,
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by CSD
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-PRJO-PMSS-414457-R

Responsibilities
The Project Officer will handle the implementation of the Carbon Benefits Project; Modelling, Measurement and Monitoring. The Project Officer will undertake the following: 1. Coordinate all day-to day project operations in collaboration with project partners. 2. Prepare high quality progress, financial and other reports, based on submissions by project component coordinators ensuring that project partners follow UNDESA standard monitoring, reporting and evaluation processes and procedures. 3. Track and evaluate project progress using the established project monitoring and evaluation indicators set out in the project document. 4. Monitor project risks and assumptions and provide early warning to DEWA Programme Manager on any delays or issues that may affect project performance or successful implementation. 5. Participate in the Scientific Steering Committee (SSC) and project reviews and serve as secretary to the Committee. 6. Follow up the implementation of recommendations of the SSC and Independent Guidance and Review Panel in collaboration with Project Partners. 7. Organize internal project communications, teleconferences, meetings, workshops and field visits. 8. Undertake advocacy of the protocols developed by the project with the wider scientific community and other potential users. 9. Identify and follow up opportunities to secure additional co-finance for the project. 10. Review drafts of any working documents to be submitted to meetings or emanating from project activities, and communicate comments to partners. 11. Provide technical backstopping to the project on carbon sequestration and emerging carbon markets. 12. Coordinate and provide design inputs to the project web tool.

Competencies

Professionalism: Knowledge and understanding of theories, concepts and approaches relevant to particular sector, functional area or other specialized field; Knowledge of the UN system and procedures; Ability to identify issues, analyze and participate in the resolution of issues/problems; Ability to develop sources for data collection; Conceptual analytical and evaluative skills to conduct independent research and analysis, including familiarity with and experience in the use of various research sources, including electronic sources on the internet, intranet and other databases; Ability to apply judgment in the context of assignments given, plan own work and manage conflicting priorities; Shows pride in work and in achievements; Demonstrates professional competence and mastery of subject matter; Is conscientious and efficient in meeting commitments, observing deadlines and achieving results; Is motivated by professional rather than personal concerns; Shows persistence when faced with difficult problems or challenges; Remains calm in stressful situations; Takes responsibility for incorporating gender perspectives and ensuring the equal participation of women and men in all areas of work. Communication: Speaks and writes clearly and effectively; listens to others, correctly interprets messages from others and responds appropriately; Asks questions to clarify, and exhibits interest in having two-way communication; Tailors language, tone, style and format to match audience; Demonstrates openness in sharing information and keeping people informed. Teamwork: Works collaboratively with colleagues to achieve organizational goals; Solicits input by genuinely valuing others' ideas and expertise; Is willing to learn from others; Places team agenda before personal agenda; Supports and acts in accordance with final group decision, even when such decisions may not entirely reflect own position; Shares credit for team accomplishments and accepts joint responsibility for team shortcomings. Planning and Organizing: Develops clear goals that are consistent with agreed strategies; Identifies priority activities and assignments; Adjusts priorities as required; Allocates appropriate amount of time and resources for completing work; Foresees risks and allows for contingencies when planning; Monitors and adjusts plans and actions as necessary; Uses time efficiently.

Education

Advanced university degree (Master's degree or equivalent) in environmental sciences, natural resources management or related disciplines. A first university degree in combination with qualifying experience may be accepted in lieu of the advanced degree. Good knowledge of ecosystem management and emerging carbon markets required.

Work Experience

A minimum of five years of progressively responsible experience in environmental project/programme management or related field, some of which should be at the international level.

Languages
English and French are the working languages of the United Nations Secretariat. For the advertised post, fluency in oral and written English is required. Knowledge of any other official UN language is an asset

Other Skills
Excellent computer skills (Microsoft Office, email, internet) are required. Web design and content management skills are desired

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered

Position: Medical Officer, P-3
DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 24th June,2011
DATE OF ISSUANCE: 6th April,2011
ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: Field Missions Administered by UNDG
DUTY STATION: Geneva and Dubai
VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: 11-MO-PMSS-414457

Responsibilities

The Medical Officer will report to the Chief Medical Officer, and have a functional reporting relationship to the Medical Director, Medical Service Division, OHRM. Within delegated authority, the MO will be responsible for the following duties: Clinical Duties - Examines, diagnoses, and treats by surgical and conservative means, to correct deformities related to injuries such a s road traffic accidents, repair injuries, improve function and prevent complications; Prepare and review case histories and obtain data through interviews; Examine patients and determine laboratory and x-ray examinations required; Interprets test results and evaluate examination findings; Determine the necessity of surgical operation, estimate possible risks to the patient and recommend the appropriate surgical procedure required; Monitor medical instruments and equipment to ensure that aseptic and antiseptic methods are adhered to; Perform major and minor surgery using appropriate instruments and established surgical techniques for the indicated procedure; Advise on kind and quantity of supplies and equipment necessary; Coordinate surgery services with other medical activities; Refer staff to outside specialists as necessary; Follow-up with outside specialists; Provide health education. Medical Administrative Duties - Follow the United Nations established policies and procedures regarding medical clearances, sick leave and medical evacuations; Administration - Assist the Chief Medical Officer to ensure availability of supplies and proper functioning of medical equipment; Ensure appropriate training programs are implemented in order to maintain and develop the medical capabilities (e. g. health education, first aid and CPR). General - Perform other related duties as required; Work implies frequent interaction with the following:

staff at large, staff within work unit, staff counselors, senior management throughout the Organization; Perform other duties as required.

Competencies
Professionalism - Good knowledge in clinical medicine; commitment to implementing the goal of gender equality by ensuring the equal participation and full involvement of women and men in all aspects of peace operations. Leadership Demonstrated ability to provide leadership and take responsibility for incorporating gender perspectives into substantive work; commitment to the goal of achieving gender balance in staffing. Planning and organizing - Ability to establish priorities and to plan, coordinate and monitor own work plan and those under his/her supervision. Teamwork - Strong interpersonal skills and ability to establish and maintain effective working relations in a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic environment with sensitivity and respect for diversity. Communication - Good interpersonal and oral and written communication skills. Commitment to Continuous learning - Willingness to learn and keep abreast of new developments in the medical field. Technological awareness - Solid computer skills and good knowledge of relevant medical databases.

Education
Advanced university degree (Master s degree or equivalent) in Medicine. Successful completion of specialty residency training in General Surgery. Familiarity with orthopedic surgical procedures is an asset. A first level university degree with a relevant combination of academic qualifications and experience may be accepted in lieu of the advanced university degree.

Work Experience
At least 4 years of progressively responsible practical experience in general surgery after specialty training.

Remuneration
Depending on professional background, experience and family situation, a competitive compensation and benefits package is offered

NOTE: Expected time to join UNCSD can be as early as July, 2011.

TO APPLY:
Send your current resume and application Application letter with VA number and title of interested position by email to estaffing@un-csdonline.org

Application to be addressed to:
The eRecruitment Officer
CSD Field Offices Hq
New York.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE

This e-mail and any files transmitted with it are confidential and intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to which they are addressed.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vaccinestudy@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Your Son's Health and Vaccines

We're looking for parents to comment on a research survey about what they think about HPV vaccine for their sons. It's a quick process. You take a brief survey and then simply talk with us about how you came up with your answers. Your responses will help us make our survey better. We may also ask you to look at some materials from a school health center.

You can participate if you are a parent with a son aged 11-17. No specific knowledge about our survey topic is necessary.

We will be paying $20 for about 30 minutes of your time. We will conduct the interview at your convenience on campus at the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health.

If you are interested in getting more information or participating, please send an email to Annie-Laurie McRee at vaccinestudy@unc.edu. Include potential times that work for you in the next week or so. Thank you!

The HPV Immunization in Sons (HIS) Study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board (IRB) at the University of North Carolina on 3/21/2011 (Study #: 10-0614).

Sincerely,

Noel Brewer, Associate Professor
and Paul Reiter, Postdoctoral Fellow

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Measuring Task Performance

---

We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. As a participant you will spend approximately 30 minutes to complete a study in our lab.

Please visit our website to sign up: www.c4dr.unc.edu

Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30 minutes
Pay: $2 - $27
IRB #10 - 1646

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on May 31,2011.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Grossberg, Lawrence <docrock@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, June 4, 2011 8:28 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Fwd: PROPOSED CLOSING of Institute on African American Research at UNC!
Attach: IAAR Performance Review for FY11.docx; ATT00001.htm; MISSION, GOALS, & ACTIVITIES.pdf; ATT00002.htm

---

Julius.

do you have any further information about this? do you know what reason if any the provost gave to justify this decision.

Larry Grossberg

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: IAAR's Annual Report for FY11 and an update on the proposed closing of IAAR
Date: Thu, 2 Jun 2011 13:38:41 -0400
From: Fatimah Jackson <fatimahj@email.unc.edu>
Organization: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
To: undisclosed-recipients:;

Dear Colleague,
Please find attached our most recent Annual Report for FY11. We had a wonderful year, thanks to the help of many. We were able to assist 31 UNC faculty with their research and we formed collaborations with 21 centers, institutes, and academic departments.

We've submitted grant proposals totaling more than $900,000 and we are part of a recently funded European Union Training Grant on the History, Archaeology, and New Genetics of the Transatlantic Slave Trade. This grant, administered by the University of Copenhagen, will receive 46 million euros (about US$60 million, I'm told).

In spite of this record of accomplishment, I was informed by our Provost, Bruce Carney, that the Institute of African American Research is scheduled to be closed as early as the end of this month.

If you can give us any support at this time, we'd appreciate it. We have worked very hard to turn the IAAR into an active research unit, and to my thinking, the unit serves a vital role on this Research 1 campus. I know that the State budget is horrific, but sacrificing this small unit seems hardly worth the "benefit".

During this fiscal year, over half our budget ($125,000) was returned to the State on March 1, 2011, we were subjected to three hiring freezes, and hence we had no full time or permanent employees for FY11. Yet, we still managed to be extremely productive with part-time, temporary workers, independent contractors, and volunteers.

I think we've shown our resourcefulness and commitment. Closing this 15 year old IAAR would be a significant step backward for the University of North Carolina and for the State. Please help us get this message out to the campus, state, and national decision makers.

Thanks very much,

Fatimah

--
Fatimah L.C. Jackson, Ph.D.
Professor of Biological Anthropology
Director, Institute of African American Research
919-843-1898

 -- You are currently subscribed to progfac as: docrock@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29269460-154990.44c1b114609c95e5bd01ecbe0198b943@listserv.unc.edu

REVIEW OF FY11 INITIATIVES, PROGRESS ASSESSMENT, STATUS REPORT, AND IDENTIFICATION OF FY12 PRIORITIES FOR THE INSTITUTE OF AFRICAN AMERICAN RESEARCH

Self-Assessment for July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2011

Dr. Fatimah Jackson, Director

Five goals from FY11 are addressed in this report.

FY11 Goal #1:

Increase the research capacity of the IAAR.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

The following activities and research projects were undertaken by the IAAR during FY11:

IAAR ACTIVITY/PROJECT	UNC FACULTY PARTICIPANTS	IMPACT ON UNC FACULTY
Black Theodicy Forum	Reginald Hildebrand, Laura Maffley-Kipp, Michael Lambert, Carl Ernst, Todd Ochoa, Charles Price, and Fatimah Jackson	Provided multiple opportunities for faculty engagement in the issue of group suffering and the contrasting approaches of Christianity and Islam in this discourse
Hugh Masekela Panel	Michelle Lee, David Pier	Highlighted faculty research on ethnomusicology of Masekela's performance style and faculty field work in South Africa
"Picking Cotton: A Conversation about Race, Sexual Assault, and the U.S. Justice System" Panel	Frank Baumgartner	Highlighted faculty research on racial disparities in the arrest and sentencing of Black men accused of raping White women.
Cecil Brown Lecture: George Moses Horton, NC Poet	Glenn Hinson	Provided opportunity for faculty commentary on the folklore aspects of George Moses Horton's poetry during the time of slavery in NC.
Support for Medical Anthropology Visiting Lecturer Professor Carolyn Rouse	Michelle Rifkin-Fish	IAAR provided travel and meal support for a visiting scholar who spoke during a faculty member's Medical Anthropology class.
Support for African Brazilian Movement Visiting Lecturer Professor Joselina da Silva	Kia Caldwell	IAAR provided travel support for a visiting scholar who spoke during a special session on the African Brazilian Movement.
African American Economic Summit - 2	Karolyn Tyson Fatimah Jackson	Provided UNC faculty input into AAES-2 topic "Deeper into the Recession"
Support for Play	Sherryl Kleinman	Provided support for a very well attended play at the Stone Center.
Support for Campus Visit of Professor Tony Whitehead: 16th Annual Videoconference on Minority Health Disparities and	Vic Schoenbach	Dr. Whitehead's presence provided a scholar's perspective at the Videoconference. Subsequently, Dr. Whitehead lead an excellent teaching

Workshop Leader on Ethnographically Informed Focus Groups		workshop that was attended by several UNC faculty, staff, and students.
red, black, and Green Panel	Phil Berke	Introduced IAAR to the Institute for the Environment and began discussions on future research collaborations.
Wilmington 10 40th Anniversary Commemoration	Kenneth Janken, Louise Toppin	Brought Dr. Ben Chavis to campus and facilitated the research of Dr. Janken and the performance of Dr. Toppin
IAAR Small Grants awards	Michelle Lee, Glenn Hinson, Kenneth Janken, Genna Rae McNeil, and Iris Carlton-LaNey	Enhanced faculty research capacity by providing summer research support for five faculty (as well as four graduate students and one undergraduate)
Support for ELITE Faculty Working Group	Diane Rowley, Vijaya Hogan, Trude Bennett	Supports faculty interaction, development of the AAES-3 conference, and research proposal development (NIH-NICHD/NIMHD)
Support for Videmus	Louise Toppin	Supports faculty proposal and performance program development
Uprising! Faculty Working Group	Allen Anderson, Diane Pozefsky, Heather Williams, Mamarame Seck, Anna Agbe-Davis, Charles Price	Provides for submission of internal funding support, external funding proposal under discussion, novel, innovative interdisciplinary research
Sauratown Project	Anna Agbe-Davis Charles Price	External funding inquiry submitted, field site investigations planned
Epigenetics of Breast Cancer	Theresa Swift-Scanlan Melissa Troester	External funding proposal under consideration
Environmental Modulators of Early Onset Breast Cancer	Fatimah Jackson	R01 Resubmission to National Cancer Institute on 5/27/11

FY12 Priorities:

Continue to encourage and support UNC faculty research engagement via three routes:

1. Identify faculty-initiated research projects that IAAR helps to bring to fruition by providing research proposal support, comprehensive administrative assistance in proposal processing and management services, office and meeting space for faculty working groups, access to office equipment, and routine notices of funding availability on topics relevant to exploration of the African American experience,
2. Expand IAAR-initiated projects so that they are guided by substantial UNC faculty participation and input. In these cases, faculty research interests will play a major role in guiding project outcome,
3. Support UNC departmental initiatives (e.g., Department of African and Afro-American Studies, Department of Political Science, Department of History, Department of Anthropology, Department of Music).

FY11 Goal #2:
Increase IAAR's direct collaboration with diverse UNC-CH academic units, campus research groups, and Centers and Institutes.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

1. CENTER, INSTITUTE, AND DEPARTMENT COLLABORATORS
   A number of important UNC Academic Units/Centers/Institutes have collaborated with IAAR during FY11. These include: The FedEx Center for Global Education, The Center for African Studies, the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, The Department of Music, The Department of History, The Department of Political Sciences, The Center for the Study of the American South, The Carolina Women's Center, The Department of Anthropology, The Office of the Executive Director for the Arts and Carolina Performing Arts, The Southern Historical Collection, The Institute for the Environment, The Center for Jewish Studies, The Center for the Study of Middle East and Muslim Civilizations, The Center for European Studies, The Stone Center, The Triangle African American History Consortium, The Gillings School of Global Public Health, The Department of Maternal and Child Health, The American Indian Center, The College of Education.

2. PROJECTS COMPLETED IN FY11: Black Theodicy Forum, African American Economic Summit 2, GATC community workshops at 2010 International Grand Conclave of Omega Psi Phi, Wilmington 10 - 40th Anniversary Commemoration, Graduate Student Research Mixer, Series of Faculty Mini-Seminars, Panels, and Special Lectures.

3. PROJECTS UNDER CONTINUING DEVELOPMENT INTO FY12: International Conference on the Genetics of the Peoples of Africa and the Transatlantic African Diaspora, Skeletal Biology Database, Anti-Racism projects (Hate groups genetics information survey /Recent Immigrant sensitivity enhancement), NC Jazz Podcasts, (1811) Uprising!, Epigenetics of Breast Cancer & West African Ancestry, Sauratown Project.

FY12 Priorities: Continue to seek out the heads of UNC-CH academic units, campus research groups, and diverse Centers and Institutes to introduce them to the IAAR, identify research targets within those units that the IAAR can contribute towards, join existing campus initiatives and link those with IAAR's needs (e.g., database development and archiving), and identify faculty within the units with whom we can develop research collaborations.

We plan to continue to use the Innovate@Carolina Roadmap to guide our collaborations and translate important ideas generated at UNC with the goal of disseminating works to the broader global community. In FY12, we hope to continue to use the Creative Campus, Innovation Initiative (IAH) to strength our connections and collaborations between humanities scholars, basic and social sciences and hybrid disciplines with business leadership across academic units. In this capacity, IAAR will serve as a catalyst to support and coordinate these efforts.

We also want to increase the recognition and prominence of IAAR as a clearinghouse for African American Research projects across the disciplines. We plan to tackle this in FY12 through implementation of a concerted marketing plan.

FY11 Goal #3:
Increase external research funding to IAAR.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

1. EXTERNAL GRANTS SUBMITTED FOR FUNDING: NIH NIMHD R-13 Support for Conference and Scientific Meetings, 2012 International Conference on the Genetics of the Peoples of Africa and the Transatlantic African Diaspora; Resubmission of NIH-NCI P01 on West African Ancestry and Breast Cancer.

2. ADVANCE MEETINGS WITH FUNDERS: Director to NIH Institutes and Centers in Bethesda, MD; North Carolina Humanities Council Symposia: "The Black Atlantic and the Biographical Turn: Slavery, Migration, and the Origins of the Modern World" February 24–26; Presented IAAR research projects at NIH/NHGRI 2011 ELSI Congress, April 12-14.

3. FUNDERS DATABASE DEVELOPMENT: Research Assistants, under the guidance of IAAR staff, have identified and reviewed multiple alternative funding resources for 2012 International Genetics Conference.

4. DEVELOPMENT OF PROPOSAL WRITING TEAMS: IAAR hosts the following faculty working groups: ELITE group and Videmus are faculty-initiated working groups with grant proposal funding initiatives in progress; IAH Innovation Fund application explicitly outlines interdisciplinary collaboration among Uprising! UNC Faculty collaborators: Mamarame Seck, Heather Williams, Diane Pozefsky, Anna Agbe-Davies, Allen Anderson, and Charles Price.

FY12 Priorities: We hope to shorten our response time to funding applications and increase the probability of successful funding by continuing to:

1. Develop systematic and timely responses to RFPs, RFAs;
2. Meet in advance with potential funders;
3. Build a working database of foundations to be contacted for research support;
4. Develop highly communicative proposal writing teams to facilitate intra-UNC cooperation and collaboration.
5. Identify new sources of funding and establish a long-term development plan; and
6. Strengthen the sustainability of IAAR with independent and extramural support by:
    a. Using UNC Centers and Institutes with strong donor bases, e.g. Center for the Study of the American South, as models;
    b. Identifying and establishing a pool of individuals, foundations and corporate donors;
    c. Working with development professionals to establish a tradition of giving; and
    d. Participating in UNC's emerging culture of entrepreneurship and innovation.

FY11 Goal #4:
Benefit from Internal and External Advisory Boards inputs to accomplish IAAR mission, goals and activities.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

Internal Advisory Board meeting was convened in the Fall semester and again in the Spring semester of FY11 to update the IAB on IAAR progress and receive their input on personnel issues, budget, funding initiatives, and collaborative efforts. External Advisory Board was contacted individually by Director and by mail on March 5, 2011 to inform them of IAAR progress, personnel changes, budget, funding initiatives, and collaborative efforts. Written and oral feedback was received by Director from External Advisory Board members.

FY12 Priorities:

Revitalize the membership of the Internal Advisory Board and expand the kinds of disciplinary expertise represented on the IAB. Identify and request specific tasks for the External Advisory Board members in support of the IAAR.

FY11 Goal #5:
Leverage the resources of IAAR to increase the capacity and quality of research at UNC-Chapel Hill.

End-of-year Progress Assessment:

During FY11, the IAAR has:

1. Initiated interdisciplinary research projects and actively recruiting faculty participants,
2. Established working groups surrounding specific issues to encourage faculty to generate interdisciplinary projects,
3. Used IAAR public events as a means to foster quality interdisciplinary dialogue,
4. Established a small grants funding program in support of faculty, graduate student, and undergraduate research. We initially devoted $5000 towards our small grants program.
5. Used IAAR financial resources to support various UNC academic department initiatives including support for the 40th Anniversary of the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, visiting lecturer support in the Department of Anthropology, visiting lecturer support in the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, support of the national African American History Conference in Raleigh, support of the Omega Conclave Health Workshop in Raleigh, and the director spent many hours in support of the minority hiring efforts of the Department of Political Science,

6. Modified Suites 309 and 305 to better facilitate our administrative and research needs, respectively, and provide common research space for IAAR fellows and interns,
7. Initiated and fostered a culture of graduate student and faculty engagement in IAAR that promotes cross-disciplinary faculty-student mentoring relationships and provides experience for student involvement in IAAR mission-oriented research. Towards this end, the IAAR supported a Graduate Student Research Mixer,
8. Initiated and supported the Humanities Script Writing Contest with a recent award of $1000 to the winner.

FY12 Priorities: Continue to structurally and functionally facilitate a strong and sustainable culture of interdisciplinary research at the IAAR to enhance the national and international standing of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Institute of African American Research

MISSION

The Institute of African American Research (IAAR) has, as its central mission, to advance scholarly identification, investigation, analysis, interpretation, evaluation, and dissemination of broad-based, interdisciplinary research on peoples of recent African descent through the Transatlantic African Diaspora, with a particular emphasis on Black Americans.

The IAAR is concerned with the history, biology, culture, social experiences, and thought of African Americans.

Three research units drive the IAAR's core mission:

- The Endogenous Knowledge Unit (EKU) is tasked with documentation of the indigenous African American (emic perspectives on a cross-section of topics.
- The Integrated Research Liaison Unit is expected to develop collaboration leading to the creation of sophisticated, nuanced models of the African American experience for incorporation in to scientific research.
- The Research Technology Unit will design computational science models and products that both depict and predict diverse aspects of African American life.

GOALS

The IAAR must become primarily a research-oriented unit, capable of generating and testing hypotheses, providing interdisciplinary approaches and insights to an array of issues affecting African Americans in particular.

The IAAR must develop authentic models of the African American experience that can be applied cross-disciplinarily.

The IAAR must become a campus-wide clearing house for research on African Americans and African American issues

The IAAR must become a national and international authority on African American research from multiple perspectives and intellectual orientations.

The IAAR must serve as a reliable site for scholarship on African Americans that can be broadly accessed and utilized.

ACTIVITIES

Developing research proposals and completing research projects that advance and expand inquiry in all dimensions of an enlarged and multidisciplinary field of African American Studies;

Integrating the scholarly contributions of both faculty and students across a wide array of disciplines into IAAR research, programming, and product development;

Mentoring junior scholars who will enter the field by maintaining various outlets for their work and by amassing information relevant to their further development;

Conceptualizing, documenting, designing, and executing topical, interdisciplinary symposia, conferences, summits, forum, and workshops with clear scientific objectives and scholarly end-product goals; and

Utilizing computational technology to assist in the depiction, analysis, and dissemination of research, and the creation of products and publications that facilitate, augment, and document the work of UNC-CH researchers.

From: ramses@unc.edu
Sent: Sunday, June 5, 2011 8:48 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RAMSeS: URGENT: Authorization Request - 11-4583

Proposal No.: 11-4583
Proposal Lead PI: Fatimah Jackson
Proposal Title:International Conference on the Genetics of the Peoples of Africa and the Transatlantic African Diaspora -- International Scholars Support

The above eIPF is being routed to you for approval because your department (African and Afro-American Studies) has been identified as an approving department. Please review the eIPF on RAMSeS and its attachments carefully, add any notes as you deem appropriate, and provide your electronic authorization so that it can be forwarded to OSR/SPO/OCT.

You also have the option of rejecting the eIPF if you notice a serious mistake in it. But doing so will require you to provide an explanatory note for your rejection and will also cause the eIPF to be returned to the administrative award department for re-routing.

From: Grossberg, Lawrence <docrock@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 10:42 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Automatic reply: PROPOSED CLOSING of Institute on African American Research at UNC!

I am away from my office until June 19, and will have only limited access to email. I will respond to your message, if necessary, when I return. Larry Grossberg

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 3:05 PM
To:
Cc: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Parking Permit - SIGNATURE NEEDED

Hi,
Your parking permit for 2011-12 requires that you sign a form allowing for a direct deduction from your paycheck each month. This form is supposed to be submitted tomorrow before 11am. If you are able to drop by the office and sign it, I would really appreciate it! The form is a ½ page sheet and is in your mailbox – please sign on the bottom left and return to my mailbox as soon as you can.

If you know that you absolutely won't be able to sign today/tomorrow, please let me know.

Thank you and I apologize for the short time frame, I didn't realize that it was due tomorrow morning!
Take care,
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of keericks@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 8:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: What will your pant size be in 15 years?

Are you a 32 now? If you are like most Americans, in 15 years you could be a size 38 or 40! The average American man gains 30 pounds between the ages of 18 and 35. Not only does this mean larger pants but a greater risk for developing significant health problems (high blood pressure, diabetes, high cholesterol, joint pain). No matter what your pant size is now or whether you are currently at a healthy weight or overweight, you may be at risk for becoming overweight or obese.

That doesn't have to happen to you. Sign up for SNAP!

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying novel approaches to preventing this weight gain. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a cutting edge research study that applies proven strategies to target weight gain prevention in young adults.

If you participate, you will receive:
* Expertise of weight control experts who will help you to adopt strategies for weight control.
* Personalized feedback on your blood pressure, percent body fat, cholesterol, glucose, insulin, and energy expenditure.
* Detailed analysis of your dietary intake and physical activity.

In addition, you can learn and adopt strategies that will help you to prevent weight gain and promote a healthier lifestyle for today and the future!

You may be eligible if you are:
--18 to 35 years old
--normal weight to slightly overweight (BMI 21-30)
--willing to participate in this important research study

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Go to www.snapstudy.org for more information and to find out if you may be eligible.

This study if funded by the National Institutes of Health.
The study has been reviewed and approved by the Public Health Nursing IRB (Study # 07-1783) 11/2/10

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no-reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 8:49 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Interim Leadership Appointed In Housekeeping Services

---

Deans, Directors, and Department Heads:

I am writing to inform you of a temporary staffing change. Effective June 6, Ms. Lea Holt will serve as Interim Director of Housekeeping. She currently is the Director of University Mail Services. As of Monday, Ms. Holt can be reached at 962-1440. Please feel free to contact her if you have questions about Housekeeping and the services we are providing to your unit.

While Ms. Holt is serving in the interim capacity in Housekeeping, Ms. Keith Moser will be managing Mail Services. Ms. Moser can be reached at 843-7019. During this interim period, please contact her if you have questions about Mail Services.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Elfland, Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Services

This email is sponsored by: Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Deadline Extended Gordon H. DeFriese Career Development in Aging Research Awards

---

The UNC Institute on Aging is pleased to announce that it is accepting nominations for the Gordon H. DeFriese Career Development in Aging Research Awards. These annual awards were established to recognize Dr. DeFriese's thirty-year distinguished career in the conduct and development of research to improve the quality of lives of older North Carolinians, and especially to his unwavering commitment to developing and supporting the careers of his colleagues. Three awards, one for junior faculty/ staff and two for doctoral students, will be given in the summer of 2011.

All nominees must have demonstrated evidence of research interests in, and contributions to, the field of aging that are related to any of the following areas: medical sociology, primary health care, rural health services, health service utilization behavior, dental care, medical self-care, health status measurement, cost effectiveness and cost benefit analysis of health policy and programs, and health promotion/disease prevention. All award recipients are expected to be involved in the activities of the UNC Institute on Aging by participating in research, education or service projects that are of interest. Thus, all nominees must submit their curriculum vitae, career development plans in aging, and how the award would be used.

Junior Faculty/ Staff Award: To be eligible for the junior faculty/staff award of $5,000, nominees must be employed full-time at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Faculty/ staff should also demonstrate investment in aging through scholarly contributions including a developing record of significant publications, research grants and teaching influence. It is also desirable that faculty/ staff nominees show evidence of contributions to professional organization or community groups that enhance the quality of life of older people in North Carolina or within the Southeast. Letters of support will be accepted from colleagues of faculty or staff nominees who are knowledgeable about the nominee's aging-related interests and activities.

Doctoral Student Award: To be eligible for the student award of $1,500, individuals must be enrolled as active, full-time doctoral students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, planning to take coursework or work on the dissertation during the 2011 academic year. Doctoral student nominees should demonstrate interest in aging as evidence by aging-related coursework, internships, participation in research projects and manuscript production. Letters of support will be accepted from faculty or field mentors of student nominees who are knowledgeable about the student's aging-related interests and activities.

The nomination form, with the nominee's curriculum vitae, career development plans in aging, statement on how the award would be used, and two letters of support, must be submitted to Sharon Bowers at the UNC Institute on Aging. DEADLINE EXTENDED TO 5 p.m. on THURSDAY, June 30, 2011. The application is available online at the Institute on Aging website, http://www.aging.unc.edu/funding/ghd/

This email is sponsored by: UNC Institute on Aging

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cablab@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: SMOKERS WANTED FOR STUDY

We are currently looking for cigarette smokers between the ages of 18 and 40 to participate in a study exploring the role of attention in nicotine addiction. Your participation would require you to come to our laboratory in Davie Hall on the University of North Carolina campus and complete attention-related tasks on the computer for about 1 hour. For your participation, you will be compensated with $10/hour.

If you think you may be interested in participating AND ARE NOT CURRENTLY TAKING PSYCHOACTIVE MEDICATIONS please send an e-mail to cablab@unc.edu and include the following information:

1. Name
2. Are you a smoker?
3. If yes, Average number of cigarettes smoked/day
If no, have you ever smoked on a regular basis
4. E-mail address
5. Times which are generally best for you to participate

Thank you,
Dr. Vicki W. Chanon
Dept. of Psychology

This study titled "Smoking, Familiarity, and Attention" has been approved by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study #07-1639; approved 10/01/2010).

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 9:23 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: subjects needed: personal laptop/computer use study

---

Do you own a personal computer/laptop? Do you keep items on your computer such as digital photos, digital music, personal writing, personal files, etc.? Do you have social media accounts, such as Facebook, etc.?
I am conducting a research study to learn how people relate to digital items on their computers or in their webspace, at different ages. I am looking for men and women in the following age ranges participate in an interview about digital item on their computer OR a sorting exercise about digital items:

Age range 1: 18 years - 24 years*
Age range 2: 38 years - 47 years*
Age range 3: 58 years - 67 years*

If you are interested in participating, please take the 5 minute pre-screen survey (link below). An equal number of men and women are sought for this study, but men in all age ranges are particularly needed.
https://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_1Sn7ls9AcTKz0Rm

Interview participants and sorting exercise participants will each receive a $10 incentive.

The interview will take place in Manning Hall on the UNC campus or at the Chapel Hill Public Library. The sorting exercise will take place at a public location (library, cafi, etc.) agreed upon by the subject and researcher.

*Students, faculty and staff associated with the School of Information and Library Science are not eligible to participate in the study.

Thank you!

Amber L. Cushing
Doctoral Candidate
School of Information and Library Science
UNC-Chapel Hill

IRB Study # 11-0759
approved by UNC Behavioral IRB on 4/26/2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of david_zajac@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 9:43 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Toddlers needed for speech research study

---

The UNC Craniofacial Center is conducting a research study on infant vocalizations following cleft palate repair. We are currently seeking toddlers without cleft lip or palate to serve as a comparison group.

To be eligible for the study, toddlers must:
- be between 22 and 25 months of age
- be learning English as a first language
- not have developmental delays
- not have known syndromes
- not have known sensory-neural hearing loss
- pass a screening procedure

The study will occur at the UNC Craniofacial Center. If your toddler passes the screening, we will video tape your child, record his/her vocalizations, and monitor his/her nasal breathing using a simple technique. The entire visit will take approximately 60 minutes. We will compensate you $25.

To find out more information about the study, please call 966-1362 or email david_zajac@dentistry.unc.edu

Study approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (Study # 07-0068), 12/15/10

This email is sponsored by: Craniofacial Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Lilian Jacobs <lilian.jacobs@uct.ac.za>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 7:07 AM
To:
Subject: Martin West Exhibition
Attach: martinwestgeneral 26 May VB.JPG

Dear All,

You are cordially invited to the Martin West Exhibition.

Attached is the invitation file for more details.

Thanks so much

Best

Claire

Claire McNulty
Assistant Curator
Visual Archive
UCT Library

Phone : 021 650 2089
Fax : 021 650 2965

###

UNIVERSITY OF CAPE TOWN

This e-mail is subject to the UCT ICT policies and e-mail disclaimer published on our website at http://www.uct.ac.za/about/policies/emaildisclaimer/ or obtainable from +27 21 650 9111. This e-mail is intended only for the person(s) to whom it is addressed. If the e-mail has reached you in error, please notify the author. If you are not the intended recipient of the e-mail you may not use, disclose, copy, redirect or print the content. If this e-mail is not related to the business of UCT it is sent by the sender in the sender's individual capacity.

###

AMABANDLA AMA-AFRIKA

The Independent African Churches of Soweto 1969 -71

by

Martin West

at the Centre for African Studies Gallery
Harry Oppenheimer Building, UCT

08 June 2011 - 03 August 2011

Curated by Paul Weinberg

Enquiries 021 650 2089

UCT LIBRARIES

AMABANDLA AMA-AFRIKA

The Independent African Churches of Soweto 1969 - 71

An exhibition of photographs

From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso <villalon@ufl.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 10:09 AM

To: NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>

Cc: Goldman, Abraham C <agoldmn@ufl.edu>; Akinyemi, Ikeade B <ikeade@ufl.edu>; Greene, Corinna <cgreene@ufl.edu>; Akinyemi, Akintunde <akinyemi@ufl.edu>; Anderson, Dorothy L <doander@ufl.edu>; BWENGE, CHARLES MUTTABAZI <cbwenge@ufl.edu>

Subject: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI

Attach: ATT00001.c

Dear Africa NRC colleagues,

I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.

As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.

As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion (if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.

Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.

Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.

Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.

I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.

If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.

With best wishes to all in this tough process.

Leo

--
Leonardo A. Villalón
Director, Center for African Studies
The University of Florida
PO Box 115560
427 Grinter Hall
Gainesville, FL 32611-5560

Tel: 352-392-2183
Fax: 352-392-2435

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of James Pritchett <pritch41@msu.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 10:41 AM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Cc: Goldman, Abraham C <agoldmn@ufl.edu>; Akinyemi, Ikeade B <ikeade@ufl.edu>; Greene, Corinna <cgreene@ufl.edu>; Akinyemi, Akintunde <akinyemi@ufl.edu>; Anderson, Dorothy L <doander@ufl.edu>; BWENGE, CHARLES MUTTABAZI <cbwenge@ufl.edu>
Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
Attach: ATT00001.c

Thanks Leo,

Your experiences related to organizing SCALI 2011 are indeed helpful. I wholeheartedly endorse your suggestion to simply eliminate support for SCALI. Are there any other suggestions about collaborative programs floating around?

James

James A. Pritchett
Director, African Studies
Professor of Anthropology
African Studies Center
Michigan State University
100 International Center
East Lansing, MI 48824

On 6/7/11 10:08 AM, "Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso" <villalon@ufl.edu> wrote:

> Dear Africa NRC colleagues,
>
> I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.
>
> As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.
>
> As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion (if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.
>
> Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.

Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.

Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.

I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.

If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.

With best wishes to all in this tough process.

Leo

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: africa-nrc-bounces+jen321=email.unc.edu@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 10:54 AM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
Attach: ATT00001.c

Dear Friends:
UNC shares the views on SCALI. Can someone reflect for the group what the consequences might be for elimination of ALMA and CAMP contributions for this coming year? Thanks. Onward and Upward. Barbara

On 6/7/2011 10:40 AM, James Pritchett wrote:

> Thanks Leo,
>
> Your experiences related to organizing SCALI 2011 are indeed helpful. I wholeheartedly endorse your suggestion to simply eliminate support for SCALI. Are there any other suggestions about collaborative programs floating around?
>
> James
>
> James A. Pritchett
> Director, African Studies
> Professor of Anthropology
> African Studies Center
> Michigan State University
> 100 International Center
> East Lansing, MI 48824
>
> On 6/7/11 10:08 AM, "Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso" <villalon@ufl.edu> wrote:
>
>> Dear Africa NRC colleagues,
>>
>> I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.
>>
>> As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.
>>
>> As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion (if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.
>>
>> Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.

Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.

Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.

I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.

If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.

With best wishes to all in this tough process.

Leo

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
African Studies Center, CB#7582
3027 FedEx Global Education Center
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 962-1406 office
(919) 843-2102 fax
b_anderson@unc.edu
www.global.unc.edu/africa

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 12:01 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] 6/9 and 6/10

Hi All,

I will be out of the office Thursday and Friday of this week. I will be available all of today and tomorrow until 6pm if you need anything. Agatha will be in between 2pm and 5pm on Thursday and Haeran will be in the office Friday from 8:00am to 3:00pm. They will not be able to help with student related questions but the office will be open during this time if you need to get in to use the copier or check your mail. If there is an emergency you can email Tim at tjm1@email.unc.edu

Thanks!
Travis

****
Travis Gore
Student Services Manager
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB# 3395
p 919.966.5496

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29286493

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29286493-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of TImothy Longman <longman@bu.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 12:08 PM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
Attach: ATT00001.c

Thanks for the perspective Leo. Given the frustration with SCALI that you, James Pritchett, and others have expressed, it seems a wise decision. I am wondering, however, whether those of us who are able want to continue the $1,000 contribution to the work of the committee to come up with a more concrete plan for the future.

TImothy Longman
Director, African Studies Center
Boston University

On Jun 7, 2011, at 10:08 AM, Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso wrote:

> Dear Africa NRC colleagues,
>
> I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.
>
> As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.
>
> As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion (if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.
>
> Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.
>
> Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.
>
> Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.
>
> I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.
>
> If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.

With best wishes to all in this tough process.

Leo

--
Leonardo A. Villalón
Director, Center for African Studies
The University of Florida
PO Box 115560
427 Grinter Hall
Gainesville, FL 32611-5560

Tel: 352-392-2183
Fax: 352-392-2435

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 12:30 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

Sorry.
This person moved or deleted this image.

photobucket

The Ackland is Participating in the BLUE STAR MUSEUMS Initiative

As part of the Blue Star Museums program, the Ackland Art Museum is offering a free Museum membership at the Household level to all active military personnel now through Labor Day 2011.

Active duty military include Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, and active duty National Guard and active duty Reserve members. The free membership benefit is available at the Ackland Art Museum or the nearby Ackland Museum Store.

Typically, Blue Star Museums – in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, and more than 1,300 museums across America – offer free admission to all active duty military personnel and their families from Memorial Day through Labor Day 2011. Admission to the Ackland Art Museum is always free, but the Ackland is pleased to offer the full benefits of membership to our military families. A Household membership to the Ackland includes free or reduced admission to all Museum paid programming, a 10% discount at the Ackland Museum Store, and an invitation to the annual Members Only Season Preview.

The complete list of participating museums is available at www.arts.gov/bluestarmuseums.

Come to the Ackland Museum Store on the 2nd Friday ArtWalk!

June 10, 6:00 - 9:00 PM

"Nothing is Impossible," the premier exhibition in the Ackland Museum Store's gallery space, features works by seven North Carolina artists who have a connection to Penland School of Crafts, whether as a teacher, student, or resident. The show features work by Margaret Couch Cogswell (book arts, mixed media), Celia Gray (encaustic paintings), Bryant Holsenbeck (environmental art), Ann Marie Kennedy (paper art, installation), Evan Lightner (furniture), Gretchen McLaren (metal), and Sylvie Rosenthal (woodwork, sculpture).

All proceeds from the Ackland Museum Store support the Ackland Art Museum's exhibition and education programs.

Drawing in the Galleries

Saturday, June 11

10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Every month, Amanda Hughes, director of external affairs at the Ackland, meets with friends of the Museum who have an interest in practicing and strengthening their drawing skills. Participants have the opportunity to uncover the challenges the original artists faced and experience the pleasure of sharing in the creative process. Each session incorporates a short discussion on a work of art.

Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

Free

Drawing for Kids

Saturday, June 11, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

This program invites 9- to 12-year olds to look at artists' techniques and tricks in the Ackland's permanent collections and special exhibitions. Participants explore selected works in the Museum's collection and identify skills that the artist used to make them. Skilled gallery teachers demonstrate and teach students those skills, which they can apply in their own art. A mix of drawing from works on display and creating one's own original works is offered in each session. Materials provided.

Free to members | $5 non-members.

Registration required and limited - to register, call 919.962.0479

NC-RTP Chinese Music Instrument Ensemble in Concert

Thursday, June 9, 6:30 - 7:30 PM

Chapman Hall 211, UNC-Chapel Hill

Sponsored by UNC Asian Culture Center

Founded in 2002, NC-RTP Chinese Music Instrument Ensemble has more than 16 musicians, including several well-known professional artists. The group is committed to promoting Chinese culture and enriching the life of the community through performances and classes of traditional Chinese music.

Contact: Xiaochun Lu, biomusic99@gmail.com, 269.779.2527

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

and many more!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-34013969.8ea54e9e6cbb8907d549298a1f92614a@listserv.unc.edu

From: Nicole Fouche <nicole.fouche@triangleglobalhealth.org>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 12:37 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INVITATION: TGHC Breakfast discussion (June 23) -L3C Legislation: Allowing Foundations to Invest For-Profit Global Health

---

You are invited to the TGHC Monthly Breakfast Discussion: L3C Legislation: Allowing Foundations to Invest For-Profit Global Health

Date: Thursday, June 23, 2010
Time: 7.30. Soft stop at 8.30 am, hard stop at 9 am
Location: Congressional conference room, NC Biotechnology Center
15 TW Alexander Drive, Research Triangle Park, NC
(http://www.ncbiotech.org/about-us/regional-offices/directions)
Call-in option: Toll free dial-in number: 1-800-848-2116, access code 27705#.
Cost: TGHC will cover expenses for members (including students at member universities and individuals who are employees of member organizations);
$10.00 charge for non-members
Please RSVP by close-of-business Friday, May 20 via the following link.

THIS MONTH'S TOPIC: L3C Legislation: Allowing Foundations to Invest For-Profit Global Health

- This is new legislation in North Carolina that has already been adopted by ~8 other States.

- This legislation allows the creation of a new type of legal entity known as the "low-profit limited liability company" or L3C.

- It is a vehicle for private foundations to invest in hybrid for-profit/nonprofit projects. The key word is "invest" rather than "donate to", which means this is a new vehicle that would allow foundations to potentially earn revenue off of their contributions towards charitable purposes, even if those charitable purposes are being conducted by for-profit entities.

- Thus this opens up a new vehicle for foundations to engage the private sector without having to channel funds through a 3rd-party non-profit organization (a significant saving on every dollar contributed).

- Considering the importance of both encouraging the private sector to engage in global health and also the interest that foundations have in projects/programs that are sustainable and affordable, we are eager to get the word out…especially the largest investors in global health.

Facilitators: John Griffin, Financial Controller at SCYNEXIS, and John Russell, Partner, K&L Gates LLP

The TGHC breakfast forums are scheduled to occur on the fourth Thursday of each month except for November and December, when they occur on the third Thursday of the month.

Thank you for your participation in the Triangle Global Health Consortium.

This message was sent to JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU from:

Triangle Global Health Consortium | 111 Orlando Place | Chapel Hill, NC 27516

Manage Your Subscription | Send To a Friend

Email Marketing by iContact try it free

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbabcock@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 7, 2011 8:17 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: employee summer wellness workshops

Announcing a FREE summer wellness series for all university employees.
Taking place throughout the summer, topics covered include exercise motivation, workouts on the go, and beginning bicycling and running.
For more information, see
http://campusrec.unc.edu/employee-only-summer-wellness-workshops

This email is sponsored by: campus recreation

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Mind Playing Tricks on You?-Research Opportunity

---

The UNC Department of Psychiatry is conducting a research study to find out more about mental illness. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 12-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Program. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Do you have a family member with a psychotic illness such as schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder and are having recent troubles with school, work, or friends?

Visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

The Project is funded by the National Institute of Mental Health

08-1448
November 12, 2009
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects
The BioMedical IRB
University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of scott_wallace@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 8, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Adults Needed for MRI study

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

The Autism Research Program invites you to participate as a volunteer in a research study involving parents of children with autism and parents of typically developing children to see how areas of their brain react when they are doing tasks related to processing social information. We are interested in looking at the brain function of these parents as they perform tasks involving perception of faces and scenes with emotional content. We will be looking at areas of the brain that are thought to be involved with the processing of social cognition. We will be using a scanning device called a Magnetic Resonance Imaging Scanner, or an MRI scanner, to look at brain functioning.

We are currently looking for parents of typically developing children who are less than 56 years old to help us with this study. Compensation for this study is $10 an hour up to $100 for participating in the initial screening and assessment portion of the study and then $25 an hour for participating in the MRI scans. Participation takes between 10-12 hours over 2-3 sessions.

If you are interested in participating in this study you may contact us by either emailing one of the contacts listed below, or calling us toll-free at 1-800-793-5715 and ask about the "Social Cognition and MRI study". We will then provide further details about the project. No one is expected to pay for travel or other expenses incurred during participation in this study.

We thank you in advance for your interest in this important project. If you want to pass this information along to others who may qualify for this research study, please do so.

Please contact:
Scott Wallace
scott_wallace@med.unc.edu
1-800-793-5715

UNC IRB #05-2576
Approval Date: 01/21/11
Expiration of Approval: 01/20/12

This email is sponsored by: UNC Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 9, 2011 8:55 AM
To: All Deans, Directors, and Department Heads in the College of Arts & Sciences <asddd@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Administrative Managers <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asddd] FW: FORMAL NOTICE: Mail List Review for State Budget Office

---

The enclosed is being sent on behalf of UNC Publication Services to all deans, directors and department/curriculum chairs in the College, with a copy to administrative managers. Any questions should be directed to vprice@email.unc.edu. Responses due June 22.

-----Original Message-----
From: nobody@notify.unc.edu [mailto:nobody@notify.unc.edu] On Behalf Of vprice@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 01, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Gil, Karen M
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Mail List Review for State Budget Office

Deans, Directors and Department Contacts,

North Carolina General Statute 143-169.1 states that public document mailing lists must be reviewed, updated and corrected during each fiscal year. Each list should include only persons or organizations who have requested (or who have renewed their request) to be included on the list, or who receive the document by reason of their official duties (e.g., the State Librarian). This law requires the Chancellor to report the University's compliance to the state budget office, and to certify that mailing lists subject to GS 143-169.1 have been updated since July 2010.

 Please send your response to the query below to vprice@email.unc.edu by June 22, 2011. When you reply, enter your department, school or division name in the subject line. *****

Mailing lists subject to North Carolina General Statute 143-169.1 have very narrow qualifying conditions. Please follow the process below in sequential order to determine if your mailing list qualifies.

1. This law applies only to paper, not electronic, publications that were printed in quantities of 200 or more and mailed all at once. If none of your publications meet these criteria, please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

For publications that do meet the criteria in #1, please ask yourself:

2. Were 200 or more printed, paper copies mailed all at once to any of the following groups:
Alumni?
Paying subscribers?
Enrolled students?
Faculty/staff?
Foundation or other University-related group members?
Other educational institutions and organizations?
Governmental agencies?
Private foundations?
Those billed for purchases of goods or services?
Those on the mailing list by express provisions of statute, or by express provision of judicial order?

If your answer to ANY portion of this question was "yes," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

If your answers to #2 were all "no," please ask yourself:

3. Was the publication published with state-appropriated funds?

If your answer to #3 was "no," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

If your answer to #3 was "yes," please ask yourself:

4. Was it issued by an officer of a school, department or other University unit (not including foundations and privately incorporated or non-University entities)?

If your answer to #4 was "no," please skip to the bottom of this message and fill in your contact information.

IF YOUR ANSWER WAS "YES," YOUR MAILING LIST IS SUBJECT TO NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL STATUTE 143-169.1. Go to http://www.unc.edu/depts/pubserv/mailing_list_report.html, download and fill out the form electronically, and reply to this email with the form as an attachment to: vprice@email.unc.edu. You may stop here.

_____OUR UNIT HAS NO MAILING LISTS THAT ARE SUBJECT TO NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL STATUTE 143-169.1.

Signed: (Name) _____ (Telephone number) _____

(Name of your school, department, or division) _____

Are you responding for the (a) entire school, (b) department, or (c) division?

Please remember to send your responses to vprice@email.unc.edu by June 22, 2011. Thank you for your assistance.

Valerie Price, Editor
UNC Publications Services
Office of University Relations

This email is sponsored by: UNC Publications Services

You are currently subscribed to asddd axsd: JEN321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29298099-35586857.320bb86fbea40984156cda49090a0121@listserv.unc.edu

From: Buell, Agatha <abuell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 9, 2011 9:30 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Grades Due - Summer Session I Attach: SSI grade memo.doc

Dear All,
As with every semester, your grades for SSI are due (in ConnectCarolina) no later than 72 hours after your exam. This time frame means that almost ALL grades are due no later than 5pm next Friday, June 17th – and many are due prior to that.

If you have questions about using the ConnectCarolina system, Travis will be available all of next week, however you are responsible for entering and approving your own grades.

The attached memo has additional information that is useful, so please check it out.
Thanks!
Agatha

****
Agatha Buell
Business Officer

Department of Public Policy
217 Abernethy Hall, CB #3435

Department of African & Afro-American Studies
109 Battle Hall, CB #3395

University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
p. 919.962.2788
f. 919.962.5824

From: Senora DeCosta [mailto:senora@unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, June 08, 2011 5:28 PM
To: Buell, Agatha; Tavernise, Adriana E; Reynolds, Andrew S; Warren, Angeline; Rainey, Arlene; Barnes, Ash; McCullen, Ashley D; Mckinney, Ashley; Davis, Barbara Taylor; Riefkohl Muniz, Beatriz S; Haven, Ben; Sauer, Beth H; Futrell, Betty S; Bethea, Brenda S; Brock, Brenda W; Marlow, Cara F; Carolyn Fahey; Turner, Carolyn L; Rogers, Charlotte H; Cindy Reilly; Winston, Mary C; Stroud, Daisette Ford; Keck, Dama P; Holt, Deannie B; Simmons-Cahan, Deborah A; Harris, Deborah J; Denise Hargis; Kenney, Denise E; Flannery, Dixie; Batts, Donnyell; Dorothy Poteat; Ellen Rozan; Montgomery, Emily; Gina Werner; Toscher, Hope; Diana, Ina Bobrow; Gorman, Jacquelene W; Janice Kang; Warfford, Janice C; Carter, Janis C; Clemmons, Jason; Hensley, Jean R; Boomhower, Jeremy D.; Jerry M. Spiller; Jessica Russell; Smith, Jessica; Boxill, Jeanette M; Lee, Joanne O.; Dye, Jodi; Duncan, Heather M; Karla McClure
Subject: Summer Session I Grades

Dear Grading Administrator,

The grading memo for Summer Session I to teaching faculty is attached. I ask each of you to forward it to your teaching faculty, as it contains the information that should help them to successfully enter their grades. Please take the time to read the memo yourself; many of you are also entering grades. There is a link referenced in the memo to our grading training guide.

Summer Session I Rosters will be available on-line Monday, June 13, 2011. A reminder – for grading questions and concerns, you may reach us at grades@unc.edu.

As always, I thank you for your help, which is greatly appreciated. I am available for any assistance you may need.

All the best,

Senora

--
****
Senora DeCosta
Assistant University Registrar
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB# 2100, SASB North
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2100
Phone: 919 962-9859
Fax: 919 962-3349
E-mail: senora@unc.edu
****

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29298328

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29298328-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY
of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

OFFICE OF THE UNIVERSITY REGISTRAR

SASB NORTH
450 RIDGE ROAD, SUITE 3100
CAMPUS BOX 2100
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-2100 T 919.962.3954
http://regweb.unc.edu F 919.962.6661

MEMORANDUM

TO: All Teaching Faculty

FROM: Senora DeCosta, Assistant University Registrar

RE: Summer Session I Grades

DATE: June 10, 2011

Our University is now entering another electronic grading period. The purpose of this communication is to provide you with information that is usually sent at this time as it pertains to our new system.

Summer Session I Rosters will be available on-line Monday, June 13, 2011.

Grades should be entered no later than 72 hours after the scheduled time of the final examination. To facilitate the timely reporting of grades, please follow this schedule for entering and approving your grades:

- Exams scheduled on Monday, June 13 are due by 5:00 PM on Thursday, June 16.
- Exams scheduled on Tuesday, June 14 are due by 5:00 PM on Friday, June 17.

Courses that do not have final examinations are due by 5:00 PM on Monday, June 13.

You may find our training document on grading useful:
http://regweb.unc.edu/train/docs/grades/facgrades.pdf

The 72 hour deadline for returning Grade Reports is critical. We must be able to reliably determine academic eligibility information to report to School Deans. This enables them to assess whether or not a student may continue enrollment for the next term.

Submitting Grades

- Every registered student (those that appear on your grade roster) must have an appropriate grade designation (no blanks). If a student did not show up for the final examination or has not been attending classes, a grade of "AB" or "FA" must be assigned. Use a Post-Semester Registration/Drop/Add Form to remove or add a student to a course after the Official Grade Rosters have been generated for the semester.

- The beauty of an electronic grading system is that the instructor of record can enter grades by computer/internet from anywhere in the world. By doing so, his/her digital signature is recorded as having assigned the grades. The University prefers the "signature" of the instructor of record.

When Assigning Grades

- The Report for Assignment of Temporary Grade of AB or IN to Undergraduates can be found online at http://regweb.unc.edu/resources/ab_report_form.pdf. New: you may use the Comment Section of the IN/AB reporting form should you wish to explain the assignment of a "FA" grade.

- Refer to Registrar Procedures Memorandum (RPM) No. 24 for University grading policies and grade definitions (http://regweb.unc.edu/resources/rpm24.php).

- Even if you know an undergraduate student has elected to take your course under the PS/D+/D/F option, you must assign an appropriate letter grade for their performance. The computerized grade table will convert grades of "C-" or better to "PS."

- Only the appropriate grades for a student will appear in the drop down selection.

  The "FA" grade is assigned when an undergraduate student did not attend the final examination and could not pass the course regardless of performance on the exam. This would be appropriate for an undergraduate student that never attended the course or has excessive absences in the course, as well as missing the exam. You may use the Comment Section of the IN/AB reporting form should you wish to explain the assignment of a "FA" grade.

  The "AB" grade is assigned when a student did not attend the final examination and there is the possibility that the student could pass the course if the exam was taken. The "AB" is computed as an "F" grade in an undergraduate student's GPA. For undergraduate students, an "AB" grade is changed automatically to an "F*" if the grade is not cleared by the end of the next regular semester. For graduate students, an "AB" will convert to an "F*" (administratively assigned grade) if the grade is not cleared within one year from the original examination.

  The "IN" grade is assigned when a student took the final examination but did not complete some other course requirement. The student could pass the course if the assignment was completed. The "IN" is computed as an "F" grade in an undergraduate student's GPA. For undergraduate students, an "IN" is changed automatically to an "F*" if the grade is not cleared by eight weeks into the next regular semester. For graduate students, an "IN" will convert to an "F*" (administratively assigned grade) if the grade is not cleared within one year from the original examination.

  The "SP" grade is assigned for an undergraduate student participating in the first course(s) of an approved departmental Undergraduate Honors Program. The Honors Program usually runs for the duration of at least two semesters (Junior and/or Senior Honors/Research). A final permanent grade is not assigned until completion of the second and/or final course. When the final permanent grade is assigned for an Honors Program, any previously assigned grade(s) of "SP" must be changed to the appropriate permanent letter grade by an Official Grade Change Form.

Should you need to assign a “NG” grade for a judicial action, please contact the Registrar’s Office, Records Section (962-0495). If you were entering grades when you reached the need to assign a “NG”, be sure to save the grade roster before you call.

Note: "IN" and "AB" are temporary grades that can be reported on the Official Grade Rosters or on an Official Grade Change Form. Instructors can change temporary grades to permanent grades by completing the Official Grade Change Form within the specified deadlines. Once a grade has been changed to an "F*", a dean's signature is also required on the Official Grade Change Form.

Tips when entering and approving grades

- SAVE SAVE SAVE - when ready to approve grades, press approve firmly then press save firmly to submit grades for posting.

- For assistance/ concerns/ questions email grades@unc.edu.

cc: All OUR Staff

From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 9, 2011 8:24 PM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI

Hi, I am afraid that ours does not look much better with much of our budget absorbed by salary. At this point our draft still includes ASA Teachers Workshop (300) and African Book Award (300).

Mike

Michael Lambert, Ph.D.
Director, African Studies Center
Associate Professor of African Studies and Anthropology
Director of Undergraduate Studies for African Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box 7582
3026 FedEx Global Education Center
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582

On Jun 9, 2011, at 6:54 PM, "Myers, Garth A" <gmyers@ku.edu> wrote:

> Hi all,
> Kansas is unfortunately not really in a position to fund any of these collaborative endeavors. We have a $40,000 contribution to our new faculty hire seeded into the grant, plus fringe, plus a 50% outreach position and its fringe, and then the IDC at 8% so the actual balance we have left, with a grant budget total of $107,000 for this coming year, is about $20,000 for everything we are supposed to do. We are not done with the budget, but there is so little money for anything that I anticipate 0's across the board on the items below.
> Garth
> _____
> From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu [africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu] on behalf of Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso [villalon@ufl.edu]
> Sent: Thursday, June 09, 2011 4:50 PM
> To: NRC Africa list
> Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
>
> Dear all,
>
> Florida is also more or less on the same page. We anticipate:
>
> ASA Teachers Workshop $300 $300
> Africana Book Award $300 $300
> National Social Studies Mtg $350 zero
> WARA $3,000 $1500
> CAMP $2000 zero
>
> But we also planned to cut the SCALI assessment:
> SCALI Assessment $1,000 $zero
>
> Is there some compelling reason to keep it since SCALI is (I think now clearly) defunct? I seem to recall some idea of having a committee to consider alternatives, but that would seem to be hypothetical at this point…
>
> Best to all,
>
> Leo
>
>
> --
> Leonardo A. Villalón

> Director, Center for African Studies
> The University of Florida
> PO Box 115560
> 427 Grinter Hall
> Gainesville, FL 32611-5560
>
> Tel: 352-392-2183
> Fax: 352-392-2435
>
> From: Martha <martha@berkeley.edu<mailto:martha@berkeley.edu>>
> Reply-To: NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu<mailto:africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>>
> Date: Thu, 9 Jun 2011 14:22:25 -0700
> To: NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu<mailto:africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>>
> Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
>
> We haven't finalized things yet at UC Berkeley, but this is what we are considering:
>
> ASA Teachers Workshop $300 $300
> Africana Book Award $300 $300
> Africana Librarians (Coop Project) $2,000 $1,000
> WARA $1,000 $750
> CAMP (we had this as the cooperative library project line item above)
> National Social Studies Mtg $350 zero
> SCALI Assessment $1,000 $1,000
>
> We also had this:
>
> NALRC assessment tools and workshops $4000 $2000
>
>
> On 6/9/2011 1:30 PM, James Delehanty wrote:
> Dear James and all,
>
> Everything is tentative at the moment, of course. We're willing to modify our revisions depending on what other Africa centers are doing. But our revised budget as it now stands zeroes out SCALI and modifes the other collaborative (cross-NRC) project funding as follows (the tentative Wisconsin number is the second one; listed is the new budgeted amount, not the savings):
>
>
> ASA Teachers Workshop $300 $300
> Africana Book Award 350 $300
> Africana Librarians 2,000 $1,000
> WARA 3,000 $1,000
> CAMP 2,000 Not budgeted at Wisconsin.
> National Social Studies Mtg 500 zero
> SCALI Assessment 1,000 $1,000
>
> Jim D.
>
> On 6/9/2011 2:54 PM, James Pritchett wrote:
> Dear Colleagues
>
> I would appreciate hearing your feelings, or the actions you have decided to take with regard to the continuation or non-continuation of the African Title VI collaborative projects (noting that we have already decided to eliminate the SCALI contribution):
>
> ASA Teachers Workshop $300
> Africana Book Award 350
> Africana Librarians 2,000
> WARA 3,000
> CAMP 2,000
> National Social Studies Mtg 500
> SCALI Assessment 1,000
>
>
>
>

>
> James A. Pritchett
> Director, African Studies
> Professor of Anthropology
> African Studies Center
> Michigan State University
> 100 International Center
> East Lansing, MI 48824
>
>
>
> On 6/7/11 12:07 PM, "TImothy Longman" <longman@bu.edu<UrlBlockedError.aspx>> wrote:
>
> Thanks for the perspective Leo. Given the frustration with SCALI that you, James Pritchett, and others have expressed, it seems a wise decision. I am wondering, however, whether those of us who are able want to continue the $1,000 contribution to the work of the committee to come up with a more concrete plan for the future.
>
>
> TImothy Longman
> Director, African Studies Center
> Boston University
>
>
> On Jun 7, 2011, at 10:08 AM, Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso wrote:
>
>
>
>
> Dear Africa NRC colleagues,
>
>
>
>
> I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.
>
>
>
>
> As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.
>
>
>
>
> As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion (if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.
>
>
>
>
>
> Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.
>
>
>
>
> Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.
>
>

>
>
>
> Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.
>
>
>
>
> I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.
>
>
>
>
> If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.
>
>
>
>
> With best wishes to all in this tough process.
>
>
>
>
> Leo
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> _____
> This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
> Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu<mailto:Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu>
> To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
> https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc
>
>
> _____
> This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
> Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu<mailto:Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu>
> To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
> https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc
>
> --
> _____
> Martha Saavedra, PhD | Associate Director | Center for African Studies
> 356 Stephens Hall | University of California | Berkeley, CA 94720-2314
> martha@berkeley.edu<mailto:martha@berkeley.edu> | tel 510.642.8338<tel:510.642.8338> | fax 510.642.0721<tel:510.642.0721>
> http://africa.berkeley.edu/ http://UnderstandingSudan.org/<http://understandingsudan.org/> http://africareportingproject.org/
> _____ This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list: Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu<mailto:Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu> To manage your subscription, visit this web page: https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc
>
> _____
> This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
> Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
> To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
> https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 9, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Stressed Lately? Mindfulness Can Make a Difference!

