First Town Days adds activities, honors Schoenbrunn

By Teri Stein

Two new activities will be available at the 2022 First Town Days Festival at Tuscora Park Thursday, June 30 through Monday July 4.

A new tent sponsored by Cronebaugh Auctions will provide afternoon entertainment at the festival in addition to evening bands. The company will provide the tent and will set it up and tear it down. Seating will be available making the new spot a perfect place to take a break.

"It's a way to get out of the sun into the shade for a few minutes and listen to some really good music. Most of most of the entertainers for the afternoon shows are local," said Joe Croft of New Philadelphia, festival president.

Performers announced for the Cronebaugh Auction Entertainment tent are David Millard, Alex Hursey, Prime, Marc Davis, Greg & Shayne, Ainsley Sefert, and Acoustified – Doug Wagner.

"For the afternoon shows, there would not be a show going on at the main stage at that time. We might have a contest or something in front of the stage that occupies that area but we're trying to keep some sort of continuous entertainment every day," Croft said.

Kyle Valentini

The 45th annual First Town Days festival offers new events, returning events, and a focus on Historic Schoenbrunn Village.

Another idea that reached fruition this year is the new community outreach tent.

"I'm excited about it. We're inviting several local organizations that offer services to help the community to be there," Croft said.

The new outreach tent will allow organizations to set up on their schedule but have information about their organization available during the entire festival.

"We've not been able to have them in the past, because most of them by themselves don't have the staffing or the volunteers to come out for the entire festival. And we've not allowed someone to just come in for the day, or for a couple of hours; we wanted people to be there the entire festival," Croft said. "They will have the opportunity to talk to festivalgoers."

The two new activities are something Croft has wanted to do for a long time.

"Even if they're not there all the time, they'll have their information out," Croft said of using the festival as a way to help the community and as a way to give back.

"To give the organizations a venue of opportunity to be able to talk to people that they might not otherwise get the chance to talk with and give the public the chance to talk with them because they're there and it's convenient. So, we're trying it this year. We're hoping hoping it works out," Croft said.

Croft is also looking forward to this year's City of New Philadelphia Gigantic Fireworks display on Saturday night at 10 p.m.

"We've got permission to be able to do larger shells this year, I can't tell you the exact size but they're going to be the best we've ever had, at least for many years," Croft said adding festivalgoers should be aware there will be an extra area cordoned off.

"Our safety zone is going to be extended. It's not drastic, it's like an extra 50 or 75 feet but it will make a difference because the field fills up on Saturday night," Croft said.

As a result of the city replacing the track at the stadium led to a change for the Junior Superstars event, which is normally held on Saturday morning. That event is now moving to Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. to the Field 1 baseball field and wiffleball is canceled just for this year.

In what has become a First Town Days tradition, the band LaFlavour will play on Saturday evening on the Al Maloney Midway stage.

"They have such a following and they put on such a great show. They're a favorite in the area," Croft said.

Other Al Maloney Midway stage entertainment includes the Tuscarawas River Band, Liberty Bridge Band, Mike Wikoff, Brothers, Ed Kilpatrick, By Grace Alone and Jerome James.

The plate auction will honor the 250th anniversary of Historic Schoenbrunn Village.

"I think it's going to be a nice plate. It's a little bit of a departure from what we've done in the past, but Schoenbrunn has a place in the community and our history, we just felt that it's appropriate," Croft said.

In addition, parade marshals are Wendy Zucal, who oversees operations at Historic Schoenbrunn Village through the Dennison Depot Railroad Museum, and Pastor John Wallace of Dover First Moravian Church who has helped as a volunteer in implementing the 250th anniversary activities.

Some contests are coming back to the festival that haven't been held since before COVID.

"We are bringing back the baby contest this year and our frog jumping and turtle races," Croft said.

Croft thanked all the sponsors.

"We appreciate the sponsors that we've had. Most of them have been with us for a long time and we very much appreciate that," Croft said. "We still need community support and business support."

