Help needed to bring broadband to residents

By Lori Feeney

The Tuscarawas Economic Development Corporation and its partner organizations are asking all county residents to complete a five-minute survey that will help identify areas still in need of access to broadband internet service.

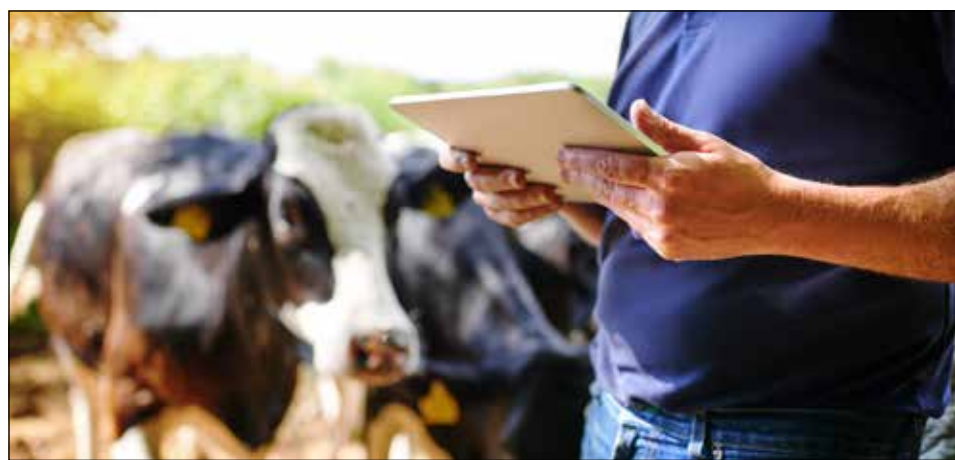

The ConnectTusc campaign is a fast-track program to develop a plan for expanding broadband internet access throughout the county. Marla Akridge, the executive director of TEDC, said previous studies have shown there are still unserved and underserved areas of the county.

"Every child needs the internet now for school work," Akridge said. "And so much business is conducted over the internet including telemedicine and paying your bills. It is all dependent upon reliable, high-speed internet access."

Data from the survey will be used to secure grant funding for internet expansion as part of a 16-week pilot program run by the State of Ohio called the BroadbandOhio Community Accelerator program.

"We want to develop a strategic plan for expanding broadband across the county, particularly into the rural regions where a lot of people just don't have any access to broadband or they have poor access to broadband that is unreliable and slow," John Kelly of the TEDC said.

Widespread access to broadband internet service is not the only goal of the program. The initiative also has a goal of making internet service fast and affordable.

"The survey is going to help us hopefully make some really good, informed decisions," Akridge said. "The state is looking at different speeds important for businesses right now, and we anticipate that the funding is going to be regulated around that."

According to Kelly, receiving completed surveys quickly is crucial. "We had hoped to have at least

1,000 surveys returned by Sept. 1," he said. "We currently have received around 500."

Kelly said while Sept. 1 is not a hard deadline, data from surveys completed by that date will be used in the presentation TEDC must give to funding organizations.

"The goal is to have the data ready to present as soon as money becomes available," he said. "We're trying to develop a map that shows which providers are offering service and any infrastructure they may be working on. Once we do start getting funding, we'll be ready to tell companies where they need to focus their efforts first."

Farmers an important survey group

Kelly said TEDC needs to hear from not only residents and business owners in towns and cities, but also from farmers and rural residents.

"We really need to get responses from people in the rural areas," he said. "We really want to help get farmers connected because there is a lot of new farming technology that relies on an internet connection."

one of the first in Ohio to participate in the BBCA program launched by Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine. The program will award grants to internet service providers for construction of broadband projects in unserved and underserved areas of the state.

According to a press release issued by DeWine's office, the grants are designed to help cover the costs for internet service providers to build networks in areas that lack high-speed internet.

Take five

TEDC is urging everyone in the county to take five minutes to fill out the survey at www.tuscedc.com/connectusc. For those who do not have access to the internet, hard copies of the survey are available at the TEDC office at 339 Oxford St. in Dover, at all branches of the Tuscarawas County Public Library, and at most town and village halls. The survey also can be taken by cell phone.

