

Microchip Implantation

St Francis Veterinary Clinic

Sharon Stone D.V.M

Thomas Cabantac D.V.M

We have the ability to implant a small microchip under your pet's skin, which gives permanent identification. The system we use is called Res-Q, by Bayer Animal Health. It uses a universal chip, which means, regardless of what kind of scanner is used to scan your pet, it will read the chip, and provide a phone number to call.

Registration of your pet is free to you, as are all updates for the life of your pet. Updates include change of address, phone number, owner, etc.

The cost for implantation is $55.00, and can be done without sedation and along with any other procedure.
