Catwalk to End Fat Talk

Date: October 17th

Time: Seating begins at 5:00pm; show starts at 6:00pm

Where: Red and Charline McCombs Campus Center Patio

This month our chapter will be holding our third annual Catwalk to End Fat Talk fashion show with proceeds benefitting the National Eating Disorders Association (NEDA). Vice President of Public Relations Leslie Ramey is planning this event to kick off Fat Talk Free Week (Oct. 21-25, 2013). The purpose of Catwalk is to promote positive body image in line with Tri Delta's national initiative, BodyImage3D, which emphasizes health in mind, body, and spirit. Body Image Ambassador and TE '13 member Estrella Thomas will open the fashion show with an inspirational message about what it means to have a healthy body image. We hope to encourage the entire Southwestern community and our Theta Epsilon alumnae to join us for this fun and uplifting event!

Estrella, Southwestern

"I just try to remind myself that it is more important to be a loving, good person than it is to have perfect hair."

Kickball Tournament

The sisters of Tri Delta are putting on a kickball tournament to raise money for St. Jude. This is a yearly event that our Philanthropy Chair, Lauryn Deering, will be leading. Its guaranteed to bring fun and competition, while at the same time supporting a great cause.