As an extra incentive to fill out the survey, each participant's name will be entered into a drawing for one of several $50 gift cards.

For more information or for help filling out the survey, call TEDC at 330-602-4422 or email info@tuscedc.com.

COVER STORY

Gregory Log & Lumber

SERVICE WITH INTEGRITY

In 1999, recently retired John Gregory moved to Millersburg from Connecticut and started a sawmill as a hobby, recalled Leroy Yoder, who now owns Gregory Log & Lumber, a producer of white pine lumber products. Twenty-three years later, the growing company has built an expanded warehouse, office and retail showroom.

Join us at our new facilities for a special sale and customer appreciation open house on Wednesday, August 31, from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. and Thursday, September 1, from 7 a.m.-4 p.m. The sale will be a 10% cash-and-carry discount on in-stock items only.

“We’re inviting the community to come in and take a tour of the mill and enjoy some refreshments,” Yoder said. “We’ll have doughnuts and coffee in the mornings, then, from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m., on August 31 we’re going to offer smoked sausage from Miller’s Custom Meats. It’s going to be a fun, family-friendly event.”

Skids of wood shavings will be awarded as door prizes during the event. All attendees will receive a ticket to enter the prize drawing — and they will get additional tickets with each $500 in-store purchase. First prize will be two skids of shavings. Second prize will be one skid.

Gregory Log & Lumber supplies ethically sourced Ohio white pine and building supplies to do-it-yourselfers and professional contractors.

“We work to ensure customers’ projects are completed efficiently,” Yoder said. “We mill high quality lumber to customers’ specifications, or we have the right products for them that are ready to install.”

Yoder, who in 1999 was a young mechanic eager to make his mark, was involved with Gregory Log & Lumber “from the get-go,” he said.

“John wanted something to do in his retirement, and he hired me as a mechanic, wanting to rebuild mills and sell them,” he explained. “After we got the first one rebuilt, John decided to buy some land, set up the business and it went from there. It became a full-time endeavor.”

When Gregory passed in May 2006, Yoder took over the business and has continued to honor the founder’s legacy, he said. Starting with two men, Gregory Log & Lumber has grown to 20 employees and thousands of customers from around the country.

“The new facilities will be more efficient for us to work in and will create a better experience for our customers we can get you loaded up faster. The showroom is open for retail and wholesale, and our sales team is eager to help with whatever projects a customer is working on.”

— Leroy Yoder

The keys to the company’s success over 23 years, Yoder revealed, have been “dedicated employees, quality products, service.”

“We are solely a white pine operation,” Yoder emphasized. “It’s our specialty. We have the saw mills, dry kilns and our retail operation. We work the lumber from start to finish. We do a lot of beams, a lot of log siding, cabin material and timber framing.”

Yoder said Gregory chose to specialize in white pine because of its unique properties.

“It has a beautiful appearance,” he said. “The rustic look is very popular and white pine offers that look with the knots and the nice character of the wood. It’s strong, but it’s light and really easy to work with. There aren’t a lot of mills in the area that do white pine.”

Because Ohio white pine requires only a minimal protective stain, its natural look can be retained, he added.

Gregory Log & Lumber buys standing timber from Ohio growers and brings it to its mill for processing.

“Because of the growing demand, we outgrew our office and warehouse,” Yoder said. “The new facilities will be more efficient for us to work in and will create a better experience for our customers — we can get you loaded up faster. The showroom is open for retail and wholesale, and our sales team is eager to help with whatever projects a customer is working on.”

Showroom products include sliding barn doors, tongue-and-groove siding and flooring, shiplap siding, log siding, S4S shelving boards, D-logs and rough-cut lumber.

“We offer everything from single pieces up to semi-loads,” Yoder said.

He said the community’s support has been vital in the company’s growth.

“We have grown mostly by word of mouth, and I want to thank the people of our community for their support over the years,” he said.

Gregory Log & Lumber’s new warehouse and showroom are still located at its familiar location at 5545 County Road 68 in Millersburg. You can learn more about the company at GregoryLog.com or by calling 330-893-4499.

