Caregiver Newsletter

June 29 2018 "One person caring about another represents life's greatest value"- John Rohn

Week in Review

June 25-29th

Monday: Talking about TV shows, TV theme songs what we like to watch on TV were the focus of the day. The Guests were highly skilled at guessing the theme songs

Tuesday: Tabletop bowling, bingo with our friends from the Waters, bad jokes and time playing a variety of word games were just a portion of activities on the agenda for day

Wednesday: Bunco, wedding words, love craft a game of how many of you have done this and planning a wedding could have been seen happening around the house today

Thursday: Flowers were the topic of the day. We listed types of flowers, talked about the meaning of roses and painted watercolor flowers.

Friday: If you were at the house today, you would have heard conversations about weddings, seen Guests making cards for people they love, seeing how far you can throw things and trying to stay cool on the hot summer day.

Faces of Joy

Miss Jennifer and Miss Barbara enjoying the game of bingo called by our friends from the Waters. The Waters comes to the house once a month to call bingo and provide great prizes

A little bit of humor

Q: What do you get when you cross and insect and a rabbit A: Bugs Bunny

Upcoming Events

Caregiver Tips

Self-care is not selfish. It is vital for the caregiver to refresh themselves. This can be as simple as getting a cup of coffee and spending time with a good book. All too often caregivers neglect themselves because there are so many things on the "to do" list. It is okay to put yourself and self-care on the "to do" list.

Joy's House serves families by providing exceptional adult day and caregiver services.
