I. ABOUT THIS MANUAL

Understanding How Our Brand Works

This manual is designed to provide guidance and instruction on using the visual elements that define The United Methodist Church brand.
Why?
Overview

Identity is more than compliance to standards; it is about delivering a brand experience that the audience will grow to trust. The United Methodist Church identity is a key component for developing the brand’s strength and reputation through its consistent application.

When agencies of The United Methodist Church identify themselves clearly and consistently with The United Methodist Church, they strengthen each other’s reputation.
Visual Consistency in Identity

Initial research revealed the opportunity to bring visual consistency to organizational branding across The United Methodist Church ecosystem. Working to unify the currently competing communications systems – starting with logo/identity of our boards and agencies – will reduce confusion for our constituents.

The communication effectiveness of each board and agency is enhanced not by differentiating its logo from the other United Methodist Church subbrands, but by associating all logos under a unified identity and branding system.

The result will be for both internal and external audiences to understand better how the various subbrands of The United Methodist Church complement each other.
II. THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH BRAND

Using the Cross and Flame and Supporting Assets

The Cross and Flame is highly recognizable. This means that when people see our logo, they connect it with The United Methodist Church. This is a positive thing for us, as the people in your neighborhood recognize The United Methodist Church without you having to explain who you are.

As a whole, we engage in national advertising to help raise both awareness and positive perception of the brand, and by connecting with the symbols of the brand, you are further strengthened.

One of the ways this recognition occurs is through consistent use of the logo. The following section is designed to help you do that.
The Logo
Establishing the Unit of Measure

In order to create a unified system of logos, there must be a unit of measure to serve as the foundation for all subsequent measures.

This unit is relative. Meaning, it can’t be defined by a metric unit, but only in relation to the object used to define it. Because of the consistent use of the cross and flame throughout the logos, it is used to define the unit of measure.

DEFINING THE UNIT

The United Methodist Church Brand Harmony unit of measure is defined by one-half the height of the top portion of the cross (measured to point A rather than point B).

The Brand Promise operates on a new unit of measure that takes into account its proportionately larger cross. This unit of measure is not applied to any other logo.
The Cross and Flame
Variations

This is the cross and flame.

COLOR
This is the primary color state of the cross and flame.

BLACK + WHITE
There is now a “stroke” or line around the cross. Since there is no color to distinguish between the cross and the flame, the stroke helps to define the shapes. You only need this stroke when the cross and flame are both black or both white.
Guidelines

When using the cross and flame, there are a couple important things to remember.

LEAVE FREE SPACE
Please keep free space around the cross and flame. Nothing should crowd the logo or encroach into the space around it. This free space should be no smaller than 3 units of measure extending from the outermost edges of the mark.

![Free Space Diagram]

- ☒️ = 1 unit of measure
- 🛡️ = Free Space (3x3)

DON'T ALTER THE COMPONENTS
Please don’t alter the components. Meaning, only use it exactly as detailed on the previous page, and never altered as demonstrated to the right.

DON'T CHANGE THE COLORS
Please don’t change the colors. The black is 100% black but the red is more particular. The exact color specifications are available in the color palette. No matter what, you are not allowed to use any other shade or color of red, or swap the placement of the colors among themselves.
The Cross and Flame with Brand Promise
The “Brand Promise” is our commitment to everyone who interacts with The United Methodist Church. To reinforce this promise, we want to make sure we display it in a consistent and legible way, specifically as it relates to our logo.

STANDARD BRAND PROMISE
When used, the Brand Promise always sits to the right of the logo along with the indication “The people of The United Methodist Church.” Notice it sits on top, and is smaller than the denomination name. This gives a proper hierarchy to the promise in relation to us, the people.

Currently available in English and Spanish.

STACKED BRAND PROMISE
If you are displaying the Brand Promise in a non-horizontal space, like a banner ad on a website, then you would use the stacked version.
Please use the Brand Promise only as shown on the previous page and do not alter it in any way. The same rules that apply to the cross and flame apply here.

In addition to those rules, there are also minimum size requirements in order to maintain legibility.

MINIMUM SIZE, STANDARD
When spelled out, our Brand Promise and denomination are quite long. This means we have to be sensitive to legibility and to the display of the promise in non-horizontal settings. Please never display the Brand Promise at less than ¼ inch. This measurement is taken from the top of the Brand Promise to the bottom of the denomination name.