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, and difficult interactions with others?
Do you want to learn how to slow down and enjoy your life?

Mindfulness can make a difference!

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down and set priorities while remaining calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).
For detailed information about our basic foundation courses, visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program/basic-foundation-course-mindfulness-based-stress-reduction.

UPCOMING SUMMER 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Thursday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning July 14 (required orientation)
through September 8, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at the Tate-Turner-
Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

For information about upcoming course schedules, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation, visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program. To register for these mindfulness courses, download and complete the registration form at the link above as well.

Questions? Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: africa-nrc-bounces+jen321=email.unc.edu@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Howard, Steve <howard@ohio.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2011 8:28 AM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject: RE: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI
Attach: ATT00001.c

Tim and colleagues, I am sure we all did start with different numbers on collaborative projects. Our total for these items will probably be in the $2000 range.

Steve Howard
Director, African Studies and Director, Graduate Studies, Center for International Studies, Professor, Media Arts and Studies
Ohio University
www.african.ohio.edu

From: africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu [mailto:africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu] On Behalf Of TImothy Longman
Sent: Thursday, June 09, 2011 7:56 PM
To: africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject: Re: [Africa NRC] NRC budgets and SCALI

Looking at the responses, I am wondering whether the centers did not begin with different amounts.

Here is what I had been thinking for BU:

ASA Teachers Workshop $250
Africana Book Award $250
NCSS Mtg $275
Africana Librarians $1,100
WARA/ALMA $1,100
SCALI Assessment $1,000

TImothy Longman
Director, African Studies Center
Boston University

On Jun 9, 2011, at 3:54 PM, James Pritchett wrote:

Dear Colleagues

I would appreciate hearing your feelings, or the actions you have decided to take with regard to the continuation or non-continuation of the African Title VI collaborative projects (noting that we have already decided to eliminate the SCALI contribution):

ASA Teachers Workshop	$300
Africana Book Award	350
Africana Librarians	2,000
WARA	3,000

CAMP	2,000
National Social Studies Mtg	500
SCALI Assessment	1,000

James A. Pritchett
Director, African Studies
Professor of Anthropology
African Studies Center
Michigan State University
100 International Center
East Lansing, MI 48824

On 6/7/11 12:07 PM, "TImothy Longman" <longman@bu.edu> wrote:

Thanks for the perspective Leo. Given the frustration with SCALI that you, James Pritchett, and others have expressed, it seems a wise decision. I am wondering, however, whether those of us who are able want to continue the $1,000 contribution to the work of the committee to come up with a more concrete plan for the future.

TImothy Longman
Director, African Studies Center
Boston University

On Jun 7, 2011, at 10:08 AM, Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso wrote:

Dear Africa NRC colleagues,

I assume that you have also all received the announcement this morning of the cuts to NRC, at 46.53%.

As we all undertake the painful issues of where to make cuts for next year, I would like to make a proposal for us all to implement: to eliminate SCALI completely for 2012, and presumably for the foreseeable future.

As many of you are no doubt aware, the committee we set in place to evaluate SCALI has already come to the conclusion

(if I may paraphrase what I understand) that SCALI was no longer tenable/worthwhile in its current form at least.

Our experience over the course of this year in planning for SCALI 2011 confirms this conclusion. Despite a huge effort on our part to start early, streamline the process, and learn from previous iterations, it has and continues to take hundreds of person-hours of work. And the enrollments are, frankly, pitiful: except for Swahili all other language enrollments are in the single digits, many with only one or two students. If we exclude Swahili and Yoruba (9 students)--for which we have received a supplemental grant from Boren, and for which they are thus sending additional students—there are currently a grand total of 33 students enrolled in 15 different sections: so just over 2 students per section on average. There are five sections of only one student and five sections of only two.

Until the last minute there have also been constant and daily changes as people change their mind, and at this late date we are still juggling, and it is still possible that we will end out with hired teachers with no students, or students with no teacher.

Even in the absence of budget cuts I would argue that SCALI is not worth the effort. Indeed, it hurts some students; if SCALI did not exist we would be more easily able to send some abroad for language study rather than have to do it here.

I ran this suggestion by our colleagues in Wisconsin, who were scheduled to inherit SCALI from us for the last two years of the cycle, and they were happy to endorse the idea.

If and when funds return to Title VI we may want to have discussions about what common efforts we might undertake to give some impetus to the sad state of African language studies in the US, but at the current difficult time it seems clear that SCALI is not worth the effort.

With best wishes to all in this tough process.

Leo

This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list:
Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu
To manage your subscription, visit this web page:
https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From:	africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Thompson, Katrina Daly <kdthompson@humnet.ucla.edu>
Sent:	Friday, June 10, 2011 10:47 AM
To:	africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu
Subject:	[Africa NRC] SCALI
Attach:	ATT00001.c

Dear ASP directors,

In light of the decision to cancel SCALI, do you expect that you will still award any summer FLAS? I'm asking because UCLA might be able to offer a number of African languages in the summers if the students will come.

Best,
Katrina

--
Katrina Daly Thompson, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor, Applied Linguistics
University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA)

phone:(310) 825-4631
office: 3320 Rolfe Hall
web: http://www.humnet.ucla.edu/humnet/al/kdthompson
mail: 3320 Rolfe Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90095

From:	africa-nrc-bounces@groups.sas.upenn.edu on behalf of Villalon,Leonardo Alfonso <villalon@ufl.edu>
Sent:	Friday, June 10, 2011 10:52 AM
To:	NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>
Subject:	Re: [Africa NRC] SCALI
Attach:	ATT00001.c

Katrina,

Assuming funding continues, we will certainly still award summer FLAS fellowships. Students will be able to use these to study at any approved program, and most importantly I think, to study in Africa for intermediate and advanced, and even for beginning if the language is not taught in US.

Best, Leo

--
Leonardo A. Villalón
Director, Center for African Studies
The University of Florida
PO Box 115560
427 Grinter Hall
Gainesville, FL 32611-5560

Tel: 352-392-2183
Fax: 352-392-2435

From: "Thompson, Katrina Daly" <kdthompson@humnet.ucla.edu>
Reply-To: NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>
Date: Fri, 10 Jun 2011 07:46:40 -0700
To: NRC Africa list <africa-nrc@groups.sas.upenn.edu>
Subject: [Africa NRC] SCALI

Dear ASP directors,

In light of the decision to cancel SCALI, do you expect that you will still award any summer FLAS? I'm asking because UCLA might be able to offer a number of African languages in the summers if the students will come.

Best,
Katrina

--
Katrina Daly Thompson, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor, Applied Linguistics
University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA)

phone:(310) 825-4631
office: 3320 Rolfe Hall

web: http://www.humnet.ucla.edu/humnet/al/kdthompson
mail: 3320 Rolfe Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90095
_____ This message came to you by way of the Africa-NRC mailing list: Africa-NRC@groups.sas.upenn.edu To manage your subscription, visit this web page: https://groups.sas.upenn.edu/mailman/listinfo/africa-nrc

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2011 3:31 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Cc: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: your books

Hi Julius,
I hope you're doing well.
Just letting you know that your books all came in and please see Travis for them when you come back.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆
Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: Bowman, Rachele <r.bowman@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2011 3:40 PM
To: Student Global Health Committee <subglobalhealth@listserv.unc.edu> Subject: [subglobalhealth] Article Examing the Role of Student in Global Health

---

Hello SGHC,

I hope that everyone is having a great summer! Peggy asked that I forward you this article examining the role of students in global health:

http://fridayletter.asph.org/article_view.cfm?FLE_Index=15750&FL_Index=1677

Have a great weekend!

Rachele

--
Rachele A. Bowman
Administrative Assistant
Office of Global Health
UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health
124 Rosenau Hall, CB#7400
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7400
Phone: 919-966-3564
r.bowman@unc.edu
http://www.sph.unc.edu/globalhealth/

 -- You are currently subscribed to subglobalhealth as: jen321@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-29306639-4286121.2d7ae743db05562b1664f1a57383f237@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Paid Brain Imaging Research Study

Attention and the Brain
We are currently recruiting healthy volunteer participants for magnetic brain wave (EEG) studies of the neural mechanisms of attention and performance. Participants should be 18-30 years of age, with 20/20 (or corrected-to-20/20) vision, and should have no known history of neurological injury or disease.

Participants will be paid $10 per hour in studies ranging from 1-4 hours (depending on the study). For further information, please contact the Hopfinger Lab (919-843-4930 or cbford@email.unc.edu) in the Department of Psychology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. This study has been approved on March 2, 2011 by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study 9-0535).

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Miller, Haeran <hrmiller@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 7:02 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: your books

You're welcome.
Haeran

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Sunday, June 12, 2011 10:46 PM
To: Miller, Haeran
Cc: Gore, Travis
Subject: RE: your books

Thanknks Haeran.

From: Miller, Haeran
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2011 3:31 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Cc: Gore, Travis
Subject: your books

Hi Julius,
I hope you're doing well.
Just letting you know that your books all came in and please see Travis for them when you come back.
Thanks!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆
Haeran Miller
Acct. Tech
Dept. of Public Policy
Tel. 919.962.4854
Fax. 919.962.5824
Dept. of African and Afro-American Studies
Tel. 919.966.1295

From: GrantSource Library <gs@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 9:39 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Include your office's funding opportunities in the Carolina Internal Funding Database

---

Dear Dr. Nyang Oro,

I am contacting you from the GrantSource Library to invite you to include any internal funding opportunities offered by your office/department in the web-based Carolina Internal Funding Database. This database is maintained at the behest of Barbara Entwisle, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, to provide a central place for UNC-Chapel Hill units to publicize their funding opportunities and for faculty, staff, and students to find them. You can view the Carolina Internal Funding Database at http://cfx.research.unc.edu/funding/index.cfm

This searchable database provides access to information about University-administered internal sources of funds available to support research and other professional or scholarly activities undertaken by Carolina faculty, staff, postdoctoral scholars, and students. Also included are various nominations and other limited submission awards funded by external sponsors but administered by University units or having an internal application process. The database is heavily used by the campus community, and we invite you to use it to publicize your funding opportunities to prospective applicants.

If your department has any funding opportunities that we might include in the database, please send me information about the opportunities and the name and email address of someone in your office who would be willing to serve as a contact person with us. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

Thank you,
Diana Shull

GrantSource Library
Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
https://research.unc.edu/offices/grantsource/index.htm
919-962-3463 / / gs@unc.edu

From: Odum Institute <odum@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 10:26 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [odum] Upcoming Courses at the Odum Institute

CONTENTS

- Upcoming Short Courses
- Odum-ICPSR Summer Courses

Upcoming Short Courses

- ATLAS.ti 6.2 Hands-on Workshop (Click here for more information.)
  - June 13: 2-4:30 p.m. (01 Manning)

- Introduction to R for Social Scientists (Click here for more information.)
  - August 25-26: 3-5:30 p.m. (01 Manning)

Odum-ICPSR Summer Courses

- Monte Carlo Simulation and Resampling Methods for Social Scientists

  - June 27-July 1: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructor: Thomas Carsey, Political Science, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

- Introduction to Spatial Regression Analysis

  - July 11-15: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructors: Katherine Curtis, Sociology, University of Wisconsin-Madison and Paul Voss, Odum Institute, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

- Social Network Analysis: An Introduction

  - July 18-22: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
  - Instructor: Katherine Faust, Sociology, University of California at Irvine.
  - Click here for more information and to register.

- Latent Growth Curve Models (LGCM): A Structural Equation Modeling Approach

- August 1-5: 9 a.m.-5 p.m. (01 & 14 Manning)
- Instructor: Kenneth Bollen, Sociology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
- Click here for more information and to register.

To unsubscribe from this listserv, send a blank e-mail message to leave-29316835-10372320.23e162fa9f8a45c33859da7e7c86fc23@listserv.unc.edu

Odum Institute
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Manning Hall CB# 3355
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3355
www.odum.unc.edu
Telephone: 919.962.3061
Fax: 919.962.4777

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of norma_daugherty@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reflux Study

Research Subjects Needed

Do you experience frequent heartburn?

If you are between the ages of 18 and 75, and have frequent heartburn symptoms, you may be eligible to participate in a clinical trial using the heartburn medication Dexilant. Research study participation lasts approximately 5 weeks.

If you are interested in learning more about this research study, please call the UNC Esophageal Group at (919) 966-4591.

Research study medication and procedures provided at no cost.

IRB# 10-0417. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB April 7, 2010.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of IVFstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF?

Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF (in vitro fertilization)?

UNC Fertility Clinic is working on a research study for infertile couples who are considering IVF to help them conceive. Qualifying couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted rate.

Study Details:
* You and your partner will have a consultation appointment with a physician in our UNC Fertility Clinic to determine if you are a good candidate for IVF and for this study. Note that this visit is considered part of routine medical care.
* Female partner must be <41 years old to participate in this study.
* If you (your partner) are a good candidate for the study, you will undergo an IVF cycle with ovarian stimulation and egg retrieval, with the same methods that we routinely use for IVF.
* For the study, we will divide the eggs into two groups - half will be fertilized immediately, and the other half will be frozen and immediately thawed, and then fertilized. We will perform an embryo transfer using embryos derived from the freeze/thaw cycle.
* Note that couples planning IVF with an egg donor may qualify for the study as well. Female partner must be <48 years old in IVF cycles with an egg donor.

Benefits of participation:
* Enrolled couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted cost.

To learn if you (your partner) would qualify for this study, call us for a consultation appointment at (919-966-1150) or send an email to (IVFstudy@unc.edu) with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

The principal investigator for this study, "Clinical evaluation of egg cryopreservation", is Jennifer Mersereau, MD, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. This study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 12/16/2010, study # 10-1911.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ASPREE Aspirin Study

Healthy Volunteers (age 70+) Needed for a Research Study The ASPREE study will help researchers learn about the benefits of aspirin in reducing memory problems and physical problems as you age.
Aspirin may help older people live healthy lives by delaying the start of illness. However, aspirin may not be safe for everyone. This study will determine whether taking aspirin is a safe way for people to stay healthy for longer.
You are eligible to take part in this study if you:

* are aged 70 years or older.

You cannot take part if you:

* have blood vessel disease.
* have a serious illness.
* are allergic to aspirin or cannot take it.
* have had or are at risk of serious bleeding.
* are taking other 'blood thinning' medication.
* have seriously impaired mental or physical function.

This study requires 8 visits to UNC over a six-year period of time. Also, participants will be contacted three times a year by phone for a short follow-up.

All office visits, medical evaluations, and medications (either low-dose aspirin or placebo) for to this study will be provided at no cost to participants.

For more information, please contact Sarah at 919-966-6827 or sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu.

Approved by the UNC-CH IRB on 8/05/2010. IRB# 10-0965.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine/Division of Geriatric Medicine and the Center for Aging and Health.

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of teodora.dumitrescu@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 9:29 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Clinical study on statin and warfarin interaction

---

A clinical research study in the Division of Pharmacotherapy and Experimental Therapeutics at UNC is recruiting nonsmoking individuals between the ages of 18 and 60 to learn about the effects of the cholesterol-lowering medication lovastatin on the anticoagulant or blood-thinning medication warfarin.

Participants will be asked to participate in a pre-screening telephone interview and a screening visit lasting about 1 hour. As a participant in the study, you will be asked to take part in 2 study phases over a course of 7 weeks involving taking a daily medication or placebo by mouth, maintaining a food diary, and blood sample collection.

The study has been approved by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects and the Institutional Review Board (IRB) at UNC.

If you want more information about this project or have any questions, please contact Dr. Mario Sampson by phone at 919-962-0089 or e-mail at uncstudycyp4f2@gmail.com (preferred).

Study title: Human Cytochrome P450 4F Enzymes and Drug Interactions

Approval #, Biomedical IRB, Study # 10-0576

Approved - IRB UNC-CH
May 12, 2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 13, 2011 9:54 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling Spring 2011 Newsletter

---

Hello all!

Please check out the OWRR Spring 2011 newsletter here:
http://owrr.facilities.unc.edu/portals/recycling/newsletterdraftmay2011.pdf

Thanks!

Amy Preble
Recycling/Outreach Coordinator
UNC-Chapel Hill Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling
(919) 962-5169
http://www.fac.unc.edu/WasteReduction

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:12 AM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: IAAR

From: Hildebrand, Reginald F
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:05 AM
To: Gore, Travis
Subject: IAAR

Dear Colleagues;

As you know, the Institute of African American Research is in jeopardy because of severe budget cuts. The Provost is considering closing down the Institute, along with some other options. He has not yet made a decision. We must impress upon the Provost that closing the Institute would be a very bad idea. The faculty of our department have a special stake in future of the IAAR. Along with Stone Center and our department, the Institute is one of the three essential "legs" of the stool of African American Studies at this University. I suggest that we draft a letter from the Department officially urging the Provost to re-consider. The sooner the better. In the meantime, please feel encouraged to communicate directly with the Provost as an individual faculty member. We must take closing the Institute off the table as an option. Thanks. -Reg

---

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29323471
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29323471-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

From: NCBS <info@ncbsonline.org>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:13 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: NCBS 36th Annual Conference - ATLANTA, GA

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES

36th Annual Conference

DATE:
March 7-10, 2012
LOCATION:
ATLANTA, GA
Sheraton Atlanta Hotel
165 Courtland St. NE
Atlanta, GA 30303

For more information:
www.ncbsonline.org

We are excited to announce our 36th Annual conference in the great city of Atlanta, GA. As we celebrate our 36th conference, we invite you to share this moment with us and create new memories. Please stay up to date on all conference information on our website and email list serve.
We hope you're as excited as we are!

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES
National Council for Black Studies
Atlanta, Georgia 30303
404-413-5131

Forward to a colleague

SafeUnsubscribe

Trusted Email from Constant Contact
Try it FREE today.

This email was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu by info@ncbsonline.org |
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR BLACK STUDIES | National Council for Black Stu | P.O. Box 4109 | Atlanta | GA | 30303

From: Carolina Annual Fund <rebecca_bramlett@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Deadline for 2011 Carolina Bell Ringers

View this email with images. | View the mobile friendly version.

Thanks to your past support, Carolina continues to deliver a superior academic experience. When you make a gift this academic year, you will have an immediate and profound impact. Your support and that of others at Carolina will:

- provide critical financial aid to deserving students with need even as their numbers increase significantly;
- encourage and enable innovation across many disciplines—from offering a minor in business entrepreneurship and fostering a commitment to social change to bringing University-born ideas to practical use;
- allow Chancellor Holden Thorp to use the Chancellor's Unrestricted Fund to support our highest priorities, strengthen the academic core, seize unforeseen opportunities and meet unanticipated, urgent campus needs.

Our current academic year ends on June 30. We hope you will make a gift before midnight on June 29 to ensure your membership as a Carolina Bell Ringer and be included in this year's honor roll. Your support helps Carolina continue to deliver an outstanding, affordable education year after year. Thank you.

Go Heels!

Rebecca Bramlett
Interim Director, Annual Giving

DONATE NOW

UPDATE YOUR CONTACT INFO | MAKE A GIFT | MAXIMIZE YOUR GIFT'S IMPACT

Find Us On... Facebook Twitter YouTube Flickr

This email is for alumni, students, parents and friends of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Through this free service, the Office of University Development and the Annual Fund Program provide opportunities for you to learn about people, events and other issues at Carolina. If you have comments or questions, email Rebecca_Bramlett@unc.edu, telephone 919.843.3317, or write to the Office of University Development, Annual Fund, PO Box 309, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0309. If you do not wish to receive future editions, unsubscribe here.

UNC PID #: 704273328

From: McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:52 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: RE: Another Summer Course

Sure. How many students will I have?

T

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 10:52 AM
To: McMillan, Tim
Subject: Another Summer Course

Sir:
May I add your AFAM 280 to our Summer II Course Listing?
JEN

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 12:08 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

CURATORS CLINIC

Thursday, June 16

1:00 - 4:00 PM

Every other month, the Ackland invites members of the public to bring in a work of art for consideration by an Ackland expert. Curators may offer insight into the significance of the piece and its subject matter, as well as the techniques used by the artist and the work's condition. Please note: the Ackland staff is unable to authenticate or financially appraise works of art.

Limit one work of art per person. Registration required: please call 919.843.3677 to make an appointment.

Free to Ackland members, $10 non-members.

Next week: Pajama Party!

Friday, June 24

6:00 - 8:00 PM

Kids ages 4-8 and their parents are invited to get comfy in the Ackland's galleries and listen to cool stories about art, summertime, and other marvelous things. Young children are invited to wear their pjs -- "lovies" and "binkies" are also welcome!

Co-sponsored by the Chapel Hill Public Library, the Orange County Public Library, and the Orange County Literacy Council.

Free

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

German Art Exhibitions in their Final Weeks

On View through Sunday, July 10, 2011

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

The artists in DE-NATURED -- including Joseph Beuys, Gerhard Richter, Sigmar Polke, Hanne Darboven, Andreas Gursky, and Thomas Struth, among others -- established the international relevance and resonance of contemporary German art. Drawn from a distinguished private collection and supplemented with pieces from the Ackland, the nearly 40 works on viewpresent a complex and compelling introduction to the notable efflorescence of art in post-war Germany.

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

Artists living in Germany and its neighboring countries during the century 1840-1940 experienced massive social upheaval and political unrest, an environment that dramatically informed their art. With its alternating and opposing images of idealized fantasy worlds and intense, often bitter observations of reality,

*Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings*illustrates the continuity that existed between strains of nineteenth and early twentieth-century art.

Visitors are calling these two exhibition "stunning" and "amazing" - see them before they close!

Also on View:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

and many more!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-34013969.8ea54e9e6cbb8907d549298a1f92614a@listserv.unc.edu

From: Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 1:23 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: [afriafam] FW: IAAR

Dear Colleagues:

Greetings from Brasilia, Brazil! I want to echo the sentiments of Reg's email as a member of the IAAR Advisory Board and someone who has collaborated with the Institute in the past. It is a unique research institute and needs to be strengthened and supported by the university, rather than being dismantled.

At this crucial time, economically and politically, I think we should also consider strategies to ensure the continued survival of our department. As many of us know, programs and departments similar to our own are being closed and reconstituted across the country.

In solidarity,
Kia

Kia Lilly Caldwell, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
Afro-American Studies
UNC-Chapel Hill
CB #3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
klcaldwe@email.unc.edu
http://www.unc.edu/depts/afriafam

From: Gore, Travis [stgore@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:12 AM
To: Department listserv
Subject: [afriafam] FW: IAAR

From: Hildebrand, Reginald F
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:05 AM
To: Gore, Travis
Subject: IAAR

Dear Colleagues;

As you know, the Institute of African American Research is in jeopardy because of severe budget cuts. The Provost is considering closing down the Institute, along with some other options. He has not yet made a decision. We must impress upon the Provost that closing the Institute would be a very bad idea. The faculty of our department have a special stake in future of the IAAR. Along with Stone Center and our department, the Institute is one of the three essential "legs" of the stool of African American Studies at this University. I suggest that we draft a letter from the Department officially urging the Provost to re-consider. The sooner the better. In the meantime, please feel encouraged to communicate directly with the Provost as an individual faculty member. We must take closing the Institute off the table as an option. Thanks. -Reg

---
You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: klcaldwe@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361596.bfb5d999979b5aa9f457ab7f913a5f65&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29323471
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29323471-32361596.bfb5d999979b5aa9f457ab7f913a5f65@listserv.unc.edu
---
You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: jen321@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29324466
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29324466-32361595.95558fc57e07306d8dd6c82635e2b8fa@listserv.unc.edu

<!-- Email Converted by LAW -->
<html dir="ltr">
<head>
<meta http-equiv="Content-Type" content="text/html; charset=iso-8859-1">
<style id="owaParaStyle" type="text/css">P {
	MARGIN-TOP: 0px; MARGIN-BOTTOM: 0px
}
P {
	MARGIN-TOP: 0px; MARGIN-BOTTOM: 0px
}
</style>
</head>
<body fPStyle="1" ocsi="0">
<table border="0" width="95%">
 <tr><td width="100">From: </td><td>McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu></td></tr>
 <tr><td width="100">Sent: </td><td>Tuesday, June 14, 2011 1:24
PM</td></tr>
 <tr><td valign="top" width="100">To: </td><td>Nyang Oro, Julius E
<JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU></td></tr>
 <tr><td valign="top" width="100">Subject: </td><td>RE: Another Summer Course</td></tr>
 </table> <hr color="#000000" size="2" noshade>

No worries. I'm glad to help in any way.

T

<hr tabindex="-1">
<font color="#000000" size="2"
face="Tahoma">From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 12:00 PM
To: McMillan, Tim
Subject: RE: Another Summer Course

No more than 5. I will be Instructor of record and relieve you of responsibility and bother. A big relief for you?????

<hr tabindex="-1">
<font color="#000000" size="2"
face="Tahoma">From: McMillan, Tim
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 11:51 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E

Subject: RE: Another Summer Course

<div style="FONT-FAMILY: Tahoma; DIRECTION: ltr; COLOR: rgb(0,0,0); FONT-SIZE:
10pt">
Sure. How many students will I have?

T

<hr tabindex="-1">
<font color="#000000" size="2"
face="Tahoma">From: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 10:52 AM
To: McMillan, Tim
Subject: Another Summer Course

Sir:
May I add your AFAM 280 to our Summer II Course Listing?
JEN

</BODY></HTML>

From: Center for Global Initiatives <cgi@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 2:56 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: CGI eBulletin: New Video, Fulbright Info Sessions Online

---

June 14, 2011

CGI Internship Openings

Get valuable professional experience relevant to Communications & Multimedia work, Non-profit & Grants Management, Event Planning, or developing community Business Partnerships. Excellent fit for students interested in global studies or internationally-focused careers and issues. Get the full details here and apply by August 25, 2011 for priority consideration.

OUR EVENTS+RESOURCES

Fulbright Student Program Online Info Sessions

June 14, 2011 12:00PM – 1:00PM
July 6, 2011 3:00PM - 4:00 PM
August 2, 2011 12:00PM - 1:00 PM

Thinking about applying for a Fulbright?
Join UNC's Fulbright Program Adviser for an information session to go over general guidelines and to get your preliminary questions answered.

Carolina Global Photo Competition Now Open!

The Center for Global Initiatives (CGI) and UNC Study Abroad are pleased to announce a collaborative call for entries to the 12th Annual Carolina Global Photography Competition. This is an amateur photography competition that is open to all students, faculty, alumni and staff of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Entry Period: June 13, 2011 through Friday, September 30, 2011
Entries must be original work and will be judged on the image and the caption's ability to: 1) embrace the commonality of humanity and the opportunity to convey knowledge 2) explore the under-represented in traditional media 3) demonstrate artistic merit.

Prizes: 13 winners will receive a 20x30 poster print of their photo. Winning entries and selected photos will be exhibited in the UNC Fedex Global Education Center January through February 2012. Additional prizes to be announced!

And enjoy these tips on taking culturally sensitive photos:
http://www.culturosity.com/pdfs/CulturallySensitivePhotography.pdf

NEW CGI MULTI-MEDIA

Ben Turman discusses his US State Department internship experience in Lithuania

AWARDS+ FELLOWSHIPS

All Ongoing Awards Re-open: 8/15

Matching Funds

Conference Awards

Student Research Circles

Faculty Working Groups

GLOBAL EVENTS + ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dream Acts: The Abbey Court Community Art Project

is an exhibition of work initiated by artists Eleanor Blake, Lincoln Hancock and Neill Prewitt during their involvement with residents of Abbey Court in Carrboro on Jones Ferry Road. The exhibition is comprised of residents' art, co-created work, and work of the artists. An environmental assemblage of video, photography and objects, Dream Acts seeks to share the creative energy of Abbey Court, while exploring the boundaries real and imagined that shape our perception of and interaction with an environment or community.

523 E. Franklin St., the former Chapel Hill Museum. The exhibit will be open to the public Thursday through Saturday 2:00pm-6:00pm through July 9th. Please visit http://www.facebook.com/pages/Dream-Acts/212069205480350 for more information.

Carolina Center for Public Service Tornado Relief Grants

The Carolina Center for Public Service has been collecting funds on behalf of UNC to support recovery efforts in North Carolina communities following this spring's devastating tornadoes. Those funds are now available as grants of up to $1,000 for UNC students, faculty and staff to use to aid these communities. The deadline for grant applications is July 1. For more information visit www.unc.edu/ccps.

Fulbright Scholar Grants in Indonesia & Webinar

New grant opportunities are available for U.S. scholars interested in visiting Indonesian universities during the 2012-2013 academic year. Scholars interested in a three- to 10-month grant in Indonesia must submit an application by August 1, 2011. For this opportunity Fulbright has waived lifetime limits and the usual 5 year waiting period required between grants. These exemptions are valid for three years from August 1, 2010 through August 1, 2013. For more information, including application instructions, please visit: http://www.cies.org/Fulbright/indonesia/

Special Webinar: Fulbright Scholar Opportunities in Indonesia
Tuesday, June 14 2:00-3:00 pm EDT
The core Fulbright Scholar Program sends 800 U.S. faculty and professionals abroad each year. Grantees lecture and conduct research in a wide variety of academic and professional fields. This presentation will cover all of the different opportunities that are available to scholars in Indonesia.
To register, please go to: https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/873074360

Center for Global Initiatives
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
FedEx Global Education Center
301 Pittsboro Street | Campus Box 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145
919 962 3094 | cgi@unc.edu

The Center for Global Initiatives is a catalyst for the innovative work of faculty and students at the University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill. It is entrepreneurial and nimble in its approach to fostering initiatives that deepen knowledge and understanding of our complex world. For its work, the Center is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as one of only eleven National Resource Centers in Global Studies.

This message was sent to jen321@email.unc.edu from:

Bevin Tighe | 301 Pittsboro Street Suite 3002 | CB 5145 | Chapel Hill, NC 27599

Manage Your Subscription

View this message in the iContact Community: View message Comment on this message Receive as RSS
Share this message with others: del.icio.us Digg reddit Facebook StumbleUpon

Email Marketing by iContact try it free

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 8:36 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 9:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353
CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of norma_daugherty@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 11, 2011 9:55 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have acid reflux?

Research Subjects Needed

Do you experience reflux symptoms (such as heartburn, belching, and others)?

If you are between the ages of 18 and 70, and have reflux symptoms, you may be eligible for a research study investigating the effects of diet on Gastroesophageal Reflux Disease (GERD). Study participation lasts 6 to 8 weeks, and requires frequent visits to UNC Hospitals to pick up study food.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please call 919-843-9616 or e-mail norma_daugherty@med.unc.edu

Study meals & compensation provided.

IRB# 07-0623. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (2/21/2011).

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

This email is sponsored by: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 11, 2011 10:37 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Chancellor Message: Police Investigate Assault Tied to Sexual Orientation

---

Dear Carolina Students, Faculty and Staff:

Our Department of Public Safety has been investigating an aggravated assault that appears to have been motivated by the sexual orientation of a male student, who was treated at Campus Health Services for burn injuries. The incident, reported to police on April 5, occurred on the foot bridge between Craige Residence Hall and the intersection of Ridge Road and Manning Drive.

As a University community, we condemn this act of violence. Our Department of Public Safety will bring the strongest possible charges against the attacker.

Based on the available evidence to date, tbe University plans to report this incident as a hate crime to the federal government. We're also mindful of a recently adopted UNC system policy that deplores unlawful harassment leading to a hostile environment that is based upon personal characteristics including sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, race, color, religion, national origin, disability or veteran status.

Everyone in our community has the rigbt to a safe, inclusive and welcome living and learning environment. And all of us bave a responsibility to stand against acts of violence, harassment, bullying and intimidation and to treat each other with civility and respect.

Campus advocates for our LGBTQ community are asking questions about the University's response to this incident. As I explained in my message to the campus last week about the incident in Morrison Residence Hall, the University is now reviewing the notification protocols and procedures we use to inform the campus about crime reports or dangerous situations. This most recent incident will be considered in those conversations,too.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cablab@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 11, 2011 11:44 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: SMOKERS WANTED FOR STUDY

We are currently looking for cigarette smokers between the ages of 18 and 40 to participate in a study exploring the role of attention in nicotine addiction. Your participation would require you to come to our laboratory in Davie Hall on the University of North Carolina campus and complete attention-related tasks on the computer for about 1 hour. For your participation, you will be compensated with $10/hour.

If you think you may be interested in participating AND ARE NOT CURRENTLY TAKING PSYCHOACTIVE MEDICATIONS please send an e-mail to cablab@unc.edu and include the following information:

1. Name
2. Are you a smoker?
3. If yes, Average number of cigarettes smoked/day
If no, have you ever smoked on a regular basis
4. E-mail address
5. Times which are generally best for you to participate

Thank you,
Dr. Vicki W. Chanon
Dept. of Psychology

This study titled "Smoking, Familiarity, and Attention" has been approved by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study #07-1639; approved 10/01/2010).

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of asthmastudies@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 12, 2011 12:02 AM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have asthma?

The purpose of this research study is to learn about biomarkers in your blood, mucus (also called sputum), and urine and compare them in order to better understand different types of asthma.

Subjects must be otherwise healthy between 18 and 75 years old with moderate or severe asthma. You must currently be taking a medium or high dose of inhaled corticosteroids (medicines like Advair, Symbicort, Flovent, Pulmicort as well as others) 2 times a day to control your asthma.

Interested individuals may call 919-966-5638 or email asthmastudies@med.unc.edu for additional information.

Approved (January 20 2011) by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 10-0038

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology and is funded by the National Institutes of Health

This email is sponsored by: CEMALB

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 12:24 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353 CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of towen@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 12:40 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Transportation Program Pilot Grants Announcement

---

Pilot Grants Announcement
Carolina Transportation Program
ctp.unc.edu
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Daniel A. Rodriguez, Director
Associate Professor of City and Regional Planning
April 8, 2011

The Carolina Transportation Program (CTP) is soliciting seed grant applications from faculty and researchers at UNC-Chapel Hill to support transportation-related research activities and pilot projects. This third round of application requests is part of a two-year effort to encourage new and continuing transportation research at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Grants up to $5,000 will be awarded to support efforts to collect pilot data, conduct analyses, or review literature. The aim is to use the grant to help develop a research proposal for external funding within the next 12 months that would be run through the UNC-Chapel Hill Center for Urban and Regional Studies (CURS). Smaller grants to support existing efforts to incorporate or examine a relevant transportation-related question or sub-analyses of existing data will also be considered.

Applications are due on April 30, 2011. A committee will evaluate applications based on the quality and feasibility of the work relative to the funds requested, the record of scholarly achievement of the applicant(s) given the(ir) career stage, and, where appropriate, the project's likelihood to receive future funding. Individuals funded previously by CTP are not eligible to apply for additional funding. Up to three grants will be awarded this cycle.

To apply, please remit the following (submission instructions below):

* Curriculum vitae (C.V.) of faculty researcher(s) involved;
* Description (three pages or less) of the project, including background, approach and methods, timeline, budget and justification, and if appropriate, a list of potential future funders.

Please submit proposals by email to Harley Cooper, Program Assistant (hecooper@email.unc.edu). For more information about CTP, please visit ctp.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Urban and Regional Studies

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of depuy@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 12:47 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: LGBTIQ Advocacy Award Nominations

Call for Nominations: LGBTIQ Advocacy Award
Deadline for nominations: Thursday, April 14th

The LGBTQ Center is pleased to announce the call for nominations for the LGBTIQ Advocacy Award. This award recognizes contributions to or advocacy on behalf of the LGBTIQ communities at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Individuals who are graduating and who have contributed in one or more of the following ways are eligible for consideration:

* elevated the status of LGBTIQ-identified persons and/or allies;
* helped to improve campus or community policies affecting LGBTIQ-identified persons;
* enhanced visibility and awareness of LGBTIQ issues.

One undergraduate and one graduate/professional student will receive the LGBTIQ Advocacy Award.

To nominate someone for the LGBTIQ Advocacy Award, please complete the application form (see lgbtq.unc.edu) and mail it to Danny DePuy at depuy@unc.edu or at CB#5100 (self-nominations will not be considered).

Nominations may be submitted until 5pm on Thursday, April 14, 2011. Contact Danny DePuy at depuy@unc.edu or 919-843-5376 if you have questions about the award or nomination process.

This email is sponsored by: LGBTQ Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: UNC Press <enotice@uncpress-unc.ccsend.com>
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 6:01 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Our BIGGEST SALE EVER: Save up to 70%

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

Our BIGGEST SALE EVER is still going on!

SHOP NOW!

Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.

You only have a couple more weeks to receive up to 70% off on more than 700 titles.
We're offering FREE SHIPPING on orders over $100, plus your choice of A FREE BOOK on orde and more.
We're featuring a wide variety of disciplines. . . Cooking, Gardening, Civil War, History, Biography, Literature, Nature and Travel Guides, and so many more. . .
Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.
Click here to start shopping now!
Sale ends April 30, 2011.

Here are just a few of the great books on sale:

Don't forget to enter discount code 01SALE11 at checkout

CLICK HERE TO START SHOPPING NOW!

Join Our Mailing List!

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by mary_blaine@unc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

UNC Press | 116 South Boundary Street | Chapel Hill | NC | 27514

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 11:51 AM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

---

at the ackland

Tea at Two

Wednesday, April 13
2:00 PM

The Ackland invites you to enjoy tea, refreshments, and conversation with Peter Nisbet, Chief Curator, who will be discussing art in the current exhibition DE-NATURED.

Free to Ackland members | $10 non-members.
Space is limited. RSVP: apportnow@email.unc.edu or 919.843.3687.

Opening Reception "New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011"

Thursday, April 14
6:00 - 8:00 PM

Cutting-edge art by seven graduating MFA students at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill debuts in New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011. On view at the Ackland through May 8, the innovative works of photography, video, sculpture, and mixed media represent the culmination of two years of graduate study by featured artists Travis Donovan, Carolyn Janssen, Lydia Anne McCarthy, Jessye McDowell, John Hollin Kelse Norwood, Raymond Padrón, and Tracy Spencer-Stonestreet.

Join the Ackland for the Opening Reception, Thursday, April 14, 6:00–8:00 PM.
Music by mgl. Light refreshments.

Reception Sponsors: Student Friends of the Ackland and The Class of 2011.

Exhibition Media Sponsor: North Carolina Public Radio WUNC.

Curator's Clinic

Curator's Clinic

Thursday, April 14
1:00 - 4:00 PM

Every other month, the Ackland invites members of the public to bring in a work of art for consideration by an Ackland expert. Curators may offer insight into the significance of the piece and its subject matter, as well as the techniques used by the artist and the work's condition. Please note: the Ackland staff is unable to authenticate or financially appraise works of art.

IN THE GALLERIES:

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

OPENING APRIL 15:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

April 19
Yoga in the Galleries
12:00 - 1:00 PM

April 21
Guided Tour of MFA 2011
with Amanda Hughes
6:00 PM

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

Guidelines: Limit one work of art per person. Registration required: please call 919.843.3677 to make an appointment.

Free to Ackland members, $10 non-members.

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, April 16
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "Bowled Over"

People throughout the world use bowls every day. In this program, children will look at bowls found centuries ago along the Silk Road, identifying what makes each one special. In the studio, they will use patterns, images, or words to decorate their own bowl.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials. Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919-962-3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.
Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

Music in the Galleries

Sunday, April 17
1:30 PM

Every third Sunday of the month, enjoy music in the Ackland galleries. A wide variety of performers can be heard, from classical quartets to bluegrass, to enhance your Museum experience.

This installation of "Music in the Galleries" presents seven advanced UNC-Chapel Hill student composers performing original works for various instrumentation inspired by art in the Ackland's collection.

Reservations and tickets are NOT REQUIRED, but please arrive early to find a spot. For more information contact Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

Free

Slam Poetry Workshop with Sacrificial Poets

RSVP NOW!

Saturday, April 30
1:00 – 4:00 PM

The Ackland welcomes back nationally-recognized and award-winning local organization Sacrificial Poets. Come explore the art of spoken word "slam" poetry and delve into both writing and performance techniques that will help you take your art from the page to the stage.

Sacrificial Poets's mission is to inspire, foster, and promote artistic expression, personal growth, and social justice for youth in our collective communities through the use of the spoken and written word.

Teens and adults may register by contacting Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.
Free to High School students / $25 Ackland members / $30 non-members.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29003343-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Sigmar Polke, German, 1941–2010; His Highness, or When do points count, 2002; color screenprint on commercially-printed fabric. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection. © 2011 Artists Rights Society (ARS), New York/VG Bild-Kunst, Bonn.

Carolyn Janssen, Untitled, 2011, digital archival print.

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From: Nelson, Mark Z <mark_nelson@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 5:12 PM
To: b_anderson@unc.edu; lydia.boyd@unc.edu; Caldwell, Kia L <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Fhunsu, Donato <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Hall, Perry A <HALLPA@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Jordan, Joseph F <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Lee, Margaret Carol <leemc@email.unc.edu>; McKinley, Dale T <drdalet@email.unc.edu>; McMillan, Tim <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Mogaka, Nathan N. <nmogaka@email.unc.edu>; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Nzongola-Ntalaja, Georges <nzongola@email.unc.edu>; Pier, David <dpier@email.unc.edu>; Porter, Robert S <rporter@email.unc.edu>; Regester, Charlene B <regester@email.unc.edu>; Sahle, Eunice N <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Seck, Mamarame <mseck@email.unc.edu>; Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; kaslo@email.unc.edu; Gore, Travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Tony Allen's Afrobeat Orchestra - Tuesday 4/19 at UNC Memorial Hall
Attach: oledata.mso; Tony Allen.pdf

Greetings from Memorial Hall,

I want to personally invite the students, staff and faculty of The Department of African and Afro-American Studies to see the upcoming performance of Tony Allen's Afrobeat Orchestra next week at Memorial Hall. Tony Allen pioneered the hard-driving, funk-infused, politically insurrectionary Afrobeat style that dominates African popular music. Click to listen to Tony Allen.

Please join us for this special event and enjoy a celebration of African Afrobeat Sounds.

Use the promo code – AFRIKA to receive a 20% discount.

Remember – student tickets are always $10.

Hope to see you there.

Best Wishes,
Mark Nelson
Carolina Performing Arts

Mark Z. Nelson
Director of Marketing and Public Relations
Carolina Performing Arts
Office of the Executive Director for the Arts
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
208 E. Cameron Avenue
Carr Building, 3rd Floor, CB#3233
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3233
P: (919) 966-3834 | C: (919) 260-7430 | F: (919) 843-2012
carolinaperformingarts.org

Tony Allen's Afrobeat Orchestra

Tuesday, April 19 - 7:30 PM

Joining Tony on tour is Amp Fiddler, a celebrated soul/funk musician from Detroit

UNC's Memorial Hall

Student Tickets Only $10

20% Off with Promo Code "AFRIKA"

Fela Kuti, the Afrobeat pioneer, once said that, "without Tony Allen, there would be no Afrobeat."

CAROLINA PERFORMING ARTS

carolinaperformingarts.org

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 12, 2011 5:53 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: Police Determine False Report in Aggravated Assaul

---

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The Department of Public Safety has determined that the alleged aggravated assault reported to campus last night did not occur. That report, filed with campus police on April 5, was false. The University will not report it as a hate crime.

It is important to recognize that incidents of harassment do occur. When they do, we take them seriously. We strive to foster a welcoming, inclusive and safe environment at Carolina.

We recognize that this has been a difficult time for campus. Members of the community who feel they need to discuss what has happened are encouraged to contact the Dean of Students Office at 919-966-4042; Counseling and Wellness Services at 919-966-3658 or 919-966-2281 after hours; LGBTQ Center at 919-843-5376; Diversity and Multicultural Affairs at 919-962-6962; or Human Resources' Employee Assistance Program at 919-929-2362.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study for People with Chronic Headaches

---

-Do you have chronic headaches at least 15 days per month?
-Have you suffered from headaches for at least 2 years?
-Are you at least 18 years of age?
-Have you been diagnosed with Chronic Daily Headache (CDH)?
-Are you receiving care from a neurologist or other headache specialist?
-Would you be willing to meet 6 times with a registered dietitian over a 12 week period?

If you answered yes to all the above questions, you may qualify for the Nutrition and Chronic Daily Headache (CDH) study. Your next step is to call the UNC Program on Integrative Medicine in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation to determine your eligibility for the study.

You will he compensated $145 for completing all sessions and filling out questionnaires and a daily headache diary throughout the study. You will also receive 2 prepared meals per day over a three month period and up to $13 per visit for transportation and parking.

If you would like to learn more about this study and/or see if you qualify, please call 966-8586, or send an e-mail to Chanee Lynch (chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu) or Becky Coble (rcohle@med.unc.edu) with CDH STUDY in the subject line.

This message was approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/23/2009 (IRB#09-0600), and is funded by the Mayday Fund.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lynchcm@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 12, 2011 8:40 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: SafeWalk Updates

Students, faculty and staff:

We have two important updates regarding SafeWalk that we'd like to share with you. First, we are looking for an Assistant Director for the next school year. This is your chance to become involved with a student-run program that is integral to UNC's safety initiatives. SafeWalk has become immensely popular with 3,000 walks to date. If you are interested, please visit our website, http://safewalk.unc.edu/, for more information. Applications are due Saturday, April 15.

Secondly, SafeWalk will complete it's third and final phase of off-campus expansion on Sunday, April 17. Areas covered are those around Church Street. More specifically, on Church Street, SafeWalk will serve up to Caldwell Street, thus covering Lindsay Street, Cotton Street, McDade Street, Brooks Street, Carr Street and Pritchard Avenue. On North Columbia Street, SafeWalk will expand coverage up to and including Longview Street, Stinson Street, Stephens Street and Isley Street.

Areas covered in the first and second phases are laid out below:

Phase One: Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. up to Longview Street and Mill Creek Apartments; Hillsborough Street down to Townhouse Apartments; Henderson Street; and North Street. The first phase will also expand coverage of Franklin Street and Rosemary Street. On Franklin Street, SafeWalk will cover between Roberson Street and Davie Circle. On Rosemary Street, SafeWalk will serve locations between Rosemary Village/Mitchell Lane and Boundary Street.

Phase Two: will begin on Sunday, March 20, 2011 and cover the area of Cameron Avenue and McCauley Street. Specifically, the locations that will be added are Mallette Street, Kenan Street, Cameron Court, Basnight Lane and Roberson Street. Additionally, Ransom Street, Vance Street and Pittsboro Street will be covered along McCauley Street.

Remember, to request a SafeWalk, call (919) 962-SAFE (7233), submit a ticket online or approach a pair of SafeWalkers stationed outside during our operating hours, Sunday through Thursday nights, 11:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m. It is FREE to all students, faculty and staff! If you have any questions, please email lynchcm@email.unc.edu.

Sincerely,
The SafeWalk Team

Sponsored by the Executive Branch of Student Government.

This email is sponsored by: The Executive Branch of Student Government

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 12, 2011 9:01 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Subject Research Study

Are you a healthy male between ages 18-49? Researchers at UNC CH are looking for healthy volunteers to participate in a drug research study. Compensation provided. Contact the research team @ 919-966-8353 for more info.

IRB #10-2321 A Phase IV, Open-Label Study to Characterize the First-Dose and Multiple Dose Pharmacokinetics of Raltegravir in the Gastrointestinal Tract of Healthy Male Volunteers

Approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB on 04/08/2011

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 12, 2011 9:09 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Pedestrian Safety Tips for Tar Heels on the Move!

As spring brings beautiful weather to the campus, the University would like to encourage its students, faculty, staff and visitors to stay safe when commuting on campus.

The UNC Highway Safety Research Center and the UNC Department of Public Safety offer the following safety tips to the University community. For more safety tips for pedestrians, bicyclists and drivers, please visit http://www.hsrc.unc.edu/y2h.

Safety Tips for Drivers

When approaching a crosswalk area, be prepared to stop for pedestrians. Failure to yield to a pedestrian in a marked crosswalk is a violation of North Carolina law.

Drive the speed limit, avoid aggressive maneuvers and use turn signals. Check both directions before pulling out from driveways and stop signs.

Watch for bicyclists and pedestrians at all times, especially when turning. Bicycles are vehicles and bicyclists may take tbe entire lane. Scan for bicyclists in traffic and give them the appropriate right-of-way.

Do not overtake and pass other vehicles stopped for pedestrians on your side of the roadway.

Watch for bicyclists before opening car doors or backing out of a parking space.

Pass bicyclists with care. Treat bicyclists as you would a slow-moving car - don't tailgate, and do wait until traffic conditions allow you to safely pass the bicyclist. Reduce speed when passing bicyclists and allow at least 3 ft of passing space. Check over your shoulder after passing a bicyclist before moving back. Never pass a bicyclist and immediately make a right turn.

Do not text or talk on your cell phone wbile driving.

Safety Tips for Pedestrians

Look across all lanes you must cross. Even though one vehicle has stopped, another may pass in another lane.

Do not assume vehicles can stop. Gauge the flow of traffic before you step out onto the road and wait if necessary. Establish eye contact with drivers before crossing.

Always look before you cross the road. Do not rely solely on pedestrian signals.

Avoid wearing headphones or talking on a cell phone while crossing the street.

Dress in light clothing and wear retro-reflective clothing/materials and/or carry a flashlight when walking at night.

Safety Tips for Bicyclists

Always wear a helmet. Properly wearing a helmet when cycling is your best means of protection against serious injury.

Be predictable and visible. Ride in a straight line, don't weave in and out of lanes or between cars, and use hand signals when turning and stopping.

Always ride with traffic and follow the rules of the road.

Obey traffic signs, signals, and lane markings and yield to traffic when appropriate, including pedestrians.

If riding in the dark, use headlights, taillights and reflectors. Also retro-reflective materials and brightly colored clothing can help others see you better, even during the day.

Avoid wearing headphones or talking on a cell phone while bicycling.

To report a problem area or to notify the Department of Public Safety of potential problem areas, please call the Pedestrian Hotline at 919-843-PEDS (7337).

This email is sponsored by: UNC Highway Safety Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of haneya@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 13, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Family Research: Conceptual & Methodological Issues

---

Family Research: Conceptual & Methodological Issues

This institute addresses the unique conceptual and methodological challenges of family research, with particular attention paid to innovative strategies for treating the family or family sub-system as the unit of study and analysis. The institute focuses on research proposal development, and specific content includes conceptual frameworks for studying families, qualitative, quantitative, and mixed method designs, family measures, analytic techniques, and ethical issues. Didactic presentations are combined with small group work and individual consultation. By the end of the institute,participants will have an increased understanding of family and family-related research and the skills needed to develop successful family research proposals. This institute is of interest to faculty members and graduate students who plan to conduct family or family-related studies and are at the beginning or intermediate level of their research careers.

Faculty:

Kathleen Knafl, PhD, FAAN
Frances Hill Fox Distinguished Professor and Associate Dean for Research
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Marcia Van Riper, PhD, RN
Associate Professor and Chair, Family Health Division
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Drs. Knafl and Van Riper are leaders in family research with expertise in a wide array of family frameworks and methods, experience in studying families facing varied health care challenges, and a record of success in obtaining funding for family research. Guest faculty member, George Knafl, PhD, lectures on quantitative analysis of family/dyadic data. The faculty will be available for individual consultation during and following the institute.

For more information please contact The Center for Lifelong Learning
Phone: 919-966-3638
Email: Nursing_cll@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Lifelong Learning

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pgeap@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 13, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CV Enriching Opportunity for Grad Students

---

The Pre-Graduate Education Advising Program seeks graduate students wanting to serve undergraduates while enriching their own skills during 2011-2012. If you volunteer as an advisor, you will will expand your skill set and add appeal to your C.V. sharpening your edge in the job market.

As an advisor, you will meet with undergraduates considering graduate school and help them to understand, among other things, the application process and what life as a graduate student is like. You will be required to attend a 3 hour training session at the beginning of the fall 2011 semester, a 1 hour training session each month during the school year, and then serve as an advisor for either 1 hour a week or 1 hour every other week, depending on your availability. For more information on the program and for details on applying and the application deadline, please visit our website:

https://pregrad.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: The Graduate School

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2011 6:46 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Apply for the 2011 NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages. Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us. To ensure that you continue to receive emails from us, add ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu to your address book today.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages (NCOLCTL) Presents

July 11-29, 2011
Madison, WI

NCOLCTL Sponsors

Chinasprout
Visit Our Sponsor
Int-logo
Visit Our Sponsor
NSLlogo
Visit Our Sponsor
Visit Our Sponsor
Join Our Mailing List

Apply for the 2011 Swahili Startalk

Swahili STARTALK is a summer professional development program for teachers of Swahili.

Are you interested in expanding your knowledge of teaching Swahili? If so, you should attend this summer Swahili professional development program.

NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

What: An intensive three-week program that will allow you to participate in professional development that will focus on quality instruction, curriculum and assessment for Swahili Language.

Who: This program is open to both current and new teachers of Swahili.
Where: The program will take place in Madison, WI.
When: Program dates are: July 11-29, 2011
July 11-15, 2011 (One-week Non-Residential online program)
July 18-29, 2011 (Two-week Residential program in Madison)
Cost: Each participant selected for this program will receive
(i) a $1,000.00 stipend (ONLY upon successful completion of the program.
(ii) Accommodation for the two-week residential program.
(iii) $300.00 (maximum), travel reimbursement for all out of town participants*
(iv) A Certificate of Completion upon successfully completing the program.
*Some restrictions may apply

To Apply:

1. Complete the form here: Application Form
You can type in the required information. However, print out the completed form and sign. You can fax, mail or email the completed application to the NCOLCTL Secretariat Office.
2. Save this form and forward to your Administrator or Supervisor for completion: Supervisor's Form
Have Your Supervisor fax, mail or email it to the NCOLCTL

Secretariat office upon completion.

Application Deadline: April 28, 2011

NCOLCTL Secretariat
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel: 608-265-7905
Fax: 608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Director, the William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education Open Forums

---

The Search Committee for the Director of the William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education is pleased to announce that the following three candidates for the directorship have accepted our invitation to visit campus for public interviews.

We invite you to attend the upcoming open forums with the candidates. These forums are designed to give the campus community an opportunity to hear from candidates about their experience and their ideas for enhancing UNC Chapel Hill. The candidates will discuss the topic, "Challenges and Opportunities for a Continuing Education Center within in a Research University".

Mekeisha Williams, M.P.A. April 18, 3:15 pm - 4:15 pm, Friday Center,Dogwood Room

Robert Bruce, Jr., Ph.D. April 25, 2011, 2 pm - 3 pm, Friday Center,Dogwood Room

Steve Hicks, Ed.D. May 6, 3:15 pm - 4:15 pm, Friday Center,Windflower Room

The candidates' CVs are available on line at:

http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/open-positions

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of megan_squires@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2011 9:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Paid research opportunity for 15-21 year olds with chronic stomachaches

---

Do you suffer from chronic stomachaches?

Many adolescents and young adults who suffer from chronic stomachaches avoid eating to prevent pain. A research study at UNC investigates whether food avoidance affects the gut.

If you are 15-21 years old and diagnosed with functional abdominal pain or Irritable Bowel Syndrome by a physician, you may be eligible to take part in this research study.

We're looking both for people who avoid eating and who do not avoid eating to prevent stomachaches. One weekday morning visit to UNC is required. You will receive $65 for completing the study.

If you are interested in participating or would like more information, please contact:

Megan Squires
The UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders
megan_squires@med.unc.edu
(919)843-9755

Biomedical IRB#: 10-1074
Approved 08/13/2010

This email is sponsored by: School of Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pgeap@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2011 10:36 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Advising Opportunity for Graduate Students

---

[The website link below has been fixed since the last notice!]

The Pre-Graduate Education Advising Program seeks graduate students wanting to serve undergraduates while enriching their own skills during 2011-2012. If you volunteer as an advisor, you will will expand your skill set and add appeal to your C.V. sharpening your edge in the job market.

As an advisor, you will meet with undergraduates considering graduate school and help them to understand, among other things, the application process and what life as a graduate student is like. You will be required to attend a 3 hour training session at the beginning of the fall 2011 semester, a 1 hour training session each month during the school year, and then serve as an advisor for either 1 hour a week or 1 hour every other week, depending on your availability. For more information on the program and for details on applying and the application deadline, please visit our website:

http://pregrad.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: The Graduate School

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, April 14, 2011 10:43 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PAID Brain Imaging Study

Attention and the Brain

We are currently recruiting healthy volunteer participants for magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI) and brain wave (EEG) studies of the neural mechanisms of attention and performance. Participants should be 18-30 years of age, with 20/20 (or corrected-to-20/20) vision, and should have no known history of neurological injury or disease.

Participants will be paid $10-20 per hour in studies ranging from 1-4 hours (depending on the study). For further information, please contact the Hopfinger Lab (919-843-4930 or elparks@unc.edu) in the Department of Psychology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. This study has been approved on March 2, 2011 by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study 09-0535).

This email is sponsored by: UNC Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, April 15, 2011 8:23 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: State Health Plan Update

TO: All Permanent Employees

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Interim Senior Director, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

As you may have seen, Governor Perdue vetoed legislation that would have made changes to the State Health Plan on Wednesday. We had planned for UNC-Chapel Hill's annual enrollment to begin next week; however, this recent development will cause the enrollment period to be delayed.

We understand that some of you may be concerned and want to know what changes to expect. It is difficult for us to determine, at this point, when we might expect a new bill to be presented, but we are monitoring this legislation very closely.

It is possible that the annual enrollment period could occur after the spring semester has concluded. We will send out updates as we have additional information to share. Please monitor your communications from our office over the next several weeks for news on the State Health Plan changes and annual enrollment period.

If you have any questions, please contact your Benefits Counselor or call 962-3071.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wilsonlibrary@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, April 15, 2011 8:48 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Wilson Library Sprinkler Project

Dear UNC community and Wilson Library patrons,

Beginning in late July or in August, fire sprinklers will be installed in the stacks of the Wilson Special Collections Library at UNC. The project will take approximately one year to complete.

The installation of a fire suppression system to protect UNC's most valuable library collections is critical. However, it will disrupt the retrieval of research collections during the installation period.

During the project, which is expected to last approximately one year, each of the library's nine stack floors will be closed for six to eight weeks. The library materials in each work zone will be enclosed in floor-to-ceiling protective sheeting and will be inaccessible until the floor re-opens.

The project will affect access to materials from the North Carolina Collection, the North Carolina Collection Photographic Archives, the Southern Historical Collection, the Southern Folklife Collection, University Archives and Records Management Services, and the Rare Book Collection.

If you expect to need specific special collections materials for research or teaching during the installation period, we urge you to contact Wilson Library staff as soon as possible. With early notice, staff will make every effort to work with you to identify and make the collection materials you need available during the project. Staff can also advise on the availability of collections during the installation.

Please direct questions and requests for materials to Wilson Library at (919) 962-3765 or wilsonlibrary@unc.edu. As the project progresses, updates will be posted to http://library.unc.edu/wilson/research/sprinklers.html.

This email is sponsored by: University Library

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 15, 2011 8:55 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: African American individuals ages 18-45 needed for research study

---

Participate as a healthy subject!

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about schizophrenia please consider participating as a control subject in Dr. Aysenil Belger's research study, Mapping of Brain Functions (00-1425 or GCRC-1888).

If you meet the following criteria, please fill out our online questionnaire:
http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm.
Visit our website at: http://www.nirl.unc.edu/ for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 18-45
* Either sex
* African American
* Willing and able to participate in a research study involving EEGs and MRIs
* No history of psychiatric illness or neurodegenerative disorder
* No substance abuse disorders, no substance abuse within the past 6 weeks
* No learning disability
* No family history of neurologic or neurodegenerative disorders
* No family history of hospitalization or treatment of mental illness in a first degree relative
* No metal implants in body including permanent retainer

Total compensation for this research study: up to $270.

Thank you!

Approved on 4/5/2011 by UNC Biomedical IRB (00-1425, GCRC-1888)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fitnet@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 18, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in an exercise program?

Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in getting more physically active? Do you have an active Facebook account?

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying ways to promote physical activity among young adult cancer survivors using Facebook. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a research study that tests an exercise program designed specifically for young adult cancer survivors. Your participation will be some of the first data collected about an exercise program delivered through Facebook.

If you participate, you will receive exercise information via Facebook and a pedometer. You will be asked to complete two online questionnaires and may receive access to weekly group discussions and an exercise website. The entire 12-week study can be completed online.

You may be eligible if you:
-- are 21 to 39 years old
-- were diagnosed with cancer (excluding non-melanoma skin cancer) at age 18 or older
-- have completed cancer treatment
-- have an active Facebook account

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Participants will receive a $30 gift card after the 12-week assessment.

For more information and to see if you qualify, please go to:
www.fitnet-unc.org

The study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on 12/16/10 (Study # 10-2150).

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 18, 2011 8:52 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: New Campus Email Address and Domain Policies

---

MEMORANDUM

TO: Carolina Faculty and Staff

FROM: Stan Waddell
Executive Director of Information Security and Information Security Officer

DATE: April 18, 2011

SUBJECT: New Campus Email Address and Domain Policies

Two new information security policies, the Email Address Policy and Email Domain Policy, have recently heen approved. These policies have been created because of the need for the University to maintain the privacy and security of the information it creates and receives. The University must also be able to provide legally required information for discovery and public records purposes. When third party consumer email systems are used for official business the University does not have assurances that these important obligations can be met.

The new policies set forth the guiding principles on how email will be used for official communications and detail the following requirements:

1. All faculty, staff, and student-employees must use University-owned, managed, or approved email addresses for all work-related email correspondence (i.e. Email accounts that end in unc.edu including the new HeelMail live.unc.edu service for students). All faculty, staff and student-employees must maintain a University email address in the campus directory;
2. Faculty, staff, and student-employees may not automatically forward email from campus email systems to external non-University managed email systems (such as Yahoo, Gmail, or Hotmail);
3. Any University department desiring to outsource management of department email services to an external entity must first have a contract in place that has been approved by the Office of University Counsel; and
4. Email systems owned or managed by University departments must meet certain management criteria as identified in campus information security policies and have a completed and signed memorandum of understanding on file with the campus Information Security Office.

These policies apply to all faculty, staff, and student-employees at UNC-Chapel Hill, as well as to all email systems owned and/or managed by UNC-Chapel Hill. The policies can be found on the University IT Policies Page at: http://its.unc.edu/ITS/About_ITS/ITS_Policies/index.htm.

