THE LORDS OF TIME

Today, President Obama announced that all American troops will be brought home from Iraq by the end of the year. This could not have taken place more precisely in tune with the Economic Confidence Model that Tancred Schiavoni at O'Melvany & Myers LLP I believe has gone so far out of his way to destroy at whose command I do not know. I believe it was Mr. Schiavoni who pretended to be Arthur Denture on Wikipedia even changing the definition of contempt to try desperately to hide the illegal activity that has gone on and only a Congressional investigation will ever uncover the diabolical goings on that have been designed to shut down this model at all costs. Courts are just useless.

Nevertheless, the Iraq War began on March 20th, 2003, which is 2003.21 expressing time as a percent of the year based upon 365 days. If we add 8.6 to this date, we arrive at 2011.81 or 295.65 days into this year which is right now – tomorrow to be exact 22.65 days into October 2011. Now let us look at the Economic Confidence Model turning point of 2011.45. If we add 4.3 months (.35) of a year, this gives us the day 2011.808. That is today. Just like 911, it is right on time.

I cannot explain WHY there is order to TIME. Nevertheless, there is some strange order to the chaos we seem to believe exists all around us. This is just another small example of what we will explore at the upcoming conference on December 3rd and 4th – the Geometry of Time.