MINIMUM SIZE, STACKED
Please never display the stacked version at less than 1 inch. This measurement is taken from the top of the Brand Promise to the bottom of the denomination name.
The Color Palette
Primary Palette

The black is 100% black but the red is more particular. No matter what, you are not allowed to use any other shade or color of red.

The Fonts
Headlines

Trade Gothic is the typeface of The United Methodist Church.

TRADE GOTHIC CONDENSED
The Trade Gothic Condensed weight is used in all United Methodist Church logos to keep them from becoming disproportionately long.

APPLICATION
In addition to being used in the logos, the condensed weights should be used in headlines, subheads, and other emphasized copy in order to distinguish it from body copy.

Trade Gothic can be used in print and on the web.
Body Copy: Sans Serif

TRADE GOTHIC (NON-CONDENSED)
The non-condensed weight of Trade Gothic seamlessly pairs with the condensed version used in headlines and logos.

APPLICATION
The non-condensed weights are to be used in body copy, pull quotes and miscellaneous information, when a sans serif font is preferred.

III. HARMONY ACROSS THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Uniting The United Methodist Church Visually

When organizations of The United Methodist Church identify themselves clearly and consistently with The United Methodist Church, they strengthen each other's reputation and reinforce the key attributes of the brand.
Agencies
Overview

Identifying as a board or an agency will give you credibility at the General Conference and with your constituents within the denomination.

Using your agency logo requires some understanding of what all the parts are, and how they work together.

1 THE CROSS AND FLAME
2 THE ABBREVIATION OF YOUR FULL AGENCY NAME
3 YOUR FULL AGENCY NAME
4 THE DENOMINATION NAME

Each of these has been given a particular font and weight of font so that the user can quickly read and identify who you are. Further, much attention has been given to the hierarchy of information to ensure that the importance of each element, in relation to the other elements, is displayed. This further helps with legibility.

By honing in on specific parts of the logo, we can cater it to particular audiences.

Stacking Multiple Agencies
Some occasions call for two or more agencies to represent themselves at the same time. In those instances, we have made a special usage of the logos. We call this special usage a vertical stack and a horizontal row.

Making this lockup of the logos requires a bit of special knowledge of how design tools work. If you would like your agency displayed with another agency, we would be happy to help set this up for you.

Regardless of who sets this up, this section is designed to show you how it works.
Horizontal Row

We call this special usage a horizontal row.

For a horizontal row, we start with the cross and flame and agency all working as normal, including the denomination name. Then, to the right, we create a space that mimics the free space requirements of the stand-alone logo, which is 3 units of measure. We then use a divider line, followed by more space, then the second agency. If there are only two agencies, then you are finished. If there are more than two, simply add more space, the line, more space, then the next agency. You would repeat this until all agencies were represented.

Agencies should be listed in alphabetical order by abbreviation.

If you would like to include the Brand Promise, the same rules apply.
Vertical Stack

We call this special usage a vertical stack.

For a vertical stack, the cross and flame and agency all work as normal. The second logo falls under it with spacing that mimics the free space requirements of the stand-alone logo, which is 3 units of measure ↑. If there are only two agencies, then you can end the stack by placing the denomination name. If there are more agencies involved, then you would simply keep repeating them, paying attention to the spacing. Once complete, you end the stack with the denomination.

Agencies should be listed in alphabetical order by abbreviation.

If you would like to include the Brand Promise, the same rules apply.
Agency Subbrands
Some agencies have special subbrands or campaigns and we have taken this into account. The first thing to consider is if the subbrand or campaign is a public-facing or internal communication.

If the work is more public-facing, you might consider giving the campaign its own logo (e.g., Rethink Church).

If your work is internal, then your logo would take on the following format. Using your subbrand logo requires some understanding of what all the parts are, how they work together, and how they differ from the agency logo.

1. THE CROSS AND FLAME
   This remains the same.

2. SUBBRAND NAME
   We have introduced color to the name and lowercase lettering.

3. ASSOCIATED AGENCY NAME
   The agency name goes below so that viewers know what agency the division is attached to.

4. DENOMINATION NAME
   This remains the same.
This is an example of the Techshop subbrand of United Methodist Communications.

Agency Ministries
Overview

Many agencies have special ministries that work within the community. We would love to see that ministry’s work increase through the strength of The United Methodist Church brand. One way to do that is to identify it with the cross and flame.
Overview

Using your agency ministry logo requires some understanding of what all the parts are, how they work together, and how they differ from the agency logo.

