

Delta Delta Delta: Gamma Sigma

February 2017

The Pine Press

Crushed It!

On Wednesday, February 22nd, the women of Delta Delta Delta gathered at the Hourglass for the spring semester's Crush party.

Deltas and Dates

Top Left: (left to right) Claire Lashinger '18, Stephanie Kley '18, Lien Caputo '18, Maeve Daley '19, and Claire Sharpe '19

Top Right: Julia Klein '19 smiles between two Delta dates.

Bottom Right: Julia Cooper '17, Sonya Dexter '18, Sydney Schultz '19, and Marie Benton '18 pose for a photo with their club Frisbee teammates.

A Letter from the Editor

Hello ladies!

As your new editor, I believe an introduction is in order. As of this January, I've taken over the Gamma Sigma Alumnae Correspondent position formerly held by Megan Leo, and I'm so excited to be filling you in on all that's going on with our chapter.

A little about myself: I'm a sophomore from Syracuse, NY, double majoring in English and International Relations. On campus, I'm also the VP of the Newman Community and an editorial intern for the Colgate Scene.

As always, if you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please reach out to me through gmail at "colgatedeltaalumna," or my personal email, bdelaney@colgate.edu.

Delta Love,
Brianna Delaney '19

Philanthropy Update

In addition to supporting Tri Delta's long-standing partnership with St. Jude, this month our Delta sisters found philanthropy opportunities right here on campus!

Colgate Tri Delta paired with Delta Upsilon on Friday, February 17th to co-sponsor the fraternity's 3-on-3 charity basketball tournament. All proceeds from the event supported Peace Payers International, an organization dedicated to solving the issues of discrimination and prejudice in international conflict areas through sport.

Kat Bynon '19, the Gamma Sigma Philanthropy Chair, organized the collaboration. "I thought it was a wonderful project to invest our chapter's time and efforts in because it teaches kids the ability to work together with those who are different from themselves," she said. "Plus, just like our philanthropy for St. Jude, Peace Players works towards helping children!"

Deltas also attended the February 3rd Greek Challenge Autism Awareness game, as well as February 15's "Blue for Q" LGBTQ Awareness basketball game.

Deltas in Dallas

Five Gamma Sigma officers attended Tri Delta's annual Collegiate Leadership Conference in Dallas, Texas.

The Gamma Sigma chapter recently sent five representatives to the February 24th CLC to learn how better to "Live, Learn, and Lead." These women joined other Delta officers from more than 50 chapters nationwide, all participating in two days of discussion regarding issues, including confidence building, inclusivity, and sexual assault prevention.

One attendee, New Member Educator Assistant Chelsea McManus '19, said of the experience, "It was great to meet girls in other chapters from all across the nation, as well as learn about the way they run things and the events they put on."

Aly Rackson, Vice President of Membership, added, "Attending the conference was an honor, and we all came back with an even greater appreciation for Tri Delta."

L to R: Claire Lashinger '18, Aly Rackson '18, Stephanie Kley '18, Kat Bynon '19, and Chelsea McManus '19

Alumni News

Want to report a graduation? New job? Marriage or engagement? Send in your news, and we'll share it with your Delta sisters!

Plus, please let me know if you'd be interested in appearing in a "Where Are They Now?" column detailing what you've been up to since graduation. We'll be featuring these profiles in the Pine Press and at chapter to give sisters an idea of what life looks like after Colgate.

Stay in Touch!

Connect with our social media for more updates on Gamma Sigma sisterhood!

Have a Facebook? Check out our page:
"Delta Delta Delta Colgate University."

We're on Instagram and Twitter, too!
Follow us at ColgateTriDelta.