The new facilities will be unveiled at special sale and customer appreciation open house on August 31, from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. and Thursday, September 1, from 7 a.m.-4 p.m. The sale will be a 10% cash-and-carry discount on in-stock items only.

Kent Tusc nursing offers twice-a-year admissions

Changes are coming to the Kent State University at Tuscarawas nursing program this spring. Starting in January 2023, the associate degree in nursing program will begin offering admissions to the program two times a year, for both the fall and spring semesters.

This transition will benefit those students who might have previously had to delay starting in the fall. Previously, students applying to the program in the summer needed to wait a year to enter the program. Now students will be able to start nursing classes in January. Offering all nursing courses each semester will provide students with more flexibility in their schedules.

"The nursing faculty and I are really excited about this change for many reasons," said Dr. Mariann Harding, interim director of the ADN program. "Over the next year, we will be able to start offering all our core nursing classes every semester. We are really excited about the flexibility that this will allow our students. Many of our students have life obligations. Some are working. Some have family obligations. These obligations do not go away when the student starts school. For some, the only way they can afford to go back to school is to keep working."

Harding said by offering all courses each semester, ter, students can more easily transition to a part-time schedule or take a semester off if needed without having to wait a year to return to school because a needed course is not being offered.

The twice-a-year admissions change also will help alleviate the nursing shortages that continue in area communities and across the country since the beginning of the pandemic.

"This shortage has impacted our area with unfilled nursing positions in most of our local facilities," Harding said. "We think that moving to twice-yearly admissions will help to ensure a steady supply of new nurses. This should benefit our community and help us to assist with meeting our local healthcare needs."

For more information about the ADN program at Kent State Tuscarawas, email Harding at mhardi10@kent.edu or Charity Waugh, ADN academic program specialist, at cwaugh@kent.edu.

Historic Zoar Village will continue its Free Speaker Series on Sept. 3 at 11 a.m. in the Historic Zoar School House.

Tom O'Grady, author and astronomy instructor, will present An Astronomical Expedition by Canal and Stagecoach: John Quincy Adams Crosses Ohio in 1843.

ity became operational in 1845 and remains one of the oldest functioning observatories in the U.S.

O'Grady has researched Ohio history for 25 years with a focus in geography and settlement, the mound builders, and Ohio canals. He has led evening observational astronomy courses at Ohio University for 30 years and worked as a surveyor for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

No reservations are required. Free parking is available near the School House.

Fair planning challenges

The board members of the Tuscarawas County Agricultural Society make it look easy, but there is an extraordinary amount of effort that goes into planning the fair each year.

"The biggest thing that we're faced with is continuing to try to improve, not only the fair each year, but the fairgrounds and continuing to try to hold the prices," Doug Wills said. "We're getting completely out of the entertainment business. We're trying to do our best at providing a good entertainment value. We're excited about bringing back the stunt show this year. It's been several years since we've had that. The whole group looked very hard to find that stunt show."

Senior fair board members said gate prices are staying the same this year.

"I think we are one of very few fairs in the state of Ohio that did not raise our prices this year. Our gate price remains the same. Our grandstand seating remains the same, and grandstand seats vary according to what the show is," Billman said.

Parking at $5 also remained the same.

Other attractions may see increases.

"We have no control over the cost of the rides or the food or the games or anything else. Those are all privately owned," Billman said.

Fair livestock and dairy sales available live and online

The Tuscarawas County Fair Sales will be held in a hybrid format. The auctions will take place simultaneously live and online. For online bidding and sign-up, visit www.kaufman-auctions.com.

"The online option turned out to be a great success," Wills said.

Having the in-person and online option has increased the number of buyers.

"We actually sold livestock in other states," Billman said. "(Former area residents) bought a hog, and they live in Florida. They just donated it to the food bank up here, but they were able to support a kid."

“I think we are one of very few fairs in the state of Ohio that did not raise our prices this year.”

Reb Billman

Businesses that support the livestock auctions like the online option because they don't have to leave work to make a purchase. The online option makes it possible to prebid on an animal shown by a 4-H member they would like to support. Bids can be placed up to the amount you select. Prebids must be set up in the system ahead of time.