This message is a follow-up communication to one sent by Leslie Strohm, vice chancellor and general counsel and Larry Conrad, vice chancellor for information technology and chief information officer, to campus deans, directors and department heads on March 14.

Thank you for your continued assistance in reducing information security risks at UNC-Chapel Hill and in helping the University meet its legal obligations.

For assistance or questions with the policies please contact either your departmental information security liaison or the Office of Information Security at security@unc.edu or 919-962-HELP.

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services and Office of University Counsel.

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services and Office of University Counsel

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 18, 2011 10:12 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor: Campus Response to Tornado Relief Efforts in N.C.

Dear Carolina Students, Faculty and Staff:

Here in Chapel Hill, our thoughts and prayers are with those across the state who have been affected by Saturday's tornados. We are identifying any students, faculty and staff directly affected, as well as establishing contact with those communities in North Carolina to find out what they need.

To best determine how we can help, I have asked the North Carolina Institute for Public Health and the Carolina Center for Public Service to coordinate our campus efforts and to serve as centralized source of information. Please check the website at http://www.unc.edu/ccps/ for information and share information about relief efforts with the center by e-mailing ccps@unc.edu.

One thing we do know is that the situation is being handled by emergency management, and the state has asked that no volunteers visit the affected areas right now, in the immediate aftermath. Given the scope of the disaster, however, certain volunteer efforts will be needed in the near future and for many months to come. Meanwhile, you can donate money to the Red Cross or to our campus Disaster Relief Fund at the Carolina Center for Public Service. The center will also coordinate a food drive for the Food Bank of Eastern North Carolina.

As we know what other relief efforts are underway, we will share that information on the website and through our UNC Facebook page.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 18, 2011 10:36 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Simple Decisions 5

To participate in studies at The Center for Decision Research.
Please visit our website at: www.c4dr.unc.edu

New Study Available:
Simple Decisions 5
We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. As a participant you will spend approximately 15 minutes to complete a study in our lab.
Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab,
McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 15 minutes
Pay: $5
IRB #10 - 1976

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on 4/12/11

This email is sponsored by: KFBS: Center for Decision Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From:	bounce-29038430-39113003@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Greenway, Ryan <greenway@unc.edu>
Sent:	Tuesday, April 19, 2011 7:51 AM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] Important - Annual Report open for faculty
Attach:	College Annual Report Faculty Manual.pdf

This message is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences with a copy to unit chairs/directors and administrative managers.

***

The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is May 6, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.

If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

2) Login with your onyen and onyen password

3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.

*For responses from previous years – Previous system.

Your Onyen

Website: http://onyen.unc.edu

Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

---
Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations

Dean's Office, College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 3100
919.962.9275

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 19, 2011 12:30 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

This Week at the Ackland

Encounter Art: Unlocking the Contemporary

Thursday, April 21
5:15 PM

Join Rachel Fesperman (UNC '12) for an interactive gallery talk on works by seven contemporary artists featured in the Ackland's exhibition New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011. The tour will focus on each artist's visual language and the aesthetic possibilities these represent.

Free

Slam Poetry Workshop with Sacrificial Poets

RSVP NOW!

Saturday, April 30
1:00 – 4:00 PM

The Ackland welcomes back nationally-recognized and award-winning local organization Sacrificial Poets. Come explore the art of spoken word "slam" poetry and delve into both writing and performance techniques that will help you take your art from the page to the stage.

Sacrificial Poets's mission is to inspire, foster, and promote artistic expression, personal growth, and social justice for youth in our collective communities through the use of the spoken and written word.

Teens and adults may register by contacting Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

Free to High School students / $25 Ackland members / $30 non-members.

Ackland Art Museum Spring Luncheon

Tickets Still Available!

Thursday, May 5
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM
The Carolina Inn

Held in conjunction with the Ackland's annual Master of Fine Arts exhibition: New Currents in Contemporary Art
15 April - 8 May 2011

IN THE GALLERIES:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

April 28
Out of the Studio: Sacrificial Poets
6:00 PM

April 30
Art-Ventures for Kids
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

April 30
Slam Poetry Workshop: with Sacrificial Poets
1:00 - 4:00 PM

April 30
Art Now/Cinema Now: Lessons of Darkness
7:00 PM

Please visit our calendar for a full listing of special programming and events.

Guest Speaker: Jeff Whetstone
Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies, Studio Art
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Hosted by The Friends of the Ackland
Single Tickets: $50

Following lunch, guests are invited to the Ackland to view the exhibition.
MFA students will be available in the galleries to talk about their work.

For ticket information,
email Pat Hall or call 919.843.3676.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29040678-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Lydia Anne McCarthy, Untitled, 2010, Digital C-print.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mbecker@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 19, 2011 8:50 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: English-speaking children ages 4-7 wanted for language research study

---

Is your child between the ages of 4 and 7 years and learning English as their native language? If so, your child is invited to participate in a research study about language. The purpose of this research study is to learn about how children interpret novel adjectives as they learn them in a linguistic context.

The study will take place in the Language Development Lab at UNC Chapel Hill (108 Smith Building). The study should take no more than 30 minutes, and you and your child would need to come in for only a single session. We will cover your parking expenses while you are on campus for the study.

Eligibility: Your child must be between 4 and 7 years of age and be a native speaker of English. Exposure to a second language is fine, but your child should not be completely fluent in another language besides English. Also, your child must not have any significant language or cognitive deficits (such as Specific Language Impairment or Down Syndrome).

Participants will receive a token gift for completing the study.

If you have questions about the study, please call 919-699-4569 or send an e-mail to mbecker@email.unc.edu.

If you would like to enroll in the study, please contact Misha Becker by sending an e-mail to mbecker@email.unc.edu or to gylfadot@email.unc.edu.

Approved by UNC Behavioral IRB:
IRB Study #11-0103, Children's Learning of 'Tough'-Adjectives
approved 2/15/2011

This email is sponsored by: Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 10:51 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Apply for the 2011 NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages. Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us. To ensure that you continue to receive emails from us, add ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu to your address book today.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages (NCOLCTL) Presents

July 11-29, 2011

Madison, WI

NCOLCTL Sponsors

Chinasprout

Visit Our Sponsor

Int-logo

Visit Our Sponsor

NSLlogo

Visit Our Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Join Our Mailing List

Apply for the 2011 Swahili STARTALK

Application Deadline Coming 04/28/2011

Swahili STARTALK is a summer professional development program for teachers of Swahili.

Are you interested in expanding your knowledge of teaching Swahili? If so, you should attend this summer Swahili professional development program.

NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

What: An intensive three-week program that will allow you to participate in professional development that will focus on quality instruction, curriculum and assessment for Swahili Language.

Who: This program is open to both current and new teachers of Swahili.

Where: The program will take place in Madison, WI.

When: Program dates are: July 11-29, 2011
July 11-15, 2011 (One-week Non-Residential online program)
July 18-29, 2011 (Two-week Residential program in Madison)

Cost: Each participant selected for this program will receive
(i) a $1,000.00 stipend (ONLY upon successful completion of the program.
(ii) Accommodation for the two-week residential program.
(iii) $300.00 (maximum), travel reimbursement for all out of town participants*
(iv) A Certificate of Completion upon successfully completing the program.

*Some restrictions may apply

To Apply:

1. Complete the form here: Application Form
You can type in the required information. However, print out the completed form and sign. You can fax, mail or email the completed application to the NCOLCTL Secretariat Office.

2. Save this form and forward to your Administrator or Supervisor for completion: Supervisor's Form
Have Your Supervisor fax, mail or email it to the NCOLCTL Secretariat office upon completion.

Application Deadline: April 28, 2011

NCOLCTL Secretariat
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel: 608-265-7905
Fax: 608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:22 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: The Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award Nominations Due Tuesday, April 26

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development is calling for nominations for the Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award. The award will recognize a University central support office employee who exemplifies the "can do" attitude by continually making meritorious efforts to provide service to professors and staff. The award honors those who streamline procedures, reduce lead times, remove outdated requirements and other obstacles to getting things done. The recipient will receive a $500 cash award and be honored at a luncheon.

To be eligible for nomination the individual must be a permanent University employee (SPA or EPA Non Faculty). Nominations are restricted to employees of central offices. Department, center/institute and school/ college employees are not eligible for this award. Any member of the University community is invited to submit an application.

The Tim Quigg "Can Do" Award was established with funding from an anonymous donor. The donor has created this award to honor Tim Quigg, associate chair of computer science, who has established an exemplary record of service on campus. His philosophy of working with other campus units has created an atmosphere that fosters interdepartmental collaboration, teamwork, and a sense of achieving one's goals. He is a recipient of many awards including the Research Administrator of the Year Award from the Office of the Vice Chancellor of Research and Economic Development and the Chancellor's Award.

Some factors you may want to consider in preparing your nomination justification for outstanding accomplishments include:

* Provides excellent customer service.
* Takes charge of problem solving.
* Guarantees timely review and processing.
* Promotes collaboration between departmental and central administration.
* Streamlines programs and procedures
* Creative and resourceful handling of challenges.

The nomination form can be found at
https://ccm-contrib.unc.edu/ccm/groups/public/@research/@vc/documents/content/ccm3_025706.doc

Nominations must be received by Tuesday, April 26, 2011. Please submit nominations electronically to: Quigg_Can_Do_Award@unc.edu .

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of atchen@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:39 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Reminder -- Fibromyalgia Information Needs Survey Invitation

---

Hi everyone,

I am a graduate student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. I wrote a couple of weeks ago inviting you all to share your experiences with me in an online fibromyalgia information needs survey.

First, thanks to all of you who have already responded! I really appreciate your input and assistance.

If you were interested in participating but have not yet, there is still time. You can access the survey at:

http://ruby.ils.unc.edu/~atchen/surveych.html

If you do not have fibromyalgia, I would appreciate it if you could forward this email to anyone you know who may have fibromyalgia. If they are interested in participating in this study, they may go directly to the above link to read more about it, or contact me at atchen@email.unc.edu.

This study, 11-0295, was approved by the University's Institutional Review Board for Human Subjects Research on 4/8/2011. For more information about your rights as a subject, you may contact the Institutional Review Board at 1-919-966-3113 or via email at IRB_subjects@unc.edu.

Thank you for considering this invitation!

Annie Chen

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of haneya@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 8:56 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Instrumentation: Development, Testing, & Revision

---

Instrumentation: Development, Testing and Revision

This four-and-a-half day institute is designed to help doctorally-prepared researchers or educators,post-doctoral fellows and doctoral students apply the steps of instrument development and testing to new measures as well as those to be revised or evaluated for use. Participants will learn the similarities and differences in instrument development using traditional and qualitative approaches, along with exploring how each is used in instrument revision. Discussions will include classical measurement theory, reliability, validity, types of scaling, item writing, instrument components, pilot and field testing, and factor analysis, along with an assortment of other topics. By blending real life examples and humor with theoretical knowledge, Dr. Lynn will enable course participants to understand the process and issues associated with instrument development and revision, exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis, various scaling methods, and critiquing existing instruments.

Faculty:
Mary R. Lynn, PhD, RN
Professor
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Dr. Lynn, Professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Nursing, has developed and published a number of instruments in addition to receiving NIH funding to test some instruments.

For more information please contact the Center for Lifelong Learning
phone: 919-966-3638
email: nursing_cll@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Lifelong Learning

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Excellence in Research Administration Award- Nominations Due: Tuesday, April 26

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development is calling for nominations for W. Scott Blackwood Excellence in Research Administration Award. This award will recognize a University employee for meritorious and distinguished accomplishments in research administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. A $500 cash award will be presented to the selected research administrator. The nomination form can be found at https://ccm-contrib.unc.edu/ccm/groups/public/@research/@vc/documents/content/ccm3_025705.doc

To be eligible for nomination the individual must be a permanent University employee (SPA, EPA Non Faculty or Non-Tenure Track Faculty). Some of the factors you may want to consider in preparing your nomination justification for outstanding accomplishments include:

* Exemplifies the research mission of the department, school, and university
* Promotes training and continuing education in research
* Provides excellent customer service to the research community
* Champions protection and preservation of the institution
* Advocates the creation and dissemination of new knowledge
* Engages in service to the profession
* Advances team building and participation within the department, school, and university
* Enhances infrastructure in support of research
* Collects and disseminates funding opportunities
* Facilitates proposal development and submission
* Guarantees timely proposal review and clearance
* Facilitates collaborative project development
* Directs project implementation and financial management
* Safeguards the protection of human and animal subjects
* Promotes collaboration between departmental and central administration
* Ensures project integrity and compliance
* Streamlines programs and procedures for proposal submission
* Designs and implements programs and procedures that support the research effort of the department, school, and university

Nominations must be received by Tuesday, April 26. Please submit nominations electronically to: research_excellence@unc.edu

Past winners include: Tim Quigg, Computer Science; Sherrie Settle, School of Pharmacy and currently the Office of Sponsored Research; Ellen Ludington, Psychiatry; Mark Kramer, Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center and David Oglesby, Kenan Center

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lturnbul@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a cancer patient, family member, friend or caregiver in need of support?

Are you a cancer patient, a family member, friend or caregiver looking for support?
Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are evaluating an innovative peer counseling program. Peer Connect was developed based on our expertise in developing peer counseling training programs for cancer survivors and their families.

Getting support from people who have been there can make all the difference. Our free PEER CONNECT PROGRAM matches anyone touched by cancer with another person who has had similar experiences.

Our volunteers:

7 Have received expert training

7 Understand your concerns

7 Provide support for you during diagnosis, treatment, or life after treatment

Peer Connect is a free confidential peer-support program that connects anyone touched by cancer (patients, survivors, and caregivers) with another person whose experiences are similar. Peer Connect is sponsored by Carolina Well-UNC Lineberger's Cancer Survivorship Program. Most often the support is over the telephone so no matter where you are in the state you can get support.

Participants will receive a $25 gift card at the end of the program.

If you or someone you know can benefit from this program, please call (919)843-8939 or email lturnbul@email.unc.edu for more information.

This study titled "Carolina Well Peer Counseling Support Program-a Pilot Study" has been approved by Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on
11/01/10, study #10-1499.

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 20, 2011 9:38 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: University Diversity Awards

The University Diversity Awards Committee is pleased to announce winners of the 2011 awards. The University Diversity Award recognizes significant contribution to the enhancement, support and/or furtherance of diversity on the campus and in the community. The award is given annually in each of the eight categories listed below. To see date and time for the awards ceremony, please point your browser to www.unc.edu/diversity/divawards.htm These awards are sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs.

Faculty: Terry Rhodes

Staff: Debra Watikins

Graduate Student: Ayesha Lovick

Undergraduate: Andrew Lu

Academic Unit: Chuck Stone Program for Diversity in Education and Media (School of Journalism and Mass Communication)

Administrative Unit: Scholarships and Student Aid

Community Member: Graig Meyer

Student Organization: Kappa Omicron Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority

This email is sponsored by: University Diversity Awards Committee

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, April 21, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Stress & Pain Management Course-Register Today!

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, and difficult interactions with others?

Do you want to learn how to slow down and enjoy your life?

Mindfulness can make a difference!

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down and set priorities while remaining calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).

For detailed information about our basic foundation courses, visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program/basic-foundation-course-mindfulness-based-stress-reduction.

UPCOMING SPRING 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Tuesday MORNINGS, 9:30am-12:00pm, beginning May 3 (required orientation) through June 28, 2011, taught by Mary Love May at the UNC Wellness Center at Meadowmont

2) Tuesday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning May 3 (required orientation) through June 28, 2011, taught by Mary Love May at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

UPCOMING SUMMER 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Thursday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning July 14 (required orientation) through September 8, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

For information about upcoming course schedules, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation, visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program. To register for these mindfulness courses, download and complete the registration form at the link above as well.

Questions? Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 22, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATION OPEN FORUMS

The Search Committee for the Dean, School of Journalism and Mass Communication is pleased to announce three candidates have accepted our invitations
For campus visits and interviews.

We invite you to attend the upcoming open forums with the candidates. These forums are designed to give the campus community an opportunity to hear from candidates about their experience and their ideas for enhancing UNC Chapel Hill, and an opportunity for you to provide feedback.

Campus Visit - April 25th and 26th

Dr. David Perlmutter
Director, School of Journalism and Mass Communication
Professor & Starch Faculty Fellow
College of Liberal Arts & Sciences
The University of Iowa

Open Forum - April 25th - 2:45-3:30 - Gerrard Hall

Campus Visit - April 27th and 28th

Dr. Carol Pardun
Professor and Director, School of Journalism and Mass Communications
University of South Carolina

Open Forum - April 27th - 2:00-2:45 - Gerrard Hall

Campus Visit - May 5th and 6th

Dr. John Pavlik
Chair, Department of Journalism and Media Studies
Professor, SC&I
Rutgers University

Open Forum - May 5th - 2:00-2:45 - Gerrard Hall

http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/open-positions

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: bounce-29061921-39318148@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

_____
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS.
Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From:	bounce-29063908-39349871@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Greenway, Ryan <greenway@unc.edu>
Sent:	Sunday, April 24, 2011 7:01 PM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc:	asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu; asddd@listserv.unc.edu
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] CORRECTION: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report (May 6)

This message is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences with a copy to managers and chairs.

The WebEvent Reminder that was sent this weekend had the incorrect due date for the faculty to complete their annual report. The deadline is Friday, May 6.

Best.

—
Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations // 919.962.9275

-----Original Message-----
From: bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu [mailto:bounce-29061915-39318458@listserv.unc.edu] On Behalf Of WebEvent
Sent: Saturday, April 23, 2011 11:03 PM
To: Greenway, Ryan
Subject: [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Apr 29 - Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Importance: High

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Faculty Input for Annual Report
Date: Friday, April 29, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is April 29, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.
If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.
*For responses from previous years – Previous system.
Your Onyen
Website: http://onyen.unc.edu
Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

---
Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: all-college-list-recipients@listserv.unc.edu.

You are currently subscribed to all-college-list-recipients as: greenway@unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80&n=T&l=all-college-list-recipients&o=29061922
or send a blank email to leave-29061922-39318723.c43f0941e2f386d150d4ba02ec966d80@listserv.unc.edu

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have extreme PMS?

Do you or someone you know have severe PMS mood symptoms?
Have you ever thought you may have Premenstrual Dysphoric Disorder (PMDD)?

Some women experience PMS mood symptoms that interfere with work, activities, and relationships.

The UNC Department of Psychiatry research team is conducting a clinical research study for women with severe PMS and Premenstrual Dysphoric Disorder (PMDD) to see whether combining an anti-depressant with an additional study-related medication aids in the relief of this reproductive mood disorder.

Volunteers must be:
* At least 18 years old
* In good health
* Currently treated with an anti-depressant

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084
(bpearson@med.unc.edu).

Approved 10/30/2006 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board.
IRB # 05-PSYCH-1418/ 05-3106

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 8:37 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2011 State Health Plan Annual Enrollment

---

TO: All Permanent Employees

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Interim Senior Director, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

This is the first in a series of notifications you will be receiving from Human Resources regarding State Health Plan enrollment. You will receive another notice with additional details next week.

In lieu of any approved legislation from the General Assembly, the State Health Plan will move forward with an annual enrollment for the plan year beginning July 1. This enrollment period will be May 9 through June 8.

For this enrollment, the State Health Plan will use the current approved plan design as well as rates in effect during the 2010-2011 benefit year. This includes both elements of the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative - tobacco use and Body Mass Index (BMI).

The University's enrollment site will open May 9. While enrollment continues through June 8, employees are encouraged to take action prior to May 24; otherwise, retroactive payroll deductions may be incurred as a result of any changes.

All employees who wish to enroll in or continue to be covered under the PPO standard (80/20) plan must take action during this year's enrollment. You can access the University's enrollment website from the Human Resources home page at http://hr.unc.edu.

It is important to note that we will most likely have a second enrollment period later this year that will include premium increases and benefit plan changes.

Here are important points about this year's enrollment:

-- Employees must enroll online. Paper enrollment forms will not be accepted.
-- You cannot enroll online until May 9.
-- The State Health Plan will move all employees, and their covered dependents, currently enrolled in the PPO standard (80/20) plan to the PPO basic (70/30) plan. You must take action if you want to re-enroll in the PPO standard plan.
-- Employees must complete the questions concerning use of tobacco products and/or participation in a tobacco cessation program to be eligible to re-enroll in the PPO standard plan.
-- Employees must complete the question concerning their BMI to be eligible to re-enroll in the PPO standard plan.
-- You may enroll adult dependents, up to age 26, who are not eligible for their own employer sponsored health coverage.

Like last year, all enrollments will be done online. This year, however, you will use your Onyen and password to sign on to the enrollment website. This is different from the login instructions provided in the enrollment booklet.

To obtain an Onyen, go to the following link: https://onyen.unc.edu/cgi-bin/unc_id/services. Call 962-HELP if you have login problems.

For employees who need assistance during this enrollment, Human Resources will provide opportunities to work with the Benefits Services staff.

If you have any questions about enrollment, contact Benefits Services at 919-962-3071 or benefits@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gang@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 8:57 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Wanted for a Study on Stress and Blood Pressure

---

Black/African American men and women between the age of 25 and 55 are needed for a study of Stress and Blood Pressure.

Researchers will come to you. You will be asked to complete surveys, and your heart and blood pressure will be monitored for 24-hours while you carry out your normal daily activities.

No needles. You will help health care providers to better understand factors that affect our health.

You will also receive $50 along with information on preventing and controlling high blood pressure in the Black community.

For more information you may email hypertension24@gmail.com or contact Debra J. Barksdale, RN, PhD at 919-843-2479 or djbarksdale@unc.edu.

Contact us today!

Debra J. Barksdale, PhD, FNP, CNE, FAANP
Associate Professor
UNC-Chapel Hill School of Nursing

Public Health-Nursing IRB study # 10-0573.
IRB approval date: 3/23/2010

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing at UNC-CH

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rebecca_bramlett@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 25, 2011 9:14 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2011 Faculty-Staff Campaign

Dear Carolina Colleagues,

Excellence. It's what we do.

And so I encourage you to join me in supporting Carolina during the 2011 Faculty-Staff Campaign to sustain UNC's excellence.

Carolina's faculty and staff are second to none, and we each play an important role in helping make the Carolina experience unequivocally great. The University thrives because we continue to come together to accomplish great things. This initiative is no exception. Last year, more than 1,650 employees donated $1.3 million to the Faculty-Staff Campaign, even as economic uncertainty lingered.

Just like you, your gifts make a difference each and every day at Carolina. Support from faculty and staff provides scholarships and even emergency financial assistance to students (http://studentaffairs.unc.edu/giving/student-emergency-fund.html); brings renowned scholars to campus and advances scientific inquiry; makes our campus environment extraordinary and helps each of us carry out our mission of teaching, research and service.

What's more, your gifts can support programs designed specifically to benefit Carolina faculty and staff, such as the Carolina Family Scholarship Fund (http://giving.unc.edu/why-give/support-our-priorities/students/carolina-family-scholarship/index.htm) and the Carolina Campus Community Garden (http://sites.google.com/site/uncgarden/).

You can choose to support these areas--and many more--in this year's Faculty-Staff Campaign.

I know times remain uncertain. But I also know that, in typical Carolina fashion, you all have continued to get the job done, and that's why we continue to do great things. I thank you for your hard work, and I hope you'll make 2011 another great year for the Faculty-Staff Campaign.

Visit http://annualfund.unc.edu/facultystaff to learn more about the campaign and to see an honor roll of last year's campaign donors. To give online or by payroll deduction, go to http://giving.unc.edu/gift.

Hark the Sound!

Chancellor Holden Thorp

FACULTY-STAFF CAMPAIGN WEB SITE:
http://annualfund.unc.edu/facultystaff

2010 FACULTY-STAFF CAMPAIGN HONOR ROLL:
http://giving.unc.edu/affinity-groups/faculty-staff-programs/2010-honor-roll/index.htm

MAKE A GIFT:
http://giving.unc.edu/gift

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Annual Fund

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 26, 2011 11:39 AM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

This Week at the Ackland

Out of the Studio

Featuring: Sacrificial Poets

Thursday, April 28
6:00 PM

The Ackland welcomes back nationally-recognized and award-winning spoken word poets and educators Kane Smego and Will McInerney, who will be performing original works of poetry and speaking on their experiences organizing Sacrificial Poets, a poetry-based youth movement in Chapel Hill and Durham. They will also discuss their goal of taking this art form to the international level -- they are planning to spend two months on the ground this summer in Egypt and Tunisia collecting oral histories, taking photographs, and creating poetic reflections that depict the sights, sounds, and emotions of life in both countries during this time of transformation.

Free

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, April 30
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "One of a Kind"

Using works of art in the Ackland Art Museum's galleries for inspiration, children will experiment with color, shape, and line to create their own monoprint or one-of-a-kind print to take home.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials.
Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919.962.3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.

IN THE GALLERIES:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011 Through May 8

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

May 3
Yoga in the Galleries
12:00 - 1:00 PM

May 4
Lunch With One:
DE-NATURED with Dr. Gabriel Trop
12:00 - 1:00 PM

May 5
Ackland Art Museum
Spring Luncheon
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM

May 11
Tea at Two
with Timothy Riggs
2:00 - 3:30 PM
RSVP Now!

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

Slam Poetry Workshop with Sacrificial Poets

RSVP NOW!

Saturday, April 30
1:00 – 4:00 PM

The Ackland welcomes back nationally-recognized and award-winning local organization Sacrificial Poets. Come explore the art of spoken word "slam" poetry and delve into both writing and performance techniques that will help you take your art from the page to the stage.

Sacrificial Poets's mission is to inspire, foster, and promote artistic expression, personal growth, and social justice for youth in our collective communities through the use of the spoken and written word.

Teens and adults may register by contacting Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

Free to High School students / $25 Ackland members / $30 non-members.

Art Now/Cinema Now

"In the Shadow of Catastrophe: German Cinema 1977-1992"
Four films sponsored by the Ackland Art Museum and the Interdisciplinary Program in Cinema, UNC-Chapel Hill

What is the role of art in times of darkness? German artists, confronted with the urgency of this question during the second half of the twentieth century, saw art as a means to reflect upon catastrophic events. This series examines German filmmakers' responses to the incomprehensibility of violence, terror, and self-destruction that was associated with their national identity.

Free and open to the public.
Location: Varsity Theater, East Franklin Street, Downtown Chapel Hill.

April 30, 7:00 PM: Lessons of Darkness (Werner Herzog, 1992)

Lessons of Darkness unlocks both the terrifying beauty and the apocalyptic horror inscribed in the landscape in the wake of the first Gulf War (1990-91). Although Werner Herzog's film ostensibly investigates the results of the United States' intervention in Iraq, it touches on the aesthetic and ideological complexities involved in any attempt to represent the effects of war--a project that cannot be seen outside of the context of Germany's own troubled past.

Following the documentary, Christina Wegel (UNC-CH German), Gabriel Trop (UNC-CH German), Richard Cante (UNC-CH Communication Studies), and Richard Langston (UNC-CH German) will lead a discussion about the film.

Ackland Art Museum Spring Luncheon

Tickets Still Available!

Thursday, May 5
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM
The Carolina Inn

Held in conjunction with the Ackland's annual Master of Fine Arts exhibition: New Currents in Contemporary Art
15 April - 8 May 2011

Guest Speaker: Jeff Whetstone
Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies, Studio Art
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Hosted by The Friends of the Ackland
Single Tickets: $50

Following lunch, guests are invited to the Ackland to view the exhibition.
MFA students will be available in the galleries to talk about their work.

For ticket information,
email Pat Hall or call 919.843.3676.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29074327-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Lydia Anne McCarthy, Untitled, 2010, Digital C-print.

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 26, 2011 3:53 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Tim McMillan

Hi All: Please join me in congratulating Tim for becoming a member of the Faculty Executive Council. It is a BIG Deal!
Best,
Julius

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: smutima@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29076335
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29076335-32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of smichala@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 26, 2011 8:24 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Science libraries relocations

This spring, the Library conducted a series of surveys and discussion groups about science libraries on the UNC campus. We learned a great deal about the collections, services, and staff interactions that UNC faculty and students in the sciences value most. Thank you very much for your time and candid comments.

In response to the budget situation, and informed by the priorities described to us by faculty and students, some science libraries and services will be relocated on the campus during the summer of 2011, as follows:

-The collections of the Brauer Math/Physics Library and the Geological Sciences Library will relocate to expanded browseable stacks in Wilson Library. Materials will be consolidated with the biology and chemistry collections already in Wilson Library, providing the opportunity for interdisciplinary browsing. The science collections are accessible from the South Road entrance to Wilson Library, opposite the Bell Tower.

-Hours for the science collections in Wilson Library will be: Mon.-Thurs. 8 a.m. - 8 p.m.; Fri. 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Sat. 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.; Sun. 1 - 6 p.m. This represents an increase in staffed hours over any of the current science libraries, gained from efficiencies in staffing only a single browsing point.

-The campus delivery (Carolina BLU) program will deliver books to faculty campus boxes, and to the library of choice for students. High-impact undergraduate science collections will remain in the Undergraduate Library, which also provides reserves services in all disciplines.

-The science librarians will have home offices in the newly opened Kenan Science Library in Venable Hall. They will continue to serve the departments in their areas of expertise with consultations, instruction, collection development, and customized services for the departments they work with.

-The Library has purchased expanded backfiles of 42 e-journals in physics and the physical sciences. Increasing portions of the science literature are now online and the Library will continue to acquire digital science content whenever possible.

The Library staff and I are confident that we can continue providing to you the access to research materials and the professional expertise of our staff that will support work in the sciences. Details about move dates will be posted to library.unc.edu as they are finalized.

Please note that relocation of and access to science collections in Wilson Library will not be affected by the recently announced installation of sprinklers in the Wilson Library special collections stacks during 2011-12.

Sincerely,
Sarah C. Michalak
University Librarian and Associate Provost for University Libraries

This email is sponsored by: University Library

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 26, 2011 8:44 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking participants for a digital possession study (multiple age ranges)

Hello,
I am conducting a study in order to get a general sense of the characteristics of digital possessions on personal computers and in personal web spaces.

I am looking for men and women in the following age ranges participate in an interview about digital possessions OR a sorting exercise:

Age range 1: 18 years - 24 years*
Age range 2: 38 years - 47 years*
Age range 3: 58 years - 67 years*

Digital Possession Interview
Duration: 1 hour
Incentive: $10
During the interviews, you will bring your laptop and/or smartphone/iPad and sit down with me (the researcher) and provide your opinion and some examples about digital possessions. You will refer to the digital possessions on your laptop/smartphone/iPad, when necessary.

Sorting Exercise
Duration: 1 hour
Incentive: $10
During the sorting exercise, you will sort note cards with characteristics about digital possessions, along a spectrum of -5 to +5, according to a set of directions read by the researcher.

If interested in the digital possession interviews, the card sorting activity or both studies, PLEASE FOLLOW THE LINK BELOW to take the 5 minute pre-screen survey. If you qualify, you will receive an email from the researcher. If you do not qualify, you will receive a message at the end of the survey. An equal number of men and women are sought for this study.
https://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_1Sn7ls9AcTKz0Rm

*Students, faculty and staff associated with the School of Information and Library Science are not eligible to participate in the study.

Thank you!

Amber L. Cushing
Doctoral Candidate
School of Information and Library Science
UNC-Chapel Hill
cushinga@email.unc.edu

IRB Study # 11-0759
approved by UNC behavioral IRB on 4/26/2011
approved by the UNC School of Information and Library Science on 4/12/2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 26, 2011 9:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Change in Dial-out Prefix for Landlines

---

Dear Faculty, Staff and Students:

Beginning April 30, you should dial "7" instead of "9" to make an outside call from a campus landline.

The change, which affects both University and UNC Health Care System landlines, is designed to reduce misdialed or hang-up 911 calls, saving both time and money.

Whenever the University's emergency dispatchers receive an unintentional 911 call, they have to verify that there is no true emergency. If the caller stays on the line, the dispatcher can talk with the person to determine that he or she is safe. For hang-up calls, however, we have to dispatch a Department of Public Safety officer to locate the caller and confirm that he or she is safe.

Every year, we receive nearly 4,900 mistaken 911 calls at an annual cost of more than $48,000. Changing the dial-out prefix to "7" should substantially reduce these calls - and the cost associated with them - and allow our public safety officers to focus on genuine safety situations. Our colleagues at N.C. State University have seen a 70 percent drop in mistaken 911 calls since they changed the dial-out prefix there two years ago.

The Department of Public Safety, in conjunction with ITS Communication Technologies, has worked with AT&T to implement the change for Carolina. To give people time to adjust to dialing "7" instead of "9," there will be an overlap period in which both numbers will work.

Besides landlines, other services that could be affected include alarm systems, fax machines, pagers, speed dialing, telephone forwarding, automated dial-out programming on lab equipment, the auto-dial feature on Centrex digital phones, overflow routes for telephone rollover configurations and automatic/uniform call distribution (ACD/UCD) applications.

ITS Communication Technologies is working directly with people who have automated equipment that relies on a dial-out prefix so they can be notified to reprogram their equipment.

Information about the change is posted at http://its.unc.edu/CommTechnology/Dial7AccessCodeChange. People with questions can call 962-HELP and select the option for telephone requests or they can submit questions to dial7@unc.edu.

The dial-out prefix change is part of Carolina Counts, the University-wide initiative to improve the efficiency of campus operations and reduce administrative costs, based on key recommendations from the 2009 Bain & Company study. Carolina Counts plays a key role in the University's budget strategy.

Sincerely,

Lt. Col. George Hare
Deputy Director of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: Department of Public Safety

From: UNC Press <enotice@uncpress-unc.ccsend.com>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 6:35 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: 3 days left to shop our BIGGEST SALE EVER!

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

Only 3 days left to shop our BIGGEST SALE EVER!

SHOP NOW!

The sale ends Saturday, April 30th.

Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.

- 70% off on more than 700 titles
- FREE SHIPPINGon orders over $100
- A FREE BOOK on orders of $150 and more

There are still a wide variety of books left. . . Cooking, Gardening, Civil War, History, Biography, Religion, Literature, Nature and Travel Guides, and so many more. . .

Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.

Click here to start shopping now!

Join Our Mailing List!

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by mary_blaine@unc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

UNC Press | 116 South Boundary Street | Chapel Hill | NC | 27514

From: National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 1:15 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Last Chance to Apply for the 2011 NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages. Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us. To ensure that you continue to receive emails from us, add ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu to your address book today.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages (NCOLCTL) Presents

July 11-29, 2011

Madison, WI

NCOLCTL Sponsors

Chinasprout
Visit Our Sponsor

Int-logo
Visit Our Sponsor

NSLlogo
Visit Our Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Join Our Mailing List

Apply for the 2011 Swahili STARTALK

Application Deadline Tomorrow 04/28/2011

Swahili STARTALK is a summer professional development program for teachers of Swahili.

Are you interested in expanding your knowledge of teaching Swahili? If so, you should attend this summer Swahili professional development program.

NCOLCTL Swahili STARTALK

What: An intensive three-week program that will allow you to participate in professional development that will focus on quality instruction, curriculum and assessment for Swahili Language.

Who: This program is open to both current and new teachers of Swahili.

Where: The program will take place in Madison, WI.

When: Program dates are: July 11-29, 2011
July 11-15, 2011 (One-week Non-Residential online program)
July 18-29, 2011 (Two-week Residential program in Madison)

Cost: Each participant selected for this program will receive
(i) a $1,000.00 stipend (ONLY upon successful completion of the program.
(ii) Accommodation for the two-week residential program.
(iii) $300.00 (maximum), travel reimbursement for all out of town participants*
(iv) A Certificate of Completion upon successfully completing the program.

Some restrictions may apply

To Apply:

1. Complete the form here: Application Form
You can type in the required information. However, print out the completed form and sign. You can fax, mail or email the completed application to the NCOLCTL Secretariat Office.

2. Save this form and forward to your Administrator or Supervisor for completion: Supervisor's Form
Have Your Supervisor fax, mail or email it to the NCOLCTL Secretariat office upon completion.

Application Deadline: April 28, 2011

NCOLCTL Secretariat
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel: 608-265-7905
Fax: 608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:02 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	URGENT: SUBJECT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

SUBJECT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

04/27/11, 1:30 p.m.

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The National Weather Services has issued a TORNADO WATCH FOR ORANGE COUNTY.

That means conditions are favorable for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in and close to the watch area. The weather service says people in these areas should be on the lookout for threatening weather conditions and listen for later statements and possible warnings.

You need to be prepared to take the following actions if the watch is elevated to a tornado warning in our area:

* Seek shelter immediately.
* Move to an interior room on the lowest floor of a sturdy building.
    * Avoid windows.
* If no shelter is available, lie down in a low-lying area.
* Protect yourself from flying debris.

If Orange County is placed under a tornado warning, the University will activate the sirens to indicate the situation has become imminent and life-threatening. You will need to take immediate precautions.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 2:46 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] Graduation 2011

Dear Colleagues:
Hope the end of the Semester is going well for everyone. This is a friendly reminder that we will have our departmental graduation ceremony on Saturday May 7 at 2.00 PM in the Hitchcock Room at the Sonja Haynes Stone Center. Tim, Reg, Agatha and Travis have been working hard to ensure that everything is in order. It is important that we all make time to attend. Graduation ceremonies are important to our graduates and their families. I promise that it will not be a prolonged event. See you on May 7.
Best,
Julius

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: smutima@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29082229
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29082229-32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 27, 2011 6:31 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	URGENT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

SUBJECT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

04/27/11, 6:15 p.m.

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The National Weather Services has issued a TORNADO WATCH FOR ORANGE COUNTY.

That means conditions are favorable for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in and close to the watch area. The weather service says people in these areas should be on the lookout for threatening weather conditions and listen for later statements and possible warnings.

You need to be prepared to take the following actions if the watch is elevated to a tornado warning in our area:

* Seek shelter immediately.
* Move to an interior room on the lowest floor of a sturdy building.
* Avoid windows.
* If no shelter is available, lie down in a low-lying area.
* Protect yourself from flying debris.

If Orange County is placed under a tornado warning, the University will activate the sirens to indicate the situation has become imminent and life-threatening. You will need to take immediate precautions.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ASPREE Aspirin Study

Healthy Volunteers (age 70+) Needed for a Research Study
The ASPREE study will help researchers learn about the benefits of aspirin in reducing memory problems and physical problems as you age. Aspirin may help older people live healthy lives by delaying the start of illness. However, aspirin may not be safe for everyone. This study will determine whether taking aspirin is a safe way for people to stay healthy for longer.
You are eligible to take part in this study if you:

* are aged 70 years or older.

You cannot take part if you:

* have blood vessel disease.
* have a serious illness.
* are allergic to aspirin or cannot take it.
* have had or are at risk of serious bleeding.
* are taking other 'blood thinning' medication.
* have seriously impaired mental or physical function.

This study requires 8 visits to UNC over a six-year period of time. Also, participants will be contacted three times a year by phone for a short follow-up.

All office visits, medical evaluations, and medications (either low-dose aspirin or placeho) for to this study will be provided at no cost to participants.

For more information, please contact Sarah at 919-966-6827 or sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu.

Approved by the UNC-CH IRB on 8/05/2010. IRB# 10-0965.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine/Division of Geriatric Medicine and the Center for Aging and Health.

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 27, 2011 9:07 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Employee Assistance Program Changes

TO: All Employees

FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

Effective July 1, the Office of Human Resources will offer Deer Oaks as the University's sole provider of Employee Assistance Program (EAP) services. As an employee of UNC-Chapel Hill, you and your dependents are eligible for this important benefit at no cost.

The Office of Human Resources currently has two providers of EAP services - Deer Oaks and our local representative, Susan Criscenzo. The University's current budget situation has necessitated a review of our EAP offerings and we have made the decision to move forward with only one provider - Deer Oaks. While we have benefited greatly from our relationship with Susan Criscenzo over the years, we know that Deer Oaks is fully equipped to support the University's future EAP needs. Beginning July 1, Susan Criscenzo will support UNC Healthcare as their full-time EAP provider. You can continue to consult directly with Susan through June 30.

Deer Oaks representatives are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and have access to clinicians with considerable expertise in convenient locations. Their providers can offer counseling for stress, depression, anxiety, workplace difficulties, substance abuse, marital problems, family or parenting conflicts, grief, violence and unhealthy lifestyles. You and your dependents are allowed one confidential counseling visit at no cost. Additional visits will be charged based on your insurance coverage.

In addition, Deer Oaks can provide tools and referrals for:

-- Childcare and eldercare resources with referrals
-- Financial and legal issues
-- Child and parenting support services
-- Retiree assistance
-- College resources
-- Moving resources

For additional information or a referral to a provider nearest you, please call Deer Oaks toll-free at 877-327-7658. Online tools are available at www.eapnc.com (login and password: eapnc).

UNC-Chapel Hill is committed to the health and well-being of its employees and their family members. We encourage you to use this important benefit should you have need.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of haneya@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Outcomes Measurement

Outcomes Measurement

Outcomes are a critical component of health care today. Clinicians, administrators, and researchers rely on up-to-date knowledge and skills to create or select outcomes that document effectiveness of care, to use patient outcomes for accreditation or quality improvement purposes, or to develop research programs Participate actively with didactic presentations and small group work during this 4-and-a-half day Institute to explore: measurement theory including extensive coverage of reliability, validity and instrument construction principles; criteria to use in selecting outcomes measures; how to design outcomes studies; and commonly used outcomes measures. Sessions will be devoted to reviewing outcomes measures being used in the participants' current work and to assist participants in designing their own outcomes studies.

Faculty:
Mary R. Lynn, PhD, RN
Professor
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing

Richard W. Redman, PhD, RN
Professor and Assistant Dean, Graduate Programs
Division of Nursing Business & Health Systems
University of Michigan
School of Nursing

Mary R. Lynn teaches measurement to doctoral students and has been funded by NIH to develop and test instruments as well as to conduct outcomes research in the home health setting. Her research and her work with other researchers focuses on measurement.

Richard W. Redman teaches outcomes research methodology to doctoral students at the University of Michigan where he directs the PhD Program. His program of research examines clinical and organizational outcomes with a special focus on quality and patient safety.

For more information please contact the Center for Lifelong Learning
phone: 919-966-3638
email: nursing_cll@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Lifelong Learning

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ntom@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ronald E. McNair Scholars Applications Now Available (DEADLINE: July 25, 2011)

The Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program is now accepting applications for the incoming Fall 2011 cohort. The incoming cohort will consist primarily of sophomores who will remain committed to the program through their senior year.

The McNair Scholars Program offers UNC-CH undergraduate students the opportunity to explore graduate school as a real possibility. This program helps scholars build their repertoire of knowledge and skills that will increase their likelihood of matriculating into the doctoral programs of their choice.

The overall focus of the McNair Scholars Program is to provide a supportive and encouraging culture that exposes students to the joys of research and scholarship, and enables the program participants to develop close professional relationships with faculty mentors. To support this goal, the program offers:

* Eight week paid summer research program
* Research courses
* Interactive workshops and seminars
* Travel to present research nationally
* Graduate school tours
* Faculty mentorship
* Counseling and advising sessions
* GRE Prep classes & one (1) paid GRE test
* Cultural events and activities
* Networking opportunities

Students who qualify will be selected based on their academic record, personal statement, personal interview, and academic goals. The applicant must also meet the following requirements:

* Minimum 3.0 Cumulative GPA
* U.S. citizenship or permanent residency
* At least a sophomore standing (minimum 60 credits earned by start of Fall semester)
* First-generation college student AND low-income, OR a member of an under-represented group in graduate education

 APPLICATION DEADLINE: Monday, July 25, 2011
MANDATORY RETREAT DATES: Sat/Sun, August 27-28, 2011

IN ORDER TO COMPLETE THE APPLICATION PROCESS, YOU MUST ALSO SUBMIT:

* A completed and signed application (attached to this email or found on our website at http://mcnair.unc.edu)
* One official college transcript--you may request Registrar to mail directly to CB # 3310 for free.
* Proof of family income (providing tax returns from most recent year submitted)
* Three letters of recommendation/rating forms (two must be from a professor/teacher who has taught you at the college level)
* A writing sample of at least two pages that was completed within the last year (e.g., course paper)

SUBMIT APPLICATION MATERIALS TO:

ATTN: REM Selection Committee
The Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
150 South Rd., Suite 101, CB 3310
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

We hope you take advantage of this unique experience to develop the skills that will support you in completing your undergraduate program successfully, as well as prepare you for graduate level studies. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

--
Nancy Tom, M.A.
Program Manager
Ronald E. McNair Scholars

Office of TRiO Programs

150 South Road, Suite 101
Campus Box # 3310
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

Office: 919.962.1281
Direct: 919.843.8323
Fax: 919.962.4381

http://mcnair.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of TRiO Programs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of motherbabylab@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, April 29, 2011 8:43 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Infants 3-5 months old needed for research study

---

IRB study name: Prenatal Nicotine Exposure Effects on Infant Brain Development
IRB study number: 09-1643
Biomedical IRB
Approved: 10/7/2009, modified and approved 4/26/2011

Help us learn more about infant brain development.

Researchers at UNC are looking for mothers and their new babies to participate in a research study about early brain development. We will test babies at 4 months of age.

Participation includes:

* Questionnaires for mother (15-20 minutes)
* One visit to UNC for infant developmental testing at about 4 months old (Maximum time =1 hour)
* One visit to UNC for EEG Recording of sleeping infant's brain activity at 4 months old. No Sedation. (Maximum time = 2 hours)

*Visits may be combined or done separately for mother's convenience**
*Free Parking for all appointments**

We will pay $75.00 for completion of EEG recording, developmental testing and questionnaires. If interested, please contact us at:

motherbabylab@unc.edu or (919) 966-2549

UNC Stress and Health Research Program

This email is sponsored by: Stress and Health Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration

---

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration. The Vice Chancellor reports to the Chancellor and is a key member of the executive leadership team, working closely with the Executive Vice President and Provost and the Board of Trustees.

Responsibilities include oversight of financial planning and budgeting; treasury and risk management; general accounting; facilities planning, construction and operations; purchases and stores; public safety, environmental health and safety, and auxiliary enterprises. The Vice Chancellor also works with various internal and external constituencies, particularly the General Administration of the UNC System, to improve the effectiveness of the University's financial and business operations. The Vice Chancellor provides leadership in the University's efforts to become more innovative and cost effective in its administrative practices.

The University seeks a collaborative leader with a distinguished record of outstanding professional accomplishment. Successful applicants will have outstanding administrative leadership capacity, excellent communication skills, and commitment to a diverse university. Applicants should have experience as a senior executive officer in a higher education, foundation, government or business organization of relevant size and complexity with financial, business, capital improvement, and plant management responsibilities. Applicants must be familiar with a wide variety of financing techniques, major construction, renovation and maintenance programs, and must have a record of significant leadership and accomplishment in planning and implementing major business and financial systems. Knowledge of trends in enterprise resource management systems is required, as is experience in dealing with local, state, and federal legislative and regulatory processes as they affect public universities. Experience with major academic health centers is also highly desirable in this research intensive environment. The Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration serves at the pleasure of the Chancellor, with a five year review.

Now in its third century, UNC Chapel Hill was the first public university in America to open its doors, and is one of the select group of institutions forming the Association of American Universities. With more than 29,000 students, UNC Chapel Hill's academic offerings span more than 100 fields, including bachelor's, master's, doctoral, and professional degrees. The University has a renowned College of Arts and Sciences and nationally recognized schools of business, dentistry, law, education, government, information and library science, journalism and mass communication, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, public health, and social work. For further information on The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, please visit the website at: http://www.unc.edu.

For more information please visit:

http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/open-positions

Confidential inquiries, nominations and applications may be sent to the University's consultants: Dr. Jean Dowdall, Alice Miller and Jane

Courson, at UNCVCFA@wittkieffer.com. Candidates should electronically submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position and a resume, in addition to the names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses of five references. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be asked for permission before references are contacted. The consultants can be reached by phone at (630) 575-6131. Review of applications will begin May 15, 2011 and will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is Summer 2011. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From: UNC Press <enotice@uncpress-unc.ccsend.com>
Sent: Saturday, April 30, 2011 6:06 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Last day to shop our SALE!

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

Today is the LAST DAY to shop our BIGGEST SALE EVER!

SHOP NOW!

Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.

You do not want to miss this!

- 70% off on more than 700 titles
- FREE SHIPPING on orders over $100
- A FREE BOOK on orders of $150

. . . Cooking, Gardening, Civil War, History, Biography, Religion, Literature, Nature and Travel Guides, and so many more options. . Enter Discount Code 01SALE11 at checkout.

Click here to start shopping now!

Don't miss these great titles!

Don't forget to enter discount code 01SALE11 at checkout

CLICK HERE TO START SHOPPING NOW!

Join Our Mailing List!

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by mary_blaine@unc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

UNC Press | 116 South Boundary Street | Chapel Hill | NC | 27514

From: bounce-29097503-39579559@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, April 30, 2011 11:03 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: May 6 - Last Day for Completion of Faculty Input for Departmental Annual Report

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Last Day for Completion of Faculty Input for Departmental Annual Report
Date: Friday, May 6, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: The College Annual report system is now open for faculty to summarize their activities and accomplishments. Based on input the Annual Report Committee received from departments, a new version of the Annual Report system has been developed to streamline the process and make the reporting easier and more efficient for faculty, chairs, and administrators. The attached help document explains the design and navigation for the new system. Please contact OASIS for additional help.

All faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to prepare for their department or curricula an annual report of some of your activities and accomplishments for the period May 1, 2010 to April 30, 2011. These reports are used for a variety of assessment and evaluation purposes within your units, but they are also an important component of the units' required report to the College of Arts and Sciences.

The deadline for completing your report is May 6, 2011. Please bookmark the new system address - https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/

Stewardship:

You may also be prompted to complete a tab labeled "Stewardship." This section is included if you have received funding from private sources.

The Arts and Sciences Foundation produces letters to donors on the use of these funds. These reports benefit your department and the College of Arts and Sciences in future fund-raising efforts.

If you have questions about the Stewardship section, please contact one of the following staff members at the Arts & Sciences Foundation: Del Helton, del.helton@unc.edu, 962-8216, Jim Magaw, jim.magaw@unc.edu, 962-6123, or Joanna Cardwell, joanna.cardwell@unc.edu, 962-8342.

Please note that your contributions last spring helped the Arts and Sciences Foundation produce nearly 600 letters to our generous College donors. This annual "stewardship report" explains how the fund was used and includes information about the fund's investment performance. Donors often respond with a thank-you note in appreciation.

We very much appreciate your assistance with another round of outstanding stewardship letters.

_____
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCESSING THE ANNUAL REPORT SYSTEM AND STEWARDSHIP

1) https://apps4.oasis.unc.edu/car/
2) Login with your onyen and onyen password
3) You can access the Stewardship system through a tab on the Annual Report.

*For responses from previous years – Previous system.

Your Onyen

Website: http://onyen.unc.edu

Your ONYEN is the first part of your email address, e.g. for an email address of jdoe(at)email.unc.edu your ONYEN is "jdoe" without the quotes.

If you lose or forget your ONYEN password, you can get a new one by taking your UNC One Card (or another picture ID) to IT

Response Center at Wilson Library suite 300. It is not possible to recover your old password. For security reasons, you can get a new password only with a picture ID.

If you have forgotten your ONYEN you may look it up by selecting the "Forgotten Onyen" button and supplying your last name and your PID.

Annual Report Assistance

If you require additional help or have problems accessing or using the web site, please submit an Online Help Ticket to OASIS. Website:

http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy

Ryan Greenway, PMP
Acting Director of Finance and Operations
Dean's Office, College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
CB 3100
919.962.9275

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, May 2, 2011 8:20 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Fitting in Fitness

You know fitness is important for your health and well-being, but finding time to exercise can be difficult. How can you find time for fitness? The key is to be flexible and make fitness a way of life. Remember all physical activity, not just formal exercise programs, can add up to a healthier you! If you are looking for ways to get back to a healthy, active lifestyle UNC Campus Recreation offers many ways for you to be active.

Visit the following website for more information:
www.campusrec.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of john_gorsuch@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, May 2, 2011 8:49 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New Print Stop and Copy Center

UNC Student Stores is pleased to announce the opening of the Print Stop & Copy Center on May 2nd.

It is conveniently located at the center of campus on the third floor of Student Stores. The Print Stop offers printing and copying services for students, faculty, staff, and departments.

Services include: Black & White Copies, Color Copies, Digital Printing, Lamination, Posters & Banners, Binding, and FAX Services.

The Print Stop accepts all forms of payment: Cash, Check, VISA, MasterCard, American Express, UNC OneCard, and Departmental Accounts.

We are ready to assist you with your special project.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Student Stores

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 9:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Blood Drive June 7

FROM: Carolina Blood Drive Committee

Every two seconds, someone in the U.S. needs blood. In fact, more than 38,000 blood donations are needed every day. Those facts underscore the importance of the 23rd annual Carolina Blood Drive on Tuesday, June 7, from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Dean E. Smith Center.

Door prizes given randomly during the day will include UNC football and basketball tickets. After giving, donors may choose from pizza, cookies, sandwiches and more, and will receive commemorative 23rd anniversary T-shirts donated by UNC Student Stores and the American Red Cross. Presenting donors are automatically registered to win one of two pairs of round-trip Delta Air Lines tickets sponsored by the Carolinas Region of the American Red Cross.

Please take time out to help patients who so desperately need you. Time spent donating is considered work time with permission from a supervisor.

For details, the on-line registration form, donor eligibility, transportation plans and information on donating double red cells, visit www.unc.edu/blood or dial 96-BLOOD (962-5663).

Traditionally, blood donations drop in the summer due to vacations and school breaks. And hereabouts, habitual UNC student donors are away. Unfortunately, the need for blood often increases at the same time because of travel-related injuries.

By participating in the Carolina Blood Drive, you will not only represent the University's concern for local hospital patients, but also you will help save the life of someone in need.

Carolina Blood Drive Committee

This email is sponsored by Human Resources-Benefit Services, Student Stores, Athletics, Printing Services, the American Red Cross and a committee from across campus.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

This Week at the Ackland

Wednesday, May 4
12:00 - 1:00 PM

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about the art currently on view at the Ackland.

This Month:

"Joseph Beuys: Form, Power, Energy"

An illustrated talk by Gabriel Trop, Assistant Professor, Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures, UNC-Chapel Hill
in conjunction with the Ackland's current exhibition
DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Joseph Beuys uses the materials and forms of art to reveal how power is produced in social spaces and how art itself generates, impedes, and reorganizes energetic flows. Artistic forms are saturated with and surrounded by various metabolic processes: the exchange of commodities, the organization of public space, the circulation of blood, and the energy mobilized in political movements, for example. Gabriel Trop will put Beuys' work in dialogue with that of Sigmar Polke in an attempt to examine the intersection of aesthetic form, political power, and bio-physical energy.

No reservations required.
Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members
For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Tea at Two

Wednesday, May 11
2:00 PM

The Ackland invites you to enjoy tea, refreshments, and conversation with Timothy Riggs, the Ackland's curator of collections, for an illustrated talk related to the current exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940.

Riggs will be discussing primitivism in German art of this period, from Moritz von Schwind to Hermann Max Pechstein.

Free to Ackland members | $10 non-members.
Space is limited. RSVP: apportnow@email.unc.edu or 919.843.3687.

IN THE GALLERIES:

New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011 Through THIS SUNDAY, May 8

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

May 11
Tea at Two
with Timothy Riggs
2:00 - 3:30 PM
RSVP Now!

May 12
Out of the Studio:
Artist Carole Baker
6:00 PM

May 14
Art-Ventures for Kids
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

May 14
Drawing for Kids
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

May 14
Drawing in the Galleries
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

May 15
Music in the Galleries
2:00 PM

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

MFA 2011

Don't miss New Currents in Contemporary Art: MFA 2011

Open through Sunday, May 8th!

The innovative works of photography, video, sculpture, and mixed media on view represent the culmination of two years of graduate study by featured artists Travis Donovan, Carolyn Janssen, Lydia Anne McCarthy, Jessye McDowell, John Hollin Kelse Norwood, Raymond Padrón, and Tracy Spencer-Stonestreet.

Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes

A reading by children's author Bob Forbes

Saturday, May 7, 2011
3:00 PM
Wilson Special Collections Library, Pleasants Family Assembly Room
Free and open to the public

All ages are invited to "a banquet of beastly rhymes" with author Bob Forbes, as he reads from his newest collection of poetry for children, in the Wilson Special Collections Library. Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes (Overlook Press) features thirty-three "delectable rhymes about animals naughty and nice" and characters such as a photogenic buffalo, a color-changing emu, and a well-dressed narwhal.

The reading will take place as part of an open house in Wilson Library from 1:00 to 5:00 PM, during which visitors will be able to see treasures from the special collections, view an exhibition of 38 original Searle illustrations for Forbes's book Beastly Feasts! A Mischievous Menagerie in Rhyme, and enjoy refreshments.

Forbes (UNC class of 1971) is the president of the magazine ForbesLife, the luxury lifestyle and culture publication of Forbes magazine.

Books will be available for sale and signing by Forbes, courtesy of the Bull's Head Bookshop.

The event is sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

The Ronald Searle illustrations will be on display in the Pleasants Family Assembly Room through July 31, 2011, and available for public viewing as meeting schedules allow.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29108719-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Joseph Beuys, German, 1921 - 1986: Felt Postcard, 1985; printed felt. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection.

Hermann Max Pechstein, German, 1881–1955: Portrait of a Young Black Woman – Nelly, ca. 1910; watercolor over graphite. Ackland Fund.

Lydia Anne McCarthy, Untitled, 2010; digital chromogenic print.

Ronald Searle, cover illustration for Let's Have a Bite! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 8:50 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Smoking Prohibited In and Around Kenan Woods

---

Dear Faculty, Staff and Students:

The State Fire Marshal has informed the University that smoking is prohibited throughout Kenan Woods (the wooded area between Kenan Stadium and Campus Health Services) and within 50 feet of the area surrounding Kenan Woods.

This prohibition, based on section 310.8 of the State Fire Code, is separate from the University's statutory authority to ban smoking in outdoor areas controlled by the University within 100 feet of University facilities.

People who violate the smoking ban in and around Kenan Woods will be asked by the University's public safety officers to stop smoking. Anyone who refuses to comply or has been warned previously is at risk of receiving a warning letter, and perhaps a civil summons, from the Office of State Fire Marshal.

The University has updated the campus map outlining the smoke-free areas on campus. In addition, the University continues to offer resources for people who would like to quit smoking. For more information about the smoke-free policy and smoking ban in Kenan Woods, including a link to the campus map, refer to http://ehs.unc.edu/healthy/smoking.shtml.

You can direct any questions to the Department of Environment, Health and Safety at 962-5507.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth Koza, Director
Department of Environment, Health and Safety

This email is sponsored by: Department of Environment, Health and Safety

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of megan_bell@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 3, 2011 9:52 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Campus-based instructional media development for faculty

---

Dear Faculty and Instructors,

With course loads and class size on the rise, your time is in more demand than ever. And teaching online has additional requirements. Rather than spending hours struggling with media software, you could use your time to focus on your research and teaching.

Contact ITS Teaching and Learning Interactive (ITS-TLI) for professional media development and consulting services tailored for your area of expertise, your teaching preferences, and for online delivery. Our staff includes project managers, instructional designers, graphic artists, Flash programmers, and video/audio producers, making us a one-stop source for your media development needs.

Since 2006, ITS-TLI (located on campus) has provided free consultations and fee-based media development services for the entire UNC-CH community. We collaborate with faculty and instructors, like you, to create online teaching materials specifically for higher education.

Visit our Web site [http://its.unc.edu/TeachingAndLearning/Interactive/tliworksamples/index.htm] to browse work samples and see our growing list of campus clients... and then begin imagining what we can create together.

Get one step closer to having your instructional media created: contact Megan R. Bell, MPM, at megan_bell@unc.edu or 919.445.9474.

This email is sponsored by: ITS Teaching and Learning Interactive

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wanchinw@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 3, 2011 10:04 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Staff Research Subjects Needed for query rating study

---

We are soliciting volunteer research subjects for a study investigating online search behavior.
This study takes approximately 1 hour and can be completed in our on-campus research laboratory. You will use an experimental website to rate queries that have been submitted to a search service, and engage in a short interview which is REQUIRED to be audio recorded after that. For the purpose of the study, it will be necessary for us to track your rating process on the screen and audio record the interview. You will receive $15.00 cash and will be entered into a drawing for one of two $50 gift cards to Target or Wal-Mart once you complete this study.
Email Wan-Ching Wu (wanchinw@email.unc.edu) to sign-up for this study.

You will not be offered or receive any special consideration if you take part in this research; it is purely voluntary. This study has been approved by tbe UNC Behavioral IRB on April 28th (IRB Study# 11-0162).

Many Thanks,

Wan-Ching

Wan-Ching Wu/Ph.D. student
SILS/University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This email is sponsored by: school of information and library science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: State Health Plan Annual Enrollment Details

---

TO: All Permanent Employees

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Interim Senior Director, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

Annual enrollment for the State Health Plan begins May 9 and continues through June 8. The following email includes important coverage details and information that all State Health Plan members need to know. The annual enrollment materials have been mailed and should be arriving at your home address by week's end, but you can download an advance copy at http://shpnc.org/hbr-enrollment-matls/ae-kit-2011.pdf.

The University's enrollment website will open May 9. While enrollment continues through June 8, employees are encouraged to make their changes prior to May 24; otherwise, retroactive payroll deductions may be incurred as a result of any changes between May 24 and June 8.

ALL members with the State Health Plan as their primary health coverage will be moved to the 70/30 Basic plan, effective July 1. If members choose to remain on the Basic plan, no action is required unless members need to add or remove dependents. Access the University's enrollment website from the OHR website at http://hr.unc.edu/benefits/benefits-enrollment/CCM3_027450.

Here are important points about this year's enrollment:
-- Enrollments must be completed online; no paper forms will he accepted
-- You cannot enroll until May 9
-- You may enroll adult dependents, up to age 26, who are not eligible for their own employer-sponsored health coverage; regardless of student status, marital status or residential status
-- Employees must complete the questions concerning tobacco products and body mass index (BMI) to he eligible to re-enroll in the PPO Standard plan
-- Effective July 1, there will no longer be any pre-existing condition waiting periods for suhscribers and/or dependents under the age of 19 enrolling in the State Health Plan for the 2011-2012 henefit year
-- On July 1, the State Health Plan will begin covering hearing aids and fittings for members 22 years of age and younger. A member can receive one hearing aid per hearing-impaired ear up to $2,500 once every three years. This benefit is subject to your deductible and coinsurance

The tobacco cessation component of the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative went into effect July 1, 2010, and the weight management component will go into effect July 1, 2011. The State Health Plan requires that all members start in the 70/30 Basic plan and must qualify for the 80/20 Standard plan. If members wish to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan, they must complete an Attestation Form declaring that they and, if applicable, their covered dependents:
-- do not use tobacco and have a Body Mass Index (BMI) less than 40
-- qualify for exemption due to participation in a tobacco cessation program and/or weight management program
-- have a medical condition that prevents the member from obtaining a healthy weight

Please note this does not apply to Medicare primary subscribers and their dependents.