Farmers Market

Plenty to chew on at
Towpath Rotary Farmers Market

By Lori Feeney

The Towpath Rotary Club Farmers Market is back this year every Monday through the end of August from 4-7 p.m. The market takes place in the Ohio Billing parking lot at 10911 state Route 212 just outside Bolivar.

The market is focused on bringing in local food and produce vendors from the area. “We have quite a few returning vendors along with some new ones this year,” said Gabrielle Ferguson, organizer of the event and director of operations at Ohio Billing.

Haff’s Hot Sauce of New Philadelphia is one of the returning vendors. Owner Bryan Mehaffey makes small batches using local ingredients.

“The sauces go from green to red, mild to dead,” said Mahaffey. “And bad jokes like that are the secret ingredient.” Even the names of the sauces range from funny to frightening, including Trippy Pickle, Indigo Fire, Painapple and the hottest of all, More Cowbell.

“We’re in our third year and the business has grown tremendously,” said Mehaffey, who is also a distributor for Crack Corn, kernel-less, gluten-free popcorn puffs that come in a variety of flavors, from French Toast to Sea Salt and Caramel and Ice Cream Sundae.

Healer’s Mark of Uhrichsville is another vendor, selling home-crafted herbal self-care products. Owner, Stefanie Armstrong, said she forages for many of the ingredients herself and grows her own herbs, buying what she can’t grow or find from local farms.

Saunter down a little way and you’ll find Pies by April. April Houston sells two sizes of home-baked pies in mouthwatering flavors, from strawberry-rhubarb to lemon crumb and concord grape.

A few more steps and you’ll see gorgeous cut flower bouquets from Magnolia Spring Farm. Owners Sean Connelly and Marissa Hollinger-Connelly have a 100-acre farm outside Magnolia dedicated to growing organic and sustainable cut flowers. “We also have a farm stand on the property and a wedding and party venue, and we sell cut flowers on a subscription basis,” Sean Connelly said.

Audrey Ernst is back this year with Audrey’s Baked Creations, which include muffins, cookies and cake pops. “I started the business in 2019 while I was still in high school,” said Ernst, who is now attending Kent State University and majoring in Entrepreneurship. “I hope to grow the business enough so it can become my livelihood,” she said.

Bolivar residents Beth Kiggans and her daughter, Leda McConaha, are frequent visitors to the market. “We come mostly for Audrey’s cookies and the food trucks,” said Kiggans. “It’s also important to support local business.”

Additional regular vendors include ThreePeas Market Garden with locally grown fresh produce, Ellington Farms with local meats and Grown by Grace with potted plants.

Shoppers can also grab a bite to eat at the Don Polos Mexican Cuisine food truck. “We are bringing in food trucks because there are really only a couple of restaurants open in Bolivar on Monday nights,” said Jon Elsasser, current president of the Towpath Rotary Club.

Elsasser said they are always looking for reliable vendors and would welcome more to the market. “I’d love see a few more local produce vendors.”

Vendors looking to join the market can contact Ferguson or Mary Mayles at 330-874-1140.

If planning to visit the farmers market, take along some green of your own. While many vendors accept payment by credit card, debit card or Venmo, not all are set up to do so.

The Towpath Rotary Club relies on proceeds from the farmers market and other events to fund local projects, which include sponsoring the Tusky Valley High School speech tournament each year and maintaining the Canal Lands Park at the corner of Dover-Zoar and Towpath roads.

Exhibition open to Stark residents

Entries for the Massillon Museum's 2022 Stark County Artists Exhibition are due Monday, Aug. 15. The exhibition will open Dec. 1 with a reception from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The exhibition will continue through Jan. 15, 2023.

The annual exhibition is open to present and former Stark County residents and to those currently working in Stark County, 18 years and older. Each artist may submit up to three digital images of artwork completed within the past two years. Artwork in any medium will be considered.

This year's jurors are Amber N. Ford, photographer and artist; Dave Sza-lay, artist and professor of graphic design University of Akron; and Janice Lessman-Moss, artist and head of textiles, Kent State University.