Though the fair has recently seen record sales each year, the money goes to the 4-H members who raise the animal or are involved in dairy production, and a small portion of each sale goes to the committees. None of the money earned goes to the fair board. The committees — market livestock, small animal and dairy — use the money for education like field trips or purchasing needed items like pens or bleachers.

All sales are held in the main show arena. The swine livestock sale will begin at noon on Thursday, followed at 4 p.m. by lambs, market beef and dairy steers. The dairy products sale will begin at 3 p.m. on Friday with the small animal sale at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

4-H participation enriches members' lives

Fair King Cameron Brandt, Queen Riley Randolph and two 4-H members — sisters Allie and Addy Kendle — spoke about their success through 4-H and the Tuscarawas County Fair.

For Addy Kendle, raising sheep is her favorite project. She began showing at the county level, moved up to the state level and now is showing sheep on the national level in Louisville, Kentucky.

"It's just cool because I have friends from all over the state," Addy Kendle said.

Allie Kendle spoke about her self-determined project. The self-determined project allows members to learn about topics they are interested in.

"They have some outlined projects already, like quilting, or you can like completely come up with your own and it could just be in a generic topic like creative arts. But for my project, I had to go through and pick research topics and then research about my project. I researched about types of fabric and long arming and the different patterns that I could do with my quilt," Allie Kendle said.

She then did a summary of her entire project, highlighting what she had learned.

Brandt and Randolph spoke about their experiences over the past year.

"(As of mid-August), I have gone to 17 county fairs. I can't tell what's my favorite. They're all amazing. Carroll County is very close to my heart, but Tusc is always on top,"

Brandt said. "I've really just tried to get out there and speak with the people at different kinds of fairs. And I kind of kept a database on different things that they do that I think would be really interesting here. I've seen a couple of different things with livestock. They've done different types of shows that we aren't really able to do but would be really good ideas in the future if we were to have those facilities."

He also attended Citizenship Washington Focus.

"We went to D.C. and met with lawmakers. We addressed our concerns within the agriculture community," Brandt said. "Many of (the lawmakers) actually responded back within a few weeks. We got to go to several seminars because they do two separate conferences and talked about our issues between our different regions of our state. And we got to make a lot of new friends."

For Randolph, it's the experiences that count most.

"I have probably visited more parades than county fairs. I would like to visit more county fairs. I just don't have quite the time," Randolph said. "I would say my greatest achievement as fair queen is attending the Ohio Fairs Managers Association conference. Going there, I was able to compete with 77 other queens from across the state of Ohio. I went through an entire interview process to pageantry, walking on stage and then presenting that evening. It was really intense."

Randolph hopes to visit more county fairs prior to the start of the 2022 Tuscarawas County Fair, and she's looking to the future.

"I'm really excited to see who becomes the next fair queen and takes my place," she said.

Art show will benefit the Zachary Davis Foundation

Drawing on art and music, which were both special to the late Zachary Davis, the Art and Soul Gallery at New Philadelphia has teamed with Breitenbach Wine Cellars at Dover to host the second annual ZADA Modern and Contemporary Art Show on Sept. 10 from 4-9 p.m. at the Tool Shed at Breitenbach to benefit the Zachary Davis Foundation.

The nonprofit was created by Zachary's mother, Anita Davis. He passed away Nov. 12, 2005, as the result of a drug overdose. "Before he died, Zach told me if he could tell kids and prevent them from ever using, he would," Davis said.

As a result, the foundation was born. Today, Davis travels to area high schools to talk with students about the dangers of drug use and the lasting effects and consequences on an individual and their family.

In addition, the foundation supports youth activities that offer local children and young adults a place to express themselves and be supported including YoungLife of Tuscarawas County, Big Brothers Big Sisters, YMCA Strong Kids Campaign and Dover High School's Youth to Youth Program.

The foundation also is the keystone organization that administers five scholarships each year for students who are expanding their education in a field that is related to addiction, ranging from counseling to nursing and community corrections.

"It is important to me to offer hope, and helping others further their education so that they can help change the future is one way to do just that," Davis said. "Changing the life path of just one person is paramount."