A BMI calculator is available at the OHR website link above; you can use this to calculate your BMI prior to beginning the enrollment process.

The Attestation Form is a legally binding document that all employees must complete to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan.

If a member does not take action during annual enrollment, they will remain in the 70/30 Basic plan for the 2011/2012 benefit year.

Members claiming an exemption due to participation in a tobacco cessation program or weight management program, or due to a medical condition that prevents the member from obtaining a healthy weight must complete a physician certification form. The completed form must include a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant's dated signature or be obtained through QuitlineNC.

Members should keep the original, completed certification form for their records, as the Plan may request it at any time. The start date of the program on the physician certification form must be on or before July 1, 2011.

ENROLLMENT
Like last year, all enrollments will be completed online. This year, however, you will use your Onyen and password to sign on to the enrollment website. This is different from the login instructions provided in the enrollment booklet.

To obtain an Onyen, go to the following link: https://onyen.unc.edu/cgi-bin/unc_id/services. Call 962-HELP if you have login problems. For technical support once logged into the system, call 866-822-8688.

RETIREES (June 1 and July 1)
Pre-Medicare employees scheduled to retire either June 1 or July 1 will need to take the following action:
-- June 1 retiree -complete the Attestation process through the Retirement System's ORBIT site, or download the form and mail it to Retirement System.
-- July 1 retiree -follow the instructions given above to June 1 retirees, as well as log into http://unc.hrintouch.com using your Onyen and password and complete your elections for July 1
Additional retiree instructions can be found at the OHR website link above.

COMPREHENSIVE WELLNESS INITIATIVE SUPPORTS
NC HealthSmart, a State Health Plan initiative, offers a variety of resources to address concerns about tobacco use and weight management.

QuitlineNC offers tobacco cessation coaching and free over-the-counter generic nicotine replacement therapy patches to members, subject to specific limitations. 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669). QuitlineNC is available 8 a.m. to 3 a.m., seven days a week, in English and Spanish. In addition, a completed Physician Certification Form can be obtained from QuitlineNC free of charge.

Prescription medications for tobacco cessation, including patches, are covered. One-on-one counseling for tobacco use is also covered.

For weight management concerns, the Plan covers four visits per year for an in-network dietitian for primary care copay. Members with diabetes receive six free visits per year. In addition, FDA-approved weight management medications and certain medical procedures, including bariatric surgery, are covered. Restrictions do apply.

QUESTIONS
For detailed information on annual enrollment, the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative and additional resources and supports available to members, please visit the Benefits website at http://hr.unc.edu/benefits/benefit-plans/health-insurance/index.htm or call Benefit Services at 962-3071.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 5, 2011 8:23 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: State Budget Update

Dear Carolina Faculty and Staff:

This weekend, the greatest contribution Carolina makes will be proudly on display - smart and capable new graduates receiving hard-earned diplomas that you all helped make possible. With Commencement upon us, I wanted to share an update on the state budget process.

House Approves Budget Proposal

Yesterday, the House of Representatives gave final approval to its proposed budget for 2011-2013. The overall package mirrored fairly closely the targets set by the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Education several weeks ago.

This is just the next step in the budget process, following Governor Perdue's initial proposal in February. Now the Senate will develop its own budget, and we're optimistic that those reduction levels will be lower for the UNC system and education in general. Then both chambers will appoint a conference committee to negotiate over their differences before the Legislature votes on a final proposal to send to the governor.

Nevertheless, we remain very concerned, along with President Ross, about the disproportionate permanent cuts the House proposal would place on the UNC system - a net reduction of nearly $483 million (more than 17 percent) when factoring in proposed reductions to need-based financial aid.

At Carolina, our state dollars primarily support undergraduate instruction, so absorbing permanent cuts of this magnitude - more than $75 million - would mean long-term damage to how the faculty can teach students. We would have to make tough choices about dramatically increasing class sizes and reducing the number of sections we can offer. And there would be serious implications for the University's ability to pay for teaching positions at all levels that are supported by state funding, along with additional key staff positions.

We're thankful for the House's recognition of the importance of keeping tuition revenue on campus, fully funding enrollment growth and protecting the federal dollars the faculty attract for research - more than $800 million last year. The House budget preserves the state's contribution to the University Cancer Research Fund and provides for the possibility of some repair and renovation funding for buildings.

We've been consistent in asking the General Assembly to provide full flexibility in how we manage reductions, and that will be a very high priority moving forward.

Administrative Units Have Absorbed Major Cuts

We knew significant cuts were inevitable for this year. That's why we chose to proactively put in play a campus-wide $26 million (five percent) permanent cut, effective July 1, back in January. That will help cushion the blow of additional cuts, but we know there will be more and that they're going to be painful.

When the downturn began, we made a practical decision early on that administrative units would bear the heaviest burden to protect teaching and research. Finance and Administration, Information Technology Services and Human Resources have been hit particularly hard by cuts. Finance and Administration, for example, has absorbed reductions of more than 34 percent since 2008-2009, including permanent and one-time funding. That's not just a number. It represents people who have lost jobs and reduced services in campus services, finance, and facilities planning and construction.

Final Budget Timetable Uncertain

We can't make predictions about how long this year's budget process will take. Typically, questions about revenue issues like tuition come up at the end, so it's realistic to assume that, like last year, we won't have answers for our students and their parents about the increase they'll face next fall until the final budget has been approved.

When there are significant milestones to report, such as passage of a Senate version of a budget proposal, I plan to continue using University e-mail to keep the campus community informed. In the meantime, I'd also encourage you to visit our budget website, http://universityrelations.unc.edu/budget/, which is updated frequently.

It's hard to face the prospects of such a large cut, but I pledge to you that we'll keep making the strongest possible case for supporting our state universities. The commitment that President Ross has to higher education in North Carolina is incredibly important to us. His top priority is preserving the quality of the education we can provide to our students.

Please understand what a difficult challenge our legislative leaders have in coping with the state's budget difficulties this year. We're all hopeful that once we get through this budget cycle, future deliberations will be more positive as the state's economic recovery strengthens.

Thanks for all you do for Carolina.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Request for Proposals: 2011 Carolina Diversity Summit

---

Request for Proposals: "Intersectionality: Exploring Diversity from Varied Perspectives"

The 2011 Carolina Diversity Summit is sponsored by the Diversity Education Team (DET) and will be held on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in November, 2011. This day-long summit will feature a keynote speaker and concurrent breakout sessions in the morning and afternoon and will include a networking lunch. RFPs are now being solicited. Click here or point your web browser to www.unc.edu/diversity/2011diversitySummitRFP.pdf to access an RFP form.

Please submit RFPs electronically to Dr. Cookie Newsom via email at newsom@email.unc.edu by September 1, 2011. The DET welcomes RFPs from faculty, staff and students on any diversity issue, including, but not limited to: race, ethnicity, sexual orientation/identity, age, disability, gender, socio-economic status. We are particularly looking for presentations that are interactive and that deal with multiple or varied demographic topics. For questions please contact Dr. Cookie Newsom at: newsom@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 9:26 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2012 University Teaching Awards

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

SUBJECT: Teaching Award Nominations

As we prepare for Spring graduation, please consider nominating deserving teachers for the 2012 Teaching Awards. This is a particularly good time to reflect on the past year (or years) and remember teachers who have really made a difference. All members of the Carolina community are encouraged to nominate candidates for the 2012 awards.

The awards provide us with a way to acknowledge the central role of teaching at UNC-Chapel Hill by recognizing outstanding teachers and mentors. Some awards are available to graduate teaching assistants and staff, as well as to professors. Specific categories are shown below. Please read the award requirements carefully to determine eligibility.

Please provide comments in the nomination that will help the committee understand why your nominee is the best candidate for the award. Specific examples of particular ways in which the nominee has made a difference are especially effective. The comments will become part of the nominee's departmental personnel file. A nomination letter or statement must be included or the submission is invalid and will not be considered.
Nominations are accepted year round, but there are deadlines to observe. October 1 is the deadline for nominations for the awards to be announced in spring 2012. (This allows time for the committee to review the nominees, collect additional information about their teaching and recommend winners to the Chancellor.)

Please submit all nominations online at

http://provost.unc.edu/teaching-awards

Each year, we recognize faculty, staff and students for outstanding teaching. The University Committee on Teaching Awards strongly encourages you to nominate deserving faculty members and graduate teaching assistants for distinguished teaching awards. The committee will review the nominees, collect additional information and recommend winners to the Chancellor. This year, the committee will recommend recipients for six types of awards:

1. Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching: The Board of Governors gives this award to a tenured faculty member on each campus of the UNC System for excellent and exceptional undergraduate teaching over a sustained period of time.

2. Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement: This award acknowledges lifetime contributions to teaching, learning and mentoring beyond the classroom.

3. Distinguished Teaching Awards for Post-Baccalaureate Instruction: Four awards are given to faculty members for exceptional teaching of post-baccalaureate students.

4. Awards to Faculty for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching:

To full-time faculty members. Five Tanner Awards, one Friday Award, and two Sitterson Awards are given to full-time faculty members.

5. Tanner Awards to Graduate Teaching Assistants: Five Tanner Awards are given to graduate teaching assistants for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

6. Chapman Family Teaching Awards: Three or four Chapman Family Awards are given to full-time faculty members for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Thank you for your help in recognizing excellent teaching at Carolina!

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 5, 2011 10:31 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Assessing Performance Across Tasks 2

Assessing Performance Across Tasks 2: We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. Participants will spend approximately 30 minutes in our lab engaging in different tasks and earning money based on their decisions.
Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30 minutes
Pay: $7
IRB # 10 - 2032

Approved by the Behavioral IRB on November 11, 2010.

Please visit our website: www.c4dr.unc.edu to sign up.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of processing@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 5, 2011 10:51 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Learn more about Health Information!

Are you interested in learning more about health information?

Researchers at UNC Chapel Hill are conducting a study that is seeking to learn how people understand health information. To enroll in this study you must:

* speak English
* be between the ages 50-75 years
* not had a colorectal cancer screening in the past 5 years
* not have a family history of colorectal cancer
* not have a history of inflammatory bowel disease

Qualified participants must attend one interview that will last approximately 1 hour to 1 1/2 hours and will be conducted at the UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Participants will receive $30 in payment for their participation.

For more information, please call Karen at:(919) 351-9432 or (919) 843-8594 or send an email to processing@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (05/3/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (11-0746).
Study Title: Information Processing Test Study

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of susan_bream@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Free Esophageal Screening

Research Subjects Needed

Are you concerned about esophageal conditions? (i.e. acid reflux, family history or other possible reasons)

If you are in good health and between the ages of 40 and 85, you may be eligible for a research study involving a free screening of your esophagus to rule out any abnormalities. Study participation will last about 1-2 hours. Compensation may be included for eligible participants.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please call 919-966-7655 or e-mail susan_bream@med.unc.edu

IRB# 09-0300. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB 1-10-2011
This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of termaat@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:34 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Request for Annotation Study Participants

---

Be part of a research study...

Tell us how you annotate scholarly literature
and earn $30

You will be interviewed about your experience with annotations in scholarly and academic settings. You will also be asked to provide examples of your annotations and for your feedback on annotation tool interfaces.

The only requirements are
* you have a Ph.D. or are a doctoral student working towards a Ph.D.
* have 1 1/2 hours to spend being interviewed
* have experience making annotations on scholarly articles
* have experience sharing annotations with others

If you would like to participate, please contact Julia TerMaat by phone

(917) 968-4431

to schedule an interview time. Sessions will take place on UNC campus.

Study approved by the Behavioral Institutional Review Board,
IRB_subjects@unc.edu, Tel: 919-966-3113,
IRB Study # 11-0123, Approval date: 2/15/2011.

This email is sponsored by: SILS

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 9, 2011 8:37 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for African American Individuals Ages 18-45 for a Research Study

---

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about schizophrenia please consider participating as a control subject in Dr. Aysenil Belger's research study, Mapping of Brain Functions (00-1425 or GCRC-1888).

If you meet the following criteria, please fill out our online questionnaire:
http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm.
Visit our website at: http://www.nirl.unc.edu/ for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 18-45
* Either sex
* African American
* Willing and able to participate in a research study involving EEGs and MRIs
* No history of psychiatric illness or neurodegenerative disorder
* No substance abuse disorders, no substance abuse within the past 6 weeks
* No learning disability
* No family history of neurologic or neurodegenerative disorders
* No family history of hospitalization or treatment of mental illness in a first degree relative
* No metal implants in body including permanent retainer

Total compensation for this research study: up to $270.

Thank you!

Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (00-1425, GCRC-1888)on 4-5-2011

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 3:52 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Primitivism, Ukuleles, and the Ackland Museum Store!

This Week at the Ackland

Tea at Two

Wednesday, May 11
2:00 PM

At this month's Tea at Two, join Timothy Riggs, the Ackland's curator of collections, for an illustrated talk entitled "Forward to the Past: German Artists in Search of the Primitive."

Riggs will discuss how 19th-century German artists turned to styles that evoked the European past, or the primitive simplicity they believed they found in the art and cultures of Africa and the Pacific Islands. His talk will look at artists and artworks featured in the current exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840–1940.

Free to Ackland members | $10 non-members.
Space is limited. RSVP: aportnow@email.unc.edu or 919.843.3687.

"Out of the Studio" with Carole Baker

Thursday, May 12
6:00 PM

Working in traditional Byzantine iconography and contemporary painting and installation, much of Carole Baker's work explores themes and questions concerning the role of materiality in religious formation. Baker holds two degrees in theology (BA, MTS) and will begin pursuing her doctorate in theology at Duke University next fall. She lives and works in Durham, North Carolina.

FREE

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, May 14
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "It's Worth Repeating "

IN THE GALLERIES:

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

There is always something new to see at the Ackland!

UPCOMING EVENTS:

May 18
International Art Museum Day

May 21
Art-Ventures for Kids

The Ackland Art Museum
is proud to host
the annual meeting of the
Print Council of America,
18-22 May 2011.

Please visit our calendar
for a full listing of special programming and events.

In this program participants will examine prints from Germany to see the ideas and images that prompted people to make prints. Printmakers' processes allow artists to make more than one copy of the same image. In the studio, kids will make prints of their own big ideas.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials.
Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919.962.3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.
Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES

Saturday, May 14
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Join the Ackland's Amanda Hughes for drawing in the Ackland galleries. Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

FREE

DRAWING FOR KIDS

DRAWING FOR KIDS

Saturday, May 14
10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Nine- to twelve-year-olds practice techniques like contour drawing, linear perspective, shading, and drawing people. Materials provided.

Registration required and limited; to register, call 919.966.5736
Free to members | $5 non-members

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES

Ukulele Orchestra

Sunday, May 15
2:00 PM

Every third Sunday of the month, enjoy music in the Ackland galleries. A wide variety of performers can be heard, from classical quartets to bluegrass, to enhance your Museum experience.

This Sunday, join the Durham Ukulele Orchestra as they perform everything from 1920s standards to classic and modern rock—all played on five ukuleles! Featuring Marilee Annereau, Scot Billman, Jay Cunningham, Paul Overton, and Brian Lewis.

Reservations and tickets are NOT REQUIRED, but please arrive early to find a spot. For more information, contact Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator.

FREE

ACKLAND MUSEUM STORE - Now Open!

Ackland Museum Store

The Ackland Museum Store, on the corner of Franklin and Columbia, in downtown Chapel Hill, is now open!

All proceeds from the store support the Ackland's exhibition and education programs. Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases.

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29141073-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations

Hermann Max Pechstein, German, 1881–1955: Portrait of a Young Black Woman – Nelly, ca. 1910; watercolor over graphite. Ackland Fund.

Carol Baker: Mary: The Paper Doll Project, 2009.

Egon Schiele, Austrian, 1890-1918: Seated Woman (detail), 1918; black colored pencil drawing. Burton Emmett Collection.

Norman Kent, American, born 1903: Young Boy Drawing (detail), 1930; linoleum-cut print. Burton Emmett Collection.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 10, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Equal Opportunity/ADA Office new address

---

The Equal Opportunity/ADA Office has moved to our new location.

Our new address is:

Equal Opportunity/ADA Office
100 E. Franklin Street
Unit 110, CB# 9160
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
(919) 966-3576

This email is sponsored by: Equal Opportunity/ADA Office

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2011 8:35 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Are you interested in meditation?

Science has shown that meditation improves people's health and wellbeing. Help UNC researchers discover how it works.

We need people who are:
- between 35 and 64 years old
- fluent in written and spoken English
- not engaged in regular meditation practice

Participation includes:
- One 90-minute lab visit
- Online questionnaires
- Urine and blood sample

We will pay up to $50 for completion of the study.

For more information, please visit www.meditationstudy.org

This study is being conducted by Dr. Barbara Fredrickson and has been approved by the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics Behavioral IRB, study 10-1621, on 4/21/2011.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sumeet@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:39 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Study of Online Teens

Are you the parent of a high-school teenager?
Do you worry about the accuracy of internet health information read by your teen?

UNC researchers are interested in studying the online health-related behaviors of teenagers. If your teen has access to the internet, we invite you to see if your son or daughter would like to participate in one of our teen focus groups with other children of the same or proximate age. Focus groups will last approximately 60 minutes and participants will be provided with free food and a $10 gift card. The feedback from these sessions will help us develop important public health messages targeted to online teens.

Please contact Sumeet Banker (sumeet@email.unc.edu) for further information.

Study Title: How Adolescents Use Social Media for Health Information
This study was approved on 5/03/2011 by the UNC Public Health-Nursing IRB, study # 11-0730.

This email is sponsored by: Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 8:51 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Administrative Review of Dr. Bill Roper

---

MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 11, 2011

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill Community
Faculty, Staff, Students and Alumni

FROM: Bruce Carney
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

RE: Administrative Review of William Roper, Dean School of Medicine CEO of the University of North Carolina Health Care System

I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process on behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of William Roper as Dean of the School of Medicine and CEO of UNC Health Care System.

This review, required by University regulations, will focus on William Roper's performance as Dean of the School of Medicine and the CEO of the University of North Carolina Health Care System over the past three years. The committee consists of Tim Burnett (Chair), Julia Grumbles, Shelton Earp III, Lisa Carey, Giselle Corbie-Smith, Warren Newton, Bill Miller, Jennifer Webster-Cyriaque, Tony Meyer and Mike Crimmins. As required by University regulations, this committee will review areas of accomplishment as Dean and CEO with respect to long-range planning, intellectual leadership, faculty and staff recruitment, retention and promotion, curriculum and program development, entrepreneurship, and the day-to-day management of the School of Medicine and the Health Care System. The committee invites your comment on these and related issues.

It is important for the committee to have some sense of how Dr. Roper is viewed by his peers at UNC-Chapel Hill as a colleague and citizen of the University Community.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1.The committee has scheduled two open sessions to receive comments. These times are:

June 2 - 2:00- 4:00 - DeBerry Board Room 3009 - Global Education Center Building

June 10 - 10:00 - 12:00 - DeBerry Board Room 3009 - Global Education Center Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (debbie_stevenson@unc.edu or 962-7882), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Roper's personnel file.

2. You may contribute to this review by providing written comments to the Chair. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. However, by law, all written communication, whether on paper or by email, becomes a confidential part of Dr. Roper's personnel file and as such, is open to examination by him. Oral communication (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Roper's personnel file. If you wish to provide oral comments, please contact the Chair or any member of the committee. University regulations prohibit consideration of anonymous letters in the review process.

All written comments should be sent to: Tim Burnett, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu.

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Roper's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for receiving comments is June 10th 2011.

Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of phonlab@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 12, 2011 8:27 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research study, Linguistics

Participants are needed for a research study that involves learning to recognize words in an artificial foreign language. The study last half an hour and pays $7. Participants should have English as their first language, and no diagnosed speech or hearing disorders. If interested, please email phonlab@unc.edu.

IRB # 07-1048, approved May 9, 2011 by the Behavioral IRB

This email is sponsored by: Department of Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of residency@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 12, 2011 8:47 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Residency Application Deadlines

Residency Application Deadlines for Academic Year 2011-2012

If your current residency status is nonresident and you believe you meet the requirements of NC G.S. ' 116-143.1 or 116-143.3, please file your application and supporting documentation to your admissions office by the appropriate dates below. It is the student's responsibility to provide the documentation necessary to support his or her claim for in-state residency for tuition purposes by the applicable deadlines.

A direct link to the North Carolina Manual for Tuition:
http://www.northcarolina.edu/legal/residence/committee/manual/Residence_Manual_Aug_2010.pdf

Form information: http://regweb.unc.edu/residency

Fall Semester 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m., September 6, 2011.

Spring Semester 2012 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. January 24, 2012.

Maymester and Summer Session I 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. May 30, 2011.

Summer Session II 2011 - please file your application with all supporting documentation by 5 p.m. July 6, 2011.

Active Military Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

NC Public School Teacher Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

UNC System Employee Benefit - Applications submitted later than the first day of classes for the applied term will not be accepted until the next enrolling term. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency. Employment must be active and in effect on the first day of classes for this benefit to be granted.

Spouse Benefit - requests for spousal benefits must be submitted to the Residence Status Committee, Registrar's Office CB# 2100, Suite 3105 SASB-N Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2100. Please refer to the Registrar's Office Homepage for specific instructions http://regweb.unc.edu/residency.

Residency applications for an expired term are not accepted. Residency applications submitted after the posted deadlines are not accepted.

Please visit the Office of the University Registrar at http://regweb.unc.edu/residency or write to residency@unc.edu for additional information.

This email is sponsored by: Registrar's Office

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 12, 2011 9:00 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Update: UNC System Personnel Authority Initiative

---

TO: All Employees
FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

In March, I wrote to advise you regarding UNC General Administration's initiative to consolidate personnel authority for all UNC System employees under the Board of Governors. At that time, I promised to keep you informed of future developments, so I wanted to provide an update with some additional information.

Legislation authorizing personnel authority was introduced last month in the NC Senate as part of a larger bill (Senate Bill 575) covering a variety of items designed to provide additional efficiencies for both the UNC System and the state's community colleges. The bill has been referred to the Senate's Education/Higher Education committee for consideration.

In addition, General Administration has developed a question-and-answer (Q&A) document that includes many of the questions we received after our initial communication. This Q&A document has been posted on the OHR website at http://hr.unc.edu/faculty-and-staff/personnelflexibility/index.htm. I encourage you to review it, and to continue checking this web page throughout the summer for additional updates and information.

You may also be interested in a story in this week's University Gazette about the legislation. UNC System President Tom Ross visited the Employee Forum last week to directly address questions and concerns about the personnel authority legislation. Read the Gazette article at http://gazette.unc.edu/archives2/11may11/administration.html.

We invite you to continue sending questions to hr-personnel-flexibility@unc.edu for potential inclusion in future Q&A documents. Please note that we will not be able to answer individual emails, but all questions and comments are welcome and will be reviewed.

We appreciate your continued interest in this important issue.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mdev@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 12, 2011 9:43 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Hearing Study for Children

Need 4 - 10 year-old children with normal hearing, and no history of middle ear infections. The research study will consist of two to three visits of one hour each. The participants will sit in a sound-proof room and listen to beeps in noise. Participants will be compensated for their time at a rate of $15 per visit.

The purpose of this research study is to obtain a better understanding of hearing. The research study takes place in MacNider Hall

FOR MORE INFORMATION EMAIL
HearingLab@med.unc.edu

This research study has been reviewed and approved by the
Biomedical Institutional Review Board
Principal Investigator Joseph W. Hall, PhD 966-8926

IRB Approval Date: 10/04/10
Study#: 86-SURG-99

This email is sponsored by: Otolaryngology

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Otolaryngology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: African Languages Teachers Association <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 5:31 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: JALTA - Call For Papers and Book Reviews

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with African Language Teachers Association (ALTA). Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN LANGUAGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION (JALTA) CALL FOR PAPERS AND BOOK REVIEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS/BOOK REVIEWS

The Journal of the African Language Teachers Association (JALTA), is soliciting articles and/or book reviews for publication.
JALTA is the official journal of the African Language Teachers Association (ALTA), and it serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of African Languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year.

Focus

Our general editorial focus is on policy, education, programs, advocacy, and research in the field of African languages. The envisaged coverage of the Journal is as follows:

a. Methodology and Technology,
b. Academia,
c. Beyond Academia,
d. Social Embeddedness

The first section shall include papers or book reviews focusing on broader theoretical and technological issues in all fields of African languages. The second section will encompass reports about research and teaching in academia, at both K-12 and collegiate levels. The third section shall comprise papers addressing research and teaching in government and industry. Finally, the fourth section will address the issues of a broader social environment, ranging from heritage communities to advancing LCTLs in federal initiatives and legislation in the USA.

Submitted Manuscripts

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), see http://www.apastyle.org/man

Manuscripts should be:

- A maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and submitted electronically

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Quick Links

Our Website

About Us

We aim to develop a field of African Language Teaching where members can share common interests and concerns having to do with the study of African Languages.

We aim to identify each African Language, with priority given to those most commonly studied sets of learning materials for beginning, intermediate and advanced study.

We aim to link efforts of teachers and researchers in Africa with those outside of Africa.

via word (1997-2003)-document e-mail attachment.

- Double-line spaced throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point Times New Roman font with a 1.5 inch left margin. (Please ensure that this specified formatting is followed).
- Accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. (Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the cover sheet only, and not appear in the manuscript).

All Manuscripts should be electronically submitted to The Editor at: daduaman@indiana.edu and copied to the Secretariat at: alta@mailplus.wisc.edu.

Deadline for submission of manuscripts is

September 30, 2011.

ALTA
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel:608-265-7905
Fax:608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by alta@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

African Language Teachers Association | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jengriff@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Spanish Speakers Needed for Linguistics Research Study

---

Hello,

My name is Jen Griffin and I am a second-year Masters student in the Linguistics department. I am currently conducting a research study of how native Spanish speakers judge Spanish sentences and words. The study will involve listening to Spanish sentences and words and answering questions about them. It should take 30-60 minutes to complete and participants will be rewarded with a candy bar.

If you are a native Spanish speaker and would like to participate in this study, please contact Jen Griffin at jengriff@email.unc.edu. The faculty advisor for this study is Professor Elliott Moreton, who can be reached at moreton@email.unc.edu. This study was approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on Thursday, April 12, 2011.

Sincerely,
Jen Griffin
UNC-Lingusitics
IRB Study # 11-0671

This email is sponsored by: Linguistics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jacks@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 9:02 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUBJECTS NEEDED for Probiotic Study

---

Do you suffer from the following abdominal symptoms?

- Bloating
- Distension
- Fullness
- Gas
- Discomfort/Pain

If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the effect of a probiotic added to your diet on these symptoms.

Probiotics are a dietary supplement containing active, beneficial bacteria found in food like yogurt and cheese.

The First Study (IRB #10-0467) involves:
- This is a 6 week research study that involves 1 screening visit and 2 clinic visits to UNC Hospitals.
- Subjects should expect to record their symptoms on a paper diary, take a probiotic dietary supplement once daily, and avoid taking other probiotics and antibiotics.
- Subjects will be compensated $300 for complete participation in this study.

Additionally subjects participating in this study will be required to enroll in a Second Study (IRB #10-0718) at the same time:
- This is a 6 week research study that requires NO extra visits when combined with the first study
- Subjects will collect urine and stool samples at two time points of the study
- Subjects will be compensated $200 for complete participation in this study.

If you are interested in participating or want to learn more about this study and other studies please call the study coordinator, Jennica Jackson
Siddle at 919-843-0834 or jacks@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

This message and IRB Study #10-0467 was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB for 05/03/2011-05/02/2012.

This message and IRB Study #10-0718 was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB for 04/13/2011-04/11/2012

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gastroenterology & Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, May 16, 2011 9:25 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: UNC Libraries Online Service Outage Wed., May 18, 2:30 a.m. - Noon

---

UNC Libraries online services will be unavailable on Wednesday, May 18, 2011, from 2:30 a.m. until noon, because of a critical equipment upgrade.

This outage will affect all electronic services, including: the online catalog; digital collections; access to electronic journals, databases, and e-books; request forms; interlibrary loan; and the University Library website (http://www.lib.unc.edu). Both on-campus and off-campus access will be affected.

Desktop computers in Davis Library, the Undergraduate Library, Wilson Library, the science libraries, the Sloane Art Library, and the Music Library will also be unavailable.

We apologize for any inconvenience. If you have questions, please Ask a Librarian: http://www.lib.unc.edu/ask.html. Or call: Davis Library:(919-962-1151) or Undergraduate Library: (919-962-1355).

This email is sponsored by: University Libraries

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of IVFstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 10:44 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF?

Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF (in vitro fertilization)?

UNC Fertility Clinic is working on a research study for infertile couples who are considering IVF to help them conceive. Qualifying couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted rate.

Study Details:
* You and your partner will have a consultation appointment with a physician in our UNC Fertility Clinic to determine if you are a good candidate for IVF and for this study. Note that this visit is considered part of routine medical care.
* Female partner must be <41 years old to participate in this study.
* If you (your partner) are a good candidate for the study, you will undergo an IVF cycle with ovarian stimulation and egg retrieval, with the same methods that we routinely use for IVF.
* For the study, we will divide the eggs into two groups - half will be fertilized immediately, and the other half will be frozen and immediately thawed, and then fertilized. We will perform an embryo transfer using embryos derived from the freeze/thaw cycle.
* Note that couples planning IVF with an egg donor may qualify for the study as well. Female partner must be <48 years old in IVF cycles with an egg donor.

Benefits of participation:
* Enrolled couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted cost.

To learn if you (your partner) would qualify for this study, call us for a consultation appointment at (919-966-1150) or send an email to (IVFstudy@unc.edu) with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

The principal investigator for this study, "Clinical evaluation of egg cryopreservation", is Jennifer Mersereau, MD, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. This study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 12/16/2010, study # 10-1911.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 11:04 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study for People with Chronic Headaches

---

-Do you have chronic headaches at least 15 days per month?
-Have you suffered from headaches for at least 2 years?
-Are you at least 18 years of age?
-Have you been diagnosed with Chronic Daily Headache (CDH)?
-Are you receiving care from a neurologist or other headache specialist?
-Would you be willing to meet 6 times with a registered dietitian over a 12 week period?

If you answered yes to all the above questions, you may qualify for the Nutrition and Chronic Daily Headache (CDH) study. Your next step is to call the UNC Program on Integrative Medicine in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation to determine your eligibility for the study.

You will be compensated $145 for completing all sessions and filling out questionnaires and a daily headache diary throughout the study. You will also receive 2 prepared meals per day over a three month period and up to $13 per visit for transportation and parking.

If you would like to learn more about this study and/or see if you qualify, please call 919-966-8586, or send an e-mail to Kim Faurot (faurot@med.unc.edu), Chanee Lynch (chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu) or Becky Coble (rcoble@med.unc.edu) with "CDH STUDY" in the subject line.

This message was approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/23/2009 (IRB#09-0600), and is funded by the Mayday Fund.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 10:27 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] New Ackland Website: Please Update your Settings

---

The Ackland Art Museum has a new website!

Please update your settings to reflect our new URL: http://www.ackland.org/index.htm

(The URL http://www.ackland.org/index.php is no longer valid.)

Have a look around and let us know what you think!

Send your feedback to ackland@email.unc.edu.

Ackland Art Museum
101 S. Columbia Street
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
ackland.org

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 2:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Events & Exhibitions at the Ackland!

Ackland E-news

INTERNATIONAL ART MUSEUM DAY

International Art Museum Day

Wednesday, May 18

The Ackland Art Museum joins nearly 100 other art museums across North America in celebration of International Art Museum Day. Refreshments will be served from 12:30 PM to 2:00 PM.

A $5 discount will be given toward any new Ackland Art Museum membership purchased at the Museum or Museum Store on Wednesday, May 18th.

This year's International Art Museum Day theme is "Museum and Memory." You are invited to share memories of your Ackland visits on our Facebook page and via Twitter, or in person in the Museum lobby.

Guided Tour: Highlights from the Permanent Collection

Thursday, May 19
6:00 PM

This week, the Ackland reinstalls numerous works from our Permanent Collection--including African masks, nineteenth-century European paintings, and twentieth-century multimedia pieces. Join Carolyn Allmendinger, Director of Academic Programs, for a guided tour highlighting selected works from the reinstallation.

Free. No reservation required.

Art-Ventures for Kids

Saturday, May 21
10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Ackland Art-Ventures for Kids is a series of engaging Saturday morning classes in which 6-9 year olds explore art in the Museum's galleries. They then put their newly-acquired ideas into practice by creating take-home treasures in an adjacent art studio.

This week: "A Place of My Own"

Using the landscapes on display as examples, students will learn how artists pick and choose elements to create an interesting composition. Then, they go to the studio to create

IN THE GALLERIES:

NEW!
Adding to the Mix I: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Making Sense in Eighteenth-Century Prints

Art and the Natural World in Early Modern Europe

Art and Religious Life in Early Modern Europe

their own multi-media landscape.

This program is part of Ackland Art-ventures for Kids, a series of engaging Saturday morning classes for 6-9 year olds. Children will explore art in the museum galleries and then go next door to a studio. There, students practice the new ideas and techniques they saw in the galleries as they create their own take-home treasures. Each session offers children opportunities to investigate various art forms and experiment with different materials.
Registration is required; call Caroline Culbert at 919.962.3342.

$15 members | $25 non-members. Fee includes materials.
Save by signing up now for 3 or more sessions:
$12 members| $23 non-members per session.

ACKLAND MUSEUM STORE - NOW OPEN!

Ackland Museum Store

The Ackland Museum Store, on the corner of Franklin and Columbia, in downtown Chapel Hill, is now open!

All proceeds from the store support the Ackland's exhibition and education programs. Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases.

"Like" the Ackland Museum Store on Facebook!

Check the UNC Events Calendar (keyword "ackland") for our upcoming events!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-5774386.f2b48ee1f7caabde624c9b69151899c5@listserv.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Mary_owen@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you expecting twins?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or is someone you know expecting Twins?

The Early Brain Development in Twins Study is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. We are currently recruiting women expecting twins for this study.

Participants receive:
- 2 free prenatal ultrasounds (once during the second and once during the third trimester)
- $50 for each prenatal ultrasound
- $50 per child for each postnatal visit (potential total of $600)
- Reimbursement for mileage and parking
- Free testing to determine/confirm your twins are identical or fraternal

We need your help! By participating in this study you will be helping improve our understanding about normal brain and cognitive development in twins. Please share this message with friends or family.

To learn more about this study please call Mary Norton (919) 966-9290 or (866) 849-0541 (Toll Free), or send an email to mary_norton@med.unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. This is a confidential study: we will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.earlybrainresearch.org and click on "Twins" for more information.

The principal investigator for this study is John Gilmore, MD, UNC School of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry & co investigator, Honor Wolfe, MD, School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Early Brain Development in Twins Study and this message have received approval from the UNC Bio Medical IRB on 4/21/11, Study #03-PSYCH-198.

Esta esperando gemelos? Conoce alguien que este esperando gemelos?

El Estudio del Desarrollo Temprano del Cerebro en Gemelos es un estudio de investigacisn realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. En la actualidad buscamos mujeres esperando gemelos para este estudio.

Las participantes reciben:
-2 ultrasonidos prenatales gratis (uno durante el segundo trimestre y uno durante el tercero trimestre)
-$50 para cada ultrasonido prenatal
-$50 para cada nino para cada visita postnatal (suma posible de $600).
-Reembolsamos lo gastos de viaje y estacionamiento
-Prueba gratis para determinar/confirmar si sus gemelos son identicos o fraternales

!Le necesitamos! Al participar en este estudio usted ayudara a mejorar nuestro entendimiento sobre el desarrollo normal y cognicisn del cerebro en gemelos. Por favor, comparte este mensaje con sus amigas y familia.

Si desea averiguar mas sobre el estudio, por favor llama Mary Norton (919) 966-9290 or llama gratis al (866) 849-0541 o envma un correo electrsnico a mary_norton@med.unc.edu con su nombre, nzmero de telifono y horarios en los que podemos contactarle. No compartiremos su direccisn de correo electrsnico con personas ajenas a esta investigacisn. Para obtener mayor informacisn, visita nuestro sitio en Internet www.earlybrainresearch.org y hace clic en "Twins."

El investigador principal de este estudio es John Gilmore, MD, Departamento de Psiquiatrma y Departamento de Obstetricia Ginecologma de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio del Desarrollo Temprano del Cerebro en Gemelos y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisisn Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio #03-PSYCH-198.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 17, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

---

Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the position of Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural affairs. This person leads efforts to build a diverse faculty and an inclusive university environment that values and respects the contributions of all members of the community.

About the University

Chartered in 1789 as the first state university in the United States, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is regularly ranked as the best value for academic quality in U.S. public higher education. Carolina enrolls more than 18,500 undergraduates and nearly 11,000 graduate and professional students.

The University values diversity and recognizes it as critical to our pursuit of academic excellence. Carolina has a strong commitment to creating a diverse and inclusive community, which is reflected in our campus Diversity Plan. We aspire to be a more diverse campus that appreciates differences in race, culture, national origin, ethnicity, gender, religion, socioeconomic class, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, and physical and learning ability. We strive to maximize the development and contributions of each community member and to value civility and cordiality of discourse so all feel welcomed and free to express their ideas.

About the position.

The Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs is led by the Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs who reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and advises the Provost and Chancellor on diversity issues. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs serves as the chief diversity officer for the University, collaborating with Vice Chancellors, Deans, other administrators, faculty, staff, and students to generate and implement strategies and initiatives that will further our diversity goals.

Major areas of responsibility include:

*Strategic planning and policy development. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs develops and refines a comprehensive vision of campus diversity and generates long and short-range goals, strategies, and structures to realize this vision. This requires consultation and partnership with senior University leadership, the Diversity and Multicultural Affairs Advisory Board, and members of the wider campus community. A major responsibility will be to continually assess the status of these efforts and the outcomes and accomplishments that result. The person will present an Annual Report on the status of diversity endeavors to the Board of Trustees and to the Deans' Council.

*Program development, implementation, and evaluation. The individual in this position will oversee the planning, implementation, and evaluation of diversity initiatives and programs designed to further the University's diversity goals. The Associate Provost also will partner with administrative, research, instructional, and public service units whose programs and activities support and enhance diversity efforts.

*Promoting the recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty, staff, and student body. This position administers and supports programs and activities dedicated to recruiting and retaining students, faculty, and staff members of diverse backgrounds. This involves strong working partnerships with academic units, the EEO/ADA Office, and the Office of Human Resources regarding faculty and staff recruitment and retention, and the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and the graduate and professional schools to enhance the diversity of the student body. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs will collaborate with the Office of Scholarships and Student Aid and with the University's numerous student support, pipeline, and orientation offices and programs.

*External relations and partnership development. The Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs will represent the University in discussions of diversity in the national higher education community, participate in outreach programs to engage diverse local, state, and regional communities, and coordinate with the General Alumni Association on alumni outreach programs and with the Office of Development.

*Fiscal and administrative oversight and fundraising. The person in this position will be responsible for overseeing the Diversity and Multicultural Affairs office, including annual budget development and reporting and day-to-day budget management, and supervision of administrative and program staff. He or she will help seek internal and external sources of support, consult on fundraising strategies, and develop strategies for the allocation of resources to support existing and emerging diversity priorities.

Qualifications of the successful candidate must include:

*A distinguished record of experience as a leader, educator, advocate and/or scholar in an academic setting.
*An earned doctorate or terminal degree that will serve to enhance the stature and academic visibility of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs.
*Knowledge of major academic and diversity issues facing universities, and a strong vision for and commitment to diversity endeavors in a large, public research university.
*Excellent administrative skills, including strategic planning and evaluation, budgeting, personnel management, fundraising and public relations.
*An ability to work collaboratively and effectively with multiple administrative units throughout the campus. Excellent communication skills.
*Integrity, a passion for academic excellence, exceptional leadership skills, and compassion for students, staff and faculty.
*Demonstrated ability to be a strong advocate for the University both within and outside the academic environment. Commitment to engagement with local, state, national and international communities.
*Capacity to lead efforts to strengthen faculty, staff, student and alumni inclusivity.

Interested individuals should send a letter of application that relates the applicant's skills and experiences to the qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae that includes notable achievements, and contact information including mailing and email addresses and telephone numbers for five references who are able to speak to the candidate's qualifications as they relate to this position. The packet should be sent electronically (Microsoft Word attachments preferred) to leadership@wspelman.com. The subject line in email should be APDUNC. Confidential inquiries will be received at (603) 978-0316.

Documents that must be mailed should be sent to William Spelman Executive Search at 667 Midship Circle, Webster, NY 14580. Confidentiality will be maintained, and references will not be contacted without prior knowledge or approval of the candidate. Review of applications will begin on June 22, 2011 and continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is September, 2011. The University encourages nominations of and applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities.

The University of North Carolina is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Minorities are encouraged to apply.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fitnet@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:20 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in an exercise program?

Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in getting more physically active? Do you have an active Facebook account?

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying ways to promote physical activity among young adult cancer survivors using Facebook. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a research study that tests an exercise program designed specifically for young adult cancer survivors. Your participation will be some of the first data collected about an exercise program delivered through Facebook.

If you participate, you will receive exercise information via Facebook and a pedometer. You will be asked to complete two online questionnaires and may receive access to weekly group discussions and an exercise website. The entire 12-week study can be completed online.

You may be eligible if you:
-- are 21 to 39 years old
-- were diagnosed with cancer (excluding non-melanoma skin cancer) at age 18 or older
-- bave completed cancer treatment
-- have an active Facebook account

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Participants will receive a $30 gift card after the 12-week assessment.

For more information and to see if you qualify, please go to:
www.fitnet-unc.org

The study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on 12/16/10 (Study # 10-2150).

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rebeccawilliams@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Make cash for a few hours of your time...

Are you between 18-20 years old?

Then we would like you to be part of a research study @ UNC.

Who is eligible?
* Adults aged 18-20 who...
* ...are fluent readers and writers of English
* ...do not reside in university housing
* ...reside within Orange County

What will I have to do?
* You will participate in an in-person orientation
* You will visit websites that sell alcohol while under supervision at our research offices and attempt to make purchases.
* You will receive and log alcohol purchases at your home.
* You will turn all alcohol deliveries received over to study staff.
* You will participate in a debriefing session upon completion of the study.

How much time will this take?
* Your participation will take about 7 hours over the course of several weeks.

Do I get anything for my time?
* You will be paid up to $65 for your time
* Help add to our knowledge about the online business practices of alcohol retailers to inform future legislation to restrict under age access to alcohol and other harmful products online.

How can I sign up?
Call Rebecca Williams at (919) 843-9465 or E-mail at UNCInternetStudy@gmail.com

Approved by the UNC Public Health-Nursing IRB on 5/5/2011
Study title: Purchase Survey for Internet Alcohol Sales to 18-20 Year Olds
Study #: 10-2115

This email is sponsored by: Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 18, 2011 8:51 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study at UNC

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is now enrolling adult volunteers into the LEADER research study.

LEADER^{TM} (Liraglutide Effect and Action in Diabetes: Evaluation of Cardiovascular Outcome Results) aims to assess and confirm the cardiovascular safety of Liraglutide (Victoza.) and potentially show the ability of Liraglutide to improve cardiovascular outcomes.

This is a long term cardiovascular research study of Liraglutide, you may either receive the study drug or placebo (it looks like study drug but is not active drug). Your participation will last until 2015 and consist of approximately 2-7 visits to the research site each year.

You may be eligible for the research study if you are age 50 years or older, have type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease and are not currently taking the diabetes drugs Victoza or Byetta.

If you are eligible you will receive diabetes care through the research study doctor, diabetes testing supplies, and study medication at no cost to you.

For more information about this trial please contact:
Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext 269
abowell@med.unc.edu

This study received IRB approval from the UNC office of Human Research Ethics, IRB Full board on 12/03/2010
IRB study # 10-1701

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29184886-39778858@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 19, 2011 4:47 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [oasis-supported-faculty] Scheduled College file server maintenance: Friday (5/20)

Dear OASIS supported clients,

This coming Friday (5/20/11) from 5-7pm we will be performing routine maintenance on the College file server. The College file server will be unavailable during this time. Items affected include:

- Personal College storage space (often referred to as the Z-Drive)
- Departmental College storage space (often referred to as the Y-Drive)

It is recommended that you save all files by 5pm tomorrow in order to avoid any potential data loss. During the maintenance period any computer still connected to these folders may be disconnected from the server. If you are unable to save to the College file server during this time, save to your local hard drive until the server is again available.

You can check to see when the maintenance is complete by going to https://status.its.unc.edu/.

If you have a technical problem at any time you can always submit a Remedy ticket directly to OASIS via our website: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy, or call 962-HELP.

Thank you,

OASIS Systems Group

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de&n=T&l=oasis-supported-faculty&o=29184882

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29184882-39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 5:16 PM
To: Department listserv <afriafam@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [afriafam] FW: Foundations: an Undergraduate Research Journal in History
Attach: Spring 2011 Foundations Policy.pdf

FYI

From: jhufoundations@gmail.com [jhufoundations@gmail.com] on behalf of Foundations [foundations@jhu.edu]
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 3:10 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E
Subject: Foundations: an Undergraduate Research Journal in History

Dear Professor Nyang'oro,

Hello, my name is Spencer Matson and I am an Assistant Editor for Foundations: An Undergraduate Research Journal in History. We are comprised of an undergraduate Editorial Board with an international Faculty Advisory Board, and we publish in association with the Department of History and Johns Hopkins University. I wanted to take this opportunity to introduce myself and our publication.
Although we are a history journal we recognize that students from cognate fields of study write historical papers that would fall under our scope, so we are trying to expand our contacts with various university departments. We are also interested in exploring audio/visual submissions, such as documentaries, to publish on our website. Are there any African & Afro-American Studies professors or undergraduates who would be interested in our journal? Could you forward this e-mail to your colleagues in the department or send this e-mail out to the department majors?
I've attached a printable PDF of our submissions guidelines, which I encourage you to read and distribute. You may have already received a copy as we also send a general submissions call to schools, but we also wanted to get in touch with you personally.
You can find more information and read our published issues at our website, http://www.jhu.edu/foundations. Please feel free to contact us with comments or questions at jhufoundations@gmail.com.

Best,
Spencer Matson
Assistant Editor, Foundations
http://www.jhu.edu/foundations
jhufoundations@gmail.comx

You are currently subscribed to afriafam as: smutima@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16&n=T&l=afriafam&o=29191484
(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)
or send a blank email to leave-29191484-32361603.ecf45acb748a65c73fd2679966d97f16@listserv.unc.edu

Would you like to submit to FOUNDATIONS ?

Foundations is now accepting submissions. All papers must meet the following criteria:

- Must have been written while pursuing an undergraduate degree. Papers written as an undergraduate may be submitted until two years past the month of graduation.
- International submissions are accepted but all submissions must be written in English.
- Must have a historical theme (includes anthropology, art history, classics, economics, political science, etc.)
- Must be unpublished.
- Must employ primary sources.
- Must be typed in 12-point Times New Roman font, doublespaced, and titled.

Please submit all papers as e-mail attachments along with an abstract no longer than 100 words in Microsoft Word document format to foundations@jhu.edu. All papers are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the academic year and the summer. Authors are kindly requested to provide the following data in the body of the e-mail, not in the manuscript: name, school attended, graduation year, and e-mail address.

Foundations is an international academic undergraduate history journal published biannually. Visit http://www.jhu.edu/foundations for more information.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Lesbian Mothers and Gay Fathers for Brief Survey on Family Functioning

---

Study name: Lesbian-mother and gay-father parenting and family functioning study
Study ID#: 11-0769 (Behavioral IRB)
Approval date: 5/16/2011

If you are interested in participating in future research on parenting and family functioning in households headed by one or more lesbian mothers or gay fathers, please contact Dr. Roger Mills-Koonce (rmk@email.unc.edu) at the Center for Developmental Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. You will be asked to complete a brief questionnaire that will ask about your contact information as well as demographic information about yourself and your family. Upon completion of this questionnaire you will be included in a registry of parents who have consented to be contacted to participate in future research on this topic.

There is currently a very limited amount of research on the characteristics of family systems and parenting experiences of lesbian and gay parents. Families headed by lesbian mothers or gay fathers are a rapidly growing population in the United States and, despite considerable interests in the functioning and welfare of these families within political, judicial, and social spheres, there is a very limited longitudinal research focused on this subgroup of American families. Furthermore, more research is needed to better inform clinicians and practitioners who provide counseling, mental health and community support services to lesbian and gay parents and their children who likely experience unique challenges within and beyond the immediate household.
Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
W. Roger Mills-Koonce, Ph.D.
Research Scientist
Center for Developmental Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
100 East Franklin Street CB# 8115
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8115
rmk@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Developmental Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 20, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr.

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill Community
Faculty, Staff, and Students

FROM: Associate Vice Chancellor for Research on behalf of the Review Committee for Samuel Odom, Jr.

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr.
Director, Frank Porter Graham Child Development Institute and Professor, School of Education.

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Samuel Odom, Jr. Director, FPG Child Development Institute, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Martha Cox, Center for Developmental Science, Nancy Jenkins, Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research, Jonathan Kotch, Maternal and Child Health, Michael Lambert, Social Work, Kelly Maxwell, FPG Child Development Institute, Peter Ornstein, Psychology

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Odom's performance as Director of the FPG Child Development Institute over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. For more information about the FPG Child Development Institute visit their website: http://www.fpg.unc.edu/.

The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Odom's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill. Suggestions regarding improving the overall functioning of FPG Child Development Institute are also welcome.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Odom's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by her. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to:

The Review Committee, Samuel Odom Five-Year Review
Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor for Research
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box #4100, 301 Bynum Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-4100

2. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Odom's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Odom's performance to the committee is Tuesday, May 31, 2011. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Committee Chair

Martha Cox
Director, Center for Developmental Science
Director, Assoc Prv Acad Initiatives-UBC
Research Professor, School of Education
100 E Franklin Street Ste 200
Campus Box 8115
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-3509
martha_cox@unc.edu

Committee Members

Nancy K. Cheek Jenkins
Deputy Director for Business, Finance & Research Administration
Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research
725 Martin L King Jr Blvd
Campus Box 7590
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-7103
nancy_jenkins@unc.edu

Jonathan Kotch
Distinguished Professor, Maternal and Child Health
428 Rosenau Hall
Campus Box 7445
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-5976
jonathan_kotch@unc.edu

Michael C. Lambert
Professor, School of Social Work
402K Tate, Turner-Kuralt Building
325 Pittsboro Street, CB #3550
(919) 677-0101
mclamber@email.unc.edu

Kelly Maxwell
Scientist and Associate Director, FPG Child Development Institute
Research Assistant Professor, School of Education
105 Smith Level Rd
Campus Box 8180
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 966-9865
maxwell@unc.edu

Peter Ornstein
Distinguished Professor, Psychology
222 Davie Hall
Campus Box 3270
Carolina Campus Mail
(919) 962-4138
peter_ornstein@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jacks@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Colonoscopy Study

Research Subjects Needed for Study

Are you SCHEDULED to have a ROUTINE COLONOSCOPY performed at UNC in the near future?

* If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the role of bacteria found normally living in the gut.

* This study is recruiting both HEALTHY and IBS subjects suffering from diarrhea.

* This study will involve ONE screening visit and ONE procedure visit to have a "sigmoidoscopy" performed at UNC endoscopy clinics 1 to 3 weeks PRIOR to your planned colonoscopy at UNC.

* Subjects will be compensated $260 for complete participation in this study.

<Please note that this study does not provide the colonoscopy; this should be scheduled and covered by the research subject's insurance>

If you are interested in participating or would like to learn more about this study, please contact study coordinators Jennica Jackson Siddle at 919-843-8034 or email Jennica_Jackson@med.unc.edu or Katharine Thurlow at 919-843-1003 or email Katharine_Thurlow@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

Biomedical IRB approved study and message #10-0629 (approved for 05/18/11-05/01/2012)

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gastroenterology & Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acalingo@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:38 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Time-to-Pregnancy Research Study

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time to Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill that hopes to find a way to accurately measure a woman's fertility. Women between 30 and 44 years of age who are trying to become pregnant or about to start trying are eligible to participate in the study. Women are not eligible to participate if they or their partner have a history of infertility or fertility treatment.

Research study participants only need to attend ONE brief, on-site study visit in Chapel Hill or Raleigh. All other study activities are completed online.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Free online fertility tracker
- Monetary compensation for study activities

There are no medicines or pills to take and no changes to one's daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

If you or someone you know might be interested in learning more about this study, you can visit our website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive, call us at (919) 843-8246, or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: OB/GYN

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of younghearts@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 8:59 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Adolescents and Young Adults Living with Congenital Heart Disease

---

We're looking for adolescents and young adults (aged 19-29 years)to share their experience of living with congenital heart disease. If you agree to participate, you will be asked to complete one interview and 3 questionnaires. The interview and questionnaires will take about 2 hours of your time. During the interview you will be asked to talk about your personal experience of living with congenital heart disease. The interview will be tape recorded with your permission. The study will be take place at the BioBehavioral Lab, UNC School of Nursing, NC Children's Hospital Pediatric Cardiology Clinics, and the UNC Heart Center at Meadowmont. You may choose the site and time that is most convenient for you. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. You don't have to answer any questions you don't want to and you may stop being in the study at any time. All the information I receive from you, including your name will be totally private and will be kept under lock and key. You will be receive a $25.00 American Express gift card to thank you for your time and to recognize your contribution to the research. You will receive the gift card at the end of the study visit, even if you decide to withdraw or leave the study before completing the interview and/or questionnaires. To learn more and to volunteer to for this study, visit this email address: younghearts@unc.edu.

 Choosing or declining to participate in this study will not affect your class standing, grades, or employment at UNC-Chapel Hill. You will not be offered nor receive any special consideration if you take part in this research; it is purely voluntary. Your answers to the survey will remain completely anonymous at all times.

 This study has been approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB (IRB Study No. 11-0687, April 26, 2011).

Researcher: Dr. Patricia Moreland, Postdoctoral Fellow | School of Nursing
Supervisor: Dr. Sheila Santacroce, Faculty Advisor | School of Nursing

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 23, 2011 9:29 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Native Spanish-speakers needed for a study - Mensaje Biling|e

---

Are you a native-Spanish speaker interested in being in an educational research study about cancer prevention?

Researchers at UNC Chapel Hill are searching for participants to view a video in Spanish about cancer prevention and participate in a survey regarding the video.

Enrollees in this study must:

* be a native Spanish-speaker who prefers health services in Spanish
* be between the ages of 50-75
* meet other eligibility criteria

Qualified participants would need to participate in a 20 minute phone survey and also attend one interview at the UNC Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research that will last approximately 1 hour.

Participants will receive a $20 gift card for their participation in the phone survey and a $50 gift card at the conclusion of their interview at the Sheps Center.

For more information, please call 1(877) 829-0012 or email: opciones@schsr.unc.edu.

?Es usted hispanoparlante nativo que esta interesado en participar en un estudio de investigacisn de prevencisn del cancer?

Los investigadores de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill estan buscando personas para ver un video educativo en espaqol acerca de la prevencisn de cancer y participar en una entrevista.

Los participantes de este estudio necesitan:

-tener de 50 a 75 aqos de edad
-ser una persona hispanoparlante nativo/a que prefiere recibir los servicios de salud en espaqol.
-calificar a otras criterias de estudio.

Las personas que califican en este estudio completaran una encuesta que durara aproximadamente 20 minutos por telifono y tambiin necesitaran asistir una entrevista por una hora en nuestras oficinas de Sheps Center.

Los participantes recibiran una tarjeta de regalo de $20 por participar en la encuesta y otra tarjeta de $50 al terminar la entrevista en nuestras oficinas.

Si desea mas informacisn, llamenos al nzmero 1-877-829-0012 o contactenos por correo electrsnico: opciones@schsr.unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (05/20/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (5-40745). Study Title: Development of a Spanish Language Colorectal Cancer Screening Decision Aid

This email is sponsored by: Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 1:02 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Lunch with One

Eve Duffy: "Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies"

Wednesday, June 1, 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about art in the German exhibitions currently on view in the Ackland's galleries.

Eve Duffy, Department of History, and Director, Program in the Humanities, UNC-Chapel Hill, will present an illustrated talk entitled "'Degenerate Art,' 'Great German Art': Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies."

No reservations required.

Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members

For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Out of the Studio: An Evening of Tibetan Culture and Performance

Thursday, June 2, 6:00 - 8:00 PM

Experience the ancient Tibetan cultural rituals of dance, chanting, prayers, and debate as the Tibetan monks of Drepung Gomang Monastery perform at the Ackland Art Museum in a free, all-ages program.

The program will include a prayer for His Holiness The Dalai Lama, the Yak Dance, the Dance of Shanak (Black Hat Dance), chanting of Jam Chenma (Madyamikavatara), and a demonstration of debate, the most important way to learn Buddhist philosophy in the monasteries.

Free and open to the public

Art and Literature in the Galleries

German Art and the Brothers Grimm

Thursday, June 2, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Read the selection, look at the art, and become part of the Ackland's Art & Literature series by joining the discussions on the third Thursday each month.

Ralph Manheim's translation of Grimms' Tales for Young and Old, the Complete Stories introduces the summer Art & Literature series in conjunction with the exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings.

What messages do many of these two hundred tales convey to readers? How might some of those messages be reflected in works of art made during the century following publication of the tales (1820-1858)?
Leslie Balkany, retired Ackland educator, will facilitate this discussion with Eric Downing, Professor of German, English and Comparative Literature, and Adjunct Professor of Classical Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Free to Ackland members, high school students, and UNC students who present a One Card. $5 for non-members.

Registration required. Email: acklandrsvp@unc.edu.

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romatic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

And Many More!

Closing on June 5th:

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, May 24, 2011 5:08 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	URGENT: ORANGE COUNTY UNDER TORNADO WATCH

5/24/11 4:58 pm

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The National Weather Services has issued a TORNADO WATCH IN ORANGE COUNTY.

That means conditions are favorable for tornadoes and severe thunderstorms in and close to the watch area. The weather service says people in these areas should be on the lookout for threatening weather conditions and listen for later statements and possible warnings.

The weather service updates this information regularly, so be sure to check http://alerts.weather.gov/cap/wwaatmget.php?x=NCC135 for the most current information about Orange County.

The University will not send additional text, e-mail or other notifications to the campus community about a tornado watch since the status of those often change frequently during such a weather event. If a new weather pattern enters the area that prompts a fresh watch after a 24-hour period, the University plans to reissue the watch notice as part of its ongoing monitoring efforts for potential serious weather conditions.

When Orange County is placed under a tornado warning, the University will activate the emergency sirens for an imminent, life-threatening emergency. Alert Carolina will send a text message to registered cell phones and start other notifications including campus e-mail.

For a tornado warning, you need to be prepared to take the following actions if the watch is elevated to a tornado warning in our area:

Seek shelter immediately.
Move to an interior room on the lowest floor of a sturdy building.
Avoid windows.
If no shelter is available, lie down in a low-lying area.
Protect yourself from flying debris.
For more information, see alertcarolina.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Response Officials

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 24, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for African American Individuals Ages 18-45 for a Research Study

---

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about schizophrenia please consider participating as a control subject in Dr. Aysenil Belger's research study, Mapping of Brain Functions (00-1425 or GCRC-1888).

If you meet the following criteria, please fill out our online questionnaire:
http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm.
Visit our website at: http://www.nirl.unc.edu/ for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 18-45
* Either sex
* African American
* Willing and able to participate in a research study involving EEGs and MRIs
* No history of psychiatric illness or neurodegenerative disorder
* No substance abuse disorders, no substance abuse within the past 6 weeks
* No learning disability
* No family history of neurologic or neurodegenerative disorders
* No family history of hospitalization or treatment of mental illness in a first degree relative
* No metal implants in body including permanent retainer

Total compensation for this research study: up to $270.

Thank you!

Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (00-1425, GCRC-1888)on 4-5-2011

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of leedanb@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 25, 2011 8:18 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Subjects needed for African American Psychology Research Study

---

To: Daniel Lee
Psychology From: Behavioral IRB
Approval Date: 5/03/2011
Expiration Date of Approval: 5/01/2012
RE: Notice of IRB Approval by Expedited Review (under 45 CFR 46.110)
Submission Type: Initial
Expedited Category: 7.Surveys/interviews/focus groups
Study #: 11-0748
Study
Title: Stress, Personality, Coping, and African American Well-Being

Seeking African American Participants (ages 18-24) for a study examining the influence of personality and coping strategies in the relationship between stress and well-being (Earn $10)

The study aims to examine how personality and coping strategies influence the relationship between stress and well-being for African Americans. You must self-identify as African American and be 18-24 years old to participate.
During the experiment, you will fill out questionnaires pertaining to stressful situations, coping, personality and well-being.

One visit to the laboratory is required. The visit lasts about one hour.
You will receive $10.

For more information, please contact:
Daniel B. Lee, B.A. (Principal Investigator)
Email: leedanb@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cts2014@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:17 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for alcohol consumption and decision making study

---

Do you ever drink alcohol?

Are you interested in making $10 for completing a 1 hour task?

Study requires participants to view images and make simple decisions about their contents.

You are eligible if:
1. You are between the ages of 18-40 years old
2. You are NOT taking illicit drugs
3. You are NOT taking psychoactive medications
4. You have NEVER sought treatment for a substance use disorder
5. You are a native English speaker
6. You have graduated high school or earned a GED
7. You have no known psychiatric or neurological problems

If interested, please contact Chris at 919-962-8340 or cts2014@email.unc.edu to schedule a time for participation.

(This study, entitled "Decision Making and Drinking Habits of Young Adults" has been approved by the UNC Institutional Review Board, Study #: 09-0001 on 12/09/2010, and is sponsored by the UNC Department of Psychology.)

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kparry@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Calling All Women!!

Calling all women: be a part of an exciting research study!

Researchers at the University of Chapel Hill want to learn more about how women interpret advertising that targets pregnant and new mothers. They are looking for women who are planning to become pregnant within the coming three years, pregnant women, and women who have a child three years of age or younger to participate in an hour-and-a-half conversation about advertising, led by a professional. You'll be asked to look at and read the advertisements, and share what you think about them. Everything will be confidential and anonymous.

