ABSTRACT

In reducing the crime rate, it is necessary to have law enforcement in Indonesia to create a conducive environment. The rampant lawlessness that occurred especially during the COVID-19 pandemic caused many losses ranging from materials to lives. The purpose of this investigation was to identify law enforcement efforts and sanctions for medical protocol violations during COVID-19. This method of legal research is the analysis of descriptive legal sources. As a result of the fact that there are still many people who do not follow health management in crowds until late at night. The task force's efforts to socialize and provide strong warnings against perpetrators of violating health protocols. The COVID-19 Task Force has issued a strong warning to business actors in the Medan Metropolitan Trade Center (MMTC) area where it was found that there were visitors who did not follow health protocols and were full, namely in the form of temporary café closures.