Zachary's drawings were showcased at last year's event. He attended the Art Institute of Pittsburgh. "He did a lot of modern style art," Davis said.

This year a host of artisans will showcase and sell their creations to support the foundation.

"The show will include jewelry, glass, water color, mixed media, acrylic, oil, pottery and much more," said Kathi Tustin, one of the organizers of the event. "We are excited that also returning this year will be live music."

Zac Pirillo will be on stage from 4-6 p.m. He will be followed by Mo' Mojo from 6-9 p.m. "They are a hard-driving, high-energy Zydeco-based band from Cleveland," Tustin said.

The event also includes food and beverages from the culinary crew at Donnie's Tavern in Zoar. A selection of wines from Breitenbach Wine Cellars also will round out the offerings.

"We hope you will save the date, Sept. 10, to come out and join us for this wonderful event," Tustin said. "We hope you will take the time to meet the artists. We are striving to support both the foundation and all of our hard-working, creative artisans at this fun and high-energy event."

PROJECT HOPE

THERE IS ALWAYS HOPE
STARTS AUGUST 31, 2022

Beginning August 31, Tuscarawas County residents will see silhouettes positioned along prominent roadways in our communities.

- Black silhouette: represents overdose deaths in the county
- Gray silhouette: represents overdoses per city (not resulting in death)
- Yellow silhouette: represents "There is Always Hope"
- Yard sign promoting the Tuscarawas County

Substance Use Hope Line: (330) 663-6812

Participating communities include Bolivar, Dover, Newcomerstown, New Philadelphia, Port Washington, Strasburg, Sugar Creek, Dennison, and Uhrichsville. Yard signs include the Hope Line phone number, which is a one call, one person, no redirects resource. The Hope Line was created to help individuals access the appropriate addiction treatment services and provide support to the loved ones of individuals struggling with substance abuse.

Project Hope is an annual awareness campaign established in response to Tuscarawas County experiencing a record number of overdose deaths in 2020. The campaign also acts as a period of remembrance for the 25 people who died because of an overdose in 2021. Project Hope also allows survivors to remember the nine county residents who passed away from overdoses and recognize the 96 recorded overdoses (not resulting in death) in our county during the first six months of 2022.

Empower Tusc (formerly known as the Tuscarawas County Anti-Drug Coalition) and the Tuscarawas County Addiction Task Force have joined forces to help our community better understand addiction, reduce the stigma surrounding substance use disorder, connect individuals with treatment services, and show those battling addiction that treatment works... recovery can happen!

A press conference to announce this year's Project Hope will be held at 2:00pm on Wednesday, August 31 at the New Philadelphia Fire Department. This year's speakers include:

- Congressman Bill Johnson
- Representative Brett Hillyer
- Senator Jay Hottinger
- Commissioner Al Landis
- Persons in Recovery
- A mother who lost her child to an overdose

Commissioner Chris Abbuhl will be presenting proclamations recognizing August 31 as International Overdose Awareness Day and September as National Recovery Month.

The silhouettes serve as a reminder that even one life lost in our county due to substance use is one life too many. We encourage all residents of Tuscarawas County to support, learn, and share information about Project Hope and available treatment resources. You can learn more by visiting empower-tusc.com. # Dogs were at work at new Hoofs and Hounds event

By Teri Stein

Spectators were treated to a demonstration of area K-9s in action at the first Hoofs and Hounds event on Aug. 20 at Camp Tuscazoar.

Providing the demonstration was patrolman Jordan Doughty of the Dover Police Department and his K-9, Red, and patrolman Brad Geist of the New Philadelphia Police Department and his K-9, Cooper. Assisting as the “bad guy” was Chris Heslop, president of the Police K-9 Association. Heslop also is a member of the Canton Police Department.

The training the K-9s receive depends on the dog, but in general each dog receives 12 weeks of training before it joins the police department.

“They also train two times per month after that,” Geist said. “There is a training facility in Canton. They will go to empty buildings and do searches for narcotics just to keep them fresh.”

The K-9s can smell things humans can’t.