If you participate in the full focus group, you will receive a goodie bag of incentives from local businesses. Refreshments will also be provided.

If you have questions or you want to sign up, please contact Kathy Parry at kparry@email.unc.edu or 919.966.8588.

Study Title: "Discovering Mothers' Understanding of Infant Formula Advertising"
UNC IRB Approval # 10-2198
Approving Body: Nursing/Public Health
Approval Date: 11/12/2010

This email is sponsored by: Maternal & Child Health, Gillings School of Global Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lturnbul@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a cancer patient, family member, friend or caregiver in need of support?

Are you a cancer patient, a family member, friend or caregiver looking for support?
Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are evaluating an innovative peer counseling program. Peer Connect was developed based on our expertise in developing peer counseling training programs for cancer survivors and their families.

Getting support from people who have been there can make all the difference. Our free PEER CONNECT PROGRAM matches anyone touched by cancer with another person who has had similar experiences.

Our volunteers:

- Have received expert training

- Understand your concerns

- Provide support for you during diagnosis, treatment, or life after treatment

Peer Connect is a free confidential peer-support program that connects anyone touched by cancer (patients, survivors, and caregivers) with another person whose experiences are similar. Peer Connect is sponsored by Carolina Well-UNC Lineberger's Cancer Survivorship Program. Most often the support is over the telephone so no matter where you are in the state you can get support.

Participants will receive a $25 gift card at the end of the program.

If you or someone you know can benefit from this program, please call (919)843-8939 or email lturnbul@email.unc.edu for more information.

This study titled "Carolina Well Peer Counseling Support Program-a Pilot Study" has been approved by Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on
11/01/10, study #10-1499.

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cbt4bn@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, May 27, 2011 8:37 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Bulimia Nervosa Treatment Study

The UNC Eating Disorders Program is conducting a research study to treat bulimia. Eligible participants receive 16 sessions of cognitive behavioral (CBT) group therapy specifically designed to reduce binge eating and purging. All sessions are offered at no cost.

You must 18 years or older and have a home computer with internet access to participate.

Please call Sara at 919.966.2882 or email cbt4bn@unc.edu for more information.

www.cbt4bn.unc.edu

Title: Optimizing Technology in the Treatment of Bulimia Nervosa
IRB #07-2002
Renewed: 12/6/2010
Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: UNC Eating Disorders Program

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Lunch with One

Eve Duffy: "Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies"

Wednesday, June 1, 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Add a little culture to your noon hour: bring a lunch and learn more about art in the German exhibitions currently on view in the Ackland's galleries.

Eve Duffy, Department of History, and Director, Program in the Humanities, UNC-Chapel Hill, will present an illustrated talk entitled "'Degenerate Art,' 'Great German Art': Nazi-era Art Policies and their Legacies."

No reservations required.

Free to members and valid UNC One Card holders | $5 non-members

For more information, call Allison Portnow, Events and Programs Coordinator, at 919.843.3687.

Out of the Studio: An Evening of Tibetan Culture and Performance

Thursday, June 2, 6:00 - 8:00 PM

THE LAST PUBLIC PERFORMANCE OF THE SACRED ARTS TOUR 2011

Experience the ancient Tibetan cultural rituals of dance, chanting, prayers, and debate as the Tibetan monks of Drepung Gomang Monastery perform at the Ackland Art Museum in a free, all-ages program.

The program will include a prayer for His Holiness The Dalai Lama, the Yak Dance, the Dance of Shanak (Black Hat Dance), chanting of Jam Chenma (Madyamikavatara), and a demonstration of debate, the most important way to learn Buddhist philosophy in the monasteries.

Free and open to the public

Art and Literature in the Galleries

German Art and the Brothers Grimm

Thursday, June 2, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Read the selection, look at the art, and become part of the Ackland's Art & Literature series by joining the discussions on the third Thursday each month.

Ralph Manheim's translation of *Grimms' Tales for Young and Old, the Complete Stories*introduces the summer Art & Literature series in conjunction with the exhibition Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings.

What messages do many of these two hundred tales convey to readers? How might some of those messages be reflected in works of art made during the century following publication of the tales (1820-1858)?

Leslie Balkany, retired Ackland educator, will facilitate this discussion with Eric Downing, Professor of German, English and Comparative Literature, and Adjunct Professor of Classical Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Free to Ackland members, high school students, and UNC students who present a One Card. $5 for non-members.

Registration required. Email: acklandrsvp@unc.edu.

Closing on June 5th:

Art and Cultural Exchange along the Silk Road

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing(1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romatic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

And Many More!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bmteague@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for Latina pregnancy research study

---

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

I need your help! By participating in this research study, you will be helping improve our understanding of the family involvement during the pregnancies of Latinas who are separated from their country of origin. You will also be helping an undergraduate at UNC with research for her honors thesis. Please share this message with friends and family.

This project was supported by an honors thesis research grant, administered by Honors Carolina at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. My faculty advisor, Dr. Julia Cardona Mack, from the Romance Languages and Literatures Department at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will be assisting me in the project. I am currently recruiting participants for my research study.

You will be eligible to participate in the study if:
* You are a Latina and are no longer in your country of origin
* You live in the Triangle or surrounding area
* You will be in the third trimester of your pregnancy or several months postpartum between May and August 2011
* You have private health insurance
* Family that you consider as being close to you (mother, father, sister, brother, aunt, cousin, etc.) are still in your country of origin

Participation includes two interviews (between May and August 2011) at a location that is mutually agreed upon, including your house or on UNC campus, at times that best fit your schedule.

Participants will receive a $20 gift card to Wal-Mart or Target at the end of the first interview, and a photo album at the end of the second interview. Participants will also receive a summary of the results of my research study upon completion of my honors thesis in May 2012.

To learn more about this study, please contact the principal investigator, Brittany Teague, at bmteague@email.unc.edu with your name, phone number, and times that you can be reached. This is a confidential study: I will not share any of your personal information, including your email address, with anyone outside of the study.

The study and this message have been reviewed by the UNC Behavioral IRB, Study #11-0668, approved on 5/06/2011.

!Necesito su ayuda! Por participacisn en este estudio de investigacisn, usted estara ayudando a mejorar nuestra comprensisn de la participacisn de la familia durante los embarazos de las latinas que estan separados de sus pamses de origen. Tambiin se ayuda a un estudiante en la UNC con la investigacisn para su tesis de honores. Por favor, comparta este mensaje con sus amigos y familiares.

Este proyecto fue financiado por una beca de investigacisn de tesis de honores, administrado por Carolina Honores en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Mi consejera de la facultad, la Dra. Julia Cardona Mack, del Departamento de Lenguas Romances y Literaturas en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill, me ayudara en el proyecto. Estoy actualmente reclutando participantes para mi estudio de investigacisn.

Usted sera elegible para participar en el estudio si:
* Usted es una mujer latina y ya no esta en su pams de origen
* Usted vive en El Triangulo o el area circundante
* Usted estara en el tercer trimestre de su embarazo o varios meses despuis del parto entre mayo y agosto 2011.
* Usted tiene seguro de salud privado
* Un miembro de la familia (o mas) muy mntimo a usted (madre, padre, hermana, hermano, tma, primo, o otro) esta todavma en su pams de origen

La participacisn incluye dos entrevistas (entre mayo y agosto de 2011) en un lugar que es de mutuo acuerdo, incluyendo su casa o en el campus de UNC, en el momento que mejor se adapten a su horario.

Los participantes recibiran una tarjeta de regalo de Wal-Mart o Target de $20 al final de la primera entrevista, y un album de fotos al final de la segunda entrevista. Los participantes tambiin recibiran un resumen de los resultados de mi estudio de investigacisn sobre la finalizacisn de mi tesis de honores en mayo de 2012.

Para obtener mas informacisn sobre este estudio, por favor contacte con la investigadora principal, Brittany Teague, en bmteague@email.unc.edu con su nombre, nzmero de telifono y las horas que usted esta disponible. Este es un estudio confidencial: No compartiri su informacisn personal, incluyendo su direccisn de correo electrsnico, con nadie fuera del estudio.

El estudio y el mensaje de este han sido revisados por IRB UNC Conductual, Estudio #11-0668, en 06/5/2011.

This email is sponsored by: Honors Carolina

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 31, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: 23rd Annual Carolina Blood Drive Next Tuesday

---

Dear Faculty and Staff:

We need your help for the upcoming 23rd Annual Carolina Blood Drive next week. Appointments for the event are lagging. To ensure patients get the life-saving blood they need, please sign up now at www.unc.edu/blood for the drive, Tuesday (June 7), from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., at the Dean Smith Center.

Door prizes include football and basketball tickets. Presenting donors will receive a T-shirt and will be automatically entered in a drawing for one of two $3,000 American Express gift cards useable toward rent, mortgage payments, food or gas--as well as one of two pairs of round-trip Delta Airline tickets.

Patti and I will visit the drive, as will Coach Butch Davis and Tammy Davis; Bill Roper, chief executive officer of the UNC Health Care System and dean of the School of Medicine; radio personality and Tar Heel basketball alumnus Eric Montross; and Carolina football players.

Every two seconds, someone in the United States needs blood to survive. One donation--one pint of blood--can help save up to three lives. Please take this opportunity to give the gift of life at the Carolina Blood Drive. For eligibility requirements and other information, visit redcrossblood.org.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cjgillen@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Study on Alcohol Consumption and Addiction

---

IRB# 09-0939

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking volunteers for a research study using an FDA approved medication for the treatment of heavy alcohol drinking. The research study will involve a free evaluation interview and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. If you're between the ages of 18 and 65 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical research study.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Cody at 919-966-0011 or email at cjgillen@email.unc.edu

This study was approved on 07/24/09 by the Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB # 09-0939.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 1, 2011 8:30 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 4-12 Year Olds Needed for Study

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 4-12 Year Olds Needed for Study

From: Jeanne Lovmo Murphy <jlmurphy@med.unc.edu>
Date: 5-26-11
To: UNC Mass E-Mail (employees)

The Sensory Experiences Project Needs You!
We are currently recruiting children, ages 4 to 12 years, with typical development to participate in our research studies about sensory experiences. Our eye tracking study is exploring the relationship between visual attention and sensory experiences and our brain wave study looks at the potential causes of sound sensitivities in children.

* Children will participate in a computerized eye tracking task, an EEG and developmental assessments
* Parents will complete a packet of questionnaires and interviews about their child
* Time commitment ranges from 5-8 hours

Once you have completed the studies you will receive
* a summary of results of the developmental assessments,
* a certificate with a picture of your child's brain waves,
* financial incentives up to $195 if your child qualifies for all parts of the research study,
* and mileage reimbursement if you are traveling more than 20 miles each way.

For more information about SEP visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/sep or call our toll free line at 1.800.514.9981.

If you are interested in participating in the research studies, please complete the contact form on our website: https://www.med.unc.edu/ahs/ocsci/sep/sep-contact-us-form.

SEP is funded by the National Institute of Child Health & Human Development (Grant# HD42168).The Principal Investigator is Dr. Grace Baranek. This study has been reviewed and approved by the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board (IRB # 07-1926; approval date 10-22-10).

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences, Division of Occupational Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hartcp@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Participants for Study of Sleep Apnea and Memory

---

The Clinical & Cognitive Sleep Research Lab (CCSRL) at UNC-CH is conducting a research study to evaluate the effects of CPAP therapy on memory in people with sleep apnea. If you are interested in participating you would sleep for three nights in the sleep laboratory, complete brief questionnaires, and participate in a computer attention and learning activity. Compensation is $75 per night, and $225 for all three nights of participation. Please contact us if you have any questions and might be interested in participating and you meet the eligibility criteria below.

Eligibility criteria
1. You need to have a formal diagnosis of sleep apnea and have been on PAP therapy for at least 1 month.
2. You need to be between 18 and 45 years of age.
3. You cannot have any history of a major brain neurological disorders or a major psychiatric illness.
4. You cannot be taking the following medications:
Antidepressants that that might disrupt sleep (e.g. Prozac-fluoxetine, Wellbutrin-Buproprion, Effexor-Venlafaxine, or Amitryptaline-Elavil),
Medications that can suppress memory including muscle relaxants and anxiety medications (Valium-Diazepam, Ativan-Lorazepam, Klonopin-Clonazepam),
Sleep aid medications that can affect memory (Zolpidem-Ambien, Eszopiclone-Lunesta, Trazodone-Desyrel, Mirtazepine-Remeron),
Beta blocker medications (e.g. Propranolol, Metoprolol, Atenolol),
Bronchodilator medications (albuterol or theophylline),
Stimulants (e.g. Ritalin, Adderall, Concerta, Modafanil), or Prednisone.
5. You may not have a diagnosis of a learning disability or attention deficit disorder.
6. You cannot be a night shift worker.
7. You cannot be a user of recreational drugs, including marijuana.

If you meet the above criteria, and are interested in the study, we would be very happy to hear from you. Please contact us at rothsleeplab@gmail.com to receive more details about study enrollment. It would be helpful if you can include in your response, your name, e-mail and phone number, as well as the best time to call you, so we are better able to reach you.

This message was approved by the Biomedical IRB 05/04/2011 (IRB# 09-1944, "The Effect of Disrupted Sleep on Sleep Dependent Memory Processes"), and is funded by the UNC Department of Neurology.

This email is sponsored by: Neurology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Summer Nature Camp for Kids

There is still space available in the following summer nature camps at the North Carolina Botanical Garden!

Habitat Heroes (for 6-7 year-olds)--only 1 spot left!
Dates: June 27-July 1
Time: 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
Fee: $295 ($265 members)
Food, water, shelter, space--a habitat is a wonderful place. Discover the awesome diversity of places that the animals and plants of North Carolina call home and why we need to care for these amazing wildlife habitats. We'll investigate stream, pond, meadow, and woods and learn how to create and restore habitat using native plants, feeders, natural shelters, water sources, and more. Hands-on explorations, games, stories, and take-home projects will empower children to be stewards of their local ecosystems--even in their own backyards.

Junior Naturalists (for 8-9 year-olds)
Dates: July 25 - 29
Time: 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
Fee: $295 ($265 members)
Whether your child is interested in frogs, birds, bugs, or plants, this is the camp for kids who love nature Campers spend the week learning the tools and trade of a naturalist as we explore the forests, wetlands, and underworld of the Botanical Garden. Guest naturalists, journal-keeping, nature crafts, and field trips to neighboring natural gem, Mason Farm, will enrich our nature study and fun. Campers will also learn how they can be citizen scientists and participate in local projects. Become a "Junior Naturalist" by the end of the week!

Before and after care available. All sessions taught by experienced environmental educators and maintain a camper-to-staff ratio of 6:1.

View the 2011 camp brochure online:
http://ncbg.unc.edu/uploads/files/2011SummerCampBbrochure.pdf (includes registration form). To register, mail or hand-deliver a completed camp registration form and full payment. To check for space availability or for more information, please call 919-962-0522.

This email is sponsored by: N.C. Botanical Garden

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibdtrials@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 2, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Are You Living With Crohn's Disease?

INFORMATIONAL: Are You Living With Crohn's Disease?

An ongoing study is looking at the safety and effectiveness of an investigational medication for the treatment of Crohn's disease.

Eligible participants must:

* Be 18-80 years of age
* Have been diagnosed with moderate/severe Crohn's disease at least 3 months before study enrollment
* Not have adequate relief of symptoms with current or past Crohn's disease treatment
* Other eligibility criteria apply

Qualified participants will receive study medication and study related medical evaluations at no cost.

To learn more, please contact the Study Coordinator at 919-843-3873 or ibdtrials@med.unc.edu

This study, "A Phase 3, Randomized, Placebo-Controlled, Blinded, Multicenter Study of the Induction of Clinical Response and Remission by Vedolizumab in Patients with Moderate to Severe Crohn's Disease" has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 2/18/2011, Study # 10-2127

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

This email is sponsored by: Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vaccinestudy@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 3, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Your Son's Health and Vaccines

We're looking for parents to comment on a research survey about what they think about HPV vaccine for their sons. It's a quick process. You take a brief survey and then simply talk with us about how you came up with your answers. Your responses will help us make our survey better. We may also ask you to look at some materials from a school health center.

You can participate if you are a parent with a son aged 11-17. No specific knowledge about our survey topic is necessary.

We will be paying $20 for about 30 minutes of your time. We will conduct the interview at your convenience on campus at the UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health.

If you are interested in getting more information or participating, please send an email to Annie-Laurie McRee at vaccinestudy@unc.edu. Include potential times that work for you in the next week or so. Thank you!

The HPV Immunization in Sons (HIS) Study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board (IRB) at the University of North Carolina on 3/21/2011 (Study #: 10-0614).

Sincerely,

Noel Brewer, Associate Professor
and Paul Reiter, Postdoctoral Fellow

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gillings School of Global Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, June 3, 2011 8:29 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Measuring Task Performance

---

We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. As a participant you will spend approximately 30 minutes to complete a study in our lab.

Please visit our website to sign up: www.c4dr.unc.edu

Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30 minutes
Pay: $2 - $27
IRB #10 - 1646

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on May 31,2011.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: African Languages Teachers Association <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 5:35 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: JALTA - Call For Papers and Book Reviews

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with African Language Teachers Association (ALTA). Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN LANGUAGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION (JALTA) CALL FOR PAPERS AND BOOK REVIEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS/BOOK REVIEWS

The Journal of the African Language Teachers Association (JALTA), is soliciting articles and/or book reviews for publication.
JALTA is the official journal of the African Language Teachers Association (ALTA), and it serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of African Languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year.

Focus

Our general editorial focus is on policy, education, programs, advocacy, and research in the field of African languages. The envisaged coverage of the Journal is as follows:

a. Methodology and Technology,
b. Academia,
c. Beyond Academia,
d. Social Embeddedness

The first section shall include papers or book reviews focusing on broader theoretical and technological issues in all fields of African languages. The second section will encompass reports about research and teaching in academia, at both K-12 and collegiate levels. The third section shall comprise papers addressing research and teaching in government and industry. Finally, the fourth section will address the issues of a broader social environment, ranging from heritage communities to advancing LCTLs in federal initiatives and legislation in the USA.

Submitted Manuscripts

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), see http://www.apastyle.org/man

Manuscripts should be:

- A maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and submitted electronically

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Quick Links

Our Website

About Us

We aim to develop a field of African Language Teaching where members can share common interests and concerns having to do with the study of African Languages.

We aim to identify each African Language, with priority given to those most commonly studied sets of learning materials for beginning, intermediate and advanced study.

We aim to link efforts of teachers and researchers in Africa with those outside of Africa.

via word (1997-2003)-document e-mail attachment.

- Double-line spaced throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point Times New Roman font with a 1.5 inch left margin. (Please ensure that this specified formatting is followed).
- Accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. (Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the cover sheet only, and not appear in the manuscript).

All Manuscripts should be electronically submitted to The Editor at: daduaman@indiana.edu and copied to the Secretariat at: alta@mailplus.wisc.edu.

Deadline for submission of manuscripts is

September 30, 2011.

ALTA
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel:608-265-7905
Fax:608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by alta@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

African Language Teachers Association | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of keericks@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 8:30 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: What will your pant size be in 15 years?

Are you a 32 now? If you are like most Americans, in 15 years you could be a size 38 or 40! The average American man gains 30 pounds between the ages of 18 and 35. Not only does this mean larger pants but a greater risk for developing significant health problems (high blood pressure, diabetes, high cholesterol, joint pain). No matter what your pant size is now or whether you are currently at a healthy weight or overweight, you may be at risk for becoming overweight or obese.

That doesn't have to happen to you. Sign up for SNAP!

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying novel approaches to preventing this weight gain. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a cutting edge research study that applies proven strategies to target weight gain prevention in young adults.

If you participate, you will receive:
* Expertise of weight control experts who will help you to adopt strategies for weight control.
* Personalized feedback on your blood pressure, percent body fat, cholesterol, glucose, insulin, and energy expenditure.
* Detailed analysis of your dietary intake and physical activity.

In addition, you can learn and adopt strategies that will help you to prevent weight gain and promote a healthier lifestyle for today and the future!

You may be eligible if you are:
--18 to 35 years old
--normal weight to slightly overweight (BMI 21-30)
--willing to participate in this important research study

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Go to www.snapstudy.org for more information and to find out if you may be eligible.

This study if funded by the National Institutes of Health.
The study has been reviewed and approved by the Public Health Nursing IRB (Study # 07-1783) 11/2/10

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cablab@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 6, 2011 9:03 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: SMOKERS WANTED FOR STUDY

We are currently looking for cigarette smokers between the ages of 18 and 40 to participate in a study exploring the role of attention in nicotine addiction. Your participation would require you to come to our laboratory in Davie Hall on the University of North Carolina campus and complete attention-related tasks on the computer for about 1 hour. For your participation, you will be compensated with $10/hour.

If you think you may be interested in participating AND ARE NOT CURRENTLY TAKING PSYCHOACTIVE MEDICATIONS please send an e-mail to cablab@unc.edu and include the following information:

1. Name
2. Are you a smoker?
3. If yes, Average number of cigarettes smoked/day
If no, have you ever smoked on a regular basis
4. E-mail address
5. Times which are generally best for you to participate

Thank you,
Dr. Vicki W. Chanon
Dept. of Psychology

This study titled "Smoking, Familiarity, and Attention" has been approved by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study #07-1639; approved 10/01/2010).

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 6, 2011 9:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: subjects needed: personal laptop/computer use study

---

Do you own a personal computer/laptop? Do you keep items on your computer such as digital photos, digital music, personal writing, personal files, etc.? Do you have social media accounts, such as Facebook, etc.?
I am conducting a research study to learn how people relate to digital items on their computers or in their webspace, at different ages. I am looking for men and women in the following age ranges participate in an interview about digital item on their computer OR a sorting exercise about digital items:

Age range 1: 18 years - 24 years*
Age range 2: 38 years - 47 years*
Age range 3: 58 years - 67 years*

If you are interested in participating, please take the 5 minute pre-screen survey (link below). An equal number of men and women are sought for this study, but men in all age ranges are particularly needed.
https://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_1Sn7ls9AcTKz0Rm

Interview participants and sorting exercise participants will each receive a $10 incentive.

The interview will take place in Manning Hall on the UNC campus or at the Chapel Hill Public Library. The sorting exercise will take place at a public location (library, cafi, etc.) agreed upon by the subject and researcher.

*Students, faculty and staff associated with the School of Information and Library Science are not eligible to participate in the study.

Thank you!

Amber L. Cushing
Doctoral Candidate
School of Information and Library Science
UNC-Chapel Hill

IRB Study # 11-0759
approved by UNC Behavioral IRB on 4/26/2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of david_zajac@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 6, 2011 9:43 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Toddlers needed for speech research study

---

The UNC Craniofacial Center is conducting a research study on infant vocalizations following cleft palate repair. We are currently seeking toddlers without cleft lip or palate to serve as a comparison group.

To be eligible for the study, toddlers must:
- be between 22 and 25 months of age
- be learning English as a first language
- not have developmental delays
- not have known syndromes
- not have known sensory-neural hearing loss
- pass a screening procedure

The study will occur at the UNC Craniofacial Center. If your toddler passes the screening, we will video tape your child, record his/her vocalizations, and monitor his/her nasal breathing using a simple technique. The entire visit will take approximately 60 minutes. We will compensate you $25.

To find out more information about the study, please call 966-1362 or email david_zajac@dentistry.unc.edu

Study approved by UNC Biomedical IRB (Study # 07-0068), 12/15/10

This email is sponsored by: Craniofacial Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 12:30 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

The Ackland is Participating in the BLUE STAR MUSEUMS Initiative

As part of the Blue Star Museums program, the Ackland Art Museum is offering a free Museum membership at the Household level to all active military personnel now through Labor Day 2011.

Active duty military include Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, and active duty National Guard and active duty Reserve members. The free membership benefit is available at the Ackland Art Museum or the nearby Ackland Museum Store.

Typically, Blue Star Museums - in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, and more than 1,300 museums across America - offer free admission to all active duty military personnel and their families from Memorial Day through Labor Day 2011. Admission to the Ackland Art Museum is always free, but the Ackland is pleased to offer the full benefits of membership to our military families. A Household membership to the Ackland includes free or reduced admission to all Museum paid programming, a 10% discount at the Ackland Museum Store, and an invitation to the annual Members Only Season Preview.

The complete list of participating museums is available at www.arts.gov/bluestarmuseums.

Come to the Ackland Museum Store on the 2nd Friday ArtWalk!

June 10, 6:00 - 9:00 PM

"Nothing is Impossible," the premier exhibition in the Ackland Museum Store's gallery space, features works by seven North Carolina artists who have a connection to Penland School of Crafts, whether as a teacher, student, or resident. The show features work by Margaret Couch Cogswell (book arts, mixed media), Celia Gray (encaustic paintings), Bryant Holsenbeck (environmental art), Ann Marie Kennedy (paper art, installation), Evan Lightner (furniture), Gretchen McLaren (metal), and Sylvie Rosenthal (woodwork, sculpture).

All proceeds from the Ackland Museum Store support the Ackland Art Museum's exhibition and education programs.

Drawing in the Galleries

Saturday, June 11

10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Every month, Amanda Hughes, director of external affairs at the Ackland, meets with friends of the Museum who have an interest in practicing and strengthening their drawing skills. Participants have the opportunity to uncover the challenges the original artists faced and experience the pleasure of sharing in the creative process. Each session incorporates a short discussion on a work of art.

Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

Free

Drawing for Kids

Saturday, June 11, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

This program invites 9- to 12-year olds to look at artists' techniques and tricks in the Ackland's permanent collections and special exhibitions. Participants explore selected works in the Museum's collection and identify skills that the artist used to make them. Skilled gallery teachers demonstrate and teach students those skills, which they can apply in their own art. A mix of drawing from works on display and creating one's own original works is offered in each session. Materials provided.

Free to members | $5 non-members.

Registration required and limited - to register, call 919.962.0479

NC-RTP Chinese Music Instrument Ensemble in Concert

Thursday, June 9, 6:30 - 7:30 PM

Chapman Hall 211, UNC-Chapel Hill

Sponsored by UNC Asian Culture Center

Founded in 2002, NC-RTP Chinese Music Instrument Ensemble has more than 16 musicians, including several well-known professional artists. The group is committed to promoting Chinese culture and enriching the life of the community through performances and classes of traditional Chinese music.

Contact: Xiaochun Lu, biomusic99@gmail.com, 269.779.2527

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

On View at the Ackland:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

and many more!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-34013969.8ea54e9e6cbb8907d549298a1f92614a@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbabcock@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 7, 2011 8:17 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: employee summer wellness workshops

Announcing a FREE summer wellness series for all university employees.
Taking place throughout the summer, topics covered include exercise motivation, workouts on the go, and beginning bicycling and running.
For more information, see
http://campusrec.unc.edu/employee-only-summer-wellness-workshops

This email is sponsored by: campus recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 7, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Mind Playing Tricks on You?-Research Opportunity

---

The UNC Department of Psychiatry is conducting a research study to find out more about mental illness. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 12-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Program. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Do you have a family member with a psychotic illness such as schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder and are having recent troubles with school, work, or friends?

Visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

The Project is funded by the National Institute of Mental Health

08-1448
November 12, 2009
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects
The BioMedical IRB
University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of scott_wallace@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 8, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Adults Needed for MRI study

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

The Autism Research Program invites you to participate as a volunteer in a research study involving parents of children with autism and parents of typically developing children to see how areas of their brain react when they are doing tasks related to processing social information. We are interested in looking at the brain function of these parents as they perform tasks involving perception of faces and scenes with emotional content. We will be looking at areas of the brain that are thought to be involved with the processing of social cognition. We will be using a scanning device called a Magnetic Resonance Imaging Scanner, or an MRI scanner, to look at brain functioning.

We are currently looking for parents of typically developing children who are less than 56 years old to help us with this study. Compensation for this study is $10 an hour up to $100 for participating in the initial screening and assessment portion of the study and then $25 an hour for participating in the MRI scans. Participation takes between 10-12 hours over 2-3 sessions.

If you are interested in participating in this study you may contact us by either emailing one of the contacts listed below, or calling us toll-free at 1-800-793-5715 and ask about the "Social Cognition and MRI study". We will then provide further details about the project. No one is expected to pay for travel or other expenses incurred during participation in this study.

We thank you in advance for your interest in this important project. If you want to pass this information along to others who may qualify for this research study, please do so.

Please contact:
Scott Wallace
scott_wallace@med.unc.edu
1-800-793-5715

UNC IRB #05-2576
Approval Date: 01/21/11
Expiration of Approval: 01/20/12

This email is sponsored by: UNC Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 9, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Stressed Lately? Mindfulness Can Make a Difference!

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, and difficult interactions with others?
Do you want to learn how to slow down and enjoy your life?

Mindfulness can make a difference!

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down and set priorities while remaining calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).
For detailed information about our basic foundation courses, visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program/basic-foundation-course-mindfulness-based-stress-reduction.

UPCOMING SUMMER 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:
1) Thursday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning July 14 (required orientation)
through September 8, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at the Tate-Turner-
Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

For information about upcoming course schedules, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation, visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program. To register for these mindfulness courses, download and complete the registration form at the link above as well.

Questions? Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, June 10, 2011 8:17 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Paid Brain Imaging Research Study

Attention and the Brain
We are currently recruiting healthy volunteer participants for magnetic brain wave (EEG) studies of the neural mechanisms of attention and performance. Participants should be 18-30 years of age, with 20/20 (or corrected-to-20/20) vision, and should have no known history of neurological injury or disease.

Participants will be paid $10 per hour in studies ranging from 1-4 hours (depending on the study). For further information, please contact the Hopfinger Lab (919-843-4930 or cbford@email.unc.edu) in the Department of Psychology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. This study has been approved on March 2, 2011 by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study 9-0535).

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of norma_daugherty@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reflux Study

Research Subjects Needed

Do you experience frequent heartburn?

If you are between the ages of 18 and 75, and have frequent heartburn symptoms, you may be eligible to participate in a clinical trial using the heartburn medication Dexilant. Research study participation lasts approximately 5 weeks.

If you are interested in learning more about this research study, please call the UNC Esophageal Group at (919) 966-4591.

Research study medication and procedures provided at no cost.

IRB# 10-0417. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB April 7, 2010.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of IVFstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF?

Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF (in vitro fertilization)?

UNC Fertility Clinic is working on a research study for infertile couples who are considering IVF to help them conceive. Qualifying couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted rate.

Study Details:
* You and your partner will have a consultation appointment with a physician in our UNC Fertility Clinic to determine if you are a good candidate for IVF and for this study. Note that this visit is considered part of routine medical care.
* Female partner must be <41 years old to participate in this study.
* If you (your partner) are a good candidate for the study, you will undergo an IVF cycle with ovarian stimulation and egg retrieval, with the same methods that we routinely use for IVF.
* For the study, we will divide the eggs into two groups - half will be fertilized immediately, and the other half will be frozen and immediately thawed, and then fertilized. We will perform an embryo transfer using embryos derived from the freeze/thaw cycle.
* Note that couples planning IVF with an egg donor may qualify for the study as well. Female partner must be <48 years old in IVF cycles with an egg donor.

Benefits of participation:
* Enrolled couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted cost.

To learn if you (your partner) would qualify for this study, call us for a consultation appointment at (919-966-1150) or send an email to (IVFstudy@unc.edu) with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

The principal investigator for this study, "Clinical evaluation of egg cryopreservation", is Jennifer Mersereau, MD, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. This study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 12/16/2010, study # 10-1911.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 9:03 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ASPREE Aspirin Study

Healthy Volunteers (age 70+) Needed for a Research Study The ASPREE study will help researchers learn about the benefits of aspirin in reducing memory problems and physical problems as you age. Aspirin may help older people live healthy lives by delaying the start of illness. However, aspirin may not be safe for everyone. This study will determine whether taking aspirin is a safe way for people to stay healthy for longer.
You are eligible to take part in this study if you:

* are aged 70 years or older.

You cannot take part if you:

* have blood vessel disease.
* have a serious illness.
* are allergic to aspirin or cannot take it.
* have had or are at risk of serious bleeding.
* are taking other 'blood thinning' medication.
* have seriously impaired mental or physical function.

This study requires 8 visits to UNC over a six-year period of time. Also, participants will be contacted three times a year by phone for a short follow-up.

All office visits, medical evaluations, and medications (either low-dose aspirin or placeho) for to this study will be provided at no cost to participants.

For more information, please contact Sarah at 919-966-6827 or sarah_lowman@med.unc.edu.

Approved by the UNC-CH IRB on 8/05/2010. IRB# 10-0965.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine/Division of Geriatric Medicine and the Center for Aging and Health.

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

This email is sponsored by: Geriatric Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of teodora.dumitrescu@email.unc.edu

Sent: Monday, June 13, 2011 9:29 PM

To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Clinical study on statin and warfarin interaction

---

A clinical research study in the Division of Pharmacotherapy and Experimental Therapeutics at UNC is recruiting nonsmoking individuals between the ages of 18 and 60 to learn about the effects of the cholesterol-lowering medication lovastatin on the anticoagulant or blood-thinning medication warfarin.

Participants will be asked to participate in a pre-screening telephone interview and a screening visit lasting about 1 hour. As a participant in the study, you will be asked to take part in 2 study phases over a course of 7 weeks involving taking a daily medication or placebo by mouth, maintaining a food diary, and blood sample collection.

The study has been approved by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects and the Institutional Review Board (IRB) at UNC.

If you want more information about this project or have any questions, please contact Dr. Mario Sampson by phone at 919-962-0089 or e-mail at uncstudycyp4f2@gmail.com (preferred).

Study title: Human Cytochrome P450 4F Enzymes and Drug Interactions

Approval #, Biomedical IRB, Study # 10-0576

Approved - IRB UNC-CH
May 12, 2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 13, 2011 9:54 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling Spring 2011 Newsletter

---

Hello all!

Please check out the OWRR Spring 2011 newsletter here:
http://owrr.facilities.unc.edu/portals/recycling/newsletterdraftmay2011.pdf

Thanks!

Amy Preble
Recycling/Outreach Coordinator
UNC-Chapel Hill Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling
(919) 962-5169
http://www.fac.unc.edu/WasteReduction

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 12:08 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Thursday, June 16

1:00 - 4:00 PM

Every other month, the Ackland invites members of the public to bring in a work of art for consideration by an Ackland expert. Curators may offer insight into the significance of the piece and its subject matter, as well as the techniques used by the artist and the work's condition. Please note: the Ackland staff is unable to authenticate or financially appraise works of art.

Limit one work of art per person. Registration required: please call 919.843.3677 to make an appointment.

Free to Ackland members, $10 non-members.

Next week: Pajama Party!

Friday, June 24

6:00 - 8:00 PM

Kids ages 4-8 and their parents are invited to get comfy in the Ackland's galleries and listen to cool stories about art, summertime, and other marvelous things. Young children are invited to wear their pjs -- "lovies" and "binkies" are also welcome!

Co-sponsored by the Chapel Hill Public Library, the Orange County Public Library, and the Orange County Literacy Council.

Free

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

German Art Exhibitions in their Final Weeks

On View through Sunday, July 10, 2011

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

The artists in DE-NATURED -- including Joseph Beuys, Gerhard Richter, Sigmar Polke, Hanne Darboven, Andreas Gursky, and Thomas Struth, among others -- established the international relevance and resonance of contemporary German art. Drawn from a distinguished private collection and supplemented with pieces from the Ackland, the nearly 40 works on viewpresent a complex and compelling introduction to the notable efflorescence of art in post-war Germany.

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840 - 1940

Artists living in Germany and its neighboring countries during the century 1840-1940 experienced massive social upheaval and political unrest, an environment that dramatically informed their art. With its alternating and opposing images of idealized fantasy worlds and intense, often bitter observations of reality, *Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings*illustrates the continuity that existed between strains of nineteenth and early twentieth-century art.

Visitors are calling these two exhibition "stunning" and "amazing" - see them before they close!

Also on View:

Adding to the Mix: John Wesley's Boeing (1982)

and many more!

For more information on the Ackland visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-34013969.8ea54e9e6cbb8907d549298a1f92614a@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 14, 2011 8:36 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 15, 2011 8:18 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: State Budget Update

---

Dear Faculty and Staff:

I know that you've all been reading the news about the state budget, so you know that, like all state agencies, we're facing big cuts. At Carolina, we're bracing for cuts of 14 percent or more.

The permanent cut of almost 5 percent that we proactively took effective July 1 will only marginally ease the pain of this new round of reductions. These cuts will undoubtedly hurt our teaching mission because state appropriations primarily support undergraduate education. And we'll see further cuts to administrative units that have already absorbed significant reductions to protect the classroom experience for our students.

As painful as these new cuts will be, there were some positive developments in the budget process. Our legislators funded critical areas like enrollment growth, need-based financial aid and graduate student tuition remissions.

I know that you are all anxious to know how this new round of cuts will affect your units. But it will be more than a month before we know the actual budget cut for Carolina. The budget must be officially certified by the Office of State Budget and Management, and the UNC Board of Governors will then determine how reductions will be distributed to all 17 system campuses.

I'll share more information when we have additional details. We're doing our best to manage this year's budget, and I know you already understand that it's not going to be easy. This will, by far, be our most difficult year of the economic downturn.

I appreciate all that you do to make Carolina the wonderful place that it is for our students. We will continue to be a great university.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gpfuller@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 16, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL RECENTLY DIAGNOSED WITH TYPE 1 DIABETES?

Have you recently been diagnosed with Type 1 Diabetes?
If so, you may qualify to participate in a clinical research study for Early- or New-Onset Type 1 Diabetes.
The T1DAL STUDY.

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study to test whether an investigational product reduces beta cell destruction in people with Type 1 Diabetes. The length of the study is approximately 2 years and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
As a study participant you will receive study related visits, study medication, diabetes supplies and compensation for your time and travel.

You may be eligible to participate if you:
* are between the ages of 16-35
* have been diagnosed with type 1 diabetes mellitus within the last 3 months
* show positive results for at least one diabetes-related autoantibody (a blood test is done to determine this)
* are still making a minimum amount of insulin in your pancreas (a meal test is done to determine this)
* are in good general health

Voluntary participation involves:
* Visits to a UNC Diabetes Care Center to receive study related examinations and health assessments over a period of 24 months.
* A total of 24 weekly intramuscular drug injection/shots (either study drug or placebo).
* Cycle 1 (12 weeks) / Clinic visit once a week + injection
* Pause (12 weeks) / Clinic visit once a month, no injection
* Cycle 2 (12 weeks) / Clinic visit once a week + injection
* Follow-up (approx. 15 months) / Clinic follow-up visits once every 6 months.
* Self-monitoring and recording blood glucose levels, home insulin use, and signs and symptoms of hypoglycemic episodes for the planned duration of study participation.
* Receiving compensation for time and travel.

If you are interested in this clinical trial and believe you (or your child) may be eligible, or for more information please contact:

Gail Fuller . CCRC.
Clinical Research Coordinator
UNC Diabetes Care Center: 919 484 0931 ext 272 / gpfuller@med.unc.edu

IRB Study # 11-0743 Approved by the Full Board UNC Office of Human Research Ethics on 24th May 2011.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ntom@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 16, 2011 8:38 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ronald E. McNair Scholars Applications Now Available (DEADLINE: July 25, 2011)

The Ronald E. McNair Post Baccalaureate Achievement Program is now accepting applications for the incoming Fall 2011 cohort. The incoming cohort will consist primarily of sophomores who will remain committed to the program through their senior year.

The McNair Scholars Program offers UNC-CH undergraduate students the opportunity to explore graduate school as a real possibility. This program helps scholars build their repertoire of knowledge and skills that will increase their likelihood of matriculating into the doctoral programs of their choice.

The overall focus of the McNair Scholars Program is to provide a supportive and encouraging culture that exposes students to the joys of research and scholarship, and enables the program participants to develop close professional relationships with faculty mentors. To support this goal, the program offers:

* Eight-week paid summer research program
* Research courses
* Interactive workshops and seminars
* Travel to present research nationally
* Graduate school tours
* Faculty mentorship
* Counseling and advising sessions
* GRE prep classes & one (1) paid GRE test
* Cultural events and activities
* Networking opportunities

Students who qualify will be selected based on their academic record, personal statement, personal interview, and academic goals. The applicant must also meet the following requirements:

* Minimum 3.0 Cumulative GPA
* U.S. citizenship or permanent residency
* At least a sophomore standing by the start of the Fall semester
* First-generation college student AND low-income, OR a member of an under-represented group in graduate education

 APPLICATION DEADLINE: Monday, July 25, 2011 MANDATORY RETREAT DATES: Sat/Sun, August 27-28, 2011

IN ORDER TO COMPLETE THE APPLICATION PROCESS, YOU MUST ALSO SUBMIT:

* A completed and signed application (Found on our website at http://mcnair.unc.edu)
* One official college transcript--you may request Registrar to mail directly to CB # 3310 for free.
* Proof of family income (providing tax returns from most recent year submitted)
* Three letters of recommendation/rating forms (two must be from a professor/teacher who has taught you at the college level)
* A writing sample of at least two pages that was completed within the last year (e.g., course paper)

SUBMIT APPLICATION MATERIALS TO:

ATTN: REM Selection Committee
The Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill 150 South Rd., Suite 101, CB 3310 Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

We hope you take advantage of this unique experience to develop the skills that will support you in completing your undergraduate program successfully, as well as prepare you for graduate level studies. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

--
Nancy Tom, M.A.
Program Manager
Ronald E. McNair Scholars

Office of TRiO Programs
150 South Road, Suite 101
Campus Box # 3310

Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3310

Office: 919.962.1281
Direct: 919.843.8323
Fax: 919.962.4381

http://mcnair.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of TRiO Programs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 17, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: HEALTHY SUBJECTS NEEDED FOR RESEARCH STUDY

The Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is seeking Healthy Subjects as a comparison group for a research study investigating irritable bowel syndrome.

Participation involves one visit lasting approximately 4 hours. Subjects will complete various health and psychological questionnaires and a breath test to measure lactose malabsorption and small bowel bacterial overgrowth. In addition, a blood sample will be drawn to measure genes that may relate to pain sensitivity.

Participants will be paid $75 for completing the study.

To be eligible, you must be in general good health with no history of gastrointestinal or bowel problems.

For more information on how to sign up please visit the website below and choose 'healthy participant screening.'
www.uncmedresearch.com/ibsstudy

Or call 919-966-8329 or toll free 866-227-0067

Study IRB #01-1397 / CTRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/21/10

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 17, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Research Study on the Causes of IBS

The UNC Center for Functional GI and Motility Disorders is conducting a health research study to identify the causes of IBS symptoms.

Participants must be between the ages of 18-70 and have a doctor's diagnosis of IBS. A limited number of healthy people with no gastrointestinal symptoms will be enrolled in a comparison group. Qualified subjects will receive compensation for participation.

For more information on how to sign up please visit:
www.uncmedresearch.com/ibsstudy

You can also call Lenore Keck, RN toll free at 866-227-0067 if you have any questions.

Study 01-1397/CTRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/21/10-7/18/11

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: African Languages Teachers Association <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Monday, June 20, 2011 5:35 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: JALTA - Call For Papers and Book Reviews

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with African Language Teachers Association (ALTA). Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN LANGUAGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION (JALTA) CALL FOR PAPERS AND BOOK REVIEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS/BOOK REVIEWS

The Journal of the African Language Teachers Association (JALTA), is soliciting articles and/or book reviews for publication.
JALTA is the official journal of the African Language Teachers Association (ALTA), and it serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of African Languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year.

Focus

Our general editorial focus is on policy, education, programs, advocacy, and research in the field of African languages. The envisaged coverage of the Journal is as follows:

a. Methodology and Technology,
b. Academia,
c. Beyond Academia,
d. Social Embeddedness

The first section shall include papers or book reviews focusing on broader theoretical and technological issues in all fields of African languages. The second section will encompass reports about research and teaching in academia, at both K-12 and collegiate levels. The third section shall comprise papers addressing research and teaching in government and industry. Finally, the fourth section will address the issues of a broader social environment, ranging from heritage communities to advancing LCTLs in federal initiatives and legislation in the USA.

Submitted Manuscripts

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), see http://www.apastyle.org/man

Manuscripts should be:

- A maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and submitted electronically

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Quick Links

Our Website

About Us

We aim to develop a field of African Language Teaching where members can share common interests and concerns having to do with the study of African Languages.

We aim to identify each African Language, with priority given to those most commonly studied sets of learning materials for beginning, intermediate and advanced study.

We aim to link efforts of teachers and researchers in Africa with those outside of Africa.

via word (1997-2003)-document e-mail attachment.

- Double-line spaced throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point Times New Roman font with a 1.5 inch left margin. (Please ensure that this specified formatting is followed).
- Accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. (Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the cover sheet only, and not appear in the manuscript).

All Manuscripts should be electronically submitted to The Editor at: daduaman@indiana.edu and copied to the Secretariat at: alta@mailplus.wisc.edu.

Deadline for submission of manuscripts is

September 30, 2011.

ALTA
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel:608-265-7905
Fax:608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by alta@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

African Language Teachers Association | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jengriff@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 20, 2011 8:33 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Native Spanish Speakers Needed for Linguistics Research Study

---

Hello,

My name is Jen Griffin and I am a second-year Masters student in the Linguistics department. I am currently conducting a research study of how native Spanish speakers judge Spanish sentences and words. The study will involve listening to Spanish sentences and words and answering questions about them. It should take approximately 30-40 minutes to complete and participants will be rewarded with $5.00 cash as well as a candy bar.

If you are a native Spanish speaker and would like to participate in this study, please contact Jen Griffin at jengriff@email.unc.edu. The faculty advisor for this study is Professor Elliott Moreton, who can be reached at moreton@email.unc.edu.

Sincerely,
Jen Griffin
UNC-Lingusitics
IRB Study # 11-0671
This study was approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on June 15, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: Linguistics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fitnet@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 20, 2011 8:45 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in an exercise program?

Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in getting more physically active? Do you have an active Facebook account?

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying ways to promote physical activity among young adult cancer survivors using Facebook. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a research study that tests an exercise program designed specifically for young adult cancer survivors. Your participation will be some of the first data collected about an exercise program delivered through Facebook.

If you participate, you will receive exercise information via Facebook and a pedometer. You will be asked to complete two online questionnaires and may receive access to weekly group discussions and an exercise website. The entire 12-week study can be completed online.

You may be eligible if you:
-- are 21 to 39 years old
-- were diagnosed with cancer (excluding non-melanoma skin cancer) at age 18 or older
-- bave completed cancer treatment
-- have an active Facebook account

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Participants will receive a $30 gift card after the 12-week assessment.

For more information and to see if you qualify, please go to:
www.fitnet-unc.org

The study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on 12/16/10 (Study # 10-2150).

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of tilburg@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 20, 2011 9:06 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study on eating and Irritable Bowel Syndrome (ages 15-21 years old)

We are currently recruiting individuals for a research study which examines the effects of eating on the gut. In this study, we will be asking participants to complete two physiological tests that measure how the muscles and nerves in the gut usually operate. The tests are painless and very safe. They include one X-ray of the abdomen and one EGG which is similar to an EKG which measures rhythm of the heart. In this case, the EGG reads the frequencies of movements in the stomach.

You may qualify if you:
1) Are between 15 and 21 years of age.
2) Have been diagnosed by a physician with IBS or Functional Abdominal Pain
3) Usually do not skip meals to prevent symptoms (e.g., you do not skip breakfast every day).
4) Are not on a diet to lose more than 10 pounds in the past six months

If you are taking laxatives, you will need to stop them for 6 days.

You will receive $65 for completing the study plus parking passes for two study visits.

For more information and to determine if you qualify, please contact Miranda van Tilburg at:
919-843-0688
tilburg@med.unc.edu

Biomedical IRB #10-1074
Approval date 1/28/2011

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of tommerda@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 20, 2011 9:26 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Tactile Information Processing Study

---

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED: The Tactile Information Processing Study is a research study designed to conduct assessments to measure how individuals recognize touch.

DO YOU QUALIFY?
We are looking for healthy males and females between the ages of 18 and 70 who:
* Are Caucasian or African American
* Are fluent English speakers
* Have normal vision and hearing or vision/hearing impairments that are corrected to within normal limits.

Participants will undergo a series of tests to measure how they recognize tactile input. Participants may be asked to complete self-evaluation questionnaires and a cognitive assessment.

These tests can take from 30 minutes to 2 hours to participate. Participants may be called back for additional testing. Testing will be completed on UNC Chapel Hill Campus in MacNider or Bondurant Hall. Participants will receive $25.00 per hour for participating in this study (up to $100).

If you are interested in participating please reply to this email and indicate the days and times you may be available. In addition, please include your name, age, race, occupation, education level, and contact information in your response.

This study has been approved by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board.
IRB# 07-0170 on 02/11/2011 and IRB# 06-0882 on 01/07/2011.

This email is sponsored by: Biomedical Engineering

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 12:33 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Pajama Party!

Friday, June 24, 6:00 - 8:00 PM

Kids ages 4-8 and their parents are invited to get comfy in the Ackland's galleries and listen to cool stories about art, summertime, and other marvelous things. Young children are invited to wear their pjs -- "lovies" and "binkies" are also welcome!

Lemonade and cookies will be served.

Co-sponsored by the Chapel Hill Public Library, the Orange County Public Library, and the Orange County Literacy Council.

Free

Check the UNC Events Calendar (key word "ackland") for our upcoming events!

Coming soon...

Ackland at Locally Grown Movie Nights!

Moonlit Locally Grown

Locally Grown is a summer-long series of FREE live concerts and movies on Thursday evenings on Wallace Plaza -- atop the Wallace Parking Deck -- at 150 E. Rosemary Street in downtown Chapel Hill.
Ackland Art Museum volunteers will be on hand prior to several of the Locally Grown movies, offering free crafts and activities for kids. On Thursday, June 30, make and decorate your own pirate hat with the Ackland staff from 6:30-8:00 PM and wear it at the screening of Pirates of the Caribbean (~8:00 PM). ARGH!
July 21: Megamind -- Make a cartoon story board!
August 18: E.T. -- Make a friendship bracelet!
Get the full schedule of Locally Grown events.

Art & Literature in the Galleries - Select Thursdays, 6:30-8:00 PM

Read the book, see the art, and join the discussion at the Ackland on the first Thursday of each month.

July 7: The Lost Honor of Katharina Blum + DE-NATURED -- FULL

August 4: Aesop's Fables + Ancient Art from the Ackland's Collection

With the Ackland's reinstallation of ancient art, a re-reading of Aesop's Fables will invite participants to examine ancient Greek pottery and sculpture with fresh eyes, and to learn new lessons from the looking. Laura Gibbs' edition includes some fables never before translated into English. Leslie Balkany will facilitate this discussion with Emily Baragwanath, Assistant Professor of Classics.
Free to Ackland members, high school students, and UNC students who present a One Card. $5 for non-members.
Featured books are available at the Ackland Museum Store, with a 20% discount for Art & Lit participants.

German Art Exhibitions in their Final Weeks!

On View through Sunday, 10 July 2011

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

The artists in DE-NATURED -- including Joseph Beuys, Gerhard Richter, Sigmar Polke, Hanne Darboven, Andreas Gursky, and Thomas Struth, among others -- established the international relevance and resonance of contemporary German art. Drawn from a distinguished private collection and supplemented with pieces from the Ackland, the nearly 40 works on viewpresent a complex and compelling introduction to the notable efflorescence of art in post-war Germany.

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Artists living in Germany and its neighboring countries during the century 1840-1940 experienced massive social upheaval and political unrest, an environment that dramatically informed their art. With its alternating and opposing images of idealized fantasy worlds and intense, often bitter observations of reality, Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings illustrates the continuity that existed between strains of nineteenth and early twentieth-century art.

Visitors are calling these two exhibition "stunning" and "amazing" - see them before they close!

Also on View:

Modern and Contemporary Art: Selections from the Permanent Collection

Tony Oursler "Eye in the Sky"

We've brought out some of our best modern and contemporary art for the summer! Come see pieces by Tony Oursler (pictured: Eye in the Sky, 1997), Jose Bedia, Ken Price, Adolph Gottlieb, Hans Hofmann, UNC Art Department professor Juan Logan, and Nam June Paik (pictured: Eagle Eye, 1996).

Adding to the Mix I: John Wesley's Boeing

and many more galleries filled with art and ideas!

For more information, go to www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Call 919.843.3676 or click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on Ackland e-news?

Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-29171951-34013969.8ea54e9e6cbb8907d549298a1f92614a@listserv.unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dgoss@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Attention: All Runners

Attention Runners: Do you wear shoes and strike initially on your heels? Do you run barefoot or wear minimalist shoes? Do you run using the POSE or Chi running methods? If any of these statements describes you, I'd like to meet you. My name is Don Goss and I am a physical therapist at The University of North Carolina working with a team to conduct a study of runners entitled, "A Comparison of Lower Extremity Joint Work and Initial Loading Rates among Four Different Running Styles."
If you run at least 12 miles per week and are between the ages 18-50, we need your help. We are currently looking for approximately 80 healthy runners to spend 1 hour at the Interdisciplinary Human Movement Science Laboratory at The University of North Carolina. This study will give us valuable information concerning running mechanics of different running styles. If you run with a traditional heel-toe strike pattern, if you run barefoot, if you run with minimalist footwear, or if you employ the POSE or Chi running styles, we hope to hear from you.
Please contact Don Goss at dgoss@email.unc.edu or (910) 603-3147.
Thank you for your assistance. We truly value your participation.
Sincerely,
Don Goss

To: Don Goss
Allied Health Sciences
CB: 7135

From: Biomedical IRB

Approval Date: 5/27/2011
Expiration Date of Approval: 5/25/2012

RE: Notice of IRB Approval by Expedited Review (under 45 CFR 46.110)
Submission Type: Initial
Expedited Category: 7.Surveys/interviews/focus groups
Study #: 11-1025

Study Title: A Comparison of Lower Extremity Joint Work and Initial Loading Rates Among Four Different Running Styles

This submission has been approved by the above IRB for the period indicated. It has been determined that the risk involved in this research is no more than minimal.

Study Description:

Purpose: The overall purpose of this study is to investigate the biomechanics of the lower extremity during the utilization of different running styles. Participants: approximately 80 runners from North Carolina. Procedures (methods): Potential subjects will be recruited from the North Carolina running community via email contact to running clubs and to military units after verbal permission is obtained. Flyers will also be posted in fitness centers at UNC and Fort Bragg. They will recruit 20 subjects for each of four groups: barefoot/minimalist shoes, traditional running shoes, POSE running, Chi running. Subjects will wear reflective markers and run on an instrumented treadmill for 5 minutes with or without shoes. Three-dimensional biomechanical analyses will be conducted on camera and force plate data. Statistical analyses will be conducted across conditions comparing initial vertical loading rates and angular knee and ankle work.

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of project.arch@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 21, 2011 8:49 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Female Adolescent Participants (ages 12-16) for Research Study

---

Parents and Mental Healthcare Providers:

Researchers are currently seeking female participants (ages 12-16) for an important study of adolescent friendship and development called Project ARCH (Adolescents' Relationships, Coping, and Health). Specifically, we are seeking adolescents who have ever been assessed or received treatment for depressed mood, anxiety, or other mental health concerns.

Participants would complete questionnaires and discuss several adolescent-oriented topics with a close friend. We can schedule visits to our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road any day of the week, including weekends. Participants earn up to $290.00, parents earn $40.00, and best friends earn $40.00 for participating. We also offer driving reimbursement for long-distance participants.

For more information, please contact our Scheduling Coordinator at 919-636-9777 or by email at project.arch@unc.edu.

This research study (IRB#07-0929) was approved by the UNC-CH Behavioral IRB on May 17, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pea@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 9:10 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Hepatitis B Study

Hepatitis B Study at UNC

We are seeking volunteers to join a research program studying Hepatitis B.

Subjects must have a known history of Hepatitis B, without a known infection of Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV).

For more information, please contact the study coordinator, at (919) 966-0764 or email: tpritch@med.unc.edu or pea@med.unc.edu

Approved by UNC OHRE, Biomedical Board, 6/21/2011, Study #10-1500.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Hepatology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 21, 2011 9:29 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Be an ally for survivors of sexual assault and relationship violence

---

The Office of the Dean of Students, the Interpersonal Violence Prevention Coordinator, and the Carolina Women's Center offer HAVEN (Helping to Advocate Violence Ending Now) training opportunities throughout the year. HAVEN helps UNC Faculty, Staff, and Students learn how to respond in a meaningful way to sexual and relationship violence in our campus community and to become informed allies. By attending HAVEN training, you help to create multiple safe spaces around the campus for Carolina students to obtain information, engage in discussion, and receive referrals.

You will leave the training with basic information about sexual and relationship violence, how to respond in a helpful way, what resources are available on campus, and what you can do about sexual violence in the Carolina community. You will receive a sign for your door which identifies you as a HAVEN member.

Training schedules and registration information are available at http://womenscenter.unc.edu/our-work/programs-events/haven-training/

For more information, please contact Bob Pleasants at bpleas@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 9:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Public Safety Seeks Info on Vandalism near Hinton James Residence Hall

---

ATTENTION UNC STUDENTS, STAFF, AND FACULTY:

The UNC Department of Public Safety is seeking help identifying a suspect / suspects in the investigation of vandalism occurring during the early morning hours of Sun., June 19. Police responded at approximately 2:20 a.m. to the report of an attempted burning and defacing (by spray painting) of a vehicle in the Hinton James Parking Lot on the UNC Campus and defacing (by spray painting) of Hinton James Residence Hall.

For information and updates related to this investigation, visit the Alert Carolina website at http://alertcarolina.unc.edu.

UNC Public Safety urges anyone with information related to this investigation or the identity of suspects to contact either CrimeStoppers at (919) 942-7515 or UNC Police Investigator Lt. John Moore at (919) 966-2120. All callers may remain anonymous.

Thank You,
UNC Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 21, 2011 10:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study at UNC

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is now enrolling adult volunteers into the LEADER research study.

LEADER^{TM} (Liraglutide Effect and Action in Diabetes: Evaluation of Cardiovascular Outcome Results) aims to assess and confirm the cardiovascular safety of Liraglutide (Victoza.) and potentially show the ability of Liraglutide to improve cardiovascular outcomes.

This is a long term cardiovascular research study of Liraglutide, you may either receive the study drug or placebo (it looks like study drug but is not active drug). Your participation will last until 2015 and consist of approximately 2-7 visits to the research site each year.

You may be eligible for the research study if you are age 50 years or older, have type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease and are not currently taking the diabetes drugs Victoza or Byetta.

If you are eligible you will receive diabetes care through the research study doctor, diabetes testing supplies, and study medication at no cost to you.

For more information about this trial please contact:
Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext 269
abowell@med.unc.edu

This study received IRB approval from the UNC office of Human Research Ethics, IRB Full board on 12/03/2010
IRB study # 10-1701

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29370251-39778858@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, June 22, 2011 4:21 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [oasis-supported-faculty] IMPORTANT: Regular College server updates

---

Dear OASIS supported faculty,
OASIS maintains many servers in the College that provide a variety of applications and services to the College community, such as network printing, websites, and several specialized applications like the annual report system. In an effort to keep these services running optimally, we have an obligation to update our servers on a regular basis.
What does this mean to you?
Most updates will go un-noticed, but occasionally some updates will require us to restart the servers,resulting in timeframes in which specific applications or services will be unavailable. In almost all cases, updates will be performed at times when usage is at a minimum, and in all cases, we will notify you in advance of the updates.
When will the updates happen?
We perform regular updates the third week of each month.
When is the next update?
Tonight (6/22) and tomorrow (6/23) we will perform the first set of updates. There will be a third round of updates Thursday night.
Where can I get help if I have a problem?
If you have a problem at any time you can always call 962-HELP, or submit a Remedy ticket directly to OASIS via the following site: http://oasis.unc.edu/remedy. We closely monitor Remedy, particularly after any type of update.
Thank you for your continued support as we work to optimize the College technology infrastructure.
Sincerely,
OASIS

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de&n=T&l=oasis-supported-faculty&o=29370225

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken)

or send a blank email to leave-29370225-39800428.87143b3cdbbd2c84d119a11cdf7965de@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to

african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 22, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Follow-Up Enrollment Period for State Health Plan

---

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

Enrollment Dates: July 18-29, 2011
Effective Dates: Sept. 1, 2011-June 30, 2012

Health benefits for teachers and state employees are determined by the North Carolina General Assembly. In its most recent session, the General Assembly passed legislation making changes to premiums, copays and deductibles for the State Health Plan. Due to these changes, which go into effect Sept. 1, the State Health Plan must conduct a follow-up enrollment, which will take place July 18-29.

During this period, members will have the opportunity to change their plan elections and add eligible dependents. For a comparison of the changes in copays and deductibles, see http://shpnc.org/pdf/follow-up-enrollment/plan-comparison.pdf.

Along with these other changes, the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative (CWI) has been eliminated. Therefore, effective Sept. 1, the tobacco cessation and weight management components will no longer determine the plan in which members may enroll. If members previously elected to enroll in the 70/30 Basic plan due to CWI, they can now enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan.

Members who wish to remain in the plan that they enrolled in during the enrollment period that ended June 8 will not need to do anything during the follow-up enrollment period.

For the first time, employees who wish to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan will be required to pay a premium for employee-only coverage. However, the 70/30 Basic plan still requires no premiums for employee-only coverage. In addition, dependent premiums will increase 5.3 percent for the 2011/12 benefit plan year, which begins Sept. 1. The rates can be found at http://shpnc.org/pdf/follow-up-enrollment/active-retiree-rates.pdf. Health insurance premiums are paid one month in advance, so you can expect to see any applicable rate changes in your August paycheck(s).

Members will receive new identification cards by July 1 to reflect benefit changes selected during last month's annual enrollment. Members will also receive new identification cards by Sept. 1 reflecting any changes made during the follow-up enrollment.

Benefits Services will provide additional enrollment information and instructions in the near future. The State Health Plan will mail additional information regarding this enrollment period directly to your home address.

If you have questions, contact Benefits Services in the Office of Human Resources at 962-3071.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of aspire@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 22, 2011 8:36 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have a Psychotic Spectrum Disorder?

The ASPIRE team is currently conducting a research study to examine if a computer program can help individuals who have a Psychotic Spectrum Disorder. Participants must have a Psychotic Spectrum Disorder, be 10-19 years old, and be taking a medication for their disorder. Participants must be willing to play computer programs, undergo cognitive and study doctor assessments, and complete six blood draws.