1 THE CROSS AND FLAME
   This remains the same.

2 MINISTRY NAME
   Notice that the first word in the ministry name is a different weight than the second. This helps identify the ministry quickly. Regardless of how many words your ministry name is, only the latter word “Ministry” (if applicable) carries the lighter weight, while the rest of the words are bold.

3 ASSOCIATED FULL AGENCY NAME

4 DENOMINATION NAME

5 FREE SPACE
   To the right, we have allowed some free space for your conference logo. This would help marry The United Methodist Church brand with your particular conference identity. This is not necessary, but available should you need it. Your logo should work to fit within the boundaries shown here. Please note the spacing, which is 3 units of measure.
The agencies and respective ministries can use the Brand Promise. In this instance, the Brand Promise setup sits above the corresponding information. The only thing you need to add is your ministry name and the full name of your agency.

Local Churches
Overview

The local church is the backbone of The United Methodist Church. In most ways, you are the only experience a community, or person, will have with our denomination. Yet, the strength of The United Methodist Church is all 33,000 plus U.S. churches, and thousands more around the world, working together to proclaim the love of Christ through our words and deeds.

If you identify as a United Methodist church, we want you to take full advantage of the strength of the logo. We call it “the cross and flame” and it has a high recognition rate. This means when people see our logo, they will recognize your church as part of our denomination.
Overview

To keep things clear and consistent, which will keep the recognition rate high, we have established a way for your local church to use the cross and flame yet retain your unique identity.

Using your local church logo requires some understanding of what all the parts are, and how they work together.

1 THE CROSS AND FLAME
2 YOUR CHURCH NAME
3 SUPPORTING INFO
   Optional. This could be anything from a tagline to your location. If you choose to forego, then the denomination name moves to this space.
4 THE DENOMINATION
5 FREE SPACE

   To the right, we have allowed some free space for your church logo. This would help marry The United Methodist Church brand with your particular church identity and the ministry. This is not necessary, but available should you need it. Your logo should work to fit within the boundaries shown here. Please note the spacing, which is 3 units of measure↑.
Local Church Logo

As an example, Kingswood Church in Dunwoody, Georgia, may opt to lay out their logo as we have here.

Again, the supporting information (in this case, Dunwoody, Georgia) is not required. You’ll also notice that they have chosen not to take advantage of the free space component, resulting in a cleaner logo, which we recommend.
The local churches can use the Brand Promise. In this instance, the Brand Promise setup sits above the church name.

Other
Overview

Not every logo need will fall into the agency, conference, ministry, church, or subbrand categories. This template is designed to account for these needs and maintain a cohesive brand. Using the “other” logo template requires some understanding of what all the parts are, and how they work together.

1 THE CROSS AND FLAME
2 TITLE A
   Bold and light weights are available here. The lighter weight does not have to be used, but cannot be the only weight used.
3 TITLE B

4 TITLE C
   Optional. Denomination name can also live here.
5 DENOMINATION NAME
6 FREE SPACE
   Optional. To the right, we have allowed some free space for a corresponding logo. Your logo should work to fit within the boundaries shown here. Please note the spacing, which is 3 units of measure ↑.
United Methodist Insurance is an example of a brand that doesn’t fall into any of the predefined categories.

While there are a number of components available in this template, note that this organization has chosen to utilize what makes the most sense for them.

These adpations include using only the bold weight in TITLE A, moving up the denomination name in lieu of TITLE C content, and foregoing any supplemental identity content in the available free space.
Other Logo with Brand Promise

Any organization that utilizes the “other” template, can feature their logo with the Brand Promise. In this instance, the Brand Promise setup sits above the organization name in bold.

Representing Yourself Online

We live in a digital world, so representing ourselves in digital spaces in a consistent way is important. To some, this may be the only way they experience The United Methodist Church.

Specifically, let’s look at how we can have visual harmony on Twitter and Facebook.

Header Photo

With Twitter you have the opportunity to use a “header photo.” This can be changed by going into your settings within Twitter and editing your profile.

The header photo should be emotive and inviting in nature as well as representative of your work. A strong focal point and complementary soft background typically do this, as well as create greater visual interest.

Guidelines

⚠️ DON’T USE ARTWORK
As a general rule, avoid using actual artwork in this space, unless it was specifically designed to live in this particular format.

⚠️ DON’T USE LOW-QUALITY IMAGES
Please avoid low-quality images. As you can see here, these images do not look as crisp.
Profile Photos
Profile photo option one allows for the cross and flame to be the hero.