“A dog’s sense of smell is around 100 times better than a human,” Geist said.

The use of K-9s can vary. Sometimes they are called out multiple times in one day, and other days they are not needed at all.

“Cooper got his first call within three days,” Geist said.

Both Red and Cooper are Belgian Malinois. K-9s live with the patrolmen they work with during their service and stay with the patrolmen after the K-9 retires.

“Depending on the dog, they usually serve seven to nine years,” Geist said.

The speed and the agility of the dogs were on display during the demonstration. They grab a suspect by the arm, and they do not loosen their hold until their handler instructs them to let go.

The Police K-9 Association also sold shirts to raise funds to benefit about 60 active and retired K-9s through its organization. The organization provides education and training, veterinary and dental care, end-of-life valor, and lifesaving equipment like ballistic vests, which cost between $2,600-$2,800 for one vest.

With law-enforcement budgets unable to cover some of these expensive costs, the PK9A steps in to help when they can.

The PK9A, a nonprofit organization, has an annual 5k fundraiser scheduled for this year on Saturday, Oct. 8 in downtown Canton. For more information or to purchase PK9A merchandise, visit www.policek9association.com or find them on Facebook or Instagram.

There were many groups and vendors at the event. The upper level, behind the stockade fence, was the horse and animal area.

A lower level at Kimble Dining Hall held the live auction items, raffle items and other vendors, many carrying dog-related items. Messdad’s food truck, the duck pond game, the Kent State Tuscarawas vet-tech program, and many other vendors and organizations also were there.

Of the many items available at the event was one called the WoofPack, a dog-walking accessory bag that features an inner antimicrobial lining that holds bagged waste and also has pockets for personal items. The bag has many different ways it can be used when walking a pet.

At DJ’s Paw Rescue, a group from the Portage Lakes area, several dogs were available for adoption. They wagged their tails as visitors walked by, and the rescue owners received an application for one of the dogs.

Another nonprofit group at the event, Rush 2 Rescue, offers driving services to pick up dogs and move them to their new homes. They drive mostly in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Other groups participating in the event that were stationed at the Hoover Lodge area were PELIA horse rides, City Limits Western Wear, Seven Ranges Mountain Men exhibit, the mini-menagerie petting zoo, Stirrup Courage, the Little Roaming Railroad and the Ice Cream Island food truck.

Cadence Beavers of Sherrodsville attended the event with Henny, a 10-month-old English Coonhound.

“We decided to take Henny out for the first time because she hasn’t been out a lot,” Beavers said. “She really loves all the dogs here and getting to socialize with them and the treats. She loves it so much. I think it’s an awesome event.”

Beavers thought the event helped Henny.

“This is her first big social event that she’s been to. She’s doing amazing,” Beavers said.

Chelsie White of Dover and her children — Layla Sanders, 7; Kyiah Sanders, 5; and Jaxyn Sanders, 4 — visited the event. The children each found a horseshoe on the scavenger hunt on the Sippo Trail, and they turned them in for prizes.

“They had a lot of fun,” White said. “The horses were the girls’ favorite, and Jaxyn’s favorite was the K-9s.”

On the schedule soon for Camp Tuscazoar is a pig roast fundraiser on Saturday, Sept. 10 from 3-6 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 11 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Camp Tuscazoar Foundation. Get a meal of roast pork, barbecue chicken, parsley potatoes, corn, rolls and butter, applesauce, beverages, and assorted desserts. Tickets are now available online at www.tuscazoar.org. All proceeds support the camp.

Plan underway to renovate Tuscora Park baseball field

A fundraising initiative to renovate the Tuscora Park baseball field into a baseball complex is underway. Organizers Kelly Ricklic and Tom Farbizo, along with other members of the community committee, For the Love of the Game, have titled the project, Turf Tuscora Diamond.

Phase one of the project includes renovation of the existing baseball infield by adding turf, building new dugouts, installing a new backstop, phase one of new lighting and a scoreboard installation. The second phase includes adding a seating area for viewing, restrooms, a press box that includes a sound system and a concession stand. Phase three includes installing turf to the outfield, replacing the outfield fence, constructing a maintenance/community center and finishing the lighting upgrade.