Participation will include:
* Fourteen appointments at UNC Hospitals with the study doctor

Participants will be compensated for their time, up to $650

Please contact our recruitment line or email us for more information:
Email: aspire@unc.edu
Phone: 1-800-708-0048

This message was approved on 30-Mar-2011 by the Biomedical IRB for protocol # 09-0637 Intensive Computerized Brain Training in Early Onset Psychosis (ICBT)-Pilot Phase

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of motherbabylab@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 23, 2011 8:38 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Postpartum Blood Flow and Inflammation Study

---

Help us learn about changes in mothers' cardiovascular function and inflammatory markers during the first few months after childbirth. Researchers at the UNC School of Medicine are looking for mothers of infants who are between 2-6 months postpartum. We will pay $50.00 for one visit (~ 90 minutes) to UNC Hospital. Free parking is available.

Who can participate?
We are looking for mothers who feed their infants exclusively with formula (no breast-feeding) or exclusively with breast milk (no formula). Mothers must be between 2-6 months postpartum at the time of testing.

What will happen if you take part in the study?
Participation involves one visit to UNC Hospital that will last approximately 60-90 minutes. Free parking is available. The following measures will be done at this visit:

Questionnaires: You will fill out questionnaires about your pregnancy, your baby's birth, method of infant feeding, and some facts about you (such as age, race, and education). These questionnaires will take approximately 15 minutes to complete. You have the right to refrain from answering any questions on the questionnaires or in the interview for any reason.

Blood sample: for markers of inflammation: A single blood draw will be done. Approximately 1.5 tablespoons of blood will be taken for assay of hormones (oxytocin, prolactin) and immune measures including IL1-beta, IL-6, TNF-alpha, IL-8, IL10.

Blood Flow Measurement: The Brachial Artery Imaging procedure, also known as Flow-Mediated Dilation, measures how well your blood vessels can relax and expand to let blood flow through. It involves taking ultrasound images of an artery in your forearm under the following conditions:
1. while you rest
2. after deflation of a blood pressure cuff that has been inflated for 5 minutes
3. while you rest again
4. after you receive a nitroglycerin spray (0.4 mg) under your tongue.

Nitroglycerin is a fast acting substance (within minutes) that increases blood flow. Because the half-life of this drug is 1-4 minutes, it will be entirely gone from your system within 30 minutes or less.

Are there any reasons you should not be in this study?
You should not be in this study if you:
*have a history of any cardiovascular disease, including coronary artery disease, arteriosclerosis, heart attack, or stroke *have high blood pressure *take blood pressure lowering medication
*frequently use anti-inflammatory agents like aspirin, Motrin, Alleve, Tylenol (> 10 times/month).
*do not have a biological child between 2-6 months old.

Will you receive anything for being in this study?

You will receive up to $50.00 for completing the study in full compliance, prorated as follows:
$5.00 for filling out questionnaires
$40.00 for Brachial Artery Imaging
$5.00 for blood sample

How do you sign up?

If interested, please contact our study coordinator, Caitlin Gregg: (919-966-2549)or Email: motherbabylab@unc.edu and refer to the Postpartum Blood Flow and Inflammation Study.

Study title: Prenatal Cocaine and Neurobehavioral Factors Underlying Mother-Infant Interaction

Approval #, Biomedical IRB, Study # 08-1092

Approved - IRB UNC-CH
June 20, 2011

This email is sponsored by: UNC School of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29381380-40099761@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 24, 2011 2:08 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [oasis-supported-faculty] Planned Maintenance on College Servers - Friday 7/1 from 6-7pm

---

Dear OASIS Supported Faculty, Staff & Students,
On Friday, July 1st, from approximately 6-7pm ITS will be doing an upgrade to servers that host many services for College units. As the servers will be offline, several services will be unavailable.
This affects the following:
·□□□□Network Printers
·□□□□Advising Scheduler
·□□□□College Annual Report System
·□□□□Special Web Applications Developed by OASIS
·□□□□OASIS Supported Plone and Web.unc.edu Sites

If you are using any of these services at that time please make sure you have completed any of that work and logged out by 5:45pm. Although the actual outage will likely be less than one hour, by 7pm services are scheduled to be back up and available again.
If you have any questions or concerns please submit a remedy ticket at http://help.unc.edu.
Thank you,
OASIS Systems group

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=40119919.5e37bab58ba96b0a39733da972fc2ee7&n=T&l=oasis-supported-faculty&o=29381375

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29381375-40119919.5e37bab58ba96b0a39733da972fc2ee7@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to

african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 28, 2011 3:33 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Ancient Art, "Last Look", Movies, Yoga, and More!

Ackland at this Thursday's Locally Grown Movie!

Locally Grown is a summer-long series of FREE live concerts and movies on Thursday evenings on Wallace Plaza—atop the Wallace Parking Deck—at 150 E. Rosemary Street in downtown Chapel Hill.

Join Ackland Art Museum volunteers prior to the Locally Grown movie this Thursday (June 30), Pirates of the Caribbean: Curse of the Black Pearl, and make your own pirate hat from 6:30-8:00 PM. Wear it at the ~8:00 PM screening and hoist the Jolly Roger. ARGH!

The Ackland will also be at these upcoming Locally Grown movies:

July 21: Megamind — Make a cartoon story board

August 18: E.T. — Make a friendship bracelet

Get the full schedule of Locally Grown events.

German Art Exhibitions in their Final Days!

On View through Sunday, 10 July 2011

Romantic Dreams and Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

Last Look tour with Curator Timothy Riggs: Sunday, 10 July 2011, 2:15 PM

Free - no reservation required.

Artists living in Germany and its neighboring countries during the century 1840–1940 experienced massive social upheaval and political unrest, an environment that dramatically informed their art. With its alternating and opposing images of idealized fantasy worlds and intense, often bitter observations of reality, Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings illustrates the continuity that existed between strains of nineteenth and early twentieth-century art.

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Last Look tour with Curator Peter Nisbet: Sunday, 10 July 2011, 3:00 PM

Free - no reservation required.

The artists in DE-NATURED—including Joseph Beuys, Gerhard Richter, Sigmar Polke, Hanne Darboven, Andreas Gursky, and Thomas Struth, among others—established the international relevance and resonance of contemporary German art. Drawn from a distinguished private collection and supplemented with pieces from the Ackland, the nearly 40 works on viewpresent a complex and compelling introduction to the notable efflorescence of art in post-war Germany.

Visitors are calling these two exhibitions "stunning" and "amazing" —see them before they close!

Reception for Photographer Michael Carlebach and Southern Cultures

The Center for the Study of the American South

Wednesday, 29 June, 5:00 - 7:00 PM

Come celebrate the release of the 2011 Photography issue of Southern Cultures with a reception for one of its featured photographers.

"Many years ago I concluded that for me truth and beauty, and perhaps wit and wisdom as well, is more likely to reside in what is ordinary and seemingly insignificant than in the supercharged personae whose incessant bluster and self-promotion guarantees attention but delivers little except noise and more noise. So I usually look outside the media glare, outside the alluring limelight, for images. This is, perhaps, a sideways look at America and American culture, but it is one that can produce moments that are quietly decisive and memorable, moments that describe us all—but without makeup and bereft of a spokesperson." —Michael Carlebach

Register here!

Yoga in the Galleries: Good for the Body and the Soul

Namasté! Take a break from your day and explore the world of yoga in the beautiful setting of the Ackland!

Sessions led by Joanne Marshall. Beginners are welcome.

Yoga mats and cushions are provided. Please wear comfortable clothing that will allow you to stretch. Since the galleries can be cool, long sleeves are recommended.

Upcoming sessions:

Tuesday, 5 July, 12:00 - 1:00 PM

Tuesday, 19 July, 12:00 - 1:00 PM

Free to members | $5 non-members. Space is limited. Register by email: acklandRSVP@unc.edu.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.
Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.
Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 28, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Teaching So Everyone Learns: Managing culturally difficult topics and situations

---

Faculty members are invited to attend an interactive workshop this coming August on managing difficult or sensitive topic discussions and situations in the classroom. The workshop will be presented by a visiting scholar and breakout sessions will be led by UNC faculty and administrators. Strategies will be shared on guiding classroom discussions and being prepared for cultural discontinuities when they occur in the classroom setting. You will have an opportunity to share your own strategies and ideas on the topics with your peers during discussion sessions. Lunch will be provided.

This event is open to both UNC and local college and university faculty. Spaces are limited, however, so please register early.

You can access more information and registration forms at http://go.unc.edu/s3QNc

For questions, please contact Dr. M. Cookie Newsom at newsom@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Provost, DMA, CFE, EEO

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acalingo@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 28, 2011 8:24 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Time-to-Pregnancy Research Study

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time to Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill that hopes to find a way to accurately measure a woman's fertility. Women between 30 and 44 years of age who are trying to become pregnant or about to start trying are eligible to participate in the study. Women are not eligible to participate if they or their partner have a history of infertility or fertility treatment.

Research study participants only need to attend ONE brief, on-site study visit in Chapel Hill or Raleigh. All other study activities are completed online.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Free online fertility tracker
- Monetary compensation for study activities

There are no medicines or pills to take and no changes to one's daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

If you or someone you know might be interested in learning more about this study, you can visit our website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive, call us at (919) 843-8246, or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: OB/GYN

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	bounce-29409598-40282750@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent:	Wednesday, June 29, 2011 4:51 PM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc:	Administrative Managers <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] FROM THE DEAN: Travel Grants
Attach:	TravelReg-2.doc

The enclosed message from Dean Gil is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences, with a copy to administrative managers.

# #

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to let you know that, despite pending state budget cuts, the Dean's Office will continue to provide the same level of travel support in 2011/12 as it did in 2010/11 for eligible College faculty who are actively participating in a conference. Our policy governing Dean's Office Travel Grant allocations remains, as follows: tenured/tenure-track faculty (who do not have research funding from distinguished professorships or grants) and senior lecturers are eligible for $1,000; department and curriculum chairs are eligible for $2,000; other full-time permanent fixed-term teaching faculty who have been in the College for more than one year are eligible for $750. These allocations are subject to eligibility definitions and guidelines on the attached policy, which is included in the Chairs Manual.

Please consult the attached policy or your chair if you need additional information.

Best regards,

Karen M. Gil
Dean

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of aspire@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 29, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: A Research Study for Improving Social Functioning in Autism

---

The ASPIRE team is currently conducting a research study involving children (ages 3 - 17 years) with autism. We are currently looking to enroll children and adolescents who wish to take an investigational medication for four months. The medication is a nasal spray. Participants will either take placebo (fake medicine) or the actual medication for two months and then all participants will take the actual medicine for 2 months. We hope that this investigational medication will improve social functioning in individuals with autism.

Participation will include:
* Eight appointments at UNC Hospitals with a doctor who specializes in autism
* Appointments may include any of the following: physical exam, diagnostic and cognitive assessments for child, parent questionnaires, and blood samples taken from your child

Participants receive study medication or placebo (fake medicine), clinical evaluations, medical tests and physical exams at no cost. Compensation for visits will be provided.

For more information, please call 1-800-708-0048 or email aspire@unc.edu. You can also check out our website at www.psychiatry.unc.edu/aspire

This message was approved on 10-Mar-2011 by the Biomedical IRB for protocol # 11-0493 A Pilot Study of Oxytocin in Children and Adolescents with Autistic Disorder

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 30, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Study About Asthma and the Environment

---

This observational study will measure the effects of daily variations in outdoor air pollution levels on asthma symptoms, lung function, markers of inflammation, and heart rate variability. Currently we are seeking volunteers with physician-diagnosed severe but well-controlled asthma who are between the ages of 18 and 75. Study participants will wear heart monitors for five 24-hour periods and will keep diaries of their activities and asthma or respiratory symptoms. Ambient air will be assessed through state operated monitoring stations. Please see www.epastudies.org. Compensation is provided.
Approved November 20, 2009 by the Office of Human Research Ethics, Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB 07-1438: Title: Mechanisms by which Air Pollutants Exacerbate Mild and Severe Asthmatics. This email is sponsored by: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Environmental Public Health Division (formerly Human Studies Division) located on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus.

This email is sponsored by: U.S. EPA Environmental Public Health Division

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, June 30, 2011 8:42 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research Study About Ozone and Exercise

---

This research study is for healthy non-smoking people between 18 and 55 WHO DO NOT have asthma. The purpose of the study is to compare changes in lung function, lung cells, blood and heart rate between people with and without asthma when they are exposed to clean air and ozone. The study involves 5 visits after screening over about 6 to 8 weeks. It requires a commitment of about 22 hours, including 2 2-day exposure sessions. You will be paid for screening and the study. Please visit www.epastudies.org for more information or call the Westat EPA Recruiting Office at 919-966-0604. Approved March 24, 2011 by the Office of Human Research Ethics Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB # 09-1625: Epigenetic effects of diesel exhaust and ozone exposure. This email is sponsored by: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Human Studies Division, located on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus.

This email is sponsored by: U.S. EPA Environmental Public Health Division

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 30, 2011 9:05 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Director, American Indian Center

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications and nominations for the position of Director of the American Indian Center, which was established in 2006. The successful candidate will enjoy the opportunity to link the richness of American Indian nations and communities with the strengths of Carolina's research, education, and teaching.

This campus-wide Center advances the University's overall mission by creating an environment in which research and teaching related to American Indians is strengthened, nurtured, and applied in service to the public. North Carolina is home to the largest Native population in the eastern United States, and the Center serves as the University's front door to American Indian communities across the state and the nation. The Center enables Carolina, as the University of the People, to truly serve the First People of North Carolina. The Center advances campus diversity and dialogue by facilitating the inclusion of American Indian perspectives, enriching the learning environment of the entire University.

The Director of the American Indian Center has overall responsibility for the activities, programs, and operations of the Center. Specific responsibilities include the following:

* Strategic planning and research development. In collaboration with University and community colleagues, the Director gathers information on institutional and public priorities, establishes a shared vision and purpose, and stimulates responsive and innovative programs of research, instruction, and outreach.

* Program development, implementation, and evaluation. The Director oversees the planning and implementation of the Center's programs and scholarly activities, which involve collaborations among faculty, staff, students, and community members and agencies. Ongoing evaluation of programs and activities is an essential responsibility to ensure accountability, documentation of impact, and continuous improvement. The Director leads efforts to generate support for the Center's research, programs, and activities through grants and donations.

* Outreach and partnership development. The Director is responsible for scholarly engagement with Native nations and communities within the state and beyond. The person in this position collaborates with faculty, staff, administrators, and students from all areas of the campus as well as with alumni and community partners. The American Indian Center links communities with the research and academic programs of the University.

* Fiscal and administrative oversight. The Director is responsible for sound financial management of the Center and its programs. The Director prepares budgets, follows accepted fiscal practices, and provides timely reports and financial analyses. He or she promotes the financial wellbeing and economic stability of the Center and secures resources through which the goals of the Center are accomplished. The Director effectively supervises staff, promoting teamwork and open communication, fostering a culture of scholarly engagement and service, evaluating performance, and providing opportunities for recognition, training, and professional development.

The position requires significant experience and achievement in program leadership and administration and a minimum of a Master's degree, with doctorate strongly preferred. The successful candidate will be committed to engagement with Native nations and communities and will be able to communicate effectively and build relationships with a wide variety of partners and constituents. The Director must demonstrate many of the following qualifications: visionary leadership; extensive knowledge of American Indian perspectives; strong managerial, fiscal, and administrative abilities; an understanding of academic culture, policies, and procedures typical of major public research universities; experience with academic outreach and community engagement; fundraising ability and entrepreneurship; ability to garner the support of volunteers and appreciate their contributions; passion and drive for the goals of the Center.

The Director reports to the Provost through the Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives, and prepares and transmits to the Associate Provost an annual budget and annual assessments of the Center's and Director's activities. The Center's internal and external advisory boards support the Director in achieving the goals of the American Indian Center.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is a comprehensive research-intensive university offering the highest academic quality and a culture of achievement and collaboration. Chartered in 1789, UNC is the oldest state university in the United States. The University enrolls 29,390 students, and is ranked in the top five public national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University's fourteen colleges and schools provide instruction offering baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral programs, as well as programs in dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, law, nursing, business, and other professions. The University is situated in one of the premier college communities in the nation.

To apply, go to http://jobs.unc.edu/2501359. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Todd Boyette, Chair, American Indian Center Director Search Committee, at tboy@email.unc.edu or 919-843-2085. Nominations may be addressed to Dr. Boyette, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB# 3000, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3000 or Debbie_stevenson@unc.edu. Review of applications will begin August 1, 2011, and continue until the position is filled. Anticipated start date is October 1, 2011, but is negotiable. This is an at-will EPA-Non Faculty position with the possibility of an adjunct faculty appointment.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cjgillen@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, July 1, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Study on Alcohol Consumption and Addiction

---

IRB# 09-0939

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking volunteers for a research study using an FDA approved medication for the treatment of heavy alcohol drinking. The research study will involve a free evaluation interview and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. If you're between the ages of 18 and 65 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical research study.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Cody at 919-966-0011 or email at cjgillen@email.unc.edu

This study was approved on 07/24/09 by the Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB # 09-0939.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2011 11:09 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] "Last Look" Tours, Drawing, Music, and More!

German Art Exhibitions in their Final Days!

On View through Sunday, July 10:

Romantic Dreams | Rude Awakenings: Northern European Prints and Drawings, 1840-1940

"Last Look" Tour with Curator Timothy Riggs: Sunday, July 10, 2:15 PM

Free - no reservation required.

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

Last Look tour with Curator Peter Nisbet: Sunday, July 10, 3:00 PM

Free - no reservation required.

Come to the Ackland Museum Store on the 2nd Friday ArtWalk!

Friday, July 8, 6:00 - 9:00 PM

2nd Friday ArtWalk

"Nothing is Impossible," the premier exhibition in the Ackland Museum Store's gallery space, features works by seven North Carolina artists who have a connection to Penland School of Crafts, whether as a teacher, student, or resident. The show features work by Margaret Couch Cogswell (book arts, mixed media), Celia Gray (encaustic paintings), Bryant Holsenbeck (environmental art), Ann Marie Kennedy (paper art, installation), Evan Lightner (furniture), Gretchen McLaren (metal), and Sylvie Rosenthal (woodwork, sculpture).

All proceeds from the Ackland Museum Store support the Ackland Art Museum's exhibition and education programs.

Drawing in the Galleries

Saturday, July 9, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Every month, Amanda Hughes, director of external affairs at the Ackland, meets with friends of the Museum who have an interest in practicing and strengthening their drawing skills. Participants have the opportunity to uncover the challenges the original artists faced and experience the pleasure of sharing in the creative process. Each session incorporates a short discussion on a work of art.

Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

Free

Drawing for Kids

Saturday, July 9, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

This program invites 9- to 12-year olds to look at artists' techniques and tricks in the Ackland's permanent collections and special exhibitions. Participants explore selected works in the Museum's collection and identify skills that the artist used to make them. Skilled gallery teachers demonstrate and teach students those skills, which they can apply in their own art. A mix of drawing from works on display and creating one's own original works is offered in each session. Materials provided.

Free to members | $5 non-members.

Registration required and limited. To register, call 919.962.0479.

Music in the Galleries: Attic Orchestra

Sunday, July 17, 2:00 - 3:00 PM

Every third Sunday of the month, enjoy music in the Ackland galleries. A wide variety of performers can be heard, from classical quartets to bluegrass, to enhance your Museum experience.

This month, enjoy the music of local quartet Attic Orchestra. Performing both original tunes and covers, their blend of folk, rock, and jazz styles will enliven a hot summer afternoon.

Free. Reservations and tickets are not required, but please arrive early to find a spot.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Max Klinger, German, 1857–1920: Abduction, from A Glove, 1880 (published 1898); etching with aquatint. The Elisabeth Holmes Lee Art Fund and The William A. Whitaker Foundation Art Fund.
Gerhard Richter, German, born 1932: Untitled, 1999; oil on color photograph. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection.
Egon Schiele, Austrian, 1890–1918: Seated Woman (detail), 1918; black colored pencil drawing. Burton Emmett Collection.
Norman Kent, American, born 1903: Young Boy Drawing (detail), 1930; linoleum-cut print. Burton Emmett Collection.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of aspire@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you know a child who takes medication to help with his or her behavior?

The ASPIRE Research program at the UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Psychiatry is looking for study participants who:
* are 8-19 years old,
* are currently taking
* Zyprexa.
* Seroquel.
* Risperdal.
* Geodon.
* Abilify.
* AND have gained weight while taking one of these medicines.

We are looking at three different ways in order to reduce weight gain that is associated with these types of medicines. Study participation will last up to 7 months.

All study-related evaluations and treatments are provided at no cost to participants.
Compensation for participation is also provided. Subjects would earn a minimum of $375 for completing the entire study.

If you are a doctor and think one of your patients might be eligible, please let them know about this study.

If you are a parent and you think this study may be appropriate for your child, please contact us.

For more information:
ASPIRE Research Hotline (1-800-708-0048)
Email us at aspire@unc.edu.

This message was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB on 07-Feb-2011 for IRB#08-1082 Improving Metabolic Parameters of Antipsychotic Child Treatment-Multi-site Study (IMPACT-MS)
PI: Lin Sikich, MD

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of frances_ulman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 6, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Breaking the Cycle of Risk: Intervention for Mothers with Eating Disorders

---

Title of Study: Breaking the Cycle of Risk: Intervention for Mothers with Eating Disorders

The University of North Carolina's Eating Disorders Program is developing an intervention for mothers with a history of an eating disorder. The intervention will focus on developing effective parenting styles and creating a healthy home environment around food, activity, and self-esteem. Participants will participate in a research study related online intervention at no cost and payment for participating in additional assessments. Eligible participants must be female aged 18 years or older and have a typically developing child under the age of 36 months. If you, or someone you know, would like to learn more about the research study please contact the Research Coordinator, Dr. Frances Ulman, at (919) 966-7662 or frances_ulman@med.unc.edu.

Biomedical IRB Study # 08-0236, Approval date: 4.14.11

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cablab@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 6, 2011 8:49 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: SMOKERS WANTED FOR STUDY

We are currently looking for cigarette smokers between the ages of 18 and 40 to participate in a study exploring the role of attention in nicotine addiction. Your participation would require you to come to our laboratory in Davie Hall on the University of North Carolina campus and complete attention-related tasks on the computer for about 1 hour. For your participation, you will be compensated with $10/hour.

If you think you may be interested in participating AND ARE NOT CURRENTLY TAKING PSYCHOACTIVE MEDICATIONS please send an e-mail to cablab@unc.edu and include the following information:

1. Name
2. Are you a smoker?
3. If yes, Average number of cigarettes smoked/day
If no, have you ever smoked on a regular basis
4. E-mail address
5. Times which are generally best for you to participate

Thank you,
Dr. Vicki W. Chanon
Dept. of Psychology

This study titled "Smoking, Familiarity, and Attention" has been approved by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) (study #07-1639; approved 10/01/2010).

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of SchoolStudy@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 6, 2011 9:02 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: For Parents of High School Students

Hello!

The Cervical Cancer-Free North Carolina program at UNC is working with school health centers to create a vaccination promotion program for teens. As part of this effort, we are interviewing parents of high school students to get their feedback on a packet of vaccination materials. The interview takes about 30 minutes and we will find a convenient place to meet you in person. You will receive $20 for your time. Your participation is voluntary and your name will not be associated with any of your responses.

We would appreciate your help. If you are a parent or guardian of a high school student and are interested in completing an interview, please contact us at SchoolStudy@unc.edu. If you have any questions please contact Ashley at (919) 843-3105.

This project #11-1216 has been reviewed by the Public Health-Nursing IRB, which has determined on July 6, 2011 that it does not require IRB approval.

Thank you!

This email is sponsored by: Cervical Cancer-Free NC

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of katharine_thurlow@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 8, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Subjects Needed for Probiotic Study

---

RESEARCH SUBJECTS NEEDED for Probiotic Study

Do you suffer from the following abdominal symptoms?
- Bloating
- Distension
- Fullness
- Gas
- Discomfort/Pain

If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the effect of a probiotic added to your diet on these symptoms.
Probiotics are a dietary supplement containing active, beneficial bacteria found in food like yogurt and cheese.

The First Study IRB #10-0467 (approved 5/2/2011) involves:
- This is a 6 week research study that involves 1 screening visit and 2 clinic visits to UNC Hospitals.
- Subjects should expect to record their symptoms on a paper diary, take a probiotic dietary supplement once daily, and avoid taking other probiotics and antibiotics.
- Subjects will be compensated $300 for complete participation in this study.

Additionally subjects participating in this study will be required to enroll in a Second Study IRB #10-0718 (approved 4/13/2011) at the same time:
- This is a 6 week research study that requires NO extra visits when combined with the first study
- Subjects will collect urine and stool samples at two time points of the study
- Subjects will be compensated $200 for complete participation in this study.

If you are interested in participating or want to learn more about this study and other studies please call the study coordinator, Katharine Thurlow at 919-843-1003 or katharine_thurlow@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Gatroenterology and Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, July 8, 2011 8:39 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Memories and Beyond

---

Memories and Beyond: The purpose of this research study is to learn about memory and decision-making. If you participate in this study you will be asked to complete a simple writing task and a brief questionnaire. This study will take place in the Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab for approximately 30-45 minutes.

Please visit our website at www.c4dr.unc.edu to sign up for this study.

Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lah, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30-45 minutes
Pay: $6
IRB # 11-1157

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on July 1, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: African Languages Teachers Association <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Monday, July 11, 2011 5:35 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: JALTA - Call For Papers and Book Reviews

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with African Language Teachers Association (ALTA). Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN LANGUAGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION (JALTA) CALL FOR PAPERS AND BOOK REVIEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS/BOOK REVIEWS

The Journal of the African Language Teachers Association (JALTA), is soliciting articles and/or book reviews for publication.
JALTA is the official journal of the African Language Teachers Association (ALTA), and it serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of African Languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year.

Focus

Our general editorial focus is on policy, education, programs, advocacy, and research in the field of African languages. The envisaged coverage of the Journal is as follows:

a. Methodology and Technology,
b. Academia,
c. Beyond Academia,
d. Social Embeddedness

The first section shall include papers or book reviews focusing on broader theoretical and technological issues in all fields of African languages. The second section will encompass reports about research and teaching in academia, at both K-12 and collegiate levels. The third section shall comprise papers addressing research and teaching in government and industry. Finally, the fourth section will address the issues of a broader social environment, ranging from heritage communities to advancing LCTLs in federal initiatives and legislation in the USA.

Submitted Manuscripts

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), see http://www.apastyle.org/man

Manuscripts should be:

- A maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and submitted electronically

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Quick Links

Our Website

About Us

We aim to develop a field of African Language Teaching where members can share common interests and concerns having to do with the study of African Languages.

We aim to identify each African Language, with priority given to those most commonly studied sets of learning materials for beginning, intermediate and advanced study.

We aim to link efforts of teachers and researchers in Africa with those outside of Africa.

via word (1997-2003)-document e-mail attachment.

- Double-line spaced throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point Times New Roman font with a 1.5 inch left margin. (Please ensure that this specified formatting is followed).
- Accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. (Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the cover sheet only, and not appear in the manuscript).

All Manuscripts should be electronically submitted to The Editor at: daduaman@indiana.edu and copied to the Secretariat at: alta@mailplus.wisc.edu.

Deadline for submission of manuscripts is

September 30, 2011.

ALTA
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel:608-265-7905
Fax:608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by alta@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

African Language Teachers Association | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of IVFstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 11, 2011 8:43 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF?

Are you and your partner having trouble getting pregnant and considering IVF (in vitro fertilization)?

UNC Fertility Clinic is working on a research study for infertile couples who are considering IVF to help them conceive. Qualifying couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted rate.

Study Details:
* You and your partner will have a consultation appointment with a physician in our UNC Fertility Clinic to determine if you are a good candidate for IVF and for this study. Note that this visit is considered part of routine medical care.
* Female partner must be <41 years old to participate in this study.
* If you (your partner) are a good candidate for the study, you will undergo an IVF cycle with ovarian stimulation and egg retrieval, with the same methods that we routinely use for IVF.
* For the study, we will divide the eggs into two groups - half will be fertilized immediately, and the other half will be frozen and immediately thawed, and then fertilized. We will perform an embryo transfer using embryos derived from the freeze/thaw cycle.
* Note that couples planning IVF with an egg donor may qualify for the study as well. Female partner must be <48 years old in IVF cycles with an egg donor.

Benefits of participation:
* Enrolled couples will receive an IVF cycle at a discounted cost.

To learn if you (your partner) would qualify for this study, call us for a consultation appointment at (919-966-1150) or send an email to (IVFstudy@unc.edu) with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

The principal investigator for this study, "Clinical evaluation of egg cryopreservation", is Jennifer Mersereau, MD, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. This study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 12/16/2010, study # 10-1911.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cts2014@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 12, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for alcohol consumption and decision making study

---

Do you ever drink alcohol?

Are you interested in making $10 for completing a 1 hour task?

Study requires participants to view images and make simple decisions about their contents.

You are eligible if:
1. You are between the ages of 18-40 years old
2. You are NOT taking illicit drugs
3. You are NOT taking psychoactive medications
4. You have NEVER sought treatment for a substance use disorder
5. You are a native English speaker
6. You have graduated high school or earned a GED
7. You have no known psychiatric or neurological problems

If interested, please contact Chris at 919-962-8340 or cts2014@email.unc.edu to schedule a time for participation.

(This study, entitled "Decision Making and Drinking Habits of Young Adults" has been approved by the UNC Institutional Review Board, Study #: 09-0001 on 12/09/2010, and is sponsored by the UNC Department of Psychology.)

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, July 12, 2011 8:27 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: State Budget Update

Dear Faculty and Staff:

We are facing a very difficult year. Across campus, units are going to be cutting budgets even more than they've already been cut. We'll see more programs eliminated, larger class sizes for our students and additional layoffs.

The budget that the General Assembly passed was, by necessity, austere. I wish that higher education had been spared the deep cuts that we face, particularly after the consecutive years of cuts that we have endured. But the reality is that Carolina's overall permanent cut in state appropriations totals 17.9 percent, or more than $100 million. This fiscal year, that cut will be offset by $20 million transferred from UNC Health Care to help the University and our School of Medicine absorb the cuts.

We're grateful to Bill Roper, dean of the School of Medicine and CEO of UNC Health Care, and to the health care executive board for approving the transfer. UNC Health Care annually transfers funds to the School of Medicine for mission, academic and clinical support.

Our reductions are higher than those of the other campuses in the system. There are several reasons for that. The legislature's final budget prevented the UNC Board of Governors from distributing the cuts equally across the campuses, so several factors were considered. The availability of other sources of revenue - contracts, grants, private gifts and the transfer of health care system funds - was a significant factor in our receiving a larger percentage cut. Carolina's state appropriations account for about a fourth of our operating budget, whereas the other campuses rely more heavily on state funds.

Other factors that were taken into consideration were graduation and retention rates, which worked in Carolina's favor, and percentages of low-income students, which favored other campuses in the system.

From a practical standpoint, Carolina's ability to take a larger cut helped soften the blow at smaller UNC institutions with fewer resources. But in the end, the result was the same for all of our state universities - dramatic cuts that threaten our ability to educate the next generation of leaders.

On a positive note, the budget includes allocations for enrollment growth and revenue generated by the 6.5 percent tuition increase the Board of Trustees and BOG approved earlier this year. The legislature's budget also included funding for need-based financial aid, graduate student tuition remissions and building reserves, and out-of-state students who earn academic scholarships are allowed to pay in-state tuition rates. We'll also realize the savings that began July 1 from the nearly 5 percent permanent cut we proactively took last spring. But unlike last year, there will be no supplemental tuition hike to cushion the effect of budget cuts.

I know that all of you want to know what these numbers mean for your school, department and unit. Your best source of information will be at the unit level from your vice chancellors, deans, department chairs and directors. And it may take them a few weeks to determine exactly how these cuts will affect your units.

We'll continue to protect the classroom experience for our students as much as possible. Cuts at the unit level will continue to reflect the priority we place on our teaching mission. But we expect our students to feel the impact more than ever this year through larger class sizes and fewer course sections in the College of Arts and Sciences and some professional schools. We'll do everything we can to minimize damage to our academic offerings, but there will be some painful results.

Thank you for your patience during this budget process. I know that all of you believe as I do ... North Carolina's universities are the key to our state's future economic growth and job creation. We will do everything possible to keep Carolina strong, and I'm confident that we can emerge stronger thanks to the commitment that all of you have demonstrated throughout this difficult time.

For updated information, refer to universityrelations.unc.edu/budget.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 13, 2011 2:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Cool Off at the Ackland: Look, Learn, Linger!

DE-NATURED Extended!

By popular demand, our exhibition of contemporary German art is now on view through Sunday, July 24th! Learn more:

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

---

Now Open!

The Western Tradition: Selections from the Permanent Collection

Newly installed, "The Western Tradition" presents art from the Ackland's permanent collections covering 5,000 years of western culture — from ancient Mesopotamian and Mediterranean art to European and American art of the 1950s.

Music in the Galleries: Attic Orchestra

Sunday, 17 July, 2:00 - 3:00 PM

Every third Sunday of the month, enjoy music in the Ackland galleries. A wide variety of performers can be heard, from classical quartets to bluegrass, to enhance your Museum experience.

This month, enjoy the music of local quartet Attic Orchestra. Performing both original tunes and covers, their blend of folk, rock, and jazz styles will enliven a hot summer afternoon.

Free. Reservations and tickets are not required, but please arrive early to find a spot.

Coming Soon!

Family Day: Encountering Ancient Art

Sunday, 24 July, 1:00 - 4:00 PM

Come take part in the first of a series of monthly, themed Family Days at the Ackland Art Museum, with art-related activities including a scavenger hunts, an art-making station, story time, and a family tour.

This month, families will be inspired by ancient art from the Ackland's permanent collection. At the Creation Station, choose an outline of a Greek vase and decorate it with ancient patterns. Listen to some of Aesop's fables at Story Time, and go on a scavenger hunt for gods, goddesses, and other ancient wonders!

Come for a little while or stay for the whole afternoon -- it's all FREE!

Visit the Ackland Museum Store at the Corner of Franklin and Columbia Streets in downtown Chapel Hill!

All proceeds from the Store support the Ackland Art Museum’s exhibition and education programs.

Store Hours: Mon - Sat 10:00 AM - 5:30 PM, Thu 10:00 AM - 8:30 PM, Sun 12:00 - 5:00 PM
Telephone: 919.962.0216

Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases. In addition, members enjoy special discounts during several designated Member Shopping Days throughout the year. Become a member today!

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Martin Kippenberger, German, 1953-1997. Untitled (The Mark), 1990, graphite and Letraset on hotel stationery, mounted on poster. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection. © Estate Martin Kippenberger, Galerie Gisela Capitain, Cologne.
Emanuel de Witte, Dutch, 1615/17-1691/92: The Interior of the Oude Kerk, Amsterdam, c. 1660; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.
Unknown artist, Greek: Head of A Woman, 3rd to 2nd century B.C.; bronze. Ackland Fund.
Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of younghearts@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 13, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Adolescents and Young Adults Living with Congenital Heart Disease

---

Research Study: Adolescents and Young Adults Living with Congenital Heart Disease

We're looking for adolescents and young adults (aged 19-29 years) to share their experience of living with congenital heart disease. If you agree to participate, you will be asked to complete one interview and 3 questionnaires. The interview and questionnaires will take about 2 hours of your time. During the interview you will be asked to talk about your personal experience of living with congenital heart disease. The interview will be tape recorded with your permission. The study will be take place at the BioBehavioral Lab, UNC School of Nursing, NC Children's Hospital Pediatric Cardiology Clinics, the UNC Heart Center at Meadowmont, and the Carolina Children's Cardiology Clinics in Cary, Raleigh, and Greensboro, North Carolina. You may choose the site and time that is most convenient for you. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. You don't have to answer any questions you don't want to and you may stop being in the study at any time. All the information I receive from you, including your name will be totally private and will be kept under lock and key. You will be receive a $25.00 American Express gift card to thank you for your time and to recognize your contribution to the research. You will receive the gift card at the end of the study visit, even if you decide to withdraw or leave the study before completing the interview and/or questionnaires. To learn more and to volunteer to for this study, visit this email address: younghearts@unc.edu or call 919-914-3938.

 Choosing or declining to participate in this study will not affect your class standing, grades, or employment at UNC-Chapel Hill. You will not be offered nor receive any special consideration if you take part in this research; it is purely voluntary. Your answers to the survey will remain completely anonymous at all times.

 This study has been approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB (IRB Study No. 11-0687, April 26, 2011).

Researcher: Dr. Patricia Moreland, Postdoctoral Fellow | School of Nursing
Supervisor: Dr. Sheila Santacroce, Faculty Advisor | School of Nursing

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 13, 2011 8:29 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: subjects needed: personal laptop/computer use study

---

Do you own a personal computer/laptop? Do you keep items on your computer such as digital photos, digital music, personal writing, personal files, etc.? Do you have social media accounts, such as Facebook, etc.?
I am conducting a research study to learn how people relate to digital items on their computers or in their webspace, at different ages. I am looking for men and women in the following age ranges participate in a sorting exercise about digital items:

Age range 1: 18 years - 24 years*, men needed
Age range 2: 38 years - 47 years*, men and women needed
Age range 3: 58 years - 67 years*, men needed

If you are interested in participating, please take the 5 minute pre-screen survey (link below).
https://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_1Sn7ls9AcTKz0Rm

Participants will each receive a $10 incentive.

The interview will take place in Manning Hall on the UNC campus or at the Chapel Hill Public Library. The sorting exercise will take place at a public location (library, cafe, etc.) agreed upon by the subject and researcher. If you are faculty or staff, I may be able to come to your office to conduct the sorting exercise, if that works best for you.

*Students, faculty and staff associated with the School of Information and Library Science are not eligible to participate in the study.

Thank you!

Amber L. Cushing
Doctoral Candidate
School of Information and Library Science
UNC-Chapel Hill

IRB Study # 11-0759
approved by UNC Behavioral IRB on 4/26/2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mwheaton@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 13, 2011 8:41 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Seeking individuals with hoarding problems

---

Do you have so many items saved up that they get in the way? Do you have difficulty throwing things away? The UNC Anxiety and Stress Disorders Clinic is seeking participants with hoarding problems for a research study on emotions. If you are between 18 and 75 years old and have issues with hoarding/clutter you may be eligible to participate. The study involves a single 2.5 hour visit to our laboratory during which we will conduct an interview and measure your eyeblink responses while you view a series of pictures. Participants will be compensated with $30 for their participation. For more information please contact our study coordinator, Mike Wheaton, at 919-843-3951 or email us at: uncclutterstudy@gmail.com.

This research study was approved by the behavioral IRB (number 10-2339, initial approval 2/21/2011, modification approved 7/11/2011)

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sarah_day@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 13, 2011 8:53 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you suffer from chronic pain or are you a healthy control?

The Center for Neurosensory Disorders is currently recruiting participants for a research study about persistent painful conditions. We are looking for men and women ages 18-64 with fibromyalgia, irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), chronic pelvic pain, or migraine headaches as well as healthy people to participate in a study to help better understand these conditions.

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study and would like to participate (Biomedical IRB #10-0499).

You should not participate if you have had facial trauma or orofacial surgery within the past six months, you are pregnant or nursing or are planning to become pregnant in the next 6 months, or if you are currently in orthodontic treatment.

You should not participate if you have any of the following conditions: diabetes, drug or alcohol abuse, heart trouble or disease, hypertension (high blood pressure) that is not well controlled with medication, hyperthyroidism, major psychiatric disorder requiring hospitalization within the last 6 months, chronic respiratory disease not controlled with medication, renal failure or dialysis, seizures, or if you are currently receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

$90 compensation will be provided for participating in a one visit screening session lasting approximately 3 hours.

For more information please call the study coordinator, Sarah Day, at 843-3964.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 14, 2011 8:22 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of smamo@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, July 14, 2011 8:52 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 65-85 Year Olds Needed for Hearing Study

---

HEARING RESEARCH STUDY

We are currently recruiting 65-85 year olds with normal hearing, and no history of ear problems. The research study will consist of two or three visits of one hour each. There may also be other long-term studies that you qualify for. Participants will sit in a soundproof room and listen to sounds presented over headphones. Participants will be compensated for their time at a rate of $10 per hour.

The purpose of this research study is to obtain a better understanding of hearing. The research study takes place in MacNider Hall (next to the Health Sciences Library).

If you are interested in participating in the research study please contact Sara Mamo at smamo@med.unc.edu.

IRB Approval Date: 11/12/2010
Study #: 92-0632

This email is sponsored by: Otolaryngology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of asthmastudies@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 15, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have asthma?

The purpose of this research study is to learn about biomarkers in your blood, mucus (also called sputum), and urine and compare them in order to better understand different types of asthma.

Subjects must be otherwise healthy between 18 and 75 years old with moderate or severe asthma. You must currently be taking a medium or high dose of inhaled corticosteroids (medicines like Advair, Symbicort, Flovent, Pulmicort as well as others) 2 times a day to control your asthma.

Interested individuals may call 919-966-5638 or email asthmastudies@med.unc.edu for additional information.

Approved (January 20 2011) by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 10-0038

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology and is funded by the National Institutes of Health

This email is sponsored by: CEMALB

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 15, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Director, Center for Faculty Excellence

---

Director, Center for Faculty Excellence

The Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost seeks a tenured faculty member for the half-time position of Director of the Center for Faculty Excellence. The Center (cfe.unc.edu) supports programs that advance faculty through the various stages of their careers in their roles as teachers, researchers, and leaders and connects faculty to resources across the university. The Center also supports graduate student instructors and promotes university-wide discussions of challenging educational issues.

The Director provides leadership in planning, assessing, and developing the Center's programs in response to University and faculty needs, and in promoting collaboration across units and disciplines, resulting in effective, efficient use of University programs and resources. The Director works in partnership with a full-time Executive Director. The Executive Director provides programmatic and administrative oversight in developing, implementing, and evaluating initiatives of the Center and in recruiting, organizing, and deploying human and financial resources for fulfilling the Center's mission.

The position of Director requires significant experience and achievement in higher education, including administrative experience. The Director must be a tenured faculty member and must possess the following attributes: a profound understanding of the roles and responsibilities of faculty members; strong leadership capabilities; excellent communication and relationship-building skills; and strong managerial, fiscal, and administrative abilities. The Director of the Center for Faculty Excellence will report to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost through the Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives and will be supported by an advisory committee. Appointment to this half-time administrative leadership position is at-will, with formal review every five years and initial review at three years.

To apply, go to http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html and submit a CV and a cover letter describing your interest in the position and your vision for furthering the work of the Center. Review of applications will begin September 1,2011. Anticipated starting date is January 1,2012.

Inquiries may be addressed to the Chair of the Search Committee, Dr.Steve Matson, @ smatson@bio.unc.edu or by calling 919- 962-6311.

Nominations may be sent to Dr. Steve Matson c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB#3000, or by e-mail to: debbie_stevenson@unc.edu.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is actively committed to diversity. We strongly encourage applications from women, minorities and individuals with disabilities. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of childhear@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 15, 2011 9:44 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Child Participants Needed for Hearing Study

---

The Human Auditory Development Laboratory is currently recruiting children between 5-10 years old to help us learn more about how children hear in noisy environments.

During the testing, your child will sit in a sound-treated room and will listen to sounds presented over earphones. Your child will be asked to indicate when they hear sounds by touching a picture on a touch-screen monitor or by repeating back words. The sounds we use are not loud.

One visit to the laboratory is required. The visit lasts about one hour. You will receive $15 and we will give you parking passes if you drive to the lab.

If you are interested please email childhear@med.unc.edu.

The principal investigator for this study is Lori Leibold, PhD, Department of Allied Health Sciences.

This study has been approved by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Institutional Review Board: Study# 06-0840. The title for this IRB study is "Listening in Noise for Children and Adults". The most recent approved IRB modification date is 10/06/2010.

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of oxytocinstudy@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 18, 2011 8:17 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed for Schizophrenia Study

---

Research subjects needed to study the effects of treatment with the natural hormone oxytocin on symptoms of schizophrenia, especially difficulties in social relationships and social functioning as well as psychotic symptoms.

You may be eligible if you are diagnosed with schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder (depressed type) and are between the ages of 18-65.

Subjects continue on their usual medication and are given either oxytocin or placebo nasal spray to take for 12 weeks. The study involves 6 outpatient visits to either UNC or the North Carolina Psychiatric Research Center in Raleigh.

Compensation, parking, and mileage reimbursement are provided.

For more information and to see if you are eligible for this study, please call: 919-966-3915.

Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB
Study #11-0259
Approval Date: 7/13/11

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gpfuller@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 18, 2011 8:29 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: TYPE 1 DIABETES

Have you or someone you know recently been diagnosed with Type 1 Diabetes?
If so, you may qualify to participate in a clinical research study for Early- or New-Onset Type 1 Diabetes.
The T1DAL STUDY.

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study to test whether an investigational product reduces beta cell destruction in people with Type 1 Diabetes. The length of the study is approximately 2 years and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
As a study participant you will receive study related visits, study medication, diabetes supplies and compensation for your time and travel.

You may be eligible to participate if you:
* are between the ages of 16-35
* have been diagnosed with type 1 diabetes mellitus within the last 3 months
* show positive results for at least one diabetes-related autoantibody (a blood test is done to determine this)
* are still making a minimum amount of insulin in your pancreas (a meal test is done to determine this)
* are in good general health

Voluntary participation involves:
* Visits to a UNC Diabetes Care Center to receive study related examinations and health assessments over a period of 24 months.
* A total of 24 weekly intramuscular drug injection/shots (either study drug or placebo).
* Self-monitoring and recording blood glucose levels, home insulin use, and signs and symptoms of hypoglycemic episodes for the planned duration of study participation.
* Receiving compensation for time and travel.

If you are interested in this clinical trial and believe you (or your child) may be eligible, or for more information please contact:

Gail Fuller. CCRC.
Clinical Research Coordinator
UNC Diabetes Care Center: 919 484 0931 ext 272 / gpfuller@med.unc.edu

IRB Study # 11-0743 Approved by the Full Board UNC Office of Human Research Ethics on 24th May 2011.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, July 19, 2011 3:03 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Coming Soon to the Ackland!

DE-NATURED Closes this Sunday, July 24th!

Many of the contemporary German artists whose works are included in DE-NATURED are rarely seen in North Carolina. Don't let the last week this exhibition slip away without seeing it!

Learn more:

DE-NATURED: German Art from Joseph Beuys to Martin Kippenberger

---

Now Open!

The Western Tradition: Selections from the Permanent Collection

Newly installed, "The Western Tradition" presents art from the Ackland's permanent collections covering 5,000 years of western culture — from ancient Mesopotamian and Mediterranean art to European and American art of the 1950s.

Family Day: Encountering Ancient Art

Sunday, 24 July, 1:00 - 4:00 PM

Come take part in the first of a series of monthly, themed Family Days at the Ackland Art Museum, with art-related activities including scavenger hunts, an art-making station, story time, and a family tour.

This month, families will be inspired by ancient art from the Ackland's permanent collection. At the Creation Station, choose an outline of a Greek vase and decorate it with ancient patterns. Listen to some of Aesop's fables at Story Time, and go on a scavenger hunt for gods, goddesses, and other ancient wonders!

- 1:00 - 4:00 PM - Family Scavenger Hunt - Available at the Information Desk in the Lobby. Recommended for children ages 4 and above.
- 1:00 - 4:00 PM - Creation Station - Decorate your own traditional Greek vase using the materials provided. For kids of all ages!
- 2:00 - 2:30 PM - Story Time - Enjoy a variety of Aesop's fables. Recommended for children ages 4-10.
- 3:00 - 3:45 PM - Family Tour - Explore ancient pottery and sculpture in the Ackland Art Museum's collection. Recommended for families with children ages 4-12.

Come for a little while or stay for the whole afternoon -- it's all FREE!

Visit the Ackland Museum Store at the Corner of Franklin and Columbia Streets in downtown Chapel Hill!

All proceeds from the Store support the Ackland Art Museum's exhibition and education programs.

Store Hours: Mon - Sat 10:00 AM - 5:30 PM, Thu 10:00 AM - 8:30 PM, Sun 12:00 - 5:00 PM
Telephone: 919.962.0216
Ackland Art Museum members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases. In addition, members enjoy special discounts during several designated Member Shopping Days throughout the year. Become a member today!

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Martin Kippenberger, German, 1953-1997. Untitled (The Mark), 1990, graphite and Letraset on hotel stationery, mounted on poster. James Keith Brown and Eric Diefenbach Collection. © Estate Martin Kippenberger, Galerie Gisela Capitain, Cologne.
Emanuel de Witte, Dutch, 1615/17-1691/92: The Interior of the Oude Kerk, Amsterdam, c. 1660; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.
Unknown artist, Greek: Head of A Woman, 3rd to 2nd century B.C.; bronze. Ackland Fund.
Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acerip-emt@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, July 19, 2011 8:31 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Fall 2011 EMT Class

ACERIP, the Association for Carolina Emergency Response and Injury Prevention, is a student group on campus that works to provide volunteer opportunities and classes for students/faculty/staff interested in emergency services.

In the past the group has provided volunteer opportunities with the UNC Hospitals Trauma Program, internship opportunities with Orange County Emergency Services and has sponsored Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) classes on campus for interested students.

Next semester the group plans to offer one EMT class on campus. The EMT-B certification class will begin during the first week of UNC classes in August. The class will be a Monday/Wednesday class, which will start at 6pm and go until 10pm. To apply for/get more information about the Fall 2010 class, please go to http://studentorgs.unc.edu/acerip/. This class is open to all UNC Students/Faculty/Staff/Community Members.

If you have any questions or concerns about the course outside of what is on the website please email acerip-emt@unc.edu.

ACERIP is always looking for new people interested in taking leadersbip roles. If you are interested in heading up a project, please send an email expressing your interest. Thanks for your time.

This email is sponsored by: ACERIP

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jrojas@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 20, 2011 8:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for Subjects to Participate in Paid Proprieception Study

---

The UNC-CH Neuromuscular Research Laboratory and the Department of Orthopaedics are conducting a research study to determine the reliability of a new device for the assessment of knee proprioception. Proprioception is the conscious and unconscious awareness of body limb position and movement in space. We are recruiting volunteer subjects for participation in this study. Subjects will receive $15 for participation which will involve two ninety minute testing sessions separated by one week. During the testing sessions tests will include 1) Knee Flexion Reproduction, 2) Vibratory Perception Threshold, 3) Target matching board. There are some risks associated with participating in this research study, but they are not greater than those associated with normal physical activity.

If you choose to participate, you will be asked to reproduce different angles of knee flexion. In addition, a device that provides vibration that gradually changes will be placed against the side of your limb and you will be asked to say when you start feeling the vibration and when you can no longer feel it. Finally, you will be asked to press buttons on a target matching board with your feet while looking at a computer screen.

To he eligible to participate in this research study, you must meet the following criteria:
1. Age 18 - 65
2. No history of lower extremity surgery
3. No history of ACL injury
4. No history of neurological disorder
5. No history of injury to either leg within 6 months prior to data collection

If you have any questions regarding this research study, or if you meet the aforementioned inclusion criteria and are interested in participating please contact us:
Juan Rojas (904) 304-0462 or email jrojas@email.unc.edu

IRB study# 11-1246
Approved 7/8/11 by the Office of Human Research Ethics

This email is sponsored by: Neuromuscular Research Laboratory and Department of Orthopaedics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 21, 2011 11:53 AM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Officials Resolve Gas Leak on Campus

SAFETY NOTICE:

UNC Public Safety, alongside UNC Environment Health (EHS) and Safety, the Chapel Hill Fire Department, and Public Service of North Carolina (PSNC) responded to the report of a gas leak on campus at 10:17 a.m. today at the eastern end of Kenan Stadium. Kenan Stadium was evacuated, as were portions of the Rams Head Deck at that time. Ridge Road was temporarily closed from Manning Drive to Stadium Drive.

Officials worked quickly to seal off the gas leak, to reopen area facilities resume normal traffic patterns. PSNC will remain on scene to monitor the affected area for safety considerations.

Campus students and employees should monitor the Alert Carolina website(alertcarolina.unc.edu) for the latest information during campus emergencies.

UNC Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fitnet@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 21, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in an exercise program?

Are you a young adult cancer survivor interested in getting more physically active? Do you have an active Facebook account?

Researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are studying ways to promote physical activity among young adult cancer survivors using Facebook. We are seeking volunteers to enroll in a research study that tests an exercise program designed specifically for young adult cancer survivors. Your participation will be some of the first data collected about an exercise program delivered through Facebook.

If you participate, you will receive exercise information via Facebook and a pedometer. You will be asked to complete two online questionnaires and may receive access to weekly group discussions and an exercise website. The entire 12-week study can be completed online.

You may be eligible if you:
-- are 21 to 39 years old
-- were diagnosed with cancer (excluding non-melanoma skin cancer) at age 18 or older
-- bave completed cancer treatment
-- have an active Facebook account

Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Participants will receive a $30 gift card after the 12-week assessment.

For more information and to see if you qualify, please go to:
www.fitnet-unc.org

The study was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Institutional Review Board on 12/16/10 (Study # 10-2150).

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 21, 2011 8:39 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study at UNC

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is now enrolling adult volunteers into the LEADER research study.

LEADER^{TM} (Liraglutide Effect and Action in Diabetes: Evaluation of Cardiovascular Outcome Results) aims to assess and confirm the cardiovascular safety of Liraglutide (Victoza.)) and potentially show
the ability of Liraglutide to improve cardiovascular outcomes.

This is a long term cardiovascular research study of Liraglutide, you may either receive the study drug or a placebo (that looks like the study drug but is not active drug.) Your participation will last until 2016 and consist of approximately 2-7 visits to the research site each year.

You may be eligible for the research study if you are age 50 years or older, have type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease and are not currently taking the diabetes drugs Victoza or Byetta.

If you are eligible you will receive diabetes care through the research study doctor, diabetes testing supplies, and study medication at no cost to you.

For more information about this trial please contact:
Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This study received IRB approval from the UNC office of Human Research Ethics, IRB Full board on 12/03/2010
IRB study # 10-1701

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mdev@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 22, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 5-6 years old children needed for a hearing Study

---

HEARING
RESEARCH STUDY

Need 5 - 6 year-old children with normal hearing, and no history of middle ear infections. The research study will consist of two to three visits of one hour each. The participants will sit in a sound-proof room and listen to beeps in noise. Participants will be compensated for their time at a rate of $15 per visit.

The purpose of this research study is to obtain a better understanding of hearing. The research study takes place in MacNider Hall

FOR MORE INFORMATION EMAIL
HearingLab@med.unc.edu

This research study has been reviewed and approved by the
Biomedical Institutional Review Board
Principal Investigator Joseph W. Hall, PhD 966-8926

IRB Approval Date: 10/04/10
Study#: 86-SURG-99

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Otolaryngology

This email is sponsored by: OHNS

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: African Languages Teachers Association <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Monday, July 25, 2011 5:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: JALTA - Call For Papers and Book Reviews

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

You're receiving this email because of your relationship with African Language Teachers Association (ALTA). Please confirm your continued interest in receiving email from us.
You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN LANGUAGE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION (JALTA) CALL FOR PAPERS AND BOOK REVIEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS/BOOK REVIEWS

The Journal of the African Language Teachers Association (JALTA), is soliciting articles and/or book reviews for publication.
JALTA is the official journal of the African Language Teachers Association (ALTA), and it serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of African Languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year.

Focus

Our general editorial focus is on policy, education, programs, advocacy, and research in the field of African languages. The envisaged coverage of the Journal is as follows:

a. Methodology and Technology,
b. Academia,
c. Beyond Academia,
d. Social Embeddedness

The first section shall include papers or book reviews focusing on broader theoretical and technological issues in all fields of African languages. The second section will encompass reports about research and teaching in academia, at both K-12 and collegiate levels. The third section shall comprise papers addressing research and teaching in government and industry. Finally, the fourth section will address the issues of a broader social environment, ranging from heritage communities to advancing LCTLs in federal initiatives and legislation in the USA.

Submitted Manuscripts

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), see http://www.apastyle.org/man

Manuscripts should be:

- A maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and submitted electronically

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

ALTA Sponsor

Visit Our Sponsor

Quick Links

Our Website

About Us

We aim to develop a field of African Language Teaching where members can share common interests and concerns having to do with the study of African Languages.

We aim to identify each African Language, with priority given to those most commonly studied sets of learning materials for beginning, intermediate and advanced study.

We aim to link efforts of teachers and researchers in Africa with those outside of Africa.

via word (1997-2003)-document e-mail attachment.

- Double-line spaced throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point Times New Roman font with a 1.5 inch left margin. (Please ensure that this specified formatting is followed).
- Accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. (Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the cover sheet only, and not appear in the manuscript).

All Manuscripts should be electronically submitted to The Editor at: daduaman@indiana.edu and copied to the Secretariat at: alta@mailplus.wisc.edu.

Deadline for submission of manuscripts is

September 30, 2011.

ALTA
455 N Park St
4231 Humanities Building
Madison, WI 53706
Tel:608-265-7905
Fax:608-265-7904

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by alta@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

African Language Teachers Association | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of patrick_vernon@kenan-flagler.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 25, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Launching the Venture accepting applications through 8/1

Thinking about launching a startup?

UNC faculty, staff and graduate students are invited to learn from the entrepreneurship experts at UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School in the renowned "Launching the Venture" series of courses ("LAUNCH").

The first phase of the class, "Launch Feasibility," comprises seven Monday evening sessions beginning August 22 at 5pm. Due to limited space, interested parties should apply online by August 1.
----------> www.launch.unc.edu/APPLY <----------

We are offering several "Countdown to Launch" sessions in August to help you decide if Launch is a good fit for you. Find out more at:
----------> www.launch.unc.edu/INFO <----------

If you have any questions about LAUNCH -- the classes, the application or the workshops -- attend an info session or contact Patrick Vernon in the Center for Entrepreneurial Studies at launch@unc.edu. Follow LAUNCH on Twitter @unclaunch.

ABOUT LAUNCH --->
Launching the Venture (Launch) is a series of courses designed to teach, empower and inspire entrepreneurial teams at UNC to LAUNCH commercial businesses and social ventures. Teams may comprise any mix of students, faculty and staff at UNC. Courses combine lectures, workshops, guest speakers and hands-on expert coaching and mentoring.

LAUNCH offers three half-semester classes that begin in the fall and run through the academic year. Each course may be taken for 1.5 credit hours (regular tuition applies) or as a non-credit seminar series (no tuition). Enrollment is by permission of the instructor or by application.

Classes are held Monday evenings 5-8pm in the McColl building of the business school with free parking in the business deck.

More at www.launch.unc.edu

_____
Patrick Vernon
Interim Executive Director and Clinical Assistant Professor
Center for Entrepreneurial Studies
UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School
Campus Box 3440
pvernon@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Kenan-Flagler Center for Entrepreneurial Studies

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 25, 2011 9:00 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Reminder: State Health Plan Follow-Up Enrollment Period

---

FROM: Ashley Nicklis, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

Enrollment continues through July 29
Effective Dates: Sept. 1, 2011-June 30, 2012

This is just a friendly reminder that we're currently in the last week of the State Health Plan's follow-up enrollment.

During this period, members have the opportunity to change their plan elections and add eligible dependents. For a comparison of the changes in copays and deductibles, see http://shpnc.org/pdf/follow-up-enrollment/plan-comparison.pdf.

Employees must enroll online. Paper enrollment forms will not be accepted. The link to enroll online is https://unc.hrintouch.com. Log in using your Onyen and password.

Along with the changes noted above, the Comprehensive Wellness Initiative (CWI) has been eliminated. Therefore, effective Sept. 1, the tobacco cessation and weight management components will no longer determine the plan in which members may enroll. If members previously elected to enroll in the 70/30 Basic plan due to CWI, they can now enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan.

Members who wish to remain in the plan that they enrolled in during the enrollment period that ended June 8 will not need to do anything during this follow-up enrollment period.

For the first time, employees who wish to enroll in the 80/20 Standard plan will be required to pay a premium for employee-only coverage. However, the 70/30 Basic plan still requires no premiums for employee-only coverage. In addition, dependent premiums will increase 5.3 percent for the 2011/12 benefit plan year, which begins Sept. 1. The rates can be found at http://shpnc.org/pdf/follow-up-enrollment/active-retiree-rates.pdf. Health insurance premiums are paid one month in advance, so you can expect to see any applicable rate changes in your August paycheck(s).

Members will receive new identification cards by Sept. 1 reflecting any changes made during the follow-up enrollment.

If you have questions, contact Benefits Services in the Office of Human Resources at 962-3071.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	bounce-29547424-41250067@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent:	Tuesday, July 26, 2011 10:14 AM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc:	Thurman, Stephanie J <sthurman@email.unc.edu>; Hewitt, Joshua Thomas <jhewitt@email.unc.edu>; Smith, Jane C. <jane_smith@unc.edu>; Administrative Managers <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] FW: INVITATION FROM THE PROVOST: New Student Convocation
Attach:	New Student Convocation 2011 CAS Faculty.pdf

The attached message from the Provost is being sent to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences with an information copy to administrative managers.

- -- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to

african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, July 26, 2011 2:41 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] This Week at the Ackland

Opening Friday, July 29, at the Ackland Museum Store

20 Years in Print: The Art of Ron Liberti

20 Years in Print: The Art of Ron Liberti features 100 original silkscreened posters, large mono prints, a limited edition portfolio of photocopied posters in black and white, hand silkscreened textiles, CDs/LPs, and silkscreened T-shirts, many of which are one of a kind. The show is a celebration of the work of local artist and musician Ron Liberti and his twenty years in Chapel Hill and environs. The influence, inspiration, and subject matter of most of the work on view springs from Liberti's music as well as that of many other Chapel Hill musicians. Opening Friday, July 29, 20 Years in Print: The Art of Ron Liberti will run through September 30, 2011.

Opening reception (by RSVP only, as space is limited): July 29, 7:00-9:00 PM. Please call 919.962.0216 for reservations.

Featuring music by local musician Billy Sugarfix.

Thursday, 4 August, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

REGISTRATION IS FULL

With the Ackland's reinstallation of ancient art, a re-reading of Aesop's Fables will invite participants to examine ancient Greek pottery and sculpture with fresh eyes, and to learn new lessons from the looking. Gibbs' edition includes some fables never before translated into English.

Leslie Balkany will facilitate this discussion with Emily Baragwanath, Assistant Professor of Classics.

Music in the Galleries

Sunday, 7 August, 2:00 - 3:00 PM

This Sunday enjoy "An Afternoon of Art Song" at the Ackland. The program will include "Songs of Travel" by Ralph Vaughan Williams (performed by Seamus Kenney, tenor, and Forrest Covington, piano) and songs from the Ukraine (performed by Irina Anopa Bunnage, soprano, and Forrest Covington, piano).

Now Open!

The Western Tradition: Selections from the Permanent Collection

Newly installed, "The Western Tradition" presents art from the Ackland's permanent collections covering 5,000 years of western culture — from ancient Mesopotamian and Mediterranean art to European and American art of the 1950s.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Emanuel de Witte, Dutch, 1615/17-1691/92: The Interior of the Oude Kerk, Amsterdam, c. 1660; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibdtrials@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 27, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you or someone you know have IBD

Do you or someone you know have IBD, also known as Crohn's Disease or Ulcerative Colitis?

The Multi-Center African American IBD Study is researching the reasons AFRICAN AMERICANS are getting IBD.
Genes have been found in Whites, but they have not been studied in Blacks.
To Participate, you must be an African American with a doctor-diagnosed IBD.
To Join, you will need to:

1. Give a blood sample, about 3 tablespoons (1 time only)
2. Answer questions about your health and background

Please contact the Study Coordinator at 919-843-8105 OR email us at ibdtrials@med.unc.edu for more information.

This study, "Multi-Center African American IBD Study"[MAAIS]) has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 2/21/2011, Study # 04-1107
This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 27, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Recruiting Subjects for New Psoriasis Research Study

---

Do you have moderate to severe chronic plaque psoriasis?
Recruiting subjects for new research study

Participants must:

-Be at least 18 years old
-Have been diagnosed with moderate to severe chronic plaque psoriasis
-Not be pregnant, trying to get pregnant, or nursing
-Not have ever been treated with the medication Efalizumab (Raptiva)

The study will last one year and require at least 12 study visits.

Qualified Participants will receive:
-Study Medication
-Study-related exams and labs test
-Compensation for time and travel

For more information about this research study please contact:
UNC Department of Dermatology
Contact: Erika Hanami
Email: Erika_hanami@med.unc.edu
Phone: (919) 843-5126

This study has been approved by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board at UNC-CH on 3-29-2011. IRB#:11-0238

This email is sponsored by: The UNC-Department of Dermatology

This email is sponsored by: Dermatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibdtrials@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 27, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you or someone you know have Crohn's disease?

CCFA IBD Families Fecal Microbiome Demonstration Study is researching potential interactions of genetic factors and intestinal bacteria, which might influence the risk for the development of Crohn's disease.

To Participate, you must:
* Be diagnosed with Crohn's disease and be in remission
* Have both parents and a sibling willing to participate

To Join, you will need to:
* Collect small amounts of stool
* Collect blood sample (one time)
* Answer questions about your health and diet

You will be paid for participation in this study.

Please contact the Study Coordinator at 919-843-8105 OR email us at ibdtrials@med.unc.edu for more information.

This study, "CCFA IBD Families Fecal Microbiome Demonstration Study" has received approval from the Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 4/14/2011, Study # 11-0729
This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 28, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Words, Numbers and Trivia

---

Words, Numbers and Trivia: The purpose of this research study is to learn about individuals' personality and problem-solving ability.

This study will consist of two lab sessions in the Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab. The first day you will be asked to answer a series of questionnaires online, this will take approximately 30-40 minutes. You will then schedule a follow-up session in the lab for a few days later where you will complete a series of word and trivia tasks, this will take approximately 20 - 30 minutes.

Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: Approximately 60 minutes
Pay: $5 - $25
IRB # 11-1219

To sign up for this study go to: www.c4dr.unc.edu

For notifications of new studies follow our new facebook site at:
http://www.facebook.com/pages/UNC-Center-for-Decision-Research/217384711637327

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on July 19,2011

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acalingo@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 28, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Time-to-Pregnancy Research Study

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time to Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill that hopes to find a way to accurately measure a woman's fertility. Women between 30 and 44 years of age who are trying to become pregnant or about to start trying are eligible to participate in the study. Women are not eligible to participate if they or their partner have a history of infertility or fertility treatment.

Research study participants only need to attend ONE brief, on-site study visit in Chapel Hill or Raleigh. All other study activities are completed online.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Free online fertility tracker
- Monetary compensation for study activities

There are no medicines or pills to take and no changes to one's daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

If you or someone you know might be interested in learning more about this study, you can visit our website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive, call us at (919) 843-8246, or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: OB/GYN

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 1, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Cathy Innes, Office of Technology Development

---

In accordance with University policy, a committee has been appointed to conduct a regular administrative review of Cathy Innes, Director of the Office of Technology Development. With this notice, the members of the committee are inviting your comments about Ms. Innes' leadership and about the unit itself.

You may communicate with the committee in the following ways:

1. You may write or email any member(s) of the committee. Please note that any written communication, including email, becomes a part of the permanent record and can be accessed by Ms. Innes if she so chooses. University guidelines prevent us from accepting unsigned or anonymous letters.

2. You may contact any committee member(s) by phone. Any notes members take during phone contacts are not part of the permanent record and cannot be seen by the subject of the review.

3. You may meet with the committee in person on August 9, 2011 between 11am-1pm, in rm. 2100 Carrington Hall (School of Nursing, new addition). If you wish to meet with the committee at this time, please contact Dhiren Thakker, committee chair, by August 7 to indicate your interest (contact info below). As with phone contacts, oral comments are not part of the permanent record. Persons may declare at the beginning of their appearance their wish to remain anonymous, insofar as attribution in the committee minutes of specific comments. However, a list of all persons who provided oral comments to the committee will become part of the official record.

You may also relay this invitation to anyone you think has an interest in the Office of Technology Development. The deadline for receiving comments is August 23, 2011.

The committee members are:

Dhiren Thakker (CHAIR)
Professor and Associate Dean for Economic Development and International Partnerships
Eshelman School of Pharmacy
100L Beard Hall
Campus Box 7355
(919) 962-0092
Email: dhiren_thakker@unc.edu

Judith Cone
Special Assistant to the Chancellor for Innovation & Entrepreneurship
09M South Building
Campus Box 9100
(919) 962-3743
Email: judith.cone@unc.edu

Fletcher Fairey
Associate University Counsel, Office of University Counsel
110 Bynum Hall

Campus Box 9105
(919) 843-1637
Email: Fletcher_Fairey@unc.edu

David Gerber
Professor and Chief, Division of Transplantation, Department of Surgery
4025 Burnett-Womack Building
Campus Box 7211
(919) 966-8008
Email: david_gerber@med.unc.edu

Robert Johnston
Director, Carolina Vaccine Institute
Professor, Microbiology and Immunology
9023 Burnett-Womack
Campus Box 7292
(919) 966-3507
Email: robert_johnston@med.unc.edu

Jackie Quay
Assistant Director, Office of Technology Development
308 Bynum Hall
Campus Box 4105
(919) 966-3929
Email: jlquay@unc.edu

Timothy L. Quigg
Associate Chair for Administration and Finance, Computer Science Department 104 Sitterson Hall
Campus Box 3175
Phone: (919) 962-1777
E-mail: quigg@cs.unc.edu

Bill Wofford
Hutchison Law Group
919-829-4292 (direct)
bwofford@hutchlaw.com

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of etritter@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 1, 2011 8:33 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Employees: Register now for fall classes

---

Please don't wait until the start of classes on August 23. Get started now!

*Taking classes on campus: Unless you are already enrolled in a degree program or are already taking classes through Part-time Classroom Studies, you will need to apply for admission so that you can register for classes offered on campus. Check with the Friday Center for Continuing Education if you have questions, 2-1134.

*Taking an online course: To take a course this fall through Carolina Courses Online, you do not need to apply for admission, but you do need to register now through the Friday Center's Web site - http://fridaycenter.unc.edu/cp/cco.

*Remember: In order to take advantage of the employee tuition waiver program, you will need to file the Tuition Waiver application by Aug. 30. The form is available from the Human Resources Web site - http://hr.unc.edu/form-finder/work-life-wellness-forms/index.htm

This email is sponsored by: Friday Center for Continuing Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 1, 2011 8:48 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Understanding Information Security at Carolina

---

M E M O R A N D U M

TO: All Computer Users
FROM: Larry Conrad, Vice Chancellor for Information Technology and CIO
DATE: August 1, 2011
SUBJECT: Understanding Information Security at Carolina

There are more than 30,000 attempted hacks each day on the University's computer network. Laptop computers, smart phones, and other mobile devices are occasionally lost or stolen. Information Technology Services devotes significant resources to network security efforts, but each person who accesses the University network is also responsible for taking appropriate steps to safeguard the network and University sensitive information maintained on the network.

Recently, Information Technology Services enacted policies designed to inform the campus community about its responsibilities for protecting the University's computer networks and sensitive information. Beginning September 15, 2011, all computer users are required to certify annually that they have read the Information Security Policies Summary (http://help.unc.edu/CCM3_020433) and that they understand and agree to abide by the information security policies that are applicable to them.

In addition, all users with access to the University's Protected Health Information or Personally Identifiable Information (e.g., Social Security numbers, credit/debit card information) are required to affirm that they will not store this information on mobile devices without both (i) obtaining prior authorization from their dean or the head of their business unit, and (ii) encrypting the data. This affirmation will occur as part of the Onyen password reset process.

Please take time before September 15 to read the Information Security Policies Summary and make sure you understand your role in keeping the University's computer resources and sensitive information secure.

The Information Security Policies are located at: http://its.unc.edu/ITS/about_its/its_policies/index.htm. Additionally, an Information Security Training and Awareness module is available at https://itsapps.unc.edu/ITSSelfStudy/. Information regarding mobile device encryption is available at http://help.unc.edu/CCM3_021069.

I understand this is an additional commitment for your already-busy schedule, but it is imperative that everyone takes the time to review, understand, and comply with the policies. Information security is a shared responsibility for the entire campus community. With your help, we can better protect the University's computer network and sensitive information from potential compromise.

Please contact Stan Waddell (stan_waddell@unc.edu), Information Security Officer, or me (larry_conrad@unc.edu) if you have any questions about these policies or the certification process. You can also reach us at 962-3444.

Thank you for your help in making the University's computer network more secure.

cc: Bruce Carney Holden Thorp Stan Waddell

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of katie_kelm@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 1, 2011 9:57 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Decision-making research study now recruiting participants.

We are conducting a study to examine the role of dopamine and serotonin in the decision-making process. Your participation would require you to come to the University of North Carolina campus for 3 sessions, which will last up to 7 hours per session. Each session will involve drinking an amino acid beverage, two finger pricks for blood samples, and completion of questionnaires and computerized tasks.

You are eligible if:
1. You are between the ages of 22-40 years old
2. You have no known psychiatric or neurological problems
3. You are NOT taking psychoactive medications
4. You are NOT taking illicit drugs
5. You are NOT pregnant or breastfeeding
6. You are a native English speaker
7. You bave graduated high scbool or earned a GED
8. You do NOT have phenylketonuria (PKU)

For your participation, you will be compensated with $10/hour plus a completion bonus for completing all sessions.

If interested, please contact us at 919-962-8340 (mention the subject line of the e-mail if you call) or e-mail katie_kelm@unc.edu with the following information:

Name
E-mail address
Phone number
Best time to be contacted

This study titled "Neuromodulation of Immediate Reward Bias" has been approved by the UNC Bebavioral Institutional Review Board (study #09-2266 approved 1/3/11).

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: National African Language Resource Center <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 2, 2011 7:50 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: 2012 Summner Institute Announcement

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

nalrc website banner

A Second Language Acquisition Certificate Program for African Language Instructors

As interest in African language learning and teaching increases, so does the need to prepare graduate students, teaching assistants who are planning to pursue African language teaching as a profession and faculty members in the field who need retooling. The 2012 Summer Institute has been designed to help meet this need. It will train fellows in a number of crucial areas central to the effective operation of an African Language Program

Program Description

The program consists of a two-week intensive introduction to

a) Teaching the skills of Speaking and Listening in the African Language Classroom;
b) Teaching the Skills of Writing and Reading in the African Language Classroom.
c) Testing and Assessing the Four Skills in the African Language Classroom.
d) Lesson Planning and Classroom Management.

Participants will move from a theoretical overview to hands- on practice in teaching the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing, and assessing them.

Fees and related costs

The NALRC will cover the program fees (such as registration fees, administration costs and instruction costs) for all selected applicants. Other expenses, such as transportation, food, lodging, and books will be the responsibility of each participant's African Studies Program. Participants are encouraged to ask for support from their respective African Language or African Studies programs to cover expenses that the NALRC will not cover.

Eligibility

Graduate students in good standing in any African language, linguistics, cultural studies, literature, second language acquisition, or any related field at an accredited institution of higher education are eligible. African language instructors and scholars may also apply. Preference will be given to those who have not attended the Institute before. In addition, all applicants must demonstrate serious interest in African language learning and teaching.

Application Process

Applicants should submit a letter of application and supporting documents for the 2012 Summer Institute by September 30, 2011. Applicants will be notified of selection by October 31, 2011. Supporting documents include:

- a CV
- two letters of recommendation indicating the importance of the training for the applicant. One of the letters must be from the executive officer of the applicant's home department or African studies program, or Programs Language Coordinator.

You can submit your application and supporting documents through the electronic mail
nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu

If you have a foreign visa, please speak with Akinsola Ogundeji at 608-265-7901 or e-mail nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

National African Languages Resource Center | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of stephanie_szary@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 2, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: The MAP Brain Imaging Study [Multi-visit Advanced Pediatric Brain Imaging Study

---

Are you expecting or know someone who is? Do you have a newborn younger than one month old?

As part of the Early Brain Development Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Radiology, Psychiatry, and Psychology, we are recruiting newborns to participate in the The MAP* Brain Imaging Study [*The Multi-visit Advanced Pediatric Brain Imaging Study].

What is the purpose of this study?
The purpose of this research is to document the rapid and critical growth of normal brain development in the first three years of life. The information gathered is essential to shed light on our understanding of brain development. This information not only offers profound scientific implications regarding our understanding of how the brain functions but also provides great insights into developmental disorders.

What does this study involve?
Your child will have magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) of his/her brain eight times between the ages of 2 - 4 weeks and 3 years at the MRI research center located at 106 Mason Farm Road.

Scans will be performed while your child sleeps. No medicines or sedation will be used.

You will also be asked medical history questions by a study coordinator or nurse.

Will I be paid for participating?
You will receive $75 for each study MRI (for a potential total of $600). You will also be reimbursed for reasonable travel/gas and parking expenses as well.

Are there any risks?
MRI has no known risks and does not use radiation or x-ray.

Why participate in this study?
You and your child's participation in this study may benefit society by gaining new insights into our understanding of infant/early child brain development. It may also increase our knowledge into the possible causes of neurodevelopmental disorders.

Remember,
* This is a voluntary study
* You will be compensated
* No medicines or sedation are involved
* All information regarding you and your child's participation in this study will be kept strictly confidential.

How can I learn more about joining this study?
Please contact Stephanie Szary at stephanie_szary@med.unc.edu or call 919-843-9245 for more information.

Weili Lin, PhD
Principal Investigator
Telephone: (919) 843-8120

The MAP* Brain Imaging Study [*The Multi-visit Advanced Pediatric Brain Imaging Study] is being conducted by the Departments of Radiology, Psychiatry, and Psychology in the UNC-Chapel Hill School of Medicine.

Weili Lin, PhD
Principal Investigator

John Gilmore, MD
J. Keith Smith, MD
Guido Gerig, PhD
Hongyu An, PhD
Yasheng Chem, PhD
Robert Hamer, PhD
Research Team Members

IRB Approval #: 08-1885
Approval Body: Biomedical IRB
Date of Approval September 16, 2010

This email is sponsored by: UNC-Chapel Hill Department of Radiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select
"Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of brouwerk@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 2, 2011 8:33 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Clinical study on statin and warfarin interaction

---

A clinical research study in the Division of Pharmacotherapy and Experimental Therapeutics at UNC is recruiting nonsmoking individuals between the ages of 18 and 60 to learn about the effects of the cholesterol-lowering medication lovastatin on the anticoagulant or blood-thinning medication warfarin.

Participants will be asked to participate in a pre-screening telephone interview and a screening visit lasting about 1 hour. As a participant in the study, you will be asked to take part in 2 study phases over a course of 7 weeks involving taking a daily medication or placebo by mouth, maintaining a food diary, and blood sample collection.

The study has been approved by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects and the Institutional Review Board (IRB) at UNC.

If you want more information about this project or have any questions, please contact Dr. Mario Sampson by e-mail at uncstudycyp4f2@gmail.com (preferred) or phone at 919-962-0089.

Study title: Human Cytochrome P450 4F Enzymes and Drug Interactions

Approval #, Biomedical IRB, Study # 10-0576

Approved 5/12/2011

This email is sponsored by: UNC School Of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of elizabeth_mcneely@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 2, 2011 8:54 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed for Tolvaptan Drug Study

---

The UNC Eshelman School of Pharmacy is conducting a study in healthy volunteers. The purpose of this research study is to compare drug levels of tolvaptan 15 mg tablets given by mouth versus nasogastric tube in healthy adults.

This study involves two overnight stays on separate occasions in the Clinical Translational Research Center at UNC Hospital, nasogastric tube placement for 30 minutes, and blood samples to measure tolvaptan drug levels. All examinations and lab work are provided at no cost.

WE NEED:
1) Healthy male and female volunteers
2) Between the ages of 18 and 40
3) Must not be enrolled in or have participated in a research study within the past 30 days

This study provides compensation up to $1,000.

For more information please call Elizabeth McNeely, PharmD at (919) 843-8723 or email: Elizabeth_McNeely@unc.edu.

This research study entitled "Comparison of the Relative Oral Bioavailability of Tolvaptan Administered via Nasogastric Tube to Tolvaptan Tablets Swallowed Intact" is IRB# 10-1865 (approved on 11/22/10). This email was approved by the UNC-CH Biomedical IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Eshelman School of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cushinga@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 2, 2011 9:14 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you, or do you know a man ages 38-47 & 58-67?

Are you or do you know a man that owns a personal computer/laptop? Are you or do you know a man who keep items on your computer such as digital photos, digital music, personal writing, personal files, etc.? Do you have social media accounts, such as Facebook, etc.?
For my dissertation, I am conducting a research study to learn how people relate to digital items on their computers or in their webspace, at different ages. I am looking for MEN in the following age ranges participate in a sorting exercise about digital items:

Age range 1: 18 years - 24 years*
Age range 2: 38 years -- 47 years*
Age range 3: 58 years - 67 years*

If you are interested in participating, please take the 5 minute pre-screen survey to determine if you qualify (link below).
https://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_1TH8XRfXw9BDoFe

Participants will each receive a $10 incentive.

The sorting exercise will take place at a public location (library, cafe, etc.) agreed upon by the subject and researcher. The sorting exercise will take about one hour.

Please forward this announcement to anyone you know who qualifies who would be interested in participating.

*Students, faculty and staff associated with the School of Information and Library Science are not eligible to participate in the study.

Thank you!

Amber L. Cushing
Doctoral Candidate
School of Information and Library Science UNC-Chapel Hill

IRB Study # 11-0759
approved by UNC Behavioral IRB on 4/26/2011

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29593121-41499124@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 2, 2011 11:03 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Aug 5 - RSVP Deadline for New Student Convocation Attendance

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: RSVP Deadline for New Student Convocation Attendance
Date: Friday, August 5, 2011
Time: Unspecified

Description: New Student Convocation is a formal welcome to the University, designed to engage students in the intellectual endeavors of our University and to introduce them to the proud traditions of Carolina. By attending this ceremony and representing your School and the work it does with undergraduates, you play a critical role in exposing new students to your field and the opportunities of the academic community from the very start.

Your participation enhances New Student Convocation and helps it to more closely mirror the formal graduation ceremony. Thus, I am writing to invite you to join the Chancellor, and others, in the formal processional of the New Student Convocation that will be held this year on Sunday, August 21, 2011, at 7:00 p.m. in the Carmichael Arena located on South Road. The work you do on behalf of new students is critical to their success at Carolina, so Chancellor Thorp will take a moment to recognize you and others during the ceremony.

We request that all members of the faculty wear academic regalia. The stage party will process at 7:15 p.m. but please plan to arrive by 6:45 p.m. and meet in the Media Room on the first floor, room 1515, for robing. Parking will be available in the Bell Tower Parking Lot. You will need to enter the area via the old drive next to the football center.

As seating will be reserved, please RSVP to Stephanie Thurman at 962-2198 (or email sthurman@email.unc.edu) by Friday, August 5th.

Please note that this year we have developed a special “pep rally” that will conclude New Student Convocation and kick-off Fallfest. The pep rally portion of the program will begin immediately after the academic recession. You are more than welcome to stay for this portion of the program.

It is my sincere hope that you will join us for this event. Thank you for your commitment to undergraduate education at Carolina.

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 3, 2011 3:47 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Beat the Heat at the Ackland! Art, Music, More!

Music in the Galleries: "An Afternoon of Art Song"

Sunday, 7 August, 2:00 - 3:00 PM

Cool off this Sunday at the Ackland with "An Afternoon of Art Song." The program will include "Songs of Travel" by Ralph Vaughan Williams (performed by Seamus Kenney, tenor, and Forrest Covington, piano) and songs from the Ukraine (performed by Irina Anopa Bunnage, soprano, and Forrest Covington, piano).

Reservations and tickets are NOT REQUIRED, but please arrive early to find a spot.

Free

Yoga in the Galleries

Tuesday, 9 August, 12:00 - 1:00 PM

Namasté! Take a break from your day and explore the world of yoga in the beautiful setting of the Ackland!

Sessions led by Joanne Marshall. Beginners are welcome.

Yoga mats and cushions are provided. Please wear comfortable clothing that will allow you to stretch. Since the galleries can be cool, long sleeves are recommended.

Free to members | $5 non-members. Space is limited. Register by email: acklandRSVP@unc.edu.

Eat, Drink, Dance, and Celebrate at the Ackland

on Saturday, 24 September 2011

8:00 PM to Midnight

The theme for this year's FUNdraiser for the Ackland Art Museum takes its cue from the who's-who black and white ball given by Truman Capote in 1966. With a guest list of 500, Capote brought together the famous and the infamous in publishing, film, and art, for a memorable evening designed to celebrate the creative impulse.

The Ackland Black and White Gala is certain to be an outstanding evening of excellent food, drink, music, poetry, and, of course, art.

All Gala proceeds support the Exhibition and Education Program at the Ackland.

Save the date. Join us as we celebrate. Support us as we bring art to and nurture ideas within the Carolina campus and community.

Ticket information forthcoming at ackland.org.

Now on View at the Ackland Museum Store:

"20 Years in Print: The Art of Ron Liberti"

A celebration of the work of local artist and musician Ron Liberti and his decades in Chapel Hill and environs, this show -- in the Museum Store's retail gallery space -- features 100 original silkscreened posters, large mono prints, a limited edition portfolio of photocopied posters in black and white, hand silkscreened textiles, CDs/LPs, and silkscreened t-shirts, many of which are one of a kind.

Read the Independent Weekly feature article here.

"20 Years in Print" runs through 30 September 2011.

All proceeds from the Ackland Museum Store benefit the Ackland Art Museum's education programs and exhibitions. Call 919.962.0216 for more information.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 3, 2011 8:16 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Nominations Open for HR Facilitator of the Year

---

FROM: Kathy Bryant, HR Communications & Talent Development
Office of Human Resources

Nominate your department's Human Resources Facilitator for the HR Facilitator of the Year award! The nomination form is available in Word format from http://hr.unc.edu/n/CCM3_031616.

HR Facilitators are employees in University workgroups including UBCs who process permanent, temporary and student employee personnel actions; handle leave or benefits matters for their department; serve as the primary liaison between the Office of Human Resources and employees; and/or supervise a work group that performs these functions. They are integral in ensuring that HR policies and procedures are followed in departments and that HR services are known and available to department employees.

The Office of Human Resources has established an award program to recognize their service. Please complete the nomination form (attached and linked below) and let us know specifically how your HR Facilitator helps you and your department. Multiple or group nominations for a Facilitator are welcome. All nominees, as well as the award recipient, will be honored at a reception this fall.

Please be as detailed as possible in your nomination. The more specific the information you share, the better we can assess each nominee's contribution.

The nomination deadline is Friday, Aug. 19. Some criteria to consider:
*Ambassadorship - diplomatic; positive attitude; excellent communication skills
*Customer Service - available; flexible; helpful; responsive to needs
*Knowledge - accurate, dependable responses; resourceful
*Teamwork - support within the department; dependable; honest; trustworthy

Return nominations to:
Christie Davis
CB# 1045
Fax: 962-8677
Email: Christie_davis@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2011 1:33 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Football Update

Dear Carolina Colleagues and Students:

My decision last week to ask head football coach Butch Davis to step down was difficult. I think it was the right decision, and I wanted to let you know why I made that call.

Throughout the NCAA investigation of our football program, I said that we would take all accusations seriously and that we would face issues head on. We apologized, and we pledged that the athletic department and the University would be stronger as a result of the investigation. We have cooperated fully with the NCAA and we have moved deliberately, resisting the urge and pressure to make snap judgments.

Early on, I thought that it was important to support Coach Davis and to allow time for improvements in the football program. But in the past few months, I became increasingly concerned about the damage being done to our University's integrity. When we received the NCAA letter of allegations a month ago, I began to think about the need to make a change. After 50 years without any major violations, we are now facing nine allegations. And there are persistent questions about our commitment to academic integrity. In the final analysis, there wasn't any one thing that tipped my decision. It was the cumulative effect of the football-related events of the past year on the University's reputation. The only way to move forward and put this behind us was to make a coaching change to restore confidence in the University as well as our football program.

The difficulty of my decision was compounded by cost (up to $2.7 million under the terms of Coach Davis' contract - all of which will come from the athletic department) and timing (just before the start of training camp for the team). But the reputation of this University and the integrity of our football program have a value beyond any dollar figure or any timeline disruption. I am committed to maintaining our standing as one of the top public universities in the nation - both in academics and in athletics.

Athletic Director Dick Baddour and I named Everett Withers, a member of the current staff, as the interim head football coach. His top priority is to help our student-athletes succeed on and off the field and in the classroom. Dick also announced his decision to step down as athletic director before his planned retirement later this year. He offered to leave his job sooner because he feels strongly that our ability to recruit a new head coach depends on having a new athletic director in place to make that hire. I agree with that and reluctantly accepted Dick's offer. He will serve out his contract through next June, but will step aside and assume other duties when a new athletic director arrives. Right now, we're putting together our response to the NCAA that's due on September 19. Then we'll go before the NCAA infractions committee on October 28. We need Dick Baddour with us when we go to Indianapolis to meet with the NCAA. There is no other person I would rather have by my side than Dick.

One additional issue requires attention this year. I've talked to several faculty members recently, including new Faculty Chair Jan Boxill, about the role of the Honor Court. Jan has agreed to pull together a group of respected faculty members who will help us consider changes or improvements to the honor system. We have a long tradition of a strong student-run Honor Court, and of course, we'll involve students and Student Government representatives in our analysis. Regardless of the situation with football, it just makes good sense to seek ways to improve our commitment to honor and integrity.

I hope you'll continue to support our student-athletes and the Tar Heel football team. They will play their hearts out, just like last year.

Thanks to those of you I've heard from on this issue since it began. I'll share more updates as developments warrant. In the meantime, best wishes for a great fall semester.

Sincerely,

Holden

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jevelo_evans@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 4, 2011 9:11 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Volunteers Needed

The Genomic Psychiatric Cohort Study is conducting a research study to better understand the genetic basis of Schizophrenia. We are currently looking for healthy individuals to participate in this research.

You may be eligible to participate in the study if:
* You are over the age of 18
* You are willing to complete a 10 minute screening questionnaire
* You are willing to participate in a blood draw
* There is No History of Psychosis or Mania in neither you or your Immediate Family

To add yourself to our list of healthy volunteers, visit our website:
http://www.med.unc.edu/psych/research/healthy-volunteers

UNC IRB # 08-1465
January 23, 2009
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects
The BioMedical IRB
University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cjgillen@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 8, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study on Alcohol Consumption and Addiction

---

IRB# 09-0939

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking volunteers for a research study using an FDA approved medication for the treatment of heavy alcohol drinking. The research study will involve a free evaluation interview and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. If you're between the ages of 18 and 65 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical research study.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Cody at 919-966-0011 or email at cjgillen@email.unc.edu

This study was approved on 07/24/09 by the Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB # 09-0939.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 9, 2011 1:27 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] Coming soon to the Ackland

Drawing in the Galleries

Saturday, August 13, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Every month, Amanda Hughes, director of external affairs at the Ackland, meets with friends of the Museum who have an interest in practicing and strengthening their drawing skills. Participants have the opportunity to uncover the challenges the original artists faced and experience the pleasure of sharing in the creative process. Each session incorporates a short discussion on a work of art.

Bring paper and dry media (crayon, pencils, etc.). All levels are welcome.

Free

Drawing for Kids

Saturday, August 13, 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM

This program invites 9- to 12-year-olds to look at artists' techniques and tricks in the Ackland's permanent collections and special exhibitions. Participants explore selected works in the Museum's collection and identify skills that the artist used to make them. Skilled gallery teachers demonstrate and teach students those skills, which they can apply in their own art. A mix of drawing from works on display and creating one's own original works is offered in each session. Materials provided.

Free to members | $5 non-members.

Registration required and limited. To register, call 919.962.0479.

Thursday, August 18, 1:00 - 4:00 PM

Every other month, the Ackland invites members of the public to bring in a work of art for consideration by an Ackland expert. Curators may offer insight into the significance of the piece and its subject matter, as well as the techniques used by the artist and the work's condition. Please note: the Ackland staff is unable to authenticate or financially appraise works of art.

Limit one work of art per person. Registration required: please call 919.843.3677 to make an appointment.

Free to Ackland members, $10 non-members.

Going on a Lion Hunt: An Ackland-Kidzu Workshop

Thursday, August 18, 4:00 - 5:30 PM

Spend an afternoon exploring the ancient western world, looking at people, places and LIONS! We will be going on a docent-led hunt through the museum to find lions both tame and fierce. Once we finish in the galleries we will head to the studio to create our own lion out of a wide variety of textiles. What does your inner lion look like?

Participants must be 4-8 years old and registration is required. We will be meeting at the Ackland. Please call Kidzu at 919.933.1455 to register.

$5 per child

Eat, Drink, Dance, and Celebrate at the Ackland

on Saturday, 24 September 2011

8:00 PM to Midnight

The theme for this year's FUNdraiser for the Ackland Art Museum takes its cue from the who's-who black and white ball given by Truman Capote in 1966. With a guest list of 500, Capote brought together the famous and the infamous in publishing, film, and art, for a memorable evening designed to celebrate the creative impulse.

The Ackland Black and White Gala is certain to be an outstanding evening of excellent food, drink, music, poetry, and, of course, art.

All Gala proceeds support the Exhibition and Education Program at the Ackland.

Save the date. Join us as we celebrate. Support us as we bring art to and nurture ideas within the Carolina campus and community.

Ticket information forthcoming at ackland.org.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 9, 2011 8:16 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2011-2012 Carolina Men's Basketball Season Tickets Available Now

---

Dear Carolina Basketball Fan:

As fall approaches, it's time for another exciting year of Carolina Men's Basketball. In addition to eight ACC opponents, the Tar Heels will host ten non-conference opponents. As a member of the Carolina family, we would like to extend to you the opportunity to purchase season tickets or an attractive half-season package. Season tickets (18 home games) for the 2011-2012 season are $630.00 and the nine game package (4 conference/5 non-conference games) costs $425.00. No more than two tickets may be purchased per family, even if both husband and wife are employees of the University or UNC Hospitals.

If you ordered season or half-season basketball tickets in 2010-2011, a renewal email has been sent to the email address to which last year's order is associated. If you are new to UNC or did not order season or half-season basketball tickets in 2010-2011, you may pick up an application at the Smith Center Ticket Office by presenting your UNC OneCard or UNC Hospitals ID. Please note that the UNC Athletic Ticket Office is located in the ground floor of the Ernie Williamson Athletic Center, adjacent to Koury Natatorium. Hours are Monday-Friday 8:00am - 5:00pm. You may also use the renewal application to purchase tickets to the exhibition game versus UNC-Pembroke, which is not a part of the season ticket package.

Faculty and staff season tickets are not guaranteed. The Ticket Office will make every attempt to fulfill each order. Orders may be reduced from a full-season to a half-season or may not be fulfilled at all, based on faculty/staff priority points. You will be refunded the difference if your order is unable to be completely fulfilled. The Ticket Office will contact you after the September 6th deadline if your order is adjusted or cancelled. Faculty and staff tickets are assigned based on a points system that takes into account years of service at the University and years of ordering tickets. For additional information regarding the faculty and staff point system, as well as all ticket information, please visit www.tarheelblue.com/faculty.

Please do not use campus mail to send your application and payment. In order to receive your faculty/staff ticket priority, the UNC Athletic Ticket Office must receive your ticket order form no later than September 6, 2011. For after hours delivery, please use the secure drop-box to the right of the ticket windows.

We look forward to seeing you at the Smith Center this season as we tip-off a new season of CAROLINA BASKETBALL!

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29632870-41757788@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of VanDrimmelen, Jeff <jeffvand@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 10, 2011 8:54 AM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [oasis-supported-faculty] Sakai - Upcoming Events to Get Help for Faculty

---

Interested in using Sakai this fall to teach your class? Do you feel ready?

Join a:

- workshop (last offered August 19),
- webinar or a face-to-face consultation (last offered August 12).

Workshops, webinar and face-to-face consultations will resume in mid-September.

Or pop by during our:

- drop-in session on Thursday, August 11 at the Center for Faculty Excellence
- Sakai Fest on August 17.

All throughout the fall semester there will be resources available to help you with Sakai:

- Online, on-demand tutorials
- How to videos
- Documentation
- Quiz migration
- Migrate Content tool

You are currently subscribed to oasis-supported-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

To unsubscribe click here: http://lists.unc.edu/u?id=41778754.8fdc2f926fd817288d21861035d6c668&n=T&l=oasis-supported-faculty&o=29632863

(It may be necessary to cut and paste the above URL if the line is broken) or send a blank email to leave-29632863-41778754.8fdc2f926fd817288d21861035d6c668@listserv.unc.edu

 -- You are currently subscribed to

african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of katharine_thurlow@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 10, 2011 8:22 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Subjects Needed for Study

Research Subjects Needed for Study

Are you SCHEDULED to have a ROUTINE COLONOSCOPY performed at UNC in the near future?

If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study investigating the role of bacteria found normally living in the gut.

This study is recruiting both HEALTHY and IBS subjects suffering from diarrhea.

This study will involve ONE screening visit and ONE procedure visit to have a "sigmoidoscopy" performed at UNC endoscopy clinics 1 to 3 weeks PRIOR to your planned colonoscopy at UNC.

Subjects will be compensated $260 for complete participation in this study.

<Please note that Biomedical IRB study #10-0629 (approved 5/3/11) does not provide the colonoscopy; this should be scheduled and covered by the research subject's insurance>

If you are interested in participating or would like to learn more about this study, please contact study coordinator Katharine Thurlow at 919-843-1003 or email Katharine_Thurlow@med.unc.edu.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Gastroenterology and Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of aspire@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 10, 2011 8:42 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have a Child or Adolescent with Autism?

The ASPIRE team is conducting a research study to examine if a commonly used medication in children and adolescents with Autistic Disorder might be helpful in treating irritable behaviors. If your child has been diagnosed with Autistic Disorder, is 6-17 years of age, and has symptoms of irritability he/she may be eligible. Participants must be willing to complete blood draws/EKGs and undergo study doctor assessments. All studies involve potential risks to participants. The study team will tell you all the specific risks of this study.

Participants will be compensated for their time

Participation will include:
* 30-48 weeks of involvement, including appointments to UNC Hospitals

Please contact us for more information:
Email: aspire@unc.edu
Phone: 1-800-708-0048
Website: www.psychiatry.unc.edu/aspire

IRB # 11-0964
Approval by Biomedical IRB on: 6/28/2011
Title of Study: Safety and Efficacy of Aripiprazole in the Long-Term Maintenance Treatment of Pediatric Patients with Irritability Associated with Autistic Disorder
PI: Lin Sikich, MD

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	bounce-29639875-41805570@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent:	Thursday, August 11, 2011 8:43 AM
To:	african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc:	Administrative Managers <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>; Millbank, Beth <beth_millbank@unc.edu>
Subject:	[african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] Learn to use Sakai for your classes
Attach:	Sakai Updates August 2011.doc.docx

The enclosed and attached messages are being sent on behalf of Beth Millbank at Information Technology Services to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences, with an information copy to administrative managers. Please note that Sakai will replace Blackboard as UNC's learning management system by December 2012. Now is a good time to learn how to use it.

****

Sakai updates

Here's a roundup of Sakai updates and resources to help ease into the new academic year.

SakaiFest offers fun and fundamentals
Teaching in Sakai this fall? Then take part in Carolina's first ever SakaiFest on Wednesday, August 17.

Be sure to drop by one of several locations on campus to get Sakai information and help. IT support staff will be at the ready to answer questions, help migrate content and assist in the course setup process. Participants will have the opportunity to enter a raffle for an Apple TV and other prizes.

SakaiFest will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Rosenau 201A and Davis Library 246 and from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Carrington Hall 1300 and Hamilton Hall 228.

To learn more about SakaiFest and other available assistance, visit http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/services/.

Course Tracking Tool
This fall a large number of courses will be offered in both Blackboard and Sakai. To minimize potential confusion about where students can find their courses, faculty will be asked to use the new Course Tracking Tool to indicate which learning management system (Sakai, Blackboard, or none) they will use for each of their fall courses.

It is a simple process and selections can be changed by faculty at any time. Instructors are asked to log in, select the system each course will use and log out. The information collected will be used to ensure a given course is only available in one system. In addition, migration reports will be provided to campus based on the information faculty provide.

Find the new Course Tracking tool at https://itsapps.unc.edu/course-tracking.

On-campus Group Workshops
Small group sessions focusing on assignments, grading, tests and quizzes and more begin Aug. 8

To register for a session, visit http://reg.abcsignup.com/view/view_month.aspx?as=52&wp=887&aid=UNC-ITS

Personal Consultations
Have a few questions or prefer to learn in your own office? Sign up for face-to-face or online (webinar) consultations at a time convenient to you. Personal consultations are available on a first-come, first served basis. To register, visit http://reg.abcsignup.com/view/view_month.aspx?as=52&wp=887&aid=UNC-ITS

Sakai @ UNC Tutorials
Prefer to try Sakai first before seeking help? Tutorials are available at http://sakaitutorials.unc.edu. Learn how to migrate content from Blackboard to Sakai at http://sakaitutorials.unc.edu/?Migrate_from_Bb_to_Sakai.

To learn more about Sakai, visit http://blog.sakai.unc.edu/services/ .

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, August 14, 2011 8:17 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Printing cost increase in student computing labs

---

In an action that reflects the difficult budgetary conditions facing the University, Information Technology Services (ITS) is increasing the amount currently charged for printing in campus student computing labs.

As of August 5, it will cost ten cents per page to print in the labs (up from five cents). Each student will receive an allocation of 400 pages per semester before they will be required to add any funds to their OneCards.

This decision was made in consultation with student government and is deemed necessary in order to maintain availability of this service, help off-set expenses, and to make costs consistent across campus-wide printing services.

Charles "Charlie" Green, Ph.D
Assistant Vice Chancellor for Teaching and Learning

Mary Cooper
Student Body President

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29666989-41990640@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 16, 2011 10:27 AM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Administrative Managers <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>; Beattie, Kirsten <kbeattie@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] FW: Two opportunities for College faculty

---

The enclosed information is being sent on behalf of the Institute for the Arts and Humanities to all faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences, with an information copy to administrative managers.
###
The Institute for the Arts and Humanities invites all faculty in the College to participate in two events in Hyde Hall next week:
Wednesday, August 24 & September 7 – Grants Mentoring Workshop 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.
All UNC faculty preparing grants for funding or support in the arts and humanities are invited to participate in a workshop for NEH, ACLS, IAH or other proposals in a small group led by previous award winners in Hyde Hall. RSVP for the two-part workshop by Wednesday, Aug. 17, to Erica Longenbach at 843-2651 or erica.longenbach@unc.edu.
More info: http://iah.unc.edu/calendar/grantsworkshop2011
Thursday, August 25 – Welcome Back Reception 4 to 6 p.m.
Join us as we ring in the new academic year with our annual "welcome back" reception and gathering in Hyde Hall. The reception marks the start of the Institute's 25th Anniversary celebrations. All College of Arts & Sciences faculty are invited to attend, and no RSVPs are needed.
More info: http://iah.unc.edu/calendar/augreception2011
The Institute for the Arts and Humanities in the College of Arts and Sciences offers programs and activities that support UNC faculty at every stage of their careers. The IAH funds individual and collaborative research, showcases faculty work, develops faculty leaders and teachers, and facilitates the formation of collaborative, interdisciplinary communities that promote intellectual exchange. Visit iah.unc.edu to learn more, and join the conversation.

- -- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to

african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 16, 2011 3:44 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] "Carolina Collects," Store Sale, Music, and More!

Carolina Collects: 150 Years of Modern and Contemporary Art

Opens 9 September 2011

7:00-9:00 PM Opening Reception | Reply to acklandRSVP@unc.edu

Gathered from the private collections of more than 45 alumni of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Carolina Collects: 150 Years of Modern and Contemporary Art brings together nearly 90 hidden treasures by some of the most renowned artists of the modern era.

From Claude Monet to Alexander Calder, from Louise Bourgeois to Yayoi Kusama, Carolina Collects offers an extraordinary overview of art of the past 150 years through paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, and sculptures, many of which have rarely been exhibited.

Learn more about Carolina Collects...

Going on a Lion Hunt: An Ackland-Kidzu Workshop

Thursday, 18 August, 4:00-5:30 PM

Spend an afternoon exploring the ancient western world, looking at people, places and LIONS! Children ages 4 to 8 will go on a docent-led hunt through the Museum to find lions both tame and fierce. They then head to the studio to create their own lions out of a wide variety of textiles.

Registration is required. Please call Kidzu at 919.933.1455 to register.
Meet at the Ackland.

$5 per child

Thursday, 18 August, 1:00-4:00 PM

Every other month, the Ackland invites members of the public to bring in a work of art for consideration by an Ackland expert. Curators may offer insight into the significance of the piece and its subject matter, as well as the techniques used by the artist and the work's condition. Please note: the Ackland staff is unable to authenticate or financially appraise works of art.

Limit one work of art per person. Registration required: please call 919.843.3677 to make an appointment.

Free to Ackland members, $10 non-members.

Music in the Galleries: "Folk by Four"

Sunday, 21 August, 2:00-3:00 PM

Spend your afternoon at the Ackland with Carrboro's Folk by Four. Their blend of gospel, folk, and bluegrass will be the perfect ending to our summer series of Music in the Galleries concerts.

Reservations and tickets are NOT REQUIRED, but please arrive early to find a spot.

Free

Yoga in the Galleries

Tuesday, 23 August, 12:00-1:00 PM

Namasté! Take a break from your day and explore the world of yoga in the beautiful setting of the Ackland!

Sessions led by Joanne Marshall. Beginners are welcome.

Yoga mats and cushions are provided. Please wear comfortable clothing that will allow you to stretch. Since the galleries can be cool, long sleeves are recommended.

Free to members | $5 non-members. Space is limited. Register by email: acklandRSVP@unc.edu.

Visit the Ackland Museum Store at the Corner of Franklin and Columbia Streets in downtown Chapel Hill!

End-of-Summer Sale! August 19 through 28, 2011

30% off selected merchandise.

Ackland Art Museum Members receive an additional 10% off!

All proceeds from the Store support the Ackland Art Museum's exhibition and education programs.

Store Hours: Mon - Sat 10:00 AM - 5:30 PM, Thu 10:00 AM - 8:30 PM, Sun 12:00 - 5:00 PM

Telephone: 919.962.0216

Ackland Art Museum Members receive a 10% discount on all Museum Store purchases. In addition, members enjoy special discounts during several designated Member Shopping Days throughout the year. Become a member today!

Learn more about current and upcoming exhibitions in the Ackland Museum Store's retail gallery space.

For more information on the Ackland, visit www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from Ackland Art Museum members and friends like you!

Support the Museum

Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. Click here for more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission.

Comments on the Ackland's e-news? Send an email to the editor.

Thank you for subscribing to the Ackland e-news!

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, click here to be unsubscribed.

Did a friend forward you this Ackland e-news? Subscribe here and get your very own copy every week.

Unidentified Artist: Clazomenian Sarcophagus: Sphinx Flanked by Lions (detail), c. 530 BCE; terra cotta. Ackland Fund.
Hans Hofmann, American, born in Germany, 1880-1966: Undulating Expanse, 1955; oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

From: National African Language Resource Center <nyasha@ncolctl.ccsend.com>
Sent: Tuesday, August 16, 2011 4:26 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: 2012 Summner Institute Announcement

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

nalrc website banner

A Second Language Acquisition Certificate Program for African Language Instructors

As interest in African language learning and teaching increases, so does the need to prepare graduate students, teaching assistants who are planning to pursue African language teaching as a profession and faculty members in the field who need retooling. The 2012 Summer Institute has been designed to help meet this need. It will train fellows in a number of crucial areas central to the effective operation of an African Language Program

Program Description

The program consists of a two-week intensive introduction to

a) Teaching the skills of Speaking and Listening in the African Language Classroom;
b) Teaching the Skills of Writing and Reading in the African Language Classroom.
c) Testing and Assessing the Four Skills in the African Language Classroom.
d) Lesson Planning and Classroom Management.

Participants will move from a theoretical overview to hands- on practice in teaching the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing, and assessing them.

Fees and related costs

The NALRC will cover the program fees (such as registration fees, administration costs and instruction costs) for all selected applicants. Other expenses, such as transportation, food, lodging, and books will be the responsibility of each participant's African Studies Program. Participants are encouraged to ask for support from their respective African Language or African Studies programs to cover expenses that the NALRC will not cover.

Eligibility

Graduate students in good standing in any African language, linguistics, cultural studies, literature, second language acquisition, or any related field at an accredited institution of higher education are eligible. African language instructors and scholars may also apply. Preference will be given to those who have not attended the Institute before. In addition, all applicants must demonstrate serious interest in African language learning and teaching.

Application Process

Applicants should submit a letter of application and supporting documents for the 2012 Summer Institute by September 30, 2011. Applicants will be notified of selection by October 31, 2011. Supporting documents include:

- a CV
- two letters of recommendation indicating the importance of the training for the applicant. One of the letters must be from the executive officer of the applicant's home department or African studies program, or Programs Language Coordinator.

You can submit your application and supporting documents through the electronic mail
nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu

If you have a foreign visa, please speak with Akinsola Ogundeji at 608-265-7901 or e-mail nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu

Forward email

This email was sent to smutima@email.unc.edu by nalrc@mailplus.wisc.edu
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

National African Languages Resource Center | 455 N Park St | 4231 Humanities Building | Madison | WI | 53706

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 16, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational new insulin agent in combination with liraglutide (Victoza) to see if it can provide more consistent blood sugar control in people with type 2 diabetes.

The length of the study is approximately 6 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.
Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time and travel.

You may qualify if you:

- Are 18 years or older
- Have had a diagnosis of type 2 diabetes for at least 6 months
- Are currently taking metformin (glucophage) and/or Actos
- Have an HbA1c level between 7.0 and 10.0 %

For more information please call:

Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext. 269
ahowell@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center
This study received approval from the UNC Office of Human Research Ethics, IRB full board 5/4/2011
IRB study # 11-0739

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 17, 2011 8:20 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Research Study on the Causes of IBS

The UNC Center for Functional GI and Motility Disorders is conducting a health research study to identify the causes of IBS symptoms.

Participants must be between the ages of 18-70 and have a doctor's diagnosis of IBS. A limited number of healthy people with no gastrointestinal symptoms will be enrolled in a comparison group. Qualified subjects will receive compensation for participation.

For more information on how to sign up please visit:
www.uncmedresearch.com/ibsstudy

You can also call Lenore Keck, RN toll free at 866-227-0067 if you have any questions.

Study 01-1397/CTRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/11/11-7/09/12

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 17, 2011 8:40 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Upcoming Mindfulness Courses for Stress & Pain Managment-REGISTER NOW!

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, and difficult interactions with others?

Do you want to learn how to slow down and enjoy your life?

Mindfulness can make a difference!

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down and set priorities while remaining calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).

For detailed information about our basic foundation courses, visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program/basic-foundation-course-mindfulness-based-stress-reduction.

UPCOMING FALL 2011 FOUNDATION MINDFULNESS COURSES:

1) Tuesday MORNINGS, 9:30am-12:00pm, beginning September 20 (required orientation) through November 15, 2011, taught by Susan Head at the UNC Wellness Center at Meadowmont

2) Tuesday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning September 20 (required orientation) through November 15, 2011, taught by Susan Head at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

3) Friday MORNINGS, 10:00am-12:30pm, beginning October 6 (required orientation on a THURSDAY) through December 9, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at Chapel Hill Doctors Integrative Health Center in Chapel Hill.

4) Thursday EVENINGS, 6:00pm-8:30pm, beginning October 6 (required orientation) through December 8, 2011, taught by Paula Huffman at the Tate-Turner-Kuralt Bldg (UNC School of Social Work)

For information about upcoming course schedules, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation, visit our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/phyrehab/pim/mindfulness-program. To register for these mindfulness courses, download and complete the registration form at the link above as well.

Questions? Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 17, 2011 9:01 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women with depression who are 0-12 months postpartum

---

Are you, or is someone you know, suffering from postpartum depression?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 0-12 months postpartum, who are depressed, but not currently on antidepressant medication.

This study is designed to assess the efficacy of repetitive transcranial magnetic stimulation (rTMS), an FDA approved treatment for major depression in adults, for the treatment of postpartum depression.

All office visits, medical evaluations, and rTMS treatments related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 7/08/11 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 11-0894

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29685106-42070711@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>

Sent: Thursday, August 18, 2011 6:03 PM

To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>

Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Aug 21 - 7 p.m. Eastern Time (US and Canada) Time ; New Student Convocation

---

WebEvent Reminder

Title: New Student Convocation
Date: Sunday, August 21, 2011
Time: 7 p.m. Eastern Time (US and Canada) Time

Description: New Student Convocation is a formal welcome to the University, designed to engage students in the intellectual endeavors of our University and to introduce them to the proud traditions of Carolina. By attending this ceremony and representing your School and the work it does with undergraduates, you play a critical role in exposing new students to your field and the opportunities of the academic community from the very start.

Your participation enhances New Student Convocation and helps it to more closely mirror the formal graduation ceremony. Thus, I am writing to invite you to join the Chancellor, and others, in the formal processional of the New Student Convocation that will be held this year on Sunday, August 21, 2011, at 7:00 p.m. in the Carmichael Arena located on South Road. The work you do on behalf of new students is critical to their success at Carolina, so Chancellor Thorp will take a moment to recognize you and others during the ceremony.

We request that all members of the faculty wear academic regalia. The stage party will process at 7:15 p.m. hut please plan to arrive by 6:45 p.m. and meet in the Media Room on the first floor, room 1515, for rohing. Parking will be available in the Bell Tower Parking Lot. You will need to enter the area via the old drive next to the football center.

As seating will be reserved, please RSVP to Stephanie Thurman at 962-2198 (or email sthurman@email.unc.edu) by Friday, August 5th.

Please note that this year we have developed a special "pep rally" that will conclude New Student Convocation and kick-off Fallfest. The pep rally portion of the program will begin immediately after the academic recession. You are more than welcome to stay for this portion of the program.

It is my sincere hope that you will join us for this event. Thank you for your commitment to undergraduate education at Carolina.

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marron@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 18, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: FREE STATISTICAL CONSULTING

Free Statistical Consulting

The UNC Department of Statistics and Operations Research announces the availability of free statistical consulting. Our goal is to teach this important skill to graduate students, but you can get some free statistical assistance in the process.

The course format involves clients giving a presentation about the problem at hand. This generates a question and answer dialog, which by itself has proven to be useful in helping clients formulate their ideas.
Then typically one student is assigned to work on the actual data, with a final written report expected.

In the past we have worked with a very wide range of clients, from Masters students needing help with the statistical end of their dissertation, all the way up to distinguished professors. While there are limits to what can be done in the context of this course, some contacts initially made through this course have led to ongoing joint research, grant proposals and published papers in very diverse fields.

To sign up for this type of consulting, or to discuss this further, please contact Steve Marron, Department of Statistics and Operations Research, UNC, CB 3260, Email: marron@email.unc.edu. Additional information is available at the web address:

http://www.stat-or.unc.edu/consulting/statistical_consulting

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Statistics and O.R.

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, August 19, 2011 6:44 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: UNC Public Safety Investigates Attempted Sexual Assault Report

---

ATTENTION UNC STUDENTS, STAFF, AND FACULTY:

UNC Public Safety is investigating the report of an attempted sexual assault which occurred at 3:30 a.m. Friday, Aug. 19. A female UNC student reported the incident to UNC Police midday Friday.

A dark-skinned black male, described as bald, aged 35 - 40, with average height and build approached the victim as she walked alone on campus. The suspect pushed the victim to the ground near the sundial in front of the Morehead Planetarium and Science Center. The victim, who was not injured, was quickly able to escape; the suspect fled the scene on foot.

UNC Police are asking anyone with information which may help to identify the suspect to call 911 or contact CrimeStoppers at (919) 942-7515. Calls are confidential and anonymous.

University police also remind the campus community to be vigilant about personal safety and report any suspicious activity by calling 911 immediately. For a list of safety tips, see the following link through the Alert Carolina website:

http://www.alertcarolina.unc.edu/go/doc/1395/158078/

Thank You,
UNC Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, August 19, 2011 8:25 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Measuring Task Performance 2

Participants Needed: Measuring Task Performance 2

We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. The purpose of this study is to better understand the ways in which people think and make decisions under uncertain conditions. If you agree to participate, we will ask you to complete simple judgment or problem solving tasks.

Please visit our website to sign up www.c4dr.unc.edu or stay informed about new studies by visiting our UNC Center for Decision Research facebook page.

Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 30-45 minutes
Pay: $2 - $12
IRB #10 - 1646

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on August 15th, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29709927-42273918@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of WebEvent <webevent@unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, August 22, 2011 2:33 PM

To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>

Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] WebEvent Reminder: Aug 24 - 3:30 p.m. Eastern Time (US and Canada) Time ; Grants Mentoring Workshop (Inst for Arts & Humanities)

WebEvent Reminder

Title: Grants Mentoring Workshop (Inst for Arts & Humanities)
Date: Wednesday, August 24, 2011
Time: 3:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m. Eastern Time (US and Canada) Time

Description: The Institute for the Arts and Humanities invites all faculty in the College to participate in two events in Hyde Hall next week:

Wednesday, August 24 & September 7 – Grants Mentoring Workshop 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.
All UNC faculty preparing grants for funding or support in the arts and humanities are invited to participate in a workshop for NEH, ACLS, IAH or other proposals in a small group led by previous award winners in Hyde Hall. RSVP for the two-part workshop by Wednesday, Aug. 17, to Erica Longenbach at 843-2651 or erica.longenbach@unc.edu.

More info: http://iah.unc.edu/calendar/grantsworkshop2011

Powered by WebEvent(tm)
http://www.webevent.com/cs/r/pbpublish_2.71

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 22, 2011 8:34 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: URC 2011 FALL ANNOUNCEMENT

UNIVERSITY RESEARCH COUNCIL FALL AWARDS DEADLINE- September 26
URC Announces 2011 Deadline for Fall Awards
The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research sponsors a small grant program for faculty and professional librarians at UNC-CH. There are two types of grants, Research and Publication. A faculty member or professional librarians may submit only one URC proposal each semester- either research or publication. The maximum total award is $5,000 to be used over a two year period.

Research grants support the scientific, scholarly or artistic efforts of faculty to cover cost such as collecting pilot data, research related travel, research equipment or supplies, or the cost of smaller scale projects.

Publication grants help pay the cost for publishing scientific, scholarly, or artistic work to cover cost for such things as photographs, drawings, figures or tables, or permissions to reprint.

For more information, contact Jennifer Pruitt, 962-7757, or refer to http://research.unc.edu/red/internal.php#urc. URC award notices for the Fall term are expected to be sent out by December 1, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: bounce-29715526-42323739@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Reid, Dee <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 23, 2011 8:44 AM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty] [all-college-faculty] MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

The enclosed message from Dean Karen Gil is being sent to all faculty and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences.

# #

Dear Faculty and Staff Colleagues,

Welcome to the start of another academic year. I hope you enjoyed your summer.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for all that you do to distinguish Carolina and the College of Arts and Sciences, especially in these challenging times. I know that you are working harder now with fewer resources to ensure that our students receive an outstanding education. Your commitment to our academic mission is felt every day in classrooms and offices across our campus.

Let me bring you up to date on the budget situation. As you may know from news accounts and the Chancellor's emails, Carolina's 2011/12 permanent state budget allocation has been cut by nearly 18%, which is deeper than expected. The College's share of this reduction amounts to a total loss of about $10.5 million.

While this cut is daunting, we also received an allocation of tuition and enrollment-increase funds from the Provost that is helping to offset the net effects of our budget cut. This allocation recognizes that our faculty are responsible for 86% of the undergraduate credit hours on this campus.

Nevertheless, faculty and staff salaries remain frozen and we had to reduce funds to units across the College. This has resulted in a decrease in instructional budgets, graduate student support and staff positions, and an increase in the size of our classes. For a fuller picture of the economic challenges facing the University, please see the Chancellor's budget page online.

The good news is that, thanks to advanced planning and private support, we were able to hire new faculty, who are joining us this year. We welcome our new colleagues. We also have authorized a limited number of new faculty searches for 2011/12, which means more teachers and scholars will join the College in 2012/13.

All of us in the Dean's Office appreciate what you do every day for Carolina and the College. We look forward to working with you as we begin another new academic year.

With best regards,

Karen M. Gil
Dean

- -- You are currently subscribed to

all-college-faculty as: african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty as: smutima@email.unc.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ahowell@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 23, 2011 8:25 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study at UNC

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is now enrolling adult volunteers into the LEADER research study.

LEADER (Liraglutide Effect and Action in Diabetes: Evaluation of Cardiovascular Outcome Results) aims to assess and confirm the cardiovascular safety of Liraglutide (Victoza). and potentially show
the ability of Liraglutide to improve cardiovascular outcomes.

This is a long term cardiovascular research study of Liraglutide, you may either receive the study drug or a placebo (that looks like the study drug but is not active drug.) Your participation will last until 2016 and consist of approximately 2-7 visits to the research site each year.

You may be eligible for the research study if you are age 50 years or older, have type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease and are not currently taking the diabetes drugs Victoza or Byetta.

If you are eligible you will receive diabetes care tbrough the research study doctor, diabetes testing supplies, and study medication at no cost to you.

For more information about this trial please contact:
Amber Howell
Clinical Research Assistant
UNC Diabetes Care Center
919-484-0931 ext 269
abowell@med.unc.edu

This study received IRB approval from the UNC office of Human Research Ethics, IRB Full board on 12/03/2010
IRB study # 10-1701

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of natpri@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 23, 2011 8:45 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Pill Camera Colonoscopy Study

PILLCAM. (SWALLOWED) VIDEO COLON CAPSULE STUDY AT UNC

We are seeking volunteers -ages 50-75, to join a research program studying an investigational device for colonoscopy called "Video Capsule Colonoscopy." This study will compare findings between two endoscopic methods; comparing video capsule colonoscopy to standard colonoscopy. Interested and eligible subjects will undergo both study procedures.

Subjects must have no swallowing disorders and be in generally good health.

Subjects will be reimbursed up to $800 for your time and efforts in this study.

For more information, please contact the study coordinator, Natalie Pritchett, at nataliepritch@gmail.com or call at (919) 966-0764.

This study (11-1120) has been approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB 7/6/2011.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Digestive Diseases and Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of scott.wallace@cidd.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 23, 2011 9:53 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study of Autism and Infant Brain Development

---

The Infant Brain Imaging Study (IBIS) Network at UNC is actively seeking to enroll families who have a child with an autism spectrum disorder AND an infant sibling 6 months old or younger.

The IBIS Network is examining the very early features that may be characteristic of infants at risk for autism. The goal is to study the developing brain in infancy, before a possible diagnosis is determined.

At the University of North Carolina, researchers are studying the brain development of children from 6 to 24 months of age. Developmental evaluations and MRI scans of your child's brain will be completed at 6, 12 and 24 months of age.

By doing both MRI brain scans and behavioral assessments at these 3 time points, researchers hope to be able to understand the relationship between brain development and the onset of autistic symptoms in children at higher risk for autism (infants with older brothers and sisters with autism).

Findings from this study may provide important clues to early detection and intervention. These services are provided at no charge to your family. Compensation for participation and the arrangement of your travel to Chapel Hill will be provided.

To learn more about participating in this study, please contact the UNC IBIS Network site by email at scott.wallace@cidd.edu.unc or by phone (800) 793-5715. Also, to learn more about this research project please visit www.ibis-network.org.

Study Title: Brain Development in Infants at High Risk for Autism
Study #: 05-2293 (Former IRB Number 05-PSYCH-817)
Approval Body: Biomedical IRB
Approval Date: 4/13/2011
This email is sponsored by: CIDD

This email is sponsored by: CIDD

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 28, 2011 10:00 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants Needed: Assessing Gender and Performance

---

Participants Needed: Assessing Gender and Performance

We are looking for participants to help us with our research into decision-making. As a participant you will spend approximately 5-30 minutes to complete a study in our lab.
Location: Kenan-Flagler Behavioral Lab, McColl 4402/4404
Duration: 5-30 minutes
Pay: $0.10 - $13.00
IRB #11-0135

Approved by the UNC Behavioral IRB on 2/21/11.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Decision Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, March 7, 2011 9:23 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353
CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of freshstart@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 24, 2011 8:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Struggling with your weight? Looking for a FRESH Start?

Struggling with your weight?
Are you looking for a FRESH Start?

Researchers at the UNC's Department of Nutrition want to compare diets for weight loss.

If you are 18 to 40 years old, overweight and otherwise healthy, you may be eligible to participate in the FRESH (Finding Real Eating Solutions for Health) Start Study.

Study Benefits Include:
* Private dietary counseling sessions (in-person and by phone)
* Group nutrition workshops (including handouts)
* Cooking demonstrations, food tastings, and recipes
* Gift baskets containing healthy foods
* Possible weight loss
* You will not be asked to take any medication

American Express gift cards will be provided at 6 months ($50), 12 months ($50), and 18 months ($200).

