

Sweet Hours of Prayer Begin GC2019

By Kathy L. Gilbert

Feb. 23, 2019, St. Louis (UMNS)

United Methodists from all points of the globe spent six hours in prayer for the church before beginning the 2019 General Conference's hard work of reviewing church policy regarding homosexuality.

Prayers led by United Methodist bishops asked for guidance and courage.

By midday, there had been no reference to LGBTQ people and that concern was voiced by those who support changing church policies concerning homosexuality. The second half of the prayer day began with an emotional call to pray for "our LGBTQ brothers and sisters," issued by Bishop Debra Wallace-Padgett of North Alabama.

As the body came back together, Wallace-Padgett said, "We see you, we are together as part of the Christian body, and when one suffers we all suffer. We need to care for one another, stretch the hand of sacred love to one another, knowing we are children of God. With the heart of Jesus, we move into prayer time specifically for LGBTQ siblings that are here and around the world."

As the choir began to sing "I Need You to Survive," circles were formed around LGBTQ delegates and a rainbow flag was waved. Voices around the Dome at America's Center, lifted up the words, "I won't harm you with words from my mouth, you are important to me. I prayed for you, you prayed for me, I need you to survive."

Communion closed the day.

In the morning, bishops from Europe and Eurasia, Africa, the U.S. and the Philippines guided the gathering in experiential prayer sharing the mission, ministry and challenges of The United Methodist Church.

Bishops Eduard Kheday, Moscow Area, and Harald Rückert, Germany Area, led the group in singing the Swedish hymn, "How Great Thou Art" — first in English and then in Swedish.

Bishop Mande Muyombo, North Katanga Area, in his booming voice, said "In Africa we pray loudly. We pray hard. We pray for the church. It is a wonderful church that transforms the poor."

Retired Bishop Peter Weaver prayed for guidance.

"Here we are again, God. United Methodists are conferencing again, a little sooner than usual. We need your guidance a little more than usual."

Committee on Reference Report

Thursday, February 21, 2019

The Committee on Reference was called to order by the Reverend Chuck Savage. In the first order of business, Rev. Savage informed the committee that one person wrote to contest their petitions being ruled “not in harmony with the purpose of the call” by the Committee on Reference at its January meeting. Rev. Savage informed the person that the vote was unanimous and there were no plans to revisit the status of these petitions. The Committee affirmed his response to this person.

The Committee then discussed a request to “de-couple” the two Wespeth petitions, numbers 90016 and 90017, from the One Church Plan since it was the original intent of Wespeth that these petitions be considered no matter what plan is selected by the General Conference. These petitions deal directly with clergy pensions and do not relate specifically to any one plan. They were part of the One Church Plan because initially, many thought only plans submitted by the Way Forward Commission would become legislation. The committee ruled unanimously that these petitions be considered separately from the One Church Plan.

Additional 2016 Legislative Committee Officers

The Saturday, February 23 issue of the DCA contained a list of individuals who served as Legislative Committee officers during the 2016 General Conference. The following individuals also served as Legislative Committee officers during the 2016 General Conference and received training and experience at that time. As requested by the Commission on the General Conference, they have indicated a willingness to serve as an officer of the one Legislative Committee during the 2019 Special Session. In addition, they have submitted a biographical sketch and attended a mandatory refresher course focused on the parliamentary processes and speaker recognition and voting systems specific to the 2019 Special Session.

Committee on Agenda and Calendar Report

Thursday, February 21, 2019

The Committee on Agenda and Calendar was called to order by Rev. Gary Graves, secretary of the General Conference. In the first order of business, Secretary Graves informed the committee that a new chair was to be elected, because the former chair, Rev. Tracy Smith Malone, had vacated the position upon her election to the episcopacy. Ms. Emily Allen was the sole nominee and was elected unanimously as chair of the committee. Because Ms. Allen had been serving as the secretary, a new election for secretary took place. Rev. Lydia Muñoz was the sole nominee and was elected unanimously. Mr. Easmon Ngakui remains the vicechair.

The committee then confirmed and clarified the prioritization process initially developed by the Commission on General Conference that will be used for the General Conference to establish priorities for the legislative committee. First, the Committee on Agenda and Calendar considered and determined groupings of petitions to be treated as plans (other than the plans for the Commission on the Way Forward). Then they affirmed that plans and petitions that have been deemed in harmony by the Committee on Reference will be presented in order of petition number for delegates to indicate their preferences for high and low priorities.

The following is the order in which plans and petitions will be presented to delegates:

Court to Consider GC2019 Request from Bishops

By Linda Bloom

Feb. 23, 2019, St. Louis (UMNS)

The United Methodist Judicial Council has received a petition for a declaratory decision from the Council of Bishops regarding the constitutionality of two General Conference legislative items, Petitions 90052 and 90078.

In giving notice of the bishops' petition, the denomination's top court set a 3 p.m. CST Feb. 23 deadline for the submission of opening briefs and a 5 p.m. CST deadline for the submission of reply briefs.

