> gain public office", says Crisis Group Senior Analyst Jason Stearns.
> "Given the weakness of state institutions, in particular the security > forces, courts and parliament, those who lose the elections are likely > to prompt another conflict in the next few years if action is not taken > now".
>
> Corruption is hardly new to the Congo, but the logic of the 2002 peace > agreement, which established the current political transition, has > brought problems of governance into sharp relief. Senior positions in > the administration and state-run enterprises were shared between > signatories, and state resources were siphoned off to fund election > campaigns and private accounts. An estimated 60 to 80 per cent of > customs revenues are embezzled, a quarter of the national budget is not > properly accounted for, and millions of dollars are misappropriated in > the army and state-run companies.

>
> Donor support must focus on strengthening state institutions to promote > accountability. Parliament and the judiciary must be given adequate > funding to be able to oversee the executive. The legislature should also > set up a permanent committee to review mining contracts, and deals that > are unfavourable must be altered or cancelled. Congolese officials must > keep their campaign pledges and reform public administration to promote > accountability and transparency.
>
> Major international contributors should form a donors' group on good > governance to coordinate funding and policy advice for the new > government and regularly discuss governance issues with key ministries > and government anti-corruption bodies. Congolese civil society also has > an important role to play by tracking public expenditure and pressing > for sanctions against corrupt officials.
>
> "The international community has spent over $400 million to help > Congolese elect a democratic parliament. Now it must ensure this > institution and its various commissions are given the necessary tools > and resources to effectively fulfil its oversight function", says Caty > Clement, Crisis Group's Central Africa Project Director.
>
> ---
> To find out more, visit our Conflict in the Congo > <http://www.crisisgroup.org/home/index.cfm?id=2829&l=1> page, > which has links to Crisis Group's reports and opinion pieces on the > conflict, details of our advocacy efforts to date, links to other > resources, and information on what you can do to support Crisis Group's > efforts.
>
> ---
> *Contacts: Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) 32 (0) 2 541 1635
> Kimberly Abbott (Washington) 1 202 785 1601*
> To contact Crisis Group media please click here
> <http://www.icg.org/home/index.cfm?action=form&fid=16&l=1>
> Read the full Crisis Group report on our website:
> http://www.crisisgroup.org*
> ---
>
> The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, > non-profit, non-governmental organisation covering over 50
> crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, > working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent > and resolve deadly conflict.
>
> ---
>
> * Escaping the Conflict Trap: Promoting Good Governance in the Congo *
>
> EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS
>
> The Democratic Republic of Congo's strides toward peace could prove > short-lived if the government and donors do not increase efforts to > create a transparent and accountable government. State institutions such > as parliament, courts, the army and the civil service remain weak and > corrupt. The national elections scheduled for 30 July 2006 risk creating > a large class of disenfranchised politicians and former warlords tempted > to take advantage of state weakness and launch new insurgencies. Donors > must initiate new programs in support of good governance that include > more funding to strengthen state institutions (in particular parliament > and the various auditing bodies), as well as apply more political > pressure to make sure reforms are implemented.
>

> The Congolese state has suffered from corruption since independence. The > logic of the 2002 peace agreement, which established the current > political transition, has brought problems of governance into sharp > relief. Senior positions in the administration and state-run enterprises > were shared between signatories, and state resources were siphoned off > to fund election campaigns and private accounts. Between 60 and 80 per > cent of customs revenues are estimated to be embezzled, a quarter of the > national budget is not properly accounted for, and millions of dollars > are misappropriated in the army and state-run companies. The mining > sector is particularly prone to corruption, with valuable concessions > granted with little legitimate benefit to the state.
>
> These governance problems have an immediate impact on the humanitarian > situation. Unpaid soldiers harass and intimidate civilians. Factions > within the army and government continue to fight over mines and control > of border crossings. The displaced civilians have almost no health > services to fall back on, and 1,000 or more die daily as a result.
>
> While international attention has concentrated on elections, the other > elements of a stable democracy are weak or missing, including the > necessary checks on executive power. Parliament is poorly funded and > divided, mirroring the weakness of political parties. Parliamentary > inquiries lack necessary resources and expertise to be effective. The > judiciary is deeply politicised and inadequately funded. Not a single > official has been tried during the transition for corruption.
> Presidential and legislative candidates should have – but have not – > presented detailed plans for addressing corruption in customs, public > finance and natural resources.
>
> The incoming government will offer new opportunities for improving > governance. The president, parliament and local governing bodies will be > democratically elected and in theory accountable to their > constituencies. Twenty-six provinces are to be created out of the > current eleven, each with locally elected provincial assemblies, and to > manage 40 per cent of national revenues raised on their territories.
> Three new high courts will replace the current Supreme Court. But > without international support and funding, these institutions will > remain largely a shell.
>
> Donors have treated corruption as a technical problem and emphasised > data management systems, training programs and laws. They have shied > away from the more political aspects, such as strengthening parliament, > courts and anti-corruption and auditing bodies. They finance more than > half the national budget and should do more to press charges against > corruption suspects, make sure the government complies with the mining > code and hold multinational corporations accountable for violating > national and international norms.
>
> A complete overhaul of the approach to good governance is needed after > the elections, with much greater focus on strengthening institutions, > especially parliament and courts. The Poverty Reduction Strategy Paper > the new government is to publish later this year is already > substantially prepared but it should be supplemented by more detail on > anti-corruption initiatives and parliamentary capacity building. Major > donors should then launch plans to promote governance over a five-year > period and at the same time create a successor group to the > International Committee for the Support of the Transition to coordinate > their actions and their pressure on the incoming government to implement > the promised reforms.
>
> RECOMMENDATIONS
>
> To the Incoming Government of the Democratic Republic of Congo:
>
> 1. Fund parliamentary commissions sufficiently and cooperate with their > investigations.

>
> 2. Strengthen the judiciary by supporting legislation to guarantee the > independence of the courts and by funding them adequately.
>
> 3. Complete a census to get ghost officials off payrolls and raise > salaries of civil servants above the poverty level.
>
> 4. Create a National Program in Support of Governance to coordinate all > actions on behalf of good governance, headed by an anti-corruption czar > appointed by the president upon proposal of parliament and provided with > sufficient means to carry out the duties.
>
> 5. Promote accountability and transparency in the management of natural > resources by:
>
> (a) creating a sub-commission within the National Program in > Support of Governance to apply the criteria of the Extractive > Industry Transparency Initiative, including publishing all financial > transactions between companies and the government;
>
> (b) incorporating the provisions of the Extractive Industry
> Transparency Initiative into domestic law;
>
> (c) licensing an international NGO to monitor implementation of the > mining and forestry codes, in collaboration with the Ministry of > Mines and the Mining Inspection;
>
> (d) providing the anti-corruption czar and the sub-commission for > natural resources with websites on which to publish all payments and > mining contracts between the government and private companies and to > which complaints can be submitted; and
>
> (e) installing truck scales for mineral ore at border crossings and > laboratory equipment for mineral analysis.
>
> 6. Create an international oversight body within the National Program > in Support of Governance and deploy international personnel in all > government oversight bodies.
>
> 7. Create a cell within the Ministry of Finance responsible for > recording and investigating the declarations of assets made by members > of government before and after their tenure.
>
> 8. Carry out the decentralisation outlined in the constitution by:
>
> (a) setting up a commission within the Ministry of the Interior to > plan and implement creation of the 26 new provinces and their > provincial assemblies; and
>
> (b) creating local offices for the state auditor and financial > inspector, as well as for the National Program in Support of > Governance initiated in the government's anticipated Poverty > Reduction Strategy Paper.
>
> To Presidential and Legislative Candidates in the 30 July 2006 Elections:
>
> 9. Present detailed programs on how to reduce corruption, in particular > in public finances, customs and natural resources.
>
> To the Incoming Parliament:
>
> 10. Discuss, during the first session, the Lutundula Commission report > on contracts signed during the two wars and renegotiate or cancel mining > and forestry contracts that are not in the state's interest.

>
> 11. Create a permanent parliamentary commission on natural resources to > review contracts signed since 30 June 2003 and monitor compliance with > the mining and forestry codes as well as management of revenues in the > mining and forestry sectors.
>
> To Congolese Civil Society:
>
> 12. Address issues of governance and corruption through pressure on > national and provincial elected representatives, including by tracking > their voting records.
>
> 13. Put more focus on corruption, including by conducting advocacy > based on Congolese laws, as well as on the Organisation for Economic > Cooperation and Development Convention on Combating Bribery, the > Extractive Industry Transparency Initiative, and the U.S. Foreign > Corrupt Practices Act.
>
> 14. Create an NGO network dedicated specifically to governance issues > with a regularly updated website.
>
> To the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund:
>
> 15. Work with the government to ensure that, in accordance with Article > 46 of the mining code, titles to state-owned mining fields are granted > through open tenders.
>
> 16. Promote transparency and environmental protection in the forestry > industry by:
>
> (a) encouraging the government to enforce the moratorium on > concessions;
>
> (b) completing the zoning exercise to distinguish lands available > for industrial logging from those reserved for community activities > and environmental protection; and
>
> (c) contracting an NGO to work with the Ministry of Environment to > monitor compliance with the forestry law and ensure that tax > revenues flow back to local communities and concessions granted > comply with the zoning exercise.
>
> 17. Participate in a group with major governmental donors to coordinate > funding and other actions, in particular in the field of good governance.
>
> 18. Increase funding to state anti-corruption bodies, including the > proposed National Program in Support of Governance, the State Auditor, > the Financial Inspectorate and parliamentary commissions.
>
> To France, the UK, the U.S., Belgium, South Africa, the EU, the World > Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the African Development Bank and > Other Major Donors:
>
> 19. Form a new donors group on good governance to coordinate funding > and policy advice to the new government, regularly discuss governance > issues with key ministries and government anti-corruption bodies and > work closely with the proposed National Program in Support of Governance.
>
> 20. Put together a five-year donor plan, based on the new government's > anticipated Poverty Reduction Strategy Plan and the United Nations > Development Program's Congo Action Plan, that conditions a substantial > funding increase on steps to increase accountability and reduce > corruption and includes:
>
> (a) funding for parliamentary commissions at the national and > provincial level, in particular the commissions on natural resources > and economic and financial affairs;

>
> (b) reform of the judiciary, including an emergency plan for the > East and support for setting up the new High Court of Appeals, > Constitutional Court and State Council;
>
> (c) placement of international personnel in major anti-corruption > bodies;
>
> (d) support for the creation of 26 provincial assemblies within > three years, including funding for infrastructure and training; and
>
> (e) direct financial and technical support to the State Auditor, > the Army Inspectorate and the Financial Inspectorate.
>
> 21. Contract an international auditing firm to train and advise the > Ministry of Finance cell in charge of recording and investigating > government officials' asset declarations.
>
> To Major Investors and Trade Partners of the Congo, including Belgium, > France, the U.S., South Africa, China, Germany, Portugal and the UK:
>
> 22. Use export credits to promote accountability with national > companies by granting them only to companies that disclose all payments > to governments and demonstrate respect for international and domestic > laws and norms, including environmental, labour and anti-bribery laws > and norms.
>
> To the United Nations Mission in the Democratic Republic of Congo (MONUC):
>
> 23. Create a cell within the Political Affairs Division to monitor and > report on good governance in coordination with donors.
>
> Nairobi/Brussels, 20 July 2006
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 4:20 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: International Symposium on African & Diasporic Languages & Education

---

Dear Dr Nyang'oro,

I realized that the time was not right for me to discuss the "International Symposium on African & Diasporic Languages & Education" this afternoon.In effect, I initially touched base with Professor Lambert about it but he suggested that I discuss the situation with you as well.For your information, I placed the papers related to the syposium in your mail box. Please, let me know what you think about it.

Respectfully yours,

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 2, 2006 5:09 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown - New Crisis Group briefing]

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Thank you for forwarding the article to me. It is quite interesting.

Alphonse

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
>
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown - New > Crisis Group briefing
> From:
> "International Crisis Group" <reports@crisisgroup.org>
> Date:
> Mon, 2 Oct 2006 15:39:52 +0200
>
>
> INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW BRIEFING
>
> * Securing Congo's Elections *
>
> *Nairobi/Brussels, 2 October 2006: *The Congolese government and the > international community must move quickly to secure the run-off > presidential election between Joseph Kabila and Jean-Pierre Bemba on 29
> October 2006.
>
> Securing Congo's Elections: Lessons from the Kinshasa Showdown > <http://www.crisisgroup.org/home/index.cfm?id=4412&l=1>,* the latest > briefing from the International Crisis Group, analyses especially the > situation on the ground in the capital, which events after the first > round demonstrated is the most sensitive point in the country. Both > Kabila and Bemba will be strongly tempted to use violence should they > lose the second round, and the former in particular is very strong > militarily.
>
> "The violence on the afternoon of 20 August, several hours before the > electoral commission was due to announce the presidential results, > provided dramatic proof of the fragility of the electoral process in the > DR Congo", says Crisis Group Senior Analyst Jason Stearns.
>
> Around 18 million Congolese went to the polls on 30 July to choose a new > president and national assembly, the first free and fair elections in > over 40 years. The vote was largely peaceful and well organised, > although many irregularities were reported at polling stations. The > incumbent Kabila won 45 per cent, just short of an absolute majority.
> Bemba received 20 per cent. Kabila's Alliance for Presidential Majority > took some 300 of the 500 seats in the national assembly; Bemba's Union > of Nationalists won 116.
>
> To secure Kinshasa throughout the electoral period and after, Congolese > military, and particularly the private guards of Kabila and Bemba, which > are not part of the army's regular command structure, must be kept off > the streets. Heavy weaponry must be put under control of the UN mission > (MONUC) and the European Union mission (EUFOR). EUFOR needs to deploy > more troops to the capital from its reserve base in Gabon and give them > clear authority to use force to prevent violence, and Brussels should > extend this troop deployment until the new government takes office in > January 2007.

>
> It is also important for the international community to promote a > climate of constructive criticism by strengthening the High Media > Authority in order to prevent hate speech and defamation in press, > television and radio outlets which are often de facto allies of the > candidates and have helped stoke violence in the capital. Finally, > weaknesses in the electoral process, especially those related to > collection and reporting of ballots, must be urgently corrected to make > sure the run-off is seen by Congolese as fair and transparent.
>
> "The Congo's stability is at stake", says Caty Clement, Crisis Group's > Central Africa Project Director. "Elections, including those for > provincial parliaments which will also be held on 29 October, are the > first step. But real stability will come only when democratic > institutions such as courts, media and parliament are given real clout > and laws are enforced. Congolese will measure the peace dividend by > these changes".
>
> ---
> *Contacts: Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) 32 (0) 2 541 1635
> Kimberly Abbott (Washington) 1 202 785 1601*
> To contact Crisis Group media please click here
> <http://www.icg.org/home/index.cfm?action=form&fid=16&l=1>
> Read the full Crisis Group briefing on our website:
> http://www.crisisgroup.org* </>
> ---
>
> The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent,
> non-profit, non-governmental organisation covering over 50
> crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, > working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent > and resolve deadly conflict.
>
> ---
>
> * *
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 4, 2007 10:44 AM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: CCO Swahili

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Yesterday, when you asked me about your note,I had not had the chance to read my mail. I am sorry. However, I managed to have an appointment with Juddy next week about the current state of the work.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:

> Dear Mutima:
> Hope you are well. What is the progress on Kiswahili for Continuing > Studies? Everybody is waiting for us.
> JEN
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, May 8, 2007 6:12 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Images de l'Africain de l'Antiquite au xxe siecle

Wa bolingo Professeur Nyang'oro, (Dear Professor Nyang'oro)

Mbote (greetings).
Eboto mingi mpenza mpo na munkanda moye opesaki ngai lobi.
(Thank you so much for the book that you gave me yesterday).
Munkanda moye mosepelisi ngai mingi (That book pleases me a lot).
Nakotanga mwango na mpokwa ya lelo(I will read it this evening).
Tikala malamu, mokonzi(Good bye, chief).

Wa yo (Yours),

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, January 15, 2009 6:41 PM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: The current situation of Swah 404

Dear Professor Nyangóro:

Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:

Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)

Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 16, 2009 12:42 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: The current situation of Swah 404

Mokonzi wa ngai:

Eboto mingi.Nakoya.

A.Mutima

I will be there.

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Muana Mboka:
> Let's meet on Wed at noon.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>>
>> Dear Professor Nyangóro:
>>
>> Bonne Annee! I hope you and your family are doing well.
>> I am writing to let you know that I need to share with you the current >> situation of Swah 404.Please , find below my weekly teaching schedule:
>>
>> Mondays & Wednesdays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402 , section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , Section 2)
>> 3:pm-4:15pm (Swah 404)
>>
>> Fridays: 11:00am-11:50am (Swah 402, Section 1)
>> 1:00pm-1:50pm (Swah 402 , section 2)
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, February 5, 2009 4:10 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Course Submission Message]

Thank you, Debby for the wonderful news.

Alphonse

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> This is good news! Debby
>
> ----------
>
> Subject:
> Course Submission Message
> From:
> Nicholas J Siedentop <nick_siedentop@unc.edu>
> Date:
> Tue, 3 Feb 2009 20:26:51 -0500
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
> To:
> dacrowde@email.unc.edu
>
>
> SWAH-406 has received final approval. The transaction's data should be loaded to SIS soon (this process runs nightly).

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, February 17, 2009 4:44 PM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Swah401 for Friday Center

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you so much for acting upon my request relative to the LAC class and its scheduling.Those in charge of it have also recognized its conflict with Swah 404.Admittedly ,its next scheduling will accomodate Swah 404. The next issue is about the proposed Swah 401 for Friday Center . Debby called me and expressed some feelings to me about it.It was honestly hard to me.I really wish to have a few minutes with you next week to explain myself to you and what my plans are about it.

Best.

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, March 27, 2009 12:25 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Mr.Kavanagh will talk to my students on Monday at 11:00am in CA 132.

Best.

Alphonse
Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the faculty > in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>
> ----------
>
> Subject: > journalist on Africa
> From:
> Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
> Date:
> Mon, 23 Mar 2009 13:12:57 -0400
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
> To:
> Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson
> <b_anderson@unc.edu>, Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Richard > Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
>
>
> Dear Mike, Barbara and Julius,
>
> I am working with the Journalism School to bring a journalist who's been > covering the Congo.
>
> Michael Kavanagh will be just off his third month-long trip to eastern > Congo for the Pulitzer Center. Michael is primarily a radio journalist, > and his reporting has been broadcast on NPR and PRI/The World. He has > ventured into the television broadcast world with WorldFocus (WNET's new > weeknightly foreign affairs news program). His strongest recent radio > and video documentary work is on rape as an instrument of war - > http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=58
> <http://pulitzercenter.org/showproject.cfm?id=36>
>
> He's available to come speak in classes on Tuesday March 31, and is > giving a public lecture on Monday March 30 at 4 in Carroll Hall.
>
> Would you please let your students and faculty know? And if you'd like > her to come to a class, please be in touch with Richard Cole from the J > School (cc:).
>

> It should be a great event.
>
> Best, Niklaus
>
> -------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill (fwd)
> Date: Mon, 16 Mar 2009 07:26:13 -0400 (EDT)
> From: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> To: nsteiner@unc.edu, raymond.farrow@unc.edu
> CC: richard_cole@unc.edu, Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
>
>
>
> Dear Nicklaus and Raymond:
>
> 1. Here is the draft poster that Ann Peters had done for the > 4 p.m. Monday, March 30, talk by the journalists. Please look at it and > give her suggested changes, or OK it. Now if you possibly could. There's > not much time. We need to get it publicized as much as possible. I'll > see if I can get an ad in The Daily Tar Heel, using the poster. Please > note: The poster has four sponsors listed; that must be worked out; you > decide, but quickly, please. PLEASE RESPOND DIRECTLY TO HER.
>
> 2. I haven't heard anything from you about possible classes for > one or more of the journalists to speak to. I have at least four > possibilities (they are not guaranteed because I was waiting to hear from > you):
>
> 11-12:15 a.m. Monday, March 30.
> 2-3:15 p.m. Monday, March 30.
>
> 8-10:50 a.m. Tuesday, March 31.
> 11-11:30 (short session) Tuesday, March 31.
>
> Please let me know quickly if you want one or more of the > journalists for a class, and when and where, plus the name of the class > and the teacher.
>
> 3. For this visit from the Pulitzer folks, there wasn't much > advance time, as you know well. For subsequen visits, there should be > more such time. But Ann Peters did want these people to come this > spring.
>
> Best, Richard.
>
>
> Richard Cole, Ph.D.
> John Thomas Kerr Jr. Distinguished Professor and Dean Emeritus
> School of Journalism and Mass Communication
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> Campus Box 3365
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3365
> Telephone: (919) 843-8289
> E-Mail: richard_cole@unc.edu
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Fri, 13 Mar 2009 13:49:08 -0400
> From: Ann Peters <apeters@pulitzercenter.org>
> To: Richard Cole <colerr@email.unc.edu>
> Cc: Janeen Heath <jheath@pulitzercenter.org>, richard_cole@unc.edu,
> Global Gateway <globalgateway@pulitzercenter.org>
> Subject: Re: Visit of Your Folks to Chapel Hill
>
> Thanks for the update re classes Richard.
> I'm sending to you now the draft poster we've pulled together so you'll have on > hand while I'm finalizing a bit more of my email to Niklaus and Raymond. Note > that we kept in the CIBER reference but will need to hear whether that remains > or what other additions/changes there are after you've had a review. We can > put together additional promotional emails/material to make it easier for you > to send around to your students/campus lists/publications to further promote > the 4 p.m. event.

>
> As to classes, that's terrific that there is such great interest - Could you > fill me in on what those classes focus on so we can start thinking how we might > divide up the journalists among classes and how they can target their remarks > as we wait to hear back from the Business school and Global Education Center?
>
> Best regards, Ann
>
>
> --
> Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
> Director
> Center for Global Initiatives
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> CB# 5145
> Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145
>
> nsteiner@unc.edu
> Tel (919) 962-6855
> Fax (919) 962-5375
> http://cgi.unc.edu
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 3, 2009 12:20 PM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Friday Center Work

Dear Dr.Nyang'oro:

I am writing to let you know that my work is nearly ready.Somebody is helping me with the typing.I will turn it in next week.
I deeply thank you for being so patient with me.

Respectfully,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 12, 2009 3:41 PM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I hope that Professor Mutisya was able to get in touch with you yesterday.

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 25, 2009 7:13 PM
To: Judith Benowitz <benowitz@email.unc.edu>
Cc: June Blackwelder <jgb@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Versions of the final exam

Judith:

I am sorry. I nearly forgot to let you know how things are, right now.Indeed, the three versions of the final exam are almost ready.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Deborah Crowder wrote:
> Perfect. Thanks so much for the additional clarification. Debby
>
> June Blackwelder wrote:
>> Hi Debby,
>> We do not require that instructors include either a sample exam or an >> exam review exercise, but we do encourage instructors to provide >> information that will let students know what they can expect on the >> exam and how they can best prepare for it. Some instructors >> accomplish that by providing a sample exam.
>>
>> We request three versions of the final exam to be administered to >> students. This is so that we have a measure of security for the exam >> without having to ask the instructor to create a new exam for each >> student (we rotate through the versions as we administer the exams).
>> Also, some instructors allow students to retake the final exam if they >> fail it, and in those instances we use a different version for the >> retake.
>>
>> Hope this helps, but let us know if you have additional questions!
>> June
>>
>> Deborah Crowder wrote:
>>> Hi folks. I just had a conversation with Prof. Mutima. He did not >>> realize that he was to submit actual final exams for his SWAH >>> course. No wonder he didn't understand why he would have to submit >>> three versions of reviews of the final. Sorry, Prof. Mutima. I must >>> not have made that clear. So, one question: should there be a >>> "sample" exam and then 3 actual exams. Or should there be a review >>> instead of the "sample." I apologize for my ignorance, but I'm not >>> sure how you do these things. I can help facilitate the process more >>> if I understand it myself. Thanks in advance. Debby
>>>
>
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 17, 2009 3:00 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Official classroom for Swah 405

Debby:

I need an official classroom where I can meet with my students of Swah 405 and use the chalkboard/blackboard for teaching.They seem to have different interests.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 9, 2009 2:55 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Spring Text Books

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I will formally renew my textbooks.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Hello Language Folks:
> The Text Book Coordinator tells me that the people who are really behind > in the submission of the textbook requests are the language people. Even > if you are using the same books, you need to formally renew them.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 29, 2010 4:56 PM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: TA for Swah 112 2010

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah 112. From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who is willing to take such a position.

With warm regards,

Alphonse S. Mutima

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 2010 12:45 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: TA for Swah 112 2010

Thank you, Professor Nyang'oro.

Alphonse

Julius Nyang'oro wrote:
> Mutima:
> I will have to discuss the matter with Summer School as they are the > funders of Summer School. And before I do that, I will need to speak to > Tim McMillan who is our Summer School Administrator.
> JEN
>
> Alphonse Mutima wrote:
>> Dear Professor Nyang'oro:
>>
>> I am writing to request funds to hire a Teaching Assistant for Swah >> 112. From my standpoint, we might have at least 20 students in that >> intensive class.I do know a competent graduate student from UNC-CH who >> is willing to take such a position.
>>
>> With warm regards,
>>
>> Alphonse S. Mutima
>>
>

From: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 1, 2010 10:24 AM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: (no subject)

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

It is with deep regrets that I let you know that I was unable to go to California.However, I asked them to keep my file with them for a future opportunity.Thank you for your help and understanding.

Best regards,

Alphonse

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 1999 10:18 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: African Language Institute (fwd)

---------- Forwarded message ----------
Date: Mon, 26 Apr 1999 18:01:41 -0500
From: India Plough <ploughi@pilot.msu.edu>
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Cc: simonan@pilot.msu.edu, davisan@pilot.msu.edu
Subject: African Language Institute

Dear M. Mutima, (a hard copy of this letter will follow in US mail)

Thank you for your application materials and non-refundable fee of $15. I am very pleased to inform you that your application to attend The Teaching of African Languages Institute at Michigan State University's Center for Language Education and Research (CLEAR) May 14-16, 1999 has been accepted. In order to support your participation in this institute, we are able to offer the following:

7 The Institute fee of $200 is waived;

7 Travel expenses will be covered.

' If you will be traveling by car, we will reimburse you according to MSU's official travel distances at the rate of .31 per mile. We will provide you with a Visitor's Parking Pass for campus.
' If you will be flying to Lansing airport, you must make your reservations through MSU's official travel agent, Spartan Travel (1-800-684-7384). You must make your reservations at least 14 days in advance. CLEAR is able to cover "the lowest logical (considering cost and time) available airfare, which is defined as travel (a) in coach or economy class, unless a Certified Travel Agent certifies non-availability, and (b) via the most logical and efficient route taking into consideration the business traveler's objective and airline penalties and restrictions." Spartan Travel will invoice CLEAR directly for your airfare. We will also reimburse you for taxi fare to and from the airport and for airport parking. In making travel arrangements, please note that a Welcome Reception is scheduled for May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Corniche Room of MSU's Kellogg Center.

7 Lodging at Owen Graduate Center will be paid. Accommodations at Owen include $8 per day credit in the Owen cafeteria. Reservations for Owen can be made by calling Anne or Anna at the CLEAR office. You must make your reservations by April 28, 1999. If you choose to stay at a local hotel, CLEAR will reimburse your lodging/food at the Owen rate of $26 per day.

We hope that you will be able to attend this institute and ask you to let us know of your intentions as soon as possible. After we receive your acceptance, we will send you more detailed information about the Institute, including a daily schedule, and directions to MSU.

Enclosed please find an application for Lifelong Education. If you are enrolling in the Institute for credit, please send this application directly to:

Registrar's Office
150 Administration Building

Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824

The Registrar will send you information about how to enroll and register for the course. If you are not enrolling for credit, it is not necessary to return the application.

Enrollment for Continuing Education Units will be available at the Institute.

Please do not hesitate to call our office if you have any questions. We are looking forward to meeting you and to your contributions to the Institute.

****

India C. Plough, Ph.D.
Associate Director
Center for Language Education And Research (CLEAR)
A712 Wells Hall
Michigan State University
East Lansing, MI 48824-1027
517/432-2286
Fax:517/432-0473
http://clear.msu.edu/

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 30, 1999 10:22 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Forwarded mail....

---------- Forwarded message ----------
Date: Wed, 28 Apr 1999 09:29:03 -0400
From: Anne Simon <simonan@pilot.msu.edu>
To: unlisted-recipients: ;

Ms. Heddy Keith,
Mr. Masangu Matondo,
Mr. Sam Mchombo,
Ms. Judith Mmari,
Mr. Alphonse Mutima,
Dr. Ntanda Nkere,
Mr. Zilungile Sosibo,

We have received your acceptance to participate in our Summer
African Languages Institute.

If you are planning on staying at our Owen Graduate Center, you need to inform us of this today. Our deadline to inform them of the number of persons staying there is tomorrow (4/29/99) morning.
We need to know which days you need accomodations for, and whether you prefer a smoking or non-smoking room. Also, if you will be using Spartan Travel for your travel arrangements, please notify Ms. Anna Davis (davisan@pilot.msu.edu) of those details.

We appreciate your timely response and we look forward to seeing you in May.
Thank you.

Anne Simon
Office Assistant CLEAR

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 28, 1999 12:03 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Textbooks

Debbie:
Thank you for your message. Please find below the textbooks I want to use next semester:

SWA002 : Russell, J.(1996).Swahili:a complete course for beginners.Lincolnwood.NTC Contemporary Publishing Group.ISBN 0-8442-3709-4

SWA004 : ZAWAWI,S.(1988). Kiswahili kwa kitendo.Trenton.Africa World Press,Inc.

ZAWAWI.S.(1972).Say It in Kiswahili.New York.Dover Publications.

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, September 28, 1999 12:21 PM

To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>

Cc: Arturo Velasquez <avelasqu@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Catharine Newbury <cnewbury@unc.edu>; Charlene Regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; Jennifer Coffman <jcoffman@email.unc.edu>; Julius E. Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Michael West <mwest1@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Reginald F. Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Robin Vander <vander@email.unc.edu>; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Valerie Kaalund <vkaalund@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Robert Porter <rporter@email.unc.edu>; Rachel Watkins <rwatkins@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <anderso4@bellsouth.net>; Karla Slocum <kaslo@email.unc.edu>; Jayna Byrd <jcb@email.unc.edu>; Deborah A. Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <NYANGORO@SOCSCI.uct.ac.za>

Subject: Re: Newbury Elected to ASA Office

Ann:
Thank you for informing us about the election of Catharine Newbury as Vice-President/President elect of the African Studies association.It is an honor to her and to all of us who work with her in some capacity.
Indeed, I join you to congratulate Catharine Newbury for that wonderful position.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 27, 1999 8:37 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer 2000

Debbie:

Thank you for your message. I want to teach Kiswahili in Summer 2000.
I prefer to teach in the morning.

Best wishes !

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 26, 2000 3:08 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Parking

Debby:

Thank you kindly for that heart-warming news and your effort to help me with my parking problem.You really made my semester.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2000 10:13 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer School

Debby:
I wish to teach Swahili in the summer at the usual time(9:45am).

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 18, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Cc: bselassi@email.unc.edu; gchorne@email.unc.edu; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; hildebra@email.unc.edu; krjanken@email.unc.edu; mlambert@email.unc.edu; mwest1@email.unc.edu; regester@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Faculty meeting (fwd)

Debby:
I am sorry. I won't be there.I will be in class teaching.
Best!
Alphonse Mutima

On Thu, 17 Jan 2002, Deborah Crowder wrote:

> This is a reminder of the meeting tomorrow. DC
>
> ---------- Forwarded message ----------
> Date: Mon, 14 Jan 2002 10:23:08 -0500 (EST)
> From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
> To: bselassi@email.unc.edu, gchorne@email.unc.edu,
> Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>, hildebra@email.unc.edu, > kaslo@email.unc.edu, krjanken@email.unc.edu, mlambert@email.unc.edu, > mwest1@email.unc.edu, radunbar@email.unc.edu, regester@email.unc.edu, > smutima@email.unc.edu, stgore@email.unc.edu,
> Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>, vkaalund@email.unc.edu
> Subject: Faculty meeting
>
> Professor Selassie has asked that I inform you that the faculty meeting to > discuss the chairmanship of the department will be held Friday, January 18 > from 1-3 pm in 206 Dey Hall. If you have any questions, please contact > Dr. Selassie at selassi@email.unc.edu. DC
>
>
>

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 11, 2002 10:11 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: meetings with Soloway

Debby:
Thank you for your message.Indeed the date you mentioned is the one I wanted.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 25, 2002 10:16 AM
To: Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Chairmansip

Dear Dr Nyang'oro:

Thank you very much for letting us know this good news.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 12, 2002 4:15 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer 03

Debby:

Thank you for your message. I am happy with the way Swahili is scheduled in the summer.

Best regards.

Alphonse Mutima

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 11, 2008 4:26 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili
Attach: Superior Kiswahili VI.doc

Dear Debby,

Here is the syllabus for the Advanced Kiswahili Course (Kiswahili VI or Swah 406) that I developed within the framework of "course Development".

With warm regards,

Alphonse Mutima

Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI
Swah 406
Instructor: Alphonse S. Mutima, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor
Superior Kiswahili VI

Number 406
Effective Term : Spring 2009

Prerequisite SWAH 05 or equivalent

Course Justification

A number of students from UNC_CH are conducting research on various kinds of topics in villages or working with health professionals in towns of East or Central Africa. They definitely need six semesters of Kiswahili to achieve an Advanced Plus level of grammatical, cultural and communicative competence which will enable them to successfully communicate with the natives and complete their work. Therefore, an Advanced Plus level of Kiswahili is needed on the Swahili program.

Course Description

This course is offered to students who have completed Swah 405 or its equivalent. It is meant to reinforce the grammatical, cultural, and communicative competence achieved in Swah 405.It emphasizes a) communicative skills, b) interdisciplinary connections, c) cultural understanding, d) participation in multilingual communities at home and around the world. Its curricular content concentrates on a) dialogues, b) literary texts, c) DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa, d) magazines and newspapers articles.

Texts
Omar , S., A. and Rushubirwa , L., F., (2007). Tuwasiliane kwa Kiswahili. Madison. Nalrc Press.

Moshi, L., J., (1998).Kiswahili Language and Culture. Kensington . Dunwoody Press.

Kakakuona. 2001. Na 4.Julai-Septemba.Tanzania Wildlife Protection Fund.

Dictionaries

Institute of Kiswahili Research (1996) (2nd ed.). English-Swahili Dictionary.Dar es salaam. University of Dar es Salaam

Perrott, D.V., (1965).Swahili and English Dictionary.Chicago. The McGraw-Hill Companies

Johnson, F.(1978). A Standard Swahili-English Dictionary. Nairobi. Oxford Press

Course Objectives:

At the end of this course, the students should be able to:
.satisfy the requirements of a broad range of everyday, school, and work situations;
.support opinions, explain in detail, and hypothesize;
.show remarkable fluency and ease of speech;
.able to understand the main ideas of most speech in a standard dialect;
.grasp culturally implied meanings;
.follow essential point of written discourse at the Superior level in areas of special .interest or knowledge;
.understand parts of texts which are conceptually abstract and linguistically complex and /or texts which treat unfamiliar topics and situations, as well as some texts which involve aspects of target-language culture, comprehend the facts to make appropriate inferences.
.write about a variety of topics with significant precision an in detail;
.write most social and informal business correspondence, describe and narrate personal experiences fully.
(ACTFL, 1998).

Requirements

Attendance at every session is mandatory. Each student is required to spend two hours per week in the Language Laboratory (DE) viewing a series of Kiswahili DVDs and videos filmed in East Africa. Parts of the videos and DVDs will be viewed and discussed in class according to the appropriate lesson content. In order to maximize learning, students are required to read the material for discussion before coming to class. The coursework comprises two written papers (20 pages each) that will be orally presented in class, two tests and a final examination. Each paper is typed and double-spaced.

Grading: Papers 30 % Tests 30% Final Examination 40%
Grade Scale: 100-90 A 89-80 B 79-70 C 69-60 D 59-50 F
Class schedule:

Week 1 (Jan.12, 14, 16) Review: The Kiswahili dialects, their speakers and cultural differences among the speakers. Proverbs .Grammatical structures (English and Kiswahili). The Noun Class System of Kiswahili revisited.(Omar p.11-47)

Week 2 (Jan. 21 & 23) Language of instruction in East Africa: pros and cons. (Omar p.49-57). Influence of English on everyday Kiswahili and the youth.

Week 3 (Jan.26, 28, 30) The effects of the environment on farming in Tanzania. Kiswahili skills enhancement and cultural understanding by way of expressing personal views and opinions (Omar p.59-68).

January 30: Test One

Week 4 (Feb.2, 4, 6) Effects of AIDS and Malaria on the society. Developing medical vocabulary about AIDS , Malaria and other common diseases. Nursing and its importance on the well-being of society in general (Omar p.69-78).

Week 5 (Feb.9, 11, 13) Non-verbal communication and kanga as a tool of communication. What is it? How does it work? When is it used? The cultural meaning of the kanga in East Africa? Where does the kanga come from? Where is it made (Omar p.79-108)? Who wears kanga , in what circumstances and when?

February 13: Presentation of paper #1

Week 6 (Feb.16, 18, 20)Non-governmental organizations in Tanzania and Harambee in Kenya. What are the objectives of TANGO and AMANI. Why Harambee? What does it do for the Kenyan society in general (Omar p.109-126) ?

Week 7 (Feb. 23, 25, 27) East African newspapers. Impact of technology on the Swahili society. How are different age groups impacted by technology. Students compare both East African societies and the American society in this regard (Omar p.137-144).

Week 8 (Mar.2, 4, 6) Gnus and their self-reproduction in Serengeti. Why such a huge number of them ? (Kakakuona p.4-5) What is their impact on the environment?

March 6: Test Two

Week 9 (Mar.16, 18, 20) Tourism and Woodland Conservation in Tanzania (Kakakuona p.7-11) and related professional vocabulary.

Week 10 (Mar.23, 25, 27) Tourism in Tanzania and Lake Victoria .Why are tourists attracted by them (Kakakuona p.12-15).

Week 11 (Mar.30, Apr.1, Apr.3) Conservation and national parks in Tanzania. Why does the country pay much attention on them (Kakakuona p.16-21).

Week 12 (Apr.6, 8) Health: Modern Medicine. Various health centers and types of health: Prenatal health care and Pediatrics (Moshi, p.146-161).

April 8: Presentation of paper #2

Week 13 (Apr.13, 15, 17) Healers and their impact on Modern Medicine and why people still trust them. (Moshi p.162-175). What is their impact on the health of society in general.

Week 14 (Apr.20, 22, 24). Traditions and Culture: Their impact on national identity. (Moshi p.176-190).

Week 15 (Apr.27) Art : carving (Moshi p.191-196).

Final Examination

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 12, 2008 1:49 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI

Dear Debby,

After I sent you the Advanced Plus Kiswahili VI document (course development), I realized that I forgot to delete the word "Superior" in the title on the top left side of the document.Maybe we can delete it on Monday.

Have a good weekend.

Alphonse

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, February 2, 2009 10:48 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: summer Swahili

Dear Debby:

I do not know any academic institution that offers Kiswahili in this area.

Best.

A.Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi all. Do you know anywhere a student could take level three of > SWAH this coming summer? We have a student from Davidson who is > trying to graduate and needs level 3 in the summer. Debby
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 24, 2009 10:19 AM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: journalist on Africa]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your note.I will attend the lecture.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues:
> I am forwarding notice of a visitor who looks interesting. I am > forwarding this specifically to the three of you because of your > personal interest but I will forward it again to the rest of the > faculty in the department.
> Best,
> Julius
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, April 21, 2009 12:26 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: REMINDER: Invitation for CFR Academic Conference Call with Anthony W. Gambino on Thursday, April 23]

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for reminding us about the conference.By the way, I voted for our two candidates.

Alphonse

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Colleagues: FYI
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:14 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: ??????

Dear Debby:

I hold office hours on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10:00am to 10:50am and by appointment.Since my classes take place in buildings that are pretty far away from each other (MU,WI and SC)and are separated by an hour, I try to work either at the library or go back to my office for the remainder of the day.
The last week of the semester, I work in my office Monday-Thursday.I will not be in my office for the rest of this week due to our ALTA conference in Madison,WI.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> dc
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, April 22, 2009 6:24 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Meeting Monday April 27 at 10 am

Dear Debby:

I will be there. I need to specify though that at that time (Monday at10:00am-10:50am),I normally hold office hours.I will have to leave a sign at the door for any student that might need my help.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi Professor Mutima. Your chairman would like to meet with you and I > on Monday morning at 10 am to discuss some issues concerning > scheduling for the 09-10 academic year. We will need to meet in > Prof. Nyang'oro's office. Please confirm that you will be able to > make this meeting. Thank you. Debby
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 28, 2009 7:13 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Swahili LAC (408)

Thank you, Debby for sharing that piece of information with us.

Alphonse
Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> Hi to all. I just found out that SWAH 408 is on the books as an > approved course for fall 2009. Tanya Kinsella wants us to put it on > the books in case we find an instructor. I have no problem with that > if that is ok with everyone. At least now this is regularized, at > one hour credit. I would suggest that it would be in everyone's best > interest to not make exceptions to that, at least for the near > future. Debby
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 2, 2009 9:11 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the material because making a decision. Technical documents are very time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.

Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you working in now

Best.

Alphonse

> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 3, 2009 9:05 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: [Fwd: Transcriber Needed]

Dear Debby:

Thank you for asking.I would like to ask them directly and see what they have.

Best.

Alphonse

Quoting Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>:

> I am in Georges Nzongola's office room 201. You should ask them > directly--or should I just send them your email? dc
>
> smutima@email.unc.edu wrote:
>> Dear Debby:
>>
>> Thank you for forwarding me the message. I just need to know how >> long the text is.Given the intensity of Swah 112 and the number of >> students I have without a TA, I need to know the content of the >> material because making a decision. Technical documents are very >> time consumming.Sometimes, the concepts involved in the English text >> do not have their equivalents in the other language and therefore >> require some approximation.This is the crux of the problem.
>>
>> Could they send you the text? Incidentally, what office are you >> working in now
>>
>> Best.
>>
>> Alphonse
>>
>>
>>
>>> Are you interested or do you want to suggest someone? dc
>>>
>>
>>
>
>
>

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 8, 2009 8:00 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject:
Attach: pam.wps; pam.wps

Dear Debby:

I have attached the additional final examination versions requested by Judith Benowitz.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

XV. Shughuli za Pamela: Pamela s' activities

Pamela anaishi na wazazi wake katika jiji la Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. Yeye ni msichana hodari. Anasoma katika Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam. Anamsaidia mama yake kwa kazi za nyumbani. Pamela anaamka asubuhi mapema na kujiandaa kwa masomo yake. Kabla ya kwenda chuoni anafagia nyumba ya wazazi wake. Halafu anachemsha chai . Anakula mkate na chai kwa chamshakinywa . Saa moja asubuhi anakwenda kituo cha basi. Chuoni , Pamela anawatii walimu wake. Kwa hiyo, walimu wake wanampenda sana. Baada ya kula chakula cha jioni na kuosha vyombo , Pamela anatazama televisheni kidogo. Kisha anasoma vitabu vyake au magazeti.

Jibu Maswali Yafuatayo. Answer the next questions.

1. Pamela anaishi na nani?

---

2. Pamela na wazazi wake wanaishi wapi?

3.Pamela anasoma wapi?

---

4. Pamela ni msichana mvivu, sivyo?

---

5. Pamela anamsaidia mama yake vipi?

---

6. Pamela anakula nini kwa chakula cha asubuhi?

---

7. Pamela anakwenda kituo cha basi saa ngapi?

---

8. Nani wanampenda Pamela?

9.Pamela anatazama televisheni sana, sivyo?

---

10. Pamela anasoma nini baada ya chakula cha jioni?

XVI Andika sentensi 5 ukitumia maneno haya. Write 5 sentences by using these words.

husoma lako katika yule cha anasafisha rafiki na nyama dada jina karatasi andika tutasafiri msichana kwa siku kila magazeti maji ya matunda mimi zangu alipika tulikula juzi wali kwa tulikunywa mgahawani ndege vinywaji hawa soka mvinyo yangu viazi vitamu jana kesho nane kutwa Ulaya nitaenda mfanyakazi leo chumba mgeni vijana watacheza Jumamosi maktaba saa mchana

1. ----------

2. ----------

3. ----------

4.----------

5.----------

XVII Nini maswali kwa majibu haya. What are the questions to the next answers?

kwa mfano: ----------? Nilikula mayai na mkate.

Ulikula nini kwa chamshakinywa?

1.----------? Mtalii yuko nje ya hoteli.

2.----------? Tuansoma magazeti.

3.----------? Walisafiri huko kwa basi.

4.----------? Ninatumia sabuni kwa kufua mavazi yangu.

5.----------? Ninapenda matufaa na machungwa.

6.----------? Marahaba.

7. ----------? Twende sinema.

8.----------? Amepoteza saa kofia yake.

9. ----------? Amevaa suti nyeusi.

10. ----------? Yeye atarudi mwisho wa mwezi.

XV. Shughuli za Pamela: Pamela s' activities

Pamela anaishi na wazazi wake katika jiji la Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. Yeye ni msichana hodari. Anasoma katika Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam. Anamsaidia mama yake kwa kazi za nyumbani. Pamela anaamka asubuhi mapema na kujiandaa kwa masomo yake. Kabla ya kwenda chuoni anafagia nyumba ya wazazi wake. Halafu anachemsha chai . Anakula mkate na chai kwa chamshakinywa . Saa moja asubuhi anakwenda kituo cha basi. Chuoni , Pamela anawatii walimu wake. Kwa hiyo, walimu wake wanampenda sana. Baada ya kula chakula cha jioni na kuosha vyombo , Pamela anatazama televisheni kidogo. Kisha anasoma vitabu vyake au magazeti.

Jibu Maswali Yafuatayo. Answer the next questions.

1. Pamela anaishi na nani?

---

2. Pamela na wazazi wake wanaishi wapi?

3.Pamela anasoma wapi?

---

4. Pamela ni msichana mvivu, sivyo?

---

5. Pamela anamsaidia mama yake vipi?

---

6. Pamela anakula nini kwa chakula cha asubuhi?

---

7. Pamela anakwenda kituo cha basi saa ngapi?

---

8. Nani wanampenda Pamela?

9.Pamela anatazama televisheni sana, sivyo?

---

10. Pamela anasoma nini baada ya chakula cha jioni?

XVI Andika sentensi 5 ukitumia maneno haya. Write 5 sentences by using these words.

husoma lako katika yule cha anasafisha rafiki na nyama dada jina karatasi andika tutasafiri msichana kwa siku kila magazeti maji ya matunda mimi zangu alipika tulikula juzi wali kwa tulikunywa mgahawani ndege vinywaji hawa soka mvinyo yangu viazi vitamu jana kesho nane kutwa Ulaya nitaenda mfanyakazi leo chumba mgeni vijana watacheza Jumamosi maktaba saa mchana

1. ----------

2. ----------

3. ----------

4.----------

5.----------

XVII Nini maswali kwa majibu haya. What are the questions to the next answers?

kwa mfano: ----------? Nilikula mayai na mkate.

Ulikula nini kwa chamshakinywa?

1.----------? Mtalii yuko nje ya hoteli.

2.----------? Tuansoma magazeti.

3.----------? Walisafiri huko kwa basi.

4.----------? Ninatumia sabuni kwa kufua mavazi yangu.

5.----------? Ninapenda matufaa na machungwa.

6.----------? Marahaba.

7. ----------? Twende sinema.

8.----------? Amepoteza saa kofia yake.

9. ----------? Amevaa suti nyeusi.

10. ----------? Yeye atarudi mwisho wa mwezi.

From: smutima@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 4, 2010 7:02 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Summer TA

Dear Professor Nyang'oro:

Thank you for your reply.I totally understand the current budget situation.

Best.

Alphonse Mutima

Quoting Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>:

> Dear Mutima:
> As a matter of policy, Summer School does not provide funding for > TAs. In the past when we gave you a TA, it was through Title VI
> Funding in International Studies (Niklaus Steiner) since the budget > support had been written in the grant. This particular grant ended > four years ago. I regret that we will not be able to fund a TA from > the department's instructional budget because of the budget cuts we > are facing this year. Good luck in Summer teaching.
> Best,
> Julius
>
>
>

From: Debby Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2003 12:05 PM
To: African-and-African-American-Studies-Faculty <african-and-african-american-studies-faculty@lyris.artsci.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [hrfac] New Discounts: Cirque du Soleil / Fuddruckers]
Attach: [hrfac] New Discounts_ Cirque du Soleil _ Fuddruckers (2.62 KB).msg

---

From: Chris Chiron <chiron@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, January 29, 2003 10:04 AM
To: Human Resources Facilitators <hrfac@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [hrfac] New Discounts: Cirque du Soleil / Fuddruckers

---

==========
Cirque du Soleil - "Dralion"
==========

Carolina employees will receive a 15% discount on individual adults and children tickets. Valid ONLY for weekday performances March 13-28, 2003 (seating availability on specific days may vary). Weekday performances are all performances Tuesday thru Thursday, and Friday performances at 4:00 pm. The Admission Network service charges will be applied ($5.45/ticket). VIP tickets are not included in this offer.

To Order, call 1-800-678-5440. (Please mention "RG15 discount") or order online at:
http://www.admission.com/adm/RaleighDiscount.htm

For group purchases of 20 tickets or more a discount of 15% will be given and service charges will not be applied. For group reservations, call the box office at 1-80-450-1480. (Please mention "RG15 discount"). This offer is ONLY valid for weekday shows.

Regular priced tickets for Dralion range from $45 to $65 for adults and $31.50 to $45.50 for children. For students age 13 to 17 years and senior citizens age 65 plus, prices are from $40.50 to $58.50 on weekdays only (Tuesday to Thursday, and Friday at 4:00 p.m.)

Please note that customers who have already purchased their tickets cannot obtain this discount.

For more information on the show, go to:
http://performance.cirquedusoleil.com/dralion/conference_a.html

==========
Fuddruckers Restaurant
==========

Fuddruckers Restaurant at 1809 Martin Luther King Parkway, Durham is offering UNC-Chapel Hill faculty and staff 10% off food purchases at their location, including alcohol and bakery items. Thru December 31, 2003. Present UNC OneCard when ordering.

==========
FOR MORE UNIVERSITY DISCOUNT PROGRAMS, GO TO:
http://www.ais.unc.edu/hr/discounts/
==========

An archive of these emails is available at:
http://www.ais.unc.edu/hr/archive/

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, October 21, 2003 2:08 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: language assessment]
Attach: language assessment (2.39 KB).msg

Bwana Mutima....This is for you...please respond to her directly. I am also going to forward you her CV I am recommend her to you for her to be your TA in the Summer..she is good....When you respond to her, please let her know that you have seen her CV....

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, January 7, 2004 10:23 AM
To: Charles Thompson <thompsonchar@MAIL.ECU.EDU>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Swahili Language CDs

Hello,
I am copying this message to Dr Alphonse Mutima, our Kiswaili instructor for suggestions, Good luck.
JEN

Charles Thompson wrote:

> Professor Nyang'oro, I would like to begin studying Swahili, but I note that > no Swahili 1 course is offered during the Spring semester. Would you be > willing to suggest a CD-based course I could begin with?
>
> --
>
> Charles L. Thompson
> Lora Wilson King Distinguished Professor > College of Education
> 116 Speight Hall
> East Carolina University
> East Fifth St.
> Greenville, NC 27858
> 252-328-1140

You are currently subscribed to undergrad_studies_directors as: mlambert@email.unc.edu
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-undergrad_studies_directors-1871575N@listserv.unc.edu

STANDING THE TEST OF TIME
THE PLAY

By Julie Rainbow

This play is a testimony to the unlimited possibilities that exist when one remains committed to their own development, committed to keeping their love alive and committed to a being greater than themselves. This play offers life lessons for singles and couples of all ages. The wisdom of our elders is revealed and affirmed through this work of art.

Coming To The Triangle

Sat., Mar. 27th & Sun., Mar. 28th

8pm 3pm

Tickets: $15.00

Call the Hayti Heritage for tickets (919) 683-1709
For Group Ticket Sales Call (919) 452-5314

Hayti Heritage Center
Durham, North Carolina

Sponsored By: UNITY Project, Inc. & Hayti Heritage Center

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 1, 2004 12:21 PM
To: Deborah Medlock <dmedlock@mainex1.asu.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: question from LCTL database CARLA database
Attach: Blank Bkgrd.gif

It would be possible to test the student. Our Kisawahili instructor is Dr Alphonse Mutima. I have copied this message to him.

Deborah Medlock wrote:

> Hello. I work at Arizona State University and I have a studentcoming to ASU, who needs to be tested in Swahili.
>
> Is there any possibility that we could work out a way to testthrough you? Since we do not offer the Swahili language, > this would just be a proficiency exam, a way to verifysecond language requirement. We would not want > to transfer credit or award credit. Also, if you are not the correct individual, I would appreciate you forwarding this > message to the correct person.
>
>
>
>
> If you could help me,and the student, I would really appreciate it. Please let me know.
> Thankyou. Deborah Medlock
> Administrative Secretary
> Department of Languages and Literature
> P.O. Box 870202
> Tempe, AZ 85287-0202
> 480-965-8247
> www.asu.edu/languages

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, March 19, 2004 12:44 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: NALRC's New Publication.]
Attach: NALRC's New Publication. (2.05 KB).msg

From: Mary Jane Sprague <Mary.Jane.Sprague@Dartmouth.EDU>
Sent: Thursday, March 18, 2004 3:45 PM
To: Recipient list suppressed
Subject: NALRC's New Publication.

TO: AASP Members.

From: NALRC - National African Language Resource Center, Madison, Wisconsin.

* Announcing New Swahili Textbook *

"Tuseme Kiswahili"

We are pleased to introduce our newest Swahili textbook, Tuseme Kiswahili. This book is designed to present the fundamentals of Swahili to two and four-year college students. This book is a product of F.E.M.K Senkoro's 30 years of experience in teaching Swahili to foreigners in Africa, Europe, and the United States. Over the years, a demand has emerged and re-emerged for fresh and up-to-date Swahili materials. The learners have insisted that they needed texts that would give them the challenge of learning the language while enriching them with cultural knowledge of the people who use Swahili in their daily lives. The results of those demands have been this book, which attempts to offer the learners a multidimensional approach that shifts back and forth between cultural information and linguistic elements.

Format
This book is divided into different sections that deal with individual communicative aspects of Kiswahili. Each section covers roughly the following five elements.

? Monologue
? Grammar Notes
? Exercises
? Dialogue
? Cultural Notes

Ordering
Orders may be submitted to our Center via the following address, phone number, and email address.

National African Language Resource Center
4231 Humanities Building
455 North Park Street
Madison, WI 53706
Ph. (608) 265-7905
Fax (608) 265-7904
Email. nalrc@mhub.facstaff.wisc.edu

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 1, 2004 12:32 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: American University of Kinshasa Foundation, Cambridge, MA - Job Announcement]
Attach: American University of Kinshasa Foundation, Cambridge, MA - Job Announce... (54.5 KB).msg

---

FYI

American University of Kinshasa Foundation

Harvard EUMC, 1555 Massachusetts Avenue
Cambridge, MA 02138
Email: aukuniv@auk-congo.edu
Website : www.auk-congo.edu

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT

JOB TITLE:

Area Chapter President & Development Director

INFORMATION:

The American University of Kinshasa Foundation is a Massachusetts, Cambridge-headquartered US 501(c)(3) Non-profit whose primary mission is to carry on and promote programs for the advancement of higher education in Africa, with particular focus on the rebuilding of Universite Franco-Americaine de Kinshasa in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. It equally promotes the public awareness of cultural and academic exchange opportunities between Africa and the United States for the mutual benefit of people in both regions.

The American University of Kinshasa Foundation seeks individuals from different States and Cities to help establish Area Chapters within their geographic locations and serve as "Area Chapter President & Development Director". The Chapter President is a unique individual with a genuine desire to make a difference by advancing higher education to African children and US students enrolled in study-abroad programs, as well as forging research or academic partnerships with US institutions.

The Chapter President is a visionary leader with a proven track record of success to oversee aspects of fundraising initiatives, public relations and administration. Strong networking skills with individuals, volunteers, donors, philanthropists, associations, foundations, corporations and businesses are expected along with public presentation skills.

The chapter is primarily a volunteer-run entity. The president can still keep his/her current full-time career, and devote a few hours/ part-time to the chapter activities. The President is encouraged to recruit volunteers and design the chapter organization to suit its needs. The President acts as the main liaison between the Chapter and the Foundation governing board of Directors. He /She shall serve as the official area representative of the American University of Kinshasa Foundation in its contacts with government, civic, business, colleges and other organizations.

COMPENSATION:

Volunteers recruited through the president initiative primarily run the Chapter and solicit tax-deductible donations from the general public, organizations and special events. As an incentive however, the Foundation is committed to paying the Chapter President a performance-based compensation tied to the chapter fundraising achievements.

CONTACT:

If you are interested, please Email Cover Letter and Resume to:

President
American University of Kinshasa Foundation
Cambridge, MA 02138
Email: aukuniv@auk-congo.edu

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, August 19, 2004 1:41 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: NCOLCTL CALL FOR PAPERS]
Attach: NCOLCTL CALL FOR PAPERS (2.51 KB).msg

From: Judith A. Byfield <Judith.A.Byfield@Dartmouth.EDU>
Sent: Friday, August 6, 2004 3:29 PM
To: Recipient list suppressed
Subject: NCOLCTL CALL FOR PAPERS

Please forward this email to all interested persons and mailing lists.

Thanks.

NCOLCTL

Call for papers:

The Journal of the National Council of Less Commonly Taught Languages (NCOLCTL) is soliciting articles for publication. As the official journal of the Council, the journal serves the professional interests of teachers, researchers, and administrators of less commonly taught languages in all settings and all levels of instruction. The Journal is refereed and published once a year. Articles dealing with all aspects of less commonly taught languages are welcome, with preference given to articles dealing with educational and policy research, classroom innovation, and program development, sustenance, and advocacy. While articles focusing on specific less commonly taught languages are welcome, to be accepted the article must be framed within the overall context of less commonly taught language education, thereby insuring that all our readers are benefited, and honoring the founding principle of the Council, "collective solutions to common problems."

In preparing the manuscript, please use the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA). Manuscripts should be a maximum of 25 pages (excluding references, charts, notes, etc.) and preferably submitted electronically via email attachment. Double-space the manuscript throughout, including notes, references, and tables, using 12-point font with a 1.5 inch left margin. The manuscript should be accompanied by a 150 word (or less) abstract and a cover sheet containing the manuscript title, name, address, office and home telephone numbers, fax number, email address, and full names and institutions of each author. Because the manuscript will be blind reviewed, identifying information should be on the title page only, and not appear in the manuscript.

For snail mail submissions, please use the following address:

NCOLCTL
4231 Humanities Bldg
455 N.Park Street
Madison, WI 53706
Ph: (608) 265 -7903
Fax: (608) 265 -7904

ncolctl@mailplus.wisc.edu
http://www.councilnet.org

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 7, 2005 11:03 AM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: COS Funding Alert for Dr. Julius Nyang'oro]
Attach: COS Funding Alert for Dr. Julius Nyang'oro (2.85 KB).msg

---

From: Geraldine Taylor <gtaylor@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, February 8, 2005 7:33 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Cc: jen321@email.unc.edu; jaysmith@email.unc.edu
Subject: RE: WOLO 3 (Intermediate Wolof I) course proposal to fulfill General College foreign language and cultural diversity requirements
Attach: gtaylor.vcf

Prof. Mutima:

The Subcommittee on General Education sees that there is some connection between the course content and an American ethnic community, but the course seems not to give a sufficiently rich or advanced understanding of the cultural perspectives and experiences of Senegalese-Americans, with which the perspectives and experiences of other Americans could be compared. Comparison of diverse perspectives within the American context, or at least partly within that context, is the true purpose of the CD requirement. Focus here is understandably on language instruction--grammar, vocabulary, etc. (and, to the best of our knowledge, no other beginning or intermediate language courses fulfill the CD requirement.) You may, however, resubmit a more detailed syllabus that you believe demonstrates the suitability of your course for the CD requirement.

Jay M. Smith
Associate Dean for Undergraduate Curricula
CB# 3504, 300 Steele Building
UNC-Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3504
919-843-7773
jaysmith@email.unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>

Sent: Monday, March 28, 2005 9:58 AM

To: Kenneth Janken <krjanken@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; ave >> Arturo Velasquez <avelasqu@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Timothy J. McMillan <tjm1@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; R. Goldman Vander <vander@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>; Perry Hall <hallpa@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>

Subject: Faculty and Staff Sale Day at the Bull's Head Bookshop]

Attach: Faculty and Staff Sale Day at the Bull's Head Bookshop (3.39 KB).msg

---

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, March 30, 2005 9:35 AM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: The Congo's Transition Is Failing: Crisis in the Kivus - New Crisis Group report]
Attach: The Congo's Transition Is Failing_ Crisis in the Kivus - New Crisis Group... (676 KB).msg

---

FYI

From: International Crisis Group <reports@crisisgroup.org>
Sent: Wednesday, March 30, 2005 6:04 AM
To:
Subject: The Congo's Transition Is Failing: Crisis in the Kivus - New Crisis Group report
Attach: 091 The Congo s Transition Is Failing Crisis in the Kivus.pdf

---

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW REPORT

The Congo's Transition Is Failing: Crisis in the Kivus

Nairobi/Brussels, 30 March 2005: As the UN Security Council debates this week the terms of renewing the mandate of its peacekeeping force in the Congo, decisive action is needed to prevent a return to full-scale combat in that ravaged country and the destabilisation of much of Central Africa.

The Congo's Transition Is Failing: Crisis in the Kivus,* the latest report from the International Crisis Group, examines the political stalemate in Kinshasa and new military tensions in the Kivus region, where 1,000 people are dying every day in the ongoing political and humanitarian tragedy. The international community, which funds the political transition, needs to rein in spoilers, both inside the transition and outside it, and do a better job of training the new Congolese army. Also, the UN peacekeeping mission (MONUC) needs to get tougher with the Rwandan insurgents, the FDLR.

"Neither MONUC nor the wider international community has shown the necessary will to address the Congo's crises", says Suliman Baldo, Director of Crisis Group's Africa Program. "But donors finance over half the transitional government's budget, so they have clear leverage to take serious action against those who work against unification of the army and administration".

As it approaches the end of its second year, the transition risks breaking apart over the unreconciled ambitions of the former civil war belligerents. There is insufficient interest in making the peace process work in Kinshasa, where few leaders are interested in free and fair elections, now scheduled for June 2005 though almost certain to be delayed.

The transitional government has moved some aspects of the power struggle from the battlefield to Kinshasa back rooms, but former belligerents still compete for resources and power through parallel chains of army and government commands. Many stand to lose power in the elections and are set on prolonging or disrupting the transition. Recent fighting in North Kivu, which displaced over 100,000 people and killed thousands, was potent evidence that actors in Kinshasa still use violence to further their aims.

Appropriate solutions must address the political problems in the capital as well as the local conflicts in the Kivus, the eastern provinces where the wars of the 1990s began. In Kinshasa this means living up to the promise of the Sun City Agreement that brought the transition into existence: former belligerents must complete their military integration.

MONUC needs more troops, but the bigger problem is how it uses the resources it does have -- its willingness to use force as necessary to prevent worse violence. And after MONUC's sexual abuse scandal, the international community must urgently help it restore its credibility among Congolese.

"The most difficult task is to force progress from actors who have an interest in the status quo", says Baldo. "The international community must draw on the support of the 60 million Congolese exhausted from war and demanding the transition live up to its promises, to help it get a grip on the spoilers".

Contacts: Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) 32 (0) 485 555 946
Jennifer Leonard (Washington) 1 202 785 1601
To contact Crisis Group media please click here
Read the full Crisis Group report on our website: http://www.crisisgroup.org

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, non-profit, multinational organisation covering over 50 crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

The Congo's Transition Is Failing: Crisis in the Kivus

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS

As it approaches the end of its second year, the Congo's transition risks breaking apart on the unreconciled ambitions of the former civil war belligerents. Inability to resolve political differences in Kinshasa have been mirrored by new military tensions that the parties, as well as Rwanda, have stirred up in the Kivus, the birthplace of both wars that ravaged the country in the past decade. June 2005 national elections are imperilled, and 1,000 are dying daily in the ongoing political and humanitarian crisis. To reverse these ominous trends, the international community needs to use the leverage its aid gives it to rein in the spoilers in Kinshasa, and it needs to do a better, quicker job of training the new Congolese army. And the UN Mission (MONUC) needs to get tougher in dealing with the Rwandan insurgents, the FDLR, who provide Kigali with a justification for dangerous meddling.

Beginning in February 2004, dissidents from the former rebel movement Rassemblement Congolais pour la Dimocratie-Goma (RCD-G) sparked clashes in the Kivu provinces of the eastern Congo. These were the result of disagreement within the transitional government over power-sharing in the army and the administration but the conflict was exacerbated by the interference of Rwanda, which sent troops across the border in November 2004, claiming to pursue the Hutu extremist FDLR. The resulting fighting displaced over 100,000 civilians and pushed the transition to the brink of collapse.

The fighting in the east is closely linked to the political impasse in the capital. The defining characteristic of the transitional government has been its weakness and the opportunism of its key members, who have little appetite for the approaching elections. None of the signatories of the Sun City Agreement, which ushered in the transition in 2003, has strong control of either its military or political wing.

Parallel chains of command persist in the army as well as in the administration as the former belligerents compete for resources and power. All still use taxation schemes and mining deals to enrich themselves. Many stand to lose power in the elections, and they are set on prolonging or disrupting the transition. This political weakness at the centre has allowed military conflicts to fester on the periphery.

The crisis in the east, which is again centred on tensions between the Congolese Hutu and Tutsi and other communities, has been manipulated by the Kinshasa contestants and Rwanda in pursuit of their own interests. The dissidents are hard-line Hutu and Tutsi from the RCD-G who feel their interests are not served in the transitional government. They have created a new "rwandophone" identity in order to fuse Congolese Hutu and Tutsi together, while President Kabila's party has roused anti-Rwandan sentiment. This manipulation of identity has raised the spectre of communal violence in a region where such feuds killed over 3,000 civilians in 1993.

The dissidents have some 8,000 to 12,000 troops around the city of Goma in North Kivu, faced by an equal number of Kinshasa troops. While hardliners on both sides want a military solution, neither has the strength to achieve it. The conflict can only be ended by bringing the moderate leadership of the dissidents back into the transitional institutions, while arresting or marginalising the others. This, in turn, will only be possible if the Kinshasa power-sharing issues are resolved.

Any peace initiative in the east must address the presence of the 8,000-10,000 Hutu rebels of the Forces Dimocratiques pour la Libiration du Rwanda (FDLR). They have been severely weakened and are no longer a strategic threat to Kigali but they are still able to conduct raids into Rwanda, and are a serious threat to civilians in the Congo, where they constitute a liability for the transition. The new Congolese army has ultimate responsibility for dealing with the FDLR but the army will remain weak and disorganised for the foreseeable future. The international community needs to launch an International Military Assistance and Training Team (IMATT) to support it. Efforts underway by South Africa, Belgium and Angola are a promising first step but more coordination and standardisation, as well as funding, are required.

Neither MONUC nor the wider international community has shown the ability or the will to address the Congo's crises. While donors finance over half the budget, they have been unable or unwilling to take serious action against the spoilers in the transitional government, who work against unification of the army and administration. Some members of the government have been suspended for corruption but none has faced criminal charges. Indeed, the government has rewarded criminality by naming accused war criminals from Ituri to senior army posts.

Similarly, MONUC has not lived up to much of its mandate. While it has the clear tasks of protecting civilians, monitoring the arms embargo, and supporting the new army against the FDLR, it has yet to devise a coherent strategy for any of these. Especially in the wake of the scandal involving sexual abuse by MONUC, there is urgent need for the international community to help it take urgent steps to restore its credibility among the Congolese. MONUC does not have enough troops, but the bigger problem is how it uses the resources it does have.

RECOMMENDATIONS

To the Transitional Government of the Democratic Republic of Congo:

1. Comply with the Sun City Agreements for complete military integration and eliminate all parallel chains of command in the military, administration and state-run enterprises, including by:

    (a) clarifying the status and size of the presidential guard;

    (b) appointing the heads of state-run enterprises according to the power-sharing formula in the Sun City Agreements;

    (c) auditing key ministries, the provincial administration and armed forces; and

    (d) allowing review of war-time mining contracts, as agreed in Sun City.

2. Prosecute former members of the government and army suspended for corruption.

3. Dismantle, by force if necessary, the FDLR camps on Congolese territory, as promised in the 2002 Pretoria Agreement, and extradite to Rwanda the remaining FDLR officers in Kinshasa and Lubumbashi.

4. Refrain from military confrontation in North Kivu, and attempt to resolve the crisis there peacefully through the unification of armed groups and administrations.

5. Enact a constitution and laws on amnesty, decentralisation and elections.

To the UN Security Council, the Secretary General and MONUC:

6. Renew by 31 March 2005 and more clearly define MONUC's mandate to include the use of preventive force to protect civilians and to support the transitional government, and raise the troop ceiling to 23,900, as requested by the Secretary General.

7. Devise a coherent strategy for the following aspects of MONUC's mandate under Security Council Resolution 1565:

(a) protection of civilians in imminent danger, including contingency plans and clear rules of engagement for MONUC forces in the field;

(b) monitoring the arms embargo, including placing MONUC forces at border crossings and key airfields, patrolling lakes and insisting on the right to conduct house and vehicle searches; and

(c) support of the Congolese army in disarmament, demobilisation, and reintegration (DDR) operations with respect to the FDLR, including a clear definition of MONUC's role.

8. Urge the International Committee for Support of the Transition (CIAT) to develop a credible plan to establish a viable national army and key donor states to provide requisite assistance.

9. Impose targeted sanctions, including a freeze of financial assets and travel bans, on those who violate the arms embargo, including members of the transitional government.

10. Obtain and deploy better communication and intelligence-gathering equipment for monitoring the arms embargo.

To the European Union and its Member States, the U.S. and Other Donors and Members of the International Committee for Support of the Transition (CIAT), the World Bank and the IMF:

11. Prioritise integration of the Congolese army and provide adequate financial and military resources, including an International Military Assistance and Training Team (IMATT) to assist the Congolese army in dismantling the FDLR.

12. Impose targeted sanctions, including a freeze of financial assets and travel bans, on those who violate the arms embargo, including members of the transitional government.

13. Suspend financial aid to Rwanda if it continues to support dissidents or to intervene militarily in the Congo, and do the same with the transitional government if it is found to be supplying the FDLR.

14. Encourage the CIAT to undertake regular missions to the provinces, especially Ituri and the Kivus, to speak with local leaders and to report regularly (e.g. every three months) to the Security Council on implementation of the transition.

15. Use financial leverage to press the transitional government for better implementation of the Sun City Agreements.

To the Government of the United States:

16. Continue to support peace between Rwanda, the Congo and Uganda through the tripartite talks.

To the Government of Rwanda:

17. Respect Congo sovereignty and refrain from threatening or conducting military incursions.

18. Stop any support of dissident forces in the Congo, including allowing them to recruit in refugee camps in Rwanda.

19. Cooperate with the Congolese army and MONUC in their attempts to deal with the FDLR, including by providing information on FDLR positions and strength and a list of FDLR leaders wanted for category 1 or 2 genocide crimes.

20. Promote the return to Rwanda of key FDLR commanders who are not guilty of crimes of genocide by offering attractive terms of repatriation.

To the African Union:

21. Pursue the initiative to contribute armed forces to assist the new Congolese army and MONUC to persuade the FDLR -- with force if necessary -- to enter the DDR program.

Nairobi/Brussels, 30 March 2005

THE CONGO'S TRANSITION IS FAILING: CRISIS IN THE KIVUS

Africa Report N°91 – 30 March 2005

International Crisis Group
WORKING TO PREVENT CONFLICT WORLDWIDE

TABLE OF CONTENTS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS i

I. INTRODUCTION 1

A. POLITICAL STALEMATE 1
B. THE PURSUIT OF A MILITARY SOLUTION 2

II. THE MILITARY CRISIS IN THE EAST 4

A. THE EMERGENCE OF THE DISSIDENTS 4
B. THE CONFLICT SPREADS 5
C. KINSHASA'S FUMBLED REACTION 6

III. MANIPULATION OF IDENTITY IN THE KIVUS 8

A. THE BANYARWANDA IMMIGRATION 8
B. PRESSURES OF DEMOCRATISATION AND THE MAGRIVI 9
C. FROM TUTSI TO HUTU POWER 9
D. WHO ARE THE DISSIDENTS? 10
E. INVENTION OF THE "RWANDOPHONES" 11
F. THE STAKES: THE RICHES OF NORTH KIVU 13

IV. POLITICAL IMPASSE IN KINSHASA 15

A. PARALLEL COMMAND STRUCTURES 16
B. WEAKNESS IN POLITICAL PARTIES 17

V. EXTERNAL INFLUENCES 19

A. THE FDLR 19
B. RWANDA 21

VI. MONUC'S RESPONSE 23

A. PROTECTION OF CIVILIANS AND DETERRENCE OF VIOLENCE 23
B. HOW CAN YOU FORCE PEOPLE TO MAKE PEACE WHO WANT WAR? 25
C. SUPPORT FOR DDR 26
D. ENFORCING THE ARMS EMBARGO 26

VII. CONCLUSION 27

APPENDICES

A. MAP OF THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO 29
B. GLOSSARY OF ACRONYMS 30
C. CONTROL OF GOMA ADMINISTRATIVE AND MILITARY STRUCTURES 31
D. ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP 32
E. CRISIS GROUP REPORTS AND BRIEFINGS ON AFRICA 33
F. CRISIS GROUP BOARD MEMBERS 35

International Crisis Group
WORKING TO PREVENT CONFLICT WORLDWIDE

Africa Report N°91 30 March 2005

THE CONGO'S TRANSITION IS FAILING: CRISIS IN THE KIVUS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS

As it approaches the end of its second year, the Congo's transition risks breaking apart on the unreconciled ambitions of the former civil war belligerents. Inability to resolve political differences in Kinshasa have been mirrored by new military tensions that the parties, as well as Rwanda, have stirred up in the Kivus, the birthplace of both wars that ravaged the country in the past decade. June 2005 national elections are imperilled, and 1,000 are dying daily in the ongoing political and humanitarian crisis. To reverse these ominous trends, the international community needs to use the leverage its aid gives it to rein in the spoilers in Kinshasa, and it needs to do a better, quicker job of training the new Congolese army. And the UN Mission (MONUC) needs to get tougher in dealing with the Rwandan insurgents, the FDLR, who provide Kigali with a justification for dangerous meddling.

Beginning in February 2004, dissidents from the former rebel movement Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Goma (RCD-G) sparked clashes in the Kivu provinces of the eastern Congo. These were the result of disagreement within the transitional government over power-sharing in the army and the administration but the conflict was exacerbated by the interference of Rwanda, which sent troops across the border in November 2004, claiming to pursue the Hutu extremist FDLR. The resulting fighting displaced over 100,000 civilians and pushed the transition to the brink of collapse.

The fighting in the east is closely linked to the political impasse in the capital. The defining characteristic of the transitional government has been its weakness and the opportunism of its key members, who have little appetite for the approaching elections. None of the signatories of the Sun City Agreement, which ushered in the transition in 2003, has strong control of either its military or political wing.

Parallel chains of command persist in the army as well as in the administration as the former belligerents compete for resources and power. All still use taxation schemes and mining deals to enrich themselves. Many stand to lose power in the elections, and they are set on prolonging or disrupting the transition. This political weakness at the centre has allowed military conflicts to fester on the periphery.

The crisis in the east, which is again centred on tensions between the Congolese Hutu and Tutsi and other communities, has been manipulated by the Kinshasa contestants and Rwanda in pursuit of their own interests. The dissidents are hard-line Hutu and Tutsi from the RCD-G who feel their interests are not served in the transitional government. They have created a new "rwandophone" identity in order to fuse Congolese Hutu and Tutsi together, while President Kabila's party has roused anti-Rwandan sentiment. This manipulation of identity has raised the spectre of communal violence in a region where such feuds killed over 3,000 civilians in 1993.

The dissidents have some 8,000 to 12,000 troops around the city of Goma in North Kivu, faced by an equal number of Kinshasa troops. While hardliners on both sides want a military solution, neither has the strength to achieve it. The conflict can only be ended by bringing the moderate leadership of the dissidents back into the transitional institutions, while arresting or marginalising the others. This, in turn, will only be possible if the Kinshasa power-sharing issues are resolved.

Any peace initiative in the east must address the presence of the 8,000-10,000 Hutu rebels of the Forces Démocratiques pour la Libération du Rwanda (FDLR). They have been severely weakened and are no longer a strategic threat to Kigali but they are still able to conduct raids into Rwanda, and are a serious threat to civilians in the Congo, where they constitute a liability for the transition. The new Congolese army has ultimate responsibility for dealing with the FDLR but the army will remain weak and disorganised for the foreseeable future. The international community needs to launch an International Military Assistance and Training Team (IMATT) to support it. Efforts underway by South Africa, Belgium and Angola are a promising first step but more coordination and standardisation, as well as funding, are required.

Neither MONUC nor the wider international community has shown the ability or the will to address the Congo's crises. While donors finance over half the budget, they have been unable or unwilling to take serious action against the spoilers in the transitional government, who work against unification of the army and administration. Some members of the government have been suspended for corruption but none has faced criminal charges. Indeed, the government has rewarded criminality by naming accused war criminals from Ituri to senior army posts.

Similarly, MONUC has not lived up to much of its mandate. While it has the clear tasks of protecting civilians, monitoring the arms embargo, and supporting the new army against the FDLR, it has yet to devise a coherent strategy for any of these. Especially in the wake of the scandal involving sexual abuse by MONUC, there is urgent need for the international community to help it take urgent steps to restore its credibility among the Congolese. MONUC does not have enough troops, but the bigger problem is how it uses the resources it does have.

RECOMMENDATIONS

To the Transitional Government of the Democratic Republic of Congo:

1. Comply with the Sun City Agreements for complete military integration and eliminate all parallel chains of command in the military, administration and state-run enterprises, including by:
   (a) clarifying the status and size of the presidential guard;
   (b) appointing the heads of state-run enterprises according to the power-sharing formula in the Sun City Agreements;
   (c) auditing key ministries, the provincial administration and armed forces; and
   (d) allowing review of war-time mining contracts, as agreed in Sun City.
2. Prosecute former members of the government and army suspended for corruption.
3. Dismantle, by force if necessary, the FDLR camps on Congolese territory, as promised in the 2002 Pretoria Agreement, and extradite to Rwanda the remaining FDLR officers in Kinshasa and Lubumbashi.
4. Refrain from military confrontation in North Kivu, and attempt to resolve the crisis there peacefully through the unification of armed groups and administrations.
5. Enact a constitution and laws on amnesty, decentralisation and elections.

To the UN Security Council, the Secretary General and MONUC:

6. Renew by 31 March 2005 and more clearly define MONUC's mandate to include the use of preventive force to protect civilians and to support the transitional government, and raise the troop ceiling to 23,900, as requested by the Secretary General.
7. Devise a coherent strategy for the following aspects of MONUC's mandate under Security Council Resolution 1565:
   (a) protection of civilians in imminent danger, including contingency plans and clear rules of engagement for MONUC forces in the field;
   (b) monitoring the arms embargo, including placing MONUC forces at border crossings and key airfields, patrolling lakes and insisting on the right to conduct house and vehicle searches; and
   (c) support of the Congolese army in disarmament, demobilisation, and reintegration (DDR) operations with respect to the FDLR, including a clear definition of MONUC's role.
8. Urge the International Committee for Support of the Transition (CIAT) to develop a credible plan to establish a viable national army and key donor states to provide requisite assistance.
9. Impose targeted sanctions, including a freeze of financial assets and travel bans, on those who violate the arms embargo, including members of the transitional government.
10. Obtain and deploy better communication and intelligence-gathering equipment for monitoring the arms embargo.

To the European Union and its Member States, the U.S. and Other Donors and Members of the International Committee for Support of the Transition (CIAT), the World Bank and the IMF:

11. Prioritise integration of the Congolese army and provide adequate financial and military resources, including an International Military Assistance and Training Team (IMATT) to assist the Congolese army in dismantling the FDLR.

12. Impose targeted sanctions, including a freeze of financial assets and travel bans, on those who violate the arms embargo, including members of the transitional government.
13. Suspend financial aid to Rwanda if it continues to support dissidents or to intervene militarily in the Congo, and do the same with the transitional government if it is found to be supplying the FDLR.
14. Encourage the CIAT to undertake regular missions to the provinces, especially Ituri and the Kivus, to speak with local leaders and to report regularly (e.g. every three months) to the Security Council on implementation of the transition.
15. Use financial leverage to press the transitional government for better implementation of the Sun City Agreements.

To the Government of the United States:

16. Continue to support peace between Rwanda, the Congo and Uganda through the tripartite talks.

To the Government of Rwanda:

17. Respect Congo sovereignty and refrain from threatening or conducting military incursions.
18. Stop any support of dissident forces in the Congo, including allowing them to recruit in refugee camps in Rwanda.
19. Cooperate with the Congolese army and MONUC in their attempts to deal with the FDLR, including by providing information on FDLR positions and strength and a list of FDLR leaders wanted for category 1 or 2 genocide crimes.
20. Promote the return to Rwanda of key FDLR commanders who are not guilty of crimes of genocide by offering attractive terms of repatriation.

To the African Union:

21. Pursue the initiative to contribute armed forces to assist the new Congolese army and MONUC to persuade the FDLR -- with force if necessary -- to enter the DDR program.

Nairobi/Brussels, 30 March 2005

International Crisis Group
WORKING TO PREVENT CONFLICT WORLDWIDE

Africa Report N°91 30 March 2005

THE CONGO'S TRANSITION IS FAILING: CRISIS IN THE KIVUS

I. INTRODUCTION

Despite the extent of ongoing civilian suffering in the Congo and the risk of a return to full scale combat that could destabilise much of Central Africa, there is little impetus, internal or external, to change matters decisively. The recent fighting in North Kivu displaced over 100,000 people into the forests, where many died due to the harsh conditions. According to the International Rescue Committee (IRC), 31,000 die every month in the country as a result of the war, mostly due to hunger and disease. Since 1998, an estimated 3.8 million deaths have been attributable to the war. At least 40,000 women and girls have been raped over the past six years. Still, only $188 million in humanitarian aid was provided for the Congo in 2004, a mere $3.20 per person. Sudan received $89 per person that year.[1]

A. POLITICAL STALEMATE

In February 2004 a group of officers from the former rebel movement the Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Goma (RCD-G) attacked the regional military commander of South Kivu, General Nabyolwa, who had been deployed to the province under the auspices of the Congo's nascent national army. The mutiny was the first in a series of clashes in the Kivus between RCD-G dissidents and the transitional government, the result of a power struggle in Kinshasa. By the end of the year, it was clear that the transitional government could neither suppress the rebellion militarily nor strike a deal with it.

The transitional government, which was sworn in on 30 June 2003, is a political compromise between the five main armed groups:

- Joseph Kabila's Forces Armées Congolaises (FAC, the old government's army);
- Jean-Pierre Bemba's Mouvement de Libération du Congo (MLC);
- Azarias Ruberwa's Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Goma (RCD-G);
- Mbusa Nyamwisi's Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Mouvement de Libération (RCD-ML);
- Roger Lumbala's Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-National (RCD-N); as well as
- Mai-Mai militias from the east of the country.

These disparate groups have in theory converted themselves into political parties that now share power in Kinshasa with representatives from civil society and the political opposition. According to the transitional agreement and the constitution, the former belligerents should hand over control of their armed groups to a unified and apolitical new national army, the Forces Armées de la République Démocratique du Congo (FARDC).

The reality is very different. Most of the 300,000 combatants in the country are deployed in the same positions and are controlled by the same military hierarchies as before the transition. These parallel chains of command have also been replicated in the administrative and financial structures in the capital and provinces. The tensions this has engendered jeopardise elections,[2] as each party tries to hold onto its power.

Kabila and his party, the Partie du Peuple pour la Réconstruction et la Démocratie (PPRD), continue to control the state apparatus in 60 per cent of the national territory, including Kinshasa and Katanga, Kabila's mineral-rich native province. This control of many of Congo's diamond, copper and cobalt mines as well as Kinshasa's infrastructure has given Kabila disproportionate influence within the transitional government. While the ex-FAC are an inefficient and ill-disciplined force of 120,000, Kabila has been able to strengthen his presidential guard, the Groupe Special de la Sécurité Présidentielle (GSSP), and manipulate the emerging national army through the presidential military advisers in the maison militaire. Nonetheless, he is hampered by the poor cohesion of his followers, and he has periodically had to shuffle his cabinet and military leadership following internal disputes.

[1] International Rescue Committee (IRC), "IRC study reveals that 31,000 die monthly in Congo conflict and 3.8 million died in the past six years -- when will the world care?", Press Release, 9 December 2004. All figures denoted in dollars ($) in this report refer to U.S. dollars. On rapes, see "Democratic Republic of Congo: Mass rape -- time for remedies", Amnesty International Report, 26 October 2004. UN Under Secretary General Jan Egeland says, "Sexual abuse had become probably worse [in the Congo] than anywhere else in the world". "DRC: UN agency to act on Ituri human rights violations", IRIN, 17 March 2005.

[2] Elections are still officially scheduled to be held by June 2005, although it is unanimously recognised that logistical considerations make this impossible. More realistic estimates are that elections can be held in early to mid-2006.

The MLC has the advantage of a clear hierarchy, as Bemba retains absolute control over his formerly Ugandan-backed rebel movement. While he does not have a large popular base or as many natural resources at his disposal as Kabila, he has deftly used his position as the vice president in charge of the Economic and Financial Commission to gain allies and to sway opinion in the capital. Bemba has the sympathy of many former supporters of the late President Mobutu and of several thousand soldiers of the old dictator's army, the Forces Armées Zairoises (FAZ), who are now in Brazzaville, but his own army has been weakened. At least four MLC brigades were deployed to the Kivus following the violence there in mid-2004,[3] leaving only around 10,000 MLC soldiers in their original positions

The two smallest former rebel movements are not significant enough to influence the course of the transition. As before, the RCD-N is controlled by the MLC, and Lumbala has been removed from his post as minister of foreign trade due to a corruption scandal. The RCD-ML has sided with Kabila on most political issues, and Nyamwisi retains good command of his troops in the Beni-Lubero region on the Ugandan border.

Besides Bemba and Kabila, the main contender in the upcoming elections will be Etienne Tshisekedi, the veteran leader of the Union pour la Démocratie et le Progrès Social (UDPS), who led the political opposition against Mobutu. He has the advantage of not being a member of the corruption-ridden transitional government and is still able to mobilise large numbers of supporters in Kinshasa and his home province of Kasai Oriental. Polls indicate that Tshisekedi would win a fair election in the capital but he has little support in most other provinces.[4] The UDPS has been weakened recently by Tshisekedi's own autocratic management and by its alliance with the RCD-G during the Sun City negotiations that led to the formation of the transitional government.

The most serious conflict within the transitional government has arisen between Kabila and Ruberwa's RCD-G, a party that is deeply unpopular beyond its narrow base among the Kinyarwanda speakers of North Kivu. Most Congolese regard it as a puppet of Rwanda, and hardliners around Kabila have worked to whip up anti-Tutsi sentiment throughout the country. RCD-G has also had to contend with serious internal dissent, as many of its representatives in Kinshasa have tried to distance themselves from the party's Hutu and Tutsi leaders, accusing them of being pro-Rwandan. At the same time, in the eastern border town of Goma, RCD-G hardliners have criticized Ruberwa for failing to represent their concerns of ethnic persecution. Rwanda's military incursion in late 2004 exacerbated RCD-G divisions and triggered the fighting in North Kivu between the new national army and the dissidents.

B. THE PURSUIT OF A MILITARY SOLUTION

The dispute between the RCD-G and Kabila erupted into violent confrontation in February 2004, triggering a series of clashes that pushed the transition to the brink of collapse. Far from attempting to solve political differences through dialogue, spoilers in RCD-G and in Kabila's entourage have encouraged this military confrontation. In the Kivus, a coalition has formed of RCD-G dissidents, who feel they stand nothing to gain in the transition. Kabila has accused some of them of being involved in the assassination of his father in 2001; others are army commanders who feel locked out of the transition. Marginalised by Kinshasa and egged on by Kigali, this group clashed with the national army in Bukavu in February 2004. Since then, numerous opportunities have been missed to find a negotiated solution. Instead, the conflict has broadened, resulting in the devastating battle for Bukavu in May and June, and the continuation of the fighting in North Kivu in December 2004.

The search for a military solution goes hand in hand with a xenophobic ideology, still openly promoted by some in Kabila's party, that there is no possibility of reconciliation with the RCD-G, whom they see as puppets of Kigali. Similarly, the leaders of the Congolese Hutu and Tutsi communities of the east argue

[3] According to some reports, most of the soldiers have been positioned in Basankusu.

[4] A survey conducted in Kinshasa by the private polling group BERCI in January 2005 suggested that if presidential elections were held then, Tshisekedi would win 39 per cent of the vote in the capital, followed by Kabila (36 per cent) and Bemba (11 per cent). The same poll indicated that the UDPS would win 36 per cent of the vote in the legislative elections.

that that the conflict is really about identity, and their very survival is at stake. These extreme perspectives mask the personal interests at stake: all sides are fighting to preserve the financial networks and power they have established since the beginning of the first Congo war in 1996.

There is no military solution to the crisis in the east. The armies are too disorganised and poorly trained. The Hutu and Tutsi communities (called Banyarwanda in North Kivu) number around one million people. Some 10,000 to 15,000 predominantly Banyarwanda ex-ANC troops[5] remain allied with Governor Eugène Serufuli despite their formal absorption into the national army. In addition, Rwanda has shown itself willing to back the dissidents with supplies and troops in recent months. If it is to address the crisis in the east, the transitional government must find a formula for sharing military and economic power between the different parties in Kinshasa.

This report seeks to explain how the two crises -- the political failings in Kinshasa and the military conflict in the east -- are linked. Since the early days of the transition, President Kabila and Vice President Ruberwa have been unable to find common ground on matters such as the control of the presidential guard, the command and control of the army, amnesty for war criminals, and how to deal with the Rwandan insurgent group on Congolese territory, the Forces Démocratiques pour la Libération du Rwanda (FDLR). These disputes have given spoilers in the east and in Kinshasa an opportunity to undermine the transition they perceive as threatening their interests.

Both sides have been averse to sincere political negotiations. The parliament's attempts to draft recommendations[6] have been largely ignored. The transitional government needs to isolate the spoilers -- a small group of military extremists and a few minor politicians -- and come to terms with the rest of the leadership in Goma. However, alarmingly little has been done to negotiate a solution since the crisis exploded in February 2004.

The transitional government and the national army must urgently address the continued presence of the FDLR in the east, as committed to in the 2002 Pretoria Agreement and the 1999 Lusaka Agreement. While those Hutu rebels do not present a serious security threat to Rwanda, they are a political liability to the transition, as they invite further Rwandan intervention. The recent efforts of the Sant'Egidio community to facilitate a peaceful repatriation of the FDLR should be promoted; moreover, the Rwandan government needs to be more active in encouraging commanders to return. At the same time, it is important for the new national army of the Congo, the FARDC, to apply what military pressure it is capable of on the FDLR. Such an operation could also be a first step towards reconciliation with Kigali and Goma, which have accused Kinshasa of supporting the extremist militia.

Politically, the international community has had difficulties coming to terms with the Congolese tragedy. Foreign donors, who finance 53 per cent of the transitional government's budget, have not taken advantage of the considerable leverage they have over the Congolese leadership. If the international community wants the transition to work, it must be more proactive in denouncing the blatant corruption and illegal manoeuvres of some of the main players and providing the resources for change.

If the transitional government can find better formulas for coping with the unfolding crisis in North Kivu and power and resource sharing in Kinshasa over the next few months, the elections, while just a first step towards rebuilding a failed state, could yet prove to be a watershed in the Congo's history.

---

[5] The military wing of the RCD-G.

[6] The parliament sent a delegation to Goma in December 2004, led by the president of the Senate, Monsignor Marini Bodho. The report was only made public after several months and has not been acted upon.

II. THE MILITARY CRISIS IN THE EAST

A. THE EMERGENCE OF THE DISSIDENTS

The transitional government in Kinshasa was sworn in on 30 June 2003, the product of a political compromise struck among the main belligerents and formalised in the Sun City and Pretoria agreements the previous year.[7] Those agreements provided a blueprint for a transition that was intended to culminate in elections in 2005. The transition, however, has faced dissent from hardliners in all parties, who are reluctant to relinquish control of their military and economic assets and risk facing the polls. The most serious conflict has erupted between Joseph Kabila's party and the RCD-G. This conflict, with political, social and economic aspects in both Kinshasa[8] and the east, has played out most dramatically in several military confrontations in Bukavu and Goma, on the border with Rwanda. The Kivus, after the two wars of 1996 and 1998, have for the third time become the centre of dispute.

The trouble emerged initially as a quarrel over unification of the belligerents' armies. According to the peace deal, the armed groups were to form mixed units in the new national army under a common command structure. The first step was made in August and September 2003 with the nomination of a joint military command in Kinshasa and the deployment of regional commanders to the ten military regions.[9] General Prosper Nabyolwa, an ex-FAC commander from South Kivu, was sent to Bukavu as regional commander.[10] He arrived with several dozen assistants and soldiers for his protection but while the head of the military establishment in South Kivu had been changed, the troops on the ground remained the same. Most ex-ANC troops accepted his command. However, a small but important group of RCD-G hardliners refused his orders.

In January 2003, just weeks after the final signature of the comprehensive agreement in Sun City, the RCD-G had appointed Xavier Chiribanya as governor of South Kivu. Kinshasa interpreted this as a provocation, since Chiribanya had been sentenced to death in absentia by a military court in the capital for his involvement in the 2001 assassination of Laurent Kabila.[11] In March, Colonel Georges Mirindi was nominated regional commander for South Kivu, and he arrived in Bukavu with another of the elder Kabila's alleged assassins, Amuli Chap Chap, as well as John Bahati. All three officers were former members of Laurent Kabila's presidential guard and had been convicted in the assassination trial. Their appointments, in which Kigali was seen as decisive,[12] made military integration of the province very difficult, as neither Kabila nor the transitional parliament were inclined to grant pardons. By appointing these individuals to Bukavu -- and elevating them from near obscurity to positions of power -- the RCD-G and Kigali had loaded the dice against a peaceful transition in the east.[13]

In September 2003, dissident Congolese Tutsi officers joined this group after refusing their nomination by Kinshasa to new posts in the national army.[14] They included General Laurent Nkunda, Colonel Eric Ruohimbere and Colonel Elie Gishondo. They claimed their safety would not be guaranteed in Kinshasa, and the transitional government would seek revenge for acts they had committed during the war. Nkunda is accused of helping orchestrate the massacre of over 150 civilians in Kisangani in May 2002,[15] while Ruohimbere was accused of killing 50 officers of Laurent Kabila's Alliance des Forces Democratiques pour la Liberation

[7] The signatories who would later form the transitional government are: the government of Joseph Kabila, RCD-G, RCD-Nationale, RCD-K-ML, MLC, Mai-Mai, and representatives of civil society and the political opposition

[8] See Section IV below for an explanation of the concurrent political developments in Kinshasa.

[9] The commanders of the ten military regions (corresponding to the ten national provinces) are currently: 1st Bandundu -- General Moustapha Mukiza (MLC); 3rd Equateur -- General Mulubi bin Muhemedi (FAC); 4th Kasai Occidental -- General Kasereka Sindani (RCD-ML); 5th Kasai Oriental -- General Obeid Rwabisira (RCD-G); 6th Katanga -- General Alengbia Nzambe (MLC); 7th Maniema -- General Widi Mbulu (RCD-N); 8th North Kivu -- General Gabriel Amisi (RCD-G); 9th Province Orientale -- General Padiri Bulenda (Mai-Mai); 10th South Kivu --General Mbudja Mabe (FAC). The command of the 2nd region, Bas-Congo, is currently vacant.

[10] In South Kivu at the time there were six ex-ANC brigades and fifteen ex-Mai-Mai brigades. The ANC brigades averaged 1,500 to 2,000 soldiers, while many Mai-Mai brigades were much smaller.

[11] The military trial in 2002 of those accused in the assassination of Laurent Kabila was widely criticized as unfair and politically motivated. 90 people were convicted of whom 26 were given the death sentence.

[12] Crisis Group interview with ex-FAC and ex-ANC commanders, Bukavu, May and December 2004.

[13] Mirindi was promoted from a 2nd lieutenant to a full colonel, while Bora Uzima, another commander implicated in Kabila's assassination, was promoted from major to brigadier general. Chiribanya himself had been a businessman based in Brazzaville who helped dissidents escape from Kinshasa.

[14] Nkunda was appointed commander of the 8th military region in Goma, Ruohimbere was named deputy regional commander in Bukavu, and Gishondo deputy regional commander in Bandundu.

[15] Human Rights Watch, "War Crimes in Kisangani", August 2002.

du Congo (AFDL) at Kavumu airport during the beginning of the RCD rebellion in August 1998. However, these charges are not the main motivation for their obstinacy, as other commanders involved in similar incidents have been integrated into the new national army. Rwanda's influence appears to have been the crucial factor that persuaded them to refuse integration.[16] Thus, by the end of 2003, a group of heavily armed dissidents who believed they had nothing to gain from the transition had collected in Bukavu.

These officers, with their 300 to 400 bodyguards, refused to acknowledge Nabyolwa's authority. As reports multiplied of weapons being smuggled to them from Rwanda, Nabyolwa decided to act. In February 2004, he began raiding their houses in search of arms caches and succeeded in seizing several stockpiles of ammunition. This provided the transitional government with enough proof of a planned insurrection to suspend Governor Chiribanya on 7 February 2004. Nabyolwa's initiative irritated Ruberwa, who perceived it as an attack on the RCD-G leadership of South Kivu.

Then, on 22 February, Nabyolwa raided the house of Major Joseph Kasongo and arrested him for illegal possession of weapons. Instead of detaining and interrogating Kasongo -- another of those who had previously been sentenced to death in absentia -- in Bukavu, Nabyolwa was instructed by Kabila's military intelligence to transfer him to Kinshasa.[17] RCD-G saw this as a clear sign that Kabila was not willing to consider an amnesty for those accused of assassinating his father. As described below, it also came at a time when Ruberwa and Kabila had fallen out over the control of the security sector.[18] The head of the RCD-G concluded that Kabila would do anything to marginalise his rivals.[19]

This confluence of political impasse and military conflict led to the eruption of violence in the Kivus. On 24 February, Nabyolwa's deputy commander, Colonel Jules Mutebutsi, attacked his superior's house, killing two of his bodyguards and sending the general running.[20] By rebelling against a commander appointed by Kinshasa, Mutebutsi effectively joined the dissident RCD-G officers, raising the stakes and setting the stage for a larger confrontation. When violence erupted again in Bukavu in May, it was a replay of the February incident but this time on a much larger scale.

B. THE CONFLICT SPREADS

What had begun as a political dispute between Ruberwa and Kabila in Kinshasa had widened into a serious rift between a large number of RCD-G hardliners and the transitional government. The Bukavu fighting polarised the RCD-G, with most Congolese Hutu and Tutsi in the movement sympathising with the dissidents, while other important party figures began inching closer to Kabila or at least away from Ruberwa.

In the east, Banyamulenge (Congolese Tutsi) commanders from the Armée Nationale Congolaise (ANC), the RCD-G's military wing, began gathering around Mutebutsi, who had hunkered down in the Nguba area of Bukavu. Major Santos arrived from Kalemie, claiming he was on sick leave, while Lieutenant Colonel Bisogo flew in from Shabunda, saying he was visiting his family, and Colonel Mushonda Mukalay arrived via Kigali. Mutebutsi's group then established contact with Laurent Nkunda in North Kivu. A network of dissidents was thus established, joining North Kivu, which had remained the fiefdom of RCD-G hardliners and almost entirely outside Kinshasa's control, with Bukavu. The region around Kalehe on Lake Kivu became an important staging area for the operation, as it was where Mirindi cooperated with the Hutu Local Defence Forces of Governor Serufuli to set up arms caches and begin training men.

The dissidents were an unstructured group with only a loose hierarchy. In the military wing, Nkunda assumed leadership of the forces in North Kivu with Colonel Bernard Byamungu as his deputy. Governor Serufuli supported the dissidents -- many of the troops that attacked Bukavu in June 2004 came from his Local Defence Forces (LDF), and trucks from his NGO, Everyone for Peace and Development (Tous Pour la Paix el le Développement, TPD), helped with transport[21] -- but he was unwilling to endorse Nkunda and Mutebutsi explicitly. The group benefited from Kigali's support, as the Rwandan military (RDF) allowed

[16] Crisis Group interview with high-ranking RCD-G official, Goma, January 2005.

[17] Crisis Group interview with high-ranking ex-FAC commander, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[18] Kabila had asked to place the intelligence and security services directly under the presidency, which Ruberwa, as the vice president in charge of security and defence, had refused. Other issues also disturbed Ruberwa. Kabila controlled an army of his own in the 10,000 strong presidential guard (Groupe Spécial de Sécurité Présidentielle,GSSP); in December 2003, Kabila wrote to the Supreme Court asking it to reinterpret the constitution so that he could directly appoint the provincial governors; and army resources were still largely controlled by Kabila's military office (maison militaire).

[19] Crisis Group interview with high-ranking RCD-G politician, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[20] Crisis Group interview with high-ranking RCD-G official in Bukavu, May 2004.

[21] Stephanie Wolters, "Continued Instability in the Kivus", Institute for Security Studies Paper 94, October 2004.

Nkunda to recruit in refugee camps there that housed Congolese Tutsi, such as the one in Gihembe, in Byumba prefecture.[22] A UN investigation established Rwanda's support to Mutebutsi and Nkunda, including by supply of weapons and ammunition and allowing its territory to be used as a rear base and safe haven.

Ruberwa and other RCD-G leaders in the government wavered over their response. Ruberwa seemed at times to side with Mutebutsi, condemning Kinshasa for a xenophobic stance towards the Banyamulenge. But both he and General Sylvain Mbuki, the ex-ANC head of the national army, denounced Mutebutsi and Nkunda as mutineers who had to be brought to justice.

The conflict between Kinshasa and the dissidents flared up again on 26 May 2004 in Bukavu, when Mutebutsi's troops clashed with those of the new military commander sent from Kinshasa to replace Nabyolwa, General Mbuza Mabe, a commander in Kabila's former army, the Forces Armées Congolaises (FAC). Mbuza, while far superior in supplies, ammunition and troops, lacked cohesion in his chain of command, since many ex-ANC and even Mai-Mai commanders were not fully under his control. His operations hamstrung by treason and desertion, he lost the town to Mutebutsi and Nkunda, who had made his way to Bukavu from Goma with 1,000 to 1,500 troops. Nkunda proceeded to loot the city, burning Kadutu market and causing more than 2,000 civilians to flee to the compound of the UN Mission (MONUC).

C. KINSHASA'S FUMBLED REACTION

By the time Nkunda withdrew from Bukavu on 10 June under international pressure, the transitional government had suffered almost irreparable damage. A substantial group of dissidents who had burned their bridges with it had emerged, and Kinshasa had shown itself to be incapable of dealing with the mutineers militarily or diplomatically.[23]

The fighting also exacerbated serious ethnic tensions in the region. The leadership of the dissidents was composed largely of Congolese Tutsi from North and South Kivu, leading the population and Mbuza Mabe's soldiers to generalise the threat to the whole of Bukavu's Banyamulenge community. While the attacks against the Tutsi were wildly exaggerated by Rwanda and Nkunda, who claimed genocide was being carried out, the community did suffer abuse, killings and rape, some at the hands of Mabe's soldiers. The threats were substantial enough that all the Banyamulenge, Rwandan and Burundian residents of the town -- estimated at 2,500 to 3,500 -- fled to Rwanda.[24]

While most of the RCD-G representatives in Kinshasa distanced themselves from the dissidents, many PPRD hardliners around Kabila seized the opportunity to rally against the "Rwandan threat". Ethnic stereotyping against Nkunda, Mutebutsi and people associated to them like Serufuli became commonplace. Television evangelists in the capital like Pasteur Theodore Ngoy preached regularly against the "foreign threat" posed by the Banyamulenge and Banyarwanda communities in the east.[25] Vital Kamerhe, the secretary general of the PPRD, accused Ruberwa of being "the Trojan horse to allow Rwanda to consolidate its plan of occupying the east of our country".[26] What had begun as a political impasse in Kinshasa, then erupted as a military confrontation in Bukavu, had finally turned into an ideological war between natives and "foreigners", Congolese and Rwandans.

Kabila ordered 10,000 ex-FAC and ex-MLC troops to be deployed to the east. They were sent to North and South Kivu to surround the territories of Walikale, Masisi and Rutshuru, where the ex-ANC hard core were deployed and Nkunda had retreated to after the siege of Bukavu. This was also a region populated primarily by Congolese Hutu and Tutsi, known as Banyarwanda. While Kabila asserted that the troops were merely to guard against a possible Rwandan invasion, the RCD-G believed he was preparing for the final neutralisation of its former army in North Kivu. The ex-ANC brigades in South Kivu were already hemmed in by the deployment in June of four ex-MLC and ex-FAC brigades. The new deployment caused eight RCD-G Hutu and Tutsi deputies to withdraw from parliament, including strongmen Bizima Karaha and Emmanuel Kamanzi, who claimed Kabila had marginalised their party.

Against this background, the massacre of Banyamulenge refugees in the Gatumba camp in Burundi struck the already tense relations between Ruberwa and Kabila like a bolt of lightening. On 13 August 2004, armed men [22] Letter dated 15 July 2004, addressed to the President of the Security Council by the President of the Committee of the Security Council created by Resolution 1533 (2004) regarding the Democratic Republic of Congo, pp. 26-27.

[23] While the newspapers proclaimed General Mbuza's military triumph, his forces had crumbled in the face of Nkunda's attack and only recovered Bukavu and the rest of South Kivu because Nkunda departed under international pressure.

[24] "War Crimes in Bukavu", Human Rights Watch Briefing Paper, June 2004.

[25] Theodore Ngoy has appeared regularly on Kinshasa television preaching against the Tutsi, who, he claims, are all Rwandan. He is reportedly close to part of Kabila's entourage.

[26] "Le parti de Kabila dénonce M. Ruberwa", Agence France-Presse, 25 August 2004.

entered the UNHCR camp, which sheltered several thousand Banyamulenge and other Congolese who had fled the instability in South Kivu, and killed 160 refugees. The extremist Burundian rebel Forces Nationales de Libération (FNL) claimed responsibility. Rwandan Foreign Minister Charles Murigande and Ruberwa, together at the funeral ceremony in Burundi, accused Mbuza Mabe and Kabila of planning the attack, although subsequent UN and Human Rights Watch investigations found no evidence for either Congolese or FDLR involvement.[27]

Ruberwa announced suspension of the RCD-G's participation in the transition, calling on members of his party to withdraw to Goma for consultations. While Ruberwa subsequently gave in to international pressure and rejoined the government, the political and military quarrels that had given rise to the violence in Bukavu had not been solved. Army integration was stalled, parallel military and economic chains of command were still maintained by all parties, and much of the essential legislation necessary for national unification had not been passed. With several ex-MLC, ex-APC and ex-FAC brigades within striking distance of Goma, a military confrontation was imminent.

The international community applied substantial diplomatic pressure on the parties. A tripartite agreement among Rwanda, Uganda and the Congo was put together, sponsored by the U.S., and talks were held in Ouagadougou between Kagame and Kabila in November 2004. Despite these efforts, fighting broke out again in late November. The trigger was the declaration by President Paul Kagame that he would send Rwanda's army into the Congo to attack the FDLR, which, he asserted, had carried out eleven attacks on Rwandan territory in 2004 without either MONUC or the new Congolese army reacting.[28] Rwandan troops were later spotted on Congolese territory, and their presence was confirmed by diplomats in Kigali,[29] although the extent of their intervention is not clear.[30]

Predictably, Kagame's statements provided a welcome excuse for Kinshasa to move on Goma. Kabila announced deployment of a further 10,000 troops to the east[31] in Operation Bima,[32] an advance from Kisangani and Beni towards Goma.[33] By eschewing political dialogue and forcing a military confrontation, it was clear that key players in the government still believed in a military victory over the RCD-G, especially after their apparent success in South Kivu. In early December, the advancing troops clashed with an ANC battalion in Kanyabayonga. These troops, primarily MLC soldiers who had been deployed to Beni after the Bukavu crisis in June, were poorly equipped and paid. 2,000 promptly deserted and resorted to pillaging and abusing the local population.

The troops deployed from Kisangani were better organised and secured the mineral-rich town of Walikale before advancing on the highlands of Masisi. MONUC intervened, creating a buffer zone.[34] Diplomatic pressure on both Goma and Kinshasa brought the military escalation to a tense standstill in late December. The transitional government deployed a new regional commander, General Gabriel Amisi, to Goma to begin the unification of the ex-ANC with the other units in North Kivu. Amisi, together with General Mbuza Mabe, put together an integrated battalion, which he sent to the high plateau of Kalehe to assure the return of the displaced Hutu population. Further north, however, in Kanyakayonga and Walikale, little has been achieved in terms of unification and reconciliation, and tensions remain high.

The rift between the RCD-G and Kabila resulted in the effective exclusion of Goma and its surrounding territories from the transitional administration. The stakes had been raised by hardliners on both sides and the situation aggravated by Rwanda's incursion. As discussed below, the manipulation of ethnic identity raised the possibility of communal violence if either side tried to press for a military solution. And while this military path seemed impossible given the weakness of the transitional government's army, neither side has shown the requisite political will or skill to solve the conflict through other means.

[27] Joint report of the United Nations Organisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the United Nations Operation in Burundi and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights into the Gatumba massacre, October 2004.

[28] Crisis Group interview with diplomat in Kigali, January 2005.

[29] Crisis Group interview with diplomat in Kigali, January 2005

[30] Some sources indicate the Rwandan troops clashed with the FDLR brigade command in Rusamambo, Rutshuru, and destroyed its camp.

[31] It appears that the 10,000 troops announced to be deployed in November 2004 included those already deployed after the Bukavu crisis.

[32] The name means "get out" in Lingala.

[33] While their official tasking was to secure the national borders and attack the FDLR, the operational orders seen by Crisis Group were to secure the routes Beni-Kanyabayonga-Goma and Kisangani-Walikale-Goma. Those orders, signed by General Onoya Léopold, implied a military confrontation with the ANC.

[34] This was almost immediately renamed a "humanitarian security zone", revealing either a sense of public relations or a lack of strategic vision.

III. MANIPULATION OF IDENTITY IN THE KIVUS

The fighting in North Kivu erupted within the context of communal tensions that have been politicised and manipulated as a consequence of the past two wars. The communal conflicts concerning the Kinyarwanda-speaking communities of North and South Kivu were left unaddressed by both Laurent Kabila's AFDL and the subsequent rebel movements. Like Mobutu before, the RCD-G, Kabila (father and son), and Kigali have all seized upon the conflicts between the Kinyarwanda-speaking people of the region and other communities to further their own interests.

The Kinyarwanda speakers -- called Banyarwanda in North Kivu and Banyamulenge in South Kivu -- are caught between two mutually reinforcing ideologies. On the one hand, the Goma political leadership has recently tried to bind the various Hutu and Tutsi communities together behind a new rwandophone concept, claiming that their very survival is at stake. This rhetoric is used to justify their campaign to keep the economic and political assets of North Kivu away from Kinshasa. On the other side of the country, politicians in the presidential camp have roused popular sentiment against the Rwandan threat, attributing all the Congo's woes to Kigali's meddling and describing all Kinyarwanda-speakers as foreigners and puppets.

These discourses fuel each other and transform a crisis with a specific political history into one of irreconcilably opposed identities. More importantly, this manipulation has contributed to the possibility of communal fighting in North Kivu, a region that saw bloody ethnic clashes in 1993. In order to understand the importance of this development, a brief overview of the history of the Banyarwanda in North Kivu is useful.

A. THE BANYARWANDA IMMIGRATION

When the borders were drawn between the Congo Free State and German East Africa at the Berlin Conference of 1885, a large area inhabited by Hutu was included in the Congo. The present territory of Rutshuru was then and still remains 80 to 90 per cent Hutu. In the 1930s, the Belgian colonial power created the Mission d'Immigration des Banyarwanda (MIB) to supply a cheap and easily controllable workforce to the mines and plantations of the eastern Congo. By 1955, around 160,000 Hutu and Tutsi had been transplanted from Rwanda to Masisi, Walikale and even parts of Katanga.[35] The conflict in North Kivu began around disputes over land and resources resulting from these movements.

Under the Belgians, the immigrant communities were administered in separate units called "Gishare", with Tutsi chiefs ruling over Hutu subjects. After independence, these units were incorporated into the older customary collectives. In North Kivu, most immigrants were henceforth ruled by the two Hunde chiefs, Mwami Kalinda and Mwami Bashali. In order to obtain title to land, the primary economic asset in the region, they had to pass through the Hunde customary authority, even if by 1960 the Hutu outnumbered all other communities in Masisi and Rutshuru.

The situation was further complicated by the ethnic purges of the 1950s in neighbouring Rwanda. Thousands of relatively wealthy Tutsi families fled the fighting and established themselves in Congolese cities. Mobutu seized the opportunity and welcomed many of the newly arrived Tutsi into his party, the Movement Populaire de la Révolution (MPR). Barthélémy Bisengimana became his powerful cabinet director, while other Tutsi obtained positions in his central office. Mobutu saw the community as marginalised, educated and easy to manipulate. In a move that mirrored the RCD-G's later manipulation of identity, he found some of his most loyal allies there. In the words of an academic in Goma, "Mobutu made sure they understood that they owed him their life or their death".[36]

In 1972, under Bisengimana's influence, Mobutu bestowed citizenship in a blanket fashion on all Rwandan immigrants. A year later, he nationalised the country's foreign-run industries and plantations, giving many of the Belgian plantations in Masisi and western Rutshuru to the newly arrived Tutsi. By the end of the decade, the Hunde chiefs had lost authority over much of the land formerly under their control.

In 1983 Mobutu gave in to popular pressure and repealed the blanket citizenship decree, requiring that each application be considered individually.[37] This only [35] Jean-Claude Willame, Banyamulenge and Banyarwanda (Paris, 1997).

[36] Crisis Group interview with OCHA official, Goma, 9 January 2005.

[37] To qualify, an applicant had to demonstrate that his or her tribe had been present at the demarcation of the boundaries in 1885, a condition that was thought to disqualify the Tutsi. However, most scholars date the Tutsi presence in South Kivu to before that date, to immigrations related to the wars in Rwanda under the regime of Mwami Ruabugiri Kigeri. See, for example, Jean-Pierre Chrétien, A History of the Great Lakes Region (New York, 2003). By first bestowing citizenship on the group and then removing it, Mobutu's dictatorship politicised their identity and entrenched in the community a profound suspicion of Kinshasa politics.

caused greater tensions in the region, however, and by the late 1980s violent clashes had begun between the pastoralist and agricultural communities in North Kivu.

B. PRESSURES OF DEMOCRATISATION AND THE MAGRIVI

The early 1990s brought a combination of external pressures to bear on North Kivu. Far from being united, as they currently are depicted to be, Hutu and Tutsi communities were in stark conflict with each other.

In October 1990, at the beginning of the Rwandan Patriotic Front (RPF) revolt against the regime of President Juvenal Habyarimana in Kigali, many Tutsi left Masisi to join the rebels in Uganda. The RPF also enjoyed the financial support of some wealthy Congolese Tutsi.[38] Laurent Nkunda, for example, left his home in western Rutshuru to enlist in the insurgency, eventually becoming an intelligence officer in the Rwandan Patriotic Army (RPA). At the same time, the Hutu community in Rutshuru rallied behind an organisation formed in the late 1980s, the Mutualité des Agriculteurs de Virunga (MAGRIVI). This group was a lobbying force to exert pressure on the state and ensure Hutu influence in Goma and Kinshasa. The MAGRIVI was strongly influenced by the Hutu Power rhetoric emanating from Rwanda; its leaders had close ties with the extremist Hutu party Coalition Pour la Défense de la République (CDR).

The democratisation process that began in the Congo[39] in 1991-1992 with the Conférence Nationale Souvéraine (CNS) pitted the communities against each other even further, as the Hunde and Nyanga representatives demanded that the Hutu and Tutsi be barred from the conference. In the meantime, each community in North Kivu, lacking state protection, began creating tribal militias for self-protection. The Hunde and Nyanga formed the Bangilima, while the Hutu created the Mongol militia.

In March 1993, when violence erupted in Walikale and spread to Masisi, more than 3,000 civilians died. Hostilities were then rekindled by the massive influx of Rwandan Hutu refugees as well as members of the defeated Rwandan army (FAR) and Interahamwe militia during the 1994 genocide. Almost without exception, Tutsi in Masisi and Goma sold their land and cattle and left for Rwanda, fearing Congolese persecution; they were welcomed by the new RPF regime that had taken power in Kigali by July 1994.

[38] Crisis Group interview with civil society representative, Goma, January 2005

[39] Then known as Zaire.

C. FROM TUTSI TO HUTU POWER

Many Tutsi refugees returned to Masisi with the advent of the RPF-backed AFDL of Laurent Kabila in late 1996. The AFDL was perceived by many as a Tutsi movement, since its backbone was the Tutsi-led Rwandan Patriotic Army (RPA), and many of the important political posts were occupied by Tutsi. As the AFDL swept through the region in pursuit of the ex-FAR/Interahamwe and the Rwandan refugees, there were many reports of massacres of Congolese Hutu civilians in the Rutshuru area in revenge for MAGRIVI's links to Hutu Power in Rwanda.[40]

It was only with the creation of RCD-G in 1998 that Hutu began returning to political power in North Kivu. After initial experimentation with leaders from other ethnic backgrounds such as Ernest Wamba dia Wamba, Lundu Bululu and Mbusa Nyamwisi, the RCD-G's Rwandan supporters fell back on Congolese Hutu and Tutsi. From 1999 onwards, more and more Banyamulenge filled the positions of power in Bukavu, while in Goma a mixture of Tutsi and Hutu came to the forefront. As a UN analyst commented:

> The idea was to identify power with an ethnicity that was already marginalised. The more isolated and unpopular this ethnicity became, the more it would depend on Rwandan support and become completely loyal to their demands. Kigali had been disappointed by many of their Congolese allies, above all Kabila. Ethnicity became the most reliable determinant.[41]

Whether or not Kigali was instrumental in bringing Kinyarwanda-speakers to power, the ranks of the RCD-G were soon replete with Hutu. In Rutshuru, Masisi and Goma, they occupied around 80 per cent of the administrative posts.[42] In places like Kitchanga, Jomba and Bunagana, Hunde customary chiefs were forcefully replaced by Hutu.

In 2000, Eugene Serufuli, a medical assistant at the general hospital in Goma, was installed by Kigali as governor of North Kivu.[43] A Hutu from Rutshuru who [40] The most notorious, if poorly documented, cases were in the Rutshuru towns of Kinyandoni and Bunyangula.

[41] Crisis Group interview with MONUC officer, Bukavu, 28 December 2004.

[42] Crisis Group interview with civil society representative, Goma, 12 January 2005.

[43] Charles Murigande, then the Secretary General of the RPF, addressed a church congregation in Goma in 2000, saying that Kigali was bringing it the new governor. Crisis Group interview, Goma, January 2005 had been active in MAGRIVI, he revived the Local Defence Forces (LDF), a militia that his predecessor had created, and turned it into an all-Hutu force. The LDF was linked to customary chiefs, as all the chefs de collectivité became commanders, and their subordinates -- the nyumba kumi and chefs de localité -- attended military training at the main LDF camp in Mushaki, 40 km northwest of Goma.[44] By some estimates, Serufuli controlled between 10,000 and 15,000 fighters.[45] In 2003, in preparation for national unification, the LDF were integrated into the ANC, forming its eleventh and twelfth brigades. Nonetheless, Serufuli retained extensive control over these troops, paying them and organising logistics for their operations.[46]

By the time North Kivu was supposed to be integrated into the rest of the county in late 2003, Serufuli had become the nexus of military and economic power in the region, "l'homme incontournable" -- the indispensable man -- of Goma. In May 2004, he was confirmed in his post by the transitional government.

D. WHO ARE THE DISSIDENTS?

Since the early days of the transition, it has been apparent that many RCD-G officials are not happy with their positions. The RCD-G is not just unpopular in the Congo; it is accused by many of being the cause of the second war in 1998 and, as such, for being the cause of the misery of the Congolese today. At the same time, as described below, Kabila has tried to keep it from positions of genuine power in Kinshasa. After the mutiny in Bukavu crystallized these tensions in May 2004, many RCD-G representatives decided to align themselves against the transition.

Even before the mutiny, RCD-G disaffection was apparent. The first sign was the refusal of four of the ten ex-ANC brigade commanders to join the national army in the capital.[47] Other ex-ANC officers, who participated in a training session for the brigade commanders from all armed groups in Kinshasa, found their living conditions to be terrible. As one explained:

> We were given $30 a month, a bunk bed and food twice a day. We had to ask the RCD-G politicians to have pity on us and to lend us some money. At the same time, we saw our colleagues from the ex-FAC living lives of luxury. For a full colonel who was used to making $500 a month or more, this was a disgrace.[48]

The military ranks of the ex-ANC were not confirmed until September 2004, and they were officially paid the same $12 a month as their soldiers, while the ex-FAC officers kept their ranks and received their salaries as before.[49] This created widespread resentment and was one of the reasons for the later actions of Masudi and Mutebutsi.

After the Bukavu mutiny, the political leadership of the RCD-G split as well. As noted above, on 9 July 2004, eight powerful Hutu and Tutsi RCD-G parliamentarians suspended their participation in the government and withdraw to Goma, including Bizima Karaha, Emmanuel Kamanzi, and Alexis Makabuza.[50]

These military and civilian figures coalesced around Governor Serufuli in Goma. They are not a cohesive group but Serufuli is the strongest amongst them, as he commands many of the military and financial resources of the province. Serufuli was co-founder of the NGO Tous pour la Paix et le Développement (TPD) which initially focused, in collaboration with Rwandan authorities, on repatriation of Rwandan refugees in North Kivu.[51] While TPD was very successful with this, it has in recent years become a parastatal organisation involved in everything from roadwork to the transport and supply of LDF and ex-ANC troops. As noted above, TPD vehicles were seen supporting Nkunda's troops in his siege of Bukavu[52] and transporting soldiers and supplies to the front in Kanyabayonga.[53] It is widely believed that Serufuli [44] Crisis Group interview, RCD-K-ML administration official, Goma, 11 January 2005.

[45] Crisis Group Africa Report N°56, The Kivus: The Forgotten Crucible of the Congo Conflict, 24 January 2003, p. 20.
[46] Crisis Group interview, ANC officers, Goma and Bukavu, December and January 2005.
[47] Laurent Nkunda, Elie Gishondo, Eric Ruohimbere and Bernard Byamungu.
[48] Crisis Group interview with an ex-ANC brigade commander, Goma, January 2005. Other ex-ANC brigade commanders confirmed this treatment.
[49] Crisis Group interviews with ex-ANC and ex-FAC officers in Bukavu and Kinshasa, December 2004 and January 2005.
[50] Karaha was Laurent Kabila's minister of foreign affairs and subsequently the chief of security and intelligence for the RCD-G; Kamanzi was the RCD-G's minister of finance and organised its financial relations with Rwanda; Alexis Makabuza is the director of TPD and an important businessman in Goma. The other parliamentarians who left the government were Apolinaire Kalera, Bijos Ntaganda, Dunia Barakani, John Kanyoni Nsana, Oswald Ndenshyo and Théo Mpabuka.
[51] See Crisis Group, Kivus, op. cit.
[52] Stephanie Wolters, "Continued Instability in the Kivus", op. cit. Crisis Group interviews with ex-ANC officers and civil society representatives, Goma, January 2005.
[53] Crisis Group interview with RCD-G and MONUC officials who had visited the frontline, January 2005.

funnels state funds through TPD to run his parallel military and administrative organisation. While the soldiers in Goma receive an irregular salary of $12 a month from Kinshasa, Serufuli also pays them and finances their logistics and supplies.[54]

Serufuli's grip on power is enhanced by the backing of his colleagues in the local government and business. Léon Muheto, for example, is the director of the state electricity company Société Nationale d'Electricité (SNEL) in Goma, as well as a prominent member of the rwandophone movement. Modeste Makabuza, a close associate of Serufuli, is probably the most powerful businessman in Goma. He owns the Société Congolaise d'Assurances et de Rassurances (SCAR) insurance company, as well as shares in the Supercell phone company and a niobium mine in Rutshuru, and controls much of the fuel brought into Goma. His brother, Alexi, is the co-founder with Serufuli of TPD.

Rwanda's hand is still apparent in this group. Some officials of the Goma administration live in the Rwandan border town of Gisenyi.[55] The Congolese border officials leave their posts at 6 pm. but the Rwandan border stays open until midnight, allowing Rwandan officials and businessmen to cross into Goma discreetly. There are several reports of Rwandan officers or soldiers being discovered in the town.[56]

Having secured a strong position in Goma, the authorities there distanced themselves from the RCD-G. Serufuli explained to a diplomat in late 2004 that "Ruberwa is our brother, but he doesn't have anything to say here".[57] With military and financial assets at their disposal, they are a new power in the eastern Congo, one underpinned by a strong ethnic ideology.

E. INVENTION OF THE "RWANDOPHONES"

Uniting the Hutu and Tutsi communities in North Kivu was an essential part of the RCD-G's strategy to gain what it had failed to achieve elsewhere in the Congo: a grassroots base. For its Rwandan sponsors, it was equally vital to have a solid ally there. In the words of a Rwandan security officer: "We learned from history. As long as there are problems between the Hutu and Tutsi in North Kivu, there will be problems for Rwanda".[58] With recent bad memories of MAGRIVI and Hutu Power, Kigali worked to create strong alliances with the communities along its north western border through Serufuli, one of the very men who had been associated with the Hutu Power movement six years earlier.

The naming of Serufuli as governor, the appointment of many Hutu and Tutsi notables to powerful posts in the North Kivu administration and the creation of the LDF were key steps, and on 19 January 2004 the new union was formally given a name. Francois Gachaba and Felicien Nzitatira, leaders respectively of the Hutu and Tutsi communities, published the "Memorandum of Congolese Rwandophones" in the newspaper Le Soft, detailing the systematic persecution and stereotyping of Congolese Hutu and Tutsi by the post-independence governments and exhorting the transitional government to bear this in mind while debating the draft constitution and the law on citizenship. Gachaba and Nzitatira called for a federal state that would guarantee equal shares of resources to the provinces and a law to end the debate around their communities' citizenship.

The dangerous aspect of this vision of an imperilled community soon became evident. When Laurent Nkunda marched on Bukavu in June 2004, he justified this by claiming that Mbuza Mabe was perpetrating genocide against the Banyamulenge in Bukavu, an allegation that, as noted, was contradicted by subsequent Human Rights Watch and MONUC investigations.[59] Nkunda's refusal to go to Kinshasa to join the national army in September 2003 had also been based partly on his alleged fear of ethnic persecution there, even though other Tutsi officers such as Mutebutsi and General Obedi Rwibasira were received without problems. When fighting broke out in Kanyabayonga in December 2004, the ANC frontline soldiers -- all Hutu or Tutsi -- told reporters that Kinshasa sought to exterminate them, and the battle was "a matter of life or death".[60] Serufuli also tried rallying international opinion by telling the press that General Mabe had displaced 150,000 Hutu in the high plateau of Kalehe, and the 10,000 FARDC troops deployed to attack Goma [54] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official and ex-RCD-ML officials, Goma, January 2005.

[55] Crisis Group interview with high-ranking administration official, Goma, January 2005. Several examples were given, including Albert Semana, the head of the security service in Goma.

[56] On one occasion, a civil society representative was arrested by a Rwandan officer who dropped his ID. On another occasion, a Rwandan soldier was caught stealing by the local population and beaten. He also was discovered to have a Rwandan Defence Force ID.

[57] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, Goma, January 2005.

[58] Crisis Group interview with Rwandan official, Cyangugu, 27 December 2004.

[59] "War Crimes in Bukavu", Human Rights Watch Briefing Paper, June 2004; Crisis Group interview with MONUC officer, Bukavu, 27 December 2004.

[60] Crisis Group interview with foreign correspondent, Kinshasa, January 2005.

included several thousand ex-FAR and Interahamwe.[61] These allegations were wildly exaggerated -- international NGOs, for example, estimated there were 10,000 to 15,0000 displaced.

This rhetoric bears many similarities to the reports broadcasts by the Rwandan government and by some Banyamulenge authorities in the lead-up to the May fighting in Bukavu. On 3 March 2004, armed men forced their way into a private radio station in Bukavu and demanded that a message be broadcast by the Banyamulenge saying that the Catholic Church and others were preparing a genocide against the Tutsi.[62] The Rwandan authorities supported this identity-focused discourse. On the evening of 27 May, one day after fighting had begun, Radio Rwanda broadcast a newsflash denouncing the genocide allegedly taking place in Bukavu, where ex-FAR and Interahamwe were said to be massacring Tutsi with machetes.[63] Nothing like genocide had taken place. Both sides had attacked civilians in their area of control, although some of Mbuza's attacks were ethnically motivated. In the first few days of fighting, Mbuza's men killed ten to fifteen Banyamulenge civilians. When challenged by diplomats in Kigali about genocide accusations, President Kagame reportedly retorted "When a Tutsi is killed in Bukavu, it is not one death, but a million and one".[64]

Similar accusations of FDLR involvement and genocide in the eastern Congo were made immediately after the Gatumba massacre in August 2004, by both Ruberwa and Rwanda's foreign minister Charles Murigande. Rwandan government officials insisted to diplomats and journalists that the FDLR deployed a brigade to Bukavu during the fighting and that General Mbuza has FDLR officers in his staff.[65] MONUC investigations into the Bukavu and Gatumba incidents revealed no evidence of FDLR involvement.[66]

By couching the conflict in terms of identity, the authorities in Goma have found a justification for maintaining a sphere of influence beyond the reach of Kinshasa.[67] The Bukavu and Gatumba crises illustrate that the notion of besieged Tutsi and Hutu communities is still used to justify military action against the transitional government by both Congolese dissidents and the Rwandan government. Kinshasa authorities have played along, reinforcing the rwandophone rhetoric with their own extremism. This has served to deter reconciliation between the RCD-G and Kabila.

Anti-Tutsi sentiment has been high in Kinshasa for years. After Laurent Kabila expelled members of the Rwandan army from the capital in July 1998, the head of his cabinet, Yerodia Ndombasi, called the Tutsi "scum, vermin that must be methodically eradicated". In the weeks that followed, hundreds of Tutsi civilians throughout the Congo were arbitrarily arrested, tortured and killed.[68] In subsequent years, anti-Tutsi sentiment has formed a cornerstone of the PPRD platform. According to a UN analyst, "In the absence of a solid popular base and public services, anti-Tutsi propaganda is one of the only things that can rouse the rabble in Kinshasa".[69]

The authorities in eastern Congo have also been complicit in this demonisation. When UNHCR and MONUC tried to prepare the repatriation of the 3,000 Banyamulenge refugees who had fled Bukavu after the fighting in May and June, the Catholic Church and civil society in the city held "peace marches" during which anti-Banyamulenge banners were displayed. The Governor of South Kivu, Augustin Bulaimu, participated in one of the marches. And when a group of several hundred Banyamulenge refugees tried to cross into the Congo from Burundi in September, Congolese security officials instigated an anti-Tutsi rally in nearby Uvira. The Vice Governor and the head of South Kivu's intelligence service were reportedly involved in this action.[70] These incidents demonstrate that during the run-up to elections, no politician is eager to lose popularity by appearing pro-Tutsi.

---

[61] Stephanie Wolters, "Continued Instability in the Kivus", op. cit. The more accurate figure given by international NGOs was 10,000 to 15,000 displaced.
[62] BBC monitoring, Radio Candip, 0500 GMT 8 March 2004.
[63] MONUC monitoring of Radio Rwanda, 27 May 2004.
[64] Crisis Group interview with diplomat, Kigali, 17 January 2005.
[65] Crisis Group interviews with Rwandan officials and with diplomats, Kigali, January 2005. During the fighting in Bukavu, MONUC sent DDR officers and interpreters familiar with the FDLR to investigate specific accusations but was not able to confirm their presence.
[66] Joint report into the Gatumba massacre, op. cit. Crisis Group interview with MONUC DDR officer, Bukavu, 27 December 2004.
[67] The rwandophone community is not nearly as unified as leaders such as Gachaba and Serufuli profess to believe. The Tutsi Mayor of Goma Nzabara Masetsa wrote a memorandum against the "imaginary creation" of the rwandophone community on 20 December 2004. Many Hutu in Rutshuru are also dissatisfied at being lumped together with the Tutsi and Hutu of Masisi and have tried to protest in Goma.
[68] Amnesty International, "Annual Report on the Democratic Republic of Congo", 1999.
[69] Crisis Group interview with MONUC political affairs officer, Kinshasa, 4 January 2005.
[70] Crisis Group interview with international NGO and MONUC officials, Bukavu, 27-28 December 2004.

By early 2005, only four Banyamulenge families had been able to return to Bukavu, and they were subject to arrest and harassment by the army.[71] In the meantime, all the former Banyamulenge authorities from Bukavu, including the ex-head of intelligence, the public prosecutor, the deputy police commander and a head of the revenue agencies, gathered in Rwanda and Goma, Their exclusion from the transition, according to Enoch Ruberangabo, a Banyamulenge deputy in parliament, "is dangerous, as they will seek to regain their former importance through any means. They have become mercenaries".[72]

The RCD has been all but neutralized in South Kivu, and the Hutu and Tutsi have fled Bukavu. This has served as an example to the remaining RCD-G leaders in North Kivu. For them, Kinshasa's deployment of troops to Beni and Walikale in December was intended to complete the dismantling of their party.

Both sides appear more than willing to play the ethnic card to further their ends, even if it means fostering communal conflict. In October 2004, Serufuli organized a distribution of weapons to civilians in the territory of Masisi, telling them that they would need to protect themselves from their enemies.[73] In December, as four brigades pushed south towards Goma from Beni and two others east from Walikale, ex-ANC troops loyal to him attacked civilians in Buramba and Nabiondo, massacring at least 90.[74] Mai-Mai fighters retaliated by lobbing mortars into Hutu villages in southern Masisi. If full-fledged fighting between the army (FARDC) and the ANC resumes, it will almost surely spill over to the civilian population.

Very little has been done to reconcile the two sides, which both appear to prefer conflict to negotiation. In Bukavu, for months after Mutebutsi's attack on Nabyolwa, the army and the transitional government did nothing to marginalise Mutebutsi, despite the entreaties of the Banyamulenge community there.[75] Similarly, nothing was done either to arrest or negotiate with the substantial group of ex-ANC officers who had refused to go to Kinshasa to take up new posts. With a group as important as this left to its own devices, it was clear that there would eventually be trouble. As one RCD-G official explained, "Kinshasa is too weak to be grandstanding and insulting these officers; if they can't manage a military solution, they should negotiate".[76]

Ruberwa and Kabila, still estranged due to their struggle over the security apparatus, were barely on speaking terms. When Rwanda threatened invasion in late November 2004, Kabila, under pressure from the capital's population, rashly sent troops to confront Serufuli's force in North Kivu without so much as informing Serufuli's commanders. When the FARDC sent General Gabriel Amisi to Goma in an effort to restrain Serufuli, it simultaneously deployed General Onoya to Beni with orders -- to lead an advance on Goma -- that contradicted Amisi's.[77] A parliamentary delegation led by the president of the Senate, Monsignor Marini Bodho, put together recommendations based on talks with the dissidents in Goma, but its report was not made public for several months, and its recommendations have not been discussed.

F. THE STAKES: THE RICHES OF NORTH KIVU

RCD-G's position is significantly different in North Kivu from South Kivu. In their years in power in Goma, the personalities surrounding Serufuli have acquired substantial assets, perhaps most importantly control of the state apparatus. Beside a few posts occupied by officials designated by the transitional government,[78] Hutu and Tutsi officials, who have close ties with the Rwandan government, dominate the local administration and armed forces.

The area of North Kivu that lies within the ex-ANC's military control produces around $1.1 million a month in declared revenue, mostly from taxes on imports and exports, especially of fuel.[79] While 85 per cent is supposed to go to the Central Bank in Kinshasa, much is embezzled at the source. Provincial officials often grant waivers to traders to import and export goods without paying customs duties and receive generous kickbacks in return.[80]

---

[71] Crisis Group interview with Banyamulenge leader, Bukavu, 29 December 2004.
[72] Crisis Group interview, Bukavu, 29 December 2004.
[73] Crisis Group interviews with administration officials, MONUC officials and civil society representatives, Goma, January 2005.
[74] "Ex-rebels in Congo killed over 60 civilians in December", Reuters Newswire, 24 February 2005.
[75] Crisis Group interview with Banyamulenge leader, Bukavu, December 2004.
[76] Crisis Group interview with RCD-G official, Goma, January 2005.
[77] Crisis Group interview with General Amisi, Goma, January 2005.
[78] With perhaps one or two exceptions, the only officials who are not Hutu or Tutsi in the Goma administration are the two vice governors, the head of the North Kivu police, the heads of the courts and General Amisi. They were all appointed recently by the transitional government.
[79] Crisis Group interview with senior administrative official, Goma, 12 January 2005.
[80] Crisis Group interview with senior administrative officials, Goma, 10-14 January 2005.

Some have interpreted the recent clashes in Kanyabayonga as a drive by Serufuli to gain control over le Grand Nord, the Beni-Lubero territory formerly held by the Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Mouvement de Libération (RCD-ML). This territory used to generate over 60 per cent of North Kivu's revenues, mostly through customs duties at the Uganda border. Serufuli already tried to capture Kanyabayonga and Lubero in 2003, before the transitional government was installed in Kinshasa. Even then Kabila sent several battalions of the old army to Beni. The December 2004 violence, however, should be seen more in the context of Serufuli's struggle to survive and to retain the power and assets he currently controls in Goma.

As in large parts of the Congo, much of the revenue in North Kivu passes outside of administrative channels and leaves no paper trail. This is the case for many mining proceeds. The most lucrative mines are around Walikale in the far west of the province, where there are rich deposits of cassiterite, an ore processed to make tin. Due to a 300 per cent rise in tin prices over the past two years, huge profits were being made there. Between January and August 2004, 1,760 tons of cassiterite was flown out of Walikale.[81] At the current world price, this amounts to between $12 million and $17 million.[82] Most of the profits are made by the dealers in Goma and Bukavu, who buy the ore for around $2/kg and resell it for $6-$7/kg. According to pilots and lawyers who had to deal with quarrels between traders and aviation companies, Rwandan army officers were deployed to Walikale to control the airport.[83] Much of the ore was processed across the border in Gisenyi, at a smelter operated by the South African Metal Processing Association (MPA). MPA is associated with an individual who has in the past been a substantial financial backer of the RPF.[84]

Mineral wealth has placed Walikale at the centre of the fighting in North Kivu. In June 2004, fighting broke out there between Nyanga and Hunde ex-Mai-Mai and Hutu and Tutsi ex-ANC units. While some of this was linked to the mutiny in Bukavu at that time, control over mining and land rights were the real stakes, according to the local administration.[85]

Fraud and embezzlement are by no means unique to North Kivu. Corruption is rampant throughout the transitional government. What is different in Goma is that it is carried out by a more or less cohesive group of people who, united by their ethnic background and their opposition to the transitional government, are willing to use violence and ethnic mobilisation to defend their position. Remembering past events in South Kivu and their wholesale loss of property in Masisi and Goma in 1994, the Tutsi are afraid of losing their power to Kinshasa if the country is genuinely re-unified.

North Kivu should be seen in a very different light than South Kivu, where the Banyamulenge's rise to wealth and status has been very recent and where they were confined strictly to the RCD-G administration. In North Kivu, the Hutu and Tutsi communities may number one million and include wealthy businessmen and large landowners. Many leaders in Goma have few liquid assets, since they converted their wealth into real estate and cattle. This makes the prospect of exile all the more unattractive for them. Bizima Karaha, for example, the acerbic former chief of security for the RCD-G, has become the largest cattle herder in Masisi, even though he is originally from South Kivu.[86] Serufuli and Nkunda have invested in large farms in Rutshuru and Masisi and in houses in Goma. They will fiercely resist Kinshasa's attempts to recover authority in Goma.

The solution in North Kivu may lie in its leadership. The crisis has been fomented by spoilers in Goma and Kinshasa. Kinshasa needs to act urgently to prevent further escalation. Nothing substantive has been undertaken since January 2005 to reconcile Serufuli's administration with the transitional government. As dissidents are a problem for the RCD-G as well as the transitional government, Ruberwa needs to work with the other parties to marginalise the hardliners from the [81] Crisis Group electronic communication with MONUC official, February 2005. An additional 1,000 tons of tin were shipped through Goma from other sources during this period.

[82] Finbar O'Reilly, "Rush for natural resources still fuels war in Congo", Reuters AlertNet, 12 August 2004. The world price for tin fluctuated between $6 and $9/kg during 2004.
[83] Crisis Group interviews with pilots and lawyers, Bukavu and Goma, December 2004 and January 2005
[84] "Report of the Panel of Experts on the Illegal Exploitation of Natural Resources and Other Forms of Wealth of the Democratic Republic of the Congo", 12 April 2001; Stefaans Brummer, "SA's war vultures", Mail & Guardian Online, 16 January 2005.
[85] Crisis Group electronic communication with MONUC official, February 2005. Another example of the importance of natural resources is the SOMIKIVU niobium mine in Luheshe. According to the vice president of the board of executives and senior administration officials in Goma, it is a joint company, 70 per cent of whose shares are owned by a German company and 30 per cent by the Congolese state. Since the beginning of the war, management has been opaque, and considerable funds have disappeared, by one estimate, $13.3 million. Crisis Group interview with senior administrative officials, Goma, 13 January 2005; report of SOMIKIVU's board of executives submitted to a parliamentary delegation from Kinshasa.
[86] Crisis Group interviews with UN official, Kinshasa, and civil society representative, Goma, January 2005.

moderates in Goma and to assert government authority over the province. While Serufuli may be easier to co-opt than remove, others such as Nkunda, Chiribanya and Byamungu must be dealt with more forcefully. At the same time, leaders in Kinshasa must be taken to task for xenophobia, and the transitional government should install a responsible administration in Goma that is sensitive to the province's communal tensions.

At the moment, however, the transitional government has taken a passive stance of wait and see, preferring to contain the threat rather than negotiate. This attitude is almost certain to lead to further violence.

IV. POLITICAL IMPASSE IN KINSHASA

The violence in North Kivu is closely linked to conflicts within the transitional government. Serufuli, Ruberwa and Kabila's actions must be interpreted in light of the stalemate in Kinshasa. The RCD-G and Kabila, who have failed to agree on control of the country's military and economic institutions, have resorted to military means to solve their dispute, with North Kivu as the theatre of operations. As elections approach, and all transition members face possible loss of power, similar scenarios may be played out in other provinces.

The transitional government was the result of a political compromise between warring parties. It is a clumsy apparatus, not only because all decisions are contentious between the signatories of the Sun City Agreement, but also because the transition has created a sprawling bureaucracy. The president (Kabila) has four vice presidents; there are 36 ministries as well as 500 deputies and 120 senators in the transitional parliament. For a country whose administrative apparatus had been dilapidated by 32 years of Mobutu's misrule and two wars, this was a considerable challenge.

Progress has been very slow. In its first seven months, parliament was able to pass only one major law, on establishment of the Independent Electoral Commission (Commission Indépendante Électorale, CEI). In recent months, however, the legislative process has accelerated. The law on the structure of the army was finally passed on 12 November 2004, although it left the size and control of the controversial presidential guard undecided. A law effectively granting citizenship to the Kinyarwanda-speaking communities in the east was passed at the same time.[87] Drafts of the constitution, and amnesty, decentralisation and electoral laws are still being worked on.

While parliament is making some progress, the real obstacle to the transition is the reluctance of the spoilers to give up the power and assets they derive from the persistence of parallel chains of command in the military, the financial institutions and the administration and the corruption these have engendered.

[87] The law grants citizenship upon individual application to those whose tribes were present in the Congo at independence in 1960.

A. PARALLEL COMMAND STRUCTURES[88]

According to the agreements among the former belligerents, the main armed groups are to undergo a simultaneous process of integration and demobilisation in order to form a unified army. The estimated 300,000 combatants in the armed groups are to be trimmed by half, and 25 orientation centres (centres d'orientation) and sixteen assembly centres (centres de brassage)[89] are to be set up throughout the country in order to separate child soldiers, invalids and voluntary demobilisation candidates from those troops who will be integrated and retrained.

Very little headway has been made. The office in charge of the integration, the Military Integration Structure (Structure militaire d'intégration, SMI), is a powerless shell. No funding was provided in either the 2003 or 2004 budgets for army integration, and parliament had to advance money from the 2005 budget in order to begin preliminary work.[90] Some independent bilateral efforts have been made by the Angolans to train four brigades in Kitona and by the Belgians and South Africans for a further 3,200 troops at the military base in Kamina. In December 2004, Belgium, South Africa and the transitional government signed a tripartite agreement to coordinate these efforts, but no one has come forward to provide the much-needed financial support to begin integration.[91] These mainly bilateral efforts have resulted in patchwork remedies, with no coherent overarching plan on how to reform the army.

Some progress was made early on in integration of the military general staff in Kinshasa. On 19 August 2003, the staff officers were nominated, followed soon afterwards by the appointment of commanders for the country's ten military regions.[92] As noted above, however, very little changed on the ground because only the leaders were different. Throughout the country, parallel chains of command have persisted. The 20,000 MLC, 45,000 RCD-G, 120,000 FAC, 40,000 Mai-Mai and 10,000 RCD-K-ML fighters have barely moved from where they were[93] and not pooled their heavy weapons or artillery.

Kabila's presidential guard, the GSSP, was of special concern to the former rebels. It numbers between 10,000 and 15,000 and is under his direct control. Kabila also retains control of many military resources through his military office (maison militaire), an apparatus created in February 2002 to establish a direct link between presidency and army.[94] Despite the creation of a unified army general staff in Kinshasa in August 2003, much of the control over logistics and resources has remained with this body.[95] UN analysts familiar with the politics of the general staff have indicated that Kabila has tried to absorb the other forces into his own army, rather than allowing a genuine integration of command and control.[96]

In general, the hardliners around Kabila are still eager to scrap the transitional government and pursue the military solution that has eluded them for five years. In the words of a MONUC official who dealt with them regularly, "Every time there was a hiccup in the transition, the Katangan hardliners would come out of the woodwork insisting on suspending the four-plus-one agreement".[97] In the wake of the Bukavu crisis, Kabila himself held meetings with the various parties in the transitional government in an effort to review the Sun City agreement.[98] The reaction to the Rwandan threats in November 2004 was similarly telling. By dispatching several brigades to Goma without even speaking to the ex-ANC officers there, Kabila was in effect forcing a military solution, a notion with which PPRD officials in Kinshasa privately agree.[99]

---

[88] A forthcoming Crisis Group report will analyse security sector reform in the Congo in more detail.

[89] The soldiers are to assemble at the orientation centres, where the demobilisation program will be explained, then continue to the mixing centres for reassignment and training as integrated units.

[90] In December 2004, $57 million had been allotted to the SMI but not approved. ICG interview with Azarias Ruberwa, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[91] Sixteenth report of the Secretary General on the United Nations Organisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, December 2004.

[92] Decrees 018/2003 and 019/2003, 19 August 2005

[93] The figures for the troops are those in the Sun City Agreements. The FAC never did provide an official figure but its forces were estimated between 80,000 and 120,000. All figures were probably inflated.

[94] Decret 024/2002, reprinted in Le Palmares, 25 February 2002.

[95] General Malik Kijege, an RCD-G commander named to be the head of military logistics (G-4), has often not been consulted on equipment purchases and contracts for fuel and food. During the deployment of troops to the east after the Bukavu crisis in May 2004, the ex-ANC army chief of staff, General Sylvain Mbuki, was completely sidelined. Crisis Group interview with MONUC political affairs officer, Kinshasa, March 2004.

[96] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, Kinshasa, 12 January 2005.

[97] Crisis Group interview with former MONUC official, New York, 17 December 2004.

[98] Third Special Report of the Secretary General to the Security Council, August 2004.

[99] Crisis Group interview with senior PPRD official, Kinshasa, 13 January 2005.

Corruption is a further impediment to unification of the armed forces and the country as a whole. The army has become a business opportunity for those able to control supply contracts and payrolls. During the December 2004 deployment of troops to the east, for example, $13 million were freed up to pay for supplies and transport. Some of the food was flown from the Kivus to Kinshasa and then back, resulting in bloated profits for the transport companies and generous kickbacks for the general staff in Kinshasa.[100] The international community in the capital also has raised collective eyebrows at the swollen army payrolls -- instead of the 220,000 soldiers declared by the belligerents at Sun City, lists of 340,000 were presented for payment.[101] The excess amounts to over $1.4 million a month in salaries. There are also incidents of simple theft -- the deputy military regional commander in Goma was suspended after stealing $200,000 in salaries for his soldiers.[102] These cases have had some serious security implications, as soldiers have frequently protested, sometimes violently, not receiving pay.[103]

The parallel command structure of the military is mirrored in the country's administration, where many officials operate outside the legal framework of the transitional administration to cultivate their financial networks. This has seriously compromised the transition's progress. In September 2004, an audit of state-run companies requested by parliament revealed staggering levels of corruption, causing Kabila to dismiss six ministers and several dozen company officials. Later, his own cabinet director, Evariste Boshab, was suspended for fraud concerning deals he had made with the electricity company in Brazzaville. These cases, however, are just the tip of the iceberg.

No criminal charges have been brought against any of the accused, civilian or military, despite abundant evidence. The institution charged by the transition for dealing with corruption is barely functional, and the public prosecutors have dragged their feet. As a foreign diplomat in Kinshasa commented, "The components and their military commanders are behaving like they never signed anything in Sun City".[104]

The persistence of these parallel command structures formed the background for the first major crisis of the transition between Ruberwa and Kabila, in early 2004. A year later, after little was done to fix the problem, a similar confrontation took place between Bemba and Kabila. In January 2005, the head of the MLC threatened to withdraw from the transition unless Kabila shared control of the lucrative state-run enterprises and the local administration as was agreed at Sun City. The only integration that has taken place so far has been through appointment of provincial governors and vice governors. All other officials remain in place, often with strong loyalties to the former belligerents. Bemba argued that Kabila also retained state-run media such as the Radio et Télévision Nationale Congalaise (RTNC) and the security service in the part of the country formerly under the old army's control. As this includes more than 60 per cent of the population, it suggests a Kabila electoral advantage. PPRD officials appear more concerned with Bemba's rivalry than Tshisekedi's, despite the latter's standing in polls,[105] indicating that they believe control over the administrative apparatus may be more important in the election than personal popularity.

B. WEAKNESS IN POLITICAL PARTIES

Governance in present-day Congo, as in Mobutu's Zaire, is characterised by weakness and internal conflict. This has severely undercut political progress and given individuals free rein for their personal ambitions. Both the PPRD and the RCD-G have no clear hierarchy, and have been hurt in the past year by defections, internal dissent and corruption. The crises in North Kivu and in Kinshasa are partly the consequence.

The PPRD was founded in March 2002 to succeed the older Kabila's AFDL. Like it, the son's party has no coherent political or economic platform. Its structure is small -- a secretary general, Vital Kamhere, and a few advisers. Top party aides lament the lack of funding and admit that they have yet to develop a full campaign platform.[106] Its ministers and parliamentarians do not form a cohesive, structured group but are fairly independent and compete for the favours of the president. To the PPRD's alarm, Kabila has not declared himself a member or a candidate in the elections, and he continues to be influenced by military commanders outside the party, such as General John Numbi. The vice presidents in the transitional government often complain that Kabila is not able to impose his will on the various [100] 100kg sacks of beans were bought for $20 each in the east, flown to Kinshasa for $100 and transported back east for another $240. The total cost per bag came to around $360. ICG interview with high-ranking security official, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[101] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, Kinshasa, January 2005.
[102] This was the case with General Mufu Kiyana, the ex-FAC commander in Goma.
[103] The CIAT took note of the dangerous level of discontent and officially urged Kabila in March 2005 to pay his soldiers.
[104] Crisis Group interview with diplomat, Kinshasa, May 2004.
[105] Crisis Group interview with PPRD official, Kinshasa, January 2005.
[106] Crisis Group interview with PPRD top adviser, Kinshasa, January 2005.

tendencies among his advisers.[107] Those advisers, on the other hand, are more than happy to delay the run-up to elections that might well go against Kabila.

Kabila, like his father, regularly changes staff. In November 2002, he purged some of his top people, including Mwenze Kongolo and Katumba Mwanke, after they were incriminated by a UN report for illegal exploitation of natural resources. Others, like Denis Kalume and Sylvestre Lwetcha, who had fought beside his father in the bush, were also replaced. Most recently, he removed the heads of his presidential guard and his military office, Jean-Claude Kifwa and Damas Kabulo. Many of these moves, however, are merely cosmetic. Katumba, Kifwa and Kabulo were all later given other important positions. A diplomat explained: "Kabila's not strong enough to remove them completely, but he also can't trust them enough to leave them in one position for too long".[108]

The RCD-G has had similar problems. Since the former rebels arrived in Kinshasa in 2003, many of the non-rwandophones have become close to the PPRD and have criticised Ruberwa. In June 2004, three RCD-G parliamentarians created a movement within the party called "RCD-G Reform" (RCD-G rénovateur), denouncing its leadership for kowtowing to Kigali.[109] When Ruberwa suspended his party's participation in the transition following the Gatumba massacre, 62 of 94 RCD-G deputies ignored his orders. Prominent members such as Joseph Mudumbi (minister of education), Emile Ngoy (minister of finance), Jean-Pierre Ondekane (minister of defence), Emile Ilunga (second president of the Senate) and Banza Mukalay (vice minister of infrastructure) criticised the decision and remained in Kinshasa.[110] RCD-G members regularly criticize Ruberwa in the Kinshasa media, giving an impression that the party is falling apart.

In December 2004, Ruberwa managed to remove some of the dissidents, replacing Mudumbi and Ondekane with loyalists. He also convened a general assembly that appointed a new secretary general, Barthélemy Mumba Gawa. However, the harshest challenge to Ruberwa's power has come from his power base in Goma. As already described, at the same time as the creation of the RCD-G Reform, eight other Kinyarwanda-speaking parliamentarians suspended their participation in the transition and retreated to Goma, joining Serufuli's group. Ruberwa has been caught between these two tendencies. In response to the ex-ANC soldiers' dissidence in North Kivu in December 2004, he branded them "mutineers" and supported the decision to send troops to the east. This caused Serufuli to accuse him of betraying the party and his community. According to party members, Serufuli would like to replace Ruberwa at the head of the RCD-G. Ruberwa is now marginalized by both his base and the other political parties in Kinshasa.

The RCD-G was born as a party with divergent tendencies: people like Mudumbi and Ondekane joined the movement in opposition to Kabila's authoritarianism but later became disenchanted with Rwandan dominance in the party; the Hutu and Tutsi communities of North and South Kivu feel strongly that the communal conflicts in the east need to be addressed. Anti-Rwandan sentiment and Serufuli's extremism have driven a wedge between these two camps. "The only thing holding the RCD-G together today is their quota in the government and in parliament", a disaffected RCD-G member commented.[111]

These divisions have made the military option all the more attractive for the hardliners in Goma. Many RCD-G officers, especially the non-rwandophones who were sent as staff officers to the general staff in Kinshasa, have been co-opted by Kabila. Ex-ANC officers in Goma openly criticise their former colleagues in Kinshasa, accusing Mbuki, the commander of the land forces, of looking out for his personal interests instead of those of his party. Left without representation in Kinshasa, ex-ANC hardliners see no future in the national army. Several high-ranking ex-ANC commanders in South Kivu have indicated they will leave the military as soon as the unification process has been completed.[112]

[107] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, New York, February 2005.
[108] Crisis Group interview with diplomat, Kinshasa, January 2005.
[109] The founders were deputies in the parliament: Michel Tshibuabua, Mathieu Kazadi Balowa and Joseph Mwewa Lunda.
[110] Crisis Group interview with civil society parliamentarian, Bukavu, December 2004.
[111] Crisis Group interview with RCD-G parliamentarian, Kinshasa, January 2005.
[112] Crisis Group interview with ex-ANC commanders, Bukavu, December 2004.

V. EXTERNAL INFLUENCES

A. THE FDLR[113]

The Hutu militias have been at the centre of the two wars in the Congo and remain a major obstacle in the transition. While the FDLR is no longer a serious military threat to Rwanda, it can still launch cross-border raids and poses a danger to civilians in the Congo, where it is a political liability for the transition. As long as it is present in the east, Kigali and the RCD-G hardliners will use it as a pretext for pursuing their objectives in the Congo, and Katangan radicals in Kinshasa allied to President Kabila will preserve it as a possible mercenary force.

The FDLR has five brigades, each 1,200 to 1,500 soldiers, and several reinforced reserve battalions -- a total of 8,000 to 10,000. They are deployed in the more remote areas of South and North Kivu where they survive by extorting and looting the local population and traders.

The FDLR was formed in 2000 from two branches of the Rwandan Liberation Army (Armée de Libération du Rwanda, AliR), one which fought a guerrilla war against Kigali's army and the ANC in the east, and another which was integrated into Kabila's army and used in the frontline of the war. It set up a political representation in Europe led by Dr Ignace Murwanashyaka, and renamed the armed wing in the Congo FDLR-Forces Combattantes Abacunguzi (FOCA), led by General Paul Ruarakabije. Succumbing to international pressure, Kabila declared the FDLR unwelcome in the Congo in 2002. Some high ranking officers were arrested in Kinshasa, while 1,900 FDLR troops cantoned in an army base in Kamina were attacked and dispersed into the forest.

The remnants of the western branch were forced eastwards into the Kivus, where they joined their comrades. In 2003, the groups were fused, creating deep tensions. Colonel Sylvestre Mudacumura, the leader of the western forces, accused Ruarakabije of mismanaging the eastern insurgency and criticised the failed 2001 offensive,[114] when over 1,000 AliR troops were killed attacking northwestern Rwanda. Leadership styles also conflicted. Mudacumura had been in President Habyarimana's presidential guard and is reportedly on the list of those responsible for the genocide,[115] while Ruarakabije was a moderate gendarmerie officer.

Rwanda exploited these tensions and in November 2003 brokered the desertion of General Ruarakabije and four other high-ranking FDLR officers, who were then incorporated into Kigali's army. This triggered further desertions of top officers and soldiers, who followed their former commander back home. The political wing of the FDLR has also suffered from dissension. After a year of heated debate, a separate wing, calling itself Rally-FDLR (Ralliement-FDLR or R-FDLR) and led by Jean-Marie Vianney Higiro formed in the United States. It accused the FOCA and Murwanashyaka of embezzlement and mismanagement.[116]

FDLR strategy is to destabilise the region in hopes of provoking another war between Rwanda and the Congo. In 2004, it launched "Operation La Fronde" (Operation Slingshot), infiltrating small units into southern and northern Rwanda.[117] The aim was to attack crucial infrastructure and civilians, probably in the hope of provoking a counterattack into the Congo, a tactic that nearly worked in late November.

Nevertheless, the FDLR has been severely weakened since Kinshasa cut off its supplies in 2002. It has sufficient light weapons but ammunition is low, and it must buy provisions from local Mai-Mai groups.[118] It believes that by rekindling hostilities between Kigali and Kinshasa, it can regain a sponsor that will enable it to continue its insurgency. While there have been reports of weapons and ammunition being delivered to the FDLR through the Mai-Mai,[119] hundreds of FDLR deserters interviewed by MONUC and the Rwandan military testify that the rebels are running low on both bullets and supplies. Its grip on several trade routes and small mines in South and North Kivu has allowed the leadership to enjoy small luxuries, but this is insufficient [113] For more background on the FDLR, see Crisis Group Africa Report N°63, Rwandan Hutu Rebels in the Congo: A New Approach to Disarmament and Reintegration, 23 May 2003.

[114] Oracle du Seigneur.

[115] Crisis Group interview with Rwandan official, Kigali, January 2005.
[116] R-FDLR press statement, 12 September 2004.
[117] Crisis Group interviews with MONUC DDR officers and the Rwandan officials, Bukavu and Cyangugu, December 2004.
[118] For example, a repatriated FDLR officer said that his battalion headquarters in Ngando had two 107mm mortars with only three shells; one 82mm mortar with eight shells; and one 60mm mortar with two shells.
[119] "The Report of the Experts Group on the Application of the Arms Embargo Measures Imposed by the Security Council in DR Congo" describes several cases of collaboration between ex-Mai-Mai and the FDLR. Colonel Nakabaka, an ex-Mai-Mai commander from the Rusizi plain in South Kivu, is mentioned as conducting operations with the FDLR. There is no indication, however, of such a policy from Kinshasa.

to augment the group's military capabilities.[120] Troop morale is very low -- the accounts of deserters suggest some 80 per cent are willing to return to Rwanda. However, strict discipline and indoctrination hold them back. On several occasions the FDLR has executed captured deserters and their families.[121]

According to Kigali, the FDLR made eleven armed incursions into the country in 2004, eight in the north west, three in the south. International observers have confirmed at least three of these. The responses of the international community and the Congolese army, however, have been confused. Despite declaring the FDLR an illegal force in 2002, Kabila has hesitated to take it on militarily. Some of his staff keep ties to the movement, especially General John Numbi, who organised some of the supply flights in 2001 and 2002. At least as late as November 2004, there were still FDLR representatives in Kinshasa, who were in touch with members of the international community, although obviously concerned about arrest.[122]

While the new national army began military action against the FDLR in South Kivu in April 2004, it did not sustain the operations and finally halted them with the siege of Bukavu in May. In November it launched a joint operation against the FDLR with minimal MONUC support in Walungu but the objectives were never clear; the FARDC commander said he had not received orders to attack, and his forces were still negotiating with the rebels. At the end of 2004 in South Kivu, isolated skirmishes alternated with friendly discussion and even joint roadblocks and tax collection points. Several Mai-Mai groups in South and North Kivu are particularly guilty of cohabitation and even joint operations with the FDLR.[123]

In late 2004, Samba Kaputo, Kabila's national security adviser, presented the international community in Kinshasa with a new plan for dealing with the FDLR, and a vague early 2005 deadline was given for the FDLR to leave the country. In February 2005, Kaputo, together with the community of Sant'Egidio,[124] launched another attempt to persuade the FDLR to depart. Transitional government representatives met in Rome with members of the FDLR's political wing, reportedly to discuss the repatriation of the movement's armed forces. Kaputo's aide indicated to MONUC that it might be possible to secure the voluntary repatriation of several hundred, if not more, FDLR combatants.[125] Several weeks later, an FDLR delegation led by Murwanashyaka arrived in the Kivus for talks with the military commanders that Kaputo indicated were to begin preparations for a voluntary return to Rwanda. Another meeting between the FDLR and the transitional government is scheduled in Rome for early April. It is questionable, however, whether the hardliner commanders -- many of whom are wanted for genocide there -- will yield to any diplomatic pressure.

Barring negotiations with Rwanda, which seem improbable, the only incentive for the FDLR appears to be a cash payment by Kabila.[126] A pay-off, while perhaps effective, could produce violent dissension within the FDLR and would leave open the question of hardliners who refused to return to Rwanda. A first step at understanding the possibility of peaceful repatriation would be learning how many FDLR commanders are wanted in Rwanda for category one and two crimes of genocide[127] but the Rwandan government has not been forthcoming with this type of information.

If negotiations fail, the only option remaining will be military. 3,000 to 4,000 soldiers from the various armed forces have been sent to the Kitona army base for training by the Angolan army. A smaller group of 600 reportedly went to Luanda in February 2005 for training as Special Forces.[128] According to Kaputo, these troops are to be the backbone of a force that will be deployed against the FDLR. However, as with many military issues, numerous chains of command have appeared; Chief of Staff General Kisempia as well as the presidential military adviser, General Denis Kalume, separately contest Kaputo's authority.

The UN, Rwanda and the transitional government all now recognise that voluntary FDLR demobilisation has reached its limits. Various options have been laid out for a military offensive. These need to be studied carefully and synchronised, as different actors appear to be pulling the cart in different directions.

---

[120] Ibid.
[121] Crisis Group interview with MONUC DDR officer, Bukavu, December 2004.
[122] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, Kinshasa, January 2005.
[123] UN report on the arms embargo, op. cit.
[124] Sant'Egidio is a lay movement affiliated with the Catholic Church. It played a major role in the peace negotiations in Mozambique.
[125] Crisis Group telephone conversation with UN officials in New York and Bukavu, February 2005.
[126] Members of the government delegation have spoken of $1 million to $5 million to pay off the FDLR political and military leadership.
[127] Category 1 and 2 crimes of genocide include the most egregious acts of violence leading to death and the organisation of the genocide.
[128] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official in Kinshasa, January 2005.

Ultimate responsibility for dealing with the FDLR resides, under the Pretoria Agreement, with the FARDC, the new national army. While it seems to be becoming more serious, it is far from beginning meaningful operations. The brigades being trained by the Angolans will not be functional at least until the end of the year. Commanders like General Amisi indicate they will attack the FDLR with the resources already available in the east but experience shows that the army is not capable of a sustained campaign. When it attacked in April 2004 on the Rusizi plain, it ran out of ammunition and food and had to retreat after only a few days, thus allowing the FDLR to retaliate against the local population. The international community is very reluctant to supply Congolese troops, who are notoriously brutal and ill-disciplined during such operations.

Any attack by the army on the FDLR would result in civilian casualties. The local population would be caught in the crossfire, while both sides would likely pillage and punish villagers for perceived collaboration with the other. Especially MONUC would have a crucial role to protect civilians from rape and other violence during any operation.

With such precautions built in, however, the advantage to giving the national army responsibility to attack the FDLR is that this could lead to reconciliation between Kigali and Kinshasa. Therefore, no matter what other initiatives are undertaken by the African Union (AU) or MONUC, pressure should be kept on the army to live up to its responsibilities. The international community has not yet sufficiently articulated this in Kinshasa, and left to its own devices, the army lacks determination and wherewithal to put significant pressure on the FDLR.

A credible plan needs to be devised and put into place for development of the national army, including provision of an International Military Assistance and Training Team (IMATT) that is urgently required to coordinate, train and support a FARDC force of 10,000 to disarm the FDLR.[129] Guidelines of the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) on overseas development assistance have restricted use of development funds for military aid from some countries, but should not be an obstacle to assisting the army against the FDLR.

After its November 2004 invasion threats and the subsequent North Kivu crisis, Rwanda was able to focus AU attention on the FDLR. During the Libreville and Abuja summits in January 2005, Kigali -- which is an important player in the organisation and has peacekeepers in its Darfur mission -- obtained a pledge to deploy troops to disarm the rebels forcefully. The EU has promised to fund the operation out of its African Peace Facility Fund. But the AU, which also wants to commit troops to Somalia, is spread thin. It remains to be seen whether nations like South Africa and Nigeria -- which have expressed interest -- are willing to lead the effort.

Any efforts at coercion should be backed up with incentives from Rwanda. While it is not likely that Kigali will pardon many FDLR commanders -- indeed, some of them are guilty of crimes against humanity -- it has in the past struck repatriation deals with individual leaders. It should now give MONUC and the transitional government a list of FDLR commanders whom it believes are guilty of category 1 and 2 genocide crimes so that the more moderate elements of the leadership can be targeted for repatriation. The launch of the Joint Verification Commission (JVC) in South and North Kivu will allow opportunity for direct negotiations between the Rwandan military and the FDLR.[130] In mid-February 2005, a JVC team, including two high-ranking Rwandan officers, met with an FDLR captain in Kalonge, South Kivu. While nothing substantive resulted from that meeting, these contacts should be encouraged.[131] The meetings facilitated by Sant'Egidio provide another opportunity to offer FDLR commanders attractive terms for returning to Rwanda.