To see if you are eligible, please complete the screening survey at FRESHStartStudy.com

For more information about this 18-month study, please call Chandra at: 919 408-3320, ext. 27 or send an email to freshstart@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (09/04/2010) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (10-0743)
Study Title: A Novel Diet-Phenotype Interaction Affecting Body Weight
Funded by: NIDDK (1 R01 DK085109-01)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of eborg@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, April 1, 2011 8:19 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Are you or someone you know interested in a research study?

Are you or someone you know interested in a research study?

We are looking for healthy volunteers aged 18-65 for a research study that requires six outpatient visits and two 12-hour visits at the UNC Hospitals Research Center. The outpatient visits will be 1-2 hours in length. The study involves taking an herbal supplement for 7 days, blood draws, and two short sigmoidoscopy procedures. Compensation will be up to $400. It should take approximately 5 weeks to complete all study visits.

Please contact Erick Borg at 919-843-6439 or eborg@email.unc.edu

Study: IRB 10-2243
The text of this email advertisement was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB on March 18th, 2011.

This email is sponsored by: NC TraCS Institute

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, April 8, 2011 8:43 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: HEALTHY SUBJECTS NEEDED FOR RESEARCH STUDY

The Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is seeking Healthy Subjects as a comparison group for a research study investigating irritable bowel syndrome.

Participation involves one visit lasting approximately 4 hours. Subjects will complete various health and psychological questionnaires and a breath test to measure lactose malabsorption and small bowel bacterial overgrowth. In addition, a blood sample will be drawn to measure genes that may relate to pain sensitivity.

Participants will be paid $75 for completing the study.

To be eligible, you must be in general good health with no history of gastrointestinal or bowel problems.

For more information on how to sign up please visit the website below and choose 'healthy participant screening.'
www.uncmedresearch.com/ibsstudy

Or call 919-966-8329 or toll free 866-227-0067

Study IRB #01-1397 / CTRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 7/21/10

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 19, 2011 8:29 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 2, 2011 8:28 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Give a Hair Sample for Research if You have Jaw or Facial Pain

---

The Center for Neurosensory Disorders is currently recruiting for several studies. We are looking for men and women ages 18 to 60 years whose scalp hair is at least one and a half inches long.

Are you willing to have a few strands of hair cut from close to your scalp?
Are you willing to be screened for pain conditions in the region of your face, jaw, and ear?
Are you willing to complete several questionnaires?

We are recruiting people with pain in the facial area.
Please contact us if you are interesting in learning more about our studies and would like to participate in a screening session (Biomedical IRB#09-1485). Last approval 08/25/2010.

You should NOT participate if you are pregnant or if you have used either of the following in the last three months: hair color or glucocorticoids (including cortisol-containing creams and lotions. You should also NOT participate if you have any of the following conditions: diabetes, drug or alcohol abuse, heart trouble or disease, hypertension (high blood pressure) that is not well controlled with medication, hyperthyroidism, major psychiatric disorder requiring hospitalization within the last 6 months, chronic respiratory disease not controlled with medication, renal failure or dialysis, seizures, or if you are currently receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

$25 compensation will be provided for participating in a one visit screening session lasting less than one hour.
For more information, please call 966-1060.

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of freshstart@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 8:24 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Struggling with your weight? Are you looking for a FRESH Start?

Researchers at UNC's Department of Nutrition want to compare diets in an 18-month weight loss study. The FRESH Start Study is currently recruiting 18 to 40 year olds, who are overweight (BMI>30) and otherwise healthy. Please go to http://FreshStartStudy.com to see if you may be eligible to participate in the FRESH (Finding Real Eating Solutions for Health) Start Study.

Study Benefits Include:
* Private nutrition counseling sessions (in-person and by phone)
* Group nutrition workshops (including handouts)
* Cooking demonstrations, food tastings, and recipes
* Gift baskets containing healthy foods
* Possible weight loss
* You will not be asked to take any medication

Compensation is a total of $300 in the form of American Express gift cards provided at 6 months ($50), 12 months ($50), and 18 months ($200).

For more information about this 18-month study, please call Chandra at: (919) 408-3320, ext. 27 or send an email to freshstart@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (04/04/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (10-0743)
Study Title: A Novel Diet-Phenotype Interaction Affecting Body Weight
Funded by: NIDDK (1 R01 DK085109-01)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, May 16, 2011 10:24 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353
CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 26, 2011 8:22 PM
To:	Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 14, 2011 9:02 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353
CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ccps@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 23, 2011 8:18 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Tornado recovery trips and grants now available

---

In response to this spring's devastating tornados across North Carolina, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Carolina Center for Public Service are offering opportunities for faculty, staff and students to join together in recovery efforts.

Tornado recovery trips to Bertie County
The Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) is working with Bertie County to offer volunteer opportunities for UNC faculty, staff and students. Volunteers are needed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays throughout July for small debris clean-up and supply distribution. Transportation to Bertie County, approximately two hours away, will be provided by CCPS. If you are interested in serving, please complete the form at http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/LKX7S5Z. You will then receive detailed information about the volunteer effort. Please note that SPA and EPA employees may consult with their supervisors to designate volunteer time as community service leave.

Grants available to aid in tornado recovery efforts
The Carolina Center for Public Service has received funds from generous donors to support the University's recovery efforts in North Carolina communities. Grants of up to $1,000 are now available to facilitate response efforts of UNC-Chapel Hill faculty, staff and students. To apply, visit http://www.unc.edu/ccps/disasterrelief/index.php. Application deadline is August 5.

For more information about the trips or grants, visit www.unc.edu/ccps.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Center for Public Service

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 7, 2011 8:24 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of freshstart@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 18, 2011 8:50 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Struggling with your weight? Are you looking for a FRESH Start?

Researchers at UNC's Department of Nutrition want to compare diets in an 18-month weight loss research study. The FRESH Start Study is currently recruiting 18 to 40 year olds, who are overweight (BMI>30) and otherwise healthy. Please go to http://FreshStartStudy.com to see if you may be eligible to participate in the FRESH (Finding Real Eating Solutions for Health) Start Study.

Research Study Benefits Include:
* Private nutrition counseling sessions (in-person and by phone)
* Group nutrition workshops conveniently located at Eastowne Office Park
* Cooking demonstrations, food tastings, and recipes
* Gift baskets containing healthy foods
* Possible weight loss
* You will not be asked to take any medication

Compensation is a total of $300 in the form of American Express gift cards, provided at 6 months ($50), 12 months ($50), and 18 months ($200).

For more information, please call Chandra at: (919) 408-3320, ext. 27 or send an email to freshstart@unc.edu

This study has been reviewed and approved (04/04/2011) by the UNC Biomedical IRB (10-0743)
Study Title: A Novel Diet-Phenotype Interaction Affecting Body Weight
Funded by: NIDDK (1 R01 DK085109-01)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 25, 2011 8:19 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking women who are 1 year postpartum...

Are you, or is someone you know 1 year postpartum...?

Postpartum Depression Research study seeking healthy women, 12-24 months postpartum, who are NOT currently depressed, not currently breastfeeding, have regular menstrual cycles, and fall into one of the following categories:

1. Have experienced Postpartum Depression
2. Have experienced depression in the past, but not after childbirth
3. Have never experienced depression

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients. This study requires 4 visits to UNC. $150 compensation upon completion.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084.

Approved 8/27/09 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 07-1353 CTRC# 2649

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of karen_mori@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 17, 2011 9:21 PM
To: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have jaw pain?

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for volunteers with chronic pain in the face and jaw. We are seeking people with TMJD/TMD/ TMJ to participate in a study lasting several years.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $270 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 09/02/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Center for Neurosensory Disorders

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, sign into MyUNC at http://my.unc.edu, and select "Update Personal Information".

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 1999 10:18 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: African Language Institute (fwd)

---------- Forwarded message ----------
Date: Mon, 26 Apr 1999 18:01:41 -0500
From: India Plough <ploughi@pilot.msu.edu>
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Cc: simonan@pilot.msu.edu, davisan@pilot.msu.edu
Subject: African Language Institute

Dear M. Mutima, (a hard copy of this letter will follow in US mail)

Thank you for your application materials and non-refundable fee of $15. I am very pleased to inform you that your application to attend The Teaching of African Languages Institute at Michigan State University's Center for Language Education and Research (CLEAR) May 14-16, 1999 has been accepted. In order to support your participation in this institute, we are able to offer the following:

7 The Institute fee of $200 is waived;

7 Travel expenses will be covered.

' If you will be traveling by car, we will reimburse you according to MSU's official travel distances at the rate of .31 per mile. We will provide you with a Visitor's Parking Pass for campus.
' If you will be flying to Lansing airport, you must make your reservations through MSU's official travel agent, Spartan Travel (1-800-684-7384). You must make your reservations at least 14 days in advance. CLEAR is able to cover "the lowest logical (considering cost and time) available airfare, which is defined as travel (a) in coach or economy class, unless a Certified Travel Agent certifies non-availability, and (b) via the most logical and efficient route taking into consideration the business traveler's objective and airline penalties and restrictions." Spartan Travel will invoice CLEAR directly for your airfare. We will also reimburse you for taxi fare to and from the airport and for airport parking. In making travel arrangements, please note that a Welcome Reception is scheduled for May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Corniche Room of MSU's Kellogg Center.

7 Lodging at Owen Graduate Center will be paid. Accommodations at Owen include $8 per day credit in the Owen cafeteria. Reservations for Owen can be made by calling Anne or Anna at the CLEAR office. You must make your reservations by April 28, 1999. If you choose to stay at a local hotel, CLEAR will reimburse your lodging/food at the Owen rate of $26 per day.

We hope that you will be able to attend this institute and ask you to let us know of your intentions as soon as possible. After we receive your acceptance, we will send you more detailed information about the Institute, including a daily schedule, and directions to MSU.

Enclosed please find an application for Lifelong Education. If you are enrolling in the Institute for credit, please send this application directly to:

Registrar's Office
150 Administration Building

Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824

The Registrar will send you information about how to enroll and register for the course. If you are not enrolling for credit, it is not necessary to return the application.

Enrollment for Continuing Education Units will be available at the Institute.

Please do not hesitate to call our office if you have any questions. We are looking forward to meeting you and to your contributions to the Institute.

****

India C. Plough, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Center for Language Education And Research (CLEAR)
A712 Wells Hall
Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824-1027
517/432-2286
Fax:517/432-0473
http://clear.msu.edu/

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 1999 10:18 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: African Language Institute (fwd)

---------- Forwarded message ----------
Date: Mon, 26 Apr 1999 18:01:41 -0500
From: India Plough <ploughi@pilot.msu.edu>
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Cc: simonan@pilot.msu.edu, davisan@pilot.msu.edu
Subject: African Language Institute

Dear M. Mutima, (a hard copy of this letter will follow in US mail)

Thank you for your application materials and non-refundable fee of $15. I am very pleased to inform you that your application to attend The Teaching of African Languages Institute at Michigan State University's Center for Language Education and Research (CLEAR) May 14-16, 1999 has been accepted. In order to support your participation in this institute, we are able to offer the following:

· The Institute fee of $200 is waived;

· Travel expenses will be covered.

§ If you will be traveling by car, we will reimburse you according to MSU's official travel distances at the rate of .31 per mile. We will provide you with a Visitor's Parking Pass for campus.
§ If you will be flying to Lansing airport, you must make your reservations through MSU's official travel agent, Spartan Travel (1-800-684-7384). You must make your reservations at least 14 days in advance. CLEAR is able to cover "the lowest logical (considering cost and time) available airfare, which is defined as travel (a) in coach or economy class, unless a Certified Travel Agent certifies non-availability, and (b) via the most logical and efficient route taking into consideration the business traveler's objective and airline penalties and restrictions." Spartan Travel will invoice CLEAR directly for your airfare. We will also reimburse you for taxi fare to and from the airport and for airport parking. In making travel arrangements, please note that a Welcome Reception is scheduled for May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Corniche Room of MSU's Kellogg Center.

· Lodging at Owen Graduate Center will be paid. Accommodations at Owen include $8 per day credit in the Owen cafeteria. Reservations for Owen can be made by calling Anne or Anna at the CLEAR office. You must make your reservations by April 28, 1999. If you choose to stay at a local hotel, CLEAR will reimburse your lodging/food at the Owen rate of $26 per day.

We hope that you will be able to attend this institute and ask you to let us know of your intentions as soon as possible. After we receive your acceptance, we will send you more detailed information about the Institute, including a daily schedule, and directions to MSU.

Enclosed please find an application for Lifelong Education. If you are enrolling in the Institute for credit, please send this application directly to:

Registrar's Office
150 Administration Building

Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824

The Registrar will send you information about how to enroll and register for the course. If you are not enrolling for credit, it is not necessary to return the application.

Enrollment for Continuing Education Units will be available at the Institute.

Please do not hesitate to call our office if you have any questions. We are looking forward to meeting you and to your contributions to the Institute.

****

India C. Plough, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Center for Language Education And Research (CLEAR)
A712 Wells Hall
Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824-1027
517/432-2286
Fax:517/432-0473
http://clear.msu.edu/

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 28, 1999 12:03 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Textbooks

Debbie:
Thank you for your message. Please find below the textbooks I want to use next semester:

SWA002 : Russell, J.(1996).Swahili:a complete course for beginners.Lincolnwood.NTC Contemporary Publishing Group.ISBN 0-8442-3709-4

SWA004 : ZAWAWI,S.(1988). Kiswahili kwa kitendo.Trenton.Africa World Press,Inc.

ZAWAWI.S.(1972).Say It in Kiswahili.New York.Dover Publications.

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 28, 1999 12:03 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Textbooks

Debbie:
Thank you for your message. Please find below the textbooks I want to use next semester:

SWA002 : Russell, J.(1996).Swahili:a complete course for beginners.Lincolnwood.NTC Contemporary Publishing Group.ISBN 0-8442-3709-4

SWA004 : ZAWAWI,S.(1988). Kiswahili kwa kitendo.Trenton.Africa World Press,Inc.

ZAWAWI.S.(1972).Say It in Kiswahili.New York.Dover Publications.

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 27, 1999 8:37 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer 2000

Debbie:

Thank you for your message. I want to teach Kiswahili in Summer 2000.
I prefer to teach in the morning.

Best wishes !

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 27, 1999 8:37 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer 2000

Debbie:

Thank you for your message. I want to teach Kiswahili in Summer 2000.
I prefer to teach in the morning.

Best wishes !

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 26, 2000 3:08 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Parking

Debby:

Thank you kindly for that heart-warming news and your effort to help me

with my parking problem.You really made my semester.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 26, 2000 3:08 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Parking

Debby:

Thank you kindly for that heart-warming news and your effort to help me

with my parking problem.You really made my semester.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2000 10:13 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer School

Debby:
I wish to teach Swahili in the summer at the usual time(9:45am).

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2000 10:13 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer School

Debby:
I wish to teach Swahili in the summer at the usual time(9:45am).

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 18, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; gchorne@email.unc.edu; Hall, Perry A <HALLPA@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; mwest1@email.unc.edu; Regester, Charlene B <regester@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Faculty meeting (fwd)

Debby:
I am sorry. I won't be there.I will be in class teaching.
Best!
Alphonse Mutima

On Thu, 17 Jan 2002, Deborah Crowder wrote:

> This is a reminder of the meeting tomorrow. DC
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Mon, 14 Jan 2002 10:23:08 -0500 (EST)
> From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
> To: bselassi@email.unc.edu, gchorne@email.unc.edu,
> Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>, hildebra@email.unc.edu,
> kaslo@email.unc.edu, krjanken@email.unc.edu, mlambert@email.unc.edu,
> mwest1@email.unc.edu, radunbar@email.unc.edu, regester@email.unc.edu,
> smutima@email.unc.edu, stgore@email.unc.edu,
> Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>, vkaalund@email.unc.edu
> Subject: Faculty meeting
>
> Professor Selassie has asked that I inform you that the faculty meeting to > discuss the chairmanship of the department will be held Friday, January 18 > from 1-3 pm in 206 Dey Hall. If you have any questions, please contact
> Dr. Selassie at selassi@email.unc.edu. DC
>
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 18, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Selassie, Bereket H <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; gchorne@email.unc.edu; Hall, Perry A <HALLPA@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Hildebrand, Reginald F <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Janken, Kenneth R <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Lambert, Michael C <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; mwest1@email.unc.edu; Regester, Charlene B <regester@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Faculty meeting (fwd)

Debby:
I am sorry. I won't be there.I will be in class teaching.
Best!
Alphonse Mutima

On Thu, 17 Jan 2002, Deborah Crowder wrote:

> This is a reminder of the meeting tomorrow. DC
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Mon, 14 Jan 2002 10:23:08 -0500 (EST)
> From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
> To: bselassi@email.unc.edu, gchorne@email.unc.edu,
> Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>, hildebra@email.unc.edu,
> kaslo@email.unc.edu, krjanken@email.unc.edu, mlambert@email.unc.edu,
> mwest1@email.unc.edu, radunbar@email.unc.edu, regester@email.unc.edu,
> smutima@email.unc.edu, stgore@email.unc.edu,
> Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>, vkaalund@email.unc.edu
> Subject: Faculty meeting
>
> Professor Selassie has asked that I inform you that the faculty meeting to > discuss the chairmanship of the department will be held Friday, January 18
> from 1-3 pm in 206 Dey Hall. If you have any questions, please contact
> Dr. Selassie at selassi@email.unc.edu. DC
>
>
>

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 11, 2002 10:11 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: meetings with Soloway

Debby:
Thank you for your message.Indeed the date you mentioned is the one I wanted.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 11, 2002 10:11 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: meetings with Soloway

Debby:
Thank you for your message.Indeed the date you mentioned is the one I wanted.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 25, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Chairmansip

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Thank you very much for letting us know this good news.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 25, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Chairmansip

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Thank you very much for letting us know this good news.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 12, 2002 4:15 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer 03

Debby:

Thank you for your message. I am happy with the way Swahili is scheduled in the summer.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 12, 2002 4:15 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer 03

Debby:

Thank you for your message. I am happy with the way Swahili is scheduled in the summer.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 12, 2006 2:29 PM
To: oswald.almasi@utoronto.ca
Cc: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Dr Almasi:

We offer Elementary (Sw 001&002) and Intermediate Swahili (Sw 003&004). Each class meets for fifty minutes three times a week. In one semester, each class meets for 45 hours.The amount of time for language laboratory activities is obviously not included .Students that take Swahili for language requirement must take Sw 001, Sw 002 and Sw 003.In other words, they must take a minimum of 135 hours of Swahili. Each academic year, we offer two classes of Swahili. Therefore, the number of hours Swahili is taught in one academic year is 90. The number of weeks in one academic year is 36.As far as the textbooks are concerned, we use "Tuseme Kiswahili" by Senkoro (2003) for Elementary Swahili and "Kiswahili kwa Kitendo" by Sharifa Zawawi (2001) for Intermediate Swahili. The class size differs , depending on the course level. However, we normally have a minimum of 25 students per class.

I wish you the best.

Alphonse Mutima, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor of Swahili
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 4:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: International Symposium on African & Diasporic Languages & Education

---

Dear Dr Nyang'oro,

I realized that the time was not right for me to discuss the "International Symposium on African & Diasporic Languages & Education" this afternoon.In effect, I initially touched base with Professor Lambert about it but he suggested that I discuss the situation with you as well.For your information, I placed the papers related to the syposium in your mail box. Please, let me know what you think about it.

Respectfully yours,

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 2, 2006 5:09 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown - New Crisis Group briefing]

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Thank you for forwarding the article to me. It is quite interesting.

Alphonse

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
>
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown - New > Crisis Group briefing
> From:
> "International Crisis Group" <reports@crisisgroup.org>
> Date:
> Mon, 2 Oct 2006 15:39:52 +0200
>
>
> INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW BRIEFING
>
> * Securing Congo's Elections *
>
> *Nairobi/Brussels, 2 October 2006: *The Congolese government and the > international community must move quickly to secure the run-off > presidential election between Joseph Kabila and Jean-Pierre Bemba on 29
> October 2006.
>
> Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown > <http://www.crisisgroup.org/home/index.cfm?id=4412&l=1>,* the latest > briefing from the International Crisis Group, analyses especially the > situation on the ground in the capital, which events after the first > round demonstrated is the most sensitive point in the country. Both > Kabila and Bemba will be strongly tempted to use violence should they > lose the second round, and the former in particular is very strong > militarily.
>
> "The violence on the afternoon of 20 August, several hours before the > electoral commission was due to announce the presidential results, > provided dramatic proof of the fragility of the electoral process in the > DR Congo", says Crisis Group Senior Analyst Jason Stearns.
>
> Around 18 million Congolese went to the polls on 30 July to choose a new > president and national assembly, the first free and fair elections in > over 40 years. The vote was largely peaceful and well organised, > although many irregularities were reported at polling stations. The > incumbent Kabila won 45 per cent, just short of an absolute majority.
> Bemba received 20 per cent. Kabila's Alliance for Presidential Majority > took some 300 of the 500 seats in the national assembly; Bemba's Union > of Nationalists won 116.
>
> To secure Kinshasa throughout the electoral period and after, Congolese > military, and particularly the private guards of Kabila and Bemba, which > are not part of the army's regular command structure, must be kept off > the streets. Heavy weaponry must be put under control of the UN mission > (MONUC) and the European Union mission (EUFOR). EUFOR needs to deploy > more troops to the capital from its reserve base in Gabon and give them > clear authority to use force to prevent violence, and Brussels should > extend this troop deployment until the new government takes office in > January 2007.

>
> It is also important for the international community to promote a > climate of constructive criticism by strengthening the High Media > Authority in order to prevent hate speech and defamation in press, > television and radio outlets which are often de facto allies of the > candidates and have helped stoke violence in the capital. Finally, > weaknesses in the electoral process, especially those related to > collection and reporting of ballots, must be urgently corrected to make > sure the run-off is seen by Congolese as fair and transparent.
>
> "The Congo's stability is at stake", says Caty Clement, Crisis Group's > Central Africa Project Director. "Elections, including those for > provincial parliaments which will also be held on 29 October, are the > first step. But real stability will come only when democratic > institutions such as courts, media and parliament are given real clout > and laws are enforced. Congolese will measure the peace dividend by > these changes".
>
> ---
> *Contacts: Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) 32 (0) 2 541 1635
> Kimberly Abbott (Washington) 1 202 785 1601*
> To contact Crisis Group media please click here
> <http://www.icg.org/home/index.cfm?action=form&fid=16&l=1>
> Read the full Crisis Group briefing on our website:
> http://www.crisisgroup.org* </>
> ---
>
> The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, > non-profit, non-governmental organisation covering over 50 > crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, > working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent > and resolve deadly conflict.
>
> ---
>
> * *
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 4, 2007 10:44 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: CCO Swahili

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Yesterday, when you asked me about your note,I had not had the chance to read my mail. I am sorry. However, I managed to have an appointment with Juddy next week about the current state of the work.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:

> Dear Mutima:
> Hope you are well. What is the progress on Kiswahili for Continuing > Studies? Everybody is waiting for us.
> JEN
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 11, 2008 4:26 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili
Attach: Superior Kiswahili VI.doc

Dear Debby,

Here is the syllabus for the Advanced Kiswahili Course (Kiswahili VI or Swah 406) that I developed within the framework of "course Development".

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI
Swah 406
Instructor: Alphonse S. Mutima, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor
Superior Kiswahili VI

Number 406
Effective Term : Spring 2009

Prerequisite SWAH 05 or equivalent

Course Justification

A number of students from UNC_CH are conducting research on various kinds of topics in villages or working with health professionals in towns of East or Central Africa. They definitely need six semesters of Kiswahili to achieve an Advanced Plus level of grammatical, cultural and communicative competence which will enable them to successfully communicate with the natives and complete their work. Therefore, an Advanced Plus level of Kiswahili is needed on the Swahili program.

Course Description

This course is offered to students who have completed Swah 405 or its equivalent. It is meant to reinforce the grammatical, cultural, and communicative competence achieved in Swah 405.It emphasizes a) communicative skills, b) interdisciplinary connections, c) cultural understanding, d) participation in multilingual communities at home and around the world. Its curricular content concentrates on a) dialogues, b) literary texts, c) DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa, d) magazines and newspapers articles.

Texts
Omar , S., A. and Rushubirwa , L., F., (2007). Tuwasiliane kwa Kiswahili. Madison. Nalrc Press.

Moshi, L., J., (1998).Kiswahili Language and Culture. Kensington . Dunwoody Press.

Kakakuona. 2001. Na 4.Julai-Septemba.Tanzania Wildlife Protection Fund.

Dictionaries

Institute of Kiswahili Research (1996) (2nd ed.). English-Swahili Dictionary.Dar es salaam. University of Dar es Salaam

Perrott, D.V., (1965).Swahili and English Dictionary.Chicago. The McGraw-Hill Companies

Johnson, F.(1978). A Standard Swahili-English Dictionary. Nairobi. Oxford Press

Course Objectives:

At the end of this course, the students should be able to:
.satisfy the requirements of a broad range of everyday, school, and work situations;
.support opinions, explain in detail, and hypothesize;
.show remarkable fluency and ease of speech;
.able to understand the main ideas of most speech in a standard dialect;
.grasp culturally implied meanings;
.follow essential point of written discourse at the Superior level in areas of special
.interest or knowledge;
.understand parts of texts which are conceptually abstract and linguistically complex and /or texts which treat unfamiliar topics and situations, as well as some texts which involve aspects of target-language culture, comprehend the facts to make appropriate inferences.
.write about a variety of topics with significant precision an in detail;
.write most social and informal business correspondence, describe and narrate personal experiences fully.
(ACTFL, 1998).

Requirements

Attendance at every session is mandatory. Each student is required to spend two hours per week in the Language Laboratory (DE) viewing a series of Kiswahili DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa. Parts of the videos and DVDs will be viewed and discussed in class according to the appropriate lesson content. In order to maximize learning, students are required to read the material for discussion before coming to class. The coursework comprises two written papers (20 pages each) that will be orally presented in class, two tests and a final examination. Each paper is typed and double-spaced.

Grading: Papers 30 % Tests 30% Final Examination 40%
Grade Scale: 100-90 A 89-80 B 79-70 C 69-60 D 59-50 F
Class schedule:

Week 1 (Jan.12, 14, 16) Review: The Kiswahili dialects, their speakers and cultural differences among the speakers. Proverbs .Grammatical structures (English and Kiswahili). The Noun Class System of Kiswahili revisited.(Omar p.11-47)

Week 2 (Jan. 21 & 23) Language of instruction in East Africa: pros and cons. (Omar p.49-57). Influence of English on everyday Kiswahili and the youth.

Week 3 (Jan.26, 28, 30) The effects of the environment on farming in Tanzania. Kiswahili skills enhancement and cultural understanding by way of expressing personal views and opinions (Omar p.59-68).

January 30: Test One

Week 4 (Feb.2, 4, 6) Effects of AIDS and Malaria on the society. Developing medical vocabulary about AIDS , Malaria and other common diseases. Nursing and its importance on the well-being of society in general (Omar p.69-78).

Week 5 (Feb.9, 11, 13) Non-verbal communication and kanga as a tool of communication. What is it? How does it work? When is it used? The cultural meaning of the kanga in East Africa? Where does the kanga come from? Where is it made (Omar p.79-108)? Who wears kanga , in what circumstances and when?

February 13: Presentation of paper #1

Week 6 (Feb.16, 18, 20)Non-governmental organizations in Tanzania and Harambee in Kenya. What are the objectives of TANGO and AMANI. Why Harambee? What does it do for the Kenyan society in general (Omar p.109-126) ?

Week 7 (Feb. 23, 25, 27) East African newspapers. Impact of technology on the Swahili society. How are different age groups impacted by technology. Students compare both East African societies and the American society in this regard (Omar p.137-144).

Week 8 (Mar.2, 4, 6) Gnus and their self-reproduction in Serengeti. Why such a huge number of them ? (Kakakuona p.4-5) What is their impact on the environment?

March 6: Test Two

Week 9 (Mar.16, 18, 20) Tourism and Woodland Conservation in Tanzania (Kakakuona p.7-11) and related professional vocabulary.

Week 10 (Mar.23, 25, 27) Tourism in Tanzania and Lake Victoria .Why are tourists attracted by them (Kakakuona p.12-15).

Week 11 (Mar.30, Apr.1, Apr.3) Conservation and national parks in Tanzania. Why does the country pay much attention on them (Kakakuona p.16-21).

Week 12 (Apr.6, 8) Health: Modern Medicine. Various health centers and types of health: Prenatal health care and Pediatrics (Moshi, p.146-161).

April 8: Presentation of paper #2

Week 13 (Apr.13, 15, 17) Healers and their impact on Modern Medicine and why people still trust them. (Moshi p.162-175). What is their impact on the health of society in general.

Week 14 (Apr.20, 22, 24). Traditions and Culture: Their impact on national identity. (Moshi p.176-190).

Week 15 (Apr.27) Art : carving (Moshi p.191-196).

Final Examination

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 11, 2008 4:26 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili
Attach: Superior Kiswahili VI.doc

Dear Debby,

Here is the syllabus for the Advanced Kiswahili Course (Kiswahili VI or Swah 406) that I developed within the framework of "course Development".

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI
Swah 406
Instructor: Alphonse S. Mutima, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor
Superior Kiswahili VI

Number 406
Effective Term : Spring 2009

Prerequisite SWAH 05 or equivalent

Course Justification

A number of students from UNC_CH are conducting research on various kinds of topics in villages or working with health professionals in towns of East or Central Africa. They definitely need six semesters of Kiswahili to achieve an Advanced Plus level of grammatical, cultural and communicative competence which will enable them to successfully communicate with the natives and complete their work. Therefore, an Advanced Plus level of Kiswahili is needed on the Swahili program.

Course Description

This course is offered to students who have completed Swah 405 or its equivalent. It is meant to reinforce the grammatical, cultural, and communicative competence achieved in Swah 405.It emphasizes a) communicative skills, b) interdisciplinary connections, c) cultural understanding, d) participation in multilingual communities at home and around the world. Its curricular content concentrates on a) dialogues, b) literary texts, c) DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa, d) magazines and newspapers articles.

Texts
Omar , S., A. and Rushubirwa , L., F., (2007). Tuwasiliane kwa Kiswahili. Madison. Nalrc Press.

Moshi, L., J., (1998).Kiswahili Language and Culture. Kensington . Dunwoody Press.

Kakakuona. 2001. Na 4.Julai-Septemba.Tanzania Wildlife Protection Fund.

Dictionaries

Institute of Kiswahili Research (1996) (2nd ed.). English-Swahili Dictionary.Dar es salaam. University of Dar es Salaam

Perrott, D.V., (1965).Swahili and English Dictionary.Chicago. The McGraw-Hill Companies

Johnson, F.(1978). A Standard Swahili-English Dictionary. Nairobi. Oxford Press

Course Objectives:

At the end of this course, the students should be able to:
.satisfy the requirements of a broad range of everyday, school, and work situations;
.support opinions, explain in detail, and hypothesize;
.show remarkable fluency and ease of speech;
.able to understand the main ideas of most speech in a standard dialect;
.grasp culturally implied meanings;
.follow essential point of written discourse at the Superior level in areas of special
.interest or knowledge;
.understand parts of texts which are conceptually abstract and linguistically complex and /or texts which treat unfamiliar topics and situations, as well as some texts which involve aspects of target-language culture, comprehend the facts to make appropriate inferences.
.write about a variety of topics with significant precision an in detail;
.write most social and informal business correspondence, describe and narrate personal experiences fully.
(ACTFL, 1998).

Requirements

Attendance at every session is mandatory. Each student is required to spend two hours per week in the Language Laboratory (DE) viewing a series of Kiswahili DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa. Parts of the videos and DVDs will be viewed and discussed in class according to the appropriate lesson content. In order to maximize learning, students are required to read the material for discussion before coming to class. The coursework comprises two written papers (20 pages each) that will be orally presented in class, two tests and a final examination. Each paper is typed and double-spaced.

Grading: Papers 30 % Tests 30% Final Examination 40%
Grade Scale: 100-90 A 89-80 B 79-70 C 69-60 D 59-50 F
Class schedule:

Week 1 (Jan.12, 14, 16) Review: The Kiswahili dialects, their speakers and cultural differences among the speakers. Proverbs .Grammatical structures (English and Kiswahili). The Noun Class System of Kiswahili revisited.(Omar p.11-47)

Week 2 (Jan. 21 & 23) Language of instruction in East Africa: pros and cons. (Omar p.49-57). Influence of English on everyday Kiswahili and the youth.

Week 3 (Jan.26, 28, 30) The effects of the environment on farming in Tanzania. Kiswahili skills enhancement and cultural understanding by way of expressing personal views and opinions (Omar p.59-68).

January 30: Test One

Week 4 (Feb.2, 4, 6) Effects of AIDS and Malaria on the society. Developing medical vocabulary about AIDS , Malaria and other common diseases. Nursing and its importance on the well-being of society in general (Omar p.69-78).

Week 5 (Feb.9, 11, 13) Non-verbal communication and kanga as a tool of communication. What is it? How does it work? When is it used? The cultural meaning of the kanga in East Africa? Where does the kanga come from? Where is it made (Omar p.79-108)? Who wears kanga , in what circumstances and when?

February 13: Presentation of paper #1

Week 6 (Feb.16, 18, 20)Non-governmental organizations in Tanzania and Harambee in Kenya. What are the objectives of TANGO and AMANI. Why Harambee? What does it do for the Kenyan society in general (Omar p.109-126) ?

Week 7 (Feb. 23, 25, 27) East African newspapers. Impact of technology on the Swahili society. How are different age groups impacted by technology. Students compare both East African societies and the American society in this regard (Omar p.137-144).

Week 8 (Mar.2, 4, 6) Gnus and their self-reproduction in Serengeti. Why such a huge number of them ? (Kakakuona p.4-5) What is their impact on the environment?

March 6: Test Two

Week 9 (Mar.16, 18, 20) Tourism and Woodland Conservation in Tanzania (Kakakuona p.7-11) and related professional vocabulary.

Week 10 (Mar.23, 25, 27) Tourism in Tanzania and Lake Victoria .Why are tourists attracted by them (Kakakuona p.12-15).

Week 11 (Mar.30, Apr.1, Apr.3) Conservation and national parks in Tanzania. Why does the country pay much attention on them (Kakakuona p.16-21).

Week 12 (Apr.6, 8) Health: Modern Medicine. Various health centers and types of health: Prenatal health care and Pediatrics (Moshi, p.146-161).

April 8: Presentation of paper #2

Week 13 (Apr.13, 15, 17) Healers and their impact on Modern Medicine and why people still trust them. (Moshi p.162-175). What is their impact on the health of society in general.

Week 14 (Apr.20, 22, 24). Traditions and Culture: Their impact on national identity. (Moshi p.176-190).

Week 15 (Apr.27) Art : carving (Moshi p.191-196).

Final Examination

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 12, 2008 1:49 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI

Dear Debby,

After I sent you the Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI document (course development), I realized that I forgot to delete the word "Superior" in the title on the top left side of the document.Maybe we can delete it on Monday.

Have a good weekend.

Alphonse

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, September 12, 2008 1:49 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI

Dear Debby,

After I sent you the Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI document (course development), I realized that I forgot to delete the word "Superior" in the title on the top left side of the document.Maybe we can delete it on Monday.

Have a good weekend.

Alphonse

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, January 15, 2009 6:41 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: The current situation of Swah 404

Dear Professor Nyangóro:

Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:

Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)

Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, January 15, 2009 6:41 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: The current situation of Swah 404

Dear Professor Nyangóro:

Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:

Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)

Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 16, 2009 12:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: The current situation of Swah 404

Mokonzi wa ngai:

Eboto mingi.Nakoya.

A.Mutima

I will be there.

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Muana Mboka:
> Let's meet on Wed at noon.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>>
>> Dear Professor Nyangóro:
>>
>> Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
>> I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current >> situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:
>>
>> Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
>> 3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)
>>
>> Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 16, 2009 12:42 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: The current situation of Swah 404

Mokonzi wa ngai:

Eboto mingi.Nakoya.

A.Mutima

I will be there.

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Muana Mboka:
> Let's meet on Wed at noon.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>>
>> Dear Professor Nyangóro:
>>
>> Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
>> I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current >> situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:
>>
>> Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
>> 3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)
>>
>> Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, February 2, 2009 10:48 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer Swahili

Dear Debby:

I do not know any academic institution that offers Kiswahili
in this area.

Best.

A.Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi all. Do you know anywhere a student could take level three of > SWAH this coming summer? We have a student from Davidson who is > trying to graduate and needs level 3 in the summer. Debby
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 2, 2009 10:48 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer Swahili

Dear Debby:

I do not know any academic institution that offers Kiswahili
in this area.

Best.

A.Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi all. Do you know anywhere a student could take level three of > SWAH this coming summer? We have a student from Davidson who is > trying to graduate and needs level 3 in the summer. Debby
>
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, February 5, 2009 4:10 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Course Submission Message]

Thank you, Debby for the wonderful news.

Alphonse

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> This is good news! Debby
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Course Submission Message
> From:
> Nicholas J Siedentop <nick_siedentop@unc.edu>
> Date:
> Tue, 3 Feb 2009 20:26:51 -0500
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
>
> SWAH-406 has received final approval. The transaction's data should be loaded to SIS soon (this process runs nightly).

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, February 5, 2009 4:10 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Course Submission Message]

Thank you, Debby for the wonderful news.

Alphonse

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> This is good news! Debby
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Course Submission Message
> From:
> Nicholas J Siedentop <nick_siedentop@unc.edu>
> Date:
> Tue, 3 Feb 2009 20:26:51 -0500
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
>
> SWAH-406 has received final approval. The transaction's data should be loaded to SIS soon (this process runs nightly).

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, February 17, 2009 4:44 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Swah401 for Friday Center

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you so much for acting upon my request relative to the LAC class and its scheduling.Those in charge of it have also recognized its conflict with Swah 404.Admittedly ,its next scheduling will accomodate Swah 404. The next issue is about the proposed Swah 401 for Friday Center . Debby called me and expressed some feelings to me about it.It was honestly hard to me.I really wish to have a few minutes with you next week to explain myself to you and what my plans are about it.

Best.

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, February 17, 2009 4:44 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Swah401 for Friday Center

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you so much for acting upon my request relative to the LAC class and its scheduling.Those in charge of it have also recognized its conflict with Swah 404.Admittedly ,its next scheduling will accomodate Swah 404. The next issue is about the proposed Swah 401 for Friday Center . Debby called me and expressed some feelings to me about it.It was honestly hard to me.I really wish to have a few minutes with you next week to explain myself to you and what my plans are about it.

Best.

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 24, 2009 10:19 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your note.I will attend the lecture.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the > faculty in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, March 24, 2009 10:19 AM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your note.I will attend the lecture.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the > faculty in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, March 27, 2009 12:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Mr.Kavanagh will talk to my students on Monday at 11:00am in CA 132.

Best.

Alphonse
Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the faculty > in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>
> ----------
>
> Subject: > journalist on Africa
> From:
> Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
> Date:
> Mon, 23 Mar 2009 13:12:57 -0400
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
>
> Dear Mike, Barbara and Julius,
>
> I am working with the Journalism School to bring a journalist who's been > covering the Congo.
>
> Michael Kavanagh will be just off his third month-long trip to eastern > Congo for the Pulitzer Center. Michael is primarily a radio journalist, > and his reporting has been broadcast on NPR and PRI/The World. He has > ventured into the television broadcast world with WorldFocus (WNET's new > weeknightly foreign affairs news program). His strongest recent radio > and video documentary work is on rape as an instrument of war -
> http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=58
> <http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=36>
>
> He's available to come speak in classes on Tuesday March 31, and is > giving a public lecture on Monday March 30 at 4 in Carroll Hall.
>
> Would you please let your students and faculty know? And if you'd like > her to come to a class, please be in touch with Richard Cole from the J
> School (cc:).
>

> It should be a great event.
>
> Best, Niklaus
>
> -------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill (fwd)
> Date: Mon, 16 Mar 2009 07:26:13 -0400 (EDT)
> From: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> To: nsteiner@unc.edu, raymond.farrow@unc.edu
> CC: richard_cole@unc.edu, Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
>
>
>
> Dear Nicklaus and Raymond:
>
> 1. Here is the draft poster that Ann Peters had done for the > 4 p.m. Monday, March 30, talk by the journalists. Please look at it and > give her suggested changes, or OK it. Now if you possibly could. There's > not much time. We need to get it publicized as much as possible. I'll > see if I can get an ad in The Daily Tar Heel, using the poster. Please > note: The poster has four sponsors listed; that must be worked out; you > decide, but quickly, please. PLEASE RESPOND DIRECTLY TO HER.
>
> 2. I haven't heard anything from you about possible classes for > one or more of the journalists to speak to. I have at least four > possibilities (they are not guaranteed because I was waiting to hear from > you):
>
> 11-12:15 a.m. Monday, March 30.
> 2-3:15 p.m. Monday, March 30.
>
> 8-10:50 a.m. Tuesday, March 31.
> 11-11:30 (short session) Tuesday, March 31.
>
> Please let me know quickly if you want one or more of the > journalists for a class, and when and where, plus the name of the class > and the teacher.
>
> 3. For this visit from the Pulitzer folks, there wasn't much > advance time, as you know well. For subsequen visits, there should be > more such time. But Ann Peters did want these people to come this > spring.
>
> Best, Richard.
>
>
> Richard Cole, Ph.D.
> John Thomas Kerr Jr. Distinguished Professor and Dean Emeritus
> School of Journalism and Mass Communication
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> Campus Box 3365
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3365
> Telephone: (919) 843-8289
> E-Mail: richard_cole@unc.edu
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Fri, 13 Mar 2009 13:49:08 -0400
> From: Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
> To: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> Cc: Janeen Heath <jheath@pulitzercenter.org>, richard_cole@unc.edu,
> Global Gateway <globalgateway@pulitzercenter.org>
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill
>
> Thanks for the update re classes Richard.
> I'm sending to you now the draft poster we've pulled together so you'll have on > hand while I'm finalizing a bit more of my email to Niklaus and Raymond. Note > that we kept in the CIBER reference but will need to hear whether that remains > or what other additions/changes there are after you've had a review. We can > put together additional promotional emails/material to make it easier for you > to send around to your students/campus lists/publications to further promote > the 4 p.m. event.

>
> As to classes, that's terrific that there is such great interest - Could you > fill me in on what those classes focus on so we can start thinking how we might > divide up the journalists among classes and how they can target their remarks > as we wait to hear back from the Business school and Global Education Center?
>
> Best regards, Ann
>
>
> --
> Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
> Director
> Center for Global Initiatives
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> CB# 5145
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145
>
> nsteiner@unc.edu
> Tel (919) 962-6855
> Fax (919) 962-5375
> http://cgi.unc.edu
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, March 27, 2009 12:25 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Mr.Kavanagh will talk to my students on Monday at 11:00am in CA 132.

Best.

Alphonse
Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the faculty > in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>
> ----------
>
> Subject: > journalist on Africa
> From:
> Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
> Date:
> Mon, 23 Mar 2009 13:12:57 -0400
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
>
> Dear Mike, Barbara and Julius,
>
> I am working with the Journalism School to bring a journalist who's been > covering the Congo.
>
> Michael Kavanagh will be just off his third month-long trip to eastern > Congo for the Pulitzer Center. Michael is primarily a radio journalist, > and his reporting has been broadcast on NPR and PRI/The World. He has > ventured into the television broadcast world with WorldFocus (WNET's new > weeknightly foreign affairs news program). His strongest recent radio > and video documentary work is on rape as an instrument of war -
> http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=58
> <http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=36>
>
> He's available to come speak in classes on Tuesday March 31, and is > giving a public lecture on Monday March 30 at 4 in Carroll Hall.
>
> Would you please let your students and faculty know? And if you'd like > her to come to a class, please be in touch with Richard Cole from the J
> School (cc:).
>

> It should be a great event.
>
> Best, Niklaus
>
> -------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill (fwd)
> Date: Mon, 16 Mar 2009 07:26:13 -0400 (EDT)
> From: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> To: nsteiner@unc.edu, raymond.farrow@unc.edu
> CC: richard_cole@unc.edu, Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
>
>
>
> Dear Nicklaus and Raymond:
>
> 1. Here is the draft poster that Ann Peters had done for the > 4 p.m. Monday, March 30, talk by the journalists. Please look at it and > give her suggested changes, or OK it. Now if you possibly could. There's > not much time. We need to get it publicized as much as possible. I'll > see if I can get an ad in The Daily Tar Heel, using the poster. Please > note: The poster has four sponsors listed; that must be worked out; you > decide, but quickly, please. PLEASE RESPOND DIRECTLY TO HER.
>
> 2. I haven't heard anything from you about possible classes for > one or more of the journalists to speak to. I have at least four > possibilities (they are not guaranteed because I was waiting to hear from > you):
>
> 11-12:15 a.m. Monday, March 30.
> 2-3:15 p.m. Monday, March 30.
>
> 8-10:50 a.m. Tuesday, March 31.
> 11-11:30 (short session) Tuesday, March 31.
>
> Please let me know quickly if you want one or more of the > journalists for a class, and when and where, plus the name of the class > and the teacher.
>
> 3. For this visit from the Pulitzer folks, there wasn't much > advance time, as you know well. For subsequen visits, there should be > more such time. But Ann Peters did want these people to come this > spring.
>
> Best, Richard.
>
>
> Richard Cole, Ph.D.
> John Thomas Kerr Jr. Distinguished Professor and Dean Emeritus
> School of Journalism and Mass Communication
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> Campus Box 3365
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3365
> Telephone: (919) 843-8289
> E-Mail: richard_cole@unc.edu
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Fri, 13 Mar 2009 13:49:08 -0400
> From: Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
> To: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> Cc: Janeen Heath <jheath@pulitzercenter.org>, richard_cole@unc.edu,
> Global Gateway <globalgateway@pulitzercenter.org>
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill
>
> Thanks for the update re classes Richard.
> I'm sending to you now the draft poster we've pulled together so you'll have on > hand while I'm finalizing a bit more of my email to Niklaus and Raymond. Note > that we kept in the CIBER reference but will need to hear whether that remains > or what other additions/changes there are after you've had a review. We can > put together additional promotional emails/material to make it easier for you > to send around to your students/campus lists/publications to further promote > the 4 p.m. event.

>
> As to classes, that's terrific that there is such great interest - Could you > fill me in on what those classes focus on so we can start thinking how we might > divide up the journalists among classes and how they can target their remarks > as we wait to hear back from the Business school and Global Education Center?
>
> Best regards, Ann
>
>
> --
> Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
> Director
> Center for Global Initiatives
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> CB# 5145
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145
>
> nsteiner@unc.edu
> Tel (919) 962-6855
> Fax (919) 962-5375
> http://cgi.unc.edu
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 3, 2009 12:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Friday Center Work

Dear Dr.Nyang'oro:

I am writing to let you know that my work is nearly ready.Somebody is helping me with the typing.I will turn it in next week.
I deeply thank you for being so patient with me.

Respectfully,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 3, 2009 12:20 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Friday Center Work

Dear Dr.Nyang'oro:

I am writing to let you know that my work is nearly ready.Somebody is helping me with the typing.I will turn it in next week.
I deeply thank you for being so patient with me.

Respectfully,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 21, 2009 12:26 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: REMINDER: Invitation for CFR Academic Conference Call with Anthony W. Gambino on Thursday, April 23]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for reminding us about the conference.By the way, I voted for our two candidates.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues: FYI
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 21, 2009 12:26 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: REMINDER: Invitation for CFR Academic Conference Call with Anthony W. Gambino on Thursday, April 23]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for reminding us about the conference.By the way, I voted for our two candidates.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues: FYI
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:14 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: ??????

Dear Debby:

I hold office hours on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10:00am to 10:50am and by appointment.Since my classes take place in buildings that are pretty far away from each other (MU,WI and SC)and are separated by an hour, I try to work either at the library or go back to my office for the remainder of the day.
The last week of the semester, I work in my office Monday-Thursday.I will not be in my office for the rest of this week due to our ALTA conference in Madison,WI.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> dc
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:14 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: ??????

Dear Debby:

I hold office hours on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10:00am to 10:50am and by appointment.Since my classes take place in buildings that are pretty far away from each other (MU,WI and SC)and are separated by an hour, I try to work either at the library or go back to my office for the remainder of the day.
The last week of the semester, I work in my office Monday-Thursday.I will not be in my office for the rest of this week due to our ALTA conference in Madison,WI.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> dc
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:24 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Meeting Monday April 27 at 10 am

Dear Debby:

I will be there. I need to specify though that at that time (Monday at10:00am-10:50am),I normally hold office hours.I will have to leave a sign at the door for any student that might need my help.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi Professor Mutima. Your chairman would like to meet with you and I > on Monday morning at 10 am to discuss some issues concerning > scheduling for the 09-10 academic year. We will need to meet in > Prof. Nyang'oro's office. Please confirm that you will be able to > make this meeting. Thank you. Debby
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:24 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Meeting Monday April 27 at 10 am

Dear Debby:

I will be there. I need to specify though that at that time (Monday at10:00am-10:50am),I normally hold office hours.I will have to leave a sign at the door for any student that might need my help.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi Professor Mutima. Your chairman would like to meet with you and I > on Monday morning at 10 am to discuss some issues concerning > scheduling for the 09-10 academic year. We will need to meet in > Prof. Nyang'oro's office. Please confirm that you will be able to > make this meeting. Thank you. Debby
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 28, 2009 7:13 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Swahili LAC (408)

Thank you, Debby for sharing that piece of information with us.

Alphonse
Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi to all. I just found out that SWAH 408 is on the books as an > approved course for fall 2009. Tanya Kinsella wants us to put it on > the books in case we find an instructor. I have no problem with that > if that is ok with everyone. At least now this is regularized, at > one hour credit. I would suggest that it would be in everyone's best > interest to not make exceptions to that, at least for the near > future. Debby
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 28, 2009 7:13 AM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Swahili LAC (408)

Thank you, Debby for sharing that piece of information with us.

Alphonse
Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi to all. I just found out that SWAH 408 is on the books as an > approved course for fall 2009. Tanya Kinsella wants us to put it on > the books in case we find an instructor. I have no problem with that > if that is ok with everyone. At least now this is regularized, at > one hour credit. I would suggest that it would be in everyone's best > interest to not make exceptions to that, at least for the near > future. Debby
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 2, 2009 9:11 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the material because making a decision. Technical documents are very time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.

Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you working in now

Best.

Alphonse

> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 2, 2009 9:11 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the material because making a decision. Technical documents are very time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.

Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you working in now

Best.

Alphonse

> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 3, 2009 8:55 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Thank you Debby. I beleive that Stefanie is still in town.She told me back in April that she would stay in Chapel Hill until the end of this month.Let's try her.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Just in case you deleted the first one. Do you know anyone else who > might be interested? dc
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, June 3, 2009 8:55 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Thank you Debby. I beleive that Stefanie is still in town.She told me back in April that she would stay in Chapel Hill until the end of this month.Let's try her.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Just in case you deleted the first one. Do you know anyone else who > might be interested? dc
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 3, 2009 9:05 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for asking.I would like to ask them directly and see what they have.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> I am in Georges Nzongola's office room 201. You should ask them > directly--or should I just send them your email? dc
>
> smutima@email.unc.edu wrote:
>> Dear Debby:
>>
>> Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how >> long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of >> students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the >> material because making a decision. Technical documents are very >> time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text >> do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore >> require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.
>>
>> Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you >> working in now
>>
>> Best.
>>
>> Alphonse
>>
>>
>>
>>> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>>>
>>
>>
>
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, June 3, 2009 9:05 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for asking.I would like to ask them directly and see what they have.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> I am in Georges Nzongola's office room 201. You should ask them > directly--or should I just send them your email? dc
>
> smutima@email.unc.edu wrote:
>> Dear Debby:
>>
>> Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how >> long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of >> students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the >> material because making a decision. Technical documents are very >> time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text >> do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore >> require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.
>>
>> Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you >> working in now
>>
>> Best.
>>
>> Alphonse
>>
>>
>>
>>> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>>>
>>
>>
>
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 8, 2009 8:00 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject:
Attach: pam.wps; pam.wps

Dear Debby:

I have attached the additional final examination versions requested by Judith Benowitz.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 8, 2009 8:00 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject:
Attach: pam.wps

Dear Debby:

I have attached the additional final examination versions requested by Judith Benowitz.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 12, 2009 3:41 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I hope that Professor Mutisya was able to get in touch with you yesterday.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 12, 2009 3:41 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I hope that Professor Mutisya was able to get in touch with you yesterday.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 25, 2009 7:13 PM
To: Benowitz, Judith <benowitz@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Blackwelder, June G <jgb@email.unc.edu>; Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Versions of the final exam

Judith:

I am sorry. I nearly forgot to let you know how things are, right now.Indeed, the three versions of the final exam are almost ready.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> Perfect. Thanks so much for the additional clarification. Debby
>
> June Blackwelder wrote:
>> Hi Debby,
>> We do not require that instructors include either a sample exam or an >> exam review exercise, but we do encourage instructors to provide >> information that will let students know what they can expect on the >> exam and how they can best prepare for it. Some instructors >> accomplish that by providing a sample exam.
>>
>> We request three versions of the final exam to be administered to >> students. This is so that we have a measure of security for the exam >> without having to ask the instructor to create a new exam for each >> student (we rotate through the versions as we administer the exams).
>> Also, some instructors allow students to retake the final exam if they >> fail it, and in those instances we use a different version for the >> retake.
>>
>> Hope this helps, but let us know if you have additional questions!
>> June
>>
>> Deborah Crowder wrote:
>>> Hi folks. I just had a conversation with Prof. Mutima. He did not >>> realize that he was to submit actual final exams for his SWAH >>> course. No wonder he didn't understand why he would have to submit >>> three versions of reviews of the final. Sorry, Prof. Mutima. I must >>> not have made that clear. So, one question: should there be a >>> "sample" exam and then 3 actual exams. Or should there be a review >>> instead of the "sample." I apologize for my ignorance, but I'm not >>> sure how you do these things. I can help facilitate the process more >>> if I understand it myself. Thanks in advance. Debby
>>>
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 25, 2009 7:13 PM
To: Benowitz, Judith <benowitz@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Blackwelder, June G <jgb@email.unc.edu>; Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Versions of the final exam

Judith:

I am sorry. I nearly forgot to let you know how things are, right now.Indeed, the three versions of the final exam are almost ready.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> Perfect. Thanks so much for the additional clarification. Debby
>
> June Blackwelder wrote:
>> Hi Debby,
>> We do not require that instructors include either a sample exam or an >> exam review exercise, but we do encourage instructors to provide >> information that will let students know what they can expect on the >> exam and how they can best prepare for it. Some instructors >> accomplish that by providing a sample exam.
>>
>> We request three versions of the final exam to be administered to >> students. This is so that we have a measure of security for the exam >> without having to ask the instructor to create a new exam for each >> student (we rotate through the versions as we administer the exams).
>> Also, some instructors allow students to retake the final exam if they >> fail it, and in those instances we use a different version for the >> retake.
>>
>> Hope this helps, but let us know if you have additional questions!
>> June
>>
>> Deborah Crowder wrote:
>>> Hi folks. I just had a conversation with Prof. Mutima. He did not >>> realize that he was to submit actual final exams for his SWAH >>> course. No wonder he didn't understand why he would have to submit >>> three versions of reviews of the final. Sorry, Prof. Mutima. I must >>> not have made that clear. So, one question: should there be a >>> "sample" exam and then 3 actual exams. Or should there be a review >>> instead of the "sample." I apologize for my ignorance, but I'm not >>> sure how you do these things. I can help facilitate the process more >>> if I understand it myself. Thanks in advance. Debby
>>>
>
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 19, 2009 4:30 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Classes for Waithera

Debby:

Mamarame urgently wants to know what classes Waithera would teach.I let him know that you and I are still working on the situation and that he should have an answer by tomorrow.Maybe, we should let her teach Swah 403 section 2 and one section of Introduction to African Studies to help Katie and the students of Swah 401.I am available for more discussion.

Best.

Alphonse

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 19, 2009 4:30 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Classes for Waithera

Debby:

Mamarame urgently wants to know what classes Waithera would teach.I let him know that you and I are still working on the situation and that he should have an answer by tomorrow.Maybe, we should let her teach Swah 403 section 2 and one section of Introduction to African Studies to help Katie and the students of Swah 401.I am available for more discussion.

Best.

Alphonse

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 17, 2009 3:00 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Official classroom for Swah 405

Debby:

I need an official classroom where I can meet with my students of Swah 405 and use the chalkboard/blackboard for teaching.They seem to have different interests.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 17, 2009 3:00 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Official classroom for Swah 405

Debby:

I need an official classroom where I can meet with my students of Swah 405 and use the chalkboard/blackboard for teaching.They seem to have different interests.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 23, 2009 3:04 PM
To: Crowder, Deborah A <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: enrollment in Swah 401/1 & Swah403/1

Dear Debby:

I just want to make sure that have contacted you personally to take care of their enrollment in Swahili.

Best.

Alphonse

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> Hello Professor. All of these students need to see me asap with a drop > add form (they can get those from Steele Bldg.) so that I can adjust > their registration. Debby
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>> Debby:
>>
>> I have allowed 1) , 2) ,and 3)
>> to enroll in Swah 401 section 1.I have also accepted >> and in Swah 403/1 because they told me that >> they were having problems with their Swah 403/2 scheduling.
>>
>> Best.
>>
>> Alphonse Mutima
>>
>
>
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 9, 2009 2:55 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Spring Text Books

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I will formally renew my textbooks.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Hello Language Folks:
> The Text Book Coordinator tells me that the people who are really behind > in the submission of the textbook requests are the language people. Even > if you are using the same books, you need to formally renew them.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 9, 2009 2:55 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Spring Text Books

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I will formally renew my textbooks.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Hello Language Folks:
> The Text Book Coordinator tells me that the people who are really behind > in the submission of the textbook requests are the language people. Even > if you are using the same books, you need to formally renew them.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 29, 2010 4:56 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: TA for Swah 112 2010

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah 112.
From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who is willing to take such a position.

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 29, 2010 4:56 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: TA for Swah 112 2010

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah 112.
From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who is willing to take such a position.

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 2010 12:45 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: TA for Swah 112 2010

Thank you, Professor Nyang'oro.

Alphonse

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Mutima:
> I will have to discuss the matter with Summer School as they are the > funders of Summer School. And before I do that, I will need to speak to > Tim McMillan who is our Summer School Administrator.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>> Dear Professor Nyang'oro:
>>
>> I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah >> 112. From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that >> intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who >> is willing to take such a position.
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 2010 12:45 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: TA for Swah 112 2010

Thank you, Professor Nyang'oro.

Alphonse

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Mutima:
> I will have to discuss the matter with Summer School as they are the > funders of Summer School. And before I do that, I will need to speak to > Tim McMillan who is our Summer School Administrator.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>> Dear Professor Nyang'oro:
>>
>> I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah >> 112. From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that >> intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who >> is willing to take such a position.
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 4, 2010 7:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Summer TA

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your reply.I totally understand the current budget situation.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Dear Mutima:
> As a matter of policy, Summer School does not provide funding for
> TAs. In the past when we gave you a TA, it was through Title VI
> Funding in International Studies (Niklaus Steiner) since the budget > support had been written in the grant. This particular grant ended > four years ago. I regret that we will not be able to fund a TA from > the department's instructional budget because of the budget cuts we > are facing this year. Good luck in Summer teaching.
> Best,
> Julius
>
>
>

From: Mutima, Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 4, 2010 7:02 PM
To: Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: Re: Summer TA

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your reply.I totally understand the current budget situation.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Dear Mutima:
> As a matter of policy, Summer School does not provide funding for
> TAs. In the past when we gave you a TA, it was through Title VI
> Funding in International Studies (Niklaus Steiner) since the budget > support had been written in the grant. This particular grant ended > four years ago. I regret that we will not be able to fund a TA from > the department's instructional budget because of the budget cuts we > are facing this year. Good luck in Summer teaching.
> Best,
> Julius
>
>
>

From:	Mutima, Sinamenye A </O=UNC EXCHANGE/OU=EXCHANGE ADMINISTRATIVE GROUP (FYDIBOHF23SPDLT)/CN=RECIPIENTS/CN=SINAMENYE A MUTIMA (SMUTIMA)>
Sent:	Thursday, July 21, 2011 2:40 PM
To:	Nyang Oro, Julius E <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject:	Renewal of Contract

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I am writing to thank you for renewing my teaching contract as a lecturer of Kiswahili.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima, Ed.D.

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 1, 2010 10:22 AM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject:

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

It is with deep regrets that I let you know that I was unable to go to California.However, I asked them to keep my file with them for a future opportunity.

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 12, 2006 2:29 PM
To: oswald.almasi@utoronto.ca
Cc: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Dr Almasi:

We offer Elementary (Sw 001&002) and Intermediate Swahili (Sw 003&004). Each class meets for fifty minutes three times a week. In one semester, each class meets for 45 hours.The amount of time for language laboratory activities is obviously not included .Students that take Swahili for language requirement must take Sw 001, Sw 002 and Sw 003.In other words, they must take a minimum of 135 hours of Swahili. Each academic year, we offer two classes of Swahili. Therefore, the number of hours Swahili is taught in one academic year is 90. The number of weeks in one academic year is 36.As far as the textbooks are concerned, we use "Tuseme Kiswahili" by Senkoro (2003) for Elementary Swahili and "Kiswahili kwa Kitendo" by Sharifa Zawawi (2001) for Intermediate Swahili. The class size differs , depending on the course level. However, we normally have a minimum of 25 students per class.

I wish you the best.

Alphonse Mutima, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor of Swahili
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, July 25, 2006 1:36 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Escaping the Conflict Trap: Promoting Good Governance in the Congo - New Crisis Group report]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for forwarding this intersting article to me. I hope that the concerned parties will act responsibly.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
>
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Escaping the Conflict Trap: Promoting Good Governance in the Congo - New > Crisis Group report
> From:
> "International Crisis Group" <reports@crisisgroup.org>
> Date:
> Thu, 20 Jul 2006 16:04:17 +0100
>
>
> INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW REPORT
>
> * Escaping the Conflict Trap in the Congo *
>
> Nairobi/Brussels, 20 July 2006: Congo's elections at the end of the > month could set the stage for renewed violence unless Kinshasa and > donors increase efforts to create a transparent and accountable government.
>
> Escaping the Conflict Trap: Promoting Good Governance in the Congo > <http://www.crisisgroup.org/home/index.cfm?l=1&id=4276>,* the latest > report from the International Crisis Group, examines the Democratic > Republic of the Congo in the run-up to the national elections scheduled > for 30 July 2006. This is the country's most promising moment since > independence, but there are huge dangers as well. The poll will create a > significant class of disenfranchised politicians and former warlords > tempted to take advantage of state weakness and launch new insurgencies.
>
> "As long as the principle access to resources is through public office, > strongmen will use any means necessary – including insurrection – to