They will select artwork to be included in the exhibition as well as the prizes: Best in Show, $300; Second Place, $200; and Third Place, $100. Visitors throughout the exhibition will vote for the People's Choice Award, $100.

For complete artist guidelines and online entry form, visit massillonmuseum.org/scae. Paper entry forms are available at the museum reception desk. To receive a form by mail, email submissions@massillonmuseum.org or call 330-833-4061. A non-refundable $15 per artwork or $30 for three is due when entries are submitted. Artwork may be for sale; MassMu will retain a 30% commission on work sold.

Any artists who need help photographing their artwork for submission may contact photographer Mandy Altimus Stahl, the museum's archivist, at 330-833-4061 x113 or mashtahl@massillonmuseum.org.

org for an appointment. The fee is $5 per photo.

The museum receives operating support from the Ohio Arts Council and Art-sinStark, and marketing support from Visit Canton.

The Massillon Museum is located at 121 Lincoln Way East in downtown Massillon. For more information, call 330-833-4061 or visit www.massillonmuseum.org.

All the right stuff

By Mary Malik

Growing up working with their father, owner of Miller's Gun & Supply, Joe and Larry Miller learned that success starts with exceptional customer service. Now that the brothers are running the business, they are continuing to serve their customers with the latest and greatest in firearms, archery, and fishing supplies and accessories.

"We keep up with all of the newest advancements in these areas," Joe Miller said. "We have very knowledgeable and talented archery techs who work on bows and arrows along with an entire staff that educates our customers on all of our products to guide them in the right direction before a purchase is made."

Miller said customers have come to rely on Miller's Gun & Supply for not just their products, but also their knowledge of firearms, archery and all their products. Whether you are buying, selling or trading, Miller's Gun & Supply can help.

Senior centers hold 12 Days of Christmas in July

By Scott Daniels

Temperatures may be rising in the summer heat, but Christmas presents will abound as the Tuscarawas County senior centers kick off The 12 Days of Christmas in July, a chance to win prizes over a 12-day period beginning July 5.

Tickets are available through June 30 at $5 each, $10 for three or $20 for eight. The fundraiser provides money for daily activities available at the six senior centers across the county. Funds help the centers present dances, fitness activities, day trips, card tournaments and other ways for area seniors to remain active.

The July 5 drawing will award tickets to any of the Little Theatre of Tuscarawas County productions to 12 winners, sponsored by Wayne Door. On July 6 eleven winners will receive facial packages sponsored by Ohio Laser and Wellness Center. Ten gift cards and gift baskets will be given to 10 winners on July 7, sponsored by Sunny Hive Orchard, WJER Radio, Boltaron, Connolly/Hillyer, Magic Mugs, Lexi Nails and Amy May.

Nine more gift cards will be given out on July 8 by Biggby Coffee, Broad Run Dairy, Dumont Sporting Goods, Pam's Posies, Sugar Valley Meats and Sugarfuse.

On July 11 gift cards are sponsored by Yoder's Market, Newcomerstown Pool, Reisbeck's Food Markets and Riverside Apartments for eight winners.

Gift cards and tickets will be awarded to seven winners from Amish Country Theater, Park Street Pizza, Smash Restobar and Theresa Graziani on July 12.

July 13 will see six winners from sponsors Tuscarawas County Senior Center board members, Baltic Hill Winery and Chloe's Diner.

Five $25 gift cards will go out July 14 from Dutch Valley Gifts while four more gift cards are to be given July 15 from Schoenbrunn Health Care.

Three gift baskets from Dutch Valley Gifts will be up for grabs on July 18.

Two $250 gift certificates sponsored by Williams Furniture, Sarah Andreas and Emily Bennet will be awarded on July 19, and $750 in cash will go to one winner on July 20, sponsored by Krugliak, Wilkins, Griffiths & Dougherty; Novogradic & Company LLC; and Joe Sciaretti.

