What is a Funeral

A Funeral is a ceremony or gathering to honor, celebrate, and remember the life of your loved one.

This can be done in any way YOU decide!

A church service, a memorial service, a party, a last hike, a graveside service, are all funerals and there is no right one. All that is important is that family and friends have a time to come together and share memories and support one another.

The funeral is to celebrate the memory of the deceased, and for the health of the living, by having a funeral, you help ease the emotional stress of grief.

Remember there is no right way to have a funeral only your way!

This process is NOT about anyone or anything else, but what YOU want for YOUR loved one. I pledge that I will not pressure you into anything that you don't want, or don't need. Goodwin Funeral Home & Cremation Services is not trying to be the biggest firm in the state, I am only here to serve YOU and I do that one family at a time.

Sincerely,

Sean Peschel & Staff

Outer Burial Container Price list January 1, 2020

In most areas of the country, state or local law does not require that you buy a container to surround the casket in the grave. However, many do cemeteries require that you have such a graveliner or a vault so that the grave will not sink in.

A burial or urn vault is a protective outer container for the casket or urn. It provides the casket or urn with superior, long-lasting protection against subsoil elements and the weight of heavy cemetery maintenance equipment.
