BLUEPRINT SOCIETY

The story of every Chicago building started as a blueprint, be it hand drafted by Daniel Burnham or Louis Sullivan, or created with the latest design software. The Chicago Architecture Center serves as the steward of those stories, sharing Chicago's legacy of architecture, infrastructure and design. Members of the Blueprint Society have entrusted their legacy to the CAC by including a provision for the CAC in their will or trust, naming the CAC as a beneficiary of life insurance or retirement assets, or making an outright gift to a the CAC endowment fund. The Blueprint Society celebrates the commitment of its members to the CAC's future.