B. RWANDA

The Rwandan government has continued to undermine the Congo peace process. While some of Kigali's involvement is directed at the FDLR, it has also used its influence to encourage dissidents in the Kivus. The appointment in January 2003 of Governor Chiribanya and others accused of assassinating the elder Kabila set up the transition in the east for failure, as described above. When Kinshasa named General Nabyolwa the commander of South Kivu, Kigali continued to encourage a parallel command structure.[132] Dissenting officers like [129] See Crisis Group Africa Briefing N°21, Back to the Brink in the Congo, 17 December 2004.

[130] The JVC was created in September 2004 to monitor allegations of FDLR activity and RDF incursions into the Congo. Its teams are composed of Rwandan military (RDF) and new Congolese army (FARDC) officers, as well as MONUC officials.

[131] A forthcoming Crisis Group report will examine more closely ways of dealing with the FDLR.

[132] An example of Rwanda's direct interference in the military command of South Kivu was apparent during the repatriation of FDLR commander General Ruarakabije in November 2003. The operation was facilitated by ex-ANC commanders Colonel Espérant Masudi and Colonel Georges Mirindi, who escorted Ruarakabije over 90 km from Bunyakiri to the Rwandan border in Cyangugu, where the RDF Cyangugu

Colonel Ruohimbere spent much time in Rwanda against Nabyolwa's orders, while the Rwandan army gave Chiribanya and Mutebutsi weapons and ammunition.[133] As a UN panel investigating violations of the arms embargo reported, Nkunda recruited soldiers from Rwandan refugee camps in the presence of Rwandan authorities before his attack on Bukavu. His claim to be intervening spontaneously to stop a genocide there were belied by his preparations in the preceding months; MONUC documented the stockpiling of weapons in nearby Kalehe and preparations by Nkunda, Chiribanya and Mutebutsi for action in March and April 2004.[134]

While MONUC lacks conclusive evidence, many other sources confirm an incursion of Rwandan troops in North Kivu in November and December 2004. According to border officials at the customs posts in Goma and Bunagana, army trucks crossed the border in late November and headed for Rutshuru. This was confirmed by diplomats in Kigali.[135] Rwanda's intention, as expressed in a letter to the AU on 25 November, that it would send special forces into the Congo for two weeks to conduct surgical strikes against the FDLR seems implausible. The FDLR is located in isolated areas and unlikely to accept direct battle. Military analysts say any effective campaign would require much more time.[136]

Congolese often claim Rwanda wishes to annex these parts of the country in order to continue to exploit their resources. While Rwanda has in the past benefited from its occupation of the Congo, especially during the coltan[137] boom of 2000-2001, its complex interest in the Congo is more than economic and involves domestic politics as well as its preoccupation with the FDLR.[138]

The RPF runs a highly disciplined state with a strong focus on security and suppression of dissent or opposition. It is the only state in the region capable of controlling and administering all its territory, not an insignificant accomplishment considering history. This emphasis on security is not surprising since many senior government figures are former officers in the Rwandan and, during the 1980s, Ugandan armies.[139] Instability in the Congo provides Rwanda with a justification for harsh restrictions on domestic political activity and the press. These restrictions increased in 2004, as a report on genocide ideology in parliament led to restrictions on human rights NGOs and even international organisations such as CARE and Norwegian People's Aid.[140] This is indicative of the apprehensions of a Tutsi regime that is distrusted by the Hutu, who make up 80 per cent of the population. Driven by these concerns, Kigali has demonstrated its ability to foster instability in the eastern Congo since the beginning of the transition.

Several mechanisms have been put in place to help ease tensions between Kigali and Kinshasa. After the Bukavu crisis, the U.S. sponsored a tripartite agreement that included Uganda. It established committees on diplomatic relations and security issues. In late November, heads of state of eleven African countries met in Dar es Salaam on the crisis in the Great Lakes region. Presidents Kabila and Kagame signed an agreement pledging to work towards peaceful resolution of their differences, in particular the dismantling of the FDLR.

Rwanda flaunted this Dar es Salaam Declaration just days after signing it, however, by threatening to send troops into the Congo. After receiving evidence that Rwanda had in fact done so, Sweden suspended $6 million in loans, while the UK withheld around $18 million pending clarification of the situation.[141] In late December, Foreign Minister Murigande formally withdrew the invasion threat.

---

brigade commander was waiting. Mirindi and Masudi did not inform Nabyolwa or MONUC of the operation; their commander was furious and accused them of treason.

[133] Crisis Group interview with border officials, Bukavu, December 2004.

[134] Crisis Group interview with MONUC officials, Bukavu, December 2004/January 2005.

[135] Crisis Group interview with diplomat, Kigali, January 2005.

[136] Crisis Group interview with MONUC military officer, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[137] Coltan, a mineral otherwise known as colombo-tantalite, is used for capacitors in cellphones. The world price of coltan soared in 1999-2001 but dropped after the opening of a large mine in Australia and reports of its connections to the war in the Congo.

[138] Indeed, the old Rwandan economic networks have been eroded in South Kivu, Maniema and Kisangani. Crisis Group interviews with pilots and businessmen, Bukavu and Goma, December/January 2004/2005. Today, minerals and goods from these areas are primarily exported through Burundi, Tanzania, and Uganda in order to avoid the steep taxes in Rwanda. Even the Goma administration in North Kivu is now cut off from the profitable cassiterite mines in Walikale, as well as the Kasindi border crossing with Uganda, which brings in up to $2 million in taxes a month. Crisis Group interview with ex-RCD-K-ML administration official, Goma, January 2005.

[139] Leaders such as Paul Kagame (president), James Kabarebe (army chief of staff), Jack Nziza (director of external security) are all Ugandan-born of Rwandan Tutsi descent and were officers in Museveni's National Resistance Army (NRA) in the 1980s.

[140] Crisis Group interview with diplomat, Washington, March 2005.

[141] Crisis Group interviews with diplomats, Kinshasa and Kigali, January 2005.

More than 40 per cent of Rwanda's budget is dependent on aid, and donors have considerable influence, despite the assertion by Ambassador Sezibera, Rwanda's special envoy to the Great Lakes region, that "we would rather be alive and poor than die rich".[142] Donors have generally been reluctant to use their aid to pressure Rwanda on issues concerning the Congo, however. There are several reasons. Proof of Kigali's interference in the Congo was, until recently, often circumstantial and difficult to substantiate. Rumours abound in the region, and many diplomats give more credence to the sober assessments of Rwandan officials than the often exaggerated accounts of the Congolese government.

However, even when there is overwhelming evidence, there has been hesitation. Rwanda's involvement in the May-June 2004 uprising in Bukavu was extensively documented by the UN expert panel, as well as by Human Rights Watch and diplomatic missions. Nonetheless, the U.S. doubled its aid in the past year by granting over $30 million in HIV/AIDS relief. While the initiative is laudable, it is indicative of the politics of donor funding in the country. Rwanda's HIV/AIDS rate is lower than several others in sub-Saharan Africa which were not included in the fifteen countries worldwide chosen to receive special funding under the "President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief" (PEPFAR).[143] Members of the U.S. Congress still show strong sympathy for the Rwandan government, in part as a result of American inaction during the 1994 genocide. The substantial budgetary aid given to Rwanda by the UK and other donors is a sign of acceptance of its domestic and foreign policies, despite occasional admonishments in the press.

In order to give the Congo's transition a chance to succeed, foreign aid for both Rwanda and the Congo should be linked more closely to political reforms and the improvement of regional relations.

[142] William McClean, "Analysis invoking genocide, Rwanda takes aim at rebels", Reuters Relief Web, 28 November 2004.
[143] "PEPFAR in Rwanda Fact Sheet", at www.usaid-rwanda.rw/SO2/PEPFAR%20%20Fact%20Sheet%20Sept%202004.pdf.

VI. MONUC'S RESPONSE

Since its arrival in the Congo in 2000, the UN Mission has had to respond to constantly changing challenges in a complex political environment. It has often been hampered by an unwieldy bureaucracy and organisational problems. While the media and the Congolese often see MONUC inefficiency as a problem of mandate and resources, a more fundamental impediment has been the lack of coherent strategy and vision to implement the mission. As a consequence, it has been unable to live up to its mandate in several areas, most notably protection of civilians, support to the national army in demobilising the FDLR and enforcement of the arms embargo.

MONUC has had to transform itself from a ceasefire observation mission to one that handles a multitude of other tasks in support of the transition. According to Security Council Resolution 1565 (October 2004), it is responsible primarily for the following:

- deployment of its 16,700 troops to discourage violence, protect civilians in imminent danger, and protect UN personnel and installations;
- establishment of three joint commissions with the transitional government to move forward essential legislation, security sector reform, and the electoral process;
- support of the new army's operations to disarm foreign combatants; and
- help in monitoring and enforcing the embargo on the illegal flows of arms imposed by Security Council Resolution 1493.

By the time the Secretary General's latest report was released in March 2005, however, the mission had not yet been able to devise coherent strategies to implement these four tasks.

A. PROTECTION OF CIVILIANS AND DETERRENCE OF VIOLENCE

Its failure to protect civilians and the recent scandal on sexual abuse have severely damaged MONUC's standing among the population. Contrary to popular belief in the Congo, however, it has had a mandate under Chapter VII of the UN Charter to protect civilians in imminent danger since 2000.[144] While it is true that it is short of military resources, it also lacks a coherent strategy for how to do this and political will. This became most apparent when more than 160 civilians were massacred in Kisangani in May 2002, just kilometres from a camp of 1,000 MONUC soldiers. Following a mutiny by several mid-ranking military commanders, the RCD-G retaliated against the civilian population with looting, gang rapes, and extra-judicial executions over several days.[145] Its deputy force commander decided MONUC did not have sufficient resources to intervene, citing in particular a concern for UN casualties.[146]

[144] Security Council Resolution 1291, 24 February 2000.

Given the international outcry following the massacre and the subsequent expansion of MONUC's military capacity, it is disappointing that UN military planners have not changed their approach to the use of force. The UN leadership in both New York and Kinshasa has adopted an overly cautious approach to peacekeeping, forcing MONUC to react hastily to contingencies rather than prevent them. This became evident again during the May-June 2004 siege of Bukavu. During the months before the fighting broke out, MONUC field officers had warned of probable clashes in the Bukavu area. Nonetheless, MONUC was without a solid contingency plan to act on.

When Colonel Mutebutsi and General Mbuza Mabe clashed on 26 May, MONUC, under Deputy Force Commander General Jan Isberg, reacted fairly swiftly. By 29 May, it had cantoned Mutebutsi's troops at several locations in the Nguba area of Bukavu, while setting up a buffer zone in the town. As General Nkunda approached from Goma, however, and General Mbuza's troops struggled with internal dissent, MONUC's resolve faltered. While General Isberg and other commanders wanted to stop Nkunda's advance on Bukavu, MONUC's political leadership in Kinshasa and in the Department of Peacekeeping Operations (DPKO) in the UN Secretariat in New York instructed them to stay out of what they considered internal affairs.[147] As the UN's spokesman, Fred Eckhard, explained subsequently, "It's for the [Congolese] parties to sort out. When war breaks out, the role of peacekeepers ends".[148] A recent internal UN report reportedly has criticised the passive attitude of the MONUC leadership in Kinshasa in response to the crisis and made valuable recommendations.[149]

While the UN attempted to dissuade Nkunda, his troops marched through MONUC checkpoints and proceeded towards Bukavu. Before Nkunda managed to take the city, however, Mutebutsi's troops broke out of their cantonment. Fully armed, they confronted their Uruguayan guards, who promptly backed down.[150] It is not clear why Mutebutsi's men had not been disarmed and more Uruguayans had not been deployed around the sites. There were also individual incidents of military misunderstandings and outright disobedience within the MONUC command structure. The Uruguyuan commander who handed over the airport's perimeter to Nkunda's troops contradicted General Isberg's order to use force to defend the airstrip.[151]

MONUC could have done far more to prevent Nkunda's advance on Bukavu, with the consequent looting, killing, and rape or wounding of over 100 civilians. By 29 May 2004, MONUC had 800 troops around Bukavu, with several attack helicopters at its disposal and a fleet of armoured vehicles. Contrary to the belief of some in the UN, the Bukavu fighting was seen by most in the transitional government as mutiny against its authority, not resumption of hostilities by the RCD-G or Kabila. A large majority of General Mbuza's troops were ex-ANC soldiers, and the operations were led by ex-ANC General Sylvain Mbuki in Kinshasa. With a mandate to protect civilians and to support the transitional government, MONUC should have done more to prevent escalation of the crisis.

MONUC is often caught in the dilemma of not wanting to alienate the very parties it is trying to get to collaborate in the peace process. Some UN analysts believed that the RCD-G would withdraw from the transition if MONUC attacked Nkunda or Mutebutsi[152]. They also feared that if MONUC was more aggressive, UN personnel throughout the Congo would become targets for armed groups. By not acting decisively, however, MONUC has further damaged its reputation and increased the likelihood that it will be targeted. It is not seen by most of the armed groups as a serious deterrent, as it rarely follows up its denunciations militarily. MONUC has increased its force to 16,700,[153]

[145] Human Rights Watch, "War Crimes in Kisangani", August 2002.
[146] Ibid.
[147] Crisis Group interviews, UN officials, Bukavu, Kinshasa, New York, December 2004, January 2005.
[148] Susannah Price, "Peacekeepers powerless in DR Congo", BBC online, 3 June 2004. This comment is still repeated at a senior level in DPKO.
[149] Crisis Group telephone interviews with UN officials in New York and Bukavu, March 2005

[150] There were only a few Uruguayans deployed around the cantonment sites. When Mutebutsi's troops came out of the compound, "we didn't have a choice but to back down, they were far more than we were". Crisis Group interview with MONUC officer, Bukavu, December 2004.
[151] Crisis Group interview with UN official, New York, March 2005
[152] Crisis Group interview with UN officials, New York, December 2004.
[153] Crisis Group supports the Secretary General's call for the Security Council to increase the troop ceiling to 23,900 and for greater participation in MONUC by countries with advanced deploying 6,000 Indian and Pakistani troops to the Kivus to prevent further fighting. While its officers now say they have contingency plans to prevent further violence in North and South Kivu, it remains to be seen if the new contingents are willing to be more decisive in interpreting their mandate.

In response to widespread criticism within the UN and from member states, MONUC has recently promised to act more robustly against armed groups that threaten the civilian population, especially in Ituri. On 1 March 2005, in response to an attack there by the Nationalist and Integrationist Forces (Forces nationalistes et integrationistes, FNI) that killed nine Bangladeshi peacekeepers, it carried out a series of aggressive cordon and search operations. These operations, led by Major General Patrick Cammaert, the new Eastern Divisional Commander, were seen to represent a reinterpretation of MONUC's mandate to include use of preventive force. In other words, the very presence of the militia in Ituri would be considered a threat to the civilian population sufficient to justify MONUC's forceful intervention.

One such search operation led to a clash with FNI combatants in the village of Loga. Pakistani and South African troops, supported by attack helicopters, killed around 60 militiamen after the FNI opened fire. This incident caused a stir within the UN bureaucracy as well as among the Congolese. While many senior UN authorities support this type of robust enforcement of the mandate, others see it as too risky and want to avoid the use of deadly force. They fear that a more aggressive stance could provoke the militia into lashing out against the local population and that the UN would be blamed for any ensuing casualties. The latest report of the Secretary General (March 2005) said little about Cammaert's operation and mentioned no change in military strategy. As the Security Council considers renewing MONUC's mandate, which is due to expire on 31 March 2005, it is vital to clarify how the misison should use force to implement that mandate and prevent the killing of civilians.

MONUC needs to adopt a more proactive, preventive stance on the use of force. The events in Ituri, where over 60,000 civilians have been killed since 1999, clearly show that it cannot wait until the militias strike again. The Security Council should mandate the mission explicitly to use preventive force,[154] and the Department of Peacekeeping Operations (DPKO) should ensure that it devises a coherent strategy to implement that mandate.

B. HOW CAN YOU FORCE PEOPLE TO MAKE PEACE WHO WANT WAR?

There will be no political progress unless the Congolese leaders assume ownership of the transition. Many Congolese politicians seem uninterested in making the transition work. The international community supplies 53 per cent of the transitional government's budget, but MONUC officials point out that key donors who supply most of the budgetary aid, such as the World Bank and the IMF, are reluctant to tie their funds to political progress. And some Congolese politicians are not overly interested in funds that, as one UN analyst explained, "come with too many strings attached to misappropriate".[155]

MONUC and the international community, through the International Committee for Support of the Transition (Comité international d'accompagnement de la transition, CIAT),[156] have developed two main strategies. The first is establishment, per Security Council Resolution 1565, of three joint committees between MONUC and the transitional government. These committees -- on essential legislation, security sector reform, and elections -- are seen as ways to influence the transitional government and speed up its operations. As noted above, while there has been progress on preparations for elections, little has been done on security sector reform.

The second strategy for speeding up the political process is to identify spoilers and sanction at least those who break the arms embargo. Various groups, including most recently the UN Group of Experts on the Arms Embargo, have begun investigating actors who have undermined the transition through business deals, military operations or political manoeuvring. The hope is that the spoilers can be isolated and punished through diplomatic means and that targeted financial sanctions can be directed at embargo violators. For the actors believed guilty of serious crimes, such as Nkunda and Mutebutsi, the Congolese justice system needs to assume its duties and prosecute.

military capabilities, so that the mission can obtain better surveillance and intelligence, a rapid reaction force, additional tactical mobility assets, and a core of trained staff officers to improve command and control. See Crisis Group Africa Report N°84, Maintaining Momentum in the Congo: The Ituri Problem, 26 August 2004; "Third Special Report of the Secretary General on the United Nations Organisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo", 16 August 2004.

[154] While Security Council Resolution 1565 arguably does this already, it is vaguely phrased.

[155] Crisis Group interview with MONUC official, Kinshasa, January 2005.

[156] The CIAT is composed of the permanent members of the UN Security Council, Belgium, South Africa, Angola, Canada, Gabon, Mozambique, Nigeria, Zambia, the African Union and the European Union.

While this effort is laudable, it remains to be seen if sufficient proof can be assembled about the secret dealings of many of those involved in the transition. Nonetheless, this push for transparency in the transition is much needed and should be supported by all international representatives in Kinshasa. In the past, MONUC has been very reluctant to accuse main actors openly of undermining the transition. As a MONUC official said, "We need to be more open. Above all, we need to tell the truth. Otherwise nothing will change".[157]

C. SUPPORT FOR DDR

MONUC now acknowledges that voluntary DDR of foreign combatants[158] has come to an end. It received the mandate in 2004 to support the new national army forcefully disarming the FDLR in the Kivus. However, what exactly 'support' entails has been the subject of considerable debate in MONUC and has led to hesitant and ineffective operations on the ground.

In November 2004, the new army and MONUC launched their first joint operation in Walungu, South Kivu. Roughly 1,000 Congolese soldiers were deployed to the south east and north east of an FDLR brigade command in Nindja, while around 200 South African and Uruguayan MONUC soldiers set up camp behind the army's positions. The operation was vaguely framed. It was supposed to begin with an awareness-raising campaign among the FDLR (a process MONUC has been engaged in for three years without much success) and proceed after two months to forced disarmament. By the end of the year, however, the army had not had substantive talks with the FDLR, and it was clear there would be no attack on it any time soon. The MONUC commanders have remained passive, patrolling within the FARDC-occupied area. Instead of facilitating contacts with the FDLR, the MONUC military contingent restricted the movement of MONUC civilian, who had previously been in extensive contact with FDLR officers from Nindja. After a long dispute about what kind of support MONUC could give the army, it decided it would only transport the Congolese military in UN vehicles and would provide no financial or material backing.[159]

As international pressure increases for forceful disarmament of the FDLR, MONUC needs to devise more efficient ways of working with the Congolese army. As described in the Third Special Report of the Secretary General, it can perform crucial functions by demilitarising key areas such as main roads, towns and markets. It will also be needed to protect civilians if the army attacks the FDLR and provokes retaliation against surrounding villages. At the moment, MONUC has not developed a coherent strategy defining how the Indian and Pakistani contingents in the Kivus should perform their duties. During the Walungu operation, no clear instructions were given to MONUC troops on how to support the national army or on rules of engagement.

D. ENFORCING THE ARMS EMBARGO

MONUC has the mandate to monitor and discourage the illegal movement of arms across the Congolese borders in accordance with the arms embargo imposed by SC Resolution 1493 in 2003. This allows for unannounced inspections of vehicles, aircraft and military facilities. Nevertheless, MONUC only very recently began to take concrete steps on the ground to enforce the resolution.

MONUC has had no presence at the border crossings in the Kivus. During its incursion into North Kivu in November 2004, the Rwandan army reportedly drove its trucks across several major border crossings, including those in Bunagana and Goma.[160] In South Kivu, MONUC received regular reports in early 2004 concerning ammunition being smuggled across the border into Bukavu. No action was taken. When MONUC did begin house-to-house searches for arms in Bukavu, its Bukavu headquarters ordered a stop, following complaints from important RCD-G officials in Kinshasa.[161]

---

[157] MONUC and the CIAT should also search for new allies in the effort to advance the transition and the overall peace process, including women's organisations. Women are already playing an important role in reconstruction of the Congo, assisted by among others, MONUC's Office for Gender Affairs. However, their skills and expertise are largely untapped, especially by the transition government. As UNIFEM Executive Director Noleen Heyzer said of the Congo, "Women have extensive experience in reconciliation within their communities, in the provision of basic services after war, and in rebuilding their families. But rarely are their perspectives and insights utilised in negotiation and peace building. Societies pay a huge price for ignoring the proven abilities of women to forge agreements". Quoted in Nadine Puechguirbal, "Women and Peacekeeping in Democratic Republic of Congo", ACCORD, issue 3, 2003.

[158] For ease of terminology, Crisis Group uses the acronym DDR -- disarmament, demobilisation and reintegration -- instead of the more cumbersome DDRRR. As employed by Crisis Group, the concept of reintegration includes, as appropriate to the circumstances, repatriation and resettlement.

[159] Crisis Group interviews with MONUC officials, Bukavu and Kinshasa, December 2004, January 2005.

[160] Ibid.

[161] Crisis Group interview with MONUC military officers, Bukavu, February 2004. Some operations were successful, and small quantities of weapons and ammunition were seized.

The borders in the eastern Congo are very long and porous, especially in North Kivu and Ituri, where there is often no natural barrier like the Rusizi River in South Kivu. Nonetheless, MONUC can significantly discourage arms smuggling by setting up checkpoints and conducting spot-checks in key locations. A first and important step has been taken by placing military observers at the airports in Goma and Bukavu to inspect commercial flights but this needs to be extended to the border crossings in Bunagana and Goma, as well as to controls on key roads, such as the Kasindi-Lubero route over which the FDLR has allegedly received supplies. The Security Council explicitly instructed MONUC in October 2004 to conduct random and unannounced inspections of Congolese military bases, airfields, vehicles and other installations.[162] It has only hesitantly begun to enforce this aspect of its mandate.

The Group of Experts on the Arms Embargo has provided useful information on illegal arms flows into the region. Numerous actors, including Rwanda, Uganda and members of the transitional government, are still violating the arms embargo, thereby endangering the peace process. If the experts' report is not backed up with monitoring on the ground and deterrence as well as diplomatic pressure, it will have no impact. The suspension of six ministers in December 2004 proved that, if pressured by the media and the CIAT, the main actors in the transition will take action against offenders. The publication in 2002 of the UN report on the illegal exploitation of natural resources provided a welcome justification for Kabila to suspend hardliners like Mwenze Kongolo. The Security Council should accordingly target with sanctions (asset freezes, travel bans) those mentioned by the Group of Experts, such as Mai-Mai Colonel Nakabaka, ex-FAC commander General Numbi and ex-ANC commander General Obedi, and push for their prosecution.

[162] UN Security Council Resolution 1565, para. 4 (f).

VII. CONCLUSION

Even if June 2005 elections are no longer feasible, the Congo is expected to vote within the next year. To date, however, there is no Congolese ownership of the peace process, and few of the leaders of the former belligerents are interested in the prospect of fair elections. Nonetheless, as the CIAT often says, "the transition is irreversible". Its success in uniting the former belligerents in a government is not insignificant. The need is not to find an alternative formula for power sharing but to implement the current one. The solution must take into account both the national and the local dimensions of the recent crisis.

The transitional government has provided a new framework for the power struggle, moving many conflicts from the battlefield into Kinshasa politics. Instead of just fighting over turf, the former belligerents are now contesting the constitution, legislation and the distribution of political posts. While this is in many ways a welcome development, it brings its own dangers. As the Kivus crisis has shown, actors in Kinshasa will use violence in the interior to further their aims in the transition. The February and May 2004 mutinies in Bukavu cannot be understood without taking into account the political struggle in the capital between Ruberwa and Kabila for control over the army, state revenue and the amnesty law. Similarly, the clashes in North Kivu must be placed within the context of an internal crisis of the RCD-G as well as the desire by hardliners in Kabila's camp to get rid of that movement once and for all.

Appropriate solutions must address political problems in Kinshasa as well as the local conflicts in the Kivus. In Kinshasa, this means living up to the promise of the Sun City Agreement that brought the transition into existence. It is unacceptable that, almost two years on, little has been done to unify the armies and the administrations of the former belligerents.

The most difficult task is to force progress from actors who have an interest in maintaining the status quo. However, while many leaders are averse to fair elections, many in the transitional government genuinely want the polls to take place. Above all, 60 million Congolese are tired of the war and want the transition to live up to its promises. The international community needs to find ways of drawing on this support to help it get a grip on the spoilers. That a parliamentary commission can initiate an audit of state enterprises and thereby get several important ministers fired is evidence that there is some momentum to the transition. The international community should step up support for these corruption-curbing initiatives and isolate the spoilers. In this effort, the CIAT must move beyond merely denouncing to a more muscular use of diplomacy, political leverage and, with respect to violators of the arms embargo, targeted sanctions.

On the other side of the country, in the east, communal conflicts that were at the heart of the war have been left to fester. Struggles over citizenship, land ownership and customary authority have been exacerbated by eight years of continuous low-grade warfare in North and South Kivu. Politicians in Goma, Kinshasa and Kigali have manipulated local conflicts between the Kinyarwanda-speakers and other communities to the detriment of the local population. The resulting violence has created one of the most deadly, but also one of the least visible humanitarian crises in Africa. According to the UN's Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), by the end of 2004, around one million people in North and South Kivu -- roughly a sixth of the population of those provinces -- were displaced, many having fled into the inhospitable forests. It is this type of unspectacular calamity that has killed most of the almost four million victims of the war since 1998 and that continues to take 1,000 lives a day.

While the Congo's problems are many and complex, this does not justify the pervasive fatalism of both its citizens and foreign authorities. The country has come a long way in the last two years thanks to the concerted action of local and international players. There are now concrete measures that can be taken to build on this progress and make the transition and the elections succeed.

Nairobi/Brussels, 30 March 2005

APPENDIX A

MAP OF THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO

Map No. 4007 Rev. 8 UNITED NATIONS
January 2004

Department of Peacekeeping Operations
Cartographic Section

APPENDIX B

GLOSSARY OF ACRONYMS

AFDL	Alliance des forces démocratiques pour la libération du Congo-Zaire, Laurent Kabila's original rebel group.
ALiR	Armée de Libération du Rwanda, a Hutu rebel group, based in the Kivus, made of ex-FAR and Interahamwe who led an insurgency in north western Rwanda in 1997-1998.
ANC	Armée Nationale Congolaise, the armed wing of the RCD-G. Banyamulenge Ethnic Tutsi pastoralists who have lived on the Highlands of South Kivu since the late 1800s. Banyarwanda Congolese Rwandophones of North Kivu, both Hutu and Tutsi.
CIAT	Comité international pour l'appui a la transition, a body in Kinshasa that coordinates the diplomatic efforts of the most important embassies.
Ex-FAR	Former Rwandan Armed Forces which took part in the 1994 genocide.
FAC	Forces Armées Congolaises, Congolese Armed Forces, the military force of the previous Kinshasa government.
FARDC	Forces Armées de la République Démocratique du Congo, the new unified national army composed of troops of the former belligerents.
FAZ	Forces Armées Zairoises, the Mobutu regime's military.
FDD	Forces de défense de la démocratie, a Burundian Hutu rebel group led by Jean-Pierre Nkurunziza.
FDLR	Forces démocratiques de libération du Rwanda, a Hutu rebel group, led by remnants of the ex-FAR, based in the Kivus with a political wing in Europe.
R-FDLR	Ralliement-FDLR, a splinter faction of the political wing of the FDLR based in the United States that was created in 2004.
GSSP	Groupe Special de la Sécurité Présidentielle, Joseph Kabila's presidential guard.
Interahamwe	An extremist Hutu militia group that committed the bulk of Rwanda's 1994 genocide.
MONUC	United Nations Organisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, created in August 1999 and authorised to deploy 16,700 troops.
MLC	Mouvement pour la Libération du Congo, Vice-President Jean-Pierre Bemba's Equateur-based political party, created in 1998.
PPRD	Partie du Peuple pour la Réconstruction et la Démocratie, the political party most closely linked to President Joseph Kabila.
RCD -G	Rassemblement Congolais pour la Démocratie-Goma, the Congolese Rally for Democracy, a rebel movement created in 1998 in the Kivus with support from Rwanda.
RCD-K/ML	RCD Kisangani-Mouvement de Libération, a faction of the RCD that split from the Goma-based movement in March 1999 and is now led by Mbusa Nyamwisi.
RCD-National	A faction of the RCD that split from the RCD K/ML, now led by Roger Lumbala and allied to the MLC.
RPA/RDF	Rwanda Patriotic Army, renamed Rwandan Defence Forces in July 2002, the military force created by the Rwandan Patriotic Front rebel movement in 1990, which became the Rwandan army after its victory over the génocidaire régime in July 1994.
SMI	Structure Militaire d'Intégration, the military agency responsible for the unification of the various armed groups.
TPD	Tous pour la Paix et le Development. North Kivu development NGO linked to Governor Eugene Serufuli.
UPDF	Uganda People's Defence Forces, the army of Uganda.

APPENDIX C

CONTROL OF GOMA ADMINISTRATIVE AND MILITARY STRUCTURES

North Kivu administration
Position	Name	Ethnicity/origin
Governor, North Kivu	Eugene Serufuli	Hutu
Vice Governor	Bakungu Mithondeke	Hunde
Vice Governor	Kayisavera Mbake	Nande
Administrator, Masisi	Paul Sebihogo	Tutsi
Administrator, Rutshuru	Oscar Ntambiye	Tutsi
Mayor, Goma	Xavier Nzabara	Tutsi
Security sector
Commander, 8th military region	General Gabriel Amisi	Maniema
Commander, 11th brigade	Colonel Bonané Habarugira	Tutsi
Commander, 12th brigade	Colonel Smith Gihanga	Tutsi
Commander, 5th brigade	Colonel Mayanga	Hutu
Commander of Police, North Kivu	General Jean-Marie Ndaki	Kinshasa
Commander of Police, Goma	Major Ntawavuka	Hutu
Coordinator, Internal Security Agency (DGS)	Gillain Birate	Hutu
Deputy Coordinator, , DGS	Felicien Hitimana	Hutu
Coordinator, Immigration Agency (DGM) and DGS	Albert Semana	Tutsi
Coordinator, External Security Agency	Edy Ngarambe	Tutsi
Finance and business
Coordinator, Customs Authority (OFIDA)	Deo Rugwiza	Tutsi
Director, National Electricity Company (SNEL)	Léon Muheto	Tutsi
Director, Water Distribution Agency (REGIDESO)	Vincent Mihatano	Hutu
Director, Congolese Control Authority (OCC)	Oswald Mukingi	Hutu
Director, Land Division	Dieudonné Birate	Hutu
Director, Martime Freight Management Office (OGEFREM)	Patient Semuswa	Tutsi
Petroleum Services Authority (SEPCONGO)	Debat Muzo	Tutsi
Office for the Protection of Public Revenues (OPRP)	Gervais Ruboneka	Tutsi
Contribution	Robert Mbarushimana	Havu

APPENDIX D

ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, non-profit, multinational organisation, with over 100 staff members on five continents, working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

Crisis Group's approach is grounded in field research. Teams of political analysts are located within or close by countries at risk of outbreak, escalation or recurrence of violent conflict. Based on information and assessments from the field, it produces analytical reports containing practical recommendations targeted at key international decision-takers. Crisis Group also publishes CrisisWatch, a twelve-page monthly bulletin, providing a succinct regular update on the state of play in all the most significant situations of conflict or potential conflict around the world.

Crisis Group's reports and briefing papers are distributed widely by email and printed copy to officials in foreign ministries and international organisations and made available simultaneously on the website, www.crisisgroup.org. Crisis Group works closely with governments and those who influence them, including the media, to highlight its crisis analyses and to generate support for its policy prescriptions.

The Crisis Group Board -- which includes prominent figures from the fields of politics, diplomacy, business and the media -- is directly involved in helping to bring the reports and recommendations to the attention of senior policy-makers around the world. Crisis Group is co-chaired by Leslie H. Gelb, former President of the Council on Foreign Relations, and Lord Patten of Barnes, former European Commissioner for External Relations. President and Chief Executive since January 2000 is former Australian Foreign Minister Gareth Evans.

Crisis Group's international headquarters are in Brussels, with advocacy offices in Washington DC, New York, London and Moscow. The organisation currently operates nineteen field offices (in Amman, Belgrade, Cairo, Dakar, Dushanbe, Islamabad, Jakarta, Kabul, Nairobi, Osh, Port-au-Prince, Pretoria, Pristina, Quito, Sarajevo, Seoul, Skopje and Tbilisi), with analysts working in over 50 crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents. In Africa, this includes Angola, Burundi, Côte d'Ivoire, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Guinea, Liberia, Rwanda, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Sudan, Uganda and Zimbabwe; in Asia, Afghanistan, Indonesia, Kashmir, Kazakhstan, North Korea, Kyrgyzstan, Myanmar/Burma, Nepal, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan; in Europe, Albania, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Georgia, Kosovo, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro and Serbia; in the Middle East, the whole region from North Africa to Iran; and in Latin America, Colombia, the Andean region and Haiti.

Crisis Group raises funds from governments, charitable foundations, companies and individual donors. The following governmental departments and agencies currently provide funding: Agence Intergouvernementale de la francophonie, Australian Agency for International Development, Austrian Federal Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Belgian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, Canadian International Development Agency, Czech Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Finnish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, French Ministry of Foreign Affairs, German Foreign Office, Irish Department of Foreign Affairs, Japanese International Cooperation Agency, Luxembourg Ministry of Foreign Affairs, New Zealand Agency for International Development, Republic of China (Taiwan) Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Royal Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Royal Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs, Swiss Federal Department of Foreign Affairs, Turkish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, United Kingdom Foreign and Commonwealth Office, United Kingdom Department for International Development, U.S. Agency for International Development.

Foundation and private sector donors include Atlantic Philanthropies, Carnegie Corporation of New York, Ford Foundation, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, William & Flora Hewlett Foundation, Henry Luce Foundation Inc., Hunt Alternatives Fund, John D. & Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, John Merck Fund, Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, Open Society Institute, David and Lucile Packard Foundation, Ploughshares Fund, Sigrid Rausing Trust, Sasakawa Peace Foundation, Sarlo Foundation of the Jewish Community Endowment Fund, United States Institute of Peace and Fundação Oriente.

March 2005

APPENDIX E

CRISIS GROUP REPORTS AND BRIEFINGS ON AFRICA SINCE 2002

CENTRAL AFRICA

Storm Clouds over Sun City: The Urgent Need to Recast the Congolese Peace Process, Africa Report N°44, 14 May 2002 (also available in French)

Burundi: After Six Months of Transition: Continuing the War or Winning the Peace, Africa Report N°46, 24 May 2002 (also available in French)

The International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda: The Countdown, Africa Report N°50, 1 August 2002 (only available in French)

The Burundi Rebellion and the Ceasefire Negotiations, Africa Briefing N°9, 6 August 2002

Rwanda at the End of the Transition: A Necessary Political Liberalisation, Africa Report N°53, 13 November 2002 (also available in French)

The Kivus: The Forgotten Crucible of the Congo Conflict, Africa Report N°56, 24 January 2003

A Framework for Responsible Aid to Burundi, Africa Report N°57, 21 February 2003

Rwandan Hutu Rebels in the Congo: a New Approach to Disarmament and Reintegration, Africa Report N°63, 23 May 2003 (also available in French)

Congo Crisis: Military Intervention in Ituri, Africa Report N°64, 13 June 2003

The International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda: Time for Pragmatism, Africa Report N°69, 26 September 2003 (only available in French)

Refugees and Displaced Persons in Burundi – Defusing the Land Time-Bomb, Africa Report N°70, 7 October 2003 (only available in French)

Refugees and Internally Displaced in Burundi: The Urgent Need for a Consensus on Their Repatriation and Reintegration, Africa Briefing N°17, 2 December 2003 (only available in French)

Northern Uganda: Understanding and Solving the Conflict, Africa Report N°77, 14 April 2004

HIV/AIDS as a Security Issue in Africa: Lessons from Uganda, Issues Report N°3, 16 April 2004

End of Transition in Burundi: The Home Stretch, Africa Report N°81, 5 July 2004 (also available in French)

Pulling Back from the Brink in the Congo, Africa Briefing N°18, 7 July 2004 (also available in French)

Maintaining Momentum in the Congo: The Ituri Problem, Africa Report N°84, 26 August 2004

Elections in Burundi: The Peace Wager, Africa Briefing N°20, 9 December 2004 (also available in French)

Back to the Brink in the Congo, Africa Briefing N°21 17 December 2004

Peace in Northern Uganda: Decisive Weeks Ahead, Africa Briefing N°22, 21 February 2005

HORN OF AFRICA

God, Oil & Country: Changing the Logic of War in Sudan, Africa Report N°39, 28 January 2002

Capturing the Moment: Sudan's Peace Process in the Balance, Africa Report N°42, 3 April 2002

Somalia: Countering Terrorism in a Failed State, Africa Report N°45, 23 May 2002

Dialogue or Destruction? Organising for Peace as the War in Sudan Escalates, Africa Report N°48, 27 June 2002

Sudan's Best Chance for Peace: How Not to Lose It, Africa Report N°51, 17 September 2002

Ending Starvation as a Weapon of War in Sudan, Africa Report N°54, 14 November 2002

Salvaging Somalia's Chance for Peace, Africa Briefing N°11, 9 December 2002

Power and Wealth Sharing: Make or Break Time in Sudan's Peace Process, Africa Report N°55, 18 December 2002

Sudan's Oilfields Burn Again: Brinkmanship Endangers The Peace Process, Africa Briefing N°13, 10 February 2003

Negotiating a Blueprint for Peace in Somalia, Africa Report N°59, 6 March 2003

Sudan's Other Wars, Africa Briefing N°14, 25 June 2003

Sudan Endgame Africa Report N°65, 7 July 2003

Somaliland: Democratisation and Its Discontents, Africa Report N°66, 28 July 2003

Ethiopia and Eritrea: War or Peace?, Africa Report N°68, 24 September 2003

Sudan: Towards an Incomplete Peace, Africa Report N°73, 11 December 2003

Darfur Rising: Sudan's New Crisis, Africa Report N°76, 25 March 2004 (also available in Arabic)

Biting the Somali Bullet, Africa Report N°79, 4 May 2004

Sudan: Now or Never in Darfur, Africa Report N°80, 23 May 2004 (also available in Arabic)

Darfur Deadline: A New International Action Plan, Africa Report N°83, 23 August 2004 (also available in Arabic and in French)

Sudan's Dual Crises: Refocusing on IGAD, Africa Briefing N°19, 5 October 2004

Somalia: Continuation of War by Other Means?, Africa Report N°88, 21 December 2004

Darfur: The Failure to Protect , Africa Report N°89, 8 March 2005

SOUTHERN AFRICA

Zimbabwe's Election: The Stakes for Southern Africa, Africa Briefing N°8, 11 January 2002

All Bark and No Bite: The International Response to Zimbabwe's Crisis, Africa Report N°40, 25 January 2002

Zimbabwe at the Crossroads: Transition or Conflict? Africa Report N°41, 22 March 2002

Zimbabwe: What Next? Africa Report N° 47, 14 June 2002

Zimbabwe: The Politics of National Liberation and International Division, Africa Report N°52, 17 October 2002

Dealing with Savimbi's Ghost: The Security and Humanitarian Challenges in Angola, Africa Report N°58, 26 February 2003

Zimbabwe: Danger and Opportunity, Africa Report N°60, 10 March 2003

Angola's Choice: Reform Or Regress, Africa Report N°61, 7 April 2003

Decision Time in Zimbabwe, Africa Briefing N°15, 8 July 2003

Zimbabwe: In Search of a New Strategy, Africa Report N°78, 19 April 2004

Blood and Soil: Land, Politics and Conflict Prevention in Zimbabwe and South Africa, Africa Report N°85, 17 September 2004

Zimbabwe: Another Election Chance, Africa Report N°86, 30 November 2004

WEST AFRICA

Liberia: The Key to Ending Regional Instability, Africa Report N°43, 24 April 2002

Sierra Leone after Elections: Politics as Usual? Africa Report N°49, 12 July 2002

Liberia: Unravelling, Africa Briefing N°10, 19 August 2002

Sierra Leone's Truth and Reconciliation Commission: A Fresh Start?, Africa Briefing N°12, 20 December 2002

Tackling Liberia: The Eye of the Regional Storm, Africa Report N°62, 30 April 2003

The Special Court for Sierra Leone: Promises and Pitfalls of a "New Model", Africa Briefing N°16, 4 August 2003

Sierra Leone: The State of Security and Governance, Africa Report N°67, 2 September 2003

Liberia: Security Challenges, Africa Report N°71, 3 November 2003

Côte d'Ivoire: "The War Is Not Yet Over", Africa Report N°72, 28 November 2003

Guinée: Incertitudes autour d'une fin de règne, Africa Report N°74, 19 December 2003 (only available in French)

Rebuilding Liberia: Prospects and Perils, Africa Report N°75, 30 January 2004

Côte d'Ivoire: No Peace in Sight, Africa Report N°82, 12 July 2004 (also available in French)

Liberia and Sierra Leone: Rebuilding Failed States, Africa Report N°87, 8 December 2004

Côte d'Ivoire: Le pire est peut-être à venir, Africa Report N°90, 24 March 2005

OTHER REPORTS AND BRIEFINGS

For Crisis Group reports and briefing papers on:

- Asia
- Europe
- Latin America and Caribbean
- Middle East and North Africa
- Thematic Issues
- CrisisWatch

please visit our website www.crisisgroup.org

APPENDIX F

CRISIS GROUP BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Co-Chairs

Leslie H. Gelb
President Emeritus of Council on Foreign Relations, U.S.

Lord Patten of Barnes
Former European Commissioner for External Relations, UK

President & CEO

Gareth Evans
Former Foreign Minister of Australia

Executive Committee

Morton Abramowitz
Former U.S. Assistant Secretary of State and Ambassador to Turkey

Emma Bonino
Member of European Parliament; former European Commissioner

Cheryl Carolus
Former South African High Commissioner to the UK; former Secretary General of the ANC

Maria Livanos Cattaui*
Secretary-General, International Chamber of Commerce

Yoichi Funabashi
Chief Diplomatic Correspondent & Columnist, The Asahi Shimbun, Japan

William Shawcross
Journalist and author, UK

Stephen Solarz*
Former U.S. Congressman

George Soros
Chairman, Open Society Institute

William O. Taylor
Chairman Emeritus, The Boston Globe, U.S.

Vice-Chair*

Adnan Abu-Odeh
Former Political Adviser to King Abdullah II and to King Hussein; former Jordan Permanent Representative to UN

Kenneth Adelman
Former U.S. Ambassador and Director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency

Ersin Arioglu
Member of Parliament, Turkey; Chairman Emeritus, Yapi Merkezi Group

Diego Arria
Former Ambassador of Venezuela to the UN

Zbigniew Brzezinski
Former U.S. National Security Advisor to the President

Victor Chu
Chairman, First Eastern Investment Group, Hong Kong

Wesley Clark
Former NATO Supreme Allied Commander, Europe

Pat Cox
Former President of European Parliament

Ruth Dreifuss
Former President, Switzerland

Uffe Ellemann-Jensen
Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Denmark

Mark Eyskens
Former Prime Minister of Belgium

Stanley Fischer
Vice Chairman, Citigroup Inc.; former First Deputy Managing Director of International Monetary Fund

Bronislaw Geremek
Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Poland

I.K.Gujral
Former Prime Minister of India

Carla Hills
Former U.S. Secretary of Housing; former U.S. Trade Representative

Lena Hjelm-Wallén
Former Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Affairs Minister, Sweden

James C.F. Huang
Deputy Secretary General to the President, Taiwan

Swanee Hunt
Chair of Inclusive Security: Women Waging Peace; former U.S. Ambassador to Austria

Asma Jahangir
UN Special Rapporteur on Extrajudicial, Summary or Arbitrary Executions; former Chair Human Rights Commission of Pakistan

Ellen Johnson Sirleaf
Senior Advisor, Modern Africa Fund Managers; former Liberian Minister of Finance and Director of UNDP Regional Bureau for Africa

Shiv Vikram Khemka
Founder and Executive Director (Russia) of SUN Group, India

James V. Kimsey
Founder and Chairman Emeritus of America Online, Inc. (AOL)

Bethuel Kiplagat
Former Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Kenya

Wim Kok
Former Prime Minister, Netherlands

Trifun Kostovski
Member of Parliament, Macedonia; founder of Kometal Trade Gmbh

Elliott F. Kulick
Chairman, Pegasus International, U.S.

Joanne Leedom-Ackerman
Novelist and journalist, U.S.

Todung Mulya Lubis
Human rights lawyer and author, Indonesia

Barbara McDougall
Former Secretary of State for External Affairs, Canada

Ayo Obe
Chair of Steering Committee of World Movement for Democracy, Nigeria

Christine Ockrent
Journalist and author, France

Friedbert Pflüger
Foreign Policy Spokesman of the CDU/CSU Parliamentary Group in the German Bundestag

Victor M Pinchuk
Member of Parliament, Ukraine; founder of Interpipe Scientific and Industrial Production Group

Surin Pitsuwan
Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Thailand

Itamar Rabinovich
President of Tel Aviv University; former Israeli Ambassador to the U.S. and Chief Negotiator with Syria

Fidel V. Ramos
Former President of the Philippines

Lord Robertson of Port Ellen Former Secretary General of NATO; former Defence Secretary, UK

Mohamed Sahnoun
Special Adviser to the United Nations Secretary-General on Africa

Ghassan Salamé
Former Minister Lebanon, Professor of International Relations, Paris

Salim A. Salim
Former Prime Minister of Tanzania; former Secretary General of the Organisation of African Unity

Douglas Schoen
Founding Partner of Penn, Schoen & Berland Associates, U.S.

Pär Stenbäck
Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Finland

Thorvald Stoltenberg
Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Norway

Grigory Yavlinsky
Chairman of Yabloko Party and its Duma faction, Russia

Uta Zapf
Chairperson of the German Bundestag Subcommittee on Disarmament, Arms Control and Non-proliferation

Ernesto Zedillo
Former President of Mexico; Director, Yale Center for the Study of Globalization

INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY BOARD

Crisis Group's International Advisory Board comprises major individual and corporate donors who contribute their advice and experience to Crisis Group on a regular basis.

Rita E. Hauser (Chair)

Marc Abramowitz
Anglo American PLC
John Chapman Chester
Peter Corcoran
Credit Suisse Group
John Ehara
Equinox Management Partners
JP Morgan Global Foreign Exchange and Commodities
George Kellner
George Loening
Douglas Makepeace
Anna Luisa Ponti
Quantm
Michael L. Riordan
Sarlo Foundation of the Jewish Community Endowment Fund
Tilleke & Gibbins International LTD
Baron Ullens
Stanley Weiss
Westfield Group
Yasuyo Yamazaki
Sunny Yoon

SENIOR ADVISERS

Crisis Group's Senior Advisers are former Board Members (not presently holding executive office) who maintain an association with Crisis Group, and whose advice and support are called on from time to time.

Oscar Arias
Zainab Bangura
Christoph Bertram
Jorge Castañeda
Eugene Chien
Gianfranco Dell'Alba
Alain Destexhe
Marika Fahlen
Malcolm Fraser
Max Jakobson
Mong Joon Chung
Allan J. MacEachen
Matt McHugh
George J. Mitchell
Mo Mowlam
Cyril Ramaphosa
Michel Rocard
Volker Ruehe
Simone Veil
Michael Sohlman
Leo Tindemans
Ed van Thijn
Shirley Williams

As at March 2005

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, April 12, 2005 11:46 PM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Hello/Goodbye

Ann,
I am writing this at about midnight. I leave for Pretoria in about 5 hours. This is a sudden trip. Looks like I will miss the April 21st Seminar. Could you please liaise with Mutima regarding our speaker? He should be able to pick him up from the airport. I have arranged for the speaker to be paid by IRSS but the process of giving Mutima all the information for payment to be made looked so complicated that I may as well handle it when I return.

Mutima: Please get all the receipts from Bokamba for us to be able to pay him. Please remind him that his honorarium will be $500 plus expenses. He will get his check by the end of the month.

I am sorry I will miss the talk, but duty calls. See you both when I return.
Julius

From: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, May 6, 2005 10:17 AM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: The U.S. Must Act to Promote Peace in the Congo - New Crisis Group media release]
Attach: The U.S. Must Act to Promote Peace in the Congo - New Crisis Group medi... (9.41 KB).msg

---

From: International Crisis Group <notification@crisisgroup.org>
Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2005 10:29 AM
To:
Subject: The U.S. Must Act to Promote Peace in the Congo - New Crisis Group media release

---

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROUP - NEW MEDIA RELEASE

The U.S. Must Act to Promote Peace in the Congo

Brussels/Nairobi, 14 April 2005: The International Crisis Group urges President George W. Bush in his meeting with Rwanda's President Paul Kagame on April 15 to press the Rwandan government to take concrete action to promote peace in the Congo.

In a letter (full text below) addressed to President Bush, the Crisis Group has recommended three steps to marginalise the hardliners among the Rwandan FDLR rebels operating in the eastern Congo and to encourage the return of the 8,000 to 10,000 FDLR combatants still based in the Congo.

The FDLR have been at the centre of the two Congo wars. The FDLR remain a serious threat to the Congolese population on which its fighters live off and prey. While they are no longer a serious strategic threat to Rwanda, they can still launch cross-border raids into Rwanda and provoke incursions by the Rwandan army into the Congo. On March 31, the FDLR announced in Rome that they will abandon the armed struggle and declared that they are willing to return to Rwanda peacefully. However, there are indications that the FDLR will not act on its promise and will tie their return to political conditions.

In the letter, Crisis Group President Gareth Evans calls for the Rwandan government to prevent a deadlock by separating the hard-line political figures from those willing to return. The letter urges the Rwandan government to meet with FDLR military commanders for technical discussions on the modalities of their return. The Rwandan government has refused to do so until now.

In addition, the letter asks for the Rwandan government to identify the FDLR commanders who are wanted by Rwandan courts or the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (ICTR) for crimes of genocide. It also recommends that the Rwandan government provide greater incentives for the FDLR commanders to return, such as the integration of those not guilty of atrocities into the Rwandan army.

If the Rwandan government does not act, the peaceful avenues for demobilisation are likely to fail and the only solution to the FDLR will be military. This will provoke the displacement and death of many more civilians in the region. President Bush's meeting with President Kagame is a timely opportunity to further the peace process in both Rwanda and the Congo.

To find out more about the conflict in the Congo, visit our Congo advocacy page. This page has details of Crisis Group's reports and opinion pieces on the conflict, details of our advocacy efforts to date, information on what you can do to support Crisis Group's efforts, and links to other resources on the conflict.

Contacts: Andrew Stroehlein (Brussels) 32 (0) 485 555 946
Jennifer Leonard (Washington) 1 202 785 1601
To contact Crisis Group media please click here

Dear Mr President,

I write to urge you to utilise the visit of President Paul Kagame to Washington on April 15 to underline to him the importance of Rwanda taking several specific steps that would make a substantial contribution to peace in the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Those steps are basically designed to marginalise the hardliners among the Rwandan FDLR rebels who have been such a destabilising presence in the eastern Congo over the last decade. Rwanda should be requested to:

- accept a mechanism to meet with the FDLR military leadership for technical discussions (which would not touch on any political conditions) concerning its peaceful repatriation to Rwanda;
- specifically identify those still in the Congo who are wanted by Rwandan courts or the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (ICTR) for crimes of genocide; and
- be prepared to integrate some high-ranking FDLR commanders not responsible for atrocities into the Rwandan Defence Forces.

Background. The FDLR have been at the centre of the two Congo wars. In recent years, they have been significantly weakened as the Congolese government has cut off their supply line, and defections have caused some of the top leadership to return to Rwanda. The movement currently numbers 8,000 to 10,000 fighters, based in the North and South Kivu provinces of the eastern Congo. While these insurgents are no longer a serious strategic threat to Rwanda, they can still launch cross-border raids and provoke incursions by the Rwandan army into the Congo. One such incursion took place last November and triggered a crisis that pushed the fragile Congolese transition to the brink. The FDLR is also a serious threat to the Congolese population on which its fighters live off and prey.

In March, the FDLR and the Congolese government met in Rome for talks under the auspices of the Community of Sant'Egidio. At the end of the meeting, the FDLR condemned the genocide, renounced the armed struggle and declared its willingness to return to Rwanda peacefully. On any view, if the rebels can be made to follow through on this promise, it will make a large contribution toward peace in the Great Lakes region.

There are signs, however, that the FDLR might not act on its declaration. Its political leadership, based in Europe, is much weaker and more divided than other Rwandan opposition parties and does not want to lose its main asset, the armed wing in the Congo. According to numerous reliable sources, it will now seek to attach political conditions to any return to Rwanda, such as the demand that the FDLR be permitted to function there as a political party, which presently stand no chance of being accepted by the Rwandan Government.

While there is a real need, as Crisis Group has consistently insisted, for a liberalisation of Rwandan politics, the nature of the FDLR and its violent past make the Rwandan government's position understandable. But there is still a way forward. Many FDLR military commanders seem willing to return to Rwanda without political conditions: according to Crisis Group interviews with commanders in the field and demobilised combatants, the military leadership is tired after eleven years of armed struggle that has decimated its troops. President Kagame should take advantage of this opportunity to separate the commanders from the hard-line political figures.

Proposed technical discussions. It is unrealistic to believe the FDLR will demobilise if the Rwandan government does not meet with its military commanders and discuss their return. Until now, Kigali has refused, as it is opposed to any negotiations with a group it reasonably regards as criminal. What is needed, however, is not political negotiations but technical discussion of the modalities of the return to Rwanda. This should be coordinated with the Congolese government, which has recently proven itself eager to be rid of the movement.

Proposed treatment of suspected genocidaires. During these talks, the Rwandan government should provide a list of FDLR officers who are suspected of genocide crimes by either Rwandan courts or the ICTR in Arusha. These individuals should fall under either category I or II genocidaires, in other words those believed to be the most serious offenders. The Rwandan government has said that 10 to 12 per cent of the leadership was involved in the genocide. Other sources believe the number of such persons still with the FDLR may be much smaller. Rwandan intelligence has detailed lists of both the FDLR commanders and those accused of genocide, and it should be relatively simple to establish who are the wanted individuals. Naming them will isolate the hardliners and encourage the other leaders to return home.

The FDLR, before the repatriation of the remainder of the movement, would have to hand over to the ICTR or Kigali the genocidaires in their ranks and enlist immediately in the voluntary disarmament and repatriation process run by the UN peacekeeping mission, MONUC.

Proposed integration of FDLR commanders into the RDF. The FDLR military leadership still needs a strong incentive to return to Rwanda. It is clear that the $200 package on offer to regular demobilised combatants will not suffice to bring the leaders back. Many of them have expressed the desire to continue a military career. In 2003, Kigali orchestrated the repatriation of the Force Commander of the FDLR, General Paul Rwarakabije, by offering him and three other FDLR officers ranks in the Rwandan army. A similar offer should be extended to those in the current FDLR leadership who are not guilty of atrocities.

The Rwandan government should be encouraged to be more proactive in closing the chapter on the FDLR and removing it as a spoiler to the Congo peace process. In neighbouring Uganda and Burundi, flexible approaches to enemy militias have contributed to stabilisation of the region and demobilisation of thousands of combatants.

If peaceful avenues for demobilisation are exhausted, the only solution to the FDLR will be military. This will provoke the displacement and deaths of many more innocent civilians in the region. President Kagame's visit is a timely opportunity to further the peace process in both Rwanda and the Congo.

Yours sincerely,

GARETH EVANS
President

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) is an independent, non-profit, multinational organisation covering over 50 crisis-affected countries and territories across four continents, working through field-based analysis and high-level advocacy to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

From: Gary Lloyd <gary_lloyd@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 10, 2005 11:31 AM
To: SIS-chat <sis-chat@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [sis-chat] Mainframe and Web Services

Dear All,

Most of you are probably aware that 440 W. Franklin has been under renovation for a while. This is where the majority of the campus computing center is located. Part of the renovated space is to house the mainframe computer, servers, and other equipment. Some of the equipment has been moved this week into the new location.

The next major move activity will begin at 8:00 a.m. this Saturday with the move of the mainframe and associated servers. It is estimated that the mainframe move will take at least 30 hours to complete and will be completed sometime Sunday afternoon. The final phase of the move is scheduled during the day on Monday, June 13th when we move the backup servers and associated tape libraries.

Since this major move will occur this weekend, there will be NO services for SIS, Faculty/Staff Central, Student Central, StARS, or the Oracle tables until after the move is completed. Hope this will not cause you any great inconveniences.

Thanks,
Gary

--
Gary Lloyd
SIS Coordinator
Office of the University Registrar
CB# 2100, 01F Hanes Hall
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2100
Telephone: (919)962-4750
FAX: (919)962-6661
E-mail: gary_lloyd@unc.edu

You are currently subscribed to sis-chat as: dacrowde@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-sis-chat-175159V@listserv.unc.edu

From: Christine Bixiones <cbix@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 21, 2005 12:09 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Peace Corps class presentation

Hello,

My name is Christine Bixiones and I am the Peace Corps Campus Recruiter for UNC. The Peace Corps is an organization that sends volunteers to serve for two years in developing countries as health and environment educators, English teachers, business advisors and more. I am wondering if it would be possible for me to speak about the exciting opportunity of Peace Corps service to some of the undergraduate classes in the African and Afro-American Studies Department.

I am a UNC graduate (2002) and served in the Peace Corps in a region of Ecuador populated by Afro-Ecuadoreans. I can bring a short video about the Peace Corps and talk about my own Peace Corps service experience, or just give a brief 5 minute explanation about what the Peace Corps is and how to apply. I am especially interested in speaking to classes with Juniors and Seniors. Please let me know if this is something that your department would be interested in.

I look forward to hearing from you!

Christine Bixiones
Peace Corps Campus Recruiter
RPCV Ecuador (2002 - 2004)
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Peace Corps Campus Office
220 Hanes Hall, CB 5140
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
Phone (919) 962-6984
Fax (919) 962-2197
peacecorps@unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, September 21, 2005 4:35 PM

To: bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Berhane Berhe Araia <berhane@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Subject: please announce and consider for your class

Attach: hello (32.2 MB).msg

From: JP <pourzal@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 21, 2005 4:27 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: hello
Attach: image001.emz; image003.emz; image006.jpg; child soldiering.pub

---

http://campus-y.unc.edu/heyyou/committees/sprojects/smecs.html

Hello Ms. Crowder, I hope your day has been well. Above is a link to the website which discusses the event as well as the student group involved. Also, below and attached , is the flyer we are using for the event. Please forward this to your debt as well as ask people about the speaker if anyone seems interested. Thank you for your time, your help is a major contribution to the success of this program and event.

Jonathan Pourzal

The Untold Story: The 19 year War of Abduction and Child Soldiering in Uganda

(And a plan to help the war-torn people)

Tuesday October 4th, 6 p.m., Cobb Theater in the Stone

Over 30,000 children, aged 8 to 14, have been abducted and forced to become soldiers

1.6 million have been displaced into squalid refugee camps

Children are forced to kill, mutilate, rape and/or torture their families and friends

Arthur Serota, Executive Director of UMECS (United Movement to End Child Soldiering)

Kahlil Almustafa, critically acclaimed "people's poet" and 2002 Nuyorican Grand Slam Champion

Sponsored by Student Movement to End Child Soldiering
Co-sponsored by Students for the Advancement of Race Relations (SARR)

The Untold Story: The 19 year War of Abduction and Child Soldiering in Uganda

(And a plan to help the war-torn people)

Tuesday October 4th, 6 p.m., Cobb Theater

Over 30,000 children, aged 8 to 14, have been abducted and forced to become soldiers

1.6 million have been displaced into squalid refugee camps

Children are forced to kill, mutilate, rape and/or torture their families and friends

Arthur Serota, Executive Director of UMECS (United Movement to End Child Soldiering)

Kahlil Almustafa, critically acclaimed poet and 2002 Nuyorican Poetry Slam Champion

Sponsored by Student Movement to End Child Soldiering

Co-sponsored by Student's for the Advancement of Race Relations (SARR)

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 3, 2005 12:41 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: I need to talk to you about a student Kiswahili III Homework

5 October 2005

Safari ya kutembea Bibi

Write at least 6 complex sentences about your trip to visit grandma. Talk about the actual traveling as well as what you did when you arrived. Nina kiu is not a complex sentence. Baada ya nilikimbia kilometa 20 nikachoka sana na nikakuwa na kiu! is.

Kiswahili I Homework Name: _____
5 October 2005

Introducing Others

Write introductions for the following groups of people. Introduce them by name, place of origin, and relationship to you.

Ex.: Love; Mbeya, Tanzania; mother's younger sister
Jina lake ni Love. Anatoka Mbeya, Tanzania. Yeye ni mama mdogo yangu.

1. Atwit; Mafinga, Tazania; sister

_____

_____

2. Alfonse, Godi, and Alexi; Moshi, Tanzania; uncles

_____

_____

3. Constance; Pemba; grandmother

_____

_____

4. Eliufoo; Dar es Salaam; boyfriend/lover

_____

_____

5. Anna and Lili; Arusha, Tanzania; friends

_____

_____

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 24, 2005 3:56 PM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Possible Lecture

Mike:
It depends on how "high" profile we are talking about. Any clarification?
JEN

Michael Lambert wrote:

> Colleagues,
>
>
>
> I have been asked to forward names for a possible high profile lecture > to be given on campus. Do you have any suggestions for a high profile > African who might be appropriate for such an event?
>
>
>
> Mike
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> Michael Lambert, Ph.D
>
> Associate Professor
>
> Department of African and Afro-American Studies
>
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
>
> 102 Battle Hall, CB # 3395
>
> Chapel Hill, NC 27510
>
>
>

--
Julius E. Nyang'oro
Professor and Chair
African and Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina
CB# 3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel: 919-962-1513
Fax: 919-962-2694
Email: jen321@email.unc.edu

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, October 25, 2005 9:45 AM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Cc: 'Bereket Selassie' <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; 'Roberta Ann Dunbar' <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; 'Eunice Sahle' <eunice@email.unc.edu>; 'Barbara Anderson' <banders1@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Possible Lecture

What is the time frame for this?

Michael Lambert wrote:

> Julius,
>
> This will be part of the UCIS Distinguished Speaker Series. So far Sima > Samar (minister of women's affairs for the interim administration of > Afghanistan), Robert Fisk (Mid-East correspondent for The Independent, > interviewed Bin Laden), Sandy Berger (Clinton's National Security Advisor), > and Saad Eddin Ibrahim (Director of Development Studies at the American > University of Cairo) have presented lectures in this series. There was some > hope that we would be able to get Wangari Maathai but her high speaker's fee > and involved application process is making this doubtful.
>
> I hope this gives you some idea as to what they are looking for.
>
> Mike
>
> Michael Lambert, Ph.D
> Associate Professor
> Department of African and Afro-American Studies
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> 102 Battle Hall, CB # 3395
> Chapel Hill, NC 27510
>
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Julius Nyang'oro [mailto:jen321@email.unc.edu]
> Sent: Monday, October 24, 2005 3:56 PM
> To: Michael Lambert
> Cc: Bereket Selassie; Roberta Ann Dunbar; Eunice Sahle; Barbara Anderson; > smutima@email.unc.edu
> Subject: Re: Possible Lecture
>
> Mike:
> It depends on how "high" profile we are talking about. Any clarification?
> JEN
>
> Michael Lambert wrote:
>
>
>>Colleagues,
>>
>>
>>
>>I have been asked to forward names for a possible high profile lecture >>to be given on campus. Do you have any suggestions for a high profile >>African who might be appropriate for such an event?
>>
>>
>>

>>Mike
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>
>>Michael Lambert, Ph.D
>>
>>Associate Professor
>>
>>Department of African and Afro-American Studies
>>
>>University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
>>
>>102 Battle Hall, CB # 3395
>>
>>Chapel Hill, NC 27510
>>
>>
>>
>
>

--
Julius E. Nyang'oro
Professor and Chair
African and Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina
CB# 3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel: 919-962-1513
Fax: 919-962-2694
Email: jen321@email.unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Friday, October 28, 2005 11:49 AM

To: Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Timothy McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>

Subject: [Fwd: [hrfac] Reminder: NCFlex Deadline Friday, Nov. 4]

Attach: [hrfac] Reminder_ NCFlex Deadline Friday, Nov. 4 (2.24 KB).msg

---

From: kwbryant@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 28, 2005 11:40 AM
To: Human Resources Facilitators <hrfac@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [hrfac] Reminder: NCFlex Deadline Friday, Nov. 4

TO: HR Facilitators

FROM: Elaine Phelps, Director, Benefit Program Administration

Reminder: the NCFlex deadline is Friday, Nov. 4!

Submit your enrollment forms to the Benefit Program Administration office as soon as they have been completed, to allow time for processing and to submit the forms to the benefits vendors. Also, please make a copy of your enrollment form for your records.

Enrollment forms must be turned in to the Benefit Program Administration office at CB# 1045 or Suite 1700, 104 Airport Drive. Forms will not be accepted after 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 4. Faxed copies of the enrollment form cannot be accepted.

You must complete an enrollment form each year if you want to contribute to a flexible spending account for either health care or dependent care. (Remember the amount you list on the enrollment form is a monthly amount.) You also must complete an enrollment form if you add or delete a benefit, or make changes to your covered dependents. Dental, vision, supplemental medical, cancer, life insurance and AD&D coverage continues from one plan year to the next; therefore, no action is required for those benefits unless you wish to make coverage changes. The NCFlex enrollment booklet contains detailed information about each of the plans.

Coverage changes are effective Jan. 1, 2006.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, November 4, 2005 9:26 AM
To: Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Parking Coordinators - New Park & ride information]
Attach: Parking Coordinators - New Park & ride information (5.50 KB).msg

---

From: Claire Kane <ckane@DPS.PSAFETY.UNC.EDU>
Sent: Thursday, November 3, 2005 4:54 PM
To:
Subject: Parking Coordinators - New Park & ride information

Parking Coordinators,

There may be members of your departments who would consider buying a discounted pass to use the TTA bus if there was a park & ride lot in Downtown Durham or West Raleigh. Please see below. Thank you for distributing this information.

CAP Administrator

This just in from TTA:

TTA Makes New Park-and-Ride Lots Available in Downtown Durham and West Raleigh

From Downtown Durham

You can now leave your car parked in the West Village lot across from the TTA stop at Morgan Street at the DATA Terminal, hop on Route 402 and be at the Varsity Theater in 33 minutes, or at UNC Hospital in 41 minutes. You will need a parking permit to park in this location. If you are interested in getting a FREE parking permit for this lot, please download an application at the following URL - http://ridetta.org/Bus_Shuttle/Park_Ride_Locations/parkAndRideLocations.html#durham or contact TTA Customer Service at 549-9999, option "1" or send an email to CustomerService@rideTTA.org.

From West Raleigh

The Route 550 Express now serves the District Road Park-and-Ride lot off of Blue Ridge Road, just north of Wade Avenue. Leave your car here, and you can be at the UNC Student Union in 31 minutes. Transfers to a Chapel Hill Transit route connecting to the hospital are available every few minutes. There is no permit necessary to use this lot.

Details on the location of this lot can be found at http://ridetta.org/Bus_Shuttle/Park_Ride_Locations/parkAndRideLocations.html#raleigh

Schedules for Routes 402, 550 Express, and all routes in the region are available at http://www.gotriangle.org/trip/en/?mm=timetables.

Questions

If you have questions about using any TTA services, please contact Customer Service at 549-9999, option "1" or send an email to CustomerService@rideTTA.org.

Kiswahili III
Chumba Kizuri

Tafsiri maswali kwa kiingereza halafu jibu kwa kiswahili.
Kwa mfano:
Q: Utalima bustani yako mwenyewe?
A: Will you farm your garden by yourself? Sindiyo! Nitalima mwenyewe.

1. Q: Nani amefunua mtoto? Atapata kifua!
A:

2. Q: Mtavuna mahindi wakati gani?
A:

3. Q: Ni giza ndani. Itabidi nifanye nini?
A:

4. Q: Umeweka kikombe chako wapi?
A:

5. Q: Akina mama wamo katika chumba gani?
A:

6. Q: Umeumia mikono yako? Unajisikiaje?
A:

7. Q: Utakutana naye wapi na saa ngapi?
A:

8. Q. Wamesema nini kuhusu machaguzi? (Tumia 'kwamba')
A:

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/version:2.1
end:vcard

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

From: diaspora <diaspora@email.uncc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, November 30, 2005 10:39 AM
To: bselassi@email.unc.edu; kaslo@email.unc.edu; eunice@email.unc.edu; regester@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; jen321@email.unc.edu; smutima@email.unc.edu; tjm1@email.unc.edu; drdalet@email.unc.edu; mlambert@email.unc.edu; jfjordan@email.unc.edu; krjanken@email.unc.edu; hildebra@email.unc.edu; hallpa@email.unc.edu; radunbar@email.unc.edu; klcaldwe@email.unc.edu; k_brennan@bellsouth.net; banders1@email.unc.edu; dacrowde@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Diaspora Conference 2006

Please share this conference information with your department. Thank you!

The Africana Studies Department at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte is hosting its African Diaspora Conference, 2006 titled:

Centering the Periphery: Globalization and Identity in the African Diaspora

April 5-8, 2006

Information regarding the conference can be accessed via the link below.

http://www.aaas.uncc.edu/Diaspora_Conference_2006.htm

Submissions should be sent by mail or email to:

C/o Ms. Elsie Byrd, Office Manager
Dr. Robert S. Smith, Asst. Professor Department of Africana Studies, Macy Building 204A
The University of North Carolina at Charlotte
9201 University City Boulevard
Charlotte, North Carolina 28223-0001
Phone: 704.687.2371
Fax: 704.687.3888
Email: Diaspora@email.uncc.edu
Deadline for Submissions is Feb. 1, 2006

For all other conference related inquiries please contact:

Dr. Robert Smith, Conference Coordinator
Department of Africana Studies, Macy Building 204
The University of North Carolina at Charlotte
9201 University City Boulevard
Charlotte, North Carolina 28223
Phone: 704.687.2371
Fax: 704.687.3888
Email: robsmith@email.uncc.edu

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

Faculty Information Form
Triangle-wide Meeting of Africanists
And African-Americanists

NAME:_____

TITLE:_____

DEPARTMENT:_____

BOX:_____

SCHOOL_____

EMAIL ADDRESS:_____

TELEPHONE NUMBER:_____

FAX NUMBER:_____

RESEARCH & TEACHING INTERESTS:_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Please return to:
Aqila Coulthurst
Box 90252

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, January 19, 2006 1:09 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: swahili credit]
Attach: swahili credit (1.98 KB).msg

Can we meet with this young lady tomorrow to see what kind of credit she will be eligible for? DC

The following section of this message contains a file attachment prepared for transmission using the Internet MIME message format.
If you are using Pegasus Mail, or any other MIME-compliant system, you should be able to save it or view it from within your mailer.
If you cannot, please ask your system administrator for assistance.

---- File information -----------
File: Triangle-Wide Collaborative Contact List.xls
Date: 20 Jan 2006, 17:04
Size: 28672 bytes.
Type: Excel-sheet

Triangle-Wide Collaborative
Contact List

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H
1	Name	Title	Department	Box	School	Email Address	Telephone #	Fax #
2	John Rogers Harris	Asst. Professor	Dramatic Art	CB# 3230	UNC Chapel Hill	John_Harris@unc.edu	919-843-5501	919-962-5791
3	Dr. E. B. Palmer	CEO-Founder			African Amer. Cultural Complex 119 Sunnybrook Rd., Raleigh, NC 27610	info@aaccmuseum.org	919-250-9336	919-212-3598
4	Tom Kelley	Clinical Professor	School of Law	3380	UNC Chapel Hill	takelley@email.unc.edu	919-843-9909
5	Truder Harris	J.C. Carlyle Sitterson Prof.	English	CB# 3520 Greenlaw	UNC Chapel Hill	deeranu@email.unc.edu	919-962-5481	919-962-3520
6	Lyneise Williams	Carolina Post-Doctoral Fellow	Art (Art Historian)	3405	UNC Chapel Hill	williale@email.unc.edu	919-962-0737
7	Heather A. Williams	Asst. Professor	History	3195	UNC Chapel Hill	hawill@email.unc.edu	919-960-2833	919-960-1403
8	Jerma A. Jackson	Assoc. Professor	History	CB# 3195, Hamilton Hall	UNC Chapel Hill	jaj@email.unc.edu	919-962-8084
9	Alphonse Mutima	Asst. Professor of African Lang. (Swahili & Lingala)	African Studies and African Amer. Studies	CB# 3395/ Battle Hall	UNC Chapel Hill	smutima@email.unc.edu	919-966-5763	919-962-2694
10	Susan Thorne	Assoc. Professor	History	90719	Duke	sthorne@duke.edu	919-684-8945
11	D. Soyini Madison	Assoc. Professor	Communication Studies	3285	UNC Chapel Hill	dmadison@email.unc.edu	919-962-4944	919-962-3533
12	H. Lewis Suggs	Scholar-in-Residence	History		NCCU	lsuggs@nccu.edu	919-530-5349	919-530-5320
13	Jonathan Livingston	Asst. Professor	Psychology		NCCU	jnlivingston@nccu.edu	919-530-7776
14	Barbara Anderson	Assoc. Director	African Studies Center	CB# 7285	UNC Chapel Hill	banders1@email.unc.edu	919-843-1895
15	Carol Magee	Asst. Professor	Art	3405	UNC Chapel Hill	cmagee@email.unc.edu	919-962-0727	919-962-0722

Triangle-Wide Collaborative
Contact List

	I
1	Research & Teaching Interests
2	African Amer. Drama, Amer. Theatre in the Military, African Diaspora in Theatre/Drama/Performance
3	Museum Director
4	Customary African Law; Law of Emerging Nations; Comparative Law; Community Development Law
5	African Amer. Literature and Folklore; Women's Issues
6	African Diaspora/Afro Latin America
7	U.S. Slavery; African Amer. Education; African Amer. Families 19th Century
8	Research Interests: 20th Century, Memory vs. History, Religion, Music, Oral History. Teaching Interests: Post-1865 African Amer. History, Religion
9	Second Lang. Acquisition; Lang. Pedagogy; The role of motivation in second lang. Learning
10	19th Century; British Empire; Black British; Africa; Caribbean
11	Black Diaspora Performance; Theatre for Social Justice-Intersections bet. Human Rights and Global Economy
12	African Amer Press; Writing History of NCCU
13	African Amer. Mental Health and Families
14	Colonial and Antebellum African Amer. (U.S.) History; Gen. Interest in Contemporary Africa
15	All levels of African art history (Sub-Saharan/North African traditional and contemporary art production); Ways African arts and cultures appear in amer. Culture; African photographyin the past 30 yrs.; Museum Studies

Triangle-Wide Collaborative
Contact List

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H
16	Perry Hall	Assoc. Professor	African and Afro. Amer. Studies	3395	UNC Chapel Hill	hallpa@email.unc.edu	919-966-5496	919-962-2694
17	Chandra Y. Guinn	Director	Mary Lou Williams Center for Black Culture	90880	Duke	cguinn@duke.edu	919-684-3814	919-681-7472
18	Jerry Gershenhorn	Assoc. Professor	History		NCCU	jgershen@nccu.edu	919-530-7135
19	Charles Price	Asst. Professor	Anthropology		UNC Chapel Hill	cprice1@email.unc.edu	919-843-7809	919-962-1613
20	Derek Greenfield	Asst. Professor of Sociology	Social and Behavioral Sciences		St. Augustine's College	dfgreenfield@st-aug.edu	919-516-4354
21	Louise Meintjes	Assoc. Professor	Music & Cultural Anthropology	90665	Duke	meintjes@duke.edu	919-660-3339	919-660-3301
22	Carlton Wilson	Assoc. Professor	History		NCCU	cwilson@nccu.edu	919-530-6271	919-530-5392
23	George Cliette	Assoc. Professor	Psychology	206TEB	NCCU	gcliette@nccu.edu	919-530-5373
24	Jaruis A. Hall	Assoc. Professor	Political Science	Dept. of Political Science, NCCU, Durham, NC 27707	NCCU	jhall@nccu.edu	919-530-7256	919-530-6246
25	Anne-Maria Makhulu	Asst. Professor	African and African Amer. Studies and Cultural Anthropology	90252	Duke	amakhulu@duke.edu	919-668-1913	919-684-2832
26	Tanya Shields	Research Assoc. (Post doc)	Women's Studies	3135	UNC Chapel Hill	tshields@email.unc.edu	919-962-3908	919-962-5839
27	Craig C. Brookins	Assoc. Professor, Director - Africana Studies	Africana Studies and Psychology	8101	NC State University	craig_brookins@ncsu.edu	919-515-7518	919-510-0286

Triangle-Wide Collaborative
Contact List

	I
16	Popular Culture (U.S.); Cultural and Intellectual History
17	Women in African Studies, Pedagogy, Qualitative Methods & Historiography of African Studies, Service Learning
18	Blacks in Higher Ed., Intellectual History, 20th Century, NC History
19	Black Identity; Community Dev. & Community Organizing; Jamaica; Life History & Oral History Research; Participatory Research; Evaluation; Social Movements; Amer. South
20	South African Lang. & Indentity Politics; Hip-Hop Studies; Urban Educ.; Critical Pedagogy
21	Politics of Music Production; South Africa; Zulu; Dance and Gender
22	Modern Europe; Blacks in Europe
23	Cultural Hegemony; Psychology of Oppression; Rites of Passage Programs; Community Engagement
24	Black Politics; Social Movement; Public Policy
25	Africanist Anthropology; History of Colonialism in Southern Africa; Postcoloniality, marxism, theories of modernity; African Cities; South African Novel
26	Caribbean Studies (literary); African Diaspora (in the Americas); Citizenship, Anti-Economic Globalization, Art, and Social Change
27	Community Development, Youth Programming, Community Psychology, African and African American Identity, Study Abroad Programming

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, January 31, 2006 4:02 PM

To: Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Timothy McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; smu >> Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Urgent re meeting

Attach: AFAM Assessment Report-1.doc

A faculty meeting is scheduled for between 60-90 minutes on February 8 at 9:00 am to discuss the draft department self-assessment. Please submit written comments, including items you wish to have included in the report, the day before to Kenneth [JANKEN@unc.edu] and Eunice [EUNICE@email.unc.edu]. The draft report does not contain faculty c.v.'s, which are collected in a separate file.

2004-05 Assessment Report

Note: All the cells below expand as you type, so provide as much detail as you wish.

Department Name: Contact Person:
Program:

Outcome(s) Assessed During 2004-05	Assessment Methods Used	Findings	Use of Results (Action)
Draw on relevant historical and theoretical information to analyze historical or contemporary issues affecting African or African-American communities.	Analysis of student papers in the Senior Seminars in African Studies and Afro-American Studies respectively by a faculty team	Examining the work of 12 graduating seniors in the Spring Seminar class, the faculty team rated 3 as excellent and five as good in relation to assessment goals.	Faculty team will review seminar and general curriculum to identify areas to strengthen in terms of both historical foundations and contemporary perspectives.
Successfully qualify for jobs, occupations, or higher level studies that incorporate knowledge, skills, and capabilities gained in the program of study.	Senior exit interviews	Of 25 seniors interviewed, 10 were accepted to graduate and professional programs, 4 were pursuing advanced studies (non-degree) in various fields, 3 were taking extended time off to decide their future plans and 8 had secured immediate employment.	Faculty team will use survey results to better advise our majors on options for employment and possibilities of professional training and education.

Return via email to College of Arts and Sciences Dean's Office by July 15, 2005, and a copy to lynn_williford@unc.edu.

Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Self-Assessment in Preparation for SACS External Evaluation

Mission statement
From 2005-2006 Undergraduate Bulletin, accessed online at http://www.unc.edu/ugradbulletin/depts/afam.html, December 19, 2005:

The Department of African and Afro-American Studies is an interdisciplinary program leading to the AB degree. It is administered through the College of Arts and Sciences. Prospective majors should see the department chair.

The current goal of African and Afro-American Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill is to give specific and precise attention to the histories, cultures, and cultural linkages of the peoples of Africa and their descendants in the New World. Although students must concentrate in either African or Afro-American studies, all majors must gain competence in both areas and thereby come to understand the cultural and historical continuities and contrasts between Africa and the African New World.

The purpose of the African studies concentration is to develop an analytical approach to contemporary Africa. Courses stress the importance of traditional values and institutions to the definition of modern African society, and stress the historic range of commercial and political relationships with Europe and the New World. The purpose of the concentration in Afro-American Studies is to develop a broad knowledge of the history and culture of the peoples of African descent in the Americas and the significant social, political, economic, and humanistic issues they face.

Department Profile:

African and Afro-American Studies at the University of North Carolina began in 1969 as a curriculum with a part-time faculty of two. Today, the faculty numbers 18, including a dozen tenured and tenure-track professors. The earliest extant records, from fall 1970, show that 53 students were enrolled in the only course offered. That number has risen steadily, and in the academic year 2004-2005, the department taught 3,597 students. From its founding until 1996, the curriculum awarded undergraduate degrees in both African studies and Afro-American studies. Beginning in 1997, the degrees were consolidated into a single Bachelor of Arts degree in African and Afro-American studies, with a concentration in one field or the other. In the 1997 the curriculum achieved departmental status, a long-standing goal of the faculty and students.

The department's course offerings fulfill an array of the new General Education requirements. Of particular note is the Burch seminar in Cape Town that is headed by our department and a semester abroad program in Dakar that is in the planning stages; both of these reflect the new curriculum's international and experiential education emphases. It is appropriate to record here our disappointment with and objection to the Curriculum Review Steering Committee's decision that many Afro-American studies courses would not fulfill the U.S. diversity requirement. The committee's reasoning was flawed, we believe, and we will pursue this further at the appropriate time and in the appropriate manner.

The most significant development in the field of African American Studies during the past decade has been the shift toward much greater emphasis on the African Diaspora beyond the United States, particularly the Caribbean and Latin America, but also Canada, Europe and Asia. It has been a long standing goal of ours to widen and deepen the diasporic dimensions of our department. One department member, with a joint appointment in anthropology, has research and teaching expertise in the Caribbean; in 2005, we augmented this emphasis by hiring an assistant professor who specializes in Afro-Latin America. Our strategic plan calls for more the appointment of additional faculty whose scholarship and teaching are oriented toward the Diaspora beyond the United States. Cooperation with the Stone Center and the Institute of African American Research and with Diaspora scholars across the Triangle area will amplify the impact of our faculty's work.

Three initiatives are underway that will amplify the work of the Afro-American studies faculty. Professor Kia Caldwell has organized initiated a works-in-progress series under the theme "Conversations in the African Diaspora." The African American Studies Consortium, organized jointly with the Stone Center for Black History and Culture and the Institute for African American Research and under the leadership of the Department of African and Afro-American Studies is intended to bring together faculty and graduate students from across the entire university whose work deals with the history, culture or social conditions of the African Diaspora. It will convene once each semester around a particular speaker or broad theme, but the primary objective will be to provide a venue for the creation of new relationships that will lead to interaction and collaboration between colleagues who may not even be aware of each other's existence. The department also participates in the Triangle-Wide Collaborative project, which brings together faculty members from UNC, NCCU, NCSU, and Duke who specialize in various aspects of the African Diaspora. Having been founded only in December 2005, its final shape is yet to be determined, but it appears to be a promising endeavor. It can be noted, however, that this is not the first such initiative; several of our faculty participated in the Triangle Scholars of the African Diaspora seminars, which met in 1994 in space provided by the National Humanities Center.

Since its emergence in the post World War II period the field of African Studies in the United States has worked to unravel the complexities of Africa's diversity and historical experience in such a way as to both enhance efforts to improve the quality of life of Africans in the post-colonial period and also to facilitate an intelligent comprehension of the continent by our fellow citizens. Early attention to economic development and the forces leading to one-party rule and militarism in the continent shifted in the 1970s and 1980s to a greater focus on problems created by indebtedness and the exclusion of women and many segments of civil society from political power. In addition to second generation Africans, economic crises across the continent spawned a new wave of emigrants from Africa, many of whom are in the United States. The push for democratization beginning in the early 1990s continues down to the present and has occasioned the development of scholarship in political economy, interaction of civil society with the state, and human rights. The pandemic of HIV/AIDS compels cooperative teaching and research to understand the etiology of the disease and to promote public education and deliver care.

Africanist scholars in the Department of African and Afro-American Studies at The University of North Carolina offer courses addressing both older and more recent research and teaching areas. These include courses on literature, art, film, gender, political economy, policy development, strategies of community and ethnographic analysis, and regionalism. Comparative courses on globalization examine its impact on Africa and other parts of the world, including North Carolina. As part of the study on comparative globalization Prof. Eunice Sahle is involved in a collaborative project that will be examining the process of globalization in Tanzania and Bolivia. A core component of this project is a Study Abroad Summer program in both countries. Along with our colleagues in African American Studies and other departments, comparative work on Africa and the Diaspora is underway as are collaborative efforts with the Schools of Medicine and Public Health who are heavily engaged in addressing the HIV/AIDS pandemic in Africa. In 2006 and 2007, two new faculty members specializing in conflict resolution and regional trade will provide a significant degree of specialization in these areas. Finally, the Department encourages our undergraduate students to gain experience in local and African communities through Study Abroad, independent study, and experiential learning. They complete service internships and conduct research in Africa and among African immigrants in North Carolina. The quality of their work, and their enthusiasm and commitment promises a next generation equipped with first hand experience that prepares them for both intelligent citizenship and for careers that will sustain the powerful connections already existing between Africa and this country.

The departmental also offers courses in Swahili, one of the world's oldest languages. It is spoken by 100 million people worldwide, primarily in East Africa, but also in enclaves in major cities of Asia, Europe, and North America. At UNC, students take Swahili to fulfill their foreign language requirement, to facilitate academic research in East Africa, or to prepare for becoming Peace Corps volunteers there. Today, the business community also understands the importance of Swahili. Marc Lacey (2004) in his New York Times article states that "Microsoft, which is working to incorporate Swahili into Microsoft Windows, Microsoft Office and other popular programs, sees a market for its software among the roughly 100 million Swahili speakers in East Africa." Last year the department also started offering courses in Lingala, a language that is widely spoken in the Great Lake's Region in Eastern and Central Africa.

Faculty Profile

As appendix I indicates, the department comprises of award winning faculty members who contribute greatly to intellectual at UNC and the wider community in the United States and the world. Various faculty members are involved in multiple committees at the UNC and in other administrative arenas at the University. We also have faculty members with extensive consultancy at local, national and global levels on diverse issues such as constitution making, community building and mobilization, education, global governance, military and civil society relations and national development. We hope to continue to expand our faculty activities both at the University, state, national and global levels in the next few years and to continue joining in historical, contemporary and emerging intellectual conversations that contribute to our growth as teachers and as citizens of our various countries and the world.

Student majors' evaluation of department

Professors Sahle and Janken invited six majors to discuss their expectations of and experiences within the department. Three accepted, and a fourth replied by email. All of the students had a concentration in Afro-American studies. Two of them knew from the time they entered UNC as first-year students that they wanted to be majors. The third was a transfer student who knew she wanted to study something having to do with race, class, sex, or gender; it was serendipity that she took a course in Afro-American studies and became a major. All three agreed that the department should make courses available to students in their first two years at Carolina; frequently, they said, the department's offerings are filled up by the time sophomores and first-year students can enroll. Along the same lines, they would like to see the department offer more first-year seminars, and similar small courses for transfer students, who are excluded from the first-year seminar program.

The students found the course offerings to be intellectually satisfying. One of the respondents made a special point of saying that she felt far better equipped to analyze society and current events because of her major course of study. The student who responded by email had this to say: "I feel that there is a good mix of critical thinking/writing classes and lecture/test based classes. However, I think generally professors should give more feedback on papers particularly commenting on things like structure of argument, depth of analysis, and clarity. I think it will help majors to produce a higher quality of work for the field later on." There was consensus that the department should beef up its offering of internships, which is currently limited to the Burch seminar in South Africa and the occasional service-learning class. Like students in other humanities and social science departments, our majors often wonder "what they can do with" a degree in African and Afro-American studies; not incidentally, so do their parents. Internships are one way for them to glimpse post-graduation employment possibilities. With Career Services turning over control of internships to the College, which in turn will plan for academic departments to oversee them, we can be reasonably certain that internships related to African and Afro-American studies will be intellectually stimulating.

The most recent assessment of student-related outcomes, for the academic year 2004-2005, appears below.

2004-05 Assessment Report

Note: All the cells below expand as you type, so provide as much detail as you wish.

Department Name: Contact Person:
Program:

Outcome(s) Assessed During 2004-05	Assessment Methods Used	Findings	Use of Results (Action)
Draw on relevant historical and theoretical information to analyze historical or contemporary issues affecting African or African-American communities.	Analysis of student papers in the Senior Seminars in African Studies and Afro-American Studies respectively by a faculty team	Examining the work of 12 graduating seniors in the Spring Seminar class, the faculty team rated 3 as excellent and five as good in relation to assessment goals.	Faculty team will review seminar and general curriculum to identify areas to strengthen in terms of both historical foundations and contemporary perspectives.
Successfully qualify for jobs, occupations, or higher level studies that incorporate knowledge, skills, and capabilities gained in the program of study.	Senior exit interviews	Of 25 seniors interviewed, 10 were accepted to graduate and professional programs, 4 were pursuing advanced studies (non-degree) in various fields, 3 were taking extended time off to decide their future plans and 8 had secured immediate employment.	Faculty team will use survey results to better advise our majors on options for employment and possibilities of professional training and education.

Return via email to College of Arts and Sciences Dean's Office by July 15, 2005, and a copy to lynn_williford@unc.edu.

How do we represent Africa? Facilitating a discussion on complexity and vibrancy in the continent through photographs

The way in which we envision Africa gives meaning to our understanding and to our interactions with the continent. In order to move beyond the superficial, a scope of complexity must be involved in our discourse. Faculty and students are invited to submit a photograph with a short contextual paragraph as part of a discussion on how we can best represent Africa.

Call for Submissions: Students and faculty are invited to submit a photograph from Africa they feel represents the complexity and vibrancy of the continent. A panel of faculty and students will choose approximately twenty five photos to be framed and exhibited in the Sonja Haynes Black Cultural Center on April 12, 2006. A speaker, discussion and refreshments will be part of the event. ***

Be a part of the African Studies Center's first public event! Submit photos, context and submission form (see attached) to asc@email.unc.edu(tff files preferred, jpeg accepted). Or drop off prints, context and submission form to Room 303 of the Stone Center (under the door). Submissions will be accepted until March 20, 2006.

Rules:

1. Photos must be submitted (electronically or physically) by 5 PM on March 20, 2006.
2. Photos must be taken by the student/faculty member. Photos must relate to Africa.
3. Photos submitted can be used by the African Studies Center for non-commercial purposes (including website, future exhibits).
4. Applicants must submit context (approximately 75-200 words) about how the photo relates to theme and what is represented.
5. ONE photo submission per applicant.?
6. Submission form should be attached as a document or included with photo for submission.

- -- You are currently subscribed to subglobalhealth as: banders1@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-11323741-5252538A@listserv.unc.edu

How do we represent Africa? Facilitating a discussion on complexity and vibrancy in the continent through photographs

The way in which we envision Africa gives meaning to our understanding and to our interactions with the continent. In order to move beyond the superficial, a scope of complexity must be involved in our discourse. Faculty and students are invited to submit a photograph with a short contextual paragraph as part of a discussion on how we can best represent Africa.

Call for Submissions: Students and faculty are invited to submit a photograph from Africa they feel represents the complexity and vibrancy of the continent. A panel of faculty and students will choose approximately twenty five photos to be framed and exhibited in the Sonja Haynes Black Cultural Center on April 12, 2006. A speaker, discussion and refreshments will be part of the event. ***

Be a part of the African Studies Center's first public event! Submit photos, context and submission form (see attached) to asc@email.unc.edu(tff files preferred, jpeg accepted). Or drop off prints, context and submission form to Room 303 of the Stone Center (under the door). Submissions will be accepted until March 20, 2006.

Rules:

1. Photos must be submitted (electronically or physically) by 5 PM on March 20, 2006.
2. Photos must be taken by the student/faculty member. Photos must relate to Africa.
3. Photos submitted can be used by the African Studies Center for non-commercial purposes (including website, future exhibits).
4. Applicants must submit context (approximately 75-200 words) about how the photo relates to theme and what is represented.
5. ONE photo submission per applicant.?
6. Submission form should be attached as a document or included with photo for submission.

- -- You are currently subscribed to subglobalhealth as: banders1@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-11323741-5252538A@listserv.unc.edu

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 20, 2006 8:42 AM
To: Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: Sirleaf in US-NY and DC
Attach: jfjordan.vcf

If you have not seen this

Liberia: Johnson Sirleaf in New York, Washington

"Listening to the hopes and dreams of our people, I recall the words of a Mozambican poet who said, 'Our dream has the size of freedom.' My people, like your people, believe deeply in freedom - and, in their dreams, they reach for the heavens. ... I ran for president because I am determined to see good governance in Liberia in my lifetime. But I also ran because I am the mother of four, and I wanted to see our children smile again." - Liberian President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, speaking to the U.S. Congress, March 15, 2006

This AfricaFocus Bulletin contains documents from Liberian President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf's visits to the United Nations and the United States, including the text of her address to the U.S. Congress. The first African woman to be elected head of state, she became the fourth African head of state to address a joint session of the U.S. Congress. (Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia was the first, in 1954, followed by Tunisian President Habib Bourgouiba in 1961. President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana addressed both the House and Senate separately on his 1958 visit. Nelson Mandela spoke to the U.S. Congress after his release from prison in 1990 and again in 1994.)

The e-mail version of this Bulletin is condensed for reasons of length. The full text of the press releases and speeches can be found in the web version of this Bulletin at http://www.africafocus.org/docs06/lib0603.php

For earlier AfricaFocus Bulletins on Liberia, see http://www.africafocus.org/country/liberia.php

Additional background on the Johnson Sirleaf trip can be found at: http://allafrica.com/stories/200603100001.html and

http://www.un.org/News/Press/docs/2006/sc8666.doc.htm

At UN, new Liberian President pleads for focus on the lives of her people

http://www.un.org/News

17 March 2006 - After receiving a warm welcome from the United Nations Security Council today, Liberia's newly elected President, Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, pled for closure in the matter of alleged crimes committed by former President Charles Taylor so that the country can get past the trauma of its long civil war and proceed with its development agenda.

"I wish the attention of the media and the international community would make the shift from one individual to three million people that desire a chance for a new life," Ms. Johnson Sirleaf, the first woman elected as head of State in Africa, said at a UN Headquarters news conference where correspondents pressed her on current reports that she has requested Mr. Taylor be extradited from Nigeria where he is in exile.

In her earlier Council presentation, Ms. Johnson Sirleaf urged that the UN stay engaged with Liberia to complete the work of peacekeepers who she said had made great sacrifices to help her country emerge from chaos. ...

"Liberia is still a fragile State," she cautioned, urging the Council to maintain its support for the UN peacekeeping mission in the country (UNMIL), since the armed forces were being reconstituted and the restructuring of the police service was not yet completed.

Press Conference by Liberia's President

United Nations, 17 March 2006

http://www.un.org/News/briefings/docs/2006/060317_Johnson-Sirleaf .doc.htm [type URL on one line]

In her first visit to the United Nations as President of Liberia, Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf said, at a Headquarters press conference, "The Liberian people are committed to the processes of change. They are committed to peace. They want to see their lives restored to normalcy. They want their country, once again, to be respected. They want to regain their dignity and to be able to pursue their potential in life, in an environment that is safe and responsive to their needs."

Pressed throughout the briefing on the situation of exiled former Liberian President Charles Taylor, President Johnson-Sirleaf told correspondents that the Liberian people would feel that justice had been served, once the attention of the world media moved from Mr. Taylor to support for Liberia's return to normalcy, peace and development. She implored journalists to "make the shift from one individual to 3 million people's quest for a new life". ...

Reviewing Liberia's successes and problems, President Johnson-Sirleaf said she was grateful for the support of the United Nations and the country's bilateral partners in her country's transition in the last two years, culminating in free and fair elections. ...

She noted that the country's Truth and Reconciliation Commission had been launched, as had the development process -- both importance stages in the transition from war to peace. While elaborating a long-term development agenda, quick-impact measures were already in play, to positively affect the lives of Liberians and respond to the thousands upon thousands of demobilized youth. Efforts were also under way to rehabilitate the infrastructure, both economic and social. That should all provide the basis for a resumption of normal life and encourage the return of refugees and internally displaced persons. Liberia was seeking to restore its international reputation and working to strengthen its relationships, not only with its neighbours, but throughout Africa and the world.

Her Government had also embarked on negotiations with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and was tackling its significant external debt problem, among other things, aimed at enabling it to manage its own resources and respond to the needs of its people, she said. She had thanked the Security Council this morning for the support the country had enjoyed to date.

Turning to the many questions regarding Liberia's former President Charles Taylor, she said she had consulted with Nigerian President Olusegun Obasanjo, and the leaders involved with taking Mr. Taylor to exile should now bring the matter to closure, meaning that a decision should be taken to allow Mr. Taylor to have his day in court. He should be given an opportunity for proceedings in an environment that was not hostile and that gave him the full right to self-defence. She had reported that to the Security Council this morning.

"Let me be clear," the President stressed, "Mr. Taylor was not indicted in a Liberian court; he was indicted in the Special Court of Sierra Leone supported by the United Nations. This is why we say the resolution of this must be in accordance with the United Nations and the international community." She added that time was of the essence in that regard. Liberia's peace was fragile. There were many loyalists to Mr. Taylor in Liberia, and he had many business interests there.

"Whatever decision is taken by the African leadership must ensure that the safety of the Liberian people and the stability of our nation is not undermined," she emphasized. ...

Asked if she would have been more comfortable if the Nigerian President had handled the matter, she said that, not only would she have been more comfortable, that would have been the right thing to do; the pressure on Liberia had been "unfair". She had hoped that the international community and the United Nations would have sought to implement a decision of the Security Council, in that regard, long before the new Government took over.

"So, we inherited a problem", she added. "We are faced with serious pressure. We are a small country. We have no powers that others have. We have no security forces to protect our people and the safety of our nation. So, we are caught in a situation, in which we have to take a major decision that should have been taken long before, giving us an opportunity to pursue our development agenda. But, that is the way it is. So, we have to get this behind us, because our people want to return our country to normalcy and they want to get on with their lives," she said. ... possible. ...

****

Liberian President Sirleaf Thanks U.S. Congress, Asks for Continuing Support

March 15, 2006

http://allafrica.com/stories/200603150786.html

Speaking before a joint meeting of the United States Congress on Wednesday, Liberian President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf asked for American support to help her country "become a brilliant beacon, an example to Africa and the world of what love of liberty can achieve." ...

The 35-minute speech, to a full chamber and packed visitors' galleries, was interrupted 33 times by applause, including a dozen by standing ovation. One of the loudest and longest ovations came when she said: "I stand before you today as the first woman elected to lead an African nation." ...

The text of her address:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Vice President, Members of the United States Congress distinguished guests,

I am deeply touched by the honor bestowed on my small but proud West African Republic of Liberia and on myself by inviting me to address this body of representatives of the people of the great United States of America. ...

The people of Liberia and the people of the United States are bound together by history and by values. We share a deep and abiding belief in the power of freedom, of faith and of finding virtue in work for the common good. ...

But our ties greatly exceed the historical connection. I stand before you today, as the first woman elected to lead an African nation, thanks to the grace of Almighty God; thanks to the courage of the Liberian people, who chose their future over fear; thanks to the people of west Africa and of Africa generally, who continued to give hope to my people. Thanks also to President Bush whose strong resolve and public condemnation and appropriate action forced a tyrant into exile and thanks to you - the members of this august body - who spurred the international effort that brought blessed peace to our nation.

It was the leadership of the 108th Congress, more than two years ago, that paved the way for a United Nations force that secured our peace and guaranteed free and fair elections. ...Honorable ladies and gentlemen of this Congress, I want to thank you. ...

You have generously welcomed tens of thousands of our people as they fled war and persecution.

I was among them. In 1985, after challenging the military regime's failure to register my political party, I was put in jail with several university students who also challenged the military rule. This House came to our rescue with a resolution threatening to cut off aid to the country unless all political prisoners were released. Months later, I was put in jail again, this time in a cell with 15 men. All of them were executed a few hours later. Only the intervention of a single soldier spared me from rape. Through the grace of Almighty God and the mercy of others, I escaped and found refuge here, in Washington, D.C. ...

My family exemplifies the economic and social divide that has torn our nation. Unlike many privileged Liberians, I can claim no American lineage. Three of my grandparents were indigenous Liberians; the fourth was a German who married a rural market woman. That Grandfather was forced to leave the country when Liberia - in loyalty to the United States - declared war on Germany in 1914.

Both of my grandmothers were farmers and village traders. They could not read or write any language - as more than three-quarters of our people still cannot today - but they worked hard, they loved their country, they loved their families and they believed in education. They inspired me then, and their memory motivates me now to serve my people, to sacrifice for the world and honestly serve humanity. I could not, I will not - I cannot - betray their trust.

My parents were sent at a young age to Monrovia, where it was common for elite families to take in children from the countryside to perform domestic chores. They endured humiliations and indignities, but my mother was fortunate to be adopted by a kind woman, and both my parents were able through this system to go to school - a rarity at that time for poor people. My father even became the first native Liberian in the Liberian National Legislature.

I was not born with the expectation of a University education from Harvard or being a World Bank officer or an Assistant Secretary-General of the United Nations. When I was a small girl in the countryside, swimming and fishing with twine made from palm trees, no one would have picked me out as the future president of our country.

I graduated from the College of West Africa, a United Methodist high school. I waited tables to support my studies in the United States - college in Wisconsin and graduate school in Massachusetts. I went on to enjoy the benefits and advantages of a world-class education.

So my feet are in two worlds - the world of poor rural women with no respite from hardship, and the world of accomplished Liberian professionals, for whom the United States is a second and beloved home. I draw strength from both.

But most of our people have not been as fortunate as I was. Always poor and underdeveloped, Liberia is only now emerging from two decades of turmoil that destroyed everything we managed to build in a century and a half of independence.

The cost of our conflict run wide and deep, manifested in varied ways - mismanagement, corruption, bad governance, massive looting of public treasury and assets. ...

In the campaign months, I traveled to every corner of our country. I trudged through mud in high boots, where roads did not exist or had deteriorated past repair. I surveyed ruined hospitals and collapsed clinics. I held meetings by candlelight, because there is no electricity anywhere - including the capital - except from private generators. ...

I came face to face with the human devastation of war, which killed a quarter of a million of our three million people and displaced most of the rest. Hundreds of thousands escaped across borders. More - who could not - fled into the bush, constantly running from one militia or another, often surviving by eating rodents and wild plants that made them sick and even killed them.

Our precious children died of malaria, parasites and mal-nourishments. Our boys, full of potential, were forced to be child soldiers, to kill or be killed. Our girls, capable of being anything they could imagine, were made into sex slaves, gang-raped by men with guns, made mothers while they were still children themselves.

But listening to the hopes and dreams of our people, I recall the words of a Mozambican poet who said, "Our dream has the size of freedom." My people, like your people, believe deeply in freedom - and, in their dreams, they reach for the heavens.

I represent those dreams. I represent their hope and their aspirations. I ran for president because I am determined to see good governance in Liberia in my lifetime. But I also ran because I am the mother of four, and I wanted to see our children smile again.

Already, I am seeing those smiles. For even after everything they have endured, the people of Liberia have faith in new beginnings. They are counting on me and my administration to create the conditions that will guarantee the realization of their dreams. We must not betray their trust.

All the children I meet - when I ask what they want most - say, "I want to learn." "I want to go to school." "I want an education." We must not betray their trust.

Young adults, who have been called our 'lost generation,' do not consider themselves lost. They, too, aspire to learn and to serve their families and their communities. We must not betray their trust.

Women, my strong constituency, tell me that they want the same chances that men have. They want to be literate. They want their work recognized. They want protection against rape. They want clean water that won't sicken and kill their children. We must not betray their trust.

Former soldiers tell me they are tired of war; they do not want to have to fight or to run again. They want training. They want jobs. If they carry guns, they want to do so in defense of peace and security, not war and pillage. We must not betray their trust.

Entrepreneurs who have returned from abroad with all their resources - risking everything to invest in their country's future - tell me they want a fair and transparent regulatory environment. They want honesty and accountability from their government. We must not betray their trust.

Farming families who fled the fighting for shelter in neighboring countries or found themselves displaced from their communities want a fresh start. They want to return home. They want seeds. They want farm implements. They want roads to get their goods to market. We must not betray their trust. ...

We are not oblivious to the enormity of the challenges we face. Few countries have been as decimated as ours. In the chaos of war, our HIV rates have quadrupled. Our children are still dying of curable diseases, tuberculosis, dysentery, measles, malaria and parasites and malnutrition. Schools lack books, equipment, teachers and buildings. The telecommunications age has passed us by.

We have a 3.5 billion dollar external debt, lent in large measure to some of my predecessors who were known to be irresponsible, unaccountable, unrepresentative and corrupt. The reality that we have lost our international creditworthiness bars us from further loans - although now we would use them wisely.

Our abundant natural resources have been diverted by criminal conspiracies for private gain. International sanctions, imposed for the best of reasons, still prevent us from exporting our raw materials. Roads and bridges have disappeared or been bombed or washed away. We know that trouble could once again breed outside our borders. The physical and spiritual scars of war are deep indeed.

So with everything to be done, what must we do first?

We must do everything we can to consolidate the peace that so much was paid to secure, and we must work to heal the wounds of war. We must create an emergency public works program to put the whole nation to work and give families an income through the rebuilding of critical infrastructure, strengthening security and attracting investment. ...

We must bring home more of our refugees, and resettle the displaced. We must give them the tools to start anew, and encourage more of our skilled expatriates, who have the knowledge and the experience to build our economy to return home. For those unable to come home now, we must appeal to you to grant them continuing protective status, and residency where appropriate, to put them in a condition to contribute to their country's reform and development.

We must complete the demobilization of former combatants and restructure our army, police and security services. We must create legal systems that preserve the rule of law, applied to all without fear or favor.

We must revive educational facilities, including our few universities. We must provide essential agricultural extension services to help us feed ourselves again, developing the science and technology skills to insure that we prosper in a modern global economy.

We must create an efficient and transparent tax system, to ensure the flow of government revenues and create a hospitable investment climate. ...

But while we seek national unity and reconciliation, we must not sacrifice justice. I respect the life-saving role that our West African neighbors, particularly Nigeria, played at no small cost to them in accepting to host Mr. Charles Taylor. Liberians are deeply grateful. But I say here, as I have said before, Liberia has little option but to see that justice is done in accordance with the requirements of the United Nations and the broad international community. ...

The people of Liberia know that government cannot save the country - only their own strength, their determination, their creativity, resilience and their faith can do that. But they have the right to expect the essentials that only a government can provide.

They have the right to a government that is honest and that respects the sanctity of human life. They need and they deserve an economic environment in which their efforts can succeed. They need infrastructure and they need security. Above all, they need peace.

That is the task of my administration. To meet that challenge, to do what is right, I ask for the continuing support of this Congress and the American people. ...

Again, we ask that we continue working together but we do not ask for patronage. We do not want to continue in dependency. The benefits of your assistance must be mutual.

Honorable members of Congress, much is at stake for all of us.

Liberia at war brought misery and crimes against humanity to its neighbors - a toll that is beyond calculation. A peaceful, prosperous Liberia can contribute to democracy, stability and development in West Africa and beyond.

Nine times - nine times! - in the past 15 years, the United States has been forced to evacuate official Americans and their dependents from our country, at enormous cost to your taxpayers. Monrovia, I am told, is the most-evacuated U.S. embassy in the world. I am determined that you will not need to rescue your people from our shores for a tenth time. You contribute hundreds of millions of dollars to a UN Peacekeeping Force in Liberia. A fraction of this will be required to support a peaceful and stable Liberia.

Honorable Members of this great Congress, think with me about this. What is the return on an investment that trains young combatants for life, rather than death? What is the yield when our young men can exchange their guns for jobs? What is the savings in food aid when our people can feed themselves again? What is the profit from educating our girls to be scientists and doctors? What is the dividend when our dependence ends, and we become true partners rather than supplicants?

Honorable Members, we know that there is no quick fix for the reconstruction of our country, but Liberians, young and old, share their government's commitments to work, to be honest, to unite, to reconcile and to rebuild. A nation so well endowed, so blessed by God with natural resources, should not be poor. We have rubber and timber and diamonds and gold and iron ore. Our fields are fertile. Our water supply is plentiful. Our sunshine is warm and welcoming.

...

The people of Liberia have already rolled up their sleeves, despite overwhelming obstacles, confident that their work will be rewarded, confident in the hope and promise of the future.

The women of Liberia and the women of Africa, some in the market place and some in high level of Government have already shared their trust and their confidence in my ability to succeed, and ensure that the doors of competitive politics and professionalism will be opened even wider for them.

Honorable members, I will succeed. I will not betray their trust. I will make them proud - I will make you proud - of the difference which one woman with abiding faith in God can do.

God bless you.

begin:vcard
fn:Joseph Jordan
n:Jordan;Joseph
org:Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;Sonja Haynes Stone Ctr. for Black Culture and History
adr:;;150 South Rd., CB#5250;Chapel Hill;NC;27599-5250;USA
email;internet:jfjordan@email.unc.edu
title:Director, Assoc Prof.
tel;work:919-962-9001
tel;fax:919-9623725
url:http://ibiblio.org/shscbch/
version:2.1
end:vcard

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, March 21, 2006 12:12 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re THOUGHTS ON A GRADUATE DEGREE IN AFRICAN AND AFRO-AMERICAN STUDIES

Dear Colleagues,
On March 27th the committee that has been asked to deliberate about a graduate degree in our department will meet for the first time. I am writing to you as someone who specializes in the study of Africa to request any particular thoughts you might have about how the study of Africa should situate itself in this degree program. It would be nice to meet about this in person, but given everyone's schedule this doesn't seem feasible before the 27th. So after talking with our chairman, I'm sending this out. Any replies will be compiled and/or shared. What I've been thinking about are the following:

what level? M. A. or Ph. D.

what new courses?

what courses currently taught would you like to see included and/or adapted for graduate instruction?

what courses from other departments would you like to see included among options?

Any other thoughts about particular directions--new or otherwise we should take of a curricular nature?

If you can get them to me by the end of the week, I could summarize them before Monday's meeting.
Many thanks!
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

Mary Smith Named Human Rights Award Recipient

Mary Smith and Elizabeth Brooks celebrate victory in 1969

Dear Friend, March 16, 2006

Last year the Campaign for Historical Accuracy and Truth (CHAT) presented our first annual Mary Smith-Elizabeth Brooks Human Rights Award to Elizabeth Brooks, one of the leaders of the 1969 UNC foodworkers' struggle.

This year CHAT has named Mary Smith the second award recipient. The foodworkers' victory began in the spring of 1969 with a raise for 5000 low-wage state workers and the restoration of overtime pay that the university had cheated from the cafeteria workers. But Mrs. Smith's courageous leadership of the 1969 strikes had tremendous ripple effects throughout the Carolina community. The strike was a victory for racial justice and a much needed reminder to the university that its employees' dignity and work should not be taken for granted.

Please join us in celebrating the life and work of Mary Smith, who still works at Lenoir Dining Hall, on March 31 at 6pm in room 2518 of the UNC Student Union. There will be refreshments and a brief program featuring Rev. Nelson Johnson, pastor of Faith Community Church in Greensboro and executive director of the Beloved Community Center. Rev. Johnson has been a leader of social and economic justice struggles for over forty years. As a student leader at North Carolina A&T in 1969, Nelson Johnson mobilized statewide support among black students for the UNC cafeteria workers. A discussion led by Joyce Johnson, a UNC graduate student in 1969 and strike activist, will follow the program.

CHAT will also provide an update on the status of its petition drive requesting that the university honor the historic 1969 strike through an appropriate public commemorative marker.

Like last year, the award will include a substantial financial gift. We hope that you will feel moved to contribute. Checks should be made out to Dr. Roberta Ann Dunbar. Please mail or deliver your contribution to Dr. Roberta Ann Dunbar, Department of African and Afro-American Studies, CB#3395 106 Battle Hall, UNC-Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395. Your gift is not tax deductible.

On behalf of the Program Committee, thank you and we hope to see you on Friday, March 31.

Donelle Boose	Kerry Taylor	Yonni Chapman	Mike Hachey
Steve Wing	Sandi Chapman	Roberta Ann Dunbar	Bob Konrad
Barbara Prear	Dave Brannigan	Nate Davis	Sherryl Kleinman
Altha Cravey	Karen Booth

Mary Smith Named Human Rights Award Recipient

Mary Smith and Elizabeth Brooks celebrate victory in 1969

Dear Friend, March 16, 2006

Last year the Campaign for Historical Accuracy and Truth (CHAT) presented our first annual Mary Smith-Elizabeth Brooks Human Rights Award to Elizabeth Brooks, one of the leaders of the 1969 UNC foodworkers' struggle.

This year CHAT has named Mary Smith the second award recipient. The foodworkers' victory began in the spring of 1969 with a raise for 5000 low-wage state workers and the restoration of overtime pay that the university had cheated from the cafeteria workers. But Mrs. Smith's courageous leadership of the 1969 strikes had tremendous ripple effects throughout the Carolina community. The strike was a victory for racial justice and a much needed reminder to the university that its employees' dignity and work should not be taken for granted.

Please join us in celebrating the life and work of Mary Smith, who still works at Lenoir Dining Hall, on March 31 at 6pm in room 2518 of the UNC Student Union. There will be refreshments and a brief program featuring Rev. Nelson Johnson, pastor of Faith Community Church in Greensboro and executive director of the Beloved Community Center. Rev. Johnson has been a leader of social and economic justice struggles for over forty years. As a student leader at North Carolina A&T in 1969, Nelson Johnson mobilized statewide support among black students for the UNC cafeteria workers. A discussion led by Joyce Johnson, a UNC graduate student in 1969 and strike activist, will follow the program.

CHAT will also provide an update on the status of its petition drive requesting that the university honor the historic 1969 strike through an appropriate public commemorative marker.

Like last year, the award will include a substantial financial gift. We hope that you will feel moved to contribute. Checks should be made out to Dr. Roberta Ann Dunbar. Please mail or deliver your contribution to Dr. Roberta Ann Dunbar, Department of African and Afro-American Studies, CB#3395 106 Battle Hall, UNC-Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395. Your gift is not tax deductible.

On behalf of the Program Committee, thank you and we hope to see you on Friday, March 31.

Donelle Boose	Kerry Taylor	Yonni Chapman	Mike Hachey
Steve Wing	Sandi Chapman	Roberta Ann Dunbar	Bob Konrad
Barbara Prear	Dave Brannigan	Nate Davis	Sherryl Kleinman
Altha Cravey	Karen Booth

Mission Statement for Peace and Solidarity Vigil

We are a group of students at UNC who have been talking with each other and with a number of others about how frustrated we are with what we have perceived for years to be the hate- and fear-saturated post-9/11 political and social climate in the United States. We are tired of watching people marginalized and society divided by the dominant, polarizing messages that have become an intimidating presence in politics and the media. We are deeply concerned and aggravated by the wrongful blanket associations of certain members of society with "terrorism" because of appearance, creed, or cultural background.

We recognize that the media attention that is being given to the recent pit incident has largely centered on the "terrorism" rhetoric that has become so familiar in recent years. We believe that we, as a campus community, have an opportunity to comment on this important issue while the eyes of the media are turned in our direction. Being in conversation about these issues with friends, students, and others in the community has led us to sense that there is a silent majority of individuals on campus and in the greater Triangle area who share our frustration and would appreciate an opportunity to send out to the nation a message that has not been so publicly voiced.

Therefore, we are organizing a candlelight peace vigil in response to the pit incident and to the larger, deeper issues surrounding it. The main message of the vigil will be one of peace and solidarity with the Muslim community and with ALL communities marginalized by hate and prejudice, particularly within the political and social climate of post-9/11 America. We hope that the vigil will serve as an opportunity for us to come together as a community and speak collectively to our understanding that terrorism is not associated only with a particular religion or nationality, and that no one else is implicated by one man's actions.

However, we recognize the inherent danger of over-politicizing or de-politicizing the event, and strive to strike a balance that is both fully inclusive and fully relevant. We fully support the application of the rule of law, including normal judicial procedure for any violations that this individual may have committed. For the rest of our on- and off-campus community and for the rich, diverse body of individuals within it, we want to engage in something that will bring us all together as well as present an alternative voice to the nation—a voice that will speak to solidarity instead of polarization, and to peace instead of prejudice.

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, March 27, 2006 9:39 AM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; robert porter >> Robert S Porter <rporter@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Slavery Images
Attach: hitchcock.itc.virginia.edu_Slavery_

Not sure if you have seen or used this. It is an upgrade from the previous site and collection -- includes useful historical images.

http://hitchcock.itc.virginia.edu/Slavery/

The Atlantic Slave Trade and Slave Life in the Americas: A Visual Record A Visual Record

Jerome S. Handler and Michael L. Tuite Jr.

The thousand images in this collection have been selected from a wide range of sources, most of them dating from the period of slavery. This collection is envisioned as a tool and a resource that can be used by teachers, researchers, students, and the general public - in brief, anyone interested in the experiences of Africans who were enslaved and transported to the Americas and the lives of their descendants in the slave societies of the New World.

It must be emphasized that little effort is made to interpret the images and establish the historical authenticity or accuracy of what they display. To accomplish this would constitute a major and different research effort. Individual users of this collection must decide such issues for themselves. However, we have made every effort to ensure bibliographic accuracy and the correct identification of both primary and secondary sources from which the images have been obtained, as well as correct identification of the area, country, or region to which the image refers. The dates we assign may refer to the date an image was published, at other times to when an author visited an area; in other cases, we could only assign a general time period. Despite our efforts at bibliographical and chronological accuracy, errors remain, and we welcome any comments, suggestions, or corrections.

Gate of No Return
Cape Coast Castle, Ghana

Conditions of Use and Bibliographic Sources

Explore the Collection

Acknowledgements

The Authors

A project of

The Virginia Foundation for the Humanities

and

The Digital Media Lab at the University of Virginia Library

The Atlantic Slave Trade and Slave Life in the Americas: A Visual Record

Jerome S. Handler and Michael L. Tuite Jr.

The thousand images in this collection have been selected from a wide range of sources, most of them dating from the period of slavery. This collection is envisioned as a tool and a resource that can be used by teachers, researchers, students, and the general public - in brief, anyone interested in the experiences of Africans who were enslaved and transported to the Americas and the lives of their descendants in the slave societies of the New World.

It must be emphasized that little effort is made to interpret the images and establish the historical authenticity or accuracy of what they display. To accomplish this would constitute a major and different research effort. Individual users of this collection must decide such issues for themselves. However, we have made every effort to ensure bibliographic accuracy and the correct identification of both primary and secondary sources from which the images have been obtained, as well as correct identification of the area, country, or region to which the image refers. The dates we assign may refer to the date an image was published, at other times to when an author visited an area; in other cases, we could only assign a general time period. Despite our efforts at bibliographical and chronological accuracy, errors remain, and we welcome any comments, suggestions, or corrections.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, March 29, 2006 10:42 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; William Darity, Jr. <darity@email.unc.edu>; Lisa Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; Myron Cohen <mscohen@med.unc.edu>; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; behetsf@email.unc.edu; Karen Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; ksbroun@email.unc.edu; robert_daniels@unc.edu; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Terry Evens <tmevens@email.unc.edu>; Dominique Fisher <domfisc@email.unc.edu>; mharris1@email.unc.edu; dsmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; jsssmith@email.unc.edu; vanrie@email.unc.edu; Robert L. Adams, Jr <radamsjr@email.unc.edu>; john_akin@email.unc.edu; assani@email.unc.edu; Peggy Bentley <pbentley@unc.edu>; Stephen Birdsall <birdsall@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Pat Dominguez <pat_dominguez@unc.edu>; Gail Henderson <ghenders@med.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>; meshnick@email.unc.edu; jpickles@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; ptr@email.unc.edu; Luke Swindler <swindler@email.unc.edu>; dale_whittington@email.unc.edu; barbarin@email.unc.edu; trude_bennett@email.unc.edu; ssbloom@email.unc.edu; patrick_conway@email.unc.edu; cors@email.unc.edu; Across@email.unc.edu; pdavidson@email.unc.edu; eugenia_eng@email.unc.edu; shanda@email.unc.edu; dhornste@email.unc.edu; jay_kaufman@email.unc.edu; Charles van der Horst <cvdh@med.unc.edu>; Strauss, Ron <Ron_Strauss@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU>; judith_wegner@email.unc.edu; David Steffen <dsteffen@email.unc.edu>; jfstewar@email.unc.edut; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; madrys@email.unc.edu; bill_miller@email.unc.edu; rich_rosen@email.unc.edu; gpostema@email.unc.edu; mcantle@email.unc.edu; samer@email.unc.edu; yaqub@email.unc.edu; setel@email.unc.edu; stuart_rennie@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; suchindran@unc.edu; jim_thomas@email.unc.edu; jesse_kwiek@med.unc.edu; adefila@email.unc.edu

Subject: AFRICA NITE this Saturday

Attach: Africa Night 2006 Flyer.jpg

Dear Colleagues:
OASIS, the Organization for African Students Interests and Solidarity, is presenting its annual Africa Nite this Saturday evening. Please encourage students, faculty, and the community to attend this lively, entertaining, and significant event.

www.unc.edu/oasis

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director for the African Studies Center
Lecturer in African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

O.A.S.I.S. presents:
Africa Nite 2006
"The Brain Drain"

DATE: 04/01/2006

Pre-Show Dinner:
Hanes Art Center
@ 5:30p
Show: Memorial Hall
@ 7:30p

Come one, Come all to a celebration of the best of African Culture. This year's show centers around one the biggest issues plaguing the continent "The brain drain". Come prepared to laugh, cry, and feel a call to action. Enjoy a great night of food, dancing, acting, and fashion. Portions of the proceeds will be donated to the O.A.S.I.S. Acts initiative, which will sponsor skills training for citizens of Africa's slums.

Featured Celebrity Guest: R&B Singer, Slim of 112

For Tickets and more information visit:
www.unc.edu/oasis

Co-sponsored by: Campus Y, Office of the Vice Chancellor, Stone Center, African Studies Center, and University Center for International Studies

SHOWING AT:
AFRICA NITE 2006 "THE BRAIN DRAIN"
April 1, 2006
Memorial Hall, Chapel Hill, NC
http://www.unc.edu/oasis/africa.htm presented by

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, April 3, 2006 9:06 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; William Darity, Jr. <darity@email.unc.edu>; Lisa Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; Myron Cohen <mscohen@med.unc.edu>; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; behetsf@email.unc.edu; Karen Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; ksbroun@email.unc.edu; robert_daniels@unc.edu; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Terry Evens <tmevens@email.unc.edu>; Dominique Fisher <domfisc@email.unc.edu>; mharris1@email.unc.edu; Soyini Madison <dmadison@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; jsssmith@email.unc.edu; vanrie@email.unc.edu; Robert L. Adams, Jr <radamsjr@email.unc.edu>; John Akin <john_akin@unc.edu>; assani@email.unc.edu; Peggy Bentley <pbentley@unc.edu>; Stephen Birdsall <birdsall@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Pat Dominguez <pat_dominguez@unc.edu>; Gail Henderson <ghenders@med.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>; meshnick@email.unc.edu; jpickles@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; ptr@email.unc.edu; Luke Swindler <swindler@email.unc.edu>; barbarin@email.unc.edu; Trude Bennett <trude_bennett@unc.edu>; ssbloom@email.unc.edu; patrick_conway@unc.edu; cors@email.unc.edu; Across@email.unc.edu; pdavidson@email.unc.edu; eugenia_eng@email.unc.edu; shanda@email.unc.edu; dhornste@email.unc.edu; jay_kaufman@email.unc.edu; Charles van der Horst <cvdh@med.unc.edu>; Strauss, Ron <Ron_Strauss@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU>; judith_wegner@unc.edu; David Steffen <dsteffen@email.unc.edu>; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; madrys@email.unc.edu; jesse_kwiek@med.unc.edu; rich_rosen@unc.edu; gpostema@email.unc.edu; mcantle@email.unc.edu; samer@email.unc.edu; yaqub@email.unc.edu; setel@email.unc.edu; stuart_rennie@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; suchindran@unc.edu; jim_thomas@unc.edu; risa_ellovich@ncsu.edu; kenneth_vickery@ncsu.edu; owen_Kalinga@ncsu.edu

Cc: brian.goldstone@duke.edu

Subject: African Studies workshop at Duke April 6 and 14

Attach: ASW Poster (email).pdf

Dear Colleagues:
Anne-Maria Makhulu, new to the faculty at Duke, is initiating a new project there. Please circulate this to other interested faculty and graduate students. Regards, Barbara

African Studies Workshop, Duke University

Duke Universitys African Studies Workshop will be holding two inaugural talks in April, the first, Thursday, April 6, the second Friday, April 14. Please join us for what promises to be a new and exciting venture on Dukes campus.

April 6, 2006
7:30PM - 9:00PM
John Hope Franklin Center, Rm. 240

To a Good Listener, Half a Word Will Do: Making Sense of Tracts, Rumours and Hate Speech in the DR Congo.

A Lecture by Stephen Jackson,
Associate Director, Conflict Prevention and Peace Forum; Citizenship and Belonging, Social Sciences Research Council

April 14, 2006
12:30PM - 2:00PM
John Hope Franklin Center, Rm. 130

The Difficult Dead: Haunting, History and Heritage in Zululand
A Lecture by Hylton White, Assistant Professor of Anthropology, New School University

The African Studies Workshop seeks to provide a space for conversation about Africa at Duke University and within the larger Triangle-wide community bringing together scholars from a variety of fields in an inter-disciplinary forum. While primarily focused on the experiences of African societies emerging from histories of colonialism and uneven participation in the global economy, the workshop is equally invested in the many ways in which Africa offers a new and critical reading of our world order--the crisis of liberalism, the rise of new religious constellations, neocolonialism and novel arrangements of capital.

The African Studies Workshop currently enjoys the generous support of African and African American Studies, the Office of the Vice Provost for International Affairs, and the Duke University Center for International Studies.

For further information please contact Brian Goldstone, workshop coordinator, at brian.goldstone@duke.edu.

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director for the African Studies Center
Lecturer in African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

INAUGURAL SERIES
AFRICAN STUDIES WORKSHOP

April 6, 2006
7:30-9:00pm, John Hope Franklin Center, Room 240

Stephen Jackson
Conflict Prevention and Peace Forum, Social Sciences Research Council

To a Good Listener, Half a Word Will Do: Making Sense of Tracts, Rumours and Hate Speech in the DR Congo

April 14, 2006
12:30-2:00pm, John Hope Franklin Center, Room 130

Hylton White
Department of Anthropology, New School University

The Difficult Dead: Haunting, History and Heritage in Zululand

Satellite photograph of the Namib Sand Sea, near Luderitz, Namibia. Courtesy of NASA. www.visibleearth.nasa.gov.

The African Studies Workshop at Duke University is sponsored by the Department of African and African American Studies, the Office of the Vice Provost for International Affairs and the Duke University Center for International Studies. This initiative was created to raise awareness of Africanist scholarship on campus. For more information please contact Brian Goldstone at brian.goldstone@duke.edu.

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 6, 2006 6:37 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: All Faculty/ Workshop on April 14th

Dear Colleagues:
This is a reminder that our workshop will take place from 9.00 am to 12.00 noon on Friday , April 14th in the Stone Center. The majority of you have indicated that you will attend. I thank you for the "sacrifice." As you all know, this will give us an opportunity to dialogue about the history and future of our academic field. The workshop will consist of a presentation by our guest speaker, Noliwe Rooks, whose book you all have. You should receive a copy of the workshop format soon.
Sincerely,
Julius

PS We will be able to park in the Stone Center lot since April 14th is a University Holiday.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, April 10, 2006 10:45 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; William Darity, Jr. <darity@email.unc.edu>; Lisa Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; Myron Cohen <mscohen@med.unc.edu>; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; behetsf@email.unc.edu; Karen Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; ksbroun@email.unc.edu; robert_daniels@unc.edu; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Terry Evens <tmevens@email.unc.edu>; Dominique Fisher <domfisc@email.unc.edu>; mharris1@email.unc.edu; Soyini Madison <dmadison@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; jsssmith@email.unc.edu; vanrie@email.unc.edu; Robert L. Adams, Jr <radamsjr@email.unc.edu>; John Akin <john_akin@unc.edu>; assani@email.unc.edu; Peggy Bentley <pbentley@unc.edu>; Stephen Birdsall <birdsall@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Pat Dominguez <pat_dominguez@unc.edu>; Gail Henderson <ghenders@med.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>; meshnick@email.unc.edu; jpickles@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; ptr@email.unc.edu; Luke Swindler <swindler@email.unc.edu>; barbarin@email.unc.edu; Trude Bennett <trude_bennett@unc.edu>; ssbloom@email.unc.edu; patrick_conway@unc.edu; cors@email.unc.edu; Across@email.unc.edu; suchindran@unc.edu; eugenia_eng@unc.edu; shanda@email.unc.edu; dhornste@email.unc.edu; jay_kaufman@unc.edu; Charles van der Horst <cvdh@med.unc.edu>; Strauss, Ron <Ron_Strauss@dentistry.unc.edu>; judith_wegner@unc.edu; David Steffen <dsteffen@email.unc.edu>; jim_thomas@unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; madrys@email.unc.edu; jesse_kwiek@med.unc.edu; rich_rosen@unc.edu; gpostema@email.unc.edu; mcantle@email.unc.edu; samer@email.unc.edu; yaqub@email.unc.edu; setel@email.unc.edu; stuart_rennie@dentistry.unc.edu; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; risa_ellovich@ncsu.edu; kenneth_vickery@ncsu.edu; owen_Kalinga@ncsu.edu

Subject: human rights lecture april 13

The African Studies Center announces a Public Lecture:

"The Insecurity of Human Rights: Challenges to Fundamental Rights and Justice in the 'War on Terror'"
Alex Neve, Secretary General Amnesty International Canada

Location and time:
Hitchcock Multipurpose Room,
The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
4:00PM, April 13, 2006

For more information, please contact Eunice Sahle: eunice@email.unc.edu 966-2588

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director for the African Studies Center
Lecturer in African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895

African Studies Center

West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, April 11, 2006 2:58 PM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; William Darity, Jr. <darity@email.unc.edu>; Lisa Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; Myron Cohen <mscohen@med.unc.edu>; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; behetsf@email.unc.edu; Karen Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; ksbroun@email.unc.edu; robert_daniels@unc.edu; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Terry Evens <tmevens@email.unc.edu>; Dominique Fisher <domfisc@email.unc.edu>; mharris1@email.unc.edu; Soyini Madison <dmadison@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; jsssmith@email.unc.edu; vanrie@email.unc.edu; Robert L. Adams, Jr <radamsjr@email.unc.edu>; John Akin <john_akin@unc.edu>; assani@email.unc.edu; Peggy Bentley <pbentley@unc.edu>; Stephen Birdsall <birdsall@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Pat Dominguez <pat_dominguez@unc.edu>; Gail Henderson <ghenders@med.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>; meshnick@email.unc.edu; jpickles@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; ptr@email.unc.edu; Luke Swindler <swindler@email.unc.edu>; barbarin@email.unc.edu; Trude Bennett <trude_bennett@unc.edu>; ssbloom@email.unc.edu; patrick_conway@unc.edu; cors@email.unc.edu; Across@email.unc.edu; suchindran@unc.edu; eugenia_eng@unc.edu; shanda@email.unc.edu; dhornste@email.unc.edu; jay_kaufman@unc.edu; Charles van der Horst <cvdh@med.unc.edu>; Strauss, Ron <Ron_Strauss@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU>; judith_wegner@unc.edu; David Steffen <dsteffen@email.unc.edu>; jim_thomas@unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; madrys@email.unc.edu; jesse_kwiek@med.unc.edu; rich_rosen@unc.edu; gpostema@email.unc.edu; mcantle@email.unc.edu; samer@email.unc.edu; yaqub@email.unc.edu; setel@email.unc.edu; stuart_rennie@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; risa_ellovich@ncsu.edu; kenneth_vickery@ncsu.edu; owen_Kalinga@ncsu.edu; Trevaughn B. Eubanks <tbrown3@email.unc.edu>; Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>; Lucy Lewis <lwlewis@email.unc.edu>; Virginia Carson <vcarson@email.unc.edu>

Subject: REMINDER African Photo Exhibit Reception Wednesday 6-8pm

Attach: photo exhibit poster, final.pub

The African Studies Center invites you to:

A RECEPTION for the exhibit, "How do we represent 'Africa'?"

The Stone Center
6-8pm
Refreshments
Remarks by Dr. Bereket Habte Selassie and Patricia Longoria

This photo exhibit originated in the desire of some African Studies students to present images of Africa that were more dignified and positive than common images. They invited UNC students and faculty to submit their own photographs that depicted the vibrancy and complexity of Africa, and to describe in a few words the meaning the photograph had for them.

In the process of putting the exhibit together, African Studies students and faculty began to experience and discuss the complexity of the project itself. What photographs would we accept or reject? What is the right way to represent Africa? Who gets to decide? What does photographic representation of Africa mean?

We invite viewers to engage in their own reflection on this exhibitnot to criticize or applaud specific photos (we believe these are each important and marvelous representations of Africa!), but to create their own spaces of interrogation, contestation and representation that emerge as they view the exhibit.

Co-sponsored by the African Studies Center, UCIS, the Campus Y, and the Diversity Incentive Fund

Contact: banders1@email.unc.edu 843-1895

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director for the African Studies Center
Lecturer in African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Exhibit and Reception
Photographs by Students and Faculty April 12-21, 2006

How do we represent "Africa"?

Students, Faculty, and Community are invited to discuss issues of interrogation, contestation, and representation that emerge when we photograph Africa.

Exhibit and Reception

April 12, 6-8pm
The Stone Center
Discussion, refreshments

Remarks by Dr. Bereket Habte Selassie, William E. Leuchtenburg Distinguished Professor of African Studies and Law and Patricia Longoria, African Studies Major

Co-Sponsored by
African Studies Center phone: (919) 843-1895 email: asc@unc.edu
UCIS | Diversity Incentive Fund | Campus Y

From: Claire Kane <ckane@DPS.PSAFETY.UNC.EDU>
Sent: Wednesday, April 12, 2006 4:00 PM
To:
Subject: Chapel Hill Transit's Service for Friday, April 14th

---

Parking Coordinators, please distribute the following information:

The University offices are closed on Friday, April 14th. We have received inquiries as to Chapel Hill Transit's operating schedule on that day.

For the benefit of those who must report to work when offices are closed: Chapel Hill Transit will operate according to the reduced service schedule on Friday April 14th.

When reduced service is in effect, some bus routes end earlier in the evening. Individual time tables have gray shading indicating when service stops during the reduced service schedule. Check your route's schedule for ending times during reduced service.

Pg. 4 of the Chapel Hill Transit Guide gives the reduced service calendar for the 05-06 academic year. You can also click here for this information.

Thank you,

Department of Public Safety

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, April 13, 2006 2:37 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Alex Neve

Sahle asked that we remind everyone via email tha Alex Neve will speak this afternoon in the Stone Center. Time? I think 3.00
--

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Friday, April 14, 2006 9:12 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bereket selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; William Darity, Jr. <darity@email.unc.edu>; Lisa Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; Myron Cohen <mscohen@med.unc.edu>; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; behetsf@email.unc.edu; Karen Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; ksbroun@email.unc.edu; robert_daniels@unc.edu; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Terry Evens <tmevens@email.unc.edu>; Dominique Fisher <domfisc@email.unc.edu>; mharris1@email.unc.edu; Soyini Madison <dmadison@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; jsssmith@email.unc.edu; vanrie@email.unc.edu; Robert L. Adams, Jr <radamsjr@email.unc.edu>; John Akin <john_akin@unc.edu>; assani@email.unc.edu; Peggy Bentley <pbentley@unc.edu>; Stephen Birdsall <birdsall@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Pat Dominguez <pat_dominguez@unc.edu>; Gail Henderson <ghenders@med.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>; meshnick@email.unc.edu; jpickles@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; ptr@email.unc.edu; Luke Swindler <swindler@email.unc.edu>; barbarin@email.unc.edu; Trude Bennett <trude_bennett@unc.edu>; ssbloom@email.unc.edu; patrick_conway@unc.edu; cors@email.unc.edu; Across@email.unc.edu; suchindran@unc.edu; eugenia_eng@unc.edu; shanda@email.unc.edu; dhornste@email.unc.edu; jay_kaufman@unc.edu; Charles van der Horst <cvdh@med.unc.edu>; Strauss, Ron <Ron_Strauss@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU>; judith_wegner@unc.edu; David Steffen <dsteffen@email.unc.edu>; jim_thomas@unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; madrys@email.unc.edu; jesse_kwiek@med.unc.edu; rich_rosen@unc.edu; gpostema@email.unc.edu; mcantle@email.unc.edu; samer@email.unc.edu; yaqub@email.unc.edu; setel@email.unc.edu; stuart_rennie@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; risa_ellovich@ncsu.edu; kenneth_vickery@ncsu.edu; owen_Kalinga@ncsu.edu

Subject: Duke African Studies Workshop Cancelled for April 14

Dear All,

This event has been CANCELED owing to flight delays. Our guest speaker will not be getting in on time.

My apologies to all,

Anne-Maria Makhulu

Anne-Maria B. Makhulu

Assistant Prof. of African and African American Studies

Duke University

John Hope Franklin Center

Box 90252

Durham, NC 27708

919.668.1913 (o)

919.684.2832 (f)

****
April 14, 2006
12:30PM - 2:00PM
John Hope Franklin Center, Rm. 130

"The Difficult Dead: Haunting, History and Heritage in Zululand"
A Lecture by Hylton White
Assistant Professor of Anthropology
New School University

The African Studies Workshop seeks to provide a space for conversation about Africa at Duke University bringing together scholars from a variety of fields in an inter-disciplinary forum. While primarily focused on the experiences of African societies emerging from histories of colonialism and uneven participation in the global economy, the workshop is also invested in the many ways in which Africa offers a new and critical reading of our world order--the crisis of liberalism, the rise of new religious constellations, neocolonialism and novel arrangements of capital.

The African Studies Workshop currently enjoys the generous support of African and African American Studies, the Office of the Vice Provost for International Affairs, and the Duke University Center for International Studies.

For further information please contact Brian Goldstone, workshop coordinator, at brian.goldstone@duke.edu.
--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director for the African Studies Center
Lecturer in African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 23, 2006 9:36 AM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re Meeting of African Studies faculty

Dear Colleagues,
Perry Hall who is chairing up the committee to discuss graduate programs has asked us to meet to discuss objectives for African Studies. Could you participate in a meeting on Friday the 28th? If so, shich is better--9 or 1?
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
CB# 3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
U. S. A.
Phone: 919.966.2942
FAX: 919.962.2694

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, April 23, 2006 9:46 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Re Meeting of African Studies faculty

Dear Ann,

Greetings. Both times work for me. Regards, Eunice.

Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:
> Dear Colleagues,
> Perry Hall who is chairing up the committee to discuss graduate programs > has asked us to meet to discuss objectives for African Studies. Could > you participate in a meeting on Friday the 28th? If so, shich is > better--9 or 1?
> Ann
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D
Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 11:01 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Re Meeting of African Studies faculty

9.00 is tight for me as I have to drop off precious cargo in Durham
8.45-8.50. 9.20 onward would work for me. 1 is fine.

Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:

> Dear Colleagues,
> Perry Hall who is chairing up the committee to discuss graduate programs > has asked us to meet to discuss objectives for African Studies. Could > you participate in a meeting on Friday the 28th? If so, shich is > better--9 or 1?
> Ann
>

From: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 11:27 AM
To: 'Julius Nyang'oro' <jen321@email.unc.edu>; 'Roberta Ann Dunbar' <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Cc: 'Eunice Sahle' <eunice@email.unc.edu>; 'Bereket Selassie' <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; smutima@email.unc.edu; 'Barbara Anderson' <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: Re Meeting of African Studies faculty

One pm works best for me.

Michael Lambert, Ph.D
Associate Professor
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
102 Battle Hall, CB # 3395
Chapel Hill, NC 27510

-----Original Message-----
From: Julius Nyang'oro [mailto:jen321@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 11:01 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar
Cc: Eunice Sahle; Michael Lambert; Bereket Selassie; smutima@email.unc.edu;
Barbara Anderson
Subject: Re: Re Meeting of African Studies faculty

9.00 is tight for me as I have to drop off precious cargo in Durham
8.45-8.50. 9.20 onward would work for me. 1 is fine.

Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:

> Dear Colleagues,
> Perry Hall who is chairing up the committee to discuss graduate programs > has asked us to meet to discuss objectives for African Studies. Could > you participate in a meeting on Friday the 28th? If so, shich is > better--9 or 1?
> Ann
>

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 2:48 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re African Studies Faculty Meeting

Dear Colleagues,
Although I have not heard from Professors Selassie and Mutima, the majority of the rest seem to prefer 1:00 on Friday the 28th. I've reserved the conference room from 1-3.

Attached you will find the results of our first discussion in committee (Hall, Caldwell, Sahle, Dunbar). You may also find the following website useful for a quick review of African Language Literature and Studies Graduate Programs in the U. S.
http://www.gradschools.com/programs/african_language_studies.html .

Perry has suggested a purpose of our meeting:

> it might be strategically effective to have each side meet amongst one > another before the end of the term to discuss their ideas about > graduate school in light of 1)the preliminary description of > justifications provided by Kia from our last meeting, and 2) any > additional tie-ins coming out of our workshop experience.

Hope to see you at 1 on Friday.
Best,
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 2:50 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re African Studies Faculty Meeting]
Attach: GradStudies_justifications.doc

Sorry, folks, I forgot to send the attachment. . .Here they are.
Ann

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: Re African Studies Faculty Meeting
Date: Mon, 24 Apr 2006 14:47:36 -0400
From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Organization: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>, Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>, Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>, Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>

Dear Colleagues,
Although I have not heard from Professors Selassie and Mutima, the majority of the rest seem to prefer 1:00 on Friday the 28th. I've reserved the conference room from 1-3.

Attached you will find the results of our first discussion in committee (Hall, Caldwell, Sahle, Dunbar). You may also find the following website useful for a quick review of African Language Literature and Studies Graduate Programs in the U. S.
http://www.gradschools.com/programs/african_language_studies.html .

Perry has suggested a purpose of our meeting:

> it might be strategically effective to have each side meet amongst one > another before the end of the term to discuss their ideas about > graduate school in light of 1)the preliminary description of > justifications provided by Kia from our last meeting, and 2) any > additional tie-ins coming out of our workshop experience.

Hope to see you at 1 on Friday.
Best,
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

Notes from Graduate Studies Committee Meeting on March 27, 2006
Committee Members Present: Ann Dunbar, Perry Hall, Eunice Sahle, Kia Caldwell

Justifications for Development of Graduate Program in African and Afro-American Studies

Certificates in African Studies and African American Studies

Would provide training to students pursuing graduate degrees in other fields. Faculty in the department already mentor and supervise students in this regard. The certificate program would formalize this relationship. The certificate program would also provide invaluable training to graduate students with an interest in Africa, particularly given the lack of emphasis on Africa in most departments. The certificate in African-American Studies would allow students to solidify and coordinate coursework that is already being offered at the graduate level in other departments.

* Note: We may need to bolster the justification for a certificate in AFAM. There definitely seems to be a need, but we just have to make a case for it.

M.A. in African Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to Africa. Would also provide a solid grounding in African Studies for students seeking to pursue a Ph.D. in a traditional discipline. Also crucial given the lack of training in African studies in other departments at the university.

* Note: We could probably make a better case for the need and demand once we have a sense of comparable programs. I think our discussion focused more on M.A. programs in African-American Studies.

Ph.D. in African Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to Africa. Would distinguish UNC-CH from other universities and African and Afro-American Studies Departments. To our knowledge, no other university offers a Ph.D. in African Studies (we still need to verify this). The Ph.D. program would be attractive to students from the U.S., Africa, and Canada.

M.A. in African-American Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to African American/African Diaspora Communities. Would fill a critical need for graduate training in African American Studies, both statewide and along the eastern seaboard, particularly between Philadelphia and Florida. No other M.A. program in African American Studies exists in North Carolina on within * miles of UNC.

Ph.D. in African-American Studies
Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to African American/African Diaspora Communities. Would fill a critical need for graduate training in African American Studies, both statewide and along the eastern seaboard, particularly between Philadelphia and Florida. No other Ph.D. program in African American Studies exists in North Carolina on within * miles of UNC.

 Note: At some point, we probably need to clarify whether African Diaspora Studies would be included under African-American Studies for the purposes of granting certificates/degrees.

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, April 24, 2006 2:53 PM
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re African Studies Faculty Meeting]
Attach: GradStudies_justifications.doc

Colleagues: Apologies if this if the third note you've gotten on this.
Here is the attachment I failed to send on the first.
Best,
Ann

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: Re African Studies Faculty Meeting
Date: Mon, 24 Apr 2006 14:47:36 -0400
From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Organization: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
To: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>, Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>, Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>, Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>, Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>, Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>

Dear Colleagues,
Although I have not heard from Professors Selassie and Mutima, the majority of the rest seem to prefer 1:00 on Friday the 28th. I've reserved the conference room from 1-3.

Attached you will find the results of our first discussion in committee (Hall, Caldwell, Sahle, Dunbar). You may also find the following website useful for a quick review of African Language Literature and Studies Graduate Programs in the U. S.
http://www.gradschools.com/programs/african_language_studies.html .

Perry has suggested a purpose of our meeting:

> it might be strategically effective to have each side meet amongst one > another before the end of the term to discuss their ideas about > graduate school in light of 1)the preliminary description of > justifications provided by Kia from our last meeting, and 2) any > additional tie-ins coming out of our workshop experience.

Hope to see you at 1 on Friday.
Best,
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

Notes from Graduate Studies Committee Meeting on March 27, 2006
Committee Members Present: Ann Dunbar, Perry Hall, Eunice Sahle, Kia Caldwell

Justifications for Development of Graduate Program in African and Afro-American Studies

Certificates in African Studies and African American Studies

Would provide training to students pursuing graduate degrees in other fields. Faculty in the department already mentor and supervise students in this regard. The certificate program would formalize this relationship. The certificate program would also provide invaluable training to graduate students with an interest in Africa, particularly given the lack of emphasis on Africa in most departments. The certificate in African-American Studies would allow students to solidify and coordinate coursework that is already being offered at the graduate level in other departments.

* Note: We may need to bolster the justification for a certificate in AFAM. There definitely seems to be a need, but we just have to make a case for it.

M.A. in African Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to Africa. Would also provide a solid grounding in African Studies for students seeking to pursue a Ph.D. in a traditional discipline. Also crucial given the lack of training in African studies in other departments at the university.

* Note: We could probably make a better case for the need and demand once we have a sense of comparable programs. I think our discussion focused more on M.A. programs in African-American Studies.

Ph.D. in African Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to Africa. Would distinguish UNC-CH from other universities and African and Afro-American Studies Departments. To our knowledge, no other university offers a Ph.D. in African Studies (we still need to verify this). The Ph.D. program would be attractive to students from the U.S., Africa, and Canada.

M.A. in African-American Studies

Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to African American/African Diaspora Communities. Would fill a critical need for graduate training in African American Studies, both statewide and along the eastern seaboard, particularly between Philadelphia and Florida. No other M.A. program in African American Studies exists in North Carolina on within * miles of UNC.

Ph.D. in African-American Studies
Would provide training to students with an interest in academic or professional careers related to African American/African Diaspora Communities. Would fill a critical need for graduate training in African American Studies, both statewide and along the eastern seaboard, particularly between Philadelphia and Florida. No other Ph.D. program in African American Studies exists in North Carolina on within * miles of UNC.

 Note: At some point, we probably need to clarify whether African Diaspora Studies would be included under African-American Studies for the purposes of granting certificates/degrees.

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, April 26, 2006 9:01 AM

To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Reginald F Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Ken Vickery <vickery@social.chass.ncsu.edu>; Owen Kalinga <kalinga@social.chass.ncsu.edu>

Subject: Re a Conference in Cape Town

Attach: CTConferencelst notice - call for papers.doc

Hi folks,
I just received this announcement of a conference in Cape Town that might be of interest: Reflections on 10 years after the Truth & Reconciliation Commission. See attachment. Abstracts due in May.
Best,
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

CONFERENCE MANAGEMENT CENTRE

Barnard Fuller Building. UCT Faculty of Medicine,

Anzio Road, Observatory, 7925, Cape Town, South Africa

Tel: (021) 406 6414 Fax: (021) 448 6263 Internet: www.uct.ac.za/depts/pgc

MEMORY, NARRATIVE, AND FORGIVENESS: REFLECTING ON TEN YEARS OF SOUTH AFRICA'S TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION COMMISSION

Conference to be held: Wednesday 22 – Saturday 25 November 2006
University of Cape Town

South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) brought the concepts of forgiveness, apology, and reconciliation after mass atrocity to the attention of scholars across the globe and across disciplines. In the ten years since the TRC's establishment, the work of the TRC has been replicated in more than a dozen post-conflict settings globally. This interdisciplinary conference will include, among others, scholarship in the arts, psychology, literature, and historical fields to reflect on research and practice done on truth commissions and peace building with a special focus on the following themes: trauma, memory, narrative, apology, forgiveness, and reconciliation. The conference will be opened by Archbishop Desmond Tutu, with a keynote address by Professor Vamik Volkan. In his 75th year, the conference will celebrate Tutu's life of commitment to peaceful justice and reconciliation. Papers that seek to address the complex nuances linked to the conference themes are invited.

Abstracts should address the following and other related themes:

- Is the language of apology and forgiveness appropriate in societies that have suffered mass atrocities?
- Do apology and forgiveness have a role to play in ensuring that today's victims do not become tomorrow's perpetrators?
- What are the obstacles that might hinder dialogue between children of victims and children of perpetrators, and how might these factors inform our understanding of the nature of trans-generational conflict?
- Do forgiveness and reconciliation have a role in healing of past traumas?
- What is the role of real-life narratives and literary narratives in historical understanding of, and working through trauma?

ABSTRACT GUIDELINES - DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION 31 MAY 2006

- Centre the title in capital letters at the top of the page
- Thereafter state your names & affiliation (upper/lower case)
- Thereafter type the body of the abstract, using single spacing
- If possible, please use Times New Roman, font size 12
- Please leave 2.5cm margins on all sides
- Abstract should be no more than 1 x A4 page long.
- Pse state preference - oral or poster presentation

On a separate page please let us have your full name, title, address, telephone, mobile, fax and email

Please email your abstract as an attached file in MS Word to Janet Sirmongpong (jsirmong@curie.uct.ac.za)

Please pass on this information to all who would be interested

A provisional programme, registration and accommodation booking forms will be sent to you in June 2006.
Convenors: Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela & Chris van der Merwe, Faculty of Humanities, UCT

Coordinator: Deborah McTeer, Conference Management Centre (deborah@curie.uct.ac.za) Tel +27 21 448 6263

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, May 13, 2006 7:30 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket H Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Sinamenye A Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: NYTimes.com: Alliance of Somali Warlords Battles Islamists in Capital

---

Dear Colleagues,

FYI. Eunice

eunice@email.unc.edu wrote:

>
> The New York Times <http://www.nytimes.com/> E-mail This > Article Tools Sponsored By
> <http://www.nytimes.com/adx/bin/adx_click.html?type=goto&page=www.nytimes.com/yr/mo/day/world&pos=TopRight-EmailThis&camp=foxsearch2006-emailtools04-nyt5&ad=Water_logo_88x31_2K.gif&goto=http://clk.atdmt.com/ORG/go/nwyrkfxs0040000007org/direct;at.orgfxs00000890/01/>
>
> *This page was sent to you by: * eunice@email.unc.edu
>
> * INTERNATIONAL / AFRICA * | May 13, 2006
> * Alliance of Somali Warlords Battles Islamists in Capital
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/13/world/africa/13somalia.html?ex=1148184000&en=a2590eabc70a4633&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
> *
> By MARC LACEY
> The U.S. has been accused of backing the warlords, who have fashioned > themselves into an antiterrorism alliance.
>
>
>
> Most E-mailed
> 1. What Is the Best Work of American Fiction of the Last 25 Years?
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/21/books/fiction-25-years.html?ex=1148184000&en=170c2eefaf60bbc8&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 2. Higher Learning in France Clings to Its Old Ways
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/12/world/europe/12france.html?ex=1148184000&en=1bd3b8e4f0c6eed0&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 3. Shift in Treating Breast Cancer Is Under Debate
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/12/health/12chemo.html?ex=1148184000&en=a1a26ec2c06453c2&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 4. Wal-Mart Eyes Organic Foods
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/12/business/12organic.html?ex=1148184000&en=f3bb5dbd031d14b3&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 5. Antidepressant May Raise Suicide Risk
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/12/health/12depress.html?ex=1148184000&en=9de74e9f42f11e2e&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
>
> » Go to Complete List <http://www.nytimes.com/gst/mostemailed.html?type=1>
>
> Advertisement
> WATER – In theatres April 28th
>
> See the controversial film Time Magazine proclaims "A Triumph." Set in > 1938 Colonial India, against Mahatma Gandhi's rise to power, Water > begins when 8-year-old Chuyia is widowed and sent to a home where Hindu > widows must live in penitence. Chuyia's feisty presence deeply affects > the lives of the other residents, including a young widow, who falls for > a Gandhian idealist.
> Click here to watch trailer/

> <http://www.nytimes.com/adx/bin/adx_click.html?
type=goto&page=www.nytimes.com/yr/mo/day/world&pos=Center1&camp=foxsearch2006-emailtools07-nyt1&ad=Water_ViewTrailer_120x60_3K.gif&goto=http://clk.atdmt.com/ORG/go/nwyrkfxs0040000009org/direct;at.orgfxs00000892/01/>
>
> <http://www.nytimes.com/adx/bin/adx_click.html?
type=goto&page=www.nytimes.com/yr/mo/day/world&pos=Center1&camp=foxsearch2006-emailtools07-nyt1&ad=Water_ViewTrailer_120x60_3K.gif&goto=http://clk.atdmt.com/ORG/go/nwyrkfxs0040000009org/direct;at.orgfxs00000892/01/>
>
>
>
>
>
> Do you love NY? Get the insider's guide to where to stay, what to do and > where to eat. Go to www.nytimes.com/travel for your NYC Guide now. Click > here
> <http://www.nytimes.com/adx/bin/adx_click.html?
type=goto&page=www.nytimes.com/yr/mo/day/world&pos=BottomAd&camp=nytnyt-BottomAdtext-EmailThis&ad=loveNY&goto=http://travel2.nytimes.com/top/features/travel/destinations/unitedstates/newyork/newyorkcity/guide.html>.
>
>
>
>
> Copyright 2006
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/copyright.html> The New > York Times Company <http://www.nytco.com/> | Privacy Policy
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/privacy.html>
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D
Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, May 18, 2006 4:32 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket H Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Sinamenye A Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Richard <richard.sandbrook@utoronto.ca>
Subject: Re: NYTimes.com: Doing the Right Thing in Nigeria

Dear Colleagues,

FYI. Eunice

eunice@email.unc.edu wrote:

>
> The New York Times <http://www.nytimes.com/> E-mail This
> *This page was sent to you by: * eunice@email.unc.edu
>
> * OPINION * | May 18, 2006
> * Editorial: Doing the Right Thing in Nigeria
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/18/opinion/18thu2.html?ex=1148616000&en=bd89b2f5ee912f48&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
> *
> Three cheers to the Nigerian Parliament for rejecting a constitutional > change that would have allowed President Olusegun Obasanjo to run for a > third term.
>
>
>
> Most E-mailed
> 1. Lactic Acid Is Not Muscles' Foe, It's Fuel
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/16/health/nutrition/16run.html?ex=1148616000&en=a7f2ee1fdb399c34&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 2. The Minimalist: Fat or Skinny Asparagus? Both Have Merits
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/17/dining/17mini.html?ex=1148616000&en=29b3903fe45c44cb&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 3. Movie Review: A 'Da Vinci Code' That Takes Longer to Watch Than Read
> <http://movies2.nytimes.com/2006/05/17/movies/17cnd-code.html?ex=1148616000&en=25fe1edd7d5d6bad&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 4. Frugal Traveler: My Goal Is to Go Around the World in 90 Days on the > Cheap
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/17/travel/17frugaltraveler.html?ex=1148616000&en=6bc59c651cadd8b2&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 5. A Peruvian Woman of A.D. 450 Seems to Have Had Two Careers
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/05/17/world/americas/17mummy.html?
ex=1148616000&en=0ac2d60f3d2690b6&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
>
> ; Go to Complete List <http://www.nytimes.com/gst/mostemailed.html?type=1>
>
> Copyright 2006
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/copyright.html> The New > York Times Company <http://www.nytco.com/> | Privacy Policy
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/privacy.html>
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D

Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of babycholine_study@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 18, 2006 6:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Can you BOOST your baby's brain power?

Can you BOOST your baby's brain power?

We are conducting a research study at UNC-Chapel Hill to determine if eating more choline during pregnancy affects babies' memory abilities. Choline is an essential nutrient for humans and is found in many foods, including eggs.

To enroll in this study, you must be healthy, pregnant less than 18 weeks, intending to breastfeed, and a non-smoker.

Participants will be asked to either take a choline (lecithin) supplement or to take a placebo supplement in addition to their normal diet every day from 18 weeks pregnancy up until three months after delivery.

Participation in this study requires 2 short visits (1 hour or less) to our clinic while you are pregnant, and 2 short visits after you deliver.

You will also be asked to attend 4 visits with your baby. (Your infant will be studied for memory function twice at 10 months and twice at 12 months of age.)

Participants will receive up to $750 for completing the study.

For more information, please call 408-3320, extension 33, or send an e-mail to babycholine_study@unc.edu.

APPROVED NOV 10 2004
COMMITTEE ON THE PROTECTION OF
THE RIGHTS OF HUMAN SUBJECTS
THE BIOMEDICAL IRB
THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

This email is sponsored by: Nutrition

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wbwebber@ehs.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, May 18, 2006 8:10 PM
To:	wbwebber@ehs.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New Location for Department of Environment, Health & Safety

---

The Department of Environment, Health & Safety (EHS) at UNC-Chapel Hill has been serving and protecting the campus community since 1974. For the past 20 years, EHS has operated from headquarters at 212 Finley Golf Course Road. EHS has now moved to a new building at 1120 Estes Drive Extension, across from the Surplus Property Warehouse and adjacent to Central Receiving.

Though our physical location is changing, our contact phone numbers, campus mailbox, and e-mail addresses will not change. The only change in our contact information is the U.S. mail address:

UNC Department of Environment, Health & Safety
1120 Estes Drive Extension
CB #1650
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-1650.
(919) 962-5507
http://ehs.unc.edu

Our new location will allow us to better serve the campus community. We welcome anyone who wants to come visit us at our new location.

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health & Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@UNC.EDU
Sent: Friday, May 19, 2006 9:59 PM
To: no_reply@UNC.EDU
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ever helped someone facing serious illness or physical limitations?

Have you ever volunteered to help someone (other than a family member) facing serious illness or physical limitations? Have you volunteered in the past three years either informally or through an organization? If so, would you be interested in helping researchers learn more about your experiences?

The goals of the research -

~ To find out what types of caregiving support is provided by non-family members

~ To learn about the range of volunteer experiences

~ To use what we learn to help people in all communities support individuals with serious illness and physical limitations

How to participate -

~ Contact us: call (919) 962-2124 or email research@Project-Compassion.org to find out if you are eligible.

~ If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend about 45 minutes to complete a questionnaire - at home and at your convenience.

~ You may choose to receive the questionnaire either by mail or e-mail. In either case, just send us the forms once you have completed them. If you choose to mail them, we will provide postage, etc.

~ You will receive a small gift as a token of appreciation.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study. (PSYC 2005-054) Approval Date 5/26/2005

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 24, 2006 1:02 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	URGENT: Davis Library Reopens

Dear Carolina community:

We write to update you on a situation that required Davis Library to close temporarily this morning.

Employees and patrons in Davis Library were systematically checked as they left the Library this morning to ensure that they, specifically their shoes, did not have traces of mercury on them. A UNC housekeeper who had been in a Durham school that was contaminated by mercury came to work in Davis Library from midnight to 8 a.m. today.

The University's Environment, Health and Safety Office (EHS), Department of Public Safety and State Emergency Management officials worked together to determine that there was no risk to members of the UNC community. The University has the state's most sensitive portable mercury detection device. Health and safety officials used the device to assess potential contamination in Davis Library and found nothing above background levels normally in the environment.

When officials determined no risk existed here, the University dispatched its EHS team with the special equipment to Durham to assist school authorities there.

Any staff or faculty member with questions should contact the University Employee Occupational Health Clinic, 966-9119. Students may contact the Campus Health Service, 966-6573.

Emergency Warning Committee

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Warning Committee

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of morganr@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, May 24, 2006 8:11 PM
To:	morganr@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Couples needed for communication study about physical activity

---

We are conducting a research study co-sponsored by the UNC School of Medicine and the School of Public Health to gather information about how couples communicate about adopting healthier behaviors. We know that spouses are often part of making decisions about lifestyle changes. Understanding how couples talk about these changes may lead to the development of better programs that help people make positive changes to reduce their risk of health problems.

Individuals who are married or partnered, between the ages of 30-75, and have no chronic health conditions that significantly limit their ability to exercise may be eligible. In addition, one partner must have a first-degree relative (parent, child, or sibling) who was diagnosed with colon cancer before age 60. Your spouse must participate in the study with you.

Qualified couples will be asked to do several things:

1) complete self-administered surveys at home;
2) come to our offices on Franklin Street for a two-hour communication exercise that many couples find interesting and enjoyable;
3) wear physical activity monitors for one week. These monitors about the size of a pager, and can be clipped easily to your clothing.

Participating couples will also be contacted at three and six months following the initial visit to campus and asked once again to wear a physical activity monitor for a week and complete self-administered surveys at home. Couples will not be asked to come to campus again.

For more information, please e-mail morganr@email.unc.edu.

Approved by UNC-Chapel Hill Biomedical IRB on May 15, 2006.
IRB Study # 05-HBHE-130-ORC
Principal Investigator: Megan Lewis, Ph.D.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Health Behavior Health Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@UNC.EDU
Sent:	Thursday, May 25, 2006 8:46 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Minimum stipends for postdocs to take effect July 1, 2006

TO: EPA Faculty

FROM: Tony Waldrop, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

DATE: May 22, 2006

RE: Minimum stipends for postdocs to take effect July 1, 2006

In 2003, a Postdoctoral Scholars Policy was adopted based upon recommendations of the Postdoctoral Advisory Committee. As part of this policy, a minimal stipend for postdoctoral scholars was established but was not required until July 1, 2006 in order to enable faculty time to identify funding for this required level. Please refer to http://www.unc.edu/campus/policies/postdocscholar.html for more details.

I write to remind faculty members that "Effective July 1, 2006, the minimum stipend for a Postdoctoral Scholar shall be no less than $34,200. This level will be assessed annually by the Postdoctoral Advisory Committee and it is projected tbat this minimal salary level will increase approximately 3% per year. Waivers of this minimal stipend level will be considered but must be for highly unusual reasons."

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has been recognized as one of the best places for postdoctoral scholars to work. I am appreciative of your support in helping to create this strong environment.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 25, 2006 8:09 PM
To: no_reply@unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CAPS/Health Education Director Announcement

---

On behalf of the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs and the members of the Search Committee, please welcome Dr. Kathy Hotelling as the Director of Counseling and Psychological Services/Health Education with Campus Health Services in the Division of Student Affairs.

Dr. Hotelling received a Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology from the University of Missouri-Columbia and she is currently the Director of Counseling and Student Development Center at Northern Illinois University. She is recognized as a national leader for her work with eating disorders and is a Founding Fellow of the Academy for Eating Disorders. She has held leadership positions in various professional organizations including serving as president of the Association of University and College Counseling Center Directors Board, chairing the American College Personnel Association Ethics Committee, and serving as a member of the National Eating Disorder Screening Program Scientific Advisory Board. She also has published numerous articles and book chapters on eating disorders, sexual harassment, women and health, and ethics, as well as co-editing a book on sexual assault on college campuses in 2001. Her appointment as Director of Counseling and Psychological Services/Health Education will begin on August 1, 2006.

Dr. Hotelling will lead the strategic development of a dynamic, integrated, service delivery model that is responsive to the psychological, developmental, and prevention needs of students at UNC Chapel Hill. In addition, she will provide professional expertise and consultation across the department of Campus Health Services, Student Affairs, and the larger campus community regarding trends in health education and mental health issues affecting students.

Special thanks to Dr. Melissa Exum, Associate Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs and Dean of Students for her leadership as Chair of the Search Committee in addition to the many students, faculty, and staff who participated in the interview process.

Sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

This email is sponsored by: Division of Student Affairs

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, May 25, 2006 10:04 PM
To: no_reply@unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research study about air pollution and smoking

---

SUBJECT: INFORMATIONAL: Research study about Air Pollution and Smoking.

The purpose of this study is to evaluate and characterize the effects of exposure to particles of concentrated Chapel Hill air on current smokers and persons with mild to moderate COPD. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (on the UNC campus) is seeking people ages 30 to 56 with diagnosed COPD or individuals who have a smoking history of at least one pack per day for 20 years or the equivalent. The study involves about 30 hours of testing and exposure. For more information, please call Westat EPA Recruiting at 966-0604.

Approved Feb 9, 2006 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# GCRC 1538.

This email is sponsored by: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Human Studies Division and the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology, located on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sogreen@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, May 30, 2006 8:10 PM
To: sogreen@unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Call for Nominations -- Excellence in Management Awards

---

Nominations for the 2006 Excellence in Management Awards are now being accepted.

The Excellence in Management Award is designed to recognize meritorious and distinguished accomplishments in management at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. For this award, "management" includes managing employee or student resources, financial resources, or facilities, and/or coordinating special projects or efforts such as leading a task force or an ad hoc committee of a sizable nature. All permanent employees serving in a managerial capacity are eligible for nomination.

All University employees (including temporaries) and students are eligible to submit nominations for eligible employees. Two awards are given annually. Each award recipient will receive a monetary award of $500 and a framed certificate, and will be invited to attend a luncheon this fall at the Carolina Inn.

Nominations are due by Friday, June 30 at 5 p.m. Go to the following web site for more information and the nomination form: http://hr.unc.edu/employees/spa-employees/recognition/excellenceinmanagement.

Questions may be directed to Shelly Green, Employee Services, 962-1483.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of coble@cs.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, May 31, 2006 8:07 PM
To: coble@cs.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Blood Drive - June 6, 2006

The 18th annual Carolina Blood Drive is set for Tuesday, June 6 from 7am - 6pm in the Dean E. Smith Center. We are very proud to host one of the largest one-day drives in the entire nation and the largest blood drive on the East Coast, but we need your support to continue this important Carolina tradition.

The American Red Cross is urging everyone to celebrate the beginning of summer by donating blood. Although donors of all types are welcome, there is a special need for those with types O and B. Those individuals donating blood at the beginning of the summer will also be eligible to donate one other time before Labor Day. Donors may give blood every 56 days. Traditionally, blood donations decrease in the summer due to vacations, holidays and summer breaks for schools. Unfortunately, the need for blood often increases during this same time period because of travel-related injuries and elective surgeries. Approximately 1,500 units of blood are needed each day by patients in the more than 100 local hospitals served by the American Red Cross in this area. Eligible blood donors must be at least 17 years of age, weigh a minimum of 110 pounds and be in general good health. Donors must have photo identification with them at the time of donation.

We encourage you to please take time from your schedule to help those individuals who so desperately need you. Time spent donating blood is considered work time (See Section XI, of your Human Resources Manual for details). You can register to donate blood by contacting your departmental recruiter, by dialing 96-BLOOD (962-5663) or registering online. By participating in our Carolina Blood Drive, you will not only be representing the University's concern and interest in this program, but you will also be providing that valuable gift of life to someone in need.

For detailed information, including the online donor form and our enhanced transportation information visit the Blood Drive web site at www.unc.edu/blood/. Important facts about donor eligibility criteria including travel restrictions outside of the United States can also be found on the website by clicking on "Who May Donate Blood?" that appears in red hyperlink text on the page.

Thank you in advance for your support of this important UNC-Chapel Hill service endeavor to give the gift of life to others. If you cannot donate at this drive, we encourage you to donate blood throughout the year by visiting unc.givesblood.org to find out about Blood Drives sponsored by the American Red Cross Club on campus. Thanks again.
Carolina Blood Drive Committee

This email is sponsored by: Human Resources/Employee Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, June 1, 2006 8:01 PM
To:	research_support@unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT ONLINE June 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The June 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT ONLINE is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.

CAMPUS NEWS
*Department of Defense Funding Forum at UNC-Chapel Hill
*Internal Grants.gov Submission Deadlines
*RAMSeS eRA Training
*Minimum Stipend for Postdoctoral Scholars
*Carolina Center for Clinical Trials
*SBIR/STTR Phase 1 and 2 Proposal Training

FUNDING TIPS
*COS Changes
*Customized Presentations on Identifying Funding Sources
*Foundation Finder
*Keck Futures Initiative and Funding Opportunities: Research Conference in Smart Prosthetics

FEDERAL NEWS
*NSF Seeks Review Panelists for Graduate Research Fellowship Program
*NSF Regional Grants Conference
*NIH Eliminates Mailing of Paper Assignment and Change of Assignment Letters
*NIH Multiple PI Pilot Opportunities Announced
*NIH Expires Announcements Referencing Paper Submissions
*NIH Person Months

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT ONLINE provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pkstudy@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, June 2, 2006 8:09 PM
To:	pkstudy@unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Recruiting healthy volunteers for research study

---

Healthy volunteers are needed for a UNC research study using a FDA-approved drug. The study consists of three 20 minute outpatient visits over 24-36 hours to the UNC general clinical research center (GCRC). You will donate blood during these visits. Volunteers will earn $100 for completing the study.

In order to participate you must:
* Be a male or non-pregnant female.
* Be 18-50 years of age
* NOT have a history or diagnosis of any significant medical condition.
* NOT have taken any prescription drug within 30 days of the study, or over-the-counter medications or herbal products (excluding vitamin supplements) within two weeks of the study.
* NOT have a history of alcohol abuse or use of illicit drugs.
* NOT have a history of tobacco use within the last year.

How to participate:
* e-mail pkstudy@unc.edu
* If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend approximately 15 minutes to answer a few questions over the phone.
* If you meet the pre-screening criteria we will schedule a one hour screening visit at the GCRC.

Study title: CYP2B6 Genotype-Phenotype and the Influence of Sex and Ethnicity Study number: GCRC#2430
Approved by Biomedical IRB 4/28/06

This email is sponsored by: School of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pwatkins@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 7, 2006 8:07 PM
To: pwatkins@med.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Provide a Blood Sample to Help Medical Research

---

UNC Hospitals and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS), National Institutes of Health (NIH), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) are establishing a registry of DNA samples (the Environmental Polymorphisms Registry or EPR) that will help researchers study how variations in our genes (known as polymorphisms) influence our risk for disease.

The EPR will be recruiting participants at the UNC General Clinical Research Center (GCRC). For more information call (919) 281-1110 x747 or visit our Web site at http://dir.niehs.nih.gov/direpr/.

To participate, you must:
--Be 18 years of age or older;
--Provide a blood sample (up to 1 tablespoon);
--Read and sign a consent form; and
--Provide age, gender, and ethnicity.

Participants will receive $20 for their participation.

If you have a UNC Healthcare Medical Record Card, please bring it with you. If you don't have one, please stop by the patient registration desk in the Hospital's main lobby to get one before coming up to the GCRC (3rd floor of the main hospital).

We need your help! Our goal is to collect 20,000 samples. Please share this message with friends and family. We appreciate your help getting the word out.

The principal investigators for this study are:

--Perry J. Blackshear, M.D., D.Phil., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS;
--Paul Watkins, M.D., General Clinical Research Center, UNC Medical Center;
--Patricia C. Chulada, Ph.D., M.H.S., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS; and
--Susan Pusek, M.P.H., General Clinical Research Center, UNC Medical Center.

The Environmental Polymorphisms Registry and this message have received approval from both the NIEHS and UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Boards on Research Involving Human Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: General Clinical Research Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mduclos@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 7, 2006 10:03 PM
To: mduclos@med.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for Type 2 Diabetes Research Study

---

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational form of Byetta (exenatide) medication for the treatment of diabets.

As a study participant you will be randomized to either receive Byetta BID treatment, which is FDA approved or an investigational form of Byetta. The lenght of the study is approximately 13 months and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center and the Carolina Center for Clinical Trials.

Study related benefits at no cost to you include study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time.

You may qualify is you are:

* 18 years of age or older
* Have type 2 diabetes
* Treated by diet modification and exercise alone, and/or
* Taking an oral anti-diabetic medication (for example, metformin, glipizide, glimepiride, Avandia, Actos, singly or in combination)

For more information please call:

Amy MacKenzie
amymac@med.unc.edu
919-484-0931 ext 268

This research study and advertisement has been approved by the Biomedical Institution Review Board on March 6, 2006. IRB Number 05-MED-948

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, June 8, 2006 10:56 AM
To: oswald.almasi@utoronto.ca; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: info. request for Swahili

I am forwarding your inquiry to Dr A Mutima who is our Kiswahili instructor for an appropriate response.

oswald.almasi@utoronto.ca wrote:

> Hello, my name is Oswald Almasi, I am currently teaching Swahili at the > Universities of York and Toronto, in Toronto, Canada. I am wondering if you > could do me the professional courtesy of providing me with some information on > the following:
>
> 1. What Swahili courses are offered;
> 2. The number of hours Swahili is taught in one academic year;
> 3. The number of weeks in one academic year;
> 4. Coursebook/texts you recommend for each level offered; and > 5. Approximate Class size.
>
> This information will assist me to change and improve the Swahili courses > taught at the above universities.
>
> Thanking you in advance for your time and co-operation in this matter.
>
> Asanteni na kwaherini.
>
>
> Dr. Oswald Almasi
> Kiswahili Instructor, University of Toronto
> Course Director, York University
>
>
>
>

--
Julius E. Nyang'oro
Professor and Chair
African and Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina
CB# 3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel: 919-962-1513
Fax: 919-962-2694
Email: jen321@email.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bayenlab@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, June 8, 2006 8:47 PM
To:	bayenlab@unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 18-30 year-olds needed for research studies

---

We are investigating how people think and we need you as a participant.

The study will take approximately 1 hour altogether; as compensation you will receive $9. In this study you will see pictures and/or words on a computer screen and later be asked some questions. Your name will not be connected with your answers in any way.

If you are between 18-30 years old, a native speaker of English and are interested in participating, please contact us at: bayenlab@unc.edu

This study will be conducted in Davie Hall on the UNC campus between June and August 2006. For questions about the study, please contact Beatrice Kuhlmann and Dennis Boywitt at bayenlab@unc.edu.

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect your rights and welfare. If you have any questions or concerns about your rights as a research subject you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu. Please use the study number, 05-0003, in correspondence with the IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, June 9, 2006 12:41 PM
To: Timothy McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled]
Attach: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled (2.04 KB).msg

---

From: kwbryant@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 8, 2006 4:27 PM
To: Human Resources Facilitators <hrfac@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled

---

TO: HR Facilitators

FROM: Elaine Phelps, Director, Benefit Program Administration

Due to popular demand, we have scheduled two additional information sessions for employees with questions about their health insurance options. The deadline for all enrollment forms to be submitted is Friday, June 30, 2006.

The following sessions are scheduled:

-- Wednesday, June 14: 9-11 a.m. in the Great Hall, Student Union

-- Wednesday, June 14: 2-4 p.m. in the Grumman Auditorium, Friday Center

Please encourage employees to attend these sessions if they have an interest; spouses are also welcome.

Each session will provide an overview of the new PPO options and the opportunity to ask questions of HR staff members.

If you have additional questions regarding the health insurance options, contact the State Health Plan's customer service group at 800-422-4658 or the University's PPO Hotline at 843-0526.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, June 12, 2006 1:50 PM

To: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Timothy McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>

Subject: [Fwd: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled]

Attach: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled (2.04 KB).msg

---

In case you haven't made up your mind....please remember the upcoming June 30 enrollment deadline. DC

From: kwbryant@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 8, 2006 4:27 PM
To: Human Resources Facilitators <hrfac@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [hrfac] Two Additional PPO Information Sessions Scheduled

---

TO: HR Facilitators

FROM: Elaine Phelps, Director, Benefit Program Administration

Due to popular demand, we have scheduled two additional information sessions for employees with questions about their health insurance options. The deadline for all enrollment forms to be submitted is Friday, June 30, 2006.

The following sessions are scheduled:

-- Wednesday, June 14: 9-11 a.m. in the Great Hall, Student Union

-- Wednesday, June 14: 2-4 p.m. in the Grumman Auditorium, Friday Center

Please encourage employees to attend these sessions if they have an interest; spouses are also welcome.

Each session will provide an overview of the new PPO options and the opportunity to ask questions of HR staff members.

If you have additional questions regarding the health insurance options, contact the State Health Plan's customer service group at 800-422-4658 or the University's PPO Hotline at 843-0526.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of beth_schultz@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 12, 2006 8:05 PM
To: beth_schultz@med.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Typically Developing and Children with Developmental Delays Needed

---

SUBJECTS NEEDED: The Sensory Experiences Project is a research study designed to examine how young children perceive various sensory events in their environment. With the information we obtain we hope to accomplish three goals: 1) study the influences of early sensory experiences on development, 2) gain insight into the nature of developmental delays, and 3) develop tools that can help with clinical assessment and treatment for children with developmental delays.

DOES MY CHILD QUALIFY?
We are looking for:
* children with developmental delays (non-specific delays as well as those with identified syndromes such as Down Syndrome, Prader-Willie Syndrome, and Williams Syndrome) who are between the ages of 18 months and 8 years
* typically developing children between the ages of 9 months and 24 months
* all children must have normal vision and hearing or vision/hearing impairments that are corrected to within normal limits

Your child will receive sensory and developmental assessments that involve the presentation of different kinds of toys and other activities. These take approximately 1 ½ - 2 ¾ hours depending upon your child's age and skills and can be done in one or two sessions, as convenient for families. In addition, parents complete 1 - 1 ½ hours of paperwork and participate in some additional interviews while their child is being assessed at our research office in Carr Mill Mall.

Participants will receive $50.00 for completing the study, mileage reimbursement, and a parent report summarizing the results of the developmental and sensory assessments.

For more information, please call 919.843.5774, view our website at http://www.med.unc.edu/sep, or send an email to beth_schultz@med.unc.edu
Medical IRB study #97-CDL-28

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of morganr@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 12, 2006 8:53 PM
To:	morganr@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Couples needed for communication study about physical activity (REVISED)

Compensation information omitted from previous e-mail. Details below.

We are conducting a research study co-sponsored by the UNC School of Medicine and the School of Public Health to gather information about how couples communicate about adopting healthier behaviors. We know that spouses are often part of making decisions about lifestyle changes. Understanding how couples talk about these changes may lead the development of better programs that help people make positive changes to reduce their risk of health problems.

Individuals who are married or partnered, between the ages of 30-75, and have no chronic health conditions that significantly limit their ability to exercise may be eligible. In addition, one partner must have a first-degree relative (parent, child, or sibling) who was diagnosed with colon cancer before age 60. Your spouse must participate in the study with you.

Qualified couples will be asked to do several things:

1) complete self-administered surveys at home;
2) come to our offices on Franklin Street for a two-hour communication exercise that many couples find interesting and enjoyable;
3) wear physical activity monitors for one week. These monitors about the size of a pager, and can be clipped easily to your clothing.

Participating couples will also be contacted at three and six months following the initial visit to campus and asked once again to wear a physical activity monitor for a week and complete self-administered surveys at home. Couples will not be asked to come to campus again. Couples who complete the study will receive $200.

For more information, please e-mail morganr@email.unc.edu.

Approved by UNC-Chapel Hill Biomedical IRB on May 15, 2006.
IRB Study # 05-HBHE-130-ORC
Principal Investigator: Megan Lewis, Ph.D.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Health Behavior Health Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 14, 2006 8:05 PM
To:	rfts@unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Right from the Start: A Study of Pregnancy Health

---

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn how more, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself and your pregnancy. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects, IRB Study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 semanas de embarazo?

Bien desde el comienzo es una encuesta sobre las primeras etapas del embarazo siendo hecho por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Para aprender más, llama gratis al 1-866-346-2684 o envía un mensaje por correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número del teléfono y las mejores horas para comunicarnos contigo. No compartiremos tu información. Puedes visitar nuestro sitio en el internet, www.mom2be.org (en inglés).

Las participantes reciben:
- Examen de ultrasonido gratis
- $10 por contestar preguntas en una entrevista por teléfono que se va a hacer al fin del primer trimestre
- pruebas de embarazo gratis si están intentando quedar embarazadas

La necesitamos para que nos ayude a obtener más conocimientos sobre embarazos saludables. Por favor, comparta este mensaje con tu familia y tus amigas.

La investigadora principal es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Obstetricia y

ginecología, Epidemiología, UNC

Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por La Junta de Revisión Institucional de la UNC, #03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of UNC_Esophageal_Research@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, June 14, 2006 9:22 PM
To:	UNC_Esophageal_Research@med.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Acid Reflux and Erosive Esophagitis

Frequent heartburn symptoms?
Can't sleep without a recliner?
Unable to enjoy the foods you love?

If so, you may qualify as a volunteer in a clinical research study of an investigational medication for heartburn and GERD.

Qualified participants will receive study-related office visits, study medication or placebo, lab work, and procedures at no cost.

If you feel you may be interested, please reply to this informational.

The text in this informational e-mail has been reviewed and approved by the Biomedical IRB under IRB# 05-Med-793 (1/23/06).

This email is sponsored by: UNC Esophageal Research Group

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of UNC_Esophageal_Research@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, June 15, 2006 8:45 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UPDATED: Acid Reflux and Erosive Esophagitis

---

Please note change/update correcting the "reply to:" address

Frequent heartburn symptoms?
Can't sleep without a recliner?
Unable to enjoy the foods you love?

If so, you may qualify as a volunteer in a clinical research study of an investigational medication for heartburn and GERD.

Qualified participants will receive study-related office visits, study medication or placebo, lab work, and procedures at no cost.

If you feel you may be interested, please reply to this informational.

The text in this informational e-mail has been reviewed and approved by the Biomedical IRB under IRB# 05-Med-793 (1/23/06).

This email is sponsored by: UNC Esophageal Research Group

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of idiana@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, June 15, 2006 10:34 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Looking for typically developing boys

---

The Auditory Orienting and Language Outcomes in Children with Autism Project is recruiting typically developing boys between the ages of 6 months to 42 months for a study examining both the children's looking behaviors as well as their heart rate in order to get information about their attention while people are speaking to them. We are comparing typically developing children to children with autism spectrum disorders.

This study will have implications for intervention strategies that might enhance the child's attention to child-directed speech and thus improve language outcomes.

Participants may earn $25 at completion of study
Participation includes developmental assessments and heartbeat data collection using ECG telemetry.

For more information e-mail Jennifer Dalton, Research Coordinator, jennifer_dalton@med.unc.edu, or call 336-681-3032.

http://www.fpg.unc.edu/~NDRC/pages/projects.cfm?ID=163

Title of Study: Auditory Orienting and Language Outcomes in Children witb Autism
(UNC# 04-AHS-399)
Principal Investigator: Linda R. Watson, Ed.D.
UNC-CH Department: Speecb and Hearing Sciences

This study is supported by a grant from the National Alliance for Autism Research to Linda R. Watson, Ed.D. and sponsored by the Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

This email is sponsored by: Speech and Hearing Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: anon@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 19, 2006 10:32 AM
To: hildebra@email.unc.edu; krjanken@email.unc.edu; jfjordan@email.unc.edu; mlambert@email.unc.edu; drdalet@email.unc.edu; tjm1@email.unc.edu; smutima@email.unc.edu; jen321@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; regester@email.unc.edu; eunice@email.unc.edu
Subject: Townhall.com : My new contribution to educational racism by Mike S. Adams - Jun 19, 2006

A friend visiting townhall.com has sent you a link to the following story:

Townhall.com : My new contribution to educational racism by Mike S. Adams - Jun 19, 2006

Comments:
Racism at UNC

You may also cut and paste the following URL into your browser:
http://www.townhall.com/opinion/columns/mikeadams/2006/06/19/201732.html

---

If you enjoyed this article, you might also enjoy Townhall.com's Opinion Alert e-mail. Sent daily, the Opinion Alert informs you of the latest columns from Townhall.com, whose columnists include Ann Coulter, Thomas Sowell, Cal Thomas, George Will, Michelle Malkin, Mike Adams, and many more. Visit http://www.townhall.com/opinion/columns/ to subscribe.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of causey@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 21, 2006 8:27 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Subjects for Bloating, Diarrhea and IBS Study

---

If you suffer from:

Bloating or Diarrhea or Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) then you may qualify for a study looking to see if Probiotics help relieve these symptoms.

Probiotics are a dietary supplement containing active bacteria found in foods like yogurt and cheese. Researchers are looking into the beneficial affects of probiotics in many clinical areas. In this study we hope to learn more about their benefits in the area of bloating, diarrhea, and IBS.

This study is a 14 week treatment trial with 4 clinic visits to the General Clinical Research Center in the Main Hospital at UNC and two follow-up phone calls. The visits usually take about 30 minutes to complete.

Subjects will be paid $200 for complete participation in this study.

You would NOT be eligible to participate if you have the following:
* Inflammatory bowel disease, duodenal ulcer, gastric ulcer or structural abnormality of the digestive tract
* A serious unstable medical condition (heart disease, cancer in the last 5 years, except skin cancer, insulin dependent Diabetic, HIV, Hepatitis B or C, etc)
* Have been treated with antibiotics in the last 8 weeks.

If you are interested to learn more about this study and to see if you qualify please send an e-mail to Sarah Causey at causey@unc.edu. with the word Probiotic Study in the subject line. Please include your contact information including your name, phone number, and your symptoms.

This e-mail was approved by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board under study title Clinical Efficacy of Probiotic Bacteria in Subjects with Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS), Functional Diarrhea, or Functional Bloating, study # GCRC-2207 on March 24, 2006.

This email is sponsored by: CDDN

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ncavines@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 21, 2006 10:06 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Does Heartburn Concern You?

Do you have frequent heartburn symptoms?
Can't sleep without a recliner?
Unable to enjoy the foods you love?

If so, you may qualify as a volunteer in a clinical research study of an investigational medication for heartburn and GERD.

Qualified participants will receive study-related office visits, study medication or placebo, lab work, and procedures at no cost.

If you feel you may be interested, please reply to ncavines@email.unc.edu

The text in this informational e-mail has been reviewed and approved by the Biomedical IRB under IRB# 05-Med-793 (1/23/06).

This informational has been changed/updated to offer a direct reply to address.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Gastroenterology and Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 21, 2006 11:41 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Director, Ackland Art Museum Candidate Open Forums

---

To: UNC-Chapel Hill Community
From: Search Committee, Director, Ackland Art Museum
Re: Director, Ackland Art Museum Open Forums

The Search Committee invites you to attend upcoming forums with candidates for the position of Director, Ackland Art Museum and share your feedback. These forums are designed to help introduce students, faculty, and staff to the future plans for the Ackland Art Museum and to give you a chance to hear about the candidates'ideas for ways to enhance this fine institution.

The Director will provide (1) artistic leadership in acquiring, preserving, exhibiting, and interpreting works of art in support of the University's teaching, research and public service missions, (2) administrative leadership in recruiting, organizing, and utilizing human and financial resources for fulfillment of the Ackland's mission, (3) leadership on- and off-campus to enable and promote the participation of diverse constituencies in Museum programs, and (4) leadership in recruiting resources including funding, works of art, and contributions of volunteer expertise and participation in Museum activities. In conjunction with the Division of University Advancement, the Director will play a leading role in the capital campaign to raise funds for the planned $25 million expansion of the Ackland's facilities, and will work closely with University Facilities Planning personnel through design and construction of the expansion. He or she will provide direction to the Ackland's 24 staff members and to student volunteers and interns. The Director will be the link between the Museum and the academic programs of the University and will be responsible for outreach to the local community, the state, and beyond.

Candidate forums have been scheduled for the following dates:

June 28 - 3:15 - 4:00 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum
David Brenneman, Chief Curator. High Museum of Art, Atlanta, GA

July 6 - 3:15 - 4:00 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum
Emily Kass, Consultant, Sarasota Museum of Art/Ringling School of Art and Design, Sarasota, Florida and former Executive Director of the Tampa Museum of Art, Tampa, Florida

July 12 - 2:45 - 3:30 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum
Eric Lee
The Wylodean and Bill Saxon Director, Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art, The University of Oklahoma, Norman, OK

Each candidate will speak about the special challenges and opportunities of a university art museum and address the relation of the university museum to its different audiences/constituencies.

This email is sponsored by: Officeof the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rmhigh@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, June 23, 2006 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Baseball Championship Series

The UNC Baseball Team is in the National Championship Series!

Our team is only two wins away from a National Championship! Be sure to watch the Heels play this best-of-three series against Oregon State on ESPN all weekend long!

Game 1: 7:00pm (Eastern time) Saturday, June 24
Game 2: 7:00pm Sunday, June 25
Game 3 (if necessary): 7:00pm Monday, June 26

The Tar Heels haven't lost a game in the 2006 College World Series of Baseball. With National Player of the Year Andrew Miller and a superb lineup of talented players, the game promises to be memorable. Whether you're at home with family or in Chapel Hill, I encourage you to support UNC baseball and watch another one of our teams add to the growing number of National Championships UNC claims. Go Heels!

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Athletic Association

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 23, 2006 8:42 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: Health Insurance Enrollment Deadline

---

TO: All Employees

FROM: Noreen Montgomery, Acting Director, Benefit Program Administration

The deadline to enroll or make changes to your health insurance coverage for 2006-07 is Friday, June 30. To date, approximately 3,900 forms have been received.

If you want to enroll in one of the PPO options, or make changes to your current coverage under the CMM plan, the required forms must be in the Benefits office by 5 p.m. on June 30. No late forms will be accepted.

Please note that employees should submit either a PPO enrollment form or a PPO waiver form. If you have questions about these forms, you can call the University's PPO Hotline at 843-0526 and speak with a representative.

Because forms must be received in Benefits by the June 30 deadline, you should consider hand-delivering your forms to the Benefits office during the last week of the enrollment period (June 26-30) to ensure that forms are not delayed in campus or US mail.

The Benefits office is open from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and is located in Suite 1700 of the Administrative Office Building (AOB) at 104 Airport Drive. You can also leave forms in the green Benefits dropbox outside the front doors of the AOB at any time. The dropbox is checked daily.

If you have questions about your health insurance enrollment, call the PPO Hotline listed above or the State Health Plan's customer service group at 800-422-4658.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sdmoody@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 26, 2006 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Spice up your summer workouts on campus...

Tired of the same old workout? Want to discover new ways to move your body this summer? TRY SOMETHING NEW!

Visit
http://www.carolinafitness.unc.edu/src/src_files/fitness_schedule.htm
for a complete list of free interactive workshops on a variety of exercise topics

Contact sdmoody@email.unc.edu for questions

The program of workshops this summer will include topics such as: tapless step choreography, power yoga, core extreme workouts, self myofascial release, and heart rate monitoring.

Go to: www.carolinafitness.unc.edu today to check it out!!

http://www.carolinafitness.unc.edu/src/src_files/fitness_schedule.htm

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Fitness

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 26, 2006 9:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: InTouch, The Employee Forum Newsletter, is Now On-Line

---

The June edition of InTouch, the Employee Forum newsletter, is now on-line at http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch7-4.htm

Articles include:

From the Chair's Presentation to the Board of Trustees
Fond Farewell
PPO Enrollment Facts & Websites
Supplemental Retirement Programs
Archie Ervin Wins Employee Forum Community Award
Opinion: Turnover Crisis: The Collective Bargaining Solution

On-line publication of InTouch saves approximately 6,000 sheets of paper a month.

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 26, 2006 10:08 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Be Safe in Hot Weather

PLEASE DISTRIBUTE TO ALL AFFECTED EMPLOYEES AND POST AT DEPARTMENTAL BULLETIN BOARDS

FORMAL NOTICE: Be Safe in Hot Weather

We'd like to remind Carolina's employees to take special precautions to avoid heat-related illness in unusually hot weather when working outdoors or in unconditioned indoor environments. People suffer heat-related illness when their bodies are unable to regulate internal body temperature. The body normally cools itself by sweating, however, under some conditions sweating isn't enough. Such conditions may include environments with high humidity and limited air movement, working in the direct sun, heavy physical exertion and poor physical condition. Some medical conditions and medications can also reduce the body's ability to tolerate heat. Still, heat-related illness is preventable by following these guidelines when working outdoors in hot weather:

* Drink small amounts of cool water frequently to prevent dehydration. Drink throughout the day to relieve thirst and maintain an adequate urine output(Be aware of the risks of overhydration).
* Replace salt and minerals. A sports beverage can replace the salt and minerals you lose in sweat.
* Wear appropriate clothing. Choose lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing.
* Protect yourself from the sun by wearing a wide-brimmed hat. (Sunglasses and sunscreen with SPF 15 or higher are also recommended.)
* Schedule outdoor work carefully. If outdoor work must be done in hot weather, try to limit it to morning hours. Limit sun exposure during mid-day hours. Consider rotating outdoor work schedules among your co-workers.
* Pace yourself. Take time to acclimate to heat and humidity. Start slowly and pick up the pace gradually.
* Monitor yourself for the signs and symptoms of heat-related illness.
* Take time to cool down. Rest often in shady areas. A few hours in air conditioning can help you stay cooler later in the heat.
* Use a buddy system. When working in the heat, monitor the condition of your co-workers and have someone do the same for you.
* Monitor those at high risk. Some people are at greater risk than others, including people who are overweight, people who overexert themselves, and people with heart disease or high blood pressure, or who take certain medications.

Signs and symptoms of heat-related illness include headache, dizziness, lightheadedness, fainting, weakness, mood change, mental confusion, upset stomach or vomiting. An employee experiencing the above symptoms should be taken to the UNC Hospitals Emergency Room as soon as possible. Contact the University Employee Occupational Health Clinic at 6-9119 if you have any questions.

UNC's Heat Stress Policy can be viewed online at http://www.ehs.unc.edu/manuals/imac/heat_stress.doc and suggested measures to preventing heat stress can be viewed at http://www.ehs.unc.edu/healthy/heat_stress_sugg.doc .
For assistance with developing a heat stress job safety analysis and/or training, please contact Ben Naprstek with the UNC Department of Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) at 962-5716 or by sending an email via http://ehs.unc.edu/feedback.shtml.
EHS can also suggest appropriate controls to reduce your risk of heat-related illness. For more information, visit http://ehs.unc.edu/healthy/index.shtml.

This email is sponsored by: EHS

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 27, 2006 7:19 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Welcome Home the Tar Heels

Carolina baseball fans can meet the Tar Heel team as it returns from the College World Series Tuesday afternoon (June 27) at 3:30 p.m. in Boshamer Stadium on campus.

The Tar Heels' NCAA runner-up finish marks their best-ever showing in the NCAA College World Series, and the team established school records for wins, as well as regular season, home and ACC victories.

Public parking will be available in the Rams Head Deck.

Disability parking and shuttles will be available from the Rams Head Deck.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Athletics and the General Alumni Association

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jennifer.maxwell@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 27, 2006 8:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Recycling Facilitator Training Series

---

Please join us for the upcoming recycling facilitators training workshop series. These informational sessions will be primarily targeted at current recycling facilitators throughout campus, but are open to all those faculty and staff interested in joining us. Please click on the following link for further details:
http://www.fac.unc.edu/WasteReduction/staff/reftraining.asp

Thanks and see you in July!

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of oebd@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, June 27, 2006 8:33 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RFP--Community Economic Development Competitive Grants Program

---

At part of Carolina's ongoing efforts to pursue engaged scholarship and service, the Office of Economic and Business Development, in partnership with the Carolina Center for Public Service, announces the Community Economic Development Competitive Grants Program. The program will fund projects with potential to improve the economic competitiveness of both businesses and communities across a wide range of issues in North Carolina.

Tenured, tenure track, and fixed term faculty members from any Carolina school, college, center or institute are eligible. Faculty members from any discipline are encouraged to apply.

For more information, please visit http://research.unc.edu/oebd/programs.php#cedcgp or contact the UNC-Chapel Hill Office of Economic and Business Development at (919) 843-5453 or oebd@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Economic and Business Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of asthmastudies@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, June 28, 2006 8:59 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Informational: Participation in Asthma Research Study

---

The Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology is currently recruiting for several studies for people with asthma who are otherwise healthy. Please contact us if you are interested in participating in a screening study (Biomedical IRB number 98-CEMLB-293) and hearing about other studies for which you may qualify. You are not obligated to participate in any study once you complete the screening visit.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 50, a non-smoker, and have not required emergency treatment for your asthma in the last 4 weeks. You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby or planning to become pregnant in the near future.

Compensation will be provided for this visit.

For a complete copy of the consent form and more information refer to the CEMALB website at http://www.med.unc.edu/envlung/research1.html

If interested or for further information please contact:

Martha
Research Coordinator
Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology
(919) 962-4247
Email: asthmastudies@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by:
The Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

This email is sponsored by: CEMALB

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Thursday, June 29, 2006 9:29 AM

To: Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Bereket H Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Insurance forms

Hi folks. I just received a printout saying you have not yet submitted your insurance forms. The deadline is tomorrow and is firm. If you believe this is in error or if you have submitted the forms in the last 24 hours you may disregard this. Otherwise you need to do something about this asap. DC

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 30, 2006 8:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Health Insurance Deadline Extended--Mental Health/Substance Abuse Plan Revisions

---

TO: All Employees

FROM: Noreen Montgomery, Acting Director, Benefit Program Administration

The State Health Plan has extended the enrollment deadline for health insurance until Friday, July 7, 2006.

Enrollment and waiver forms will continue to be accepted in the Benefits office through 5 p.m. on July 7. Because forms must be received in Benefits by the July 7 deadline, please hand-deliver your forms to the Benefits office to ensure that forms are not delayed in campus or US mail.

Remember to sign and date all forms, and make a copy for your records, before bringing them to Benefits.

The Benefits office is open from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Monday through Friday (closed Tuesday, July 4), and is located in Suite 1700 of the Administrative Office Building (AOB) at 104 Airport Drive. You can also leave forms in the green Benefits Programs dropbox outside the front doors of the AOB. The dropbox is checked daily.

The University's PPO Hotline (843-0526) will also continue operations through July 7 to continue assisting employees.

In addition, the State Health Plan announced changes on Friday to mental health and substance abuse benefits under the PPO plans. These changes were recommended to the State Health Plan by an advisory committee. For additional information on these changes, click on http://hr.unc.edu/sys/emaillist/20358/92711.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Saturday, July 1, 2006 9:17 AM
To: Sinamenye A Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket H Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: NYTimes.com: Congo Nears Historic Election, Praying for Peace (

Dear All,

This is a founding moment in the DRC. Hopefully it will lead the country to take a first step in addressing the ghosts of the triad--King Leopold-Mobutu-Kabila. Peace. Eunice.

eunice@email.unc.edu wrote:

>
> The New York Times <http://www.nytimes.com/> E-mail This
> *This page was sent to you by: * eunice@email.unc.edu
>
> * INTERNATIONAL / AFRICA * | July 1, 2006
> * Congo Nears Historic Election, Praying for Peace
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/07/01/world/africa/01congo.html?ex=1152417600&en=91052e8f26e9779b&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
> *
> By LYDIA POLGREEN
> Congo's biggest challenge will be getting its competing groups to > recognize and respect the election results.
>
>
>
> Most E-mailed
> 1. Modern Love: What Shamu Taught Me About a Happy Marriage
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/06/25/fashion/25love.html?ex=1152417600&en=0bddee2b931e817e&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 2. 36 Hours: South End of Boston
> <http://travel2.nytimes.com/2006/06/30/travel/escapes/30hours.html?ex=1152417600&en=ab9d2d3502bfe7b9&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 3. As China Ages, a Shortage of Cheap Labor Looms
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/06/30/world/asia/30aging.html?ex=1152417600&en=f66c65abf757d46d&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 4. Panel Unanimously Recommends Cervical Cancer Vaccine for Girls 11 and > Up
> <http://www.nytimes.com/2006/06/30/health/30vaccine.html?ex=1152417600&en=36c4c6a6d8c97a54&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
> 5. Movie Review: In 'The Devil Wears Prada,' Meryl Streep Plays the > Terror of the Fashion World
> <http://movies2.nytimes.com/2006/06/30/movies/30devi.html?ex=1152417600&en=caf7442a7cfc6dfa&ei=5070&emc=eta1>
>
>
> ; Go to Complete List <http://www.nytimes.com/gst/mostemailed.html?type=1>
>
>
> Do you love NY? Get the insiders guide to where to stay, what to do and > where to eat. Go to www.nytimes.com/travel for your NYC Guide now. Click > here
> <http://www.nytimes.com/adx/bin/adx_click.html?
type=goto&page=www.nytimes.com/yr/mo/day/world&pos=BottomAd&camp=nytnyt-BottomAdtext-EmailThis&ad=loveNY&goto=http://travel2.nytimes.com/top/features/travel/destinations/unitedstates/newyork/newyorkcity/guide.html>.

>
>
>
>
> Copyright 2006
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/copyright.html> The New > York Times Company <http://www.nytco.com/> | Privacy Policy
> <http://www.nytimes.com/ref/membercenter/help/privacy.html>
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D
Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 5, 2006 9:25 AM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re: Swahili Interpreter needed July 6, 2006]
Attach: Re_ Swahili Interpreter needed July 6, 2006 (4.45 KB).msg

---

From: Michael Lambert <mlambert@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 5, 2006 11:42 AM
To: 'Eunice Sahle' <eunice@email.unc.edu>; 'Sinamenye A Mutima' <smutima@email.unc.edu>; 'Roberta Ann Dunbar' <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; 'Barbara Anderson' <banders1@email.unc.edu>; 'Julius Nyangoro' <jen321@email.unc.edu>; 'Bereket H Selassie' <bselassi@email.unc.edu>
Cc: 'Niklaus Steiner' <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
Subject: RE: somali?

Colleagues,

I just received this message from Niklaus Steiner. If anyone can help please contact Niklaus directly.

Mike

-----Original Message-----
From: Niklaus Steiner [mailto:nsteiner@email.unc.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, July 05, 2006 11:21 AM
To: Michael Lambert
Subject: somali?

Michael,

I'm involved with resettling a refugee family from Somali who are due to arrive in the coming weeks. One of our most pressing needs is to find a translator. Do you know any who might be able to help us out - either a student, faculty or member of the community? If so, I'd appreciate if you could send me some contact info.

Best, Niklaus

--
Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
Executive Director
University Center for International Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
223 East Franklin Street, CB# 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145

nsteiner@unc.edu
Tel (919) 962-6855
Fax (919) 962-5375
www.ucis.unc.edu

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 5, 2006 12:00 PM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@unc.edu>
Cc: 'Sinamenye A Mutima' <smutima@email.unc.edu>; 'Roberta Ann Dunbar' <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; 'Barbara Anderson' <banders1@email.unc.edu>; 'Julius Nyangoro' <jen321@email.unc.edu>; 'Bereket H Selassie' <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; 'Niklaus Steiner' <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: somali?

Dear Niklaus and other colleagues,

Julius and I discussed the matter and we will be sending you some names shortly. We already have a name in mind but we need to confirm.

Best wishes, Eunice.

Michael Lambert wrote:
> Colleagues,
>
> I just received this message from Niklaus Steiner. If anyone can help > please contact Niklaus directly.
>
> Mike
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Niklaus Steiner [mailto:nsteiner@email.unc.edu]
> Sent: Wednesday, July 05, 2006 11:21 AM
> To: Michael Lambert
> Subject: somali?
>
> Michael,
>
> I'm involved with resettling a refugee family from Somali who are due to
>
> arrive in the coming weeks. One of our most pressing needs is to find a > translator. Do you know any who might be able to help us out - either a > student, faculty or member of the community? If so, I'd appreciate if > you could send me some contact info.
>
>
>
> Best, Niklaus
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D
Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 5, 2006 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New Authentication Procedure for Online Library Resources

---

The procedure for gaining off-campus access to online library resources is changing, beginning July 6, 2006.

The UNC-Chapel Hill libraries license more than 40,000 online journals, databases, and other resources. UNC-Chapel Hill students, faculty, staff, hospital staff, and AHEC affiliates may use most of these resources from off-campus computers. In the past, a valid PID was required to authenticate your affiliation with the university.

As of July 6, the libraries are implementing a more secure procedure.
-University students, faculty, and staff and will supply their ONYEN and password;
-UNC Hospital staff will continue to use their PID;
-AHEC affiliates will continue to authenticate in the current mode.

When you first open an online resource that requires authentication, you will be prompted to supply the appropriate information. You need only supply this information one time in any computer session, even if you use multiple resources. All users will be able to continue using the PID to authenticate until August 15.

These procedures will help the university better honor contractual agreements with database companies by protecting from unauthorized use the valuable content they supply.

To connect to online library resources, go to http://www.lib.unc.edu and select "Article Databases" or "E-Journal Finder." To manage your ONYEN and to set up a challenge-response query in case you forget your password, see https://onyen.unc.edu.

Please direct questions about these procedures to the library's Proxy Server Team using the form at: http://proxy.lib.unc.edu/sendreport.html.

This email is sponsored by: University Libraries

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbickford@UNC.EDU
Sent: Monday, July 10, 2006 8:30 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Faculty Scholar Program

The Carolina Women's Center is accepting applications for its Faculty Scholar Program. This program offers UNC-Chapel Hill faculty the opportunity to serve as Faculty Scholar at the CWC for one semester and provides the Scholar's home department with salary replacement for one course during the award semester.

The mission of the Carolina Women's Center is to empower women and promote their equality in all spheres of life and to celebrate the work of women that betters humankind. The Faculty Scholar will work on projects for publication, presentation, exhibition, composition or performance that are related to this mission. Scholars will have the opportunity to participate in regularly scheduled lunch discussions with CWC staff, former CWC Faculty Scholars, and invited scholars from other centers/departments. Two Faculty Scholar positions will be awarded for the Spring 2007 semester. The deadline for applications is October 1, 2006.

Projects are welcome from faculty at all ranks in any department, center or school of the University. To download the application form, visit the Carolina Women's Center's website at: http://womenscenter.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, July 10, 2006 8:41 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT July 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The July 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.

CAMPUS NEWS
*RAMSeS Replaces COEUS
*RAMSeS Research Contacts
*Getting Help and Training on RAMSeS
*File Management Issues in Transitioning to RAMSeS
*Research Administration Training Opportunities from OSR
*Changes in OSR Instructions for Subcontracts
*Expansion of Carolina Internal Funding Database
*American Cancer Society Grants and Grantsmanship Seminar at Carolina
*Technology Development Boot Camp
*New Computer Science and Physics Project Manager in OTD
*New Authentication Procedure for Carolina's Online Library Resources
*Department of Environment, Health, and Safety Relocates

FUNDING TIPS
*Mellon New Directions Fellowships in the Humanities and Humanistic Social Sciences
*Community Economic Development Competitive Funding Available
*New BWF Career Development Award for Physician-Scientists
*New NC Biotech Center Guidelines
*Reynolds Trust Temporarily Suspends Health Care Funding
*New NC Tool for Identifying Federal Contract Opportunities

FEDERAL NEWS
*Improved Grants.gov Website
*Changes in NIH/AHRQ Application Forms
*New EPA Hazardous Waste Standards for Academic Labs
*NIH R18/U18, C06/UC6 and R25 Applications Must Use Grants.gov for October 1 Submissions
*FY 2007 NOAA Funding Preview
*SAMHSA FY 2007 Grant Overview
*SAMHSA Seeks Grant Reviewers
*National Center for Education Research Program Changes
*Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition to Set Program Priorities
*National Institute on Aging Funding for Neuroeconomics
*Change in U.S. Institute of Peace Deadlines and Programs
*DoE Calls for Comment on Biofuels Production Incentives

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina.
Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of PreventDiabetes@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, July 11, 2006 9:10 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Temporary Research Assistants

The HEALTHY study, a nationwide collaborative study working to help prevent Type II diabetes in middle school children, needs temporary research assistants. Our study takes place in six North Carolina middle schools located in Nash/Rocky, Lee, Harnett, and Sampson counties. This is a landmark study funded by NIDDK and will offer great research experience.

--Temporary research assistants needed to assist with baseline data collection, including anthropometric data, as well as questionnaires. Conversational Spanish is a plus but not required. The postion starts at the end of August until December, 30-40 hours per week anticipated. This position includes early morning hours and will not work for a full time student. Travel is an integral part of this position.

Interested? Please contact The HEALTHY study at PreventDiabetes@unc.edu

IRB Approval # 05-1434

This email is sponsored by: STOPP-T2D

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of HBHM@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 11, 2006 8:20 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have or know someone who has a baby aged 2 to 6 months?

Do you have or know someone who has a baby aged 2 to 6 months?

Qualification criteria include the following:

-Over 18 years of age
-First-time mommy
-African American or Caucasian
-Live in the Triangle Area
-With a baby aged two to six months old
-A healthy baby and a healthy pregnancy

You may be eligible to participate in a University of North Carolina research study promoting nutrition, physical activity, and stress reduction for women post-partum and their babies.

We want to get your feedback about our unique 'self-parenting' approach that will help you effectively and efficiently care for yourself and your child. This four week research study will include one home visit and a group session with new mothers and their children.

The research study is sponsored by the Carolina Population Center. To learn how you can be in the study, email us at HBHM@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

Participants will receive up to $70 plus a gift bag for their efforts during the study.

Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Margaret Bentley, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Nutrition.

This research study and this message have received approval from the UNC Public Health Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects (#05-1298).

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Population Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 12, 2006 8:05 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Right from the Start: A Study of Pregnancy Health

---

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn how more, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself and your pregnancy. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects, IRB Study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 semanas de embarazo?

Bien desde el comienzo es una encuesta sobre las primeras etapas del embarazo siendo hecho por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Para aprender más, llama gratis al 1-866-346-2684 o envía un mensaje por correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número del teléfono y las mejores horas para comunicarnos contigo. No compartiremos tu información. Puedes visitar nuestro sitio en el internet, www.mom2be.org (en inglés).

Las participantes reciben:
- Examen de ultrasonido gratis
- $10 por contestar preguntas en una entrevista por teléfono que se va a hacer al fin del primer trimestre
- pruebas de embarazo gratis si están intentando quedar embarazadas

La necesitamos para que nos ayude a obtener más conocimientos sobre embarazos saludables. Por favor, comparta este mensaje con tu familia y tus amigas.

La investigadora principal es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Obstetricia y

ginecología, Epidemiología, UNC

Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por La Junta de Revisión Institucional de la UNC, #03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 12, 2006 8:51 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Delegate Nominations

Employee Forum delegate nominations are still underway.

To nominate yourself or a fellow employee for election to the Forum, go to http://forum.unc.edu/nominate.html and complete the form.

Print and electronic nominations must by received by July 17th.

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of connect@schsr.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 14, 2006 8:09 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

---

APPROVED by UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB-Study # 02-SHEPS-587

Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

Black Americans have disproportionately high rates of disease and disproportionately poor health outcomes. Recent emphasis on increased representation of minority populations in all research has challenged investigators to find ways to diversify the populations that are recruited to participate in prevention and treatment trials.

Project CONNECT is recruiting volunteers who want to learn more about opportunities to participate in health research.

While we are focusing on African Americans, 18 years or older, any adult is welcome to participate.

If you participate your name will be placed on a confidential listing. If volunteers are eligible for a future research study they will be contacted and offered the opportunity to participate. The confidential registry will collect basic participant data including contact information, age, education level and basic health status.

To join the Project CONNECT listing, please reply with your name, and a phone number or mailing address so that we may get in touch with you. Or, you may choose to contact us directly by calling toll free at 1-866-849-1579.

If you know someone else who is eligible, and may be interested, please feel free to forward this information to them also.

Joining the registry does NOT mean one is volunteering for any particular study.

For additional information, please contact us at 919-966-7107 or via email at connect@schsr.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Project CONNECT: the Bridge to Healthy Communities Through Research, UNC Sheps Center for Health Services Research

If you have concerns about taking part in research please contact the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects (Medical IRB) at UNC at (919) 966-1344.

Project CONNECT
Carolina-Shaw Partnership for the Elimination of Health Disparities
Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
725 Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd. CB# 7590
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7590
web: www.connect.unc.edu
office: 919-966-7107

This email is sponsored by: Cecil Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rjmanuel@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 17, 2006 8:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Name Change Notification: Counseling and Wellness Service

---

Programs and services involving Counseling and Psychological Service and the Center for Healthy Student Behaviors have been integrated and renamed Counseling and Wellness Service (CWS). Dr. Kathy Hotelling is the new director of CWS and will arrive in early August. The name change was effective July 1, 2006 and the website address has been changed to http://cws.unc.edu. Please update your websites and printed materials if you reference these services in your publications.

Located in the James A. Taylor Building, CWS programs and services represent the prevention and mental health component of the comprehensive health services available for students at Campus Health Services in the Division of Student Affairs at UNC Chapel Hill. The integrated approach to health care includes services for physical health, mental health, and wellness. The James A. Taylor Building is the health home for students located between Kenan Stadium and UNC Hospitals.

If you have any questions or need further information regarding Campus Health Services please contact us at 919.966.2281 or visit the CHS website at http://campushealth.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of beasleyt@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 19, 2006 8:07 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes

The Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking patients for a clinical research study to evaluate a new investigational drug for type 2 diabetes. If you are living with type 2 diabetes, you may be interested in participating in this study.

You may qualify if you...
* are between the ages of 18 and 80
* have been treated for type 2 diabetes with one or more Oral Anit-Diabetic Medications for at least three months
* are NOT currently taking daily insulin

What Can You Expect?
If you are eligible, you will receive study-related care and study medication at no cost, and will receive diabetes counseling and education throughout the course of the trial. If all visits occur, you will receive a total of $300.00.

Please share this message with friends or family.

Please call Tanisha Beasley at 484-0931 ext.274 for more information.

Thank you!

This study and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes Care Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of droyle@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 19, 2006 9:13 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Nominations open for the Mellon Foundation's New Directions Fellowships program

---

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has received an invitation to submit two nominees for the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation's New Directions Fellowships program. This recently established program supports outstanding faculty in the humanities and humanistic social sciences who would benefit from their acquiring systematic training outside their own discipline to work on the problems that interest them most. Faculty members who have received their doctorates between five and fifteen years ago are eligible.

New Directions Fellows receive support to pursue a program of training in a discipline other than the one in which they took their doctoral degrees. Such training may consist of coursework or other programs of organized study and may take place either at fellows' home institutions, or elsewhere as appropriate. The fellowships cover salary for approximately one academic year and two summers, as well as tuition and other reasonable costs associated with the fellows' training programs.

Candidates must be nominated through a centralized internal process, due to the limitation on the number of institutional nominees. Internal nominations are due at the Office of Research Development by August 10. Refer to ORD's webpage for this program at http://research.unc.edu/ord/documents/07_Mellon_New_Directions_Fellowships_CFN.pdf for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Research Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pcole@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, July 21, 2006 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Piano Sale at Music Dept.

Many fine pianos on loan for one year from Hopper Piano Company to the Department of Music are now available for purchase. They will be sold during an on campus piano sale, Saturday and Sunday, July 29 and 30, from Noon until 5p.m. and will include new and used baby grands, grands, professional uprights, digital pianos. All pianos will be offered to faculty, alumni, staff and students before being sold to the general public. You may look at the selection of instruments and purchase in advance by calling the Department of Music Piano Sale Appointment Line at 919-968-2500 and making a private appointment for Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, 7/27,28, or before Noon on 7/29. This assures you the best selection and pricing in advance of the public sale. Please say that you received this email notification when you call.

This email is sponsored by: Music Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of droyle@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 21, 2006 8:33 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Internal Deadline Extension - Nominations for Mellon New Directions Fellowships

---

Internal nominations for the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation's New Directions Fellowship program, previously due by August 10, are now due at the Office of Research Development by Tuesday, September 5.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has received an invitation to submit two nominees for the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation's New Directions Fellowships program. This recently established program supports outstanding faculty in the humanities and humanistic social sciences who would benefit from their acquiring systematic training outside their own discipline to work on the problems that interest them most. Faculty members who have received their doctorates between five and fifteen years ago are eligible.

New Directions Fellows receive support to pursue a program of training in a discipline other than the one in which they took their doctoral degrees. Such training may consist of coursework or other programs of organized study and may take place either at fellows' home institutions, or elsewhere as appropriate. The fellowships cover salary for approximately one academic year and two summers, as well as tuition and other reasonable costs associated with the fellows' training programs.

Candidates must be nominated through a centralized internal process, due to the limitation on the number of institutional nominees. Internal nominations are due at the Office of Research Development by September 5 (an extension of the original August 10 deadline). Refer to ORD's webpage for this program at <http://research.unc.edu/ord/documents/mellon_new_directions_extension.pdf> for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Research Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 24, 2006 8:13 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Interested in Pharmacy School?

Are you interested in pharmacy school and planning to take the Pharmacy College
Admissions Test (PCAT), a national examination necessary to gain admission into most schools of pharmacy? Join us for a PCAT Preparatory Review Program to help you perform at your highest potential on the PCAT exam. This intensive review will focus on key elements of chemistry, biology, math, and English covered on the PCAT exam and include a timed PCAT practice exam.

This program will be hosted by the Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA), a student organization affiliated with UNC's School of Pharmacy.

For more information, please visit the UNC School of Pharmacy homepage at http://www.pharmacy.unc.edu or send an email to pcatreview@listserv.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA)

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 25, 2006 8:20 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ever helped someone facing serious illness or physical limitations?

Have you ever volunteered to help someone (other than a family member) facing serious illness or physical limitations? Have you volunteered in the past three years either informally or through an organization? If so, would you be interested in helping researchers learn more about your experiences?

The goals of the research -

~ To find out what types of caregiving support is provided by non-family members

~ To learn about the range of volunteer experiences

~ To use what we learn to help people in all communities support individuals with serious illness and physical limitations

How to participate -

~ Contact us: call (919) 962-2124 or email research@Project-Compassion.org to find out if you are eligible.

~ If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend about 45 minutes to complete a questionnaire - at home and at your convenience.

~ You may choose to receive the questionnaire either by mail or e-mail. In either case, just send us the forms once you have completed them. If you choose to mail them, we will provide postage, etc.

~ You will receive a small gift as a token of appreciation.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study. (PSYC 2005-054) Approval Date 5/23/2006

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bayenlab@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 26, 2006 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 18-30 year-olds needed for research studies

---

We are investigating how people think and we need you as a participant.

The study will take approximately 1 hour altogether; as compensation you will receive $9. In this study you will see pictures and/or words on a computer screen and later be asked some questions. Your name will not be connected with your answers in any way.

If you are between 18-30 years old, a native speaker of English and are interested in participating, please contact us at: bayenlab@unc.edu. Please do only respond to this message if you did not participate yet.

This study will be conducted in Davie Hall on the UNC campus in August 2006. For questions about the study, please contact Beatrice Kuhlmann at bayenlab@unc.edu.

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect your rights and welfare. If you have any questions or concerns about your rights as a research subject you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu. Please use the study number, 05-0003, in correspondence with the IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gabriele@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 26, 2006 9:19 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Weight Loss by E-mail Counseling

OVERWEIGHT volunteers between the ages of 30 and 60 are needed for a study of weight loss programs delivered over e-mail.

If you:

* are 30-60 years old
* have a Body Mass Index (BMI) between 25 and 40 kg/m2
(If you are unsure of you BMI you can calculate it at the following website http://www.nhlbisupport.com/bmi/)
* have e-mail access
* have no medical conditions or disabilities that would prevent physical activity or weight loss
* have not taken medication for weight loss in the past 6 months

you may qualify for a 12-week study to evaluate different approaches to delivering weight loss programs via e-mail. This study will involve 2 in person assessments and completion of 2 short internet surveys.

Qualified Participants Will Receive:
1. 12 weekly lessons on weight loss delivered via e-mail
2. Worksheets for self-monitoring physical activity and caloric intake
3. $10.00 on completion of study

If interested, call 919-966-8650 or e-mail gabriele@email.unc.edu .

Study and message approved by UNC Public Health Institutional Review Board - Study # 06-0119.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Health Behavior and Health Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 26, 2006 9:52 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right?

The Prime Research Clinic is conducting a study to better understand the causes and course of basic symptoms. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 14-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Clinic. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Go to the 'Simple Survey' by clicking on the link or paste into your browser:
http://www.med.unc.edu/cgi-bin/prime/page1.pl

Or visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

03-Psych-53
Feb 25, 2004
Committee on the Protection of the Rigbts of Human Subjects Tbe BioMedical IRB University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of oebd@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 1, 2006 8:01 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RFP--Community Economic Development Competitive Grants Program

---

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS--COMMUNITY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMPETITIVE GRANTS PROGRAM

At part of Carolina's ongoing efforts to pursue engaged scholarship and service, the Office of Economic and Business Development, in partnership with the Carolina Center for Public Service, announces the Community Economic Development Competitive Grants Program. The $97,000 program will fund projects with potential to improve the economic competitiveness of both businesses and communities across a wide range of issues in North Carolina. Specifically, the Program will fund projects that address the areas of opportunity identified at the Carolina Summit on Community Economic Development.

Application deadline is September 20, 2006. Tenured, tenure track, and fixed term faculty members from any Carolina school, college, center or institute are eligible. Faculty members from any discipline are encouraged to apply.

Additional information and application materials are available online at http://research.unc.edu/oebd/programs.php#cedcgp. If you have questions about this program, or if you would like to discuss how your research and engagement efforts might benefit businesses and communities in North Carolina, please contact the Office of Economic and Business Development at oebd@unc.edu or (919) 843-5453.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Economic and Business Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jim.alty@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 2, 2006 8:14 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	URGENT: Alert from Governor Mike Easley

GOV. EASLEY ORDERS ENERGY SAVING MEASURES DURING HEAT WAVE

A Two-Degree Hike in Thermostat Setting Helps as Electric Utilities Face Record Demand

RALEIGH - Gov. Mike Easley today ordered energy-saving measures to be taken throughout state government and urged all North Carolinians to do the same as power utilities are experiencing record demand for electricity amid the latest heat wave. Easley asked Department of Administration Secretary Britt Cobb to have thermostats set at least two degrees higher, to between 78 and 80 degrees, in nearly all state buildings.

"Conserving energy, particularly at times of peak demand, is important to avoid potential power interruptions or outages," Easley said. "Raising the thermostat a few degrees will not affect our comfort but will significantly reduce electric demand at a time when it is the greatest."

Much of the state is under a National Weather Service heat advisory with temperatures expected to hit triple digits and the heat index, a combination of the temperature and humidity, expected to exceed 110 degrees today and Thursday. While the state's major utility companies have not experienced any power production problems, they anticipate record-breaking demands for electricity. Duke Energy has issued a statement asking its customers to voluntarily conserve power during the late afternoon, when demand for electricity is the greatest.

"In addition to taking steps to save energy, it is also important to make sure all of our citizens take proper precautions to avoid unnecessary exposure to the extreme heat," Easley said. "Avoiding unnecessary outdoor activity, finding a cool place and drinking plenty of water are critical."

Many hospitals around the state have reported seeing an increased number of cases of heat-related injuries and illnesses. The N.C. Departments of Health & Human Services and Crime Control & Public Safety offer these tips during the high temperatures to help avoid heat-related health problems:

7 Do not leave infants, children, or pets in a parked car, even for just a few minutes. Car interiors can quickly heat up and cause serious injury or death.

7 Drink plenty of fluids, preferably water but avoid alcohol and large amounts of sugar. Do not wait until you are thirsty to drink.

7 Heavy sweating removes salt and minerals from the body. If you exercise or work outside, drink two to four glasses of cool, non-alcoholic fluids each hour. A sports beverage may replace the salt and minerals you lose in sweat. However, if you are on a low-salt diet, talk with your doctor before drinking a sports beverage.

7 Wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. Protect yourself from the sun and keep cool by wearing a wide-brimmed hat along with sunglasses and by putting on sunscreen of SPF 15 or higher 30 minutes prior to going outside.

7 Stay indoors and if at all possible, in an air-conditioned place. If your home does not have air conditioning, try to find a neighbor, relative or public place that does. Just a few hours spent in air conditioning can help your body stay cooler when you go back into the heat.

7 Take a cool shower or bath.

7 Avoid, as much as possible, using your stove and oven. This will help keep cooler temperatures in your home.

7 If you are 65 years of age or older, have a friend or relative call to check on you twice a day during a heat wave. If you know someone in this age group, check on them at least twice a day.

7 If you must be outdoors, try to limit your outdoor activity to morning and evening hours. When working in the heat, have plenty of water available and monitor the condition of your co-workers and have someone do the same for you. Heat-induced illness can cause a person to become confused or lose consciousness.

The North Carolina State Energy Office offers more tips on power conservation on the Web at:

http://www.energync.net/resources/docs/press/060719.doc. For more specific tips for avoiding heat injuries are located on the Center for Disease Control and Prevention's web site at:

http://www.bt.cdc.gov/disasters/extremeheat/heat_guide.asp
<http://www.bt.cdc.gov/disasters/extremeheat/heat_guide.asp>

This email is sponsored by: Division of Facilities Services

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 3, 2006 9:21 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2006-07 CHS Hours of Operation

Effective Thursday, August 17, 2006 the regular hours for Campus Health Services (CHS) will be 8am-8pm Monday - Friday and 8am-5pm on Saturday and Sunday during the fall and spring semesters. Acute care services are available 8am-9am and 5pm-8pm Monday - Friday. Medicine/Women's Health clinic appointments are scheduled from 8:15am-4:30pm. To schedule a medicine/women's health clinic appointment, call 919.966.2281 and follow the voice prompts.

Consistent with past practice, there is a $40 fee for acute care services available from 5pm-8pm Monday - Friday and 8am-5pm on Saturday and Sunday. In an emergency or life threatening situation, call 911. For assistance when the Campus Health Services is closed, call 919.966-2281 to speak with a Healthlink telephone triage nurse.

The James A. Taylor Building is the Health Home for students and is located between Kenan Stadium and UNC Hospitals. For specific details involving hours of operation during university holidays and summer sessions, please refer to the website at http://campushealth.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: The Division of Student Affairs and Campus Health Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ncavines@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 3, 2006 10:31 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do You Cough Frequently?

Do you cough frequently? Do you wonder why?

If you are a non-smoking male or female between the ages of 18 and 70 who has had a cough for more than 8 weeks, and are not taking any acid reflux medication- you may be eligible for a research study investigating GERD (Gastroesophageal Reflux Disease) as a potential cause of cough.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please respond to this informational by email.

Approved by UNC IRB 7/28/06, #04-MED-533.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Esophageal Diseases and Swallowing

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ncavines@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, August 4, 2006 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Does Heartburn Concern You?

Do you have frequent heartburn symptoms?
Can't sleep without a recliner?
Unable to enjoy the foods you love?

If so, you may qualify as a volunteer in a clinical research study of an investigational medication for heartburn and GERD.

Qualified participants will receive study-related office visits, study medication or placebo, lab work, and procedures at no cost.

If you feel you may be interested, please reply to ncavines@email.unc.edu

The text in this informational e-mail has been reviewed and approved by the Biomedical IRB under IRB# 05-Med-793 (1/23/06).

This email is sponsored by: CDDN

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 9, 2006 12:14 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: IIJD Announces 2006 Conference on Africa Speakers]
Attach: IIJD Announces 2006 Conference on Africa Speakers (44.7 KB).msg

---

From: IIJD, Inc. <iijd@iijd.org>
Sent: Wednesday, August 9, 2006 10:46 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: IIJD Announces 2006 Conference on Africa Speakers

You are recieving this email because of your interest in the issues of Justice and Development, including; The planning of the first International Conference on the State of Affairs of Africa (2006 ICSAA). To no longer receive our emails, click to unsubscribe.

IIJD Announces 2006 ICSAA Conference Speakers

First Democratic Elections in the Democratic Republic of the Congo

August 2006 - Vol 1, Issue 3

In This Issue

Keynote Speaker President Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf
IIJD Announces Speaker Dr. Alan White
Elections in the Democratic Republic of the Congo
IIJD Announces Media Sources that have pledged their support for the ICSAA

Sign Up

SIGN-UP!

IIJD Links

Conference information Conference Registration
A Vision for Africa Gala
Justice Program

IIJD Updates

In the past two weeks IIJD has taken huge steps towards finalizing the planning of the ICSAA, editing the handbook of justice system indicators, and beginning a media campaign that will target newspapers and other media sources. There is a good amount of support for this endeavor to bring people together to discuss issues still plaguing the African continent. We are proud to announce in this edition of the IIJD newsletter that we have finalized our list of 2006 ICSAA Conference speakers. In this edition, we will begin presenting the speakers of the 2006 ICSAA Boston Conference on Africa.

Keynote Speaker President Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf

Ellen

IIJD is proud to announce the ICSAA keynote speaker and recipient of the IIJD Leadership and Courage Award President Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf. President Sirleaf was formally elected as the President of Liberia in November 2005, becoming the first female president of an African country.

Educated at Harvard, she became involved in government when she became Assistant Minister of Finance in President William Tolbert's administration in 1970. While running for Senate in 1985, she spoke out against the military regime, and was sentenced to ten years in prison. Released after a short period, she left in exile and returned in 1997 as an economist, working for the World Bank, and for Citibank in Africa.

Initially supporting Charles Taylor's rebellion against Sergeant Samuel Doe, she later went on to oppose him, and ran against him in the 1997 presidential elections. She managed only 10% of the vote, to Mr. Taylor's 75%. Taylor charged her with treason. She campaigned for the removal of President Taylor from office, playing an active and supportive role in the transitional government, as the country prepared itself for the 2005 elections.
With Taylor's departure, she returned to take over the leadership of the Unity Party.In the first round of 2005 voting, she came in second with 175,520 votes, putting her through to a runoff vote against former footballer George Weah. On November 11th, the National Elections Commission of Liberia declared Johnson-Sirleaf to be President-elect of Liberia. On November 23rd they confirmed their decision, saying that Johnson-Sirleaf had won with a margin of almost 20% of the vote. Independent international, regional, and domestic observers have all declared the vote to be free, fair and transparent.

President Johnson-Sirleaf has become one of the most inspirational leaders of our time. She has overcome prison, corruption, and exile on the path to becoming President. Based on these exceptional qualities and her incredible perseverance IIJD is proud to award her the first IIJD award for Leadership and Courage. For her, the conference will be an opportunity to speak about the challenges and opportunities facing her country as well as offer suggestions on how to shift African development efforts towards more sustainable and local solutions.

Complete list of speakers and biographies

IIJD Announces Speaker Dr. Alan White

IIJD is proud to announce speaker Dr. Alan W. White. Dr. White is the President and Chief Executive Officer of Alan White Associates, Inc., an international consulting and business development company. Dr. White retired from the U.S. Government as a member of the Senior Executive Service in August 2005 after 31 years of exemplary military and civilian service.

Prior to forming his own company Dr. White served as the Chief of Investigations for the United Nations-created Special Court for Sierra Leone from July 2002 to July 2005, Freetown, Sierra Leone. Dr. White was responsible for directing and conducting all criminal investigations regarding violations of international humanitarian law and crimes against humanity during the temporal jurisdiction of the Special Court. Those crimes include murder, extermination, terrorism, torture, rape, sexual enslavement, child conscription, and other crimes. The temporal jurisdiction of the Special Court for Sierra Leone covers the period of November 30, 1996 to the present. Dr. White's efforts led to 13 indictments, including Charles Taylor, the former president of Liberia. The indictment of Taylor was historic because it was the first time a sitting head of state had been indicted for war crimes. Taylor is currently incarcerated at the International Criminal Court, in The Hague, pending trial by the Special Court for Sierra Leone. This is the first time that an international war crimes tribunal has been set up within the nation where the crimes occurred wherein there was an estimated 1 million victims of the civil war in Sierra Leone. Dr. White traveled to 28 different countries conducting criminal investigations establishing high level government and law enforcement contacts, including various agencies within the United States, Europe, and Africa.

Among many impressive positions that Dr. White has held, his position as the Director of Investigative Operations, at the Defense Criminal Investigative Service (DCIS) Headquarters in Arlington, Virginia particularly stands out. Dr. White served as a member of the Senior Executive Service and had been with DCIS for sixteen years. The DCIS was the law enforcement arm of the of the Inspector General, Department of Defense (DoD) with full law enforcement authority, responsible for criminal investigation of violations of U.S. law impacting the DoD, specializing in terrorism, white collar crime, bribery, corruption, kickbacks, major thefts, computer crimes, and other significant criminal violations.

Dr. White will be speaking on the collaboration between the government of Sierra Leone and the Special Court for Sierra Leone at the ICSAA.

Here, see a complete list of the 2006 ICSAA speakers (Complete Speaker Biographies)

Elections in the Democratic Republic of the Congo

Congo

Preliminary reports on the election taking place in The Democratic Republic of the Congo show signs of peace and success during the nations' first free elections in forty-six years. Fifty thousand voting stations were set up in the nation, which is the size of Western Europe with only three hundred miles of paved roads. Results from the elections are expected by the end of August. Human rights organizations, major governments, and NGO organizations around the world are hoping these signs of democratic progress and reform will alleviate the plight of the country's impoverished population, especially children.

The recent five year civil war and a consistently worsening health crisis have affected the life of nearly every Congolese citizen. The UN deployed seventeen thousand people as election monitors to stop violence and tampering with the election results as well as four hundred and sixty million dollars to carry out the mission. These figures make this mission the most complex and expensive one in UN history. Thus, a message has been sent that the global community is invested in democratic progress on all fronts within the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Congo has endured nearly fifty years of war, absolute dictatorship, massacres, and guerilla groups that continue to terrorize many in the eastern regions of the nation. Contesting incumbent leader Joseph Kabila's rule are many individuals from all regions of the nation and all areas of authority. From former rebel leaders to washed up politicians, thousands of people have flocked to the voting stations to take part in their nation's push for effective democracy. The Democratic Republic of the Congo has yet to finish counting the votes and release a statement announcing the new President elect. This is a process that is expected to takes weeks based on the lack of infrastructure within the nation.

IIJD, Inc. supports the movement towards free and fair elections in sub-Saharan Africa, as well as the peace and development that it will likely bring to the region. Continued institutional reform within the government and justice system will still be necessary to protect the emerging peace and development processes. IIJD, Inc. applauds the international community on the increased level of devotion in time, money, and man power that it has dedicated to the success of these elections. The long-awaited democratic elections will lead to increased stability in the entire region, which will enable further institutional reforms and economic development to take place.

IIJD Announces Media Sources that have pledged their support for the ICSAA

newspaper graphic

The following news sources have pledged their support in advertising for the ICSAA and A Vision for Africa Gala as well as covering the results of the discussions and findings of the conference.

- ThisDay*, Tanzania
- African Courier Magazine*, Ghana
- Association de la Presse Panafricaine*, Paris
- Panorama*, Jerome Press, Boston
- AfricaRecruit, London

If you are interested in becoming a Friend of IIJD or a Supporting Media Source, please email us at conference.icsaa@org.

Thank you for your support! We are also now taking submissions of photographs taken in Africa and donated art work related to Africa for a silent auction that will take place during the conference. Please email us at conference.icsaa@org for more information!

Sincerely,

Ben Ngachoko
IIJD, Inc.

email: iijd@iijd.org
phone: 617-541-9500
web: http://www.iijd.org

Forward email

Powered by

SafeUnsubscribe®
This email was sent to dacrowde@email.unc.edu, by iijd@iijd.org
Update Profile/Email Address | Instant removal with SafeUnsubscribe™ | Privacy Policy.

IIJD | 2343 Washington St, 2nd floor | Boston | MA | 02199-3216

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of morganr@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 9, 2006 8:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Colon Cancer Survivors needed for communication study

---

Individuals may be eligible if they have a history of successfully treated stage I or II colon cancer, are married or partnered, are between the ages of 25-80, and have no chronic health conditions that significantly limit their ability to exercise. Both spouses/partners must participate in the study.

We are conducting a research study co-sponsored by the UNC School of Medicine and the School of Public Health to gather information about how couples communicate about adopting healthier behaviors. We know that spouses are often part of making decisions about lifestyle changes. Understanding how couples talk about these changes may lead the development of better programs that help people make positive changes to reduce their risk of health problems.

Qualified couples will be asked to do several things:

1) complete self-administered surveys at home;
2) come to our offices on Franklin Street for a two-hour communication exercise that many couples find interesting and enjoyable;
3) wear physical activity monitors for one week. These monitors about the size of a pager, and can be clipped easily to your clothing.

Participating couples will also be contacted at three and six months following the initial visit to campus and asked once again to wear a physical activity monitor for a week and complete self-administered surveys at home. Couples will not be asked to come to campus again. Couples who complete the study will receive $200.

For more information, please e-mail morganr@email.unc.edu.

APPROVED BY UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB on July 31st
IRB STUDY #05-HBHE-130-ORC

This email is sponsored by: School or Public Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jennifer.maxwell@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 9, 2006 9:27 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PHONEBOOK RECYCLING

It's that time of year again...phonebook delivery time.

Please take the time to RECYCLE old phonebooks so they do not end up in the landfill.

Phonebooks may be recycled with newspapers and magazines. Please place phonebooks in the BLUE outdoor carts labeled for "newspapers & magazines". The outdoor carts are located next to the cardboard and trash dumpsters at various locations throughout campus. This program is in place year round, so there is no stop or start date for phonebook recycling.

If you do not have an outdoor cart, please recycle these in the indoor newspaper/magazine recycling bins. If you have a large quantity, please neatly stack these next to the indoor bins so they do not overfill the bins before the service date. Please see our website for more details (www.fac.unc.edu/WasteReduction/Recyclables/phonebooks.asp).

You may also recycle phonebooks in Orange County (http://www.co.orange.nc.us/recycling). This may he done either through curbside recycling if you have curhside collection where you live, or at drop-off sites. There are drop-off sites at the following locations:

Animal Shelter: Off Airport Road on Municipal Drive;
Cedar Falls Park: One mile east of Airport Road off of Weaver Dairy Road;
University Mall: Mall parking lot behind the Texaco Station on Estes Drive;
Carrboro Plaza: Behind ABC Store in southeast corner of the Plaza;
Meadowmont: Behind Harris Teeter

Thanks so much for recycling!

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of instructional_scanning@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 10, 2006 8:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: General Purpose Answer Sheet

ITS provides a computerized scoring and analysis service for true-false and multiple choice tests, based on our NCS "General Purpose Answer Sheet." This service is available for any course offered through the Office of the University Registrar.

We are investigating a request to change the General Purpose Answer Sheet. The General Purpose Answer Sheet is currently in the format of Questions numbered 1 through 200 with bubble answer choices numbered 1 through 5. A faculty member has suggested that it would be clearer to have the bubble answer choices lettered A through E.

Please let us know if:

A. You agree this change would be helpful.
B. This change would negatively impact you or your area.
C. The answer sheet should be available both ways.
D. You need more information about this change.

Please reply to this email with your answer by September 15th.

Thank you,
Instructional Scanning Services

This email is sponsored by: ITS - Infrastructure & Operations

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of PreventDiabetes@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 15, 2006 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Study seeks temporary help

The HEALTHY study, a nationwide collaborative study working to help prevent Type II diabetes in middle school children, needs temporary research assistants. Our study takes place in six North Carolina middle schools located in Nash/Rocky, Lee, Harnett, and Sampson counties. This is a landmark study funded by NIDDK and will offer great research experience.

Temporary research assistants needed to assist with baseline data collection, including anthropometric data, as well as questionnaires. Conversational Spanish is a plus but not required. The postion starts at the end of August until December, 30-40 hours per week anticipated. This position includes early morning hours and will not work for a full time student. Travel is an integral part of this position.

Interested? Please contact The HEALTHY study at PreventDiabetes@unc.edu

IRB Approval # 05-1434

This email is sponsored by: STOPP-T2D

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 17, 2006 8:01 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT August 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The August 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.

CAMPUS NEWS
*Identifying Funding Sources: Workshop for Social Science Faculty
*SRA Certificate Program
*National Conference on Human Subject Protections
*RAMSeS Tips from OSR
*RAMSeS Project Financial Guarantee Approvers
*Hardcopy Proposal Submission and RAMSeS
*New RAMSeS Reporting Features
*Carolina Innovations Seminar Series: How to Avoid Becoming Road Kill on the Road to Technology Commercialization
*Legal Issues in Research
*Conversational Living Room for Health Researchers
*Odum Institute Welcomes New Staff Members
*New Resources from the UNC Libraries
*Electronics Design and Repair Services for Researchers

FUNDING TIPS
*New to UNC-Chapel Hill? Move Your COS Faculty Expertise Profile Too
*Tips for New Faculty
*NC Board of Science and Technology Incentives and Matching Funds
*NC IDEA Grants for Commercialization of Research Innovation
*American Cancer Society Grants and Grantsmanship
*American Society for Hematology Unveils 2006 Agenda

FEDERAL NEWS
*Study on Responsible Conduct of Research Training
*Proposed Change in NIH/AHRQ Grant Appendix Materials
*Department of Education Announces Proposed Funding Priorities
*What Are Your Chances of Getting NIH Funding?
*NIH Outlines Process for Idea Solicitation and Roadmap Initiative Selection
*NEH Digital Humanities Initiative
*NSF Geosciences Directorate Support for Postdoctoral Appointees and Graduate Students: Guidelines for PIs
*National Academies: Technological Literacy of U.S. Population Not Well-Assessed; Additional Surveys Needed

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of baleno@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 21, 2006 8:16 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Sign Up to Save Lives!

Welcome Home UNC!

We here at the UNC Hospitals Platelet Donor Program would like to welcome home all of UNC Students, Staff, and Faculty. This will be an exciting year at Carolina and we want to invite you to join in the fun by becoming an active member of your campus community and help your fellow Carolinians!

That is why we are contacting you- to become an active volunteer in tbe UNC Platelet Program. Many of your extracurricular activities require community service and donating platelets is a great way to earn hours without hassle, as well as belp save lives.

Platelets, which are the component of your blood responsible for clotting, help patients with cancer, leukemia, those undergoing beart or transplant surgery, and trauma victims. Many of you may know a platelet recipient. Through donating, you not only help to save the people you love, but become an active member of your community, as well!

It takes approximately two hours to donate- two hours that could mean a lifetime to another! Platelets have a very short shelf life - only 5 to 7 days - so there is a constant need for donors to avoid shortages!

We offer a variety of appointments between the hours of:
Monday 7:30am-5:15pm
Tuesday.....8:00am-5:30pm
Wednesday.....8:00am-6:00pm
Thursday.....9:30am-6:30pm
Friday.....8:00am-2:00pm
Saturday...9:00am-2:30pm
(only open Saturdays of Holiday Weekends)

Also during your donation donors can watch TV, DVDs, videos, read, work on a laptop, or sleep. We have snacks and drinks while you donate, and free t-shirts! With such a convenient location in the hospital behind Student Health, what could be better than saving lives while sitting back with a movie?!

For more information on platelet donations, or to schedule an appointment, email us at platelet@unch.unc.edu or call 919-966-2730.

We hope to see you all soon!
Kristi and Whitney

This email is sponsored by: UNC Hospitals Platelet Donor Program

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marron@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 21, 2006 10:27 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Free Statistical Consulting

The UNC Department of Statistics and Operations Research announces the availability of free statistical consulting. Our goal is to teach this important skill to graduate students, but you can get some free statistical assistance in the process.

> The course format involves clients giving a presentation about the problem at hand. This generates a question and answer dialog, which by itself has proven to be useful in helping clients formulate their ideas. Then typically one student is assigned to work on the actual data, with a final written report expected.

In the past we have worked with a very wide range of clients, from Masters students needing help with the statistical end of their dissertation, all the way up to distinguished professors. While there are limits to what can be done in the context of this course, some contacts initially made through this course have led to ongoing joint research, grant proposals and published papers in very diverse fields.

> To sign up for this type of consulting, or to discuss this further, please contact Steve Marron, Department of Statistics and Operations Research, UNC, CB 3260, Email: marron@email.unc.edu. Additional information is available at the web address:

http://www.stat-or.unc.edu/stat-or/consulting/quantitative

This email is sponsored by: Statistics and Operations Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of LearnIT@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 22, 2006 8:02 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Computer-Based Training as Classroom Supplement

---

Computer-Based Training (CBT) is a free service provided by Information Technology Services (ITS) to all faculty, staff, and students at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Some faculty have expressed a desire for students to have additional skills and expertise in technology that will help them plan, develop, and implement class projects such as in-class presentations, Web sites, and multimedia pieces.

I'd like to remind you that CBT courses may help your students gain relevant skills. Our CBT service includes courses on PowerPoint, Web authoring, Photoshop, project management, and over 2800 more! Also, please remember that the Student Stores RAM Shop offers educational prices for several multimedia software applications for which CBT courses are offered. (The RAM Shop's main store is temporarily located under the Health Affairs Bookstore which borders the Bell Tower parking lot. Their main phone number is 962-2422.)

You should, of course, review any CBT course before recommending it to your students to be sure it meets your learning objectives. If you have questions or comments about the service, please let us know.

--
LearnIT@unc.edu
Division of Teaching and Learning
Information Technology Services

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services, Division of Teaching and Learning

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of baleno@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 22, 2006 11:00 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Platelet Donor Program: CORRECTION!!

Dear UNC Students, Staff, and Faculty,

Please note that in the email sent out last night/early morning, our number is listed incorrectly. The number to UNC Hospitals Platelet Donor Program is 919-966-2370. We apologize for our error!

Thank you,
UNC Hospitals Platelet Donor Program

This email is sponsored by: UNC Hospitals Platelet Donor Program

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 22, 2006 11:37 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Excellence in Research Administration Award

---

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development is calling for nominations for the third annual Excellence in Research Administration Award. This award will recognize a University employee for meritorious and distinguished accomplishments in research administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. A $500 cash award will be presented to the selected research administrator. The nomination form can be found at http://research.unc.edu/red/excellence_research_admin.doc

To be eligible for nomination the individual must be a permanent University employee (SPA, EPA Non Faculty or Non-Tenure Track Faculty) Some of the factors you may want to consider in preparing your nomination justification for outstanding accomplishments include:

*Exemplifies the research mission of the department, school, and university
*Promotes training and continuing education in research
*Provides excellent customer service to the research community
*Champions protection and preservation of the institution
*Advocates the creation and dissemination of new knowledge
*Engages in service to the profession
*Advances team building and participation within the department, school, and university
*Enhances infrastructure in support of research
*Collects and disseminates funding opportunities
*Facilitates proposal development and submission
*Guarantees timely proposal review and clearance
*Facilitates collaborative project development
*Directs project implementation and financial management
*Safeguards the protection of human and animal subjects
*Promotes collaboration between departmental and central administration
*Ensures project integrity and compliance
*Streamlines programs and procedures for proposal submission
*Designs and implements programs and procedures that support the research effort of the department, school, and university

Nominations must be received by October 16, 2006. Please submit nominations to:
Tony Waldrop, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, CB# 4000, 312 South Building, UNC at Chapel Hill, 27599-4000.

Sherrie Settle (School of Pharmacy) received the 2005 Excellence in Research Administration Award. The 2005 finalists also recognized for their accomplishments in research administration were: Elodia Cole (LCCC & Biomedical Research Imaging Center), Suzan deSerres (Dept. of Surgery), Vicki Haitcock (Institute of Advanced Materials) and Chris Horaist (Carolina Cardiovascular Biology Center).

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 23, 2006 4:41 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re: SWAH TA]
Attach: Re_ SWAH TA (1.57 KB).msg

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of morganr@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 23, 2006 9:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Couples needed for communication study about physical activity

---

Compensation information omitted from previous e-mail. Details below.

Individuals who are married or partnered, between the ages of 30-75, and have no chronic health conditions that significantly limit their ability to exercise may be eligible. In addition, one partner must have a first-degree relative (parent, child, or sibling) who was diagnosed with colon cancer before age 60. Your spouse must participate in the study with you.

We are conducting a research study co-sponsored by the UNC School of Medicine and the School of Public Health to gather information about how couples communicate about adopting healthier behaviors. We know that spouses are often part of making decisions about lifestyle changes. Understanding how couples talk about these changes may lead the development of better programs that help people make positive changes to reduce their risk of health problems.

Qualified couples will be asked to do several things:

1) complete self-administered surveys at home;
2) come to our offices on Franklin Street for a two-hour communication exercise that many couples find interesting and enjoyable;
3) wear physical activity monitors for one week. These monitors about the size of a pager, and can be clipped easily to your clothing.

Participating couples will also be contacted at three and six months following the initial visit to campus and asked once again to wear a physical activity monitor for a week and complete self-administered surveys at home. Couples will not be asked to come to campus again. Couples who complete the study will receive $200.

For more information, please e-mail morganr@email.unc.edu.

Approved by UNC-Chapel Hill Biomedical IRB on May 15, 2006.
IRB Study # 05-HBHE-130-ORC
Principal Investigator: Megan Lewis, Ph.D.

This email is sponsored by: Health Behavior and Health Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rcoble@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 24, 2006 3:18 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Mindfulness Program

Mindfulness programs offer training in meditation, mind-body awareness exercises and other awareness techniques that will teach you how to slow down, set priorities and stay calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life in ways that will enhance your body's natural adaptive and healing ability.

The UNC Program on Integrative Medicine has upcoming opportunities to learn about mindfulness and how to apply it to daily life. For more information, please visit http://pim.med.unc.edu and click on Mindfulness, or contact Becky Coble at email:
rcoble@med.unc.edu
or at (919) 966-8586

Registration is open through Tuesday, September 12, 2006.
~~~
~~~

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 24, 2006 8:27 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2007 JR FACULTY DEVELOPMENT AWARDS

TO: Non-tenured Members of the Faculty

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost
Chair, Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves

SUBJECT: Awards for Junior Faculty Development

DATE: August 24, 2006

The University will accept applications this fall for Junior Faculty Development awards paid from endowment income from The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Foundation. The awards, up to the amount of $7,500, are to be expended during the period beginning January 1, 2007, and ending December 31, 2007.

I. The following terms apply to the awards:

A. Applicants must be full-time, salaried faculty members without tenure and must not have been proposed for tenure prior to the application deadline date, Monday, September 25, 2006.

B. Preference will be given first to persons holding the rank of Assistant Professor and then to persons holding the rank of Associate Professor. Individuals holding fixed-term appointments will generally be considered as less competitive.

C. Applicants in the second, third, or fourth year of service at the time of their application will be given preference over first-time applicants with fewer than two or more than four years' service.

D. No person who has previously received an award will be eligible for a second award.

E. Money from the award may not be used to provide release time from regular employment. For persons on nine months contracts, the money may be used to provide summer salary and fringe benefits; this source of funds will count as part of the one-third allowable for faculty members on nine months service. Summer salary will be subject to the usual deductions. Since the awards are required to cover fringe benefit costs, the entire amount of an award cannot be paid as salary.

F. Funds from the awards may also be used for supplies, equipment, salaries of assistants, travel, or to assist with any other dimension of faculty development.

G. Under no circumstances will a faculty member on nine months service who uses the Junior Faculty Development Award for summer salary be allowed to teach Summer School or serve as an administrator in the Summer School during the summer in the year of the award.

II. Applications should consist of:

A. a letter to the Chair of the Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves

B. a curriculum vitae

C. a narrative description of one or two pages describing the project to be undertaken and in no case should more than two such pages be submitted

D. a proposed budget which cannot exceed $7,500. The budget should show the kinds of expenditures proposed, e.g., salary, fringe benefits, travel, equipment, etc.

E. an indication of other funds (e.g., NEH Summer Fellowships, University Research Council awards, etc.) which will be used or which are available for the support of the project

F. a letter of endorsement from the applicant's department or curriculum chair or, in the case of non-departmentalized schools, the Dean of the School.

The original and seven copies of the application must reach the Office of the Provost, CB #8000, 218 South Building before 5:00 p.m. on Monday, September 25, 2006. Applications presented after that time will not be considered by the Committee.

IV. The Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves will consist of the following individuals for the 2006-07 Academic Year: the Deans of the School of Medicine and the College of Arts and Sciences, two faculty members (one from Academic Affairs, one from Health Affairs), the Executive Associate Provost, the Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives, and the Provost as Chair.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gregory@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 24, 2006 8:47 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Help Basketball Marathon!

The Duke-Carolina Student Basketball Marathon as seen on ABC's Good Morning America, CBS' Early Show, ESPN's Cold Pizza and Sports Center cordially invites you to be a part of the action this school year.

Help us beat Duke Students in basketball and raise money for terminally-ill children throughout the triangle.

We are now recruiting...

Committee Members: Help organize this year's marathon event throughout the year.
Applications available at:
http://www.basketballmarathon.com/involved/planningboard.htm

Players/Coaches: Want to help defeat Duke? Sign up to participate as a coach or player. University departments, student organizations and clubs are welcome to submit a team application to play rival University departments, student organizations and clubs at Duke.

Volunteers: Signup to volunteer during the Basketball Marathon weekend

For more information please e-mail: gregory@unc.edu

Or visit our website: www.basketballmarathon.com/home

This email is sponsored by: Basketball Marathon

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 24, 2006 10:05 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Public Safety Notice

NOTICE: Public Safety Offers Tips on Bike Theft Prevention

The UNC-Chapel Hill Department of Public Safety is reminding the campus community to take extra precautions and report any suspicious activity in the wake of a recent increase in bicycle thefts reported on campus. Bicycles reportedly have been stolen at various times throughout the daytime hours and at various locations around campus. Most of these thefts involve cutting through cable-style locks to steal the bicycles.

While Public Safety officers are working diligently to prevent larcenies of bicycles on campus and to identify and arrest the person(s) who are stealing these bikes, we invite and encourage your assistance with our efforts:

-- All bicycles on campus must be registered through the Department of Public Safety. The mandatory bike registration is free at the Public Safety Building or online at the following website: http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/alternatives/bikeregistration.htm

-- UNC Public Safety's Larceny Reduction Unit also offers educational programs aimed at improving bicycle security for the University Community;

-- Please call 9-1-1 immediately to report anyone acting suspicious on campus or around campus bike racks.

Additionally, those with information concerning bicycle thefts or other crimes on campus are urged to call CrimeStoppers at (919) 942-7515 or UNC Investigations at (919) 966-2120. All conversations are confidential; no one must identify themselves or appear in court.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 28, 2006 8:04 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2007-08 COMPETITIVE RESEARCH & SCHOLARLY LEAVES

TO: Members of the Faculty

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost
Chair, Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves

SUBJECT: Competitive Research and Scholarly Leaves

DATE: August 28, 2006

The University will accept applications this fall for competitive research leaves. The leaves are to be taken in the period beginning July 1, 2007, and ending June 30, 2008. Funds supporting these leaves in 2007-08 will pay a full salary for half of the annual service period of the applicant or a half salary for the full annual service period up to a maximum amount of $60,000.

The competition for these leaves is very intense because the funds available have been substantially reduced. Leaves are paid from Kenan, Pogue, William R. Kenan, Jr., William N. Reynolds, and R.J. Reynolds Industries. Thus faculty are strongly urged to apply outside the University for support for their research and creative projects. Further, faculty who expect any kind of leave consideration will buttress their case if they have applied for both the University leaves and those awarded by outside agencies.

I. The following terms apply to the leaves:

A. Any full-time salaried member of the faculty is eligible to apply unless fewer than five years have elapsed since the applicant's return from one of the leaves listed in the second paragraph of this announcement.

B. Preference will be given to applicants who have tenure and to those who have not had an off-campus assignment during the past three years. Individuals holding fixed-term appointments will generally be considered as less competitive. Length and distinction of the service of the applicant may be recognized by the Committee in making its recommendations for leave awards, but the quality of the research proposal itself will be the paramount consideration. The Committee will be influenced by the research experience of the applicant and by the prospect that work done during the leave will make a significant research contribution or, in the case of proposals dealing with the creative arts and letters, creative contribution. The Committee may also consider the contribution which the research is likely to make in furthering the career of the faculty member and the research interests of the University.

C. Proposals dealing with creative activity and study by artists, musicians, and writers will be considered together with proposals for scholarly research.

D. While on leave with full pay, successful applicants may not receive through the University payroll office any salary payments other than leave pay from one of the sources mentioned above (e.g. Kenan, Pogue, etc.); or in cases where the rate of pay exceeds the predetermined maximum, another non-state (i.e. trust funds) source of funds. Persons receiving half pay while on leave may not also hold half-time teaching posts in the University.

II. Announcement of leave awards will be made before December 31, 2006.

Applicants should submit the original and seven copies of the application to the Office of the Provost, CB #8000, 218 South Building. Completed applications must be received in the Office of the Provost before 5:00 p.m. on Monday, October 2, 2006, in order to be considered by the Committee.

III. Applications should consist of the original and seven copies of:

A. a letter to the Chair of the Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves

B. a description of the work to be undertaken during the leave. The description should provide some detail, but under no circumstances should the description exceed two pages in length.

The description should also indicate what the research leave would do for the applicant and for the institution, describe the significance of the research work to the field, and relate the significance of the research work to the applicant's overall research and career development. The applicant should specify the time period proposed for the leave and should identify any non-University sources of support which may be available during the period of the proposed leave;

C. a curriculum vitae of the applicant with indications of past leaves or released time or reassignment of duties;

D. a supporting statement from the immediate superior of the applicant. When there is a case of more than one application from a department or school, the chair or dean/director will be asked to rank the applications.

IV. The Committee on Faculty Research and Study Leaves will consist of the following individuals for the 2006-07 Academic Year: the Deans of the School of Medicine and the College of Arts and Sciences, two faculty members (one from Academic Affairs, one from Health Affairs), the Executive Associate Provost, the Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives, and the Provost as Chair.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sdmoody@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 28, 2006 9:45 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Interested in becoming a Group Ftiness Instructor?

Are you interested in teaching Group Fitness Classes? Group Fitness includes abs classes, indoor cycle, step aerobics, kickboxing, pilates, muscle pump, and so much more!

Carolina Fitness offers a semester-long Fitness Instructor Training Program (FITP) to all students, faculty, and staff of UNC.

For more information on this training program, and to find out how you can become a certified fitness instructor, visit:

http://www.carolinafitness.unc.edu/src/src_files/fitness_schedule.htm

to view a presentation on FITP and fill out your application. Applications are due this week.

~Carolina Fitness~

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Fitness

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 29, 2006 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Public Safety Tips

UNC Department of Public Safety Offers Campus Community
Personal Safety Tips

UNC Department of Public Safety officials would like to remind campus community members of ways they can help to increase their level of personal safety in the wake of an attempted robbery near the campus this weekend. According to the Chapel Hill Police department, the incident occurred along Cameron Avenue near Mallette Street at about 10 p.m. Friday (Aug. 25).

Three UNC students were approached by a 5-foot-10-inch white male who demanded a wallet. Before he could take the wallet, he fled the scene in an SUV driven by a black male. No one was injured in the incident; no further descriptions were available of the suspects or vehicle.

UNC Public Safety would like to stress the importance of students, faculty, and staff continuing to practice caution through steps including the following:

* Use UNC's Point-to-Point Express service, free to students, operating between 7 p.m. and 3 a.m. daily. Access UNC's free Point-to-Point demand service by calling (919) 962-7867 (962-P-TO-P) and providing your UNC personal identification number. The service is available to UNC students, faculty and staff at locations not served by the P2P Express Route or after normal P2P Express service hours.

* Use Chapel Hill Transit, free to all passengers. Visit the Chapel Hill Transit Web site at:
http://www.chtransit.org

* Use the free Safe Ride Program, serving parts of campus, Chapel Hill, and Carrboro from 10:45 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays. For more Safe Ride information, visit:
http://www.unc.edu/saferide

Point-to-Point augments this program with service from midnight through 3 a.m., Monday through Thursday, transporting students from in front of the Student Union on South Road to their residence halls.

* Don't walk alone at night. If you must walk outdoors after dark, use the buddy system. Walk in well-lit areas of campus. Stay alert to your surroundings.

* Never accept rides from strangers. Do not get into vehicles with people you don't know personally.

* Report ALL suspicious activity by calling 9-1-1 or by using emergency call boxes located across campus.

For more safety tips and updates, call the UNC Department of Public Safety at (919) 962-3951 or visit our Web site:
http://www.dps.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 30, 2006 9:08 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Football Home Game Parking

2006 UNC Football Game Day Parking Alert

This notice is a reminder to the UNC campus community that certain lots are reserved for home football games. On home football game Saturdays, vehicles must be removed from those lots or risk being ticketed ($20 fine) and towed ($90 - $100 fee). On these days, please do NOT park your vehicle in the reserved game lots. Alternate parking is available for working employees, students and hospital patients/visitors (see list below). If your vehicle is parked in a reserved football lot (see list below), it will automatically be ticketed and/or towed beginning 8 a.m. on football Saturdays.

****

Employee Permits or Official Employee Identification Cards will be honored in the following lots:
Swain, Peabody, Old East, Emerson, Davis, Dogwood Deck, International Relations, Beard, Law School (Upper) Lot For Employees Reporting Directly to Work, Craige Deck for CD permit holders reporting to work, Cobb Deck for ND employee permit holders reporting to work, JD and Cardinal Deck for JD and PD permit holders reporting to work.

Note: Student Resident Lots are reserved for students and the Dogwood Deck is available for patients/visitors.

****

RESERVED PARKING - Special Football Permit Required on Game Days:
Ramshead Deck*, Business Deck (BD), Navy Field*, Morehead, Public Safety Lot*, Bowles Lot*, Law Programs Lot*, Highway 54 (at the SOG), Cardinal Deck, Smith Lot / Smith Drive*, Stadium Drive*, South Road Meters, Bell Tower Lot*, Avery Dorm Lot*, School of Government, Cobb Deck, Crescent Lot*, Koury Lot*, Children / Women's Lot, Ridge Road (S2/S3), Fetzer Drive, Carmichael Drive, Craige Deck (CD), T Lot (Outdoor Recreation), and Bynum Circle.

To facilitate reserved football parking operations, towing is enforced in the lots marked with an "*" and possibly from the other listed lots.

****

Saturday Home Football Schedule:
- September 2 vs. Rutgers
- September 9 vs. Virginia Tech
- September 16 vs. Furman
- October 14 vs. South Florida
- October 28 vs. Wake Forest
- November 11 vs. Georgia Tech.
- November 18 vs. NC State

****
Please note some roadways will be restricted and others altered for one-way traffic on home football game days. For complete football parking and transportation information, including alternative game day transportation and instructions on procuring game day permits for working employees/graduate students, please call UNC Public Safety at 962-3951, Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. or log onto the Public Safety website at:

"http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/specialevents/athletics/football.htm"

Thank you for your cooperation this Season! Go Tar Heels!

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 30, 2006 11:23 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Protecting Trees in the Historic Quads

---

Stretching from South Building to Wilson Library, Polk Place is one of the most recognizable areas of campus. The trees on Polk Place began declining and dying at an increasing rate over the past few years, and last fall the University formed a task force, which I chaired, to address the issue.

Throughout the 2005-06 academic year, we met to consider methods for preserving the historic quadrangles. We engaged Bartlett Tree Research Laboratory to assess the problem and advise us on steps we could take to preserve and enhance the health of these trees, and a landscape architect then provided renderings of Bartlett's various proposals for our evaluation. This was a collaborative process over a long period of time.

Bartlett consultants found high levels of compaction -- similar to the density of brick -- in the soil around these trees, and advised us that in order for the trees to survive we needed to remediate the compaction and take steps to prevent its recurrence. They also advised us that the trees needed a more rigorous program of feeding and disease prevention than is employed in areas with normal levels of activity.

Our grounds employees acted quickly to implement the remediation measures, some of which you may have already noticed -- like the enlarged mulch rings around the bases of trees on Polk Place. In late fall, when the summer growth period has passed, a contractor will complete the remediation plan by using forced air to de-compact the soil.

To prevent recurrence of the compaction, revisions were made to the campus facilities use policy, which governs areas such as Polk Place and McCorkle Place. The policy was updated to limit pedestrian traffic within the dripline of the trees on Polk Place, including requiring temporary fencing for large events. This green fabric fencing will be noticeable this weekend at Tar Heel Town, which precedes home football games, and may provide the most visible evidence of the policy change. The only other major policy revisions are restrictions on the location of tents, stages and other structures. The policy, referencing the consultant study details, is available at www.unc.edu/campus/policies/facility_use.html.

With the updated policy and guidelines, University-related groups can still reserve these historic quads as in the past, but there is a new approval process and a permit is required.

Information regarding the new process, as well as the reservation application, can be found on the web at www.campusservices.unc.edu, click on Facilities Use Request for External Space. The ONYEN and password are required. Now available is a streamlined online reservation system, which is more convenient and user-friendly for campus groups.

With the revised policy guidelines, we are not taking away any use of the space. This policy is designed to preserve the space for everyone to continue to use and enjoy. As always, classes, study and recreation will remain part of this vibrant heart of the Carolina campus. Thank you for helping us keep Carolina beautiful for future generations.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Elfland
Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Services

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

Returning from a service or internship program in AFRICA?

Come to a follow-up workshop just for you!

September 20, 5:30-8 pm

Stone Center–Hitchcock Multi-purpose room

Light Refreshments

We know your time in Africa was important on many levels. Come share and reflect on your experiences with other students and faculty!

What will you get out of this?

- a deeper awareness of the political, social, economic and ethical issues around your travel, both the successes that you may have achieved, and the problems and complex meanings of your work.

- the opportunity to reflect on your experiences with others and to think about what comes next for you.

for more information contact Barbara Anderson banders1@email.unc.edu 843-1895

Please RSVP to Barbara or to Lucy Lewis at the Campus Y: lwlewis@email.unc.edu 962-2084

Co-sponsored by the African Studies Center and the Campus Y

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of umdprojectteam@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 31, 2006 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Wellness Awareness Survey

As part of a project within the University Management Development Program, our Project Team has created a brief survey with the purpose of gathering information that will help us to determine the level of awareness University employees have in regards to Wellness and Work Life resources at UNC.

Please take the time to complete the survey found within the link below by September 15, 2006:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=693642485314

Your responses will be anonymous and used to help develop recommendations on how to centralize Wellness and Work Life Resources at UNC.

Thank You,
Employee Wellness Awareness UMD Project Team

This email is sponsored by: University Management Development Program

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, August 31, 2006 10:22 AM
To: Julius E Nyang'Oro <JEN321@EMAIL.UNC.EDU>
Subject: [Fwd: Re: Friday won't work]
Attach: Re_ Friday won't work (1.60 KB).msg

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 1, 2006 5:46 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Call for Proposals: Diversity Incentive Fund

---

Dear Colleagues

I am pleased to invite you to submit a proposal to the Diversity Incentive Fund, an exciting funding source established in 2005 to support diversity initiatives at Carolina.

The Diversity Incentive Fund is intended to encourage faculty, staff, and students in the creation of new opportunities for interaction and cross group learning through innovative diversity programs and activities. The fund is specifically designed to provide support for new, innovative and creative approaches to engaging a broad cross-section of the University community in issues related to diversity. Up to $2500 may be awarded per project.

For more information, including application guidelines, please see www.unc.edu/diversity/diversityincentive . Please submit your application at least 30 days before the funds are needed. Please contact Dr. Cookie Newsom, Director for Diversity Education and Assessment, at newsom@email.unc.edu or 919-843-5517 with any questions about this opportunity.

Archie W. Ervin
Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

This email is sponsored by: Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 1, 2006 8:42 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Help us evaluate retrieval systems for WWW

We are developing some computer interfaces to help people search for information on the WWW. We need your input in order to make these interfaces useful for their intended audience. If you participate in this study, you will be asked to conduct searches in and answer some questions about three different retrieval interfaces. The study will take place on campus. Your interactions with the retrieval systems will be logged for later analysis, but the logs will not include any identifying information about you. You will also be asked to complete several short questionnaires about your experience. The entire procedure will take about two hours; you will receive $20 as compensation for your effort.

If you are interested in participating in this study or have questions about it, please got to the following website and sign up: http://idl.ils.unc.edu/~ohjs/rhstudy/recruit.php The first 55 people to respond will be scheduled for participation and the next 15 will be placed in an alternative pool.

This study has received IRB approval 06-0393.

This email is sponsored by: SILS

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 1, 2006 9:45 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Chancellor's Invitation to State of the University Speech

---

Dear Students, Faculty, and Staff:

I invite you all to attend my sixth annual State of the University address this coming Wednesday, September 6th, at 3 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Frank Porter Graham Student Union.

This year, my speech will examine our overarching pursuit of excellence in academics, research and public service as we continue to consider becoming the nation's leading public university. Specific topics will include, but are not limited to, graduation rates, an important benchmark of success, and the future of the research enterprise at Carolina. I will also discuss issues such as globalization, Carolina North, our information technology needs, and the final recommendation of the Chancellor's Task Force on University Engagement, the formation of which was announced during last year's speech.

The State of the University speech is an important opportunity to assess our past progress and future direction for the year. It is also an occasion for me to recognize key colleagues and announce new initiatives and goals.

I value the opportunity to talk with you in person about our University each year. I hope you can be there on Wednesday. Attendance is considered work time for staff employees, with advance approval from their supervisors.

Sincerely,

James Moeser, Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 1, 2006 11:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2007 University Teaching Awards

September 1, 2006

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Dr. Barbara Entwisle, Chair
University Committee on Teaching Awards

SUBJECT: Teaching Award Nominations

Each year, we acknowledge the central role of teaching at UNC-Chapel Hill by recognizing faculty, staff and students for outstanding teaching and mentoring. The University Committee on Teaching Awards values your nominations of deserving faculty members and graduate teaching assistants for distinguished teaching awards. Please take a moment to think of those who are deserving of these awards and nominate them via the website

http://www.unc.edu/provost/teachawards

The committee will review the nominees, collect additional information about their teaching and recommend winners to the Chancellor. This year, we will select recipients for five types of awards:

Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching: This award is given by the Board of Governors to a tenured faculty member on each UNC campus for excellent and exceptional teaching at the undergraduate level over a sustained period of time. If you nominate someone for this award, please include a curriculum vitae.

Distinguished Teaching Awards for Post-Baccalaureate Instruction: Four awards are given to faculty members for exceptional teaching of post-baccalaureate students.

Awards to Faculty for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching: Five Tanner Awards, one Friday Award, one Sanders Award and one Sitterson Award are given to full-time faculty members.

Tanner Awards to Graduate Teaching Assistants: Five Tanner Awards are given to graduate teaching assistants for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement: This award acknowledges lifetime contributions to teaching, learning and mentoring beyond the classroom and is not limited to traditional faculty. If you nominate someone for this award, please focus on his or her long-term impact on students.
University Professor of Distinguished Teaching: This award to presented every three years and was established to recognize career-long excellence in teaching. One will be for tenured faculty in Academic Affairs (including professional schools) and one for tenured faculty in Health Affairs.
Please submit all nominations online.

http://www.unc.edu/provost/teachawards

No individual may receive more than one award. It is important that you provide comments on the ballot that will help the committee understand why your nominee is such a good teacher. The comments will become part of the nominee's departmental personnel file. You may address questions me (962-66-1710 entwisle@unc.edu) or Ms. Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Provost: (962-7882 / debbie_stevenson@unc.edu).

The deadline for submitting nominations is Saturday, October 1, 2006, at 5:00 p.m.
Thank you for your help in rewarding excellent teaching at Carolina!

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of beasleyt@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 5, 2006 10:41 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Clinical Trial

The Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking patients for a clinical research study to evaluate a new investigational drug for type 2 diabetes. If you are living with type 2 diabetes, you may be interested in participating in this study.

You may qualify if you...
* are between the ages of 18 and 80
* have been treated for type 2 diabetes with one or more Oral Anit-Diabetic Medications for at least three months
* are NOT currently taking daily insulin

What Can You Expect?
If you are eligible, you will receive study-related care and study medication at no cost, and will receive diabetes counseling and education throughout the course of the trial. If all visits occur, you will receive a total of $300.00.

Please share this message with friends and family.

Please call Tanisha Beasley at 484-0931 ext.274 for more information.

Thank you!

This study and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects.
IRB study # 05-MED-1080

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 6, 2006 2:28 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: William S. Newman Series for UNC Faculty and Staff

---

Dear UNC Faculty and Staff,

This is your annual invitation to subscribe to the Music Department's William S. Newman Artists Series, just in time for Saturday evening's September Prelude concert of "French Impressionist" chamber music for strings, winds, piano and harp by Faure, Debussy and Ravel in Memorial Hall.

September Prelude is the joint effort of the three major chamber music presenters in Durham, Chapel Hill and Raleigh. In the true spirit of a festival, September Prelude brings together UNC, Duke and ECU faculty, North Carolina Symphony principal players and special guests for a weekend of chamber music in all three venues.

Your WSN individual or family subscription entitles you to a series of concerts which will include, in addition to September Prelude, a piano recital by one of America's leading piano pedagogues, John Perry, an anniversary-year tribute to "Our Favorite Mozart" performed by UNC string, piano and voice faculty, the return of the Vega String Quartet with UNC pianist Thomas Otten, a contempoary music concert with the Brentano String Quartet and Bach's B Minor Mass with Carolina Choir and Ensemble Courant performing on period instruments, 6 concerts in all.

We offer subscriptions at the following discounted price:

Discounted Subscriptions for UNC Faculty and Staff:

Individual subscription, 6 concerts: $50
Family subscription: two adults and their children, 6 concerts: $90

We hope you will take advantage of this generous offer and join us for a series of concerts particularly relevant to the mission of the UNC Music Department. Please send checks to William S. Newman Artists Series, Department of Music, Hill Hall, CB #3320, UNC campus. Subscriptions may also be ordered by phone with a credit card. Please call 919-962-1039.

Please check the following link for complete dates and program information.

http://music.unc.edu/calendars/newman/

This email is sponsored by: UNC Music Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 6, 2006 10:26 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingle. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

?Estas intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ?Conoce alguien que esta? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigacisn sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar mas sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envma un correo electrsnico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, nzinero de telifono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartireinos tu direccisn de correo electrsnico con personas ajenas a esta investigacisn. Para obtener mayor informacisn, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefsnica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estin intentando quedar embarazadas

!Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener mas conocimientos simplemente compartiendo informacisn sobre si misina y su einbarazo. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiologma de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departainento de Obstetricia y Ginecologma de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el coinienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisisn Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of oebd@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 6, 2006 11:23 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CED/CGP Reminder--Deadline 9/20/06

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS--COMMUNITY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMPETITIVE GRANTS PROGRAM
APPLICATION DEADLINE 9/20/06

At part of Carolina's ongoing efforts to pursue engaged scholarship and service, the Office of Economic and Business Development, in partnership with the Carolina Center for Public Service, announces the Community Economic Development Competitive Grants Program. The $97,000 program will fund projects with potential to improve the economic competitiveness of both businesses and communities across a wide range of issues in North Carolina. Specifically, the Program will fund projects that address the areas of opportunity identified at the Carolina Summit on Community Economic Development.

Application deadline is September 20, 2006. Tenured, tenure track, and fixed term faculty members from any Carolina school, college, center or institute are eligible. Faculty members from any discipline are encouraged to apply.

Additional information and application materials are available online at http://research.unc.edu/oebd/programs.php#cedcgp. If you have questions about this program, or if you would like to discuss how your research and engagement efforts might benefit businesses and communities in North Carolina, please contact the Office of Economic and Business Development at oebd@unc.edu or (919) 843-5453.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Economic and Business Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 7, 2006 8:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Interested in Pharmacy School?

Are you interested in pharmacy school and planning to take the Pharmacy College
Admissions Test (PCAT), a national examination necessary to gain admission into most schools of pharmacy? Join us for a PCAT Preparatory Review Program to help you perform at your highest potential on the PCAT exam. This intensive review will focus on key elements of chemistry, biology, math, and English covered on the PCAT exam and include a timed PCAT practice exam.

This program will be hosted by the Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA), a student organization affiliated with UNC's School of Pharmacy.

For more information, please visit the UNC School of Pharmacy homepage at http://www.pharmacy.unc.edu or send an email to pcatreview@listserv.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA)

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 7, 2006 9:35 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Launches New Diversity Plan

Dear Members of the Carolina Community:

Diversity is a key component of our Academic Plan and our pursuit of excellence as an educational institution. The scope of diversity includes experiences and perspectives of students, staff, and faculty as they relate to race, gender, age, class, sexuality, culture, nationality, disability, religion, and regional diversity.

To assure that Carolina is on the path to excellence, we will implement a Diversity Plan designed to strengthen our institution's commitment to diversity. This plan will establish a common set of goals for university leaders and provide an avenue for sharing the strategies developed and the outcomes achieved related to the following five goals:

1. Define and publicize the University's commitment to diversity.
2. Achieve the critical masses of underrepresented populations necessary to ensure the educational benefits of diversity in faculty, staff, students, and executive, administrative and managerial positions.
3. Make high quality diversity education, orientation, and training available to all members of the university community.
4. Create and sustain a climate in which respectful discussions of diversity are encouraged and take leadership in creating opportunities for interaction and cross group learning.
5. Support further research to advance the University's commitment to diversity.

Unit leaders will submit baseline reports this fall and an initial full diversity report in spring 2007, as part of the annual budget review process.

I seek your support in this endeavor as we implement this annual process to assess the state of diversity at Carolina. Specifically, I invite you to familiarize yourself with the Diversity Plan at www.unc.edu/diversity/diversityplan. I am relying on the support of all faculty, staff and students in helping us realize our diversity goals. Thank you for your commitment and dedication.

To learn more about the diversity plan or to address related questions, please contact Archie Ervin, Associate Provost for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, at aervin@email.unc.edu or 919-962-6962.

James Moeser
Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 8, 2006 12:37 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT September 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The September 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.

CAMPUS NEWS
*UNC's Total Research Receipts Reach All-Time High in FY06
*Senior Director of Post-award Services Passes Away
*Excellence in Research Administration Award
*Identifying Funding Sources Workshop for School of Public Health Faculty and Staff
*Technology Development Boot Camp
*Fall Short Courses at the Odum Institute
*Commensal Bacteria in Health and Disease Symposium
*Seminar with Gerber Foundation Program Manager
*New Location for Office of Animal Care and Use
*New Director of the UNC Highway Safety Research Center
*New Evaluation Consultant at Odum Institute
*Academic Job Search Workshops Offered by the Office of Postdoctoral Services
*Free Statistical Consulting from Department of Statistics and Operations Research
*New Resources from the UNC Libraries

FUNDING TIPS
*Starting a Funding Search
*New Record Track Alert Feature in COS
*Did You Check Your Assembled NIH Application?
*Funding Environmental Improvements Workshop in Pine Knoll Shores
*New Exchange Program Supporting Collaborations between Researchers in U.K. and Other Countries

FEDERAL NEWS
*Study on Responsible Conduct of Research Training
*Avoid the Rush--Submit Your NIH Electronic Application Early
*NIH Website for New Investigators
*Funding for Research on Interactions of Biological Sciences with Society
*New NIH Policy for Funding Tuition, Fees, and Health Insurance on NRSAs
*OLAW Brochure about the Use of Animals in Research
*Domestic Nuclear Detection Office Considering Advanced Research Initiative
*FDA Draft Guidance on Patients Unable to Give Informed Consent

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and

Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 8, 2006 12:55 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Flexible Scheduling and Telecommuting Survey

---

This e-mail message points to a survey to determine how often two work options that have been supported by the Office of the Chancellor are actually implemented on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus, and how those options are working for individuals and for departments. The survey asks about teleworking, an option more readily available in certain office-based positions, and about flexible scheduling, a work option that is particularly important for jobs that can only be done when the employee is physically present on the job site.

Responses will be reported in the aggregate, except in questions asking for narrative feedback. For those questions, your answers will treated confidentially; any identifying information will be removed from your responses.

Please answer all of the following questions as they apply to you and your job.

Thank you for your time and responses. We on the Forum appreciate your help in collecting this information. The survey will close September 27.

Follow this link to take the survey:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=163002527301

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent:	Saturday, September 9, 2006 12:02 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Psychological Treatment Offered by UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

---

Psychological Treatment Offered by the UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic!

The UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic offers psychological treatment to children, adolescents, adults and couples in the community. The Clinic, which is affiliated with the UNC-CH Clinical Psychology Ph.D. program, provides a sliding fee scale based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed clinical psychologists.
Adults and couples are seen in our on-campus location that is conveniently located in Davie Hall; we have limited openings for adults with substance abuse concerns. Children and adolescents are seen in our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road with afternoon and evening appointments and adjacent parking. Please visit our website at psychologyclinic.unc.edu or contact the clinic at 962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu for more information.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research@Project-Compassion.org
Sent: Sunday, September 10, 2006 12:10 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Ever helped someone facing serious illness or physical limitation

---

Have you ever volunteered to help someone (other than a family member) facing serious illness or physical limitations? Have you volunteered in the past three years either informally or through an organization? If so, would you be interested in helping researchers learn more about your experiences?

The goals of the research -
* To find out what types of caregiving support is provided by non-family members
* To learn about the range of volunteer experiences
* To use what we learn to help people in all communities support individuals with serious illness and physical limitations

How to participate -
* Contact us: call (919) 962-2124 or email research@Project-Compassion.org to find out if you are eligible.
* If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend about 45 minutes to complete a questionnaire - at home and at your convenience.
* You may choose to receive the questionnaire either by mail or e-mail. In either case, just send us the forms once you have completed them. If you choose to mail them, we will provide postage, etc.
* You will receive a small gift as a token of appreciation.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study. (PSYC 2005-054) Approval Date 5/23/2006

This email is sponsored by: UNC- Psychology Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, September 11, 2006 9:59 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Peace Corps class talks]
Attach: Peace Corps class talks (2.46 KB).msg

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, September 11, 2006 9:43 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Suspension of Classes on Thursday, October 12, 2006

TO: All Members of the University Community

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

DATE: September 11, 2006

RE: Suspension of Classes on Thursday, October 12, 2006

On Thursday, October 12, 2006, we will observe University Day, celebrating the 213th birthday of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. University Day is an important event in the life of the campus community and I urge all of you to participate in the ceremony that begins at 11:00 a.m. in Memorial Hall. Detailed information is available on the University Day webpage (http://www.unc.edu/universityday/).

All classes will be suspended from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. on University Day so tbat faculty, students and staff can attend the celebration. Faculty may not scbedule classes during that period. I look forward to seeing you at Memorial Hall.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, September 11, 2006 10:39 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Recognition Survey

As part of the University Management Development Program, our team has created an employee survey intended to help us gather information and determine whether the current employee recognition programs on campus effectively tend to the motivational needs of employees at UNC.

Please take the time to complete this brief survey by following the link below:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=638662566873

Your responses are anonymous and will be used to provide managment with recommendations on how to improve employee recognition programs in the future.

Thank You,

Employee Recognition Project Team- UMDP 2006

This email is sponsored by: UMDP

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 12, 2006 12:28 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>
Cc: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: purchasing materials for language instruction

Dear Mutima and Donato:
Greetings and I hope this finds you well. The recent grant award from the Department of Education provides funds for the purchase of print and non-print materials to support African language instruction here at UNC. I'd like to meet with you to explain the project, but thought I would outline it here in an email first.

I would very much appreciate it if both of you would provide me with a list of materials you believe we should purchase to enhance Swahili and Lingala instruction.

These could be language textbooks for reference, dictionaries, CDs that complement a textbook, videos--either documentary or popular film, literature in Swahili or Lingala, children's books, flash cards, music, etc. For each item you suggest, it would be helpful if you would indicate whether you think these should be held in the African Studies Center (we want to develop a small language resource library that instructors can use) or in the UNC library, making them more accessible to students and faculty. No purchases could go directly to students.

As you begin to create this list, please think big. What would really enhance your work? What would be really helpful to students trying to learn? For the time being, don't worry about cost, just concentrate on advising us about what we need here at UNC. If you will prioritize the list, from most important to least important, that would also be helpful. When we see your lists, we will be able to think more clearly about what the grant can provide, and what it cannot provide. Before we begin ordering any materials, we'll make sure that each of you feels that we are purchasing with the correct priorities.

I will try to meet with you in early October, if there is a time that is convenient for you. Thanks so much for your efforts here! Regards, Barbara

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of webtickets@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 12, 2006 9:36 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2006-2007 Faculty / Staff Basketball Tickets

---

September 13, 2006

Dear Carolina Basketball Fan:

As fall approaches, it's time for another exciting year of Carolina Men's Basketball. In addition to eight Atlantic Coast Conference games, the 2006-2007 home schedule provides Tar Heel fans with the opportunity to watch the Heels compete against national powers Kentucky and Ohio State.

As a member of the Carolina family, we would like to extend to you the opportunity to purchase season tickets or an attractive half-season package. Season tickets (17 home games) for the 2006-2007 season are $481.00 and the eight game package (4 conference/4 non-conference games) costs $224.00. No more than two tickets may be purchased per family, even if both husband and wife are employees of the University or UNC Hospitals.

If you ordered season or half-season basketball tickets in 2005-2006, a renewal application has been sent to the address that those tickets were mailed to. If you are new to UNC or did not order season or half-season basketball tickets in 2005-2006, you may pick up an application at the Smith Center Ticket Office by presenting your UNC OneCard or UNC Hospitals ID. You may also use the renewal application to purchase tickets to the exhibition games versus St. Augustine's and Pfeiffer, which are not a part of the season ticket packages.

Please do not use campus mail to send your application and payment. In order to receive your faculty/staff ticket priority the UNC ticket office must receive your ticket order form no later than September 30, 2006.

In addition to the above information concerning Men's Basketball tickets, you should also be aware of alternate policies for several of the Women's Basketball games this year. As the Women's Basketball team builds on another ACC championship season and trip to the Final Four, we are pleased to host traditional powers Connecticut, Tennessee, and Duke at Carmichael Auditorium. For these three games, there will be a ticket distribution for faculty and staff at the Dean Smith Center Ticket Office from 8:00am-5:00pm October 9th-October 13th, while tickets remain. With a valid UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID, you may pick up 4 free tickets to each of these games until all faculty and staff tickets are distributed. After all of these free tickets are distributed, you may purchase tickets for $12 each, while supplies last.

For all other Women's Basketball games, you may gain entry to Carmichael Auditorium with your 2006-2007 Faculty / Staff Athletic Pass and current UNC One Card.

We look forward to seeing you at the Smith Center and Carmichael Auditorium this season as we tip-off a new season of CAROLINA BASKETBALL!

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@UNC.EDU
Sent: Wednesday, September 13, 2006 9:32 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity

---

Memorandum

TO: Deans, Directors & Department Heads
All Faculty Members

FROM: Tony G. Waldrop
Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

DATE: September 13, 2006

SUBJECT: The Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity

I am pleased to announce the availability of postdoctoral research positions for the 2007/2008 Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity. This program was created in order to serve two very important functions at Carolina. The first function is to attract postdoctoral fellows from underrepresented groups to Carolina to prepare them for tenure-track faculty positions at the University of North Carolina and other research universities. The second function is to serve as a means for increasing diversity within the University community.

Scholars for the Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity are selected each year and are provided support for two years. The current stipend is $35,625 with $31,625 funded from the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development and $4,000 from individual departments.

The next class of the Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity will begin July 1, 2007. In the next few weeks, The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development will place advertisements requesting applications for this program. We seek your assistance in making this a successful program.

There are several ways in which you can help. First of all, you can help by advertising the program within your discipline and identifying possible candidates. (Please refer to the following sample advertisement.) In addition, you can help in the selection process. Once applications are received, we will forward them to appropriate schools or departments and ask you to evaluate the applicant and describe plans for incorporating the individual, if selected, into the culture of your department (i.e., mentoring strategy; research resources). In addition, we will ask you for information regarding the availability of a faculty position in your department that might serve as a mentor to the applicant. If selected, a committee will review the applications and make a final recommendation in mid February 2007. Please note the application deadline will be Thursday, January 4, 2007.

If you have any questions or need further information, please contact Rhonda Craig-Schwarz at 962-1319 or rhonda@unc.edu. You can also visit our web page at http://research.unc.edu/red/postdoc.html.

Thank you for your help.

Sample Advertisement

The Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

As part of a continuing commitment to advance scholars from underrepresented groups in higher education, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity is pleased to announce the availability of postdoctoral research appointments for a period of two years. The purpose of the Program is to develop scholars from underrepresented groups for possible tenure track appointments at the University of North Carolina and other research universities. Postdoctoral scholars will participate essentially full-time in research and may teach only one course per year. Applications for study in any discipline represented at the University are welcome. The School of _____ or Department of _____ at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill strongly encourages candidates interested in _____ to apply.

The stipend will be $35,625 per calendar year. Health benefits are available. Some funds are available for research expenses, including travel. Minority students who will have completed their doctoral degree no later than July 1, 2007, and no earlier than July 1, 2003 are eligible to apply. Preference will be given to U.S. citizens and permanent residents. This program is funded by the State of North Carolina and places emphasis on underrepresented minorities.

A complete application will include curriculum vitae, sample publications and/or dissertation chapters, three letters of recommendation, an application, a statement of research plans and a separate statement of why you should be selected for the program. Applications can be found at http://research.unc.edu/red/postdoc.html. If recommendation letters accompany application materials they should be in a sealed envelope.

All materials should be sent to the Carolina Postdoctoral Program for Faculty Diversity, Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, CB# 4000, 312 South Building, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27599-4000, and must be postmarked by Thursday, January 4, 2007. Incomplete or late applications will not be accepted.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor of Research & Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 13, 2006 9:44 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have IBS?

The UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is conducting a research study investigating a broad range of factors that may cause IBS.

Participation will include filling out various health questionnaires and physiological testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be required to spend one overnight visit in the General Clinical Research Center at UNC Hospital.

Benefits include free medical screenings for disorders such as bacterial overgrowth, lactose malabsorption and celiac disease, and up to $250 compensation.

To be eligible, you must be
* 18 years or older
* diagnosed with irritable bowel syndrome by a physician

If you are interested in the study, please reply to ibsresearch@med.unc.edu or contact Lenore at 919-966-8329. You can also log on to the Center website at www.med.unc.edu/ibs for more details.

GCRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 8/23/05

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of msteffen@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 14, 2006 8:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Memorial Hall reservation process for spring semester 2007

Requests for reservations for the spring semester 2007 for University departments and officially recognized student organizations will be accepted beginning at 8:00 am on October 2, 2006. Due to high demand groups will be allowed only one weekend (Friday or Saturday) use per semester and only one rehearsal day per event. More information and an electronic request form can be found at www.memorialhall.unc.edu. For more information, please call 843-7776.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Director for the Arts

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of oebd@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 15, 2006 8:06 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Invitation to Join the Economic Development Working Group

As part of its mission of engaged scholarship and public service, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has formed The Working Group on Economic Development, a network of faculty and administrators interested in engaged scholarship and public service in economic development. The Working Group is a joint project of the Office of Economic and Business Development, the Carolina Center for Public Service, the Odum Institute, and the University Center for International Studies. Any Carolina faculty member or administrator is welcome to join.

The Working Group meets over lunch at regular intervals throughout the academic year. As defined by the group, economic development includes business and community development and encompasses business administration, social science, professional education, technology commercialization, globalization issues, information technology, and the physical and health sciences. Topics and activities need not be specific to North Carolina, but a special emphasis is given to research with implications for the state's economy. Agenda items include presentations by Carolina faculty and invited speakers.

Information on past meetings of the Working Group may be found at http://research.unc.edu/oebd/programs.php#ongoing If you are interested in joining or learning more about the Working Group, please contact the UNC-Chapel Hill Office of Economic and Business Development at (919) 843-5453 or at oebd@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Economic and Business Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of endeavors@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 15, 2006 8:23 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New issue of Endeavors magazine online

---

The fall 2006 issue of Endeavors magazine features new stories about research and creative activity at Carolina, including:

--Cancer and Addiction: When will we beat them?
--A Deadly Dread of Food: Anorexia isn't a matter of choice.
--Will it Ever be Safe to Go Home? Rebuilding Sudan will take more than a peace accord.

There are also stories featuring Pat Davison, Jane Brown, James Coleman, and more.

Read the fall 2006 Endeavors online at http://research.unc.edu/endeavors/fall2006/index.php

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 15, 2006 9:28 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right?

Something Not Quite Right?

The Prime Research Clinic is conducting a study to better understand the causes and course of basic symptoms. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 14-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Clinic. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Go to the 'Simple Survey' by clicking on the link or paste into your browser:
http://www.med.unc.edu/cgi-bin/prime/page1.pl

Or
visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

03-Psych-53
August 23, 2006
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects The BioMedical IRB University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, September 17, 2006 8:07 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Challenge

The Carolina Challenge is a student-run entrepreneurial venture competition in which teams of two or more submit business plans for commercial, social, or scientific ventures. Throughout the competition, the Carolina Challenge staff provides you with prep sessions and support so that you may successfully develop your venture.

Last year, $50,000 dollars in total prize money was given away--one team walked away with $17,500!

Interested? Visit http://www.carolinachallenge.org OR send an email to carolinachallenge@yahoo.com.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Challenge

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of aswoods@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, September 18, 2006 8:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Table Talk

Table Talk strives to unite students, faculty, and community leaders through meaningful discussion of provocative issues that impact campus and community life. Table Talk is non-partisan, and it does not endorse any side of any issue. Table Talk believes in diversity, in every sense of the word, including diversity of opinion. Table Talk strives to accomplish positive social change in our community, and to remind students, faculty, and community that we are unified in our pursuit of a better society, and better life for all. We have a number of open positions in Table Talk for this Academic Year.
Interested? Check out http://campus-y.unc.edu for more information and applications for open positions!

Andy Woods
Co-Chair
'05-Present

Charlie Murphy
Co-Chair
'06-Present

This email is sponsored by: Campus Y

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of connect@schsr.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 19, 2006 9:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

---

APPROVED by UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB-Study # 02-SHEPS-587

Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

Black Americans have disproportionately high rates of disease and disproportionately poor health outcomes. Recent emphasis on increased representation of minority populations in all research has challenged investigators to find ways to diversify the populations that are recruited to participate in prevention and treatment trials.

Project CONNECT is recruiting volunteers who want to learn more about opportunities to participate in health research.

While we are focusing on African Americans, 18 years or older, any adult is welcome to participate.

If you participate your name will be placed on a confidential listing. If volunteers are eligible for a future research study they will be contacted and offered the opportunity to participate. The confidential registry will collect basic participant data including contact information, age, education level and basic health status.

To join the Project CONNECT listing, please reply with your name, and a phone number or mailing address so that we may get in touch with you. Or, you may choose to contact us directly by calling toll free at 1-866-849-1579.

If you know someone else who is eligible, and may be interested, please feel free to forward this information to them also.

Joining the registry does NOT mean one is volunteering for any particular study.

For additional information, please contact us at 919-966-7107 or via email at connect@schsr.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Project CONNECT: the Bridge to Healthy Communities Through Research, UNC Sheps Center for Health Services Research

If you have concerns about taking part in research please contact the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects (Medical IRB) at UNC at (919) 966-1344.

This email is sponsored by: Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of David_Collins@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 20, 2006 9:44 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Annual Prostate Cancer Screening Clinic

---

The UNC Division of Urologic Surgery will offer free prostate examinations to members of the public Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 27 and 28, from 1pm to 7pm both days. A physical exam along with a blood draw to check prostate specific antigen (PSA) levels will be done.

The prostate examinations will take place at UNC Hospitals' Urology Clinic, located on the second floor of N.C. Memorial Hospital.

Appointments are not required, but those interested are encouraged to make an appointment by calling (919) 966-1316.

In particular, black men 40 years and older, white men with a family history of cancer who are 40 years and older and white men 50 years and older are encouraged to have prostate examinations.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Division of Urologic Surgery

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of webtickets@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 21, 2006 1:15 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Faculty / Staff Discounted Football Tickets

---

Dear Faculty / Staff Members:

Due to the late return of a large number of tickets usually allocated to the visiting team, faculty and staff members may purchase tickets to the UNC vs. South Florida football game on October 14, 2006 for $10 each. The regular price of these tickets is $35 each. In addition, for each discounted ticket purchased for the South Florida game, faculty and staff members will receive a free ticket to the Men's Basketball exhibition game versus St. Augustine's on November 1, 2006.

Purchases must be made in person at the Smith Center Ticket Office beginning Thursday, September 21st through Friday, October 13th as long as supplies last. There is a limit of eight (8) tickets per faculty / staff member. The Ticket Office is open from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM. You must present your UNC One Card or Hospital ID at the time of purchase.

We look forward to seeing you in Kenan Stadium and the Dean E. Smith Center and we thank you for your continued support of Carolina athletics!

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ront@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 21, 2006 8:02 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Understanding use of digital video

Subject: Invitation to participate in the understanding use of digital video and Web features educators desire of digital video Web sites study

Hello, my name is Ron Brown.

I am a doctoral student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in Information and Library Science. Under the guidance of my faculty advisor, Stephanie W. Haas, I am studying how teachers use digital video in their classes. For the purposes of this study, digital video is defined as video which is Web based, and is used by either downloading or streaming the video from some video provider to a local computer. This letter is to invite you to participate in a study about how web sites which provide digital video to educators can be more effectively designed.

To join the study is voluntary and you are in no way required to participate. You may refuse to join, or you may withdraw from the study, without penalty at any time. Also bear in mind your school district does not require you to participate in this study.

If you would like to participate in the study please follow the link to the consent form and the survey which follows the signature at the end of this email. The consent form will provide a more detailed description of the study including the risks involved to you the participant and as well the benefits to the educational community. It is important that you understand this information so that you can make an informed choice about being in this research study.

Your participation in this survey is vital to the development of future educational repositories. More specifically the results of this research will be used to improve how educators interact with the free resources provided currently at nasa.ibiblio.org. For your participation in this survey you will receive 3 NASA educational videos of your choice in either DVD or digital format.

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect their rights and welfare. If you have questions or concerns about this study you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu. This research has been approved by the Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina and can be identified by LIBS 06-0269 Understanding use of digital video and Web features educators desire of digital video Web sites.

You also have the right to ask, and have answered, any questions you may have about this research. If you have questions, or concerns, you may contact me at (919) 962-8274 or by email (ront@email.unc.edu). If you would like to contact my faculty advisor she can be reached at (919) 962-8360 or by email (haas@ils.unc.edu).

Thank You.

Sincerely,

Ron T. Brown
Doctoral Student, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill ront@email.unc.edu
919-962-8274

Link to the Questionnaire:
https://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=433892282673

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of webtickets@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 21, 2006 8:32 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Discounted Faculty / Staff Preseason NBA Basketball Tickets

---

Dear Faculty / Staff Members:

Come see former Carolina Basketball greats at the Dean E. Smith Center on October 17th 2006 when the Charlotte Bobcats take on the Washington Wizards in a NBA preseason basketball game. As an employee of the University of North Carolina you can receive discounted tickets in both the lower and upper levels of the Dean E. Smith Center. To purchase these tickets please click the link below or copy and paste the web address into your web browser:

http://ev10.evenue.net/cgi-bin/ncommerce3/SEGetEventInfo?ticketCode=PR%3AUNC%3ASE07%3ANBA1%3AEMPLOYEE&linkID=unc&shopperContext=&caller=PR&appCode=&prc=EMPLOYEE

We look forward to seeing you in the Dean E. Smith Center for a night of exciting NBA preseason basketball!

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sharikia_burt@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, September 25, 2006 8:17 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a smoker between the ages of 35-75?

ARE YOU A SMOKER BETWEEN THE AGES OF 35-75?

If you are, you may qualify for a research study of an investigational drug to stop smoking.

If you qualify for the study, you will receive FREE smoking cessation counseling, routine medical examinations, pulmonary evaluations and education.

You will be compensated for your time, effort and travel to UNC.

If you are interested in finding out more about this study please contact Sharikia Burt at:

1-866-860-1659 (tollfree), 919-966-2531 or email sharikia_burt@med.unc.edu

IRB#: 05-PULM/MED-1022
IRB approved

This email is sponsored by: Pulmonary Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cei@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 26, 2006 12:42 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Want to Launch a Business or Nonprofit?

Want to Launch a Business or Nonprofit?

We can help.

UNC's Launching the Venture program has helped dozens of UNC faculty, staff and students launch new ventures of all kinds.

The program guides you through the process:

>Evaluate the market potential of your ideas
>Plan to launch those with the potential to succeed

Apply by Monday, Oct. 2 for the 2006-2007 program
Learn more and apply at http://www.unc.edu/cei/launch

Launching the Venture is a program of the Carolina Entrepreneurial Initiative, co-directed by UNC Kenan-Flagler and Office of Technology Development.

This email is sponsored by: Kenan Institute of Private Enterprise

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jsedway@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 26, 2006 1:59 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Eating Disorders Program offering Group Therapy

---

UNC's Eating Disorders Program's outpatient clinic is now fully operational. We offer a range of services including group treatment for Bulimia Nervosa and Binge Eating Disorder. These groups will meet weekly for 12 weeks and will focus on skills that will help members make lasting changes. Additional outpatient services (including individual outpatient therapy) are also available for all types of eating disorders. Most insurance programs are accepted for the evaluation and treatment services. For more information, please call our referral line, 966-7012.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

Hip Hop Haven, Inc.
&
The Education Research Group (TERG)
PRESENT
An Effective Communication Workshop
"Understanding the Impact of Hip-Hop Culture on Today's Youth Population"

Date: Friday, November 10, 2006 (8:30 am - 4:30 pm)
Location: Wake County Commons Building, Room C
4011 Carya Drive, Raleigh, NC 27610
CEU hours will be awarded!
The cost for this workshop is $85.00.

This customized workshop has been designed for adults who work with at-risk youth populations. Our workshops are specifically geared toward public school educators and youth services workers. If you are concerned about the behaviors and attitudes of today's youth population, The Education Research Group (TERG) can show you how to effectively communicate and implement strategies which are aimed at reducing school failure and risky behaviors.

This workshop offers a comprehensive, interactive atmosphere for participants to gain valuable insight into the world of today's teens. Participants will examine the behaviors, attitudes, values, and lifestyle trends of this population. In addition, this training will target a variety of environmental factors and influences such as music, fashion, language, and media penetration and consumption. TERG offers unparalleled opportunities to assist each workshop participant in understanding the relationships and worldviews of today's youth population. The participants will be introduced to innovative prevention and intervention strategies targeting work with at-risk youth populations. Developing effective communication strategies, targeting the hip-hop generation, will be the main focus of this workshop.

For additional details regarding this workshop, please contact Ashley Kopp, MSW with Hip Hop Haven at (919) 210-8774 or ashley_kopp@hiphophaven.org.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Charles Pinckney is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Livingstone College in Salisbury, NC. He has conducted extensive research in the areas of hip-hop culture and communication dynamics.

Registration Form

Name_____
Address_____/_____/_____
Organization_____TEL:_____Fax:_____
Email_____

Please include a check or money-order in the amount of $85.00 made payable to Hip Hop Haven and mail to:
Hip Hop Haven, P.O. Box 97153, Raleigh, NC 27624
Registration fee includes refreshments and workshop materials
SPACE IS LIMITED SO REGISTER EARLY

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS THIS EVENT

Date: November 10, 2006

Place: Wake County Commons Building, Room C

If you are concerned about the behaviors and attitudes of today's youth population, The Education Research Group (TERG) can show you how to effectively communicate and implement strategies which are aimed at reducing school failure and risky behaviors.

This customized workshop offers a comprehensive, interactive atmosphere for participants to gain valuable insight into the world of today's teens. As a participant, you will have the opportunity to examine the behaviors, attitudes, values, and lifestyle trends of this population. In addition, this training will target a variety of environmental factors and influences such as music, fashion, language, and media penetration and consumption.

About the Presenter

Charles Pinckney is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Livingstone College in Salisbury, NC. He has conducted extensive research in the areas of hip-hop culture and communication dynamics.

Contact: Hip Hop Haven at (919) 210-8774 or ashley_kopp@hiphophaven.org

Who should attend?

- Social Workers
- Case Managers
- Police Officers
- Youth Counselors
- Health Educators
- Substance Abuse Workers
- Guidance Counselors
- Mental Health Workers
- Educators
- Parents
- Probation Officers
- Community Leaders

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of read@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 26, 2006 8:19 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Recommend a book for the 2007 Summer Reading Program

---

The 2007 Summer Reading Program Book Selection Committee of faculty, staff, and students will soon begin the process of selecting next year's book.

We invite all members of the UNC-Chapel Hill community to suggest books for our consideration. Criteria for book selection include the following desirable qualities:

* Intellectually stimulating, stretches students' minds, causes students to think about things they might not have thought about.
* Enjoyable, engaging, relatively short, easy to read, of current interest.
* Able to provoke interesting discussion.
* Appropriate for the level of maturity of incoming students.
* Having a theme or topic applicable to students' lives (for example, societal, political, or ethical issues).

Do you have a favorite book that meets these criteria? What book do you think will stimulate critical discussion among incoming students next summer? To make your suggestion, visit the Carolina Summer Reading Program website: http://www.unc.edu/srp/. Full consideration will be given to all book recommendations received by October 27th, 2006.

Thanks for your consideration of this matter.
Doug Kelly
Chair, 2007 Summer Reading Program Book Selection Committee

This email is sponsored by: New Student & Carolina Parent Programs

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of brubaker@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 26, 2006 10:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Faculty perceptions of the impact of laptop use by students during class

---

My name is Aaron Brubaker and I am conducting research for my Master's Paper on faculty perceptions of the impact of laptops with wireless Internet access on classroom dynamics and teaching.

In order to gain insight into UNC faculty perceptions, I have created a Survey. If you are a faculty member or adjunct, I'd like to request your input. The survey will take 10-15 minutes to complete.

This link:
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=439922622940
will take you to the survey hosted by SurveyMonkey.com. By following this link, you are consenting to participate in this study.

All responses are completely confidential, and no personal information will be collected. Your participation is voluntary and you may stop participating at any time. You may skip any question you choose not to answer for any reason.

If you have any questions about this study, please email brubaker@email.unc.edu. You may also contact my advisor, Dr. Deborah Barreau at 919-966-5042 or barreau@email.unc.edu.

Thank you,
Aaron Brubaker
brubaker@email.unc.edu
MSIS student, School of Information and Library Science
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science.
Approval IRB: Behavioral Institution Review Board
Date of Approval: 9/22/2006
Study Title: Faculty Perceptions of the Impact of Student Laptop Use in a Wireless Internet Environment on the Classroom Learning Environment and Teaching
IRB Study #: 06-0507

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pbwatkins@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 26, 2006 11:02 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Provide a Blood Sample to Help Medical Research

---

UNC Hospitals and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS), National Institutes of Health (NIH), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) are establishing a registry of DNA samples (Environmental Polymorphisms Registry or EPR) that will help researchers study how variations in our genes (known as polymorphisms) influence our risk for disease.

The EPR will be recruiting participants at the UNC General Clinical Research Center (GCRC) beginning Monday October 2. For more information call (919) 281-1110 x747 or visit our website at http://dir.niehs.nih.gov/direpr/.

To participate, you must:
* Be 18 Years of age or older;
* Provide a blood sample (up to 1 Tablespoon);
* Read and sign a consent form;
* Provide age, gender, and ethnicity;

Participants will receive $20 for their participation.

If you have a UNC Healthcare Medical Record Card, please bring it witb you. If you don't have one, please stop by the patient registration desk in the Hospital's main lobby to get one before coming up to the GCRC (3rd floor of main hospital).

We need your help! Our goal is to collect 20,000 samples, please share this message with friends and family. We appreciate your help getting the word out.

The principal investigators for this study are:

-Perry J. Blackshear, M.D., D.Phil., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS;
-Paul Watkins, M.D., General Clinical Research Center, UNC Medical Center;
-Patricia C. Chulada, Ph.D., M.H.S., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS;
-Susan Pusek, M.P.H., General Clinical Research Center, UNC Medical Center.

The Environmental Polymorphisms Registry and this message have received approval from both the NIEHS and UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Boards on Research Involving Human Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: General Clinical Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 12:18 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2007 University Teaching Awards

September 26, 2006

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Dr. Barbara Entwisle, Chair
University Committee on Teaching Awards

SUBJECT: Teaching Award Nominations

ONLY 6 MORE DAYS REMAIN TO NOMINATE YOUR FAVORITE TEACHER FOR A 2007 AWARD!!!!

Each year, we acknowledge the central role of teaching at UNC-Chapel Hill by recognizing faculty, staff and students for outstanding teaching and mentoring. The University Committee on Teaching Awards values your nominations of deserving faculty members and graduate teaching assistants for distinguished teaching awards. Please take a moment to think of those who are deserving of these awards and nominate them via the website

http://www.unc.edu/provost/teachawards

The committee will review the nominees, collect additional information about their teaching and recommend winners to the Chancellor. This year, we will select recipients for five types of awards:

Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching: This award is given by the Board of Governors to a tenured faculty member on each UNC campus for excellent and exceptional teaching at the undergraduate level over a sustained period of time.

Distinguished Teaching Awards for Post-Baccalaureate Instruction: Four awards are given to faculty members for exceptional teaching of post-baccalaureate students.

Awards to Faculty for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching: Five Tanner Awards, one Friday Award, one Sanders Award and one Sitterson Award are given to full-time faculty members.

Tanner Awards to Graduate Teaching Assistants: Five Tanner Awards are given to graduate teaching assistants for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement: This award acknowledges lifetime contributions to teaching, learning and mentoring beyond the classroom and is not limited to traditional faculty. If you nominate someone for this award, please focus on his or her long-term impact on students.
University Professor of Distinguished Teaching: This award to presented every three years and was established to recognize career-long excellence in teaching. One will be for tenured faculty in Academic Affairs (including professional schools) and one for tenured faculty in Health Affairs.
Please submit all nominations online.

http://www.unc.edu/provost/teachawards

No individual may receive more than one award. It is important that you provide a nomination letter that will help the committee understand why your nominee is such a good teacher. The comments will become part of the nominee's departmental personnel file. You may address questions to me (962-1710 entwisle@unc.edu) or to Ms. Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Provost: (962-7882 / debbie_stevenson@unc.edu).

The deadline for submitting nominations is Sunday, October 1, 2006, at 5:00 p.m.
Thank you for your help in rewarding excellent teaching at Carolina!

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of tllong@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 1:36 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Participate in a study on medication information management

---

Are you over the age of 55?
Have you used a computer?
Have you taken five or more prescription medications in the last two years?

If you said yes to all of these questions, we would like to talk to you!

We are studying how seniors manage information about their medications. As part of this we are testing a web-based medication management system for sharing information with physicians, family members, and caregivers.

If you choose to participate in this research study, you will be asked to:

1) Complete an interview about how you manage and share information about your medications now
2) Try our new medication management system

Any information you share about the medications you are taking will be confidential. Your participation in this study would take no more than 2 hours, spread over two sessions. If you complete the first study session, we will pay you $25. If you complete the second session, we will pay you an additional $40.

If you would like to participate or have questions about the study, please contact Trisha Long: (919) 932-6703.

This study is sponsored by a grant from National Institutes of Health, and is being conducted by Dr. Bradley Hemminger, School of Information and Library Science, UNC-Chapel Hill. Approved by the UNC Public Health Institutional Review Board. Study number 05-1369.

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 2:47 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: SECC Kickoff/Charity Fair Oct. 3

Dear Colleagues:

Come join the excitement as Carolina kicks off its 2006 State Employees Combined Campaign on Tuesday, Oct. 3, from 10 a.m. to noon in the Great Hall. This kickoff will be a charity fair, which will feature representatives from an estimated 50 independent charities and other nonprofit organizations supported by the North Carolina SECC.

The Carolina community has been very generous to this campaign - that's why this year's slogan, "Carolina Together: Supporting a Great Cause," is so appropriate. This year, more than 800 charitable organizations are receiving N.C. SECC support, and you can find a full list of them at the 2006 SECC Resource Guide (www.ncsecc.org).

Please join us at the Great Hall on Oct. 3 for refreshments, a chance to win some great door prizes and, most importantly, an opportunity to learn more about organizations that make a real difference in the lives of our state's citizens.

In coordination with our "Carolina Together" kickoff, donation forms and other materials will be delivered to every department's office in the coming days - arriving by early next week. I would like to thank the many departments who identified captains and ask that our captains watch for these forms - so they may be distributed to employees. In the case of departments or other academic areas that have not yet identified captains, please distribute the forms to employees and send the name of your area's captain to Deb Saine (deborah_saine@dentistry.unc.edu) at your earliest convenience.

Captain training will take place on Oct. 3, at two sessions: 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The location is room 1505 of the student union (located near the South Road entrance of the building). N.C. SECC officials will share valuable information, and I hope all captains can make time for one of the two sessions.

In closing, I'm grateful to our campaign captains, who will help lead Carolina's 2006 SECC effort, and I'm grateful to the entire Carolina community for its long-standing commitment to helping North Carolina citizens in need. We'll see you on Oct. 3!

John N. Williams
2006 SECC Chair for Carolina/Dean, School of Dentistry

This email is sponsored by: UNC School of Dentistry

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 27, 2006 4:28 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Attending Ny Conference

Dear Alphonse:
I am pleased to offer you $200.00 to attend the International Symposium on African Language & Diasporic Languages & Education in New York, October 5-7, 2006. Please see Debby for details.
Best,
Julius
--
Julius E. Nyang'oro
Professor and Chair
African and Afro-American Studies
University of North Carolina
CB# 3395, Battle Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel: 919-962-1513
Fax: 919-962-2694
Email: jen321@email.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jeane@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 27, 2006 8:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Leadership Foundations

Leadership Foundations seeks Peer Educators!

What is Leadership Foundations?
Through interactive workshops, Leadership Foundations assists participants with organizational development through the building of skills related to leadership and management. Led by Peer Educators, participants will engage in discussion, activities, and reflection that enhance organizational effectiveness.

Currently Carolina Leadership Development and the Office of Student Activites are accepeting applications for Peer Educators. Please contact Lara Costa, graduate assistant, with questions and/or to request an application.

Thank you for your time and we look forward to hearing from YOU!!

Lara Costa
jeane@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Student Activities and Carolina Leadership Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pareinhardt@ehs.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 27, 2006 11:12 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Flu Shots Available to UNC Employees

September 27, 2006

TO: UNC Faculty and Staff

RE: Flu Shots Available to UNC Employees

Don't miss your flu shot this year! Believe us--getting a shot is better than getting the flu! Again this fall, UNC is partnering with the State Health Plan to offer influenza (flu) shots to UNC employees.

It's easy to get a flu shot. Simply go to the EHS website at http://ehs.unc.edu/ and click on the Flu Shots link. The on-line registration will walk you through the process of selecting the most convenient date, time and campus location. If you have difficulty accessing the EHS website, please ask your supervisor or administrative staff to help you.

Appointments are available between 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the following locations:

Giles Horney Building Magnolia Room
- October 18th
- November 15th
- December 20th

Old Dental Building, Room 1220
- October 12th
- November 9th
- December 14th

Student Union, Room 3509
- October 17th
- October 19th
- November 14th
- November 16th
- December 12th
- December 13th

If your primary coverage is the State Health Plan (or one of the State Health Plan's Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plans), there will be no cost to you. If you are not a member of the State Health Plan, you will need to pay $25 by cash or check at the time of vaccination and obtain reimbursement from your insurance.

You'll receive an email reminder two days prior to your appointment. At your appointment, you'll need to present your State Plan/PPO card along with a photo ID for coverage under the Plan. These flu shot clinics are for UNC employees only. Please contact your health care provider for flu shots for family members and dependents.

Don't take a chance on getting the flu this year. The flu can lead to serious complications and--in some cases--even death. By getting vaccinated, you reduce the flu risk for everyone. The vaccine does not contain live virus and has little chance of triggering a reaction.
Please get immunized!

Help us spread the word by printing this email and poster located at http://ehs.unc.edu/flu_shot.pdf, and posting them at your workplace.

Brian Boehlecke, MD, UEOHC Medical Director
Peter A. Reinhardt, Director, Environment, Health & Safety
962-5507

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health & Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of alan_pinkelton@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 28, 2006 9:12 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: 2006 Campus Security Report

September 28, 2006

A Notice to All Students and Employees from the Campus Personal Safety Committee

UNC-CH's latest Campus Security Report will be online October 1 at http://main.psafety.unc.edu/securityreport

Please read it for information on:

--crime and arrest statistics, crime reporting procedures, and University emergency warning procedures;
--alcohol and illegal drug information and policies;
--sexual assault response procedures, including victim resources and campus disciplinary procedures;
--information about campus police authority and jurisdiction, building access and security, and educational programs on personal security and crime prevention; and
--information on voter registration.

To request a paper copy of the report, write CB #9105, UNC-CH, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-9105.

This email is sponsored by: Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 28, 2006 11:05 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Registry for Potential Research Study Subjects

---

Gastrointestinal Studies -- PARTICIPANT REGISTRY

The UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is engaged in a number of research projects for which we are always interested in recruiting study subjects. Please visit our website at www.med.unc.edu/ibs to learn more about our studies and about irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), functional dyspepsia, bloating, recurrent abdominal pain (RAP) in children, constipation, and diarrhea.

We have established a REGISTRY for Potential Research Study Participants ("REGISTRY") at https://uncfunctionalgi.net/registry/about.php to facilitate more interactive communication about on-going and new studies at the Center.

Please go to https://uncfunctionalgi.net/registry/ to join our REGISTRY. The "Registry" form is very brief and requests:

(1) your consent to be contacted about our research studies
(2) information on how best to contact you about our research studies
(3) information about your current gastrointestinal (GI) problems or symptoms
(4) physician diagnosis of your GI problems or symptoms
(5) if you would be willing to be contacted as a healthy volunteer if you do not have any GI problems or symptoms

The REGISTRY pertains to human subjects research and has been reviewed and approved by the UNC Institutional Review Board (IRB).

If you have any questions about the REGISTRY, please contact Kirsten Nyrop at 919/966-0289 or knyrop@med.unc.edu.

There is no compensation for joining our REGISTRY. However, some of the studies that REGISTRY volunteers are contacted about may compensate those who enroll and complete the study. Click "here" for information about on-going research studies that are recruiting study subjects -- http://www.med.unc.edu/medicine/fgidc/research_subjects.htm.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of shanapt@nc.rr.com
Sent: Friday, September 29, 2006 12:22 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: How is your posture?

We are conducting a research study in the Sports Medicine Research Laboratory at UNC-Chapel Hill to determine if poor head and shoulder posture affects shoulder function. Head and shoulder posture is thought to contribute to the development of shoulder pain.

To enroll in this study, you must be healthy, between the ages of 18 and 55, and not have a history of shoulder, neck, back, arm, or hand surgery.

Participants will be asked to report to the Sports Medicine Research Laboratory (which is located in the basement of Fetzer, 2 doors down from the basketroom) for an initial postural screen that will take less than 20 minutes. This will be accomplished by taking a picture from the side. If participants meet established criteria for head and shoulder posture they will be asked to return for a second testing session. THESE SCREENINGS WILL TAKE PLACE ON TUESDAY OCTOBER 3 FROM 4PM - 6:30PM. If you are interested in the screenings please email or call me to schedule a convenient time slot.

All participants will receive the results of their postural evaluation and preventive exercises to improve their posture.

Qualified participants will be asked to return to the Sports Medicine Research Laboratory for 2 -1 hour testing session that will take place 8 weeks apart. During this session shoulder, shoulder blade, and shoulder muscle function will be measured using skin based sensors. You will be asked to perform a lifting and reaching task.

For more information, please call 962-7187 or send an email to shanapt@nc.rr.com

IRB Study # 05-EXSS-782

This email is sponsored by: Exercise and Sport Science Department

This email is sponsored by: Exercise and Sport Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 29, 2006 1:39 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction

---

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will you be having such surgery next month?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace recovery in patellar tendon stiffness over time after surgery.

To be eligible, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery next month, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions while ultrasound images are taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1 hour.

You would be paid $30 per visit for 3 visits over 12 months.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please contact:
Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu,
email: hsinliu@med.unc.edu
TEL: (919) 966-1211

This study was approved by IRB #05-ORTHO-1005

This email is sponsored by: Orthopaedic Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of its_communications@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 29, 2006 3:20 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Lenovo battery recall

Lenovo has announced the voluntary recall of battery packs in ThinkPad laptop models T43, T43p, T60, R51e, R52, R60, R60e, X60, and X60s purchased between February 2005 and September 2006. Additionally, customers who ordered an extra battery or received a replacement battery during that period may also be subject to the recall. CCI models that may be affected are T43, T60, R52, R60 and X60.

If you want to check whether or not your computer battery is affected by the recall, please go to www.lenovo.com/batteryprogram. In addition, a list showing the serial numbers of affected machines will be posted on the ITS Response Center Web site at http://help.unc.edu/?id=5986 as soon as it becomes available. The ITS Response Center will contact the owners of affected machines.

To ensure that your laptop is used safely, please turn off the system, remove the battery and power your system with an AC adapter. If you have questions about removing your battery, call 962-HELP.

Please keep the defective battery as it will he exchanged for a new battery free of charge. Instructions will be forthcoming regarding the battery exchange. It will take several weeks before Lenovo can supply new batteries.

If you have any additional questions, please contact the ITS Response Center at 962-HELP or visit the Lenovo Web site (http://www-307.ibm.com/pc/support/site.wss/document.do?sitestyle=lenovo&lndocid=BATT-LENOVO).

This email is sponsored by: ITS

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

PRESENTED BY THE HEALTH AND HUMAN RIGHTS SUBCOMMITTEE

"Love, Labor, Loss"
Witness the "silent epidemic"

With discussion led by Director/ Producer, Lisa Russell

PRESENTED BY THE HEALTH AND HUMAN RIGHTS SUBCOMMITTEE

Obstetric fistula, a disabling disorder unknown to industrialized nations since the end of the 19th century, is preventable and treatable with adequate prenatal and emergency obstetric care.

This film follows women in Niger, West Africa suffering from this "silent epidemic" and a US/Niger medical mission to repair their fistulas and give them a second chance at life.

With music by Zap Mama. www.lovelaborloss.com.

Thursday, October 5, 2006
5:30 pm

Tate Turner Kuralt Auditorium, School of Social Work

Event sponsored by UNC Student Congress, Campus Y- Health Focus Committee , and the Student Global Health Committee.

From: Kelly Hanner <khanner@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, September 29, 2006 2:32 PM
To: debby_crowder@unc.edu
Subject: Swah texts

Hi Debbie,

I spoke with George Morgan (new textbook buyer), who has been in weekly contact with Africa World Press regarding the orders. They are advising that the back ordered copies are scheduled to arrive late next week. As soon as they receive the copies they will ship to us. So, if their eta is correct, we should have them the second week of October.

Best,
Kelly

Kelly Hanner
UNC Student Stores

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 29, 2006 8:43 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Phased Retirement Program

MEMORANDUM

To: All Members of the Faculty
From: Bernadette Gray-Little
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost
Subject: Phased Retirement Program Status

I write to update you on the status of the University's Faculty Phased Retirement Program in light of recent actions by the North Carolina General Assembly.

The Faculty Phased Retirement Program has been extended through the year 2010 or until twelve months after the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) releases its anticipated regulations governing phased retirement programs, whichever occurs first. Since the IRS regulations have yet to be released, the Phased Retirement Program will continue for at least another year.

While I wish I could be more definitive about the programs status beyond next year, we cannot be more specific given the pending IRS regulations. I will send a memo on the Faculty Phased Retirement Program application process and time line for 2007 later this semester.

copy: Deans, Directors & Department Heads

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Walter Mignolo <walter.mignolo@duke.edu>
Sent: Sunday, October 1, 2006 9:47 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Oil and Beauty in Salvador, Bahia, a workshop: Friday Oct 6 and Saturday Oct 7, 2006

Hi Debby

I do not know if you get posting from Duke, but since you are sponsoring this event, could you please circulate this reminder at UNC. Many thanks!!! Walter

The Center for Global Studies and the Humanities is pleased to announce a 4 hours workshop

Sponsored by the Department of African and Afro-American Studies, UNC; African and Afro-American Studies, Duke University; Afro-Latin American Working Group; Department of Romance Studies; Duke Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies

AFRO-LATINIDAD: RACISM, OIL AND BEAUTY IN SALVADOR (BAHIA, BRAZIL) .

Speakers: Livio Sansone and Angela Figuereido, from the Centro de Estudios Afro-Orientais da Universidade Federal da Bahia, in Salvador, Brazil

October 6, 2006 from 12, 30 pm to 5, 15 pm,
Franklin Center #240
(Lunch will be served from 12, 30 to 1pm)

October 7, from 10am to 1pm, informal conversation with the speakers (International Studies Conference Room, UNC Across the street from the Planetarium)

Professor Sansone is Program Coordinator and Angela Figuereido Course Coordinator of the advanced studies project titled Fábrica de Idéias (Factory of ideas, http://www.ceao.ufba.br/fabrica/welcome.htm). Fabrica de Idéias is an academic department that handles the Advanced Course on Ethnic and Racial Relations and the African Culture, a program originally administered by the Center for Afro-Asian Studies of the University of Cândido Mendes (UCAM) in Rio de Janeiro where the first four annual courses were held. The course is currently being run by the CEAO/UFBa, Salvador, host of the last two editions of the summer courses. The Factory has been widely acclaimed as a successful initiative that offers quality academic training as well as possibilities of exchange and interaction to young and upcoming researchers on racial relations in Brazil and other Latin-American countries. Apart from facilitating this kind of interaction, the program also emphasizes and promotes debates on the topic related to citizenship, reproductive health, gender and sexuality issues. Since its inception, two out of its five teaching modules have focused on related themes like the relationship between reproductive health and racial relations. More than one module has been dedicated to the exchange of experiences concerning the individual projects of the participating students. The Factory of Ideas enjoys the support of various international bodies like the Population Program, the MacArthur Foundation, the FAPERJ and finally, the Holland-based Sephis Foundation.
The Factory of Ideas is currently directed by Livio Sansone (Ph.D in Anthropology from the University of Amsterdam who is also on the staff of the FFCH-UFBA).

1pm to 3 pm
Angela Lucia Silva Figuereido
Post-Doctoral Research Fellow of Carter Woodson Institute – University of Virginia - 2006

The politics of black beauty in Salvador, Bahia
Based on a video I myself produced, I will address issues that relate racism to beauty. Certainly, the black body is important in Brazil as in any other country of the African Diaspora, where interactions between blacks and whites have taken place. Traditionally, blacks have always been discriminated against in show-business and the world of beauty, two spheres that have been particularly active in the construction of negative stereotypes associated with Negro phenotypes considered as ugly. Popular adages common in Brazilian parlance have reinforced this rejection of Negro phenotypes.

In the state of Bahia there is the major black population outside Africa, and the capital of Bahia is only 14% white. Although whites are the minority in the city, they have better jobs and a higher level of education than black people. Because there are so few whites, many precise distinctions are made in the color hierarchy. This contest is important because the appearance is important. For example, you are black because you look black, not because your parents are black. The standard of beauty in Bahia, like in the rest of Brazil is white, but in Bahia because there are so few whites, the appearance is important; if you look less black you are more beautiful.

In this context, the black beauty night context is a demonstration of the construction of black identity. This documentary was made in 2003. It is about black beauty night context in Salvador Bahia, an event sponsored by all-black carnival association Ile Aye during which a black woman is chosen to represent the Ebony Goddess. I attempt to understand the candidates' discourse about racial classification, racism, identity, beauty, marketplace and education. There are some specific questions that I want to understand. For example, what are the criteria of black beauty? Who chooses the ebony Goddess? What is the candidate's background? Who created the style? Why do the girls want to be Ebony Goddess? What is the relationship between black beauty and identity in Bahia?

15 minutes break

3,15 pm to 5, 15 pm
Livio Sansone
Centro de Estudos Afro-Orientais
Universidade Federal da Bahia, Salvador de Bahia, Brazil

Bahian Counterpoint of Sugar and Oil: On the transition from the first to the second global commodity and its consequences for social and race relations in Bahia
My research is centered on the persistence of durable and extreme inequalities in a specific region of Brazil – interesting for its past as on of the cradles of sugar plantation society in Brazil as well as for its present on account of its extremely high GINI index, which measures inequality. It is a part of Brazil where the impact of the oil industry has been felt the most starting from the Fifties. I am interested in the development over a long period of time of what I like to call a culture of inequality – which makes acceptable or bearable life in a context of excruciating inequality. It is a kind of social and cultural pact between the haves and the have-not. This culture develops in time and takes time to recede. Of course, as much as continuities I also try to elicit ruptures in the experience of this rather eschewed social pact. The existence of such inequalities has been seen by many as defining perhaps the main 'difference' of Latin America, when comparing to other regionalized styles of modernities. In many ways my research is a follow-up on the great Columbia/UNESCO project, which carried out field work on plantation society in 1950-53 in the same region. I try to compare social and race relations and hierarchies in the age of sugar and oil – the first and the second authentically global commodity. I also compare the different systems of memory that sugar and oil have developed. The oil industry has had a great impact on the system of memory – perhaps aided by the fact of being capitalism without capitalists.

From: Olympia Friday <ofriday@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 2, 2006 3:07 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Cc: Reginald F. Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Stone Center - African Diaspora Lecture Tomorrow
Attach: ofriday.vcf

Hi Debbie:

The Sonja Haynes Stone Center is having its annual African Diaspora Lecture on Tues., Oct. 3 @ 7 p.m. The lecture this year will feature Fatimah Jackson, a leading anthropologist, biologist, and researcher on genomics and its implications for the African-American community.

Would you please forward the information below to the AFAM listserv or list.

Thank you in advance for your support.

AFRICAN DIASPORA LECTURE
TUESDAY, OCT. 3. 2006, 7:00 P.M.
THE SONJA HAYNES STONE CENTER FOR BLACK CULTURE AND HISTORY
HITCHCOCK MULTIPURPOSE ROOM

The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill welcomes Dr. Fatimah Jackson, leading anthropologist, biologist, and researcher on genomics and its implications for the African-American community, as the guest speaker for the 2006 African Diaspora Lecture on October 3.

Dr. Jackson will discuss advances in DNA and genomics research and the problems in using this new technology to trace African ancestry. Renowned performance artist and Stone Center artist in residence, Sekou Sundiata, will moderate a discussion following the lecture.

Jackson is a professor of applied biological anthropology at the University of Maryland at College Park where she has taught for the past 15 years. She has written extensively on genomics including "African American Responses to the Human Genome Project."

For more information about Fatimah Jacksons research and work, visit http://www.bsos.umd.edu/ANTH/faculty/fjackson/index.htm; for more information about the lecture, call the Stone Center at (919) 962-9001.

Fore more information about other upcoming Stone Center programs visit, www.unc.edu/depts/stonecenter.

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 2, 2006 5:28 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Invitation from English and Comp Lit]
Attach: Invitation from English and Comp Lit (2.90 KB).msg

From: Nicholas Allen <na@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 2, 2006 10:35 AM
To: jen321@email.unc.edu
Subject: Invitation from English and Comp Lit

Dear Professor Nyang'Oro,

I'd be very grateful if you might extend the invitation below from English and Comp Lit to your faculty and graduate students.

With thanks,

Nicholas

Dear colleague,

our first visiting speaker, Pulitzer prize winning poet Paul Muldoon (Princeton University), will be on campus this Monday, October 9th. The day will begin with a public conversation with the poet regarding his work (3pm, the University Room, Hyde Hall, Institute of Arts and Humanities). There will then be a reception (5pm, Melba Remig Saltarelli Exhibit Room, Wilson Library), followed by Muldoon's reading (6pm, Pleasants Family Assembly Room, Wilson Library). You are all very welcome to attend and I would be grateful if you would encourage your students to join in these events.

Best,

Nicholas

Associate Professor
Department of English and Comparative Literature, CB #3520
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
NC 27599 USA
919-962-4052
na@email.unc.edu
http://english.unc.edu/faculty/allenn.html

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, October 3, 2006 8:06 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Participants 18-44 for study of Muscle and Jaw Function

---

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for healthy volunteers and people with TMJD to participate.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $260 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060
Email: sensory_study@dentistry.unc.edu

Approved by the Biomedical IRB 10/02/2006
Study #: 05-2255 Formerly (05-DENT-777)
Study Title: Orafacial Pain: Prospective Evaluation and Risk Assessment (OPPERA)

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 3, 2006 8:45 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Call for Proposals: Navigating the Global American South conference, April, 2007

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is again pleased to host the Navigating the Global American South conference in April 2007. The theme of this year's conference is "Global Health and Regional Solutions".

We are currently inviting proposals for presentations by scholars, policymakers, and professionals dealing with health issues that connect the American South and the world. Specifically, the conference will explore regional approaches to public health issues and ask what experiences translate between the American South and other world regions. We encourage proposals from a wide range of academic and professional fields and perspectives on topics such as:

* immigrant health
* infectious and chronic diseases
* maternal and child health
* domestic violence
* bioethics and human rights
* water management
* human trafficking
* comparative health care delivery
* nutrition and obesity in healthcare
* health education
* drug development and distribution
* access and disparity in healthcare
* disaster relief and recovery after Katrina

Deadline for submitting proposals is Nov. 1, 2006.

To propose a single presentation or an entire panel, please submit a proposal and an abbreviated CV on line at http://www.ucis.unc.edu/globalsouth/conference07/

This email is sponsored by: University Center for International Studies

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, October 3, 2006 9:23 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Newsletter InTouch Now On-Line

---

The Employee Forum newsletter InTouch is now on-line for October at http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch7-6.htm

Articles include:

From the Chair's Presentation to the Board of Trustees
Collective Bargaining Resolution
Community Meeting October 19
Do You Know About the Child Care Advisory Committee?
Opinion: Where Your Treasure Is...

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2006 11:33 AM
To: 'Deborah Crowder' <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: FW: global south conference rfp
Attach: Global South RFP 07.doc.pdf

Debby,

Could you send this out on the department list?

Thanks,

Mike

Dear Colleagues,

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is again pleased to host the Navigating the Global American South conference in April 2007. The theme of this years conference is "Global Health and Regional Solutions".

We are currently inviting proposals for presentations by scholars, policymakers, and professionals dealing with health issues that connect the American South and the world. Specifically, the conference will explore regional approaches to public health issues and ask what experiences translate between the American South and other world regions. We encourage proposals from a wide range of academic and professional fields and perspectives on topics such as: immigrant health infectious and chronic diseases maternal and child health domestic violence bioethics and human rights water management human trafficking comparative health care delivery nutrition and obesity health education drug development and distribution access and disparity disaster relief and recovery after Katrina.

Deadline for submitting proposals is Nov. 1, 2006.

To propose a single presentation or an entire panel, please submit a proposal and an abbreviated CV on line at http://www.ucis.unc.edu/globalsouth/conference07/

We have also attached this information as a flier. If you have any questions, please contact us at ucis@unc.edu.

--
Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
Executive Director
University Center for International Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
223 East Franklin Street, CB# 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145

nsteiner@unc.edu
Tel (919) 962-6855

Fax (919) 962-5375
www.ucis.unc.edu

--

Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
Executive Director
University Center for International Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
223 East Franklin Street, CB# 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145

nsteiner@unc.edu
Tel (919) 962-6855
Fax (919) 962-5375
www.ucis.unc.edu

Navigating the Global American South Conference

April 19 and 20, 2007

Call for Proposals
Deadline: November 1, 2006

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is again pleased to host our annual interdisciplinary conference on the globalization of the southern United States, the "Navigating the Global American South", to be held April 19 and 20, 2007.

The theme of this year's conference is Global Health and Regional Solutions.

The conference will explore regional approaches to public health issues and ask what experiences translate between the American South and other world regions.

