THE CLIENT

FUSION is recruiting a Chartered or Near Chartered Structural Engineer for an established structural engineering consultancy in Central London. The practice works on refurbishment and new-build projects.

THE ROLE

You will manage your own structural engineering projects, combining design work with site inspections, surveys and technical reporting. The role suits an engineer with varied design-office experience who is Chartered or progressing towards chartership.

For senior engineers, the appointment offers scope to work towards Associate level.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develop conceptual and detailed structural designs.
- Prepare designs in reinforced concrete, steelwork, masonry and timber.
- Produce steelwork connection and temporary works designs where required.
- Carry out site inspections and surveys.
- Prepare technical reports, letters and sketches of construction details.

PROJECT DELIVERY

- Take responsibility for your own projects and make considered engineering decisions.
- Communicate design proposals and findings clearly.
- Apply practical structural solutions to refurbishment and new-build work.

REQUIRED EXPERIENCE

- Chartered status or progress towards chartership.
- Varied structural design-office experience and the ability to manage your own projects.
- Clear verbal communication and the ability to write technical reports and letters.

DESIRABLE EXPERIENCE

- Experience in conceptual design and detailed design across the principal structural materials.
- Steelwork connection design and temporary works design experience.
- Experience undertaking structural inspections, surveys and construction-detail sketches.

WORKING ARRANGEMENTS AND BENEFITS

- Permanent, full-time appointment based in Central London.
- 25 days' annual leave and paid overtime.
- Medical insurance, income protection and life assurance.
- Paid professional subscriptions.
- Initial professional development training and mentoring.
