Mike's advice and support were invaluable in helping me to establish an effective strategy and helping to get my projects up and running. After following a few others people's advice which really didn't help.... I found Mike's information, even though I am in another country, was easy to understand and I was able to work through a number of problems which were previously unsolvable. Mike is an excellent teacher and collaborator. I am very grateful for his expert support.