"The goal of this project is to create a desirable baseball complex for local athletes to use while also designing a space that can be enjoyed by community members of all ages, with low-key maintenance in mind," Ricklic said. "We feel that a more flexible complex would maximize the use of the baseball field at Tuscora Park while also helping to showcase area youth and athletes in our community," Farbizo said.

Plans for the renovation have been in the works since 2015.

Fundraising is underway to meet a $500,000 goal to complete phase one of the project. Organizers hope to reach that goal through various fundraisers, grants, partnerships, private donations and by hosting tournaments. Sponsorship opportunities also are available for seating, the press box, dugouts, bleacher corners, the scoreboard, community building, fence, backstop and bullpens.

In addition to Ricklic and Farbizo, other committee members include Ed Marsh, Ed Breehl, Chase Hostetler, Mitch Pace and Sharon Ricklic. Chris Bower and Brian Stull from Diversified Engineering are the engineering consultants, and Shyanne Carroll is handling public relations for the project. Partners in the project include the City of New Philadelphia, the New Philadelphia City School District, Tuscarawas County Pony League, New Philadelphia youth baseball and the Tuscora Park Foundation, serving as the 501(c) (3) nonprofit.

Help is available to stay cool in the summer heat

The Ohio Department of Development and HARCATUS Tri-County Community Action Organization Inc. will help income-eligible Ohioans stay cool during the hot summer months.

The Home Energy Assistance Summer Crisis Program provides eligible Ohioans assistance paying an electric bill or assistance paying for central air-conditioning repairs. The program runs until Sept. 30.

To apply for the program, clients are required to schedule an appointment with HARCATUS. Appointments can be scheduled by calling 855-806-9650.

Clients need to bring copies of the following documents to their appointment: copies of their most recent energy bills, a list of all household members and proof of income for the last 30 days or 12 months for each member, proof of U.S. citizenship or legal residency for all household members, proof of disability if applicable, and physician documentation cooling assistance is needed for a household member's health if there isn't a household member over the age of 60.

Last year HARCATUS assisted more than 390 families in Harrison, Carroll and Tuscarawas counties through the Home Energy Assistance Summer Crisis Program.

"The intent of this program is to keep living spaces cool in the hot Ohio summer months. The Summer Crisis Program is geared to seniors age 60 and older but is also available to all low-income households who qualify. With temperatures already rising this year, we anticipate a high demand for this program. I encourage residents to call early before funds are gone," said JoEllen Sanders, community services program director at HARCATUS.

The Summer Crisis Program assists low-income households with an older household member age 60 or older, those who can provide physician documentation cooling assistance is needed for a household member's health, and those who have a disconnect notice, have been shut off, are trying to establish new service on their electric bill or require household member age 60 or older, those who can provide physician documentation cooling assistance is needed for a household member's health, and those who have a disconnect notice, have been shut off, are trying to establish new service on their electric bill or require air-conditioning. Conditions can include such things as lung disease, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease or asthma.

Eligible households can receive up to $500 if they are a customer of a regulated utility or $800 if they are a customer of unregulated utilities such as electric cooperatives and municipal utilities. The assistance is applied to their utility bill, to purchase an air-conditioning unit or fan, or to pay for central air-conditioning repairs. Ohioans must have a gross income at or below 175% of the federal poverty guidelines to qualify for assistance. For a family of four, the annual income must be at or below $48,562.50.

Also, Ohioans enrolled in the Percentage of Income Payment Plan Plus Program who meet the above criteria may be eligible for assistance toward their default PIPP payment, first PIPP payment, central air-conditioning repairs, or may receive an air-conditioning unit and/or fan.

For more information about the features of the Summer Crisis Program and what is needed to apply, visit HARCATUS Tri-County Community Action Organization Inc. at www.harcatus.org/heap.

Local HARCATUS phone numbers include Harrison County at 740-942-8886, Carroll County at 330-627-4101 and Tuscarawas County at 330-343-8770. To be connected to your local energy-assistance provider, visit www.energyhelp.ohio.gov or call 800-282-0880.

