A Sapling Edition

Welcome to our newest Alumnae!

Transitioning into your new role as a College Graduate

I'm sure you've heard it more times this weekend than you ever imagined possible, but Congratulations!

It goes without saying that each and every one of you will be tremendously missed. A sorority is made up of so much more than its' letters, with each individual member influencing the sisterhood as a whole.

Now that you have graduated, you may find yourself talking to new friends and reminiscing about your college days. And when you do, Delta will surely come up in your conversations.

But never make the mistake of saying that you were a Delta. No, instead proudly state that you are a Delta; because our bonds of sisterhood are lifelong and steadfast.

On behalf of Gamma Sigma, please allow me to ask that you keep in touch with the current sisters as the years go by, so that they too can have the privilege of getting to know a class of truly outstanding women.

Keeping in touch with ΓΣ

What you want, and how to get it.

One of the biggest draws of joining a Greek Letter Organization (GLO) is not only the outstanding network you get to be a part of on campus, but the connections that branch out across the nation and the globe through fellow alumnae.

As it currently stands, the only way to receive official chapter correspondence is by keeping your contact information up to date with Colgate Alumni Relations.

However, I also ask that you assist our chapter in creating our own contact database by filling out the attached sheet. We will never ask for money or distribute your information without your consent, and unless otherwise specified your information will only be available to the current Alumnae Relations Chairwoman. Thank you.

A Letter from the Editor

Dear Deltas,

As we sat in our final chapter meeting of the semester, I was watching the faces of the senior girls who I could see as Kayla, Sara, Sarah, and Julia read "Oh the Places You'll Go."

Though I was far from seeing everyone's faces, I believe that those whose faces were hidden mirrored the ones in view, and your expressions struck a chord.

For that reason, I would like to add my own ending to what was read:

"Oh, the places you'll go!" But wait, I want you to know! With your sisters behind you and ahead of you too; you will never be truly alone- no, not you! And should you ever get lonely, sad, or down-trod, you will always be welcome at 84 Broad.

Delta Love and Mine,
Danielle Scheer
