

Dog Disease Risk Assessment

In keeping with present vaccination requirements, we are attempting to match your dog's risk of disease with the vaccines we recommend.

By doing so, we hope to decrease the number of vaccines your pet receives while still providing immunity to the diseases to which your pet may be exposed. You can help by giving us information about your pet's lifestyle.

Please fill out this questionnaire and give it to a technician.

The technician or veterinarian will be happy to discuss vaccines requirements with you.

Rabies is a 100% fatal disease that can be transmitted to people and other animals. Vaccination guidelines are state and federally mandated. All cats, dogs & ferrets must be vaccinated according to state and federal guidelines.
