To:

From:

I'm hosting a small group for the Reset journey, and I'd like you to join us for this six-week spiritual challenge to investigate the life and teachings of Jesus.

Whether you're just curious about Jesus and beginning to seek out answers, or you've followed him for decades, all you need to do is be open to resetting your assumptions, and discovering (or rediscovering) your own beliefs about the most influential person in history.

Nobody's going to ask you for money, or to join any multi-level marketing schemes. I won't even ask you to shower (but it'd be a nice bonus).

For more info, check out resetjourney.com. To reserve a spot on my couch, get in touch with me here:

