INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background Of The Study

Today and age there are so many children whose characters are damaged or it can be said that the child have a very bad character, especially the character of a junior high school child, at this time junior high school children must have a tough, brave, hardworking and unyielding character. Why do I say like that because during junior high school, children prone to make many mistakes such as skipping class or going online against the teacher, so the teacher have difficulty because of the child's behavior. In this study, we researchers want to find out how relevant the character of being tough, brave, hardworking and unyielding is for high school students today. Personality is the psychological, moral, or personality traits that distinguish one person from another according to DG Mandikdasmen – The National Ministry of education is way of thinking and behaving that characterizes each individual living and working, including within the family, community, national and state boundaries. An individual of good character is an individual who can make decisions and is willing to bear all the consequences of the decisions her or she has made. The writer reveals that word comes from the Greek character “karasso” which means Action or behaviours. So a person who behaves dishonestly, cruelly, or greedily is said to be evil, while those who behave honestly prefer to help those who are said to be have a noble character. Thus, the term is closely related to the personality of a person. Alwisol as a metaphor to explain the behavioral meaning of characters with a focus on values either explicitly or implicitly. Characters differ with personality because they are exempt from the value of understanding personality. However, a good personality and behavior of an emmeterial character is for the social environment, both relatively permanent and directing, mobilizing, and organizing personal activities.

Personality education must also be applied to students because personality education is an educational system aimed at instilling certain personality values in students, including intellectual and conscientious components, will, as well as actions to realize the values. Character education has a close relationship with moral education, the main goal is to constantly from train personal capacity to perfect themselves towards a better life. According to Elkind, national character education is a pedagogical method implemented be educators to influence the character of students. In this case, it can be seen that the teacher not only teaches the subject but can also set an example.

Here are some examples of the value of character education.

Creative	Creation is a behavior to create a new way or result from something that is possessed. Creativity means generating new ideas and useful works. Creative thinking is thinking that can come up with new things or ways out the ordinary, and thinking that is capable of producing ideas or insight of added value or benefit.
Religious	It is expressed in the conduct of carrying out religious teachings and interests, respecting differences in religion and belief with others.
Nationalism	Nationalism expressed in the appreciation of the country's own culture, protection of the environment respect for the law, discipline, respect for cultural, ethnic and religious diversity.
Integrity	Includes accountability, consistency in actions and words based on the truth, respect for individual dignity, and exemplary leadership
Mutual Cooperation	Students must show respect for others, be able to work together, be inclusive, like to help, have empathy and a high sense of solidarity.

Not only personality, education is something that very important. Education is a process of learning the knowledge, skills, and habits of a group of people that are passed on from generation to generation through teaching, training, or research. Education does not have to be done on an autodidact basis or self-study. Frequent, ,

Education is divided into several stages such as preschool, elementary school, middle school, and junior high school. In simple terms, education is a means so that a person or human can get out of difficulties and things that arise from that suspicion, such as difficulties, narrow mindsets and so on. According to Carter V. Good (Dictionary of Education), Education is an art, practice, or profession as a systematic teaching of knowledge or teaching related to the principles and methods of teaching, supervising and guiding students. Prof. Rechev (Planning for Teachers and Introduction to Education): the term education is concerned with the broad function of maintaining and improving the life of a society, especially bringing new citizens (the younger generation) to the fulfillment of their obligations and responsibilities in society. And according to Dahama & Bhatnagar (1080:3-4), Education is a process that brings about desired changes in human behavior.