VARIATION A
Simply the cross and flame on white

Variation A is intended for use by The United Methodist Churches' official social media channels. All the other variations are intended to show connection between other United Methodist also communicating via social media.

VARIATION B - C
A smaller cross and flame on white, and space for your individual entity name.

This is the preferred option for all other United Methodist Church entities. It allows your organization to connect to the official channel while simultaneously expressing your own identity.
Option 02

Profile photo option two allows for the background photography to be the hero, but without losing the cross and flame.

VARIATION B
A background photo with a white cross and flame in a United Methodist Church red half-circle and a white border around the photo
Option 02 cont’d

VARIATION C - E
The cross and flame placed in the corner, directly on the photo. This option should only be chosen when good contrast exists with the photo and the cross and flame. Select the color variation that allows for the greatest contrast.

VARIATION F - H
Same as above, but the cross and flame are slightly smaller in scale.
Option 02 cont’d

VARIATION I - M

The cross and flame in a box in the lower left corner. The box can be red (I) or black (J) and the cross and flame white. Or, the box can be white (K) with the full red and black cross and flame.

You can also add a red border (L) or black border (M) around the white box.
Option 03

Profile photo option three allows background artwork to be the hero, while still maintaining a tie to The United Methodist Church through a tagging system.

VARIATION A - C

If you use a graphic (instead of a photo) you can use a black (A) or red (B) tag in the bottom right with “United Methodist Church” spelled in white type. Or, a white box (C) with the type in black.
Cover Photo

Like Twitter, Facebook allows a large photo, called a “cover photo,” and a smaller photo, called a “profile picture.”

The cover photo should be emotive and inviting in nature as well as representative of your work. A strong focal point and complementary soft background typically do this, as well as create greater visual interest.

V. HOW IT ALL WORKS

Learning the Mechanics of Our Logos

Every logo has been carefully and thoughtfully crafted. Each component has been given a particular font and weight of font so that the user can quickly read, identify, and distinguish individual organizations. Further, much attention has been given to the hierarchy of information to ensure that the importance of each element, in relation to the other elements, is displayed. This further helps with legibility.

This section is comprised of the mechanics of each logo, detailing how and why each decision was made.
Brand Promise Logo Mechanics
A New Unit of Measure
A New Unit of Measure

While the Brand Promise was designed to work in harmony with the other logos, it does have one significant difference. The Brand Promise features a cross and flame that is proportionately larger than the cross and flame used on all the other logos.

As a result, the Brand Promise operates on a new unit of measure that takes this into account.

DEFINING THE UNIT

The United Methodist Church Brand Harmony unit of measure is defined by one-third of the width of the right portion of the cross (measured to point A rather than point B).

Component Alignment and Spacing

The Brand Promise was built from the bottom up.

1
The baseline of “The people of The United Methodist Church” is vertically aligned to 1 BP unit of measure from the height of the right-most point (B) of the bottom of the cross.

(Because both the FULL AGENCY NAME and REGISTRATION MARK exist to the right of the cross, the eye accepts point B rather than point A, as the true baseline.)
Component Alignment and Spacing

The baseline of “Open Hearts. Open Minds. Open Doors” is vertically aligned to 1 BP unit of measure from the top of “The people of The United Methodist Church.”
Component Alignment and Spacing

3
The left margin of all Brand Promise text is exactly 3 units of BP measure from the right edge of the center of the cross.

(Because all the text exists to the right of the cross, the eye accepts point C rather than point D, as the true edge.)

Agency Logo Mechanics
Components
Components

1  ABBREVIATION

Operating as a succinct synopsis, our objective is for the user to read the ABBREVIATION first and use it as an entry point to read through the remaining text. If the user does not read past the ABBREVIATION, they will still be informed of the overall notion of the agency before proceeding further.

For the audience that is already familiar with The United Methodist Church and its respective agencies, the ABBREVIATION will serve as a quick reference point that will imply the remaining two lines without needing to be read.

To achieve these objectives, the ABBREVIATION is designed to be the hero of the logo. To do this we have set it in all capital letters, a bold weight, and a considerably larger point size than its counterparts.
Components

2 FULL AGENCY NAME
The FULL AGENCY NAME is operating in support of the ABBREVIATION, not to supersede it, and not to become detached from it.

To visually convey this idea, the FULL AGENCY NAME is set in a thinner weight, roughly half the point size, and in title case.

