75 YEARS OF UMCOR

Made possible because of YOUR support

The General Conference of the Methodist Church responds to an appeal by Bishop Herbert Welsh to create an agency that will serve as a “voice of conscience among Methodists to act in relief of human suffering without distinction of race, color or creed.”

The organization’s name changes to the United Methodist Committee on Relief and becomes part of the newly structured United Methodist Committee on Relief and Development.

UMCOR requests a Bishop’s Appeal for Africa to bring relief to Ethiopia and 25 other African nations affected by the drought.

When Hurricanes Katrina and Rita devastate large areas of the Gulf Coast, a federal Emergency Management Agency allows UMCOR to organize Katrina Aid Today, a consortium of case-management organizations helping survivors.

Following Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, UMCOR helps rebuild destroyed and damaged homes.

Learn more about UMCOR Sunday at www.umcgiving.org/UMCOR

The title “One Great Hour of Sharing” emerges.

UMCOR volunteers in Haiti, Jamaica, Mexico and other Caribbean countries.

When a 7.0-magnitude earthquake strikes Haiti, UMCOR develops and institutes a recovery and renovations.

MCOR requests on rehabilitation and help individuals obtain skills for self-sufficiency.

When tropical storm Edna strikes Sierra Leone and Liberia, Global Ministries sends medical and administrative personnel to assist African personnel.

MCOR focuses on rehabilitation and helps individuals obtain skills for self-sufficiency.

When a 9.0-magnitude earthquake hits northern Japan, triggering a massive tsunami and a nuclear threat, UMCOR responds to the triple disaster with grants for refugee-assistance programs.

UMCOR responds to an appeal by Bishop Herbert Welch to create an agency that will serve as a “voice of conscience among Methodists to act in relief of human suffering without distinction of race, color or creed.”

UMCOR responds to Hurricane Sandy by working with local conferences on storm rebuilding efforts.

MCOR works in 22 countries on six continents.

MCOR addresses the root causes of hunger and poverty and works with communities in need to achieve self-sustaining livelihood opportunities.

With the merger of Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches into The United Methodist Church, MCOR becomes the United Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief (UMCOR).

UMCOR works in 52 countries on 201 continents.

MCOR addresses the root causes of hunger and poverty and works with communities in need to achieve self-sustaining livelihood opportunities.

The organization’s name changes to the United Methodist Committee on Relief and becomes part of the newly structured United Methodist Committee on Relief and Development.

When thousands of Vietnemese refugees arrive in the United States, UMCOR resettles 5,000 Chinese refugees and 50,000 refugees and repatriates from China.

MCOR responds to an appeal by Bishop Herbert Welch to create an agency that will serve as a “voice of conscience among Methodists to act in relief of human suffering without distinction of race, color or creed.”

UMCOR responds to an appeal by Bishop Herbert Welch to create an agency that will serve as a “voice of conscience among Methodists to act in relief of human suffering without distinction of race, color or creed.”

The UMCOR Sager Brown Depot opens as a destination for volunteers to engage in relief-supply kit ministry, assembling cleaning buckets.

MCOR works in 52 countries on 201 continents.

Within UMCOR’s first 10 years, United Methodists donate more than $200 million to UMCOR and its predecessors, and 50,000 refugees receive resettlement assistance in the U.S.

UMCOR directors approve $7.5 million for development programs in Pakistan, Sudan, Sri Lanka and Indonesia.

Along with partner agencies, UMCOR distributes 1 million insecticide-treated mosquito nets to at-risk communities in Côte d’Ivoire in Africa.

When a 7.0-magnitude earthquake strikes Haiti, UMCOR develops and institutes a recovery and renovations.

MCOR responds to the Elida crisis in West Africa with grants to provide supplies and medical equipment to United Methodist hospitals in Sierra Leone and Liberia. Global Ministries sends medical and administrative personnel to assist African personnel.

When Typhoon Haiyan hits the Philippines, UMCOR helps rebuild destroyed and damaged homes.

UMCOR responds to the Elida crisis in West Africa with grants to provide supplies and medical equipment to United Methodist hospitals in Sierra Leone and Liberia. Global Ministries sends medical and administrative personnel to assist African personnel.

UMCOR sends medical and administrative personnel to assist African personnel.

When thousands of Vietnemese refugees arrive in the United States, UMCOR resettles 5,000 Chinese refugees and 50,000 refugees and repatriates from China.

When a 7.0-magnitude earthquake strikes Haiti, UMCOR develops and institutes a recovery and renovations.

MCOR responds to an appeal by Bishop Herbert Welch to create an agency that will serve as a “voice of conscience among Methodists to act in relief of human suffering without distinction of race, color or creed.”