Other organizations donated in-kind items to the event.

The idea for the 12 Days of Christmas in July countdown of prizes came about as the senior centers sought ways to help with funding for the many activities offered by the centers.

Vicki Yates, director of activities for the centers, said the money raised will remain in her own activities department. "It helps to fund things throughout our locations. Day trips are very popular, and many of the things we offer are not covered by levy funds. This enables us to keep offering the many things we have available for people to take advantage of," she said.

Winners will be announced via the senior centers' Facebook page, and each winner also will be notified via phone. Other locations are offering tickets, and Yates said any company that would like to offer tickets to employees can contact her at the center to learn more. Tickets also are available at the Tuscarawas Valley Farmers Market at the fairgrounds.

Satellite senior centers are located in Uhrichsville, Sugarcreek, Mineral City, Newcomerstown and Westchester, in addition to the main facility in Dover.

"What can be more fun than adding a little Christmas giving to the summer months?" Yates said. "Winners get some great gifts, and the senior centers help keep our members active and busy."

Zoar Council addresses Airbnb rentals in village

By Lori Feeney
At its June 14 meeting Zoar Village Council addressed concerns about the number of Airbnb properties permitted in the village. Council President Gayle Potelicki said a number of properties are up for sale with potential buyers interested in using them as short-term Airbnb rentals. She asked council to consider limiting the number allowed.

Village Solicitor Doug Frautschy and Mayor Scott Gordon both brought up the possible passage of OH-HB536, which has passed through the Ohio House of Representatives. If the bill passes through the senate, it will strip municipalities of the power to limit the number of Airbnbs.

The village currently has two Airbnbs operating with conditional use permits, which would be grandfathered in if the village were to prohibit them altogether. A current village ordinance requires owners to reside at the property. Safety Committee Chair Tom Klingaman said the two existing Airbnbs are in compliance with village regulations.

Council agreed the negative impacts of multiple Airbnb rentals, including lack of revenue for the village since there would be no bed tax collected, outweigh the positive, and more research is needed into how they may be regulated. In the meantime, proposed changes to the zoning ordinance governing short-term rentals will be drafted.

Reports to council

Klingaman reported for the safety committee that he and Gordon met with Josh Mathias, New Philadelphia's zoning and street administrator, to learn how the city deals with dilapidated properties. They were told that New Philadelphia has adopted the International Property Maintenance Code, which gives them the authority to enforce zoning code violations.

Gordon said the city of New Philadelphia and the Village of Zoar have different goals, with Zoar favoring preservation and restoration of historic properties over demolition when owners fail to comply. Klingaman will review the IPMC and present findings of the meeting with Mathias to both the Planning Commission and David Hayes, village zoning officer.

Street Commissioner David Irwin presented a bid he received for paving through the county engineer's office from Barbicas Construction in Akron. The bid of $70,356 is higher than expected, according to Irwin, but he suggested council allow for the paving as prices are unlikely to come down in the near future. Council voted to accept the bid and move forward with paving in 2022.

Council also voted to spend $220 for two additional storm water risers at Irwin's request and to appropriate $200 from PEP insurance funds for a new swing set seat at the Zoar School House.

In his solicitor's report, Frautschy said he updated a proposed weed and litter ordinance to allow conservation/wetlands to exceed the height limit on grass and weeds.

Levee update

In his mayor's report, Gordon presented a letter to be mailed to residents explaining the status of levee repairs by the U.S. Army

Son to share father's experience

Steve Patrick of Dover will share the experiences of his father as a crew member of a WWII B-17 bomber. One WWII B-17 Bomber and One Crew Member's Story — 1942 to 2022 will be held at the Dover Public Library on Monday, June 27 at 6:30 p.m.

John "Bob" Robert Patrick, a 1939 graduate of New Philadelphia High School, was the crew chief on a B-17 bomber during World War II. The crew was on its way to England to join the war when bad weather and low fuel forced them to land on the arctic ice cap in Greenland.