We encourage proposals from a wide range of academic and professional fields and perspectives on topics such as:

* Immigrant Health
* Infectious and Chronic Diseases
* Maternal and Child Health
* Bioethics and Human Rights
* Water Management
* Human Trafficking
* Comparative Health Care Delivery
* Nutrition and Obesity
* Health Education
* Drug Development and Distribution
* Access and Disparity
* Disaster Relief and Recovery after Katrina
* Domestic Violence

Please submit your proposals online at: www.ucis.unc.edu/globalsouth/conference07

For more information, contact ucis@unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA at CHAPEL HILL

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2006 9:42 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor -- University Day 2006

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

Each of you are invited to attend an important day in the University's history. University Day, which falls every October 12th, commemorates the laying of the cornerstone of Old East, the nation's first state university building.

We will hold this year's University Day convocation on Thursday, October 12th, at 11 a.m. in Memorial Hall. Classes will be cancelled from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. so that faculty, staff and students may attend. (Attendance is considered work time for staff employees, who are encouraged to seek advance approval from their supervisors.)

UNC President Erskine Bowles, a proud Carolina alumnus, will be our featured speaker. Since assuming office in January, he has articulated a strong vision for the entire 16-campus UNC system. He has been a vigorous advocate in Raleigh. He is passionately committed to the improvement of North Carolina's high schools, recognizing that the future of higher education and North Carolina's competitive position rests on the foundation of our public schools. While President Bowles has responsibility for all 16 campuses, he has an unabashed love for Carolina. I have found him to be a wonderful, supportive partner. I hope that the Carolina community will respond with a strong presence to hear him speak and show our support.

Other convocation highlights will include performances by student musicians and the presentation of our Distinguished Alumna and Alumnus Awards to Valerie A. Batts, Angela R. Bryant, William "Bill" Burwell Harrison, Jr., Weiming Lu, Charles B. Nemeroff and George E. Stuart III.

Finally, University Day is a time when we traditionally celebrate new milestones in campus life. That will be the case next Thursday at 3 p.m. when we unveil a virtual museum of University history at a public symposium in the Pleasants Family Assembly Room of Wilson Library. The Web-based museum, a joint project of the UNC Center for the Study of the American South and the University Library, chronicles Carolina's people and events from its founding to the present day. Symposium speakers will explore historical perspectives on race and the University; service to the state and region; and gender and Southern education.

To learn more about University Day, go to http://www.unc.edu/universityday.

I look forward to seeing you in Memorial Hall.

Sincerely,

James Moeser, Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dsl@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, October 5, 2006 12:53 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Help Create Better Health Information- Osteoarthritis of the Hip

---

The Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center for Health Services Research, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is conducting focus groups to review a decision aid video on osteoarthritis of the hip produced by the Foundation for Informed Medical Decision Making. We are interested in talking to individuals with osteoarthritis of the hip who have had a hip replacement or who are managing their osteoarthritis with medical or other non-surgical strategies.

To participate in a focus group you must:
-Have osteoarthritis of the hip
-Have had a choice of having surgery or using medical or non-surgical strategies to manage osteoarthritis
-Be able to speak and read English
-Be able to travel to the Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center (725 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.-Historic Airport Road, Chapel Hill, NC)

If you are eligible for this research study you can participate in one of two audio-taped focus groups. Your participation would last approximately 2 to 2.5 hours, you would be able to select a group that best fits your schedule as long as openings are available. You would be compensated for your participation. If you are interested in participating in this study you can contact us at:
-Visit our website: https://www.shepscenter.unc.edu/dsl/secure/oah.htm
-Email us: dsl@unc.edu or call us 919.966.4328 or 866.250.1877 toll free

Please feel free to share this email announcement with others that you feel would be interested in learning about this study.

Best regards,

Jennifer M. Griffith, DrPH, MPH
Director- Decision Support Lab

Study approved by Biomedical IRB 8.23.06

This email is sponsored by: Decision Suppot Lab- Sheps Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Olympia Friday <ofriday@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 4, 2006 5:15 PM
To: Deborah A Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Announcement from UCIS

Hi Debbie:

Can you forward the message below to the AFAM listserv?

Thanks in advance.

Olympia Friday
Public Relations
The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
The University of NC at Chapel Hill
Phone: (919) 962-7265
Email: ofriday@email.unc.edu

Announcement from the University Center for International Studies

Dear Colleagues,

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is again pleased to host the Navigating the Global American South Conference in April 2007. The theme of this year's conference is "Global Health and Regional Solutions".

We are currently inviting proposals for presentations by scholars, policymakers, and professionals dealing with health issues that connect the American South and the world. Specifically, the conference will explore regional approaches to public health issues and ask what experiences translate between the American South and other world regions. We encourage proposals from a wide range of academic and professional fields and perspectives on topics such as: immigrant health, infectious and chronic diseases, maternal and child health, domestic violence, bioethics and human rights, water management, human trafficking, comparative health care delivery, nutrition and obesity, health education, drug development and distribution, access and disparity, disaster relief and recovery after Katrina.

Deadline for submitting proposals is Nov. 1, 2006.

To propose a single presentation or an entire panel, please submit a proposal and an abbreviated CV on line at http://www.ucis.unc.edu/globalsouth/conference07/

We have also attached this information as a flier. If you have any questions, please contact us at ucis@unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, October 5, 2006 8:56 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT October 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The October 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
* Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.

CAMPUS NEWS
* Carolina Innovations Seminar Series: Ins and Outs of Intellectual Property Protection
* Workshop: Overview of Licensing and Patents
* Working Group on Economic Development Recruiting New Members
* Technology Instrumentation Fair
* Research Administration Support Group (RASG)
* October SBIR Workshops
* New Contract Specialist Joins OSR
* New GrantSource Librarian in the Office of Information and Communications
* New Library Locations for Fall 2006
* New Resources from the UNC Libraries

FUNDING TIPS
* Updating Your COS Faculty Expertise Profile
* Tips on Writing Outreach Grant Proposals
* NIH Study Section Referrals
* Funding for Arts Featured at the Foundation Center
* Triangle Community Foundation Expands Its Focus
* Reynolds Trust Announces Major Changes in Its Giving Priorities
* Grantsmanship Tips for Gerber Foundation Applicants

FEDERAL NEWS
* NIH/AHRQ Now Using Version 2 of Certain Forms for Some Applications
* NSF Regional Grants Conference
* New Law Establishes an Accessible Database of Federal Funding
* OLAW Offers Guidance in New Frequently Asked Questions Site
* Become a panelist or peer reviewer for the NEH
* USDA Opens National Research Grant Competition

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, October 5, 2006 9:12 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: VoteSmart: Register to Vote On-Line

The Employee Forum Legislative Affairs committee has created a VoteSmart webpage. On this page, you can find out how to register to vote on-line and which State legislators are running in your district.

Anyone wishing to vote in the November election must register to vote by Friday, October 13.

All that at:

http://forum.unc.edu/projectvotesmart/votesmart06.htm

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, October 6, 2006 4:16 PM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re a Course for African concentration Majors

Dear Colleagues,
The re-shaping of the degree requirements has led to the suggestion that African Studies needs an overview course such as Key Issues in African Studies or Major Themes in African Studies. One way to do this would be to build a seminar course for majors and other advanced undergraduate and graduate students that several people might contribute to over the course of a semester, but one person would be responsible for coordination and evaluation. One idea would be to direct students to take this course in the spring of their junior years so that the senior year would be free for research and/or honors work.

Could you come to a meeting on Wednesday, October 25 at noon to have a bag lunch discussion over what themes might be explored? The idea would be to be open enough to allow the coordinator room to shape the course for his/her interests and still provide continuity for the majors.

Please let me know if you can attend, and if you can't would you send me an email with your thoughts. Debby says we should get the approval for such a course before we submit the revised majors program. So we would want to submit something in January. That means ideas, readings, and/or other course activities need to be pulled together well ahead of exams.

I know everyone is overworked, so thanks in advance for your contribution.
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Ashley_Henderson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 6, 2006 8:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Have you been told you have Chronic Bronchitis or COPD?

The Pulmonary division of UNC is looking for volunteers to participate in research about clearing particles from the lungs and how it can be improved.

If you qualify for the study, you will receive free physical examinations, lung function testing, and education about your illness.

This study could last up to 2 months with 5 outpatient visits to UNC. If you qualify for the study you will be compensated for your time, effort and travel to UNC.

If you are interested in learning more, please call:

UNC Pulmonary Research at 919 966-2531 or email Ashley_Henderson@med.unc.edu

approved 5/4/06, IRB #05-MED-318

This email is sponsored by: UNC Pulmonary Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, October 6, 2006 9:44 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 2007 MLK Scholarship Nominations

Nominations for the 2007 Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholarships are now being accepted.

The Scholarships are open to all juniors at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The awards are given annually to students who, as judged by the MLK , Jr. Scholarship Committee, best exemplify Dr. King's commitment to our society. We would appreciate your help identifying qualified candidates. Find a nomination form, as well as scholarship guidelines, at http://www.unc.edu/diversity/community/mlkscholarship.html. Please feel free to copy the nomination form to nominate more than one candidate.

All nominations must be received by 5 p.m. Friday, November 3, 2006.

Please send hard copies of nominations to:

Michelle O'Neil | The MLK, Jr. Scholarship Committee , CB#9125, 01A South Building, UNC Campus

Please send email nominations to:

moneil@email.unc.edu

For more information, contact Michelle O'Neil at moneil@email.unc.edu or 919-962-6962.

This email is sponsored by: Diversity and Multicultural Affairs

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 6, 2006 10:56 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Science and Technology Policy

A group of UNC faculty are pursuing the possibility of establishing a broadly based program in Science and Technology Policy on our campus. The issues this program would address include: (1) the impact of new technologies on the economy and society; (2) how scientific information is used to shape decision making in business and politics; (3) how society, particularly the federal government, shapes science and technology. These are cross-cutting issues with ramifications for research on the environment, energy, information sciences, genomics, nanotechnology, bio-terrorism and many other areas. Thus a broad ranging, campus-wide program seems appropriate.

Potential future activities include:
1. Developing (or enhancing existing) research thrusts in various sub-areas of S&T policy
2. Developing enhanced graduate and undergraduate training in S&T policy, likely starting with a certificate program.
3. Developing a high-profile seminar series on S&T policy

We are seeking to identify individuals or groups that might be interested in actively participating in the Science & Technology Policy program. If you have such an interest, please go to http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?A=150318588E88721 and complete the brief survey found there.

Please contact Karen Stone, Assistant Director, Carolina Roadmap Program at 966-9431 or karen_stone@med.unc.edu if you have any questions.

This email is sponsored by: Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of audrina_bunton@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, October 9, 2006 8:13 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death in the United States....

Lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death in the United States among both men and women. The American Cancer Society estimates that 174,470 men and women will be diagnosed with lung cancer in 2006, with an estimated 162,460 lung cancer deaths expected. Surgery during the early stages of this disease remains the only reliable treatment for cure, with a five-year survival rate of about 40%.

The University of North Carolina, in collaboration with the American Cancer Society, is conducting a study to find out what patients understand about their medical condition and to clarify how patients who have lung cancer, and doctors who treat lung cancer, look at individual situations and decide whether a lung cancer operation represents the best decision.

To be eligible, patients must be:
--> 21 years or greater
--> have a clinical diagnosis of early stage (Stages Ia through IIb) lung cancer
--> speak English
--> free of cognitive impairment

If you know someone else who is eligible and may be interested, please feel free to forward this information to them also.

Compensation
Study participants will take part in a 40-50 minute interview at an agreed upon location and will receive a $50 gift/grocery card as compensation for completion of the interview.

For more information or to refer a patient
Contact Nancy Siebens at 919-843-3392 or 919-619-2510 or via email at nsiebens@schsr.unc.edu.

For additional study information, contact Audrina J. Bunton (Project Manager) at 919-966-5060 or via email at: audrina_bunton@unc.edu.

Study APPROVED by UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB- Study #: 04-1172 Formerly (04-MCH-343-ORC)

This email is sponsored by: Sheps Center for Health Services Research

This email is sponsored by: Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of krake@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, October 9, 2006 10:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: AIDS Climb 2006

Are you interested in supporting the fight against HIV/AIDS? Do you love the outdoors? If so, AIDS Climb welcomes you to become a part of its team and work to promote HIV/AIDS awareness, education, and support grassroot organizations in East Africa. Please see our website, http://www.duke.edu/~vat18/aids-climb-site/, for upcoming activities.

Thank you!

This email is sponsored by: Students for Students International

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Margaret C. Lee <LeeMC@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, October 10, 2006 10:46 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Re a Course for African concentration Majors

Dear Ann,

I am available for a meeting on Oct. 25.

Margaret

Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:
> Dear Colleagues,
> The re-shaping of the degree requirements has led to the suggestion that > African Studies needs an overview course such as Key Issues in African > Studies or Major Themes in African Studies. One way to do this would be > to build a seminar course for majors and other advanced undergraduate > and graduate students that several people might contribute to over the > course of a semester, but one person would be responsible for > coordination and evaluation. One idea would be to direct students to > take this course in the spring of their junior years so that the senior > year would be free for research and/or honors work.
>
> Could you come to a meeting on Wednesday, October 25 at noon to have a > bag lunch discussion over what themes might be explored? The idea would > be to be open enough to allow the coordinator room to shape the course > for his/her interests and still provide continuity for the majors.
>
> Please let me know if you can attend, and if you can't would you send me > an email with your thoughts. Debby says we should get the approval for > such a course before we submit the revised majors program. So we would > want to submit something in January. That means ideas, readings, and/or > other course activities need to be pulled together well ahead of exams.
>
> I know everyone is overworked, so thanks in advance for your contribution.
> Ann
>

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 10, 2006 8:11 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ¿conoce alguien que está? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigación sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar más sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envía un correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número de teléfono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu dirección de correo electrónico con personas ajenas a esta investigación. Para obtener mayor información, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefónica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estén intentando quedar embarazadas

¡Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener más conocimientos simplemente compartiendo información sobre si misma y su embarazo. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiología de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departamento de Obstetricia y Ginecología de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisión Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of allden@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 10, 2006 9:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Interested in becoming UNC Track Official?

Dear Faculty, Staff, and Students:

The UNC Track & Field Team is looking for individuals interested in becoming UNC Track & Field Officials. We host 6-8 track meets per year at the Eddie Smith Field House and the Fetzer Field-Belk Track. This is a great activity for all who are interested in athletics, including those with little to no experience in Track and Field. We will provide the necessary training to become a certified USA Track & Field Official. Certified officials are paid an honorarium for working our meets and can choose to work as few or as many meets as desired. Questions can be forwarded to Andrew Allden at 962-5195 or at Allden@uncaa.unc.edu.

If you are interested simply return the form below via email, fax or mail.

Allden@uncaa.unc.edu

Fax: 919-962-4903

To: Andrew Allden
UNC Track - Athletics
P.O. Box 2126
UNC-Chapel Hill NC
Or
Andrew Allden
Track - UNC Athletics
CB # 8600

Name _____

Email_____

Phone_____

Street Address_____

City _____

State_____

Zip_____

Please detail any experience with track & field as a competitor or official:

_____

_____

This email is sponsored by: UNC Track & Field Team

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 10, 2006 11:51 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Psychological Treatment Offered by UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

---

Psychological Treatment Offered by the UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic!

The UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic offers psychological treatment to children, adolescents, adults and couples in the community. The Clinic, which is affiliated with the UNC-CH Clinical Psychology Ph.D. program, provides a sliding fee scale based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed clinical psychologists.
Adults and couples are seen in our on-campus location that is conveniently located in Davie Hall; we have limited openings for adults with substance abuse concerns. Children and adolescents are seen in our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road with afternoon and evening appointments and adjacent parking. Please visit our website at psychologyclinic.unc.edu or contact the clinic at 962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu for more information.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, October 11, 2006 11:06 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; asreynol@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Kashala to speak at UNC Thursday

Dear Colleagues,
The Office of Global Health is sponsoring a seminar with Oscar Kashala, former presidential candidate in the DRC and Senior Director of Oncology, Millennium Pharmaceuticals (Boston, MA), tomorrow at 12:30.

Oscar Kashala, DSc
Thursday, October 12
12:30pm
Global Health Seminar Series
Former Presidential Candidate,
Demographic Republic of Congo

Ibrahim Seminar Room, 1302 McGavran-Greenberg Building

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 11, 2006 3:58 PM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Kashala to speak at UNC Thursday]
Attach: Kashala to speak at UNC Thursday (2.49 KB).msg

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 11, 2006 11:06 AM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; asreynol@email.unc.edu; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Kashala to speak at UNC Thursday

Dear Colleagues,
The Office of Global Health is sponsoring a seminar with Oscar Kashala, former presidential candidate in the DRC and Senior Director of Oncology, Millennium Pharmaceuticals (Boston, MA), tomorrow at 12:30.

Oscar Kashala, DSc
Thursday, October 12
12:30pm
Global Health Seminar Series
Former Presidential Candidate,
Demographic Republic of Congo

Ibrahim Seminar Room, 1302 McGavran-Greenberg Building

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS THIS EVENT

Date: November 10, 2006

Place: Wake County Commons Building, Room C

If you are concerned about the behaviors and attitudes of today's youth population, The Education Research Group (TERG) can show you how to effectively communicate and implement strategies which are aimed at reducing school failure and risky behaviors.

This customized workshop offers a comprehensive, interactive atmosphere for participants to gain valuable insight into the world of today's teens. As a participant, you will have the opportunity to examine the behaviors, attitudes, values, and lifestyle trends of this population. In addition, this training will target a variety of environmental factors and influences such as music, fashion, language, and media penetration and consumption.

About the Presenter

Charles Pinckney is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Livingstone College in Salisbury, NC. He has conducted extensive research in the areas of hip-hop culture and communication dynamics.

Contact: Hip Hop Haven at (919) 210-8774 or ashley_kopp@hiphophaven.org

Who should attend?

- Social Workers
- Case Managers
- Police Officers
- Youth Counselors
- Health Educators
- Substance Abuse Workers
- Guidance Counselors
- Mental Health Workers
- Educators
- Parents
- Probation Officers
- Community Leaders

Hip Hop Haven, Inc.
&
The Education Research Group (TERG)
PRESENT
An Effective Communication Workshop
"Understanding the Impact of Hip-Hop Culture on Today's Youth Population"

Date: Friday, November 10, 2006 (8:30 am - 4:30 pm)
Location: Wake County Commons Building, Room C
4011 Carya Drive, Raleigh, NC 27610
CEU hours will be awarded!
The cost for this workshop is $85.00.

This customized workshop has been designed for adults who work with at-risk youth populations. Our workshops are specifically geared toward public school educators and youth services workers. If you are concerned about the behaviors and attitudes of today's youth population, The Education Research Group (TERG) can show you how to effectively communicate and implement strategies which are aimed at reducing school failure and risky behaviors.

This workshop offers a comprehensive, interactive atmosphere for participants to gain valuable insight into the world of today's teens. Participants will examine the behaviors, attitudes, values, and lifestyle trends of this population. In addition, this training will target a variety of environmental factors and influences such as music, fashion, language, and media penetration and consumption. TERG offers unparalleled opportunities to assist each workshop participant in understanding the relationships and worldviews of today's youth population. The participants will be introduced to innovative prevention and intervention strategies targeting work with at-risk youth populations. Developing effective communication strategies, targeting the hip-hop generation, will be the main focus of this workshop.

For additional details regarding this workshop, please contact Ashley Kopp, MSW with Hip Hop Haven at (919) 210-8774 or ashley_kopp@hiphophaven.org.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Charles Pinckney is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Livingstone College in Salisbury, NC. He has conducted extensive research in the areas of hip-hop culture and communication dynamics.

Registration Form

Name_____
Address_____/_____/_____
Organization_____TEL:_____Fax:_____
Email_____

Please include a check or money-order in the amount of $85.00 made payable to Hip Hop Haven and mail to:
Hip Hop Haven, P.O. Box 97153, Raleigh, NC 27624
Registration fee includes refreshments and workshop materials
SPACE IS LIMITED SO REGISTER EARLY

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ebradsha@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, October 11, 2006 9:02 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Commencement, December 2006

UNC Student Stores is pleased to announce that our regalia provider, Oak Hall, will have a representative at Student Stores, October 16th thru 18th, 9 AM to 4 PM, on the third floor of Daniels Building next to the Textbook Department. Samples, to assist faculty with their December Commencement custom regalia needs, will be on display. For any member of the faculty not interested in custom regalia, rentals will be offered through November 3rd.

Please contact Eve Bradshaw if you have questions at ebradsha@email.unc.edu or 919-962-2427.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Student Stores

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, October 12, 2006 9:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor -- Invitation to Employee Appreciation Day

---

I write to extend a special invitation for all Carolina faculty and staff to attend Employee Appreciation Day on Thursday, October 19. This event is designed to recognize the valuable contributions you make every day to the University.

Join your coworkers in the Pit and the Great Hall of the Frank Porter Graham Student Union for a variety of activities, including complimentary food, games and entertainment. For more information, visit the event website at http://hr.unc.edu/specialprograms/empapp06.

All employees are encouraged to take part in the Employee Appreciation Day events. This is considered a work-time event, and employees must have their supervisor's approval for time away from their regular responsibilities. I encourage supervisors to work with their employees to arrange flexible scheduling during the day so they can participate in this event.

Make plans now to join your colleagues for a well-deserved day of fun and relaxation. On October 19, we thank each of you who work hard to make our University successful.

James Moeser
Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 13, 2006 10:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Director, American Indian Center

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications and nominations for the newly created position of Director of its American Indian Center. The successful candidate will enjoy the opportunity to build a new center - a unit that bridges the richness of American Indian cultures with the strengths of Carolina's research, education and teaching. The inaugural director will be an individual uniquely qualified to focus on the mission of the center to establish the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as a leading public university for American Indian scholarship and scholars and make Native issues a permanent part of the intellectual life of the University.

This campus-wide Center will advance the University's overall mission of research, teaching and service by creating an environment in which quality research and scholarship related to American Indians is strengthened and nurtured. North Carolina is home to one of the largest Native population in the eastern United States and the Center will serve as the University's front door to American Indian communities across the state and the nation. The Center will enable Carolina, as the University of the People, to truly serve the First People of North Carolina and become the premier public university in the East for American Indian research and knowledge dissemination. The Center will advance campus diversity and dialogue by facilitating the inclusion of American Indian perspectives, enriching the learning environment of the entire Carolina campus. The Center will generate external funding from government agencies, foundations, and private donors by promoting collaboration between faculty, students, academic units, Native communities and other institutions.

The Director will be responsible for strategic planning, policy development, program development and implementation, program evaluation, and fiscal and administrative oversight. The Director will be the Center's official representative to internal and external constituencies, and will be responsible for academic outreach to Native communities, within the state, and beyond. He or she will collaborate extensively with faculty, staff, administrators, and students from all areas of the campus as well as with alumni and community partners, and will serve as the link between the American Indian Center and the academic programs of the University at large. The Center's internal and external advisory boards will support the Director in achievement of the goals of the new American Indian Center. The Director will supervise the staff of the Center and oversee fiscal and administrative activities.

The position requires significant experience and achievement in program leadership and a minimum of a Master's degree, with doctorate preferred, or commensurate experience and education. The successful candidate will have excellent skills in communication, building relationships with a wide variety of partners and constituents, a sensitivity to and deep understanding of Native communities, and possess many of the following attributes: Visionary leadership; strong background and understanding of American Indian cultures and perspectives; proven managerial, fiscal, and administrative abilities; an understanding of academic culture, policies and procedures typical of major public research universities; experience with American Indian academic outreach and community engagement; demonstrated fundraising ability and entrepreneurship as public relations and development are especially critical responsibilities of the director; ability to garner the support of volunteers and an appreciation for their contributions; passion and drive for the goals of this Center. The Director reports to the Provost, through the Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives and prepares and transmits to the Provost an annual budget and annual assessments of the Center's and Director's activities.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is a comprehensive research university offering the highest academic quality and a culture of achievement and collaboration. Chartered in 1789, UNC is the oldest state university in the United States. The University enrolls 27,276 students, including 238 Indians and is ranked in the top five public national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University's fourteen colleges and schools provide instruction offering 73 baccalaureate, 112 master's and 72 doctoral programs, as well as degrees in dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, law, nursing, business, and other professions. The University is situated in one of the premier college communities in the nation.

For more information, go to http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html. All applications must be submitted electronically at this site. Nominations may be addressed to Dr. Harry Watson, Chair, American Indian Center Director Search Committee, c/o Debbie Stevenson; 104 South Building , CB# 3000, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3000 or email debbie_stevenson@unc.edu. Inquires may be addressed to Dr. Harry Watson by calling (919)-962-5436 or by emailing hwatson@email.unc.edu. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2006, and continue until the position is filled. Anticipated start date is April, 2007, but is negotiable. The initial appointment for this administrative position will be for a five-year term with the possibility of a faculty appointment and opportunities for teaching/research.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lkjuhl@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 13, 2006 11:27 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you drinking too much?

Are you drinking too much?

7 Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
7 Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
7 Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The UNC School of Medicine is seeking volunteers for a research study of an investigational medication for the treatment of problem drinking. The study will involve a free evaluation and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. Unlike Antabuse, this medication will not make you sick if you drink alcohol. If you're between the ages of 30 and 60 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical trial. Your traveling expenses will be compensated with $10 per study visit.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Linda at 919-966-5770 or email at lkjuhl@med.unc.edu

GCRC 2321
Approved: Dec 8, 2005
Biomedical IRB-UNC

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of causey@unc.edu
Sent:	Saturday, October 14, 2006 1:02 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research Subjects Needed

SUBJECTS with Gastrointestinal Symptoms NEEDED

Do you experience some of the following symptoms - bloating, distension, swelling, gas, diarrhea, constipation, abdominal discomfort, or have been diagnosed with IBS.

We are conducting a study to see if Probiotics help people who suffer from bloating, diarrhea or diarrhea predominate IBS. Probiotics are live culture bacteria found in food like yogurt and cheese. This is a 14 week treatment trial with 4 clinic visits to UNC hospital. Subjects are paid $200 for their participation in this study.

We are conducting a second study looking at the genetic make-up of people who have been diagnosis with Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) and healthy controls. Participation involves a one time study visit to UNC hospital for approximately an hour to complete questionnaires and a blood draw. Participants are paid $50 for completing this study.

If you are interested in participation and to learn more about these studies please go to the web link below to provide your contact information. All information you provide is optional. A research coordinator will be in contact with you soon to explain the studies in more detail.

http://bigfoot.med.unc.edu/IBS/index.asp

Userid: ibsstudy Password: subject

This message has been approved by the biomedical review board (IRB) on 9/19/2006 for study Clinical Efficacy of Probiotic Bacteria in Patients with Irritable Bowel Syndrome, Functional Diarrhea, or Functional Bloating.

This message has also been approved by the biomedical review board (IRB) on 9/27/06 for study Genetic Surrogate MArkers for Irritable Bowel Syndrome Susceptibility, Comorbidity and Disease Characterization.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Gastroenterology & Hepatology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 16, 2006 12:27 PM
To: Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: swahili report

Dear Julius and Mutima,

I need to write a final report for the Department of Education regarding the funding UCIS used last summer to support Swahili.

Can you please send me a paragraph or 2 describing the impact this money had on your program? Specifically, I need quantifiable information on things like enrollment/audience size.

Also, please list any research or teaching resources that you developed and who the intended audience is.

Finally, one section asks for exemplary activities which would be especially strong bragging points.

Please dont be modest as the Department is not looking to be modest when it presents this information to Congress.

Let me know if you have any questions.

I would really appreciate having this by the end of this week or early next week.

Best, Niklaus

--
Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
Executive Director
University Center for International Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
223 East Franklin Street, CB# 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145

nsteiner@unc.edu
Tel (919) 962-6855
Fax (919) 962-5375
www.ucis.unc.edu

From: Niklaus Steiner <nsteiner@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 16, 2006 1:24 PM
To: Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Sinamenye Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: swahili report

Dear Julius and Mutima,

I forgot to mention that to make things easier for you, we online form so please complete that at:
http://www.ucis.unc.edu/survey/titlevifinalreport06.htm

Best, Niklaus

Niklaus Steiner wrote:

> Dear Julius and Mutima,
>
> I need to write a final report for the Department of Education > regarding the funding UCIS used last summer to support Swahili.
>
> Can you please send me a paragraph or 2 describing the impact this > money had on your program? Specifically, I need quantifiable > information on things like enrollment/audience size.
>
> Also, please list any research or teaching resources that you > developed and who the intended audience is.
>
> Finally, one section asks for > especially strong bragging points.
>
> Please don
> when it presents this information to Congress.
>
> Let me know if you have any questions.
>
> I would really appreciate having this by the end of this week or early > next week.
>
> Best, Niklaus
>

--
Niklaus Steiner, Ph.D.
Executive Director
University Center for International Studies
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
223 East Franklin Street, CB# 5145
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5145

nsteiner@unc.edu
Tel (919) 962-6855
Fax (919) 962-5375
www.ucis.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kmeyer@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, October 16, 2006 11:06 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Volunteers Needed

HEALTHY WOMEN and WOMEN WITH PCOS are needed as volunteers for a research study to help understand the roles of growth hormone, estrogen and androgens in Polycystic Ovary Syndrome (PCOS).

If you:
* are 18-40 years old
* have no major health problems (i.e., heart, liver, or kidney disease)
* are not taking any hormonal medications

You may qualify for a 16 week study investigating the effects of growth hormone blocking medicine in PCOS. This study will include 3 overnight hospital visits.

Qualified Participants Will Receive:
1. Laboratory evaluation
2. Bone density testing
3. Payment (up to $500.00) on completion of study

If interested, call 919-843-9235.

This message was approved by the Biomedical Review Board (IRB) on 8/18/06 for GCRC 2514 titled, Partial and Complete Growth Hormone Blockade in Polycystic Ovary Syndrome.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Endocrinology

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Endocrinology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, October 17, 2006 12:20 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Reminder to your Students

To whom it may concern:

As a favor to the Board of Elections, it would be great if you would please remind your students to vote in tomorrow's (Tuesday, Oct 17) Special Elections in order to increase the student voter turnout. They will be choosing their representatives to fill vacancies in Student Congress.

They are able to vote online via Student Central from 7am till 10pm.

Those eligible to vote tomorrow are the following:
1.) All Grad students
2.) All Undegrad students living on middle, south or off-campus
3.) All Seniors - they will be voting for the Sr. Class gift as well

An announcement by email or in class would be great. Thank you for assisting the Board of Elections with this matter. Have a good rest of the week.

- Board of Elections

This email is sponsored by: Board of Elections

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

Entry Term	Words	Scope
Abdul-Jabbar, Kareem	500	This essay should discuss the life and career of this basketball star, beginning with his life as Lew Alcindor growing up in New York City, his West Indian roots, his career at UCLA and within professional basketball (especially with the Los Angeles Lakers). Please note his decision to change his name and place within context of the 1960s and the turn toward Islam among African Americans. Please discuss his post-basketball life as a writer and coach, particularly among Native Americans.
Adoption	500	This essay should cover the forces that have led to spurts and declines of this phenomenon, along with noting prominent adoptees. Discussion of the movement against whites adopting black children and changing positions of organizations and black groups against interracial adoption.
Armstrong, Louis "Satchmo"	2,000	This essay should examine the life and musical career of Louis Armstrong from its beginnings during World War I. Special attention should be placed on his role as an innovator, a composer, and a band leader and his relationship to the "jazz age" and the Harlem Renaissance. Discuss his birth in humble circumstances in New Orleans, the impact of his marriage on his career, his contributions to jazz music, his prolific writings.
Asante, Molefi	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his contribution to the field of "Afro-centrism," his many writings, his development of the Ph.D. program at Temple.
Ashe, Arthur	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his tennis triumphs, his philanthropy, his involvement with apartheid South Africa, his tragic death, and the impact on AIDS activism.
Barry, Marion	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role in SNCC, his tenure as Mayor of Washington, D.C., his legal troubles.
Baseball [Integrated Professional]	2,500	Focus on "stars," e.g., Barry Bonds, Reggie Jackson, et.al., the dearth of black managerial personnel and off-field personnel generally, the question of whether the game is losing popularity among black fandom and athletes.
Basketball	3,000	Discuss the rise in popularity of this game, supplanting baseball during the time in question, the roles of, e.g., Bill Russell, Magic Johnson, Michael Jordan; dearth of black ownership stakes. Attempts to stop (the then) Lew Alcindor by banning the "dunk." Respond to why blacks have done so well in this sport. Entry should discuss street basketball, college and amateur, and professional basketball. Note that there is a separate entry on college and amateur sports in general.
Belafonte, Harold George (Harry)	1,500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his Caribbean roots, his early ties to Robeson, his contributions as artist and activist.
Bell, Derrick	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as civil rights lawyer and professor, including departure from Harvard. Note fiction and non-fiction writings.
Belton, Sharon Sayles	250	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her accomplishments as Mayor.
Bennett, Gwendolyn	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her literary contributions.

Bing, Dave	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as basketball star at Syracuse University and the Detroit Pistons and how that was leveraged in favor of his current business success.
Black Entertainment Television (BET)	500	This essay should discuss the founding of this network by mogul, Robert Johnson. Please outline the creative funding that allowed a less than affluent Johnson to finance BET. Please note the controversies concerning the content of this network's offerings, notably the music videos that were said to degrade women and portray craven lifestyles. Please discuss the subsequent sale of this network to Viacom, contributing to Johnson's present billionaire status.
Black Radical Congress	250	Discuss origins, philosophy, organization, successes, weaknesses.
Black Workers Congress	250	Discuss origins, philosophy, organization, successes, weaknesses.
Black Workers for Justice	250	Discuss origins, philosophy, organization, successes, weaknesses.
Bradley, Ed	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role on top-rated television show, detail some of his more notable segments. Note his origins as a "street reporter" in Philadelphia and a war correspondent in Vietnam.
Bradley, Tom	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role as first black Mayor of Los Angeles, his failed attempt to become California Governor in 1986, his stepping down from City Hall in the wake of the "riots" of 1992, his "trans-racial" appeal.
Branton, Wiley	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role as an attorney, especially during the civil rights movement.
Brimmer, Andrew	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his humble origins, his ascension as an economist, his role as a member of the powerful Federal Reserve Bank.
Brooke, Edward	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a GOP Senator, the first black to serve in this body since Reconstruction, his accomplishments and trials.
Brown, James	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his humble origins in Augusta, Ga., his jail terms, the evolution of his music and lyrics, his role in politics (e.g. helping to quell unrest in Boston in 1968 in the wake of the murder of MLK; his occasional backing of Republicans, his influence on Al Sharpton; etc.).
Brown, Jim	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early years in Georgia and Long Island, his stardom at Syracuse University and with the Cleveland Browns football team. Note his role as an actor and activist.

Brown, Lee	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role in law enforcement, especially in Atlanta, Houston, and New York, his role in the Clinton Administration, and his role as Mayor of Houston, and his earlier career as a criminologist.
Brown, Ron	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his origins in Harlem, his work with Senator Edward M. Kennedy, his leadership role with the Democratic Party and Urban League, his post as Secretary of Commerce, and the controversy surrounding his tragic death.
Brown, Willie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his humble origins in Texas, his role as an attorney, his election to the California Assembly, his tenure as Speaker of that body and as Mayor of San Francisco.
Broyard, Anatole	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as literary critic and his subsequent unmasking as one who was "passing."
Bryant, Kobe	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his youth in Italy and subsequent fluency in the language of that nation, his decision to leave high school to play professional basketball and subsequent successes.
Bullins, Ed	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as playwright and exemplar of the Black Arts Movement; note in particular his literary contributions.
Burrell Communications	500	In the context of discussing the role of African Americans in advertising, please discuss the rise of this leading firm, including its principal founders. Please discuss their leading advertising campaigns. Note also this firm's profitability.
Bush, George H. W., Administration of	750	Discus impact of policies on African-Americans, esp. affirmative action controversy, budget, judicial and other appointments, etc. Note support or lack thereof from Black Americans.
Bush, George W., Administration of	750	Discuss impact of policies on African Americans esp. affirmative action controversy, budget, judicial and other appointments, etc. Note support or lack thereof from Black Americans.
Campanella, Roy	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss site and date of birth, accomplishments with Brooklyn Dodgers, esp. during World Series, skills as a catcher; tragic auto accident.
Caribbean, The	1,000	This essay should sketch the geographic perimeters of this important region, noting particularly the role of the nations that have contributed heavily to the formation of the African American community, e.g. Haiti, Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad, etc. Please make reference to figures from this region who have captured the attention of African Americans e.g. Bob Marley and Michael Manley. Please also cite migration figures in recent decades and the locales of these migrants, especially New York City.
Carroll, Diahann	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss upbringing in NYC, ups and downs of her singing and acting career (notably her role as "Julia" on TV and social implications of same).

Carter, Benny	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his musical accomplishments and his particular role in Black L.A.
Carter, Betty	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her role as singer, notable tunes and styles with which she was associated.
Carter, Jimmie, Administration of	750	Discuss impact of policies on African Americans, esp. judicial and other appointments, affirmative action.
Chamberlain, Wilton "Wilt"	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his background in Philadelphia; his exploits at Univ. of Kansas, with Harlem Globetrotters, and NBA; and the controversy created by his memoir and "confessions."
Charles, Ray	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments as a singer and musician in various genres and his ability to not be detained by blindness.
Chenault, Kenneth	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his ascension as head of American Express, his accomplishments and setbacks.
Childress, Alvin	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments as an actor; include the controversy surrounding "Amos and Andy."
Chittlin Circuit (TOBA)	1,000	This essay should discuss this touring form of entertainment. Please discuss the genres involved, e.g. slapstick comedy. Please discuss the personalities who arose during this time. Please discuss the exploitation of the performers and the profits garnered by those who employed them.
Choreographers	2,000	Discuss themes and styles of various choreographers including, e.g., Judith Jamison, Eleo Pomare, Rod Rodgers, Pepsi Bethel, Alvin Ailey, Arthur Mitchell, et.al. Note that there are also separate entries on Judith Jamison, Alvin Ailey, Alvin Ailey Dance Company, and Arthur Mitchell.
Civil Rights and the Media	2,000	Discuss coverage in major media and minority media; include allegations of bias, importance of coverage to the movement's success, confluence of rise of TV and rise of the movement.
Clark, Mamie Phipps and Kenneth	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss their contributions to Civil Rights Movement, esp. the "doll studies" and subsequent controversy. Note their work with Northside Center. Include biographical data.
Clay, William	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a Congressman, including triumphs and trials, his particular role in Black St. Louis, and his passing on his congressional seat to his son.

Cleaver, Eldridge	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his "discovery" in prison, his writings, his controversial "Soul on Ice" in particular, his leadership of the Black Panther Party, his lengthy exile and travels, and his subsequent return to the U.S. and "conversion" to black conservatism.
Clifton, Lucille	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her literary accomplishments, styles, and themes.
Clinton, William, Administration of	750	Discuss impact of policies on African Americans, including judicial and other appointments; 'Commission on Race'; impact of crime bill and welfare reform.
Cochran, Johnnie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss accomplishments and setbacks of this noted attorney, particularly the defense of O. J. Simpson and its impact on his notoriety.
COINTELPRO	750	Discuss impact of program on African-Americans, esp. the Black Panther Party. Note evolution and possible continuation. Also note: there is a separate entry on the FBI.
Cold War	2,000	This essay should discuss the roots of this conflict with the former USSR, beginning in October 1917 and reaching a new stage in September 1945. Please discuss the basis of this dispute and its manifestations, notably in Africa and the Caribbean. Please note the impact of this conflict upon African Americans and how this conflict influenced the Civil Rights Movement. Please discuss in this light the opposition by Martin Luther King, Jr. and other leading figures and groupings to the war in Vietnam, the invasion of Grenada, etc.
Collins, Cardiss	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her accomplishments as a member of Congress from Chicago.
Coltrane, John	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments as a saxophonist; include his influence on other musicians, and his being influenced by music from Japan, India, etc.
Comer, James	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his contributions to child psychology at Yale.
Conductors and Bandleaders	1,000	This essay should discuss these musicians and their roles within in two different musical traditions—i.e. European classical music and jazz. Please describe specifically what it is that these men—and they are mostly men—do. Please discuss specific personalities—e.g. Count Basie and Duke Ellington—and their contributions. Please discuss the barriers to success faced by these individuals, particularly the role of racism.
Congress of African People	500	Discuss this organization as an exemplar of the influence of Africa on African Americans, the role of Le Roi Jones/Amiri Baraka, et.al.
Congressional Black Caucus	1,000	Discuss the origins, philosophy, and influence of the CBC. Focus on legislative accomplishments—e.g., in the realm of anti-apartheid—and leading figures, e.g., John Conyers, Charles Rangel, Ronald V. Dellums, Kweisi Mfume, et.al.
Connerly, Ward	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role in overturning affirmative action in California via Proposition 209, his role as a businessperson and overall conservative viewpoints.
Conservatism and Conservatives, Black	1,250	Discuss the rise of this philosophy; note exemplars, e.g., Stanley Crouch, Clarence Thomas, Thomas Sowell, et.al. Note tenets of this philosophy.

Cortez, Jayne	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her musical and literary accomplishments and general role as avant garde artist.
Cosby, William	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his early role as comic, popularizing of the interracial buddy genre via "I Spy," the success of his subsequent television efforts, his philanthropy and activism.
Crocker, Frankie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a disk jockey in both New York and Los Angeles; his influence on musical tastes and fashion.
Crothers, Scatman	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a performer, particularly on television.
Dandridge, Dorothy	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Cite biographical details, note career as performer, peaks and valleys.
Davis, Ossie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. After a brief introduction of his life and work, focus on his performances, work in independent film, and his activism--both individually and with his wife and professional partner Sandra Dee. While the entry will necessarily include discussion of Sandra Dee, keep in mind that there is a separate entry on her.
Davis, Sammy Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his multiple talents as a performer, his controversial embrace of Richard M. Nixon, his activism, Judaism.
Deacons for Defense and Justice	750	Note origins of group and accomplishments, connect to "non-non-violence" narrative of Civil Rights Movement.
DeCarava, Roy	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his initial work in collaboration with Langston Hughes and discuss his ensuing career.
Delany, Hubert T.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as jurist in New York and his activism.
Dellums, Ronald V.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his anti-war activism in Berkeley, his subsequent election to the U.S. Congress, his legislative accomplishments in the realm of, e.g., anti-apartheid, healthcare, etc. and his term as chair of the House Armed Services Committee.
Dinkins, David	500	Discuss his role in New York City politics, including as Borough President of Manhattan and Mayor of the city. Note the controversies, e.g., Crown Heights riot and successes, e.g., bringing down crime rates. Note his close ties to, e.g., Percy Sutton, Charles Rangel, Basil Patterson, et.al.

Dixon, Julian	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role in Los Angeles politics and his role as a Congressman.
Dove, Rita	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss the themes and styles of this poet/writer and the significance of her work.
Drugs	1,500	Discuss the rise of crack cocaine, the dichotomy between how crack vs. powdered cocaine defendants are treated in the criminal justice system, the controversy surrounding the San Jose Mercury series alleging U.S. government involvement with crack, imprisonment rates, impact on neighborhoods and families, etc. Note continued proliferation of other drugs, e.g., marijuana, ecstasy, date-rape drugs, heroin, etc. Include alcoholic beverages. Discuss gang violence in relation to drug use and selling. Note: there will also be a separate entry on criminal justice in the encyclopedia.
Dymally, Mervyn	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his Trindidadian roots, his role as an elected official from Los Angeles (including as Congressman and during the civil unrest in 1965 and 1992), and his role in African politics (including anti-apartheid and with Mobutu of Zaire).
Ebony (magazine)	1,500	Discuss founding in 1940s, format and content, role of John Johnson.
Economic Life	3,000	This essay should consider the participation of African Americans in the U.S. economy and work force since 1895. Discuss the limits and achievements of African Americans as property-owners, consumers, and in the markets, local and international. Discuss the importance of African Americans as labor, entrepreneurs, and professionals. Also emphasize the restrictions on the economic life of blacks, North, West, and South. Consider impact of segregation and desegregation on African American economic life, and assess how economic life changed over this period. Discuss employment rates, trends in creation of businesses, the political economy of urban areas, the plight of black farmers, income levels and distribution, class stratification, rates of unionization, trade union leadership. Discuss the position(s) taken by African American leaders on African American economic life. (Both A. Philip Randolph and Marcus Garvey should be discussed in this context).
Edison, Harry "Sweets"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his themes, techniques, styles, best-selling albums, tunes for which he is known, etc.
Edwards, Harry (Judge)	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a law professor at the University of Michigan, his work as a federal judge, including his most well-known judicial opinions and legal themes with which he is associated, particularly in labor law.
Elder, Lee	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments in golf, barriers he had to overcome, how he came to learn the game, etc.
Elderly, The	2,000	This essay should discuss and historicize the contemporary lifespan of African Americans. Please discuss the disparity in the lifespan of men and women and possible reasons why. Please discuss attendant issues, e.g. Social Security and the assertion that African Americans—because of their lagging lifespan—do not get as much from this system as other groups. Please note the special problems faced by this group, e.g. abuse, scams, nursing home scandals, declining net worth, etc.

Ellington, Edward Kennedy "Duke"	1,500	This essay should cover the life and musical career of Duke Ellington placing special attention on his role as a musician and a composer as well as his connection to the Harlem music scene, the Harlem Renaissance, and African American music in the 20th century. Discuss his themes, styles, best-known tunes, work as a composer, work with his big band, including collaboration with Billy Strayhorn, meeting with President Nixon toward the end of his life.
Entrepreneurship	2,000	This essay should discuss the rise of a Black Business Class, buoyed by the advance of the Civil Rights Movement. This essay should cite figures concerning the level and nature of their investments, particularly in comparison to their Euro-American counterparts. Reference should be made to particular personalities, e.g. Reginald Lewis and Robert Johnson. Readers should be pointed to the journal 'Black Enterprise' as an emblem of this class and its founder, Earl G. Graves.
Equal Employment Opportunity Commission	1,500	This essay should discuss the founding of this federal agency as an outgrowth of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Civil Rights Movement, more specifically. This essay should note that the EEOC—though brought into being to address racism in unemployment—quickly widened its scope to include sexism, national origin, and other forms of bias, thereby suggesting how the Civil Rights Movement advanced democracy generally. This essay should also discuss how this agency developed a huge backlog of cases during the ascendancy of the GOP, beginning in the 1980s.
Espy, Michael	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career in Mississippi, including his tenure as a Congressman, his tenure as first Black Secretary of Agriculture, and his resultant legal problems.
Evers, Charles	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a Mississippi politician, including his dalliance with the GOP and his admitted deviousness.
Evers, Medgar Wylie	1,000	This essay should discuss the role of this NAACP leader in Mississippi and the antagonism he attracted due to his energetic efforts. Please detail his assassination and the attendant publicity. Please note the role of his widow in bringing the assassins to justice. Please note the movie 'Ghosts of Mississippi,' starring James Woods and Whoopie Goldberg, which brought this story to the silver screen.
Expatriates	2,000	Discuss notable expatriates, including Shirley Graham Du Bois, James Baldwin, fleeing Black Panthers, etc. Discuss reasons for expatriation, most popular destination sites and why. Please be aware that some of these figures have their own entries in the encyclopedia, so the discussion should treat these figures broadly.
Fair Housing Act (1968)	750	Describe origins; note primary sponsors and problems that propelled this legislation; note long-term impact.
Farmers and Land Ownership	3,000	Discuss growing activism in this sector including among the Rural Coalition, Land-loss Prevention Project, etc. Discuss the trends in land loss, efforts to secure markets abroad, including Cuba, major crops grown, income levels, levels of subsidy, issues of discrimination, etc. Note: there is a separate entry, Agriguculture and Agricultural Labor.
Farr, Mel	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his transition from professional football to becoming one of the leading businessmen in Detroit.
Farrakhan, Louis (Louis X)	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his revival of the Nation of Islam, his initiatives in this regard, his foreign travels, controversies, the "Million Man March," etc. Please be aware that there is separate entry on the Nation of Islam.

Fauntroy, Walter	500	Discuss his career in local Washington, D.C., politics, his tenure as a member of Congress, his work with SCLC, etc. Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements.
Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)	1,500	This essay should discuss the origins of this agency some 80-90 odd years ago and the role of this agency in thwarting the Civil Rights Movement. In this context, please discuss the campaign against figures e.g. Marcus Garvey and Martin Luther King, Jr. Please note the murky "racial" origins of its long-time director, J. Edgar Hoover. Moreover, please discuss COINTELPRO (though note that there is a separate entry on this initiative.)
Ferguson, Roger	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his tenure as a member of the Federal Reserve Bank, his business and scholarly accomplishments, etc.
Film and Filmmakers	5,000	This essay should discuss the history of the African American film industry from its origins to the present, focusing on the production of film for African American audiences by African American filmmakers. Finally the essay should focus the content and racial perspective of these films aqnd discuss African American producers and directors, performers, and film stars, as well as the distribution and marketing of films for the African American market, including the development and ownership of black movie theaters.
Fishburne, Laurence	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his major roles, including his beginnings as a teenage actor, "Matrix," "What's Love Got to Do with It," etc.
Fitzgerald, Ella	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her themes and styles, her noted tunes, her record sales, etc.
Flake, Floyd	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a cleric, then member of Congress, then President of his alma mater, Wilberforce University in Ohio. Note the entrepreneurial activities of his pastorate.
Fletcher, Arthur	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his relation to the GOP during the Nixon years and his role in formulating both "Black Capitalism" and affirmative action.
Ford, Gerald, Administration of	750	Discuss judicial and other appointments, affirmative action and other issues concerning discrimination, impact on African-Americans.
Ford, Harold, Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss accomplishments of father and son and nature of their Memphis congressional district.
Foreman, George	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his boxing career, including his activity at a relatively advanced age; note his later business success.
Forman, James	750	This essay should discuss the life and work of James Foreman, Jr., focusing on his role as a civil rights leader. It should focus on his involvement in CORE, his activities as an activist in the 1960s struggle for civil rights and voting rights in the south; it should also discuss his relationship with LBJ. Please be aware that there are separate entries on CORE, the Civil Rights movement, and voting rights.

Franklin, Aretha Louise	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her themes, styles, her notable tunes, her roots in the Black Church of Detroit.
Freeman, Morgan	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his leading roles, e.g., "Driving Miss Daisy," "Shawshank Redemption," "Lean On Me," etc.
Fudge, Ann	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her educational background and business success as one of the highest ranking black women in Corporate America.
Gates, Henry Louis, Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a public intellectual, literary detective, his critique of perceived anti-Semitism among African Americans.
Gibson, Althea	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her multiple talents in golf and tennis, along with her subsequent reclusiveness.
Gibson, Bob	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his baseball career, including accomplishments, style, etc.
Gillespie, Marcia	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role in publishing and Black Feminism, e.g., with MS. magazine, Encore, Essence, etc.
Glover, Danny	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Describe his upbringing in San Francisco, experiences at SF State Univ., experiences with theater in SF, rise as film actor and political activist (esp. with TransAfrica)
Goldberg, Whoopie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her early success on Broadway, her growing success in film; depict overriding characterizations in her movies, her growing success in investing.
Golf	1,500	Discuss the history of African Americans in Golf from the beginning of the 20th century to the present. Include a discussion of the period of segregation as well as the desegregation of the sport, and the impact of desegregation on black golfers. Also discuss major African American figures in the sport and associated with the sport. Include women golfers as well as men.
Goode, Wilson	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his tenure as Mayor of Philadelphia; highlight "MOVE' bombing.

Gordon, Dexter	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his themes and styles as a musician, his lengthy expatriation in Europe, his later career in movies.
Gordone, Charles	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a playwright, including his major successes and themes.
Gordy, Berry, Jr.	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his founding of Motown, the groups and performers under contract, his attempt to move into film production, his later selling of the company and move to Southern California.
Graves, Earl G.	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a "Green Beret," aide to Robert F. Kennedy, and founding of "Black Enterprise" magazine.
Gregory, Dick	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early success as a track star in St. Louis and Southern Illinois University, his accomplishments as a satirist and comedian, his political activism, his race for the presidency.
Griffey, Ken, Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early success with the Seattle Mariners, his subsequent move to the Reds, and his prodigious home-run hitting.
Guess Who's Coming to Dinner	500	Note impact of this film, describe plot, note role of Sidney Poitier, Katherine Hepburn, Spencer Tracy, Beah Richards, et.al. Note remake with Bernie Mac, Ashton Kutcher.
Guy, Rosa	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her Caribbean origins, the themes and styles she has exemplified as a novelist.
Gwynne, Tony	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his techniques as a hitter, his accomplishments with the San Diego Padres, his subsequent move into college coaching.
Hampton, Lionel	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his styles and techniques as a vibraphonist, his role as part of a racially integrated combo, his ties to the GOP, his philanthropy.
Hancock, Herbie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his styles, techniques as a pianist, his stint with Miles Davis, his most popular releases, his grosses.
Harlem Globetrotters	750	This essay should discuss the origins of this ersatz basketball team. Please note the role of Abe Saperstein in its successes. Please discuss the talent they attracted, e.g. a young Wilt Chamberlain. Please also discuss the critical reaction to what was seen as their buffoonery.

Harris, E. Lynn	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his successes as a novelist; note his popularizing of LBGT (lesbian, bisexual, gay, trans-gender) themes.
Harvard, Beverly	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her trials and triumphs as police chief.
Hastings, Alcee	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his successes as a lawyer, his appointment to the federal bench and subsequent impeachment and resurrection as a Congressman from South Florida.
Hatcher, Richard	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as the first black Mayor of Gary, Indiana.
Hate Crimes	1,250	Discuss the emergence of hate crimes describing how they have been defined, how courts and legislatures have dealt with them and give examples of some of them. This essay should note that hate crimes are not specifically limited to racially motivated violence against blacks and that the term hate crime has been applied to violence against whites because of their race as well as against jews, asian americans, and other minorities. Also mention violence against people because of their sexual orientation.
Hate Groups	1,000	This essay should discuss the efflorescence of these organizations within recent decades. Special note should be taken of the 1991 gubernatorial election in Louisiana where KKK and Nazi leader, David Duke, received a majority of the white vote. Please discuss the activities of the monitors of these groups, e.g. the Southern Poverty Law Center. Please give an indication of the number, membership and ideology of these groups.
Hate Speech	750	This essay should discuss the evolution of this legal and constitutional doctrine. Please explain its meaning and contours and explain how it is consistent with the dictates of the First Amendment. Please refer to high court cases where this doctrine has been discussed.
Hemphill, Essex	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as gay activist, writer, anthologist.
Hendrix, Jimi	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his origins in Seattle, his successes as a musician, controversy surrounding his death and estate.
Herman, Alexis	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role as a Democratic Party leader and as Secretary of Labor during the Clinton Administration.
Hightower, Dennis	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his origins, his business successes, etc
Hilliard, Earl	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a Congressman from Alabama, controversies surrounding his ties to Libya, his defeat in the 2002 Democratic primary.

Homelessness	2,000	This essay should historicize this phenomenon by adverting to the proliferation of "hobos" during the Depression. Reference should be made to the proliferation of this trend in recent years, particularly in cities e.g. Los Angeles and New York. Please note proposed remedies, particularly legislative remedies. Discuss contributing factors, e.g. residential segregation that locks African Americans out of entire neighborhoods, growing income disparities, spiraling home prices and rental rates, etc.
Homosexuality and Transgenderism	1,500	Discuss notable figures, e.g., James Baldwin and Barbara Smith; health and related issues--e.g., HIV-AIDS--and the response at large. Encyclopedia also includes individual entries on Sexuality, AIDS, Barbara Smith, and James Baldwin
Hooks, Benjamin	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as FCC Commissioner, NAACP leader, judge, and player in Memphis and GOP politics.
Horne, Lena	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her musical and film career, the "blacklisting" of her, her subsequent comeback.
Houston, Whitney	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as a singer and actor, including styles and techniques.
Hughes, Albert and Allen (The Hughes Brothers)	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss their role as directors of Hollywood films, e.g., "Menace II Society."
Hunter, Alberta	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as a singer, styles and techniques.
Ice Cube	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as rapper, actor, writer, producer, notably in the context of Los Angeles.
Ifill, Gwen	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as a journalist, with, e.g., the NY TIMES, PBS, etc.
Industrialization and Deindustrialization	3,000	Discuss the flight of major industry from urban centers, e.g., Los Angeles. Note impact on income levels, crime, family break-up. Note context of rise to power of Black elected officials and the resultant eroding tax base.
Intellectuals	2,000	Define the term expansively, so as to include rappers, radio commentators--any who traffic in ideas. Discuss rising publicity for "public intellectuals"; discuss, e.g., religious intellectuals (see book by Clarence Taylor), etc.
Internet	2,000	This essay should discuss the origins and evolution of this system. Please discuss the "digital divide" and what is being done to bridge it. Please discuss the proliferation of black-oriented sites and, as well, racist sites—and their influence. Please note also the rise of entrepreneurs e.g. Omar Wasow.
Iraq War	1,000	This essay should discuss the first conflict in 1991 and its successor in 2003. Please discuss how African American public opinion viewed both wars. This essay should also discuss the rate of casualties among black troops and the long-term consequences on budgetary issues of interest to blacks.

Iverson, Allen	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his legal troubles as a youth in Virginia, his triumphs at Georgetown and with the Philadelphia 76ers.
Jabbar, Kareem Abdul	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his Islamic beliefs and his name change from Lew Alcindor, his successes as a basketball player with UCLA, the Milwaukee Bucks, and the L.A. Lakers, his financial difficulties and subsequent coaching, e.g., on an Indian reservation in the southwest.
Jackson, Janet	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her acting and music career in the context of her well-known family.
Jackson, Jesse	1,500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early career as a football star at North Carolina A&T University, his move to Chicago and relationship with Martin Luther King, Jr., his break with SCLC and founding of Operation PUSH, his races for U.S. President, his foreign travels and "rescue" missions of endangered U.S. citizens.
Jackson, Jesse, Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a congressman.
Jackson, Maynard	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as Atlanta Mayor, businessman, and aspirant to head the Democratic Party.
Jackson, Michael	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early success as a child performer, his subsequent musical successes, controversies surrounding his cosmetic surgery, fondness for animals, relationships with children, etc.
Jackson, Reggie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his baseball career at Arizona State University, the Oakland As, New York Yankees, California Angels, and Baltimore Orioles. Note his prodigious homerun hitting, election to the Hall of Fame, his collection of classic autos.
Jackson, Samuel L.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his activism at Morehouse College, his subsequent successes as an actor, his fondness for golf.
Jackson, Shirley Ann	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as a scientist and administrator.
Jacob, John	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his tenure as head of the National Urban League and subsequent role as executive with Anheuser-Busch.

Jamal, Mumia Abu	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as journalist, former Black Panther, ties to the MOVE organization, the killing of a police office that led to his imprisonment, and his current role as renowned prisoner.
James, Daniel "Chappie"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as officer with U.S. military, his combat duty in Vietnam, etc.
Japan	500	Discuss impact on African Americans of war with Russia in 1905, World War II, etc. Note particularly positions of Du Bois, Garvey, et.al.
Jefferson, William	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a Congressman and as a power broker in New Orleans.
JET Magazine	1,000	This essay should discuss the origins of this weekly, founded by John Johnson of Chicago. Please discuss its circulation, its profitability and its importance. Please note its special features, e.g. photographs, center-folds, gossip and hard news.
Johnson, Eddie Berniece	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role as Congresswoman from Dallas, leadership role in the Congressional Black Caucus, and legislative triumphs.
Johnson, Ervin "Magic"	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his success in basketball at Michigan State University and the Los Angeles Lakers, his victory in the 1992 Olympics and role with the "Dream Team," his retirement after his contracting of HIV-AIDS, his subsequent role as spokesman for People with Aid, businessman and power broker in L.A.
Johnson, John J.	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his stewardship of his publishing empire, his memoir, his attempt to pass leadership on to his daughter.
Johnson, Lyndon B.	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his pre-presidential career as Senator from Texas, positions on civil rights bill of 1957, segregation, etc.
Johnson, Lyndon B., Administration of	3,000	Discuss passage of Voting Rights act of 1965, Civil Rights Act of 1964, relations with Martin Luther King, Jr., Roy Wilkins, Whitney Young, et.al. (Please note that the encyclopedia will include separate entries on all of the above, so discussion should handle these topics broadly.)
Johnson, Michael	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a sprinter and his success at the Olympics.
Jones, Elaine	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role as an attorney and head of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

Jones, James Earl	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as an actor (e.g., "The Great White Hope"), television pitchman, etc.
Jones, K. C.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as basketball coach in Boston and Seattle.
Jones, Nathaniel	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as NAACP general counsel and federal judge for the Sixth Circuit; note prominent cases.
Jones, Quincy	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as musician, entrepreneur, movie producer ("The Color Purple"), television producer ("The Fresh Prince").
Jordan, Barbara	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her role as Houston Congresswoman, role in the Watergate investigation, her powerful oratory.
Jordan, June	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Detail her writings including essays, poetry, advocacy journalism, librettos, novels, etc. Limn her themes and style.
Jordan, Vernon	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Detail his role as voting rights attorney, head of the National Urban League, highly paid Washington attorney and New York investment banker, and confidante to President Clinton and role in the impeachment of him.
Journalism, Print and Broadcast	2,500	This essay should discuss, using time and place, the coverage of African Americans in American newspapers and magazines from the death of Frederick Douglass through 2005. The essay should discuss the interactions between African Americans and newspapers, magazines, and news shows, and discuss their efforts as journalists during the relevent years. Discuss the National Association of Black Journalists, prominent personalities (e.g., Clarence Page, Bob Herbert, et al). Note structural problems in the industry that limit black participation. Keep in mind that there is a separate entry on the Black Press, which will deal with specifically African American print news-publications.
Karenga, Maulana Ron	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role in the evolution of Black Nationalism, including originating Kwanzaa.
Kennedy, Flo	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as a lawyer, including prominent cases. Note her role as Black Feminist.
Keyes, Alan	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as black conservative spokesman and GOP presidential candidate.

Kincaid, Jamaica	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her Caribbean background and her novels, including themes and writing style.
King, B. B.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his musical style and technique and his lyrical content.
King, Don	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his background as a numbers runner in Cleveland, his criminal conviction, his emergence as boxing promoter, and the failed prosecutions of him.
King, Mel	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as a Boston politico, his failed races for Mayor, and his pioneering of the Rainbow Coalition concept before Jesse Jackson.
King, Woodie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as theater producer, particularly in New York City. Note plays produced, themes, grosses, etc.
Kirk, Ron	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his upbringing in Austin, his role as Mayor of Dallas, his failed race for the U.S. Senate in 2002.
Kitt, Eartha	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her troubled upbringing, her role as performer, political controversies.
Knight, Marion "Suge"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his pivotal role in the rise of "gangsta rap," his controversial relationship with Tupac Shakur and Snoop Dogg, the profitability of his company, "Death Row"—later "The Row"—Records.
Koerner Commission Report	1,500	This essay should discuss the content of this report commissioned by then U.S. President Johnson. Discuss its origins in response to the civil unrest that gripped the nation in the 1960s. Please note the import of its conclusion that the nation was splitting into two societies—black and white. Please discuss the fate of the remedies proposed and the subsequent travails of former Illinois Governor, Otto Kerner, who was convicted criminally.
Komunyakaa, Yusef	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his poetry, including themes, styles, and techniques.
Kwanzaa	500	This essay should discuss the origins and evolutions of this celebration/holiday developed by the activist and philosopher, Ron Karenga. Please discuss the seven principles of Kawaida on which it is based. Please note its migration into the mainstream and its adoption commercially.
Lee, Barbara	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her role as Congresswoman from Oakland-Berkeley, including accomplishments; note her sole dissenting vote against war in Afghanistan in 2001.

Lee, Sheila Jackson	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note her role as Congresswoman from Houston, detail her accomplishments.
Leland, Mickey	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as Congressman from Houston, his efforts to fight hunger, and his tragic death in a plane crash in the Horn of Africa.
Leonard, Sugar Ray	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments as a boxer, including championships held, notable bouts with, e.g., Thomas Hearns, Roberto Duran, et.al., grosses, etc.
Lewis, Delano	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as corporate executive, diplomat, and head of National Public Radio.
Lewis, Reginald	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as the first black billionaire, his philanthropy (especially his foundation), the role of "junk bonds" in his success, etc.
Loury, Glenn	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his contributions to economics and his abrupt transition from conservatism to liberalism, as he moves from Harvard to Boston University.
Loving v. Virginia	1,000	Discuss impact of this high court ruling, including basic facts and impact.
Lowery, Joseph	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his leadership of SCLC, his relationship with Martin Luther King, Jr., his controversial support of for Clarence Thomas' nomination to the U.S. Supreme Court.
Lucy, William	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as labor leader with AFSCME (American Federation of State, County & Municipal Employees) union and Coalition of Black Trade Unionists.
Marches on Washington, D.C. [1963]	2,500	This essay should discuss the various marches on the nation's capital that have gripped the public imagination with a particular focus on that of 1963. Thus, please note e.g. Coxey's March, the Bonus Marchers, A. Philip Randolph's threatened march during World War II, etc. The focus, of course, should be on the 1963 march with special reference to Martin Luther King and his remarks. However, also include the number of marchers, how this march was organized and funded, etc. Discuss also its long-range impact.
Marches on Washington, D.C. [Overview]	1,000	Note in particular march of 1963 but deal with various Washington marches in 20th century in which African-Americans participated. Note: there are individual entries on the march of 1941, the marches of 1963, and the Million Man March.
Marsalis Family	1,000	Discuss their roots in New Orleans and the artistry of Ellis Marsalis. Discuss his sons' apprenticeship with Art Blakey and their later fame, including Branford's stint on the "Tonight Show with Jay Leno" and Wynton's leadership of Jazz at Lincoln Center, New York.
Martin Luther King Jr. Day	750	This essay should discuss the origins of this holiday. Please note the role of the entertainer, Stevie Wonder, in this process and the movement and marches that gave birth to this holiday. Note also the various forms in which this holiday is celebrated.

Martin, Louis	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as aide to President Carter and long-time Democratic Party activist.
Martyrdom and Civil Rights	2,000	This essay should discuss the various murders that accompanied the movement toward equality, including that of Medgar Evers, Martin Luther King, Jr., Malcolm X, et.al. This discussion should be in the context of a violent political culture that also contributed to the murder of a U.S. President, John F. Kennedy. Please discuss how these killings may have slowed down or accelerated the causes for which these individuals gave their lives.
Mays, Willie Howard	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss the twilight of his baseball career, his election to the Hall of Fame, his influence on his godson, Barry Bonds.
McCall, H. Carl	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as cleric, New York State Senator, bank executive, head of NYC school board, UN Ambassador, state comptroller, and losing candidate for Governor.
Merriwether, Louise	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her literary accomplishments, including "Daddy was a Numbers Runner," her teaching at Sarah Lawrence College, etc.
Mfume, Kweisi	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as Congressman from Baltimore, leader of the Congressional Black Caucus and his leadership of the NAACP. Integrate into the narrative his less than humble origins.
Miami	1,000	This essay should provide an overview of the African American presence and experience in Miami from the late 19th century to the present. It should address black social, economic, political, educational, and cultural developments, and as appropriate discuss the city's connection to national events and African American leaders. Include a discussion the incident of police brutality that led to the 1980 "riot." Discuss in the context of the changing demographics of south Florida, including the growing Cuban-American population and Haitian-American.
Million Man March	750	Discuss this October 1995 rally led by the Nation of Islam. Note origins and philosophy, prominent speakers. Gauge subsequent impact. Note criticisms by feminists and subsequent offshoots, e.g., "Million Woman March," "Million Youth March," "Million Family March," etc.
Mingus, Charles, Jr.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss this jazz bassist's style and techniques, his most popular records, e.g., "The Black Saint and the Sinner Lady," his association with and passing away in Mexico. Note sales and grosses of his albums.
Mitchell, Arthur	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss the Dance Theatre of Harlem; their contributions to ballet. Note Mitchell's own career as a dancer.

Mitchell, Parren	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his contributions as Congressman from Baltimore, including in the area of aid to small, minority-owned businesses. Note his well-known family that has been quite active in that city's politics, including Clarence Mitchell, once chief NAACP lobbyist known as the 101st Senator.
Modern Jazz Quartet	500	Discuss their contributions to jazz; note specific roles of, e.g., Milt Jackson, Connie Kay, John Lewis, and Percy Heath.
Monk, Theolonius	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his contributions to jazz with particular reference to his unique style as a composer and pianist. Note his idiosyncratic manner and his influence on popular culture in this respect.
Moore, Audley (Queen Mother)	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss origins, ties to CP and Black Nationalism, relationship to Harlem.
Moseley Braun, Carol	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role in Chicago politics, her 1992 election to the U.S. Senate from Illinois, her subsequent defeat in 1998 amidst controversy, and her subsequent appointment as US Ambassador to New Zealand.
Mosley, Walter	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his detective fiction, his themes and style; note his activism.
Motown	2,000	Discuss origins of this Detroit firm—and eponymous 'Sound'—along with top artists (e.g. Smokey Robinson, 4 Tops, Marvin Gaye, Supremes, et.al.), subsequent move to L.A. and contemporary status.
MOVE Bombing, Philadelphia	500	Discuss background leading to this assault; note resultant consequences, e.g., fatalities, lawsuits, political fallout, etc.
Murphy, Eddie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early career on "Saturday Night Live" and his breakthrough in films; note grosses and most prominent roles, e.g., "48 Hours," "Beverly Hills Cop," "Trading Places," etc.
Murray, Albert L.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his writings, his literary relationship with Ralph Ellison, and his influence on Stanley Crouch and Wynton Marsalis.
Music	5,000	This essay should provide a history and overview of African American music from the mid 1890s to the present. It should focus on blacks as composers and musicians and discuss the evolution of various African American musical styles during this period. It should also relate African American music to other art forms, especially during the Harlem Renaissance. Please be aware that there are separate entries on Jazz, Blues, Hip Hop, Spirituals, R&B, Gospel, Ragtime, and the Harlem Renaissance.
National Alliance Against Racist and Political Repression	500	Discuss its origins in the wake of the campaign to free Angela Davis, its subsequent campaigns on behalf of the Wilmington 10, George Merritt, et.al.
National Association of Black Journalists	1,000	Discuss the origins and philosophy of this grouping; detail number of members, chapters, activities. Detail representation of blacks in newsrooms—print and electronic.
National Bar Association	1,000	Note activities, philosophy. Note number of black lawyers and dispersal nationally.

National Conference of Black Lawyers	500	Discuss founding in 1968 in Virginia, detail philosophy, activities (e.g., Attica case, affirmative action, anti-apartheid, etc.); note number of chapters and members and dispersal nationally.
National Welfare Rights Organization	500	Discuss origins, philosophy, accomplishments. Profile leaders, e.g., George Wiley. Discuss reasons for demise.
Naylor, Gloria	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss themes, styles of her novels. Note, e.g., "Women of Brewster Place" and television version.
New Left, The	1,500	Discuss origins and traditional definition, extent to which this definition has been racially exclusionary, etc. Discuss relationship to civil rights via SNCC, Black Panthers, etc.
Newton, Huey P.	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss role in popularizing and leading Black Panther Party. Note his imprisonment, his receiving of a doctorate from UCSC, his writings, e.g., "Revolutionary Suicide," his stay in Cuba, his tragic death in a drug deal gone bad.
Nixon, Richard, Administration of	1,500	Discuss "Southern Strategy," judicial and other appointments, "Black Capitalism", affirmative action, repression of BPP, etc.
O'Leary, Hazel	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role as Secretary of Energy in the Clinton Administration, including her accomplishments.
O'Neal, Shaquille	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his youth as the son of a career army officer, his high school days in San Antonio and college days at LSU-Baton Rouge; include his professional basketball career with the Orlando Magic, then L.A. Lakers, his business ventures, etc.
O'Neal, Stanley	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his ascension to the top post at Merrill Lynch after graduating from Harvard Law School; include accomplishments and controversies surrounding the company's role in corporate corruption.
O. J. Simpson Trial	1,000	Discuss his background as a football star at USC, Buffalo, and San Francisco and his subsequent career as an actor and television pitchman. Detail facts of the killing of his wife, Nicole, and Ronald Goldman, along with his flight, then arrest, then acquittal. Discuss racial splits engendered by this case. Note subsequent civil trial.
Olympics	1,500	Discuss relationship of African Americans to the Olympics since 1896. Highlight Jesse Owens, 1968 Olympics, Atlanta Olympics.
Owens, Major	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as Congressman from Brooklyn, his crusades on behalf of Haitian immigrants and in favor of education, his previous career as a librarian.
Page, Clarence	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role as leading journalist and pundit with the Chicago Tribune and the PBS "News Hour."
Parker, Charles	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his influence on music, esp. 'be-bop', his socio-cultural impact (e.g. dress, lingo, drugs, etc.), his tragic death, etc.

Parks, Henry	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Note his role as businessman in Maryland, the popularity of his products, the grosses of his company.
Parsons, Richard	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his matriculation at the University of Hawaii and law school at SUNY-Albany, his familial ties to the Rockefeller family (for whom his father toiled) and early success as a banker before becoming leader of AOL-Time Warner.
Peace Movements, International	1,000	This essay should focus on African American participation in anti-war activity, particularly as it concerns e.g. the conflict in Vietnam, Grenada, Panama, Iraq, etc. Their arguments relevant to the black condition should be noted—e.g. government spending on war detracts from spending on civilian activity. Repression, criticism and surveillance of these movements should be highlighted, along with their effectiveness—or lack thereof. Note: there will be a separate entry specifically on the African American participation in the Vietnam anti-war movement that will go into greater detail on this particular topic.
Peacock Records	500	Thus essay should discuss the history of Peacock records and its influence on blues, rhythm and blues, and gospel and spiritual music in the mid 20th century. The essay should discuss both the artistic and the business side of the enterprise.
Poitier, Sidney	1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Detail his more recent roles and characterizations, the special Oscar received, his role as Bahamas' Ambassador to Japan.
Poor People's Campaign	750	Discuss origins, continuation after death of MLK, participants, accomplishments and problems, etc.
Powell, Adam Clayton, Jr.	2,500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his pastorate in Harlem and his later career as a Congressman from Harlem, including controversies that led to the attempt to oust him from Congress and compelled him to spend more time in Bimini.
Powell, Colin	1,000	Note Jamaican and Bronx roots. Discuss his role as National Security Advisor in the Reagan Administration, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff during the Bush and Clinton Administrations, and Secretary of State in the second Bush Administration. Note controversies (e.g., "don't ask/don't tell") and accomplishments.
Pride, Charlie	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his accomplishments in country music; note leading tunes and grosses.
Prince	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss biographical details, musical accomplishments and controversies.
Queen Latifah	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her role as the "first lady of rap," her migration to television and movies and business. Discuss noted tunes, e.g. "Ladies First," television roles (e.g., "Living Single") and movie roles (e.g., "Set it Off" and her lesbian character), and her failed talk show.

Racism	4,000	This essay should initially discuss the origins of this philosophy and praxis, then discuss contemporary manifestations. Please pay particular note to articulated manifestations—e.g. the "Bell Curve"—and developments in how the courts have treated this phenomenon. Please discuss manifestations in employment, housing, education, voting rights, death penalty and other realms of U.S. life.
Radio	1,500	Discuss radio empires of, e.g., Cathy Hughes and Percy Sutton. Note role of affirmative action measures of FCC in creating these businesses. Discuss content of "black-oriented" radio, e.g., talk formats, type of music played, etc. Discuss profitability, prominent personalities (e.g., Tom Joyner and Tavis Smiley).
Raines, Franklin	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his humble origins in Seattle, years at Harvard, his role as Office of Management & Budget Director in the Clinton Administration, his subsequent key role in the mortgage market through his leadership of "Fannie Mae."
Rangel, Charles	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his background as a Korean war veteran, attorney, prosecutor, and his successful challenge to Congressman A. C. Powell, representing Harlem. Note accomplishments, particularly in the realm of tax policy.
Reagan, Ronald, Administration of	750	This essay should place this former President of the Screen Actors Guild in the context of an industry—movie-making—sharply criticized for its depictions of African Americans. The bulk of this essay, however, should concern his presidency, beginning with his launching his campaign in August 1980 in Philadelphia, Mississippi. In discussing his presidency, note his staunch opposition to the King Holiday bill and other measures of moment to blacks, e.g. opposition to sanctions against apartheid South Africa.
Redman, Joshua	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his origins in Berkeley, his father—Dewey Redman—his training at Harvard and turning down Yale Law School to become a professional musician. Note his prominent tunes, his grosses, etc.
Reparations	2,000	Discuss takeoff this movement, including book by Randall Robinson, team of lawyers that includes Harvard's Charles Ogletree and Johnnie Cochran, successful efforts (e.g., reparations gained for survivors of Rosewood, Florida massacre—depicted in John Singleton's eponymous movie), bills passed by California and Chicago legislatures, bill introduced by Congressman Conyers of Detroit. Discuss arguments, pro and con.
Rhythm and Blues (R&B)	2,000	This essay should seek to define this musical trend by citing relevant performers and representative tunes. This discussion should be placed within the context of the exploitation of these artists and the appropriation of their creations by non-blacks. This essay should also discuss contemporary manifestations of this phenomenon, noting how it has managed to survive as "hip-hop" has bloomed.
Rice, Condoleezza	750	Note her upbringing in racially torn Birmingham, Alabama, her matriculation at the University of Denver where she encounters the father of future Secretary of State Madeline Albright, who becomes her mentor as she moved away from her earlier career goal of concert pianist; note her academic success at Stanford and her role in the first Bush White House during the 1989 collapse of Eastern Europe regimes, then her role as National Security Advisor during Bush II.
Rice, Jerry	250	Discuss his collegiate success at Alcorn State University, his success in professional football with the San Francisco 49ers and Oakland Raiders, becoming the top pass receiver of all time.
Riles, Wilson	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss role of father in California politics and his son in Oakland politics.

Robinson, Frank	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his baseball success with the Reds and Orioles (only man to win the MVP in both leagues), his career as a manager and executive with the league.
Robinson, Max	500	Discuss these brothers' upbringing in racially segregated Virginia, the former becoming the first black anchorman on a network and the latter a leading human rights campaigner before his exile to St. Kitts.
Rock, Chris	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his success as a comedian and the political nature of his stand-up routines. Mention should be made of his HBO specials, appearances in films, etc.
Rudolph, Wilma G.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her career as sprinter, Olympics, etc.
Run DMC	500	Discuss this Queens-based grouping, their leading hits—e.g., "King of Rock"—the unfortunate 2002 slaying of "Jam Master" Jay Mizell and the disbanding of the group, their impact on fashion (i.e., popularizing of "Adidas"), etc.
Russell, William "Bill"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Focus on the end of his career as a player with the Boston Celtics and his debut as a winning coach there and the mixed results he encountered at Seattle.
Saar, Alison	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements.
Saar, Betty	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements.
Sampson, Edith	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her political career and activism in mainstream politics toward the end of her life.
Sayers, Gale	500	This essay should discuss his stellar college career at the University of Kansas-Lawrence and his outstanding professional career with the Chicago Bears. Please note the premature ending of his career due to injury. Please note the immense success of "Brian's Song," a "male weepie", i.e. the t.v. movie that detailed his relationship to Brian Piccolo. Please sketch his post-football business success.
Schmoke, Kurt	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as Mayor of Baltimore, including his accomplishments and setbacks and his tenure at Howard Law School.
Schomburg Library	750	Discuss the holdings of this Harlem-based entity, the controversy surrounding who would head it, and the new building constructed to house its collections, and current issues regarding the institution.
Seale, Robert "Bobby"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career with the Black Panther Party, his incarceration, his efforts to influence politics in Oakland, his post-BPP career as a lecturer and producer of a book on barbecue.

	11-Sep	500	This essay should provide the details of these dramatic events, e.g. locales, assailants, hijacking, etc. Please detail the numbers of Africans and African Americans who were killed or injured. Discuss the reaction to these events among African Americans.
Shaw, Bernard		500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as CNN anchor, his controversial questioning of Michael Dukakis during 1988 presidential debates, his reporting from Iraq in 1991, etc.
Shuttlesworth, Fred L.		1,000	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as Pastor, esp. in Birmingham, participation in Civil Rights Movement, etc.
Simmons, Russell		750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his origins in Queens, his founding of Def Jam and his branching off into rap, films, fashion, poetry, etc. Note his activism on behalf of, e.g., Hilary Clinton, Andrew Cuomo, et.al.
Singleton, John		500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his early success just out of USC film school with "Boyz in da Hood," and his subsequent films including "Rosewood," "Shaft," "Higher Learning," etc.
Sit-Ins		3,000	This essay should discuss the sit-in movement of the 1960s, discussing the origin of the tactic in labor disputes, its application to the civil riights movement, its relationship to the doctrine of non-violence, the extent of its use, and its successes and failures.
Smalls, Biggie		500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his success as rapper in association with Sean Combs, his sales and grosses, and his unfortunate slaying in Los Angeles.
Smith, Anna Deavere		500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her academic career at Stanford and NYU, her film ("An American President," etc.) and television ("West Wing") career, her theater career including her innovative methodology of taping then mimicking characters involved in controversial episodes, e.g., 1992 civil unrest in LA, eruption in Crown Heights, Brooklyn, etc.
Smith, Barbara		500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her writings and anthologies and their importance for LBGT studies.
Soul Food		2,000	Discuss origins of this phenomenon, evolution and increased popularity in 1960s. Describe elements, proliferation of restaurants, etc.
Soul Music		1,500	Discuss origins of this term and form of music, leading practitioners and their 'hits', leading firms.
Sports, Professional		3,000	This essay should discuss the role of African Americans in professional sports in the late 19th century and the 20th century. It should examine the role of individual athletes in specific sports (both team sports and individual sports) as well as professional sports in general. It should discuss the role of segregation and the differences in segregation from one sport to another and the impact of segregation on black athletes. It should also examine the impact of black athletes on the African American community and on race in the U.S. It should discuss the profitably of these enterprises, and the role of blacks in management, executive positions, and ownership.
Sun Records		500	This essay should discuss the origins and evolution of this company. Please note its leading artists, its contributions to music and its profitability. Please include information on barriers to success faced by this company along with informtion about the founders.

Supremes, The	750	This essay should discuss this group's origins and accomplishments. Their role in the rise of Motown should be detailed, along with an assessment of their music and the profitability of their tunes. Of course, sketch the post-Supremes activities of Diana Ross and the other members of the group.
Sutton, Percy	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his political career as Borough President of Manhattan, his failed attempt to become Mayor of New York City, and his rise as a media mogul, Chairman of the Board of Inner City Broadcasting.
Taylor, Susan	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her tenure as editor of "Essence"; note its impact on black women.
Technology and Engineering	1,500	Discuss leading figures in this field, e.g., Benjamin Carson, Mae Jemison; note impact on recent developments, e.g., searches for HIV-AIDS cures; development of black-oriented web-sites; efforts to alleviate sickle-cell anemia, etc.
Television	3,000	This essay should discuss the origins of t.v. and its proliferation in the post-World War II era. Please discuss the highly criticized programs, e.g. "Amos and Andy," and the campaigns against same, spearheaded by the NAACP and others. In this context, discuss the often negative portrayals of African Americans. Likewise, discuss the critique of shows e.g. "Julia" and the "Cosby Show" which ostensibly were the polar opposite of the older negative portrayals but presented a different set of problems. Please discuss the dearth of black executives, the economics of the industry, the impact of the Nielsen ratings, etc. Please discuss the rise of newer networks e.g. the "WB" and the criticism they have attracted.
Thomas, Clarence	1,000	Discuss his humble origins in Georgia, his "black power" phase at Holy Cross and Yale Law, his relationship with Senator John Danforth, his tenure with the EEOC and as a federal judge; and, finally, the controversy surrounding his appointment to the high court, along with his most notable decisions since ascending to this court.
Thornton, Willie Mae "Big Mama"	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements.
Towns, Edolphus	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss accomplishments of this Brooklyn Congressman; include references to his inadequacies.
Track and Field	1,500	Profile prominent personalities, e.g., Marian Jones, Maurice Green, Tim Montgomery, et.al. Note medal total and performances at Olympics. Discuss theses about alleged black innate superiority. Note: there is a separate entry on the Olympics.
Tucker, Chris	250	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his film career, including the "Rush Hour" series; note his activism, e.g., his tour of Africa with Bono.
Turner, Tina	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her success as a singer, noting sales, concert grosses, etc. and her lengthy exile in Europe.
Tyson, Mike	750	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his rise to boxing's elite, his disputes with managers and trainers and promoters, his conviction and imprisonment for rape, his volatile public persona.

Voting Rights	2,500	Discuss the voting rights of African Americans during the years 1895 to the present. Discuss the changes in African Americans voting rights during these years. Describe differences in voting rights in the North, South, West, and Southwest, and differences between voting in national, state, local, school boars, and party primary elections where such differences occurred. Discuss state laws governing black suffrage. Discuss moves against the franchise for blacks. Discuss battles over extension of voting rights, the effect of the women's suffrage movement on voting, the appearance of laws limiting voting rights, participation (by percentages) of black voters in elections (including geographic disparities, e.g., greater number of black voters in the South), problems of enfranchisement, impact on the political parties and presidential politics generally. Please be aware that there are separeate entries on Civil Rights, the Civil Rights Movement, the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and Political Participation.
Walker, Wyatt Tee	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his tenure with SCLC, his role as an activist pastor in Harlem, including his anti-apartheid efforts.
War on Poverty	2,500	This essay should discuss the origins of President Johnson's initiative. Place this in the context of the level of poverty rates among African Americans during this era. Please assess the successes and failures of this initiatives.
Washington, D.C.	2,000	This essay should provide an overview of the African American presence and experience in Washington, from the late 19th century to the present. It should address black social, economic, political, educational, and cultural developments, and as its evolving role in African American political life.
Washington, Denzel	500	Discuss his early years in New York, his drifting into acting as a student at Fordham, his successes theater, then television, then film, his winning of an Oscar, his key roles in, e.g., "Glory," "Cry Freedom," "Training Day," his contributions to the anti-apartheid cause.
Washington, Kenny	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his athletic career and subsequent activities.
Watts, Andre	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his career as concert pianist, record sales, grosses, etc.
Watts, J. C.	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his college career as wishbone quarterback at University of Oklahoma, his election to Congress as a conservative Republican, his continuing support for affirmative action and his disputes with colleagues that led to his stepping down in 2002.
West, Cornel	500	Note his upbringing in Oklahoma and Sacramento, his academic training in Harvard and Princeton, his professorships at both, his activism as a "democratic Socialist," and his writings.
Wilder, Douglas	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as a legislator, then Governor of Virginia. Note his campaign themes, including his stance on reproductive rights for women.
Williams, Serena	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her humble origins in Compton, California, her being trained for tennis by her father, her success at various tennis championships.

Williams, Venus	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss her humble origins in Compton, California, her being trained for tennis by her father, her success at various tennis championships.
Winfield, Dave	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his successes as a baseball, basketball, and football star at the University of Minnesota, his drafting in all three sports, and his decision to sign with the San Diego Padres, then NY Yankees, his successes, and his election to the Hall of Fame.
Woods, Tiger	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his Thai–African-indigenous, etc. background, his training as a golfer beginning as a child, his matriculation at Stanford, his winning of championships, his growing wealth and influence, etc. Note: there is a separate entry on Golf.
Young, Andrew	500	Present the subject's life generally in chronological order, discussing the individual's life and career within the broader context of American and especially African American history and culture. Please be sure to reference other relevant people, events, organizations, and movements. Discuss his role as aide to Martin Luther King, Mayor of and Congressman from Atlanta, controversy surrounding his being ousted as US Ambassador to UN, subsequent role as businessman, etc.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jmbarber@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, October 17, 2006 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: DTH Veteran's Day List

The Daily Tar Heel has once again kindly agreed to print a list of veterans who attend or work at UNC. This includes students, professors, TAs and all UNC employees. The list will be printed in the DTH on Friday, November 10, the day before Veteran's Day. The list will serve the purpose of educating the college population of the service and sacrifice of their fellow students and workmates and to recognize your individual service. This year Veteran's Day also coincides with Homecoming so this will be a great opportunity for alumni to be educated as well.
The aim of this e-mail is to gather the required information and to give the largest number veterans the opportunity to participate. If you know of veteran's who don't subscribe to "Informational" e-mails please forward this e-mail to them.
If you are a veteran of any of the armed services and you would like your service to be recognized by the general college population, and alumni, please reply to this e-mail with the following information:

Name
Position or year and major at UNC
Service (USA, USN, USMC, USAF, USCG, USMM, ARNG etc.)
Years of service (ie 1990-1994 or 1990- if you are still serving.)

If you participated in the Veteran's Day recognition last year simply let me know if you still want to be included and if any of your information has change.
Thank you for you help and your service.

Jason Barber
PWAD (Junior)
NCNG 2002-
Australian Regular Army (RAAC) 1996-2002

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Veteran's Organization

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Fred_Fuller@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 17, 2006 9:31 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Have you been told you have Chronic Bronchitis or COPD?

The Pulmonary Division of UNC is looking for volunteers to participate in research about clearing particles from the lungs and how it can be improved.

If you qualify for the study, you will receive free physical examinations, lung function testing, and education about your illness.

This study could last up to 2 months with 5 outpatient visits to UNC. If you qualify for the study you will be compensated for your time, effort and travel to UNC.

If you are interested in learning more, please call:

UNC Pulmonary Research at (919) 966-2531 or email Ashley_Henderson@med.unc.edu

This message approved 5/4/06 by by UNC Biomedical IRB; IRB #05-MED-318

This email is sponsored by UNC Pulmonary Research.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Pulmonary Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 20, 2006 8:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. William (Sandy) Darity

---

October 19, 2006

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Carol Tresolini, Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. William (Sandy) Darity, Director of the Institute of African American Research

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. William (Sandy) Darity, Director of the Institute of African American Research, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Dr. Martha Cox, Director, Center for Developmental Science (CDS). Other members include: Dr. Regina Cortina, Associate Professor of Comparative and International Education; Dr. Kenneth Janken, Professor of Afro-American Studies and an Adjunct Professor of History; Dr. Laurie Maffly-Kipp, Associate Professor in the Religious Studies department with an adjunct in the American Studies Curriculum; and Mrs. Rachel Morris, MBA Business Manager, Institute of African American Research at UNC-Chapel Hill.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Darity's performance as Director of the Institute of African American Research over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Darity's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. The committee has scheduled two open sessions to receive comments. These times are:

--Wednesday November 8, 2006, 9-11am in 105 South Building
--Friday November 10, 2006, 1-3pm in 105 South Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (debbie_stevenson@unc.edu or 962-7882), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Darity's personnel file.

2. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Darity's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by him. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to: Dr. Martha Cox, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Darity's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Darity's performance to the committee is November 10, 2006. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Dr. William (Sandy) Darity, Director of the Institute of African American Research:

Dr. Martha Cox, Chair
Center for Developmental Science
100 E Franklin St., Ste. 200
CB #8115
Carolina Campus
919-966-3509
martha_cox@unc.edu

Dr. Regina Cortina
School of Education
CB #3500, Peabody Hall
Carolina Campus
(919) 843-1979
cortina@email.unc.edu

Dr. Kenneth Janken
African and African-American Studies
CB #3395, Battle Hall
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-1519
krjanken@email.unc.edu

Dr. Laurie Maffly-Kipp
Religious Studies
CB #3225, Howell Hall
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-3927
maffly@email.unc.edu

Mrs. Rachel Morris, MBA
Institute of African American Research
150 South Road Suite 309
CB #3393
Carolina Campus
(919) 843-2605
rachel@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dsl@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 20, 2006 8:49 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Back Pain? If you have a herniated disc we want to talk to you!

The Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center for Health Services Research, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with the Foundation for Informed Medical Decision Making is conducting focus groups and interviews to help develop a decision aid video on treatment options for herniated discs. We want to talk to a diverse group of men and women!

To participate in a focus group you must:
-Have been seen by a doctor for low back pain and/or leg pain and diagnosed with a herniated disc
-Be between the ages of 18 and 60
-Be able to speak and read English
-Be able to travel to the Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center
-(725 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.-Historic Airport Road, Chapel Hill, NC)

Eligible participants will participate in one of two videotaped focus groups or in an individual interview. Your participation would last approximately 2 to 2.5 hours. You will receive monetary compensation as well as a meal during the focus group or monetary compensation and a snack during interviews for participating.

During the focus groups or interview you will:
-Participate in a discussion about treatment options and decision-making for herniated discs

If you are interested in participating in this study:
-Visit our website: http://decisionsupport.unc.edu/secure/hd.htm
-Email us: dsl@unc.edu or call us: 919.966.4328 or 866.250.1877 (toll free)

Please feel free to share this email announcement with others that you feel would be interested in learning about this study.

Approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB 6.15.06; Study number 05-2626:Content Development Focus Group for a Decision Aid Video on Treatment Decisions for Herniated Disc

This email is sponsored by: Decision Suppot Lab- Sheps Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jcue@unc.edu
Sent: Sunday, October 22, 2006 8:04 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Discover Carolina...In London

Dear Colleagues,

Discover Carolina...in London.

Acquired in 2005 by the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Winston House provides an exciting central London site for teaching, research, meetings, conferences, receptions, and cultural exchange. Winston House is located in the heart of Bloomsbury in Bedford Square, the last fully intact Georgian square in London. The British Museum, The British Library, University College London, and a rich variety of cultural and historic sites are Winston House's neighbors. Oxford Street's central shopping district is only a few minutes away, as is the West End, with is theaters, clubs and restaurants.

Built in 1790, Winston House has been fully updated and offers three classrooms, seating 18 to 35; two large seminar rooms, seating 30 to 55; two spacious faculty/project offices; a library/administrative office; a comfortable student reading room with computer lab; a small kitchen; a patio garden; and a faculty residential suite consisting of two bedrooms, a living/dining room, a kitchen, and a bath. Fully outfitted for video teleconferencing and wireless computer access throughout, the building also offers an eight- person lift and is disability accessible.

Beginning in May 2007, Winston House will be available for use by students, faculty, staff, and alumni of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and other partner campuses and institutions.

* Teach a course or field a study abroad program in Winston House and take advantage of state-of-the-art instructional technologies.
* Host guest speakers and performers from London and across the European continent.
* Gather your international partners for meetings and conferences.
* Use the study center's video teleconferencing facilities to link global academic and cultural resources to your home campus.
* Sponsor alumni receptions and continuing education programs in Winston House or in the park at the center of historic Bedford Square.
* Make Winston House your base for executive education programs and other professional development initiatives.
* Take advantage of Winston House's concierge services to book theater tickets and tours for your students and guests.

Visit Winston House at www.winstonhouse.unc.edu for more information. Or contact:

Dr. Randi Davenport
Executive Director
James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence rdavenpo@email.unc.edu
919-843-7765

This email is sponsored by: James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Exclelence

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 23, 2006 9:43 AM
To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Margaret C. Lee <LeeMC@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Reminder--Noon Meeting re African Studies Degree October 25th--Conference Room

---

Good Morning, Colleagues,
I hope you all had a good break. This is just a reminder about a meeting for the revision of the African Studies concentration on Wednesday, the 25th at Noon in the Conference room. I wrote you October 10th about this and have heard back from Michael, Margaret, and Julius. Could others please let me know if you can come? If we're to get this revised concentration in shape in time for submission in January, we need to get down our ideas quickly! Thanks.
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 23, 2006 9:50 AM
To: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Margaret C. Lee <LeeMC@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Reminder--Noon Meeting re African Studies Degree October 25th--Conference Room

---

Dear Ann,

Thanks for the reminder. I leave for UMass later that day but will try and be there. Warm regards, Eunice.

Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:

> Good Morning, Colleagues,
> I hope you all had a good break. This is just a reminder about a > meeting for the revision of the African Studies concentration on > Wednesday, the 25th at Noon in the Conference room. I wrote you October > 10th about this and have heard back from Michael, Margaret, and Julius.
> Could others please let me know if you can come? If we're to get this > revised concentration in shape in time for submission in January, we > need to get down our ideas quickly! Thanks.
> Ann
>

--
Eunice Sahle, Ph.D
Assistant Professor of Political Science
African Studies and International Studies
109 Battle Hall
Chapel Hill
27599-3395
North Carolina
Tel: 919-966-2588

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, October 23, 2006 10:34 AM
To: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Margaret C. Lee <LeeMC@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Reminder--Noon Meeting re African Studies Degree October 25th--Conference Room

---

I'll be there--thanks for the reminder! Barbara

Eunice Sahle wrote:
>
> Dear Ann,
>
> Thanks for the reminder. I leave for UMass later that day but will try > and be there. Warm regards, Eunice.
>
>
> Roberta Ann Dunbar wrote:
>
>> Good Morning, Colleagues,
>> I hope you all had a good break. This is just a reminder about a >> meeting for the revision of the African Studies concentration on >> Wednesday, the 25th at Noon in the Conference room. I wrote you >> October 10th about this and have heard back from Michael, Margaret, >> and Julius. Could others please let me know if you can come? If >> we're to get this revised concentration in shape in time for >> submission in January, we need to get down our ideas quickly! Thanks.
>> Ann
>>
>

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jcue@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, October 23, 2006 9:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: CORRECTION: WINSTON HOUSE WEB SITE LINK

The informational message regarding Winston House, the College of Arts and Sciences' new London building, inadvertently contained an incorrect web site link. Please use the following link to visit the site and learn more about ways in which partners across the University may use this extraordinary new resource:

http://winstonhouse.unc.edu/

This email is sponsored by: James M. Johnston center for Undergraduate Excellence

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kphil@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, October 23, 2006 9:49 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants wanted for UNC Web Bookmarking Study - $25 prize

---

As a graduate research project, I am conducting a study on how to improve people's ability to share information about websites with others. Currently websites like http://del.icio.us and http://www.flickr.com allow people to share websites and pictures with one another. Users on these sites organize their information by keywords or "tags". What I am interested in is how people decide which tags to use.

Participants will be directed to a web survey where they will be asked to view a series of websites and answer some brief questions about them. The survey should take between 30 and 45 minutes to complete. Two participants will be randomly drawn to win $25 gift certificates from Student Stores.

Prior experience with tagging or a specific website is not necessary.

If you're interested in participating in this study, detailed information and instructions are provided with the web survey at http://ils.unc.edu/~kphil .

Please email Phil Binkowski at kphil@email.unc.edu if you have questions about the survey.

Thanks,

Phil Binkowski
MSIS Candidate
School of Information and Library Science
kphil@email.unc.edu

Barbara Wildemuth (advisor)
Professor
School of Information and Library Science
wildem@ils.unc.edu

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect your rights and welfare. If you have questions or concerns about your rights as a research subject you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu.

Study Number: 06-0651
Approved: 10/23/2006
Approved By: UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board

This email is sponsored by: School of Library and Information Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, October 23, 2006 11:05 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PlayMakers Discount to UNC faculty/staff

---

PlayMakers is offering a $5 discount on tickets to THE UNDERPANTS Wednesday, October 25 and Thursday October 26 at 8pm to UNC Faculty and Staff members. You may purchase tickets in person at the PlayMakers box office in the Paul Green Theatre lobby, Center for Dramatic Art or over the telephone at 919-962-PLAY. Please mention that you are a UNC faculty or staff member to receive this discount. For more information please visit:

http://www.playmakersrep.org/genPage/index.pl?pgid=104

This email is sponsored by: PlayMakers Repertory Company

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of webtickets@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 24, 2006 8:59 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Mens' Basketball Exhibitions-Free Admission for Whole Family for Faculty/Staff

---

The UNC Mens' Basketball team will play two exhibition games prior to the 2006 - 2007 season. The Department of Athletics is pleased to offer free general admission seats to all faculty and staff members as well as all members of their immediate family. For both games Faculty and Staff Members can present their UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID at the Smith Center Entrance B good for free admission for the Faculty / Staff Member and their immediate family (while supplies last).

In Exhibition games UNC will play Saint Augustine's at 7:30 PM on Wednesday, November 1st and Pfeiffer on Saturday, November 11th. Game time for November 11th will be determined after the time for the Georgia Tech Football game is announced. Doors to the Smith Center will open 1 ½ hours prior to each game.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, October 24, 2006 11:38 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Professional Development Clearinghouse

---

For the past several years, the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation has sponsored a Professional Development Initiative to strengthen support for the growth of teachers in North Carolina. This communication concerns the latest effort of that initiative: the establishment of North Carolina's first directory of professional development opportunities for pre-K through 12th grade teachers. For this effort to be successful, it needs to include the professional development that university faculty and staff offer to teachers.

Thank you in advance for encouraging faculty and other personnel to be part of this new resource. Completing the questionnaire at the link below will provide a service to teachers and others across the state, extending the service role of our campus in support of education for all North Carolinians. Your response will also help to enable the sharing of information about the kinds of teacher professional development offered by universities.

<http://gaserver.ga.unc.edu:8088/survey/entry.jsp?id=1158677872776>

The directory will be available online. It is intended for all professional development stakeholders -- teachers, school administrators, schools of education, school boards -- anyone who has a stake in quality teacbing and student acbievement. Thank you for your attention to this matter. Please call (919) 613-9271 if you have questions or comments.

This email is sponsored by: School of Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Celeste Yowell <yowell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, October 25, 2006 10:55 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Dana Drake Lectures

Hi Debby, The Dept of Romance Languages is having the Dana Drake Distinguished Lecture events this week -- would you mind passing the below information along to your faculty and TA listservs? Thanks, Celeste
---

Oct 26, 2006 - Dana Drake Lecture
Professor Christopher Miller of Yale University
"The French Slave Trade and Moral Reckoning: Eughne Sue's Atar-Gull"
5:00 - 8:00 p.m. in Toy Lounge, Dey Hall

Oct 27, 2006 - Prof Miller will present a graduate seminar
"French Women Writers and the Slave Trade"
9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon in Toy Lounge, Dey Hall

Reading:
--Ourika by Duras
--and by Stakl, two oeuvres de jeunesse: "Mirza" and "Histoire de Pauline."
Both can be accessed via ARTFL (and the BNF).

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of info@hsrc.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, October 25, 2006 8:15 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Nighttime poses higher risk for pedestrian crashes

---

The upcoming weekend marks the end of daylight-saving time, which will bring a decrease in daylight during the evening hours. Please remember that with this decrease in daylight comes reduced visibility and an increase in your risk of being involved in a pedestrian crash.

The Department of Public Safety and the UNC Highway Safety Research Center encourage the UNC community to use extra caution when traveling at night. Pedestrians and bicyclists should dress in light clothing and wear retro-reflective clothing/materials and/or carry a flashlight when walking at night so they are visible to motorists. Retro-reflective gear can be seen by motorists up to 500 feet away at nighttime, making pedestrians and bicyclists much more visible to motorists. Bicyclists riding at night must equip their bicycles with a front lamp visible from 300 feet and a rear reflector that is visible from a distance of 200 feet.

For additional information on this topic, including the North Carolina pedestrian law and additional safety tips, please visit http://www.hsrc.unc.edu/y2h

This email is sponsored by: The UNC Department of Public Safety and the UNC Highway Safety Research Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

Kiswahili 401
Quiz – October 27, 2006

NAME:

Write the following questions and answers in Swahili.

1) Q: How are you? (What's the news with you?): _____

A: Good, thanks. _____

2) Q: What is your name?: _____

A: My name is Larry. _____

3) Q: That lady, is her name Halima? _____

A: No, her name is not Halima _____

4) Q: Where are you from? _____

A: I am from the U.S. _____

5) Q: What language do they speak? _____

A: They speak English. _____

Answer the following questions.

1) Baba yako anakaa wapi?

_____

2) Unaenda darasani?

_____

3) Unatoka wapi?

_____

4) Watoto wanasoma lugha gani?

_____

5) Ali anataka nini?

_____

The Future of Minority Studies Research Project

THE THIRD ANNUAL

FMS SUMMER INSTITUTE

July 23– August 3, 2007

SEMINAR

Intersecting Identities and Social Justice: Realist Explorations

SEMINAR LEADERS

Linda Martín Alcoff
Philosophy and Women's Studies
Syracuse University

Satya P. Mohanty
English
Cornell University

Can social identities be studied "objectively"? What are the philosophical and political differences among realist, essentialist, strategic-essentialist, and postmodernist approaches to identity? Why is a realist theoretical approach important for or relevant to the quest for social justice?

This interdisciplinary seminar will address such questions and focus centrally on the ways our social identities "intersect," overlapping and often mutually constituting one another. Readings from a range of fields in the humanities and the social sciences, including such thinkers as Richard Boyd, Kimberle Crenshaw, W. E. B. Du Bois, Leslie Feinberg, Rosemarie Garland-Thomson, Robert Gooding-Williams, Ian Hacking, Daniel Little, Tobin Siebers, and Iris Young.

The seminar will incorporate three workshops taught by:

Richard Boyd (Philosophy, Cornell University)

William Darity, Jr. (Economics; Sociology; Institute for African American Research; UNC–Chapel Hill, Duke University)

Rosemarie Garland-Thomson (Women's Studies, Emory) and Tobin Siebers (Comparative Literature, University of Michigan)

Eligibility: Doctoral students who have completed at least two years of their Ph.D. work and junior faculty in temporary or tenure-track positions who are working on minority issues. Minority scholars and those who are at HBCUs and other minority-serving institutions are especially encouraged to apply. For the twelve scholars selected to participate in the summer institute, subsidy will be available to cover room, board, and (if needed) travel costs. FMS does not charge tuition or fees.

Application deadline: January 30, 2007.

The 2007 FMS Summer Institute will be held at Cornell University, Ithaca, NY.

THE FMS SUMMER INSTITUTE IS FUNDED BY A GRANT FROM THE ANDREW W. MELLON FOUNDATION.

For a more detailed course description, go to:

www.fmsproject.cornell.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, October 26, 2006 9:09 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Halloween 2006

UNC Students, Faculty, and Staff:

Beginning 5 p.m., Tuesday, October 31, 2006, several campus parking lots will be affected by Halloween operations. Beginning 9 p.m., several streets will be affected. Consequently, it is highly recommended that students, staff and faculty take a few moments to familiarize themselves with the overall parking and transportation plan. Advance planning and preparation on the part of everyone will go a long way toward making the operations plan work better and toward making the evening as pleasant as possible.

PARKING REGULATIONS
All normal campus parking regulations will be in effect for Halloween night, Tuesday, October 31, 2006. Parking Control Officers and tow trucks will be on campus for the duration of the evening to enforce the parking and road restrictions (including the wee hours of the morning). Per regulations, any vehicle parked in any kind of violation may be towed, so we encourage everyone to park legally. Tow fees range from $90 to $110 and citations range from $20 to $250. Cash or credit card payments will be accepted 5 p.m. - 3 a.m. Halloween evening and then again beginning normal business hours Nov. 1, 2006 (7:30 a.m.-5p.m.)

There will be limited parking available near downtown. However, shuttle bus service will be available from park-and-ride lots in Chapel Hill and Carrboro for a cost of $5 round trip and $3 one-way.

STREET CLOSURES
Several of the downtown streets will close to vehicular traffic at 9 p.m. They are: (1) Franklin Street - from Raleigh Street to Roberson Street, (2) Columbia Street - from Rosemary Street to Cameron Avenue, (3) Raleigh Street - from East Franklin to Cameron Avenue (for a shuttle bus stop) and (4) Cameron Avenue from Raleigh Street to Columbia Street, and (5) Residential streets near downtown will be closed except to residents of those streets and their guests.

Please note, valid campus permit holders will be allowed access to the parking lots along Cameron Avenue if a valid parking permit for those lots is displayed and shown to the officers working the intersections.

RESTRICTED PARKING
To accommodate the Town of Chapel Hill's plan for Halloween, campus employees working on north campus and campus residents, several lots will be restricted or closed Halloween night.

Bynum Circle (Bynum Lot, Caldwell Lot and Steele Lot) - restricted for night parking as normal for weeknights.

Swain Lot - restricted to EMS and Police vehicles only after 5 p.m. NG1 permit holders will need to relocate from the lot by 6 p.m. to allow EMS & Police to set-up. Non-emergency vehicles remaining in the lot after 6 p.m. will be towed at the owner's expense. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Morehead Lot - restricted beginning 5 p.m. All vehicles remaining in the lot after 6 p.m. will be towed at the owner's expense. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

International Relations: restricted beginning 5 p.m. All vehicles remaining in the lot after 6 p.m. will be towed at the owner's expense. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Utility & Porthole Lots - restricted beginning 5 p.m. All vehicles remaining in the lot after 6:15 p.m. will be towed at the owner's expense. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Park Place Lot - restricted to "N5" or "A" permit holders 7:30 a.m. Tuesday until 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, when it resumes normal operation. Vehicles without valid "N5 or A" permits will be cited and towed at the owner's expense.

School of Government Deck - Reserved for women's basketball until 9 p.m., then off-limits until it resumes normal operation on Wednesday morning at 7:30 a.m.
Highway 54 Lot, Bell Tower Lot, Nash Lot, Ramshead Deck, Bowles Lot and Cobb Deck - Beginning 5 p.m., free parking for UNC employees and students with UNC ID, but $7 parking for unaffiliated patrons. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Public Safety Lot - Reserved for public safety operations staff and emergency vehicles only beginning 5 p.m. Normal Operations resume at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning. Employee ID's honored in Dogwood overnight until 9:00 a.m. Wednesday morning.

PUBLIC PARKING
Several lots on campus will be designated as general public parking. The general public will be charged $7 to park. However, UNC students and employees presenting a valid UNC One Card or valid UNC parking permit will not be charged to park. The following lots will be used for general public parking ($7 per vehicle): (1) Cobb Deck (2) Highway 54 Lot, (3) Bell Tower Lot, (4) Nash Lot, (5) Ramshead Deck, and (6) Bowles Lot. Normal operations resume in these lots on Wednesday morning, November 1st, at 7:30 a.m.

POINT-TO-POINT SHUTTLE SERVICE
The Point-to-Point Express campus shuttles will run during their normal hours on Halloween night. However, the route will be modified due to the closing of portions of Raleigh Street, Franklin Street and Columbia Street.

On Halloween ONLY, the P2P Express will run in the opposite direction (clockwise) than all other nights. Also, rather than traveling on Rosemary and Franklin Streets, the route will travel east along Cameron Avenue before turning right onto Raleigh Street. To view a map of the route, visit the web site at www.parking.unc.edu and click on "Breaking News" then "Halloween P2P Shuttle Route."

P2P Express will NOT serve the following normal stops:
Swain Hall, Granville Towers, Stops along Rosemary or Franklin Streets, or stops along Raleigh Street north of Cameron Avenue

P2P Express WILL stop at the following extra stops on Halloween night only: Bowles Drive just below Hinton James Residence Hall and Cameron Avenue across from the Old Well

Riders may experience delays at times throughout the evening due to increased traffic on campus and the anticipated higher than normal demand for service. Riders are asked to be patient, and head normal safety precautions throughout the evening as they wait for service. Additionally, riders should note that the Town of Chapel Hill is prohibiting certain items from the Halloween Celebration so it is suggested riders not board the bus with the items the Town will prohibit. Town prohibited items include: alcoholic beverages, glass bottles, fireworks and explosives and / or flammable substances, paint, weapons, and animals. Items, even as part of a costume, which can be used as weapons or look like weapons will be confiscated.

GENERAL PARKING INFORMATION
For more campus Halloween parking information, visit the UNC Department of Public Safety website at www.dps.unc.edu and click on the "Halloween" link or call (919) 962-3951, Mon. - Fri., 7:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. If you have questions about shuttles and town parking for Halloween, log onto the Town of Chapel Hill website at http://www.townofchapelhill.org/and click on newsroom, then the latest press release or click on departments, then police then press releases
http://www.townofchapelhill.org/index.asp?nid=381

Thank You for Your Cooperation!

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hartman@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, October 26, 2006 10:28 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Ever helped someone facing serious illness or physical limitations?

Have you ever volunteered to help someone (other than a family member) facing serious illness or physical limitations? Have you volunteered in the past three years either informally or through an organization? If so, would you be interested in helping researchers learn more about your experiences?

The goals of the research -
-- To find out what types of caregiving support is provided by non-family members
-- To learn about the range of volunteer experiences
-- To use what we learn to help people in all communities support individuals with serious illness and physical limitations.

How to participate -
-- Contact us: call (919) 962-2124 or email research@Project-Compassion.org to find out if you are eligible.
-- If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend about 45 minutes to complete a questionnaire - at home and at your convenience.
-- You may choose to receive the questionnaire either by mail or e-mail. In either case, just send us the forms once you have completed them. If you choose to mail them, we will provide postage, etc.
-- You will receive a small gift as a token of appreciation.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study. (PSYC 2005-054) Approval Date 5/23/2006

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jshapiro@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, October 26, 2006 11:42 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Behavioral Weight Control Program

KICK OFF THE NEW YEAR!!!!
Behavioral Weight Control Program

Offered by
The UNC Department of Psychiatry

Is Now Enrolling Participants For January 2007!!!

Using evidence-based weight control approaches developed by Cynthia Bulik, Ph.D., Distinguished Professor and Director of the UNC Eating Disorders Program, the BEHAVIORAL WEIGHT CONTROL PROGRAM will be facilitated by a licensed clinical psychologist.

This five-month program will focus on BEHAVIORAL STRATEGIES FOR weight control.

You will learn HEALTHY NUTRITION and the program will include two sessions with a registered dietitian.

Our goal is to equip you with the knowledge and skills necessary to produce a PERMANENT LIFESTYLE CHANGE.

Enrollment includes:
20 1- Hour Weekly Group Sessions with a licensed clinical psychologist
Text: Runaway Eating, by Cynthia M. Bulik, Ph.D. and Nadine Taylor, MS, RD.
CD-ROM: "The Empowerment Solution for Permanent Weight Control"

Cost:
$440 - covers the entire 5-month Weight Control Program and all materials (equates to $22 per week)
Payment must be received in full.

Sessions Available: Exact Date and Time TBD
Noon and After Work Sessions are Available

Check with your personal physician prior to beginning this or any weight loss program.

For questions or to enroll, contact Jennifer Shapiro, PhD. 919-966-5262; jshapiro@med.unc.edu
This program is available to UNC employees as well as individuals in the general community

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 27, 2006 8:02 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: NCFlex Open Enrollment Deadline Is Friday, Nov. 3

Reminder: the NCFlex open enrollment deadline is Friday, Nov. 3!

*There are three options to enroll in NCFlex benefits this year:

-- An online enrollment tool, available at www.ncflexonline.org.
-- Telephone enrollment at 888-860-6118 (available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 8 p.m.). Interpreters are also available via phone for more than 30 languages, including Spanish and Burmese.
-- Paper enrollment forms can also be submitted (available online at http://www.osp.state.nc.us/ncflex/Forms/06enroll_form.pdf)

(All new employees who are eligible for benefits and interested in NCFlex need to fill out a paper enrollment form for both plan year 2006 and plan year 2007.)

Regardless of the enrollment method you choose, you must complete the enrollment process by 5 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 3.

Enrollment forms must be turned in to the Benefit Program Administration office at CB# 1045 or Suite 1700, 104 Airport Drive. A green drop box (marked "Benefits Programs") is located at the front doors of the Administrative Office Building so forms can be dropped off after business hours during the enrollment period. Forms will not be accepted after 5:00 p.m. on Nov. 3. Faxed copies of the enrollment form cannot be accepted.

You DO need to enroll if you want to:
-- Make contributions to the Health Care and/or Dependent Day Care flexible spending accounts. Contribution amounts do not carry over from one year to the next.
-- Make changes to your benefits, dependents and/or coverage levels
-- Elect any benefit for the first time. Please note: some benefits may have a waiting period or require Evidence of Insurability (EOI).

You do NOT need to enroll if you want to:
-- Keep your 2006 benefits, dependents and coverage levels the same for 2007 (except for the flexible spending accounts - you must enroll for those each year).

Important note: If you enroll for either a health care or dependent day care flexible spending account, be sure to enter the annual contribution amount, not the amount you would like deducted from your paycheck on a monthly basis. Under IRS regulations, if you do not use all of your plan year election it must be forfeited. You have until March 31 of each year to submit claims incurred during the previous plan year. Please estimate carefully!

Coverage changes are effective Jan. 1, 2007.

For more information on NCFlex, consult your enrollment materials, go to www.ncflex.org or call your HR Generalist at 843-2300.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, October 30, 2006 8:52 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Myron S Cohen <myron_cohen@med.unc.edu>; Raquel Cogell <cogell@email.unc.edu>; tashford@email.unc.edu; Canguzel Zulfikar <canguzel@email.unc.edu>

Subject: reminder African Studies mtg today

Dear colleagues:
Just a reminder that there will be an informational meeting this afternoon at 4pm in the Hitchcock Room of the Stone Center to explain funding opportunities for Africanist faculty under the recent Title VI grant. Light refreshments. We look forward to seeing you there. Barbara

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, October 31, 2006 10:17 AM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Arturo Escobar <aescobar@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Senegalese Anthropologist talking Nov. 9
Attach: ChimereFlier.doc

Dear Colleagues:

Mariteuw Chimhre Diaw, a Senegalese anthropologist from the Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR in Yaoundi, Cameroon will be speaking in the UCIS conference room on Thursday, November 9, at 5pm.

The title of his talk will be: "Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics: Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization"

This event is being co-sponsored by Cultures of Economies and Social Movements Working Groups, the African Studies Center, the University Program in Cultural Studies, and the Departments of Geography and Anthropology.

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Cultures of Economies and Social Movements Working Groups
African Studies Center
University Program in Cultural Studies
Departments of Geography and Anthropology

Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics. Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization

Mariteuw Chimère Diaw
Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR
Yaoundé, Cameroon

Thursday, November 9, 5:00 pm
UCIS Conference Room
(223 East Franklin St. in front of Morehead Planetarium)

Abstract of presentation: This presentation analyses the inability of Western economic science to account for the existence –indeed persistence—of non-standard yet at times universal and highly resilient economic systems. Drawing from examples of share systems in artisanal fisheries off the cost of West Africa and embedded tenure systems in significant parts of Africa and Asia, the author examines critically recent, yet futile, attempts in institutional economics to "normalize" these systems, and goes on to discuss the consequences of economic normalization for dealing with global environmental problems, particularly in the areas of biodiversity conservation and individual/collective property rights. Arguing against the "new enclosures" resulting from market approaches to "environmental services," and building on economic anthropology, the author advocates for economic pluralism and a new vision of entitlements.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, October 31, 2006 10:25 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>

Subject: International Conference on Learning in South Africa

---

Dear Colleague,

We are writing on behalf of the Organising Committee, to inform you of the call for papers for the:

THE FOURTEENTH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON LEARNING

University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa, 26-29 June 2007
http://www.LearningConference.com

The conference will address a range of critically important themes in the field of education today. This is a conference for any person with an interest in, and concern for, education at any of its levels and in any of its forms, from early childhood, to schools, to higher education and lifelong learning - and in any of its sites, from home to school to university to the workplace.

Speakers will include some of the world's leading thinkers and in the field of education, as well as numerous paper, colloquium and workshop presentations by researchers and teachers. We would particularly like to invite you to respond to the conference call for papers and presentations. Presenters may choose to submit written papers for publication before or after the conference in the fully refereed International Journal of Learning. If you are unable to attend the conference in person, virtual registrations are also available which allow you to submit a paper for refereeing and possible publication in the journal, as well as access to the online version of the journal.

The deadline for the next round in the call for papers (a title and short abstract) is 15 November 2006. Proposals are reviewed within one week of submission.

Full details of the conference, including an online call for papers form, are to be found at the conference website - http://www.LearningConference.com

We look forward to receiving your proposals and hope you will be able to join us in Johannesburg in June 2007.

Yours Sincerely,

Prof. Pippa Stein

Applied English Language Studies
University of the Witwatersrand
Johannesburg, South Africa

Denise Newfield
School of Literature and Language Studies

University of the Witwatersrand
Johannesburg, South Africa

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, October 31, 2006 11:14 AM

To: rad >> Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>

Subject: [Fwd: Senegalese Anthropologist talking Nov. 9]

Attach: Senegalese Anthropologist talking Nov. 9 (25.6 KB).msg

---

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, October 31, 2006 10:17 AM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; jrblau@email.unc.edu; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Arturo Escobar <aescobar@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Senegalese Anthropologist talking Nov. 9
Attach: ChimereFlier.doc

Dear Colleagues:

Mariteuw Chimhre Diaw, a Senegalese anthropologist from the Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR in Yaoundi, Cameroon will be speaking in the UCIS conference room on Thursday, November 9, at 5pm.

The title of his talk will be: "Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics: Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization"

This event is being co-sponsored by Cultures of Economies and Social Movements Working Groups, the African Studies Center, the University Program in Cultural Studies, and the Departments of Geography and Anthropology.

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Cultures of Economies and Social Movements Working Groups
African Studies Center
University Program in Cultural Studies
Departments of Geography and Anthropology

Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics. Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization

Mariteuw Chimère Diaw
Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR
Yaoundé, Cameroon

Thursday, November 9, 5:00 pm
UCIS Conference Room
(223 East Franklin St. in front of Morehead Planetarium)

Abstract of presentation: This presentation analyses the inability of Western economic science to account for the existence –indeed persistence—of non-standard yet at times universal and highly resilient economic systems. Drawing from examples of share systems in artisanal fisheries off the cost of West Africa and embedded tenure systems in significant parts of Africa and Asia, the author examines critically recent, yet futile, attempts in institutional economics to "normalize" these systems, and goes on to discuss the consequences of economic normalization for dealing with global environmental problems, particularly in the areas of biodiversity conservation and individual/collective property rights. Arguing against the "new enclosures" resulting from market approaches to "environmental services," and building on economic anthropology, the author advocates for economic pluralism and a new vision of entitlements.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, October 27, 2006 8:02 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: NCFlex Open Enrollment Deadline Is Friday, Nov. 3

Reminder: the NCFlex open enrollment deadline is Friday, Nov. 3!

*There are three options to enroll in NCFlex benefits this year:

-- An online enrollment tool, available at www.ncflexonline.org.
-- Telephone enrollment at 888-860-6118 (available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 8 p.m.). Interpreters are also available via phone for more than 30 languages, including Spanish and Burmese.
-- Paper enrollment forms can also be submitted (available online at http://www.osp.state.nc.us/ncflex/Forms/06enroll_form.pdf)

(All new employees who are eligible for benefits and interested in NCFlex need to fill out a paper enrollment form for both plan year 2006 and plan year 2007.)

Regardless of the enrollment method you choose, you must complete the enrollment process by 5 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 3.

Enrollment forms must be turned in to the Benefit Program Administration office at CB# 1045 or Suite 1700, 104 Airport Drive. A green drop box (marked "Benefits Programs") is located at the front doors of the Administrative Office Building so forms can be dropped off after business hours during the enrollment period. Forms will not be accepted after 5:00 p.m. on Nov. 3. Faxed copies of the enrollment form cannot be accepted.

You DO need to enroll if you want to:
-- Make contributions to the Health Care and/or Dependent Day Care flexible spending accounts. Contribution amounts do not carry over from one year to the next.
-- Make changes to your benefits, dependents and/or coverage levels
-- Elect any benefit for the first time. Please note: some benefits may have a waiting period or require Evidence of Insurability (EOI).

You do NOT need to enroll if you want to:
-- Keep your 2006 benefits, dependents and coverage levels the same for 2007 (except for the flexible spending accounts - you must enroll for those each year).

Important note: If you enroll for either a health care or dependent day care flexible spending account, be sure to enter the annual contribution amount, not the amount you would like deducted from your paycheck on a monthly basis. Under IRS regulations, if you do not use all of your plan year election it must be forfeited. You have until March 31 of each year to submit claims incurred during the previous plan year. Please estimate carefully!

Coverage changes are effective Jan. 1, 2007.

For more information on NCFlex, consult your enrollment materials, go to www.ncflex.org or call your HR Generalist at 843-2300.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jmmonroe@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, November 1, 2006 8:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Internship Opportunity in Grassroots Development

---

Advocates for Grassroots Development in Uganda (AGRADU)

Advocates for Grassroots Development in Uganda (AGRADU) is a UNC student initiative, housed under the African Studies Program, aiming to support indigenous grassroots efforts at community building and economic development in Uganda. AGRADU helps to raise awareness about grassroots development by giving students the opportunity to participate directly in such efforts through a summer internship.

Each intern will be sent to work on-site with a Ugandan community-based organization (CBO) to aid in project implementation and to experience indigenous grassroots organizing. Such projects include but are not limited to:

-HIV/AIDS support and advocacy
-Orphans and vulnerable children support and advocacy
-Sustainable agriculture
-Business and financial training for community groups
-Microfinance

The eight week program will take place June-July 2007. Interested students should visit AGRADU's website for more information and application instructions.

For more information, please visit www.agradu.org or contact:

Jennifer Monroe jmmonroe@email.unc.edu
Jonathan Pourzal pourzal@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: African Studies Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, November 1, 2006 9:29 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Project VoteSmart

Election Day, November 7th, is rapidly approaching. Make your voice heard on issues like health care, salaries and a living wage by voting and encouraging others to vote.

Find Your State Senate District Candidates

To identify your State Senatorial candidates, copy and paste the following web address into your web-browser's window to access the NC State Senate Map. Note the Senate District number for your county or location within a county.

http://forum.unc.edu/projectvotesmart/documents/NCStateSenateMap.pdf

Then, copy and paste the web address below into your web-browser's window to open the NC State Senate Candidates list. Find the names of the candidates in your State Senate district.

http://forum.unc.edu/projectvotesmart/documents/2006StateSenateCandidates.pd
f

Find Your State House District Candidates

To find your State House candidates, copy and paste the link below for the NC State House Map and find the District number for your county or location within a county.

http://forum.unc.edu/projectvotesmart/documents/NCStateHouseMap.pdf

Then, copy and paste the link below into your web-browser's window to open the NC State House Candidates list. Find the candidates in your State House district.

http://forum.unc.edu/projectvotesmart/documents/2006StateHouseCandidates.pdf

Identify the Important Issues

Knowing where each candidate stands on matters important to you is vital in deciding how to cast your vote. The Employee Forum of UNC at Chapel Hill has found the following issues of major concern to our campus:

1. Compensation and Benefits

2. Cost of Family Health Care Coverage

3. Retirement Benefits

Find out where candidates in your State House and Senate districts stand on these issues and others that you feel are important. Educate yourself.
Search on-line to find biographical information, issue statements, voting records, and public statements.

Remember, vote on Election Day Tuesday, November 7th.

Sincerely,

The UNC Employee Forum Legislative Action Committee

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, November 1, 2006 11:18 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Did or will you have Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction ?

Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery.

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery in the near future, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions tasks while an ultrasound images will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1.5 hours.

You would be paid $30 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call, Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu

IRB Study # 05-ORTHO-1005
Approved: May 24, 2006

This email is sponsored by: Orthopaedic Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, November 2, 2006 12:41 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT November 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The November 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.
*Carolina Internal
*National Science Foundation
*National Institutes of Health Grants and Contracts
*Multidisciplinary
*Social and Behavioral Sciences
*Health and Medical Sciences
*Life and Physical Sciences
*Arts and Humanities

CAMPUS NEWS
*Social Science Faculty Retooling Stipends
*Guidelines on Direct vs. F&A Charges to Sponsored Agreements
*Odum Institute Proposal Development Short Course
*OTD Innovations Seminar: Open Source Licensing
*Finding Funding Sources: A Hands-On Workshop for SPH Faculty & Staff
*School of Public Health Conversational Living Room
*New Location for Carolina Roadmap Office
*New Resources from the UNC Libraries

FUNDING TIPS
*Understanding the Review Process
*Tips for Preparing Successful SBIR/STTR Proposals
*Proposal Writing Assistance
*COS, Your Workhorse Workbench
*New AHA Peer Review Criteria
*The GrantDoctor Asks NSF... "No more Boring Science"?
*COS Wants to Hear from You

FEDERAL NEWS
*Change in Standing Receipt Dates for NIH/AHRQ/NIOSH
*Person Months Conversion Tools for NIH Proposals
*2007 NIH Director's Pioneer Award
*Registering Research Fellows in the eRA Commons
*NIH Electronic Applications Submission Training Event
*CDC Moves to Grants.gov for Announcements and Applications
*NIH Now Accepting Loan Repayment Applications
*Request for Comments on the Clean Fuels Grant Program

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

SWAH 401 - Quiz for Nov. 3, 2006

NAME:

Make the following nouns and their demonstratives plural. For bonus points, translate the words into English. (5 points possible plus bonus)

1. mtoto yule _____

2. mchumi huyu _____

3. mwenyekiti huyu _____

4. Mkenya yule _____

5. mwandishi huyu _____

Answer the following questions in the affirmative and in the negative. Translate the questions into English for bonus points.

1. Unafahamu Kifaransa?

Ndiyo,_____

Hapana,_____

English: _____

2. Yeye anafanya kazi ya kulima?

Ndiyo,_____

Hapana, _____

English:_____

3. Mnajifunza utibabu?

Ndiyo, _____

Hapana, _____

English: _____

TURN OVER (2 sides)

4. Unakwenda maktabani?

Ndiyo,_____

Hapana,_____

English: _____

5. Tunataka chakula?

Ndiyo, _____

Hapana, _____

English: _____

TURN OVER (2 sides)

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of atstephe@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, November 2, 2006 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: The Carolina Spirit of Giving

Homecoming is a time that we celebrate being a Tarheel and the spirit that makes Carolina great. Our university was founded as a university of the people, by the people, and for the people, making it evident from the start that being a Tarheel means giving to the community beyond Carolina. It is this Carolina Spirit of Giving that the Student Membership Program of the General Alumni Association hopes to promote by providing students, faculty, staff, and friends of the university, the opportunity to give back, by sponsoring a Thanksgiving package for underprivileged families through Orange County Social Services. Our vision is to involve the entire Carolina community in order to show just how much Carolina cares. Please visit: http://www.alumniconnections.com/olc/pub/UNO/events/event_order.cgi?tmpl=events&event=2086287 for more information, and to sponsor a package.

Thank you for joining us in spreading "The Carolina Spirit of Giving".

Amanda Stephens '08
GAA-Student Membership Advisory Board
Service Committee Chair

This email is sponsored by: General Alumni Association Student Membership Program

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, November 2, 2006 9:27 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: International Education Week 2006

Dear Carolina students, faculty and staff:

The week of November 13-17 marks International Education Week 2006, and at Carolina we have an array of activities planned, including:

--An address by Carol Bellamy, former director of UNICEF, on "Global Poverty: Reflections on Millennium Development Goals"
--Carolina's 2nd annual on-campus "Get-a-Passport Drive"
--the 6th annual University Center for International Studies (UCIS) international photography contest and exhibit
--a Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowship Applicant information session
--an information session on the Phillips Ambassadors Program for study abroad
--the UCIS Student International Research Symposium

The events, coordinated by the Associate Provost for International Affairs and UCIS, are open to the public. A complete schedule is posted at global.unc.edu, or you can access it directly from the UNC homepage.

One key to becoming a truly global university is increased international study, research and service. So, I hope many of you will take advantage of our second annual "Get-a-Passport Drive" on Wednesday, Nov. 15, and Thursday, Nov. 16. State Department officials will be on campus with passport applications, and your passport photo can be taken on-site for one-stop shopping to apply for or renew your passport. I encourage any of you who are planning, or considering, international travel for study, research or service to take advantage of this on-campus service. (Be sure to check the website noted above for details on the documentation you will need to take with you.)

The passport drive and all of the International Education Week activities provide wonderful opportunities to promote and celebrate international education at Carolina, and I hope you'll take the time to participate, learn and enjoy.

Sincerely,

James Moeser

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no-reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, November 3, 2006 8:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Vote Early!

THIS IS THE LAST WEEK TO VOTE EARLY AT MOREHEAD PLANETARIUM!

Fri. 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Sat. 9:00 a.m. - 1 p.m.

THIS SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH, IS THE LAST DAY OF EARLY VOTING.

If you wait until election day to vote, you will have to go to your off-campus polling place. Early voting at Morehead Planetarium is easy and convenient!

This email is sponsored by: UNC Young Democrats

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, November 3, 2006 10:59 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Health and Human Rights

As we work to improve human health through research and service, we cannot forget that people can only live in good health if they enjoy full human rights. The Health and Human Rights (HHR) Subcommittee of the Student Global Health Committee puts on a year-long university-wide seminar series that addresses a number of issues highlighting the importance of human rights in relation to health.

HHR invites you to join us for our fall line-up of FREE film screenings on issues such as HIV/AIDS in Namibia and sex-trafficking in the Balkans.

Please click on the link below for more information:
http://studentorgs.unc.edu/sghc/index.php?option=com_events&task=view_detail&agid=71&year=2006&month=11&day=13&Itemid=30

This email is sponsored by: Student Global Health Committe

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of muic@unc.edu
Sent:	Saturday, November 4, 2006 12:18 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Focus Group Subjects Needed

BREAST CANCER SURVIVORS UNDER AGE 50

REVISED CONTACT INFORMATION: If interested, please email muic@unc.edu or call 919-966-6610.

Volunteers needed for focus groups to get feedback on audio and written materials designed for a research study to help younger breast cancer survivors to manage fears of recurrence and long term treatment side effects. The focus groups will be held on November 14th 6:00-8:00 PM and November 16th 6:30-8:30 at the Psychology Research Center and Clinic on Finley Golf Course Road.

If you:
*completed treatment for localized breast cancer 2 through 4 years ago
*are under 50 years old
You are qualified to participate in a focus group.

Qualified participants will receive payment of $20 cash or check for participating in a focus group.

This message was approved by the Public Health-Nursing Review Board (IRB) on 10/27/2006, IRB # 05-1500

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Saturday, November 4, 2006 1:36 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Peter White

---

November 2, 2006

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Carol Tresolini, Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Peter White, Director of the North Carolina Botanical Garden

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Peter White, Director of the North Carolina Botanical Garden, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Dr. Douglas Crawford-Brown, Director, Carolina Environmental Program. Other members include: Dr. Philip Berke, Professor in the Department of City and Regional Planning; Dr. Robert Cox, Professor, Department of Communication Studies; Professor Jonathan Howes, Past President, Botanical Garden Foundation; Ms. Charlotte Jones-Roe, Associate Director for Development, North Carolina Botanical Garden; Dr. Robert Peet, Chairman and Professor, Department of Biology and Curriculum in Ecology.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. White's performance as Director of the North Carolina Botanical Garden over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. White's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. The committee has scheduled two open sessions to receive comments. These times are:

--Monday, November 27, 2006 (1:00 - 3:00 pm) in 205 South Building
--Tuesday, December 5, 2006 (10:00 - 12:00 pm) in 307 South Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (debbie_stevenson@unc.edu or 962-7882), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. White's personnel file.

2. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. White's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by him. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to: Dr. Douglas

Crawford-Brown, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu.

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. White's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. White's performance to the committee is December 8, 2006. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Dr. Peter White, Director of the North Carolina Botanical Garden:

Dr. Douglas Crawford-Brown, Chair
Environmental Sciences and Engineering
105 Miller Hall
CB #1105
Carolina Campus
(919) 966-6026
douglas_crawford-brown@unc.edu

Dr. Philip Berke
Department of City and Regional Planning
308 New East
CB #3140
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-4765
pberke@email.unc.edu

Dr. Robert Cox
Department of Communication Studies
212 Bingham Hall
CB # 3285
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-4937
rcox1@email.unc.edu

Professor Jonathan Howes
Botanical Garden Foundation
210 Pittsboro Street
CB # 6225
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-1558
jonathan_howes@unc.edu

Ms. Charlotte Jones-Roe
Associate Director for Development
North Carolina Botanical Garden
Totten Center
CB # 3375
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-9458
jonesroe@unc.edu

Dr. Robert Peet
Department of Biology and Curriculum in Ecology
413 Coker Hall
CB # 3280
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-6942
peet@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

"the only real nation is humanity"
-Paul Farmer

The Student Global Health Committee's Health and Human Rights Subcommittee and Narratives of HIV/AIDS present:

Documentary Screening and Discussion

A Measure of Our Humanity: HIV/AIDS in Namibia

With discussion by Dr. Tom Arcaro

This documentary tells the story of how Namibia is responding to the HIV/AIDS pandemic. It explores the multifaceted complexion of this problem and the direct relationship between poverty and HIV/AIDS. Dr. Arcaro, Professor of Sociology, is the Director of Project Pericles at Elon University, a group of student scholars committed to social responsibility who produced the film in conjunction with Elon faculty.

Monday, November 13th
11:30 A.M. – 12:45 P.M.
Michael J Hooker Research Center, Room 0001
Blue Cross Blue Shield Auditorium
Free Pizza!

Sponsored by: the James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence, UNC Student Congress, and the University Center for International Studies

Michael J Hooker Research Center, Room 0001
Blue Cross Blue Shield Auditorium
Monday, November 13
11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 6, 2006 2:59 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Cingular Wireless converts to 10-digit dialing tonight

---

Cingular Wireless will convert to 10-digit dialing late tonight and early tomorrow morning. After the conversion, if a 7-digit call is made, the customer will hear a recording stating that 10-digit dialing is required.

According to Cingular, this change is being made to provide the highest possible call completion rate for customers as they travel in and out of area codes both within the Carolinas and nationwide.

If you have any questions, please contact Cingular at 1-866-CINGULAR or by dialing 611 from your Cingular cell phone.

This email is sponsored by: ITS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 6, 2006 5:45 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Campus Health Alert: Confirmed E. Coli Cases Among UNC Students

---

Campus Health Alert - Confirmed E. Coli Cases Among UNC Students

In recent days, three University students have developed confirmed cases of gastroenteritis caused by E. coli O157:H7 bacteria. This illness causes severe diarrhea (often bloody), abdominal cramps and is occasionally associated with severe complications, especially in young children and the elderly. The affected students developed symptoms between October 26th and 29th. Health authorities are investigating a small number of additional possible cases among University students.

To date, the investigation by public health authorities has not identified any common source of exposure. Currently, there is no indication that other students are at risk. These bacteria usually make people sick within 10 days of exposure.

The Orange County Health Department, working in consultation with the North Carolina Communicable Disease Branch, is investigating all of the cases involving the small number of UNC students. Officials from the University's Campus Health Services, Department of Environment, Health and Safety and other offices are monitoring the situation closely and collaborating in the investigation.

If you experience severe diarrhea and abdominal cramps, you are encouraged to seek medical attention immediately. Students may make an appointment with Campus Health Services by calling 966-2281 or walk in for a same-day appointment. Faculty and staff with any concerns may contact the University Employee Occupational Health Clinic at 966-9119 or visit the clinic, which is located at the Ambulatory Care Center off Mason Farm Road and Columbia Street (see http://ehs.unc.edu/ueohc/ for directions) or see their regular medical provider.

For more information, students can call 966-6573 between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. or 966-2281 after hours. Updated information is available on the Campus Health Services website at http://studenthealth.unc.edu/. UNC HealthLink is available to field calls and questions after normal business hours at 966-7890.

For more information about E. coli O157:H7, visit: http://www.cdc.gov/ncidod/dbmd/diseaseinfo/escherichiacoli_g.htm.

Following is a sampling of general tips from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on how you can prevent E. coli infection:

* Washing hands frequently and well is the most important thing you can do to avoid bacterial illness.

* People with diarrhea should wash their hands carefully with soap after bowel movements to reduce the risk of spreading infection. Anyone with a diarrheal illness should avoid swimming in public pools, sharing baths with others, preparing food for others, providing day care or direct health-care services.

* Cook all meat and eggs thoroughly. You can decrease the risk of illness by not eating raw or undercooked meat or eggs. Use a digital instant-read meat thermometer to ensure thorough cooking.

* If you are served an undercooked meat or eggs in a restaurant, send it back for more cooking and ask for a clean plate.

* Avoid spreading harmful bacteria in the kitchen. Keep raw meat separate from ready-to-eat foods. Wash hands, counters and utensils with hot soapy water after they touch raw meat or eggs. Never place cooked food on the unwashed plate that held raw meat or eggs. Wash meat thermometers in between tests.

* Wash fruits and vegetables under running water, especially those that will not be cooked. Bacteria are sticky, so even thorough washing may not remove all contamination. Remove the outer leaves of leafy vegetables. People at high risk of complications from food-borne illness may wish to eat cooked vegetables and peeled fruits.

This message is sponsored by the Environment, Health and Safety.

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health and Safety

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of salzman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 6, 2006 9:02 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Free Heart Screening During Pregnancy (Examen gratis durante el embarazo)

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or someone you know pregnant?
Interested in FREE heart screening?

The PAVED study at UNC is a research study of heart function during pregnancy.

We are now enrolling pregnant women, age 18 and older, who do not have any known heart problems. Participants will receive free heart screening during the last trimester of pregnancy and 5 months after giving birth. This free heart screening will be done at UNC Hospitals for approximately 1 hour and will include:

* A special electrocardiogram (ECG) that records heart rhythm and also heart sounds
* An echocardiogram (ultrasound of heart)
* A physical exam by a cardiologist
* Blood and urine samples

Participants will also be visited by study personnel during their delivery hospitalization and receive a follow-up phone call 18 months later.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call 919-966-0859 or e-mail Cary Salzmann at salzman@med.unc.edu.

The Principal Investigator for this study is Patricia Chang, MD, UNC Division of Cardiology.

The PAVED Study(GCRC#2389)and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board (9/28/2006).

¿Está embarazada o conoce a alguien que lo esté?
¿Le interesa hacerse un examen del corazón gratis?

El estudio PAVED en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte es un estudio de la función del corazón durante el embarazo.

Estamos ahora inscribiendo a mujeres embarazadas de 18 años o más de edad, en quienes se desconocen problemas del corazón. Participantes recibirán un examen del corazón gratis durante el último trimestre del embarazo y 5 meses después de dar a luz. Este examen del corazón gratis se efectuará en los Hospitales de UNC por aproximadamente 1 hora e incluirá:

* Un electrocardiograma especial (ECG) para rastrear los ritmos y sonidos del corazón
* Un ecocardiograma (sonograma del corazón)
* Un examen físico por un cardiólogo
* Análisis de sangre y orina

Los participantes también serán visitados por personal del estudio durante su hospitalización del parto y recibirán una llamada telefónica de seguimiento 18 meses después.

Si está interesada en participar o desea más información, por favor comuníquese con Cary Salzmann por teléfono (919-966-0859) o por correo electrónico (salzman@med.unc.edu).

La Investigadora Principal de este estudio es Patricia Chang, MD, UNC División de Cardiología.

El estudio PAVED(GCRC#2389)y este mensaje han recibido aprobación de la Junta Médica de Revisión Institucional (IRB - por sus siglas en inglés) de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte (9/28/2006).

This email is sponsored by: Cardiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lmangili@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 6, 2006 10:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Walk for Wellness: A new Campus Recreation walking program

---

Taking STEPS to a healthier lifestyle!

Become fit one step at a time through a new Campus Recreation program, Walk for Wellness, sponsored by TIAA-CREF. Walks will be held throughout the week and will start from four main areas on campus: Fetzer/Woollen Gym, Business School, Health Affairs, and McCorkle Place.

Walk for Wellness is a FREE program available to UNC employees. All walking paces and levels are welcome. For more information about this program and other employee recreation opportunities, please go to www.campusrec.unc.edu and click on Employee Recreation or contact Lauren Mangili, lmangili@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 12:37 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Voice your opinion about email communication between faculty and students!

How could students improve their email communication?
When should an email interaction end?
What are your expectations?

Do you ever wonder what students think of faculty emails?
What are their expectations?
Do they judge a faculty member's scholarly/teaching ability by the way emails are written?

Here's your chance to give your opinion about how email communication can be improved between faculty and students. By taking the brief survey you will be entered into a drawing to WIN A $20 GIFT CERTIFICATE to South Point Mall.

This is a brief voluntary survey for faculty. You may skip any questions that you choose. If you'd like more information about this survey please scroll to the bottom of this email. The findings from the faculty and student surveys will be sent out through informational email once complete.

LET'S GET STARTED :-)! TAKE THE BRIEF SURVEY NOW AT -
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=291532482307

Information about the survey:

You are being given the opportunity to volunteer to participate in a project conducted by students in the School of Information and Library Science at UNC Chapel Hill.

In order to understand better academic communication between university students and faculty, we are conducting this survey to explore the expectations of faculty and students surrounding email correspondence. The survey findings will be released through informational email to the UNC community.

The survey will be conducted using Survey Monkey. The survey should take approximately 15 minutes to complete and should be completed in one sitting. There are no anticipated risks to participants who take this survey.

Although survey monkey captures participants' IP addresses, and you will have the option of putting in your email address to be entered in the gift certificate drawing, this information will not be used in the analysis and will be separated from the survey results before analysis. All data is stored on Survey Monkey's site and is password protected.

Refusal to participate in this study will have no effect on any future services you may be entitled to from the University. You are free to withdraw from the study at any time without penalty.

For more information about this study, please contact either:
Meredith Weiss at mlweiss@email.unc.edu or Dr. Barbara Wildemuth at wildem@ils.unc.edu.

I have been given information about this research study and its risks and benefits and have had the opportunity to ask questions and to have my questions answered to my satisfaction. I freely give my consent to participate in this research project as shown by my decision to take the survey.

TAKE THE BRIEF SURVEY NOW AT -
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=291532482307

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect your rights and welfare. If you have questions or concerns about your rights as a research subject you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu. If you contact the IRB, refer to study number 06-0709.

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 12:47 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Policy for Use of University Resources in Support of Entrepreneurial Activities

---

To: Deans, Directors, and Department Heads
All Faculty

From: Tony G. Waldrop, Vice Chancellor
Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

The following link provides access to a new campus policy entitled "Policy for the Use of University Resources in Support of Entrepreneurial Activities."

http://research.unc.edu/red/university_resources_policy.php

This policy results from the work of a committee chaired by Tim Quigg which included wide campus representation (see list below).

A need for such a focused policy has long existed. Currently, several different policies have provisions which address this type activity. However, many of these were crafted with other purposes in mind - and may, in some cases, inadvertently discourage or inhibit entrepreneurial activity. While the new policy is meant to clarify and to encourage such activity, faculty should be aware that other current university policies (e.g., patent policy, conflict of interest policy, and others) remain in place and are thus applicable to certain aspects of entrepreneurial activity.

These include:

* UNC System Patent Policies
* UNC-Chapel Hill Patent and Copyright Procedures
* UNC-Chapel Hill Copyright Policy
* UNC-Chapel Hill Conflict of Interest Policy
* UNC-Chapel Hill Institutional Conflict of Interest Policy
* UNC-Chapel Hill Equity Policy

The administration of the University is very supportive of entrepreneurial activity by faculty who wish to pursue this type of endeavor. Among a number of benefits, entrepreneurial endeavors are seen as a means to enhance our overall research funding levels and to increase our partnership with the corporate sector.

If you have questions about this policy, please feel free to contact me at twaldrop@unc.edu or 962-1319.

Committee Members:
Tim Quigg- Chair
Mark Crowell
Joe DeSimone
Shelley Earp
Pat Flood
Tony Hickey
Laurie Mesibov
Gene Orringer
David Parker
Roger Patterson
Judith Wegner

This email is sponsored by: The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of asthmastudies@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, November 7, 2006 2:08 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participation in Asthma Research Study

---

Do you have asthma? Are you interested in participating in a study investigating the ability of vitamins C and E to maintain your lung health?

Your participation will take approximately 14 weeks including a screening visit, and if you qualify, you will be seen once weekly to the research lab. Each visit will last 1-3 hours and will be held at the EPA building on the UNC campus. You will receive a very brief phone call weekly and a final phone call a week after the last research lab visit. Blood draws will be performed each week(20ml). You will receive either placebo or a combination of Vitamin E (500 mg) and Vitamin C (2000 mg) which you will take by mouth each day.

Compensation for each visit will be provided.

For a complete copy of the consent form and more information, refer to the CEMALB Web site at http://www.med.unc.edu/envlung/

If interested or for further information please contact:

Carole
Research Coordinator
Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology
(919) 962-4247
Email: asthmastudies.med.unc.edu

This study number GCRC 2343 has been approved by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects for the University of North Carolina as of March 14, 2006.

This email is sponsored by: NIH

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@UNC.EDU
Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 3:28 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: REMINDER TO YOUR STUDENTS - HOMECOMING ELECTIONS TOMORROW - PLEASE VOTE

To whom it may concern:

On behalf of the Board of Elections, thank you very much to those of you who forwarded a message along to students to vote in the October 17, 2006 Special Elections! We had the highest turnout ever for a Special Election and I attribute much of that to your help.

Tomorrow are the Homecoming Elections for King and Queen. Again, it would be great if you would please remind your students to vote in tomorrow's (Tuesday, Nov. 7) Homecoming Elections in order to increase the student voter turnout.

They are able to vote online via Student Central from 7am till 10pm.

Those eligible to vote tomorrow are the following:
1.) All Grad students and Undergrad students may vote

It is really important to get both Grads and Undergrads voting. Each candidate's platform is a service project that they will be completing. This further serves to show Carolina's continuing committment to public service.

If they would like to know more about the candidates, they can go to the Board of Elections web site at studentorgs.unc.edu/boe and click on "Know YOUR Candidates"

An announcement by email (through blackboard or other listserv) or in class would be great. Thank you for assisting the Board of Elections with this matter. Have a good rest of the week.

Jim Brewer
Chair, Board of Elections

This email is sponsored by: Board of Elections

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 8:37 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; Judith Blau <jrblau@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Arturo Escobar <aescobar@email.unc.edu>

Subject: room change for thursday talk

Attach: ChimereFlier2.doc

PLEASE NOTE NEW ROOM

"Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics. Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization"
Chimere Diaw, Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR, Yaounde, Cameroon
Th., Nov 9, 5:00 PM, 308 Alumni

See attached flier for more details.
--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Cultures of Economies and Social Movements Working Groups
African Studies Center
University Program in Cultural Studies
Departments of Geography and Anthropology

Economic Alterity and the Alterity of Economics. Non-Conventional Economic Systems in the Age of Globalization

Mariteuw Chimère Diaw

Center of International Forestry Research, CIFOR
Yaoundé, Cameroon

Thursday, November 9, 5:00 pm

308 Alumni Building

Abstract of presentation: This presentation analyses the inability of Western economic science to account for the existence –indeed persistence—of non-standard yet at times universal and highly resilient economic systems. Drawing from examples of share systems in artisanal fisheries off the cost of West Africa and embedded tenure systems in significant parts of Africa and Asia, the author examines critically recent, yet futile, attempts in institutional economics to "normalize" these systems, and goes on to discuss the consequences of economic normalization for dealing with global environmental problems, particularly in the areas of biodiversity conservation and individual/collective property rights. Arguing against the "new enclosures" resulting from market approaches to "environmental services," and building on economic anthropology, the author advocates for economic pluralism and a new vision of entitlements.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 8:09 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or less than 9 weeks pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ¿conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigación sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar más sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envía un correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número de teléfono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu dirección de correo electrónico con personas ajenas a esta investigación. Para obtener mayor información, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefónica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estén intentando quedar embarazadas

¡Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener más conocimientos simplemente compartiendo información sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiología de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departamento de Obstetricia y Ginecología de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisión Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of acklandprograms@Unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, November 7, 2006 10:01 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Volunteers Needed at the Ackland Art Museum

---

Interested in learning more about the Ackland, museums, and art?

The Ackland Art Museum needs your help!
The Museum is currently seeking volunteers for our Visitor Services/front desk position. Visitor Service volunteers are an integral part of the Museum's 'front line' staff and are viewed as ambassadors for the Ackland.

We have scheduled two training sessions, which will be held here in the Museum galleries. At each of these sessions, we'll go over everything you'll need to know about volunteering.

Please email acklandprograms@unc.edu or call 919.843.3676 for more information.

I look forward to hearing from you!
Sincerely,
Sarah Abrahams

Director of Membership and Visitor Resources
Ackland Art Museum
S Columbia and E Franklin Sts
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
www.ackland.org

This email is sponsored by: Ackland Art Museum

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Raquel Cogell <cogell@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, November 8, 2006 7:42 AM

To: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Reginald F. Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Robert Porter <rporter@email.unc.edu>; Charlene Regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Karla Slocum <kaslo@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Joseph F Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; k_brennan@bellsouth.net; drdalet@email.unc.edu

Subject: New Books in the Stone Center Library

Dear Colleagues,

The Stone Center Library now has a web page featuring new books. Please take a look at your convenience: http://www.lib.unc.edu/stone/newbooks/index.html.

--

Raquel Von Cogell
Librarian, The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
150 South Road
Campus Box 5250
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5250

919-843-5808 voice
919-962-3725 fax

raquel.cogell@unc.edu

From: Sondra J. Smolek <smolek@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, November 8, 2006 11:56 AM
To: smolek@unc.edu; banders1@email.unc.edu; kevinbrennan@unc.edu; klcaldwe@email.unc.edu; radunbar@email.unc.edu; hallpa@email.unc.edu; hildebra@email.unc.edu; krjanken@email.unc.edu; jfjordan@email.unc.edu; mlambert@email.unc.edu; drdalet@email.unc.edu; leemc@email.unc.edu; tjm1@email.unc.edu; smutima@email.unc.edu; jen321@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; regester@email.unc.edu; eunice@email.unc.edu; bselassi@email.unc.edu; kaslo@email.unc.edu; dacrowde@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Upcoming lecture and invitation - Dr. Lamin Sanneh

Hello,
I am writing to tell you about an upcoming lecture sponsored by the Christianity and Culture Minor, featuring Dr. Lamin Sanneh. Would any of you like to meet with Dr. Sanneh or have any students meet with him during his visit? We could arrange dinner, coffee, or breakfast plans. He will be here on November 15th - 16th. If you are interested, please email me as soon as possible so that we can make arrangements. Also, if you could please circulate the lecture information to your students, we would greatly appreciate it.

His lecture title is "Religion and the Historical Impulse: Christianity and the Variety of Culture" and takes place on Wed. Nov 15th at 7:30 p.m. in Murphey 116.

As you probably know, Dr. Sanneh is a widely known and very well-respected scholar, with a fascinating life story. A naturalized U.S. citizen, he is descended from the nyanchos, an ancient African royal house, and was educated on four continents. He went to school with chiefs' sons in the Gambia, West Africa. He subsequently came to the United States on a U.S. government scholarship to read history.

After graduating he spent several years studying classical Arabic and Islam, including a stint in the Middle East, and working with the churches in Africa and with international organizations concerned with inter-religious issues. He received his Ph.D. in Islamic history at the University of London. He was a professor at Harvard University for eight years before moving to Yale University in 1989 as the D. Willis James Professor of World Christianity with a concurrent courtesy appointment as Professor of History in Yale College. He is a Life Member of Clare Hall, Cambridge University. He has been actively involved in Yale's Council on African Studies. He is the author of many books and articles, and is an Honorary Research Professor at the School of Oriental and African Studies in the University of London.

During his talk Sanneh will discuss how Christianity and Islam in particular have grown around the globe in defiance of predictions of religious demise. The lecture will answer the question, "How does this religious resurgence fit into a globalized world, and what explains this worldwide expansion of faith?"

Sanneh will explore key dimensions of the global religious resurgence and what it might mean for the future.

Please let me know if you're interested in meeting with him.

--
Sondra J. Smolek
Department of Sociology
Admin. Director, Christianity & Culture Minor
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
121 Saunders Hall 919.962.3939

www.christianityculture.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bchesson@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, November 8, 2006 9:54 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New Support/ Service Group on Campus

HAVE YOU LOST A LOVED ONE? OR DO YOU ENJOY PARTICIPATING IN SERVICE ACTIVITIES?

Carolina Students of AMF is a support network for college students with a sick or deceased loved one. The goal of the Carolina Students of AMF is to help students to cope with the psychological, social, spiritual, and academic difficulties associated with having a sick or deceased loved one by utilizing peer-support, service, mentoring, and community outreach as a university-sponsored organization. Our support group guides students through their grief journey in a comfortable, safe, and uplifting setting. Our programs enrich these young adult lives by: participating in service activities, providing mentor guidance from Angels, and most importantly introducing support from peers who share a similar experience. By raising money and awareness about the very illnesses that took our loved ones, we find strength and fulfillment from within. Below is a more detailed description of each component of Students of AMF that combine to make up the support network.

If you have any questions or would like to know when Carolina Students of AMF is meeting please contact Benjamin Chesson at bchesson@email.unc.edu.

* Support Group
The support group meets every other week for open-discussion. All students that can either provide or receive support are encouraged to attend these meetings. The goal of the group is to help students maintain sound performance psychologically, spiritually, socially, and academically, despite the difficulties of having a sick parent through service, support, and mentoring.

* Service Group
The service group is open to the entire campus community and is made up of both grieving students and their peers. The service group chooses monthly projects to volunteer or participate in. The projects are often done in memory of a lost loved one. The goal of the service group is to empower grieving college students and their peers to be proactive and to open doors to channel their energy toward positive outlets, including raising money and awareness for the very illnesses that took their loved ones, providing aid to the sick, and supporting children in the community through the SAINTS program

* Angels
The Students of AMF Angels are made up of university faculty members that the support group feels are outstanding people and care about their students beyond the classroom. As an Angel, the faculty member is paired with a student and encouraged to serve as a mentor.

* Saints Program
The SAINTS program enriches the lives of children who have experienced the death or illness of a parent by creating friendships between these children and college mentors through a mixture of social and academic activities both in large and small group settings.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Students of AMF

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Raquel Cogell <cogell@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 13, 2006 9:29 AM
To: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; leemc@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>
Subject: African Language Materials Archive

Dear African Studies Faculty,

I just came across a web site that may be of interest to you. It's a site of e-books in African Languages.

http://www.aiys.org/aodl/public/access/alma_ebooks/index.php

--
Raquel Von Cogell
Librarian, The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
150 South Road
Campus Box 5250
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5250

919-843-5808 voice
919-962-3725 fax

raquel.cogell@unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 13, 2006 8:16 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have breathing problems?

Do you have breathing problems?

Have you been diagnosed with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, (COPD)? Have you wondered about whether or not your shortness of breath is actually related to a pulmonary disease? Are you a current or past smoker?

UNC Hospitals Pulmonary Research Division is conducting a research study for subjects who have been diagnosed with COPD. COPD is a lung disease in which the lung is damaged, making it hard to breathe. In COPD, the airways that carry air in and out of the lungs are partly obstructed, making average breathing more difficult. COPD is often linked to people with a history of smoking.

This study will research a new COPD medication. Participants in this research study will be asked to make 13 vists to UNC Hospitals over a 56 week period. If you qualify for the study, you will receive study related physical exams, pulmonary evaluations and education about your disease. Participants will receive $810.00 for complete participation.

This research study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board. The IRB approval number is 05-2731.

If you are interested in finding out more about this study, please contact Joyce M. Lanier, RRT at 919-966-2531 or email at joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Hospitals Pulmonary Research Division

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of margaret_herbst@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 13, 2006 9:41 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research study investigating smoke exposure and flu virus

---

The purpose of this research study is to learn about how influenza virus affects nasal inflammation in people passively exposed to cigarette smoke. We are looking for healthy, nonsmoking young adults aged 18-35 years with no underlying medical problems, who either (1) live or work regularly with others who smoke, or (2) are never exposed to ETS.

Specific exclusion criteria will include history of asthma, COPD, cardiac disease, or any chronic cardiorespiratory condition; any type of immunodeficiency; influenza or flu like symptoms in the past three weeks; current pregnancy; or egg allergy. Your participation will last about 51 days, but will require about 9 visits to the lab.

Interested individuals may call 919-962-4247 for additional information.

Approved November 7, 2006 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 05-2547 (formerly 05-PED-1094).

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine and Lung Biology. This study is funded by The Flight Attendants Medical Research Institute (FAMRI).

This email is sponsored by: Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 13, 2006 10:57 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: SECC Update: Halfway to Goal

Dear Colleagues:

"Carolina Together: Supporting a Great Cause" is off to a wonderful start, and I want to share the good news with you: The North Carolina State Employees Combined Campaign (N.C. SECC) estimates that the Carolina community has raised about $414,000 thus far in our university's 2006 campaign.

The campaign officially began Oct. 3 with our charity fair and is scheduled to conclude on Nov. 30. Carolina's 2006 goal is $825,000.

Captains and division leaders are planning silent auctions, "fun days," chili cook-offs and other special events - all to raise money for more than 850 charitable organizations. Captains, division leaders and many others in the Carolina community have given generously of their time, bringing high levels of energy and creativity to our SECC effort. Faculty and staff have returned their forms quickly and have shown enthusiasm for our campaign. Department managers and other academic leaders have made this campaign a priority in the day-to-day lives of their academic units.

"Carolina Together" says it all.

We have had two rounds of incentive prize drawings, and you can see the names of prizewinners at http://www.unc.edu/secc. Our third drawing of the Carolina campaign will feature more wonderful prizes:

* A 20-inch color television with built-in DVD player, generously donated by UNC Student Stores;
* Tickets for two to Dance Brazil's Feb. 9 performance in Memorial Hall, generously donated by Carolina Performing Arts;
* David Sedaris' "Me Talk Pretty One Day" on audio book CD;
* Lunch for two at The Carolina Club, generously donated by The Carolina Club;
* A brushed suede overnight bag from the N.C. SECC; and
* A Carolina ball cap, generously donated by Student Stores.

The drawing will be for all Carolina employees who have donated from the campaign's beginning through Nov. 16, and a representative of the N.C. SECC will draw the names of the winners on Nov. 17.

Best of luck to everyone, and thank you for the important role you are playing in Carolina's SECC effort!

John N. Williams
Professor and Dean/School of Dentistry
UNC-Chapel Hill SECC Chair

This email is sponsored by: School of Dentistry

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 13, 2006 11:56 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Get involved in TABLE TALK

Table Talk is a committee of the campus-y which strives to unite students, faculty and community leaders through discussion of provocative issues that impact campus and community life. We plan one discussion forum each month-the size of each will vary from small roundtable discussions to large debates. If you are interested in helping to plan table talk events or come up with topics to plan events, check out http://campus-y.unc.edu or email one of table talk's co-chairs: Andy Woods (aswoods@email.unc.edu) or Charles Murphy (cgmurphy@email.unc.edu).

This email is sponsored by: Campus Y

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of blcox@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, November 14, 2006 1:15 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Veterans' Organization

As we reflect on the contributions and sacrifices of US veterans this weekend, it is my distinct honor to announce the re-chartering of the Carolina Veterans' Organization (CVO). The CVO was created in April 2006 as the academic year came to an end and the organization's charter expired this past October. Fortunately, the CVO's charter has been renewed under new leadership. Those who previously expressed interest in the CVO can expect to hear from the Personnel Officer within the coming week with information regarding the organization's new direction. For the newly-interested members of the campus community, please send an email expressing your interest to carolinaveteransorganization@gmail.com and enter "CVO Interest" in the subject line. Thank you for your time, and allow me to extend a special thanks to all veterans in the Carolina community for your service.

Sincerely,

2LT Brian Cox
US Army
UNC Class of 2006
CVO Alumni Affairs Officer

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Veterans' Organization (CVO)

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pareinhardt@ehs.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, November 14, 2006 2:28 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Please Get A Flu Shoot

November 13, 2006

Dear UNC Faculty and Staff,

Every year, over TEN MILLION Americans get the flu. They are sick and miserable at home in bed for several days, with debilitating aches and fever. Don't go through that misery! Sign up now for your flu shot!

The flu season is from November until April, so don't delay. Sign up now at http://ehs.unc.edu/ and click on the Flu Shots link. If you have difficulty, please ask your supervisor or administrative staff to help you. (Supervisors: Please help your staff who do not have internet access to sign up for their flu shot.)

Appointments are available between 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the following locations:

Student Union, Room 3509
November 16th
December 12th
December 13th

Friday Center--convenient, free parking
November 17th

Old Dental Building, Room 1220
December 14th

Giles Horney Building Magnolia Room
December 20th

If your primary coverage is the State Health Plan (or one of the State Health Plan's Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plans), there will be no cost to you. If you are not a member of the State Health Plan, you will need to pay $25 by cash or check at the time of vaccination and obtain reimbursement from your insurance.

You'll receive an email reminder two days prior to your appointment. At your appointment, you'll need to present your State Plan/PPO card along with a photo ID for coverage under the Plan. These flu shot clinics are for UNC employees only. Please contact your health care provider for flu shots for family members and dependents.

Help us spread the word by printing this email and poster located at http://ehs.unc.edu/flu_shot.pdf, and posting them at your workplace.

Peter A. Reinhardt, Director, Environment, Health & Safety
962-5507

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health & Safety

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, November 14, 2006 4:57 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Newsletter InTouch Now On-Line

---

The November edition of InTouch, the Employee Forum newsletter, is now on-line at

http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch7-7.htm

Articles include:

Editorial on Dental Technician Situation
Editorial: Fear of Frying
Letter to the Editor regarding Carolina First Campaign

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, November 14, 2006 8:38 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; Judith Blau <jrblau@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; S J Smolek <smolek@email.unc.edu>

Subject: lecture nov 15

Attach: sanneh flier.doc

"Religion and the Historical Impulse: Christianity and the Variety of Culture"

Dr. Lamin Sanneh,
D. Willis James Professor of World Christianity, Yale University

7:30pm Wed. Nov 15th
Murphey 116.

Exploring key dimensions of the global religious resurgence and what it might mean for the future, Dr. Sanneh will discuss how Christianity and Islam in particular have grown around the globe in defiance of predictions of religious demise. The lecture will answer the question, "How does this religious resurgence fit into a globalized world, and what explains this worldwide expansion of faith?"

Co-sponsored by the Christianity and Culture Minor, Dept. of Sociology, and the African Studies Center

--

Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

"Religion and the Historical Impulse: Christianity and the Variety of Culture"

Dr. Lamin Sanneh, D. Willis James Professor of World Christianity, Yale University

7:30pm Wed. Nov 15th Murphey 116.

Exploring key dimensions of the global religious resurgence and what it might mean for the future, Dr. Sanneh will discuss how Christianity and Islam in particular have grown around the globe in defiance of predictions of religious demise. The lecture will answer the question, "How does this religious resurgence fit into a globalized world, and what explains this worldwide expansion of faith?"

Dr. Sanneh (of Ghana) received his Ph.D. in Islamic history at the University of London. He was a professor at Harvard University for eight years before moving to Yale University in 1989 as the D. Willis James Professor of World Christianity with a concurrent courtesy appointment as Professor of History in Yale College. He is a Life Member of Clare Hall, Cambridge University. He has been actively involved in Yale's Council on African Studies. He is the author of many books and articles, and is an Honorary Research Professor at the School of Oriental and African Studies in the University of London.

Co-sponsored by the Christianity and Culture Minor,
Department of Sociology
and
the African Studies Center

For more information, please contact Sondra J. Smolek
Department of Sociology
Admin. Director, Christianity & Culture Minor
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
121 Saunders Hall 919.962.3939

www.christianityculture.unc.edu

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, November 14, 2006 11:54 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; Judith Blau <jrblau@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>

Subject: TONIGHT: Carol Bellamy Speaks & CFK Launches "Lightbox"

Attach: lightbox flier.jpg

Please see attached. If you are unable to attend but are interested in purchasing a copy of Lightbox, please email Kim Chapman: kchapman@unc.edu. The purchase of 3 books covers the entire cost of a girl's high school scholarship in Kibera.
--

5:00 pm The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
"Global Poverty: Reflections on Millennium Development Goals" presented by Carol Bellamy Carol Bellamy is President and CEO, World Learning, President of the School for International Training, and the Former Executive Director of UNICEF.

6:00 pm - Reception
featuring photographs and book launch of "Lightbox" (forward by Carol Bellamy) in support of The Binti Pamoja Center Scholarship Fund, a program of Carolina for Kibera.

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

LIGHTBOX

Expressions of Hope from Young Women in the Kibera Slum of Nairobi

Please Join Us

November 14, 2006

The Binti Pamoja Center, Carolina for Kibera and The Fledgling Fund are pleased to invite you to the launch of LightBox

DATE November 14, 2006

TIME 5 pm – Presentation by Carol Bellamy, Executive Director of World Learning, and former Executive Director of UNICEF
6 pm – Reception and book launch

PLACE The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture & History
150 South Road, Chapel Hill, NC

RSVP acp@email.unc.edu

LightBox is comprised entirely of photographs taken by the teenage members of The Binti Pamoja Center in Nairobi, Kenya, and essays they have written about their lives. Their expressions offer a candid look at the lives of young women in poverty. LightBox demonstrates the value of empowering a young woman and celebrates their hope and perserverance, despite tremendous obstacles.

The Binti Pamoja Center is a reproductive health and women's rights program for teenage girls and a program of Carolina for Kibera.

100% of proceeds from LightBox support The Binti Pamoja Center Scholarship Fund, which helps Binti Pamoja members attend high school. LightBox was funded by The Fledgling Fund. To learn more, please visit www.thefledglingfund.org.

