Faces of Joy

Mr. Bob and Miss Harriet enjoying a stroll in the garden on a sunny day to look at all the plants starting to make their appearance. Miss Jennie enjoying looking at one of our many coffee table books at the house. Miss Judy sitting on the deck basking in the sunshine while working on her word search book. These are the moments that we cherish during the day with our Guests.

Caregiving Tips

What works today, may not tomorrow. The multiple factors that influence troubling behaviors, and the natural progression of the disease process, mean that solutions that are effective today may need to be modified tomorrow—or may no longer work at all. The key to managing difficult behaviors is being creative and flexible in your strategies to address a given issue.

May 5th Pick up your flower sale order at Roncalli High School

Reminder to turn in your attendance calendar every month to reserve your loved one's spot for the day

Simple activity idea

One simple activity is to go outside for a walk. It is an easy form of exercise for you and your loved one. There is the added bonus of having things to point out and talk about while outside

Week in Review April 23-27th

Monday- The Guests has a chance to celebrate Earth day with several games, building structures with blocks and making birdfeeders to put in the garden when the weather turns sunny again.

Tuesday- Tabletop bowling, rain drop crafts and talking about the weather were on the agenda for today. We also enjoyed a game of bingo with our friends from the Waters of Indianapolis

Wednesday- Sunshine was the theme for the day. Guests crafted some bright yellow suns and spent some time with our UIndy volunteers who have bright and sunny personalities. Conversations with our Guests are always a sunny spot during every day

Thursday- Bird puzzles, bird theme games, time outside hanging bird feeders and bird crafts were just a few of the the ways that we celebrated John Audubon today.

Friday- Arbor day was the topic of discussion for today. We celebrated with tree crafts, and word games about trees. Guest also enjoyed our traditional Friday donuts compliments of our friends at the Altenheim Senior Living
