Handling an Injured Pet

Carefully restrain injured pets—even the friendliest ones can bite or scratch when in pain.

Never muzzle a dog if he is unconscious, has difficulty breathing, is vomiting or has a mouth injury.

Never muzzle a cat; use an E-collar, then bundle in a towel and secure in a cat carrier immediately.

Transporting an Injured Pet

Create a makeshift stretcher by carefully sliding a flat, rigid surface (such as an ironing board or plastic children's sled) under your injured pet, keeping his back and neck as immobilized as possible. Secure your pet using towels, straps or gentle human restraint.

Alternatively, move your pet onto a towel or blanket, which can be used as a hammock for transport; be sure to pull the corners taut in order to keep your pet as flat as possible.

For any animal poison-related emergency, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. If you think that your pet may have ingested a potentially poisonous substance, call (888) 426-4435. A $65 consultation fee may be applied to your credit card.