EDITED BY EMILY VERELLEN • FORWARD BY CAROL BELLAMY
DESIGNED BY ALLYSON MURPHY

To learn more, please visit www.bintipamoja.org.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@UNC.EDU
Sent:	Tuesday, November 14, 2006 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: NC State Football Game, F-15 Fly Over

---

Several F-15 Jets will participate in a fly-over of Kenan Stadium before the UNC vs. NC State Football Game on Saturday, November 18th. The jets will conduct several practice runs between 3:00 pm and 4:00 pm (subject to change due to weather) on Thursday, November 16th. The actual fly over will occur on Saturday, November 18th just prior to the 12 noon kickoff of the football game. For more information visit www.TarHeelBlue.com

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Athletics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, November 16, 2006 11:04 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right?

Something Not Quite Right?

The Prime Research Clinic is conducting a study to better understand the causes and course of basic symptoms. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 14-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Clinic. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Go to the 'Simple Survey' by clicking on the link or paste into your browser:
http://www.med.unc.edu/cgi-bin/prime/page1.pl

Or
visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

03-Psych-53
August 23, 2006
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects The BioMedical IRB University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of connect@schsr.unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, November 19, 2006 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

---

APPROVED by UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB-Study # 02-SHEPS-587

Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

Black Americans have disproportionately high rates of disease and disproportionately poor health outcomes. Recent emphasis on increased representation of minority populations in all research has challenged investigators to find ways to diversify the populations that are recruited to participate in prevention and treatment trials.

Project CONNECT is recruiting volunteers who want to learn more about opportunities to participate in health research.

While we are focusing on African Americans, 18 years or older, any adult is welcome to participate.

If you participate your name will be placed on a confidential listing. If volunteers are eligible for a future research study they will be contacted and offered the opportunity to participate. The confidential registry will collect basic participant data including contact information, age, education level and basic health status.

To join the Project CONNECT listing, please reply with your name, and a phone number or mailing address so that we may get in touch with you. Or, you may choose to contact us directly by calling toll free at 1-866-849-1579.

If you know someone else who is eligible, and may be interested, please feel free to forward this information to them also.

Joining the registry does NOT mean one is volunteering for any particular study.

For additional information, please contact us at 919-966-7107 or via email at connect@schsr.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Project CONNECT: the Bridge to Healthy Communities Through Research, UNC Sheps Center for Health Services Research

If you have concerns about taking part in research please contact the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects (Medical IRB) at UNC at (919) 966-1344.

This email is sponsored by: Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, November 20, 2006 8:33 AM

To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; Judith Blau <jrblau@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Tanya L Shields <tshields@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Africanist Faculty Conference Travel funds

Attach: Faculty Conference Travel application.doc

Dear Colleagues:
Our return from ASA in San Francisco seems a good time to remind faculty that there are limited funds available for conference travel. Please note that the restrictions and requested explanations on the form have to do with grant regulations and reporting requirements from the US Department of Education. Conference Travel Funds are available on a rolling basis, are intended to augment other travel funds, and will be distributed until this year's funds are extinguished (read: don't wait too long to apply for these!). If you have any questions, please let me know. Barbara

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Faculty Conference Travel Grants

Deadline: Rolling

With these funds, the ASC supports faculty who are interested in presenting a paper at a conference. The paper must have substantial Africa content. The conference or panel need not focus exclusively on Africa. Preference will be given to applicants who need to top-off travel funds received from another source, such as their home department. Conference travel for faculty not giving papers will be considered if there is demonstration that this will enhance teaching or research that is Africa-focused.

The application consists of:

1. Using table below: a brief description of the conference and an abstract of the paper or panel, (OR: A brief description of how attendance at this conference will enhance Africa-focused teaching or research), and a budget (including an explanation of other funds used for this purpose-- i.e. department, other grant or institution).
2. An abbreviated CV
3. A commitment to report on this activity in a timely manner to the ASC.

Three copies of each application for conference travel funds should be directed to: Barbara Anderson, African Studies Center, CB# 7582

For further information, please contact Barbara Anderson: b_anderson@unc.edu

Title and location of conference
Title of paper or panel (abstract attached), or explanation of how attendance will enhance Africa-focused teaching and research
Budget for attendance
Source and amounts of funds from other sources
Amount requested from ASC

Signature_____ Date:_____

NB: All travel is contingent on the approval of the US Department of Education, which requires conformity to the Fly America Act. Use the Federal per diem rate for budget calculations.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Monday, November 20, 2006 11:26 AM

To: Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>

Subject: [Fwd: Africanist Faculty Conference Travel funds]

Attach: Africanist Faculty Conference Travel funds (35.9 KB).msg

---

From: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, November 20, 2006 8:33 AM
To: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Barbara S Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Peter Landstrom <plandstr@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; bselassi@email.unc.edu; darity@email.unc.edu; Lisa A Lindsay <lalindsa@email.unc.edu>; Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; pwleslie@unc.edu; raquel.cogell@unc.edu; Karen M Booth <kmbooth@email.unc.edu>; robert_daniels@unc.edu; tmevens@email.unc.edu; dmadison@email.unc.edu; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Andrew Reynolds <asreynol@email.unc.edu>; redfield@unc.edu; Tim Mcmillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Carol Magee <cmagee@email.unc.edu>; Kim Chapman <kchapman@unc.edu>; Chris Lee <cjlee1@email.unc.edu>; Judith Blau <jrblau@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; 'Margaret Carol Lee' <leemc@email.unc.edu>; Tanya L Shields <tshields@email.unc.edu>; Tom Kelley <takelley@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Africanist Faculty Conference Travel funds
Attach: Faculty Conference Travel application.doc

Dear Colleagues:
Our return from ASA in San Francisco seems a good time to remind faculty that there are limited funds available for conference travel. Please note that the restrictions and requested explanations on the form have to do with grant regulations and reporting requirements from the US Department of Education. Conference Travel Funds are available on a rolling basis, are intended to augment other travel funds, and will be distributed until this year's funds are extinguished (read: don't wait too long to apply for these!). If you have any questions, please let me know. Barbara

--
Barbara Shaw Anderson
Associate Director, African Studies Center
Lecturer, Department of African and Afro-American Studies
Office: 306 Stone Center (919) 843-1895
banders1@email.unc.edu

African Studies Center
West House CB#7582
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7582
(919) 843-0129 office
(919) 843-2102 fax

Faculty Conference Travel Grants

Deadline: Rolling

With these funds, the ASC supports faculty who are interested in presenting a paper at a conference. The paper must have substantial Africa content. The conference or panel need not focus exclusively on Africa. Preference will be given to applicants who need to top-off travel funds received from another source, such as their home department. Conference travel for faculty not giving papers will be considered if there is demonstration that this will enhance teaching or research that is Africa-focused.

The application consists of:

1. Using table below: a brief description of the conference and an abstract of the paper or panel, (OR: A brief description of how attendance at this conference will enhance Africa-focused teaching or research), and a budget (including an explanation of other funds used for this purpose-- i.e. department, other grant or institution).
2. An abbreviated CV
3. A commitment to report on this activity in a timely manner to the ASC.

Three copies of each application for conference travel funds should be directed to: Barbara Anderson, African Studies Center, CB# 7582

For further information, please contact Barbara Anderson: b_anderson@unc.edu

Title and location of conference
Title of paper or panel (abstract attached), or explanation of how attendance will enhance Africa-focused teaching and research
Budget for attendance
Source and amounts of funds from other sources
Amount requested from ASC

Signature_____ Date:_____

NB: All travel is contingent on the approval of the US Department of Education, which requires conformity to the Fly America Act. Use the Federal per diem rate for budget calculations.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noahsasson@gmail.com
Sent:	Monday, November 20, 2006 8:07 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Healthy participants needed for a study on recognizing emotions

---

To: Faculty and Staff,

We are seeking volunteers for a study on how individuals view and process faces. In order to qualify for the study, you must currently not have a psychiatric diagnosis and must have no recent difficulties with alcohol or drugs.

If eligible, you will be paid $20.00 for approximately 1.5 hours of participation. This study will take place at the Autism Building, located at 100 Renee Lynne Ct. in Carrboro. In the study, you will first complete a one-page paper and pencil questionnaire and receive a brief assessment of your cognitive abilities. You then will participate in a task in which you will be asked to view a series of faces on a computer screen and make judgments of what emotion they are displaying. As you do so, your eye movements will be monitored using a non-invasive infrared light that will safely illuminate your eyes so that we can determine where you look within the pictures on the screen.

If you are interested or would like additional information about the study, please contact Noah Sasson at noahsasson@gmail.com. When you email, please also include your age, gender, and ethnicity.

This project, Medical IRB Study #04-1190, has been reviewed and approved by the Biomedical IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Neurodevelopmental Disorders Research Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 20, 2006 8:53 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Campus resources during final exams

Dear Faculty and Staff:

This letter is to serve as a reminder that final examination time can be an unusually stressful time for many students. Since you and your staff are in a position to observe students on a day-to-day basis, we urge you to use this close contact to be alert to students who might need support and assistance, and intervene with these students as you feel appropriate.

Below you will find a list of resources on this campus that are available to students to help them deal with these pressures. Some of these resources are available for direct referral while others are available for collaboration with you and your staff in trying to work with students. The continuing relationship that you have with students is a valuable vehicle through which those who are having difficulty can find assistance.

Sincerely,

Melissa E. Exum, Ph.D.
Associate Vice Chancellor and Dean of Students

STUDENT AFFAIRS RESOURCES

Counseling & Wellness Service (CWS)
Student Health Services Building, Third Floor 919-966-3658
http://cws.unc.edu//

Dean of Students Office
01 Steele Building
919-966-4042
http://deanofstudents.unc/edu

Campus Health Services
General Information
919-966-2281
http://studenthealth.unc.edu/

Housing & Residential Education
Carr Building
919-962-5406
http://housing.unc.edu

OTHER CAMPUS RESOURCES

Academic Advising
213 Steele Building
919-966-5116
http://www.unc.edu/depts/advising/

Campus Ministers
Rev. Caroline Craig
Campus Ministers' Assoc.
919-967-2311

Evangelical Campus Ministries
President, Mike Peters
919-967-0796

Office of Minority Affairs
03 South Building
919-962-6962
http://www.unc.edu/minorityaffairs/

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, November 20, 2006 9:44 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Allison Rosenberg

---

November 20, 2006

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Tony Waldrop, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Allison Rosenberg, Associate Vice Chancellor for Research - Federal Affairs

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Allison Rosenberg, Associate Vice Chancellor for Research - Federal Affairs, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Steve Allred, Executive Associate Provost. Other members include: Dr. Cam Patterson, Chief, Division of Cardiology; Dr. Karen McCall, Vice President, Public Affairs & Marketing, UNC Hospital; Dr. Harvey Seim, Associate Professor & Director, Department of Marine Sciences; Ms. Shirley Ort, Associate Provost & Director, Scholarships & Student Aid; and Dr. Matt Peterson, Director of Federal Research Affairs.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Rosenberg's performance as Associate Vice Chancellor for Research - Federal Affairs over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Office of Research - Federal Affairs. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Rosenberg's performance as Associate Vice Chancellor is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following various ways:

1. The committee has scheduled two open sessions to receive comments. These times are:

--Monday, January 8, 2007 (4:00 - 5:30 pm) in 105 South Building
--Wednesday, January 17, 2007 (8:30 - 10:00 am) in 105 South Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Nel Resendes in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (resendes@email.unc.edu or 962-2037), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Rosenberg's personnel file.

2. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Rosenberg's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by her. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to: Executive Associate Provost Steve Allred, c/o Nel Resendes, 104 South Building, CB 3000, or by emailing resendes@email.unc.edu .

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Rosenberg's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Rosenberg's performance to the committee is January 31, 2007. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Dr. Allison Rosenberg, Associate Vice Chancellor for Research - Federal Affairs:

Executive Associate Provost Steve Allred
Chair of the Review Committee for Dr. Allison Rosenberg
104 South Building
CB #3000
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-4510
steve_allred@unc.edu

Dr. Cam Patterson
Chief, Division of Cardiology
UNC Hospital
6022 Burnett Womack Building
CB #7075
Carolina Campus
(919) 843-5201
cam_patterson@med.unc.edu

Dr. Karen McCall
Vice President, Public Affairs & Marketing
UNC Hospital
Room 6003 East Wing
CB #7600
Carolina Campus
(919) 966-4752
KMcCall@unch.unc.edu

Dr. Harvey Seim
Associate Professor & Director
Department of Marine Sciences
329 Chapman Hall
CB #3300
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-2083
hseim@email.unc.edu

Ms. Shirley Ort
Associate Professor & Director
Scholarships & Student Aid
201 Pettigrew Hall
CB #2300
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-2315
ort@email.unc.edu

Dr. Matt Peterson
Director of Federal Research Affairs

Holladay Hall 304C, Box 7001
NCSU Campus
Raleigh, NC 27695
(919) 515-7876
mat_peterson@ncsu.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research
and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 20, 2006 11:15 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Request for Proposals: Ueltschi Service-Learning Course Development Grants

---

Request for Proposals - Ueltschi Service-Learning Course Development Grants
Deadline: February 9, 2007

The Office of the Provost and the APPLES Service-Learning Program are soliciting proposals for Ueltschi Service-Learning Course Development Grants. We are seeking to award $8,000 grants to instructors to develop courses that successfully connect community service with course concepts, and to promote the pedagogy of service-learning on the UNC campus. Through the generosity of Jim and Jean Ueltschi, the University has received a substantial gift to develop five new service-learning undergraduate courses to be awarded this spring.

Service-learning is a progressive and innovative teaching strategy that has been adopted by university faculty nationwide. Service-learning integrates community service with academic instruction, offering students an opportunity to explore the connections between the theoretical realm of the classroom and the practical needs of the community. Service-learning is an approved method to satisfy the experiential education requirement of the new General Education curriculum. As the University begins to implement the new undergraduate curriculum, APPLES is eager to support faculty engaging in service-learning.

Faculty members, adjunct faculty members, and graduate teaching assistants working with undergraduates in Academic and Health Affairs are eligible and encouraged to apply. A link to the request for proposals is provided below with applications due February 9, 2007. I strongly encourage you to consider becoming part of Carolina's APPLES Service-Learning Program.

Thank you for considering the use of service-learning as a way to simultaneously enrich students' academic experiences and contribute to the University's efforts to engage with and serve the community and state.

To access the Request for Proposals, see News and Information at: http://www.unc.edu/provost/.

For more information, contact Jenny Huq, huq@email.unc.edu or Leslie Parkins, leslie_parkins@unc.edu or join us for an information session in room 3515 of the Student Union on Friday, January 19 from 12-1pm.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Raymond Garrett-Peters <rdg11@duke.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, November 21, 2006 12:13 PM
To: jen321@email.unc.edu
Cc: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Subject: Save the Date -- Open House at SSRI

Dear Dr. Nyang'oro,

Feel free to share this with members of your department. We hope you can attend!

Best regards.

Please Mark Your Calendars . . .

On January 24, 2007 from 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. we are hosting an open house to celebrate the transition of our two ethnography projects, Welfare, Children and Families: A Three-City Study and the Family Life Project, to the Center for Social Demography and Ethnography and the Social Science Research Institute at Duke University (2024 W. Main Street, Erwin Mill Building, Suite A116).

Please mark your calendars and join us for food, drink, and sharing of information about these important urban and rural poverty policy-relevant projects.

WE HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!

Linda M. Burton, Sherri Lawson Clark, Donna-Marie Winn, Raymond Garrett-Peters, and Clara Holder-Taylor

Formal invitations to follow
For more information, contact
Raymond Garrett-Peters at rdg11@duke.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, November 22, 2006 8:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Course Development Awards

TO: UNC COLLEGE FACULTY
FROM: CHRIS SMITH, CHRISTIANITY & CULTURE MINOR, DEPT OF SOCIOLOGY
PETER I. KAUFMAN, CHRISTIANITY & CULTURE MINOR, DEPT OF RELIGIOUS STUDIES
RE: $3,000 COURSE DEVELOPMENT AWARDS, CHRISTIANITY & CULTURE MINOR

College faculty are invited to submit proposals for course development awards to create new courses or significantly revise existing courses that will serve the undergraduate academic minor in the Study of Christianity and Culture. Competitive awards are available for the academic year 2006-7 for up to $3,000. Award funds may be used for supplies, equipment, salaries of assistants, summer salary, travel, or assistance with any other justified dimension of faculty development; though money from the award may not be used to provide release time from regular employment.

The minor in the Study of Christianity and Culture is an interdisciplinary academic minor housed in the Department of Sociology, available for undergraduate student enrollment since Fall, 2005. For more information, see www.ChristianityCulture.unc.edu.

Proposals for interdisciplinary, team-taught courses will be considered as long as they enjoy the support of their respective departments. Proposals for courses on science and religion, involving faculty from the natural sciences, humanities, and/or social sciences, are of particular interest, and so are welcome to submit proposals with justified budgets larger than $3,000.

Applicants must be full-time, salaried faculty members. Award recipients must agree to teach their created or revised course at least twice in the following four years. Awards will be paid during the summer of 2007. For persons on nine-month contracts who use award money for summer salary and fringe benefits, this source of funds will count as part of the one-third allowable for faculty members on nine months' service; summer salary will be subject to the usual deductions. Since the awards are required to cover fringe benefit costs, the entire amount of an award cannot be paid as salary.

Proposals for course development awards must include 3 collated hard copies of the following.

For new course creations:
1. A 2-page description of the proposed new course, including a clear description of how its focus and content will contribute to the Christianity and Culture Studies minor,
2. A proposed budget for up to $3,000 describing specifically how the award money will be spent,
3. A brief, signed memo of support from one's department chair endorsing the proposed new course creation and agreeing to have it offered at least twice in the following four years, and
4. A curriculum vita.

For revised existing courses:
1. The most recent version of the syllabus of the course proposed to be revised,

2. A 1-page description of the proposed course revision, including a clear description of how its focus and content will contribute to the Christianity and Culture Studies minor,
3. A proposed budget for up to $3,000 describing specifically how the award money will be spent,
4. A brief, signed memo of support from one's department chair, associate chair, or equivalent departmental course scheduling officer, agreeing to have the revised course offered at least twice in the following four years, and
5. A curriculum vita.

Deadline for proposal submissions: December 15, 2006.

Proposals (in hard copy) should be sent via campus mail to Sondra Smolek, Administrative Assistant, Christianity & Culture Minor, CB 3210, Hamilton Hall (e-mail questions to smolek@unc.edu).

This email is sponsored by: Christianity & Culture Minor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 27, 2006 8:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Opportunity to recognize outstanding female scholars, educators & researchers

---

To: Deans, Directors, and Department Heads
All Faculty

From: Tony G. Waldrop, Vice Chancellor
Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

The American Association of University Women Educational Foundation is pleased to announce its 2007 awards to recognize and support women scholars and to bring national visibility to their work and to UNC. Your valuable contribution is needed to identify women for these prestigious recognition and research awards. Women scholars from all academic disciplines are eligible.

AAUW Recognition Award for Emerging Scholars

The AAUW Recognition Award for Emerging Scholars honors an untenured woman scholar who has a record of exceptional early professional accomplishments and demonstrates promise of future distinction. The award is open to women in all disciplines.

The award includes an honorarium of $10,000 and travel expenses to the June 2007 AAUW National Convention.

Nomination receipt deadline: Feb. 10, 2007

More details: http://www.aauw.org/fga/awards/raes.cfm

AAUW Founders Distinguished Senior Scholar Award

The AAUW Founders Distinguished Senior Scholar Award honors a woman scholar at the pinnacle of her academic career for a lifetime of outstanding research, teaching, publications, and impact on women in her profession and in the community. The award is open to women in all disciplines.

The award includes an honorarium of $10,000 and travel expenses to the June 2007 AAUW National Convention.

Nomination receipt deadline: Feb. 10, 2007

More details: http://www.aauw.org/fga/awards/fdss.cfm

For a complete list of available awards, fellowships and grants, please visit the American Association of University website.

http://www.aauw.org/

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice-Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, November 27, 2006 8:28 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Gum disease study

Do your gums bleed?

Would you like to volunteer for a gum disease study?

You may be eligible to participate in this study if you are:
- Between the ages of 18 and 65
- In good general health
- Not pregnant
- Non-smokers
- Willing to commit to a 9 week study with one visit per week (8 visits total)

If you qualify, study participants may receive up to $260 upon successful study completion.

To learn more about this study, please contact the GO Health Center staff at 919-966-5271.

Please do not respond to this email, we are unable to exchange personal information due to HIPAA Compliance Issues.

Approved by UNC IRB 10/27/2006

This email is sponsored by: Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Dental Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Raquel Cogell <cogell@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, November 28, 2006 4:06 PM

To: Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>; Reginald F. Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Julius E Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Robert Porter <rporter@email.unc.edu>; Charlene Regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Karla Slocum <kaslo@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; Joseph F Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>; k_brennan@bellsouth.net; drdalet@email.unc.edu

Subject: Query: Journal Editors?

Hello,

Are any of you editors of scholarly journals? If so, please let me know. Thanks.

--

Raquel Von Cogell
Librarian, The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
150 South Road
Campus Box 5250
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5250

919-843-5808 voice
919-962-3725 fax

raquel.cogell@unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of apreble@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, November 28, 2006 9:06 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Holiday Waste Reduction Tips

The holidays are a time of generosity and good spirits. However, we also often produce more waste than usual this time of year. Please click on the link below for some tips for reducing waste during this time. Hope you all have a wonderful holiday season!

http://www.fac.unc.edu/wastereduction/holiday/tips.asp

Thank you,
Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Arne Kalleberg <arnekal@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, November 29, 2006 12:11 PM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu
Cc: flewis@email.unc.edu
Subject: AFAM Chair Selection Process
Attach: AFAM Chair Memo.Novermber 2006.doc

Debby--

Please circulate the attached memo to all tenured and tenure track faculty members in the Dept of African and Afro-American Studies (e.g., via your listserve).

Please work with Faye Lewis (copies above) to identify a couple of large blocks on my calendar in January for me to meet with faculty. Please schedule these meetings in 15 minute chunks (e.g., 3 per hour, with a 15 minute break) in Battle Hall. Please let me know at what time these meetings are scheduled.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Arne

****
Arne L. Kalleberg
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and International Programs, College of Arts and Sciences
Kenan Distinguished Professor of Sociology

Hamilton Hall CB # 3210
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3210

Phone: 919-962-9273(College), 962-0630 (Sociology)
Fax: 919-962-7568 (Sociology)

E-mail: Arne_Kalleberg@unc.edu
Home Page: http://www.unc.edu/~arnekal/
****

UNC
COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES

ARNE L. KALLEBERG,
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences and International Programs

SOUTH BUILDING
CAMPUS BOX 3210
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-3210
http://www.unc.edu/~arnekal/

T 919.962.9273
T 919.962.0630
F 919.962.7568
arne_kalleberg@unc.edu

TO: Tenured and tenure-track Faculty,
Department of African and Afro-American Studies

FROM: Arne Kalleberg
Senior Associate Dean for Social Sciences & International Programs

DATE: November 29, 2006

SUBJECT: New Chair of African and Afro-American Studies

Professor Julius Nyang'oro will complete his latest term as Chair of the Department of African and Afro-American Studies on June 30, 2007. Julius has done a terrific job in managing the Department during his multiple terms, and now we face the challenge of selecting a new chair to serve a five-year term.

The College's guidelines for chair selection allow some flexibility in how to conduct the process. I propose to meet individually with all members of the Department who wish to be interviewed. I will ask your manager to schedule 15 minute sessions in the Department for these interviews. Then the Dean's Office will deliberate, and after further discussions as necessary, the Dean will appoint the Chair.

In addition to the interviews, Department members are welcome at any time to convey opinions or comments to me by other means – say by letter or e-mail (arnekal@email.unc.edu) or by telephone (962-9273). I should point out that, by University and State regulations, written comments to the Dean's Office about a colleague, including e-mail, become part of that person's personnel file, whereas conversations remain confidential. At the end of the process I will destroy any notes I take from our interviews or other conversations on this subject.

The Faculty Code gives the Dean the authority to appoint chairs. Thus the procedure is designed not to elect a chair, but to recommend colleagues for consideration. The Dean is not bound by the recommendations, but the collective advice of the Department will normally assist the Dean in making an appointment that is in the best interests of both the Department and the College.

I also ask, as you consider colleagues as potential chairs, that you not be guided by whether or not you think that they would be interested in serving, or even willing to do so if asked. What is important at this stage is to identify the most desirable candidates. If a colleague has the strong confidence of the Dean's Office and the Department, it is our job to try to persuade that person of the many good reasons to want to serve as Chair.

I will ask your manager to arrange a time for me to meet with you during the first part of January, 2007.

The Student Global Health Committee's Health & Human Rights and Narratives of HIV Series present a documentary screening and breakfast in honor of World AIDS Day

WE WILL NOT DIE LIKE DOGS

We Will Not Die Like Dogs is a feature length documentary film that provides a poignant look at how Africans are responding to their continent s deadliest epidemic. The film profiles AIDS activists from Nigeria, Uganda, Burkina Faso and Zambia.

Screening to be followed by a Q&A and breakfast reception with film director Lisa Russell, MPH

9:00 a.m., Friday, December 1st
Tate Turner Kuralt Auditorium
1st floor, UNC School of Social Work

sponsored by Student Congress, University Center for International Studies, and the Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence

From: Brandy Farrar <bdfarrar@server.sasw.ncsu.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, November 28, 2006 12:43 PM
To: jablaize@email.unc.edu; iaar@unc.edu; dacrowde@email.unc.edu; diversity@unc.edu
Subject: The HIV/AIDS Crisis in Black American: A Call to Action

---

Please forward this email to listservs, students, faculty or friends that may be interested...

FACT: Although African Americans make up 13% of the US population, they account for half (50%) of all HIV and AIDS cases (www.cdc.gov).

FACT: 68% of all women infected with new cases of HIV and AIDS are African American (www.cdc.org).

FACT: African Americans accounted for 55% of all HIV infections reported among persons aged 13-24 in 2004 (www.cdc.org) .

Disturbed by these facts? Want to know what you can do to help? The N.C. State Sociology Graduate Students of Color and Department of Africana Studies are presenting a social issues forum "The HIV/AIDS Crisis in Black America: A Call to Action". Join us as we discuss the causes, consequences and solutions of the HIV/AIDS epidemic in the black community.

The forum will be held on Thursday, November 30th 2006 from 6:00-8:15 p.m. in the African American Cultural Center Witherspoon Building (on the Campus of N.C. State University). The forum will include a viewing of ABC's Primetime documentary, followed by a panel and audience discussion.

For more information contact Michelle Laws at malaws@ncsu.edu or Kendra Jason at kjjason@chass.ncsu.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, November 29, 2006 10:24 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: SECC Update: Campaign Extended

Dear Colleagues:

Thank you for the generosity and compassion you have shown through your contributions to our State Employees Combined Campaign. This campaign, which began in early October, has raised more than $500,000 in seven weeks - and the funds our campus generates will make a tremendous difference in the missions of hundreds of worthy organizations.

In an effort to ensure that all captains and division leaders have had enough time to conclude their SECC duties, we are extending the campaign to Dec. 21. Some units have concluded their efforts, but we want to be as supportive as possible to our colleagues who have not finished their efforts quite yet.

The N.C. SECC will continue to receive collections from captains and division leaders from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. each Thursday through Dec. 21 at Wilson Library. I would like to thank our colleagues at Wilson Library for graciously providing a central location for the SECC collection and for the help they have provided the N.C. SECC each Thursday.

We will have our last incentive drawing on Dec. 15, for Carolina employees who have given to the campaign from its beginning through Dec. 14. Among the prizes are Carolina T-shirts donated by UNC Student Stores and a beautiful piece of pottery by Pittsboro artist Lyn Morrow. You can see the names of past prizewinners at our "Carolina Together" Web site: www.unc.edu/secc

At this time of year, we are particularly mindful of how we can help people in our communities who may be in need. If you have not already given to the SECC, please consider the many ways in which your support can make a difference.

I send my very best wishes to you for a joyful holiday season.

John N. Williams
UNC-Chapel Hill SECC Chair
Dean, UNC-Chapel Hill School of Dentistry

This email is sponsored by: School of Dentistry

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rmhigh@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, November 30, 2006 8:07 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: NCAA Women's Soccer

The UNC Women's Soccer Team is in the NCAA Division I Soccer Cup Semi-finals!

UNC, the #1 seed has only lost its season opener this year and only has a couple remaining games before claiming its 19th NCAA Championship! Come out and support the Heels!

Visit www.unc.edu/caa under "Tickets" for more information.

Thanks and GO HEELS!

This email is sponsored by: CAA

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, November 30, 2006 9:52 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Did / Will you have Anterior Cruciate Ligament Reconstruction?

Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery.

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery in the near future, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions tasks while an ultrasound images will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1.5 hours.

You would be paid $30 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call, Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu
ORS# 05-ORTHO-1005

This email is sponsored by: orthopaedics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kcaruso@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, December 1, 2006 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Native Spanish Speakers Needed to Talk into Microphone

---

Hi!
My name is Kaylee Caruso and I'm doing a study of speech acoustics for my linguistics class. I need volunteers who are native speakers of Spanish to pronounce the following five short sentences into a microphone:
1.)Con tiempo, yo puedo hacerlo. (With time, I can do it)
2.)Yo tengo dos pies y dos piernas en mi cuerpo. (I have two feet and two legs on my body)
3.)Yo trabajo por cinco horas por las mañanas. (I work for 5 hours in the mornings)
4.)Las personas especiales viven en el pueblo. (The special people live in the city)
5.)¿Puedo comer el plátano, por favor? (Can I eat the banana, please?)

The study should not take longer than 20-30 minutes although we ask that you reserve an hour as to make sure that everything is completed successfully. I won't be collecting any personal information, and of course, your participation is voluntary. Please let me know as soon as possible, as I need to finish the experiment shortly! My phone number is 704-793-3907, and my email address is kcaruso@email.unc.edu.
Are you interested?

We have gotten IRB approval for this study:
Study number 06-0855, CB:3155.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Linguistics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kmeyer@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, December 1, 2006 9:19 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participate in Research

HEALTHY WOMEN and WOMEN WITH PCOS are needed as volunteers for a research study to help understand the roles of growth hormone, estrogen and androgens in Polycystic Ovary Syndrome (PCOS).

If you:
* are 18-40 years old
* have no major health problems (i.e., heart, liver, or kidney disease)
  are not taking any hormonal medications

You may qualify for a 16 week study investigating the effects of growth hormone blocking medicine in PCOS. This study will include 3 overnight hospital visits.

Qualified Participants Will Receive:
1. Laboratory evaluation
2. Bone density testing
3. Payment (up to $500.00) on completion of study

If interested, please call 919-843-0556 or e-mail kmeyer@med.unc.edu.

This message was approved by the Biomedical Review Board (IRB) on 8/18/06 for the study GCRC 2514 titled, Partial and Complete Growth Hormone Blockade in Polycystic Ovary Syndrome.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Endocrinology

This email is sponsored by: Department of Endocrinology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hannan@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, December 1, 2006 10:27 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 2007 Robert E. Bryan Fellowships

Announcing summer Fellowships for students!
Please circulate widely:

Robert E. Bryan Fellowships
UNC Entrepreneurial Public Service Fellowships
Application deadlines: February 16, 2007
Offered by the Carolina Center for Public Service

Eligibility: Any returning, full-time undergraduate or graduate student enrolled at UNC-Chapel Hill is eligible to apply for a fellowship. Proposals from undergraduate and graduate students are considered separately, and if possible, at least two fellowships from each program will go to undergraduates.

Descriptions: Each Fellow plans and works on their summer project with a community partner as well as a faculty mentor who is familiar with the Fellow's topic and/or geographic area. The idea/concept of the project can be identified by students, faculty, or the community. However it is identified, the student must be responsible for the major planning and implementation of the project. Fellows receive a stipend of up to $3,000 to fund the project. Faculty Mentors receive stipends of $500 for supporting the students' work.

To learn more about each fellowship program, please visit the Fellowships page of our website at http://www.unc.edu/cps/fellowships/index.html. There will also be a Fellowship Information Session on Tuesday, January 16, 2007, at 5:30 pm in The Kresge Foundation Common Room (039) in James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence in Graham Memorial.

To apply: Detailed information and application materials may be found on-line at http://www.unc.edu/cps/fellowships/index.html. If you have questions after reviewing the on-line materials, please contact Eileen Hannan, Program Officer, Carolina Center for Public Service, at 843-7568 or hannan@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Center for Public Service

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, December 4, 2006 8:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you cough frequently?

Do you cough frequently?
Do you wonder why?

If you are a non-smoking male or female between the ages of 18 and 70 who has had a cough for more than 8 weeks, and are not taking any acid reflux medication- you may be eligible for a research study investigating GERD (Gastroesophageal Reflux Disease) as a potential cause of cough.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please call, 966-4591.
04-MED-533. Approved by UNC IRB 7/28/06.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Esophageal Research Group

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, December 5, 2006 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ¿conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigación sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar más sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envía un correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número de teléfono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu dirección de correo electrónico con personas ajenas a esta investigación. Para obtener mayor información, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefónica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estén intentando quedar embarazadas

¡Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener más conocimientos simplemente compartiendo información sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiología de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departamento de Obstetricia y Ginecología de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisión Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, December 5, 2006 9:14 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Nominations for $5,000 mentoring awards due Jan. 18, 2007

Nominations for Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Awards due Jan. 18, 2007; each winner to receive $5,000

The Carolina Women's Leadership Council has generously provided funding for annual faculty mentoring awards at the University.

The Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Awards recognize outstanding men and women faculty members who go the extra mile to guide, mentor and lead students and/or junior faculty as they make important career decisions, embark on innovative research challenges and enrich their lives through public service, teaching and meaningful educational opportunities. These awards will honor faculty-to-student mentoring and faculty-to-faculty mentoring, with one award award given in each category. Each recipient will receive $5,000.

All tenured and tenure-track faculty are eligible for this award, as are fixed-term faculty who have taught at Carolina for at least three years. Visiting faculty are not eligible. Nominations may he suhmitted by anyone from the Carolina family, including current and former faculty, staff, and students. Nomination forms can be downloaded at http://www.unc.edu/provost/news/Nomination Form 2007 A.doc and must be received in writing by Jan. 18, 2007, at: Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Award, Office of the Provost, CB# 3000. Each nomination must include:

* Brief (one-paragraph) statement of rationale for nomination.
* Narrative description -- not to exceed two pages -- of the extent, type and character of the mentoring provided by the nominee.
* Curriculum vitae.

A selection committee appointed by the provost will review and recommend the award recipients. This committee will include representatives from the faculty, the student body, the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, and the Carolina Women's Leadership Council.

Selections will be made in February 2007, with awards presented to winners at the annual meeting of the Carolina Women's Leadership Council, which will be held Feb. 22-23, 2007.

Part of the Carolina First Campaign volunteer leadership structure, the 130-member Women's Leadership Council is a network of women from across the country who are committed to supporting the University and students' educational experiences. Along with providing financial support, members volunteer their time and share their expertise, as well as champion Carolina in their regions and serve on boards that further the University's mission. The council is co-chaired by Mary Anne Dickson '63, Barbara Hyde '83 and Julia Sprunt Grumbles '75.

For more information about the Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Awards, contact Carol Tresolini, associate provost for academic initiatives, at 962-3907 or Carol_Tresolini@unc.edu

To learn more about the Women's Leadership Council, contact Lanier Brown May in the Office of University Development at 843-5883 or lanier_may@unc.edu or visit http://carolinafirst.unc.edu/women/

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of davisam@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, December 6, 2006 8:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Interview Study about EPR DNA Registry

---

Have you heard of the "EPR"?

Several weeks ago you received an email telling you about the "EPR" or The Environmental Polymorphisms Registry. The EPR is a registry of DNA samples being established by UNC Hospitals and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS), National Institutes of Health (NIH), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). It will help researchers study how variations in genes (known as polymorphisms) influence risk for disease.

We are UNC researchers conducting an interview study to learn about how people understand genetic registries like the EPR.

We would like to interview you if -you provided a blood sample and joined the EPR
-you thought about it and decided not to join

For more information, please contact Arlene Davis at (919)843-8079 or davisam@med.unc.edu

To participate, you must:
*Be 18 years of age or older;
*Read and sign a consent form;
*Have made a decision to join or not to join the EPR;
*Complete an interview and questionnaire (together about 60 minutes)

We will pay you $35 for your participation.

We are not the EPR researchers. They are aware that we are conducting this study, but our study is separate from the EPR. Our interview is not an attempt to encourage you to join the registry.

The principal investigator for this study is:

Arlene M. Davis, J.D., Department of Social Medicine, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This study (Understanding Participation in Genetic Research: The Experience of the Environmental Polymorphisms Registry) is sponsored by a grant from the National Institutes of Health. This message has received approval from the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: Social Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, December 6, 2006 9:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PlayMakers Discount to UNC Faculty/Staff

---

PlayMakers is offering a $10 discount on tickets to TUESDAYS WITH MORRIE Wednesday, December 6; Thursday, December 7; and Friday, December 8 at 8pm to UNC Faculty and Staff members. You may purchase tickets in person at the PlayMakers box office in the Paul Green Theatre lobby, Center for Dramatic Art or over the telephone at 919-962-PLAY. Please mention that you are a UNC faculty or staff member to receive this discount. For more information please visit:

http://www.playmakersrep.org/genPage/index.pl?pgid=105

This email is sponsored by: PlayMakers Repertory Company

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Carolyn_Elfland@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, December 6, 2006 10:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Snow/Ice Emergencies

December 1, 2006

MEMORANDUM

To: All University Employees

From: Carolyn W. Elfland
Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Services

RE: Snow/Ice Emergencies

Chapel Hill is subject to snow and ice storms ranging widely in severity. We need to be prepared for all situations.

Usually, efforts to remove snow and ice take place while the University and the UNC Health Care system continue to operate. We will try to ameliorate each situation, but some inconveniences will occur.

Like most organizations in this climatic area, the University is equipped and organized to cope with snow and ice, but we do not have the capability to clear all areas simultaneously. Accordingly, there is a priority order which understandably has the UNC Health Care System at the top.

During snow/ice conditions, please realize that announcements regarding State employees made on radio and television may not apply to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill or the University of North Carolina Health Care System. Announcements pertinent to the University and/or the UNC Health Care System will specifically state that the information pertains to UNC-Chapel Hill and/or UNC Health Care System.

Special procedures which may be put into effect are as follows:

1. Parking lots may be closed throughout the day for snow and ice removal as cleaning crews work their way through campus. In the event lots are closed for snow removal and permit holders are unable to locate a space in their designated zone, or if Chapel Hill Transit is operating under modified schedules, employees may park on South Campus in the Smith Center (S11) lots. Employees using the Smith Center (S11) lots should use the free "U" or "RU" bus routes for campus access. Detailed parking and transit information during adverse weather may be obtained by calling the Adverse Weather and Emergency Hot Line at 919-843-1234 (toll-free in the Triangle Area) and selecting the parking and transportation information prompt or by directly calling the Parking General Information line at 919-962-3951 or at the Department of Public Safety's website at www.dps.unc.edu.

2. Additional information regarding adverse weather may be available on the toll-free (within the Triangle area) Adverse Weather and Emergency Hot Line number 919-843-1234 or on the UNC-Chapel Hill's website at www.unc.edu.

3. Information will also be available on the University Travelers Information Station (TIS / 1610 AM) when you are close to the UNC Campus.

4. The first parking zones on South Campus to be cleared are (BG) Bell Tower, (CG) Helipad, Neurosciences, and Women's and Children's, (S1) Public Safety Building. These lots will be closed until the lots can be cleared. The (N7) Nash Lot (located west of the Carolina Inn behind the Newman Center on Pittsboro Street) will be the first ungated lot cleared on the North Campus. This lot should be used until other North campus lots are cleared.

5. Zone parking restrictions may be lifted in all areas of campus in the event of heavy snow or severe icing. Consult Parking General information line at 919-962-3951 or the Department of Public Safety website at www.dps.unc.edu for up-to-date information on parking and transit services.

6. To the extent possible, all students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to avoid bringing automobiles on campus during severe conditions, so that snow removal crews can work without interference. Please call Grounds Services at 962-2069 if a vehicle has been blocked due to the clearing of parking lots. Public Safety personnel may have to relocate vehicles that impede snow removal efforts. Attempts will be made to advise owners, but everyone should be aware of this possibility during snow emergencies.

7. Chapel Hill Transit (CHT) schedules may be modified or suspended due to severe snow and ice. Consult the Chapel Hill Transit website at www.chtransit.org, the transit guide for routes served first, the Department of Public Safety's website at www.dps.unc.edu, or listen to WCHL (1360 AM) for updated route information.

8. P2P service may be modified or suspended depending upon the severity of the storm. Modification to the service may restrict drop off/pick up points to the main streets of the campus. Requests for emergency transport of disabled individuals should be routed to Public Safety at 962-8100.

9. Employees and students are cautioned to be mindful of the ice and snow falling from rooftops when parking vehicles and/or when walking near buildings during adverse weather. Some parking spaces adjacent to buildings may be blocked due to the possibility of falling ice or snow.

10. Snow removal crews will be working overtime as required, in accordance with the University Snow/Ice Emergency Plan.

11. The Human Resources website http://hr.unc.edu covers employee attendance during adverse weather conditions and should be reviewed.

It is requested that the above information be posted and provided to all persons in your department. If there are any questions, please contact the Director for Facilities Services at 962-0761, the Director for Grounds Services at 962-2069, or the Director of Public Safety at 966-5730.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

This email is sponsored by: Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Services

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, December 6, 2006 10:49 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Community Award Nominations Now Open

The Employee Forum is accepting nominations for its Community Award from now through December 17.

Purpose: The Employee Forum Community Award (also known as the Three-Legged Stool Award) is designed to recognize distinguished contributions by individuals who work to promote cooperation and collaboration among faculty, staff and students. The Three-Legged Stool Award is the Employee Forum's highest honor.

Eligibility: Any member of the faculty, staff or student body of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is eligible. (Current members of the Employee Forum Executive Committee are not eligible.)

Criteria for nomination: Nominees should be individuals who inspire creativity; promote harmony and partnerships within the University community; inspire teamwork, cooperation and participation; demonstrate new approaches to current processes; encourage, mentor and build bridges; form alliances to work collectively; or demonstrate any other significant community-building activities.

Administration: Nominations (not to exceed 250 words) will be accepted from any member of the University community. When submitting nominations, please include the name of the nominee, how to contact the nominee (campus address, phone, CB# , or e-mail address), your name and contact information, and the specific reasons you are nominating this individual.

Previous winners include James Peacock, Paul Hardin, Rachel Windham, Elson Floyd, Laurie Charest, Jack Evans, Linwood Futrelle, Susan Ehringhaus, Tommy Womble, Eric Mlyn, and Archie Ervin.

No official nomination form is required.

Nominations should be submitted before December 17, 2006, to:

Ernie Patterson, Executive Committee Chair
Employee Forum Office
CB# 3488 Campus Mail

or sent via e-mail to forum_office@unc.edu

Thank you.

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of strt@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, December 7, 2006 12:04 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Request for mentors

Dear Colleagues:

Each year at this time, the Office of Medical Student Research begins the search for potential mentors for medical students interested in short-term research. This research typically occurs during the summer months for 8-12 weeks, but it can occur at any time during the year.
If you are involved in research of any kind, and you haven't mentored a student yet, consider becoming involved. The benefits on both ends are enormous. The student gets in-depth exposure to cutting-edge research and the opportunity to work closely with and get to know a faculty member. The faculty member gets a willing, bright, motivated junior colleague. Students cite their interactions with their faculty research members as among the best, most formative relationships in their education.

Best of all, due to the resources available on our campus, most student research experiences are fundable from extramural sources. These funds include a stipend for the students, and last year we were able to fund 60 students.

If interested in becoming a mentor, you may email a 4-5 sentence description of your project to strt@med.unc.edu. We will post these descriptions on our website, where students may then identify potential mentors in their areas of interest. Our office provides support and direction to students as they begin to make their contacts with potential mentors.
I invite you to join us in our promotion of student research by becoming a mentor.
Best regards,

Nicholas Shaheen, MD, MPH
Director, Office of Medical Student Research

This email is sponsored by: Office of Medical Student Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

<!-- Email Converted by LAW -->
<html xmlns="http://www.w3.org/1999/xhtml" lang="en">
<head>
  <title>At the Ackland</title>
  <style type="text/css"> body { background-color:#9b795c; font-family:arial,helvetica neue,sans-serif;
                font-size:11px; margin:0px; padding:0px; }
h2,h3,h4 { margin:0px; font-weight:normal; }
h3 { margin-top:5px; font-weight:bold;}
img { border:0px none; }
td { vertical-align:top; }
ul,ol,li { margin:0px; padding:0px; list-style-type:none; }
#newsletter { width:685px; margin:0px auto; padding:0px; border-collapse:collapse; }
#soon { background-color:#51260b; color:#fff; width:240px; padding:36px 10px 75px; margin:0px;}
#soon div, #soon p { font-size:12px; }
#soon .time { font-size:.8em; }
#soon a { color:#fff; }
#soon h2 { margin:20px 0px; }
#soon h3 { font-size:13px; }
#soon h4 { font-size:12px; }
#soon p { margin-top:0px; }
#soon li { padding-bottom:4px; }
#soon h3 a, #soon p a { text-decoration:none; border-bottom:1px solid #9b795c; }
#soon h2 a, #soon #signature a { border:0px none; }
#soon #signature { padding-bottom:15px }
#soon .caption { font-size:10px; padding-top:2px; }
#soon .caption img { float:left; padding-right:3px; margin-bottom:4px; }
#main { background-color:#fff; width:425px; padding:0px; font-size:12px; }
#main a { color:#6d2f1d; font-weight:bold; }
#main h1 { margin:0px;}
#main h3 { font-size:16px; }
#main h4 { font-size:14px; }
#main h3, #main h4, #main p, #main div, #main ul { padding:0px 10px; }
#info { padding:0px 10px; background-color:#fff; padding-bottom:20px; }
#info h3 { font-size:12px; }
  </style>
 </head>
<BODY>
<table border="0" width="95%">
 <tr><td width="100">From: </td><td>Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu></td></tr>
 <tr><td width="100">Sent: </td><td>Thursday, December 7, 2006 10:32 AM</td></tr>
 <tr><td valign="top" width="100">To: </td><td>Mutima@email.unc.edu;

Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu></td></tr>
<tr><td valign="top" width="100">Subject: </td><td>[ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Holiday Pajama Party; Lunch with One; Gift Memberships</td></tr>
</table> <hr color="#000000" size="2" noshade>
View on the web:
http://www.ackland.org/enews/2006-12-06/

<!DOCTYPE html PUBLIC "-//W3C//DTD XHTML 1.0 Strict//EN" "DTD/xhtml1-strict.dtd">

<table id="newsletter">
<tr>
<td id="main">
<h1></h1>

<h3>Art after Dark
Holiday Pajama Party</h3>
Friday, December 8, 2006
5 to 9 PM
Stories begin every half-hour from 5:30 to 7:30 PM
Parents, bring your little ones in their PJs and explore holiday traditions from around the world with story reading in the galleries (recommended for ages 0-5 and 6-10). Bring your own favorite holiday storybooks to share at the event.
Enjoy milk & cookies and live music while you are here!

<h3>Drawing in the Galleries</h3>
Saturday, December 9
10 AM to 12 NOON
Community members are invited to draw in the galleries on the second Saturday of every month. The session opens with a brief consideration of a single work of art followed by time to draw in a pre-selected gallery.
Participants provide the dry media (pencil, crayon, conté crayon, charcoal, and paper). Camp stools and drop cloths are available. Free.

<h3>Lunch with One </h3>
Thursday, December 14, 2006
1 to 2 PM
One expert, one work of art, one hour. Bring a bag lunch and and join Professor Carol Magee of UNC's Department of Art for a discussion of a <cite>Mende sowei mask</cite> on view in the Window to the Humanities exhibition, <cite>Making Connections</cite>. Her talk will discuss both the original context of this mask in Sierra Leone and the life it has in this exhibition.

Register online!

<h3>Art is what is irresistible.</h3>

<cite>William Saroyan</cite>

This holiday season, give an irresistible gift. Ackland memberships are wonderful year-long gifts for family, friends, co-workers and clients. Members enjoy a wealth of benefits including invitations to member-only events, discounts on publications, subscription to the Ackland newsletter and more.

Gift memberships can be purchased at any level. Your gift will be presented in an artfully crafted package along with a personalized message and can be mailed directly to the recipient or to you.

For more information, visit our membership page.

</td>

<td id="soon" rowspan="2">

<h2></h2>

Coming Soon

<h3>Art after Dark - Holiday Pajama Party</h3>

<h4>Story Reading in the Galleries for Kids</h4>

Friday, December 8
5 - 9 PM

<h3>Drawing in the Galleries</h3>

Saturday, December 9
10 AM - 12 NOON

```
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>An Artist's Perspective</h3> <h4>Interactive Discussion and Gallery Talk for Teens</h4>
                                        Wednesday, December 136:30 - 8
PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Lunch with One</h3>
                                        <h4>African Masquerades with Carol Magee
Professor, Department of Art</h4>
                                        Thursday, December 141 PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Music in the Galleries</h3> Sunday, December 172 - 4 PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Yoga in the Galleries</h3>
                                        Tuesday, December 1912 - 1 PM
                                        </li>
                                    </ul>

                                For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org. These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild,  members, and friends like you!
                                    <h3>Pass it on</h3>
                                    Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.
                                    <h3>Support the Museum</h3>
                                    Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission: call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackl and.org/join.
                                    <h3>Comments on Ackland e-news?</h3>
                                    Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu. <h3>Thank you for subscribing to Ackland enews!</h3>
                                    If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-
```

news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Illustrations from top to bottom:

<li class="caption">Jean-Emile Laboureur, French, 1877-1943: <cite>Asleep</cite> from <cite>Les Toilettes</cite> (detail), 1907; woodcut. Burton Emmett Collection.

<li class="caption">Egon Schiele, Austrian, 1890-1918: <cite>Seated Woman</cite> (detail), 1918; black colored pencil. Burton Emmett Collection.

<li class="caption">African, Sierra Leone, Mende People:<cite> Sande Helmet Mask</cite>, (detail); blackened wood and raffia. Gift of Mr. Morris Stirling.

<li class="caption">Sean Scully, American, born Ireland, 1945: <cite>Red Durango</cite> (detail), 1991; oil on linen. Gift of Mary and Jim Patton to honor Josie Patton. © 1991 Sean Scully

</td>

</tr>

</table>

</BODY></HTML>

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, December 7, 2006 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT December 2006 Issue Now Available

---

The December 2006 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
* Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.
* Carolina Internal
* National Science Foundation
* National Institutes of Health Grants and Contracts
* Multidisciplinary
* Social and Behavioral Sciences
* Health and Medical Sciences
* Life and Physical Sciences
* Arts and Humanities

CAMPUS NEWS
* NIH Regional Seminar
* Information for NIH Applicants from OSR
* OTD Innovations Seminar: OTD's New Innovation Navigator Program
* RASG Meeting on Pre-Award Processes
* New Staff and Promotions at OTD
* GrantSource Library Holiday Hours
* New Resources from the UNC Libraries

FUNDING TIPS
* Starting a Funding Search
* RWJF Introduces New Process for Accepting Unsolicited Proposals
* Doing Grant Business with USAID
* BCBS Foundation Restructures Grantmaking Strategy
* Dealing with Grant Reviews
* MacArthur Foundation Digital Learning Initiative
* Hematology Grants Clearinghouse

FEDERAL NEWS
* Countdown to NIH R01 eSubmission: System Readiness and Flexibility
* NIH Announces Implementation of Multiple PI Policy
* Two New BAAs from the US Army
* NSF Launches eNewsletter
* NIDDK Programs Move to Parent Announcements
* NIH Seeking Applicants for Director's Council of Public Representatives

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, December 7, 2006 8:23 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Participants 18-44 Needed for study of Muscle and Jaw Function

---

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for healthy volunteers and people with TMJD to participate.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $260 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060
Email: sensory_study@dentistry.unc.edu

Approved by the Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, December 7, 2006 9:45 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Exam Transportation and Parking

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 2006
EXAM PARKING AND TRANSPORTATION

On Saturday, December 9, 2006, UNC will hold exams at 8 a.m., noon and 4 p.m., host two high school football championship games at Noon and 4:30 p.m. at Kenan Stadium and a men's basketball game at 7 p.m. at the Dean E. Smith Center. Additionally, the Town of Chapel Hill will host its annual Christmas parade from 10 a.m. to noon. Consequently, the parking lots on campus will be in high demand.

Because the campus parking lots will be in high demand, the Department of Public Safety will attempt to accommodate the variety of activities taking place on and around campus by reserving and designating several lots. Some lots on north and south campus will be reserved or designated for exam parking. Some lots on mid and south campus will be reserved to accommodate the championship games and at least one lot on north campus will be reserved for parade operations.

This information is also posted online through the Public Safety website at:
http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/specialevents/Exam%20Parking%202006%20Dec.htm

****

BUS SERVICE:

The U-bus and RU-bus hours have been extended for Saturday, December 9, 2006 to accommodate the Saturday exam schedule. Both the U and the RU will follow their normal weekday schedule until 6 p.m. The RU-bus will start as normal at Family Practice (Manning Lot by the Smith Center) at 6:30 a.m. and the U-bus will begin running from the Smith Center stops at approximately 7:11 a.m. All other routes will operate on their normal Saturday service schedule.

Please Note: The Manning Lot at the Dean E. Smith Center will be available to motorists that need easy access to parking on campus for the day.

For a complete U-bus and RU-bus schedule, visit the Chapel Hill Transit website at http://www.townofchapelhill.org/index.asp?nid=399 .
For other Chapel Hill Transit information, a visit the main website at http://www.chtransit.org

****

RESERVED STAFF / FACULTY PARKING:

To accommodate faculty and staff working on Saturday, December 9, 2006, some lots on north campus will be reserved and off-limits to students.

The following lots will be restricted:

* Swain Lot (6:30 a.m. - 3 p.m.)--
Reserved for working staff/faculty with employee identification

(employee permit or employee UNC One Card) or any working graduate student with a graduate student UNC One Card or other working identification. It will resume the normal Saturday pay lot schedule beginning 3 p.m.

* Bynum Circle, Steele and Caldwell Lots (6:30 a.m. - 3 p.m.)--
Reserved for working staff/faculty with employee identification (employee permit or employee UNC One Card) or any working graduate student with a graduate student UNC One Card or other working identification.

As part of this plan, the gates at Steele and Caldwell (NG3) will remain down on Friday night. They will be raised by 6:30 a.m. Saturday morning for faculty/staff parking.

****

SUGGESTED ALTERNATIVE TO STUDENT / STAFF / FACULTY PARKING:

In addition to the lots specifically reserved for staff/faculty, and the football pay parking lots that are available to anyone willing to pay the $5 public parking fee, the following lots are NOT reserved on Saturday and should be available on a first-come, first-served basis. The lots listed are the lots most likely to have space available. There are other lots on campus also not reserved, but likely to be filled first thing Saturday morning.

* Cobb Parking Deck:
Located off Raleigh Street and/or Country Club Road near Cobb Residence Hall and the Center for Dramatic Art.

* Highway 54 Visitor Lot:
Located on Raleigh Road as you approach campus from 15/501, Highway 54 West and General Administration.

* Park Place Lot:
Located on Park Place Street/Boundary Street/Franklin Street across from UNC Press.

* School of Government Deck (available after noon only, due to School of Government Classes):
Located on South Road near the School of Government and Hooker Fields.

* Nash Lot:
Located off Wilson Street behind the Newman Center and Nash Hall.

* Dogwood Deck:
Located on south campus across from UNC Hospitals. $6 per day without proper employee ID.

* Manning Lot (until 4 p.m. when converts to men's basketball lot):
Located on Skipper Bowles Drive off Manning Drive by the Dean E. Smith Center. The U and RU buses will service this area via their normal weekday schedule until 6 p.m.).

* Ehringhaus Residence Hall Lot:
Reserved for "K" permit holders from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Please Note: Note the Morehead Planetarium Lot will be reserved for the Chapel Hill Christmas parade operations and wedding for most of the day.

****

DESIGNATED HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PARKING:

The following lots will be affected by the North Carolina High School Football Championships and thus will be restricted in some manner. However, staff and students willing to pay $5 to park, may pay $5 to park in the designated public parking locations.

* Bell Tower Lot (7 a.m. - 6 p.m.):
The BG gates will go down on Friday evening at approximately 11 p.m. Vehicles already in the lot may stay in the lot on Saturday. BG permit holders will be able to access the lot using their gate card until 7 a.m. on Saturday morning. Beginning 7 a.m., the lot will be restricted to patrons on the football parking list or to public patrons paying $5 to park. Faculty, staff or students wishing to pay $5 to park, may do so. Otherwise, faculty staff and students should seek parking in alternate locations. (See noted suggestions above).

* South Road Meters:
Reserved for high school football buses only.

* Stadium Drive (7 a.m. - 6 p.m.):
Stadium Drive will be restricted to S4 permit holders, disabled patrons going to the Carolina Club and displaying a valid disability permit and students (or family of students) actively moving out of the residence halls along Stadium Drive. Carolina Club patrons pay $5 to park in the Ramshead Deck or the Boshamer Lot.

* Ramshead Deck (7 a.m. - 7 p.m.):
Will be set-up for event operations for Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Access will require $5 or a valid high school football Ramshead Deck permit until 4:30 p.m. and then $7 or a valid men's basketball game permit. Although this is a public parking location for high school football patrons until 4:30 p.m., students/staff may park if they wish to pay the required $fee. Staff/students that remain in the deck after event operations end at approximately 7 p.m., will be charged the regular rate of $1.25 per hour for every hour after 7 p.m. on December 9th. RD weekday permits will not be valid.

* Boshamer Lot (7 a.m. - 7 p.m.)
Reserved for public football parking - $5. Although this is a public parking location for high school football patrons, students/staff may park if they wish to pay the required $5 to park prior to 4:30 p.m. or $7 to park after 4:30 p.m. during men's basketball operations. S10 permits will not be valid.

* Craige Deck (7 a.m. - 5 p.m.):
Reserved for public football parking - $5. However, CD permits will be honored all day. Although this is a public parking location for high school football patrons until 4:30 p.m., students/staff may park, if they wish to pay the required $5 to park.

* Jackson Deck (8 a.m. - 7 p.m.):
Will be set-up for event operations for Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Access will require $5 or a valid high school football Ramshead Deck permit until 4:30 p.m. and then $7 or a valid men's basketball game permit. Although this is a public parking location for high school football patrons until 4:30 p.m., and $7 after 4:30 p.m. Students/staff may park, if they wish to pay the required $fee.

* Public Safety Lot:
Reserved for patrons with disabilities - $5.

* Undergraduate Library Lot:
Reserved for patrons with disabilities - $5.

* Kenan Field House/Ramshead Tunnel:
Reserved game day permits only.

* Ridge Road Spaces between Ramshead and Manning Drive:
Reserved for team, cheerleading and band bus unloading/loading only.
Proper permit required.

Please Note: Vehicles remaining after 4 p.m. in the Bowles Lot, Tennis Court Lot, Manning Lot, Business School Deck, Koury Lot, Williamson Drive Lot, or Dean E. Smith Lot and not displaying a valid men's basketball game permit are subject to citation and towing due to the men's basketball game at 7 p.m.

Thank You,

The UNC Department of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kyang@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, December 8, 2006 8:59 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Southeast Asian photo submissions

Calling for photo submissions!
Have you traveled to SE Asia? If so, submit your photographs for the chance to be displayed in a SE Asia Photo Exhibit! The photo exhibit will run along with a benefit dinner. This event will support a school in Mae Sot, Thailand which provides education for the children of Burmese migrant workers. Images should reflect the diversity of SE Asian culture and submissions will be evaluated based on aesthetic quality and creativity.

Resolution of entries must be a minimum of 1600x1200 pxls and photographers should include (1) their name and major/department(if applicable), (2) origin of photo (SE Asian country), (3) title of photo. Email up to 3 photographs to smallm@email.unc.edu by 5pm on Friday, January 12, 2007. This event is sponsored by the Southeast Asia Interest Association, a UNC student organization.

Contact Monica Shab (sbahmp@email.unc.edu) for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Southeast Asia Interest Association

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of tclarke@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, December 11, 2006 8:12 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina North Community Meeting, December 13

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

Many of you have expressed interest in Carolina North. I am writing to invite you to a review of the draft ecological assessment recently completed as part of the discovery phase of our planning process.

Chancellor Moeser has said that Carolina North will be a model of sustainability. As one of the first steps to that goal, Biohabitats, Inc. has produced an ecological assessment to inform our planning. We are eager to get your input to help us shape effective plans for sustainable development at Carolina North.

To accommodate different schedules, we will hold two sessions. The information reviewed at both will be the same so attend whichever is most convenient for you. Both sessions will be on Wednesday, December 13th in room 2603 of the School of Government:

3:00 - 5:00 PM. Parking available in either the Hwy 54 Visitor Lot or in the Rams Head deck.

6:00 - 8:00 PM. Parking available in the School of Government parking deck.

The School of Government is served by numerous bus routes, including the FCX, HU, V. S and the RU. The U and G are available for the early session only. Please check the Chapel Hill Transit site at www.townofchapelhill.org for details.

If you are a neighborhood or community contact, please forward this to your group as well as any others who may be interested. We hope for extensive participation from the community. My apologies in advance to those who may receive duplicate emails.

Although an RSVP is not required, it would help with meeting logistics if you would contact Tiffany Clarke at tclarke@email.unc.edu. If you have questions about the review session content, please contact Mary Jane Felgenhauer at mfelgenhauer@fac.unc.edu.

For Carolina North information, visit our web site at http://carolinanorth.unc.edu. To learn more about our current planning efforts and our consulting team, click on Technical Workshops.

As always, please feel free to contact me if you would like more information. We know there is great community interest in Carolina North and look forward to working with you at this early stage.

Sincerely,

Jack Evans

John P. Evans

Executive Director, Carolina North

Hettleman Professor of Business

304 South Building, CB 4000

Chapel Hill, NC 27599

919-843-2025

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of congli@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, December 11, 2006 10:57 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Requesting Volunteers over age 50 for Research Participation

---

Evaluation of Personal Health Records Websites

Health care and research organizations throughout the U.S. are developing "personal health records" systems to help people track their health status and medical information. To help designers make these systems more effective, we are studying the most effective modes of disseminating pertinent information in online venues.

We hope that you will participate in this study if you are interested in providing input for the future development of personal health records. We are interested in examining how older adults (over the age of 50 years) with fluency in English respond to online health information, as ultimately, this group would most benefit from our research. If you agree to participate in the study, you will be asked to go through a prototype health-related Website, and then fill out some questionnaires based on your browsing experience. Participation in this study will take approximately 30-45 minutes. In appreciation of your participation, you will receive $20.

For your convenience, all study sessions will be held in Carroll Hall on campus. If you are interested in participating in this study, please contact us so that we can schedule a convenient date and time for your study session.

Contact: Cong Li
School of Journalism & Mass Communication, UNC-CH
Email: congli@email.unc.edu or phone: 919-619-0302

Approved by the UNC Public Health Institutional Review Board on 9/15/2006. Study number 06-0066.

This email is sponsored by: Journalism and Mass Communication

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of efpatterson@bio.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, December 11, 2006 11:43 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC-Chapel Hill Employee Forum Computer Initiative with Dell new configurations

---

The UNC-Chapel Hill Employee Forum has worked with Dell Computer to update the UNC Employee Forum Computer Initiative.

Go to www.unc.edu/forum and click on UNC Employee Forum Computer Initiative link.

In addition to the UNC Employee Forum special configurations, Dell is offering a Wish List Special Holiday Promotion, and UNC Employees and Students will also receive an additional Holiday Bow-nus. These special holiday savings are in addition to the regular EPP Member discount of up to 12% off Dell Home generally advertised specials. But it's only valid November 30 10AM CT - December 21 11:59 PM CT. So hurry and get your coupon below!

Special Coupon Copy:
An additional 5% off Dell Dimension^{TM} and Inspiron^{TM} systems priced $999 or more with your coupon. (Before tax, fees, EPP discount, shipping and handling). These savings can be combined with your Member discount and other select Dell Home generally advertised specials.

To get your coupon visit www.dell.com/epp/wishlist

In addition Dell offers for EPP (Employee/Student Purchase Plan under certain conditions):
* No Interest for 12 Months
  For best-qualified customers.†#

* No Interest for 18 Months
  On new XPS system purchases for qualified customers.†#

No Interest Offers valid
11/22/06 - 12/27/06

Visit www.dell.com/epp/wishlist or call 1-866-328-1902 Member ID: US38708851

Ernie Patterson
Chair
UNC Employee Forum
Chapel Hill, NC

This email is sponsored by: UNC Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, December 12, 2006 12:44 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Campus Copyright Policy Guide

At the request of General Administration, I am forwarding for your information a link to the document, "Campus Copyright - Rights and Responsibilities - A Basic Guide to Policy Considerations". This an important and useful guide for everyone in the academic community.

http://www.arl.org/info/frn/copy/CampusCopyright05.pdf

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, December 12, 2006 9:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Portion of South Road Temporarily Closing

---

ATTENTION MOTORISTS: NOTICE OF SOUTH ROAD CLOSURE

South Road will be closed to through traffic between Bell Tower Drive and South Columbia Street beginning Monday, December 18 due to construction utility upgrades in that area. Preliminary work will begin as early as Thursday, December 14, but two-way traffic will be maintained in the area until that following Monday. During this period of construction, the affected area will be open to construction and emergency vehicles only. The road is expected to re-open to through traffic by Saturday, January 6, 2007. To see a map of the affected area, visit the following general information link:

http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/breakingnews/SouthRoadWeb/SouthRoad_12.06.htm

VEHICULAR AND PEDESTRIAN ACCESS:
Eastbound South Road will be inaccessible from McCauley and South Columbia Streets. Motorists and BG permit holders will need to access the Bell Tower Lot from the east. All other east-west vehicular traffic will be relegated to Cameron Avenue or Franklin Street to the north or Manning Drive to the south. East-west pedestrian access will be maintained along the sidewalk on the southern shoulder of South Road through the construction area.

TRANSIT
Chapel Hill Transit will detour its "FCX," "G,", "HU," "S," "V," "Night TG," and "Saturday FG" routes in order to serve stops surround the construction area. For detailed information on affected routes and detours, visit the link listed above. For information on all Chapel Hill Transit routes during the Holiday season, visit the following link:

http://www.townofchapelhill.org/transit

POINT-TO-POINT
Point-to-Point's Express route will not be affected by the closure. P2P does not run when residence hall are closed, and will continue to run its route through Sunday morning, December 17 at 3:00 a.m. only. P2P Express service will resume in January after the South Road re-opening.

For further information, call the UNC Department of Public Safety at (919) 962 - 3951.

Thank You,
The UNC Department of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lkjuhl@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, December 12, 2006 10:51 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are You Drinking Too Much?

IRB Approval Number: GCRC - 2321

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The UNC School of Medicine is seeking volunteers for a research study of an investigational medication for the treatment of problem drinking. The study will involve a free evaluation and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. Unlike Antabuse, this medication will not make you sick if you drink alcohol. If you're between the ages of 18 and 60 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical trial. Your traveling expenses will be compensated with $10 per study visit.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Linda at 919-966-5770 or email at lkjuhl@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: UNC-CH

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

<!-- Email Converted by LAW -->
<html xmlns="http://www.w3.org/1999/xhtml" lang="en">
<head>
  <title>At the Ackland</title>
  <style type="text/css">
    body { background-color:#9b795c; font-family:arial,helvetica neue,sans-serif;
                font-size:11px; margin:0px; padding:0px; }
                h2,h3,h4 { margin:0px; font-weight:normal; }
                h3 { margin-top:5px; font-weight:bold;}
                img { border:0px none; }
                td { vertical-align:top; }
                ul,ol,li { margin:0px; padding:0px; list-style-type:none; }
                #newsletter { width:685px; margin:0px auto; padding:0px; border-collapse:collapse; }
                #header { text-align:right; padding:0px; margin:0px; background-color:#000; }
                #header h1 { padding:0px; margin:0px; }
                #soon { background-color:#51260b; color:#fff; width:240px; padding:20px 10px 75px; margin:0px;}
                #soon div, #soon p { font-size:12px; }
                #soon .time { font-size:.8em; }
                #soon a { color:#fff; }
                #soon h2 { margin:0px; }
                #soon h3 { font-size:13px; }
                #soon h4 { font-size:12px; }
                #soon p { margin-top:0px; }
                #soon li { padding-bottom:4px; }
                #soon h3 a, #soon p a { text-decoration:none; border-bottom:1px solid #9b795c; }
                #soon h2 a, #soon #signature a { border:0px none; }
                #soon #signature { padding-bottom:15px }
                #soon .caption { font-size:10px; padding-top:2px; }
                #soon .caption img { float:left; padding-right:3px; margin-bottom:4px; }
                #main { background-color:#fff; width:425px; padding:0px; font-size:12px; }
                #main a { color:#6d2f1d; font-weight:bold; }
                #main h1 { margin:0px;}
                #main h3 { font-size:16px; }
                #main h4 { font-size:14px; }
                #main h3, #main h4, #main p, #main div, #main ul { padding:0px 10px; }
                #info { padding:0px 10px; background-color:#fff; padding-bottom:20px; }
                #info h3 { font-size:12px; }
  </style>
 </head>
<BODY>
<table border="0" width="95%">
 <tr><td width="100">From: </td><td>Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu></td></tr>

<tr><td width="100">Sent: </td><td>Wednesday, December 13, 2006 6:37 PM</td></tr>
<tr><td valign="top" width="100">To: </td><td>Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu></td></tr>
<tr><td valign="top" width="100">Subject: </td><td>[ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Lunch with One; Music in the Galleries; Yoga</td></tr>
</table> <hr color="#000000" size="2" noshade>
View on the web: http://www.ackland.org/enews/2006-12-13/

<!DOCTYPE html PUBLIC "-//W3C//DTD XHTML 1.0 Strict//EN" "DTD/xhtml1-strict.dtd">

<table id="newsletter">
<tr>
<td id="header" colspan="2"><h1></h1></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td id="main">

<h3>Lunch with One </h3>
Thursday, December 14, 2006
1 to 2 PM
One expert, one work of art, one hour. Bring a bag lunch and join UNC Art Department Professor Carol Magee for a discussion of a <cite>Mende sowei mask</cite> on view in the Window to the Humanities exhibition, <cite>Making Connections</cite>. Her talk will explore both the original context of this mask in Sierra Leone and the life it has in this exhibition.
Register online!

<h3>Music in the Galleries</h3>
Sunday, December 17
2 to 4 PM
Visit the Ackland this Sunday and experience art alongside the performance of a solo guitarist. This event marks the first of the Ackland's monthly Music in the Galleries series.

<h3>Yoga in the Galleries</h3>

Tuesday, December 19
12 NOON to 1 PM
Namasté! Take a break from your day and explore the world of yoga in the beautiful setting of the Ackland. This session will provide an opportunity to explore basic yoga poses or asanas. References to one or two pieces in the collection will be made during the practice.
Registration is limited so only those who reserve in advance are guaranteed a place. We will hold five spaces open for the first non-registered arrivals on the day of each session.

Yoga mats are available at the session. Please wear comfortable clothing that allows you to stretch. Beginners are welcome.
Register online!

</td>
<td id="soon" rowspan="2">
<h2></h2>

Coming Soon

<h3>An Artist's Perspective</h3>
<h4>Interactive Discussion and Gallery Talk for Teens</h4>
Wednesday, December 13
6:30 - 8 PM

<h3>Lunch with One</h3>
<h4>African Masquerades with Carol Magee Professor, Department of Art</h4>
Thursday, December 14
1 PM

<h3>Music in the Galleries</h3>
Sunday, December 17
2 - 4 PM

```
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Yoga in the Galleries</h3>
                                        Tuesday, December 1912 - 1 PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Yoga in the Galleries</h3>
                                        Monday, January 8, 200712:10 - 1
PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Art After Dark</h3>
                                        <h4>2nd Fridays at the Ackland</h4>
                                        Friday, January 12, 2007
                                         5 - 9 PM
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Open Drawing Session</h3>
                                        Saturday, January 13
                                         10 AM - 12 NOON
                                        </li>
                                        <li>
                                        <h3>Ackland Book Discussion
Series</h3>
                                        Wednesday, January 17, 2007
                                         7 - 8:30 PM
                                        </li>
                                    </ul>

                                For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org. These and other public programs are made possible
by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild,  members, and friends like you!
                                    <h3>Pass it on</h3>
                                    Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.
                                    <h3>Support the Museum</h3>
                                    Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission: call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.
```

<h3>Comments on Ackland e-news?</h3>
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.
<h3>Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!</h3>
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.
Illustrations from top to bottom:

<li class="caption">African, Sierra Leone, Mende People:<cite> Sande Helmet Mask</cite>, (detail); blackened wood and raffia. Gift of Mr. Morris Stirling.
<li class="caption">Jacopo Amigoni, Italian, Venice and active throughout Europe, 1682/85 - 1752, <cite>Venus Disarming Cupid</cite> (detail), 1730s or 1740s. oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.
<li class="caption"> Central Indian, 11th to 12th century: <cite>Ganesha</cite>; sandstone sculpture. Gift of Clara T. and Gilbert J. Yager in honor of Dr. Charles Morrow and his wife, Mary Morrow, for their many contributions to the University and to The Ackland Art Museum during his term as Provost.

</td>
</tr>
</table>

</BODY></HTML>

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, December 13, 2006 8:17 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Dean, College of Arts and Sciences Open Forums

---

To: UNC-Chapel Hill Community
From: Search Committee, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences
Re: Open Forums for Dean, College of Arts and Sciences Candidates

The College of Arts and Sciences Search Committee is pleased to announce that the following five candidates for the deanship have accepted our invitation to visit campus for public interviews.

We invite you to attend the upcoming open forums with the candidates. These forums are designed to give the campus community an opportunity to hear from candidates about their experience and their ideas for enhancing UNC Chapel Hill, and an opportunity for you to provide feedback.

Dr. Holden Thorp, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Thursday, January 11
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Wilson Library - Pleasants Family Room

Dr. Ramon Gutierrez, University of California, San Diego
Wednesday, January 17
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Wilson Library - Pleasants Family Room

Dr. David Zaret, Indiana University - Bloomington
Friday, January 19
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Freedom Forum - 305 Carroll Hall

Dr. Steven Matson, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Wednesday, January 24
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Wilson Library - Pleasants Family Room

Dr. Virginia Sapiro, University of Wisconsin - Madison
Friday, January 26
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Wilson Library - Pleasants Family Room

There will be a reception following the open forums for approximately one hour. Please join us in welcoming each candidate.

Dr. Holden Thorp, Kenan Professor and Chair, Department of Chemistry, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Dr. Thorp attended UNC and received his Bachelor of Science degree, with highest honors, in chemistry in 1986. He went on to receive his Ph.D in Chemistry from the California Institute of Technology in 1989. He came to UNC in 1993 as Assistant Professor of Chemistry.

Dr. Ramon Gutierrez, Professor of Ethnic Studies and History. University of California, San Diego
Dr. Gutierrez received B.A. in Latin American History and Fine Arts in 1973 from the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. He earned his Ph.D. in History in 1980 from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Dr. Gutierrez is Associate Professor of History and Ethnic Studies at the University of California, San Diego. He founded the University's Ethnic Studies Department in 1989 and is also founding Director of its Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity.

Dr. David Zaret, Interim Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Indiana University
Dr. Zaret is a Professor in the Indiana University Department of Sociology with an adjunct appointment in the Department of History. Zaret served as the Executive Associate Dean for the College of Arts and Sciences from 1999 to 2005. He earned his B.A. at Amherst College in Sociology graduating in 1973, Magna Cum Laude. Dr. Zaret received a D.Phil. degree from the University of Oxford in 1977 and joined the IU faculty the same year.

Dr. Steven Matson, Professor and Chair, Department of Biology, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Dr. Matson earned his B.A. Colgate University; Hamilton, NY in 1976 in Mathematics He received his Ph.D. from the University of Rochester, Rochester, NY in 1980. He joined the Department of Biology at University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1983 as an Assistant Professor and currently serves as the Department Chair.

Virginia Sapiro, Vice Provost for Teaching and Learning,
University of Wisconsin, Madison
Dr. Sapiro is the Sophonisba P. Breckinridge Professor of Political Science and Women's Studies. She recently completed a term as Interim Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Dr. Sapiro earned her B.A. with High Honors in Government from Clark University in Worcester, MA in 1972. She completed her Ph.D. in political science at the University of Michigan in 1976 and, that same year, joined the faculty of the University of Wisconsin - Madison as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science and the newly established Women's Studies Program.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, December 13, 2006 9:35 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CORRECTION: Nominations for $5,000 mentoring awards due Jan. 18, 2007

(NOTE: THIS MESSAGE IS A FOLLOW-UP TO A MESSAGE SENT DEC. 5, 2006. WITH THE ORIGINAL MESSAGE, RECIPIENTS MAY HAVE TROUBLE OPENING THE HOT LINK TO THE NOMINATION FORM. THIS VERSION CORRECTS THAT PROBLEM.)

Nominations for Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Awards due Jan. 18, 2007; each winner to receive $5,000

The Carolina Women's Leadership Council has generously provided funding for annual faculty mentoring awards at the University.

The Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Awards recognize outstanding men and women faculty members who go the extra mile to guide, mentor and lead students and/or junior faculty as they make important career decisions, embark on innovative research challenges and enrich their lives through public service, teaching and meaningful educational opportunities. These awards will honor faculty-to-student mentoring and faculty-to-faculty mentoring, with one award award given in each category. Each recipient will receive $5,000.

All tenured and tenure-track faculty are eligible for this award, as are fixed-term faculty who have taught at Carolina for at least three years. Visiting faculty are not eligible. Nominations may be submitted by anyone from the Carolina family, including current and former faculty, staff, and students. Nomination forms can be downloaded at http://www.unc.edu/provost/news/Nomination%20Form%202007.doc and must be received in writing by Jan. 18, 2007, at: Women's Leadership Council Mentoring Award, Office of the Provost, CB# 3000. Each nomination must include:

* Brief (one-paragraph) statement of rationale for nomination.
* Narrative description -- not to exceed two pages -- of the extent, type and character of the mentoring provided by the nominee.
* Curriculum vitae.

A selection committee appointed by the provost will review and recommend the award recipients. This committee will include representatives from the faculty, the student body, the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, and the Carolina Women's Leadership Council.

Selections will be made in February 2007, with awards presented to winners at the annual meeting of the Carolina Women's Leadership Council, which will be held Feb. 22-23, 2007.

Part of the Carolina First Campaign volunteer leadership structure, the 130-member Women's Leadership Council is a network of women from across the country who are committed to supporting the University and students' educational experiences. Along with providing financial support, members volunteer their time and share their expertise, as well as champion Carolina in their regions and serve on boards that further the University's mission. The council is co-chaired by Mary Anne Dickson '63, Barbara Hyde '83 and Julia Sprunt Grumbles '75.

For more information about the Women's Leadership Council Mentoring

Awards, contact Carol Tresolini, associate provost for academic initiatives, at 962-3907 or Carol_Tresolini@unc.edu

To learn more about the Women's Leadership Council, contact Lanier Brown May in the Office of University Development at 843-5883 or lanier_may@unc.edu or visit http://carolinafirst.unc.edu/women/

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, December 13, 2006 10:49 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Healthy research subject between ages of 18-40 years needed

---

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery. We are looking for healthy volunteers between ages of 18-40 years to participate as control subjects in a research study investigating patellar tendon recovery after surgical injury

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must not have prior history of knee surgery or sustained a lower extremity injury in the past 2 months that has prohibited normal physical activity for at least two weeks.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contraction tasks while an ultrasound image will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 45 minutes.

You would be paid $15 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call,
Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu

This study is approved by Biomedical IRB (#05-ORTHO-1005).

This email is sponsored by: orthopaedics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dsl@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, December 14, 2006 9:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Help Create Better Health Information- Benign Prostatic Hyperplasia

---

The Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center for Health Services Research, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is conducting focus groups and individual interviews to review a decision aid video on benign prostatic hyperplasia produced by the Foundation for Informed Medical Decision Making.

To participate in a focus group or interview you must:
-Have/Had benign prostatic hyperplasia (enlarged prostate)
-Not have prostate cancer
-Be able to speak and read English
-Be able to travel to the Decision Support Lab at Sheps Center (725 Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.-Historic Airport Road, Chapel Hill, NC)

If you are eligible for this research study you can participate in one of two audio-taped focus groups or an individual interview. Your participation would last approximately 2 to 2.5 hours, you would be able to select a group or interview date that best fits your schedule as long as openings are available. You would be compensated for your participation. If you are interested in participating in this study you can contact us at:
-Visit our website: http://decisionsupport.unc.edu/secure/bph.htm
-Email us: dsl@unc.edu or call us 919.966.4328 or 866.250.1877 toll free

Please feel free to share this email announcement with others that you feel would be interested in learning about this study.

Best regards,

Jennifer M. Griffith, DrPH, MPH
Director- Decision Support Lab

Approved Human Subjects Research, Biomedical IRB, study number 06-0914

This email is sponsored by: Decision Suppot Lab- Sheps Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, December 18, 2006 8:11 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Dean of the Summer School

MEMORANDUM

DATE: December 18, 2006

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill Community
Faculty, Staff, Students

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

RE: Dean of the Summer School.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the position of Dean of the Summer School. The Dean reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and is a senior level administrator. This is a half-time position open only to tenured faculty members of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The Dean is responsible for leading the Summer School and supervising its staff. Successful applicants will have (1) a collaborative management style; (2) an interest in meeting the needs of students and the goals of faculty across disciplines: (3) a strong aptitude for developing and analyzing financial information, enrollment records, and other reports; (4) an ability to develop both short term and long range goals. The Dean serves on the Dean's Council and has the opportunity to help shape the broader University agenda.

The Summer School offers a broad list of classes designed to meet the needs of both undergraduate and graduate students from UNC Chapel Hill and elsewhere. About 45 departments or curriculums in the College of Arts and Sciences and all the professional schools offer summer courses. Many graduate level laboratories, field courses, and research courses are offered. Over 1000 undergraduate class sections include hundreds of courses that meet General Education Perspective or other requirements.

Nominations may be addressed to Dr. Karen Gil, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB #3000, UNC-Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599 or debbie_stevenson@unc.edu. Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Karen Gil by calling (919) 962-3088, or by email to kgil@email.unc.edu.

To ensure full consideration, nominations and applications should be submitted by January 31, 2007. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date for the new dean is on or before July 1, 2007. The dean serves at the pleasure of the Chancellor with a five year review.

Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position, a curriculum vita, and a list of five references including their names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be directly solicited for permission before references are contacted.

All applications must be submitted electronically.

To apply, go to http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer and is strongly and actively committed to diversity.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, December 19, 2006 9:56 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: SECC Update: Last Week of Campaign

Dear Colleagues,

The State Employees Combined Campaign at Carolina has enjoyed a robust level of late-campaign activity, with almost $60,000 collected last week alone. We want to conclude our official campaign period for 2006 with another really impressive week. And to make things even more exciting, we are going to offer the following prize to one lucky SECC supporter: a $150 gift certificate to the Streets at Southpoint mall.

Anyone who has given to the campaign from its October beginning through this Thursday (Dec. 21) is eligible to win this wonderful prize.

Please know that it is not too late to make a contribution to our "Carolina Together" campaign. Alan Taylor of the North Carolina SECC will be at Wilson Library this Thursday (Dec. 21), from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Captains, division leaders and any other Carolina employees who would like to turn in donation forms are welcome to stop by Wilson Library during those times.

Thank you for your support of "Carolina Together." I wish you a joyous holiday.

John N. Williams
Carolina SECC Chair
Dean, UNC-Chapel Hill School of Dentistry

This email is sponsored by: School of Dentistry

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, December 19, 2006 10:47 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Bible Church Park & Ride Opens Jan. 7th

---

CHAPEL HILL BIBLE CHURCH PARK AND RIDE SERVICE
BEGINS MONDAY, JANUARY 8, 2007

The UNC Department of Public Safety is opening a new UNC Park and Ride Lot within the Chapel Hill Bible Church parking facility, with transit service to and from the lot and campus beginning Monday, January 8, 2007. The lot is located on Sage Road, off 15-501 behind the Lowe's Home Improvement complex.
The lot offers UNC faculty and staff who commute to and from UNC along the US 15-501 corridor 241 reserved spaces within the larger parking facility at the church. A special "CAP-BC" permit must be displayed by motorists wishing to park in this area. Those wishing to park at the new facility must specifically register to park with the UNC Commuter Alternatives Program THROUGH THEIR DEPARTMENTAL PARKING COORDINATOR.
Weekday bus service to and from the lot aboard a new Chapel Hill Transit express route will run on two buses at 20-minute intervals during morning and afternoon peak hours and every 40 minutes during all other service hours.
The express route will serve no stops between the Bible Church Lot and the UNC campus. It will serve stops at Fraternity Court, on Pittsboro Street (near the State Employees' Credit Union), on Mason Farm Road (at the Ambulatory Care Center), on Manning Drive at UNC Hospitals, on South Columbia (at the Health Sciences Library), on South Road at Fetzer Gym, and on Raleigh Street at Joyner Hall.
To see a map and schedule of this route, visit the following website:
http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/breakingnews/Bible%20Church%20P&R/BibleChurchP&R.htm

Commuters who register for this new lot will be relegated to the specific UNC CAP parking spaces designated by signage at the location. Parking in this area without the valid permit, parking outside of the designated CAP area, parking on weekends or outside of the posted park and ride operational hours and parking on weekends can result in a citation and / or towing at the vehicle owner's expense.

Thank You,
The UNC Department of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, December 27, 2006 2:20 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Cc: smut >> Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: course evaluations fall 06

Prof. Mutima would like to see his course evaluations from the fall.
Please place them in his box asap. dc

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, December 29, 2006 1:59 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Last Chance, Holiday Hours

Last chance to see Depth of Field

Exhibition ends Sunday, December 31st

As the year comes to a close, don't miss your last chance to see the Ackland's photography exhibition, Depth of Field: Expanding Perspectives in 20th Century and Contemporary Photography. This exhibition examines the work of eight American photographers who made important contributions to the art of photography in the middle years of the twentieth century — Berenice Abbott, Robert Adams, Harold Edgerton, Robert Frank, Danny Lyon, Aaron Siskind, Minor White, and Garry Winogrand — alongside a single image by another photographer working in the last twenty-five years. The more recent photographers include: Marco Breuer Carl Chiarenza, Richard Misrach, Julie Moos, Sebastião Salgado, Gary Schneider, and Krzysztof Wodiczko.

Holiday Hours

Saturday, December 30 from 10 AM - 5 PM
Sunday, December 31 from 1 - 5 PM
Monday, January 1 Museum Closed

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Coming Soon

Yoga in the Galleries
Monday, January 8
12:10 - 1 PM

Art After Dark
2nd Fridays at the Ackland
Friday, January 12
5 - 9 PM

Open Drawing Session
Saturday, January 13
10 AM - 12 NOON

Ackland Book Discussion Series
Wednesday, January 17
7 - 8:30 PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Illustration:

Berenice Abbott, American, 1898-1991
Waterfront, South Street, New York City, October 25, 1935, photograph. Commissioned by Federal Art Project, Works Progress Administration. Lent by U.S. General Services Administration, Public Buildings Service, Fine Arts Collection, WPA Collection, Transfer from UNC-Chapel Hill Department of Art

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of juliana@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 2, 2007 9:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: New Course Offering: Sustainable Development Through Microfinance

---

BUSI 515: Sustainable Development Through Microfinance

The Carolina Microfinance Initiative (CMI) is seeking applications for its three-credit hour Spring 2007 course, Sustainable Development through Microfinance, listed as BUSI 515. In this course, students will create, organize, and facilitate a sustainable microfinance organization here at UNC. The class will culminate in summer 2007 travel to Peru to translate classroom knowledge of microfinance into on-the-ground change. However, participants are not required to travel and enrollment does not guarantee travel. All applicants must be available for class from 6-9pm on Thursdays.

Please email juliana@email.unc.edu or witmer@email.unc.edu for more information and a course application.

Applications for the Spring 2007 semester must be submitted by 11:30 p.m. on Friday, January 5, 2007.

If you are interested in being involved in the Carolina Microfinance Initiative but do not have the time to dedicate to a three-hour course, please let us know at microfinance_initiative@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Kenan-Flagler School of Business

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of becky_coble@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 2, 2007 10:22 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC's Mindfulness Program for Stress/Pain Management

---

Mindfulness programs offer training in meditation, mind-body awareness exercises and other awareness techniques that will teach you how to slow down, set priorities and stay calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life in ways that will enhance your body's natural adaptive and healing ability.

The UNC Program on Integrative Medicine has upcoming opportunities to learn about mindfulness and how to apply it to daily life. For more information, please visit http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html and/or contact Becky Coble at email:
rcoble@med.unc.edu
or at (919) 966-8586

Registration is open through Thursday, January 18, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Dept of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mduclos@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 3, 2007 8:10 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Join our Type 2 Diabetes Study!

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study of an investigational form of Byetta (exenatide) medication for the treatment of diabetes. As a study participant you will be randomized to either to receive Byetta BID treatment, which is FDA approved or an investigational form of Byetta. The length of the study is approximately 1 year and visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center and the Carolina Center for Clinical Trials.

Study related benefits at no cost to you include, study medication, related lab testing, ECGs, physical exams, glucose monitoring and compensation for your time.

You may qualify if you are:

* 18 years of age or older
* Have type 2 diabetes
* Treated by diet modification and exercise alone, and/or
* Taking an oral anti-diabetic medication (for example, metformin, glipizide, glimepiride, Avandia, Actos, singly or in combination)

For more information please call:

Michelle Duclos at 919-484-0931 ext 272

This study and advertisment has been approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB. Study number 05-2411

This email is sponsored by: UNC Diabetes Care Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of erin_douglas@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 3, 2007 9:21 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Opportunity for Individuals aged 9-18!

HEALTHY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!!

Are you interested in participating in a research study to help investigators at UNC Chapel Hill understand more
about mental illness?

Investigators are looking for medically healthy males and females, who have no acute or chronic illness, between the ages of 9 - 18 to participate in a variety of research studies. Participants will receive monetary compensation for their time and effort.

In order to find out whether you or your child may be eligible for one or more of our studies, we would appreciate you taking 5 minutes to fill out the On-line Screening Questionnaire at the following website (you will need to cut and paste into your browser). People under 18 years of age will need permission from a parent or guardian prior to completing the questionnaire.

http://www.psychiatry.unc.edu/research/cr_healthyvolunteer.htm
(underscore between cr _ healthy volunteer)

Funded by the National Institute of Health
IRB:06-PSYCH-631

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dustinvs@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 3, 2007 9:59 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Employee Basketball League

Campus Recreation is now taking entries for employee basketball. If you are interested in participating on an employee basketball league, please contact Dustin Van Sloten, dustinvs@email.unc.edu before the entry deadline.

EMPLOYEE BASKETBALL
Registration: 1/8-1/16
Play day(s): Monday-Thursday (evenings)
Location: Woollen Gym

For additional recreational opportunities, please go to campusrec.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 3, 2007 10:40 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have fibromyalgia or TMJD?

The Center for Neurosensory Disorders is currently recruiting for several studies for women with Fibromyalgia or Temporomandibular Muscle and Jaw Disorder (TMJD), TMJ, or TMJD as well as healthy women.

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our studies and would like to participate in a screening session (Biomedical IRB #04-1811).

You should not participate if you have had facial trauma or orofacial surgery within the past six months, you are pregnant or nursing or are planning to become pregnant in the next 6 months, or if you are currently in orthodontic treatment.

You should not participate if you have any of the following conditions: diabetes, seizures, heart trouble or disease, drug or alcohol abuse, hyperthyroidism, hypertension, major psychiatric disorder, pulmonary disease, major clinical depression, renal failure or dialysis, or if you are currently receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

$15 compensation will be provided for participating in a one visit screening session lasting one hour.

For more information, please call the study coordinator at 966-9760.

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders, Dental Research Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, January 4, 2007 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Did / will you have ACL Reconstruction

---

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery.

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery in the near future, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions tasks while an ultrasound images will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1.5 hours.

You would be paid $30 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call,
Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu

This study is approved by IRB (#05-ORTHO-1005)

This email is sponsored by: Orthopaedics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, January 5, 2007 10:36 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Dean of the Summer School - Revised

MEMORANDUM

DATE: January 5, 2007

TO: Members of the UNC Chapel Hill
Faculty, Staff, Students

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

RE: Dean of the Summer School.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and applications for the position of Dean of the Summer School. The Dean reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and is a senior level administrator. This is a half-time position open only to tenured faculty members of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The Dean is responsible for leading the Summer School and supervising its staff. Successful applicants will have (1) a collaborative management style; (2) an interest in meeting the needs of students and the goals of faculty across disciplines: (3) a strong aptitude for developing and analyzing financial information, enrollment records, and other reports; (4) an ability to develop both short term and long range goals. The Dean serves on the Dean's Council and has the opportunity to help shape the broader University agenda.

The Summer School offers a broad list of classes designed to meet the needs of both undergraduate and graduate students from UNC Chapel Hill and elsewhere. About 45 departments or curriculums in the College of Arts and Sciences and all the professional schools offer summer courses. Many graduate level laboratories, field courses, and research courses are offered. Over 1000 undergraduate class sections include hundreds of courses that meet General Education Perspective or other requirements.

Nominations may be addressed to Dr. Karen Gil, c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB #3000, UNC-Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599 or debbie_stevenson@unc.edu. Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Karen Gil by calling (919) 962-3088, or by email to kgil@email.unc.edu.

To ensure full consideration, nominations and applications should be submitted by February 15, 2007. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date for the new dean is on or before January 2008. The dean serves at the pleasure of the Chancellor with a five year review.

Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position, a curriculum vita, and a list of five references including their names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be directly solicited for permission before references are contacted.

All applications must be submitted electronically.

To apply, go to http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer and is strongly and actively committed to diversity

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marrt@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 8, 2007 8:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Smoker's Research Study

The Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology is recruiting current smokers who are otherwise healthy for Biomedical IRB study number 05-2970 (formerly GCRC 2475): Range of Neutrophil Response to 10,000 EU of Clinical Center Reference Endotoxin in Otherwise Healthy Smokers. You must be between the ages of 18 and 40, currently smoke at least a half a pack of cigarettes a day, and not have other health problems. You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby or planning to become pregnant in the near future. Compensation will be provided your time in this study.

For a complete copy of the consent form and more information refer to the CEMALB website at http://www.med.unc.edu/envlung/research1

If interested or for further information please contact:

Martha
Research Coordinator
Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology
(919) 962-4247
Email: marrt@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by:
The Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

This email is sponsored by: CEMALB

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 8, 2007 10:50 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Psychological Treatment Offered by UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

---

Psychological Treatment Offered by the UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic!

The UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic offers psychological treatment to children, adolescents, adults and couples in the community. The Clinic, which is affiliated with the UNC-CH clinical psychology Ph.D. program, provides a sliding fee scale based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed clinical psychologists.
Adults and couples are seen in our on-campus location that is conveniently located in Davie Hall; we have limited openings for adults with substance abuse concerns. Children and adolescents are seen in our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road with afternoon and evening appointments and adjacent parking. Please visit our website at psychologyclinic.unc.edu or contact the clinic at 962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu for more information.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kilic@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, January 8, 2007 11:56 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Latino and African American females needed for Bupropion study

---

Healthy volunteers are needed for a UNC research study using a FDA-approved drug. The study consists of three 20 minute outpatient visits over 24-36 hours to the UNC general clinical research center (GCRC). You will donate blood during these visits. Volunteers will earn $100 for completing the study.

In order to participate you must:
* Be a non-pregnant African American or Latino female.
* Be 18-50 years of age
* NOT have a history or diagnosis of any significant medical condition.
* NOT have taken any prescription drug within 30 days of the study, or over-the-counter medications or herbal products (excluding vitamin supplements) within two weeks of the study.
* NOT have a history of alcohol abuse or use of illicit drugs.
* NOT have a history of tobacco use within the last year.

How to participate:
* Contact Katarina or Larry at (919)-962-5005 or e-mail pkstudy@gmail.com
* If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend approximately 15 minutes to answer a few questions over the phone.
* If you meet the pre-screening criteria we will schedule a one hour screening visit at the GCRC.

IRB Approval Number: 05-2932
Approved by UNC IRB on Nov 14 2006

This email is sponsored by: Div. Pharmacotherapy and Exp. Therapeutics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, January 9, 2007 8:14 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

?Estas intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ?conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigacisn sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar mas sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envma un correo electrsnico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, nzmero de telifono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu direccisn de correo electrsnico con personas ajenas a esta investigacisn. Para obtener mayor informacisn, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefsnica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estin intentando quedar embarazadas

!Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener mas conocimientos simplemente compartiendo informacisn sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiologma de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departamento de Obstetricia y Ginecologma de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisisn Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of carolyn_atkins@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 9, 2007 9:04 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Twenty-Eighth Annual C. Knox Massey Distinguished Service Awards

---

MEMORANDUM

TO: All University Employees

FROM: Carolyn Atkins, Director of Stewardship

SUBJECT: Twenty-Eighth Annual C. Knox Massey Distinguished Service Awards

DATE: January 10, 2007

On behalf of Chancellor James Moeser and the members of the Awards Committee, I encourage you to nominate a colleague for this year's C. Knox Massey Distinguished Service Award. The criterion is "unusual, meritorious or superior contribution made by an employee, past or present, to The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill." Under the terms of the gift, the Massey Distinguished Service Award may be conferred by the Chancellor upon any living full-time or part-time employee, whether faculty or staff and whether or not subject to the Personnel Act, except members of the Awards Committee while they are members. Chancellor James Moeser will present each of the six recipients with an award of $6,000 during the annual spring luncheon.

The Awards Committee has retained nominations made in 2005 and 2006 and will again consider them, together with additional nominations received this year. Persons first nominated before 2005 will be considered again only if new nominations are submitted this year. New nominations, or supplemental information relating to persons nominated in 2005 or 2006, must be submitted in writing. Nominations may be submitted by completing an online nomination form at www.unc.edu/masseyawards/nominate. Each nomination or supplemental information should contain:

a. The name of the proposed recipient.
b. Whether a present or past University employee (if past, an indication of the dates when the nominee was employed).
c. A brief description of the service rendered and why it is thought to be a contribution sufficiently "unusual, meritorious or superior" to deserve an award. (It is expected that the service to be recognized would not be of a sort that is already the subject of existing awards, such as, for example, the various teaching awards or the Thomas Jefferson Award).
d. Nominations made by letter require the signature of the nominator or seconder. Nominations made online require a valid Onyen ID and password. Because of the signature and password requirements, nominations and seconds will not be accepted by FAX or e-mail.

Letters of nomination should be addressed to Carolyn Atkins, Chair, C. Knox Massey Distinguished Service Awards Committee, CB # 6100, 208 West Franklin Street. Online nomination forms and letters of nomination must be received before the close of business, 5 p.m., Friday, February 9, 2007.

Information about the Massey Awards and the nomination process is available at www.unc.edu/masseyawards. Winners will be announced in April.

C. Knox Massey Distinguished Service Awards Committee
Richard A. Baddour
Margaret A. Jablonski
Matthew G. Kupec
Richard Mann
Joseph L. Templeton
Carolyn A. Atkins, Chair

This email is sponsored by: Office of University Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbickford@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, January 9, 2007 9:32 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: University Awards for the Advancement of Women

---

Call for Nominations
2007 University Awards for the Advancement of Women

On behalf of the Offices of the Chancellor and the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, the Carolina Women's Center is pleased to announce the call for nominations for the 2007 University Awards for the Advancement of Women. This award recognizes contributions to the advancement of women at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Each year, three individuals--one faculty member, one staff person, and one undergraduate/graduate student/postdoctoral scholar--may be selected to receive the award. The faculty and staff recipients each receive $5000 and the undergraduate/graduate student/ postdoctoral scholar recipient receives $2500. Awardees are honored in an award celebration during the Carolina Women's Center's annual Women's Week Celebration.

Please submit nominations for women and men who have contributed in one or more of the following ways:

* Mentored and supported women students, staff, faculty, and/or administrators;
* Elevated the status of women on campus;
* Helped to improve campus policies affecting women;
* Promoted and advanced the recruitment, retention, and upward mobility of women;
* Participated in and assisted in the establishment of professional development opportunities for women; or
* Participated in and assisted in the establishment of academic mentoring for women.

To submit a nomination, please use the online form at:
http://ir.unc.edu/women/women_nomination.html

All faculty and staff nominees must be permanent employees.

The deadline for nominations is February 26, 2007 at 5:00 p.m.

Please contact Donna M. Bickford, Director of the Carolina Women's Center at dbickford@unc.edu or (919) 962-8305 if you have questions about the awards or nomination process.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Susan_Andrews@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 10, 2007 12:30 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 2007 Summer Programs for Youth

In order for the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost to respond to an annual request from 12th District Congressman Melvin Watt, I write to ask that you submit information regarding any program for youth (Kid's Camp through grade 12) that is being sponsored by your unit/department for Summer 2007. Please send this information to Susan Andrews, CB 3000 or email to Susan_Andrews@unc.edu no later than Monday, February 26. Please include the name of the program, targeted age group, any eligibility requirements, dates the program will be offered, a brief program description, and the name, address, phone number and email for the primary contact person. This information should also be available on your department's website. If you have questions, please feel free to contact me directly at 962-2198. Thank you.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sdmoody@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 10, 2007 1:43 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC's Biggest Loser Challenge: lose weight the healthy way

---

Interested in modifying your lifestyle and adopting healthy new patterns? If you need to lose weight, and want to learn how to do it the healthy way, while meeting new people and having fun, UNC's BIGGEST LOSER CHALLENGE is for you....

The UNC Biggest Loser Challenge is a 12-week healthy lifestyle/weight loss/physical activity challenge sponsored by Campus Recreation and Counseling & Wellness Services. Participants will be divided into teams and will attend workshops and weekly fitness challenges. Participants will also have weekly weigh-ins and group sessions with the Campus Health nutrition consultant to support a healthy weight loss and lifestyle modification.

APPLICATIONS can be found at: http://www.campusrec.unc.edu/events.html

Applications are due by January 19th, so check it out today.

The UNC Biggest Loser Challenge is open to all students, faculty, and staff at Carolina.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Fitness

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lkjuhl@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 10, 2007 2:53 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you drinking too much?

IRB Approval #GCRC 2321

Are you drinking too much?

* Have you tried to cut down your alcohol use but can't?
* Have you increased the amount of alcohol you drink?
* Is your alcohol use creating problems in your life?

The UNC School of Medicine is seeking volunteers for a research study of an investigational medication for the treatment of problem drinking. The study will involve a free evaluation and, if you qualify, free counseling sessions. Unlike Antabuse, this medication will not make you sick if you drink alcohol. If you're between the ages of 18 and 60 and are having problems with alcohol, you may be able to participate in this new clinical trial. Your traveling expenses will be compensated with $10 per study visit.

You are assured of strict confidentiality.

If interested, please call Linda at 919-966-5770 or email at lkjuhl@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 10, 2007 3:33 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Newsletter InTouch Now On-Line

---

The January edition of the Employee Forum newsletter, InTouch, is now on-line at
http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch8-1.htm

Articles in this edition include:

Chair's Address to Board of Trustees, November 15, 2006
UNC Eyes Using Time Clocks for Staff Employees
"Fear of Frying?" Survey Results
Commmittee to Study Workplace Wellness Needs, Opportunities
Call for Nominations: 2007 University Awards for the Advancement of Women

On-line publication of InTouch saves approximately
6,000 sheets of paper a month.

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 10, 2007 4:17 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: URGENT: Assault on campus

SAFETY ALERT - ASSAULT REPORTED NEAR FOREST THEATER; SAFETY TIPS SUGGESTED

University Police are warning the campus community to stay alert and take extra safety precautions following a reported assault near UNC's Forest Theater around 3 p.m. today, Tuesday, Jan 9.

The suspect is described as a white male, in his early- to mid-20s, at least 6 feet tall, with a pale complexion and short, dark hair. He was reportedly unarmed and last seen wearing a white shirt, white pants and tan Timberland boots. He was wearing gold-rimmed sunglasses.

The victim was walking from Forest Theater toward Country Club Road when she was grabbed from behind. The suspect attempted to choke her. The victim screamed and was released without serious injury. The suspect was last seen on foot in the Forest Theater area.

Public safety officials urged the community to follow the following safety tips.

* Don't walk alone at night. Use the buddy system. Walk in well-lit areas of campus.

* Immediately report any and all suspicious activity to law enforcement by calling 9-1-1. Remember that 9-1-1 is not only for emergencies. If you do not have a cell phone, use the call boxes located across campus.

* Use UNC's Point-to-Point express service, free to students, operating between 7 p.m. and 3 a.m. nightly.

* After 3 a.m. use UNC's free Point-to-Point demand service by calling 962-7867 (962-P-TO-P) and providing your UNC personal identification number. The service is available at night to UNC students, faculty and staff at locations not served by the P2P Express Route or after normal P2P Express service hours.

* Use Chapel Hill Transit, free to all passengers. Web site: www.chtransit.org

* Use the free Safe Ride Program, serving parts of campus, Chapel Hill, and Carrboro from 11:15 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. Web site: www.unc.edu/saferide.

For more information, click to www.dps.unc.edu

University police ask anyone with information in connection with the case to call the department at 962-8100 or Chapel Hill-Carrboro-UNC Crimestoppers at 942-7515. All conversations are confidential; no one must identify themselves or appear in court.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Warning Committee

From: Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Wednesday, January 10, 2007 3:25 PM

To: Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <banders1@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Debby Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Kevin Brennan <kevinbrennan@unc.edu>; Margaret C. Lee <LeeMC@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Roberta Ann Dunbar <radunbar@email.unc.edu>

Subject: Final Versions of Afri Concentration Revisions and Syllabus for AFRI 600 The Africa Colloquium

Attach: Revised African Concentration 20070109.doc; AFRI 600 African Studies Colloquium 20060110.doc

---

Dear Colleagues,
You will find attached the final versions of the AFRI Concentration Revisions and a Syllabus for AFRI 600 (formerly 590) The Africa Colloquium. They will be submitted for consideration by the College of Arts and Sciences review board. Many, many thanks to each of you who has contributed so much to the conceptualization of the revisions and to the development of the AFRI 600 syllabus. Salut!

Best,
Ann

--
Roberta Ann Dunbar
Department of African and Afro-American Studies
CB#3395, 109 Battle Hall
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3395
Tel. 919.966.2942
FAX 919.962.2694

Revised African Concentration for Department of African and Afro-American Studies

January 5, 2007

Rationale: The purpose of the African studies concentration within the Department of African and Afro-American Studies is to develop an analytical approach to contemporary Africa. Courses stress the importance of pre-colonial values and institutions to the definition of modern African society, and stress the historic range of commercial and political relationships with Europe and the New World.

In the more than fifteen years since the African concentration was revised, additional faculty have enabled the strengthening of the social science disciplines and area-focused research within the continent. Best practices have evolved to encourage students to study abroad at some point during their college career, and often gain on-the-ground experience through internships in agencies that now provide many of the services previously offered by governments here and abroad. For many years, individual faculty members have further facilitated undergraduate research experiences through collaboration with the Office of Undergraduate Research, the Burch Program as well as in our Honors thesis seminars. The study of African language is now more feasible than ever; recent and planned for expansion of language instruction will facilitate cross-school collaboration, especially with the School of Public Health. The design of the new curriculum encourages a focus on and deepening of perspective through the African Studies courses as well as insuring the awareness of connectedness with the African American experience. The African Studies Colloquium being proposed as a new course for advanced undergraduate students (see syllabus attached) will culminate majors' study by honing their critical thinking skills about the most recent scholarship on the continent.

Core Courses: The major requires the completion of ten courses (thirty hours) including the core courses and five courses from the list of African Studies courses. Students should also choose an African Language for their modern foreign language (see below) or in addition take three semesters of an African Language.

AFRI 101—Introduction to African Civilization

At least one Regional Seminar: AFRI 520 (Southern Africa), AFRI 521 (East Africa), AFRI 522 (West Africa), AFRI 524 (North-East Africa)

AFAM 101—Black Experience

AFRI/AFAM 474—Key Issues in African Afro-American Linkages

AFRI 600 African Studies Colloquium

Five courses from the current list of African Studies courses as found in the catalog.

Three semesters of one African Language (either as the Modern Foreign Language or in addition to the Modern Foreign Language)

ARAB 101—Elementary Arabic I ARAB 102—Elementary Arabic II ARAB 203—Intermediate Arabic ARAB 204—Intermediate Arabic ARAB 305—Advanced Arabic	SWAH 112—Kiswahili 1-2 SWAH 234—Kiswahili3-4 SWAH 401—Kiswahili 1 SWAH 402—Kiswahili 2 SWAH 403—Kiswahili 3 SWAH 404—Kiswahili 4
LGLA 101—Lingala 1 LGLA 102—Lingala II LGLA 203—Lingala III	WOLO 101—Wolof I WOLO 102—Wolof II WOLO 103—Wolof III
[2007-2008] CHWA 401—Chichewa I CHWA 402—Chichewa II CHWA 403—Chichewa III

AFRI 600. Title: African Studies Colloquium.

Short Course Description. This course will equip students to critically analyze the cutting edge issues concerning Africa today through readings, lectures and research. For majors in their junior or senior year and other students with area interest in Africa. Prerequisite: two courses on Africa. Fall.

Justification: The African Studies Colloquium is a new course designed to serve as a culminating course for African Studies majors, and for other undergraduate and graduate students with course and/or experiential background in Africa. Key issues of recent research in eight prominent areas in the field of African Studies will be explored by African Studies faculty, students, and guest speakers. The seminar will meet once a week. Students will write six, three to five page papers that critically engage the readings that are the focus of the seminar. The course will be coordinated and students supervised by one African Studies faculty member each fall. However, the design of the course intends the participation of all resident African specialists in the Department during the course of the semester. The designers intend to promote throughout each thematic area two over-arching modes of analysis: attention to the different ways men and women experience the issue under consideration, and the contrast between approaches that are macro- and micro- level in their orientation.

Evaluation and percent of grade

Course Participation (weekly and as discussion leader)

Five papers, 3-5 pages in length that focus on analysis of the readings (see Guidelines for Analytical Papers. These will be due Week 3, 5, 7, 9, 12 20% each Week 1. Africa and the Future?

What is Africa? In the age of neo-liberalism and globalization, what is the position of the continent, and how do Africans themselves understand and imagine their futures and the future of the continent? In this section, we will explore the possibility of the continent in the context of the ways Africans have been articulating (through thought, word, and action) with current global realities. How are the youth of Africa (Africa's future) understanding and acting on the social, political, and economic conditions in which they are situated? What African futures are they imagining?

Assigned Readings:

Ferguson, James. Global Shadows: Africa in the Neoliberal World Order. Duke University Press, 2006.

"Globalizing Africa: Observations from an Inconvenient Continent"

"Chrysalis: The Life and Death of the African Renaissance in a Zambian Internet Magazine"

"Of Mimicry and Membership: Africans and 'New World Society'"

Diouf, Mamadou. "Engaging Postcolonial Cultures: African Youth and Public Space." African Studies Review 46(2):1-12. (2003)

Ferguson, James. Global Shadows. Africa in the Neo-liberal World Order (2006).

Rodney, Walter. How Europe Underdeveloped Africa. Revised edition. Washington: Howard University Press, 1981 [1972].

Weeks 2 and 3. Africa and the Global Economy.

Description

This section of the course is designed to provide students with an understanding of Africa's status within the global economy. The major question raised is whether the strategies being pursued by African leaders and various international actors will enhance Africa's integration within the global economy. During the first week (1) Africa's economic history will be placed in perspective; (2) students will study Africa and the World Trade Organization; and (3) an overview of the various regional economic integration organizations in Africa will be analyzed. The latter will provide the background for the first part of the second week, which is designed to critically assess whether the current negotiations for a new trade regime between the European Union and African regions (the Cotonou Agreement) will serve as a conduit for or a hindrance to enhanced regional economic integration in Africa. A similar assessment will be made regarding the US trade regime with Africa – The African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA). The final part of this section will examine the implications for the continent of the 21st century scramble for access to Africa's markets and natural resources by the US, EU, and China.

Assigned Readings:

Week 2

Virginia De Lancey, "The Economies of Africa," in April A. Gordon & Donald L. Gordon (eds.), Understanding Contemporary Africa, 4th Edition (Boulder and London: Lynne Rienner, 2007), pp. 109-154.

Rashid C. Kaubab, Benchmarking development for Hong Kong and beyond: strengthening Africa in World Trade. Harare, Zimbabwe: SEATINI, December 2005.

Mahamat Abdoulahi, Progress Report on Regional Integration Efforts in Africa towards the Promotion of Intra-African Trade, ATPC Work in Progress, No. 30, Economic Commission for Africa, December 2005.

Week 3

Christopher Stevens, "The EU, Africa and Economic Partnership Agreements: unintended consequences of policy leverage," Journal of Modern African Studies, Vol. 44, No. 3, September 2006, pp. 441-458.

Margaret C. Lee, "The US and EU – Undermining regional economic integration in Africa," News from the Nordic Africa Institute, No. 3, October 2004, pp. 5-8.

Margaret C. Lee, "The 21st Century Scramble for Africa," Journal of Contemporary African Studies, Vol. 24, No. 3, September 2006, pp. 303- 330.

Margaret C. Lee, "Uganda and China: Unleashing the Power of the Dragon," in Margaret C. Lee, Henning Melber, and Ian Taylor, China and Africa, Nordic Africa Institute Discussion Paper, Uppsala, Sweden: Nordic Africa Institute (forthcoming 2007).

Weeks 4 and 5. Democratization

This section of the course is designed to provide students with an understanding of the debate on the current status of the democratization effort in Africa. The major questions to be addressed include the initial impulse of democratization in Africa in the early years of independence, the emergence of authoritarianism in the first three decades of independence, and the significant changes in the political sphere in the 1990s and beyond. The first part of the section will devote itself to the basic understanding of politics in Africa in general with a broad examination of theoretical approaches to the study of politics on the continent. The second part of the section will put emphasis on recent attempts to measure the "quality" of democratic change on the continent, and how democratization in Africa is connected to political changes in other parts of the world. The section concludes with an examination of the meaning of elections in contemporary Africa.

Assigned Readings:

Week 4. Theoretical Approaches to Study of African Politics

Goran Hyden, African Politics in Comparative Perspective (New York: Cambridge University Press, 2006)

Week 5. Measuring Democratic Change

E. Gyimah-Boadi (ed) Democratic Reform in Africa: the Quality of Progress (Boulder:Lynne Reinner, 2004)

Staffan I Lindberg, Democracy and Elections in Africa (Baltimore: The Johns Hopkins University Press, 2006)

Weeks 6 and 7. Security and Conflict

There are approximately 30 million internally displaced people (IDPs) around the world and the number keeps rising. Recent studies indicate that the African continent has more IDPs than any other region. Sierra Leone alone accounts for an estimated 1 million IDPs. The dramatic rise in IDPs has occurred in the last two decades making this an urgent social justice and human rights issue. The same period has seen a dramatic increase in refugees who are official recognized by the United nations High Commissioner for Refugees. In contrast with refugees, internally displaced persons do not have an institutional framework that addresses their myriad needs.

This section of the course will be devoted to examining issues pertaining to sources of conflict, displacement, and the complex roots and consequences of war economies in Africa. The section will also engage with debates concerning the redefinition of the concept of security in efforts to expand it beyond its tradition state-centric lens. Currently, the concept embodies a range of themes that will be of central concern to our class: war, genocide, responsibility to protect, and displacement. During the first week we will examine the political economy of war in Angola in efforts to provide a historically grounded understanding of the core themes of this section. We will also critically examine the link between development and forced migration and displacement. In week two we will examine debates concerning displacement in various parts of Africa and the concept of security.

Assigned Readings:

Week 6: War economies, development and displacement

Muggah, R. "A Tale of Two Solitudes: Comparing Conflict and Development Induced Internal Displacement and Involuntary Settlement" in International Migration Vol. 41(5) 2003.

Hodges, T., Angola: the Anatomy of an Oil State, (Oxford: James Currey, 2001), Chapters 2 and 7.

Week 7: Politics of displacement and rethinking security

McGoldrick. C., "Sierra Leone: resettlement doesn't always end displacement", in Forced Migration Review, #17. May 2003

Lomo, Z., "The Struggle for Protection of the Rights of Refugees and IDPs in Africa: Making the Existing International Legal Regime Work", in Berkeley Journal of International Law, 18(268) 2000.

Tickner, J. Ann, "Re-visioning Security", in Ken Booth and Steve Smith (eds), International Relations Theory Today (Oxford; Oxford Press, 1995)

Thakur, R., "The UN and Human Security", Canadian Foreign Policy, 7 (1999).

Weeks 8 and 9. Gender

While the consideration of gender will be on-going, these two weeks will focus on two issues occupying current thinking on the continent and beyond about women and more broadly about gender. The first week will examine recent writings of African feminists about useful categories of analysis, ongoing debates about the role of non-African scholars in the production of knowledge, and some of the implications of these core ideas for gender relationships on the ground. In the second week, students will examine recent case studies concerning women and electoral politics. How critical is women's representation to the shaping of policies that enhance greater equity among men and women's access to resources; what mechanisms favor stronger female representation in the continents' parliaments? What impact does increased parliamentary representation have for grassroots and other civil society organizations in African countries.

Week 8. African Feminist Thought

Readings:

Oyewumi, Oyeronke, ecitor. *African Gender Studies. A Reader.*New York: Palgrave/Macmillan, 2005.

Chapter 1. Oyewumi, Oyeronke. Visualizing the Body: Western Theories and African Subjects, 3-22;

Chapter 3: Nnaemeka, Obioma. Bringing African Women into the Classroom: Rethinking Pedagogy and Epistemology, 51-66;

Chapter 4: Lazreg, Marnia. Decolonizing Feminism, 67-80

Chapter 21: Lewis, Desiree. AfricanGender Research and Postcoloniality: Legacies and Challenges, 381-395.

Week 9. Women and Electoral Politics

Readings:

Hassim, Shireen. Introduction, Chapters 1 Contesting Ideologies and 8 Autonomy, Engagement and Democratic Consolidation in Women's Organizations and Democracy in South Africa. Contesting Authority. Madison: University of Wisconsin Press, 2006, 3-46; 246-265.

Bauer, Gretchen and Hannah E. Britton, editors. Women in African Parliaments Boulder and London: Lynn Rienner, 200.

Chapter 1, Bauer and Britton. Women in African Parliaments: A Continental Shift?, 1-30;

Chapter 8, Hassim, Shireen. The Virtuous Circle of Representation: Women in African Parliaments, 171-185.

Week 10. Environment

This section of the course is designed to provide students with an understanding of the consequences on the environment as a result of human activity. Thus the section will consider the issue of the environment in Africa in relation to economic development, humanity's struggle with the physical environment itself, and how the environment has been affected by this interaction. Further, the section will examine the fundamental issue of how to reconcile human needs and activity, with sound protection of the environment to allow for future sustainability and development.

Assigned Readings:

Julius E Nyang'oro, "Africa's Environmental Problems," In April A Gordon & Donald L Gordon (eds) Understanding Contemporary Africa, 4th Edition (Boulder: Lyenne Reinner, 2007), pp 235-264

Special Issue of Review of African Political Economy "Mainstreaming the African Environment in Development?" No. 109, 2006

Week 11 Health

Maternal morbidity, HIV/AIDS, TB, and Malaria are among the most compelling health issues in contemporary Africa. In Infections and Inequalities, Dr. Paul Farmer argues that one cannot understand the (re)emerging diseases around the world, like those just mentioned, without focusing on the social inequalities that often determine the "careers" of these diseases, in individuals and in populations. Therefore, when we explore a topic such as "Health in Africa," we find ourselves working closely with issues of gender, economics, political systems, and other previous course topics. This week we will consider contemporary African political economy and culture in the context of the HIV/AIDS pandemic. Sub-Saharan Africa has one of the world's highest rates of HIV infection. Three-quarters of all of the AIDS deaths, world-wide, have been African. While the containment of HIV infection is often discussed in terms of educational programs geared toward changing individual behaviors, this limited focus often prevents discussions of why HIV/AIDS has had this deadly and dramatic career in sub-Saharan Africa. Most of this week's readings discuss direct connections between neoliberal economic restructuring policies, HIV/AIDS in Africa, and broader health issues associated with poverty and environmental degradation.

Assigned Readings:

Comaroff, Jean (1992) "The diseased heart of Africa: Medicine, colonialism, and the black body," in Body Politics—Past and Present, 305-329.

Craddock, S. (2004) "Beyond epidemiology: Locating AIDS in Africa." In Kalipeni, E, Craddock, S., Oppong, J.R., & Gosh, J. (eds) HIV and AIDS in Africa: Beyond epidemiology, 1-10.

Dunavan, Claire P. (2005) Tackling Malaria, Scientific American, 293 (6) 76-82.

Marks, Shula (2006) The Silent Scourge? Silicosis, Respiratory Disease and Gold-Mining in South Africa, Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies 32 (4) 569-589.

Grossmann-Kendall, Fran, Filippi, Veronique, De Koninck, Maria, & Kanhonou, Lydie (2001) Giving Birth in Maternity Hospitals in Benin: Testimonies of Women, Reproductive Health Matters, 9 (18) 90-98.

Week 12 Art, Culture, and Philosophy

This section of the course will explore the connections between African philosophy, art, and culture. The readings and class discussions will explore the following themes: the intellectual and political and economic developments that resulted in the subordination of African philosophy; debates concerning the meaning of African philosophy; themes in African philosophy; Art and culture in African philosophy. The objective of this section is broaden our understanding of social thought beyond the European enlightenment philosophical architecture which in the main frames how most of us approach political, moral, cultural, legal, and economic questions.

Assigned Readings:

Tesenay Serequeberhan, "African Philosophy: The Point in question", in Tesenay Serequeberhan (ed), African Philosophy: The Essential Readings (St. Paul, Paragon House, 1991).

Kwasi Wiredu, "A Comparative Analysis of Some African and Western Conceptions of Morals," in Albert G. Mosley, African Philosophy: Selected Readings (Prentice Hall, 1991).

H. G. Blocker, "On the Distinction between modern and traditional African Aesthetics", in Albert G. Mosley, African Philosophy: Selected Readings (Prentice Hall, 1991).

Ngugi wa Thiong'o and Eunice Njeri Sahle, "Hegel in African Literature: Achebe's Answer", Diogenes, June 2004.

Kwasi Wiredu, "On Defining African Philosophy", in Tesenay Serequeberhan (ed), African Philosophy: The Essential Readings (St. Paul, Paragon House, 1991).

John Mbiti, "African Religions and Philosophy", in Albert G. Mosley, African Philosophy: Selected Readings (Prentice Hall, 1991).

Marcien Towa, "Conditions for the Affirmation of a Modern African Philosophical Thought", in Tesenay Serequeberhan (ed), African Philosophy: The Essential Readings (St. Paul, Paragon House, 1991).

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of LearnIT@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 10, 2007 8:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Supplement Students' Learning with Computer-Based Training

---

Computer-Based Training (CBT) is a free service provided by Information Technology Services (ITS) Teaching and Learning to all faculty, staff, and students at UNC-Chapel Hill.

Some faculty have expressed a desire for students to have additional skills and expertise in technology that will help them plan, develop, and implement class projects such as in-class presentations, Web sites, and multimedia pieces.

We would like to remind you that CBT courses may help your students gain relevant skills. Our CBT service includes courses on PowerPoint, Web authoring, Photoshop, project management, and over 2800 more! As of last August (in collaboration with Human Resources Training and Development), non-computer courses became available. Your students may also access those 37 courses including titles like Applying Leadership Basics, Basics of Effective Communication, Developing a Strategic Plan, and others.

You should, of course, review any CBT course before recommending it to your students to be sure it meets your learning objectives. If you have questions or comments about the service, please let us know.

--
LearnIT@unc.edu
Division of Teaching and Learning
Information Technology Services

This email is sponsored by: ITS Teaching and Learning

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbickford@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 10, 2007 8:11 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Call for Proposals Fall 2007 Faculty Scholar

---

The Carolina Women's Center is accepting applications for its Fall 2007 Faculty Scholar. This program offers UNC-Chapel Hill faculty the opportunity to serve as Faculty Scholar at the CWC for one semester and provides the Scholar's home department with course replacement funding for one course during the award semester.

The mission of the Carolina Women's Center is to empower women and promote their equality in all spheres of life and to celebrate the work of women that betters humankind. For the Fall 2007 semester, the CWC is especially interested in projects that relate to sex trafficking or women in the sciences, but encourages submission of projects in all areas that respond to its mission. The Faculty Scholar will work on projects for publication, presentation, exhibition, composition or performance that are related to this mission. Scholars will have the opportunity to participate in regularly scheduled lunch discussions with CWC staff, former CWC Faculty Scholars, and invited scholars from other centers/departments. One Faculty Scholar position will be awarded for the Fall 2007 semester. The deadline for applications is Friday, February 16, 2007, by 5:00 p.m.

All full-time faculty with three or more years of service are encouraged to apply. Projects are welcome from faculty at all ranks in any department, center or school of the University. To download the application form, visit the Carolina Women's Center's website at: http://womenscenter.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of birken@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, January 11, 2007 8:05 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Worksite Wellness: Focus Group Participants Needed

---

Contact information: If interested, please email Ben Birken, Steering Committee Coordinator, at birken@email.unc.edu or call 919-966-6085.

The University Steering Committee for Worker Health, Safety and Wellness is conducting an assessment of health promotion needs, assets, interests and expectations about worksite wellness on campus. As part of this assessment effort, the committee is interested in hearing from campus employees (both staff and faculty) regarding their thoughts and opinions on worksite wellness at UNC-Chapel Hill in a series of focus group discussions about health and wellness programs on campus. Do you have thoughts or opinions to share?

We will be holding 8 focus groups in January and February. Each focus group will last approximately 90 minutes. Meals will be provided for all focus group participants.

The focus groups are scheduled to take place in Lenoir Hall [dining all located in the Pit area on the main campus, directly across from the Student Store].

All full-time employees are eligible to see if they qualify. Interested employees are invited to contact Ben Birken, Steering Committee Coordinator, at birken@email.unc.edu or 966-6085.

This email is sponsored by: University Steering Committee for Worker Health, Safety and Wellness

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, January 11, 2007 9:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT January 2007 Issue Now Available

---

The January 2007 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.
*Carolina Internal
*National Science Foundation
*National Institutes of Health Grants and Contracts
*Multidisciplinary
*Social and Behavioral Sciences
*Health and Medical Sciences
*Life and Physical Sciences
*Arts and Humanities

CAMPUS NEWS
* Important New Procedures for Grants.gov Submission of NIH R01s
* OSR Releases University-Specific NIH Forms
* New NIH Budget Template from OSR
* OTD Innovations Seminar: UNC Start-Ups: How Are Things Going After 3-5 Years
* OSR Annual Report of Carolina's Sponsored Research Activity
* NC Society of Research Administrators Annual Meeting
* NC 2007 Entrepreneurship Policy Summit
* New Location for Office of Research Development
* Useful Copyright Resource
* New Book at the GrantSource Library

FUNDING TIPS
* Customized Presentations on Identifying Funding Sources
* New Faculty--Update Your COS Profile to Carolina
* Researching Awards Made
* Relations between Foundations and Institutions of Higher Education
* Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Calls for Proposals
* Grants for Innovative Use of Mobile Technology in Teaching
* GrantSource Library Foundation Page Updated

FEDERAL NEWS
* Federal Research Funding Update from AAAS
* NIH Fiscal Policy for Grant Awards - FY 2007
* NSF Implementation of Grants.gov in FY 2007
* NEH and IMLS Join in Digital Partnership
* ACLS Report on Cyberinfrastructure for the Humanities and Social Sciences
* New NIH Salary Cap
* Humanities Advocacy Day 2007

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, January 11, 2007 11:11 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Serving Students with Disabilities

TO: All Faculty, EPA Non-Faculty and Staff Employees

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

DATE: January 12, 2007

RE: Serving Students with Disabilities

I am writing to ask for your assistance. Federal and State laws require The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to make its programs and facilities accessible to students with disabilities. Students who seek reasonable accommodation for disabilities are required to identify themselves either to the Department of Disability Services (DDS) in the Division of Student Affairs or Learning Disabilities Services (LDS) in the College of Arts and Sciences, depending on the nature of their disability. These offices will inform the students of the documentation needed to meet legal requirements, and their staffs have the professional training to determine reasonable and appropriate accommodations for each student.

In an effort to assist their students, individual faculty members and departments or professional schools may want to provide accommodations to students who have not identified themselves to DDS or LDS. When approached by a student who seeks an accommodation based on a disability, please refer the student to DDS or LDS as appropriate. Thereafter, one of those offices will work with you and the student to determine what accommodations would be reasonable, and assist with implementation.

To make it easier for University faculty and staff to direct students to the proper office, the functions of each office are described below. The services and accommodations provided by both offices are designed to meet the individual needs of the student and are provided at no charge.

Learning Disabilities Services (LDS) provides services and reasonable accommodations to currently enrolled undergraduate and graduate/professional students with documented learning disabilities (LD) and/or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). The mission of LDS is to assist students in achieving their academic potential within the regular, academically competitive University curriculum. In addition to providing reasonable accommodations, LDS provides strategies instruction and ADD coaching to students. LDS also provides training and consultation to instructors and administrators. The office, located at 137 East Franklin Street, Suite 602, can be reached by telephone at (919) 962-7227 or through the web at http://www.unc.edu/depts/lds. Dr. Theresa Maitland is the Acting Director.

The Department of Disability Services (DDS) provides services and reasonable accommodations to currently enrolled undergraduate and graduate/professional students with disabilities other than LD and ADHD. The mission of DDS is to provide students with disabilities equal access to University services, programs, and activities. Because these disabilities have an impact on the varying demands of University life in and out of the classroom, DDS works with faculty, departments, programs and offices throughout the University. It also provides training and consultation to instructors and administrators. DDS offices in the basement of Steele Building can be reached by telephone at (919) 962-8300 (V/T), by email at disabilityservices@unc.edu, or through the web at http://disabilityservices.unc.edu. Jim Kessler is the Director.

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance in addressing this important issue. Your support enables the University to provide reasonable and appropriate accommodations more efficiently to students with disabilities.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, January 11, 2007 11:54 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: College of Arts and Sciences Open Forum Canceled

---

The College of Arts and Sciences Search Committee would like to announce that the following open forum has been canceled.

Dr. Ramon Gutierrez, University of California, San Diego

Wednesday, January 17
2:00 - 2:45 p.m.
Wilson Library - Pleasants Family Room

Dr. Gutierrez has withdrawn his candidacy for the deanship.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, January 12, 2007 12:35 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Art after Dark; Open Drawing; Lunch with1

ART AFTER DARK
2nd Fridays at the Ackland

Friday, January 12, 2007
5 to 9 PM

Join us for Art after Dark with live music and refreshments. While you are here explore African masks in Making Connections: African Masks and Rituals, and Museums, and contemporary Indian prints in Atul Dodiya: Selections from the Wet Sleeves of My Paper Robe.

OPEN DRAWING SESSION

Saturday, January 13, 2007
10 AM to NOON

Community members are invited to draw in the galleries on the second Saturday of every month. Participants provide the dry media (pencil, crayon, conté crayon, charcoal, and paper). Camp stools and drop cloths are available. Free.

LUNCH WITH ONE

Thursday, January 18, 2007
1 to 2 PM

One expert, one work of art, one hour. Bring a bag lunch and join us for a lunch time lecture.

Join Timothy Carter, distinguished professor and chair of UNC's Department of Music for a lunch time lecture entitled: Oklahoma!, Thomas Hart Benton, and the American Dream.

Sign up on our website.

UPCOMING EVENTS

ART AFTER DARK
2nd Fridays at the Ackland
Friday, January 12
5 - 9 PM

OPEN DRAWING SESSION
Saturday, January 13
10 AM - 12 NOON

ACKLAND BOOK CLUB
Wednesday, January 17
7 - 8:30 PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
Thursday, January 18
1 to 2 PM

EXHIBITION OPENING CELEBRATING FASHIONING THE DIVINE

Guild Preview
Saturday, January 20
5 to 7 PM

Member Reception
Sunday, January 21
12 to 1 PM

Public Reception & Book Signing
Sunday, January 21
1 to 3 PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
Sunday, January 21
2 to 4 PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
Tuesday, January 23
12 to 1 PM

TEACHER WORKSHOP
South Asian Art in the Classroom
Thursday, January 25
4 to 7 PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org.

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!

If you're hungry enough to consider the Archetypes crowns, sorrel are quick to brown/blacken and dry. Dyes leached archetype-a-rounds" at the back of the drawings.

Illustrious logo for business

Atul Chalya, India, born 1951. Robert only for area council, 2004, device Wiesbaden and Chen. Dark paper vellum on Canaveralle STPI cotton accordion paper. Courtesy of Rowe Art, Inc.

Egon Schiele, Austrian, 1890–1918. Gouache, watercolor, 1918. Black colored pencil. Burton Dunham Collection.

- National Art Museum
- The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of alerts@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, January 12, 2007 4:24 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	URGENT: Safety Alert

SAFETY ALERT

The Chapel Hill Police Department issued a press release this afternoon, Friday, January 12, 2007, stating that warrants have been obtained in connection with a sexual assault that occurred on Tuesday, January 9, 2007, in the 500 block of Hillsborough Street.

The town's press release, which contains a description of that assault and a photo of the suspect, is linked here: http://townhall.townofchapelhill.org/police/Press2007/prsexualassault.htm.

UNC Public Safety continues to investigate the reported assault that occurred near Forest Theatre on January 9. For background information on that assault and a list of safety tips, visit: http://www.unc.edu/news/archives/jan07/assault010907.htm.

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Warning Committee

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of linmarie_sikich@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, January 12, 2007 9:24 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Young Autism Participants

Do you know a child who has recently been diagnosed with autism? Does your child have difficulty with changes in routine, interacting with others or intense interest in unusual things?

The ASPIRE Research program at the UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Psychiatry is recruiting children ages thirty to fifty-eight months (2.5-5 years) for an autism treatment study. The study is a 12 month study designed to assess whether or not overall functioning can be improved with fluoxetine (Prozac) treatment.

Benefits for subjects include a comprehensive diagnostic assessment at the beginning of the study. If the child meets criteria for autism and has no medical contraindications to treatment in the study, they will have a comprehensive cognitive and language assessment at baseline and then again at three months, seven months, and twelve months of study participation. Appointments with child psychiatrists who specialize in autism spectrum disorders are provided free of charge to research participants.

Enrollment for this particular study closes at the end of January 2007. We are actively seeking participants for this important study until then.

If you think this study may be appropriate for your child, please contact us. We are happy to tell you more about our program and answer any questions. Please call the ASPIRE Research Hotline (1-800-708-0048) or email us at Lsikich@med.unc.edu.

This message has been reviewed by the UNC Biomedical IRB and was approved as of 11/20/2006 for IRB protocol # 05-1694 entitled: "Early Pharmacologic Intervention in Autism: A Randomized, Placebo-controlled Trial of Fluoxetine in Preschool Children".

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rrolfe@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, January 12, 2007 11:24 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Fun Service Opportunity

Hosting an event for kids but you're low on funds? Or are you looking for a chance to have fun when you volunteer?

Nonprofit, campus and community organizations should not have to worry about finding a means to finance entertainment at their events for children or underprivileged groups. UNC-CH student group "Jest" for Fun recruits professional entertainers to train University students to provide services at these events at a low cost - no more than $5 to $10/hr.

Everyone benefits: trainers can share their craft with students, organizations have one less thing to worry about, students gain useful skills that they will retain after graduation and - most importantly - the kids have a ball.

All of that from a balloon animal and some face paint.

Visit our Web site, http://studentorgs.unc.edu/jff/, to learn more or email rrolfe@email.unc.edu with questions.

This email is sponsored by: Jest for Fun

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of eharris@unch.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 16, 2007 8:21 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Outpatient study for nondiabetic subjects with normal and obese BMI

Recruiting:
1. Nondiabetic subjects
2. Between the ages of 18 and 55yo
3.Of either normal or obese body mass index (BMI <25 or >30)

The study is an outpatient study being conducted at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to investigate the effects of the insulin sensitizing agent metformin on peripheral blood monocytes after 2 and 4 days of therapy. If you meet the three qualifications above, you may be eligible to participate in this study. The study will involve a screening visit and 3 outpatient visits. To learn how you can be in the study, page the co-investigator at 919-216-1351 or reply to this message at eharris@unch.unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. Your contact information, including name, phone number and email address, will not be shared with anyone other than the primary and co-investigator.

Participants will receive up to $50 for complete participation as well as blood work including chemistries, liver function, complete blood count, thyroid, lipid panel, pregnancy test, fasting glucose and insulin.

Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is David Clemmons, MD.
The co-investigator is Elizabeth Harris, MD
UNC School of Medicine, Department of Endocrinology.

This study and this message received approval on 11/30/2006 from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on Research Involving Human Subjects. IRB# 06-0741(GCRC-2558): The Effect of Metformin on Changes in AMPKinase Activity in Peripheral Blood Monocytes of Lean Insulin Sensitive, Obese Insulin Sensitive, and Obese Insulin Resistant Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Medicine

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 16, 2007 10:22 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CALL FOR NOMINATIONS: Chancellor's Awards

---

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS: Chancellor James Moeser requests your nominations of our most outstanding students for the Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Student Activities and Leadership. Nominations are due Friday, February 9, 2007.

A full letter of request detailing the intent of these awards, and the online nomination form, can be found at www.unc.edu/chancellorsawards/nom.html. For further information, see the website or contact Tammy Lambert, 966-3128, lambert2@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sjkemp@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, January 16, 2007 11:38 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Focus the Nation on climate change solutions!

Do you want to be part of the solution to climate change?

Focus the Nation is a nation-wide, campus-based initiative to find solutions to the problem of climate change. It aims for a day of interdisciplinary symposia, political forums, and student presentations and performances on January 31st, 2008. The goal is to spark awareness about and responsibility for our future climate, and to get students thinking about how to reduce our global carbon emissions.

We need your help to achieve these goals so we can minimize the catastrophic climate changes for the not-so-distant future!

Get involved in the planning process at:

http://studentorgs.unc.edu/studgov/index.php?option=com_events&task=view_detail&agid=206&year=2007&month=01&day=17&Itemid=1

Learn more at the national Focus the Nation website:

http://www.focusthenation.org/theproject.html

This email is sponsored by: Student Government Environmental Affairs Committee

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of its_communications@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 17, 2007 3:09 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Protect your personal computer data

The ITS backup and recovery solution, Iron Mountain, is now available to UNC-Chapel Hill staff and faculty for personal Windows-based computers.

Iron Mountain offers users on-demand data retrieval 24 hours a day, seven days a week, over any Internet connection from anywhere in the world. Even with a complete hard drive failure, Iron Mountain users can retrieve a virtual clone of their machine with personal settings intact.

For more information on Iron Mountain and how to purchase it for your personal computer, visit http://software.unc.edu/IM or call 962-HELP.

This email is sponsored by: ITS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 17, 2007 3:52 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right?

Something Not Quite Right?

The Prime Research Clinic is conducting a study to better understand the causes and course of basic symptoms. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 14-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Clinic. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Go to the 'Simple Survey' by clicking on the link or paste into your browser:
http://www.med.unc.edu/cgi-bin/prime/page1.pl

Or
visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

03-Psych-53
August 23, 2006
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects The BioMedical IRB University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lac@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 17, 2007 6:10 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Fall 2007 LAC TAs Needed

UNC's Languages Across the Curriculum Program is currently seeking experienced bilingual TAs to lead LAC discussion sections for the following Fall 2007 courses:

POLI 238 [56]: Contemporary Latin American Politics - LAC discussion section in Spanish

HIST 159 [17]: 20th-Century Europe - LAC discussion section in French

HIST 159 [17]: 20th-Century Europe - LAC discussion section in German Eligibility for Application:

Eligible applicants must be currently enrolled as graduate students at UNC, and be employed as teaching assistants in their home (or other) department.

Applicants should possess native or near-native fluency in the target language. Advanced graduate students with interdisciplinary interests are especially encouraged to apply.

Preference will given to TAs who have attended a LAC workshop (for details on the upcoming LAC Information Session in January, see www.unc.edu/lac).

Application Procedure:

To apply for one of the above positions, please submit the following materials by Friday, March 9:

1) An application form (available at www.unc.edu/lac);
2) A cover letter summarizing your qualifications, including your experience in webpage design/maintenance using Dreamweaver;
3) A curriculum vitae that includes any relevant degrees and your past teaching experience;
4) One letter of recommendation that attests to your academic strengths and your ability to lead undergraduate-level discussions on topics that may lie outside your area of study.
5) One foreign language evaluation form (available at www.unc.edu/lac), completed by a UNC faculty member.

Please send paper copies of all materials via campus mail to:
Tanya Kinsella; Center for European Studies; CB # 3449

Applications will be reviewed by the LAC Program Committee and the relevant faculty members. We expect to inform applicants of their selection status before the end of March.

Stipend:

LAC TAs are paid a one-semester stipend of $4,500 per discussion section ($3,500 paid biweekly + $1,000 one-time payment upon submission of course website materials).

This stipend is calculated at a rate of $20/hour for a total of 175 hours (55 hrs of preparation prior to the semester + 45 class hrs attending core lectures and teaching the LAC section + 75 hrs [5 hrs/wk] preparing, grading, and advising students).

Tuition Support:

The LAC program is funded by federal grants and is unable to cover any tuition charges of LAC TAs. Tuition, fees, and benefits must be paid by the home department or covered by the graduate student.

Please direct any questions about the application procedure to lac@unc.edu. For more information on UNC's Languages Across the Curriculum Program, see: www.unc.edu/lac.

This email is sponsored by: Center for European Studies

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gabriele@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 17, 2007 6:23 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Weight Loss by E-mail Counseling

OVERWEIGHT volunteers between the ages of 30 and 60 are needed for a study of weight loss programs delivered over e-mail.

If you:

* are 30-60 years old
* have a Body Mass Index (BMI) between 25 and 40 kg/m2
(If you are unsure of you BMI you can calculate it at the following website http://www.nhlbisupport.com/bmi/)
* have e-mail access
* have no medical conditions or disabilities that would prevent physical activity or weight loss
* have not taken medication for weight loss in the past 6 months

you may qualify for a 12-week study to evaluate different approaches to delivering weight loss programs via e-mail. This study will involve 2 in person assessments and completion of 2 short internet surveys.

Qualified Participants Will Receive:
1. 12 weekly lessons on weight loss delivered via e-mail
2. Worksheets for self-monitoring physical activity and caloric intake
3. $10.00 on completion of study

If interested, call 919-966-8650 or e-mail gabriele@email.unc.edu.

Study and message approved by UNC Public Health Institutional Review Board - Study # 06-0119.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Health Behavior and Health Education

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, January 17, 2007 4:18 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Fashioning the Divine; An Artist's Perspective; Lunch with One

FASHIONING THE DIVINE EXHIBITION OPENING

Guild Preview

Saturday, January 20, 2007
5 to 7 PM

Member Reception

Sunday, January 21, 2007
12 to 1 PM

Public Reception & Book Signing

Sunday, January 21, 2007
1 to 3 PM

Please attend the Opening Reception for Fashioning the Divine.

This exhibition celebrates twenty-four sculptures and architectural fragments from the Ackland's permanent collection of works of art. The objects demonstrate the extraordinary craftsmanship of artisans in the second to eleventh centuries within the Indian sub-continent. From exquisite forms to intricate details, each object offers a rare glimpse into the artistry of this region and the broader cultural context in which these objects were fashioned.

The exhibition is accompanied by a full-color catalogue of the same name edited by UNC-Chapel Hill scholar Pika Ghosh. With color photographs, contextual images, and scholarship by Ghosh and three other nationally recognized scholars - Janice Leoshko, Padma Kaimal, Darielle Mason - the catalogue offers additional insight into the significance of each object and the relevant scholarship in this emerging area of research.

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE

Wednesday, January 17, 2007
6:30 to 8 PM

In this series of programs, teens meet local artists, see examples of their work, and hear ideas about works of art. This session features potter Gillian Parke. Please encourage your students to take advantage of this opportunity.

For more information, contact Beth Shaw McGuire at 919-962-

UPCOMING EVENTS

LUNCH WITH ONE
Thursday, January 18
1 to 2 PM

EXHIBITION OPENING CELEBRATING FASHIONING THE DIVINE

Guild Preview
Saturday, January 20
5 to 7 PM

Member Reception
Sunday, January 21
12 to 1 PM

Public Reception & Book Signing
Sunday, January 21
1 to 3 PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
Sunday, January 21
2 to 4 PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
Tuesday, January 23
12 to 1 PM

TEACHER WORKSHOP
South Asian Art in the Classroom
Thursday, January 25
4 to 7 PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3678 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Illustrations top to bottom:

Probably Karnataka, Halebid region: Vishnu, ca. twelfth to thirteenth century CE, chloritic schist, Gift of Harry Lenart, Los Angeles 0479 or email bas5705@email.unc.edu.

LUNCH WITH ONE

Thursday, January 18, 2007
1 to 2 PM

One expert, one work of art, one hour. Bring a bag lunch and join us for a lunch time lecture.

Join Timothy Carter, distinguished professor and chair of UNC's Department of Music for a lunch time lecture entitled: Oklahoma!, Thomas Hart Benton, and the American Dream.

Sign up on our website.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hazel_shepherd@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, January 18, 2007 8:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research study investigating smoke exposure and flu virus

---

The purpose of this research study is to learn about how influenza virus affects nasal inflammation in people who smoke and in nonsmokers passively exposed daily to cigarette smoke or those not exposed at all. Currently, we are looking for healthy young adults aged 18-35 years with no underlying medical problems, who are either (1) active smokers, or who (2) live or work regularly with others who smoke.

Specific exclusion criteria will include history of asthma, chronic lung or heart disease; any type of immunodeficiency; influenza or flu like symptoms in the past three weeks; current pregnancy; egg allergy; or subjects who have already have had a flu shot this season. Your participation will last 6-9 weeks, and will require 9 study visits.

For a complete copy of the consent form and more information refer to the Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology (CEMALB) website at http:// http://www.med.unc.edu/envlung/gcrc2343.html

Interested individuals may also call the CEMALB recruitment line 919-962-4247 for additional information.

Approved Jan 11 2007 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 05-2547 (formerly 05-PED-1094).

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine and Lung Biology. This study is funded by The Flight Attendants Medical Research Institute (FAMRI).

This email is sponsored by: The UNC Center for Environmental Medicine and Lung Biology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of endeavors@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, January 18, 2007 9:22 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: new Endeavors magazine online

The winter 2007 issue of Endeavors magazine features new stories about research and creative activity at Carolina, including:

--Phonograph Effects: how records changed music.
--Life Down Deep: hard-core critters at the bottom of the sea.
--Freeing a History: the hard fact of slavery at UNC.
--An Evil Disease: after 25 years, HIV is still one step ahead of us.

There are also stories featuring Gary Pielak, Valerie Ashby, Steve Walsh, and more.

Read the winter 2007 Endeavors online at http://research.unc.edu/endeavors/win2007/index.php

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, January 18, 2007 11:44 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Extension of Carolina Challenge Intent to Compete Deadline

---

Still interested in competing in the Carolina Challenge? Well, you're not out of luck yet!

The deadline to submit your intent to compete has been extended to Jan.22nd at 12:00 a.m. The link is still open on our website at http://www.carolinachallenge.org.

Be sure to check the rest of our website out as well. It holds a plethora of information including upcoming events and resources for you to use as you continue throughout the competition.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Challenge

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, January 19, 2007 9:45 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Phillip and Ruth Hettleman Prizes for Artistic and Scholarly Achievement

---

TO: Members of the Faculty
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

FROM: James Moeser, Chancellor

DATE: January 22, 2007

RE: Phillip and Ruth Hettleman Prizes for Artistic and Scholarly Achievement by Young Faculty

==========

With this memo, I am soliciting nominations for the 2007 Hettleman Prizes for Scholarly and Artistic Achievement by Young Faculty. These prizes, made possible by the generosity of Phillip and Ruth Hettleman, will recognize scholarly and artistic achievement by junior tenure-track, or recently tenured, members of the faculty. Four recipients will be selected and each award will be worth $5,000. The awardees in 2006 were Dr. Anne MacNeil (Music), Dr. Jeffrey Johnson (Chemistry), Dr. Jonathan Oberlander (Social Medicine), and Dr. David Siderovski (Pharmacology).

The Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, Tony Waldrop, will convene the committee to advise me on the bestowal of these prizes. The committee consists of six professors, three from the Division of Academic Affairs and three from the Division of Health Affairs

Those eligible to be nominated for these prizes are assistant professors in their third or fourth years who have been recommended for reappointment for a second term, any second term assistant professor, and any associate professor who will not have been in rank as an associate professor for longer than three years at the end of this academic year.

Nominations should include seven copies of the following:

* Nominating Letter
  Nominations may be made by appointing units or by members of the University community from within or outside the nominee's department. The nominating letter should explain why the nominee's work is "groundbreaking".

* Nominee's Curriculum Vitae

* Documentation
  Seven copies of articles that the nominee has written, papers that the nominee has given, and/or photographs of art that the nominee has produced.

* Letters of Evaluation
  These letters can be both within and outside the nominees department, as well as this University. Letters from the outside do not have to be written explicitly for the Hettleman Award, rather these letters can be ones collected for tenure and promotion decision, reappointment considerations or letters written for other awards. Letters shall emphasize and critically evaluate the distinctive contribution of the nominee's scholarship to his or her discipline. They must make clear to an audience of intelligent laypersons the scholarly or artistic significance of the nominee's work. It is hoped that each scholarly project will already be in the public domain, but manuscripts accepted for publication or in galley form will be considered.

I wish to determine the winners of these prizes before the summer. I ask faculty members to submit nominations by letter to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, 312 South Building, no later than Friday, March 9, 2007. Tony Waldrop and the committee will then be asked to provide me with a list of recommendations from the committee for the prizes. The announcements of the prizes will be made at the first Faculty Council meeting of the fall term of 2007.

Let me close by expressing again my appreciation, which I know you share, to Phillip and Ruth Hettleman for this very generous and creative effort to recognize the scholarly achievements by junior members of our faculty.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of knpeters@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, January 22, 2007 8:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Dance Marathon Seeking Moralers and Volunteers!!!

The UNC Dance Marathon wants YOU to register to become a moraler or volunteer at the 2007 Marathon! For more information on the 2007 Marathon or to register online, visit www.uncmarathon.org.

Moralers and Volunteers encourage student dancers at the Marathon, who will stand on their feet and "dance" for 24 hours in a symbolic show of support for the patients and families of the North Carolina Children's Hospital. Register to support them today, and don't miss out on your chance to view the many student group performances, guest speakers, bands and surprise appearances at the 2007 Marathon!

Moraler shifts are 6 hours and volunteer shifts are 4 hours.

There is one night a year when the entire University STOPS...and stands up for the kids. Where will you be? Register online TODAY! It's For the Kids!

This email is sponsored by: UNC Dance Marathon

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bmwillia@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 22, 2007 9:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: University Career Services - Spring 2007 Faculty Newsletter

---

The University Career Services Spring 2007 Faculty Newsletter may be read at http://careers.unc.edu/faculty/faculty_newsletter_spring07.pdf. I hope that you will find the information in the newsletter useful to you and your students.

Jacquelyn Gist

Jacquelyn Gist
Assistant Director
Non-Profits, Social Work
University Career Services

This email is sponsored by: University Career Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ccps@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 22, 2007 9:16 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Public Service Awards - Call for nominations

---

To all UNC students, faculty, and staff,

Do you know of an individual or University unit making a difference in the community through public service and engaged scholarship? If so, please consider honoring them by nominating them for a 2007 Public Service Award?

The Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) announces its call for nominations for the Ned Brooks Award for Public Service, the Robert E. Bryan Public Service Award, and the Office of the Provost Engaged Scholarship Award. These prestigious awards recognize individual students, faculty, staff, and University units for extraordinary public service and engaged scholarship.

Nominations may be submitted by students, staff, faculty, and/or community members and are due by 5:00 PM on Friday, March 2, 2007. Nominators are cautioned to review the criteria for each award to ensure any nominations are in line with the selection requirements for the particular award.

Go to the Carolina Center for Public Service website at www.unc.edu/cps to obtain a nomination form. You can also get detailed information on each award and tips on writing effective nominations at this site.

Questions may be directed to ccps@unc.edu or 843-7568.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Center for Public Service

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fsmuehls@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, January 22, 2007 9:50 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Burch Seminars: Call for faculty proposals

---

CALL FOR PROPOSALS
BURCH FIELD RESEARCH SEMINARS
"Education in the Classroom and Out in the World"
http://www.honorsstudyabroad.unc.edu/

Overview of Burch Field Research Seminars

Burch Field Research Seminars showcase the relationship between faculty research and undergraduate education. Burch Seminars offer undergraduate students the opportunity to participate in UNC faculty-led off-campus programs that combine traditional course work with active, experiential learning. A changing roster of seminars is offered each year in destinations foreign and domestic.

The Office of Burch Programs invites faculty members from all UNC departments to submit proposals for the development of Burch Seminars (abroad and domestic) following the guidelines outlined below.

Guidelines for Burch Faculty Proposals

Faculty interested in leading a Burch Field Research Seminar are invited to submit proposals outlining the program, including the courses that students will take and the "hands-on" experience in which they will be engaged. Since these seminars typically require extensive planning, proposals must be submitted a minimum of 18 months in advance of the scheduled launch date. Proposals are reviewed by the Burch Field Research Seminars Faculty Advisory Board, which recommends four to five seminars each year to the Director of Burch Programs and Honors Study Abroad and the Associate Dean for Honors.
Burch Field Research Seminars ordinarily provide 12 hours of academic credit in a mix of independent study and formal course work. In addition to the course(s) offered by the faculty director, additional courses can be arranged through partner institutions or adjunct faculty at the program site. While the majority of Burch Seminars are semester programs, proposals for summer programs (minimum of six weeks, six credit hours) are also welcomed.

Proposals should include the following:

- Detailed description of the program and academic goals
- Choice of program location and affiliations
- Program dates
- Outline of program itinerary
- Course description(s) and suggestions for additional course work (semester programs)
- Description of cultural immersion activities and additional excursions
- Outline of program budget
- Curriculum vitae

A number of successful models have been used to deliver the "hands-on" experience of the Burch Field Research Seminars, and new models are always welcomed. Proven models include:

- Internships. Students work with businesses, non-governmental organizations, or govern-mental agencies.

- Unique Observation and Experience. Students are invited to observe and experience first-hand unfolding world events.

- Documentary Projects. Students investigate and document the history or culture of the field site.

- Performance. Students are provided a special opportunity to engage in an artistic en-deavor.

The faculty director should be familiar with the intended program site. Previous experience in developing a study abroad program is not required. Faculty directors will receive training and logistical support from Friederike Muehls, Director of Burch Programs and Honors Study Abroad and the UNC Study Abroad Office. Burch Seminars that enroll at least 12 students can generally support a position for a teaching assistant. The Honors Program will pay the department $15,000 plus benefits (the standard two-course buy-out rate in the College of Arts and Sciences) for faculty leading semester programs.
For additional information, or to discuss ideas for a seminar proposal, please contact Ms. Friederike Muehls, Director of Burch Programs and Honors Study Abroad: 962-9680 or fsmuehls@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Burch Programs / Honors Office

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, January 22, 2007 10:01 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Volunteers needed for Pharmacokinetics Study

---

Healthy volunteers are needed to participate in a clinical research study. During the study, you will be asked to commit approximately 24 hours (1 day), including a screening visit and an overnight stay at the UNC General Clinical Research Center (meals are provided). Compensation is $250 upon completion of the study.

Subjects are needed who are/have:
* Healthy males and females
* Age 18 - 45 years of age
* Non-smokers
* Not taking illicit drugs, including marijuana
* Of normal body weight (not obese or underweight)
* Not been exposed to X-ray (except dental) in the past year

During the screening you will be asked to:
Commit approximately 2 hours to complete pre-study screening including:
* Clinical laboratory tests
* Physical exam
* EKG

During the study, you will be asked to undergo the following procedures:
* Approximately 15 blood samples (about 1 teaspoonful each)
* Placement of a tube that runs through the mouth into the intestine for no more than 4 hours
* Oral and IV doses of FDA-approved medications
* Imaging of liver, gallbladder and intestines

If interested, please email Clinical2397@yahoo.com

Study Title: Modulation of Technetium-99m Mebrodenin Hepatic Transport by Ritonavir in Healthy Human Volunteers
IRB Study #05-2903
Approval date: Jan 16, 2007

This email is sponsored by: Div. Pharmacotherapy and Exp. Therapeutics, School of Pharmacy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of alerts@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, January 23, 2007 6:06 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Carolina Summer Reading Program selection announced for 2007

Carolina students, faculty and staff:

I write you on behalf of the 2007 Summer Reading Program Book Selection Committee, which I have had the pleasure of chairing since early autumn. It has been our challenge and our honor to select a book that we believe will be well read and provide much to discuss as new students prepare for their first year at Carolina.

With input from a wide array of Carolina students, faculty and staff, our nine-member committee of students, faculty and staff has chosen "The Death of Innocents: An Eyewitness Account of Wrongful Executions," by Sister Helen Prejean, for incoming students to read and discuss.

This was the committee's clear choice from the list of 218 books, types of books or general topics with which we began.

Of the five books that made it to the final round of our selection process, only "The Death of Innocents" was in the top three on every member's list. Other finalists were "Honky" by Dalton Conley, "The Omnivore's Dilemma: A Natural History of Four Meals" by Michael Pollan, "The Wal-Mart Effect" by Charles Fishman, and "With These Hands: The Hidden World of Migrant Farmworkers Today" by Daniel Rothenberg.

Committee members praised "The Death of Innocents" as a narrative that, while compelling and moving, is told calmly and with tolerance for all sides of the contentious issue of the death penalty in the United States.

As a staff member serving on the committee said: "(`The Death of Innocents') raises critical issues that everyone should think about, including choice, trust, responsibility, justice, belief. It will take readers beyond their current selves."

A student committee member wrote: "Prejean takes a strong stance against the death penalty but handles the opposing viewpoint with sensitivity and professionalism. Students on both sides of the argument will be forced to reevaluate and defend their ideology and will be empowered by Prejean's characters."

Published in 2005, "The Death of Innocents" is Prejean's nonfiction account of her relationships with two death-row convicts, their families and individuals on either side of the death-penalty debate during the time leading to the convicts' executions. She maintains that both were wrongfully given the death penalty.

We believe the reading and discussion of this book by incoming students and other members of the Carolina community will help advance a climate in which students can come to their own conclusions and articulate their views effectively. We found this book to be an engaging read and hope that others will as well.

Many thanks to all of those who submitted suggestions this year and have otherwise made this process possible. We have enjoyed the challenge and we hope that everyone finds the book and the topics it addresses engaging, challenging and thought-provoking. Additional information about this year's program will be added over the coming months at http://www.unc.edu/srp/.

-- Douglas G. Kelly, committee chairman and professor of statistics and operations research, College of Arts & Sciences

This email is sponsored by: Office of New Student & Carolina Parents Programs

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jjraynor@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, January 23, 2007 10:31 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: New Debate Team Formed!

Attention all past, present, and future debaters!!!

A new debate team is currently forming on campus. The Carolina Forensics Association is a competitive team focused on intercollegiate debate. Everyone is encouraged to join and no experience is necessary. Please let us know if you are interested in joining, competing, or holding a leadership position in our organization.

Email CFA@unc.edu for more information about joining, meetings, and upcoming competitions.

Faculty interested in providing coaching assistance or in judging debates are welcome. We would love to have you involved!

Thank you!
The Carolina Forensics Association

Debate Forms Offered:
Lincoln-Douglas Debate
Extemporaneous Speaking
Dramatic Interpretation
Oratory
Impromptu Speaking Storytelling
And many more!!!

This email is sponsored by: The Carolina Forensics Association

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lmalone@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 24, 2007 3:16 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Play Basketball for Duke-Carolina Student Basketball Marathon

---

Students, Faculty, Staff and Alumni:

Imagine having the once in a lifetime opportunity to shoot the game winning shot in a Duke-Carolina basketball game... This could be your opportunity...

Now accepting player applications for the 2007 Duke-Carolina Student Basketball Marathon.

Calling all student organizations, Greek organizations, groups of friends, academic departments and individuals to form a team of 6-8 players to match up and play against a rival organization, academic department or group of students/faculty/alumni at Duke.

The marathon will last 36 continuous hours; however, a new team will sub every hour. Take a shot at beating Duke and help us raise awareness and money to support local children with life threatening illnesses.

To sign up please visit:

http://www.basketballmarathon.com/involved/players.htm

This email is sponsored by: Basketball Marathon

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rob_kramer@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 24, 2007 4:26 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Outstanding Encouragement of Learning and Development Award

---

The Training & Development Department is now accepting nominations for the 2007 Outstanding Encouragement of Learning and Development Award. Nominations will be accepted through Wednesday, February 28.

In support of creating a campus environment in which all members of the University community are encouraged to pursue opportunities for learning and professional growth, the Chancellor's Task Force for a Better Workplace created this award to recognize supervisors who facilitate the participation of staff members in learning activities as fully as possible within the framework of an effective workplace.

The OELD Award is open to both SPA and EPA managers with at least one year of continuous University service. The award is presented annually and includes a plaque, 24 hours of paid time off and automatic nomination for a Chancellor's Award in the category of Human Relations. Each nominator must complete an Outstanding Encouragement of Learning and Development Award Nomination Form (available at http://hr.unc.edu/formfinder/forms-training/OELDapp.doc).

For questions or comments, contact Tammy Sopp in Training & Development at 962-9686 or tammy_sopp@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dthorpe@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 24, 2007 10:38 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Project GRASP: Grip Reactions and Anticipatory Control in Special Populations

---

UNC Mass Email

Participants for Study

Title of Project: Grip Reactions and Anticipatory Control in Special Populations(Project GRASP)

Sponsored By: The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and The Cure Autism Now Foundation

Investigator: Deborah E. Thorpe, PT, PhD, PCS
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill,
Center for Human Movement Science
Division of Physical Therapy, Medical School Wing E
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7135

We are conducting a study to examine the development of grasp in typically developing children, children with autism and children with developmental delay between the ages of 2 and 6 years 11months. This study will provide information about how children anticipate changes that they need to make to be successful in grasping small objects or different weights.

During the session, several developmental assessments will be administered and your child will perform a grasping task with an object of varying weight. Your child's participation in this study would last from approximately 1.5 -3.0 hours depending on the number of assessments required.

All programs are free of charge to the subjects and each subject will receive monetary compensation at ~ 12.50/hour up to $50. Parents will be interviewed for approximately one hour. Results from this study may help us to develop interventions for young children experiencing difficulty with grasping tasks

This study was approved March 16, 2006 by the Committee on the Protection of Rights of Human Subjects at the University of North Carolina.
UNC-CH IRB#04-1179.

If you would like to participate in this study, please contact Debbie Thorpe, PT, PhD, PCS at (919) 843-8679 or dthorpe@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Physical Therapy

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, January 25, 2007 1:46 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Mark Crowell

---

January 24, 2007

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty and Staff

FROM: Tony Waldrop, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

RE: Administrative Review of Mark Crowell, Associate Vice Chancellor for Economic Development and Technology Transfer

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Mark Crowell, Associate Vice Chancellor for Economic Development and Technology Transfer, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Maurice Brookhart, Dept. of Chemistry. Other members include: Trude Amick, Office of Technology Development; David Gerber, Dept. of Surgery; Steve Nelson, Managing Director and Partner, Wakefield Group; Tim Quigg, Associate Chair, Dept. of Computer Science, Lola Reid, Dept. of Cell and Molecular Physiology; and Dhiren Thakker, Associate Dean, School of Pharmacy.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Mark Crowell's performance as Associate Vice Chancellor for Economic Development and Technology Transfer.
Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, management, and leadership with respect to advancing the mission of the Office of Economic Development and Technology Transfer. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Mr.
Crowell's performance as Associate Vice Chancellor is viewed by staff and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in any of the following ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Mark Crowell's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by him. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process.

2. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Mark Crowell's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

3. You may meet privately with the committee. To arrange a meeting please contact Judy Christman in the Office of Research and Economic Development (judy_christman@unc.edu tel. 962-7757.) Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Mark Crowell's personnel file.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Mr. Crowell's Performance is Feb. 19. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Mark Crowell, Associate Vice Chancellor for Economic Development and Technology Transfer:

Maurice Brookhart, Chair of the committee
Professor
Dept. of Chemistry
CB# 3290
Carolina Campus
mbrookhart@unc.edu
962-0362

Trude Amick
Assistant Director
Office of Technology Development
308 Bynum Hall
CB# 4105
Carolina Campus
trude_amick@unc.edu
966-3929

David Gerber
Associate Professor
Dept. of Surgery
4026 Burnett-Womack Building
CB# 7211
Carolina Campus
david_gerber@med.unc.edu
966-8008

Steve Nelson
Managing Director & Partner
Wakefield Group
5915 Farrington Road, Suite 201
Chapel Hill, NC 27517
steve@wakefieldgroup.com
442-2160

Tim Quigg
Associate Department Chair
Dept. of Computer Science
104 Sitterson Hall
CB# 3175
Carolina Campus
quigg@cs.unc.edu
962-1777

Lola Reid
Professor
Dept. of Cell & Molecular Physiology
Room 34 Glaxo Building
CB# 7038
Carolina Campus
stemcell@med.unc.edu
966-0347

Dhiren Thakker
Associate Dean

School of Pharmacy
2309 Kerr Hall
CB# 7360
Carolina Campus
dhiren_thakker@unc.edu
962-0092

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research
and Economic Development

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, January 25, 2007 8:52 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Summer Science Camps at Morehead

Morehead Planetarium and Science Center offers a series of fun, exciting and educational Summer Science Camps for children pre-K through Grade 8.

MPSC is pleased to offer the University community the opportunity to register for these camps before the general public. Faculty and staff members (as well as UNC students who are parents) may register their children beginning Feb. 5. The general public registration period opens Feb. 12.

To ensure the best selection of camp offerings, you may want to consider becoming a MPSC member. MPSC members may register beginning Jan. 29 and also receive special camp discounts. If you are not a member, you may select the membership option during the registration process beginning Jan. 29.

To be recognized as a member of the University community when registering online during the period from Feb. 5 to Feb. 11, you must:

* Use your UNC Personal Identification Number (PID) when prompted for a membership number.
* Use the following zip code in association with the UNC PID: 27599 (You should enter your actual zip code when filling out your payment information later in the process.)
* Enter a "unc.edu" e-mail address when prompted for an e-mail address.

The special University community registration will only be functional from Feb. 5 to Feb. 11. After that date, you may register as part of the general public.

To learn more about MPSC Summer Science Camps, please review the online information pages at <www.moreheadplanetarium.org/go/camp>.

This email is sponsored by: Morehead Planetarium and Science Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of connect@schsr.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, January 26, 2007 9:01 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

---

APPROVED by UNC BIOMEDICAL IRB-Study # 02-SHEPS-587

Project CONNECT Addresses Minority Participation in Research

Black Americans have disproportionately high rates of disease and disproportionately poor health outcomes. Recent emphasis on increased representation of minority populations in all research has challenged investigators to find ways to diversify the populations that are recruited to participate in prevention and treatment trials.

Project CONNECT is recruiting volunteers who want to learn more about opportunities to participate in health research.

While we are focusing on African Americans, 18 years or older, any adult is welcome to participate.

If you participate your name will be placed on a confidential listing. If volunteers are eligible for a future research study they will be contacted and offered the opportunity to participate. The confidential registry will collect basic participant data including contact information, age, education level and basic health status.

To join the Project CONNECT listing, please reply with your name, and a phone number or mailing address so that we may get in touch with you. Or, you may choose to contact us directly by calling toll free at 1-866-849-1579.

If you know someone else who is eligible, and may be interested, please feel free to forward this information to them also.

Joining the registry does NOT mean one is volunteering for any particular study.

For additional information, please contact us at 919-966-7107 or via email at connect@schsr.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Project CONNECT: the Bridge to Healthy Communities Through Research, UNC Sheps Center for Health Services Research

If you have concerns about taking part in research please contact the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects (Medical IRB) at UNC at (919) 966-1344.