Studies suggest that mixed case lettering (as opposed to all capitals) is quicker and easier to read because the brain is actually scanning for the shapes created by the ascenders and descenders of the letters. This notion is most important to consider when setting longer lengths of text. In most instances, the FULL AGENCY NAME will be the longest text within the logo.
Components

3 DENOMINATION NAME
Operating as tertiary, yet vitally integral text, it is imperative that DENOMINATION NAME feel elegantly distinguished while simultaneously subtle.

To communicate these dual objectives, we have set this text in all caps and at a slightly smaller point size than FULL AGENCY NAME. Text set in all capital letters suggests importance and calls for attention, while the smaller point size keeps the appropriate hierarchy.
Component Alignment
Component Alignment

1
The top of the ABBREVIATION is in alignment with the top of the horizontal portion of the cross.

Allowing the very top of the cross and flame to protrude above the text provides a welcoming and directional entry point for the eye, and establishes the cross and flame as the hero of the logo.
Component Alignment

2
The baseline of the FULL AGENCY NAME and REGISTRATION MARK are vertically aligned to the height of the right-most point (D) of the bottom of the cross.

(Because both the FULL AGENCY NAME and REGISTRATION MARK exist to the right of the cross, the eye accepts point D rather than point C, as the true baseline.)
Component Spacing
Component Spacing

1
We utilized our unit of measure to determine the appropriate distance to set the text from the cross.

Two units of measure creates a negative space proportional to the space previously established within the cross.
We have chosen a single unit of measure to distinguish the FULL AGENCY NAME from the ABBREVIATION.

A single unit of negative space maintains ideal legibility of both titles.

It simultaneously maintains the close proximity of both titles. By the Gestalt principle of proximity, we can assume that the viewer will visually organize the abbreviated and full title into a unified group.
Component Spacing

3
The negative space between the FULL AGENCY NAME and the DENOMINATION NAME is two units, or double the negative space used between lines of text in note 3.

By the same principle that established the unified grouping of the ABBREVIATION and the FULL AGENCY NAME, the doubled distance here distinguishes the denomination, creating a stronger visual hierarchy.
Spacing of Stacks
Vertical Stack

3 units of measure ↑ are to be used between each agency and adjacent line. This distance distinguishes agencies from each other, while maintaining integrity of individual logos.

Units of measure should extend from the longer of the two lines of text (either ABBREVIATION or FULL AGENCY NAME).

Spacing within individual agency logos ↑ remains the same as when not stacked.

Subbrand Logo Mechanics
Components

Component alignment ↑ and Component spacing ↑ both mimic agency mechanics, and are not covered again in this section.
Components

1 Subbrand
The full name of the subbrand lives in this space. This element takes on all the same characteristics as the agency logo, with the following exceptions: it is now set in red, with title case lettering.

The title casing in this lockup creates potential descenders that narrow in on the negative space between the name of the SUBBRAND (1) and the FULL AGENCY NAME (2). To account for this, we are reducing the size of the subbrand text by 1 pt.
Components

2 FULL AGENCY NAME
This element takes on all the same characteristics as the agency logo.

Supporting Brands Logo Mechanics

(MINISTRIES, CONFERENCES, AND ALL OTHERS)
Components

Component alignment↑ and component spacing↑ both mimic agency mechanics, and are not covered again in this section.
Components

1  TITLE A
This element takes on all the same characteristics as the agency logo, with the following exceptions: it now has the option to be both heavy and light weight, and is set in title case lettering.

The title casing in this lockup creates potential descenders that narrow in on the negative space between TITLE A (1) and TITLE B (2). To account for this, we are reducing the size of TITLE A text by 1 pt.
Components

2 Title B

This element takes on all the same characteristics as the agency logo, with no exceptions.

If Title B and Title C are not needed, Denomination Name moves into Title B space and takes on Title B characteristics.
Components

3 TITLE C
If TITLE C is not needed, DENOMINATION NAME moves into TITLE C space but maintains DENOMINATION NAME characteristics, rather than taking on the characteristics established in TITLE C (this is consistent with agency logos).
Components

4 DENOMINATION NAME
This element takes on all the same characteristics as the agency logo, with no exceptions.

DENOMINATION NAME can live in TITLE B and TITLE C sections with certain rules (see respective mechanics).
Components

5  FREE SPACE

This space is designed to feature a supporting graphic. The size of this graphic should be relatively proportional to the adjacent logo and not overwhelm it OR get lost next to it.

This graphic should be placed 3 units of measure to the right of the horizontal rule, which is 3 units of measure to the right of TITLE A or TITLE B (whichever is longest). This will create balance and maintain proper hierarchy.