The crew was rescued after 10 days, but the plane, which was relatively undamaged in the landing, was left behind. It wasn't until 1964 that someone spotted the B-17 bomber. In 1995 all parts of the plane were retrieved and moved to Oregon, where it was completely restored.

In 2000 a Cincinnati businessman bought the plane with the intention of making it the centerpiece of a WWII memorial. In 2012 the businessman, realizing he was not going to be able to finish the project, donated the plane to the National Museum of World War II in New Orleans, Louisiana. Today, the plane is still on display at one of the pavilions at the museum.

"I have done this program several times since moving here in 2008," Patrick said, "and each time I give it, I find new material I never knew about. The details are fascinating."

"It is a remarkable coincidence that Patrick will be sharing images and displaying artifacts exactly 80 years after his father's historical journey began — June 27, 1942," said Sherrel Rieger, adult program specialist.

This program will be held in the community room at the DPL, 525 N. Walnut St., Dover.

Corps of Engineers. Council agreed to send the letter. Gordon said the Corps plans to work longer days and some Saturdays in order to complete construction by the end of October. Gordon will ask the Corps to increase street cleaning if possible and to power wash buildings that accumulate heavy dust.

Gordon also said County Engineer Joe Bachman told Irwin the county will not be paving Dover-Zoar Road atop the levee, so the village will move ahead with the process of detaching the road.

Public Comments

Council heard from Bolivar Police Sergeant Jeff Stearns that he is leaving Bolivar for a position with the Sugar Creek Police Department.

Stearns said Eric Minor will be his replacement for policing the village.

Legislation

Council passed an ordinance to accept minor changes to the fire contract with Bolivar and Lawrence Township, as well as an ordinance setting the maximum height for grass and weeds at 12 inches, at which point residents are required to mow.

Win a new bike with Hogs for Hospice fundraiser

By Scott Daniels

If you've been eyeing up a new motorcycle but despair of ever finding the spare cash, a new Harley Davidson bike could end up in your garage this summer for the price of a $20 raffle ticket.

Community Hospice of Tuscarawas County is partnering with Adventure Harley-Davidson of Dover to offer Hogs for Hospice, in which a gunship gray 2022 Harley Davidson Iron 883 will be raffled off to raise money for the end-of-life care provider. Tickets are available now.

Kim Gray, event coordinator at Adventure Harley-Davidson, said the raffle has been in the works for a couple of years. "We were going to do this before but the Covid 19 pandemic interrupted that process. We are happy to be able to do it this year."

"That's right," said Mona Sayre, fundraising and community events coordinator at Community Hospice. "Mike and Francine Davis at Adventure are very strong supporters of Community Hospice. Back in 2020, we talked with them and came up with the idea of doing a motorcycle giveaway. We got it started, got the tickets out there, and literally less than two weeks into it, the pandemic started and everything came to a halt. We hated to cancel it but the best thing to do was wait until things returned to something like normal. So we are very happy to work with them to do this now. It's a lot of fun and I think it's a pretty exciting prize."

Community Hospice is hoping to reach their goal of selling 2,500 raffle tickets before sales of the tickets end Aug. 12, raising $50,000 for patient care. "As a nonprofit, We never turn anyone away," said Sayre. "We care for patients without insurance, and cover some expenses not covered by insurance or Medicare or Medicaid."

"Our Community Hospice really is one of the best to be found anywhere," Sayre said. "That is because of the high level of quality care we are able to offer and the people we have. We serve patients in 10 counties now, and many people are unaware that they can choose which Hospice they turn to. We are a nonprofit, but many hospice care organizations operate on a for profit basis. We know for a fact that people want to end their lives in their own homes, or in the environment they're used to. We go to them and care for them in surroundings they know and where they can be with their families."

"We like to be supportive and engaged in our community," said Gray. "We support many local charities and nonprofit organizations and this is an excellent way to support Community Hospice."