This email is sponsored by: Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of glmurphy@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, January 28, 2007 8:04 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Apply today!!! APPLES Social Entrepreneur Fellowships

---

Do you see a need in your community? Do you need funding to help address it?

APPLES Service Learning offers Social Entrepreneur Fellowships of up to $1,500 and 3 hours of graded course credit to undergraduates developing sustainable community-based service projects. Up to five Fellowships are awarded each year.

Applications are due by 5 p.m. on Friday, February 9, 2007 in the APPLES office, which is located in the Carolina Student Union, Suite 2416.

For more information email rrolfe@email.unc.edu or visit www.unc.edu/apples/students/fellowships/index.html

This email is sponsored by: APPLES

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 29, 2007 8:46 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Newsletter Now On-Line

---

The February edition of the Employee Forum newsletter, InTouch, is now on-line at
http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch8-2.htm

Articles in this edition include:

Address to Board of Trustees, January 24, 2007
Are You EPA or SPA---And Why Should You Care?
Career Banding Update
Time and Attendance Method for SPA Non-Exempt Employees Announced Sight Unseen: New PPO Plan Sign-up a Shot in the Dark for Employees
Rumor Has It: Yearly Benefits Statements
Legislative Action: Where Do We Begin?
Laurie Charest Interview
Generations at Work
Forum Planning New Website for Staff Employees
New Hoops to Jump Through: Basic Employment Eligibility Critical Blood Drive Needs!
Opinion: Thoughts on the Tuition Increase for Students

On-line publication of InTouch saves approximately
6,000 sheets of paper a month.

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, January 29, 2007 9:25 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Couples Therapy at UNC!

We have limited therapy openings this spring for dating and married couples!

The UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic offers effective psychological interventions for members of the community. The Clinic, which is affiliated with the UNC-CH clinical psychology Ph.D. program, provides a sliding fee scale based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed clinical psychologists. The Clinic is located right on the UNC campus!

Our couples clinic provides services for a wide range of relationship issues, including premarital counseling, marital therapy, and relationship enhancement.

Please visit our website at psychologyclinic.unc.edu or contact the clinic at 962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu for more information.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, January 30, 2007 3:55 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Symposium & Dance Performance; Drawing for Kids

FASHIONING THE DIVINE
SYMPOSIUM AND DANCE PERFORMANCE

Friday, February 2, 2007
11 AM to 4:30 PM - Symposium
4:30 to 5:30 PM - Reception
5:30 to 6:30 PM - Dance Performance

Join us for a discussion with four guest scholars of South Asian art, architecture, and religion, moderated by exhibition co-curator, Pika Ghosh, Department of Art, UNC-Chapel Hill.

Michael W. Meister, University of Pennsylvania
A Web of Imagery: Masrur Temple's Mountainous Surround

John Cort, Denison College
Temples and Museums, Icons and Statues: Frameworks for Seeing Indian Images

Leslie Orr, Concordia University in Montreal
Iconography, Epigraphy, and Identity: South Indian Images in and out of Context

Leela Prasad, Duke University
Divining the Diaspora: Museums, Temples, and the Ownership of Hindu Sacred Images

Pallabi Chakravorty, Swarthmore College
Sculpted Rhythms

Register online.

The symposium is sponsored in part by the Art Department at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill through the McLeod and Mildred Riggins Lectureship in Art; the Asian Studies Department at UNC-Chapel Hill, a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts; and the William Hayes Ackland Trust, Ackland Art Museum.

UPCOMING EVENTS

DRAWING FOR KIDS
February 1 from 3:30-5PM
February 3 from 10-11:30AM
February 8 from 3:30-5PM

SYMPOSIUM & DANCE PERFORMANCE
February 2
11AM-4:30PM - Symposium
4:30-5:30PM - Reception
5:30-6:30PM - Dance Performance

OF WORDS AND WISDOM: POETRY READING
February 8 from 6-9PM

ART AFTER DARK
February 9 from 5-9PM

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES
February 10 from 10AM-NOON

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
February 12 from 12-1PM
February 27 from 12-1PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
February 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
February 18 from 2-4PM

EXPERIENCE INDIA: A COMMUNITY DAY
February 24 from 10AM-4PM

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
February 28 from 6:30-8PM

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
February 28 from 7-8:30PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on

DRAWING FOR KIDS

Thursdays in February: 3:30 - 5 PM
1, 8, 15, and 22
Saturdays in February: 10 - 11:30 AM
3, 10, 17, and 24

Explore the many choices that artists make through drawing activities inspired by original works in the Ackland's collection. Learn some new techniques and ways to look at art that make drawing even more fun!

Free. Registration is required. To register, contact Beth Shaw McGuire at 919-962-0479 or bas5705@email.unc.edu.

Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission: call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Illustrations top to bottom:

Tamil Nadu, Kaveri delta region: Krishna/Saint Sambander, ca. late twelfth or early thirteenth century CE, bronze. Gift of Clara T. and Gilbert J. Yager in honor of Charles Millard.

Minnie Evans, American, North Carolina, Pender County, 1892-1987: Untitled, drawing. Ackland Fund.

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sclassit@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 30, 2007 10:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC HONORARY SOCIETIES NOW ACCEPTING NOMINATIONS

Dear students, faculty and staff:

Nominations are now being accepted for the following UNC honorary societies:

-The Order of the Golden Fleece
-The Order of the Grail-Valkyries
-The Order of the Old Well
-The Frank Porter Graham Graduate and Professional Student Honor Society

Each of these societies has a long history of recognizing outstanding members of the UNC community.

Nomination forms and selection criteria for each society are available at www.unc.edu/honoraries. Students, faculty and staff are enthusiastically encouraged to nominate deserving individuals; please take a moment to help recognize their accomplishments.

The deadline for nominations is 5 p.m. on Feb. 16.

www.unc.edu/honoraries

This email is sponsored by: The Order of the Grail-Valkyries

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, January 30, 2007 11:09 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you have Chronic Pain?

The Center for Neurosensory Disorders is currently recruiting for several studies for people with Fibromyalgia.

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB# 02-1559 previously DENT-2013). Study Title: Physiological and Psychosocial Factors that Contribute to the Onset and Maintenance of TMD and Fibromyalgia--Propranolol Study.

Participation involves treatment with an FDA approved medication--propranolol--for 1 week, 1 week of placebo during 4 weeks of enrollment. 4 two hour visits to the dental school for clinical exams and sensory testing. Payment upon completion is $220.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 55, and not have: diabetes, seizures, heart trouble or disease, drug or alcohol abuse, hyperthyroidism, hypertension, major psychiatric disorder, pulmonary disease, major clinical depression, renal failure or dialysis.
You should not participate if you have had facial trauma or orofacial surgery within the past six months, you are pregnant or nursing or are planning to become pregnant in the next 6 months, or if you are currently in orthodontic treatment or currently receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

Compensation will be provided for this study.

If interested or for further information please contact:

Dr. Muhammad Siddiqi
Study Coordinator
Center for Neurosensory Disorders
(919) 966-9760
Email: muhammad_siddiqi@DENTISTRY.UNC.EDU

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, January 31, 2007 12:11 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Policies and Procedures Concerning Non-Discrimination and Harassment

---

MEMORANDUM

TO: All Students, Faculty, and Staff

FROM: James Moeser, Chancellor

RE: 1) Policies and Procedures Concerning Non-Discrimination, Sexual and Racial Harassment

2) Online training program on Preventing Sexual Harassment and Preventing Employment Discrimination

As we begin another semester, I write to emphasize the responsibility of each member of the University community to contribute to learning and work environments free from discrimination and harassment. In particular, I want to highlight the protections the University has in place to address concerns about discrimination and harassment and the campus resources available to help resolve those concerns.

The University has adopted a Policy Statement on Non-Discrimination, a Sexual Harassment Policy and Procedures, and a Racial Harassment Policy and Procedures that apply to all members of the University community. Copies of the Policies are available on the web at http://www.unc.edu/campus/policies.html . These policies affirm the University's commitment not to discriminate in offering access to its educational programs and activities or with respect to employment terms and conditions on the basis of age, gender, race, color, national origin, religion, creed, disability, veteran's status or sexual orientation. I ask each of you to take time to read these policies, and I encourage anyone with questions or concerns to contact any of several offices on campus - wherever you feel most comfortable. These offices include that of the Equal Opportunity Officer (966-3576), The Dean of Students (966-4042), Human Resources Employee Services (962-1483), the Associate Vice Chancellor for Human Resources (962-1554); or your dean, director, or department chair.

Individuals in these offices are prepared to help you understand the policies and can explain the options for resolving concerns related to discrimination or harassment in connection with your study or work at the University. If you share concerns that appear to indicate unlawful discrimination or harassment, these offices are required to investigate.

Any student who wishes to keep his or her concerns confidential should go to the University's Counseling and Wellness Services (966-3658). Any employee who wishes to keep his or her concerns confidential should go to the University's Ombuds Office (843-8204)

The most effective way to fight harassment and discrimination is awareness:

To help achieve this, I am pleased to announce that we are implementing two on-line training programs to help raise our awareness and increase our understanding:

* Preventing Sexual Harassment
* Preventing Employment Discrimination

The programs can be accessed at http://www.unc.edu/depts/eooada/.

Your participation in the program is vital; I strongly endorse this program and, because of its significance for the university community, I urge you all to take advantage of it. The program is mandatory for managers and supervisors and should be completed within 60 days. New managers and supervisors should complete the training within thirty days of their start date.

If you have any questions, please contact the Equal Opportunity/ADA Office at 966-3576.

Neither the problems of discrimination and harassment nor the negative consequences for failing to deal with them appropriately will be eliminated from our community unless our commitment to preventing discrimination and harassment is vigorous and unrelenting. I appreciate your efforts to sustain and strengthen such a commitment on our campus.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, January 31, 2007 1:02 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Faculty/Staff Green Games

Please join us in participating in our first ever Faculty/Staff Green Games! Anyone who works for UNC can participate - this includes any temporary employees, undergraduates, graduate students, etc. who work for your department.

Please visit the Faculty/Staff Green Games web page at http://www.fac.unc.edu/WasteReduction/greengames/facstaff/index.asp for information about our upcoming informational Open House.

There are eight award categories in which to be nominated.

* Recycler of the Year
* Green Department of the Year
* Alternative Commuter of the Year
* Environmental Motivator of the Year
* Energy Saver of the Year
* Waste Reducer of the Year
* Water Conservationist of the Year
* Enviro-Maniac of the Year

Please feel free to be as creative as you wish when writing the nominations. These are very open categories, with no parameters as to what makes someone or a department the "best."

All nominations are due by March 16th, 2007. They can be sent in via email through ggfacstaff@unc.edu or through campus mail to the Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling at CB #1800. An awards ceremony will be held in April, the exact date to be determined.

More than one person can contribute to a nomination letter, and you can nominate yourself or your department. If you have any questions or comments regarding the categories or the games, please email ggfacstaff@unc.edu, or contact Amy Preble at 2-5169.

Representatives from the Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling will are willing to come to staff meetings to answer any questions you may have about the program. Please contact us if you are interested in scheduling one.

We look forward to reading your nomination letters!

This email is sponsored by: Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of causey@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, February 1, 2007 8:13 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: IBS Research Study

RESEARCH SUBJECTS NEEDED for Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) Study

Have you been diagnosed by a doctor with IBS? If yes, then you maybe eligible to participate in a Genetics Study looking at the genetic make-up of people who have been diagnosed with Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS). Participation involves a one time study visit to UNC Hospital for two hours to complete some questionnaires and a blood draw. Participants are paid $50 for completing this study.

If you are interested in participation or to learn more about this study then please go to the web link below to provide your contact information. All information you provide is optional. A research coordinator will be in contact with you soon to explain the study in more detail.

Userid: ibsstudy Password: subject

https://bigfoot.med.unc.edu/ibs/index.htm

This message has been approved by the IRB medical review board on 1-22-07.

This email is sponsored by: Program of Digestive Health

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, February 1, 2007 11:51 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: change to employee reg. for Morehead camps

---

Morehead Planetarium and Science Center's online summer camp registration system experienced unexpected difficulties when member registration opened this week. As a result of these difficulties, summer camp registration procedures and dates have changed.

Please visit the MPSC Web site at <http://www.moreheadplanetarium.org/index.cfm?fuseaction=page&filename=summer_camp_overview.html> for new registration procedures.

The special registration period for the UNC-Chapel Hill community will now run from Feb. 19 through Feb. 25, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Morehead Planetarium and Science Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, February 2, 2007 12:34 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Navigating the Global American South Conference

---

Navigating the Global American South Conference: Global Health and Regional Solutions

April 19-20, 2007

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is pleased to announce the 2007 Navigating the Global American South conference with a focus on public health. Over the day and a half conference, we will explore regional approaches to public health and ask what experiences translate between the American South and other world regions.

Featured Plenary Speakers include:
*John Briscoe, Country Director for Brazil, The World Bank
*Pierre Buekens, Dean of Tulane School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine
*Leah Devlin, Director of the North Carolina Division of Public Health
*Judith Rodin, President of the Rockefeller Foundation
*William L. Roper, Dean of UNC School of Medicine and CEO of UNC Health Care System
*Jaime Sepulveda Amor, Visiting Professor, UC San Francisco Global Health Sciences and former Director of the National Institutes of Health of Mexico
*Louis W. Sullivan, founding Dean and first President of the Morehouse School of Medicine and former Secretary of Health and Human Services

Early Registration: $80 professional rate, before March 16th
Late Registration: $95 professional rate, available until April 13th
Student Registration: $25, available until April 13th

The conference is sponsored by UNC's Center for Global Initiatives, Center for the Study of the American South, and Office of Global Health, and by Quintiles Transnational Corp.

For more information and to register, please visit http://globalsouth.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Center for Global Initiatives

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chris_chiron@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, February 2, 2007 9:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Revisions to Dispute Resolution and Staff Grievance Policy

---

To: All Permanent and Temporary SPA Employees

From: Chris Chiron, Policy Administrator, Office of Human Resources

The State Personnel Commission has adopted a policy that allows employees (SPA permanent and temporary) and applicants for SPA positions to file a grievance if they are dissatisfied with a decision on a request for reasonable accommodation due to a disability. This provision has been added to the Dispute Resolution and Staff Grievance Policy, effective February 1, 2007.

Within 30 calendar days from the date of alleged denial of reasonable accommodation of a disability, any SPA employee (including permanent, probationary, and temporary) may file a grievance directly with the Office of Administrative Hearings or choose to use the procedure defined in the Dispute Resolution and Staff Grievance Policy. This is the only issue for which temporary employees may use this procedure.

Applicants for SPA employment who allege denial of reasonable accommodation for a disability during the hiring process may file a grievance directly with the Office of Administrative Hearings within 30 calendar days of the alleged denial of accommodation.

Appropriate forms are available in the FormFinder on the OHR website.

If you have questions regarding this policy, contact Martha Fowler, Grievance Coordinator, at 843-8676.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, February 2, 2007 10:36 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Participants 18-44 Needed for study of Muscle and Jaw Function

---

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for healthy volunteers and people with TMJD to participate.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $260 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060
Email: sensory_study@dentistry.unc.edu

Approved by the Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kate.luttrell@ourclub.com
Sent: Sunday, February 4, 2007 8:04 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Invitation to The Carolina Club

Dear UNC Faculty or Staff Member,

On behalf of The Carolina Club Board of Directors, you are invited to join The Carolina Club with a reduced initiation fee. Through this special offer, the initiation fee will be reduced through April 15, 2007. The monthly dues of just $27 per month, are billed semi-annually. Food and usage charges are billed monthly.

The Carolina Club is centrally located in the George Watts Hill Alumni Center, and with the wonderful Rams Head Center and Parking Deck, parking is more convenient than ever before. Whether it is for lunch or dinner, a business or social event, there is no better place than The Carolina Club to meet colleagues and friends, entertain guests and dine in the friendliest of surroundings! We also have seven private dining rooms available for use with your membership.
Planning an intimate evening or large gala has never been easier!

If you are already familiar with the many benefits of Carolina Club membership and wish to complete your Club application, please download here http://www.carolina-club.com/Membership/CC_application.pdf and fax it to the membership department at 962-1635. To learn more about The Carolina Clubs' membership benefits and costs, please visit http://www.carolina-club.com.

You may also contact the Club's Membership Director, Kate Luttrell, at Kate.Luttrell@ourclub.com or 919-962-0021 with any questions. Please note that membership in The Carolina Club is an exclusive benefit of membership in the UNC General Alumni Association. If you are not a current member of the GAA ($40 annual fee), the Club will help facilitate GAA membership for you.

Did you know that UNC faculty and staff comprise almost one-third of our Members? This is your club! Your staff here at The Carolina Club is dedicated to supporting the University and bettering our community through our value-based offerings, personalized services and culinary excellence.
We look forward to welcoming YOU to The Carolina Club!

THE CAROLINA CLUB
GEORGE WATTS HILL ALUMNI CENTER
STADIUM DRIVE AT RIDGE ROAD, CB# 9180
CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA 27514-0111
919-962-1101

This email is sponsored by: The Carolina Club

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 5, 2007 8:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: subjects needed for patellar tendon study

---

Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery.

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery in the near future, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions tasks while an ultrasound images will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1.5 hours.

You would be paid $30 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call,
Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu

This study is approved by IRB (#05-ORTHO-1005)

This email is sponsored by: orthopaedics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sandelli@EMAIL.UNC.EDU
Sent:	Monday, February 5, 2007 10:35 PM
To:	smutima@EMAIL.UNC.EDU
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Blue & White magazine seeks submissions for Person of the Year

---

Each year, Blue & White magazine profiles a student, faculty member or another individual in the campus community who has made a significant mark on Carolina.
Whether through volunteer service, teaching or finding creative solutions to problems, the Tar Heels chosen for this honor have enhanced UNC-Chapel Hill--and often the world outside its borders--with their presence.

The magazine is now accepting nominations for its 2007 Person of the Year, who will be featured in the April issue of Blue & White.
Nominations should include as much information as possible about why the person being nominated deserves this honor. Contact information for others who could talk to a Blue & White writer about this potential Person of the Year is also appreciated.

Submissions are due by Sunday, Feb. 25, 2007 to Anna Sandelli (sandelli@email.unc.edu). Questions may be directed to tbe same e-mail address.

This email is sponsored by: Blue & White

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 6, 2007 12:07 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Time Information Management Notification

---

From: Time Information Management Implementation Team
To: All EPA Faculty and Non-Faculty
Date: February 2007

Re: UNC Timekeeping Implementation Project SPA Employee Communication

For your information the following memo was distributed to all SPA Employees to communicate some of the changes for the new paperless timekeeping system.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has begun preparations to move to an automated timekeeping and leave tracking system called TIM (Time Information Management). Since 2003 university leaders recognized the need to carefully consider moving from a paper time sheet to an electronic time sheet in an effort to streamline payroll operations and move toward a more efficient means to store and report hours worked.

TIM is a Web-based system designed to automate the recording and processing of worked time and the calculation of leave balances with up to date information at all times. The use of TIM will change the way worked time is currently reported to payroll and will eliminate the manual paper process used today. With this new system, rather than completing timesheets on paper, worked time and use of leave will be recorded and processed online.

Employees will have one electronic timesheet where all information is entered and stored, rather than having to complete several timesheets for various departments or payment types. TIM will keep totals up to date and automatically process time worked for you. Once time is processed and approved, it will be transmitted to payroll electronically, thus eliminating the need to submit a paper time sheet.

What will TIM mean for me?
-Real-time processing that will provide up-to-date timesheet totals
-Eliminating potential errors by automating the calculation of payroll hours
-Eliminating lost or missing time sheets by using electronically handled forms
-Eliminating time sheet rejections by electronic validation
-Electronic manager approvals, no need to track people down for signatures
-One time sheet per pay period for all payments and multiple jobs
-Online data storage, ensuring safe and secure time records and history
-Online up-to-date totals for all leave balance including comp time
-Employee Accrual Balance Report
-Employee access to time history and leave history
-No more missing paychecks due to lost timesheets

When will I begin using TIM? TIM is in the beginning stages of development now. We estimate employee participation to begin in the later part of 2007 and be rolled out by departments through 2008.

Will there be Training? Yes, in many cases employee training will be online. There will be designated staff to help with any questions or issues that arise.

How can I find out more about Tim? A website is being developed and should be ready by March. It will show you some of the system features and give you updates on the progress of the project. See the February 7th Gazette for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Finance Division

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 6, 2007 12:33 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Faculty/Staff Discount Available at PlayMakers!

PlayMakers will be offering a $10 discount to UNC Faculty and Staff to select performances of STONES IN HIS POCKETS. For more information please visit the website below.

http://www.playmakersrep.org/genPage/index.pl?pgid=164

This email is sponsored by: PlayMakers Repertory Company

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of erin_douglas@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 6, 2007 1:16 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research Opportunity for Individuals aged 9-18!

A UNC Research Clinic is currently conducting a study to better understand the risk-factors of psychotic illnesses. We are looking for people between 9-18 years old who have a brother, sister, or parent with schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder. If you or someone you know meets these criteria, please call us at 1(877) PRIME-19 or (919) 843-3419. Participants will receive monetary compensation for their time and efforts.

IRB# 07-PSYCH-631

This email is sponsored by: UNC Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 6, 2007 3:10 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: COLLABORATION GRANTS AVAILABLE

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff:

The Robertson Scholars Collaboration Fund has been instituted to fund projects that have the potential to initiate or enhance collaborative projects between Duke and UNC -Chapel Hill. It is our goal to enhance meaningful social and professional networks between the campuses that are sustainable over the long term.

Faculty, staff and students on both campuses are eligible to apply. One-year grants of up to $5,000 will be awarded, and a total of up to $50,000 is available for this year's competition.

For more information on the fund, an application and a list of past winners, please see: http://www.robertsonscholars.org/collaboration/ or contact Eric Mlyn at mlyn@robertsonscholars.org or 919-843-7506.

This email is sponsored by: ROBERTSON SCHOLARS PROGRAM

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 6, 2007 8:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology & School of Medicine, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 meses de embarazo? O, ¿conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigación sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar más sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envía un correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número de teléfono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu dirección de correo electrónico con personas ajenas a esta investigación. Para obtener mayor información, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefónica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estén intentando quedar embarazadas

¡Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener más conocimientos simplemente compartiendo información sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

La investigadora principal de este estudio es Katherine Hartmann, MD, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiología de la Escuela de Salud Publica y Departamento de Obstetricia y Ginecología de la Escuela de Medicina, ambos pertenecientes a la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisión Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jshapiro@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 6, 2007 9:49 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Treatment for Bulimia Nervosa

Research Study for Women With Bulimia Nervosa

The UNC Eating Disorders Program is seeking women with Bulimia Nervosa for a study that uses mobile phone text messaging to enhance our standard outpatient group cognitive-behavioral treatment program.

All treatment will focus on developing healthy eating behaviors and enhancing mental health.

If you are a woman:

-over the age of 18

-who is concerned about your eating behavior

-who speaks fluent English

We offer a FREE evaluation to determine study criteria and FREE outpatient group treatment for Bulimia Nervosa.

Please call Dr. Jennifer Shapiro
Clinical Assistant Professor

(919) 966-5262
jshapiro@med.unc.edu

This study (05-PSYCH-1150) was approved by the Biomedical IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry - UNC Eating Disorders Program

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 6, 2007 10:29 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you need help with your child or adolescent?

We have limited therapy openings this spring for children and adolescents!

The UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic offers effective psychological interventions for members of the community. The Clinic, which is affiliated with the UNC-CH clinical psychology Ph.D. program, provides a sliding fee scale based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed clinical psychologists. Children and adolescents are seen in our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road with afternoon and evening appointments and adjacent parking.

Our child and family clinic provides child and adolescent therapy and parent education and training for a wide range of child and family issues including attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, mood and anxiety disorders, family conflict, divorce, parenting, school refusal, learning difficulties, and relationship problems. We specialize in effective treatments for children and adolescents who are getting in trouble at home and/or school and acting up with oppositional and conduct problems. Additionally, we offer psychological testing services. Our assessments may include testing for ADHD, giftedness, learning disorders and diagnostic clarity and treatment recommendations.

Please visit our website at psychologyclinic.unc.edu or contact the clinic at 962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu for more information.

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of agranna@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 6, 2007 11:14 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Cross-Cultural Research in Psychology - Call for volunteers!

Have you ever noticed that different people treat time differently?
What does being on time mean to each of us? How late is really late?
Have you ever wondered if time standards are different around the globe?

If you have a few minutes to help advance cross-cultural psychological research about people's attitudes towards time, please consider participating in our study!

The goals of the research are -
* To learn more about people's attitudes towards time and experience with time-limited tests.
* To explore if these beliefs and attitudes differ across cultures.

You qualify to participate if you:
1. Are a native English speaker, who grew up in North America
2. Are between 18 and 45 years of age
3. Have access to computer with internet connection

To participate, please click on the link below to complete a short survey!

http://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE?SID=SV_cIVkDU4LUkJtRY0&SVID=Prod

Contact us by email at agranna@email.unc.edu or hartman@email.unc.edu with any questions about the study.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study(IRB # 06-0544); approval date 12/06/2006.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department, UNC-CH

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of alle@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, February 7, 2007 8:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: CLICK DRIVE 2007--UNC FIGHTS POVERTY WORLDWIDE

CLICK DRIVE 2007

The Click Drive is an annual competition among schools all across the country to raise funds for microcrediting programs worldwide. Last year UNC, finished 3rd among all schools in the country and raise over $2000, but this year we want to do more. By clicking on UNC's link at www.povertfighters.com, you can generate 25¢ towards the competition.

The donation is made by the site's sponsors and each click you make brings UNC one step closer to victory. The competition runs from February 12th-March 30th, 2007.

For more information, visit www.povertyfighters.com. Join the CLICK DRIVE 2007 listserv NOW by sending a blank email to alle@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Campus Y

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, February 7, 2007 10:02 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Health Insurance Open Enrollment

Open enrollment for employee health insurance for the 2007-08 plan year will begin March 1 and run through March 31, 2007. Changes made during the open enrollment period will be effective July 1, 2007, and continue through June 30, 2008.

This enrollment period covers both the Comprehensive Major Medical plan and the Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) options. During this enrollment period, you can change plans, or choose to add or change your current spouse and/or dependent coverage.

If you are currently enrolled in one of the State Health Plan's insurance options, you will receive an enrollment package at your home address in late February. Employees who are not currently enrolled in health insurance, but are interested in signing up, can get enrollment information at the State Health Plan's website, statehealthplan.state.nc.us/.

The enrollment period was moved earlier in the year to accommodate the plan's July 1 benefit start date.

To date, we do not have any information on any potential changes in premium costs or plan benefits for 2007-08. Both premium and benefit changes must be approved by the legislature, and the General Assembly has not taken any action on these items at this time.

We hope to receive additional information from the State Health Plan in the next two weeks. As soon as we receive this, we will let you know.

If you have questions, contact your HR Facilitator or HR Generalist.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, February 8, 2007 8:09 AM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Of Words and Wisdom; Art After Dark; Lunch with 1

OF WORDS AND WISDOM - BIRTHING THE NATIONS: FOUR CORNERS / FOUR WOMEN

Thursday, February 8, 2007
6PM pre-event reception
6:30PM event begins

In celebration of its 10th Anniversary, The Carolina Women's Center, and co-sponsors the Ackland Art Museum, the Curriculum in Women's Studies, and the Creative Writing Program in the Department of English present the Of Words & Wisdom program series event: Birthing the Nations: Four Corners / Four Women — a poetic tribute to women of all nations and the collective spirit of womanhood. Four women representing the four corners of the world will share the stage to pay homage to their foremothers and celebrate a new generation of voices— voices that nurture and transform humanity throughout the ages. Funded, in part, by the Performing Arts & Special Activities Fund.

ART AFTER DARK

Friday, February 9, 2007
5 - 9PM

Join us for Art after Dark and celebrate Fashioning the Divine: South Asian Sculpture at the Ackland Art Museum with live music by sarod and tabla musicians Nikhil Tikekar and Sam Glaize. From exquisite forms to intricate details, the 24 sculptures in Fashioning the Divine offer a rare glimpse into the artistry of South Asia between the 2nd- and 13th-century. Come see for yourself what the News & Observer says "gives shape to awe."

LUNCH WITH ONE

Crystallizing the World's Imagination: Louis-Maurice Boutet de Monvel's Jeanne d'Arc

Thursday, February 15, 2007
1PM

Molly Balikov will discuss the career of French illustrator Louis-Maurice Boutet de Monvel through an examination of his Joan of Arc images and their relationship to objects in the Ackland and UNC libraries collections.

Register on the web.

UPCOMING EVENTS

OF WORDS AND WISDOM: POETRY READING
February 8 from 6-9PM

ART AFTER DARK
February 9 from 5-9PM

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES
February 10 from 10AM-NOON

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
February 12 from 12-1PM
February 27 from 12-1PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
February 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
February 18 from 2-4PM

EXPERIENCE INDIA: A COMMUNITY DAY
February 24 from 10AM-4PM

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
February 28 from 6:30-8PM

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
February 28 from 7-8:30PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Unauthorized use prohibited.

Kang-Lu Achievement Award in Science, 1961. Phaseolus 3002, an early maturing Achievement Award in 2001 Kang-Lu.

Phaseolus acutifolius is a wild relative of the common bean, a Mesoamerican crop, and is used to develop U.S. production Achievement Award.

Karpova Olenkov, Sonia, 1941-1977. Always, color wheel assignments.

- Accessed Jan Wiseman.
- The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of alle@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, February 8, 2007 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: CORRECTION TO UNC'S 2007 CLICK DRIVE MESSAGE

NOTE: The original version of this email contained an erroneous link.
Here is the corrected version.

CLICK DRIVE 2007

The Click Drive is an annual competition among schools all across the country to raise funds for microcrediting programs worldwide. Last year UNC, finished 3rd among all schools in the country and raise over $2000, but this year we want to do more. By clicking on UNC's link at http://www.povertyfighters.com, you can generate 25¢ towards the competition. If we reach our goal of 3000 UNC students, faculty, and staff, we can raise $70,500.

The donation is made by the site's sponsors and each click you make brings UNC one step closer to victory. The competition runs from February 12th-March 30th, 2007.

For more information, visit http://www.povertyfighters.com. Join the CLICK DRIVE 2007 listserv NOW by sending a blank email to alle@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Campus Y

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, February 8, 2007 9:17 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Barbara Entwistle

February 8, 2007

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty and Staff

FROM: Tony Waldrop, Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

RE: Administrative Review of Barbara Entwistle, Director of the Carolina Population Center

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Barbara Entwistle, Director of the Carolina Population Center, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Tim Carey of the Dept of Medicine. Other members include: Jay Kaufman, Dept of Epidemiology; Krista Perriera, Dept of Public Policy; Linda Adair, Nutrition; Bert Peterson, Maternal and Child Health; Guong Guo, Sociology; Tom Health, Carolina Population Center; and Bill Schlesinger, Dean, Duke School of the Environment

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Barbara Entwistle's performance as Director of the Carolina Population Center.

Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, management, and leadership with respect to advancing the mission of the Population Center. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr Entwistle's leadership of the Carolina Population Center is viewed by staff and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in any of the following ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Barbara Entwistle's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by her. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process.

2. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Barbara Entwistle's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

3. You may meet privately with the committee. To arrange a meeting please contact Judy Christman in the Office of Research and Economic Development (judy_christman@unc.edu tel. 962-7757.) Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Barbara Entwistle's personnel file.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr Entwistle's Performance is March 16th. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Barbara Entwistle, Director, Carolina Population Center:

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

Timothy Carey
Sheps Center
timothy_carey@med.unc.edu
966-7100

Linda Adair
Dept. of Nutrition
linda_adair@unc.edu

Guang Guo
Dept. of Sociology
guang_guo@unc.edu
962-1246

Tom Heath
Carolina Population Center
tom_heath@unc.edu
966-1718

Jay Kaufman
Dept. of Epidemiology
jay_kaufman@unc.edu
966-7435

Krista Perreira
Dept. of Public Policy
perreira@email.unc.edu
843-5009

Bert Peterson
Dept. Maternal and Child Health
herbert_peterson@unc.edu
966-5981

Bill Schlesinger
Duke School of Environment
schlesin@duke.edu
613-8004

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, February 8, 2007 10:22 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: CHANCELLOR'S AWARDS DEADLINE EXTENDED

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS: Chancellor James Moeser requests your nominations of our most outstanding students for the Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Student Activities and Leadership. The deadline for nominations has been extended until 5:00 p.m. Friday, February 16, 2007. Nominations for The Ernest L. Mackie Award and the The Class of 1938 Joseph F. Patterson, Jr. and Alice M. Patterson International Leadership Award are especially encouraged.

A full letter of request detailing the intent of these awards, and the online nomination form, can be found at www.unc.edu/chancellorsawards/nom.html. For further information, see the website or contact Tammy Lambert, 966-3128, lambert2@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, February 9, 2007 8:46 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT February 2007 Issue Now Available

---

The February 2007 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm>
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.
*Carolina Internal <http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#1>
*National Science Foundation
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#2>
*National Institutes of Health Grants and Contracts
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#3>
*Multidisciplinary <http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#4>
*Social and Behavioral Sciences
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#5>
*Health and Medical Sciences
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#6>
*Life and Physical Sciences
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#7>
*Arts and Humanities
<http://cfx3.research.unc.edu/fundingopp/index.cfm#8>

CAMPUS NEWS <http://research.unc.edu/rs/campus_news.html>
* SBIR/STTR National Conference Coming to RTP
* RAMSeS Development Workspace Tool
* Major Challenges in Clinical Medicine: An Overview for Basic Scientists
* Center for Global Initiatives Funding Opportunities
* What Investors Look For and How to Position Yourself for Private Investment
* Scientific Research Equipment and Supplies Vendor Forum
* IACUC Training and Compliance Update
* HSL/SPH Office of Research Seminar
* OPS Workshop: Writing from the Reader's Perspective
* New Staff at OTD
* Public Health Research Expertise Database

FUNDING TIPS <http://research.unc.edu/rs/funding_tips.html>
* Learn about New Features and Resources for Improving Your Funding Search Results
* Foundation Directory Platinum Online
* From NIH Extramural Nexus: Who Is a New Investigator?
* Tips on Writing a Letter of Inquiry
* NCURA Training Opportunities

FEDERAL NEWS <http://research.unc.edu/rs/federal_news.html>
* AAAS Research and Development Federal Funding Updates
* NIH Reform Act of 2006 and Next Steps
* Extension of NIH Pilot Study to Shorten the Review Cycle for New Investigator R01 Applications
* NSF 2007 Proposer Survey
* NIH Launches New Online Resource for Institutional Awards Made Data
* NIH and AHRQ Announce Electronic Submission Plans for More Mechanisms
* NIH eSubmission News, Updates, and Help

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library <http://research.unc.edu/grantsource/>. Email research_support@unc.edu for more information or to be added to the list.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kgreen@renci.org
Sent:	Friday, February 9, 2007 10:26 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: RENCI Faculty Fellows Program

RENCI Seeks Faculty Fellows for Innovative, Collaborative Research Projects

Full-time faculty at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are invited to collaborate with the Renaissance Computing Institute (RENCI) through the RENCI Faculty Fellows Program.

The RENCI Faculty Fellows program gives UNC-Chapel Hill faculty the opportunity to partner with RENCI in order to explore new research opportunities and directions; translate new ideas into technology prototypes; develop new community service or educational programs; or develop interdisciplinary projects that integrate the arts or humanities with science.

Fellowships of one academic year or one semester will begin either in the summer or fall 2007 semester. Proposals must he submitted by April 1. A full Call for Proposals with guidelines and submission information is available at http://www.renci.org/about/fellows.php.

Fellows will receive up to $50,000 in support and will have access to RENCI high-performance computing, storage, visualization and data management/analysis capabilities as well as sensor and hardware prototyping resources. They will work with RENCI staff and research scientists to realize the goals outlined in their proposals and will have resources to explore and develop new opportunities and multidisciplinary projects. Fellows will be expected to spend a portion of their time in residence at RENCI and to be actively involved with RENCI during their appointment.

Please read the RENCI Faculty Fellows Call for Proposals and submit completed proposals by April 1 to Margaret Buedel (buedel@renci.org). All those who submit will be notified of acceptance by May 15. For question or clarifications, please contact RENCI Deputy Director Alan Blatecky at alan@renci.org or 919-445-9643.

RENCI...Catalyst for Innovation
The Renaissance Computing Institute brings together computer and discipline scientists, artists, humanists, industry leaders, entrepreneurs, state leaders and educators for collaborations designed to reshape science, the economy, the state of North Carolina and the world. RENCI leverages its expertise and resources in leading edge computing, networking and data technologies to ignite innovation and find solutions to previously intractable problems. Founded in 2004 as a major collaborative venture of Duke University, North Carolina State University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the state of North Carolina, RENCI is a statewide virtual organization. For more, see www.renci.org.

This email is sponsored by: Renaissance Computing Institute

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 12, 2007 12:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor -- College of Arts and Sciences Dean Search

---

Dear Carolina Community:

One of our own, Dr. Holden Thorp, Kenan Professor of Chemistry and Chair of the Department of Chemistry, is the administration's selection to become the next dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The appointment is pending approval by the University's Board of Trustees later this week.

Provost Bernadette Gray-Little, who is traveling abroad on University business, and I are elated to have the opportunity to make such an important appointment to a colleague who has spent his entire academic career at Carolina. Dr. Thorp is someone we know well and admire, and he emerged from a thorough national search that produced a field of excellent, highly qualified finalists. We are confident that, under his leadership, the College will continue to thrive and help keep the entire University appropriately focused on the vital role of undergraduate education and interdisciplinary collaboration.

Dr. Thorp's accomplishments are well known across campus. He is a highly regarded chemist, a wonderful classroom teacher, and a North Carolina native with many diverse interests. He has served the University well in several leadership roles, including as director of the Morehead Planetarium and Science Center, faculty director of fund raising for the Carolina Physical Science Complex, and as a member of the Leadership Advisory Committee that just completed its work in developing guiding principles for the development of Carolina North. He earned his bachelor's degree in chemistry here in 1986 and joined the faculty in 1993.

The University once again has been well served by an open search process that provided opportunities for involvement by those in the College community. The provost and I are particularly grateful for Search Committee Chair Linda Dykstra and her colleagues for their work in bringing this search to a close so efficiently.

I also wish to note the outstanding job that Dr. Madeline Levine has done as the interim dean. She has stepped in and contributed thoughtfully while helping guide the College during this transition period. We are grateful for her service, too.

Please join me in congratulating Dr. Thorp. We look forward to the leadership he will provide as dean and the contributions of the College of Arts and Sciences to the University's future success.

James Moeser
Chancellor

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 12, 2007 8:13 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have breathing problems?

Have you been diagnosed with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, (COPD)? Have you wondered about whether or not your shortness of breath is actually related to a pulmonary disease? Are you a current or past smoker?

UNC Hospitals Pulmonary Research Division is conducting a research study for subjects who have been diagnosed with COPD. COPD is a lung disease in which the lung is damaged, making it hard to breathe. In COPD, the airways that carry air in and out of the lungs are partly obstructed, making average breathing more difficult. COPD is often linked to people with a history of smoking.

This study will research a new COPD medication. Participants in this research study will be asked to make 13 vists to UNC Hospitals over a 56 week period. If you qualify for the study, you will receive study related physical exams, pulmonary evaluations and education about your disease. Participants will receive $810.00 for complete participation.

This research study has received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board. The IRB approval number is 05-2731.

If you are interested in finding out more about this study, please contact Joyce M. Lanier, RRT at 919-966-2531 or email at joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Pulmonary Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pbwatkins@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, February 12, 2007 9:29 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Provide a Blood Sample to Help Medical Research

---

UNC Hospitals and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS), National Institutes of Health (NIH), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) are establishing a registry of DNA samples (Environmental Polymorphisms Registry or EPR) that will help researchers study how variations in our genes (known as polymorphisms) influence our risk for disease.

The EPR will be recruiting participants at the UNC General Clinical Research Center (GCRC) beginning Wednesday, February 14. For more information call (919) 281-1110 x747 or visit our website at http://dir.niehs.nih.gov/direpr/.

To participate, you must:
* Be 18 Years of age or older;
* Provide a blood sample (up to 1 Tablespoon);
* Read and sign a consent form;
* Provide age, gender, and ethnicity;

Participants will receive $20 for their participation.

If you have a UNC Healthcare Medical Record Card, please bring it witb you. If you don't have one, please stop by the patient registration desk in the Hospital's main lobby to get one before coming up to the GCRC (3rd floor of main hospital).

We need your help! Our goal is to collect 20,000 samples, please share this message with friends and family. We appreciate your help getting the word out.

The principal investigators for this study are:

- Perry J. Blackshear, M.D., D.Phil., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS;
- Paul Watkins, M.D., General Clinical Researcb Center, UNC Medical Center;
- Patricia C. Chulada, Ph.D., M.H.S., Office of Clinical Research, NIEHS, NIH, DHHS;
- Susan Pusek, M.P.H., M.S. General Clinical Research Center, UNC Medical Center.

The Environmental Polymorphisms Registry and this message have received approval from both the NIEHS and UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Boards on Research Involving Human Subjects.

This email is sponsored by: General Clinical Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of z@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 13, 2007 1:02 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC HONORARY SOCIETY NOMINATIONS DUE FRIDAY

Nominations for the following UNC honorary societies are due at 5 p.m.
THIS FRIDAY Feb. 16:

-The Order of the Golden Fleece
-The Order of the Grail-Valkyries
-The Order of the Old Well
-The Frank Porter Graham Graduate and Professional Student Honor Society

Nomination forms and selection criteria are available at www.unc.edu/honoraries. Please take a moment to help recognize the accomplishments of UNC students, faculty and staff. If you have questions, please contact z@unc.edu

www.unc.edu/honoraries

This email is sponsored by: Order of the Golden Fleece

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of autismresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 13, 2007 9:44 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: STUDY FOR 2 & 3 YEAR-OLD BOYS

The Autism Research Program is recruiting typically developing boys between the ages of 18-42 months for an MRI (brain scan) study to compare with MRIs of children with autism and Fragile X syndrome. MRI scans use radio waves only (no x-rays) and are considered to be safe and painless.

These longitudinal studies will also contribute to the development of an MRI-based brain atlas of normal pre-schooler brain development.

Participants may earn up to $300 at completion of study

Participation includes developmental assessments and two MRI brain scans.

For more information e-mail autismresearch@med.unc.edu or call 1.800.793.5715 or 3-1535

http://www.psychiatry.unc.edu/autismresearch

Title of Studies: Longitudinal MRI Studies of Brain Development
(UNC# 02-1194, DUMC#4124-02-9R4)
Principal Investigator: Joseph Piven, M.D.
UNC-CH Department: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Autism Research Program

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 13, 2007 11:14 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: LGBTQ Funding Announcement

The Provost's Committee on LGBTQ Life at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill provides advice and counsel to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost on all matters related to LGBTQ concerns. As part of our mission to help foster and sustain the quality of LGBTQ life in the University community, we are able to offer financial support for speakers, colloquia, performances, and other professional activities and innovative programs.

If you are interested in applying for funds, please visit the Office of the Provost webpage http://provost.unc.edu/announcements/lgbtq2007 and complete the funding application. Your application must be submitted at least 30 days before the funding is needed. Proposals for funding up to $1,000 will be considered. Applications are accepted throughout the year and will be reviewed during the academic year by the entire committee.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Cbancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, February 14, 2007 12:41 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Lunch with 1, Drawing for Kids, Music in the Galleries

LUNCH WITH ONE

Crystallizing the World's Imagination: Louis-Maurice Boutet de Monvel's Jeanne d'Arc

Thursday, February 15, 2007
1PM

Visiting lecturer Molly Balikov will discuss the career of French illustrator Louis-Maurice Boutet de Monvel through an examination of his Joan of Arc images and their relationship to objects in the Ackland and UNC libraries collections.

Register on the web.

DRAWING FOR KIDS

Thursdays, February, 15 and 22
3:30 - 5PM
Saturdays, February, 17 and 24
10 - 11:30AM

Explore the many choices that artists make through drawing activities inspired by original works in the Ackland's collection. Learn some new techniques and ways to look at art that make drawing even more fun!

Free. Registration is required. To register, contact Beth Shaw McGuire at 919-962-0479 or bas5705@email.unc.edu.

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES

Sunday, February 18, 2007
2 - 4PM

Once a month, the Ackland welcomes area musicians to play in the galleries. This Sunday, enjoy Netherlandish and European art of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries accompanied by live cello music.

UPCOMING EVENTS

LUNCH WITH ONE
February 15 from 1-2PM

DRAWING FOR KIDS
February 15 from 3:30-5PM
February 17 from 10-11AM
February 22 from 3:30-5PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
February 18 from 2-4PM

EXPERIENCE INDIA: A COMMUNITY DAY
February 24 from 10AM-4PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
February 27 from 12-1PM

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
February 28 from 6:30-8PM

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
February 28 from 7-8:30PM

ART AFTER DARK
March 9 from 5-9PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor, ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Illustrations top to bottom:

Eugene Grasset, French, 1841-1917, March

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hartman@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, February 14, 2007 8:13 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Ever helped someone facing serious illness or physical limitation

---

Have you ever volunteered to help someone (other than a family member) facing serious illness or physical limitations? Have you volunteered in the past three years either informally or through an organization? If so, would you be interested in helping researchers learn more about your experiences?

The goals of the research -
- To find out what types of caregiving support are provided by non-family members
- To learn about the range of volunteer experiences
- To use what we learn to help people in all communities support individuals with serious illness and physical limitations

How to participate -
- Contact us: call (919) 962-2124 or email research@project-compassion.org to find out if you are eligible.
- If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend about 45 minutes to complete a questionnaire - at home and at your convenience.
- You may choose to receive the questionnaire either by mail or e-mail. In either case, just send us the forms once you have completed them. If you choose to mail them, we will provide postage, etc.
- You will receive a small gift as a token of appreciation.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study (05-0076). Approval Date: 5/23/06

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, February 14, 2007 9:30 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: BEAT HUNGER BEAT DUKE CAMPAIGN 2007

The Beat Hunger Beat Duke campaign is an annual competition that expands the rivalry between UNC and Duke to the benefit of thousands of needy North Carolinians. The competition runs the entire month of February and includes all four major North Carolina universities--Duke, UNC, Wake Forest, and NC Sate. The goal is to see which university can raise the most pounds of food to benefit the Food Bank of Central and Eastern North Carolina.

To make this competition a success, we need YOUR help. Donations can be made online at http://www.beathungerbeatduke.com using your UNC One Card or a credit card. Because the Food Bank is able to buy in bulk (at a rate of about 5 cans of food for every $1), monetary donations are very much appreciated, but you can also visit http://www.beathungerbeatduke.com for information about possible drop-off locations for physical donations on campus.

If you're interested in helping out with the campaign, there is also and involvement form on the website.

LET'S SHOW 'EM WHY WE CAN'T BE BEAT!!!

Go to http://www.beathungerbeatduke.com and support the campaign!

This email is sponsored by: Campus Y

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hinderli@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, February 15, 2007 8:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research Opportunity to Lower Blood Pressure Without Medication

---

LOWER YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE AND IMPROVE YOUR CARDIOVASCULAR HEALTH!

Researchers at the UNC School of Medicine and Duke University Medical Center are currently recruiting patients for ENCORE (Exercise and Nutrition Interventions for Cardiovascular Health).

ENCORE is a randomized clinical trial of diet and exercise. Participants are randomly assigned to one of three 4-month programs: (1) Weight management (including the DASH diet, exercise, and behavior modification); (2) DASH diet (without weight loss or exercise); and (3) Usual diet control (usual diet without exercise or weight loss).

Please contact us if you:
* Have blood pressure between 130-159/ 85-99
* Are at least 15 pounds overweight
* Are at least 35 years old
* Are not currently taking anti-hypertensive medication

Procedures include:
* Cardiovascular screening and monitoring at no cost
* Weight management or DASH diet or usual diet for 4 months
* Participants will be compensated up to $355 for food and travel

For more information, contact our recruitment leader, Katie Earnhardt at 919-684-3975 or either Dr. Alan Hinderliter at UNC (843-5206) or Dr. James Blumenthal at Duke (684-3828).

Thank you!

DUKE University IRB #4842, Approved 2/2/07

This email is sponsored by: Duke University Medical Center and UNC Hospitals

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, February 15, 2007 8:48 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: CHANCELLOR'S AWARDS DEADLINE

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS: Chancellor James Moeser requests your nominations of our most outstanding students for the Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Student Activities and Leadership. Nominations are due by 5:00 p.m. Friday, February 16, 2007.

A full letter of request detailing the intent of these awards, and the online nomination form, can be found at www.unc.edu/chancellorsawards/nom.html. For further information, see the website or contact Tammy Lambert, 966-3128, lambert2@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, February 15, 2007 9:31 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right

Something Not Quite Right?

The Prime Research Clinic is conducting a study to better understand the causes and course of basic symptoms. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 14-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Clinic. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Go to the 'Simple Survey' by clicking on the link or paste into your browser:
http://www.med.unc.edu/cgi-bin/prime/page1.pl

Or
visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

03-Psych-53
August 23, 2006
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects The BioMedical IRB University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, February 16, 2007 10:07 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Director, American Indian Center Open Forums

---

To: UNC-Chapel Hill Community
From: Search Committee for Director, American Indian Center
Re: Director, American Indian Center Open Forums

The Search Committee invites you to attend upcoming forums with candidates for the position of Director, American Indian Center and share your feedback. These forums are designed to help introduce students, faculty, staff, and friends of the American Indian Center to future plans for the Center and to give the wider community a chance to hear the candidates' ideas for ways to enhance this fine institution.

The Director will be responsible for strategic planning, policy development, program development and implementation, program evaluation, and fiscal and administrative oversight. The Director will be the Center's official representative to internal and external constituencies, and will be responsible for academic outreach to Native communities, within the state, and beyond. He or she will collaborate extensively with faculty, staff, administrators, and students from all areas of the campus as well as with alumni and community partners, and will serve as the link between the American Indian Center and the academic programs of the University at large. The Center's internal and external advisory boards will support the Director in achievement of the goals of the new American Indian Center. The Director will supervise the staff of the Center and oversee fiscal and administrative activities.

Candidate forums have been scheduled for the following dates:

February 26 - 4:00 - 4:45 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum

Dr. Clara Sue Kidwell
Director, Native American Studies and Professor of History, University of Oklahoma

Dr. Kidwell is enrolled in the White Earth Band of Chippewa. She is also of Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma ancestry. She received a Ph.D. in 1970 from the University of Oklahoma in the History of Science. Her current scholarship is focused on Choctaws and her book Choctaws in Oklahoma 1855-1970: From Tribe to Nation, will be published by the University of Oklahoma Press in the fall of 2007. She is currently the Director of Native American Studies and Professor of History at the University of Oklahoma.

March 1 - 4:00 - 4:45 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum

Dr. Susan Faircloth
Assistant Professor of Education (Educational Leadership), Pennsylvania State University

Dr. Susan Faircloth is a native of North Carolina and a member of the Coharie Tribe. She received a Ph.D. from The Pennsylvania State University in 2000 in Educational Administration concentrating in Special Education and the education of American Indian and Alaska Native students with disabilities. She is an Assistant Professor of Education and co-Director of the American Indian Leadership Program at The Pennsylvania State University.

March 8 - 4:00 - 4:45 - Square Gallery in the Ackland Art Museum

Dr. Ronny Bell
Associate Professor, Division of Public Health Sciences, Wake Forest University School of Medicine

Dr. Ronny Bell is Lumbee and a native of Robeson County in North Carolina. He received a PhD in 1993 from The University of North Carolina at Greensboro in Food and Nutrition and a M.S. in Epidemiology from Wake Forest University in 1996. Professor Bell has been on the faculty at Wake Forest University since 1996. Dr. Bell's research interests include chronic disease prevalence and risk factors, with particular interest in American Indian populations. He is Interim Associate Director of the Maya Angelou Research Center on Minority Health at Wake Forest University Health Sciences

Each candidate will discuss the special challenges and opportunities of the new American Indian Center and address the relation of the Center to its different audiences and constituencies.

A reception will be held from 4:45-5:30 following each forum.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, February 16, 2007 11:15 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Dental study seeking participants

Do your gums bleed?

Would you like to volunteer for a gum disease study?

You may be eligible to participate in this study if you are:
- Between the ages of 18 and 65
- In good general health
- Not pregnant
- Non-smokers
- Willing to commit to a 9 week study with one visit per week (8 visits total)

If you qualify, study participants may receive up to $260 upon successful study completion.

To learn more about this study, please contact the GO Health Center staff at 919-966-5271.

Please do not respond to this email, we are unable to exchange personal information due to HIPAA Compliance Issues.

Approved by UNC IRB 10/27/2006

This email is sponsored by: Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Dental Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Saturday, February 17, 2007 12:15 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Bell Tower Lot Access Shifts Tues., Feb. 20

Attention UNC Students, Faculty, and Staff:

Bell Tower Drive will temporarily close beginning at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, February 20th. The closure, tentatively scheduled to last for approximately four (4) weeks, is due to underground utility construction in that area. Interim access from South Road to and from the Bell Tower Lot (BG Zone), the Sonja Hanes Stone Center, the Kenan Football Center, and other adjacent facilities will shift to the service road just to the east of Coker Woods.

For more information, or to see a map of this area, visit the following website:

"http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/breakingnews/BGWeb/BG.htm"

Concurrent with the closing, the traffic signal at the intersection of Bell Tower Drive and South Road will he deactivated, and a traffic signal at the new access road will become operational. Similarly, the pedestrian accessway across South Road at Bell Tower Drive will be relocated to the east at the new traffic signal. East / West traffic and pedestrian flow along South Road will not be interrupted.

We appreciate your cooperation during this construction project. If you have further questions, call the UNC Department of Public Safety at 962 - 3951.

Thank You,
The UNC Department of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 19, 2007 2:19 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Peace Corps class presentations]
Attach: Peace Corps class presentations (3.98 KB).msg

From: Brian Pedersen <peacecorps@unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, February 19, 2007 12:19 PM
To: jen321@email.unc.edu
Subject: Peace Corps class presentations

Professor Nyang'oro--

I contacted you last semester as I am the Peace Corps Campus Recruiter based at UNC-CH. I was wondering if you would be so kind as to send this email out to your faculty!

Again this semester, I am hoping to find classes in your department where I could give a brief presentation (5 minutes max.) to students about opportunities with the Peace Corps. Peace Corps offers exciting opportunities throughout the world for students to apply their skills while developing professional skills that last a lifetime.

Any interested professors can contact me directly and we will set something up.

Thank you in advance for your assistance!

Best,
Brian Pedersen

Peace Corps Campus Recruiter
RPCV Guinea (1999-2002)
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Peace Corps Campus Office
401 Hanes Hall, CB 5140
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
(919) 962-0185
peacecorps@unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mjkutche@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 19, 2007 8:20 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Smoking - Oral Cancer Study

Oral Cancer?
If you are over the age of 45 and smoke and/or drink you are a high risk for getting oral cancer.

We are examining persons who meet the above requirements for age and smoking and/or drinking history in a research study evaluating a new test to better see the early lesions of oral cancer.
The test uses a liquid, blue stain which is rinsed for less than a minute.
Only one or two short visits are necessary.

This research study pays an honorarium for your time and participation.

For more information, please contact,
Dr. Mark Kutcher at (919) 843-4658
University of North Carolina School of Dentistry

This research study and advertisement have been approved by the Institutional Review Board, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

This email is sponsored by: School of Dentistry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbickford@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 19, 2007 10:12 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Orange County Rape Crisis and Carolina Women's Center

---

Rape Crisis Center Partners with Carolina Women's Center for Crisis Coverage

The Orange County Rape Crisis Center and the Carolina Women's Center have partnered to enable the Rape Crisis Center, a community-based nonprofit agency, to offer crisis line coverage and walk in services for sexual assault survivors on the UNC-Chapel Hill campus. This collaboration helps the Rape Crisis Center to have more of its trained volunteer companions who are based on campus as students, faculty or staff to volunteer for daytime crisis line shifts without taking the additional time to travel from campus to the Rape Crisis Center's office on Estes Drive.

"We are grateful to Donna Bickford and Chimi Boyd, staff at the Carolina Women's Center, for recognizing that relationships between community and campus are vital to combat major problems such as sexual violence response," said Margaret Barrett, Executive Director of the Rape Crisis Center. Michelle Johnson, Client Services Director at the Rape Crisis Center, added "Increasing the visibility of community-based sexual violence services on campus helps survivors to know that they are not alone, and helps everyone to know that there are ways to get involved in the movement to stop sexual violence and its impact.

The Carolina Women's Center staff is excited about this partnership and increasing the ways the Center works with survivors of sexual violence to find support and advocacy. Donna Bickford, Director of the CWC, stated that "Having OCRCC companions at the CWC makes even more visible the sustained commitment of both organizations to assisting survivors on the UNC campus." The collaboration will begin by providing companion services twice a week at the CWC, with the intent of increasing Orange County Rape Crisis Center crisis line shifts at the Carolina Women's Center in the future.

The Orange County Rape Crisis Center, a Triangle United Way Member Agency of Excellence, has offices in Chapel Hill and Hillsborough. For more information, call (919) 968-4647, visit the website at www.ocrcc.org, or access the 24-hour crisis line by calling 1-866-WE LISTEN.

To learn more about the Carolina Women's Center, visit the website at http://womenscenter.unc.edu or call (919) 962-8305.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of salzman@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, February 19, 2007 11:27 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Free Heart Screening During Pregnancy (Examen gratis durante el embarazo)

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje biling|e. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or someone you know pregnant?
Interested in FREE heart screening?

The PAVED study at UNC is a research study of heart function during pregnancy.

We are now enrolling pregnant women, age 18 and older, who do not have any known heart problems. Participants will receive free heart screening during the last trimester of pregnancy and 5 months after giving birth. This free heart screening will be done at UNC Hospitals for approximately 1 hour and will include:

* A special electrocardiogram (ECG) that records heart rhythm and also heart sounds
* An echocardiogram (ultrasound of heart)
* A physical exam by a cardiologist
* Blood and urine samples

Participants will also be visited by study personnel during their delivery hospitalization and receive a follow-up phone call 18 months later.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call 919-966-0859 or e-mail Cary Salzmann at salzman@med.unc.edu.

The Principal Investigator for this study is Patricia Chang, MD, UNC Division of Cardiology.

The PAVED Study(GCRC#2389)and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board (9/28/2006).

?Esta embarazada o conoce a alguien que lo esti?
?Le interesa hacerse un examen del corazsn gratis?

El estudio PAVED en la Universidad de Carolina del Norte es un estudio de la funcisn del corazsn durante el embarazo.

Estamos ahora inscribiendo a mujeres embarazadas de 18 aqos o mas de edad, en quienes se desconocen problemas del corazsn. Participantes recibiran un examen del corazsn gratis durante el zltimo trimestre del embarazo y 5 meses despuis de dar a luz. Este examen del corazsn gratis se efectuara en los Hospitales de UNC por aproximadamente 1 hora e incluira:

* Un electrocardiograma especial (ECG) para rastrear los ritmos y sonidos del corazsn
* Un ecocardiograma (sonograma del corazsn)
* Un examen fmsico por un cardislogo
* Analisis de sangre y orina

Los participantes tambiin seran visitados por personal del estudio durante su hospitalizacisn del parto y recibiran una llamada telefsnica de seguimiento 18 meses despuis.

Si esta interesada en participar o desea mas informacisn, por favor comunmquese con Cary Salzmann por telifono (919-966-0859) o por correo electrsnico (salzman@med.unc.edu).

La Investigadora Principal de este estudio es Patricia Chang, MD, UNC
Divisisn de Cardiologma.

El estudio PAVED(GCRC#2389)y este mensaje han recibido aprobacisn de la Junta Midica de Revisisn Institucional (IRB - por sus siglas en inglis) de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte (9/28/2006).

This email is sponsored by: Cardiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kyang@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 12:37 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Discover Southeast Asia!

The Southeast Asia Interest Association (SEAIA) strives to enhance the understanding of social, cultural, and economic issues relating the Southeast Asian region within the local community and raises funds for humanitarian and educational efforts that affect Southeast Asian nations.

In the past, SEAIA has hosted cultural events like cooking demonstrations, an Iron Chef competition, a distinguished speakers series, and more. In addition, SEAIA has also accomplished providing a year-long lunch program for Burmese migrant children in a camp located in Thailand.

For more information about upcoming events and getting involved, please visit our web site at http://www.unc.edu/seaia

This email is sponsored by: Southeast Asia Interest Association

This email is sponsored by: Southeast Asia Interest Association

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fpghs@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 1:48 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Frank Porter Graham Honor Society nominations deadline extended

---

The Frank Porter Graham Graduate and Professional Honor Society (FPGHS) has extended its deadline for nominations until Friday, February 23 at 5:00 PM.

FPGHS recognizes outstanding service provided to the University and community by graduate and professional students enrolled at UNC. It also recognizes the contributions of faculty, staff, and friends of UNC who have made significant contributions to the development of graduate and professional education at the University.

Faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to nominate deserving individuals for membership in FPGHS. Nomination forms and selection criteria can be found at www.unc.edu/honoraries.

The deadline for nominations is 5 p.m. on Feb. 23, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Frank Porter Graham Graduate and Professional Student Honor Society

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kilic@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 4:32 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Latino females needed for the study

---

Healthy Latino female volunteers are needed for a UNC research study using a FDA-approved drug. The study consists of three 20 minute outpatient visits over 24-36 hours to the UNC general clinical research center (GCRC). You will donate blood during these visits. Volunteers will earn $100 for completing the study.

In order to participate you must:
* Be a non-pregnant Latino female.
* Be 18-50 years of age.
* NOT have a history or diagnosis of any significant medical condition.
* NOT have taken any prescription drug within 30 days of the study, or over-the-counter medications or herbal products (excluding vitamin supplements) within two weeks of the study.
* NOT have a history of alcohol abuse or use of illicit drugs.
* NOT have a history of tobacco use within the last year.

How to participate:
* Contact Katarina or Larry at (919)-962-5005 or e-mail pkstudy@gmail.com
* If you decide to participate, you will be asked to spend approximately 15 minutes to answer a few questions over the phone.
* If you meet the pre-screening criteria we will schedule a one hour screening visit at the GCRC.

IRB Approval Number: 05-2932
Approved by UNC IRB on Feb 16 2007

This email is sponsored by: DPET

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of knpeters@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 9:00 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Online Auction to benefit the UNC Dance Marathon!

Visit UNC Dance Marathon's Online Auction, and bid on items to help support the North Carolina Children's Hospital.

Auction items featured online include: Two roundtrip American Airline tickets; Memorial Hall tickets; Family museum package; $50 Planet Beach gift certificates; Five yoga classes; Signed script and DVD collection from One Tree Hill; Four tickets to the Carolina Theater; $50 Top of the Hill gift certificate; $60 Dillards gift certificate; One month gym membership at The Wellness Center; American Dance Festival tickets; Family trip to Grandfather Mountain; Two professional tennis lessons; First class Eurorail pass; 4 UNC versus Duke Women's Basketball Game tickets to Cameron Indoor Stadium; Foster's Market gift basket; One night stay and brunch at The Carolina Inn; Complete camping package; accessories, jewelry, and much more!!!

Visit the Dance Marathon Online Auction today at www.uncmarathon.org for your chance to bid on these items! Also, please visit our Web site to find out how you can become part of the 2007 UNC Dance Marathon. It's For the Kids!

The UNC Dance Marathon is a yearlong student fundraising effort for the patients and families of the N.C. Children's Hospital. In its first eight years at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the Marathon has raised more than $1 million dollars and created lasting relationships between the families and patients of the hospital and the campus community.

All proceeds raised by the UNC Dance Marathon go to the For the Kids Fund, a unique fund set up to allow patients and families of the hospital to benefit directly from fundraising. The For the Kids Fund helps families cover costs not associated with insurance or Medicaid. For many of the families at the N.C. Children's Hospital, these costs present an extra burden. Such costs should not be a concern for parents when the real focus is the health of their children.

The UNC Dance Marathon culminates with a 24-hour celebration during which hundreds of student volunteers stand on their feet in a symbolic show of support to bring hope to the families and children of the N.C. Children's Hospital.

Visit the UNC Dance Marathon website for more information, or to find out how you can become part of a lasting Carolina tradition. Visit www.uncmarathon.org.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Dance Marathon

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 20, 2007 10:06 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Phillip and Ruth Hettleman Prizes for Artistic and Scholarly Achievement

---

TO: Members of the Faculty
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

FROM: James Moeser, Chancellor

DATE: January 22, 2007

RE: Phillip and Ruth Hettleman Prizes for Artistic and Scholarly Achievement by Young Faculty

==========

With this memo, I am soliciting nominations for the 2007 Hettleman Prizes for Scholarly and Artistic Achievement by Young Faculty. These prizes, made possible by the generosity of Phillip and Ruth Hettleman, will recognize scholarly and artistic achievement by junior tenure-track, or recently tenured, members of the faculty. Four recipients will be selected and each award will be worth $5,000. The awardees in 2006 were Dr. Anne MacNeil (Music), Dr. Jeffrey Johnson (Chemistry), Dr. Jonathan Oberlander (Social Medicine), and Dr. David Siderovski (Pharmacology).

The Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, Tony Waldrop, will convene the committee to advise me on the bestowal of these prizes. The committee consists of six professors, three from the Division of Academic Affairs and three from the Division of Health Affairs

Those eligible to be nominated for these prizes are assistant professors in their third or fourth years who have been recommended for reappointment for a second term, any second term assistant professor, and any associate professor who will not have been in rank as an associate professor for longer than three years at the end of this academic year.

Nominations should include seven copies of the following:

* Nominating Letter
  Nominations may be made by appointing units or by members of the University community from within or outside the nominee's department. The nominating letter should explain why the nominee's work is "groundbreaking".

* Nominee's Curriculum Vitae

* Documentation
  Seven copies of articles that the nominee has written, papers that the nominee has given, and/or photographs of art that the nominee has produced.

* Letters of Evaluation
  These letters can be both within and outside the nominees department, as well as this University. Letters from the outside do not have to be written explicitly for the Hettleman Award, rather these letters can be ones collected for tenure and promotion decision, reappointment considerations or letters written for other awards. Letters shall emphasize and critically evaluate the distinctive contribution of the nominee's scholarship to his or her discipline. They must make clear to an audience of intelligent laypersons the scholarly or artistic significance of the nominee's work. It is hoped that each scholarly project will already be in the public domain, but manuscripts accepted for publication or in galley form will be considered.

I wish to determine the winners of these prizes before the summer. I ask faculty members to submit nominations by letter to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, 312 South Building, no later than Friday, March 9, 2007. Tony Waldrop and the committee will then be asked to provide me with a list of recommendations from the committee for the prizes. The announcements of the prizes will be made at the first Faculty Council meeting of the fall term of 2007.

Let me close by expressing again my appreciation, which I know you share, to Phillip and Ruth Hettleman for this very generous and creative effort to recognize the scholarly achievements by junior members of our faculty.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ncbg@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 10:20 PM
To:	smutima@EMAIL.UNC.EDU
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Nature Explorers Summer Camp for Kids

---

Spaces Still Available in the Nature Explorers Summer Day Camp

This summer, the North Carolina Botanical Garden is again offering exciting opportunities for young nature explorers. The great outdoors will be a place for investigation and discovery, as we celebrate Life Forces -- Earth, Air, Fire, Water, and Spirit. Guest scientists and naturalists will help us take a closer look at the many wonders of our natural world. Two one-week-long sessions, with a new extended-day option.

Session I: 6-8 year olds, June 18-22
Session II: 9-11 year olds, June 25-29
8:30 am to 3:00 pm Optional extended hours are 3:00-4:30 pm

Fee: $165/week Botanical Garden members, $180/week others (for extended-day option: add $35). Call soon to register: 962-0522.

This email is sponsored by: North Carolina Botanical Garden

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of itawards07@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, February 20, 2007 11:05 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 2007 IT Awards Call for Nominations

Have you benefited from the expertise of a caring technology professional, or team of professionals, here at UNC in the past year? Has someone who provides technical support to you or your organization demonstrated an exemplary level of service, dedication, or tenacity in solving a problem for you? If so, please consider submitting a nomination for the prestigious UNC IT Awards, given annually to individuals and teams who shine in their respective roles and often go above and beyond the call of duty.

The selection committee may not know the person(s) you are nominating or know what his/her job entails, so it is important that you be as specific as you can about why you feel the person exemplifies excellence in information technology support. Providing a detailed nomination that illuminates all aspects of the nominee's excellence will help us to make a more informed decision.

Please submit your nomination by Friday, March 9, 2007, via the IT Awards website at http://itawards.unc.edu/nomination/. If you have questions, please feel free to contact the committee at itawards07@unc.edu.

Thank you, in advance, for your participation.

2007 IT Awards Committee

This email is sponsored by: 2007 UNC IT Awards Committee

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, February 21, 2007 10:24 AM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Experience India, The Great Game, Yoga

EXPERIENCE INDIA
A Community Day at the Ackland

Saturday, February 24, 2007
10 AM to 4 PM

Celebrate the history and culture of India in a full day of activities at the Ackland Art Museum. Traditional musicians, dancers, story tellers, together with other members of the local Buddhist and Hindu communities will fill the day with activities for all ages. Hands on activities will take place in the Hanes Art Center next door to the Ackland. Come and spend the day.

All activities are free.
All ages welcome.

THE GREAT GAME

Now through March 4th

In honor of the current Ackland exhibition, "Fashioning the Divine, South Asian Sculpture," Theatre Previews at Duke is offering 20% off tickets to the world premiere of "The Great Game," a play that takes place in India and England.

"The Great Game" is playing now through March 4th at Reynolds Theater in the Bryan Center at Duke University. Tickets are regularly $18-$30.

Learn more about the play at http://www.duke.edu/web/theaterstudies.

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES

Tuesday, February 27, 2007
12:10 PM to 1 PM

Namasté! Take a break from your day and explore the world of yoga in the beautiful setting of the Ackland! Yoga has many benefits from calming and focusing the mind to increasing strength and flexibility. This session will provide an opportunity to practice some gentle yoga poses asanas that can be done on a mat or in a chair. In yoga, the breath is used to link the body and mind. We will integrate simple breathing techniques called pranayama into the session and end with a final resting pose and meditation. The 50-minute session will be held in the Asian art gallery of the Museum. References to one or two pieces in the collection will be made during the practice.

Registration is limited so only those who reserve in advance are guaranteed a place. Please bring a yoga mat if possible and wear comfortable clothing that allows you to stretch. Beginners are welcome.

UPCOMING EVENTS

DRAWING FOR KIDS
February 22 from 3:30-5PM

EXPERIENCE INDIA
A COMMUNITY DAY
February 24 from 10AM-4PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
February 27 from 12-1PM
March 12 from 12-1PM
March 27 from 12-1PM

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
February 28 from 6:30-8PM

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
February 28 from 7-8:30PM

ART AFTER DARK
March 9 from 5-9PM

INTIMATE VIEWS EXHIBITION OPENING
March 9 from 6-8PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
March 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
March 18 from 2-4PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor, ackland-e-news@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
If you no longer wish to receive the Ackland's e-news, send an email to lyris@listserv.unc.edu. Type "remove ackland-e-news" in the body of the message.

Reserve a Seat.

Illustrations (pp. 30-100)

Frederick Kernaghan, Painted vapor: Women, sin, health in nineteenth-century CE: excerpts, school, Gift of Harry Lorenzi, Los Angeles.

Lionel Pinks, Lionel Pinks papers: Photographs, correspondence, and sketches of early twentieth-century CE lesbians, Gift of Clara T. and Gilbert J. Vogel in honor of Charles Wilkes.

Brandon Mashyo Prashant, Changing Darwinian, sin, mishmash in nineteenth-century CE: summons, Gift of Dr. and Mrs. Vogel.

- Ashland Art Museum.
- The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ccps@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, February 21, 2007 8:55 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Deadline approaches - Public Service Awards Call for Nominations

---

To all UNC students, faculty, and staff,

The deadline for submitting nominations for these prestigious awards is next Friday, March 2 at 5:00pm. Read about these awards below and nominate a student, staff, faculty member or UNC Unit for an award today!

Do you know of an individual or University unit making a difference in the community through public service and engaged scholarship? If so, please consider honoring them by nominating them for a 2007 Public Service Award.

The Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) announces its call for nominations for the Ned Brooks Award for Public Service, the Robert E. Bryan Public Service Award, and the Office of the Provost Engaged Scholarship Award. These prestigious awards recognize individual students, faculty, staff, and University units for extraordinary public service and engaged scholarship.

Nominations may be submitted by students, staff, faculty, and/or community members and are due by 5:00 PM on Friday, March 2, 2007. Nominators are cautioned to review the criteria for each award to ensure any nominations are in line with the selection requirements for the particular award.

Go to the Carolina Center for Public Service website at http://www.unc.edu/cps to obtain a nomination form. You can also get detailed information on each award and tips on writing effective nominations at this site.

Questions may be directed to ccps@unc.edu or 843-7568.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Center for Public Service

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of frankmaynard@uncaa.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, February 21, 2007 10:52 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Finley Golf Course Faculty/Staff League

---

ATTENTION ALL UNC FACULTY/STAFF

UNC Finley Golf Course is offering a FACULTY/STAFF GOLF LEAGUE

Limited space!!! First come, first serve

Email Frank Maynard III Senior Assistant Golf Professional, for more information at frankmaynard@uncaa.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Finley Golf Course

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, February 22, 2007 9:36 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor, Provost: Faculty Support Critical for Future

---

We are writing to share some exciting updates about the Carolina First Campaign, our plans to use campus-based tuition revenue for faculty salary increases, and new initiatives to improve faculty support in the North Carolina General Assembly's biennial budget process.

Yesterday the University celebrated an extraordinary achievement. The Carolina First Campaign has officially broken its $2 billion goal over 10 months ahead of schedule. We reached that pinnacle with a $50 million pledge from Dennis and Joan Gillings to the School of Public Health. As a former faculty member in the school, Dennis keenly appreciates the importance of academic quality, and his latest gift will make a tremendous difference in the years ahead.

Faculty support has always been a major focus of the campaign. Now we are rapidly closing in on reaching our goal for creating 200 new endowed professorships and extending by $100 million our total goal for faculty support.

We have established 193 endowed professorships to honor senior faculty members' achievements. We only lack gifts for seven of these professorships to reach 200. Faculty already hold 61 of these chairs in the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as the schools of dentistry, medicine, pharmacy and public health. When all 200 professorships are filled the impact across campus will be significant. Through the campaign, we are also raising expendable and endowed funds to support important faculty retention and recruitment initiatives - research stipends, summer programs, materials, graduate support and course development. Each school and unit has its own push under way to bolster faculty support.

Yesterday, we also launched a special $100 million fund-raising drive for faculty support. That raises the total campaign goal for faculty to $500 million, with an emphasis on helping early- and mid-career faculty. Our alumni and friends have already committed more than $335 million for this purpose. Donors are responding because they understand the importance of this faculty and its role in transforming the North Carolina economy and providing new knowledge to our nation and world.

It is vital for faculty to know that our Board of Trustees, the Carolina First Campaign volunteer leaders and this administration are united in our steadfast commitment to addressing this University's highest priority: finding the resources to retain and recruit the most outstanding faculty. There is no more important challenge facing the University today. We are committed to retaining and supporting our great faculty. Our aim is to build and protect quality. You drive the University's academic accomplishments and help us to attract the very best students. You teach our students to become the leaders of tomorrow. Your research improves the lives of citizens in North Carolina and beyond. And your leadership is the cornerstone of a rich legacy of public service and engagement in Chapel Hill.

Concern about the welfare of the faculty has long driven the annual deliberations about campus-based tuition increases at Carolina. These revenues targeting faculty salaries and compensation, including benefits, have made a real difference -- more than $24.6 million since we were authorized to use these funds in 2000-2001 to address pressing campus priorities.

Earlier this month, the UNC Board of Governors approved a series of campus-based tuition increases for our campus, effective next fall, ranging from $250 for North Carolina undergraduates to $500 for graduate students to $1,250 for out-of-state undergraduates. More than 60 percent of the resulting revenue, approximately $5.5 million, will supplement any additional appropriations from the General Assembly for faculty pay increases in the 2007-08 fiscal year. Those tuition funds will be distributed to departments and schools for faculty as part of our normal process. (The remaining revenue will be used for other key needs: raising minimum graduate teaching assistant stipends by $400 annually and holding students who qualify for need-based financial aid harmless from the impact of the increases.)

The context for these tuition increases is quality and excellence. This is one important source of revenue to help us meet some of our many needs and preserve the quality of education we provide to students. These revenues have been invaluable in past years in which the General Assembly was unable to appropriate significant funding for faculty support.

We are pleased to share our optimism about this year's prospects of the General Assembly taking a major step forward in recognizing the value of this faculty to the state. UNC President Erskine Bowles has taken an excellent 2007-2009 budget proposal to our legislators. Need-based financial aid is the top UNC system priority, in recognition of a traditional emphasis on access and affordability.

Next is direct support for outstanding faculty through two major proposals. The president is seeking merit-based 4 percent salary increases in both years of the biennium with a request for all 16 campuses of nearly $143 million. Last year's pay raises, averaging about 6 percent, were a great start. Now this funding would help each campus compete with other states in recruitment and retention. That goal also requires bringing the average faculty salary at each UNC campus to the 80th percentile of its public peers. The president asked the General Assembly for another $87.6 million to meet that objective. For our University, this would mean $20.7 million over the next two years.

In addition, the president's budget seeks $2 million across the UNC system for more distinguished professorships created by matching state funds. We have been enormously successful in leveraging the generous gifts of private donors with state funds for this purpose. This has proven to be a great way to strengthen the faculty, and we will need more of these funds as we conclude the Carolina First Campaign.

President Bowles' proposals put some real muscle behind our collective push to improve faculty salaries strategically by combining the emphasis on merit-based increases and the 80th percentile goal. By far, this is the best set of proposals we have had to work with before a legislative session in recent history. Carolina is extremely well represented in the president's proposal - especially in articulating the true needs and aspirations of this University when it comes to faculty support. We will strongly support President Bowles and General Administration in building understanding of these proposals in Raleigh.

Through Carolina First we are doing all we can on our own to expand the level of financial support available to faculty through the generosity of private donors. Modest campus-based tuition increases are generating dollars crucial to maintaining the quality of the faculty. Working with President Bowles, we are seeking the level of state support for faculty required to propel a great university to even greater heights. Tapping all three of these revenue fronts is the best approach we have to address the needs of our faculty.

Please know that all of your efforts on behalf of our students and this University are deeply appreciated. We look forward to sharing updates about the progress of these efforts to support faculty even more strongly in the months ahead.

Sincerely,

James Moeser, Chancellor

and

Bernadette Gray-Little, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, February 22, 2007 9:41 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Alternate Access to ATM Drive begins Feb. 26

Attention UNC Students, Faculty, and Staff:

Beginning on Monday, February 26, access to ATM Drive from Raleigh Street will be blocked due to a Gilsulate Steam Line installation project. Access to this area will be maintained through a temporary gravel drive between Davis Library and the ATM machines parallel to Raleigh Street. This drive provides a one-way, counter-clockwise traffic direction to ATM Drive via Lenoir Drive. Access to and from the loading docks at the rear of Davis Library also will be maintained. This traffic circulation plan will be in effect for several months.

To see a map of the affected area and traffic detours, visit the following website:

http://www.dps.unc.edu/dps/breakingnews/ATMDriveWeb/ATMDrive.htm

We appreciate your cooperation during this construction project. If you have further questions, call the UNC Department of Public Safety at 962 - 3951.

Thank You,
The UNC Department of Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of StemGroup@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, February 23, 2007 12:24 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Stem Cells: There's a place for those who find them interesting.

StemGroup is a student-run interest group at UNC-Chapel Hill founded to provide a forum for discussion of past and current events of stem cell research, dialectic of ethics of embryonic stem cell use, and to increase overall community interest in the subject. The group visits local high schools to talk with students about the facts of stem cell research, and their most recent project is an ethical panel discussion open to the public.

Feel free to participate or simply watch the ongoing debate!

To join the listserv, send a blank email to StemGroup@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: StemGroup

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of pomerant@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, February 23, 2007 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Campus Recreation: Kids ROCK! (Recreational Opportunities for Carolina Kids)

Campus Recreation is excited to announce a brand new program - Kids ROCK! (Recreational Opportunities for Carolina Kids).

This program is open to children of UNC faculty, staff, & students.

The program objectives are as follows:

* For Carolina students, faculty and staff to have an opportunity to play/exercise with their kids;
* To expose Carolina kids to a variety of fun, healthy activities;
* To combat a national rise in the incidence of juvenile obesity and diabetes; and
* To just have fun.

This is a free program for children of all ages. Please RSVP to Marty Pomerantz, pomerant@email.unc.edu, at least 2 days prior to the program you want to attend so we can plan the number of treats appropriately.

Activities have been selected to encourage fun interaction between parent and kid - this is NOT day care - parents/guardians are required to stay and participate.

A complete list of programs is available at http://www.campusrec.unc.edu/heels.html.

For additional information, please contact Marty Pomerantz, pomerant@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of shape@unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, February 25, 2007 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Eating Disorders: Important Facts

Did you know...?

* Eating disorders are serious illnesses that can lead to many negative psychological and physical consequences - including death.

* Eating disorders do not discriminate based on sex, race, ethnicity, age, or socioeconomic status.

* Eating disorders are as common as schizophrenia, autism, and Alzheimer's disease.

* Eating disorders are caused by both environmental and genetic factors.

* A person's chances of fully recovering from an eating disorder are greatly improved if she or he seeks professional help.

If you are concerned about yourself or a friend, talk about it with your Campus Health provider or contact CHS's Counseling and Wellness Services (http://cws.unc.edu/ or 919-966-3658).

You may also contact the UNC Hospitals Eating Disorders Program (www.unceatingdisorders.org or 919-966-7012).

This email is sponsored by: Students Helping to Achieve Positive Esteem (SHAPE)

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Sunday, February 25, 2007 9:14 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Bridge Funding

February 26, 2007

TO: All Faculty

FROM: Bernadette Gray-Little
Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

RE: Bridge Funding

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is a leading public research university whose faculty brought in $593 million in external funding in FY 2006. However, federal trends for research funding are on a downward trend and unlikely to improve in the near future. As a consequence, success rates for applications to Federal agencies are declining.

Many departments and schools on campus have provided temporary support to cover research activities affected by lapsed external funding. In the current climate, it is likely that these individual efforts will not be able to provide the necessary support to bridge investigators whose grants are not renewed but will be resubmitted.

In order to enhance the amount of bridge funding available, the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development have created a central funding pool for temporary support of lapsed grants. This program will support, not replace, the bridge funding provided by individual units on campus.

Funding for this program will be taken from the central funds used for faculty startup packages. The School of Medicine receives its startup funds in a separate process and has already developed a bridge funding program; faculty from Medicine will not be eligible for this central bridge funding program.

A description of this program follows this announcement below. Please note that the requests should be routed through the faculty member's department to the Dean's Office before submission to the Office of Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development. Applications for bridge funding will be accepted four times per year. The deadlines for submission are: July 1, October 1, January 1 and April 1.

Bridge Funding Program for Faculty Retention and Recruitment

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is a leading public research university whose faculty brought in $593 million in external funding in FY 2006. However, federal trends for research funding are on a downward trend and unlikely to improve in the near future. As a consequence, success rates for applications to Federal agencies are declining. Since more than 70% of UNC's research funding derives from Federal sources, the creation of a program to bridge investigators whose grants are not renewed but will be resubmitted is critical to maintaining the expertise of research teams in place. This program is intended to provide funding only until the next peer review evaluation of the grant. Bridge funding can be requested for temporary support for lapsed grants regardless of funding agency (Federal and non-Federal).

Criteria

* Faculty appointment (Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Professor)
* Principal investigator has history of competitive funding
* Strong evidence that resubmission is likely to be successful
* Endorsement from Department Chair and Dean's Office

Process

* Principal investigator submits request for funding to Department Chair
* Request for funding includes:
  - Funding history
  - Agency critique of grant that was not renewed
  - Response of principal investigator to agency critique
  - Proposed budget for use of bridge funding
  - Proposed duration of bridge funding should not exceed time until next peer review evaluation
* Chair evaluation, if positive, submitted to Dean's Office
* If more than one request submitted from an individual department, requests should be prioritized by Chair
* Dean's evaluation, if positive, submitted to Office of Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development (OVCRED)
* If more than one request submitted from School or the College, requests should be prioritized by Dean
* Evaluation by Bridge Funding Committee

Bridge Funding Committee

* Chaired by Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development
* Meets quarterly
* Final decisions made by Provost and Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development
  - Central funds will provide up to 1/3 of the requested bridge funds with the expectation that both the Department and School/College will provide similar amounts

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of erin_douglas@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, February 26, 2007 9:09 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Volunteers Needed!!!

HEALTHY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!!

Are you interested in participating
in a research study to help investigators
at UNC Chapel Hill understand more
about mental illness?

Investigators are looking for medically healthy males and females, who have no acute or chronic illness, between the ages of 9 - 18 to participate in a variety of research studies. Participants will receive monetary compensation for their time and effort.

In order to find out whether you or your child may be eligible for one or more of our studies, we would appreciate you taking 5 minutes to fill out the On-line Screening Questionnaire at the following website (you will need to cut and paste into your browser). People under 18 years of age will need permission from a parent or guardian prior to completing the questionnaire.

http://www.psychiatry.unc.edu/research/cr_healthyvolunteer.htm
(underscore between cr _ healthy volunteer)

UNC IRB# 05-2119

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of couce@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, February 26, 2007 10:43 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS

Interested in performing arts? Interested in HIV/AIDS prevention and services?

The Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS is a group on campus created to organize an annual dance festival to benefit AIDS charities both local (NC) and international (Bangalore, India and Nairobi, Kenya), while engaging the audience in HIV/AIDS issues. If you are interested in getting involved and gaining valuable experience organizing a major benefit show, or simply interested in learning more about volunteer and service opportunities related to HIV/AIDS issues, be sure to check out this exciting opportunity!

For more information about how to get involved, please see tdfa.unchost.org, or contact Couce@email.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS

This email is sponsored by: Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Adult_Choline_Study@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 27, 2007 10:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Female Volunteers Wanted for Nutrition Research Study

---

The Nutrition Department at UNC-Chapel Hill is enrolling participants for a study to examine the effects of estrogen and certain gene variations on human choline requirements.

Choline is an essential nutrient and is found in many foods. We recently found that the human choline requirement differs from person to person and is influenced by estrogen and common gene variations. The purpose of this study is to improve our understanding of how these factors change a person's need for choline.

We are looking for healthy women, 18-70 years of age, with no liver problems, no history of heart disease or blood clots, no history of breast or endometrial cancer, and no history of bipolar disorder.

Post-menopausal women will be asked to take either Premarin (a form of estrogen replacement therapy) or a placebo. Pre-menopausal women may be asked to take the dietary supplement SAM-e, a placebo, or nothing.

Participants who are eligible must only eat food provided by the General Clinical Research Center (GCRC). They must also live and stay at the GCRC in UNC Hospital for up to 52 days and will receive their meals there during this time. The entire study will last up to 9 weeks. Participants will NOT be able to attend school or go to work during the in-patient part of the study.

Participants will receive up to $2500 for completing the study.

For more information, please call (919) 408-3320 x32 or send an email to: Adult_Choline_Study@unc.edu.

IRB study name: Human requirements for the nutrient choline
IRB# 05-2930
Date aproved: July 20 2006

This email is sponsored by: Nutrition

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, February 28, 2007 4:05 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Smutima A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Cracking India; An Artist's Perspective; The Great Game

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-14751242-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
Cracking India

Wednesday, February 28, 2007
7-9PM

Join friends of the Ackland for a discussion of Cracking India by Bapsi Sidhwa, facilitated by Leslie Balkany, Museum Educator at the Ackland, with Afroz Taj, Associate Professor in Asian Studies and John Caldwell, Outreach Manager at NC Center for South Asia Studies.

"Bapsi Sidhwa has given us in Cracking India a memorable book, one that confirms her reputation as Pakistan's finest English-language novelist" - New York Times Book Review

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
Interactive Gallery Talk for Teens

Wednesday, February 28, 2007
6:30-8PM

This program is part of FYI: The Family and Youth Initiative at the Ackland Art Museum and is made possible by the Ackland Trust and a generous grant from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services.

UPCOMING EVENTS

AN ARTIST'S PERSPECTIVE
February 28 from 6:30-8PM

ACKLAND BOOK GROUP
February 28 from 7-8:30PM
March 21 from 7-8:30PM

ART AFTER DARK
March 9 from 5-9PM

INTIMATE VIEWS EXHIBITION OPENING
March 9 from 6-8PM

OPEN DRAWING SESSION
March 10 from 10-NOON

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
March 12 from 12-1PM
March 27 from 12-1PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
March 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
March 18 from 2-4PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

THE GREAT GAME
Arts Patron Special from Theater Previews

Through March 4, 2007

In honor of the current Ackland exhibition, Fashioning the Divine, South Asian Sculpture, Theatre Previews at Duke is offering 20% off tickets to the world premiere of "The Great Game," a play that takes place in India and England.

"The Great Game" is playing now through March 4th at Reynolds Theater in the Bryan Center at Duke University. Tickets are regularly $18-$30.

An outstanding, highly acclaimed Broadway cast is featured in this world premiere play set in the 1870 drawing rooms of London and the snow-capped peaks of Central Asia. Espionage, hidden identities, imperialism, and romance are at the heart of this play that is being developed at Duke for a future life in New York.

To take advantage of this special offer, follow these step-by-step instructions: go to http://www.tickets.duke.edu, browse to The Great Game, add to your basket, choose your erformance, choose and order your seats, then enter SPECIAL in the promotion code space, and your discount will be reflected.*

Or go to the Box Office in the Bryan Center (10AM - 5PM, M-F) and order in person or purchase tickets by phone* (919-684-4444), using the same promo code.
*Please note: Internet and phone charges apply.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-14751242-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu

Illustrations top to bottom:

Mathura region: Yakshi, ca. second century CE, sandstone. The William A. Whitaker Foundation Art Fund.

Susan Harbage Page: Postcards from Home, No.2.

Tamil Nadu, Kaveri delta region: Krishna/Saint Sambandar, ca. late twelfth or early thirteenth century CE, bronze. Gift of Clara T. and Gilbert J. Yager in honor of Charles Millard.

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wbwebber@ehs.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, February 28, 2007 9:46 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Temporary Change in Campus Drinking Water

---

The Orange Water and Sewer Authority (OWASA) supplies drinking and other tap water to campus. As described in the notice below, OWASA will temporarily change their disinfection process from March 1 to April 1, 2007. This may change the taste and smell of campus tap water. If you use tap water for a special purpose in which residuals or other water characteristics are important, please carefully read the following information to understand how this change might affect you.

Most distilled water systems will not be affected by this temporary change because they use steam condensate rather than OWASA drinking water as their water source.

The full text of OWASA's notification is reprinted below. Please contact OWASA Public Affairs at 968-4421 or by e-mail to webmaster@owasa.org if you have a question or comment.

NOTICE FROM ORANGE WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY

Thursday, February 22, 2007

OWASA WILL CHANGE ITS DRINKING WATER DISINFECTION PROCESS BY USING CHLORINE INSTEAD OF CHLORAMINES IN THE MONTH OF MARCH

In January, 2002, OWASA began using a compound of chlorine and ammonia called "chloramines" to disinfect public drinking water. Disinfection with chloramines has improved the taste, odor and overall quality of drinking water. Before then, OWASA used chlorine in the form of sodium hypochlorite (bleach) for disinfection.

In March, 2007 as in the same month of past years, OWASA will again use chlorine instead of chloramines for disinfection. The purpose of this annual change is to help ensure a high level of disinfection in the community's network of water mains.

North Carolina regulations require OWASA, and other utilities that normally use chloramines for disinfection, to instead use chlorine for one month each year. Several public water systems in the Triangle region that normally use chloramines will instead use chlorine for disinfection in March.

Some customers may notice that OWASA water will have a chlorine taste or odor in March. However, OWASA's drinking water will be safe to drink as at other times of year.

Customers may also see OWASA crews releasing water from some fire hydrants in March. The purpose of this "flushing" of water mains is to ensure that water with chlorine goes through the entire water system.

The flushing of water mains may cause some discoloration of OWASA drinking water because iron and manganese particles that settle in water mains over time may be stirred up. Air bubbles, which can make water look milky, may also get into the water system. Customers who notice discoloration or air bubbles are encouraged to run cold water through a bathtub faucet, etc. for about 5 minutes to clear up the water.

OWASA will use special equipment and a chemical to neutralize the chlorine and ammonia in the water that is released during "flushing" so that it will not harm fish in streams and creeks.

Customers who use OWASA water for special purposes or processes involving careful control of water characteristics, such as kidney dialysis units, are encouraged to get advice from an appropriate technical source such as a filter vendor or service company about whether and how to make adjustments to their use of OWASA water during the one-month period when chlorine is used for disinfection.

Customers are invited to contact OWASA with any questions or comments about the use of chlorine in March and about the characteristics of OWASA drinking water.

For more information:

Rachel Monschein, Water Treatment Plant Laboratory Supervisor, 537-4227; rmonschein@owasa.org

Ken Loflin, Water Supply and Treatment Manager, 537-4232;

kloflin@owasa.org

OWASA is the community-owned, non-profit public water and sewer agency serving the Carrboro-Chapel Hill community.

Orange Water and Sewer Authority
400 Jones Ferry Road, Carrboro, NC 27510
phone: (919) 968-4421; fax: (919) 968-4464
e-mail: webmaster@owasa.org; web site: www.owasa.org

This email is sponsored by: Environment, Health & Safety

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of saratu@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 1, 2007 8:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Want to join a magazine on campus?

Always wanted to work with a magazine
but never had the chance?

Tenesa Magazine is a Socio-cultural magazine with Africa in mind, dealing with a wide range of subjects from Arts and Culture to Social Observation and thought. We are currently seeking writers and layout people, so if you're at all interested in joining the team, send an email to tenesa_mag@email.unc.edu.

Thanks,

Saratu Abiola
tenesa_mag@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Organization of African Student's Interests and Solidarity

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of agranna@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 1, 2007 9:40 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Online cross-cultural survey: Call for males age 18-45

Have you ever noticed that different people treat time differently?
What does being on time mean to each of us? How late is really late?
Have you ever wondered if time standards are different around the globe?

If you have a few minutes to help advance cross-cultural psychological research about people's attitudes towards time, please consider participating in our study!

The goals of the research are -
* To learn more about people's attitudes towards time and experience with time-limited tests.
* To explore if these beliefs and attitudes differ across cultures.

You qualify to participate if you:
1. Are a native English speaker, who grew up in North America
2. Are a MALE between 18 and 45 years of age (at this point, we are only interested in recruting males for this study).
3. Have access to computer with internet connection

To participate, please click on the link below to complete a short survey!

http://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE?SID=SV_cIVkDU4LUkJtRY0&SVID=Prod

Contact us by email at agranna@email.unc.edu or hartman@email.unc.edu with any questions about the study.

The Behavioral Affairs Institutional Review Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study(IRB # 06-0544); approval date 12/06/2006.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology Department, UNC-CH

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, March 5, 2007 8:08 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingle. Por favor, vea abajo para el espaqol.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Andy Olshan, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

?Estas intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 semanas de embarazo? O, ?conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigacisn sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar mas sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envma un correo electrsnico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, nzmero de telifono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu direccisn de correo electrsnico con personas ajenas a esta investigacisn. Para obtener mayor informacisn, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefsnica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estin intentando quedar embarazadas

!Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener mas conocimientos simplemente compartiendo informacisn sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

El investigador principal de este estudio es Andy Olshan, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiologma de la Escuela de Salud Publica de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisisn Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, March 5, 2007 9:52 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Employee Forum Newsletter InTouch Now On-Line

---

The March edition of InTouch, the Employee Forum newsletter, is now on-line at

http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch8-3.htm

This month's articles include:

Personnel Flexibility: What Does it Mean?
UNC General Administration Defining Personnel Flexibility: Employee Input Sought Concerns about the PACE Report
State Personnel Administration to Get Review
Keeping PACE: UNC-Chapel Hill Employees Offer Savings Ideas
Resolutions Update
Printing Services Layoffs, Outsourcing Announced
Kronos: Time (and Attendance) Marches On David Perry Named Interim Associate Vice Chancellor for Human Resources
Update: Associate Vice Chancellor for Human Resources Search Committee
Free Generic Medication Through March 31, 2007
Free Smoking Cessation Support
New Grievance Protection for Disabled SPA Applicants Doubly Divided: The Racial Wealth Gap

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of instructional_scanning@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 6, 2007 10:33 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: New General Purpose Answer Sheet

All,
Please be aware that a new General Purpose Answer Sheet is about to arrive. This is in response to the survey we performed at the beginning of the fall semester. The new answer sheet will have letters, A-E above the numbered circles.

The most important thing to know about the new answer sheet is that is does not matter if you use the old sheets, the new sheets or a combination of the two. The new sheets will scan exactly the same as the old sheets.

Note: this does not apply to the medical school answer sheet.

If you have any questions, please reply to this email.
Thanks
ITS Scanning Services

This email is sponsored by: ITS

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of asthmastudies@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 6, 2007 10:54 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Dust Mite Allergy Research Study Participation

---

Subject: Informational: Dust Mite Allergy Research Study Participation
From: asthmastudies@unc.edu
Date: 10/18/2006

The UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology is looking for volunteers for a research study, #06-00768 "Effect of house dust mite allergen challenge in persons using 1200 mg gamma tocopherol supplements". The purpose of the study is to see if using a supplement of gamma-tocopherol, a form of Vitamin E, will help decrease the response of a nasal challenge with house dust mites.

Subjects needed are ages 18-50, are non-smoking individuals who are allergic to house dust mites and in otherwise good health. Subjects with mild asthma may participate. Commitment is 7 visits over 10 weeks, with 2 of those visits requiring 8 hours in the research lab. Monetary compensation for each visit will be provided.

For a complete copy of the consent form and more information refer to the CEMALB website at http://www.med.unc.edu/envlung/

If interested or for further information please contact:

Martha
Research Coordinator
Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology
(919) 962-4247
Email: asthmastudies@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by:
The Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

This email is sponsored by: CEMALB

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 7, 2007 12:12 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Harry L. Watson

---

March 7, 2007

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Carol Tresolini, Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Harry L. Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Harry Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Dr. James Peacock, Distinguished Professor in the Department of Anthropology. Other members include: Professor William Ferris, Senior Associate Director for the Center for the Study of the American South; Dr. Niklaus Steiner, Executive Director for the Office of International Affairs; Professor Joseph Flora in the Department of English & Comparative Literature; and Professor Minrose Gwin in the Department of English & Comparative Literature.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Watson's performance as Director of the Center for the Study of the American South over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Watson's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Watson's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by him. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to: Dr. James Peacock, c/o Nel Resendes, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing resendes@email.unc.edu.

2. The committee has scheduled one open session to receive comments on:

Monday, April 2, 2007 (2:00 - 4:00 pm) - 218 South Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Nel Resendes in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (resendes@email.unc.edu or 962-2037), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Watson's personnel file.

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Watson's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Watson's performance to the committee is April 2, 2007. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Dr. Harry Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South:

Dr. James Peacock, Review Committee Chair
Department of Anthropology
306A Alumni Building
CB# 3115
Carolina Campus
(919) 966-4106
peacock@unc.edu

Professor William Ferris
Center for the Study of the American South

412 Hamilton Hall
CB# 9127
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-5538
wferris@unc.edu

Dr. Niklaus Steiner
Office of International Affairs
223 East Franklin St.
CB# 5145
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-6855
nsteiner@email.unc.edu

Professor Joseph Flora
English & Comparative Literature
436 Greenlaw Hall
CB# 3520
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-2503
jflora@email.unc.edu

Professor Minrose Gwin
English & Comparative Literature
444 Greenlaw Hall
CB # 3520
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-4042
mgwin@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, March 7, 2007 2:41 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Intimate Views; Art After Dark; Drawing in the Galleries

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-14836070-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu.

ART AFTER DARK

Friday, March 9, 2007
5-9 PM

This Friday during ART AFTER DARK: Join friends of the Ackland for a celebration of Intimate Views: Drawings and Paintings by the Irascibles from the Carroll and Jeanne Berry Collection from 6 to 8PM.

The "Irascibles" belonged to the first generation of abstract expressionists, who came into prominence in New York in the 1940's and 50's. See non-representational and non-narrative works that focus on paint and color exclusively. With works by Adolph Gottlieb, Jackson Pollock, Willem de Kooning, Barnett Newman, Theodore Stamos, William Baziotes, Weldon Kees, and Fritz Bultman. The Irascibles also included one female artist, Hedda Sterne, the only artist among the group still living.

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES

Saturday, March 10
10 AM-12 NOON

Join Ackland staff member Amanda Hughes for two hours of drawing in the galleries. The session begins with a brief discussion of one work of art on display in the Ackland followed by time to draw.

Participants supply paper and dry media.

All levels of experience are welcome.

UPCOMING EVENTS

ART AFTER DARK
March 9 from 5-9PM

INTIMATE VIEWS EXHIBITION OPENING
March 9 from 6-8PM

OPEN DRAWING SESSION
March 10 from 10-NOON

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
March 13 from 12-1PM
March 27 from 12-1PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
March 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
March 15 from 2-4PM

LITERATURE AND ART
March 21 from 7-8:30PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3678 or visit www.ackland.org/join

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu.

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-14836070-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations top to bottom:

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rcoble@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 8, 2007 8:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: IBS Treatment for Women: Mindfulness/Support Groups

---

If you are a woman (or know a woman)age 16 or older who suffers from irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), you/she may qualify to participate in a research study of two treatment programs to help improve the symptoms of IBS.

In both programs, women of all ages will meet in a group once per week for 8 weeks. In the support group, women will share successful strategies for coping with and reducing symptoms of IBS. The mindfulness group combines gentle yoga with a meditation technique. Both programs have shown promise for helping people with illnesses.

Each group requires coming to a meeting in Chapel Hill for 2 hours each Tuesday, April 3-May 22, 5:00-7:00 p.m., and for 4 hours one Saturday during those 8 weeks. Groups will be designated randomly by a computer program. Both groups will be led by an experienced healtb coach and group facilitator. Participants will be asked to fill out questionnaires before the first group meeting, two weeks after the program, and 3 months, 6 months, and 12 months after the program.

Women will be paid $250 for filling out the five groups of questionnaires; and parking vouchers will be provided as needed. Participation in the mindfulness training or support group is free.

To participate in the study, women must have a diagnosis of IBS from a physician and current symptoms (abdominal pain or bloating at least once per week over the past month).

Women cannot be in this study if:
* unable to attend a meeting in Chapel Hill each Tuesday, April 3-May 22;
* are pregnant; or
* have one of the following disorders:
 - severe mental illness;
 - inflammatory bowel disease (ulcerative colitis or Crohn's disease);
 - cancer;
 - liver or pancreas disease;
 - uncontrolled lactose (milk) intolerance; or
 - celiac disease (wbeat intolerance); or
 - a history of major abdominal surgery.

If you would like to learn more about this study and/or to see if you qualify, please call 966-8586, or send an e-mail to Kim Faurot at faurot@med.unc.edu or Becky Coble with "IBS study" in the subject line. This message has been approved by the Biomedical IRB 9/6/2006.

This email is sponsored by: Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of twaldrop@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 8, 2007 9:31 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Humanities and Fine Arts Awards Available

---

Support for Scholarship, Creative Activity or Research in the Humanities and Fine Arts: 2007

Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Applications are invited for a limited number of awards to support scholarship, creative activity or research in the humanities and fine arts. Funds can be used for summer salary support, payment of research assistants, travel, art supplies, research materials, equipment or any other properly justified expense of scholarly or artistic endeavor. Most awards will be for $10,000 or less. However, applicants may request up to $25,000. One or two especially meritorious projects may be funded at that higher level. If you request more than $10,000, indicate whether you would like to be considered for funding at the lower level in the event your application is not selected for one of the major awards.

Any fulltime EPA faculty member whose primary appointment is in the humanities or fine arts, and who holds any professorial rank in the College of Arts and Sciences, is eligible for these awards. Fulltime EPA faculty members holding professorial rank and employed in other disciplines or in a professional school are eligible if they demonstrate conclusively that their work employs the methods of the humanities or fine arts and deals with subject matter relevant to one or more of those disciplines.

Applicants may simultaneously hold extramurally funded awards or fellowships. They may simultaneously be the recipients of small grants from the University Research Council or Faculty Development Awards from the Office of the Provost, as long as they submit budgets that justify the need for additional, unduplicated funding.

To apply, submit a letter of no more than three pages, including a simple budget up to $10,000 ($25,000 if you wish to be considered for one of the major awards). If you ask for $25,000 but also wish to be considered for $10,000 if not selected for the larger award, please provide budgets for both cases. In your letter, describe the scholarship or creative activity for which you are seeking support. Emphasize the importance of the work to your discipline, to a set of disciplines or, if relevant, to the public. Explain what makes your work novel, original or creative. Describe the work product you intend to produce, whether a book, a sculpture, a series of paintings, journal articles, musical compositions, or the like. If your work will be curatorial, provide documentation that you have access to exhibit space in a recognized venue. If your work is an artistic performance, provide documentation that you have access to performance space in a recognized venue. If your work depends on access to rare source documents or a special collection, provide documentation that you have permission to access and study the materials. Documentation of access does not count as part of the three-page limit on letters of application. In addition, please have your department chair provide a statement of support of the proposed work.

Submit five copies of letters of application and any required documentation of access to:

Jo Ann Gustafson
Office of the Vice Chancellor
Research and Economic Development
CB #4000, 312 South Building

Letters of application are due no later than April 10, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no-reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 8, 2007 9:49 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: IT services to be impacted by move to new campus IT facility

---

Beginning this weekend and extending through next week, Information Technology Services will begin moving a large portion of the campus' computing infrastructure from Phillips Hall to ITS Manning, the University's first facility dedicated to information technology. The major equipment move activities are scheduled for March 10, 12, 14 and 17.

Although the move was planned for spring break to minimize the inconvenience to our campus customers, the transition to ITS Manning represents the largest movement of computing equipment at Carolina to date and will result in some IT services being unavailable. For the most current list of scheduled service outages, please visit http://its.unc.edu/news/manning/. The page will be updated as new information becomes available, however unexpected outages may occur. If you encounter a problem witb a service not listed, please contact 962-HELP.

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 9, 2007 8:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Employee Undergraduate Degree-Completion Program

---

Are you a UNC employee who began work on an undergraduate degree, but haven't been able to finish? The University is pleased to announce that the Employee Part-time Undergraduate Degree-Completion Program is again accepting applications from employees who would like to complete their degrees while continuing employment.

The Undergraduate Degree-Completion Program, a three-year initiative, was launched two years ago as a result of the Chancellor's Task Force on a Better Workplace. Now entering its third year, the Program will again admit up to ten full-time employees as part-time, degree-seeking students.

UNC-Chapel Hill employees who work at least 30 hours a week and have completed more than 50 hours of transferable college credit may apply to the program. Applicants will be admitted on the same basis as other UNC transfer students and will be held to the same standards of performance.

As a benefit to admitted employees, fees will be waived, and participants may take advantage of other employee educational benefits, such as the Tuition Waiver program and the Employee and Dependent Scholarship Program. Employees may also apply for other need-based grants that are available to undergraduates.

The Undergraduate Degree-Completion Program has significant advantages over other academic opportunities for staff, including the Part-time Classroom Studies program. Participants of the Undergraduate Degree-Completion Program are classified as degree candidates from the time they are admitted and do not need to transfer later to a degree-granting unit. They may complete all of the work towards their degree on a part-time basis without having to become full-time students in the last semester as is normally required. And employees are given additional support as participants of the program. Up to three hours per week of the employee's participation may be considered as work time, and supervisors are asked to be as flexible and supportive as possible while the employee seeks an undergraduate degree.

For additional information and to download an application, visit the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at www.admissions.unc.edu/applying/employees.htm or the Friday Center at www.fridaycenter.unc.edu/degree.htm. Applications for Fall 2007 admission are being accepted now and through the deadline of May 1, 2007. Applicants will be notified by June 1, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Undergraduate Admissions and the Friday Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of research_support@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 9, 2007 8:26 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH SUPPORT March 2007 Issue Now Available

---

The March 2007 issue of RESEARCH SUPPORT online newsletter is now available for viewing at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

In this issue:

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES
*Major funding opportunities from state, public, and private agencies, as well as from UNC-Chapel Hill.
*Carolina Internal
*National Science Foundation
*National Institutes of Health Grants and Contracts
*Multidisciplinary
*Social and Behavioral Sciences
*Health and Medical Sciences
*Life and Physical Sciences
*Arts and Humanities

CAMPUS NEWS
* Bridge Funding Program
* RENCI Seeks Faculty Fellows for Innovative Collaborative Research
* Identifying Funding Sources Workshops for Faculty and Staff
* Core Facilities Training Program
* RAMSeS IPF Attachment Feature
* OTD Innovations Seminar
* OSR Policy Updates
* Call for Abstracts for the Aging Exchange
* SBIR/STTR National Conference Coming to RTP

FUNDING TIPS
* Time for a COS Funding Alert Tune-up?
* Funding Tips for International Faculty Members
* Tips on Grantsmanship and Different Sponsor Types
* Clean Water Act RFP
* RWJF Announces New Funding Commitment

FEDERAL NEWS
* Guide from OSR for NIH eSubmissions
* NIH Alert on Delay in Grants.gov Processing
* SBIR/STTR Omnibus Solicitation from the NIH, CDC and FDA
* NSF and Department of Energy Partner in Education and Human Resources
* AHRQ Interested in Research Implementation
* NOAA Invites Applications Outside of Program Areas
* OMB Requests Comments on Federal Awards Made Database
* Change in Unsolicited NSF Chemistry Proposal Dates

View the issue at http://research.unc.edu/rs/

RESEARCH SUPPORT provides Carolina faculty and research staff with funding opportunities, sponsored research news, funding tips, and timely information from all of the offices supporting research at Carolina. It is published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development, GrantSource Library. Email research_support@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of puglia@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, March 12, 2007 9:35 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Weight Gain and Antipsychotic Medication-Seeking Participants

---

Do you know a child who has gained weight after being prescribed an antipsychotic medication?
Has your child been taking a second-generation antipsychotic medication for 2 months?

The ASPIRE Research program at the UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Psychiatry is recruiting children age 10-17 for a weight gain prevention study. This is a 6 month study designed to assess 3 approaches to reduce excessive weight gain that can occur with the use of second-generation antipsychotic medications.

Benefits for subjects include a comprehensive diagnostic assessment at the beginning of the study and medication management for the duration of the study. Appointments with child psychiatrists are provided free of charge to research participants.

If you think this study may be appropriate for your child, please contact us. We are happy to tell you more about our program and answer any questions. Please call the ASPIRE Research Hotline (1-800-708-0048) or email us at puglia@med.unc.edu.

This message was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB and the GCRC on March 2, 2007 for IRB #05-3110 (GCRC 2529) IMPACT: Improving Metabolic Parameters of Antipsychotic Child Treatment (Principal Investigator: Lin Sikich, MD)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, March 13, 2007 6:04 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Smamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Lunch with 1, New Exhibition

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-14903061-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu.

LUNCH WITH ONE
One Expert, One Work of Art, One Hour

Thursday, March 15, 2007
1PM at the Ackland

Join Professor Julie Fishell (UNC-Chapel Hill Dramatic Art) as she explores ways that a theater artist might use the visual arts to realize a flesh and blood moment onstage.

Bring a bag lunch. Please register to reserve a place.

NEW EXHIBITION AT THE ACKLAND
Making the Ephemeral Concrete Directing for the Stage

March 14 - June 3, 2007

Making the Ephemeral Concrete focuses on fourteen twentieth-century American prints and photographs that suggest connections between the performing and visual arts. Professor Julie Fishell of UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Dramatic Art and the students in her course, Directing for the Stage, collaborated with the Ackland to curate this exhibition. In the course, students learn principles of directing - how directors research a script or story line, develop a concept or approach, organize rehearsals, and work with designers and actors.

The exhibition includes prints by Romare Bearden, Martin Lewis, Raphael Soyer, George Bellows, Isabel Bishop, Douglas Gorsline and Carrie Mae Weems, and photographs by Danny Lyon, David Spear, Arthur Rothstein, Alfred Stieglitz, Karl Struss, and Edward Weston. The Ackland invites you to explore the environments captured or created by these artists and consider how they might influence young actors and directors.

UPCOMING EVENTS

ART AFTER DARK
March 15 from 5-9PM
April 19 from 5-9PM
May 17 from 5-9PM

OPEN DRAWING SESSION
March 18 from 10-NOON

LUNCH WITH ONE
March 15 from 1-2PM

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
March 18 from 2-4PM
April 8 from 2-4PM
May 13 from 2-4PM

LITERATURE AND ART
March 21 from 7:8:30PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
March 22 from 12-1PM
April 19 from 12-1PM
May 3 from 12-1PM
May 17 from 12-1PM

MFA EXHIBITION RECEPTION
April 13 from 6-8PM

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES
April 14 from 10AM-NOON
May 12 from 10AM-NOON

THIRD ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY
May 12 from 12-2PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3678 or visit www.ackland.org/join

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor, ackland-publications@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ashland e-news!

You are subscribed to the weekly email newsletter as:

smithm@mail.com.edu

If you no longer want to receive the newsletter, simply click on the link below.

Stop subscribe

Unsubscribe from this newsletter

Manage your preferences

Sincerely, Mary Smith, Ashland Chamber of Commerce

Ashland is a place where people come to live, work, and play. We are a community of people who are passionate about our town and our future. We are a community of people who are committed to our economic vitality, our environmental health, our arts and culture, our education, our quality of life, our diversity, our uniqueness, our heritage, our tourism, our ability to attract and retain the best and brightest, our ability to attract and retain the best business, and our ability to attract and retain the best people.

Ashland is a place where people come to live, work, and play. We are a community of people who are passionate about our town and our future. We are a community of people who are committed to our economic vitality, our environmental health, our arts and culture, our education, our quality of life, our diversity, our uniqueness, our heritage, our tourism, our ability to attract and retain the best and brightest, our ability to attract and retain the best business, and our ability to attract and retain the best people.

Ashland e-news

Ashland Chamber of Commerce

P.O. Box 1148 Ashland, OR 97520 (541) 482-3486

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of PROMIS@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 13, 2007 10:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PROMIS Pediatric Quality of Life Research Study

---

The School of Medicine is recruiting children 8-17 years of age for a computer administered survey. The UNC Department of Medicine is participating in a research study to learn more about the health-related quality of life during childhood. To do this, UNC will be conducting surveys in children.

This survey involves parents completing a brief questionnaire about their child's background and general health. Children recruited for this study must be:

1. between 8 and 17 years of age;

2. able to speak and read English and

3. able to see and interact with a computer screen, keyboard, and mouse.

The child participant will complete a computer administered survey that will last about 45 minutes.

Each child will receive a $10 gift card.

If you would like to discuss your child's participation in this study, you may call Hazel Shepberd, RN, directly at 919-843-2354, or email PROMIS@med.unc.edu.

Study approved by the UNC IRB #06-0296

This email is sponsored by: School of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 13, 2007 11:29 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Health Insurance Enrollment Web Site

The enrollment period for the State Health Plan's health insurance options continues through Friday, March 30, 2007. This enrollment period includes both the Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) and Comprehensive Major Medical (CMM), or indemnity, plans.

Human Resources has developed a page of information about the available options and the enrollment period. This information is located on our web site, at http://hr.unc.edu/hottopics/healthenroll. This page includes the schedule for employee information sessions, a frequently asked questions document from the State Health Plan, and links to plan information and enrollment materials.

If you do not want to make any changes in your current health insurance coverage, you do not have to submit a form. Changes made during this enrollment period will become effective July 1, 2007. The benefit year is currently July 1, 2007, through June 30, 2008.

For questions on the PPO, call State Health Plan customer service at 888-234-2416 or email ppo.inquiries@shpnc.org. For questions on the CMM, call State Health Plan customer service at 800-422-4658 or email indemnity.inquiries@shpnc.org. For questions on the enrollment period, contact your HR Generalist.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, March 14, 2007 11:02 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PlayMakers Discount for UNC Faculty/Staff

---

PlayMakers is offering a UNC Faculty/Staff discount to select performances of Toni Morrison's THE BLUEST EYE. Please visit the link below for more information.

http://www.playmakersrep.org/genPage/index.pl?pgid=173

This email is sponsored by: PlayMakers

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mduclos@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 14, 2007 9:19 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Important Information for people with Type 2 Diabetes

---

If you have Type 2 Diabetes, you may be eligible for a National Institute of Health research study seeking new ways to treat Type 2 Diabetes.

The study is called TINSAL-T2D, Targeting INflammation using Salsalate in Type 2 Diabetes. This study looks at the safety and effectiveness of an investigational medication (similar to aspirin) in the treatment of Type 2 Diabetes. The study medication has been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to treat arthritis but it has not been approved for diabetes.

To be considered for this important diabetes study you must meet the following criteria:
* Have Type 2 Diabetes
* Be between 18-75 years of age
* Be on a stable dose of oral anti-diabetic medication and your diabetes is still not well controlled

Participation includes:
* 8 visits over 21 weeks
* Physical exam at no cost
* Laboratory testing at no cost
* Participation in cutting edge research for new treatments for TYPE 2 DIABETES
* Compensation for time, effort, and inconvenience of participating

For more information on the TINSAL-T2D study or to schedule an initial screening visit, call the Diabetes Care Center of the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Susan S, Braithwaite, M.D. or the Study Coordinator, at 919-966-1253

This study and advertisment was approved by the UNC IRB, study #06-0456 and GCRC #2530 on 1/8/2007

This email is sponsored by: Diabetes

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 15, 2007 12:28 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina North Public Meeting

Members of the campus community:

The University will host a new series of meetings about Carolina North for the campus and local communities on the last Tuesday of each month through May, beginning Tuesday, March 27.

You are invited to attend one of two sessions on March 27. The first session will be at 3:30 p.m., Room 2603, School of Government, Knapp-Sanders Building. The presentation will be repeated at 5:30 p.m. in the same location. Parking is available in the Highway 54 lot and Rams Head deck. The School of Government parking deck is available only for the 5:30 p.m. meeting.

University representatives will present potential uses of Carolina North and three conceptual approaches to its development. Attendees will have opportunities to ask questions and share comments. The feedback will help the university as it develops a concept plan for the UNC-owned property.

The conceptual plans that will be presented draw on the guiding principles developed by the Leadership Advisory Committee for Carolina North, an ecological assessment of the property and sustainability strategies.

At the same time the university is working on its plans, several supporting studies are under way or planned involving the campus and various government and community entities. Topics include transit, transportation and fiscal impact.

University officials believe Carolina North, the 900-plus-acre tract located about two miles north of the main campus in Chapel Hill, represents an unprecedented opportunity to develop a mixed-use academic community that will benefit the campus and the community.

The university's Board of Trustees has directed the administration to submit a development plan for Carolina North to local governments by next October.

For more information about Carolina North, go to the website, http://carolinanorth.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 15, 2007 8:09 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Special Invitation to Campus Community

---

On behalf of the chancellor, the executive vice chancellor and provost, and the Carolina Women's Center, you are cordially invited to attend a reception to honor this year's recipients of the University Awards for the Advancement of Women. This prestigious award was created in 2006 as an opportunity for our academic community to recognize and reward individuals for their contributions on behalf of women on this campus. The reception is scheduled on Tuesday, March 27, 2007, from 3:00-5:00 p.m. in Old Well Room of the Carolina Inn. Please join other members of the campus community in celebrating the achievements of these outstanding individuals:

*Barbara Harris, Professor and Chair, Curriculum in Women's Studies, and Professor, Department of History
*Annette Madden, Associate Director for Professional Development and Enrichment, The William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education
*Emily Anne Dunn, Undergraduate student and founder of Project Dinah, empowerment and safety organization for students

Please RSVP to the Office of University Events at uncevents@unc.edu by Thursday, March 22.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of msteffen@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 16, 2007 11:17 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Memorial Hall Reservations for Fall Semester

---

Requests for reservations for the fall semester 2007 for University departments and officially-recognized student organizations will be accepted beginning at 8:00am on Monday, April 2, 2007. Requests will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Due to high demand, groups will only be allowed one weekend (Friday or Saturday) reservation per semester. Rehearsals in Memorial Hall must take place the same day as the performance or else be scheduled no more that thirty days prior, subject to very limited availability. More information and an electronic request form can be found at www.memorialhall.unc.edu. For more information, please call 843-7776.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Director for the Arts

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of margaret_herbst@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, March 19, 2007 10:12 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Study for individuals with mild asthma and an allergy to dust mites.

The purpose of this research study is to learn more about the effect of inhaled dust mite allergen extract on airway responses in allergic individuals with mild asthma. Information learned from this study will be used to identify a safe range of dust mite allergen extract for use in inhalation challenge studies. This study will also help determine how inhalation of the allergen affects mucociliary clearance (MCC) which is a measure of how quickly mucus clears from the airway.

Subjects must be otherwise healthy, have mild asthma and be allergic to dust mites. Pregnant or nursing females are excluded as well as individuals with a recent respiratory infection or an average of more that 2 asthma exacerbations per week. Study participation will include 6 visits over a 2-3 week period and will include an overnight stay at the General Clinical Research Center at UNC Hospitals.

For additional information, please contact the recruitment line for the Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology at (919) 962-4247

Approved December 15, 2006 by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# GCRC #2537

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology and is funded by the National Institutes of Health

This email is sponsored by: Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 20, 2007 9:13 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: Flexible Spending Account Reimbursement Deadline

---

Saturday, March 31, is the deadline for filing reimbursement claims on the NCFlex Health Care Flexible Spending Account and the NCFlex Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account for expenses that were incurred on or before December 31, 2006.

Claims must be RECEIVED by Aon Consulting no later than March 31.

After March 31, employees will not be able to claim any of the remaining monies in their year 2006 flex account(s). The spending accounts are flexible, but the deadline is not!

Download the claim form from http://www.osp.state.nc.us/ncflex/Forms/ClaimForm_2a.pdf, or request a copy from Benefit Program Administration. Mail or fax claims forms directly to Aon Consulting.

Mailing address:

Aon Consulting
Flex Administration - #00001
P.O. Box 3002
Arlington Heights, IL 60006-3002

IMPORTANT NOTE: The mailing address for claims forms has changed. Previously, claim forms could be mailed to Winston-Salem, NC. All claim forms must now be mailed to the Arlington Heights, IL, address above to avoid processing delays.

Fax claim forms to Aon at 866-887-3212. If you fax a claim form, be sure to save the fax confirmation statements and follow up with Aon to ensure your fax was received by calling 877-371-2926 the next day. Also, be sure to keep a copy of all submitted claims for your records.

Contact your HR Facilitator or HR Generalist if you have questions.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of LearnIT@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 20, 2007 12:39 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Engaging with Technology

ITS Teaching and Learning (TL) invites you to take advantage of opportunities to learn about technology. Lists, discussion sessions, face-to-face training, and online training are available. Please join us as we continue to identify, learn about, and implement effective uses of technology.

 Learn List

The LEARN list was created to keep UNC-Chapel Hill instructors informed about technology-related professional development and support options and as a forum for sharing ideas and resources related to the instructional use of technologies. (Average number of messages per week: about 4.) You can subscribe to the list on the Web:

http://mail.unc.edu/lists/read/subscribe?name=learn

 ConsiderIT Series

ConsiderIT is a series highlighting the ways UNC-Chapel Hill instructors are using technology for education inside and outside the classroom and presenting new technologies that offer promise for teaching and learning on our campus. Registration is free, but required.

http://its.unc.edu/ConsiderIT

Upcoming ConsiderIT topics:
* Immersive Learning Environments
* Instructional Uses for Facebook

 Games4Learning Google Group

This group is for UNC-Chapel Hill faculty, staff, students, and friends who are interested in using games for learning in our curriculum. Google registration (free) is required to join the group. Point your Web browser to http://groups.google.com and search for Games4Learning.

 Instructional Applications Interest Group

The IAIG provides a professional networking venue for staff who work with instructional technologies. Membership in the group is open to all interested University staff.

http://its.unc.edu/tl/aoe/iaig/

 CITations

CITations is a report featuring information technology-related news of interest to UNC-Chapel Hill faculty members, graduate instructors and the staff who support them. CITations is published twice a month.

http://its.unc.edu/tl/citations/

 TL Infobits

Each month the TL Infobits newsletter provides educators with brief notes on new and useful instructional technology resources. Issues are available at no cost by email subscription or on the Web.

http://its.unc.edu/tl/infobits/

 LearnIT Activities

ITS Teaching and Learning offers opportunities for faculty, staff, and students to learn about the use of information technology (IT) to increase productivity and to engage in discussions about technology's role and impacts on the University mission and on today's society. Activities include discussions, presentations, face-to-workshops, and computer-based training.

http://LearnIT.unc.edu

We welcome questions and comments about any of these opportunities.

-- Libby
==========
Elizabeth A. Evans
Information Technology Services
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Home Page: http://www.unc.edu/~uevans/homepage.html
UNC-CH Home Page: http://www.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: ITS Teaching and Learning

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hsinliu@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 20, 2007 3:27 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Did you have ACL Reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft?

This study is approved by IRB# 05-ORTHO-1005

Have you had Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) Reconstruction utilizing a patellar tendon autograft or will be having such surgery in the near future?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics Laboratory are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to trace the recovery in their patellar tendon stiffness over time after their surgery.

To enroll in this study as a participant in this study, you must have had ACL reconstruction with patellar tendon autograft within the past 2 months or will be having such surgery in the near future, no history of other knee surgeries, no other lower extremity injuries in the past 6 months, and be between the ages of 18-40.

You will be asked to perform knee muscle contractions tasks while an ultrasound images will be taken of your patellar tendon (tendon that attaches kneecap to lower leg). Participation in this study will last approximately 1.5 hours.

You would be paid $30 per visit for your participation.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call, Hsin-yi (shin-ee) Liu, at (919) 966-1211 or email hsinliu@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: orthopaedics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 20, 2007 6:35 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Pulmonary Hypertension

Dr. Ashley Henderson and the Department of Pulmonary Medicine is currently conducting a research study of patients who have been diagnosed with Pulmonary Arterial Hypertension (PAH). PAH is a rare blood vessel problem in the lung in which the blood pressure in the pulmonary artery (the blood vessel that leads from the heart to the lungs) goes above normal levels.

Participants who qualify for this study will receive study related physical exams, pulmonary evaluations and education about their disease. Participants will be asked to make 11 visits to UNC Hospitals over a 67 week period. Participants will receive compensation for their time, effort and travel to UNC.

If you are interested in finding more information about this study please contact:

Joyce M. Lanier, RRT
Clinical Laboratory Research Specialist
Division of Pulmonary & Critical Care Medicine
919-966-2531 office
joyce_lanier@med.unc.edu

This research study has been approved by UNC's Independnet Review Board: (IRB# 06-0695)

This email is sponsored by: Pulmonary Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of vanessa_miller@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 20, 2007 10:11 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Participants 18-44 Needed for study of Muscle and Jaw Function

---

The UNC Center for Neurosensory Disorders is conducting a research study investigating the biological, psychological, and genetic factors that may cause Temporomandibular Muscle and Joint Disorder (TMJD). We are looking for healthy volunteers and people with TMJD to participate.

Participation will include 1 clinic appointment lasting 3 hours. During that time participants fill out various questionnaires and receive a clinical exam and sensory testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will complete brief health updates for the next 4-5 years.

You must be between the ages of 18 and 44, and not have diabetes, epilepsy, hyperthyroidism, drug or alcohol abuse, chronic respiratory diseases, high blood pressure, heart disease, kidney failure and have not required hospitalization for a psychiatric disorder within the last 6 months.

You should not participate if you are pregnant, nursing a baby, currently involved in orthodontic treatment, chemotherapy or radiation therapy.

People who complete all data collection aspects will be paid $260 (this includes $90 for the clinic appointment mentioned above).

For more information about the study, visit the website at http://www.oppera.org

Please contact us if you are interested in learning more about our study (Biomedical IRB number 05-DENT-777).
If interested or for further information please contact:
(919) 966-1060

Approved by the Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: The Center for Neurosensory Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rcoble@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 21, 2007 1:38 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC's Mindfulness Program for Stress/PainManagement

---

Mindfulness programs offer training in meditation, mind-body awareness exercises and other awareness techniques that will teach you how to slow down, set priorities and stay calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life in ways that will enhance your body's natural adaptive and healing ability.

The UNC Program on Integrative Medicine has upcoming opportunities to learn about mindfulness and how to apply it to daily life. Detailed information is available at our website at http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html

To register for the Spring sessions to be held April 10-June 5, contact Becky Coble at email: rcoble@med.unc.edu
or at (919) 966-8586

Registration for the Spring session is open through April 6, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, March 21, 2007 5:43 PM
To: Mutima, Simeneye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Last Chance; Current Exhibitions

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-15001490-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu.

FINAL WEEKEND FOR FASHIONING THE DIVINE

This weekend is your last chance to enjoy Fashioning the Divine: South Asian Sculpture at the Ackland Art Museum.

More than seven years in the planning, this exhibition celebrates the research of UNC-Chapel Hill faculty member Pika Ghosh and graduate students.

This primary research, combined with additional texts by nationally recognized scholars of Asian art and religion, is published in a catalogue of the same name. Fashioning the Divine can be purchased in the Ackland for $30 (non-members) and $25 (members). A poster suitable for framing is also available for $10.

Take an hour this weekend to explore this wonderful exhibition and take home a lovely reminder of Fashioning the Divine.

PUBLICATION OF FASHIONING THE DIVINE: SOUTH ASIAN SCULPTURE AT THE ACKLAND ART MUSEUM WAS SCHEDULED IN CONJUNCTION WITH AN EXHIBITION OF THESE OBJECTS FROM THE COLLECTION OF THE ACKLAND ART MUSEUM. THE EXHIBITION AND PUBLIC PROGRAMMING WERE MADE POSSIBLE BY A GENEROUS GRANT FROM THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS, A GOVERNMENT AGENCY. THE CATALOGUE WAS MADE POSSIBLE, IN PART, BY AN AWARD FROM PALM BEACH/AMERICA'S INTERNATIONAL FINE ART & ANTIQUE FAIR'S MUSEUM PUBLICATION GRANT PROGRAM (WWW.PALMBEACHFAIR.COM), THE J. CHARLES MORROW III ACKLAND ENDOWMENT FUND, AND THE WILLIAM HAYES ACKLAND TRUST.

MAKING THE EPHEMERAL CONCRETE
Directing for the Stage
On view through June 3, 2007

Making the Ephemeral Concrete focuses on fourteen twentieth-century American prints and photographs that suggest connections between the performing and visual arts. The exhibition includes prints by Romare Bearden, Martin Lewis, Raphael Soyer, George Bellows, Isabel Bishop, Douglas Gorsline, and Carrie Mae Weems, and photographs by Danny Lyon, David Spear, Arthur Rothstein, Alfred Stieglitz, Karl Struss, and Edward Weston. The Ackland invites you to explore the environments captured or created by these artists and consider how they might influence young actors and directors.

UPCOMING EVENTS

LITERATURE AND ART
Tonight from 7-8:30PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
March 22 from 12-1PM
April 5 from 12-1PM
April 26 from 12-1PM
May 3 from 12-1PM
May 10 from 12-1PM

MFA EXHIBITION RECEPTION
April 13 from 6-8PM

ART AFTER DARK
April 13 from 5-9PM
May 11 from 5-9PM

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES
April 14 from 10AM-NOON
May 12 from 10AM-NOON

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
April 8 from 2-4PM
May 20 from 2-4PM

THIRD ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY
May 12 from 12-2PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
April 3 from 1-2PM
May 01 from 1-2PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit: www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland_e_news@unc.edu

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as

INTIMATE VIEWS
Drawings and Paintings by the Irascibles from the Carroll and Jeanne Berry Collection

On view through May 27, 2007

The so-called Irascibles belonged to the first generation of abstract expressionists, who came into prominence in New York in the 1940's and 50's. These artists distinguished themselves from traditional painting, by practicing what they called "advanced art:" art that was non-representational and non-narrative, that focused on paint and color exclusively. Among the Irascibles were artists still recognized today: Adolph Gottlieb, Jackson Pollock, Willem de Kooning, Barnett Newman, and others, but the group also included those whose names are less familiar: Theodore Stamos, William Baziotes, Weldon Kees, and Fritz Bultman. The Irascibles also included one female artist, Hedda Sterne, the only artist among the group still living.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of housing@UNC.EDU
Sent:	Wednesday, March 21, 2007 7:03 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Housing Resources for Visiting Scholars and Summer Conferences

---

The Department of Housing and Residential Education offers furnished apartments for official use by the University Community on a short term basis, ranging from one week to a month or more throughout the calendar year.

These apartments are non-smoking fully furnished one bedroom / one bathroom and two bedroom / two bathroom apartments with private bathroom facilities. We are also disability accessible.

Guests must be sponsored by a University department, which is responsible for the guest and the payment of fees.

We would enjoy working with you to fulfill your visiting scholar and university guest needs. Don't hesitate to contact us for availability and reservations.

Please inquire about our ability to host your summer conference needs as well! We can accommodate groups of any size.

Thank you

Dei Allard, Director of Summer Operations
Housing and Residential Education
UNC-Chapel Hill

1.800.UNC.STAY
summeroperations@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Department of Housing and Residential Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of MikeTarrant@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, March 21, 2007 7:58 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Join the Fight to End Poverty

Interested in Fighting Poverty? Looking for a way to TAKE ACTION?

In coordination with the Community Initiative to End Homelessness and Homeless Outreach and Poverty Eradication, a committee of the Campus-Y, Opportunity Rocks is currently working to raise awareness both on campus and in the community about the poverty that exists, literally and metaphorically, in our own backyard. By raising awareness we hope to motivate local and state officials to implement policies that address the needs of those impoverished in our communities.

If you would like to learn more information about our efforts to end poverty or would like to get involved please visit http://campus-y.unc.edu/index.php?option=com_content&task=view&id=139&Itemid=2

Ending Poverty...Begins at Home.

This email is sponsored by: Opportunity Rocks

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rcoble@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 21, 2007 10:03 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: IBS Treatment for Women: Mindfulness/Support Groups

---

If you are a woman (or know a woman)age 18 or older who suffers from irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), you/she may qualify to participate in a research study of two treatment programs to help improve the symptoms of IBS.

In both programs, women of all ages will meet in a group once per week for 8 weeks. In the support group, women will share successful strategies for coping with and reducing symptoms of IBS. The mindfulness group combines gentle yoga with a meditation technique. Both programs have shown promise for helping people with illnesses.

Each group requires coming to a meeting in Chapel Hill for 2 hours each Tuesday, April 3-May 22, 5:00-7:00 p.m., and for 4 hours one Saturday during those 8 weeks. Groups will be designated randomly by a computer program. Both groups will be led by an experienced healtb coach and group facilitator. Participants will be asked to fill out questionnaires before the first group meeting, two weeks after the program, and 3 months, 6 months, and 12 months after the program.

Women will be paid $250 for filling out the five groups of questionnaires; and parking vouchers will be provided as needed. Participation in the mindfulness training or support group is free.

To participate in the study, women must have a diagnosis of IBS from a physician and current symptoms (abdominal pain or bloating at least once per week over the past month).

Women cannot be in this study if:
* unable to attend a meeting in Chapel Hill each Tuesday, April 3-May 22;
* are pregnant; or
* have one of the following disorders:
  - severe mental illness;
  - inflammatory bowel disease (ulcerative colitis or Crohn's disease);
  - cancer;
  - liver or pancreas disease;
  - uncontrolled lactose (milk) intolerance; or
  - celiac disease (wbeat intolerance); or
  - a history of major abdominal surgery.

If you would like to learn more about this study and/or to see if you qualify, please call 966-8586, or send an e-mail to Becky Coble (rcoble@med.unc.edu) or Kim Faurot (faurot@med.unc.edu) with "IBS study" in the subject line. This message has been approved by the Biomedical IRB 9/6/2006.

This email is sponsored by: Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinicalcore@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 22, 2007 6:31 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Study Seeking Volunteers

TO: Staff and Students,

We invite you to participate as a volunteer in a research study involving learning, language and personality styles. We are looking for people who are parents, between the ages of 31-60. To be in the study you cannot have autism or first degree relatives (children, parents, brothers or sisters) with autism. Compensation for participating in this study is up to $50. Participation takes from 3-4 hours over 1-2 sessions.

The aim of the study is to identify the learning language and personality styles of autistic individuals and their parents. You are invited to be part of a comparison group to parents of individuals with autism. Those interested in the study may contact us by replying to this email so that we may provide further details about our project. You will not be expected to travel or pay for expenses incurred due to participation in this study.

We thank you in advance for your collaboration with this important project.

Please contact: Family Study
Margaret Deramus
clinicalcore@med.unc.edu
1-888-718-7859

IRB #: 02-1103
Version Date: January 31, 2007

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 22, 2007 8:01 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Carolina North Public Meeting

Members of the campus community:

The University will host a new series of meetings about Carolina North for the campus and local communities on the last Tuesday of each month through May, beginning Tuesday, March 27.

You are invited to attend one of two sessions on March 27. The first session will be at 3:30 p.m., Room 2603, School of Government, Knapp-Sanders Building. The presentation will be repeated at 5:30 p.m. in the same location. Parking is available in the Highway 54 lot and Rams Head deck. The School of Government parking deck is available only for the 5:30 p.m. meeting.

University representatives will present potential uses of Carolina North and three conceptual approaches to its development. Attendees will have opportunities to ask questions and share comments. The feedback will help the university as it develops a concept plan for the UNC-owned property.

The conceptual plans that will be presented draw on the guiding principles developed by the Leadership Advisory Committee for Carolina North, an ecological assessment of the property and sustainability strategies.

At the same time the university is working on its plans, several supporting studies are under way or planned involving the campus and various government and community entities. Topics include transit, transportation and fiscal impact.

University officials believe Carolina North, the 900-plus-acre tract located about two miles north of the main campus in Chapel Hill, represents an unprecedented opportunity to develop a mixed-use academic community that will benefit the campus and the community.

The university's Board of Trustees has directed the administration to submit a development plan for Carolina North to local governments by next October.

For more information about Carolina North, go to the website, http://carolinanorth.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sbright@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 22, 2007 8:54 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Do you cough frequently?

Do you cough frequently?
Do you wonder why?

If you are a non-smoking male or female between the ages of 18 and 70 who has had a cough for more than 8 weeks, and are not taking any acid reflux medication- you may be eligible for a research study investigating GERD (Gastroesophageal Reflux Disease) as a potential cause of cough.

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please call, 966-4591.
04-MED-533. Approved by UNC Biomedical IRB 7/28/06.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Esophageal Research Group

This email is sponsored by: Program in Digestive Health

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hankins@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 22, 2007 10:42 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: The effects of a very low carbohydrate diet on symptoms of irritable bowel syndr

---

GCRC 2392 Approved by the Biomedical IRB on 1/22/07

ARE YOU OVERWEIGHT?

DO YOU SUFFER FROM IRRITABLE BOWEL SYNDROME?

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED STARTING THE ATKINS DIET?

* We are currently enrolling for a study that examines the impact of a low-carbohydrate (the Atkins diet!) on Irritable Bowel Syndrome.
* Participants will receive $150 for completing the study
* And all meals FREE for 6 weeks.
* If you meet these requirements:

 Are age 18-70 years old, male or female
 Have diarrhea-predominant Irritable Bowel Syndrome
 Are overweight
 Desire to use the Atkins diet for possible weight loss
 Are in stable health

And are interested in participating!
Please contact:
Jane Hankins at hankins@med.unc.edu to learn more about the study and whether you might qualify!

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mechlin@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 23, 2007 12:27 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Volunteers Needed for Study on Ethnicity and Pain

---

Men and women ages 18-40 are invited to participate in a study examining blood pressure responses to mental stress, and sensitivity to experimental pain tests. Individuals with any current psychiatric illness (e.g. depression, anxiety, etc.), medical illness (e.g. chronic pain conditions), or taking any medications, including oral contraceptives, are not eligible. The testing will last approximately 4 hours and eligible subjects will be compensated $75 for completion of the study. The study is directed by Beth Mechlin, M.A. and Susan Girlder, Ph.D., UNC Department of Psychiatry. Email Beth at Mechlin@email.unc.edu or call at 919-966-8029 if you are interested in participating. This study ("Ethnicity and Pain: Psychosocial Stress and Stress Responses" IRB # 05-311) was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB on January 10, 2007.

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 23, 2007 1:22 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Adults with Depression for Brain Imaging Studies

---

Seeking Adults with Depression for Brain Imaging Studies:

If you are interested in helping us to learn more about the brain and about major depressive disorder, please consider participating in Dr. Gabriel Dichter's study, "Brain Imaging of Psychotherapy for Depression", IRB # 05-PSYCH-1168. Study participation includes weekly "talk" therapy sessions (no drugs) for 9-15 weeks.

If you meet the following criteria, please reply to this email message or contact Moria Smoski, PhD, at 919-684-6717 or ProjectActivate@gmail.com for a screening interview.

Our criteria include:
1) Ages 18-55 (men and women)
2) Current feelings of depression.
3) Not currently taking antidepressant medications
4) Willing and able to participate in the following appointments:
* 20-minute telephone interview
* 30-minute "practice" MRI session.
* Three in-person interviews (one now, one in approximately 6 weeks, and one in approximately 12 weeks). The first interview will last approximately 2.5 hours, and the others will last approximately 1 hour.
* Four 90-minute MRI brain scans (two now and two in approximately 12 weeks).

This study provides compensation for these appointments as well as weekly talk therapy sessions. All appointments take place at Duke University Medical Center.

Thank you,
Gabriel S. Dichter, PhD
Principal Investigator
Department of Psychiatry

Study Coordinator contact information:
919-684-6717 or ProjectActivate@gmail.com
dichter@med.unc.edu
919-681-3169

This email is sponsored by: Dpeartment of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jfinkle@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, March 23, 2007 2:12 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Fifteen minutes of Fame-Child Actor (or actor want a be) needed for video

---

Physician in the UNC Dept of Pediatrics is filming a series of videos on the topic of pediatrician communication about child growth. If you have a child between the ages of 3 and 8 who would enjoy being a part of the filming process, please see details below.

We are specifically looking for:

* Two children between the ages of 3 and 8 who are either African American or Caucasian.

* We need one child who would be considered an average size for his/her age and one child who would be considered larger than average size for his/her age.

* Children do not need to have any prior acting experience. Your child will not be asked to memorize lines.

* Child will play the role of a child visiting the pediatrician's office with his/her mother.

* Expected time commitment is half a day (4-5 hours). We will work to meet your schedule as much as possible and avoid school days if necessary.

* Family will receive $75 for time commitment.

If you and your child might be interested, please send email to jfinkle@unc.edu or call 966-3849 for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Pediatrics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, March 23, 2007 7:46 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Request for Feedback on Free Tuition for Staff Children, Childcare Proposals

---

In my March 21 speech to the Board of Trustees http://forum.unc.edu/documents/BOT_Speech_March_2007.pdf , I asked that the University dedicate $100 million from its Carolina First campaign to two employee-friendly initiatives:

First, providing $40 million to grant free tuition at UNC System institutions to children of faculty and staff, an idea originated by Provost Emeritus Dick Richardson and the Ad Hoc Committee of the Institute for the Arts and Humanities http://forum.unc.edu/documents/FreeTuitionforChildrenofUNCFacultyandStaff.pdf ;

and

Second, providing $60 million for affordable, on-campus childcare and affordable dependent health care.

These proposals need grassroots support. The best way to show support is to write Chancellor Moeser, UNC Board of Trustees Chair Nelson Schwab, and other members of the Board. Please find their addresses below.

Thanks. Please write, show your support, and share with others.

Ernie Patterson
Chair
UNC Employee Forum
efpatterson@bio.unc.edu

Addresses:

Chancellor James Moeser
103 South Building
Campus Box 9100
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-9100

Mr. Nelson Schwab, III,
Chair UNC Board of Trustees
Carousel Capital
201 N. Tryon Street - Suite 2450
Charlotte, NC 28202
Email: nschwab@carouselcap.com

Other Trustees' addresses are available at:
http://www.unc.edu/depts/trustees/member.html

Members of the Carolina First Steering Committee:
http://carolinafirst.unc.edu/leadership/

Also:
Matthew Kupec
Vice Chancellor-University Advancement
103G South Building
Campus Box 9100
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-9100
Email: Matt_Kupec@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of puglia@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, March 26, 2007 8:17 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Antipsychotic Medication & Weight Gain Prevention-Seeking Participants

---

Do you know a child who has recently been prescribed an antipsychotic medication?
Has your child been recommended to begin taking a second-generation antipsychotic medication?

The ASPIRE Research program at the UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Psychiatry is recruiting children ages 10-17 for a weight gain prevention study involving individuals recently prescribed a second generation antipsychotic (SGA) medication. This is a 6 month study designed to assess whether or not metformin (Glucophage) can prevent excessive weight gain that typically occurs with the use of SGAs.

Benefits for subjects include a comprehensive diagnostic assessment at the beginning of the study and medication management for the duration of the study. Appointments with child psychiatrists are provided free of charge to research participants.

If you think this study may be appropriate for your child, please contact us. We are happy to tell you more about our program and answer any questions. Please call the ASPIRE Research Hotline (1-800-708-0048) or email us at puglia@med.unc.edu.

This message was approved by the UNC Biomedical IRB and the GCRC on March 13, 2007 for IRB #05-2992 (GCRC 2501) "PREVENT" - Metformin Mitigation of Atypical Antipsychotic-Induced Metabolic Dysregulation (Principal Investigator: Lin Sikich, MD)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dmo@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, March 26, 2007 9:10 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Departmental/Group Photography

As Spring approaches, the dogwoods and azaleas on campus come into beautiful bloom. This is the time Medical Illustration and Photography is asked to photograph groups and departments on campus. If you're planning on getting a beautiful outdoor photograph of your department or group, we ask that you call to schedule your appointment now to beat the rush and possible conflicts with other groups.

Please call Medical Illustration and Photography at 966-4232 to reserve your place on our schedule.

Thank you.

This email is sponsored by: Medical Illustration & Photography

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of CST_migraine_study@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, March 26, 2007 10:31 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Migraine headache research study

Bilingual study:
If you know someone that might be eligible and prefers to communicate in Spanish, please forward him/her the following link:

http://pim.med.unc.edu/CST.study.Spanish.message.html

Do you experience 5 or more migraine headaches a month?

Researchers at the UNC Departments of Neurology and Physical Medicine are seeking volunteers for a study to determine if craniosacral therapy or magnet therapy will help reduce the number of headaches in people with migraines.
* Craniosacral therapy is a gentle massage technique designed to release areas of restriction in the soft tissues of the head and spine
* Magnet therapy may help migraines by increasing blood flow.

If you are interested in participating and would like to learn more about this study and/or to see if you qualify, please call 966-8586, or send an e-mail to CST_migraine_study@med.unc.edu.

If you are chosen to participate in this study, you may do the following:

* Come for an initial visit and a free medical examination at the General
Clinical Research Center at UNC Hospitals.
* Complete and return daily headache diaries for 8 weeks.
* If you are still qualify to participate, you will receive free craniosacral or magnet therapy once a week for 8 weeks from a nurse trained in craniosacral therapy and massage; the sessions will take place at Integrative Health Center of Chapel Hill near Timberlyne Shopping Center off Weaver Dairy Road.
* Complete a set of questions four times during this study.
* You will be paid up to $170 for your time in completing the diaries and questionnaires.

This message has been approved by the Biomedical IRB 03/09/2007.
Study Title: Craniosacral Therapy in Migraine: Feasibility Study
Funded by: National Center for Complementary and Alternative Medicine at the NIH

This email is sponsored by: Neurology and the Program on Integrative Medicine

This email is sponsored by: Neurology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ibsresearch@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, March 26, 2007 11:26 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research subjects needed for IBS study

---

The UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is conducting a research study investigating a broad range of factors that may cause IBS.

Participation will include filling out various health questionnaires and physiological testing. Individuals who meet the study criteria will be required to spend one overnight visit in the General Clinical Research Center at UNC Hospital.

Benefits include free medical screenings for disorders such as bacterial overgrowth, lactose malabsorption and celiac disease, and up to $250 compensation.

To be eligible, you must be
* 18 years or older
* diagnosed with irritable bowel syndrome by a physician

If you are interested in the study, please reply to ibsresearch@med.unc.edu or contact Lenore at 919-966-8329. You can also log on to the Center website at www.med.unc.edu/ibs for more details.

GCRC-1846
Approved by the Biomedical IRB 10/6/06

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of noreen_montgomery@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 27, 2007 12:18 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Reminder: Important Benefits Deadlines

---

This is a reminder of the two important benefits deadlines this week: health insurance enrollment and flexible spending account reimbursement.

HEALTH INSURANCE ENROLLMENT

The enrollment period for the State Health Plan's health insurance options ends at 5 p.m. on Friday, March 30. This enrollment period includes both the Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) and Comprehensive Major Medical (CMM), or indemnity, plans.

If you do nothing, you will remain in your current plan.

If you want to make any changes in your coverage or update your personal information (for example, your address) complete the Annual Enrollment Change form located in your enrollment kit (also available at http://statehealthplan.state.nc.us/annual_enrollment.html).

Return the completed change form to Benefit Program Administration, CB# 1045 or Suite 1700 in the Administrative Office Building, by 5 p.m. on March 30. Lines 1, 2, and 14 on the change form are required in order to process your changes. Any changes you make during annual enrollment will become effective on July 1, 2007.

For questions on the PPO, call State Health Plan customer service at 888-234-2416. For questions on the CMM, call State Health Plan customer service at 800-422-4658. For questions on the enrollment period, contact your HR Facilitator or your HR Generalist.

FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT REIMBURSEMENTS

Saturday, March 31, is the deadline for filing reimbursement claims on the NCFlex Health Care Flexible Spending Account and the NCFlex Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account for expenses that were incurred on or before December 31, 2006. Claims must be RECEIVED by Aon Consulting no later than March 31.

After March 31, employees will not be able to claim any of the remaining monies in their year 2006 flex account(s).

Download the claim form from http://www.osp.state.nc.us/ncflex/Forms/ClaimForm_2a.pdf, or request a copy from Benefit Program Administration.

To ensure receipt by the deadline, you should fax any remaining claims forms to Aon at 866-887-3212. If you fax a claim form, be sure to save the fax confirmation statements and follow up with Aon to ensure your fax was received by calling 877-371-2926 the next day. Also, be sure to keep a copy of all submitted claims for your records.

Contact your HR Generalist if you have questions.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Ackland Art Museum <ackland-e-news@listserv.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, March 27, 2007 6:35 PM
To: Mutima@email.unc.edu; Sinamenye A <smutima@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [ackland-e-news] At the Ackland: Original Music; Share Your Wisdom

You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as smutima@email.unc.edu. If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-15081206-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu

Original Music in the Museum

Friday, March 30
3:00 - 5:00 PM
No registration is required; Free.

Join us for a special program of original music performed in the galleries.

Students in Professor Allen Anderson's Music Composition course, together with other UNC student musicians, will perform pieces they composed in response to works of art in the Ackland's collection. Performances will take place in several galleries, so that audience members can see the art as they listen to the music.

Share Your Wisdom

This winter and spring, the Ackland Art Museum invites members of Asian American, Latino, and Native American communities to come to the Museum to express their opinions about the gallery teacher program, and to recommend ways to improve it. We would like to know what would make the program more accessible and interesting to potential participants. Each session will focus on the concerns of a particular community. The session for African Americans met in February. The meeting for Latinos is March 28; for Native Americans, April 11; and for Asian Americans, April 13.

Each session meets at the Ackland Art Museum from 6:30 - 8:00 PM with light refreshments. Participants will receive a recent Ackland catalog, parking tokens for Chapel Hill town lots, and $25 or a free Museum membership. The Chapel Hill website contains more information about parking in downtown.

An overview of the gallery teacher program and a copy of the flyer used to recruit participants for the program last year may be found on the website.

If you are interested in participating, please contact Raina Leon at rleon@email.unc.edu or Beth Shaw McGuire at 919.962.0479 or bas5705@email.unc.edu

UPCOMING EVENTS

SHARE YOUR WISDOM
March 28 from 6:30-8PM
April 11 from 6:30-8PM
April 13 from 6:30-8PM

ORIGINAL MUSIC IN THE MUSEUM
March 30 from 3-5PM

YOGA IN THE GALLERIES
April 9 from 12-1PM
April 24 from 12-1PM
May 1 from 12-1PM
May 14 from 12-1PM

MFA EXHIBITION RECEPTION
April 13 from 6-8PM

ART AFTER DARK
April 13 from 5-9PM
May 11 from 5-9PM

DRAWING IN THE GALLERIES
April 14 from 10AM-NOON
May 12 from 10AM-NOON

MUSIC IN THE GALLERIES
April 15 from 2-4PM
May 20 from 2-4PM

LUNCH WITH ONE
April 19 from 1-2PM
May 17 from 1-2PM

THIRD ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY
May 5 from 12-2PM

For more information on Ackland Programs visit www.ackland.org

These and other public programs are made possible by generous support from the Ackland Art Museum Guild, members, and friends like you!

Pass it on
Forward this message to friends. There's always something new to see at the Ackland.

Support the Museum
Become a member of the Ackland Art Museum. For more information on the benefits of membership and how your membership dollars support our mission, call 919.843.3676 or visit www.ackland.org/join.

Comments on Ackland e-news?
Send an email to the editor: ackland-e-news@unc.edu.

Thank you for subscribing to Ackland e-news!
You are subscribed to the Ackland's email newsletter as
smutima@email.unc.edu.

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, send a blank email to leave-15081206-5774386F@listserv.unc.edu.

Illustrations top to bottom:

Jan Weenix, Dutch, 1642-1719, Still Life with Hunting Trophies, 1680s-1690s, oil on canvas. Ackland Fund.

Jose Bedia, Cuban, born 1959, Piango Piango Llega Lejos (Step by Step, We Arrive Very Far), 2000, acrylic stain and oil pastel on canvas. Ackland Fund.

Ackland Art Museum

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 27, 2007 7:53 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Pedestrian Safety Tips for Tar Heels on the Go!

As spring brings beautiful weather to the campus, the University would like to encourage its students, faculty, staff and visitors to stay safe when commuting on campus.

To encourage pedestrian safety, the UNC Highway Safety Research Center and the UNC Department of Public Safety offer a few pedestrian safety tips to the University community:

Safety Tips for Pedestrians

Be Aware: Look across all lanes you must cross. Even though one vehicle has stopped, another may pass in another lane.

Be Safe: Do not assume vehicles can stop. Gauge the flow of traffic before you step out onto the road and wait if necessary.

Be Considerate: Establish eye contact with drivers before crossing.

Safety Tips for Drivers

Be Aware: When entering a crosswalk area, be prepared to stop.

Be Safe: Do not overtake and pass other vehicles stopped for pedestrians on your side of the roadway.

Be Considerate: Establish eye contact with pedestrians.

To report a problem area or to notify the Department of Public Safety of potential problem areas, please call the Pedestrian Hotline at 919-843-PEDS (7337).

For more information on pedestrian safety, please visit http://www.hsrc.unc.edu/y2h

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Public Safety and UNC Highway Safety Research Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of zulfikar@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 27, 2007 8:49 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research on Work Values

Hello,

We are conducting a study focused on work values of people and are trying to see the differences and similarities among various traditions. To participate in the study you would complete a web survey-link provided at the end of this email. This voluntary survey may take about 5-8 minutes. Your responses will be kept confidential. You may withdraw at any time and may choose not to answer any questions.

To show our appreciation, we will do a drawing among the participants who completed the survey for three $10.00 Target gift cards. If you would like to participate in the drawing, please provide your email address at the end of the survey. To protect your privacy, we will separate the email addresses from the rest of the data and delete them once the drawing has been done.

Research is designed to benefit society by gaining new knowledge. You may not benefit personally from being in this research study. If you need additional information on this research, please contact Y. Fahir Zulfikar at zulfikar@email.unc.edu. I am a graduate student at Hacettepe University, Turkey and an employee at University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

All research on human volunteers is reviewed by a committee that works to protect your rights and welfare. If you have questions or concerns about your rights as a research subject you may contact, anonymously if you wish, the Institutional Review Board at 919-966-3113 or by email to IRB_subjects@unc.edu.

Clicking on this link connotes your consent to be a participant in this study.

http://uncodum.qualtrics.com/SE?SID=SV_1S2FEaQMtvzLbRW&SVID=Prod

Thank you very much for your participation.

IRB#: 07-0162
Approved on February 20, 2007 by the UNC-CH, Behavioral Institutional Review Board.

This email is sponsored by UNC-CH, The Parr Center for Ethics

This email is sponsored by: The Parr Center for Ethics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marianne_livingston@med.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, March 27, 2007 9:57 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Taking Zyprexa, Risperdal, or Seroquel?

CAMP: Comparison of Antipsychotics for Metabolic Problems

Is someone you know taking Zyprexa, Risperdal, or Seroquel?

Do they have a diagnosis of schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorder?

Have they experienced weight gain, high cholesterol, or other health problems?

Persons who answered YES to all of these questions might be eligible for participation in the CAMP clinical trial that will provide all of the following:

* Clinical care from a psychiatrist and treatment team specializing in schizophrenia and schizoaffective disorders.
* An individual behavioral intervention designed to help with weight loss.
* Free study medications and free study-related care.
* Compensation for time.

If you have any questions or to discuss if you or someone you know might be eligible for the CAMP study, please contact:

Marianne Livingston, LCSW in Chapel Hill (919) 966-9587
or
Victoria DeVeaugh-Geiss, MS in Raleigh (919) 733-5227.

This project (CAMP: Comparison of Antipsychotics for Metabolic Problems, IRB #05-2791/ GCRC 2539) has been approved by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board and the General Clinical Research Center on October 24, 2006.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Psychiatry Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kathy_bryant@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, March 27, 2007 11:21 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: HR Facilitator of the Year Award Nominations Open

---

Nominate your department's Human Resources Facilitator for the HR Facilitator of the Year award!

HR Facilitators are employees in University departments who process permanent, temporary and student employee personnel actions; handle leave, benefits or payroll matters for their department; serve as the primary liaison between the Office of Human Resources and employees; and/or supervise a work group that performs these functions. They are integral in ensuring that HR policies and procedures are followed in departments and that HR services are known and available to department employees.

The Office of Human Resources gratefully relies upon these individuals and has established an award program to recognize their service. Please complete the nomination form (links below) and let us know how your HR Facilitator helps you and your department. Multiple or group nominations for a Facilitator are welcome. All nominees, as well as the award recipient, will be honored at a reception in June.

Please note: The more specific the information you share, the better we can assess each nominee's contribution.

The nomination deadline is Friday, April 20. Some criteria to consider:

* Ambassadorship - diplomatic; positive attitude; excellent communication skills

* Customer Service - available; flexible; helpful; responsive to needs

* Knowledge - accurate, dependable responses; resourceful

* Teamwork - support within the department; dependable; honest; trustworthy

Return nominations to:
Kathy Bryant
CB# 1045
Fax: 962-8677
Email: kathy_bryant@unc.edu

Download nomination form in Word format:
http://hr.unc.edu/formfinder/forms-recognition/hrf-nom.doc

Download nomination form in pdf format:
http://hr.unc.edu/formfinder/forms-recognition/hrf-nom.pdf

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rsegal@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, March 28, 2007 12:26 AM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research on how leg muscles work

IRB Study #06-0982

We are looking for research subjects for a leg muscle study!!!

* We are conducting a new research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill designed to investigate whether groups of leg muscles can compensate for the temporary loss of one muscle. We will cause voluntary and involuntary leg muscle fatigue. We will then determine whether your other leg muscles compensate for the fatigued muscle.

Who is eligible?
* Able to use legs to exercise with no history of leg problems
* Able to follow verbal directions.
* Able to see icons on computer monitor (with or without corrective lenses) from at least 4 feet away.
* Able to hear a computer generated auditory beep from at least 4 feet away.
* At least 18 years of age.

There will be one session with participants receiving $50
Please contact Richard L. Segal, PT, PhD at 919-843-8660 or email Richard_Segal@med.unc.edu for more information.

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of shelly_green@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 28, 2007 1:16 AM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Chancellor's Award Nominations Open

In 1991, the University established the Chancellor's Award program, based on the same criteria as the State Employees' Award for Excellence, which recognizes contributions from State employees. Each year a selection committee comprised of staff and faculty receives nominations and recommends five employees for recognition.

The five selected nominees are honored by the University as recipients of the Chancellor's Award. Award recipients will be honored at a recognition luncheon and each will receive a monetary award of $1,000 and a special leave award of 24 hours. The University also forwards those nominations to the State Employees' Award for Excellence Committee, as nominations for that award.

The awards are based on meritorious or distinguished accomplishments that are "clearly above and beyond that which would be expected from dedicated employees who are fully and competently discharging all of the duties and satisfying all of the requirements of their jobs" while a University employee. The awards categories are:

1. Outstanding State Government Service
2. Innovation(s)
3. Public Service
4. Safety/Heroism
5. Human Relations
6. Other Achievements

Any permanent employee may recommend a University employee (including retired and deceased employees) for the State Employees' Award for Excellence and the Chancellor's Award.

Nomination deadline is Friday, April 20. Return nominations to Employee Services, CB# 1045.

For more information on the Chancellor's Award program, click on the following link:
http://hr.unc.edu/employees/spa-employees/recognition/chancellorsaward.
Nomination forms in Word and PDF versions are available at the above link.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of craft@mail.schsr.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, March 28, 2007 7:46 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Funding Available: Research Stimulus Grants

---

Is your research related to aging or to issues relevant to older adults?

If you said "no," are you sure?

The UNC Institute on Aging announces a new competition in its Stimulus Grant program. The aim of this program, which funded its first cohort of investigators last year, is to build greater strength in multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary aging research on the UNC Chapel Hill campus.

In order to stimulate the participation of more faculty in interdisciplinary aging research, The Institute on Aging will award up to four grants (the typical grant will be between $7,500 and $10,000). The grantee will be expected to use these funds to build an interdisciplinary team and to develop a research proposal in aging. The Institute provides individual and group mentoring to assist the awardees.

There is considerable strength in aging research at UNC in medicine and public health, but less so in the arts and sciences and in many other professional schools. The Institute would like to foster a broader approach to aging research that crosses interdisciplinary boundaries. The Institute would particularly like to involve, as principal investigators or as research team members, (a) relatively new investigators and (b) investigators who may be doing research on topics related to aging but who do not define themselves in that way.

For more information about the program and application instructions please visit our website:
http://www.aging.unc.edu/funding/stimulus/index.html

This email is sponsored by: UNC Institute on Aging

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of kcleary@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 28, 2007 8:19 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: IM for the Kids!

Want an easy way to donate to UNC Dance Marathon while helping one of nine social causes at the same time? 25 cents will be donated to the UNC Dance Marathon's "For the Kids Fund" for every person from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill who downloads the new Windows Instant Messenger (IM) program at:
http://im.live.com/messenger/im/home/?source=unc

i'm is a new instant messaging initiative where every time you start a new IM conversation, Microsoft will share a portion of the advertising revenue with some of the world's most effective organizations dedicated to social causes. There is NO set cap on the amount they will donate to each organization! The organizations you can choose from are:

American Red Cross
Boys and Girls Club
National AIDS Fund
National Multiple Sclerosis Society ninemillion.org
Sierra Club
StopGlobalWarming.org
Susan G. Komen for the Cure
UNICEF

It costs nothing at all to you, and it makes SUCH a difference. Think about how much we all use IM, and imagine if all those times could be converted to a donation!

You can download the program at:
http://im.live.com/messenger/im/home/?source=unc

Remember, not only will you be benefiting one of nine social causes listed above, but for every UNC student who downloads the program, 25 cents will be donated to UNC Dance Marathon to help patients and families of the North Carolina Children's Hospital. As an additional incentive, once you download the new program, send a message using Windows Live to kscleary07@hotmail.com with your name and you will be entered to win a $100 gift certificate to The Streets at Southpoint.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Dance Marathon

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of jshapiro@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, March 28, 2007 8:53 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Behavioral Weight Control Program

---

Behavioral Weight Control Program Offered by The UNC Department of Psychiatry

Using evidence-based weight control approaches developed by Cynthia Bulik, Ph.D., Distinguished Professor and Director of the UNC Eating Disorders Program, the BEHAVIORAL WEIGHT CONTROL PROGRAM will be facilitated by a licensed clinical psychologist.

This five-month program will focus on BEHAVIORAL STRATEGIES FOR weight control.

You will learn HEALTHY NUTRITION and the program will include two sessions with a registered dietician.

Our goal is to equip you with the knowledge and skills necessary to produce a PERMANENT LIFESTYLE CHANGE.

Enrollment includes:
* 20 1-Hour Weekly Group Sessions with a licensed clinical psychologist
* Text: Runaway Eating, by Cynthia M. Bulik, Ph.D. and Nadine Taylor, MS, RD.
* CD-ROM: "The Empowerment Solution for Permanent Weight Control"

Cost:
* $440 - covers the entire 5-month Weight Control Program and all materials (equates to $22 per week)
* Payment must be received in full. A $50 deposit is required to hold your spot. Full payment is due at the first meeting.

Sessions Available: WEDNESDAYS Beginning in JUNE!
* 5:15 - 6:15 pm
* 12:00 - 1:00 pm

Check with your personal physician prior to beginning this or any weight loss program.

For questions or to enroll, contact Jennifer Shapiro, PhD. 919-966-5262; jshapiro@med.unc.edu
This program is available to UNC employees as well as individuals in the general community

This email is sponsored by: Eating Disorders Program/Dept Psychiatry

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>

Sent: Thursday, March 29, 2007 2:33 PM

To: Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; radunbar@email.unc.edu; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>

Subject: Look out for your electronic Faculty Elections Ballots

---

Hi folks. Sometime in April you should receive an electronic Faculty Elections ballet. Two of your colleagues in the dept are on the ballot: Bereket Selassie on the Faculty Executive Committee and Tim McMillan on the Chancellor's Advisory committee. Please remember to vote! DC

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 29, 2007 8:39 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Dr. Harry L. Watson

---

March 29, 2007

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Carol Tresolini, Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives

RE: Administrative Review of Dr. Harry L. Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South

NOTE: This is a REMINDER email from the previous message sent on March 7, 2007. The deadline for comments, or to meet with the review committee is April 2, 2007.

On behalf of the committee appointed to review the performance of Dr. Harry Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South, I am pleased to invite your participation in the review process.

The committee is being chaired by Dr. James Peacock, Distinguished Professor in the Department of Anthropology. Other members include: Professor William Ferris, Senior Associate Director for the Center for the Study of the American South; Dr. Niklaus Steiner, Executive Director for the Office of International Affairs; Professor Joseph Flora in the Department of English & Comparative Literature; and Professor Minrose Gwin in the Department of English & Comparative Literature.

As required by University regulations, the Provost has requested a review of Dr. Watson's performance as Director of the Center for the Study of the American South over the last five years. Areas for review include vision, long-range planning, day-to-day management of the Center, and leadership in actualizing the ideals and goals of the Center. The committee invites your comments on these and related issues. It is important for the committee to learn how Dr. Watson's performance as Director is viewed by students, staff, and faculty at UNC-Chapel Hill.

We encourage you to contribute to this review in the following different ways:

1. You may provide written comments to the chair or other committee members. The review committee will treat your comments as strictly confidential. By law, all written communication - whether on paper or by email - becomes a confidential part of Dr. Watson's personnel file. As such, comments are open to examination by him. University regulations prohibit considerations of anonymous letters in the review process. All written comments should be sent to: Dr. James Peacock, c/o Nel Resendes, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing resendes@email.unc.edu.

2. The committee has scheduled one open session to receive comments on:

Monday, April 2, 2007 (2:00 - 4:00 pm) - 218 South Building

If you wish to meet with the committee, please contact Nel Resendes in the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost (resendes@email.unc.edu or 962-2037), and she will schedule a specific time (usually about 10-15 minutes) within that time period. Note that while all comments during these sessions will be kept strictly confidential, a master list of attendees will be kept as part of Dr. Watson's personnel file.

3. You may telephone or meet privately in person with committee members. Oral communications (by telephone or in person) and the committee's notes generated from these conversations do not become part of Dr. Watson's personnel file but may be reflected in the committee's report without identifiers.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding Dr. Watson's performance to the committee is April 2, 2007. Thank you very much for your help in this important task.