Petition 90052, submitted by Lonnie Brooks, focuses on chargeable offenses found in the United Methodist Book of Discipline in ¶ 2702.1b — “practices declared by The United Methodist Church to be incompatible with Christian teaching, including but not limited to ...” The petition makes changes related to the supervisory and just resolution processes.

“This petition appears to cross the separate lines of power between the episcopal, administrative and judicial functions and powers similar to other petitions ruled unconstitutional in Judicial Council Decision 1366,” the bishops' petition said.

In Decision 1366, the court pointed to possible issues with 17 petitions in the Traditional Plan and a few petitions in the One Church Plan. Judicial Council did find the One Church Plan largely constitutional at that time.

Petition 90078, submitted by the Rev. Maxie Dunnam, refers to the Modified Traditional Plan and would create a global episcopacy committee that addresses complaints against bishops related to chargeable offenses. That petition also “appears to violate the separation of powers doctrine,” the bishops said.

General Commission on the Status and Role of Women Monitoring Report

Over the last three decades, the General Commission on the Status and Role of Women (GCSRW) has been studying and responding to sexual misconduct within the Church. Most recently (2017–2018), we distributed surveys to thousands of United Methodists in the United States and Africa in order to hear people's stories and concerns, and then developed strategies for addressing them. Some highlights of that research found the following percentages of persons experiencing sexual misconduct in the Church:

In the U.S.:

- 64.4% clergy and 31.4% of laity
- 62.2% of respondents under 30 and 57% of those between 30 and 50
- 58.5% of women and 35.7% of men

In Africa (only women were surveyed):

- 79.1% of clergywomen and 100% of lay women
- 94.7% of women respondents under 30 and 81.4% of those between 30 and 50

The most common unwanted behavior was “comments and jokes” (40.1% in the U.S. and 47.7% in Africa). The most common site for sexual misconduct was in public spaces such as church meetings in the U.S. (41.9%) and in the workplace, which for clergy is the church, in Africa (48.4%).

African respondents were most likely to respond by telling the person to stop (50.9%), but that was closely followed by avoiding the person (44.5%). Avoidance was the most common response among U.S. respondents (50.8%). Ignoring the behavior was next for both groups (40.5% in Africa and 46.3% in the U.S.). Reporting to a supervisor or someone in authority was only selected by about 1 in 4 respondents in both regions.

Why don't more people report? About two-thirds of respondents say it is because the incident was too minor. It may have seemed too minor to report to an official, but it isn't too minor to be remembered or to impact one's life for years, negatively affecting one's church involvement as well as feelings about oneself, about God, and about the denomination.

This General Conference is made up of exactly those people: some who have experienced sexual misconduct and probably also people who have behaved inappropriately. Meetings, such as this one, are exactly the kinds of places where these incidents occur.

Let's all work together to make sure no one goes home from this General Conference with a story about sexual misconduct. Ask before you hug, refrain from commenting on a person's attractiveness, don't tell jokes about gender, and in general, be conscious of how you might be coming across to others. It's always better NOT to touch or NOT to say something that might be offensive. Develop strong self-awareness and then use it.

All of that said, if you DO experience sexual misconduct at this General Conference, don't hesitate on reaching out for support. Delegates can report any concerning behavior to the General Conference staff located in Locker Room A. Also, anyone, delegate or visitor, can report any incidents by emailing GCSRW at info@gcsr.org. We are on site and will respond as quickly as possible.

General Commission on Religion and Race Monitoring Report

The very nature of prayer is that the more time we spend in that posture of openness and being present, the more natural this way of being becomes. It becomes a part of who we are rather than something we do. It is somewhat in the same tone of the seventeenth-century Carmelite friar Brother Lawrence:

We ought not to be weary of doing little things for the love of God, who regards not the greatness of the work, but the love with which it is performed.

or a modern-day tweeter:

Prayer is not a technique we master, but a relationship we enter into. When I think of "master of prayer," I don't have in mind women and men with mind-bending spiritual techniques. I have in mind women and men who simply choose to show up over and over again.

How do we stay grounded in the time we spent in prayer together? How will this expression of the authentic body manifest itself when we move into the worshipful work of legislation? How will we draw upon that well of invested love in the next two days together?

Think about deep friendships and relationships that are a part of your life. How did those relationships reach that depth? Was it something you conquered through will power? Or, more likely, was it because you and the other person chose "to show up over and over again," and in so doing began to be mutually shaped by the relationship? The deeper and more genuine the relationship, the more that pre-existing stereotypes about others will be exposed, challenged, and dismantled. Even the images we use in our worship and prayer times can contain implicit biases. An aspect of increasing competency toward building beloved community is to ask how varying cultures, groups, and persons are presented in our visual images in technology. Through whose lens are those images presented?

Our goal is not simply to learn more about different cultures, nor is it just to become better at "navigating cultural differences." We must actually become more multicultural people so that we might better express love cross-culturally.

(Cultural Intelligence: Improving Your CQ To Engage Our Multicultural World, by David A. Livermore)

In your practice of self-awareness and self-monitoring since our opening day of prayer, what are you observing about people being present to one another? What are you discovering about your own capacity or challenges to being fully present, especially to those who may come from a different perspective and/or culture than you?