The dealership has donated the bike for the raffle fundraiser, and eager bikers can see the prize winning bike by visiting the dealership on Rt. 39 between Dover and New Philadelphia. The Iron 883 carries a fuel injected engine and 59.6 inch wheelbase.

Tickets are available from any Community Hospice volunteer or at the hospice care center at 716 Commercial Ave. in New Philadelphia, or online at myhospice.org.

The first runner up will receive a $500 Adventure Harley Davidson gift card, while the second runner up will get a $250 gift card to the store. Prize drawings will be held Saturday, Aug. 13 at the dealership at 1465 state Route 39 NW, Dover. Tickets are not available at Adventure Harley-Davidson.

Is skin cancer hereditary?

Dear Savvy Senior,

Is skin cancer hereditary? My 63-year-old brother died of melanoma last year, and I'm wondering if I'm at higher risk.

Younger Sister

Dear Younger,

While long-term sun exposure and sun burns are the biggest risk factors for melanoma — the deadliest form of skin cancer — having a sibling or parent with melanoma does indeed increase your risk, according to the Skin Cancer Foundation.

Each year around 100,000 Americans are diagnosed with melanoma, and about 7,500 people will die from it. While anyone can get it, those most often diagnosed are Caucasians age 50 and older. And those with the highest risk are people with red or blond hair, blue or green eyes, fair skin, freckles, moles, a family history of skin cancer, and those who had blistering sun burns in their youth.

Skin exams

The best way you can guard against melanoma and other skin cancers — basal and squamous cell carcinomas — is to protect yourself from the sun, and if you're over age 50, get a full-body skin exam done by a dermatologist every year, especially if you're high risk.

Self-examinations done every month or so also are a smart way to detect early problems. Using mirrors, check the front and back side of your entire body including the tops and under sides of your arms and hands, between your toes and the soles of your feet, your neck, scalp, and buttocks.

Be on the lookout for new growths, moles that have changed or sores that don't heal and follow the ABCDE rule when examining suspicious moles:

—Asymmetry: One half of a mole doesn't match the other.

—Border: The border is blurred or ragged.

—Color: The mole has uneven colors, often shades of brown, tan or black with patches of pink, red, white or blue.

—Diameter: The lesion is new or at least a quarter inch in diameter.

—Evolving: The mole is changing in size, shape or color.

For more self-examination tips and actual pictures of what to look for, visit www.SpotSkinCancer.org or use a skin cancer detection app like www.Miiskin.com, www.MoleMapper.org or www.SkinVision.com.

In the spring and summer, there are a variety of places that offer free skin cancer screenings, like the American Academy of Dermatology (www.spotskin-cancer.org) and the American Society for Dermatologic Surgery (www.asds.net/skincancerscreening.aspx), which offer screenings done by volunteer dermatologists across the U.S.

Sun protection

Even though you can't change your skin or family history, there are some proven strategies that can help you protect yourself.

For starters, when you go outside, put on broad-spectrum SPF 30, water-resistant sunscreen, on both sunny and cloudy days. If you don't like the rub-on lotions, try the continuous spray-on sunscreens that are easier to apply and re-apply and less messy. Also, seek the shade when rays are most intense — between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

You also can protect your skin by wearing a wide-brimmed hat and long sleeves and pants when possible. The best clothing options are tightly woven fabrics that help prevent the sun's rays from reaching your skin, or you can wash in an invisible shield sun protection into your clothes with SunGuard laundry additive. See www.sunguarduv.com. You can even buy a variety of lightweight clothing and hats that offer maximum UV protection in their fabric: www.Coolibar.com and www.SunPrecautions.com are two good sites that offer these products.

Treatments

If caught early, melanoma is nearly 100% curable. But if it's not, the cancer can advance and spread to other parts of the body where it becomes hard to treat and can be fatal. Standard early treatment for melanoma is surgical removal. In advanced cases, however, immunotherapies and targeted therapies have shown positive results, or chemotherapy and radiation may be used.

Send your senior questions to Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit www.SavvySenior.org.