Review Committee for Dr. Harry Watson, Director of the Center for the Study of the American South:

Dr. James Peacock, Review Committee Chair
Department of Anthropology
306A Alumni Building
CB# 3115
Carolina Campus
(919) 966-4106
peacock@unc.edu

Professor William Ferris
Center for the Study of the American South
412 Hamilton Hall
CB# 9127
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-5538
wferris@unc.edu

Dr. Niklaus Steiner
Office of International Affairs
223 East Franklin St.
CB# 5145
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-6855
nsteiner@email.unc.edu

Professor Joseph Flora
English & Comparative Literature
436 Greenlaw Hall
CB# 3520
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-2503
jflora@email.unc.edu

Professor Minrose Gwin
English & Comparative Literature
444 Greenlaw Hall
CB # 3520
Carolina Campus
(919) 962-4042
mgwin@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, March 29, 2007 9:16 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: InTouch, Employee Forum Newsletter, Now On-Line

---

The April edition of InTouch, the Employee Forum newsletter, is now on-line at

http://forum.unc.edu/InTouch/InTouch8-4.htm

This month's articles include:

From the Chair: Address to the Board of Trustees

President Bowles Tables Personnel Flexibility

Part-Time Undergraduate Degree Program for UNC Employees

Sexual Violence Day of Truthtelling

2007 Carolina Kids' Camp

2007 Summer Blood Drive

Annual Enrollment for Health Plan Update

Clerical Interns Need Placement Opportunities

Campus Y Snack Bar Now Open

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: turnerjd@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, March 29, 2007 4:44 PM
To: Human Resources Facilitators <hrfac@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [hrfac] Final Reminder: Important Benefits Deadlines

---

TO: HR Facilitators

FROM: Noreen Montgomery, Acting Director, Benefit Program Administration

This is your final reminder of the two important benefits deadlines this week: health insurance enrollment and flexible spending account reimbursement.

HEALTH INSURANCE ENROLLMENT

The enrollment period for the State Health Plan's health insurance options ends at 5 p.m. on Friday, March 30. This enrollment period includes both the Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) and Comprehensive Major Medical (CMM), or indemnity, plans.

If you do nothing, you will remain in your current plan.

If you want to make any changes in your coverage or update your personal information (for example, your address) complete the Annual Enrollment Change form located in your enrollment kit (also available at http://statehealthplan.state.nc.us/annual_enrollment.html).

Return the completed change form to Benefit Program Administration, CB# 1045 or Suite 1700 in the Administrative Office Building, by 5 p.m. on March 30. Lines 1, 2, and 14 on the change form are required in order to process your changes. Any changes you make during annual enrollment will become effective on July 1, 2007.

For questions on the PPO, call State Health Plan customer service at 888-234-2416. For questions on the CMM, call State Health Plan customer service at 800-422-4658. For questions on the enrollment period, contact your HR Facilitator or your HR Generalist.

FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT REIMBURSEMENTS

Saturday, March 31, is the deadline for filing reimbursement claims on the NCFlex Health Care Flexible Spending Account and the NCFlex Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account for expenses that were incurred on or before December 31, 2006. Claims must be RECEIVED by Aon Consulting no later than March 31.

After March 31, employees will not be able to claim any of the remaining monies in their year 2006 flex account (s).

Download the claim form from http://www.osp.state.nc.us/ncflex/Forms/ClaimForm_2a.pdf, or request a copy from Benefit Program Administration.

To ensure receipt by the deadline, you should fax any remaining claims forms to Aon at 866-887-3212. If you fax a claim form, be sure to save the fax confirmation statements and follow up with Aon to ensure your fax was received by calling 877-371-2926 the next day. Also, be sure to keep a copy of all submitted claims for your records.

Contact your HR Generalist if you have questions.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of read@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, March 30, 2007 8:11 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Lead a Carolina Summer Reading Discussion Group

---

Dear Faculty and Staff:

Please consider joining us as a discussion leader for the Carolina Summer Reading Program as it embarks upon its ninth year. The program invites students to read a book and participate in small group discussions facilitated by faculty and staff volunteers with college teaching or group facilitation experience. Discussions take place during Week of Welcome before classes begin. Please see http://www.unc.edu/srp/ for detailed information, date, and time.

This year's selection, The Death of Innocents by Sister Helen Prejean, explores the experiences of two death-row inmates, the legal and physical machinery of capital punishment, and the possibility that innocent people have been and will be put to deatb. The compelling story is told calmly and with tolerance for differing sides of the contentious issue of the death penalty in the United States.

If you are interested in serving as a discussion leader, please complete the online sign-up form at http://www.unc.edu/srp/. You are welcome to facilitate a group on your own or collaborate with a faculty member, staff member, or student of your choosing.

If selected to serve as a discussion leader, you will receive a confirmation email by May 15th with instructions on how to obtain your free copy of the book. In early August, you will receive a packet of inter-disciplinary materials to assist you in planning and conducting your session. These materials should also be available on the web by June 1st at www.unc.edu/srp/. An optional discussion leader training session will be held in mid-August.

Thank you for your continued support of this exciting intellectual endeavor!

Regards,

Belinda L. Locke
New Student & Carolina Parent Programs
blocke@email.unc.edu
919-962-8521

This email is sponsored by: New Student and Carolinal Parent Programs

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of rfts@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 2, 2007 7:48 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Is someone you know planning a pregnancy or currently pregnant?

This is a bilingual message. Please see below for Spanish.
Este es un mensaje bilingüe. Por favor, vea abajo para el español.

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant OR less than 9 weeks pregnant?

Right from the Start is a research study of early pregnancy health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. To learn more about the study, call us toll free at (866) 346-2684 or send an email to rfts@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study. Visit our website at www.mom2be.org for more info.

Participants receive:
- Free early ultrasound
- $10 for completing a telephone interview at the end of the first trimester
- Free pregnancy tests for women who are trying to get pregnant

We need your help! Women who participate in our study can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about themselves and their pregnancies. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Andy Olshan, PhD, UNC School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology.

The Right from the Start study and this message have received approval from the UNC Institutional Review Board on research involving human subjects, study #03-0689.

¿Estás intentando quedar embarazada o tienes menos de 9 semanas de embarazo? O, ¿conoce alguien que este intentando quedar embarazada? Bien desde el comienzo es un estudio de investigación sobre las primeras semanas del embarazo realizado por la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill. Si deseas averiguar más sobre este estudio, llama gratis al 1 (866) 346-2684 o envía un correo electrónico a rfts@unc.edu con tu nombre, número de teléfono y horarios en los que podamos contactarte. No compartiremos tu dirección de correo electrónico con personas ajenas a esta investigación. Para obtener mayor información, visita nuestro sitio en internet www.mom2be.org.

Las participantes reciben:
-Examen de ultrasonido gratis
-$10 por contestar una entrevista telefónica al finalizar el primer trimestre.
- Pruebas de embarazo gratuitas para aquellas mujeres que estén intentando quedar embarazadas

¡Te necesitamos! Las mujeres que participen nos pueden ayudar a obtener más conocimientos simplemente compartiendo información sobre si mismas y sus embarazos. Por favor comparte este mensaje con tus amigos y familiares.

El investigador principal de este estudio es Andy Olshan, PhD, Departamento de Epidemiología de la Escuela de Salud Publica de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte.

El estudio Bien desde el comienzo y este mensaje fueron aprobados por la Junta de Revisión Institucional de la Universidad de Carolina del Norte en Chapel Hill (UNC), estudio # 03-0689.

This email is sponsored by: Epidemiology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of sharikia_burt@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 2, 2007 8:32 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you a smoker with COPD?

ARE YOU A SMOKER WITH COPD?

If you are, you may qualify for a research study of an investigational drug to stop smoking.

If you qualify for the study, you will receive FREE smoking cessation counseling, routine medical examinations, pulmonary evaluations and education about your lung disease.

You will be compensated for your time, effort and travel to UNC.

If you are interested in finding out more about this study please call 1-866-860-1659,(919)843-6101, or email Sharikia_burt@med.unc.edu

IRB Approved: 05-PULM-1022

This email is sponsored by: Pulmonary Medicine

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of peers@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, April 2, 2007 9:51 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Recruiting African American children ages 12-17

The PEERS Project is currently recruiting African American teenagers between 12- 17 years old to help us learn more about the types of conversations that they have with their friends.

We would like to invite your child to participate in a focus group discussion to help us understand how African American teenagers are influenced by their peers, what types of messages they provide to each other, and the types of situations that have resulted in conversations about race with their friends.

Participating children will receive their choice of 2 movie passes or a $10 giftcard to McDonalds. Pizza and refreshments will also be provided during the focus group.

If you are interested please call (919) 843-4303 or email peers@unc.edu and leave your first name, and a number by which I can reach you (indicating the best times to call).

The principal investigator for this study is April Harris-Britt, PhD, Department of Psychology.

This study has been approved by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Institutional Review Board: Study# 07-0282.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, April 2, 2007 10:44 PM
To: smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: AIR/NCES Fellowships for Graduate Study

---

What: New AIR/NCES Fellowships for Graduate Study Deadline: April 15, 2007

The Association for Institutional Research (AIR), as part of its contract to improve the quality of institutional research in U.S. postsecondary education systems and hence, the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), announces a new national graduate fellowship program funded by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES).

The Fellowships for Graduate Study are for graduate study advancing or leading to careers in institutional research, thereby increasing the national level of expertise of institutional research officers and the data that they produce.
Fellowships will be awarded for credit-bearing graduate study at various degree levels, with different levels of funding. The annual mix of proposals will determine how many of each will be awarded.

Full-time doctoral students: maximum $30,000 over a three-year period ($10,000 per year). No full-time awards will be made to first-time graduate students with no IR work experience.
Part-time graduate students: maximum $9,000 over a three-year period ($3,000 per year). Part-time students could move to full-time and apply for an increased award. Part-time awardees may re-compete at the end of the three-year period.
The submission deadline is April 15, 2007. Proposals must be submitted electronically as an MS Word or PDF e-mail attachment to air@airweb2.org.
Please forward this announcement to your faculty e-mail list and to any colleagues or peers who may be interested in applying for the new AIR/NCES Fellowship for Graduate Study.

Visit http://www.airweb.org for proposal information and guidelines.
Apply today!

Sincerely,
AIR Staff

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of amcollin@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 3, 2007 7:50 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Do you have healthy knees?

Researchers in the Orthopaedics and Sports Medicine Research Laboratories are conducting a study at UNC-Chapel Hill to determine whether proprioception is improved with the application of low level (below threshold of detection) electrical stimulation on the normal knee. We are looking for healthy volunteers between the ages of 18-35 years to participate as subjects in a research study investigating proprioception in the normal knee.

To enroll in this study, you must not have a history of knee injury or any neurological conditions, and you must not have previously had knee surgery. You must not be pregnant and you must be physically active.

You will be asked to perform knee flexion and extension exercises while electrical stimulation is applied to your knee at levels below your threshold of detection of them. Participation in this study will last approximately 2 hours.

You will not he paid for your participation in this study.

If you are interested in participating in this study or would like more information, please call:
Amber Collins (919) 966-1212 or email amcollin@email.unc.edu

This study has heen approved hy the IRB (Study # 07-0300)

This email is sponsored by: Department of Orthopaedics

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of msteffen@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 3, 2007 9:51 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Gerrard Hall reservation process for fall semester

---

After a much needed renovation, Gerrard Hall will re-open in fall 2007. University groups wishing to reserve Gerrard Hall for arts and cultural events for the fall semester may begin submitting requests at 8:00 AM on Monday, April 9, 2007. Requests for all other University events will be accepted beginning at 8:00 AM on Monday, April 23, 2007. Due to high demand, weekend uses, rehearsals and non-performance events may be limited. More information and an electronic request form can be found at www.carolinaperformingarts.org/aboutus/gerrard.aspx. For more information, please call 843-7776.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Director for the Arts

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marks@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, April 3, 2007 10:43 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Aging, Memory, and Exercise

Do you wonder if exercise impacts your memory? Some research suggests that simply `being active' may be related to better memory as one ages.

The Brain and Exercise Assessment Trial (BEAT) in the Department of Exercise and Sport Science at UNC is currently looking for healthy older adults (60-75 years of age) who have not participated in regular aerobic exercise for several years.

Research volunteers can earn up to $60 for participating in the following free evaluations: physical exam, walking fitness test and body fat, memory tests and a brain MRI scan. All parking is free.

Participants must be able to walk on a treadmill without assistance, not be claustrophobic, nor have cardiac implant devices or be on medications that alter heart rate.

For more information about the study, please contact the principal investigator, Dr. Bonita Marks, Associate Professor at 962-2260 or email the study office: BEAT@UNC.EDU

This study has been approved by the UNC's Biomedical Institutional Review Board: IRB Study# 05-3151, Approval Date 1/26/07.

This email is sponsored by: Exercise and Sport Science and Biomedical Research Imaging Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Beth_Braxton@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 4, 2007 7:49 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Thank You, Faculty and Staff!

Thanks to all Faculty and Staff for supporting Carolina through your hard work and dedication!

The Carolina Annual Fund would also like to give a special thanks to the Faculty and Staff who supported Carolina last fiscal year through gifts to the areas of the University they love. Over 1,600 employees gave $1.44 million to everything from building projects to scholarship funds to academic programs to medical research. Each gift, large or small, adds up to make a difference that truly impacts the lives of our students and colleagues every day.

The 2007 University Campaign for Faculty and Staff will begin next week. Please keep an eye out in Campus Mail for information and a special thank you from a recipient of the Carolina Family Scholarship - a scholarship created by faculty and staff for employees' children.

We can all take pride in the parts we play to make this institution great. Thank you for the many ways you support Carolina.

For more information please visit: http://carolinafirst.unc.edu/universitycampaign, or contact Beth Braxton, director of annual giving, at 962-4388 or Beth_Braxton@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Annual Fund, Office of University Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of smithjg@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, April 4, 2007 8:34 PM
To:	smutima@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Teaching -- is it for you?

Have you ever dreamed of being a teacher? Have you ever been told that you are a "natural" teacher? Can you see yourself teaching and making a difference in the lives of our next generation? The School of Education can help make these dreams, your dreams, become a reality.

Options include:

* Licensure programs that can be taken part-time while still employed by the university, enabling individuals to take advantage of the OHR: Tuition Waiver.

* Bachelor's degrees and master's degrees in teaching or school support positions such as school counselors, psychologists, and administrators.

* Post-baccalaureate programs for lateral entry teachers. New funding through the North Carolina Model Teacher Education Consortium and NC TEACH II grants provide financial subsidies for individuals who are interested in the lateral entry options.

Recent revisions to North Carolina State Board of Education Policy allow for expanded licensure options upon completion of one teacher education program.

Let us help you turn daydreams into a new professional career that will change lives, including yours.

Our Student Affairs advisors will work with you to match a program to your needs.
Please contact us for more information or an appointment.
http://soe.unc.edu/services/student_affairs/request_info.htm
(919) 966-1346

This email is sponsored by: School of Education

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only he sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lea.holt@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, June 25, 2009 8:17 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Proposed University Mail Services Delivery Schedule

---

The proposed changes to mail delivery schedules can now be accessed through the Facilities Services homepage - http://www.fac.unc.edu/. The new delivery schedules are slated to begin on Monday, July 6th, 2009. The proposal has been sorted by building in alphabetical order and is in .pdf format.

These changes will affect the delivery and pickup of mail to campus departments. All 1st class USPS mail will be delivered during the morning between the hours of 9:30am and 11:30am. Campus mail, commercial mail and parcels will also be delivered during the morning hours. The afternoon delivery will consist mostly of campus mail or commercial mail (based on the volume received daily).

Pick ups of outbound mail to be processed for submittal to the USPS will occur during both delivery schedules. University Mail Services (UMS) continues to encourage departments to submit outbound mail for processing as early in the day as possible, in order to facilitate same day processing.

Changes in delivery schedules WILL NOT effect any special pickups or deliveries that are currently being made by UMS. Customers who currently receive special pickups of banking deposits or delivery of production reporting will not see a change UNLESS notified by UMS on a case by case basis.

University Mail Services is dedicated to supporting the core mission of the University and has taken the current economic situation as an opportunity to effect positive change to the working environment. Please feel free to provide input or communicate concerns to UMS@fac.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: University Mail Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, June 26, 2009 11:42 AM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release
Attach: 20090626.html

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://www.unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/20090626.html

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-24901043-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, June 29, 2009 5:30 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re:]
Attach: Re_ .eml (2.08 KB).msg

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 29, 2009 6:48 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Campus Update About H1N1 Influenza

Dear Campus Community,

As the H1N1 influenza A (swine flu) continues to circulate widely throughout the world, health officials expect case counts to rise in the United States, including in our area. That increases the likelihood that people in the campus community could be exposed to someone with H1N1 flu, perhaps even a family member who has contracted the virus.

The University does not have a way to track the total number of cases of H1N1 affecting the entire campus community beyond those reported on campus or locally. University officials will continue to post important updates on the Alert Carolina Web site, http://alertcarolina.unc.edu.

On June 25, 2009, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention issued guidance for workers who have been exposed to someone with H1N1 flu. Based on that information, the University has developed new recommendations for when University employees or students should stay home from work or school. These recommendations supersede the guidance provided by the University on June 18, 2009.

In general, University employees who are well but have a family member at home with H1N1 flu can go to work as usual. These employees should monitor their health every day. If they become ill they should notify their supervisors and stay home using available leave (sick leave, vacation, bonus leave or flexible furlough program). Employees who have an underlying medical condition or who are pregnant should call their health-care providers for advice, including whether they should receive influenza antiviral drugs to prevent illness, and should seek care before reporting to work.

Employees who are experiencing an acute respiratory illness with a fever greater than 100.4 degrees along with cough, nasal congestion or sore throat should not come to work and should seek care from their personal health-care providers before reporting to work. They should stay home from work, school and any community gatherings for seven days after the illness begins or until at least 24 hours after the fever has disappeared - whichever is longer - using available leave (sick leave, vacation, bonus leave or flexible furlough program).

Students who are well but have a family member or roommate at home with H1N1 flu can go to school as usual. They should monitor their health every day, and if they become ill they should stay home.

Students should use the resources posted on the Campus Health Services Web site, http://studenthealth.unc.edu, to find information about symptoms and what to do to prevent contracting the virus. Campus Health Services officials urge students who are ill with fever and respiratory symptoms to call the health services main appointment number at 966-2281 for advice, instruction and to schedule an appointment. General recommendations include staying home from work, school and any community gatherings for seven days after the illness begins or until at least 24 hours after the fever has disappeared - whichever is longer.

University employees who work in health-care settings will receive additional guidelines specific to their work environment from their human resources facilitators.

Although the disease has proven to be relatively mild and responsive to anti-viral drugs, the CDC recommends that everyone take the following actions to stay healthy:

* Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze. Throw the tissue in the trash after you use it.

* Wash your hands often with soap and water, especially after you cough or sneeze. Alcohol-based hand sanitizers can be used if soap and water are not available.

* Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth. Germs spread this way.

* Avoid close contact with sick people.

The University's Department of Environment, Health and Safety, http://www.ehs.unc.edu/healthy/h1n1.shtml, is leading Carolina's response to the H1N1 flu in collaboration with the UNC Health Care System, UNC General Administration, the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services and the Orange County Department of Public Health. Information about H1N1 is included on Alert Carolina, http://alertcarolina.unc.edu, and on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Web site, http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/.

Sincerely,

University Emergency Warning Committee

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Warning Committee

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of henry_bell@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 29, 2009 8:21 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Se Necesitan Adultos Hispanohablantes, de 18 aqos de edad o mayores, para evalu

---

Se Necesitan Adultos Hispanohablantes, de 18 aqos de edad o mayores, para evaluar un video Objetivo: Los hospitales de Carolina del Norte estan elaborando un video para ayudar a las personas a entender la funcisn que cumplirman si participan en un registro de salud y en un banco de muestras biolsgicas o biobanco, asm como sus riesgos y beneficios. El video explicara el proceso de consentimiento que se requieren para participar en el registro.

Sujeto: Adultos Hispanohablantes de 18 aqos de edad o mayores (e.j.: Espaqol es su idioma primaria)

Actividades del Estudio: En este estudio de evaluacisn habra dos grupos de participantes. Si usted participa, lo(a) asignaran O a ver el video O a leer los formularios de consentimiento informado y de HIPAA, que deberma tomar 30 minutos. Si le piden que mire el video, le pediran que comente qui le parecis, en tirminos generales, su claridad, facilidad de uso, atractivo y valor por entrevista. La entrevista durara como maximo 60 minutos para completar.

Compensacisn: Una tarjeta de regalo por valor de $35.

Si esta interesado, por favor psngase en contacto con Henry Bell, enfermero investigador a henry_bell@med.unc.edu o (919) 843-9425.

Spanish Speaking Adults 18+ years of age needed to evaluate a video for NC Hospitals

Objective: NC Hospitals are developing a video to help people understand their role as well as the risks and benefits of participating in a health registry. The video will explain the informed consent process required for participation in the registry.

Subjects: Spanish speaking (i.e. Spanish is your primary language) Adults 18+
Study Activities: There will be two groups of participants in this evaluation study. By participating in this evaluation study you will either be assigned to view the video or read the Informed Consent and HIPPA forms, which should take 30 minutes. If asked to view the video you will be asked to provide feedback on general clarity, usability, appeal and value of the video in an interview. If asked to read the consent forms, you will be asked to provide feedback on content of the consent forms in an interview. The interviews will take no longer than 60 minutes to complete.

Compensation: $35 gift card

If interested, please contact Henry Bell, Research Nurse at henry_bell@med.unc.edu or (919) 843-9425.

HS IRB #: 09-0606
Approved: 4/03/2009
Study Title: Evaluation of a Video Program to Obtain Informed Consent for Individuals in the Carolina Well: Carolina Health Registry

Evaluation Study
PI: Shelton Earp, PhD
This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Cancer Center

This email is sponsored by: Lineberger Cancer Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of webstudy@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, June 29, 2009 8:52 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Recruiting for a study about Web Search

---

Do you conduct searches that span across multiple days or weeks?

If so, we want to talk to you!

We are conducting a research study to learn about how people conduct searches for information on the Web that take place across multiple days or weeks and that involve collaborating with other people.

We are looking for people in these groups:

* UNC academic researchers (faculty, post-doc, Ph.D. candidate - post proposal, research scientist)

* Corporate workers who have a business role that involves searching for and sharing information

In order to qualify for the study, you must meet the following criteria:

* Be at least 18 years old
* Speak English fluently
* Be in one of the three groups listed above
* Have conducted on-going searches for information on a topic across multiple days or weeks and shared the results of these searches with collaborators.

The study consists of a questionnaire and an interview that will take about one hour.

For participating in the study, you will receive a $20 Visa gift card.

If you qualify and are interested in being in this study, please email:

uncwebstudy@gmail.com

This study (#09-0960) has been approved by the UNC Behavioral Institutional Review Board on May 28, 2009.

This email is sponsored by: School of Information and Library Science

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mbartis@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, June 29, 2009 9:34 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Are you expecting or know someone who is?

Are you expecting or know someone who is? Do you have a newborn younger than one month old?

As part of the Early Brain Development Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill's Department of Radiology, Psychiatry, and Psychology, we are recruiting newborns to participate in the The MAP* Brain Imaging Study [*The Multi-visit Advanced Pediatric Brain Imaging Study.

What is the purpose of this study?
The purpose of this research is to document the rapid and critical growth of normal brain development in the first three years of life. The information gathered is essential to shed light on our understanding of brain development. This information not only offers profound scientific implications regarding our understanding of how the brain functions but also provides great insights into developmental disorders.

What does this study involve?
Your child will have magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) of his/her brain eight times between the ages of 2 - 4 weeks and 3 years at the MRI research center located at 106 Mason Farm Road.

Scans will be performed while your child sleeps. No medicines or sedation will be used.

You will also be asked medical history questions by a study coordinator or nurse.

Will I be paid for participating?
You will receive $75 for each study MRI (for a potential total of $600). You will also be reimbursed for reasonable travel/gas and parking expenses as well.

Are there any risks?
MRI has no known risks and does not use radiation or x-ray.

Why participate in this study?
You and your child's participation in this study may benefit society by gaining new insights into our understanding of infant/early child brain development. It may also increase our knowledge into the possible causes of neurodevelopmental disorders.

Remember,
* This is a voluntary study
* You will be compensated
* No medicines or sedation are involved
* All information regarding you and your child's participation in this study will be kept strictly confidential.

How can I learn more about joining this study?
Please contact Megan Artis at mbartis@email.unc.edu or call 919-843-9245 for more information.

Weili Lin, PhD
Principal Investigator
Telephone: (919) 843-8120

The MAP* Brain Imaging Study [*The Multi-visit Advanced Pediatric Brain Imaging Study] is being conducted by the Departments of Radiology, Psychiatry, and Psychology in the UNC-Chapel Hill School of Medicine.

Weili Lin, PhD
Principal Investigator

John Gilmore, MD
J. Keith Smith, MD
Guido Gerig, PhD
Hongyu An, PhD
Yasheng Chem, PhD
Robert Hamer, PhD
Research Team Members

Dianne Evans, MA
Program Director

IRB Approval #: 08-1885
Approval Body: Biomedical IRB
Date of Approval 6/23/2009

This email is sponsored by: Departments of Radiology, Psychiatry, and Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, June 30, 2009 8:34 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Exam - See attached
Attach: Exam 1 AFRI101 Summer 1 2009(sent to TG).doc

Hi T-B,

Many thanks! Sorry for not sending it yesterday. It was a crazy day as I tried to make urgent travel plans for this weekend.

With best wishes, E.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, June 30, 2009 8:17 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: University Management Development Program

---

TO: All Employees

FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Associate Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

This message is to inform you that the Office of Human Resources will not be accepting 2010 applications for the University Management Development Program (UMDP). After careful consideration, we have decided to place the 2010 program on a temporary pause for this next year to allow an opportunity for program alignment and redesign. UMDP has been an important part of the Carolina community for many years, and has served us well. To ensure that UMDP continues to serve its important goal of developing the leadership skills of Carolina's managers, it is advisable that we take a fresh look at the program, to align it with current needs and challenges and therefore be certain that it continues to deliver the best possible learning opportunities for our managers.

In addition, the financial challenges we currently face make it a good time to do this review and make some quality improvements that will ensure that the program remains relevant to the needs of both UNC-Chapel Hill and today's higher education environment in general.

Next year, we will issue an announcement when the 2011 program is ready to accept new applications. In the meantime, University employees are encouraged to take full advantage of the broad range of managerial and leadership classes offered through the Office of Human Resources. Our new course catalog, with offerings through December, is available at http://hr.unc.edu/employees/ppd/catalog/prog_guide.pdf.

Thank you for your continued support. Please direct any questions or concerns to Training & Development in the Office of Human Resources by calling 962-2550 or emailing training_development@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: bounce-24922716-19014769@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Dee Reid <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 1, 2009 8:59 AM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff <african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-staff] [all-college-staff] MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

The enclosed message from Dean Karen Gil is being sent to all faculty and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences.

* * *

Dear Faculty and Staff Colleagues,

I am honored and thrilled to be the new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. With a total of five years as a senior associate dean, I know that we have outstanding colleagues, students, alumni and friends. Yet, as I transition to my new role, I am learning more every day about the world-class people and programs across the College that distinguish Carolina as an exceptional place to learn, innovate and tackle global and local problems.

I am also impressed by the extraordinary team we have in the Dean's Office. I am grateful that such colleagues are willing to give their time and expertise to College administration.

I am pleased to announce that Mike Crimmins, chair of the department of chemistry, and Jonathan Hartlyn, former chair of the department of political science and former director of the Institute for the Study of the Americas, have joined our senior leadership team. Mike is the new senior associate dean for the natural sciences. He replaces Tom Clegg who served as interim senior associate dean for the past year. Jonathan is taking over my former post as senior associate dean for the social sciences and international programs. I am delighted that they have agreed to join the team, and I am thankful to Tom for his outstanding service during the past year.

I am also pleased that the rest of the dean's senior leadership team will continue in the Dean's Office, including senior associate deans Bill Andrews (fine arts and humanities), Bobbi Owen (undergraduate education), Tammy McHale (finance and operations) and Jamie May (Arts and Sciences Foundation), and communications director Dee Reid. Their experience will continue to serve us well.

Of course we still face significant economic challenges for the coming year. With additional state budget cuts on the horizon, all of us in the College, like everyone else across our nation, will have to tighten our belts again. Though we will not know what our final state budget allocation will be until later this summer, we know that we will have to find additional cuts in our operating budget.

Our senior management team will continue to work closely with our department and program chairs throughout the budget process and we will share information with you as soon as we can.

Fortunately we are facing this recession, from a position of strength, thanks to the N.C. bond revenues that gave us several new state-of-the-art facilities over the past decade, and to generous colleagues, alumni and friends who pledged $387 million to the College during the Carolina First campaign to support faculty, students, facilities and programs. Private funds will be more important to the College than ever before as we are asked to do more with less state funding.

All of us also owe a debt of gratitude to Bruce Carney, for his extraordinary leadership as interim dean during a most challenging year. Though Bruce deserves a long-deferred research leave, he has agreed to serve as interim executive vice chancellor and provost, as the university searches for a replacement for provost Bernadette Gray-Little, who is becoming chancellor of the University of Kansas. Please join me in thanking Bruce for his exceptional contributions to Carolina and the College.

Finally, I want to thank you for all that you do every day for the College of Arts and Sciences, especially in these hard times. Your continued dedication to our academic mission will help the College overcome difficult challenges and continue to be the vital heart of the campus.

I look forward to working with you.

With my best regards,

Karen M. Gil
Dean

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-staff as: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-staff as: stgore@email.unc.edu.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, July 6, 2009 3:53 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [asmgrs] ARP Memo]
Attach: [asmgrs] ARP Memo.eml (45.6 KB).msg

From:	Wendy Riley <Wendy_Riley@unc.edu>
Sent:	Sunday, June 28, 2009 9:34 PM
To:	All Administrative Managers in the College of Arts & Sciences <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject:	[asmgrs] ARP Memo
Attach:	ARP Memo - June, 2009.doc

This message is being sent to all administrative managers in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Please see the attached memo regarding the Annual Raise Process (ARP) for the upcoming FY 09/10.

The schedule for Annual Raise Process (ARP) training is listed below, both classes will cover the same information. Attendance is required if you will be responsible for using the ARP to implement EPA employee salary increases for the first time and highly recommended for other users since this process is completed only once per year. As a reminder, it is recommended that at least two people per unit be trained and involved in working with the ARP.

- Class 1 July 16, 9:00 – 11:00 (Saunders, Room 322)
- Class 2 July 17, 9:00 – 11:00 (Saunders, Room 322)

To register for a class you will need to sign in with your onyen and onyen password using one of the following links:

July 16 class registration

http://www.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-8EA7A5B75DB142AFB06C628B6E5B85AF

July 17 class registration

http://www.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-b653ebfd4e1345ac90fed3b5cebf4634

Thanks,
Wendy

--
Wendy Riley
Director of Finance and Operations
College of Arts & Sciences
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3100
Office: 919-962-9269
Fax: 919-962-2408

MEMORANDUM

To: Annual Raise Process (ARP) Participants

From: Wendy Riley, Director of Finance and Operations

Re: ARP Training Class Schedule & Other ARP Related Information

Date: June 26, 2009

ARP, which is a component of EPA Web, is used to implement EPA employee annual salary increases. Even though we do not expect to receive any legislative or university wide raise funds for next fiscal year, we still need to implement an ARP to allocate budget and FTE. Some units will also have promotion and retention allocations to be distributed. Please make sure that all employees in your organization that will work with the ARP receive this information. To ensure we are all ready for ARP there is some EPA Web preparatory work that is necessary on your part right now.

July 1 actions must be processed and approved by July 15th

- Any action that increases or decreases the base salary or supplement of a permanent EPA employee, effective July 1, must be input and approved in EPA Web no later than July 15th to be sure that the ARP worksheets are accurate. This includes adding and removing secondary appointments, job changes or salary/FTE changes.
- Actions effective July 1 that increase or decrease the base salary or supplement of a permanent EPA employee received after July 15th will not be approved. They will be returned and you will be asked to process the action without changing the salary. The salary changes will need to be processed during ARP. (Even though the salary will be processed in ARP, you will still need to process any necessary rank changes in advance of ARP).

Training

The schedule for Annual Raise Process (ARP) training classes is now set. All ARP users are encouraged to attend one of the following classes, both will cover the same information:

- Class 1 July 16, 9:00 – 11:00 (Saunders, Room 322)
- Class 2 July 17, 9:00 – 11:00 (Saunders, Room 322)

Attendance is required if you will be responsible for using the ARP to implement EPA employee salary increases for the first time and highly recommended for other users since this process is completed only once per year. As a reminder, it is recommended that at least two people per unit be trained and involved in working with the ARP. To register for a class you will need to sign in with your onyen and onyen password using one of the following links:

July 16 class registration
http://www.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-8EA7A5B75DB142AFB06C628B6E5B85AF

July 17 class registration
http://www.abcsignup.com/reg/event_page.aspx?ek=0052-0006-b653ebfd4e1345ac90fed3b5cebf4634

You do not need to bring anything to the class but you should ensure that you have access to the Annual Raise dropdown menu in EPA Web. If you have access to EPA Web and are setup to originate salary and FTE changes or have department/dean budget access, you should have the access needed for the ARP.

To add, modify or delete access go to http://hrisguide.unc.edu/epaweb/roles-routing.htm#setroudep and choose the option "If you need to add, modify, or delete access for a specific individual user to EPA Web, click here" This will bring up an EPA Web user setup template in Word. If departments need assistance in completing the access form, they can contact the HRIS Help Desk at 962-HELP (indicate you need assistance with the EPA Web System) or submit an on-line help request to https://www.unc.edu/ar-bin/websub/index.pl.

The College ARP Committee members will be available during training and throughout the ARP process to answer questions and provide guidance. The members are Wendy Riley, Gordon Joyner, Debbie Edwards, Valerie Bernhardt, Marie Fholer and Beverly Loftin.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mturn@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, July 6, 2009 8:18 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: ONLINE Diarrhea Prevention Study

The Center for Functional GI and Motility Disorders invites you to participate in an online research study on the symptoms of diarrhea. The purpose of the study is to learn whether a person can predict when they are going to have an episode of diarrhea.

The study will involve filling out several questionnaires online about your bowel symptoms.

To participate, you must be 18 years of age or older and have daily access to the internet. You must also have experienced diarrhea for at least the last 6 months, and you must have had at least one mushy or watery stool per month for the past 3 months.

If you are eligible, you may also be invited to participate in an online diary study which involves keeping track of your diarrhea symptoms by logging into a secure website each day. You will have a unique study ID and password to ensure your responses are anonymous and confidential. There are no visits to UNC required. The study lasts for 60 days (2 months). You will receive $60 each month for completing the study. In addition, if you complete your diaries without skipping any days, you will receive an additional $60/month. Therefore, you may receive up to $240 for participating in this study.

To determine if you are eligible, please click on the following link and respond to the screening questions:
https://uncfunctionalgi.net/dipstudy.html

If you have any questions, please contact Marsha Turner 919-962-9787.

Thank you for your interest in our study.

Study #09-0506 was approved by the Biomedical IRB 3/30/09

This email is sponsored by: Dept of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fertility@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 7, 2009 8:40 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time-to-Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill focusing on fertility in women between 30 and 44 years of age. To learn how you can be in the study, call us at (919) 843-8246 or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Monetary compensation for study activities

No medicines or pills to take and no changes to daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

Please visit our new website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive for more information.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: Obstetrics and Gynecology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 8, 2009 3:42 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [asmgrs] Important change in budget processes for trust accounts]
Attach: [asmgrs] Important change in budget processes for trust accounts.eml (16.6 KB).msg

---

You will need to have this information for the ARP if you end up doing it. dc

From: Gordon Joyner <Gordon_Joyner@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, July 7, 2009 4:26 PM
To: All Administrative Managers in the College of Arts & Sciences <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asmgrs] Important change in budget processes for trust accounts
Attach: trust acct changes (revised).docx

The attached message is being sent to all department managers in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Gordon

--
Gordon Joyner
Financial Officer

Dean's Office
College of Arts & Sciences
CB #3100, 205 South Building
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3100
(919) 962-6731 Phone
(919) 843-3531 Fax
Gordon_Joyner@unc.edu

You are currently subscribed to asmgrs axsd: dacrowde@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-24950754-19011858.ab1646172cdd1e9fcb3153b16dc697ee@listserv.unc.edu

This email is being sent to all department managers in the College of Arts & Sciences. Please pass it on to anyone in your unit who handles trust or auxiliary funds.

Effective July 1, 2009, in order to simplify the process for maintaining budgets at an account and object code level, the Dean's Office has made two important changes in the methods used to budget many of the trust and auxiliary accounts in the College. The first change modifies the budget methodology and the second related change applies this methodology to professorship accounts.

Budget Methodology

All subsidiary ledger accounts funded from general ledger accounts which are "controlled" by the Dean's Office, or by your department, will now be budgeted only at the 1000 object code level (ABR Method 4), and the budget will be automatically realigned to the appropriate object code as expenditures are made. This means you will no longer need to submit budget entry forms for those accounts to move funds between object codes. Note that this does not apply to subsidiary ledgers funded by general ledger accounts maintained outside of the College (for example, the Provost's Office or Chancellor's Office).

Professorship Budgets

Effective with the new fiscal year, the Dean's Office will provide each distinguished professor who receives his/her professorship from the Dean's Office with two subsidiary ledger trust accounts, one to pay the faculty member's salary and benefits, and another to pay all research expenses, including salary and benefits of research assistants. Both of these accounts will be budgeted at the 1000 object code (ABR Method 4), and budgets will be drawn automatically from the 1000 line during the year as expenses are charged. Note that this does not apply to professorships "controlled" by the Provost's Office or your department.

Even though this means you will have to keep up with two SL accounts for each professorship instead of one, we hope this new arrangement will make your jobs easier by eliminating the need to manually "realign" the budgets during the year before paying expenses, and by making it simpler to track how much of the professor's research fund is still available.

The original account numbers you have for these professorships will continue to be used for the research allocation. A new account number will be provided to you at the time of the Annual Raise Process (ARP) and you will be asked to change the salary allocations to the new account at that time.

Please give Wendy or me a call if you have any questions.

Gordon

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 9, 2009 1:45 PM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release
Attach: enews20090709.html

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://cancer.unc.edu/lcccnewsletter/20090709.html

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-24961322-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, July 9, 2009 3:09 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [asmgrs] DDD - Travel Subsistence Rate Revision]
Attach: [asmgrs] DDD - Travel Subsistence Rate Revision.eml (104 KB).msg

---

From: Gordon Joyner <Gordon_Joyner@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, July 9, 2009 12:06 PM
To: All Administrative Managers in the College of Arts & Sciences <asmgrs@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [asmgrs] DDD - Travel Subsistence Rate Revision
Attach: DDD - Travel Subsistence Rate Revision Effective July 1, 2009-1.pdf

---

The following email and attachment from Martha Pendergrass are being forwarded to all department managers in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Gordon

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: [business_managers] DDD - Travel Subsistence Rate Revision
Date: Thu, 09 Jul 2009 11:58:58 -0400
From: Janet Kelly-Scholle <janet_kelly-scholle@unc.edu>
Reply-To: Janet Kelly-Scholle <janet_kelly-scholle@unc.edu>
To: UNC Dept. Business Managers <business_managers@listserv.unc.edu>

To: University Business Managers

From: Martha J. Pendergrass, Director, Material & Disbursement Services

Please see attached memo in PDF format regarding travel subsistence rate revisions effective July 1, 2009.

This memo will be distributed to Deans, Directors and Department Chairs.

--- You are currently subscribed to business_managers as: Gordon_Joyner@unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-24960639-3237292.eba77eb9d51c7b075ee0a25e32748379@listserv.unc.edu

--
Gordon Joyner
Financial Officer

Dean's Office
College of Arts & Sciences
CB #3100, 205 South Building
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3100
(919) 962-6731 Phone
(919) 843-3531 Fax
Gordon_Joyner@unc.edu

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

DIRECTOR, MATERIAL & DISBURSEMENT SERVICES

104 AIRPORT DRIVE
CB #1100
CHAPEL HILL, NC 27599-1100

T 919.843.5048
F 919.962.0636
mjpender@email.unc.edu

MEMORANDUM

DATE: July 8, 2009

TO: Deans, Directors, and Department Chairs

FROM: Martha J. Pendergrass
Director, Material & Disbursement Services

SUBJECT: Travel Subsistence Rate Revision

Effective July 1, 2009, the Office of State Budget and Management increased the allowable subsistence per day payments for state employees' in-state and out-of-state travel.

In processing travel reimbursement forms for trips that begin on or after July 1, 2009, the rates listed below will be used. For trips that began before July 1, 2009, the old rates will apply.

The following list details the new rates of subsistence per day for travel related expenses.

	In-State	Out-of-State
Breakfast	$ 7.75	$ 7.75
Lunch	$ 10.10	$ 10.10
Dinner	$ 17.30	$ 19.65
Lodging (actual, up to)	$ 65.90	$ 78.05
Total	$101.05	$115.55

If you have any specific questions regarding the new rates, please contact Phil Easler at 962-0210 or peasler@email.unc.edu.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 9, 2009 4:50 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: Adoption of New Energy Use Policy

To: Carolina Faculty, Staff and Students

From: Richard Mann, Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration

Date: July 8, 2009

Subject: Adoption of New Energy Use Policy

In response to the grave global economic situation, the University's commitment to climate neutrality by 2050 and state legislation that mandates reductions in energy consumption, the University has adopted a new Energy Use Policy. As a result, the University is implementing campus-wide Energy Conservation Measures (ECMs) that will achieve significant and relatively immediate reductions in energy consumption and reduce the University's utility costs.

Space temperatures in campus buildings will be optimized for energy conservation during the times the buildings are occupied, and will not exceed 78 degrees during summer months or drop below 69 degrees during cooler weather. Further, most buildings will be programmed to relax these set temperatures during times of low occupancy when buildings are unoccupied.

Certain campus facilities such as labs, animal facilities, museums, libraries and computer server spaces that require strict, consistent temperatures may be exempt from many of the planned ECMs. The Facilities Services Division is working to accommodate the needs of facilities in these buildings while identifying other energy-saving measures that can be implemented.

Although building occupants could notice some change in their comfort levels because of the temperature adjustment, the University is committed to keeping facilities within safe and reasonably comfortable temperature ranges at all times. The temperature and humidity standards to be implemented are in accordance with the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) recommendations for occupied spaces.

The technical work involved in reprogramming and adjusting building control systems is complex and can be time-consuming. Facilities Services is making implementation of this policy a priority, and the division has committed Energy Management engineers and maintenance staff to this effort. Most of their work will be done "behind the scenes" and with as little disruption as possible to building occupants, the work environment and building operations. During the process to implement these energy-saving measures, several maintenance technicians will be temporarily taken away from their regular duties, potentially resulting in delayed response times for trouble calls.

University-wide support of the energy policy will save both energy and money, and there are many ways individuals across campus can make a difference. People should always dress appropriately for the weather and for temperatures inside buildings. Because lighting consumes a considerable amount of energy in most buildings, simply turning off unnecessary lights when there is adequate daylight and turning off lights whenever people step out of their offices will help conserve energy. It is critical to turn off all lights and nonessential computers and equipment at the end of the day.

The University community is asked to be tolerant of any discomfort as a result of adjusted room temperatures or other ECMs and to recognize the importance of taking such steps. Beyond reducing the University's utility bills, careful energy management benefits the environment and preserves natural resources.

Energy conservation is an ongoing commitment. Facilities Services will update the University community about the latest developments in implementing these measures. Information will be posted on a new Web site, www.save-energy.unc.edu, and people can send energy-saving ideas to a specially designated e-mail address, save-energy@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Division of Finance and Administration

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fred.stutzman@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 9, 2009 8:22 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research on Social Networking Sites

UNC-Chapel Hill researchers are conducting a study of privacy behaviors in social networking sites (Facebook, Myspace). We seek individuals who maintain multiple profiles, and purposefully keep their profiles separate on social networking sites. For example, people who maintain a "work profile" and a "personal profile" on a social networking site. If you meet this criteria, we are interested in your opinions about privacy, as well as the social implications of maintaining multiple profiles.

To qualify for this research, you must be age 24 or older, have started using social networking sites within the last two years, and maintain multiple profiles (e.g. a "work profile" and a "personal profile") on social networking sites. Participation is entirely voluntary. Individuals who wish to participate will be interviewed for one hour, and will be compensated $10.00 for their time. Interviews can be in person, or remote (over the phone, via Skype, etc.). To volunteer for participation, or ask any questions about the project, please email Principal Investigator Fred Stutzman at fred.stutzman@unc.edu. If you prefer, you may call 919-260-8508.

This research has been approved by the University of North Carolina Institutional Review Board, IRB-09-1078. Gary Marchionini, Ph.D., Cary C. Boshamer Distinguished Professor in the School of Information and Library Science, is faculty supervisor of this study.

This email is sponsored by: INLS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Emotion@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, July 13, 2009 8:18 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Emotion Study

Are you a healthy individual interested in participating in research on the differences in emotional regulation between age groups?

We are looking for participants for a study where your heart rate, blood pressure, and other physiological changes are measured while you view different images and discuss some of your happiest memories and recent events that have upset you. If you are interested in helping us to learn more about emotion regulation, please consider participating in Dr. Sy-Miin Chow's study, Feeling Stressed But Happy (IRB Study # 08-1093, Approved 6/12/09 by the IRB, UNC-Chapel Hill).

If you meet the following criteria, please reply to this message by calling 919-843-3611 or emailing emotion@unc.edu and Steve Newell, Project Manager will contact you for a screening interview. Please see the Emotions and Dynamics Systems Lab website at: http://www.unc.edu/~symiin for more information.

Our criteria include:

* Ages 60-90

* Men and women

* Willing and able to participate in a short ten minute phone screening session, a two hour laboratory session, and a thirty day follow-up study consisting of short daily surveys. You must agree to participate in the follow-up study to participate in the laboratory session.

* No substance abuse disorders

* No learning disabilities or neurological disorders

* No open-heart surgery or significant head trauma within the past two years

* No implanted neurostimulators, defibrillators, or insulin pumps

This study provides compensation for both portions of the study at a rate of $20 for the laboratory session, and up to $120 for the follow-up study.

Thank you,
Sy-Miin Chow

This email is sponsored by: Quantitative Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 13, 2009 8:51 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Center for Public Service and APPLES Service-Learning Reorganization

---

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has a long tradition of service to the State of North Carolina and beyond which distinguishes us from many other public research institutions. Both the APPLES Service-Learning Program and the Carolina Center for Public Service manifest Carolina's commitment to making a difference in the lives of people throughout the state and around the world.

We are pleased to announce that on July 1st, the APPLES Service-Learning Program officially became a program of the Carolina Center for Public Service. This brings together two organizations with rich histories rooted in service-learning and engagement to become more integrated in addressing Carolina's mission of public service. The result will be enhanced engagement with communities and better support of the students, faculty and staff with whom we work.

The student leadership and professional staff of APPLES and CCPS are in the midst of a planning process to align our efforts, build on the strengths of our existing programs and identify new opportunities for engagement.

Pending final approval of the personnel action, Jenny Huq will become the associate director of the Center. She will continue to serve as director of APPLES as well, and APPLES will continue to be housed in the Student Union.

We are excited about this reorganization and look forward to strengthening and advancing Carolina's mission of public service through engaged teaching, research and service in continued partnership with all those who make our work possible

With best regards,

Lynn Blanchard	Jenny Huq	Ryan Lei
Director, CCPS	Director, APPLES	President, APPLES

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Center for Public Service

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, July 13, 2009 9:28 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: ConnectCarolina Go Live July 2009

DT: July 13, 2009

TO: UNC-Chapel Hill Community

FR: Bruce Carney, Interim Provost; Richard L. Mann, Vice Chancellor, Finance and Administration; Larry Conrad, Vice Chancellor, Information Technology, and CIO

As Sponsors of the ConnectCarolina (ERP) project, we wanted to update you on this week's first go-live of the University's new integrated administrative system.

On July 20, 2009, the initial components of ConnectCarolina begin to become available for users. This is the first phase of the project to replace our aging student systems. Further phases of the student project take place over the next 15 months with HR, payroll and finance to follow in the next few years.

A great deal of work has been done over the last two years to bring us to this point. Hundreds of people from all across the University have been involved to make sure the needs of the community have been met, including rigorous testing of the system.

The first phase is a new portal where the online campus directory will be accessed beginning July 20. This phase also centralizes management of person information (students, faculty and employees) in one system. Many people have been working diligently behind-the-scenes to create the system and clean up data.

This transition will require some service outages in the days leading up to July 20 which are detailed in this PDF:
http://connectcarolina.unc.edu/images/stories/R1cutover/connectcarolina%20cutover%20information%20fact%20sheet%20v3.pdf

ITS and the ConnectCarolina team are prepared to handle any challenges arising from bringing up a major system like this; we ask for your patience and understanding as we begin this transformation.

For user support, please contact the Help Desk at (919) 962-HELP (962-4357).

You will find a great deal of information on the ConnectCarolina Web site: http://connectcarolina.unc.edu/

If you have questions or concerns, please email connectcarolina_info@unc.edu.

Thank you for your patience and understanding during this transition.

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of neurosensory@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 14, 2009 8:40 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed: Tactile Information Processing Study

---

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED: The Tactile Information Processing Study is a research study designed to conduct assessments to measure how individuals recognize touch.

DO YOU QUALIFY?
We are looking for healthy males and females between the ages of 18 and 70 who:
* Are Caucasian or African American
* Are fluent English speakers
* Have normal vision and hearing or vision/hearing impairments that are corrected to within normal limits.

Participants will undergo a series of tests to measure how they recognize tactile input. Participants may be asked to complete self-evaluation questionnaires and a cognitive assessment.

These tests can take from 30 minutes to 2 hours to participate. Participants may be called back for an additional two hours of testing. Testing will be completed on UNC Chapel Hill Campus in MacNider or Bondurant Hall. Participants will receive $25.00 per hour for participating in this study (up to $100).

If you are interested in participating please reply to this email and indicate the days and times you may be available. In addition, please include your name, age, race, occupation, education level, and contact information in your response.

Medical IRB study #'s 07-0170 and 06-0882

This email is sponsored by: Biomedical Engineering

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

	A	B	C	D	E	F
1	The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
2				Department or Unit:
3	FY 2009-10
4	Itemized Recurring Reduction
5
6	Note: Budget entries will be processed by the Dean's Office in early July.
7
8	Description of Service, Activity, or Program Reduced	6 Digit Account	Object Code	Position(s) Title EPA/SPA (be as specific as possible)	Amount	Impact
9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
17 18 19
20	Total Reduction				$ -

From: UNC General Alumni Association <alumni@unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 15, 2009 11:01 AM
To: Carolina Alumni and Friends <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Discover Costa Rica with UNC Young Alumni

UNC GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Costa Rica Eco Explorer

Dec. 27, 2009 - Jan. 3, 2010

From $1,650 (Air additional from selected gateways)

Do something different this December and ring in the New Year in style. Take advantage of your extended holiday vacation, grab a few Tar Heel young alumni friends and discover Costa Rica at a great price.

This eight-day journey offers a leisurely and exciting tour of Costa Rica, the hottest (and one of the most affordable) destinations in Latin America. You'll experience active volcanoes, pink shell beaches, exotic birds and jungle-canopy walks. Explore unspoiled beaches that stretch for miles, rivers for whitewater rafting and kayaking and spectacular cloud forests and rainforests with ample opportunities for hiking.

For less than $2,000, this trip includes:

- (7) nights at first-class hotels with private bath/shower, double occupancy
- Various meals (daily breakfasts as per itinerary, one dinner and two lunches)
- Private tour escort for the duration of the tour
- All scheduled sightseeing
- Visits to Poas Volcano National Park, La Paz Waterfall Gardens, Tabacon Hot Springs and Cano Negro Wildlife Refuge

So pack your bags, grab a few friends and experience an adventure that you'll never forget.

View complete trip details and the trip brochure (PDF). For more information about this trip or any alumni trips, please contact Steffi Kinton '05, coordinator of alumni education and travel, at steffi_kinton@unc.edu or (877) 962-3980.

Additional Opportunities for Young Alumni

The Tar Heel Travel program isn't the only opportunity for Carolina's young alumni. Your General Alumni Association sponsors annual Homecoming/ RAMpage festivities in Chapel Hill, Welcome to the City events and nearly 100 local Carolina Clubs. Visit alumni.unc.edu/youngalumni to learn more about how you can get involved and stay connected.

We appreciate your membership in the GAA. The Alumni Travel Program is a GAA member-exclusive benefit. Members also have exclusive access to the digital version of the award-winning Carolina Alumni Review. Read the magazine online as it appears in print.

PRIVACY POLICY: You received this e-mail from the General Alumni Association-George Watts Hill Alumni Center, CB # 9180, Stadium Drive, PO Box 660, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0660. You have not been subscribed to an e-mail list. If you do not wish to receive future e-mail of this type from the GAA, please reply to alumni@unc.edu and include your full name, address and class year, call us toll-free at (877) 377-7125, or unsubscribe via this link: unsubscribe here.

Please note that UNC and the General Alumni Association do not sell your information, including your e-mail address, to anyone for any purpose.

702472576

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of unc.onlinestudy@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, July 15, 2009 8:46 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: What makes romantic relationships work? Help us find out!

You are invited to participate in a new scientific research study designed to understand what makes relationships work. Whether you are in a blissful relationship, think your relationship could use a boost, or if you think you have a perfectly "normal" relationship, we are interested in what you have to say.

People who have been involved in a heterosexual romantic relationship for at least one year (no upper limit), and have been living with their partner for at least 6 months are eligible to participate in the study with their romantic partner. Each couple will be compensated with up to $120 for their participation, with chances to receive gift certificates ($50 to $100) to a local restaurant.

After an initial online questionnaire (20-30 minutes), the study involves two 75-90 minute visits to our laboratory on the UNC campus, four weeks apart. In the lab, at the beginning and end of the study, we will record your physiology and interactions with your romantic partner, and will collect samples of your saliva to measure your naturally-occurring hormone levels. During the intervening four week period, we'll ask you to provide a snapshot of your everyday life by responding to a brief (3-5 minute) questionnaire online each night. Finally, on 4 to 6 occasions during this four week period, we will ask you to supplement your normal, everyday interactions with your partner by setting aside 20-30 minutes to talk alone together. The second lab session will allow us to assess the role that these different factors play in your relationship, and to answer any additional questions you have. We anticipate that time spent in this study with your partner and in answering private questionnaires will average less than 6.5 hours over the course of the month.

We would love to hear from you, and we would be more than happy to give you further information about the study. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you would like more information, or would like to sign up for the study: UNC.Relationships.Study@gmail.com, or 919-843-0092.

For measurement purposes, in addition to the above, you are NOT eligible for this study if you:
- Are under 24 years old.
- Are currently taking antidepressants or have been recently diagnosed with depression or an anxiety disorder.
- Are a woman who is: over 40, postmenopausal, pregnant (or plan to become pregnant during the course of the study), within 6 months postpartum, nursing (lactating), or have had an oophorectomy (i.e., ovaries must be intact).
- Are a man on steroid medication.

We look forward to hearing from you, and will return your email or phone call as soon as possible. Sessions will begin immediately.

Sincerely,

Sara Algoe, Ph.D. and Barbara Fredrickson, Ph.D.
Department of Psychology
Principal Investigators, UNC Understanding Romantic Relationships Study

p.s. This study is being conducted through the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill Psychology Department, and has been approved by the UNC-CH Behavioral Institutional Review Board

IRB Study # 09-0409
Approving Body: Social Behavioral
Date of Approval: 4/6/2009

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bpearson@med.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 15, 2009 9:52 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Women needed for PMS Study

Do you or someone you know have severe PMS mood symptoms?

Some women experience PMS mood symptoms that interfere with work, activities and relationships.

The UNC Department of Psychiatry research team is conducting a clinical research study for women with severe PMS and Premenstrual Dysphoric Disorder (PMDD) to see whether combining an anti-depressant with an additional study-related medication aids in the relief of this reproductive mood disorder.

Volunteers must be:
* At least 18 years old
* In good health
* Currently treated with an anti-depressant

All office visits, medical evaluations, and investigational medications related to this study will be provided at no cost to patients.

For more information, please call Brenda at 843-8084 (bpearson@med.unc.edu).

Approved 10/30/2006 by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects Biomedical Institutional Review Board.
IRB # 05-PSYCH-1418/ 05-3106

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, July 16, 2009 11:37 AM
To: afam faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: gently used file folders

Hi to all. We have an abundance of file folders that have been used but are in pretty good shape. If you need any, please contact us. We may end up purging them for space purposes. Thanks. Debby

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of darsh@email.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, July 16, 2009 8:17 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ACERIP EMT Class

ACERIP, the Association for Carolina Emergency Response and Injury Prevention, is a student group on campus that works to provide volunteer opportunities and classes for students interested in emergency services.

In the past the group has provided volunteer opportunities with the UNC Hospitals Trauma Program and has sponsored Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) classes on campus for interested students.

Next semester the group plans to offer two EMT classes on campus. The EMT-B certification classes will begin during the first week of UNC classes in August. There will be a Monday/Wednesday class and a Tuesday/Thursday night class, both of which start at 6pm and go until about 10pm. The cost is $145 plus the price of the book. To apply for the Fall 2009 class and for more information, please go to http://studentorgs.unc.edu/acerip/.

ACERIP is always looking for new people interested in taking leadership roles. If you are interested in heading up a project, please send an email expressing your interest. Thanks for your time.

Darshan Patel

This email is sponsored by: ACERIP

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: bounce-25001837-19454729@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Ryan Greenway <greenway@unc.edu>

Sent: Friday, July 17, 2009 4:37 PM

To: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff <african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu>

Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-staff] [all-college-staff] Update: Dean's Office Pilot of Online Help Request System for Finance and Human Resource Questions

---

This message is being sent to all faculty and staff in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Since June 1st, the Dean's Office has been piloting the UNC Online Help Request and Remedy Systems to answer your finance and human resource issues. At this time, we will no longer address finance or human resource issues sent through email or by phone call and will instead require that you submit a help request online at http://college.unc.edu/remedy.

Thanks to your participation, we have answered nearly 300 requests to date with over 55% of requests resolved within one day and 71% handled within three days. Also, the system has allowed more collaboration for our solutions and answers, and has helped ensure that no issues fall through the cracks.

Please continue to be patient as we all adjust to the changes.

FYI - We have created a category for your ARP question or issues named "AS DO ARP".

Ryan Greenway
Director of Systems Integration // (919) 962.9275 (Office number)
Dean's Office - College of Arts & Sciences --- http://www.artsandsci.unc.edu
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
205 South Building, CB 3100
919.962.1165 (Main Line) 919.962.2408 (Fax)

- -- You are currently subscribed to all-college-staff as: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu.

 -- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-staff as: stgore@email.unc.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, July 17, 2009 8:16 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: University Enhances Employee Assistance Program

---

University employees now have access to an additional, confidential Employee Assistance Program resource -- the State's employee assistance program, provided by a behavioral health organization called Deer Oaks. The Deer Oaks service is available in addition to the University's current on-site EAP counselor. Employees can call Deer Oaks 24 hours a day, seven days a week, for free confidential employee assistance. The University's on-site EAP resource is available during regular work hours.

These additional services were made available through the Employee Assistance Fund established earlier this year by Chancellor Thorp. The fund was designed to serve two purposes: provide enhanced career transition services for employees who are laid off or whose appointments are ending (provided through Lee Hecht Harrison), and expand the support already offered by the University's on-site EAP.

The University's expanded Employee Assistance Program can help employees with a variety of issues including stress, depression, anxiety, anger, legal, financial, workplace problems, substance abuse, relationships, marital/family issues, elder care resource and referral and more.

The benefit extends to permanent employees and their dependents and is available for up to six months after leaving the University. Active employees will not be charged leave time for the initial EAP appointment.

To contact the University's onsite employee assistance counselor, call 919-929-2362 during regular business hours. To contact Deer Oaks, call 877-327-7658 -- and remember, this service is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Deer Oaks also has an interactive website with helpful resources, self-assessments, and tips and tools designed to enhance your daily life. You can access the website at http://www.eapnc.com. The log-in name and password are EAPNC.

Employees will receive a brochure detailing their EAP options, along with a wallet card with contact information, in the near future.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of Kmachlus@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Sunday, July 19, 2009 8:18 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Venous Thrombosis Research Study

Researchers in the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at UNC-Chapel Hill are looking for subjects to participate in a study examining risk factors that lead to blood clots in the deep veins of the arms and legs or clots in the lungs (venous thromboembolism). To be considered for this study you must meet the following criteria:

1. Have been diagnosed with a blood clot in your arms, legs, or lungs (deep vein thrombosis or pulmonary embolism)
2. Not be on anti-coagulation therapy such as Coumadin/Warfarin or Heparin (Aspirin is OK)

Participation includes:
- A visit to our research lab in Brinkhous Bullitt Building
- A brief (2 page) oral questionnaire to acquire relevant medical information
- One blood draw of approximately 20 mLs (4 teaspoons) from a vein in your arm
- Compensation of $10 for time and effort of participating

For more information on this study or to schedule an appointment call Kellie Machlus (study coordinator) at 919-966-8430 or email Kmachlus@email.unc.edu.

Approved by Biomedical IRB 12/14/2008
IRB # 05-2968
Sponsoring Department: Pathology and Laboratory Medicine

This email is sponsored by: Pathology and Laboratory Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, July 21, 2009 12:26 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: Video Highlights of Final Bain Study

---

Dear Carolina community:

We've just posted the final report from Bain & Company, the global business consulting firm that's been working with us over the past several months. It's on the Carolina Budget Information Web page off www.unc.edu. The posting includes a follow-up video presentation to our interim report in April with the major highlights and a printable summary. We've also included a link to the complete 100-plus page report, which is the focus of a presentation by the consultants this week to our Board of Trustees.

Bain has provided us with a series of potential strategies to streamline operations and become more effective. Now it's up to us to study these proposals and determine our plans for implementation.

The Bain study is an important tool for us now as we continue to deal with the economic crisis. If we take this report seriously and follow up on its advice, I think we'll be better positioned for the future.

The video presentation and Web page provide details about how we plan to move forward in assessing these recommendations, take action and track the results. I hope you'll take the time to watch the presentation and scan the full report. Please let us know what you think by sending your feedback via e-mail to budgetideas@unc.edu.

Thanks for all you do for Carolina.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 21, 2009 8:24 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Healthy Volunteer Research Opportunity

---

HEALTHY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!!

Are you interested in participating
in a research study to help investigators
at UNC Chapel Hill understand more
about mental illness?

Investigators are looking for medically healthy males and females, who have no acute or chronic illness, between the ages of 12 and 35 to participate in a two year study. Your participation will help us learn more about normal changes in brain function over time and will be used to make comparisons in a study investigating risk factors for a serious mental disorder, schizophrenia. Study participation will require about 38 hours of time over the next two years, divided over 6 study evaluations, and study evaluations can occur over multiple days. Study visit can be arranged around your schedule. Study participation will involve answering questions about your physical and mental health, computerized tests of memory, attention, social skills and problem solving ability. Study participation will also included having a magnetic resonance image (MRI) of your brain, measurement of brain activity (ERP) and blood drawn at 3 study visits. If you complete all study evaluations, you will be compensated $1230.

In order to find out whether you are eligible, please visit our website to fill out the 5 minute On-line Screening Questionnaire at the following website (you will need to cut and paste into your browser). People under 18 years of age will need permission from a parent or guardian prior to completing the questionnaire.

http://www.psychiatry.unc.edu/research/cr_healthyvolunteer.htm
(underscore between cr _ healthy volunteer)

Or contact Andrea Pelletier at 919-843-3421

The Project is funded by the National Institute of Mental Health

IRB #08-01448
10/17/2008
UNC Biomedical IRB

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, July 22, 2009 2:48 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: FW: AFAM paper]
Attach: FW_ AFAM paper.eml (6.98 MB).msg

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lauren_cohen@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 22, 2009 8:18 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Study of Home Lighting and Aging

UNC Study of Home Lighting and Aging

Research has shown that lighting can improve mood and sleep for adults. In order to learn more about the effects of home lighting for older adults with Alzheimer's disease and other memory problems, researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill are conducting a four month study of home lighting.

To participate in this study, you must be the live-in caregiver for someone with Alzheimer's disease or a related memory disorder. Participants will receive reimbursement for all study-related costs, and also will receive $300 for their time.

To learn more about this study, please call Lauren Cohen toll-free at (866) 687-9342 or locally at (919) 843-8874.

The study `Home Lighting and Aging' (IRB # 08-1249) was reviewed and approved by the Office of Human Research Ethics at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on February 3, 2009.

This email is sponsored by: The Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, July 22, 2009 8:50 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Interested in how your childs brain works and grows?

Interested in how your child's brain works and grows?

Participate in a research study! We need healthy volunteers to help us figure out how the brain grows in children and teenagers. If your child is between the ages of 9 and 18, please fill out our 5 minute online questionnaire.

The total compensation for the study is up to $250.

To add your child to our list, visit our website:

http://clipper.med.unc.edu/phv/healthyvolunteers_form1.cfm

UNC IRB # 5-2119

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: UNC General Alumni Association <alumni@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, July 23, 2009 2:52 PM
To: Carolina Alumni and Friends <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Orange/Durham Carolina Club: Help Wanted

Help Wanted

Orange/Durham Carolina Club Seeks New Leaders

Are you looking for a way to give back to your alma mater? Interested in planning events for Tar Heels living in the Triangle area? Want to gain valuable leadership experience that will enhance your life and career?

The Orange/Durham Carolina Club (ODCC) seeks local alumni who are willing to serve as co-leaders of our alumni group. Volunteering for our club is a great way to gain valuable leadership experience while serving our great University.

Hone valuable skills such as:

- Management
- Public speaking
- Event planning
- Marketing

Send an e-mail to Joey Powell '01 or Casey Privette '01 if you are interested in participating with your Orange/Durham Carolina Club in any way. If you would like to take an active role in club leadership or you have any ideas for future club activities, please let Joey or Casey know.

Stay Tuned

ODCC is Headed to the Old Ball Yard

We're working on a potential outing to a Durham Bulls game. Stay tuned for details.

Thank You

The Orange/Durham Carolina Club appreciates your membership in the GAA. Your membership provides important support to the GAA and our club. Members have exclusive access to the digital version of the award-winning Carolina Alumni Review. Read the magazine online as it appears in print.

Stay connected to the GAA and Carolina. Follow us on Twitter, become a fan of our Facebook page, join our LinkedIn group and more.

Orange/Durham Carolina Club:

Orange/Durham Carolina Club Web Site

Subscribe to our e-mail list

Clubs-Related Questions:

clubs@unc.edu

Carolina Alumni Review

Find the GAA on Facebook

Alumni Career Services

GAA contacts

PRIVACY POLICY: You received this e-mail from the General Alumni Association-George Watts Hill Alumni Center, CB # 9180, Stadium Drive, PO Box 660, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0660. You have not been subscribed to an e-mail list. If you do not wish to receive future e-mail of this type from the GAA, please reply to alumni@unc.edu and include your full name, address and class year, call us toll-free at (877) 377-7125, or unsubscribe via this link: unsubscribe here.

Please note that UNC and the General Alumni Association do not sell your information, including your e-mail address, to anyone for any purpose.

702472576

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of childhear@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, July 23, 2009 8:19 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Child Participants Needed for Hearing Research Study

---

The Human Auditory Development Laboratory is currently recruiting children between 5-14 years old to help us learn more about how children hear in noisy environments.

During the testing, your child will sit in a sound-treated room and will listen to sounds presented over earphones. Your child will be asked to indicate when they hear sounds by either touching a picture on a touch-screen monitor or telling an assistant who sits inside the booth with your child during testing. The sounds we use are not loud.

One to three visits to the laboratory are required. Each visit lasts about one hour. You will receive $15/hour and give you a parking pass for parking if you drive to the lab.

If you are interested please call (919) 843-3672 or email childhear@med.unc.edu and leave your first name, and a number by which we can reach you (indicating the best times to call).

The principal investigator for this study is Lori Leibold, PhD, Department of Allied Health Sciences.

This study has been approved by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Institutional Review Board: Study# 06-0840.

This email is sponsored by: Allied Health Sciences

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, July 23, 2009 8:42 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: Vice Chancellor for Human Resources Announcement

---

Dear Faculty and Staff,

During my first year in office, I have seen time after time the critical role that the University's employees play in Carolina's success. They are the University's most important asset and resource. That is why I have decided to elevate the position currently held by Brenda Richardson Malone to vice chancellor. I want the senior administrator with principal responsibility for our staff (the head of the Office of Human Resources) to report directly to me and to serve in my Cabinet, along with the senior administrator with the comparable responsibility for our faculty (the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost). This move increases Brenda's access and involvement in the administration's daily activities while at the same time reducing layers of management devoted to our human resources function. Our Board of Trustees approved the change this morning, effective August 1.

Brenda has been associate vice chancellor for human resources for the past two years. She came to Carolina with 30 years of experience in human resources, including 14 years as vice chancellor for faculty and staff relations at The City University of New York.

During her time here, Brenda has shown great judgment in applying her knowledge of the best human resources practices to the complex issues that we face in North Carolina and within the University. In these difficult economic times, she has recognized the challenges posed by budget cuts across the University and has reinforced the Office of Human Resources' commitment to providing a broad range of quality workplace benefits and services for managers and our more than 12,000 faculty and staff.

Because of our budget situation, Brenda's salary will remain the same.

Please join me in supporting Brenda in this new role.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, July 24, 2009 8:17 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor

Colleagues,

I am pleased to let you know that Joe Templeton, immediate past Chair of the Faculty and former chair of the Department of Chemistry, has agreed to a part-time role as special assistant to the chancellor for planning and initiatives.

Joe's primary charge is to manage our response to the Bain & Company report. I think it's imperative that we move quickly to analyze the options presented in the report and to act on those that will help us be a more efficient, effective institution. You know as well as I do that the economic situation isn't getting any better. The Bain report has given us insight into ways to save and possibly redirect those savings into our academic mission.

Joe's knowledge of the University is extensive, and I can't think of a better colleague to have working next to me. His deep understanding of Carolina's operations and culture is especially important as we examine the Bain report.

Joe will continue to teach and direct graduate students. While his nine-month salary will not change, he will be paid a stipend for this work.

As we develop our response to the Bain report, I pledge to keep you informed. And please keep e-mailing us your ideas about the budget and the Bain report to budgetideas@unc.edu.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2009 10:58 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: FW: AFAM paper]
Attach: FW_ AFAM paper.eml (31.4 KB).msg

From: gchorne@email.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2009 1:27 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Request

Thanks!
------Original Message------
From: Deborah Crowder
To: Gerald Horne
Cc: Travis Gore
Sent: Jul 27, 2009 10:25 PM
Subject: Re: Request

Hello Professor Horne. Of course, that will be fine. I am copying Travis Gore so that he will know it is ok. We are having a lot of crazy issues these days so sometimes we close the office so you may want to call to double check that we are here before you come. 919-966-5496. I hope to see you. Debby

Gerald Horne wrote:
>
> As he is now out of town, Julius suggested that I contact you about > the feasibility of dropping by this week to print out some notes for a > book I'm working on: please advise, thank you.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2009 3:17 PM
To: Felecia Garrett <fgarrett@ucr.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Dr. Moses' Reimbursement

Hi Ms. Garrett. I will only be here another 15 minutes today but my office assistant can take the info. His name is Travis Gore and our main office no is 919-966-5496. Debby Crowder

Felecia Garrett wrote:
> Ms. Caldwell:
>
> Thanks so much for your quick response. I'm uncomfortable sending SS#s > over the e-mail. If you give me a phone number to call or a fax number,
> I will forward Dr. Moses' private information. Also, is it necessary > for her to complete a W9? I am copying Ms. Crowde on this e-mail > exchange. Again, thank you.
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Kia Lilly Caldwell [mailto:klcaldwe@email.unc.edu]
> Sent: Monday, July 27, 2009 11:27 AM
> To: Felecia Garrett; Deborah Crowder
> Subject: Dr. Moses' Reimbursement
>
> Ms. Garrett,
> Thank you for sending this information regarding Dr. Moses' travel > reimbursement. I thought she already received her reimbursement, however
>
> I was not involved with all of the final accounting for the conference.
> As indicated by Lucinda Thompson, Dr. Moses will receive $300 from the > Carolina Women's Center and the remaining amount should come from my > department. Debby Crowder is my department's budget manager. I have > forwarded emails from you and Lucinda to Debby. Please send her Dr.
> Moses' SS# and home address to set her up as a vendor in our system. She > can be reached at dacrowde@email.unc.edu.
>
> I will be overseas for the next couple of weeks and will have limited > email access during that time.
>
> Best regards,
> Kia Caldwell
>
>
> Felecia Garrett wrote:
>
>> Dear Ms. Caldwell:
>>
>> I submitted receipts for Dr. Moses' travel to Ms. Lucinda Thompson per
>>
>
>
>> the instructions in this e-mail string. Ms. Thompson is willing to pay
>>
>
>
>> a portion of the reimbursement, however, she suggested that I request >> the balance from you. I will forward our e-mail exchange to you >> shortly. Many thanks for your assistance in helping me obtain the >> balance of Dr. Moses' reimbursement.
>>

>> Sincerely,
>>
>> Felecia Garrett
>>
>> * From: * Yolanda Moses [mailto:yolandam@ucr.edu]
>> Sent: Friday, February 06, 2009 6:09 PM
>> To: Kia Lilly Caldwell; cathy.chi@ucr.edu
>> Cc: felecia.garrett@ucr.edu
>> Subject: RE: Thank You!
>>
>> Kia:
>>
>> it was my pleasure to have been able to make a contribution. i hope >> your university appreciates the kind of time and energy that you and >> your colleagues put into making the event a reality. I will get my >> receipts to you as soon as possible, and I will be on the look-out for >> the honorarium check too.
>>
>
>
>>
>> Hope you can get a little down time to reflect and think about how you >> want to use the positive energy from this project for your own agenda >> as well.
>>
>
>
>>
>> All the best,
>>
>> Yolanda
>>
>> * From: * Kia Lilly Caldwell [mailto:klcaldwe@email.unc.edu]
>> Sent: Thu 2/5/2009 8:43 AM
>> To: Yolanda Moses ; cathy.chi@ucr.edu
>> Subject: Thank You!
>>
>> Dear Yolanda,
>> I hope you had a safe trip back to California on Saturday. Thank you >> for speaking during the Black Women in the Academy Symposium. Both of >> your presentations were wonderful! We have received a lot of positive >> feedback about the symposium and people seem to have been particularly >> appreciative of the fact that you and the other speakers were so >> accessible during the weekend.
>> If you have any receipts for food, parking, taxis etc. from your >> trip, please send them to Lucinda Thompson. Her address is listed >> below. You should receive your honorarium check within a few weeks.
>> UNC typically takes a few weeks to process these payments. You should >> contact Lucinda if you have any questions about this, >> thomps17@email.unc.edu .
>> Lucinda Thompson, Carolina Women's Center, UNC-Chapel Hill, 215 W.
>> Cameron Avenue , CB# 3302, Chapel Hill , NC 27599-3302
>> Phone: 919-843-0632.
>>
>> Thanks again!
>> Kia
>>
>>
>
>

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2009 6:26 PM
To: Gerald Horne <gchorne@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Request

Hello Professor Horne. Of course, that will be fine. I am copying Travis Gore so that he will know it is ok. We are having a lot of crazy issues these days so sometimes we close the office so you may want to call to double check that we are here before you come. 919-966-5496. I hope to see you. Debby

Gerald Horne wrote:
>
> As he is now out of town, Julius suggested that I contact you about > the feasibility of dropping by this week to print out some notes for a > book I'm working on: please advise, thank you.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, July 27, 2009 8:24 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Excess Liability Insurance Coverage

TO: All Employees

FROM: Brian Usischon, Senior Director, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

The University provides excess liability insurance coverage to all employees at no cost to the employee. The coverage amounts are $10,000,000 per employee, $10,000,000 per occurrence and $25,000,000 per annual aggregate.

This coverage is in addition to the statutory coverage pertaining to state employees, pursuant to which the University and the State of North Carolina pay the first $1,000,000 of any judgment awarded against an employee arising out of claims on account of actions or omissions made in the scope and course of employment. The excess liability coverage covers similar claims and is intended to seamlessly fit with this underlying statutory coverage. This insurance covers all employees, including those who are temporary, permanent, full-time and part-time, for their job-related actions.

Excluded from the policy are criminal acts, claims arising out of the operation of motor vehicles, claims arising out of consulting activities, medical malpractice, sexual abuse claims, and claims relating to certain intentional acts (fraud, dishonesty, assault and battery). As with any insurance policy, other terms and conditions may limit or exclude coverage.

If you have any specific questions about the coverage of this University policy, you may contact Treasury & Risk Management Services at 962-7360.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources / Treasury & Risk Management Services

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, July 28, 2009 2:47 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Independent Study Paper]
Attach: Independent Study Paper.eml (78.6 KB).msg

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of patrick_vernon@kenan-flagler.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, July 28, 2009 8:33 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: New Intro Course added for Launchihng the Venture Series

---

Have a good idea? Thinking of starting something new? Consider taking the new introductory class for the popular Launching the Venture (LTV) series offered by UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School, UNC's Office of Technology Development and the Carolina Entrepreneurial Initiative. The class is open to everyone in the UNC community: students, staff, faculty and alumni, with any type of entrepreneurial idea: social, technological, scientific, artistic or traditional. Come learn whether your idea may be a true opportunity.

The course title is MBA848A Launching the Venture I: Opportunity Recognition and Team Building, and meets Monday evenings for the first half of the fall semester. The purpose of this new course is to help participants build their teams and prepare their applications to get into LTV II. Students who have already taken an introductory entrepreneurship course and have a team may skip the intro class and apply directly for LTV II, which begins in October. The LTV series (www.unc.edu/cei/launch) includes:

LTV 1: Opportunity Recognition and Team Building
LTV 2: Feasibility
LTV 3: Business Planning
LTV 4: Financing

Participants are not required to complete the entire series. You may take LTV I for credit (1.5 credit hours) or you may attend any of the five lectures or six events (not for credit). The sessions are as follows:

8/24 5:00pm Lecture: Ideas vs. Opportunities
6:30pm Panel Discussion: Former LTV Participants discuss the course

8/31 5:00pm Lecture: Business Literacy for Entrepreneurs
6:30pm Panel Discussion: The RTP Entrepreneurial Community

9/14 5:00pm Lecture: Building Entrepreneurial Teams
6:30pm Networking/Team-Building Event

9/21 5:00pm Lecture: Entrepreneurial Finance 101
6:30pm Panel Discussion: Investors, bankers and others discuss startup financing

9/28 5:00pm Lecture: Entrepreneurial Marketing 101
6:30pm Panel Discussion: marketing professionals discuss issues for new ventures

10/5 5:00pm Launch the Venture II Pitch-a-Thon

For more information and to register, go to: www.unc.edu/cei/launch

Launch Facebook Group: http://bit.ly/ATrtN
UNCLaunch On Twitter: http://twitter.com/unclaunch

Patrick Vernon
Associate Director and Adjunct Assistant Professor
Center for Entrepreneurial Studies
UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School
The Kenan Institute of Private Enterprise
Kenan Center 402
Campus Box 3440
Chapel Hill, NC 27599
pvernon@unc.edu
office (919) 962-9257
fax (919) 843-9178

This email is sponsored by: Center for Entrepreneurial Studies

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of project.arch@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, July 28, 2009 9:04 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Seeking Adolescent Participants (ages 12-16) for UNC Friendship Study (Earn $80)

Parents and Mental Healthcare Providers:
Researchers are currently seeking participants (ages 12-16) for an important study of adolescent friendship and development called Project ARCH (Adolescents, Relationships, Coping, and Health). Specifically, we are seeking adolescents who have ever been assessed or received treatment for depressed mood, anxiety, or other mental health concerns.

Participants would complete questionnaires and discuss several adolescent-oriented topics with a close friend. We can schedule visits to our near-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road any afternoon or evening during the week and anytime on the weekend. Participants earn up to $80 for participating and we offer driving reimbursement for long-distance participants.

For more information, please contact Amanda van Scoyoc at 919-843-2352 or by email at project.arch@unc.edu.

This research study (IRB#07-0929) was approved by the UNC-CH Behavioral IRB.

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: UNC General Alumni Association <alumni@unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, July 30, 2009 5:31 PM
To: Carolina Alumni and Friends <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Tar Heel Travel Opportunities for Young Alumni

Tar Heel Travel Opportunities for Carolina's Young Alumni

Several trips now available, at prices you can afford.

The GAA's Tar Heel Travel program offers a number of trips each year, including several opportunities for Carolina's young alumni. Whether you prefer to raft down a river of white water, walk the unspoiled beaches of Costa Rica or explore the Great Wall of China, you have options. So pack your bags and experience a trip you'll never forget. And remember, traveling with us may sometimes require a passport, but not a UNC degree. Bring a friend or two on your chosen adventure – regardless of their school affiliation.

Wild Whitewater Weekend | Oct. 17-18, 2009

GAA members pay just $215 (nonmembers $245)
Register or request more information.

Southern West Virginia's New and Gauley rivers are waiting. Experience some of the most challenging and thrilling whitewater in America and enjoy the annual Bridge Day festivities in the New River Gorge, where you'll watch parachutists leap from an 876-foot bridge from the best seats in the house. More.

Trip includes:

- Two days of rafting
- Professional guides
- River transportation
- Basic equipment
- One dinner, one breakfast and two lunches
- Amazing seats to watch Bridge Day festivities

Prefer the white powder over the white water? Let us know if you're interested in a ski trip to Wintergreen, Va., this winter.

Costa Rica Eco Explorer | Dec. 27, 2009 – Jan. 3, 2010

From $1,650 (air additional from selected gateways)
Register or request more information.

Six Carolina alumni and friends have already registered for this adventure. Join them to ring in the New Year in style. Take advantage of your extended holiday vacation and discover Costa Rica at a great price. This eight-day journey offers a leisurely and exciting tour of Costa Rica, the hottest destination in Latin America. More.

For less than $2,000, this trip includes:

- (7) nights at first-class hotels with private bath/shower, double occupancy
- Various meals (daily breakfasts as per itinerary, one dinner and two lunches)
- Private tour escort for the duration of the tour
- All scheduled sightseeing
- Visits to Poas Volcano National Park, La Paz Waterfall Gardens, Tabacon Hot Springs and Cano Negro Wildlife Refuge

---

China Passage | May 24 - June 2, 2010

From $2,500 (air additional from selected gateways)
Register or request more information.

China - land of legends, architectural wonders and diverse landscapes, is a country with one of the world's longest histories. Today's China is definitely not the country of your grandparents or your parents. More.

For $2,500, this trip includes:

- Round-trip flights from the U.S. to China and all domestic flights within China (taxes and fees included)
- All accommodations (three-star or similar class)
- Ground transportation within China
- Tours of Beijing, Xian and Shanghai -- including visits to the Forbidden City, Tian-An-Men Square, the Great Wall and Olympics venues
- English speaking guide in each city

For more information and to register for any of these trips, contact Steffi Kinton '05, coordinator of alumni education and travel:
steffi_kinton@unc.edu | (877) 962-3980.

Thank You

We appreciate your membership in the GAA. The Tar Heel Travel Program is a benefit for GAA members. Members also have exclusive access to the digital version of the award-winning Carolina Alumni Review. Read the magazine online as it appears in print.

PRIVACY POLICY: You received this e-mail from the General Alumni Association-George Watts Hill Alumni Center, CB # 9180, Stadium Drive, PO Box 660, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0660. You have not been subscribed to an e-mail list. If you do not wish to receive future e-mail of this type from the GAA, please reply to alumni@unc.edu and include your full name, address and class year, call us toll-free at (877) 377-7125, or unsubscribe via this link: Unsubscribe Link

Please note that UNC and the General Alumni Association do not sell your information, including your e-mail address, to anyone for any purpose.

702472576

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 31, 2009 8:44 AM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release
Attach: enews20090730.html

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/enews20090730.html

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25067490-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Gideon Young <gwyoung@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, July 31, 2009 11:59 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: CMPL 132 listserv advertisment
Attach: CMPL 132 Fall 2009.doc

Hello Debby and Travis,

I was hoping you could pass this information about this course on to your undergraduates?

Many Thanks!!!

-Gideon

--
--

Gideon Young
Program Assistant for Comparative Literature

Department of English & Comparative Literature
UNC Chapel Hill
CB # 3520, 203 Greenlaw Hall
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3520

919)962-1055

CMPL 132

Performance and Cultural Identity in the African Diaspora

FALL 2009 Tues/Thurs 9:30 – 10:20 -GL 431-

R.R. FISHER

An interdisciplinary examination of the history and representation of the self in the African Diaspora. We will examine how certain authors make use of the structure of text and the composition of image and sound in their efforts to convey the effect and sense of subjectivity. Authors will include Olaudah Equiano, Mary Prince, W.E.B. Du Bois, Aimé Césaire, Richard Wright, James Baldwin, Maryse Condé, Simone Schwartz-Bart, Miriama Bâ, Jamaica Kincaid, Édouard Glissant, and Edwidge Danticat. Music, film, and art from African America, the Caribbean, and West Africa will also be featured.

This course satisfies IA & GL requirements.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 31, 2009 8:30 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Fall Mindfulness Classes--Register Now

---

Do you want to learn to slow down and enjoy your life?

Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, difficult interactions with others?

Mindfulness can make a difference.

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down, set priorities and stay calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).

FALL MINDFULNESS CLASSES FOR 2009:
-Tuesday mornings and evenings beginning September 15 (required orientation)through November 10, taught by Mary Love May.
-Monday Evenings beginning October 12 through November 30, taught by Susan Head

For additional information about classes, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html

Two graduate courses will be offered this fall for those who have taken the basic foundation course:
1) "Deepening Your Mindfulness Practice in the Pressure-Cooker of Daily Life"
Tuesday evenings, November 17 through December 8, 2009
2)Our newest graduate course, "Mindful Parenting" will be held on Tuesday mornings, November 17 through December 8, 2009.

Both classes are taught by Mary Love May.

To register for these mindfulness courses, complete the registration form on the Program on Integrative Medicine website, http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html. Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 31, 2009 9:23 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Administrative Review of Joseph DeSimone, Director, Inst. for Advanced Materials

---

July 31, 2009

Invitation to Provide Input to the Administrative Review of Joseph DeSimone, Director, Institute for Advanced Materials,Nanoscience and Technology

A committee has been appointed to conduct the five-year administrative review of Joseph DeSimone, Director, Institute for Advanced Materials, Nanoscience and Technology (IAM). With this email, the members of the committee are inviting your comments about Dr. DeSimone's leadership of IAM.

You may communicate with the committee in the following ways:

*You may write or email any member(s) of the committee. Please note that any written communication, including email or any other kind of electronic text message, becomes a part of the official record and can be accessed by Dr. DeSimone if he so chooses. University guidelines prevent us from accepting unsigned or anonymous letters or messages.

*You may contact any committee member(s) by phone. Any notes that members take during phone contacts are not part of the permanent record and cannot be seen by the subject of the review. However, the committee will keep a list of everyone who provides comments or information during the course of the review, and that list of names will become part of the official record accessible by Dr. DeSimone.

*You may request to meet with the committee. Please contact the committee chair by August 21 to schedule a time to meet with the committee. As with phone contacts, oral comments are not part of the permanent record. Know that the guidelines say that persons may declare at the beginning of their appearance their wish to remain anonymous, insofar as attribution in the committee minutes of specific comments. However a list of all persons appearing before the committee becomes part of the official record.

You may also relay this invitation to anyone you think has an interest in IAM. The deadline for receiving comments is August 21.

The committee members are:

Terry Magnuson, Chair
Professor and Chair of Genetics
Email: terry_magnuson@med.unc.edu
Address: 5016 Genetic Medicine
CB: 7264
Telephone:(919) 843-6475

Nancy Allbritton
Professor of Chemistry
Email: nlallbri@unc.edu
Address: Chapman Hall, Rm 241
CB: 3216

Telephone:(919) 966-2291

Patrick Eberlein
Professor and Chair of Mathematics
Email: pbe@email.unc.edu
Address: 392 Phillips Hall
CB: 3250
Telephone:(919) 962-9624

Timothy Elston
Professor of Pharmacology
Email: telston@med.unc.edu
Address: 4092 Genetic Medicine
CB: 7365
Telephone:(919) 843-7670

Gary Johnson
Professor and Chair of Pharmacology
Email: glj@med.unc.edu
Address: 4016 Genetic Medicine Bldg
CB: 7365
Telephone:(919) 843-3107

Russ Mumper
Professor of Pharmacy
Email: mumper@email.unc.edu
Address:1044 Genetic Medicine Building
CB: 7362
Telephone:(919) 966-1271

Richard Superfine
Professor of Physics and Astronomy
Email: rsuper@physics.unc.edu
Address: 168 Phillips Hall
CB: 3255
Telephone: (919) 962-1185

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research
and Economic Development

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of liseanne_hammonds@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, July 31, 2009 9:53 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Probiotic Yogurt Study

RESEARCH SUBJECTS NEEDED for Yogurt Study

Do you suffer from the following symptoms?
- Constipation
- Bloating
- Distension
- Swelling
- Gas
- Abdominal Discomfort
- Pain

If yes, then you may be eligible to participate in a research study looking to see if yogurt with added Probiotic bacteria (BB12) helps people who suffer from these symptoms. Probiotics are a dietary supplement containing active bacteria found in food like yogurt and cheese.

This is a 5 week research study with 5 clinic visits to UNC hospital.
Subjects will be compensated $500 for their participation in this study.

If you are interested in participating or to learn more about this study and other studies please call the program coordinator, Liseanne Fedor-Hammonds @ 919-843-1003. Thank You for your interest in our study.

From: Biomedical IRB

Approval Date: 6/09/2009
Expiration Date of Approval: 4/05/2010

Notice of IRB Approval by Expedited Review (under 45 CFR 46.110)
Study #: 09-0480

Study Title: CTRC: Physiological Effects of Yogurt Containing Bifidobacterium Lactis (Bb12) in Subjects with Non-Diarrhea Functional Gastrointestinal Symptoms

This email is sponsored by: Program of Digestive Health

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of wehmeyem@dentistry.unc.edu
Sent: Saturday, August 1, 2009 8:17 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Patients on DIALYSIS needed for study of GUM DISEASE

The UNC Dental Research Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study about how GUM DISEASE(periodontal disease) and KIDNEY DISEASE are related.

Participants will receive free dental x-rays, dental exam, periodontal therapy (deep teeth cleaning) and parking and may receive up to $150 for successful study completion.

You may be eligible to participate in this research study if you:
-Are between 18 and 80 years old
-Are on peritoneal dialysis or hemodialysis
-Have at least 12 of your own teeth
-Have gum disease (periodontal disease)

To learn how you can be in this study, please call (919) 966-5271 or send an email to wehmeyem@dentistry.unc.edu with your name, phone number, and times you can be reached. Your email will not be shared.

Please share this message with friends or family who may be interested!

Principle Investigators: Meggan Wehmeyer, DDS; Steven Offenbacher, DDS, PhD
Approved by UNC IRB# 08-0464: 4/3/2009

This email is sponsored by: The Dental Research Center

This email is sponsored by: Dental Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of bryant_tran@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 4, 2009 8:17 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Blood Vessel Function Study at UNC

Hello,

Are You a Healthy Adult Over the Age of 35?

Investigators at UNC are looking for men and women to participate in a study evaluating blood vessel function.

Participants must also:
Be non-smokers
Have no history of cardiovascular disease (including high blood pressure, high cholesterol, or diabetes) and not be taking any daily medications

The study involves:
*A one-time outpatient clinic visit lasting about 1.5 hours
*Non-invasive blood vessel function assessment
*Blood sample collection
*Must be willing to fast over night and avoid certain over-the-counter medications and dietary supplements for one week
*$50 compensation for completing the study

For more information, contact Bryant Tran at UNCclinicalstudy@gmail.com or (919)843-8723

UNC Chapel Hill IRB
IRB Study #07-0836
Approval Date: 07/13/09

This email is sponsored by: UNC Eshelman School of Pharmacy

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fred.stutzman@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 4, 2009 8:26 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Research on Older Users of Social Networking Sites

---

UNC-Chapel Hill researchers are conducting a study of recent adopters of social networking sites (Facebook, Myspace). We seek individuals, age 40 or older, who first joined a social networking site within the last two years. If you meet these criteria, we are interested in talking to you about why you joined the social networking site and what you do on the site.

To qualify for this research, you must be age 40 or older and have started using social networking sites within the last two years. Your participation is entirely voluntary. Individuals who wish to participate will be interviewed for one hour, and they will fill out a simple questionnaire. Participants will be compensated $10.00 for their time. Interviews can be in person, or remotely (over the phone, via Skype, etc.). To volunteer for participation, or ask any questions about the project, please email Principal Investigator Fred Stutzman at fred.stutzman@unc.edu. If you prefer, you may call 919-260-8508.

This research has been approved by the University of North Carolina Institutional Review Board, IRB-09-1303. Gary Marchionini, Ph.D., Cary C. Boshamer Distinguished Professor in the School of Information and Library Science, is faculty supervisor of this study.

This email is sponsored by: INLS

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 5, 2009 1:25 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Re: Scheduling a final exam...]
Attach: Re_ Scheduling a final exam....eml (2.32 KB).msg

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 5, 2009 1:32 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Paper]
Attach: Paper.eml (68.0 KB).msg

From: scanner@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 5, 2009 4:56 PM
To: travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>; debby <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject:
Attach: 20090805165542559.pdf

This E-mail was sent from "R10442" (Aficio MP 2510).

Scan Date: 08.05.2009 16:55:42 (-0400)
Queries to: scanner@unc.edu

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 5, 2009 8:18 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: TIM Upgrade August 2009

To: All University Employees

From: Payroll Services and the TIM Project Team

The TIM system will be upgraded beginning on Friday, August 7. The system will be down from Friday, August 7 at 5:30 pm until Monday, August 10 at 5:30 am. During the downtime, users will not be able to log in. Teletime will remain down until Wednesday, August 12 at 5:30 am.

Employees using Badge Terminals will be able to swipe in and out for worked hours during the downtime. Functions such as View Timecard Totals, View Accrual Balances, and Time Off Notifications will not be available at the Badge Terminals during the downtime period.

Employees using Web Time Stamp will not be able to login to TIM to record their times worked during the downtime. All time worked for this downtime period should be submitted to the Manager or TIM Administrator for manual entry on Monday, August 10.

Employees using Teletime will not be able to call in to the phone system to record times worked during the extended Teletime downtime period. All time worked during the downtime should be submitted to the Manager or TIM Administrator for manual entry on Wednesday, August 12.

Employees using Manual Time Entry will not be able to login to TIM during the downtime. On Monday, August 10, they will enter any shifts worked during the downtime.

While the functionality has remained the same, the look and location of menus in the TIM system have changed. The TIM online tutorials and manuals have been updated with changes to help users navigate the upgraded system.
Please take the 10-15 minute online tutorials for your position type as soon as possible and download the appropriate manual at http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/tim_training.html.

PLEASE NOTE: On Monday, August 10, the new TIM Thinstall will be available for download. It is recommended that all users on Monday, August 10 delete the current version of the Thinstall application and install the new TIM Thinstall from the UNC Shareware page at https://shareware.unc.edu/software.html. If the user has not installed Thinstall previously, they should install the new TIM Thinstall.

On Monday, August 10, if you need assistance with installing the new TIM Thinstall, please contact your Technical Support Group or 962-HELP for assistance. Instructions to download the Thinstall TIM Icon to your desktop are on pages 1-3 of the new TIM Manuals located online at http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/tim_training.html.

Thank you for your patience during this time of transition.

This email is sponsored by: Payroll Services and TIM Project Team

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, August 6, 2009 11:03 AM
To: afam faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: heads up about meeting with students with disabilities

---

Hi to all. Just fyi. Someone made a formal complaint, I believe over the summer, about difficulty meeting with their professor in this department. The university counsel's office and EEO office are involved and there will be some official communication coming to you, sooner or later. When you are doing your syllabi for the fall, you may want to include a sentence about making arrangements to meet with students who are unable to come to your offices. We have told the powers that be that we will make the conference room (104) available for such meetings. Of course you will have to schedule these meetings since I believe we will still use that room for tests and other conferences.
Thanks much. Debby

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of john_gorsuch@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 6, 2009 8:19 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Sales Tax Holiday at Student Stores

UNC Student Stores is participating in the North Carolina Sales Tax Holiday Weekend.

Items that are eligible for exemption are:
Clothing, footwear, and school supplies of $100 or less per item;
Sports and recreation equipment of $50 or less per item,
Computers of $3,500 or less per item;
Computer supplies of $250 or less per item

For more information, please go to www.store.unc.edu and www.dornc.com/taxes/sales/salestax_holiday.html

This email is sponsored by: UNC Student Stores

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lely@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 6, 2009 8:42 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Type 2 Diabetes Study

Do You Have Type 2 Diabetes?

The UNC Diabetes Care Center is currently seeking volunteers to participate in a research study to test the safety and effectiveness of sitagliptin (Januvia.) which is approved by the FDA for the treatment of Type 2 diabetes. This study will also compare the effect of sitagliptin (Januvia.) as part of usual diabetes care vs. usual diabetes care without sitagliptin (Januvia.) on cardiovascular events. Enrolled subjects will either take sitagliptin (Januvia.) or placebo (inactive substance). The length of the study will be approximately 3-6 years and will consist of a combination of study visits and phone calls. All visits will take place at the UNC Diabetes Care Center.

You may qualify if you are:

* 50 years of age or older
* Have type 2 diabetes and a history of vascular disease
* Not currently taking insulin

For more information please call:

Laura Ely Clinical Trials Coordinator
UNC Diabetes Care Center
484 0931 ext 273
lely@med.unc.edu

Or you may register on our Registry for Potential Research Study Patients at the following link:
http://domis.med.unc.edu/dccregistry

Study Protocol TECOS IRB Approval Study No 09-0043 Approval Date 20 February 2009 UNC Biomedical IRB Approval by Full Board Review

This email is sponsored by: Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, August 7, 2009 9:42 AM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release?

View it online at: http://unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/enews20090807.html

Lineberger Banner: Today's Best Care, Tomorrow's Best Hope

Cancer News Update From UNC Lineberger 08/07/2009

Forward to a Friend

Cancer Care at UNC – Then and Now

With the N.C. Cancer Hospital scheduled to open within days, UNC faculty and staff talk about the course of cancer care at UNC over the years. Watch video.

Groundbreaking Study Shows Exercise Benefits Leukemia Patients

A new study from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill indicates that exercise may combat the debilitating fatigue that leukemia patients experience. The team of researchers included UNC Lineberger members Claudio Battaglini, PhD, Diane Groff, EdD, Tom Shea, MD, and Anthony Hackney, MD. Read more.

UNC Researchers Decode Structure of an Entire HIV Genome

The structure of an entire HIV genome has been decoded for the first time by researchers at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. UNC Lineberger members Kevin Weeks, PhD, and Ron Swanstrom, PhD, and Joseph M. Watts, a chemistry postdoctoral fellow supported by UNC Lineberger, were among those involved in the research. Read more.

Free Cancer Symposium for the General Public on August 15

Mark your calendar for Saturday, August 15! The V Foundation is hosting a cancer symposium that will feature a panel of distinguished physicians and scientists from Duke, NC State and UNC who have been funded by The V Foundation. The event will also include talks by members of The V Foundation's Scientific Advisory Board and a "hands-on" exhibit by area hospitals that serve the needs of those touched by cancer. Read more about the symposium and about the speakers from UNC.

UNC Women's Basketball Coach Sylvia Hatchell Featured in USA Today, Asheville Citizen-Times for her support of UNC Lineberger

Read article in USA Today. Read article in Asheville Citizen-Times.

UNC Lineberger Member Joe DeSimone, PhD, Featured in The Herald-Sun for a Prototype he and his Team of Researchers Have Created

To read the full article, click here.

---

rss feed Subscribe to our RSS News feed . Become a fan of UNC Lineberger on Facebook. Follow us on Twitter.

For additional coverage about news and events at UNC Lineberger, visit www.unclineberger.org.

To unsubscribe, reply to this email with "unsubscribe" as your subject. UNC Lineberger's E-News subscriber list is not open to the public and will not be shared with third parties. If you have questions about UNC Lineberger's privacy policy or if you think your information has been misused, please email us at lcccnews@med.unc.edu.

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, Campus Box 7295, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7295

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25103741-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, August 7, 2009 8:17 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Fall 2009 Parking / Transportation / Safety Information

---

ATTENTION STUDENTS, STAFF, AND FACULTY:

The UNC Department of Public Safety wishes to make sure your experience this academic year is a positive one. As such, please take a moment to review important information related to transportation, parking, and personal security through the Fall 2009 Transportation, Parking, and Safety Update link from the Public Safety homepage:

http://www.dps.unc.edu

Please educate yourself on changes in policy or topics of interest prior, and partner with us in the interest of protecting North Carolina's future.

Thank You,
UNC Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 10, 2009 9:05 AM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: New Webmail launches Aug. 17

Memorandum

To: The Carolina community
From: Larry D. Conrad, Vice Chancellor for Information Technology and CIO
Date: August 10, 2009
Re: Launch of new Webmail

On Monday, Aug. 17, Information Technology Services (ITS) will launch a new version of Webmail for all Carolina students, faculty and staff.

For some time now, ITS has heard from our customers that the old Webmail system needed to be replaced. Last year's budget cuts prevented ITS from addressing this issue. This year, fortunately, ITS has found a way to pursue an upgrade despite the ongoing budget challenges for the University.

Because the new software is open-source and because it is running on existing equipment, the Webmail upgrade will be implemented without incurring any capital cost to the University.

The new version of Webmail has the look and feel of a desktop client - like Thunderbird or Outlook - and is more intuitive than the previous version. It will provide a much better overall user experience.

Evaluated and tested by members of student government, ITS and other groups, the new Webmail has received positive reviews. Features include: easy navigation; spell check; an improved interface; new message pop-up; find-as-you-type address book; and faster performance.

The old version of Webmail will continue to be available to users through a link on the login page, http://webmail.unc.edu, for the next few months to give people time to transition to the new version.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact 962-HELP.

This email is sponsored by: Information Technology Services

From: scanner@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 10, 2009 10:55 AM
To: debby <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; travis <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject:
Attach: 20090810105502327.pdf

This E-mail was sent from "R10442" (Aficio MP 2510).

Scan Date: 08.10.2009 10:55:02 (-0400)
Queries to: scanner@unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 10, 2009 11:07 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: FW: Vance Pettigrew and Battle]
Attach: FW_ Vance Pettigrew and Battle.eml (9.61 KB).msg

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lea.holt@fac.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 10, 2009 8:16 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: AT&T Telephone Books

In order to facilitate the distribution of AT&T telephone books to all campus departments, University Mail Services (UMS) is requesting that you provide the number of phonebooks your department will need and the correct Campus Box number for delivery (if your Campus Box number has changed since 2008).

Please respond to MailServices@fac.unc.edu no later than Friday, August 14.

An informational flyer can be viewed or printed at the Facilities Services homepage at: http://www.fac.unc.edu/

This email is sponsored by: University Mail Services

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of annadele@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 12, 2009 8:18 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Fall CEES Airport Taxi

Fall CEES Airport Taxi

Save some cash and donate money to a good cause by hitching a ride from RDU with one of our drivers! All proceeds benefit the Carolina Experience Enrichment scholarship which will subsidize a summer travel or unpaid internship experience of an exceptional non-traditional, transfer, Carolina Covenant or parent student.

A ride to the airport: $25
Cheesy 80s music on the way: Free
Warm fuzzy feeling from helping a good cause: ...priceless.

To reserve our services:
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.aspx?sm=FeQeGGt4VC2KsXBnk_2fWpNQ_3d_3d

To get involved, please email CEES@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Experience Enrichment Scholarship

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 12, 2009 8:43 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: H1N1 Flu Update: University Issues New Guidelines for Fall 2009

Dear Faculty and Staff:

As the H1N1 influenza A continues circulating widely worldwide, health officials expect cases to keep increasing in the United States in the next few months since influenza transmission typically spreads more rapidly during the fall and winter. Those patterns suggest that University students, faculty and staff could be exposed to someone with H1N1 flu -- either on or off campus - and contract the illness.

On Aug. 5, 2009, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) issued new guidelines about the best ways to prevent spreading the H1N1 flu. Based on that information, the University has developed new recommendations for when University students, faculty or staff should stay home from work or school. These recommendations supersede the guidance provided by the University on June 30, 2009. (The University will communicate separately with students and parents.).

Guidelines for Faculty, Staff and Health-Care Workers

* University faculty and staff who are well but have a family member at home with H1N1 flu: Can go to work as usual. These employees should monitor their health every day. If they become ill, they should notify their supervisors and stay home using available leave (sick leave, vacation, bonus leave or flexible furlough program). Employees who have an underlying medical condition or who are pregnant should call their health-care providers for advice or care - including whether they should receive influenza antiviral drugs to prevent illness - before reporting to work.

People who are at high risk of complications from H1N1 infection - for example, persons with certain chronic medical conditions, children less than 5 years or adults 65 years or older and pregnant women - should consider their risk of exposure if they attend public gatherings in communities where influenza A virus is circulating.

* Employees who are experiencing an acute respiratory illness with a fever greater than 100.4 degrees along with cough, nasal congestion or sore throat: Should not come to work and should stay away from others (self isolate). Those who wish to seek medical care should contact their health-care provider to report illness by telephone or other means before seeking care. If persons with these symptoms must leave their home (for example, to seek medical care or other necessities), they should cover their nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing. A surgical loose-fitting mask can be helpful, but a tissue or other covering is appropriate, too. They should stay home from work, school and any community gatherings for 24 hours after their fever resolves. Their fever should be gone without the use of a fever-reducing medicine (antipyretic). Employees should use available leave (sick leave, vacation, bonus leave or flexible furlough program) if they need to stay home from work.

University health-care workers

* University health-care workers who have exposures at home to known or suspected novel H1N1: Should take their temperature each day and NOT come to work if they develop a fever with sore throat or cough.

* Health-care workers who develop a fever at work with a sore throat or cough: Should immediately go home.

* Health-care workers with a fever and cough or sore throat: Should remain home for 24 hours after their fever resolves. Their fever should be gone without the use of a fever-reducing medicine (antipyretic) before they may return to work. If they still have respiratory symptoms they should wear a mask while providing patient care until asymptomatic.

* Health-care workers may work with a cough or other upper respiratory symptoms in all units except the Neonatal Critical Care, Pediatric Critical Care and Bone Marrow Transplant Units: Employees in these units who develop respiratory symptoms even if without a fever should be evaluated by the University's Occupational Health Clinic. In other units, health-care workers with respiratory symptoms without a fever may work if they wear a mask at all times while providing patient care and practicing appropriate hand hygiene.

* If a UNC Health Care employee is exposed to a patient with novel H1N1 (for example, within three feet without wearing a mask): The UNC Health Care System will offer post-exposure prophylaxis only if the employee's immune system is compromised, the employee is at high risk for complications if they develop influenza or the employee is pregnant (after consultation with the employee's obstetrician). Such employees should take their temperature before coming to work and should not come to work if they develop a fever as well as any respiratory symptoms.

CDC Tips to Fight H1N1 Flu

Although H1N1 flu has proven to be relatively mild and responsive to anti-viral drugs, the CDC recommends that everyone take the following actions to stay healthy:

* Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze.
* Throw the tissue in the trash after you use it.
* Wash your hands often with soap and water, especially after you cough or sneeze. Alcohol-based hand sanitizers can be used if soap and water are not available.
* Avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth. Germs spread this way.
* Avoid close contact with sick people.

The University's Department of Environment, Health and Safety, http://www.ehs.unc.edu/healthy/h1n1.shtml, is leading Carolina's response to the H1N1 flu in collaboration with the UNC Health Care System, UNC General Administration, the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services, and the Orange County Department of Public Health.

Information about H1N1 is updated as conditions warrant on Alert Carolina, http://alertcarolina.unc.edu, and on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Web site, http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/.

Sincerely,

University Emergency Warning Committee

This email is sponsored by: Emergency Warning Committee

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of benefits@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 12, 2009 9:24 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Tuition Waiver Policy Change

FROM: Brian Usischon, Benefits Services
Office of Human Resources

The Governor has signed into law Senate Bill 202, the Appropriations Act of 2009. The Act changes the University's tuition waiver policy by reducing the number of free courses a full-time faculty or staff member may enroll in per academic year, from three to two. This change is retroactive to July 1, 2009, and impacts the 2009-2010 academic year.

Employees who completed a Tuition Waiver form for the fall 2009 semester that included three courses should contact the Cashiers' Office at 962-1368 to make arrangements to either pay for a class or to follow the necessary drop/add procedures.

The Tuition Waiver form has been updated and is posted to the Office of Human Resource Web site. Please begin using the new version of this form. The Tuition Waiver deadline for the Fall 2009 semester is Monday, Aug. 31.

Questions concerning the tuition waiver program can be directed to Benefits Services at 962-3071 or benefits@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 10:55 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Fwd:]
Attach: Fwd_.eml (28.5 KB).msg

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 17, 2009 12:07 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Message from the Chancellor: Campus Budget Update

---

Dear Faculty and Staff:

Many of you know that the General Assembly has finalized the North Carolina budget for 2009-2011 after making tough decisions about new tax increases, spending cuts and reduced services. Earlier this month, Governor Perdue signed the new budget into law. Carolina is taking about a 7 percent cut following the Board of Governors action last week on the system budget.

Considering the state's still uncertain revenue picture and this budget's impact on other state agencies, legislators treated the UNC system very fairly overall. Governor Perdue has also understandably signaled her intention to conservatively manage the state's resources in the coming months. She has rescinded the emergency budget restrictions for state funds that have been in place since last month. But she also instructed the Office of State Budget and Management to withhold 5 percent of each state agency's monthly allotment starting next month. While this is another reduction for us to manage, we understand that the governor needs to proceed with caution in this environment.

Because of the steps we have taken since March, we won't seek any additional cuts from campus units to handle the 5 percent holdback. If revenues continue to decline, the governor may take additional steps that would require additional cuts in campus units. Nevertheless, we are hopeful that our current measures may, in fact, hold us for the fiscal year.

Keep in mind that we already enacted a total 10 percent permanent cut for state appropriations effective in July. We didn't want to wait for a final state budget to activate those plans, and this enabled us to accommodate what is effectively a 12 percent cut by getting started when we did. Our focus has remained on protecting core academic and teaching programs. By keeping cuts away from the classroom, we limited campus reductions to instructional units to just over 5 percent.

Overall, we have much to be grateful for in the new state budget.

* We expect to receive about $5 million from the UNC system's share allocated for enrollment growth, and another $2 million for need-based financial aid.

* General Administration will receive $2 million in permanent funding for faculty recruitment and retention. Historically, we have fared well when President Bowles distributes those funds.

* The University Cancer Research Fund, which supports basic interdisciplinary research across campus through the Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center and the School of Medicine, will receive the full $50 million installment originally committed to in 2007.

* A related longtime capital priority, the Biomedical Research Imaging Center, has been approved for construction. This is great news as UNC Health Care prepares to formally dedicate the North Carolina Cancer Hospital next month.

Our research centers and institutes, which have played such a vital role in fueling the success of the entire campus in attracting federal research grants, are being cut between 17 percent and 23 percent. That's still not as severe as we had feared earlier in the legislative session, and it's coming with some management flexibility. While I know this is a hardship for our faculty and staff engaged in the hard work of conducting research to help people, please understand how difficult a job our legislators had in balancing competing interests. We've made every effort to minimize the impact, as much as possible, on the campus-wide research enterprise. Moving forward, our focus should be on continuing to inspire the confidence of legislators in this important work so that it results in more, rather than less flexibility in making our own decisions about spending reductions.

Uncertainty about final tuition rates for the academic year has been a concern for our students. The General Assembly authorized the tuition increases for this year already approved by the UNC Board of Governors. However, legislators also signaled that campus-based tuition increases in 2010-2011 will be off the table. Our campus typically uses this revenue to support faculty compensation, graduate teaching assistant stipends, need-based financial aid to offset any tuition hikes, and other academic priorities.

The state budget and support of North Carolina taxpayers is very important to our overall operations, but it's roughly a quarter of the total budget. We've seen some recent bright spots. The faculty just set a new record for external research funding in 2009 (more than $716 million), and we are well positioned for continued success in attracting federal research dollars available through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. Our development office just recorded the second highest total of cash gifts ($271 million) in University history. Our alumni and friends are providing a remarkable level of private support for Carolina despite the economy. This is not to suggest that we still won't have difficult financial decisions to make and issues to grapple with in the coming months. We will. But we can't let the state's financial condition paralyze us from advancing the work of the University.

I want to thank those of you who have taken the time to watch and read about the final report from Bain & Company, the global consulting firm that has been helping the University look for ways to streamline operations and be more effective. [If you haven't seen it yet, check www.unc.edu for a link to the University's Budget Information Web page.] I appreciate the feedback many of you have shared about that report and encourage you to share comments about the Bain report or other budget issues at budgetideas@email.unc.edu.

Thank you for all that you do to make Carolina such a great place. I continue to be so appreciative of the commitment of our employees and faculty to Carolina and the spirit with which we have faced these challenges. With our students about to return for another academic year, I'm excited about what a new semester will bring for our campus community.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 4:38 PM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/enews20090817.html

Lineberger Banner: Today's Best Care, Tomorrow's Best Hope

Cancer News Update From UNC Lineberger 08/17/2009

Forward to a Friend

N.C. Cancer Hospital Officially Opens

Employees moved from the Gravely Building to the N.C. Cancer Hospital on Friday, August 14, 2009, and the N.C. Cancer Hospital officially opened to patients today.

Watch video interviews with experts highlighting areas within the new N.C. Cancer Hospital (check this page often as new videos will be added until the Dedication Ceremony on September 15, 2009). Watch videos.

UNC-Led Team Selected for National Cancer Drug Discovery Initiative

A team of scientists at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina Central University, and the Hamner Institutes for Health Sciences will be working with the National Cancer Institute as part of a national effort to bring more targeted cancer therapies to patients as quickly as possible.

The UNC-led team will participate in a national consortium to create an NCI cancer drug "pipeline" all the way from identifying potential drug targets through clinical trials in cancer patients. The team is called the North Carolina Chemical Biology Center (NC CBC) and is led by UNC Lineberger member Stephen Frye, PhD. Read more.

Julie Blatt, MD, Awarded One of Four National Cancer Coalition Angel Grants

UNC Lineberger member Julie Blatt, MD, professor in the division of pediatric hematology/oncology and fellowship program director, received one of four Angel Grants awarded by The National Cancer Coalition (NCC). The NCC implemented its Angel Grant program to provide seed funding to innovative projects that benefit and further cancer research, education, and programs. Read more.

UNC Radiation Oncology Faculty Member Receives National Award

Robert D. Adams, EdD, CMD, RT, MPH, assistant professor of radiation oncology in the UNC School of Medicine, received the 2009 Award of Excellence from the American Association of Medical Dosimetrists. The award recognizes distinguished accomplishments and contributions in the field of medical dosimetry. Read more.

---

rss feed Subscribe to our RSS News feed . Become a fan of UNC Lineberger on Facebook. Follow us on Twitter.

For additional coverage about news and events at UNC Lineberger, visit www.unclineberger.org.

To unsubscribe, reply to this email with "unsubscribe" as your subject. UNC Lineberger's E-News subscriber list is not open to the public and will not be shared with third parties. If you have questions about UNC Lineberger's privacy policy or if you think your information has been misused, please email us at lcccnews@med.unc.edu.

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, Campus Box 7295, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7295

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25156918-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 4:39 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: Independent Study]
Attach: Independent Study.eml (171 KB).msg

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of erika_hanami@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 8:19 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Subjects needed for Chronic Hand Eczema Research Study

---

If you have severe chronic hand eczema not responding to strong topical steroids, you may be eligible to participate in a research study evaluating the safety and efficacy of an oral eczema medication. You must be between 18-75 years old to participate.

Study participation will last up to 72 weeks and require up to 23 study visits. You will not be allowed to use other hand eczema medications while participating in this study. All study related visits, study medication and evaluations will be provided to eligible participants at no cost. Subjects will receive compensation for time and travel.

For more information, please contact:

Erika Hanami, CRC
1042 Burnett-Womack, CB 7209
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7209
Phone: 919-843-5126
Email: erika_hanami@med.unc.edu

This study has been approved by the Institutional Review Board at UNC-CH.
IRB#:08-2134

This email is sponsored by: Clinical Translational Research Center

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of maclay@med.unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 8:45 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: NC TraCS Community Academic Partnership RFA

The North Carolina TraCS Institute has released a Request For Applications (RFA) for the 2009 Community-Academic Partnership Grant. This grant seeks to build the capacity of new community-academic partnerships to work together to solve problems in translating health knowledge into meaningful community health improvements. This funding will support the development, evaluation, and dissemination of innovative approaches and cross-organization collaborations that lead to improvements in access to care, health services delivery, and evidence-based interventions.

Details about this funding opportunity and key deadlines and dates can be found at:
http://tracs.unc.edu/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=213&Itemid=271

This email is sponsored by: NC TraCS Institute Community Engagement Core

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of forum_office@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 17, 2009 9:26 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Victory Garden for University Employees

---

Less than 5 minutes of your time to complete this survey will help a group of dedicated Tarheels take the next steps toward creating a campus community garden. Don't delay or you might forget. Deadline is Thursday, August 20th. Click link below for the survey:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.aspx?sm=C9OyKhzpld9qiBjFYq29mA_3d_3d

This email is sponsored by: Employee Forum

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of CarolinaBlueToCarolinaGreen@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 9:54 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Carolina Blue to Carolina Green Every accomplishment begins with a great idea

---

From Carolina Blue to Carolina Green

Every worthy accomplishment begins with a great idea - what's yours?

Have you recognized ways to cut costs, increase environmental sustainability, or reduce resource consumption within your department or somewhere else on campus? If so, your idea might earn you a great prize like dinner and an overnight stay at the Carolina Inn or lunch with the Chancellor!
The University Management Development Program (UMDP)'s "From Carolina Blue to Carolina Green Team" is sponsoring a contest for permanent UNC Faculty and Staff to come up with the most innovative, practical, and creative solutions to help make UNC a little more green. All ideas, regardless of scale, are welcome; however, preference will be given to those ideas that are achievable in a short period of time, and reasonably inexpensive to implement. Winners will be selected and announced in late fall, and the best ideas will be presented to top decision-makers at the University.

Submissions should be emailed to: CarolinaBlueToCarolinaGreen@unc.edu
Include the following:

Your Name
Email
Phone Number
Department
Job Title
A brief, typed summary of your idea.

Submission Deadline is October 15, 2009.

Don't delay, UNC needs your ideas! Good luck, and think green!

This email is sponsored by: UNC UMDP

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of elac@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 17, 2009 10:08 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Is English your second language?

All non-native speakers of English at UNC can find academic, cultural, and language support at the Writing Center. The following English Language & American Culture services are free for undergraduates, graduate students, exchange students, postdoctoral scholars, visiting scholars, faculty, and staff this semester:

* Workshops: grammar, presentation skills, pronunciation, proposal writing, culture shock, and more.

* Writing Groups: small groups of students/postdocs share and improve their academic writing.

* The Everyday Writers' Group: for general, non-academic writing practice.

* Speaking Groups: practice presentations, discussions, and conversations while improving your language and pronunciation.

* ELAC Online videos: proofreading, paraphrasing, writing email, and more.

* ELAC Essentials orientation workshops (Aug 25-Sep 4): learn the essential skills for success at Carolina. For new and continuing students and scholars.

For more information, please visit www.unc.edu/writingcenter/elac or contact Nigel Caplan, ESL Specialist, at nacaplan@unc.edu (telephone: 962-7710).

In addition, full-time UNC students have access to on-campus Writing Center tutoring: www.unc.edu/writingcenter

This email is sponsored by: Writing Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 17, 2009 10:51 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Syllabi
Attach: BlackWomen_syllabusFall09doc.doc; BlacksLA_syllabus_fall09.doc

---

Dear Travis and Debby,
I'm sending my syllabi with this message. Please make 35 copies of the one for AFAM 266
and 45 copies of the one for AFAM 254.

Thanks,
Kia

AFAM 266/WMST 266: Black Women in America
Fall 2009
Tuesday, Thursday 2:00-3:15 pm
Gardner 07

Dr. Kia Caldwell
Office: Battle Hall 208
Office Hours: Thursday 3:30-4:30 pm and by appointment
Telephone: 962-0539
Email: klcaldwe@email.unc.edu (for weekdays only)

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course examines the experiences of black women in the United States from historical and contemporary perspectives. The experiences of black women in other areas of the African diaspora, particularly Brazil, will also be explored through course readings and films. Students will gain knowledge of the experiences and challenges faced by black women and develop the skills necessary to analyze black women's struggles for equality and social justice. This course will provide students with the conceptual and theoretical tools needed to analyze contemporary gender relations in African-American communities and pressing social issues which have a disproportionate impact on African American women, such as HIV/AIDS, poverty, reproductive rights, and media images.

COURSE FORMAT: In-class time will consist of student-led discussions, lectures, small group work, and video screenings. The videos screened in class are important course materials and every effort should be made to view any that are missed. Most videos will be available in the Media Resources Center of the Undergraduate Library.

REQUIREMENTS:
Readings – It is essential to complete all of the assigned readings in order to ensure your success in this course. You should complete all readings prior to the class meeting for which they are assigned and be prepared to discuss and critique them during our class sessions.
Attendance – Your attendance at all class sessions is required for successful completion of this course. Absence from more than 3 classes will result in a severe grade penalty.

- Excused Absences - In the event of illness or a personal emergency, a request for an excused absence may be made. Requests should not be made by email. Requests must be made by submitting the excused absence form found on blackboard during class.

Class Participation – You will be expected to participate in class on a regular basis. During our class meetings, we will engage in discussions which will require active participation from as many students as possible. Your participation in class discussions in the form of comments and informed questions will be encouraged throughout the semester. Ultimately, you will maximize your learning experience by participating in class and helping to create a dynamic classroom environment.
Online Assignments – There are several online assignments during the semester. You will be expected to scan the required websites prior to class and discuss these sites in your reading response papers.
Group Presentations – You will do a group presentation on an assigned reading during the second half of the semester. As part of your presentation, you should present a list of sources relevant to your topic. Your final paper will be done on the same topic as your group presentation.
Writing Assignments – You will complete a variety of writing assignments in this course. Your written work will include critical essays, response papers based on the course readings, and a final paper which will require you to use course readings and outside sources.
Deadlines – Late work will not be accepted without prior permission. Please contact me if an emergency situation arises during the semester.
Honor Code – You should familiarize yourself with and follow the standards of academic integrity and academic conduct outlined in the UNC Honor Code (http://honor.unc.edu). Possible Honor Code violations include plagiarism, and giving/receiving unauthorized assistance during exams and when completing course assignments.

Disability Services - If you will require special accommodations for this course, please inform me early in the semester. You may consult the Disability Services website at: http://disabilityservices.unc.edu/eligibility/document-guidelines.html.

COURSE TEXTS AND MATERIALS:

Required Texts - available at Student Stores

- Beverly Guy-Sheftall, Words of Fire: An Anthology of African-American Feminist Thought (WOF in syllabus).
- Johnetta Betsch Cole and Beverly Guy-Sheftall, Gender Talk: The Struggle for Women's Equality in African American Communities (also available as an ebook through the online library catalog)

Electronic journals (ejournal) and Electronic books (Ebook) – Several readings are found in electronic journals and electronic books that may be accessed via the online library catalog.

Reserves (eres) - A number of readings will be placed on electronic and hardcopy reserve. You may access electronic reserve items through the UNC libraries website (http://eres.lib.unc.edu).

Blackboard (bbd) - Course materials will also be posted on Blackboard (http://blackboard.unc.edu).

Research Guides

- A Course Page for AFAM/WMST 266 is available through the UNC Library Catalog: http://www.lib.unc.edu/coursepages/afam/F08_afam266.html.
- A Bibliography on Black American Feminisms is available through the University of California Santa Barbara Library Catalog: http://www.library.ucsb.edu/subjects/blackfeminism

ASSESSMENT:

Preparation, Attendance, and Participation	10%
Group presentation and bibliography	15%
Writing Assignments
1 Website Review	5%
Campus/Community Event Essay (3 pages)	10%
3 Response Papers	30%
Final Paper	20%
Final Exam	10%

ASSESSMENT SCALE:

90-100 points = Exemplary = A (90-93 A-; 94-100 A)
80-89 points = Very Good = B (80-83 B-; 84-86 B; 87-89 B+)
74-49 points = Satisfactory = C (74-76 C; 77-79 C+)
69-73 points = Needs Improvement = C-
60-68 points = Needs Considerable Improvement = D
59 and below = F

DEADLINES:

Response Papers will be due on the following dates:	September 10, October 1, November 12
Website Review	October 20 or 29
Final paper	December 8
Campus/Community Event Essay	Rolling deadline until December 1

Course Topics and Required Readings

(Reading responses are due on dates marked with *)

Week 1

Course Introduction

August 25 Course introduction and overview

August 27

- Guy-Sheftall, Introduction to Words of Fire

- Collins, "The Social Construction of Black Feminist Thought" in WOF

Week 2
Black Women and U.S. Slavery: Revisionist Perspectives

September 1
- Jones, "My Mother Was Much of a Woman: Slavery" (bbd)
- Jacobs, "The Trials of Girlhood" and "The Jealous Mistress" in Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl (Read Harvard University Press 2000 edition as Ebook via online catalog)

September 3
- Davis, "Reflections on the Black Woman's Role in the Community of Slaves" in WOF
- Read all selections by Maria Miller Stewart and Sojourner Truth in WOF

Week 3
19th century Black Women Leaders

September 8
- Frances Ellen Watkins Harper, and Anna Julia Cooper in WOF
- Tate, "Political Consciousness and Resistance Among Black Antebellum Women," Women & Politics vol 13, no 1, 1993 (ejournal)

September 10*
- Wells-Barnett, "Lynch Law in America" by Ida Wells-Barnett in WOF
- Giddings, "To Sell My Life as Dearly as Possible": Ida B. Wells and the First Antilynching Campaign (bbd)
  Film: A Passion for Justice (1989)

Week 4
The Black Women's Club Movement and Woman Suffrage

September 15
- Terrell, "The Progress of Colored Women" in WOF
- Giddings, "To Be a Woman, Sublime": The Ideas of the National Black Women's Club Movement (to 1917) (bbd)

September 17
- Giddings, "The Quest for Woman Suffrage" (bbd)
- Dunbar-Nelson, "The Negro Woman and the Ballot" in WOF

Week 5
Conceptualizing the Intersection of Gender, Race, and Class

September 22, 24
- Jones, "An End to the Neglect of the Problems of the Negro Woman!" in WOF
- Beale, "Double Jeopardy: To Be Black and Female" in WOF
- King, "Multiple Jeopardy, Multiple Consciousness: The Context of a Black Feminist Ideology" in WOF

Week 6
Black Feminism and Womanism in the United States: 1960s-1980s

September 29
- The Combahee River Collective, "A Black Feminist Statement" in WOF
- Smith, "Some Home Truths on the Contemporary Black Feminist Movement" in WOF
- Selection(s) from The Womanist Reader (eres)

October 1*
- Wallace, "Anger in Isolation: A Black Feminist's Search for Sisterhood" in WOF
- Lorde, "Age, Race, Class, and Sex: Women Redefining Difference" in WOF
- Lorde, "The Master's Tools Will Never Dismantle the Master's House" (eres)
- Recommended: hooks, "Black Women Shaping Feminist Theory" in WOF

Week 7
Black Women and Politics: U.S. and Brazil

October 6

- McClain et al., "Gender and Black Presidential Politics: From Chisolm to Moseley Braun," Journal of Women, Politics & Policy, v. 27, n. 1-2, 2005 (ejournal)
- Gay and Tate, "Doubly Bound: The Impact of Gender and Race on the Politics of Black Women," Political Psychology vol. 19, no.1, 199 (ejournal)
- Selections on Michelle Obama (bbd)

October 8

- da Silva, "No one Said Politics Would be Easy"(eres)
- Lovell, "Gender, Race, and the Struggle for Social Justice in Brazil" (eres)

  Film: Benedita da Silva: I Was Born a Black Woman (1999)

Week 8
Stereotypes, the Body, and Self-Image

October 13

- Mullings, "Images, Ideology, and Women of Color" (bbd)
- Moynihan, "The Negro Family: A Case for National Action" (eres)

October 15

- Hunter, "The Beauty Queue: Advantages of Light Skin" (bbd)
- bell hooks, "Straightening Our Hair" (eres)
- Alice Walker, "Oppressed Hair Puts a Ceiling on the Brain" (eres)

  Film: Black Women On: The Light, Dark Thang (1999)

Week 9
Sexuality and Reproductive Rights

October 20

- Omolade, "Hearts of Darkness" in WOF
- Roberts, "The Dark Side of Birth Control" (eres)

Online: Look at 2 websites and write a 2 page analysis/critique; Recommended Websites - The Black Women's Health Initiative, Sistersong, Planned Parenthood and the International Women's Health Coalition

October 22 FALL BREAK

Week 10
Abortion and HIV/AIDS

October 27

- Ross, "African-American Women and Abortion" (eres)
- Chisholm, "Facing the Abortion Question" in WOF

  Film: Silent Choices (2007)

October 29

- Collins, "Why We Can't Wait: Black Sexual Politics and the Challenge of HIV/AIDS" (bbd)
- Black AIDS Institute, "Left Behind" (2008 Report), (www.blackaids.org)
- Recommended: Hammonds, "Missing Persons: African American Women, AIDS and the History of Disease" in WOF

Online: Scan 2 Websites for Information on Black Women and HIV/AIDS; write 2 page analysis/critique. Recommended Websites: The Black AIDS Institute, Sistersong, Sisterlove.

Week 11

Black Families and Welfare Policy

November 3

- Jarret, "Living Poor: Family Life Among Single Parent, African American Women" (eres)
- Mullings, "Households Headed by Women: The Politics of Race, Class, and Gender" (bbd)
  Video: Babyland (20/20)

November 5

- Burnham, "Racism in U.S. Welfare Policy – A Human Rights Issue" (eres)
- Roberts, "Welfare's Ban on Poor Motherhood" (bbd)

Week 12
Violence against Women and the Prison Industrial Complex

November 10

- Crenshaw, "Mapping the Margins: Intersectionality, Identity Politics, and Violence against Women of Color" (bbd)
- Simmons, "The War Against Black Women and the Making of No!" (eres)

And one of the following:

- Richie, "The Story of Gender Entrapment" (eres)
- White, "Talking Black, Talking Feminist" (eres)

Online: Scan website for Incite: Women of Color against Violence
Film: Simmons, No! (2006)

November 12*

- Ritchie, "Law Enforcement Violence Against Women of Color" (eres)
- Sudbury, "Celling Black Bodies: Black Women in the Global Prison Industrial Complex" (bbd)

Week 13
Gender in African American Communities

November 17 Gender Talk - Introduction and Chapter 2

November 19

- Painter, "Hill, Thomas and the Use of Racial Stereotype" (bbd)
- Gender Talk - Chapter 3
- Recommended: Mitchell, "Anita Hill's Afterlife" (eres)

Video: Frontline - Clarence Thomas and Anita Hill

Week 14
Sexuality and Hip-Hop Culture

November 24

- Clarke, "The Failure to Transform: Homophobia in the Black Community" (eres)
- Gender Talk – Chapter 6
- West, "Black Sexuality: The Taboo Subject" (eres)

November 26 THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY

Week 15
Hip-Hop Culture

December 1 - Final Deadline for Event Essay

- Ransby and Matthews, "Black Popular Culture and the Transcendence of Patriarchal Illusions" in WOF
- Bailey, "Students at Spelman College Protest Nelly's Video 'Tip Drill'" (bbd)
- Gender Talk - Chapter 7
- Film: Beyond Beats and Rhymes (2006)

December 3

- Collins, "Get Your Freak On" (bbd)
- Bring lyrics to 2 rap/hip-hop songs to class

December 8 - Final Paper is Due

- Gender Talk – Chapter 8
- Final Discussion and Course Evaluations

Thursday, December 17 Final Exam 12-3 pm

AFAM 254: Blacks in Latin America
Fall 2009
Tuesday, Thursday 11:00 am – 12:15 pm
Global Education Center 1005

Dr. Kia Caldwell
Office: Battle Hall 208
Office Hours: Thurs. 3:30-4:30 pm and by appointment
Telephone: 962-0539
Email: klcaldwe@email.unc.edu (for weekdays only)

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course examines the development of African descendant communities in Latin America and the Caribbean. We will focus on the cultural, social, and political dimensions of slavery and race relations in countries such as Brazil, Mexico, and Cuba. We will also explore the impact of nationalist ideologies on contemporary racial dynamics and the ways in which members of Afro-Latin and Afro-Caribbean communities have struggled for full citizenship and social justice.

COURSE FORMAT: In-class time will consist of discussions, lectures, small group work, and video screenings. The videos screened in class are important course materials and every effort should be made to view any that are missed. Most videos will be available in the Non-Print collection of the Undergraduate Library.

REQUIREMENTS:
Attendance – Your attendance at all class sessions is required for successful completion of this course. Absence from more than 3 classes will result in a severe grade penalty for the attendance portion of your grade. A pattern of late arrivals to class will also result in a grade penalty.

- Excused Absences - In the event of illness or a personal emergency, a request for an excused absence may be made. Requests should not be made by email. Requests must be made by submitting the excused absence form found on blackboard during class.

Readings – It is essential to complete all of the assigned readings in order to ensure your success in this course. You should complete all readings prior to the class meeting for which they are assigned and be prepared to discuss and critique them during our class sessions.
Class Participation – You will be expected to participate in class on a regular basis. During our class meetings, we will engage in discussions which will require active participation from as many students as possible. Your participation in class discussions in the form of comments and informed questions will be encouraged throughout the semester. Ultimately, you will maximize your learning experience by participating in class and helping to create a dynamic classroom environment.
Writing Assignments – You will complete a variety of writing assignments in this course. Your written work will include critical essays based on the course readings and films and an essay based at attendance at a campus/community event that is relevant to the course.
Deadlines – Late work will not be accepted without prior permission. Work that is not received by the deadline will receive a grade of "0."
Honor Code – You should familiarize yourself with and follow the standards of academic integrity and academic conduct outlined in the UNC Honor Code (http://honor.unc.edu). Possible Honor Code violations include plagiarism, and giving/receiving unauthorized assistance during exams and in completing course assignments.
Disability Services - If you will require special accommodations for this course, please inform me early in the semester. You may consult the Disability Services website at: http://disabilityservices.unc.edu/eligibility/document-guidelines.html.

COURSE TEXTS AND MATERIALS:
The following books are required for this course and are available at Student Stores:

- George Reid Andrews. Afro-Latin America. Oxford University Press, 2004. (Also available as an electronic book via the UNC libraries online catalog).
- Darién J. Davis, ed. Beyond Slavery: The Multilayered Legacy of Africans in Latin America and the Caribbean. Rowman & Littlefield Publishers, 2007.

Reserves (eres) - The book Beyond Slavery and several required readings will be placed on reserve at the Undergraduate Library. You may access the electronic reserve items through the UNC libraries website (http://eres.lib.unc.edu).
Blackboard (Bbd) - Important course materials will also be posted on Blackboard (http://blackboard.unc.edu).
A Library Research Guide is available on the Stone Center Library Website:
http://www.lib.unc.edu/stone/afam_latin_guide.html.

ASSESSMENT:

Preparation, Attendance, and Participation	10%
Map Exercise	15%
Essay on Campus/Community Event (2-3 pages)	20%
Response Papers (three 3-page papers)	45%
Final Exam	10%

ASSESSMENT SCALE:
90-100 points = Exemplary = A (90-93 A-; 94-100 A)
80-89 points = Very Good = B (80-83 B-; 84-86 B; 87-89 B+)
74-49 points = Satisfactory = C (74-76 C; 77-79 C+)
69-73 points = Needs Improvement = C-
60-68 points = Needs Considerable Improvement = D
59 and below = F

DEADLINES:

Map Exercise	October 1
Response Papers	September 17, October 15, November 10
Essay on Campus/Community Event	Rolling deadline until November 24

Course Topics and Required Readings

(Response Papers are due on days marked with *)

Week 1

August 25	Course Introduction and Overview
August 27	Read "Introduction" in Afro-Latin America Look at material on Dominican Republic, on Miami Herald Site on Afro-Latin Americans (link on Bbd) Film: Lourdes Portillo, Mirrors of the Heart (1993)

Week 2: Slave Societies in the Americas

September 1	Mattoso, "To Be Sold into Slavery in Africa" (eres) Video: Tour of El Mina Slave Castle
September 3	Thompson, Chapter 1 "Slave Societies in the Americas" (eres) View map on Miami Herald Site on Afro-Latin Americans (link on Bbd)

Week 3: Slave Societies and Enslaved Women

September 8	Thompson, Chapter 2 "Wealth and Power"(eres) Chapter 1, Afro-Latin America
September 10	Socolow "Women and Slavery" (eres)

Week 4: Slave Resistance

September 15	Thornton, "Resistance, runaways, and rebels" (eres) Silva, "Black Abolitionists in the Quilombo of Leblon, Rio de Janeiro" (chapter 5 in Beyond Slavery) Film: Carlos Diegues, Quilombo (1984) - Part I
September 17*	Barnet, "Life in the Woods" (eres) Film: Carlos Diegues, Quilombo (1984) - Part II

Week 5: The Haitian Revolution and Latin American Wars for Independence

September 22, 24	Geggus, "The Haitian Revolution" (eres) Geggus, "The Sounds and Echoes of Freedom" (chapter 1 in Beyond Slavery) Bring copy of "The Declaration of the Rights of Man" (Bbd) to class

Week 6: Abolition and Comparative Slavery

September 29	Chapters 2 & 3, Afro-Latin America Townsend, "In Search of Liberty" (chapter 2 in Beyond Slavery)
October 1	Smedley "Comparing Slave Systems" (eres) Map Exercise is Due

Week 7: Race and Nation in Latin America

October 6	Chapter 4, Afro-Latin America
October 8	Helg, "To Be Black and To Be Cuban" (Chapter 6 in Beyond Slavery) Moore, "Comparsas and Carnival in the New Republic" (eres) Film: Rolando, The Scorpion-Comparsa El Alacran

Week 8: Mestizaje and Its Critics

October 13	Vasconcelos, "Prologue" and "Mestizaje" in The Cosmic Race (eres) Freyre, "Man Situated in the Tropics," "On Brazilians as Luso-Tropical Men," "Toward a Mestizo Type," "Morenidade" (eres)
October 15*	Nascimento, "Genocide: The Social Lynching of Africans" (eres)

Week 9: Afro-Latin Religions and Cultures

October 20	Walker, "Everyday and Esoteric Reality in the Afro-Brazilian Candomble" (Bbd) Chirimini, "Candombe, African Nations, and the Africanity of Uruguay" (Bbd) Film: Bahia: Africa in the Americas
October 22	FALL BREAK

Week 10: Racial Democracy and Its Critics

October 27	Chapter 5, Afro-Latin America
October 29	Dulitzky, "A Region in Denial: Racial Discrimination and Racism in Latin America" (eres) Burdick, "The Myth of Racial Democracy" (bbd) Film: Quando O Crioulo Dança

Week 11: Racial Identity and Anti-racist mobilization

November 3	Davis, "The Nation's Rule" (eres) Guimarães, "Racism and Anti-Racism in Brazil" (bbd)

	Download list of Brazilian Color Terms (bbd) *Bring definitions for "black" and "white" in English, Spanish or Portuguese to class (choose 2 languages)
November 5	Andrews, "Black Political Mobilization in Brazil" (eres) Read material on Afro-Nicaraguans on Miami Herald Site (link on Bbd)

Week 12: Afro-Brazilian Women

November 10*	Caldwell, "Women in and out of Place: Engendering Brazil's Racial Democracy" (eres) Carneiro, "Black Women's Identity in Brazil" (bbd) Online: Scan two websites for Afro-Brazilian women's organizations (links on Bbd); bring 1 page response to sites.
November 12	da Silva, Benjamin and Mendonça, "A Walk through the Favela" and "No One Said Politics Would be Easy" in Benedita da Silva: An Afro-Brazilian Woman's Story of Politics and Love (eres) Perry, "Politics is Uma Cosinha de Mulher (a Woman's Thing): Black Women's in Neighborhood Movements in Brazil" Film: Benedita da Silva: I Was Born a Black Woman (1999)

Week 13: Social Inequality and Social Policy

November 17	Chapter 6, Afro-Latin America Martins, Medeiros, and Nascimento,"Paving Paradise: The Road from 'Racial Democracy' to Affirmative Action in Brazil" (Bbd) Film: Brazil in Black and White
November 19	Chomsky, "The Logic of Displacement" (chapter 8 in Beyond Slavery) Dixon, "Transnational Black Social Movements in Latin America: Afro-Colombians and the Struggle for Human Rights" (eres) Film: Botero, Uprooted

Week 14: Transnational Cultural Linkages

November 24	Fernandes and Stanyek, "Hip-hop and black public spheres in Cuba, Venezuela and Brazil" (chapter 9 in Beyond Slavery) Armstead, "Las Krudas, Spatial Practice, and the Performance of Diaspora" (bbd) Film: Jeff Zimbalist, Favela Rising (2006)  Final Deadline for Event Essay
November 26	THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY

Week 15: Afro-Latins in the U.S.

December 1	Johnson, "African American and Latina/o Cooperation in Challenging Racial Profiling" (eres) Hernandez, "Latino, African-American Violence on Rise Since Riots" (Bbd)
December 3	Vaughn and Vinson, "Unfinished Migrations" (chapter 10 in Beyond Slavery)
December 8	Final Discussion and Course Evaluations

Saturday, December 12 Final Exam 11-2

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 18, 2009 11:38 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [tim_administrators] TIM Upgrade Starts Today at 5:30pm]
Attach: [tim_administrators] TIM Upgrade Starts Today at 5_30pm.eml (90.0 KB).msg

---

From: timsupport@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, August 7, 2009 10:36 AM
To: TIM@mxp2.isis.unc.edu; Administrators@mxp2.isis.unc.edu
Subject: [tim_administrators] TIM Upgrade Starts Today at 5:30pm
Attach: Thinstall Download and Upgrade Support.pdf; TIM Upgrade.pdf

---

Reminder- The TIM System will be down today, Friday, August 7 at 5:30 pm until Monday, August 10 at 5:30 am. During the downtime, users will not be able to log in or call into Teletime. Time worked during the downtime should be submitted to the Manager or TIM Administrator for entry on Monday, August 10. Badge Terminals will continue to capture swipes in and out during the downtime. Teletime will remain down until Wednesday, August 12 at 5:30 am.

Please review the attached documents, 'Thinstall Download and Upgrade Support' and 'TIM Upgrade', as soon as possible for important information about the upgrade.

Thank you

Thinstall Download

On Monday, August 10, the new TIM Thinstall will be available for download. It is recommended that all users on Monday, August 10 delete the current version of the Thinstall application and install the new TIM Thinstall from the UNC Shareware Page, https://shareware.unc.edu/software.html#t . If the user has not installed Thinstall previously, they should install the new TIM Thinstall. On Monday, August 10, if you need assistance with installing the new TIM Thinstall, please contact your Technical Support Group or 962-HELP for assistance.

Upgrade Support

Please contact 962-HELP for assistance with all technical issues, such as:

* Thinstall installation
* TIM desktop access
* New employee cannot login
* Employee cannot transfer to new secondary position

TIM Administrators can email timsupport@unc.edu for functional assistance with TIM. We will try to respond to your email promptly, but priority will be given to assisting TIM Administrators with the next pay period close. If you have a pay period close question or issue to report, write 'Pay Period Close' in the subject line of your email. TIM Administrators will be asked to call 962-HELP for assistance with all technical issues.

The updated TIM Administrator Manuals are posted on the TIM Training Website and should be consulted before contacting TIM Support.

TIM Administrator Leave Processing Part 1
http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/docs/tim_manual_part1.pdf

TIM Administrators and Managers Timekeeping Part 2
http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/docs/tim_manual_part2.pdf

To: All UNC Employees

From: Payroll Services Department and the TIM Project Team

The TIM System will be upgraded beginning on Friday, August 7. The system will be down from Friday, August 7 at 5:30 pm until Monday, August 10 at 5:30 am. During the downtime window, users will not be able to log in. Teletime will remain down until Wednesday, August 12 at 5:30 am.

Employees using Badge Terminals will be able to swipe in and out for worked hours during the downtime. Functions such as View Timecard Totals, View Accrual Balances, and Time Off Notifications will not be available at the Badge Terminals during the downtime period.

Employees using Web Time Stamp will not be able to login to TIM to record their times worked during the downtime. All time worked for this downtime period should be submitted to the Manager or TIM Administrator for manual entry on Monday, August 10.

Employees using Teletime will not be able to call in to the phone system to record times worked during the extended Teletime downtime period. All time worked during the downtime should be submitted to the Manager or TIM Administrator for manual entry on Wednesday, August 12.

Employees using Manual Time Entry will not be able to login to TIM during the downtime. They will enter any shifts worked during the downtime on Monday, August 10.

While the functionality has remained the same, the look and locations of menus in the TIM system have changed. The TIM online tutorials and manuals have been updated with changes to help users navigate the upgraded system.

Please take the 10-15 minute online tutorials for your position type as soon as possible and download the appropriate manual at http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/tim_training.html

PLEASE NOTE: On Monday, August 10, the new TIM Thinstall will be available for download. It is recommended that all users on Monday, August 10 delete the current version of the Thinstall application and install the new TIM Thinstall from the UNC Shareware Page. If the user has not installed Thinstall previously, they should install the new TIM Thinstall. On Monday, August 10, if you need assistance with installing the new TIM Thinstall, please contact your Technical Support Group or 962-HELP for assistance. Instructions to download the Thinstall TIM Icon to your desktop are on pages 1-3 of the new TIM Manuals located online at http://www.unc.edu/finance/payroll/tim/tim_training.html

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 18, 2009 5:21 PM
To: bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: desk copies

Hello Prof. Travis tells me you are asking about getting a desk copy of a textbook. You can request one yourself directly from the publisher but the bookstore does not provide one. Alternatively, since you have research monies and since time is short, you could charge one to your professorship account. I hope this clarifies the situation. Debby

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 18, 2009 5:32 PM
To: George F Morgan <gfmorgan@store.unc.edu>
Cc: bse >> bselassi >> Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: AFRI 370 text

Hi George. I hope all is well. Professor Selassie talked to someone in your operation who told him there are 17 copies of the fourth edition of the Tordoff book that he ordered for his AFRI 370,1 class. There are currently 31 students enrolled and Prof. Selassie is also wanting to purchase a copy since he only has the previous edition so he is concerned that there are not enough books. Would it be possible to get some more in? Please advise. Thanks in advance for your assistance.
Debby Crowder

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of meghannm@email.unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 19, 2009 8:16 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Employee Campus Recreation Opportunities

---

UNC-Chapel Hill Employees,

Welcome back to another exciting school year at Carolina! Campus Recreation has some great programs and events to help keep you healthy and active while meeting other faculty and staff. Listed below are a couple of programs offered throughout the fall semester.

Employee Intramural Sports Leagues

If you are looking for camaraderie, athletic activity and friendly competition, then get involved in the Employee Intramural League. The program offers a variety of team and individual sports, including tennis, volleyball and more!

Kids ROCK! (Recreational Opportunities for Carolina Kids)

This program offers Carolina students, faculty and staff the chance to play and exercise with their children and uncover a variety of fun, healthy activities for Carolina kids to enjoy. Kids ROCK! is also a FREE program thanks to the generosity of our staff and sponsors, that aids in the fight against a national rise in juvenile obesity and diabetes. We do ask that you please RSVP at least two days before an event, so we can be sure to have enough treats! Please RSVP to the program coordinator, Meghann Martinez, meghannm@email.unc.edu.

For a complete list of Employee Recreation opportunities, please go to http://campusrec.unc.edu/employee_rec.

This email is sponsored by: Campus Recreation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 19, 2009 9:17 PM
To: 'Deborah Crowder' <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Afri 101 Syllabus
Attach: Afri 101 Syllabus.pdf

This should work.. . . hopefully.

Mike

Prof. Michael Lambert
Office:, 3026 GEC
Phone: 962-1585
Email: mlambert@unc.edu

Fall Semester 2009
10:00-10:50 MWF
1005 GEC
Office Hours: Mon. 11-12 and by appt.

African Studies 101: Introduction to Africa

This course is designed to provide you with a working knowledge of Africa. You will be able to apply this knowledge in interpreting current events in Africa as they are reported in the national media. This course will also prepare you for more advanced courses in African Studies, anthropology, and international studies, among others. Some of the topics we will study during this semester are the geography of Africa, pre-colonial societies and kingdoms, colonialism, African Nationalism, contemporary politics and economics, and African religious beliefs.

Course Requirements: All students are expected to attend all classes and to complete all assigned readings. Attendance and participation will be considered in assigning final grades. Your final grade will be based on the assignments listed below. Please take note of the dates on which the assignments are due. Late assignments will be penalized.

Map Quiz (Sept. 11)	10%	Final Exam (Dec. 16)	25%
First Quiz (Oct. 7)	30%	Attendance	5%
Second Quiz (Nov 11)	30%

Map Quiz: This is a short evaluation of your ability to identify the nations and capitals of the African continent. You can find a map and a list of countries and their capitals in the text Understanding Contemporary Africa, edited by Gordon and Gordon (page 22 of the 2nd edition). Use this map to study for the map quiz. In order to receive full credit your spelling must be correct. Note that you must learn both the countries and their capitals.

First and Second Quizzes: These are tests designed to evaluate your knowledge of the materials covered since the last quiz.

Final Exam: The final exam will be cumulative.

Attendance: Class sessions are an important component of the course and attendance will be kept for each class. It is the responsibility of each student to sign the attendance sheet. In order to receive credit for attendance you must sign the attendance sheet in class. Falsification of the attendance sheet will be treated as a violation of the honor code.

It is your responsibility to make sure that I receive all of your assignments. Please note that UNC policy does not allow faculty to communicate with students concerning confidential issues via email as email is an insecure form of communication. All questions concerning grades must be address in private during office hours or through printed communication. This syllabus may be revised during the semester at the discretion of the instructor.

The Honor Code is, as always, in effect for this course.

Texts: The following texts are available at Student Store and/or on reserve at the undergraduate library.

Required: Africa, Phyllis Martin and Patrick O'Meara (Indiana, 1995); How Europe Underdeveloped Africa, Walter Rodney (Howard University Press, 1981); Things Fall Apart, Chinua Achebe (Heinemann, 1962); Weep Not, Child, Ngugi Wa Thiongo (Heinemann, 1964); The Challenge for Africa, Wangari Maathai (Pantheon, 2009)

Course Schedule: Topics and Readings:
Introduction (Aug 26)

1) Looking at Africa (Aug. 28 - Sept. 4)
This section is designed to introduce you to the continent of Africa. We will examine some features of the physical and human geography of the African continent. We will also discuss some preconceptions and stereotypes that we have concerning Africa so that we may overcome these stereotypes and view Africa more objectively.
Readings: Martin and O'Meara: chs. 1, 2

Sept. 11: Map Quiz

2) Pre-Colonial Societies and Ancient Kingdoms (Sept. 9 – 18)
During this section you will learn about pre-colonial Africa. We will begin by addressing the different types of societies that have flourished on the African continent. We will examine the economic activities undertaken by these societies and their social organization. From there we will consider some of Africa's pre-colonial kingdoms. You will learn what these kingdoms were, how they were governed, and why they rose to prominence. We will touch on the issue of how these ancient kingdoms are currently relevant to the African diaspora.
Readings: Martin and O'Meara: chs. 4, 5, 6, 9, 10; Rodney: 33-70

3) The Triple Heritage of Religion (Sept. 21 – 28)
Religion has been an important institution in defining African societies. Although most Africans are now Muslim or Christian, the continent has its own rich religious traditions. In this section we will examine some of Africa's religious traditions. We will look also at the impact that Islam and Christianity have had on the continent. You will gain an appreciation for these different religious traditions and the unique expressions they have found in African societies.
Readings: Martin and O'Meara: ch. 5; Achebe, Things Fall Apart (first half)

4) European Explorations (Sept 30 – Oct 5)
This section will examine the European 'discovery' of Africa in the 1400s up to the partition of Africa and the era of colonialism that began in the late 1800s. We will examine the nature of interactions between Europeans and Africans during this period with a special focus on the era of the trans-Atlantic slave trade.
Readings: Rodney 73-90

October 7: Quiz

5) The Colonial Experience (Oct 9 – Oct. 28)
This section explores one of the most important eras in the history of the continent. At the end of this section you should understand which of the European powers engaged in colonialism, which territories these nations claimed, why they embarked on imperial projects in Africa, the different ways in which European countries administered their colonies, the impact that colonialism has had on the people of Africa, and why colonialism came to an end.
Readings: Martin and O'Meara: chs. 7, 21; Achebe, Things Fall Apart (second half); Rodney: 95 – 145; 149-201; 205 - 281

6) African Nationalism (Oct. 30 – Nov. 9)
African Nationalism was one unforeseen outcome of the colonial era. In this section we will examine how African Nationalism developed and the ways by which it was a response to the European domination of the continent. We will develop an appreciation for different expression of African Nationalism, its connections with Pan-Africanism, and the role that African Nationalism played in the achievement of African Independence.
Readings: Ngugi wa Thiongo: Weep Not Child

Nov. 11: Quiz

7) Post-Colonial Africa (Nov 13 – Dec. 9)
Independence did not prove to be the solution to Africa's problems that many hoped it would be. In this section we will examine some of the political problems that African nations have confronted since independence. You will develop and understanding of the characteristics of post-colonial political regimes in Africa and the challenges that African nations have faced in attempting to forge and maintain democratic forms of government.
Readings: Martin and O'Meara: chs. 16, 18,19, 20; Maathai: Chs. TBA

Final Exam (Dec. 16, 8am)

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 20, 2009 4:29 PM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/enews20090820.html

Lineberger Banner: Today's Best Care, Tomorrow's Best Hope

Cancer News Update From UNC Lineberger

08/20/2009

Forward to a Friend

Breakthrough Uses Light to Manipulate Cell Movement

A new technique developed by UNC Linberger Klaus Hahn, PhD, and his colleagues uses light to manipulate the activity of a protein at precise times and places within a living cell, providing a new tool for scientists who study the fundamentals of protein function. Read more.

Research Points to New Target for Stopping Colon Cancer

New research led by scientists at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Medicine have found a drug target that suggests a potent way to kill colon cancers that resist current drugs aimed at blocking a molecule found on the surface of cells.

The study was published online August 17 in the Journal of Clinical Investigation. UNC Lineberger member David Threadgill is lead author. Read more.

UNC Faculty Lead Research Review of Quality of Life for Breast Cancer Patients after Mastectomy

UNC Lineberger members Clara Lee, MD, and Michael Pignone, MD, reported on their research review of "Patient-Reported Outcomes of Breast Reconstruction after Mastectomy." The review was published in the Journal of the American College of Surgery. Read more. Watch video interview with Dr. Lee.

Mission Hospital and UNC Health Care Forge Agreement for Cancer Care and Research

Mission Hospital and UNC Health Care announced today that they have signed an affiliation agreement for cancer care and research, with the overall goal of enhancing the quality of care for cancer patients in western North Carolina, including providing access to new therapies and innovative research programs under development at UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center and the N.C. Cancer Hospital. Read more.

---

rss feed Subscribe to our RSS News feed . Become a fan of UNC Lineberger on Facebook. Follow us on Twitter.

For additional coverage about news and events at UNC Lineberger, visit www.unclineberger.org.

To unsubscribe, reply to this email with "unsubscribe" as your subject. UNC Lineberger's E-News subscriber list is not open to the public and will not be shared with third parties. If you have questions about UNC Lineberger's privacy policy or if you think your information has been misused, please email us at lcccnews@med.unc.edu.

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, Campus Box 7295, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7295

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25176871-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ncbg@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 20, 2009 8:18 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Nature Education for young children

This fall, the North Carolina Botanical Garden is growing educational enrichment opportunities for young children. From an after-school nature club for Kindergarten and 1st Graders, to weekly exploration times for pre-schoolers, the Botanical Garden is welcoming young ones to join our environmental educators for fun and learning in our gardens and along our nature trails. Classrooms in the spacious, brand new Education Center on site will welcome children and their parents on rainy days. Following is a partial list of opportunities to foster your child's sense of wonder. Visit our website for registration and other information: http://ncbg.unc.edu/pages/24/ or call 962-0522.

"BLUETS--PRESCHOOLERS EXPLORING NATURE" For ages 4 to 5. Two 6-week sessions, Wednesdays or Thursday afternoons (fee for 6-week session). Preschoolers will discover the marvels of changing colors, flying seeds, and migrating animals through hands-on activities, nature walks, stories, crafts, and group play. Two instructors guide activities for a group of 10 children. Snack provided.

"BOTANICAL SWEET PEAS" For ages 2 to 3 with a parent. Tuesday mornings (fee per Tuesday). Share a morning of discovery with your growing "sweet pea" and nurture his/her natural curiosity for the world around us. Little ones will use sight, smell, hearing, and touch to explore the garden and trails, enjoy stories, and make simple crafts. Each Tuesday focuses on a different theme in nature.

"BLAZING STARS AFTER-SCHOOL NATURE CLUB" For Kindergarten through 1st Grade. (Fee for 6-week session). Calling all young nature enthusiasts! Join us for a new after-school series on Tuesday afternoons designed for children interested in learning about nature first-hand. We'll explore habitats, trek the trails, discover native plants and animals, play games, conduct experiments, and create nature-inspired art projects. This program offers an exciting complement to your child's education and an opportunity to experience and enjoy the outdoors.

This email is sponsored by: N.C. Botanical Garden

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 20, 2009 8:40 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Employees: Register now for fall classes

---

If you're thinking about taking a class this fall, please don't delay!
Classes start on August 25.

*Taking classes on campus: Unless you are already enrolled in a degree program or are already taking classes through Part-time Classroom Studies, you will need to apply for admission so that you can register for classes offered on campus. Check with the Friday Center for Continuing Education if you have questions, or apply online at http://www.fridaycenter.unc.edu/cp/cs/index.htm

*Taking an online course: To take a course this fall through Carolina Courses Online, you do not need to apply for admission, but you do need to register now through the Friday Center's Web site, http://www.fridaycenter.unc.edu/cp/cco/index.htm

*Remember: In order to take advantage of the employee tuition waiver program, you will need to file the Tuition Waiver application that is available from the Human Resources Web site, http://hr.unc.edu/Data/SPA/training/tuitionprograms/tuitionwaiver

This email is sponsored by: Friday Center for Continuing Education

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 20, 2009 9:02 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Change in Employee Work Day Hours on Oct. 22

TO: All University Employees

FROM: Brenda Richardson Malone, Vice Chancellor for Human Resources

On Thursday, Oct. 22, the North Carolina Tar Heels will host the Florida State Seminoles for a nationally televised football game at Kenan Stadium, starting at 8 p.m. This Thursday night game, which will occur during our students' Fall Break, is expected to attract a large crowd of fans on campus, beginning as early as 4 p.m. As a result, the University will alter the time at which the work day ends to allow all University employees ample time to leave campus and avoid the expected traffic congestion. A separate communication from the Department of Public Safety will address specific parking plans and arrangements for this date.

On Oct. 22, the regular work day hours will be changed from 8-5 p.m. to 8-3 p.m. By moving the end of the work day to 3 p.m. on this day, we anticipate that those leaving campus at that hour should encounter significantly less inconvenience.

Employees who cannot work their regularly scheduled hours on Oct. 22 because of the workday schedule change must make up or code leave for those hours. Several options will allow employees to be paid for these hours without undue hardship. We advise managers to be as flexible as possible in allowing employees to use the following:

-- Employees can work the additional hours during that week, with management's approval, by either coming in early, staying late, working a reduced lunch break or some combination of the above on the other four days in that same workweek (Oct. 19, 20, 21 and 23).

-- Employees can use available flexible furlough hours to cover the leave.

-- Employees can use any accrued compensatory time, or available vacation or bonus leave, to cover the hours if they prefer.

Please be advised that the University will not provide any additional compensation or equal time off for employees who are required to work after 3 p.m. on Oct. 22 for a specific business reason as directed by management.

Second-shift employees should not be affected by this change in the work day end time unless otherwise notified by management. The football game will not require any changes to the schedules of third-shift employees.

Facilities Services employees will receive separate notification regarding work arrangements for this day.

For additional information, employees should contact their assigned Employee & Management Relations Specialist in the Office of Human Resources; you can find your assigned specialist by visiting HR Connect at hrconnect.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, August 20, 2009 9:42 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: A Message to State Employees from Governor Perdue

---

Dear fellow state employees:

Families and businesses across North Carolina continue to feel the effects of this national recession, and our state government is not immune. This video is a direct message to you, North Carolina's state employees, to thank you for your dedication to our state.

But it is also a call for all of us to pitch in with ideas for how to do more with the resources we have. As state employees, you know what works and what doesn't, and I want to learn from you as we help North Carolina get through these tough times.

Click here to watch my video message:
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=M9h7mebW0X0

Sincerely,

Bev Perdue

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: UNC General Alumni Association <alumni@unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, August 21, 2009 10:02 AM
To: Carolina Alumni and Friends <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Orange/Durham Carolina Club: Welcoming to the Triangle and other Events

Welcome to the Triangle

Wednesday, Sept. 23 | 7-9 p.m.
Chatham Hill Winery | 3800 Gateway Centre Blvd., Suite 310, Cary, N.C. 27560

Join your UNC General Alumni Association, your Orange/Durham Carolina Club and your Wake County Carolina Club as we welcome our newest alumni from the class of 2009 to Carolina alumni life in the Triangle. Meet fellow Tar Heels living in the area and learn about the best the Triangle has to offer.

Advance registration: Cost for GAA members and '09 graduates is $5; nonmembers are $15. Pre-register by Sunday, Sept. 20. All walk-ups pay $20.

Class of '09 GAA members who attend will be automatically registered to win a Butch Davis autographed football (courtesy of ODCC), one ticket to the WCCC Old Well Celebration or one ticket to the WCCC admissions breakfast.

Contact Kat Butler '07 at (919) 962-7053 or kat_butler@unc.edu with any questions.

Upcoming ODCC Events

September 1, 2009:	UNC Night at the Durham Bulls
December 8, 2009:	Phantom of the Opera* at the Durham Performing Arts Center
May 6, 2010:	Wicked* at the Durham Performing Arts Center

Thank You

The Orange/Durham Carolina Club appreciates your membership in the GAA. Your membership provides important support to the GAA and our club. Members have exclusive access to the digital version of the award-winning Carolina Alumni Review. Read the magazine online as it appears in print.

Orange/Durham Carolina Club:

Register for Welcome to the Triangle

Orange/Durham Carolina Club Web Site

Subscribe to our e-mail list

Clubs-Related Questions:

clubs@unc.edu

Carolina Alumni Review

Find the GAA on Facebook

Alumni Career Services

Stay connected to the GAA and Carolina. Follow us on Twitter, become a fan of our Facebook page, join our LinkedIn group and more.

GAA contacts

PRIVACY POLICY: You received this e-mail from the General Alumni Association-George Watts Hill Alumni Center, CB # 9180, Stadium Drive, PO Box 660, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0660. You have not been subscribed to an e-mail list. If you do not wish to receive future e-mail of this type from the GAA, please reply to alumni@unc.edu and include your full name, address and class year, call us toll-free at (877) 377-7125, or unsubscribe via this link: unsubscribe here.

Please note that UNC and the General Alumni Association do not sell your information, including your e-mail address, to anyone for any purpose.

702472576

GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

From: Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 24, 2009 8:33 AM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Cc: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Syllabus
Attach: Af259f09.doc

Hip Hop syllabus is being tweaked; no conference, at least not one that requires money and logistics, but maybe a public campus forum.

See you soon
ph

AFRO-AMERICAN STUDIES 259
BLACK INFLUENCES ON AMERICAN POPULAR CULTURE
FALL TERM 2009

Dr. Perry A. Hall
202 Battle Hall

Office Hours: by appointment
hallpa@email.unc.edu
966-5496

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

To examine the role of African-American expressive culture in the evolution of "mainstream" cultural sensibilities, in terms of historical roots, aesthetic importance and social power. The significance of "popular" culture as an expressive medium for cultural activity and transformation will be highlighted.

To challenge students to engage directly in research activity focused on either past or contemporary aspects of black-influenced expressive popular culture. Through this activity students will seek for themselves answers and resolutions to questions and issues raised in the course.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

George, Nelson. The Death of Rhythm and Blues. New York: E.P. Dutton, 1988
George, Nelson. Hip Hop America. New York: Viking, 1998.

READINGS ON RESERVE (ELECTRONIC OR PAPER):

3 chaps. From Barlow, Willam. "Looking Up at Down": The Emergence of Blues Culture. Philadelphia: Temple University Press, 1989.
1 Section from Palmer, Robert. Deep Blues. New York: Viking Press, 1981
1 Essay from Ziff, Bruce and Pratima V. Rao, Eds. Borrowed Power: Essays on Cultural Appropriation. Rutgers University Press, 1997.
1 Section from Nixon, Howard L. and James H. Frey, eds. A Sociology of Sport. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth Publishing Co., 1996.
2 Chaps. from Sidran, Ben. Black Talk. New York: Da Capo Press, 1971.
2 Excerpts from Werner, Craig. A Change Is Gonna Come: Race, Music & The Soul Of America. New York: Penguin Books, 1999.
1 chap. from Smitherman, Geneva. Black Talk: Words and Phrases from the hood to the Amen Corner Boston, Houghton-Mifflin, 2000.
"Working-Class and Lower-Class Origins of Black Culture: Class Formation and the Division of Cultural Labor." Thomas, Richard W. Minority Voices. (September, 1977) p81-103.
"The White Negro Revisited," Josh Ozersky, Tikkun; Sep/Oct2000, Vol. 15 Issue 5, p61-62

OTHER READING ARTICLES LABELED "WEBSITE" ARE AVAILABLE ON THE COURSE WEBSITE

"Systematic and Thematic Principles," chap 5 in Hall, Perry A. In the Vineyard: Working in African American Studies. University of Tennessee Press, 1999.
"(Structural) Integration vs. (Cultural) Assimilation: A Distinction with a Difference." Hall, Perry A.)
"Rhythm Nation: The Political Economy of Black Music." Kelley, Norman. Black Renaissance/Renaissance Noire 07-31-1999 V.2; N.2 p8.
"The White Reception of Jazz in America."Anderson, Maureen,African American Rvw; Sp04 V38 I1 p135-145.
"From Minstrelsy to Gangsta Rap: The "Nigger" as Commodity for Popular American Entertainment," LaGrone, Kheven Lee, Journal of African American Men, Fall 2000 v5 i2 p117
" Place and Innovation in Popular Music: The Bebop Revolution in Jazz," Stump, Roger W. Journal of Cultural Geography, Fall-Winter 1998.
"Soul for sale: Berry Gordy sells half of Motown catalog for $132 Million," Black Enterprise, Oct 1997 v28 n3 p22(1)
"Remixing American Pop," Chap. 1 Hip Hop Matters, Craig S. Watkins, pp. 33-53.
"Hip-Hop Women Shredding the Veil: Race and Class in Popular Feminist Identity," Marcyliena Morgan, South Atlantic Quarterly, V104 I3, p425-444.
"The Rap on Rap," Samuels, David, New Republic, 11/11/91, Vol. 205, Issue 20
"Debating Hip-Hop: Does Gangsta Rap Harm Black Americans?" Peter Katel. QQ Researcher, June 15, 2007 Volume 17, Issue 23.
"The Politics of Hip Hop," George Martinez, Socialism and Democracy, 18:2, (2004) 195 – 205;

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1st Essay (5-6 pgs)	DUE ON SEP. 24	25% OF FINAL GRADE
2nd Essay (5-6 pgs)	DUE ON OCT. 29	25% OF FINAL GRADE
Final (Essay) Exam (5-6 pgs)	DUE ON DEC. 17	25% OF FINAL GRADE
Attendance	(See website for attendance policy)	10% OF FINAL GRADE
Posted Discussion questions	(See website for details)	10% OF FINAL GRADE

Classroom Participation 5% OF FINAL GRADE

READING ASSIGNMENTS

WEEK 1 (AUG. 25 &27)

Course Introduction
WEBSITE: "Systematic and Thematic Principles," Hall, Perry A.

