UNITED METHODISTS: Developing Global Leaders within the Pan-African Context

When Africa University students and graduates express their hopes and dreams, they often speak about changing the African continent - making a difference in their world. Their dreams come true because United Methodist congregations support the Africa University Fund.

Africa needs more principled Christian leaders to minister with the poor, foster church growth and fight killer diseases of poverty. Africa's future lies in the minds, hearts and hands of Africans. Since 1994, Africa University has developed global leaders who are gifts to the continent from The United Methodist Church. Each graduate profiled is living his or her dream because of you.