WEEK 2 (SEP. 1 & 3)

RESERVE: "Working-Class and Lower-Class Origins of Black Culture: Class Formation and the Division of Cultural Labor." Thomas, Richard W. Minority Voices. (September 1977) p81-103.
WEBSITE: "(Structural) Integration vs. (Cultural) Assimilation: A Distinction with a Difference." Hall, Perry A. (Unpublished Paper)

WEEK 3 (SEP. 8 & 10)

RESERVE: "Introduction," (SMITHERMAN) p1-44.

WEEK 4 (SEP. 15 & 17)

RESERVE: "Beginnings," (in Deep Blues, p24-47)
RESERVE: "I Been 'Buked and I Been Scorned": The Folk Roots of the Blues (Ch. 1 in BARLOW, p7-24).
RESERVE: "Everyday Seems Like Murder Here": Mississippi Delta Blues, (Ch. 2 in BARLOW, p25-55).

WEEK 5 (SEP. 22 & 24)

WEBSITE: "Introduction," (BARLOW, p113-118); "Laughin' to Keep from Cryin': Vaudeville Blues, (Ch. 5 in BARLOW: p119-181).
GEORGE: Ch. 1: "Philosophy, Money, and Music (1900-30)," p3-14.

WEEK 6 (SEP. 29 & OCT. 1)

SIDRAN: Ch. 3:"The Jazz Age: The 1920s," p.53-77.
WEBSITE: "The White Reception of Jazz in America." Anderson, Maureen, African American Review; Spring2004, Vol. 38 Issue 1, p135-145.
RESERVE:"African-American Music: Dynamics of Appropriation and Innovation." Hall, Perry A., in Ziff, Bruce and Pratima V. Rao, eds. Borrowed Power: Essays on Cultural Appropriation, p31-51.

WEEK 7 (OCT. 6 & 8)

SIDRAN: Ch. 4: "The Evolution of the Black Underground: 1930-1947," p78-115.
WEBSITE: " Place and Innovation in Popular Music: The Bebop Revolution in Jazz," Stump, Roger W. Journal of Cultural Geography, Fall-Winter 1998.

WEEK 8 (OCT. 13 & 15)

RESERVE: Historical Patterns of Blacks in Sport in the United States."
HIP HOP: Ch. 11: "The Sound of Philadelphia -- Dunking," p144-153.
GEORGE: Chap 3: "The New Negro (1950-65)" p59-94.

WEEK 9 (OCT. 20)

GEORGE: Ch. 4: "Black Beauty, Black Confusion, (1965-70)" p95-120.

WEEK 10 (OCT. 27 & 29)

VIDEO: "Standing In The Shadows of Motown,"
WEBSITE: "Soul for sale: Berry Gordy sells half of Motown catalog for $132 Million," Black Enterprise, Oct 1997 v28 n3 p22(1)
GEORGE: Ch. 5: "Redemption Songs in the Age of Corporations (1971-1975)" p121-146.

WEEK 11 (NOV. 3 & 5)

GEORGE: Ch. 6: "Crossover: The Death of Rhythm & Blues" p147-170.
GEORGE: Chap. 7: "Assimilation Triumphs, Retronuevo Rises (1980-87)" pp. 171-198.
RESERVE: "God Love Sex: Disco and the Gospel Impulse"& "Disco Sucks," in WERNER p203-211.
RESERVE: "Redemption Songs: Bob Marley in Babylon" and "The Message: Hip-Hop and The South Bronx," in WERNER , p230-242.

WEEK 12 (NOV. 10 & 12)

HIP HOP: Ch. "Introduction," pvii-xiv.
HIP HOP: Ch. 1: "Post-Soul," p1-21."
HIP HOP: Ch. 2: "Hip Hop Wasn't Just Another Date," p22-33.
HIP HOP: Ch. 3: "Gangsters Real & Unreal," p34-49.
HIP HOP: Ch. 4: "The 'I' of Me," p50-55.

WEEK 13 (NOV. 17 & 19)

HIP HOP: Ch. 5: "Black Owned?" p56-75."
HIP HOP: Ch. 6: "The Permanent Business," p76-88.
WEBSITE: "Rhythm Nation: The Political Economy of Black Music." Kelley, Norman. Black Renaissance/ Renaissance Noire V.2; N.2 p8.
WEBSITE: "Remixing American Pop," Chap. 1 Hip Hop Matters, Craig S. Watkins, pp. 33-53.

WEEK 14 (NOV. 24)

HIP HOP: Ch. 7: "Sample This," p89-96.
HIP HOP: Ch. 8: "Where My Eyes Can See," p97-113.

WEEK 15 (DEC 1 & 3)

WEBSITE: "From Minstrelsy to Gangsta Rap: The "Nigger" as Commodity for Popular American Entertainment," LaGrone, Kheven Lee, Journal of African American Men, Fall 2000 v5 i2 p117
HIP HOP: Ch. 13: "Too Live," p176-192.
WEBSITE: "Hip-Hop Women Shredding the Veil: Race and Class in Popular Feminist Identity," Marcyliena Morgan, South Atlantic Quarterly, V104 I3, p425-444.

WEEK 16 (DEC. 8)

RESERVE: "The White Negro Revisited," Josh Ozersky, Tikkun; Sep/Oct2000, Vol. 15 Issue 5, p61-62
WEBSITE: "The Rap on Rap," Samuels, David, New Republic, 11/11/91, Vol. 205, Issue 20

WEBSITE: "Debating Hip-Hop: Does Gangsta Rap Harm Black Americans?" Peter Katel. QQ Researcher, June 15, 2007 Volume 17, Issue 23.

WEBSITE: "The Politics of Hip Hop," George Martinez, Socialism and Democracy, 18:2, (2004) 195 – 205;

FINAL EXAM DUE DEC 17

AFAM 356 THE HISTORY OF HIP HOP FALL TERM 2009
Prof. Perry A. Hall Office Hours: by appointment
202 Battle Hall hallpa@email.unc.edu

966-5496

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

To examine the emergence and impact of Hip Hop music and culture in historical, aesthetic, as well as social terms. The examination will consider Hip Hop as an extension of the processes through which African American musical forms emerge historically. Its influence as a broad force in mainstream culture and its development as a global phenomenon will also be considered. In addition the course will focus on the social force of Hip Hop culture in terms of its ability to carry the formative ideas and sentiments of the local and global communities which it informs.

TEXTS

Chang, Jeff. Can't Stop Won't Stop: A History of the Hip Hop Generation. St. Martin's Press, 2005.
Perry, Imani. Prophets of the Hood: Politics and Poetics in Hip Hop. Duke University Press, 2004.
Ridenhour, Carlton ("Chuck D") and Yusuf Jah. Fight The Power: Rap, Race, and Reality. Dell Publishing, 1997.

REQUIREMENTS

Classes will be driven by discussion, based on issues presented in the assigned readings and other relevant inputs. Students will be required to post questions to the website in advance (10 over the course the term; see website for details) that frame issues for discussion in class. In this way students help determine how discussions are structured. In addition there are two required essays (Due on Oct. 1 & Nov.5) based on themes to be specified that emerge from readings and discussion. Finally, the class will participate in a public campus forum, to be organized for the end of the term, which will focus on Hip Hop's current status, role, and potential. Students (selected from proposals) who organize and make presentations for this forum will be exempt from the final.

First Essay (5-6 pages)	Due on Oct. 1	25% OF FINAL GRADE
Second Essay (5-6 pages)	Due on Nov. 5	25% OF FINAL GRADE
Final Paper	Due on Dec. 18	25% OF FINAL GRADE
Posted Discussion questions		10% OF FINAL GRADE
Attendance (Including campus forum)		10% OF FINAL GRADE
Class Participation		5% OF FINAL GRADE

NARRATIVE SUMMARY

The course materials are organized to reflect, and to alternate between historical/chronological presentation on the one hand, and focusing on thematic and analytical issues on the other. Readings in weeks 1-4 go back as far as the late 1960s (and further for broad historical context) to frame and examine the historical period and structural spaces out of which hip hop emerged, highlighting the pre-conditions and early emergence of sensibilities and activities constitutive of hip hop culture among displaced youth, vying to create meaning amidst the post-industrial decay of New York City's upper boroughs. The evolution of hip hop from a strictly local phenomenon to something greater begins at the end of this period, when journalists, avant-garde artists, cultural critics, entrepreneurs, and other agents and institutions outside of hip hop's originating spaces began to take note of its presence, its spunk, its attitude, its creativity. A signal event in this process was the 1979 recording and release of "Rappers' Delight," the subsequent popularity of which gave the first indication of hip hop's potential impact, culturally and commercially.

From that point many of the issues and tensions which have since shaped hip hop began to emerge. Accordingly, in weeks 5 and 6 the readings begin to focus on how "authenticity" is constructed and experienced in various ways, in relation to race, ethnicity, culture, location, or socioeconomic condition. In weeks 7- 10 the historical narrative is re-established, focusing on the 1980s, when hip hop rapidly developed national and international bases for both its constituencies and its vision, in the process raising issues for both its disruption of and its popularity among mainstream agents, activities, and sensibilities. Evolving through this period were several self-consciously political voices (emblematized by the Long Island-based group Public Enemy, whose popularity and influence peaked through the late 1980s and early 1990s) that used hip hop mediums and methodologies to speak to various visions of political oppression, opposition, and change. Also evolving through this period, (not coincidentally alongside the growth of crack cocaine as enterprise and social plague) were the chronicles of urban terror and glee that emerged from the West Coast – the port-of-entry for the crack trade – as "gangsta rap," eventually superseding self-consciously political rap as both a vision and a symbol of hip hop culture.

Framed against increasing mainstream crossover interest as well as alarm, the subsequent "East Coast-West Coast rivalry" (in addition to contextualizing the murder of two of the hip hop nation's biggest talents) brought other issues of ethical, social, and aesthetic value to the forefront, a sampling of which are examined in weeks 11 and 12. Although hip hop soundings were always decidedly masculinist in tone, it was gansta rap that most blatantly opened the discourses of hip hop to perceptions (and expressions) of misogyny and sexual degradation. The readings of week 11 address gender, feminism, misogyny, and sexuality in relation to hip hop from various perspectives. Week 12 extends the historical narrative to the 21st Century using the 1992 Los Angeles riots (seen as vindication by both advocates and critics of hip hop) as a signpost and focusing on connections between hostile constructions of hip hop and the emergence of social and criminal justice policies that marginalize and criminalize aspects of youth culture.

Weeks 13-16 focus on issues pertaining to hip hop's current state and status, and its future as a potential vehicle for artistic and political expression.

READING ASSIGNMENTS

WEEK 1 (AUG. 25 &27)

WEBSITE: "The Songs of Black Folks," In the Vineyard, Perry A. Hall, 142-168
CHANG: "Prelude," xi-xiii; "Introduction," 1-6
CHANG: Ch 1: "Necroplis: The Bronx and the Politics of Abandonment," 7-19.

WEEK 2 (SEP. 1 & 3)

CHANG: Ch 2: "Sipple Out Deh: Jamaica's Roots Generation and the Cultural Turn," 21-39.
CHANG: Ch 3: "Blood and Fire, with Occasional Music: The Gangs of the South Bronx," 41-65.
CHANG: Ch 4: "Making a Name: How DJ Kool Herc Lost His Acent and Started Hip Hop," 67-86

WEEK 3 (SEP. 8 & 10)

CHANG: Ch 5: "Soul Salvation: The Mystery and Faith of Afrika Bambaataa," 89-107.
CHANG: Ch 6: "Furious Styles: The Evolution of Style in the Seven-Mile World," 109-125.

WEEK 4 (SEP. 15 & 17)

CHANG: Ch 7: "The World is Ours: The Survival and Transformation of Bronx Style," 127-139.
CHANG: Ch 8: "Zulus on a Time Bomb: Hip-hop Meets the Rockers Downtown," 141-165.
CHANG: Ch 9: "1982: Rapture in Reagan's America," 167-187.
Wild Style (Film)

WEEK 5 (SEP. 22 & 24)

CHANG: Ch 10: "End of Innocence: The Fall of the Old School," 189-211.
WEBSITE: "Hip-Hop: From live Performance to Mediated Narrative," Greg Dimitriadis, 421-435.
WEBSITE: "Puerto Rocks: Rap, Roots, and Amnesia," John Flores, 69-86.
WEBSITE: "Hip-Hop Chicano: A Separate but Parallel Story," Raegan Kelly, 95-104
WEBSITE: "'Represent': Race, Space, and Place in Rap Music," Murray Forman, 201-222.

WEEK 6 (SEP. 29 & OCT. 1)

PERRY: "Introduction," 1-8.
PERRY: Ch 1: "Hip Hop's Mama; Origination and Identity in the Music," 9-37.
WEBSITE: "Real Niggas": Race, Ethnicity, and the Construction of Authenticity in Hip-Hop," Ch 2, Hip Hop Revolution, Jeffrey O.G. Ogbar, 37-71.

WEEK 7 (OCT. 6 & 8)

CHANG: Ch 11: "Things Fall Apart: The Rise of the Post-Civil Rights Era," 215-229.
CHANG: Ch 12: "What We Got to Say: Black Suburbia, Segregation and Utopia in the Late 1980s," 231-261.
CHUCK D: Ch 3: "Prelude to Public Enemy," 57-94

WEEK 8 (OCT. 13 & 15)

CHANG: Ch 13: "Follow for Now: The Question of Post-Civil Rights Leadership," 263-297.
CHUCK D: Ch 8: "Black and Jewish Relationships," 205-239.

WEEK 9 (OCT. 20)

WEBSITE: "Remixing American Pop," Ch 1 Hip Hop Matters, Craig S. Watkins, 33-53.
CHANG: Ch 14: "The Culture Assassins: Geography, Generation and Gangsta Rap," 293-329.

WEEK 10 (OCT. 27 & 29)

CHANG: Ch 15: "The Real Enemy: The Cultural Riot of Ice Cube's Death Certificate," 331-355.
CHUCK D: Ch 9: "Gangs," 241-275.

WEEK 11 (NOV. 3 & 5)

WEBSITE: "Empowering Self, making Choices, Creating Spaces: Black Female Identity via Rap Music Performance," Cheryl L. Keyes, 285-276.
PERRY: Ch 5: "B-Boys, Players, and Preachers: Reading Masculinity," 117-154.
PERRY: Ch 6: "The Venus Hip Hop and the Pink Ghetto: Negotiating Spaces for Women," 155-190.
WEBSITE: "Hip-Hop Feminist," Joan Morgan, 277-281.

WEEK 12 (NOV. 10 & 12)

CHANG: Ch 16: "Gonna Work It Out: Peace and Rebellion in Los Angeles," 357-379.
CHANG: Ch 17: "All in the Same Gang: The War on Youth and the Quest for Unity," 381-405.
PERRY: Ch 4: "The Glorious Outlaw: Hip Hop Narratives, American Law, and the Court of Public Opinion," 102-116.
WEBSITE: "Locked Up: Police, the Prison Industrial Complex, Black Youth, and Social Control," Ch 5, Hip Hop Revolution, Jeffrey O.G. Ogbar, 139-174.

WEEK 13 (NOV. 17 & 19)

PERRY: Ch 7: "Bling Bling…and Going Pop: Consumerism and co-optation in Hip Hop," 191-203.
WEBSITE: "Mutual Denials in the Hip Hop Wars" Ch 11 The Hip Hop Wars, Tricia Rose, 217-240
CHUCK D: Ch 4: "Athletes and Entertainers," 95-126.

WEEK 14 (NOV. 24)

CHANG: Ch 18: "Becoming the Hip-Hop Generation: The Source, the Industry and the Big Crossover," 407-435.
CHUCK D: Ch 7:"Apocalypse Now: The Enemy Strikes Back," 183-204.

WEEK 15 (DEC 1 & 3)

CHANG: Ch 19: "New World Order: Globalization, Containment and Counterculture at the End of the Century," 437-465.
WEBSITE: "Progressive Voices, Energies, and Visions Ch 12 "The Hip Hop Wars, Tricia Rose, 241 260
CHUCK D: Ch 6: "Africa," 153-181.

WEEK 16 (DEC. 8)

WEBSITE: "Six Guiding Principles for Progressive Creativity, Consumption, and Community in Hip Hop and Beyond," Ch 13 The Hip Hop Wars, Tricia Rose, 261-278.

FINAL ESSAY DUE ON DEC 18

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 24, 2009 3:07 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: credentials check
Attach: Credentials check.doc

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

Hiring Credentials Check for EPA Employees

Departmental/divisional administrative staff processing EPA personnel actions should complete this form for initial appointments and obtain department head's (or his/her designee's) signature. When completed and signed, departmental managers should maintain original in the employee's departmental personnel file.

TO BE COMPLETED BY HIRING UNIT

Date Prepared _____

I confirm that the department for the purpose of verifying the employee's hiring credentials has received the appropriate approvals.

_____ Date _____

Department Head (or designee) Signature

Return to: Name _____

Dept/Sch _____

Address CB# _____

Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Chapel Hill, NC 27599-

Date of Birth _____ Name of Employee _____ ☐ Tenure/Tenure Track

Social Security Number _____ Title of Position _____ ☐ Fixed Term

Department _____ Effective Date _____ ☐ EPA Non-Faculty

Dept Address ☐ Non-Salaried

TO BE COMPLETED BY UNIT VERIFYING CREDENTIALS or TELEPHONE CONTACT

False or Misleading Information

North Carolina law (General Status 126-30) requires the University to verify the education credentials of the subject employee. The employee understands this legal requirement (after completing the employment AP-2a) for you to release the requested information.. The University may also verify when the employee's qualifications are under review for any employment action. North Carolina law requires notice to every applicant for state employment that willfully providing false or misleading information or failure to disclose relevant information shall be grounds for rejection of an applicant, or later disciplinary action up to and including dismissal, or criminal prosecution. Dismissal from employment shall be mandatory in any case, in which a false or misleading representation is made in order to meet position qualifications.

To: Registrar/Employer: Employee's Name _____

Dept _____ Rank/Title of Position _____ Effective Date _____

Address _____ Name When Degree/Diploma/Certification Awarded _____

City _____ Place of Last Employment _____

State _____ Zipcode _____ Date of Birth _____ Social Security Number _____

To Be Completed by the Office of the Registrar/Personnel Department/Board Representative

Note: Please Use Official Stamp or Raised Seal to Authenticate (if mailed to Registrar/Employer).

1. Attendance/Employment Dates From _____ To _____
2. Degree(s) Awarded? ☐ Yes ☐ No If Yes, what degree(s) and major? _____
3. Diploma(s) Awarded? ☐ Yes ☐ No If Yes, what subject? _____
4. Certificate Awarded? ☐ Yes ☐ No If Yes, what subject? _____
5. License Awarded? ☐ Yes ☐ No If Yes, what subject? _____

This is to certify that the subject employee:

☐ Successfully fulfilled all requirements and holds the following professional:

	Field of Work	ID Number
License
Registration
Certification

☐ Has not been licensed/registered/certified.

☐ Has a pending application; board action is scheduled for: _____ (date)

☐ Previously held a license/registration/certification, but it was:

☐ revoked

☐ not renewed.

Signature of Registrar/Authorized Board Official/Employer or Name of Telephone Contact _____ Date _____ Title _____ Telephone Number _____

TO BE COMPLETED BY PERSON MAKING TELEPHONE VERIFICATION

☐ This department has conducted the required credentials check for employee indicated.

☐ The check shows that the credentials requiring verification are held as claimed on this employee.

☐ The check shows that the credentials requiring verification are not held as claimed on this employee; appropriate disciplinary action has or will be taken.

☐ Credentials could not be checked according to the Policy on Credentials Verification because _____

Signature & Title of Person Making Verification _____ Date _____

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 24, 2009 8:17 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Dean of Students Office Hours in Steele Building

---

Starting August 26th, the Office of the Dean of Students will be holding open office hours in 1006 Steele Buidling on Wednesdays from 10 am-1 pm. All faculty, staff, and students are welcome. For more information about the functions of the Office of the Dean of Students, please see http://deanofstudents.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Dean of Students

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of peersproject@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 24, 2009 9:08 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Peer Perceptions Project

CHILD PARTICIPANTS NEEDED: The Peer Perceptions Project is a research study at UNC designed to better understand children's beliefs about group differences in ability (e.g., are boys better than girls in sports).

WHO WILL PARTICIPATE:
We are looking for 10- to 13-year-old children who will perform a computer task and complete some paper-and-pencil measures. All children in that age range who are fluent in English may participate.

Children will complete a computerized task and paper survey. The session will last about 20 minutes. Each child will receive a $5 incentive (e.g., gift card to Target) at the end of the session. Testing will occur in the UNC Psychology Department or at a public location (e.g., public library) that is convenient for the parents.

If you have a 10- to 13-year-old child who might be interested in participating in the study, please send an email to peersproject@unc.edu or call 962-3884 and leave your name and telephone number.

Behavioral IRB Study # 09-1368, approved 8/19/2009

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of marron@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 24, 2009 9:38 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: FREE STATISTICAL CONSULTING

The UNC Department of Statistics and Operations Research announces the availability of free statistical consulting. Our goal is to teach this important skill to graduate students, but you can get some free statistical assistance in the process.

The course format involves clients giving a presentation about the problem at hand. This generates a question and answer dialog, which by itself has proven to be useful in helping clients formulate their ideas.
Then typically one student is assigned to work on the actual data, with a final written report expected.

In the past we have worked with a very wide range of clients, from Masters students needing help with the statistical end of their dissertation, all the way up to distinguished professors. While there are limits to what can be done in the context of this course, some contacts initially made through this course have led to ongoing joint research, grant proposals and published papers in very diverse fields.

To sign up for this type of consulting, or to discuss this further, please contact Steve Marron, Department of Statistics and Operations Research, UNC, CB 3260, Email: marron@email.unc.edu. Additional information is available at the web address:

http://www.stat-or.unc.edu/consulting/statistical_consulting

This email is sponsored by: Statistics and Operations Research

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Dibbert, Doug <alumni@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, August 25, 2009 1:02 AM
To: Carolina Alumni and Friends <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Happenings on the Hill

August 25, 2009

Dear alumni and friends,

At 8 a.m. today, August 25, first-year students in the class of 2013 began classes. We invite you to return to "class" in Chapel Hill as well – perhaps without the stress of mid-terms and finals!

At the beginning of each semester, we will share highlights of enrichment opportunities that await you. Many of the events and activities are free and open to the public unless otherwise noted.

You are forever an integral part of our Carolina family, and we hope you will consider a visit to rediscover what was once your home. As you navigate through the various links (below and in the right-hand column), you may be interested in the following:

A GAA fall public forum will feature Barry Popkin, Carla Smith Chamblee Distinguished Professor and author of "The World is Fat."
Dinner with Faculty is a new series that will allow 11 participants to enjoy free-ranging discussions with prominent and popular UNC faculty.
Known for her performance on the NBC hit series "The West Wing," actress, playwright and author Anna Deavere Smith will deliver the Frank Porter Graham Lecture as part of the North Carolina Literary Festival.
PlayMakers Repertory Company will bring to their main stage "The Life and Adventures of Nicholas Nickleby" marking the largest production in PlayMakers' history, with 25 actors portraying more than 150 characters.
Two-time Grammy Award-winning tenor and High Point native Anthony Dean Griffey will be an artist-in-residence, and his two master classes will be open to the public. In addition, the Department of Music sponsors several concerts, recitals and events during the fall semester.

To avoid e-mail congestion, we'll only send you Happenings on the Hill at the beginning of each semester. Keep these links handy since events are added and revised throughout the semester.

We hope this note finds you well and that you will take advantage of your close proximity to Chapel Hill and return often to your Carolina.

Campus Enrichment Links

Upcoming Events @ Carolina

Ackland Art Museum

Adventures in Ideas Weekend Seminars

Carolina College for Lifelong Learning

Carolina Performing Arts

James A. Hutchins Lectures

Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History

William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education

Additional Fall Enrichment Highlights

FedEx Global Education Center Open House
Wednesday, Sept. 2
11 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Carolina Summer Reading Book: "A Home on the Field"
Thursday, Sept. 17
2:30 – 4 p.m.

Thomas B. Lambeth Lecture: Remaking America: Higher Education and Civic Engagement
Ambassador James A. Joseph
Thursday, Sept. 17
5:30 – 7 p.m.

Guided Tours of Coker Arboretum
Saturday, Sept. 19
Saturday, Oct. 17
11 a.m. – 12 p.m.

Pandemic Influenza: Focus on Local Preparedness

Yours at Carolina,

Doug Dibbert '70
President
doug_dibbert@unc.edu

P.S. The GAA serves to inform and involve former students with each other and with Carolina thanks to dues paid by you and nearly 70,000 other GAA members. We do so through our award-winning Carolina Alumni Review magazine, alumni.unc.edu and a host of programs and services (reference our Web site for a complete listing).

Thursday, Oct. 1
2:30 – 4 p.m.

Making Sense of Social Networking Sites
Tuesday, Oct. 27
2:30 – 4 p.m.

Dean's Speaker Series:
Steve Howe, Ernst & Young
Thursday, Oct. 29
5:30 p.m.

One Year Reflection:
The Historic Election of Barack Obama
Wednesday, Nov. 4
2:30 – 4 p.m.

PRIVACY POLICY: You received this e-mail from the General Alumni Association-George Watts Hill Alumni Center, CB # 9180, Stadium Drive, PO Box 660, Chapel Hill, NC 27514-0660. You have not been subscribed to an e-mail list. If you do not wish to receive future e-mail of this type from the GAA, please reply to alumni@unc.edu and include your full name, address and class year, call us toll-free at (877) 377-7125, or unsubscribe via this link: unsubscribe here.

Please note that UNC and the General Alumni Association do not sell your information, including your e-mail address, to anyone for any purpose.

702472576

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, August 25, 2009 8:26 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: William S. Newman Artists Series Discounted Tickets

---

The UNC Music Department announces the William S. Newman Artists Series, 2009-10 Edition. Half-price family subscriptions are available to all UNC faculty and staff!

Please join us for a six-concert series of exotic and eclectic musical events. This season's offerings include the Choir of Kings College London; a September Prelude festival concert of Baroque music performed by world class original instrument musicians from the faculties of Yale, Juilliard, Bard and UNC; our own Carolina Wind Quintet with Wonmin Kim, pianist; enhake (the Seminole word for call), an emerging artist chamber ensemble of Korean and American musicians for clarinet, violin, cello and piano; P'ansori: Korean story-telling and music performed on traditional Korean instruments; and UNC faculty pianist Stefan Litwin presenting and performing one of the great works of the Romantic era, Schumann's Piano Sonata, Op. 11.

Information and tickets are available from the WSN website http://music.unc.edu/calendars/newman, or by calling 962-1039.

Family subscriptions for all six concerts (two adults and their children) regularly priced at $100 are now offered at $50 for UNC faculty and staff for this intellectually and artistically unique series of experiences.

This email is sponsored by: Music Department

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 25, 2009 8:58 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: 2009-2010 Olympic Sports Admission

In an effort to support the University's recent cost containment measures, the Department of Athletics will no longer distribute Faculty and Staff sports passes. For the 2009-2010 season each employee's UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID will be used to gain admission to qualifying sporting events. No admission policies will change under this new system. You will simply present your UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID to gain admission to Olympic Sporting events.

You must present your UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID to gain admission to these events for you and your immediate family . Complimentary admissions are not permitted for ACC and NCAA Championships.

We do anticipate a strong turnout for select Olympic sporting events (i.e. a women's basketball game vs. Duke or a home baseball series vs. NC State). For these events you will use your UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID to obtain a hard ticket through a faculty and staff distribution. The ticket office will notify you via an INFORMATIONAL email concerning the dates and procedures for any necessary distributions. Also visit www.tarheelblue.com/faculty for complete information.

Your UNC One Card or UNC Hospitals ID does not include admission to football or men's basketball, and we ask that your card be used for your personal use and not transferred.

We hope that you will be able to attend many intercollegiate events on campus during the 2009-2010 year. For all of your ticketing needs, please visit www.tarheelblue.com/faculty.

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of fertility@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 25, 2009 9:09 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Are you or is someone you know trying to get pregnant or about to start trying?

Time-to-Conceive is a research study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill focusing on fertility in women between 30 and 44 years of age. To learn how you can be in the study, call us at (919) 843-8246 or send an email to fertility@unc.edu with your name, phone number and times that you can be reached. We will not share your email address with anyone outside of the study.

Participants receive:
- Free pregnancy tests
- Free early pregnancy ultrasound
- Monetary compensation for study activities

No medicines or pills to take and no changes to daily lifestyle or existing health care routine.

Please visit our new website at www.med.unc.edu/timetoconceive for more information.

We need your help! You can advance knowledge by simply sharing information about yourself while trying to get pregnant. Please share this message with friends or family.

The principal investigator for this study is Anne Z. Steiner, MD, MPH, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina.

This study, Time to Conceive, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 3/14/2008, study # 08-0423.

This email is sponsored by: Obstetrics and Gynecology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cbt4bn@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, August 25, 2009 9:35 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Bulimia Treatment Study: Group Therapy at No Cost

---

The University of North Carolina's Eating Disorders Program announces a new clinical psychotherapy trial for bulimia nervosa. This study compares two different ways to deliver cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT) which is the treatment of choice for bulimia. Patients will be randomized (like a flip of a coin) to either face to face group CBT or internet-delivered CBT with a therapist-moderated chat group. There is no cost for participating in this trial.

Eligibility Requirements:
Male or Female
At least 18 years old
Have a home computer with Internet access.

Please contact the Research Coordinator at (919) 966-2882 or cbt4bn@unc.edu for more information.

IRB #: 07-2002
UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board
Date Approved: 9/10/2008

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Amy Cooke <acooke@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, August 26, 2009 11:04 AM
To: dacrowde@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: 266 syllabus
Attach: 266 syllabus_Fall09.doc

Debby,

Here is the syllabus. I'm thinking about only taking a few copies with me--10 or so. Those in the class can access it on blackboard. that will save a lot of paper.

if Travis doesn't have the time to make the copies, I can do it, no problem.

Amy

AFRI 266.1/ENST 490.1
Contemporary Africa:
Issues in Health, Population and Environment
Wed 3-5:50 pm / Peabody 220
Dr. Amy Cooke

Office: 203 Coates Building (on Franklin St.) Telephone: 962-0622 (office)
Office Hours: TBA Email: acooke@email.unc.edu

Course Description:

The intertwined issues of health, population and the environment have enormous impacts on the development of contemporary African nations. These issues are of such importance that many international development organizations have devoted entire branches of their organization to these issues, both singly (the CDC, UNEP, CARE, etc) and together (the Population Reference Bureau). Additionally, the Millennium Development Goals as drafted by the United Nations are nearly entirely related to these three meta-topics. In this course we focus on these issues and their relation to current events and development goals, African lives and international development directives.

To accomplish this, we will examine a variety of materials in several mediums: academic articles, novels, film, policy papers produced by development organizations and current events as portrayed in the media. Specific topics to be addressed include maternal and child health, HIV/AIDS, population planning and growth, agricultural intensification, food security, the scramble for Africa's oil and water resources and resource conservation. I am particularly interested in the issue of food security, an issue intertwined with the population growth, the health of people and ecosystems and the state of the environment. We will return to the topic of food security repeatedly as we learn greater detail about the African situation.

Objectives:
By the end of this semester you should be able to do the following:
1. Identify the major political and environmental regions of modern Africa,
2. Discuss how health, population parameters and environmental issues intersect to influence development and the livelihoods of African people,
3. Compare how different regions in Africa are impacted by various issues (i.e. HIV/AIDS),
4. Write a research project grant using standard grant writing format,
5. Integrate research and policy in a policy paper which both informs and advises development actions.

Reading Materials:
Required Texts:
Ghazvinian, John. 2007. Untapped: the scramble for Africa's oil. Harcourt, Inc.
Holloway, Kris. 2006. Monique and the Mango Rains. Waveland Press.
Epstein, Helen. 2007. The Invisible Cure. Farrar, Straus and Giroux.

These are all available for purchase at UNC Student Stores and online.

Other materials will be available online via Blackboard or through the UNC library Reserve system.

Expectations and Assignments:

Expectations

Because discussion and participation is a large component of this course, regular attendance is required. All students should come prepared with 2 discussion questions from that day's readings. The schedule at the end of this syllabus is probable but some readings are subject to change: be sure to check on Blackboard for the most up to date information on readings.

Additionally, students will be required to lead class discussion at least one time during the semester, in groups of around 4 students. After we have distributed the days / topics, we will talk about how to extend the readings/topics into a group activity or discussion.

The writing assignments in this course revolve around a project/development area which is of interest to you. They are designed to prepare you both for future research (how do we ask and answer questions?) and future employment (grant writing and policy proposals).

First, you will prepare an annotated bibliography on the topic you are interested. An annotated bibliography is a short description and evaluation of a reading. Here is the UNC Writing Center's description of an annotated bibliography: http://www.unc.edu/depts/wcweb/handouts/annotated_bibliographies.html and here is a good example online: http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/614/02/. The purpose of this assignment is to jump start your research into the study area you intend to write your policy memo and grand proposal addressing. You should have at least 10 articles/sources summarized and evaluated, at least 5 of which should be scholarly. The others might be a combination of newspaper articles, reports from development agencies, etc.

The policy memo is a paper written for a specific committee or group leader (boss) outlining the major points of interest on a topic and providing a recommendation of action for the organization or committee. In the working world these can be variable in length—for the purposes of this class 3 pages (single spaced) is sufficient. The form makes full use of bullets, headings and outline to briefly summarize the issues and provide recommendations. Examples and more in-depth instructions can be found on the course Blackboard site.

Grant proposals have a slightly different goal as the writer must be focused on obtaining funding from a grant-disbursing organization. For this assignment, you will write your grant addressing a research question, not project money for a development project. While the policy memo is focused on what is going on and what the group should do about it, the grant proposal must convince the donor organization that the question being asked is relevant, the solution to it is reasonable, feasible and most importantly will solve or answer the intended question. A more detailed description of this assignment is available on the course website. For the purpose of this assignment, the grant proposal should be limited to 3 pages single spaced.

There are 2 exams/quizes in this course: a map quiz, covering nations and regions of Africa; and a final exam of short answer and essays, based on lectures and discussions.

Point distribution:

10% Participation includes developing and leading discussion/group activity as well as weekly discussion questions
10% Map / Geography Quiz: September 9.
15% Annotated Bibliography: Due October 2
20% Policy Memo: Due October 21
5% Research Proposal outline: Due November 11
20% Research Proposal: Due December 4
20% Final Exam: December 17 @ 4pm.

Papers are due by 5pm on the dates listed in this syllabus. In order to make the deadline you can mail it in electronically, but they will not be graded until a hard copy of the paper has been submitted.

Grading Scale:
The grades will be determined as followed:

A: 93 and above	B-: 80-82	D+: 67-69
A-: 90-92	C+: 77-79	D: 63-56
B+: 87-89	C: 73-76	D-: 60-62
B: 83-86	C-: 70-72	F: below 60

Course listserv—there is a listserv for this course, 266fall09@listserv.unc.edu If you have not been added to it by early next week, please let me know.

Tentative Schedule

Week 1. (August 26) Overview and Geography of Africa

1. Chapter from Prunier book (Blackboard)
2. Review Millennium Development Goals (http://www.un.org/millenniumgoals/)

Week 2. (September 2) Geographic overview of Africa continued.

1. Stock, chpts 3-6 (Blackboard)

Week 3. (September 9) Population Studies MAP QUIZ

1. Gordon, April. 2005. Population, urbanization and AIDS. Pp 203-222 (Blackboard)
2. Mazzucato and Niemeijer. 2002. Population growth and the environment in Africa: local informal institutions, the missing link. Economic Geography (Blackboard)

Week 4. (September 16) Health: Food production

1. Rukini, Mandivamba. 2002. Africa: Addressing growing threats to food security. The Journal of Nutrition. (Blackboard)
2. Wambugu, Florence. 1999. Why Africa needs agricultural biotechnology. Nature (Blackboard)
3. Mittal, A. and M. Moore, eds. 2009. Voices from Africa: African farmers and environmentalists speak out against a new green revolution in Africa.
4. Something TBA about the ongoing global land grab. It's a hot topic and I'd like to assign the latest news.

Week 5. (September 23) Health: Food insecurity and food aid

1. Haile, Mengestab. 2005. Weather patterns, food security and humanitarian response in Sub-Saharan Africa. Philos Trans R Soc Lond B Biol Sci. http://www.pubmedcentral.nih.gov/articlerender.fcgi?artid=1569582
2. Christopher B. Barrett and Daniel G. Maxwell, "So Who Benefits?" in Food Aid After Fifty Years (London: Routledge, 2005), pp. 87-106 (Blackboard)
3. Zerbe, Noah. 2004. Feeding the famine? American food aid and the GMO debate in Southern Africa. Food Policy. (Blackboard)

Week 6. (September 30) Health: Maternal and Child Health

1. Thaddeus and Main. 1994. "Too far to walk: maternal mortality in context" (Blackboard)
2. Monique and the Mango Rains

Annotated Bibliography due by end of week 6 (October 2)

Week 7. (October 7) Health: HIV/AIDS

1. Epstein, Helen. 2007. The Invisible Cure, selected chpts
2. Gordon, Alice. 2005. Pp 223-230 (Blackboard)
3. Whiteside. 2003. New Variant Famine: AIDS and food crisis in Southern Africa. Lancet (Blackboard)

Week 8. (October 14) Health: Malaria, Health subsection wrap up.

1. Packard, Randall. 2008. Pp 177-251 from The Making of a Tropical Disease (Library Reserve)

Week 9. (October 21) (Fall Break starts at 5pm)

1. Policy Memo Due before Break.

Week 10. (October 28) Environment: Oil

1. Ghazvinian, 2007. Untapped. (Whole book)

Week 11. (November 4) Environment: Mineral wealth

1. South Africa: paying the price for mining. http://allafrica.com/stories/200802150815.html
2. Kimani, Mary. 2009. Mining to profit Africa's people. http://www.un.org/ecosocdev/geninfo/afrec//vol23no1/231-mining.html
3. TBA, probably about the DRC.

Week 12: (November 11) Environment: Water resources

1. Mbonile, 2007. Population, Migration, and Water Conflicts in the Pangani River Basin, Tanzania. Pp20-29 http://www.wilsoncenter.org/topics/pubs/ECSP_report_12.pdf
2. Showers, Kate. 2002. Water Scarcity and Urban Africa: An Overview of Urban–Rural Water Linkages (Blackboard)
3. http://www.unesco.org/water/wwap/facts_figures/basic_needs.shtml
4. TBA

Research Proposal Outline Due In CLASS

Week 13: (November 18) Environment: Conservation

1. Garland, Elizabeth. 2008. The Elephant in the Room: confronting the colonial character of wildlife conservation in Africa. African Studies Review
2. Fa, J. et al 2003. Bushmeat and food security in the Congo Basin: linkages between wildlife and people's future. Environmental Conservation (Blackboard)
3. Carius, 2007. Environmental Peacebuilding: Conditions for Success, pp 59-75 http://www.wilsoncenter.org/topics/pubs/ECSP_report_12.pdf
4. Wolmer, 2003. Transboundary conservation: the politics of ecological integrity in the Great Limpopo Transfrontier Park (Blackboard)

Thanksgiving break November 25—No classes

Week 14: (December 2) Impact of climate change on all of the above!

1. Regional Impacts of Climate Change on Africa. Executive summary. http://www.grida.no/publications/other/ipcc_sr/?src=/climate/ipcc/regional/006.htm
2. JotoAfrika, 2009. Adapting to Change in Africa.
3. TBA

Research Proposal Due by End of Week 14 (December 4)

Week 15: (December 9) Wrap-up: where do we go from here?

1. Wisner et al., Chapter 13: Agenda for Action

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of anne_whisnant@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, August 26, 2009 8:21 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Distinguished Alumna/us Awards Nominations Sought

---

Dear Colleagues:

The Faculty Committee on Honorary Degrees and Special Awards invites nominations for Distinguished Alumna and Alumnus Awards to be presented at the October 12, 2010, University Day ceremony. A maximum of five awards is authorized by the enabling faculty legislation. Those so honored are nominated by the committee, recommended by the Faculty Council, and approved by the Board of Trustees.

Awards are not conferred in absentia or posthumously.

Please include appropriate biographical information and a statement in support of the nomination. Your statement should demonstrate that the nominee has made an outstanding contribution to humanity in any walk of life. Nominators often seek supporting letters from others, but the content of such letters, not their number, is what counts. Go to http://www.unc.edu/faculty/faccoun/honorary/DAA/DAAroster.shtml for the roster of previous recipients.

Nominations must be received in the Office of Faculty Governance no later than Wednesday, October 14, 2009. Please send materials to:

Office of Faculty Governance
CB# 9170
Fax: 919-962-5479
Email: anne_whisnant@unc.edu

Nominees must be alumni of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. This is defined as including all persons who were registered for at least one full academic year as a student in residence in any college or school of the University. In general, anyone listed in the General Alumni Association's Alumni Directory is eligible except members of the University faculty, staff, and administration. They become eligible two years after separation from the University.

Members of the Committee on Honorary Degrees and Special Awards are Professors Jan Yopp, Chair; Bland Simpson, Etta Pisano, Robert Anthony, Gene Nichol, Werner Reiss, and Joseph Ferrell (ex officio). Please contact me or any other member of the committee if you have questions about eligibility or process.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph S. Ferrell
Secretary of the Faculty

This email is sponsored by: Office of Faculty Governance

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 26, 2009 9:01 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: PlayMakers Offers 10% off 0910 Season

---

PlayMakers is offering UNC faculty and staff 10% off the cost of single tickets for our 0910 season. For more information visit the link below.

http://www.playmakersrep.org/tickets/facstaffdisc.aspx

Join us for our most exciting season yet with Mike Daisey's THE LAST CARGO CULT, OPUS, THE LIFE AND ADVENTURES OF NICHOLAS NICKLEBY, THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST, and much, much more!

This email is sponsored by: PlayMakers Repertory Company

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chanee_lynch@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 26, 2009 9:23 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Mindfulness Survey-Enter to Win $30!

Do you have experience with MINDFULNESS MEDITATION?

Cheryl L. Woods-Giscombi, PhD, RN and her research team are seeking AFRICAN AMERICAN ADULTS who have past or current training in mindfulness meditation to participate in a brief survey and interview. We would like to know what you think about meditation and how it might help people manage stress and improve health.

Research participants will be entered into a drawing for $30. If you would like to share your views with us, please contact us by phone at 919.966.8586 or by email at faurot@med.unc.edu.

IRB #: 09-0364
UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board
Date Approved: 5/14/2009

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 26, 2009 10:56 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: CPR Classes Offered Now

The American Red Cross Club at UNC-Chapel Hill will be offering CPR certification classes this semester. Classes will be offered at on-campus locations for both students and faculty.

The class will certify you in American Red Cross Adult CPR. The class will last approximately 3 to 3.5 hours. To enroll in a class, for more information, or to get involved, email unchealthandsafety@gmail.com.

This email is sponsored by: American Red Cross Club

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of algoe@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, August 26, 2009 11:33 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: In a romantic relationship?Participate in a UNC research study with your partner

---

What makes romantic relationships work? Help us find out!

You are invited to participate in a new scientific research study designed to understand what makes relationships work. Whether you are in a blissful relationship, think your relationship could use a boost, or if you think you have a perfectly "normal" relationship, we are interested in what you have to say.

People who have been involved in a heterosexual romantic relationship for at least one year (no upper limit), and have been living with their partner for at least 6 months are eligible to participate in the study with their romantic partner. Each couple will be compensated with up to $120 for their participation, with chances to receive gift certificates ($50 to $100) to a local restaurant.

After an initial online questionnaire (20-30 minutes), the study involves two 75-90 minute visits to our laboratory on the UNC campus, four weeks apart. In the lab, at the beginning and end of the study, we will record your physiology and interactions with your romantic partner, and will collect samples of your saliva to measure your naturally-occurring hormone levels. During the intervening four week period, we'll ask you to provide a snapshot of your everyday life by responding to a brief (3-5 minute) questionnaire online each night. Finally, on 4 to 6 occasions during this four week period, we will ask you to supplement your normal, everyday interactions with your partner by setting aside 20-30 minutes to talk alone together. The second lab session will allow us to assess the role that these different factors play in your relationship, and to answer any additional questions you have. We anticipate that time spent in this study with your partner and in answering private questionnaires will average less than 6.5 hours over the course of the month.

We would love to hear from you, and we would be more than happy to give you further information about the study. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you would like more information, or would like to sign up for the study: UNC.Relationships.Study@gmail.com, or 919-843-0092.

For measurement purposes, in addition to the above, you are NOT eligible for this study if you:
- Are under 24 years old.
- Are currently taking antidepressants or have been recently diagnosed with depression or an anxiety disorder.
- Are a woman who is: over 40, postmenopausal, pregnant (or plan to become pregnant during the course of the study), within 6 months postpartum, nursing (lactating), or have had an oophorectomy (i.e., ovaries must be intact).
- Are a man on steroid medication.

We look forward to hearing from you, and will return your email or phone call as soon as possible. Sessions will begin immediately.

Sincerely,
Sara Algoe, Ph.D. and Barbara Fredrickson, Ph.D.
Department of Psychology

Principal Investigators, Understanding Romantic Relationships Study

p.s. This study is being conducted through the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill Psychology Department, and has been approved by the UNC-CH Behavioral Institutional Review Board (09-0409, on 4/6/09).

This email is sponsored by: Department of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, August 27, 2009 8:16 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: 2009-2010 Men's Basketball Season Tickets

---

Dear Carolina Basketball Fan:

As fall approaches, it's time for another exciting year of Carolina Men's Basketball. In addition to eight ACC opponents, the Tar Heels will host ten non-conference opponents.

As a member of the Carolina family, we would like to extend to you the opportunity to purchase season tickets or an attractive half-season package. Season tickets (18 home games) for the 2009-2010 season are $610.00 and the nine game package (4 conference/5 non-conference games) costs $425.00. No more than two tickets may be purchased per family, even if both husband and wife are employees of the University or UNC Hospitals.

If you ordered season or half-season basketball tickets in 2008-2009, a renewal application has been mailed to the address to which last year's season tickets were sent. If you are new to UNC or did not order season or half-season basketball tickets in 2008-2009, you may pick up an application at the Smith Center Ticket Office by presenting your UNC OneCard or UNC Hospitals ID. Please note that the UNC Athletic Ticket Office is now located in the ground floor of the new Ernie Williamson Athletic Center, adjacent to Koury Natatorium. You may also use the renewal application to purchase tickets to the exhibition game versus Belmont Abbey, which is not a part of the season ticket package. You may also purchase tickets for the Coaches vs. Cancer tournament to be played at Madison Square Garden in New York City on November 19 and 20. Tickets are $100 a piece and will include a ticket for both semifinal games, the consolation game and the championship game. The Tar Heels will be joined by Ohio State, Syracuse and California-Berkeley in the tournament.
Faculty and staff season tickets are not guaranteed. The Ticket Office will make every attempt to fulfill each order. Orders may be reduced from a full-season to a half-season or may not be fulfilled at all, based on faculty/staff priority points. You will be refunded the difference if your order is unable to be completely fulfilled. The Ticket Office will contact you after the September 11th deadline if your order is adjusted or cancelled. Faculty and staff tickets are assigned based on a points system that takes into account years of service at the University and years of ordering tickets.

Please do not use campus mail to send your application and payment. In order to receive your faculty/staff ticket priority, the UNC Athletic Ticket Office must receive your ticket order form no later than September 11, 2009. For after hours delivery, please use the secure drop-box to the right of the ticket windows.

We look forward to seeing you at the Smith Center this season as we tip-off a new season of CAROLINA BASKETBALL!

This email is sponsored by: Athletics

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated
that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass
email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at
https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, August 28, 2009 12:19 PM
To: Lori Autumn Rezzouk <lori_rezzouk@unc.edu>; Eunice Sahle <eunice@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Adam Kent <akent@unc.edu>; Patrick J Mortell <mortell@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Sahle as instructor for AFRI 416S

Hi to all. This is now taken care of. Sorry everyone had to get involved. She should have access to Blackboard after midnight (our time). dc

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, August 28, 2009 2:29 PM
To: Steven Dobbins <sdobbins@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Re: Thanks again.

Hey Steve. I am the one who should be thanking you. You have always been a huge help to me and to my department. I hope they don't harass you too much in the future. I will miss everyone. If there is ever anything that needs to be clarified, Travis will know how to contact me. Take good care. Debby

Steven Dobbins wrote:
> Debby-
> August is almost over!
> Thanks again for all you've done and best wishes to you!
> Regards,
> Steve D.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, August 28, 2009 7:00 PM
To: afam faculty <african-and-afro-american-studies-faculty@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: adam kent <akent@unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Spring textbooks

Hi all. The deadline for spring textbook orders is September 25 and will be coming up before you know it. If you have any difficulty with the online ordering procedure, Travis should be able to assist you. Debby

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of troyb@email.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, August 28, 2009 8:24 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: ACL injury research

The UNC-CH Neuromuscular Research Laboratory is conducting a study on how the hamstring muscles protect the knee joint. Specifically, we're interested in how hamstring muscle stiffness potentially protects the anterior cruciate ligament. We are recruiting volunteer subjects for participation in this study. Subjects will receive $25 for participation which will involve three different tests lasting approximately one hour. These tests include 1) maximal contraction of the hamstrings muscles, 2) hamstring muscle stiffness, and 3) knee joint stability. There are some risks associated with participating in this study, but they are not greater than those associated with normal physical activity such as running or playing basketball.

If you choose to participate, you will have small sensors attached to your right leg while you perform the three different tests. These devices will be used to measure muscle activity and joint motions during each activity.

To be eligible to participate in this study, you must meet the following criteria:
1. Age 18 - 30
2. No history of lower extremity surgery
3. No history of ACL injury
4. No history of neurological disorder
5. No history of injury to either leg within 6 months prior to data collection
6. Physically active, participating in at least 20 minutes of physical activity a minimum of 3 times weekly

If you have any questions regarding this study, or if you meet the aforementioned inclusion criteria and are interested in participating please contact us at troyb@email.unc.edu.

This study was approved by the UNC-CH Biomedical Institutional Review Board on August 5, 2009 (IRB# 09-1275).

J. Troy Blackburn, PhD, ATC
Assistant Professor, Department of Exercise & Sport Science
Adjunct Assistant Research Professor, Department of Orthopaedics
Director, Neuromuscular Research Laboratory
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

This email is sponsored by: Neuromuscular Research Laboratory

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: tjm1 <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Sunday, August 30, 2009 6:55 PM
To: Geraldine Taylor <GTAYLOR@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius E Nyang Oro <JEN321@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Danna M Richards <danna_richards@unc.edu>; Adam S Kent <akent@unc.edu>
Subject: Debby Crowder delaying retirement for one more month

---

Dear Ms. Taylor,

Due to the unavoidable delay of the return of our chair, Julius Nyang'oro, from Africa this semester we have decided that it is prudent and necessary to the department to delay Debby Crowder's retirement as department manager until the end of September. There are a number of personnel, budget, and student services issues that we have yet to resolve. The attention of both Ms. Crowder and our chair will be required to address these important issues and to allow for a smooth transition to a new department manager. Debby has graciously and generously agreed to delay her retirement for one more month.

Please do not remove Debby from the payroll at this time.

If you have any questions please contact me or Ms. Crowder.

Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter.

Tim McMillan
Associate Chair and Adjunct Assistant Professor
Department of African and Afro-American Studies

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Sunday, August 30, 2009 8:17 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Serving Students with Disabilities

TO: All Faculty, EPA Non-Faculty and Staff Employees

FROM: Bruce Carney, Interim Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

DATE: August 31, 2009

RE: Serving Students with Disabilities

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is committed to make its programs and facilities accessible to students with disabilities. Students who seek reasonable accommodation for disabilities are required to identify themselves to the Department of Disability Services whose staff will inform and work with the students about the process to become eligible to receive assistance.

In an effort to assist their students, individual faculty members and departments or professional schools may want to provide accommodations to students who have not identified themselves to Disability Services. When approached by a student who seeks an accommodation based on a disability or temporary medical condition, please refer the student to Disability Services who will work with you and the student to determine what, if any, accommodations would be reasonable, and assist with implementation.

Proctoring Examinations - In addition to proctoring examinations as an accommodation for students with disabilities, the Department is prepared to assist faculty in proctoring make-up examinations for students who miss a scheduled examinations due to unforeseen medical reasons or observance of religious holidays (based on individual faculty examination make-up policy).

The mission of the Department is to work with faculty and staff to provide students with disabilities equal access to University services, programs, and activities. In identifying and addressing academic issues and needs, the Department of Disability Services partners with the Academic Success Program for Students with LD/ADHD (see: http://www.unc.edu/depts/lds/) Dr. Theresa Maitland, Coordinator, which is part of the Learning Center (see: http://www.unc.edu/depts/acadserv/learn.html) Dr. Martha Keever, Director.

The Department of Disability Services is located in Suite 2126 in the Student Academic Services Building (SASB), between the Rams Center and Morrison Residence Hall. The staff can be contacted at 919.962.8300 (V/T), email at disabilityservices@unc.edu, or through the web at http://disabilityservices.unc.edu. Jim Kessler is the Director.

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance in this matter.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Monday, August 31, 2009 6:21 PM
To: Timothy J. McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyangoro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Adam Kent <akent@unc.edu>
Subject: disabled access "inspection"

Folks will be here at some point tomorrow to check on the accessibility of the building. Everything should be in place but if you see folks wandering, that is the deal. dc

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Monday, August 31, 2009 8:47 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

This is an internal search and open only to current employees of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and expressions of interest in the position of Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs. The University seeks a highly respected, dynamic and experienced leader who can articulate a clear vision for student affairs and who will work jointly with students, faculty, and staff throughout the University. The Division of Student Affairs is responsible for assisting in creating and maintaining an institutional climate that fosters student learning and development while enhancing a strong sense of community for a student body of over 28,000.

As the principal administrative leader for Student Affairs, the Vice Chancellor oversees the development of policy, programs, and services that promote learning both inside and outside the classroom. The Division serves undergraduate, graduate and professional school populations.

Responsibilities include supervision of 12 major departments: Campus Health Services, Campus Recreation, Campus Y, Carolina Union, University Career Services, Counseling and Wellness Services, Dean of Students, Disability Services, Housing and Residential Education, Information Technology, LGBTQ Center, and New Student and Carolina Parent Programs.

The Division of Student Affairs includes approximately 360 permanent employees, over 1200 student staff, and has an annual operating budget of over $80 million. Budget is primarily supported through student fees and housing rentals. The Division manages approximately one-third of the buildings on the campus.

As a senior administrative leader, the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and serves on the Chancellor's Cabinet.

Qualifications of the successful candidate should include:
* A strong vision for and commitment to student development and a quality student experience in a large, public, research university.
* Excellent administrative skills including strategic planning and evaluation, budgeting, personnel management, facilities management, fundraising and public relations.
* An ability to work collaboratively and effectively with student government, academic affairs, and multiple administrative units throughout the campus.
* A distinguished record of progressive leadership in an academic setting.
* Excellent communication skills.
* Knowledge of major issues facing today's college students and their education.
* An earned doctorate or terminal degree.

Inquiries may be addressed to Ms. Sarah Michalak, CB # 3900, UNC Chapel

Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3900, by calling (919) 962-1301, or by email to smichala@email.unc.edu. Nominations may be sent to Ms. Sarah Michalak c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu

The University encourages nominations of and applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities

Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position and a curriculum vitae that includes the names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses of five references. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be directly solicited for permission before references are contacted.

All applications must be submitted electronically. To apply, go to

http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2009 and will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is June, 2010.

The University of North Carolina is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 31, 2009 10:26 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Be an ally for survivors of sexual assault and relationship violence

---

The Office of the Dean of Students, the Interpersonal Violence Prevention Coordinator, and the Carolina Women's Center offer HAVEN (Helping to Advocate Violence Ending Now) training opportunities throughout the semester. HAVEN helps UNC Faculty, Staff, and Students learn how to respond in a meaningful way to sexual and relationship violence in our campus community and to become informed allies. By attending HAVEN training, you help to create multiple safe spaces around the campus for Carolina students to obtain information, engage in discussion, and receive referrals.

You will leave the training with basic information about sexual and relationship violence, how to respond in a helpful way, what resources are available on campus, and what you can do about sexual violence in the Carolina community. You will receive a sign for your door which identifies you as a HAVEN member.

Training schedules and registration information are available at http://womenscenter.unc.edu/index.php?p=haven.

For more information, please contact Ashley Fogle at fogle@unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of dbickford@unc.edu
Sent: Monday, August 31, 2009 11:34 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Campus Lactation Space

Here are the lactation spaces that are currently available on campus:

School of Public Health
2 hospital-grade breast pumps available
422A Rosenau Hall
Sue Cotcamp
966-5978

Carolina Women's Center
1 hospital-grade breast pump available
215 W. Cameron Avenue
Carriage House
962-8305

Carolina Union, Room 3200
Keys available at main information desk
962-2286
No pump available

Murphy Hall, Room 004
Keys available in Room 212 (must have UNC OneCard)
962-7191
No pump available

Wilson Hall
Room G 32
Code available from Jason in room B 31
No pump available

School of Education, Peabody Hall
Room 212 C
The room should always be open but, if for any reason the room is locked, the Business Office or the Dean's office, will open the room.

Center for Women's Health Research
104B Market Street
(Southern Village)
919-843-7720
No pump available

Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center
Wendy Sarratt
966-8643
wendy_sarratt@unc.edu
No pump available
Note: Curtained space in shower room in first floor restroom
Push door to open.

If you have any questions, please contact Aimee Krans, Work/Life Manager, at 962-6008.

This email is sponsored by: Carolina Women's Center

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of esswein@email.unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 12:06 AM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: UNC Men's Crew RentaRower

Dear UNC Faculty and Staff,

The UNC Men's Crew Team is a student run athletic team with over 60 student athletes. Due to significant costs of our sport, the team participates in various fund raising events throughout the year including the Rent-a-Rower Program. The Rent-A-Rower program was designed to provide our team the opportunity to become involved with our community while simultaneously working towards achieving our fundraising goals.

For anyone who is unfamiliar with our program, crew members provide you with extra labor in exchange for your donation to help support our club. We are happy to offer assistance to anyone who needs help moving, has extra yard work, or has odd jobs around the house. We charge $15 / hour per rower. To schedule your rower (or for more information), email rentarower@gmail.com and please provide the following:

* Your Name
* Phone Number
* Address
* Desired Jobs
* Number of crew members
* Approximate number of hours
* Date(s) you'd be available

If you choose to support our program, please make out checks to "UNC Men's Crew." Also, unless you ask otherwise, we only supply labor and assume that you can provide the necessary tools.

We always appreciate your support. Thank you.

Chuck Esswein

University of North Carolina 2012

UNC Men's Crew Rent-a-Rower Coordinator

This email is sponsored by: UNC Men's Crew

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 12:55 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Timothy J. McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: ConnectCarolina Schedule of Classes Training]
Attach: ConnectCarolina Schedule of Classes Training.eml (2.19 KB).msg

---

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 2:12 PM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius E Nyang Oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; nzongola@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; mseck@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Afro-Venezuelan Visitors

Hello to All:

Bereket has mentioned that a group of AFAM faculty might be interested in sitting down with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro Correa from the Instituto Universitario de Barlovento (IUB) of Venezuela, a historically Black institution that will be hosting a study abroad program through the Stone Center in the Fall. Both Geronimo and Alejandro are members of the executive committee of the Afro-Venezuelan Network, a coalition of organizations that has been in the forefront of the fight for inclusion of Afro-Venezuelans in the socio-cultural and political life of the nation. IUB is located in the Barlovento region on the Caribbean coast, an area that, historically, been home to a large number of the 14% of Venezuelans identified as African descendants.

Geronimo, director of IUB, is a member of the government commission tasked with ensuring that Afro-Venezuelans are included and benefit from all levels of higher education. He is the co-founder of the Africa (endowed) Chair in the Bolivarian University System which is intended to integrate the teaching of African Studies and Afro-Venezuelan Studies into university curriculums. He and Alejandro were Venezuelan reps to the World Social Forum in Kenya in 2007.

Alejandro, assistant director of IUB, is a graduate of Hamline University in Minnesota and has also finished training at the Pedro Gual Institute for Higher Diplomatic Studies. Alejandro will be acting as co-director of the study abroad program with us.

They both can talk with us about plans for IUB as well as their work to push the government to work more closely with African nations. Venezuela has opened 12 new embassies/consular offices in Africa over the past 5 years, because of, in part, their efforts to encourage these closer relationships. Alejandro also helped to organize the city of Caracas' placing a statue of Martin Luther King, Jr., on the City's Walk of Heroes.

If you are interested in meeting and talking with them and the proposed student and faculty exchanges we would be willing to host a luncheon or earlier coffee meeting on Friday, Sept. 4 at 9 am, 10 am, 11 am or noon.
Alternatively we could hold a later session on Tuesday, Sept. 8 after 5 pm.

The final possible date would be Monday September 14 at any time during the day. We would be willing to hold 2 sessions for those interested, if one time is not feasible.

Thanks!

Joseph

Joseph Jordan
Assoc. Prof., Director
Sonja Haynes Stone Center
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
(919) 962-9001
jfjordan@email.unc.edu

From: bselassi <bselassi@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 5:17 PM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius E Nyang Oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; nzongola@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; mseck@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Afro-Venezuelan Visitors

Joseph,

Thank you for this. It would indeed be a great pity if we did not take advantage of the presence among us of these brothers/colleagues to learn more about some of the exciting things going on in Venezuela. And I thank you for the initiative, and hope that our other colleagues agree with hosting such a meeting as you have suggested and generosuly offered to convene.

Warm regards,

Bereket

On Tue, 1 Sep 2009 14:11:47 -0400, Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu> wrote:
> Hello to All:
>
> Bereket has mentioned that a group of AFAM faculty might be > interested in sitting down with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro Correa > from the Instituto Universitario de Barlovento (IUB) of Venezuela, a > historically Black institution that will be hosting a study abroad > program through the Stone Center in the Fall. Both Geronimo and > Alejandro are members of the executive committee of the Afro-> Venezuelan Network, a coalition of organizations that has been in the > forefront of the fight for inclusion of Afro-Venezuelans in the socio> cultural and political life of the nation. IUB is located in the > Barlovento region on the Caribbean coast, an area that, historically, > been home to a large number of the 14% of Venezuelans identified as > African descendants.
>
> Geronimo, director of IUB, is a member of the government commission > tasked with ensuring that Afro-Venezuelans are included and benefit > from all levels of higher education. He is the co-founder of the > Africa (endowed) Chair in the Bolivarian University System which is > intended to integrate the teaching of African Studies and Afro-> Venezuelan Studies into university curriculums. He and Alejandro were > Venezuelan reps to the World Social Forum in Kenya in 2007.
>
> Alejandro, assistant director of IUB, is a graduate of Hamline
> University in Minnesota and has also finished training at the Pedro

> Gual Institute for Higher Diplomatic Studies. Alejandro will be > acting as co-director of the study abroad program with us.
>
> They both can talk with us about plans for IUB as well as their work
> to push the government to work more closely with African nations.
> Venezuela has opened 12 new embassies/consular offices in Africa over > the past 5 years, because of, in part, their efforts to encourage > these closer relationships. Alejandro also helped to organize the > city of Caracas' placing a statue of Martin Luther King, Jr., on the > City's Walk of Heroes.
>
> If you are interested in meeting and talking with them and the > proposed student and faculty exchanges we would be willing to host a > luncheon or earlier coffee meeting on Friday, Sept. 4 at 9 am, 10 am, > 11 am or noon.
> Alternatively we could hold a later session on Tuesday, Sept. 8 after
> 5 pm.
>
> The final possible date would be Monday September 14 at any time > during the day. We would be willing to hold 2 sessions for those > interested, if one time is not feasible.
>
> Thanks!
>
> Joseph
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> Joseph Jordan
> Assoc. Prof., Director
> Sonja Haynes Stone Center
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> (919) 962-9001
> jfjordan@email.unc.edu

From: Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 6:17 PM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius E Nyang Oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; nzongola@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; mseck@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Afro-Venezuelan Visitors

Joseph,
Thank you for this invitation. I think a meeting with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro Correa is a wonderful idea. My best days to meet are Tuesday, Sept. 8 or Monday, Sept. 14.

Best,
Kia

Joseph Jordan wrote:
>
>
> Hello to All:
>
> Bereket has mentioned that a group of AFAM faculty might be interested > in sitting down with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro Correa from the > Instituto Universitario de Barlovento (IUB) of Venezuela, a > historically Black institution that will be hosting a study abroad > program through the Stone Center in the Fall. Both Geronimo and > Alejandro are members of the executive committee of the > Afro-Venezuelan Network, a coalition of organizations that has been in > the forefront of the fight for inclusion of Afro-Venezuelans in the > socio-cultural and political life of the nation. IUB is located in the > Barlovento region on the Caribbean coast, an area that, historically, > been home to a large number of the 14% of Venezuelans identified as > African descendants.
>
> Geronimo, director of IUB, is a member of the government commission > tasked with ensuring that Afro-Venezuelans are included and benefit > from all levels of higher education. He is the co-founder of the > Africa (endowed) Chair in the Bolivarian University System which is > intended to integrate the teaching of African Studies and > Afro-Venezuelan Studies into university curriculums. He and Alejandro > were Venezuelan reps to the World Social Forum in Kenya in 2007.
>
> Alejandro, assistant director of IUB, is a graduate of Hamline
> University in Minnesota and has also finished training at the Pedro > Gual Institute for Higher Diplomatic Studies. Alejandro will be acting > as co-director of the study abroad program with us.
>
> They both can talk with us about plans for IUB as well as their work
> to push the government to work more closely with African nations.
> Venezuela has opened 12 new embassies/consular offices in Africa over > the past 5 years, because of, in part, their efforts to encourage > these closer relationships. Alejandro also helped to organize the city > of Caracas' placing a statue of Martin Luther King, Jr., on the City's > Walk of Heroes.

>
> If you are interested in meeting and talking with them and the > proposed student and faculty exchanges we would be willing to host a > luncheon or earlier coffee meeting on Friday, Sept. 4 at 9 am, 10 am, > 11 am or noon.
> Alternatively we could hold a later session on Tuesday, Sept. 8 after
> 5 pm.
>
> The final possible date would be Monday September 14 at any time > during the day. We would be willing to hold 2 sessions for those > interested, if one time is not feasible.
>
> Thanks!
>
> Joseph
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> Joseph Jordan
> Assoc. Prof., Director
> Sonja Haynes Stone Center
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> (919) 962-9001
> jfjordan@email.unc.edu
>
>
>

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 6:34 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: thanks

Thanks for the biscuit and for the help. dc

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 1, 2009 8:25 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Workplace Violence Policy Updated

The Office of Human Resources has updated the University's Workplace Violence Policy to include revisions to the State's policy.

The revised policy, effective Sept. 1, 2009, is available on the Office of Human Resources Web site at http://hr.unc.edu/Data/SPA/employeerelations/harassment/violence.

The major changes to the policy include:

- The addition of definitions and coverage for domestic violence, stalking and bullying.

- Language regarding coverage of off-duty violent conduct that may have an adverse impact on the University and its employees, students, vendors and guests.

- Information on which University administrative divisions to contact to report a possible incident of violence.

- Revisions to the Workplace Violence Reporting Form to match the revised policy, and clarification that Reporting Forms should be completed and sent to the Employee & Management Relations Division of the Office of Human Resources as soon as practicable, generally within two business days of the incident.

In addition, this revised policy includes language regarding reasonable support the University will offer to victims of workplace violence to ensure their needs, along with the University's needs, are appropriately addressed.

If you have questions regarding this policy, contact Employee & Management Relations in the Office of Human Resources at 843-3444.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 1, 2009 9:14 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Priority Registration for Spring 2010

In December 2007 the Faculty Council of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill adopted a Policy for Priority Registration. The University Registrar announces the membership of the Priority Registration Advisory Committee and the process and timeline for submitting requests for priority registration on behalf of student groups FOR SPRING EARLY REGISTRATION.

The official responsible for students who are potentially eligible for priority registration will send the Registrar an application form along with a list of students who are recommended for priority registration NOT LATER THAN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 2009. Complete details are available on the Registrar's website. (http://regweb.unc.edu/resources/prac.php)

This email is sponsored by: Office of the University Registrar

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 1, 2009 9:58 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Opportunity to participate in a NEW online research study!

ONLINE Diarrhea Prevention (DIP) Study

The Center for Functional GI and Motility Disorders invites you to participate in an online research study on the symptoms of diarrhea. The purpose of the study is to learn whether a person can predict when they are going to have an episode of diarrhea.

The study will involve filling out several questionnaires online about your bowel symptoms.

To participate, you must be 18 years of age or older and have daily access to the internet. You must also have experienced diarrhea for at least the last 6 months, and you must have had at least one mushy or watery stool per month for the past 3 months.

If you are eligible, you may also be invited to participate in an online diary study which involves keeping track of your diarrhea symptoms by logging into a secure website each day. You will have a unique study ID and password to ensure your responses are anonymous and confidential. There are no visits to UNC required. The study lasts for 60 days (2 months). You will receive $60 each month for completing the study. In addition, if you complete your diaries without skipping any days, you will receive an additional $60/month. Therefore, you may receive up to $240 for participating in this study.

To determine if you are eligible, please click on the following link and respond to the screening questions:
https://uncfunctionalgi.net/dipstudy.html.

If you have any questions, please contact Marsha Turner at mturn@med.unc.edu

Biomedical IRB # 09-0506
Approved 3/30/09

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of clinic@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 2, 2009 12:02 AM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Concerned about your child or adolescent?

We offer psychological assessment and treatment for children and adolescents who experience difficulties at home, in school, or with their peers.

Reduced fees are available based on income.

We can help with:

*Sadness or irritability
*Disruptive behavior and aggression
*Inattentiveness/hyperactivity *Mood swings and anxiety
*Conflicts with parents or peers
*Assessments for learning disorders, giftedness, and early admission to kindergarten

We are affiliated with the UNC-CH clinical psychology Ph.D. program and provide reduced fees based on income. Treatment is provided by doctoral students under the supervision of licensed psychologists who are faculty members in the Department of Psychology.

Children and adolescents are seen in our nearby off-campus location on Finley Golf Course Road with afternoon and evening appointments and readily available adjacent parking.

For more information please contact us at 919-962-6906 or clinic@unc.edu <mailto:clinic@unc.edu> or visit http://psychologyclinic.unc.edu/.

Please be aware that if the information you provide indicates that there may be abuse of a child or disabled adult, or that you or another person is in danger, we will need to respond as required by state law.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Department of Psychology Community Clinic.

This email is sponsored by: Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 2, 2009 12:54 PM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; nzongola@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; mseck@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Afro-Venezuelan Visitors

Hi Joseph:
This sounds like a very good idea. May I suggest Friday (but not at 9.)?
Best,
Julius

Joseph Jordan wrote:
>
>
> Hello to All:
>
> Bereket has mentioned that a group of AFAM faculty might be interested > in sitting down with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro Correa from the > Instituto Universitario de Barlovento (IUB) of Venezuela, a historically > Black institution that will be hosting a study abroad program through > the Stone Center in the Fall. Both Geronimo and Alejandro are members of > the executive committee of the Afro-Venezuelan Network, a coalition of > organizations that has been in the forefront of the fight for inclusion > of Afro-Venezuelans in the socio-cultural and political life of the > nation. IUB is located in the Barlovento region on the Caribbean coast, > an area that, historically, been home to a large number of the 14% of > Venezuelans identified as African descendants.
>
> Geronimo, director of IUB, is a member of the government commission > tasked with ensuring that Afro-Venezuelans are included and benefit from > all levels of higher education. He is the co-founder of the Africa > (endowed) Chair in the Bolivarian University System which is intended to > integrate the teaching of African Studies and Afro-Venezuelan Studies > into university curriculums. He and Alejandro were Venezuelan reps to > the World Social Forum in Kenya in 2007.
>
> Alejandro, assistant director of IUB, is a graduate of Hamline
> University in Minnesota and has also finished training at the Pedro Gual > Institute for Higher Diplomatic Studies. Alejandro will be acting as > co-director of the study abroad program with us.
>
> They both can talk with us about plans for IUB as well as their work to > push the government to work more closely with African nations. Venezuela > has opened 12 new embassies/consular offices in Africa over the past 5 > years, because of, in part, their efforts to encourage these closer > relationships. Alejandro also helped to organize the city of Caracas' > placing a statue of Martin Luther King, Jr., on the City's Walk of Heroes.
>
> If you are interested in meeting and talking with them and the proposed > student and faculty exchanges we would be willing to host a luncheon or > earlier coffee meeting on Friday, Sept. 4 at 9 am, 10 am, 11 am or noon.

> Alternatively we could hold a later session on Tuesday, Sept. 8 after 5 pm.
>
> The final possible date would be Monday September 14 at any time during > the day. We would be willing to hold 2 sessions for those interested, if > one time is not feasible.
>
> Thanks!
>
> Joseph
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> Joseph Jordan
> Assoc. Prof., Director
> Sonja Haynes Stone Center
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> (919) 962-9001
> jfjordan@email.unc.edu
>
>

From: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 2, 2009 1:23 PM
To: Joseph Jordan <jfjordan@email.unc.edu>
Cc: Julius E Nyang Oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>; Bereket Selassie <bselassi@email.unc.edu>; Reginald Hildebrand <hildebra@email.unc.edu>; Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>; karla <kslocum@unc.edu>; Kenneth Janken <krjanken@email.unc.edu>; Donato Fhunsu <dfhunsu21@unc.edu>; Alphonse Mutima <smutima@email.unc.edu>; Perry Hall <hallpa@email.unc.edu>; Barbara Anderson <b_anderson@unc.edu>; Michael Lambert <mlambert@email.unc.edu>; Margaret Carol Lee <leemc@email.unc.edu>; drdalet@email.unc.edu; Tim McMillan <tjm1@email.unc.edu>; nzongola@email.unc.edu; rporter@email.unc.edu; charlene regester <regester@email.unc.edu>; mseck@email.unc.edu; stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: Re: Afro-Venezuelan Visitors

Thanks to all that responded --
As it stands Bereket, Kia, Perry and Reginald are open for Monday the 14th so we will do a lunch on that day. If others are interested and want to come on that day at noon let me know and I'll get your lunch order as well.

We will meet in the conference room of the Campus Y so you'll only have to walk half the distance.

On Sep 1, 2009, at 2:11 PM, Joseph Jordan wrote:

>
>
> Hello to All:
>
> Bereket has mentioned that a group of AFAM faculty might be > interested in sitting down with Geronimo Sanchez and Alejandro > Correa from the Instituto Universitario de Barlovento (IUB) of > Venezuela, a historically Black institution that will be hosting a > study abroad program through the Stone Center in the Fall. Both > Geronimo and Alejandro are members of the executive committee of > the Afro-Venezuelan Network, a coalition of organizations that has > been in the forefront of the fight for inclusion of Afro-> Venezuelans in the socio-cultural and political life of the nation.
> IUB is located in the Barlovento region on the Caribbean coast, an > area that, historically, been home to a large number of the 14% of > Venezuelans identified as African descendants.
>
> Geronimo, director of IUB, is a member of the government commission > tasked with ensuring that Afro-Venezuelans are included and benefit > from all levels of higher education. He is the co-founder of the > Africa (endowed) Chair in the Bolivarian University System which is > intended to integrate the teaching of African Studies and Afro-> Venezuelan Studies into university curriculums. He and Alejandro > were Venezuelan reps to the World Social Forum in Kenya in 2007.
>
> Alejandro, assistant director of IUB, is a graduate of Hamline
> University in Minnesota and has also finished training at the Pedro > Gual Institute for Higher Diplomatic Studies. Alejandro will be > acting as co-director of the study abroad program with us.
>
> They both can talk with us about plans for IUB as well as their > work to push the government to work more closely with African > nations. Venezuela has opened 12 new embassies/consular offices in > Africa over the past 5 years, because of, in part, their efforts to > encourage these closer relationships. Alejandro also helped to > organize the city of Caracas' placing a statue of Martin Luther > King, Jr., on the City's Walk of Heroes.

>
> If you are interested in meeting and talking with them and the > proposed student and faculty exchanges we would be willing to host > a luncheon or earlier coffee meeting on Friday, Sept. 4 at 9 am, 10 > am, 11 am or noon.
> Alternatively we could hold a later session on Tuesday, Sept. 8 > after 5 pm.
>
> The final possible date would be Monday September 14 at any time > during the day. We would be willing to hold 2 sessions for those > interested, if one time is not feasible.
>
> Thanks!
>
> Joseph
>
>
>
>
>
>
>
> Joseph Jordan
> Assoc. Prof., Director
> Sonja Haynes Stone Center
> University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
> (919) 962-9001
> jfjordan@email.unc.edu
>
>
>

Joseph Jordan
Assoc. Prof., Director
Sonja Haynes Stone Center
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
(919) 962-9001
jfjordan@email.unc.edu

From: Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Wednesday, September 2, 2009 5:13 PM
To: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: Space in AFAM 266

Hi Debby and Travis,
I'm trying to find out what the room capacity is in Gardner 07. AFAM 266 meets there and I have a student who is interested in adding the course. I currently have 40 students registered and have a feeling that there are only 40 chairs in the class. Would you please let me know what the room capacity is?

Thanks,
Kia

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Wednesday, September 2, 2009 8:24 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: RESEARCH PARTICIPANTS NEEDED FOR STUDY ON KNOWLEDGE ABOUT TOBACCO PRODUCTS

If you:

1) are between the ages of 18-24;
2) are a smoker

then you may be eligible to participate in a new study examining tobacco-related health issues.

In this study, you will be asked about your attitudes toward various smoking-related issues and your understanding of them. For your time and participation, you will be paid $70.00. The study is being conducted by Dr. Sri Kalyanaraman at the School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

To find out more details about the study including eligibility criteria, lab location, and time of participation, please call: (919) 956-5644 or send an email to: clark086@mc.duke.edu.

* The Behavioral Institutional Review Board (Behavioral IRB) of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has approved this study on 3/31/2009 (IRB Study # 09-0561).

This email is sponsored by: Journalism and Mass Communication

This email is sponsored by: Journalism and Mass Communication

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 2, 2009 8:54 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Home Football Game Parking and Transportation

---

ATTENTION UNC STUDENTS, STAFF, AND FACULTY:

Certain lots are RESERVED for University of North Carolina home football games beginning this Saturday (September 5) and according to the following home game schedule:

- Sept. 5 vs. The Citadel at 6 p.m.
- Sept. 19 vs. East Carolina at 12 Noon
- Oct. 3 vs. Virginia
- Oct. 10 vs. Georgia Southern
- Oct. 22 vs. Florida State
- Nov. 7 vs. Duke (Homecoming)
- Nov. 14 vs. Miami

On home football Saturdays, vehicles must be removed from designated reserved lots or risk being ticketed ($20 fine) and towed ($90 - $100 fee). On these days, PLEASE DO NOT park your vehicle in the reserved game lots. If your vehicle is parked in a reserved football lot (see the link referenced below) on a home football Saturday, it will automatically be ticketed and / or towed beginning at 8 a.m. Alternate parking is available for employees, students, and hospital patients / visitors.

To see the list of lots reserved on football home game days or for list of alternate parking areas, visit the UNC Home Football Game Parking and Transportation link from the main Public Safety homepage:

http://www.dps.unc.edu

Student resident lots are reserved for students, and the Dogwood Deck is available for patients and visitors on home game days.

South Road will be restricted during ingress and egress, running one-way from Columbia Street eastward toward Country Club Road. Only valid permits, buses, and emergency vehicles will be allowed onto South Road from Columbia Street.

Ridge Road will be restricted beginning four (4) hours prior to game time and continuing through the end of egress.

UNC Public Safety strongly encourages football fans to park and ride to Kenan Stadium for home games. Park and ride bus service is offered from the NC 54 Friday Center Lot; from the Dillard's end of University Mall, from the AOB / R1 / R2 Lots off Airport Drive, or from the 725 Martin Luther King Jr. Lot beginning three (3) hours prior to a scheduled home game kick-off. Park and ride service is also available from the Jones Ferry Road and Southern Village lots beginning 90 minutes prior to game time. Parking in these areas is free, and round-trip service is $5 on these routes.

Additionally, Touch DownTown shuttles will service the AOB / R1 / R2 Lot off Airport Drive and the 725 Martin Luther King Jr. Lot beginning three (3) hours prior to game time and continuing for 90 minutes after the end of each home game. Touch DownTown shuttles will make stops along Franklin Street, Cameron Avenue, and South Road.

If you have questions concerning event parking, please call UNC Public Safety at (919) 962-3951. For further information on scheduled special events on campus, log onto the Public Safety Web site at:

http://www.dps.unc.edu

...and visit the Special Events link. Further game day information is broadcast on the Traveler's Information System station at 1610 AM in the immediate campus area.

Thank You,
UNC Public Safety

This email is sponsored by: UNC Public Safety

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of cts2014@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 2, 2009 9:25 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for alcohol consumption and decision making study

---

Do you drink alcohol heavily, or moderately?
Are you interested in making $10 for completing a 1 hour task?

Study requires participants to view images and make simple decisions about their contents.

You are eligible if:
1. You are between the ages of 18-40 years old
2. You are NOT taking illicit drugs
3. You are NOT taking psychoactive medications
4. You have NEVER sought treatment for a substance use disorder
5. You are a native English speaker
6. You have graduated high school or earned a GED
7. You have no known psychiatric or neurological problems

If interested, please contact Chris at 919-962-8340 or cts2014@email.unc.edu to schedule a time for participation.

(This study, entitled "Decision Making and Drinking Habits of Young Adults" has been approved by the UNC Institutional Review Board, Study #: 09-0001, and is sponsored by the UNC Department of Psychology.)

This email is sponsored by: Dept. of Psychology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 2, 2009 10:22 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Academic Planning Relative to H1N1 Flu

---

To: UNC-Chapel Hill Students and Faculty Members:

From: Bruce Carney, Interim Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

Date: September 1, 2009

Re: Academic Planning Relative to H1N1 Flu

As we launch into the Fall 2009 semester, we know that the campus may face high levels of H1N1 flu (Swine flu) this year. In fact, the number of cases on campus is rising. Characteristically, this flu lasts 3-5 days but people usually recover from it completely. The H1N1 flu virus spreads easily when people live in close quarters or share spaces like libraries, residence halls, and classrooms. Although you can get H1N1 only once, because symptoms overlap with seasonal influenza students are being asked to self-isolate on the basis of symptoms and not to wait for a diagnosis.

Both faculty members and students have asked for principles about how the campus can best prepare for H1N1 flu and the associated possible disruption of instruction. This note contains some general guidance points which will allow you to act in caring and consistent ways when, and if, large-scale illness emerges on campus.

1. It is important that the campus stay calm and carry on with all classes unless otherwise notified. Maintaining continuity is always helpful in times of stress.

2. The University will communicate widely as changes occur in H1N1 incidence on campus.

3. All members of the University community who become ill with possible or proven H1N1 flu should voluntarily self-isolate themselves by staying home and away from others for a period of at least 24 hours after the time their fever abates (without the use of fever reducing medications like acetaminophen or ibuprofen).

4. The Honor Code which guides academic conduct, applies to students who because of illness, may need to make up absences, exams, or assignments.

5. Faculty members are asked to be flexible regarding attendance policies for students sick with flu in classes that require attendance as part of the student grade.

6. Faculty members are also asked to be flexible about helping students make up missed classes, exams, or assignments. Placing as much course content as possible on a class website, including assignments and lecture outlines, will help students who have to miss class keep up with their assignments.

7. Students should get notes from missed classes from class buddies or via the class website.

8. Faculty members who are out with the flu should communicate by e-mail with their department leadership. To assure that courses continue to meet, department chairs should seek instructional coverage from peer faculty or qualified graduate students.

9. Students who are out with the flu are asked to communicate by e-mail with their instructors. Communication to the faculty through Academic Advisors, the Dean of Students, or parents, is of equal value and acceptable.

10. Faculty members can respectfully ask an obviously sick student to leave class. Encourage the student to go home, self-isolate, take care of himself/herself and wait 24 hours after fever is gone (without the use of fever reducing medications like acetaminophen or ibuprofen) before returning to class. Because the self-isolation period should be 3-5 days for H1N1 flu, most students will be able to make up the work missed.

11. Schools and colleges should follow established guidelines for issuing official excuses for final exams. However, they should urge their faculty members to be as flexible as possible in scheduling a make-up date if the flu should prevent students from attending a regularly scheduled exam. Schools and colleges should also consider how the flu might impact a student's eligibility to continue in school the following semester. Additional information about final exams will be provided if H1N1 flu is at high rates later in the Fall semester.

12. UNC-Chapel Hill is unable to provide flu-related refunds of tuition and fees beyond the customary and published prorated schedule, either for individual course drops or for withdrawal from the entire term.

13. All members of the University community may stay up-to-date on H1N1 flu on campus by checking "Alert Carolina" on the UNC-Chapel Hill homepage. Also, please check the University's homepage, www.unc.edu, for H1N1 flu campus updates.

Carolina has a heritage of pulling together when faced with challenges. Should H1N1 prove to be a virulent presence here, I ask that you frame your response with integrity, optimism and kindness.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 3, 2009 12:31 AM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Something Not Quite Right? Research Opportunity

---

The UNC Department of Psychiatry is conducting a research study to find out more about mental illness. If you have had any of the following symptoms in the past few months, are between 12-35 years old, and have not been diagnosed with bipolar illness or psychosis, you may be eligible to participate in a study in the Prime Research Program. You may be eligible to receive free study related medical evaluations and monetary compensation.

* Have you noticed frequent and confusing coincidences?
* Are you worried that others are talking about you or laughing at you?
* Do you think that others are trying to hurt you?
* Do you have trouble thinking or concentrating?
* Would you rather be alone than with friends?
* Sometimes when you hear something do you mistake it for something it's not? How about something you smell or see?

Visit us at our website www.PRIME.unc.edu and click on 'Simple Survey'

The Project is funded by the National Institute of Mental Health

08-1448
January 26, 2009
Committee on the Protection of the Rights of Human Subjects
The BioMedical IRB
University of North Carolina

This email is sponsored by: Psychiatry

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 3, 2009 9:28 AM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Campus Budget Update

Dear Faculty and Staff:

Recent news reports have created confusion about the status of budget cuts on this and other UNC campuses. The reports led some to believe that we are planning a new round of cuts. Please know that we have not submitted any new cuts to UNC General Administration beyond those that we've already told you about. This campus has been planning for a total 10 percent cut in state funds for this fiscal year. In some units, the cuts have already been administered. In other units, the cuts will be implemented over the course of the fiscal year. Your best source of information about how the cuts will affect you and your unit will come from your supervisor or department chair.

We hope that no further budget reductions will be required, but we'll continue to watch state revenue projections and work with UNC General Administration to determine if additional cuts are necessary this year. These are tough times, and we really appreciate your patience. We're committed to sharing information about the budget as we have it. So, as soon as we know more, we'll let you know.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

From: lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 3, 2009 2:21 PM
To: LCCC E-News Release <lcccnews@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [lcccnews] UNC Lineberger E-News Release
Attach: unclineberger.org_lcccnewsletter_enews20090903.html

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center e-News

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Trouble viewing UNC Lineberger's E-News Release? View it online at:
http://unclineberger.org/lcccnewsletter/enews20090903.html

You are currently subscribed to UNC Lineberger Cancer Center's E-News Release with email address as: stgore@email.unc.edu.
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25277995-9279841.8d48b917898b1b5e9fb144cf6209b79c@listserv.unc.edu

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of hr@unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 3, 2009 8:23 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Weight Watchers at Work Program

Are you looking to make some changes to your health? The Office of Human Resources is sponsoring at Weight Watchers at Work series on Friday afternoons at the Administrative Office Building (AOB) on Airport Drive. Current "At Work" members have lost more than 900 pounds in the past 19 months.

Weight Watchers meetings include practical strategies to help you reach your goals, comprehensive plan materials that help you follow the program step by step, and guidance and information from trained leaders who have lost weight with Weight Watchers and have kept it off.

An open house for renewing and new members will be held on Friday, Sept. 4, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. in Training Room C on the first floor of AOB. Lisa Kelly, the local Weight Watchers representative, will be available to answer questions about the program. This group will meet weekly on Friday on the first floor of AOB.

A 12-week series costs $156; 15 members are needed to start a 12-week series. If there is sufficient interest, the group will meet for 17 weeks at a cost of $175 per person. Either series can be paid via cash, check or credit card.

This email is sponsored by: Office of Human Resources

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 3, 2009 8:45 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Recruiting individuals on pancreatic enzyme supplements for UNC Clinical Researc

---

Are you or is someone you know taking pancreatic enzymes for a condition such as cystic fibrosis or chronic pancreatitis? You may qualify to participate in a clinical study taking place at UNC.

Subjects are needed to participate in a clinical research study who are:

- Currently taking pancreatic enzymes (Pancrecarb., Viokase., Creon., Ultrase MT., Pancrease MT., Ultrase.)

- greater than or atleast 18 years of age

- Currently medically stable

During a screening visit you will be asked to:
- Be evaluated over 1-2 hours to complete screening/confirm eligibility, including:
    Clinical laboratory tests
    History and Physical exam

During the study you will be asked to:
- Spend about 20 hours, including overnight stay at the UNC General Clinical Research Center (meals will be provided)
- Swallow a thin tube and have it advanced to small intestine under the supervision of a doctor
- Take study pills plus a liquid meal on 2 separate occasions with tube in place

$1025 compensation upon full completion of study.

For more information, please contact:
Noelia Nebot at 919-962-0089, noelia_nebot@unc.edu Or Mikki Sandridge at 919-843-3873, mikki_sandridge@med.unc.edu

This study, GCRC -2712: Intraduodenal Aspiration Study to Assess the Bioavailability of Oral Pancrecarb. Compared to Placebo Control in Patients with Pancreatic Insufficiency, and this message have received approval from the UNC Biomedical Institutional Review Board on 07/16/2009, study # 08-0819.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Division of Pharacotherapy and Experimental Therapeutics

This email is sponsored by: UNC School of Pharmacy

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of ceinfo@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Thursday, September 3, 2009 9:15 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: UNC Continuing Education Opportunities

---

University employees have access to a wide variety of continuing education programs, many of which are available at no cost within the terms of the tuition waiver program. UNC's Friday Center for Continuing Education has historically served as a channel for information about these programs through various publications and events, and has recently increased efforts to offer comprehensive adult learning program information to the public and to the University community.

Employees who are interested in exploring the range of UNC's continuing academic, professional, and enrichment education offerings are invited to browse the links on the Friday Center's Continuing Education Showcase Web page (http://www.fridaycenter.unc.edu/showcase). As University units continue to expand their continuing and distance learning programs, the Center will work towards developing additional resources to assist adult learners in identifying programs of interest.

This email is sponsored by: Friday Center for Continuing Education

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of endomac@med.unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 3, 2009 9:50 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Research study for individuals with mild asthma and allergies.

The purpose of this research study is to learn more about the effect of inhalation of a component of air pollution on airway responses in allergic individuals with mild asthma. The component being studied is called endotoxin and can be found in a number of different workplaces. It is even found in homes. The purpose of this research study is to identify a dose of inhaled endotoxin that is safe (does not cause prolonged cough, shortness of breath or other problems), but which causes changes in sputum cell samples. Information from this study will be used to identify a safe range of endotoxin for use in inhalation challenge studies. This study will also help determine how endotoxin affects mucociliary clearance (MCC) which is a measure of how quickly mucus clears from the airway.

Subjects must be otherwise healthy, have mild asthma and allergies. Pregnant or nursing females are excluded as well as individuals with a recent respiratory infection or an average of more that 2 asthma exacerbations per week. Study participation will include 6 visits over a 3 week to 3 month period based on participants available.

Interested individuals may call 919-966-2879 for additional information.

Approved 11-20-08 by the Biomedical Institutional Review Board. IRB# 08-1750

This e-mail is sponsored by the UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology and is funded by the National Institutes of Health

This email is sponsored by: UNC Center for Environmental Medicine, Asthma and Lung Biology

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Thursday, September 3, 2009 10:22 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: FORMAL NOTICE: 2010 University Teaching Awards

September 3, 2009

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

FROM: Dr. Joe Lowman, Chair
University Committee on Teaching Awards

SUBJECT: Teaching Award Nominations

Each year, we acknowledge the central role of teaching at UNC-Chapel Hill by recognizing faculty, staff and students for outstanding teaching and mentoring. The University Committee on Teaching Awards values your nominations of deserving faculty members and graduate teaching assistants for distinguished teaching awards. Please take a moment to think of those who are deserving of these awards and nominate them via the website

http://provost.unc.edu/teaching-awards

The committee will review the nominees, collect additional information about their teaching and recommend winners to the Chancellor. This year, we will select recipients for six types of awards:

Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching: This award is given by the Board of Governors to a tenured faculty member on each UNC campus for excellent and exceptional teaching at the undergraduate level over a sustained period of time.

Distinguished Teaching Awards for Post-Baccalaureate Instruction Four awards are given to faculty members for exceptional teaching of post-baccalaureate students.

Awards to Faculty for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching: Five Tanner Awards, one Friday Award and one Sitterson Award are given to full-time faculty members.

Tanner Awards to Graduate Teaching Assistants: Five Tanner Awards are given to graduate teaching assistants for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement: This award acknowledges lifetime contributions to teaching, learning and mentoring beyond the classroom and is not limited to traditional faculty. If you nominate someone for this award, please focus on his or her long-term impact on students.

University Professor of Distinguished Teaching: Two three-year term professorships established to recognize career-long excellence in teaching. One will be for tenured faculty in Academic Affairs (including professional schools) and one for tenured faculty in Health Affairs.

Please submit all nominations online.

http://provost.unc.edu/teaching-awards

No individual may receive more than one award.

NOTE: YOUR NOMINATION MUST INCLUDE A LETTER TELLING US WHY THIS TEACHER DERSERVES THE AWARD. IF ONLY A NAME IS SUBMITTED IT IS INVALID AND CANNOT BE CONSIDERED.

Your comments will become part of the nominee's departmental personnel file. You may address questions me (962-3993/ jclowman@email.unc.edu or Ms. Debbie Stevenson in the Office of the Provost: (962-7882 / debbie_stevenson@unc.edu).

The deadline for submitting nominations is October 1.

Thank you for your help in rewarding excellent teaching at Carolina!

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of FAC@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 4, 2009 12:06 AM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Faculty-Staff Family Days

To: UNC faculty and staff who are interested in Carolina Athletics

From: Dick Baddour, Director of Athletics
Steve Reznick, Chair, Faculty Athletics Committee

UNC Athletics is pleased to announce that our Faculty/Staff Family Day events, which include free game tickets, conversations with coaches, and "meet and greet" sessions with student athletes, will resume later this month. Our goal is to increase UNC faculty and staff knowledge, involvement, and interest in Carolina Athletics, and to do so in the context of enjoyable family-oriented events. Our schedule of upcoming events includes women's soccer, field hockey, and volleyball; men's and women's swimming and diving; and we hope that more events will be added.

Information about Faculty/Staff Family Days events will be posted on our website: http://www.tarheelblue.com/facultystaffevents. This webpage can also be reached via the "Inside Athletics" tab on TarheelBlue.com. E-mail any questions about Faculty/Staff Family Days to Assistant Marketing Director Bonnie Clarke at bclarke@uncaa.unc.edu.

To keep yourself "in the loop" on upcoming Faculty/Staff Family Day events, please join our Faculty/Staff Athletics News (FAN) listserv by sending an e-mail to listmanager@listserv.unc.edu with the subject field blank and the message: subscribe FAN.

This email is sponsored by the Athletics Department and the Faculty Athletics Committee.

This email is sponsored by: Faculty Athletics Committee; Athletics Department

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 4, 2009 12:31 AM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Child Care Financial Assistance

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill provides a limited amount of financial assistance to UNC-Chapel Hill employees and students for quality child care. UNC-Chapel Hill contracts with Child Care Services Association (CCSA) to administer the program, with Benefits Services serving as the University's liaison to CCSA.

Details about this program are available at:
http://hr.unc.edu/Data/SPA/benefits/workfamily/childcare/subsidy

Because funding for the program is limited, eligibility cannot guarantee assistance.

Students and employees who have questions or need information about the child care financial assistance program may contact contact Child Care Services Association at 403-6950 or Aimee Krans, Work/Life Manager, at 962-6008.

This email is sponsored by: Chancellor's Child Care Advisory Committee

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of meghan_vanasek@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 4, 2009 1:15 AM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Parents of typically developing children needed

---

TO: Faculty, Staff and Students

The Autism Research Program invites you to participate as a volunteer in a research study involving parents of children with autism and parents of typically developing children to see how areas of their brain react when they are doing tasks related to processing social information. We are interested in looking at the brain function of these parents as they perform tasks involving perception of faces and scenes with emotional content. We will be looking at areas of the brain that are thought to be involved with the processing of social cognition. We will be using a scanning device called a Magnetic Resonance Imaging Scanner, or an MRI scanner, to look at brain functioning.

We are looking for parents of people with autism and parents of typically developing children who are less than 56 years old to help us with this study. Compensation for this study is $10 an hour up to $100 for participating in the initial screening and assessment portion of the study and then $25 an hour for participating in the MRI scans. Participation takes between 10-12 hours over 2-3 sessions.

If you are interested in participating in this study you may contact us by either emailing one of the contacts listed below, or calling us toll-free at 1-800-793-5715 and ask about the "Social Cognition and MRI study". We will then provide further details about the project. No one is expected to pay for travel or other expenses incurred during participation in this study.

We thank you in advance for your interest in this important project. If you want to pass this information along to others who may qualify for this research study, please do so.

Please contact: Meghan Vanasek
meghan_vanasek@med.unc.edu
1-800-793-5715
-or-
Scott Wallace

scott_wallace@med.unc.edu
1-800-793-5715

IRB Study Number: 05-2576
Study Approval Date: 08/11/09
expires 1/21/10

This email is sponsored by: UNC Autism Research Project

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Kia Lilly Caldwell <klcaldwe@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Friday, September 4, 2009 9:24 AM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>; Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>; Julius Nyang'oro <jen321@email.unc.edu>
Subject: New Classroom Needed

Hi Travis,
I'm writing to request a new classroom for AFAM 266. We meet at 2 pm on T, Th in Gardner 07. I know we've talked about the heat levels in that room a few times and it's become unbearable for my students. I spoke to another instructor in the building and it seems that some people have been moving around on campus, so maybe another room is available now. The classroom is extremely hot and the A/C units don't work. It's hotter than any other classroom on that floor.
Yesterday, I had to squeeze my class into a room that only seats 25 people (we have an enrollment of 40), just to get some relief.
Thanks for checking into this again.

Kia

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 4, 2009 8:29 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: The Psychophysiology of IBS: Earn up to $550 to participate in a research study

---

The UNC Center for Functional GI & Motility Disorders is recruiting subjects with irritable bowel syndrome to participate in a health research study that examines the effect of an FDA approved drug for IBS on clinical abdominal pain. The purpose of the study is to learn how to treat patients with IBS more effectively.

Subjects will receive $550.00 upon completion of the study. Participation will last 8-9 weeks.

This study requires 7 visits to UNC and each visit will take place at the Clinical and Translational Research Center.

Subjects will be required to complete a health questionnaire, a 1 ? hour physiological test, and 2 abdominal x-rays. Participants will also be required to take a study drug for 2 separate two week intervals.

For more information and to determine if you are eligible, contact:
Kelly Moulton, M.Ed, at kmoulton@med.unc.edu
(919) 966-0289

Study # 07-0540 / CTRC-2603 approved 2/5/2009-2/1/2010

This email is sponsored by: Department of Medicine

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of mindfulness@med.unc.edu
Sent: Friday, September 4, 2009 9:02 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: MINDFULNESS-BASED CLASSES FOR STRESS & PAIN MANAGEMENT-REGISTER NOW!

Do you want to learn to slow down and enjoy your life?
Are you looking for a new way to deal with stress, anxiety, pain, difficult interactions with others?

Mindfulness can make a difference.

The UNC Mindfulness-based Program for Stress and Pain Management offers training in meditation and mind-body awareness that will teach you how to slow down, set priorities and stay calm, focused and relaxed in the midst of a busy life. These practices will enhance your body's natural adaptive healing ability and will cultivate the mind's clarity and insight.

This program follows Jon Kabat-Zinn's model and is offered by the Program on Integrative Medicine at UNC (Department of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation).

FALL MINDFULNESS CLASSES FOR 2009:
1) Tuesday mornings and evenings beginning September 15 (required orientation)through November 10, taught by Mary Love May.
2) Monday evenings beginning October 12 (required orientation) through December 7, taught by Susan Head, PhD
3) Either Wednesday mornings or Thursdays evenings, beginning either September 23 or September 24, 2009 (required orientation) through November 18
or
November 19, taught by Paula Huffman & Susan Gaylord at Hillsborough Yoga &
Healing Arts

For additional information about classes, tuition, and tuition reductions for research participation visit the Program on Integrative Medicine website at http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html

Two graduate courses will be offered this fall for those who have taken the basic foundation course:
1) "Deepening Your Mindfulness Practice in the Pressure-Cooker of Daily Life"
Tuesday evenings, November 17 through December 8, 2009
2) Our newest graduate course, "Mindful Parenting" will be held on Tuesday mornings, November 17 through December 8, 2009.

Both classes are taught by Mary Love May.

To register for these mindfulness courses, complete the registration form on the Program on Integrative Medicine website, http://pim.med.unc.edu/mindfulness.html. Contact the Program by phone at 919-966-8586 or by email at mindfulness@med.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Friday, September 4, 2009 9:38 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	FORMAL NOTICE: Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs - Town Hall Meetings

---

To: Faculty, Staff, Students, Parents and Alumni

From: Sarah Michalak, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Search Committee Chair

The search committee for the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs is sponsoring three town hall meetings to receive your comments about important skills and attributes for the new Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs. As you know, Dr. Margaret Jablonski has announced that she will step down from the Vice Chancellorship as of July 1, 2010. The committee is conducting an internal search, open only to current employees of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Please attend a town meeting at one of the following times and locations:

September 9, 2009 - 8:00am - 9:00am - Pleasants Assembly Room in Wilson Library

September 10, 2009 - 11am - noon - UPENDO Room 1118- Student and Academic Services Building

September 11, 2009 - 9:00am - 10:00am - UPENDO Room 1118- Student and Academic Services Building

For location and parking for the UPENDO meetings please visit:

http://sasb.unc.edu/

or the Pleasants Assembly Room in Wilson Library please visit:

http://www.lib.unc.edu/wilson/directions.html

The position description is below.

This is an internal search and open only to current employees of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites nominations and expressions of interest in the position of Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs. The University seeks a highly respected, dynamic and experienced leader who can articulate a clear vision for student affairs and who will work jointly with students, faculty, and staff throughout the University. The Division of Student Affairs is responsible for assisting in creating and maintaining an institutional climate that fosters student learning and development while enhancing a strong sense of community for a student body of over 28,000.

As the principal administrative leader for Student Affairs, the Vice Chancellor oversees the development of policy, programs, and services that promote learning both inside and outside the classroom. The Division serves undergraduate, graduate and professional school populations.

Responsibilities include supervision of 12 major departments: Campus Health Services, Campus Recreation, Campus Y, Carolina Union, University Career Services, Counseling and Wellness Services, Dean of Students, Disability Services, Housing and Residential Education, Information Technology, LGBTQ Center, and New Student and Carolina Parent Programs.

The Division of Student Affairs includes approximately 360 permanent employees, over 1200 student staff, and has an annual operating budget of over $80 million. Budget is primarily supported through student fees and housing rentals. The Division manages approximately one-third of the buildings on the campus.

As a senior administrative leader, the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs reports to the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and serves on the Chancellor's Cabinet.

Qualifications of the successful candidate should include:

* A strong vision for and commitment to student development and a quality student experience in a large, public, research university.
* Excellent administrative skills including strategic planning and evaluation, budgeting, personnel management, facilities management, fundraising and public relations.
* An ability to work collaboratively and effectively with student government, academic affairs, and multiple administrative units throughout the campus.
* A distinguished record of progressive leadership in an academic setting.
* Excellent communication skills.
* Knowledge of major issues facing today's college students and their education.
* An earned doctorate or terminal degree.

Inquiries may be addressed to Ms. Sarah Michalak, CB # 3900, UNC Chapel Hill, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3900, by calling (919) 962-1301, or by email to smichala@email.unc.edu. Nominations may be sent to Ms. Sarah Michalak c/o Debbie Stevenson, 104 South Building, CB # 3000, or by emailing debbie_stevenson@unc.edu

The University encourages nominations of and applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities

Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position and a curriculum vitae that includes the names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses of five references. All inquiries will be kept confidential in the early stages of the search process. Applicants will be directly solicited for permission before references are contacted.

All applications must be submitted electronically. To apply, go to

http://www.unc.edu/provost/searches.html

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2009 and will continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is June, 2010.

The University of North Carolina is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

From: bounce-25305859-21202740@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Dee Reid <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 8, 2009 12:30 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff <african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-staff] [all-college-staff] UNC College Calendar: Lit, Music and Drama Stars, Hot Topics, and more

---

UNC College Calendar is sent periodically to all faculty and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences, university administrators, communication specialists and others by request.

* * *

Here's a quick guide to special events involving UNC's College of Arts and Sciences. Most events are free and on campus, except where noted.

Now through Sept. 30: Bulk, an exhibition of 26 artists with the Vox Populi collective of Philadelphia. John and June Allcott Gallery, Hanes Art Center.
rpm@email.unc.edu

Sept. 9: King's College Choir, music from the Spanish and English Renaissance. Tickets $15, $10, call 843-3333, at 7:30 pm Memorial Hall.
http://music.unc.edu/calendars/newman

Sept. 10: Author Tobias Wolff reads from his work. 5:30 pm, University Room/Hyde Hall
http://snipurl.com/rlse9

Sept. 10: Undocumented Immigrants in America: Access to Education, a panel discussion by UNC experts Paul Cuadros, Hannah Gill, Niklaus Steiner and Deborah Weissman (moderator), with Robert Luebke from the Civitas Institute, Noah Pickus from Duke, and Ron Woodard from NC Listen. 6:30 pm, Nelson Mandela Auditorium 1015, FedEx Global Education Center.
http://snipurl.com/rlsf0

Sept. 10-13: N.C. Literary Festival featuring John Grisham, Lee Smith, Clyde Edgerton, Anna Deavere Smith (see below), plenty of UNC College writers and more. All over campus between Franklin Street and Wilson Library.
http://www.ncliteraryfestival.org/

Sept. 11: Anna Deavere Smith, the actress, playwright and author, discusses Finding Grace and Kindness in a Winner-Takes-All Society, Frank Porter Graham Lecture at the NC Literary Festival. 7:30 pm Memorial Hall
http://snipurl.com/qj6m5

Sept. 12: Tony Award-winning string band Red Clay Ramblers with UNC creative writing professor Bland Simpson, in concert with N.C. Symphony. 7:30 pm, Moore Square, Raleigh.
http://budurl.com/vh66

Sept. 14: Oxford University Jewish studies scholar Geza Vermes discusses the Dead Sea Scrolls for the Eli N. Evans Distinguished Lecture in Jewish Studies. 7:30 pm, Friday Center.
http://snipurl.com/rlsfp

Sept. 16-20: PlayMakers presents The Last Cargo Cult, a one-man show featuring Mike Daisey on his visit to a remote South Pacific island.

Tickets $24-$32.
http://www.playmakersrep.org

Sept. 16: Women, Families and Incarceration: Breaking the Silence through Performance, discussion/performance by Ashley Lucas (Dramatic Art). 12 noon bag lunch, Toy Lounge, Dey Hall.
wmst@unc.edu

Sept. 17: Hon. James A. Joseph, US ambassador to South Africa 1996-99, discusses Remaking America: Higher Education and Civic Engagement, Lambeth Lecture in Public Policy. 5:30 pm, Gerrard Hall.
http://snipurl.com/rlsg4

Sept 18: Carolina Lectures in Critical Thought Reading Group on Bruno Latour (who will be in residence at UNC and Duke in March). Meets monthly. First reading: Why Has Critique Run Out of Steam? 4 pm, Hyde Hall. For details and registration:
http://www.unc.edu/clct/

Sept. 20: Carolina Wind Quintet with guest pianist Wonmin Kim. Tickets $15/$10 at door, 3 pm, Hill Hall.
http://music.unc.edu/calendars/newman

Sept. 21: Celebrated tenor Anthony Dean Griffey, UNC Artist-in-Residence, will lead a master voice class, open to the public, 4 pm, Person Hall.
http://music.unc.edu

Sept. 22: Poet Gibbons Ruark, Armfield Poetry Reading. 3:30 pm, Donovan Lounge/223 Greenlaw.
http://english.unc.edu/speakerseries.html

Sept. 23-Oct. 11: PlayMakers presents Opus by Michael Hollinger. Tickets $10-$40.
http://snipurl.com/rlsgk

Sept. 25: The Vega Quartet, with UNC faculty musicians Richard Luby and Mayron Tsong. $15/$10. Tickets: 843.3333. 8 pm Gerrard Hall.
http://music.unc.edu/calendars/thecalendar

Sept. 29: Writer Cary Holladay reads from her work, 5:30 pm, University Room, Hyde Hall.
http://snipurl.com/rlse9

Oct. 6: Roy Blount Jr., humorist, writer and panelist on Wait, Wait…Don't Tell Me! Thomas Wolfe Prize and Lecture, 7:30 pm, Carroll Hall
http://snipurl.com/rlsok

Oct. 8: Irish musician/folklorist Mick Moloney discusses Irish-Jewish Collaboration in Tin Pan Alley. 5 pm, Pleasants Family Assembly/ Wilson Library.
ddimaio@email.unc.edu

Oct. 15: Writer Stuart Dybeck reads from his work, 5:30 pm, Dialectic Hall/ Old West.
http://snipurl.com/rlse9

Oct. 29: Andrew Delbanco, distinguished professor of humanities and director of American studies at Columbia University, discusses How Could Anyone Defend Slavery? Moral Crisis in Antebellum America for the John W. Pope Lecture on Renewing the Western Tradition. 7 pm, Gerrard Hall
http://college.unc.edu

Oct. 29: Nobel Laureate F. Sherwood Rowland discusses Greenhouse Gases and Climate Change, 7:30 pm, Carroll Hall Auditorium. 966-4516.

http://www.geosci.unc.edu/

Oct. 30: Nobel Laureate F. Sherwood Rowland presents a technical talk on The CFC-Ozone Story, 11 am, Tate-Turner-Kuralt Auditorium. 966-4516.
http://www.geosci.unc.edu/

More events
http://events.unc.edu/cal/main/showMain.rdo

UNC College in the Media
http://college.unc.edu/inthemedia

UNC College News
http://college.unc.edu

UNC College Talk (blog)
http://unccollege.wordpress.com

Carolina Arts & Sciences Magazine
http://college.unc.edu/magazine

UNC College on Twitter:
http://twitter.com/unccollege

UNC College of Arts and Sciences on Facebook http://facebook.com

--
Dee Reid (919) 843-6339
Director of Communications
College of Arts and Sciences
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
205 South Building, CB #3100
Chapel Hill NC 27599-3100
Web: http://college.unc.edu
Blog: http://unccollege.wordpress.com
Twitter: http://twitter.com/unccollege
Facebook: UNC College of Arts and Sciences

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-staff as: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-staff as: stgore@email.unc.edu.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 8, 2009 3:21 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: TIM

---

do last week please. dc

From: bounce-25307778-21202740@listserv.unc.edu on behalf of Dee Reid <deereid@unc.edu>
Sent: Tuesday, September 8, 2009 3:29 PM
To: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff <african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu>
Cc: Kimberly T Abels <kabels@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [african-and-afro-american-studies-staff] [all-college-staff] FROM THE DEAN: Kim Abels returns to direct the Writing Center

---

The enclosed message from Dean Karen Gil is being sent to all faculty and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences.

* * *

Dear Colleagues,

I am delighted to announce that Kim Abels has returned to Carolina as Director of the Writing Center effective September 1, a post that she held for 13 years before going to Duke in 2008. For the past year she has served as Assistant Director for Education, Outreach and Administration at Duke's Kenan Institute for Ethics, an experience that will be valuable in her leadership role in the College.

Kim will develop and oversee all of the Writing Center's programs including tutoring, ESL instruction and workshops. She also will collaborate with other units across campus that support undergraduates, graduate students, faculty and staff.

She has M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in English from Ohio State University and undergraduate degrees in English and Education from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

We are pleased to have her back in the College.

With best regards,

Karen

Karen M. Gil
Dean

--- You are currently subscribed to all-college-staff as: african-and-afro-american-studies-staff@listserv.unc.edu.

--- You are currently subscribed to african-and-afro-american-studies-staff as: stgore@email.unc.edu.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 8, 2009 8:26 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Johnston Center Home to Frank Porter Graham Lecture Series

---

The James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence is home to the Frank Porter Graham Lecture series. This series honors Frank Porter Graham, President of the University of North Carolina, 1930-1949, and United States Senator, 1949-1950. "Dr Frank," perhaps more than any other person, defined education, culture, and politics in North Carolina in the twentieth century.

Three of the enduring themes throughout Graham's life were:
* a universal concern for those living in desperate conditions - the disadvantaged, the dispossessed, or the oppressed in body and spirit;
* an unflinching commitment to freedom of speech as the essence of a free University in a free society, a commitment grounded in the knowledge that when the despised speaker is denied a forum, democracy is threatened; and
* an abiding confidence and trust in the ability of students to play a responsible role in the affairs of the University.

This lecture series seeks to enshrine these parts of the legacy of Frank Porter Graham.

The Frank Porter Graham Lecture Series is made possible by a generous gift to the University by Taylor McMillan '60.

For more information about the Frank Porter Graham Lecture series, please visit www.johnstoncenter.unc.edu.

This email is sponsored by: James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate education

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of no_reply@unc.edu
Sent: Tuesday, September 8, 2009 8:53 PM
To: stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject: INFORMATIONAL: Performing Arts and Special Activities Fund

---

Performing Arts and Special Activities Fund
Application Information
September 2009

What is the Performing Arts and Special Activities Fund (PASAF)?

The PASAF supports projects and activities that provide quality performing arts and cultural programming that enhances the creative and cultural environment of our University community.

Projects are supported in all areas of the performing arts. Projects that involve multiple units (departments, centers, curricula, programs, etc.) and that are inter-disciplinary are encouraged. We also encourage faculty and staff from all areas of the University to submit applications for projects that include a component of the performing arts in any area of teaching, research, or service.

Although the PASAF has no official maximum grant, awards are seldom made for amounts over $5,000. The PASAF may award partial grants. Previous PASAF funding does not guarantee support in any succeeding year. Funds must be expended in the 2009-2010 academic year.

Who may apply?

Students, faculty and staff from recognized academic or administrative units may apply for funding. If a unit proposes multiple projects, the dean or director of the unit must prioritize the proposed projects.

Funding criteria:

* Artistic and programmatic quality
* Relationship of proposed activities to departmental priorities, area of study or research
* Nature and extent of programmatic interpretation, education, or orientation efforts for the benefit of the proposed audience
* Extent of impact, including the number of people served and efforts to broaden and/or diversify your audience
* Extent to which the project serves campus audiences while also reaching out to the broader local community
* Scarcity or availability of comparable services within the given area, i.e., extent to which the project fills a gap
* Managerial and fiscal competence, including the capability of the applicant to carry out the proposed activities

Projects eligible for funding:

The PASAF committee aims to support projects that demonstrate the highest level of artistic integrity. The list below provides examples of the types of projects that are eligible for funding. These are examples only, and funding is not limited to those listed.

* Visiting artist and artist-in-residence activities
* Public presentations and performances
* Commissions, premieres, and subsequent performances of new works
* Professional artistic development and training programs for performing artists, such as mentorship and career development activities
* Workshops, conferences, publications, professional development, technical assistance, networks, or on-line resources
* Outreach projects that involve diverse campus and local communities or that reach new audiences
* Education for adults and children where the focus is exposure to or appreciation for the performing arts

The following are not eligible for funding:

* Major expenditures for the establishment of new student organizations
* Expenditures that should reasonably be covered by department overhead
* Reserve funds
* Debt reductions
* Activities restricted to an organization's membership (funded activities must be open to the university and the broader community and promoted as such)
* Hospitality or entertainment costs for receptions, performances, or fundraising benefits
* Faculty or staff salaries
* Static exhibitions

To apply for support from the Performing Arts and Special Activities Fund:

Submit a written application of no more than 4 pages that includes the following:

* Goals and objectives of the project
* Project description
* Audience to be served, including number and demographic characteristics
* Overall impact to the arts at UNC-Chapel Hill
* Itemized budget, including personnel and non-personnel expenses,total project costs, costs for which PASAF support is requested, and other sources of support
* Department/Unit head's signature of approval. (Multiple requests from a single department must be prioritized by the chair or director.)

Submit applications to the following address by 5 PM September 30, 2009:

Carol Tresolini, Associate Provost for Academic Initiatives
Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost
104 South Building, CB 3000
UNC Campus

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lcccnews@med.unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 8, 2009 9:14 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Please join us in celebrating the New Face of Cancer Care

---

The N.C. Cancer Hospital is now open and is serving the people of North Carolina!

The building is a beautiful, state-of-the-art health care facility, designed to create a healing environment. But we recognize that a building is just a small part of what we are doing to build on three decades of clinical excellence and groundbreaking research.

For us, the face of cancer is the human face--full of grace, dignity and relentless will. That's why we are proud to present a special online feature - The New Face of Cancer Care.

Please join us in marking this milestone by celebrating the strength and courage of those who fight cancer every day. Visit http://unclineberger.org and click on "SHARE YOUR STORY."

We are proud to present the New Face of Cancer Care. See their faces, read their stories and share your own.

This email is sponsored by: UNC Lineberger/N.C. Cancer Hospital

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of lungs@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 8, 2009 9:38 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Biracial ("mixed") children & teens needed for lung function study

---

Biracial ("Mixed") Children & Teens Needed for Lung Function Study

Objective: Look at measures of lung function in biracial (African-American and Caucasian) children and teens

Subjects: healthy biracial or "mixed" (African-American and Caucasian) children aged 8 to 19

Study Activities: participants will undergo a brief physical exam, answer questions on race and ethnicity, then perform spirometry (lung function testing), which consists of deep breathing maneuvers using equipment that measures airflow. Spirometry takes 10-15 minutes; the entire visit should take no more than 1 hour.

Compensation: $25 Target gift card, parking costs

If interested, contact Jessica Pittman, MD at lungs@unc.edu

Biomedical IRB # 08-0780
Title: Spirometry in Biracial Children- Assessing the Adequacy of Current NHANES - III Race-Based Reference Equations
Approved: 4/23/2009

This email is sponsored by: Pediatric Pulmonology

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of willbondurant@unc.edu
Sent:	Tuesday, September 8, 2009 10:01 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Speakers at Carolina Website: Online Calendar of Speakers and Lectures at UNC

Hello,

We are writing on behalf of the Speakers Committee, a special project of the Executive Branch of the Student Government.

This semester, we continue to offer our exciting new website, Speakers at Carolina, that provides a calendar showing speakers and lectures on Carolina's campus. It also provides a description of the event, directions to the venue, and tracks past speakers. In exciting news, the address is now easier to remember: unc.edu/speakers.

We encourage you to visit the site, http://unc.edu/speakers, to view upcoming events and post any speakers that your organization or department is presenting.

We look forward to seeing you at an event soon!

Will Bondurant
Co-Chair, Speakers Committee
willbondurant@unc.edu

Carlie Blake
Co-Chair, Speakers Committee
carlie@email.unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Speakers Committee of the Executive Branch of Student Government

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of gang@email.unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 9, 2009 8:21 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Participants needed for Prenatal Stretching Exercise Research Study

---

If you are a healthy pregnant woman and do not exercise regularly, you may be eligible to participate in a research study evaluating the effect of prenatal stretching exercise on the autonomic nervous system.

Study participation will require just one 90-minute-lab visit.
You will be asked to sit quietly while we record your heart rate before and after a 30-minute prenatal stretching exercise.

Participants will receive $50 for completing the study.

For more information, please contact:

Jeongok Logan, MSN, RN

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
School of Nursing
Carrington Hall, CB #7460
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-7460
Phone: (919)621-3799
Email: pregnancylog@gamil.com

This study has been approved by the Institutional Review Board at UNC-CH.
IRB#:09-1331

This email is sponsored by: School of Nursing

==========

"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of yack@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 9, 2009 10:21 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Yackety Yack Application Deadline Extended!

Hey there, Carolina!

Due to the craziness of the holiday weekend, I have decided to extend the Yack application deadline until this Friday at 11:59 PM. Email yack@unc.edu for an application.

Please note that these opportunities are open to both students and UNC employees!

Webmaster (Paid position)
The webmaster will be in charge of updating the Yackety Yack's website with dates of upcoming events, staff lists and contact information, pictures, etc. This person will make sure that the website is functioning properly and look into new ways to make communicating with alumni, staff members and students much easier. An example of this would be linking the Yackety Yack to social networking sites such as Twitter and Facebook. The person applying for this position must be skillful with using Adobe Dreamweaver.

Photography Staff
Photographers with Yackety Yack are responsible for documenting UNC history in an artistic and innovative way. While representing the high standards of the Yackety Yack, photographers shoot all events on campus, including sports, cultural events, political events, arts and performances. Our photographers are expected to maintain a professional demeanor in their dress, interaction with others, and their body of work. All photographers will have something published in the Yackety Yack, so we encourage creativity and experimentation. Because all equipment is provided to the photographer, it is expected that each photographer is to maintain the upkeep of the equipment in his or her possession. Also, photographers are encouraged to contribute any innovative ideas or suggestions to other staff members and editors.

Design Staff
As a member of the Yackety Yack team the design staff works to create a book that captures this year at Carolina. The responsibilities include working in the office, and creating pages. As a member of the design team you will closely work with the Associate editors to create a book that flows and reflects the theme while also putting your own personal touch on the page. The ideal individual for the position is someone who wants to create a memorable book, while also collaborating with the photo staff to create a unique angle for a page. This position requires no previous experience in yearbook; however experience with Adobe InDesign is helpful.

Copy Editor
This individual will be responsible for correcting the grammar, punctuation, spelling, and overseeing all copy that is to be in the Yack. This position will require good grammar skills, and the ability to edit under pressure, due to deadlines. This member of the Yack will work closely with the Associate editors and with the Editor in Chief to ensure that the book is upstanding in all written copy.

Sales/ Advertising
The Sales and Advertising department of the Yackety Yack will work closely with the business manager, webmaster, the associate editors, and the editor in chief to advertise and sell yearbooks. There is a need to raise awareness of what the Yack is and these individuals will work to create events and marketing techniques that will help acquaint Carolina with its yearbook once again.

Business Staff
A position on the Yackety Yack business staff includes but is not limited to selling the 2009-2010 yearbook as well as yearbooks from previous years. Staff members will also be contacting local businesses to sell advertisements in this year's book. Additionally, there will be various tasks focused on publicizing the Yackety Yack organization around campus. Becoming a Yackety Yack Business staff member will provide great experience for business and journalism school applicants and is open to all undergraduates.

Thanks!
Sophia

Sophia Nicholson, Editor-in-chief Yackety Yack Publishing, Inc.
yack@unc.edu

This email is sponsored by: Yackety Yack Publishing, Inc.

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From:	nobody@notify.unc.edu on behalf of chancellor@unc.edu
Sent:	Wednesday, September 9, 2009 11:34 PM
To:	stgore@email.unc.edu
Subject:	INFORMATIONAL: Message from the Chancellor: Mike Patil Joins Bain Study Response Team

---

Colleagues,

In July, I let you know that Professor Joe Templeton, past Chair of the Faculty and former chemistry chair, would lead our response to the Bain & Company report. Joe took on that role part time as special assistant to the chancellor for planning and initiatives.

Joe has recruited a great colleague, Mike Patil, associate dean for integrated business management in the Eshelman School of Pharmacy, to join this effort as full-time program director. Mike's expertise in business processes complements Joe's extensive knowledge of Carolina and our culture. Mike will help prioritize projects, develop a methodology to evaluate the options identified in the Bain report, and monitor progress. His work will aim to encourage broad participation on campus and to identify related policy issues.

Mike has more than 25 years of experience as a senior executive who has led and managed business process, information technology, and organizational and strategic consulting for corporations including Ericsson, IBM and AMS American Express. His passion for simplifying and streamlining business processes while providing information to front-line employees already has benefitted our pharmacy school.

You can expect to hear more from Joe and Mike as they engage with the people in schools, units and departments on campus who can best delve into the options identified in the Bain report and what it could mean for future University operations. Please join me in offering the campus community's support for their vital work. We will keep you informed about the progress. Keep sending any suggestions you have to budgetideas@unc.edu.

Sincerely,

Holden Thorp

This email is sponsored by: Office of the Chancellor

==========
"INFORMATIONAL:" email will only be sent to those who have indicated that they do want to receive mass email. To set your informational mass email preference, logon to the on-line directory web site at https://dir.unc.edu/dir/update.

From: Deborah Crowder <dacrowde@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 10, 2009 12:47 PM
To: Travis Gore <stgore@email.unc.edu>
Subject: [Fwd: [course_scheduling_officers] data for PeopleSoft training]
Attach: [course_scheduling_officers] data for PeopleSoft training.eml (1.43 MB).msg

---

From: Renee Sherman <rsherman@email.unc.edu>
Sent: Thursday, September 10, 2009 9:16 AM
To: departmental course scheduling officers <course_scheduling_officers@listserv.unc.edu>
Subject: [course_scheduling_officers] data for PeopleSoft training
Attach: 099 Report for Sched Officers 2.xlsx

Good Morning,

You will find attached an excel document with many, many tabs! Each tab is named by subject code. When you are attending the Connect Carolina (PeopleSoft) course schedule maintenance training, you may use the information for the subject codes you are responsible for entering for the Fall 2010. These are courses that were in the term in Fall 2009. In other words, it's an electronic semester section book (instead of the grey and white striped sheets we generally send you at the beginning of course schedule maintenance)!

If you have any questions, please give me a call.

Renee

--
Renee Sherman
Office of the University Registrar
Suite 3100, CB#2100
Student Academic Services Building-North
University of NC at Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-2100
(919)962-6093 * (919)843-8709 fax
rsherman@email.unc.edu

--- You are currently subscribed to course_scheduling_officers as: dacrowde@email.unc.edu. To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-25322230-2279054.69ac3339305dd05e441c25f7aa3a497e@listserv.unc.edu

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	AERO	101	001	T	1100AM	1150AM	NA	0006	24	35	KING, LARRY	O
3	099	GU	AERO	101	002	T	0200PM	0250PM	NA	0006	0	35	KING, LARRY	X
4	099	GU	AERO	190	002	T	0200PM	0250PM	NA	0006	0	20	KING, LARRY	X
5	099	GU	AERO	201	001	T	0200PM	0250PM	NA	0006	17	35	KING, LARRY	O
6	099	GU	AERO	301	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	NA	0006	7	13	HOLST, PAUL	O
7	099	GU	AERO	399	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			6	20	KING, LARRY	O
8	099	GU	AERO	401	001	TR	0800AM	0915AM	NA	0006	7	20	KLUKOVICH, STEP	O
9	099	GU	AERO	500	401	T	0330PM	0530PM	NA	0101	40	90	KLUKOVICH, STEP	O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	AFAM	050	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	GM	0035	24	24	MCMILLAN, T	C
3	099	GU	AFAM	101	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	GA	0105	63	60	MCMILLAN, T	C
4	099	GU	AFAM	101	002	TR	0930AM	1045AM	GA	0105	65	60	REGESTER, C B	C
5	099	GU	AFAM	101	003	TR	0200PM	0315PM	MA	0209	67	60	PORTER, R	C
6	099	GU	AFAM	101	004	MWF	0800AM	0850AM	GA	0105	61	60	HILDEBRAND, RF	C
7	099	GU	AFAM	101	005	TR	0800AM	0915AM	GA	0105	0	60		X
8	099	GU	AFAM	101	006	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	GA	0105	0	60		X
9	099	GU	AFAM	102	001	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	GA	0105	59	60	JANKEN, K R	O
10	099	GU	AFAM	102	002	TR	1100AM	1215PM	GA	0105	0	60		X
11	099	GU	AFAM	190	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	PH	0212	0	25	KAPUR, GEETA	X
12	099	GU	AFAM	254	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	GC	1005	40	40	CALDWELL, KIA L	C
13	099	GU	AFAM	258	001	MWF	1100AM	1150AM	GA	0105	40	40	JANKEN, K R	C
14	099	GU	AFAM	259	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	GA	0105	48	40	HALL, P	C
15	099	GU	AFAM	266	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	GA	0007	30	30	CALDWELL, KIA L	C
16	099	GU	AFAM	269	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	0	1		X
17	099	GU	AFAM	276	001	T	0330PM	0620PM	GA	0105	44	40	REGESTER, C B	C
18	099	GU	AFAM	278	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	GL	0101	40	40	SLOCUM, CK	C
19	099	GU	AFAM	293	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	SC	0210	39	40	JORDAN, JOSEPH	O
20	099	GU	AFAM	304	951	T	0600PM	0850PM	GA	0308	47	50	PORTER, R	O
21	099	GU	AFAM	356	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	AR	0218	40	40	HALL, P	C
22	099	GU	AFAM	387	001	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	AR	0218	10	10	BOWLES, JOHN	C
23	099	GU	AFAM	395	001	W	0300PM	0550PM	BI	0309	7	25	MCMILLAN, T	O
24	099	GU	AFAM	396	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	10	10		C
25	099	GU	AFAM	396	002	MWF	0800AM	0850AM	XX	XX	4	10	REGESTER, C B	O
26	099	GU	AFAM	398	001	W	0300PM	0550PM	PE	0217	13	25	HILDEBRAND, RF	O
27	099	GU	AFAM	428	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	0	1		X
28	099	GU	AFAM	474	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	SC	0209	29	30	PORTER, R	O
29	099	GU	AFAM	554	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	GC	3024	11	10	WILLIAMS, LYNEI	C
30	099	GU	AFAM	697	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	0	1		X
31	099	GU	AFAM	691H	001	F	0200PM	0450PM	XX	XX	0	3	JANKEN, K R	O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	AFRI	050	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	GC	3024	24	24	SELASSIE, BEREK	C
3	099	GU	AFRI	101	001	MWF	1100AM	1150AM	GC	1005	57	50	KARIM-SESAY, W	C
4	099	GU	AFRI	101	002	MWF	0100PM	0150PM	GC	1005	0	50		X
5	099	GU	AFRI	101	003	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	GC	1005	63	50	LAMBERT, MICHAE	C
6	099	GU	AFRI	101	851	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
7	099	GU	AFRI	101	951	R	0600PM	0850PM	GA	0308	49	50	PORTER, R	O
8	099	GU	AFRI	101	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			14	10	SAHLE, EUNICE	C
9	099	GU	AFRI	101	991	TBA	TBA	TBA			11	15	SAHLE, EUNICE	O
10	099	GU	AFRI	101	992	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	SAHLE, EUNICE	O
11	099	GU	AFRI	190	003	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	10		X
12	099	GU	AFRI	261	001	TR	0800AM	0915AM	GC	1005	0	30		X
13	099	GU	AFRI	262	001	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	GC	1005	35	35	FHUNSU, D	C
14	099	GU	AFRI	263	001	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	SC	0210	0	40		X
15	099	GU	AFRI	265	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	10	MCKINLEY, D	O
16	099	GU	AFRI	265	991	TBA	TBA	TBA			4	15	MCKINLEY, D	O
17	099	GU	AFRI	265	992	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	1	MCKINLEY, D	C
18	099	GU	AFRI	266	001	W	0300PM	0550PM	PE	0220	23	20	COOKE, AE	C
19	099	GU	AFRI	266	002	TR	0330PM	0445PM	XX	XX	0	1	NYANG'ORO, J	X
20	099	GU	AFRI	370	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	DE	0209	29	30	SELASSIE, BEREK	O
21	099	GU	AFRI	396	001	W	0200PM	0450PM	XX	XX	0	1	NYANG'ORO, J	O
22	099	GU	AFRI	396	002	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	FG	0105	0	10		O
23	099	GU	AFRI	416	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	16		X
24	099	GU	AFRI	416	01S	TBA	TBA	TBA			16	16	SAHLE, EUNICE	C
25	099	GU	AFRI	453	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	AR	0218	4	5	MAGEE, CAROL	O
26	099	GU	AFRI	474	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	SC	0209	10	10	PORTER, R	C
27	099	GU	AFRI	521	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	11	30	NYANG'ORO, J	O
28	099	GU	AFRI	523	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	0	30		X
29	099	GU	AFRI	691H	001	F	0200PM	0450PM	XX	XX	1	3		O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	AHSC	613I	960	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	20	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O
3	099	GU	AHSC	613I	974	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	25	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O
4	099	GU	AHSC	613I	01W	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	25	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O
5	099	GU	AHSC	615I	960	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	20	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O
6	099	GU	AHSC	615I	974	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	25	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O
7	099	GU	AHSC	615I	01W	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	25	BAILLIARD, ANTO	O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	AMST	051	001	MW	0330PM	0450PM	GM	0212	18	18	WILLIS, RACHEL	C
3	099	GU	AMST	058	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	MU	0204	21	24	FOSTER, TOL	O
4	099	GU	AMST	110	006	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	SC	0103	45	47	DUVAL, KATHLEEN	O
5	099	GU	AMST	110	600	F	0900AM	0950AM	HM	0517	5	3	KUTZ, KIMBERLY	C
6	099	GU	AMST	110	601	F	1000AM	1050AM	BI	0108	4	3	BERLER, ANNE K.	C
7	099	GU	AMST	110	602	F	1000AM	1050AM	GA	0103	4	5	KUTZ, KIMBERLY	O
8	099	GU	AMST	110	603	F	1100AM	1150AM	BI	0101	4	4	BERLER, ANNE K.	C
9	099	GU	AMST	110	604	F	1100AM	1150AM	BI	0217	5	5	BAUER, BROOKE M	C
10	099	GU	AMST	110	605	F	1200PM	1250PM	BI	0217	6	5	BAUER, BROOKE M	C
11	099	GU	AMST	110	606	R	0400PM	0450PM	NE	0102	5	5	KUTZ, KIMBERLY	C
12	099	GU	AMST	110	607	R	0330PM	0420PM	GA	0210	4	5	BAUER, BROOKE M	O
13	099	GU	AMST	110	608	R	0500PM	0550PM	BI	0317	5	5	BERLER, ANNE K.	C
14	099	GU	AMST	201	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	MU	0204	31	25	CANTWELL, R S	C
15	099	GU	AMST	231	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	GL	0431	37	35	MAYNOR, MALINDA	C
16	099	GU	AMST	231	601	R	0330PM	0420PM	BI	0108	11	12		O
17	099	GU	AMST	231	602	F	1000AM	1050AM	HO	0106	12	12		C
18	099	GU	AMST	231	603	F	1200PM	1250PM	DE	0304	11	11		C
19	099	GU	AMST	246	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	PE	0218	33	37	FOSTER, TOL	O
20	099	GU	AMST	253	001	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	SA	0104	16	20	FERRIS, MARCIE	O
21	099	GU	AMST	277	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	GM	0038	27	23	ALLEN, R	C
22	099	GU	AMST	290	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	MU	0204	24	25	KASSON, J S	O
23	099	GU	AMST	292	001	MWF	0100PM	0150PM	MU	0204	0	25		O
24	099	GU	AMST	378	001	M	0600PM	0850PM	GM	0038	22	20	ALLEN, R	C
25	099	GU	AMST	387	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	MU	0204	21	23	GARCIA, JAY	O
26	099	GU	AMST	394	001	M	1100AM	1215PM	GM	0039	61	60	WILLIS, RACHEL	C
27	099	GU	AMST	394	601	W	1100AM	1215PM	HM	0517	21	20	HOWES, J B	C
28	099	GU	AMST	394	602	W	1100AM	1215PM	HM	0570	21	20	BLANCHARD, LYNN	C
29	099	GU	AMST	394	603	W	1100AM	1215PM	HM	0420	19	20	THORNTON, COURT	O
30	099	GU	AMST	396	010	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	HERMAN, BERNARD	O
31	099	GU	AMST	396	012	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FOSTER, TOL	O
32	099	GU	AMST	396	014	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	GARCIA, JAY	O
33	099	GU	AMST	396	026	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	1	CANTWELL, R S	C
34	099	GU	AMST	396	030	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	3	MARR, TIMOTHY W	O
35	099	GU	AMST	396	040	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FERRIS, MARCIE	O
36	099	GU	AMST	396	051	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	ALLEN, R	O
37	099	GU	AMST	396	070	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FERRIS, WILLIAM	O
38	099	GU	AMST	396	075	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	WILLIS, RACHEL	O
39	099	GU	AMST	396	090	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	KASSON, J S	O
40	099	GU	AMST	397	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			24	25	WILLIS, RACHEL	O
41	099	GU	AMST	397	051	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	2	ALLEN, R	O
42	099	GU	AMST	482	001	R	0100PM	0330PM	PE	0306	21	30	ROBERTS, KATHER	O
43	099	GU	AMST	483	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	BI	0103	111	116	HERMAN, BERNARD	O
44	099	GU	AMST	486	001	MWF	1100AM	1150AM	SA	0204	19	18	FERRIS, MARCIE	C
45	099	GU	AMST	499	001	W	0330PM	0550PM	MU	0204	10	10	HENDRICKSON, PA	C

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
46	099	GU	AMST	499	002	TR	0930AM	1045AM	MU	0204	15	25	HERMAN, BERNARD	O
47	099	GU	AMST	890	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM			0	15	HERMAN, BERNARD	X
48	099	GU	AMST	899	001	W	0400PM	0630PM	GL	0321	6	11	GARCIA, JAY	O
49	099	GU	AMST	394L	001	F	1100AM	0300PM			17	40	WILLIS, RACHEL	O
50	099	GU	AMST	394L	401	F	1100AM	0250PM	PE	0311	0	40	WILLIS, RACHEL	O
51	099	GU	AMST	691H	010	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	HERMAN, BERNARD	O
52	099	GU	AMST	691H	012	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FOSTER, TOL	O
53	099	GU	AMST	691H	014	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	GARCIA, JAY	O
54	099	GU	AMST	691H	015	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	1	ROBERTS, KATHER	C
55	099	GU	AMST	691H	025	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	CANTWELL, R S	X
56	099	GU	AMST	691H	026	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	CANTWELL, R S	O
57	099	GU	AMST	691H	030	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	3	MARR, TIMOTHY W	O
58	099	GU	AMST	691H	033	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FERRIS, WILLIAM	X
59	099	GU	AMST	691H	040	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	1	FERRIS, MARCIE	C
60	099	GU	AMST	691H	051	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	ALLEN, R	O
61	099	GU	AMST	691H	060	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	ROBERTS, KATHER	X
62	099	GU	AMST	691H	070	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	FERRIS, WILLIAM	O
63	099	GU	AMST	691H	075	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	1	WILLIS, RACHEL	C
64	099	GU	AMST	691H	090	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	KASSON, J S	O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Session	Status
2	099	GU	ANTH	092	001	TR	0500PM	0615PM	GL	0222	20	35	ROUSSEAU, MALEN		O
3	099	GU	ANTH	101	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	KL	B121	34	35	KING, MARTHA E.		O
4	099	GU	ANTH	101	002	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	AL	0207	34	35	ESAREY, DUANE E		O
5	099	GU	ANTH	101	003	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	AL	0207	34	35	MCBRIDE, LAWREN		O
6	099	GU	ANTH	101	006	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	CA	0111	179	180	TICKNER, AMANDA		O
7	099	GU	ANTH	101	007	TR	0330PM	0445PM	CA	0111	177	180	PRICE, CHARLES		O
8	099	GU	ANTH	101	602	T	0330PM	0420PM	GL	0106	20	20	SURRIDGE, PAUL		C
9	099	GU	ANTH	101	603	M	0200PM	0250PM	DE	0304	20	20	SCHAEFER, KIMBE		C
10	099	GU	ANTH	101	604	W	0800AM	0850AM	BI	0217	20	20	SCHAEFER, KIMBE		C
11	099	GU	ANTH	101	605	W	0400PM	0450PM	MU	0002	17	20	SURRIDGE, PAUL		O
12	099	GU	ANTH	101	606	W	0300PM	0350PM	DE	0401	20	20	SCHAEFER, KIMBE		C
13	099	GU	ANTH	101	607	W	0100PM	0150PM	PE	0215	20	20	BENNETT, EDWARD		C
14	099	GU	ANTH	101	608	W	0200PM	0250PM	TT	0113	20	20	BENNETT, EDWARD		C
15	099	GU	ANTH	101	609	T	0200PM	0250PM	DE	0410	20	20	SURRIDGE, PAUL		C
16	099	GU	ANTH	101	610	W	0300PM	0350PM	MU	0202	20	20	BENNETT, EDWARD		C
17	099	GU	ANTH	101	701	M	0200PM	0250PM	HM	0452	20	20	O'CONNELL, CAEL		C
18	099	GU	ANTH	101	702	M	0300PM	0350PM	MU	0202	23	23	O'CONNELL, CAEL		C
19	099	GU	ANTH	101	703	T	0200PM	0250PM	BI	0301	19	20	SEMON, ANNA M		O
20	099	GU	ANTH	101	704	M	0100PM	0150PM	DA	0101	20	20	GUTIERREZ ESCOB		C
21	099	GU	ANTH	101	705	T	0200PM	0250PM	SA	0322	21	20	GUTIERREZ ESCOB		C
22	099	GU	ANTH	101	706	T	1230PM	0120PM	GA	0007	20	20	O'CONNELL, CAEL		C
23	099	GU	ANTH	101	707	T	0800AM	0850AM	BI	0217	14	20	SEMON, ANNA M		O
24	099	GU	ANTH	101	708	M	0400PM	0450PM	MU	0002	18	20	GUTIERREZ ESCOB		O
25	099	GU	ANTH	101	709	M	0200PM	0250PM	HM	0570	20	20	SEMON, ANNA M		C
26	099	GU	ANTH	101	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	10	BURNET, JENNIE		O
27	099	GU	ANTH	102	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			6	10	REICHART, KARA		O
28	099	GU	ANTH	102	991	TBA	TBA	TBA			5	15	REICHART, KARA		O
29	099	GU	ANTH	102	992	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	1	REICHART, KARA		O
30	099	GU	ANTH	121	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	HN	0125	45	45	SCARRY, JOHN F.		C
31	099	GU	ANTH	142	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	10	MORTENSEN, AMY		O
32	099	GU	ANTH	145	006	TR	0330PM	0445PM	SC	0103	178	180	BILLMAN, BRIAN		O
33	099	GU	ANTH	145	603	W	0800AM	0850AM	BI	0208	16	20	CUBBON, EMILY		O
34	099	GU	ANTH	145	604	W	0300PM	0350PM	BI	0101	21	20	CAFFREY, KAREN		C
35	099	GU	ANTH	145	605	W	0100PM	0150PM	GC	3024	19	20	CAFFREY, KAREN		O
36	099	GU	ANTH	145	606	W	0200PM	0250PM	DE	0304	22	20	CAFFREY, KAREN		C
37	099	GU	ANTH	145	607	T	1230PM	0120PM	AR	0118	20	20	JUENGST, SARA L		C
38	099	GU	ANTH	145	608	T	0200PM	0250PM	PH	0220	19	20	JUENGST, SARA L		O
39	099	GU	ANTH	145	609	F	0300PM	0350PM	GL	0103	18	20	JUENGST, SARA L		O
40	099	GU	ANTH	145	610	F	0200PM	0250PM	GA	0307	20	20	CUBBON, EMILY		C
41	099	GU	ANTH	145	611	W	0400PM	0450PM	GL	0104	20	20	CUBBON, EMILY		C
42	099	GU	ANTH	146	006	TR	0200PM	0250PM	HM	0100	395	400	EVENS, T M		O
43	099	GU	ANTH	146	601	W	0900AM	0950AM	GL	0301	21	20	SCHISSEL, PAUL		C
44	099	GU	ANTH	146	602	W	0800AM	0850AM	BI	0101	17	20	SCHISSEL, PAUL		O
45	099	GU	ANTH	146	603	W	0200PM	0250PM	HM	0452	20	20	MO, HYUN JOO		C

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O
46	099	GU	ANTH	146	604	W	0300PM	0350PM	BI	0217	20	20	KAMAL, SAYDIA G		C
47	099	GU	ANTH	146	605	W	0200PM	0250PM	MU	0002	20	20	HUFFMAN, EDWARD		C
48	099	GU	ANTH	146	606	F	0800AM	0850AM	BI	0208	7	20	JOUTY, LORI L		O
49	099	GU	ANTH	146	607	F	0100PM	0150PM	HM	0517	20	20	WEST, LINDSAY M		C
50	099	GU	ANTH	146	608	W	0300PM	0350PM	BI	0208	22	20	HUFFMAN, EDWARD		C
51	099	GU	ANTH	146	609	F	0100PM	0150PM	MA	0307	20	20	LASSITER, DRAGA		C
52	099	GU	ANTH	146	610	W	0400PM	0450PM	GL	0106	19	20	WEST, LINDSAY M		O
53	099	GU	ANTH	146	611	W	0300PM	0350PM	BI	0306	20	20	SCHISSEL, PAUL		C
54	099	GU	ANTH	146	613	R	1230PM	0120PM	CW	0208	20	20	JOUTY, LORI L		C
55	099	GU	ANTH	146	614	W	0100PM	0150PM	MU	0112	20	20	HUFFMAN, EDWARD		C
56	099	GU	ANTH	146	615	F	0100PM	0150PM	PE	0215	21	20	JOUTY, LORI L		C
57	099	GU	ANTH	146	616	F	0200PM	0250PM	DE	0412	19	20	LASSITER, DRAGA		O
58	099	GU	ANTH	146	617	R	0400PM	0450PM	GL	0305	18	20	MO, HYUN JOO		O
59	099	GU	ANTH	146	618	W	0200PM	0250PM	DE	0404	21	20	WEST, LINDSAY M		C
60	099	GU	ANTH	146	619	W	0300PM	0350PM	HM	0517	19	20	MO, HYUN JOO		O
61	099	GU	ANTH	146	620	W	0400PM	0450PM	AL	0207	20	20	KAMAL, SAYDIA G		C
62	099	GU	ANTH	146	621	F	0300PM	0350PM	GL	0107	15	20	LASSITER, DRAGA		O
63	099	GU	ANTH	147	006	TR	1230PM	0145PM	GL	0101	120	120	RIVKIN-FISH, MI		C
64	099	GU	ANTH	147	601	R	0200PM	0250PM	GA	0104	19	20	LIVINGSTON, TAY		O
65	099	GU	ANTH	147	602	R	0300PM	0350PM	PE	0204	20	20	LIVINGSTON, TAY		C
66	099	GU	ANTH	147	603	R	0400PM	0450PM	HM	0517	19	20	LIVINGSTON, TAY		O
67	099	GU	ANTH	147	604	F	0100PM	0150PM	SA	0322	21	20	FISKE, AMELIA M		C
68	099	GU	ANTH	147	605	F	0200PM	0250PM	AR	0116	20	20	FISKE, AMELIA M		C
69	099	GU	ANTH	147	606	F	0300PM	0350PM	AL	0205	17	20	FISKE, AMELIA M		O
70	099	GU	ANTH	148	006	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	PE	0104	116	120	HUTCHINSON, DAL		O
71	099	GU	ANTH	148	601	R	0200PM	0250PM	AL	0404	20	20	BLOCH, LINDSAY		C
72	099	GU	ANTH	148	602	R	1230PM	0120PM	AL	0404	20	20	BLOCH, LINDSAY		C
73	099	GU	ANTH	148	603	F	0900AM	0950AM	AL	0404	18	20	MORGAN, MARY M		O
74	099	GU	ANTH	148	604	F	1100AM	1150AM	AL	0404	19	20	MORGAN, MARY M		O
75	099	GU	ANTH	148	605	F	1200PM	1250PM	AL	0404	19	20	MORGAN, MARY M		O
76	099	GU	ANTH	148	606	R	0330PM	0420PM	AL	0404	19	20	BLOCH, LINDSAY		O
77	099	GU	ANTH	151	006	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	PE	0104	119	120	SCARRY, C. MARG		O
78	099	GU	ANTH	151	601	W	0300PM	0350PM	TT	0113	19	20	NOVOTNY, CLAIRE		O
79	099	GU	ANTH	151	602	W	0400PM	0450PM	TT	0114	17	20	CRANFORD, DAVID		O
80	099	GU	ANTH	151	603	W	0500PM	0550PM	TT	0114	22	20	CRANFORD, DAVID		C
81	099	GU	ANTH	151	604	R	0200PM	0250PM	SC	0210	20	20	NOVOTNY, CLAIRE		C
82	099	GU	ANTH	151	605	R	0330PM	0420PM	PE	0217	18	20	NOVOTNY, CLAIRE		O
83	099	GU	ANTH	151	606	W	0300PM	0350PM	TT	0114	21	20	CRANFORD, DAVID		C
84	099	GU	ANTH	210	001	MW	1100AM	1150AM	GC	1015	10	10	WEILER, J		C
85	099	GU	ANTH	210	601	F	1100AM	1150AM	GA	0209	2	2	FOX, LISA		C
86	099	GU	ANTH	210	602	R	0500PM	0550PM	GL	0103	2	2	FOX, LISA		C
87	099	GU	ANTH	210	603	F	1100AM	1150AM	GA	0307	1	1	HENNESSEY, ELIZ		C
88	099	GU	ANTH	210	604	R	0330PM	0420PM	PE	0215	1	1	HENNESSEY, ELIZ		C
89	099	GU	ANTH	210	605	F	1100AM	1150AM	HM	0452	1	1	BRADLEY, LAUREL		C
90	099	GU	ANTH	210	606	R	0330PM	0420PM	PH	0328	1	1	BRADLEY, LAUREL		C

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O
91	099	GU	ANTH	210	609	R	0500PM	0550PM	BI	0217	1	2	SHAIR-ROSENFIEL		O
92	099	GU	ANTH	210	610	F	1100AM	1150AM	HN	0130	1	1	SHAIR-ROSENFIEL		C
93	099	GU	ANTH	226	006	MWF	0100PM	0150PM	PE	0104	123	120	DANIELS, R E		C
94	099	GU	ANTH	226	601	R	0330PM	0420PM	HN	0112	17	20	PIZER, TIMOTHY		O
95	099	GU	ANTH	226	602	W	0300PM	0350PM	PH	0222	26	25	WESTERMEYER, WI		C
96	099	GU	ANTH	226	603	R	1230PM	0120PM	PH	0222	26	25	WESTERMEYER, WI		C
97	099	GU	ANTH	226	604	R	0300PM	0350PM	GC	1009	13	25	WESTERMEYER, WI		O
98	099	GU	ANTH	226	605	W	0400PM	0450PM	DE	0301	14	25	PIZER, TIMOTHY		O
99	099	GU	ANTH	226	606	F	1000AM	1050AM	AR	0117	26	25	PIZER, TIMOTHY		C
100	099	GU	ANTH	230	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	AL	0203	27	27	LAMBERT, VALERI		C
101	099	GU	ANTH	248	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	AL	0203	27	32	SLOCUM, CK		O
102	099	GU	ANTH	285	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	AL	0203	32	30	ARAGON, LORRAIN		C
103	099	GU	ANTH	296	052	M	0400PM	0450PM	DE	0405	14	15	LACHICOTTE, WIL		O
104	099	GU	ANTH	297	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	AL	0205	25	25	ARAGON, LORRAIN		C
105	099	GU	ANTH	297	002	TR	0330PM	0445PM	AL	0205	15	25	SCARRY, JOHN F.		O
106	099	GU	ANTH	299	053	MW	0500PM	0615PM	AL	0205	0	30			X
107	099	GU	ANTH	312	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	MU	0104	28	35	SORENSEN, MARK		O
108	099	GU	ANTH	318	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	KL	B125	35	35	THOMPSON, AMAND		C
109	099	GU	ANTH	319	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	DE	0201	30	30	THOMPSON, AMAND		C
110	099	GU	ANTH	393	040	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	DAVIS, R P STEP		O
111	099	GU	ANTH	393	074	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	SMITH-NONINI, S		O
112	099	GU	ANTH	393	075	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	MCANANY, PATRIC		O
113	099	GU	ANTH	393	078	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	THOMPSON, AMAND		O
114	099	GU	ANTH	395	004	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	2	DANIELS, R E		O
115	099	GU	ANTH	395	062	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	PRICE, CHARLES		O
116	099	GU	ANTH	396	011	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	PEACOCK, J L		O
117	099	GU	ANTH	396	016	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	HOLLAND, DOROTH		O
118	099	GU	ANTH	396	022	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	CRUMLEY, C L		O
119	099	GU	ANTH	396	025	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	JOHNSON, NORRIS		O
120	099	GU	ANTH	396	040	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	DAVIS, R P STEP		O
121	099	GU	ANTH	396	063	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	HUTCHINSON, DAL		O
122	099	GU	ANTH	396	067	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	SORENSEN, MARK		O
123	099	GU	ANTH	396	076	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	COLLOREDO-MANSF		O
124	099	GU	ANTH	396	077	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	DENNISON, JEAN		O
125	099	GU	ANTH	411	006	TR	0930AM	1045AM	AL	0404	22	20	STEPONAITIS, L		C
126	099	GU	ANTH	411	606	T	1100AM	1215PM	AL	0404	22	20	STEPONAITIS, L		C
127	099	GU	ANTH	414	006	MWF	0100PM	0150PM	AL	0404	18	16	SIMON, SARA KAT		C
128	099	GU	ANTH	422	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	AL	0207	32	35	REDFIELD, PETER		O
129	099	GU	ANTH	428	001	W	1200PM	0250PM	YC	0207	0	2	TYSON, R W		X
130	099	GU	ANTH	435	006	MWF	1100AM	1150AM	PH	0265	53	55	PEACOCK, J L		O
131	099	GU	ANTH	435	601	M	0200PM	0250PM	PE	0218	18	20	SUIT, NATALIA K		O
132	099	GU	ANTH	435	602	W	0300PM	0350PM	DE	0207	15	10	SUIT, NATALIA K		C
133	099	GU	ANTH	435	603	R	0200PM	0250PM	HO	0106	17	20	SUIT, NATALIA K		O
134	099	GU	ANTH	435	604	R	0330PM	0420PM	DE	303A	0	25			X
135	099	GU	ANTH	440	990	TBA	TBA	TBA			5	10	REICHART, KARA		O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O
136	099	GU	ANTH	455	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	AL	0203	13	32	JONES, E		O
137	099	GU	ANTH	458	001	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	AL	0203	30	27	TOMASKOVA, SILV		C
138	099	GU	ANTH	466	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	LG	0304	0	35	NONINI, D M		X
139	099	GU	ANTH	470	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	PE	0217	31	31	RIVKIN-FISH, MI		C
140	099	GU	ANTH	473	001	MW	0500PM	0615PM	AL	0207	24	25	LACHICOTTE, WIL		O
141	099	GU	ANTH	499	047	MWF	0900AM	0950AM	AL	0203	12	30	WIENER, MARGARE		O
142	099	GU	ANTH	499	073	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	MCANANY, PATRIC		O
143	099	GU	ANTH	499	074	TR	0200PM	0315PM			0	30	SMITH-NONINI, S		X
144	099	GU	ANTH	499	075	TR	0930AM	1045AM	AL	0205	12	30	MCANANY, PATRIC		O
145	099	GU	ANTH	499	076	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	AL	0205	24	30	COLLOREDO-MANSF		O
146	099	GU	ANTH	499	077	T	0500PM	0745PM	SA	0204	9	20	DENNISON, JEAN		O
147	099	GU	ANTH	585	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	AL	0205	30	30	REDFIELD, PETER		C
148	099	GU	ANTH	586	001	TR	0500PM	0615PM	GA	0009	0	27	JOHNSON, NORRIS		X
149	099	GU	ANTH	599	074	M	1200PM	0245PM	PE	0010	21	22	SMITH-NONINI, S		O
150	099	GU	ANTH	675	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	NW	0219	0	20	ARAGON, LORRAIN		X
151	099	GU	ANTH	699	001	T	0300PM	0350PM	XX	XX	7	7	EVENS, T M		C
152	099	GU	ANTH	701	001	T	0930AM	1215PM	AL	0308	10	15	NELSON, CHRISTO		O
153	099	GU	ANTH	703	001	R	0930AM	1215PM	AL	0308	8	15	SORENSEN, MARK		O
154	099	GU	ANTH	728	001	T	1045AM	0130PM	XX	XX	5	20	AGBE-DAVIES, AN		O
155	099	GU	ANTH	750	001	F	0930AM	1215PM	AL	0308	6	15	LACHICOTTE, WIL		O
156	099	GU	ANTH	817	001	F	0300PM	0545PM	AL	0308	11	15	TOMASKOVA, SILV		O
157	099	GU	ANTH	897	032	R	0330PM	0615PM	AL	0308	0	10	NONINI, D M		X
158	099	GU	ANTH	897	034	M	0900AM	1145AM	AL	0308	0	10			X
159	099	GU	ANTH	897	044	M	1230PM	0315PM	AL	0308	14	15	SAWIN, PATRICIA		O
160	099	GU	ANTH	897	047	W	1200PM	0245PM	AL	0308	10	15	WIENER, MARGARE		O
161	099	GU	ANTH	897	048	W	0900AM	1145AM	XX	XX	11	15	SCARRY, C. MARG		O
162	099	GU	ANTH	897	053	T	0500PM	0750PM	AL	0308	8	15	ESCOBAR, ARTURO		O
163	099	GU	ANTH	897	058	M	0930AM	1215PM	HM	0517	6	15	LAMBERT, VALERI		O
164	099	GU	ANTH	901	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	STEPONAITIS, V		O
165	099	GU	ANTH	901	016	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	HOLLAND, DOROTH		O
166	099	GU	ANTH	901	034	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	NONINI, D M		O
167	099	GU	ANTH	901	042	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	BILLMAN, BRIAN		O
168	099	GU	ANTH	901	044	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5			O
169	099	GU	ANTH	901	047	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	WIENER, MARGARE		O
170	099	GU	ANTH	901	048	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	SCARRY, C. MARG		O
171	099	GU	ANTH	901	052	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	LACHICOTTE, WIL		O
172	099	GU	ANTH	901	054	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	REDFIELD, PETER		O
173	099	GU	ANTH	901	056	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	SLOCUM, CK		O
174	099	GU	ANTH	901	058	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	LAMBERT, VALERI		O
175	099	GU	ANTH	901	059	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	TOMASKOVA, SILV		O
176	099	GU	ANTH	901	062	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	PRICE, CHARLES		O
177	099	GU	ANTH	901	063	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	HUTCHINSON, DAL		O
178	099	GU	ANTH	901	064	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	NELSON, CHRISTO		O
179	099	GU	ANTH	901	065	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	MADRY, S L		O
180	099	GU	ANTH	901	067	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	SORENSEN, MARK		O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O
181	099	GU	ANTH	901	073	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	RIVKIN-FISH, MI		O
182	099	GU	ANTH	901	075	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	MCANANY, PATRIC		O
183	099	GU	ANTH	901	077	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	DENNISON, JEAN		O
184	099	GU	ANTH	915	042	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	BILLMAN, BRIAN		O
185	099	GU	ANTH	993	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	STEPONAITIS, V		O
186	099	GU	ANTH	993	047	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	WIENER, MARGARE		O
187	099	GU	ANTH	993	073	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	RIVKIN-FISH, MI		O
188	099	GU	ANTH	994	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			4	10	STEPONAITIS, V		O
189	099	GU	ANTH	994	016	TBA	TBA	TBA			7	10	HOLLAND, DOROTH		O
190	099	GU	ANTH	994	022	TBA	TBA	TBA			5	5	CRUMLEY, C L		C
191	099	GU	ANTH	994	031	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	ESTROFF, S E		O
192	099	GU	ANTH	994	036	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	HINSON, G D		O
193	099	GU	ANTH	994	040	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	DAVIS, R P STEP		O
194	099	GU	ANTH	994	042	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	BILLMAN, BRIAN		O
195	099	GU	ANTH	994	047	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	WIENER, MARGARE		O
196	099	GU	ANTH	994	048	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	SCARRY, C. MARG		O
197	099	GU	ANTH	994	052	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5	LACHICOTTE, WIL		O
198	099	GU	ANTH	994	053	TBA	TBA	TBA			4	5	ESCOBAR, ARTURO		O
199	099	GU	ANTH	994	054	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5			O
200	099	GU	ANTH	994	058	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	LAMBERT, VALERI		O
201	099	GU	ANTH	994	063	TBA	TBA	TBA			4	5	HUTCHINSON, DAL		O
202	099	GU	ANTH	994	064	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	5	NELSON, CHRISTO		O
203	099	GU	ANTH	994	073	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	RIVKIN-FISH, MI		O
204	099	GU	ANTH	060H	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	GM	0038	24	24	MCANANY, PATRIC		C
205	099	GU	ANTH	414L	406	MWF	0200PM	0250PM	AL	0404	18	16	SIMON, SARA KAT		C
206	099	GU	ANTH	438H	264	TR	0200PM	0315PM	XX	XX	2	13	JOHNSON, NORRIS		X
207	099	GU	ANTH	499H	011	T	0900AM	1145AM	DE	0405	7	15	PEACOCK, J L		O
208	099	GU	ANTH	691H	001	W	0500PM	0650PM	AL	0304	8	15	AGBE-DAVIES, AN		O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	APPL	160	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	PE	0218	30	45	OLDENBURG, AMY	O
3	099	GU	APPL	210	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			15	40	DENNIS, ROBERT	O
4	099	GU	APPL	341	001	MWF	0300PM	0350PM	PH	0265	24	28	TSUI, FRANK	O
5	099	GU	APPL	392	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	10		O
6	099	GU	APPL	395	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			3	5	GOLDBERG, RICHA	O
7	099	GU	APPL	395	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	5	GOMEZ, SHAWN M	O
8	099	GU	APPL	395	003	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	5		O
9	099	GU	APPL	396	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	10		O
10	099	GU	APPL	396	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			1	10		O
11	099	GU	APPL	396	003	W	0400PM	0450PM	MU	0117	0	10		O
12	099	GU	APPL	421	001	MWF	0900AM	0950AM	CP	0125	2	5	YOU, WEI	O
13	099	GU	APPL	422	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	DE	0209	0	3	RUBINSTEIN, MIC	O
14	099	GU	APPL	450	001	MWF	1200PM	1250PM	GA	0009	33	32	FINLEY, CHARLES	C
15	099	GU	APPL	460	400	R	0400PM	0450PM	HO	0107	24	38	FINLEY, CHARLES	O
16	099	GU	APPL	470	001	TR	0800AM	0915AM	KL	B121	6	10	SAMULSKI, EDWAR	O
17	099	GU	APPL	480	001	TR	1100AM	1215PM	XX	XX	24	24	GOLDBERG, RICHA	C
18	099	GU	APPL	510	001	MWF	1000AM	1050AM	XX	XX	15	15	BANES, ALBERT	C
19	099	GU	APPL	697	001	W	0400PM	0550PM	XX	XX	34	35	DENNIS, ROBERT	O
20	099	GU	APPL	491L	427	TR	0200PM	0450PM	PH	0200	0	1	QIN, LU-CHANG	O
21	099	GU	APPL	492L	400	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	10		O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	ARAB	101	001	MTWR	0800AM	0850AM	MU	0111	0	0		X
3	099	GU	ARAB	101	002	MTWR	1100AM	1150AM	NW	0103	21	15	JOUKHADAR, CHAR	C
4	099	GU	ARAB	101	003	MTWR	0900AM	0950AM	MU	0118	23	15	RULON, M	C
5	099	GU	ARAB	101	004	TR	1230PM	0145PM	NW	0103	21	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
6	099	GU	ARAB	101	004	M	0100PM	0150PM	AR	0215	21	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
7	099	GU	ARAB	101	005	TR	0330PM	0445PM	NW	0103	20	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
8	099	GU	ARAB	101	005	M	0300PM	0350PM	AR	0215	20	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
9	099	GU	ARAB	101	006	M	1200PM	1250PM	PH	0212	22	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
10	099	GU	ARAB	101	006	TR	0500PM	0615PM	AR	0215	22	15	ISLEEM, NASSER	C
11	099	GU	ARAB	101	007	MTWR	0900AM	0950AM	MU	0111	0	0		X
12	099	GU	ARAB	150	001	TR	0200PM	0315PM	WI	0217	25	26	AMER, S	O
13	099	GU	ARAB	203	001	MTWR	1000AM	1050AM	MU	0111	19	20	EL KERDANY, DOR	O
14	099	GU	ARAB	203	002	MTWR	0100PM	0150PM	SA	0321	19	20	EL KERDANY, DOR	O
15	099	GU	ARAB	203	003	MTWR	0300PM	0350PM	MU	0111	18	20	JOUKHADAR, CHAR	O
16	099	GU	ARAB	203	004	MTWR	0400PM	0450PM	MU	0111	16	20	JOUKHADAR, CHAR	O
17	099	GU	ARAB	203	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
18	099	GU	ARAB	204	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
19	099	GU	ARAB	305	001	MWR	0800AM	0850AM	AR	0215	14	16	EL KERDANY, DOR	O
20	099	GU	ARAB	305	002	MWR	0900AM	0950AM	MU	0111	15	15	EL KERDANY, DOR	C
21	099	GU	ARAB	407	001	TR	0930AM	1045AM	NW	0103	0	15	YAQUB, NADIA	X
22	099	GU	ARAB	453	001	T	0500PM	0700PM	DE	0208	0	35		X
23	099	GU	ARAB	453	001	TR	0330PM	0445PM	DE	0208	0	35		X

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	ARMY	100	401	W	0400PM	0600PM	NA	0101	59	80	YODER, MONTE	O
3	099	GU	ARMY	101	001	W	0300PM	0350PM	NA	0006	34	34	YODER, MONTE	C
4	099	GU	ARMY	101	002	W	0100PM	0150PM	NA	0006	17	35	YODER, MONTE	O
5	099	GU	ARMY	101	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
6	099	GU	ARMY	101	999	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
7	099	GU	ARMY	102	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
8	099	GU	ARMY	190	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	20		O
9	099	GU	ARMY	196	001	TBA	TBA	TBA			2	10	YODER, MONTE	O
10	099	GU	ARMY	196	002	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	10	FERNANDEZ, DAVI	O
11	099	GU	ARMY	196	003	TBA	TBA	TBA			6	10	CAROLLO, ADAM	O
12	099	GU	ARMY	201	001	M	1000AM	1150AM	NA	0006	11	35	FERNANDEZ, DAVI	O
13	099	GU	ARMY	201	002	M	0200PM	0350PM	NA	0012	25	24	FERNANDEZ, DAVI	C
14	099	GU	ARMY	201	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
15	099	GU	ARMY	201	999	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
16	099	GU	ARMY	202	999	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
17	099	GU	ARMY	301	001	TR	0800AM	0915AM	NA	0012	20	29	CAROLLO, ADAM	O
18	099	GU	ARMY	301	999	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
19	099	GU	ARMY	302	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
20	099	GU	ARMY	302	999	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
21	099	GU	ARMY	401	001	M	0200PM	0350PM	NA	0006	10	15	YODER, MONTE	O

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N
1	Term	AU	Subj	Course	Sect	Days	Start	Stop	Bldg	Rm	Actual Enrl	Max Enrl	Instructor	Status
2	099	GU	ART	054	001	TR	0500PM	0615PM	HM	0150	18	21	SHERMAN, DANIEL	O
3	099	GU	ART	059	001	MW	1100AM	0150PM	AR	0226	18	21	HIRSCHFIELD, J	O
4	099	GU	ART	079	001	TR	1230PM	0145PM	AR	0117	22	24	PARDO, M	O
5	099	GU	ART	079	002	TR	0330PM	0445PM	AR	0218	22	24	PARDO, M	O
6	099	GU	ART	089	001	TR	0500PM	0615PM	HM	0150	0	21	SHERMAN, DANIEL	X
7	099	GU	ART	101	998	TBA	TBA	TBA			0	999		O
8	099	GU	ART	102	001	MW	0800AM	1050AM	AR	0301	19	15	GRABOWSKI, S E	C