Recent reports to www.BBB.org/ScamTracker indicate con artists are preying on concertgoers by pretending to represent popular ticket seller, Ticketmaster.

Con artists are preying on music concertgoers

Concerts are back. Bands are touring again, and ticket spending is back to pre-COVID levels. This fact has not gone unnoticed by scammers. Recent reports to www.BBB.org/ScamTracker indicate con artists are preying on concertgoers by pretending to represent popular ticket seller, Ticketmaster.

How the scam works

You are looking to buy tickets to an upcoming concert or need to transfer tickets for a show that was postponed due to COVID-19. You do an internet search for your question, which brings up results for Ticketmaster. You click through to the website, and everything looks normal.

The website prompts you to enter your personal information and a credit card number. However, as soon as you complete a transaction, you notice some suspicious activity.

You might receive tickets with someone else's name on them, or you may never receive your tickets at all. In other cases you get the tickets, but the site charges you a much higher rate than advertised.

Upon closer inspection, you realize you were not on the Ticketmaster site at all. It was a lookalike site with a similar name such as TicketSmarter or TicketFaster. When you call the customer-service number, they are either unreachable, unhelpful or downright aggressive.

One ticket buyer reported this experience: "They sent me two tickets with someone else's name on them, and they also charged me three times the amount (of) the ticket price. I have no way to get a refund and no customer service to contact (except by email) because they do not answer their phone."

How to avoid ticket scams

Purchase from the venue. The safest way to purchase event tickets is to go directly through the venue, either in person or through their official website. The venue's website may point you to Ticketmaster or another provider to complete your purchase, but you can be sure of having the correct website URL.

Check out the seller. If you purchase from a third-party company, make sure they are a reputable ticket vendor or reseller (<https://bit.ly/ticketreseller>), not a ticket scalper. Check reviews on www.BBB.org.

Watch out for fake websites (www.BBB.org/all/spot-a-scam/how-to-identify-a-fake-website). Take a close look at the website's URL to ensure there are no slight misspellings. Impostors like to make lookalike websites with domain names that are similar to well-known business names. This makes them hard to spot.

A local food solution that reduces food insecurity

Rural Action's newest initiative, Donation Station Tuscarawas County, is a local food solution that reduces food insecurity and supports the local food economy. From a donation of $1, Donation Station volunteers are able to purchase 1 pound of food from local farmers for distribution to area food pantries.

In June with help from the community, 300 pounds of produce was distributed to Twin City Christian Food Pantry, Beneath the Shade, Friends of the Homeless and Ladles of Love.

They operate at every Tuscarawas Valley Farmers Market on Wednesdays from 3-7 p.m. Any donation helps get local food from local vendors to local people in need.

Other ways to help outside of monetary donations include volunteering, donating extra garden produce, spreading the word, and interacting with Community Food Initiatives, Tuscarawas Valley Farmers Market and Rural Action on social media.

Rural Action is a regional community-development organization with a 32-county footprint working with members and community leaders on a range of quality-of-life, environmental and economic projects across rural Appalachian Ohio. Its mission is to build a more just economy by developing the region's assets in environmentally, socially and economically sustainable ways.

Forestry group to meet in Dover

On Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 7 p.m., the East Central Ohio Forestry Association will resume its regular monthly meetings at the Dover Public Library.

During the summer months, members of the group visited several area properties to learn about methods for managing forests.

Each month a different speaker presents on a topic relevant to woodlands and natural habitat. This month Gabe Karns, a co-affiliation instructor, researcher and Ecolab manager at the OSU Mansfield campus, will talk about "What's the right way to manage a right of way?"

The library is located at 525 N. Walnut St. No registration is necessary.

What is an annual notice of change from Medicare?

Dear Savvy Senior,

Last year I received a notice-of-change letter from my Medicare provider. Should I expect another one this year, and what should I do with it?

Medicare Rookie

Dear Rookie,

The letter you're asking about is actually referred to as the annual notice of change or ANOC, which is a letter you receive from your Medicare Advantage or Medicare Part D prescription drug plan in late September. People with only a Medigap plan don't receive these because Medigap plans do not have benefit changes from year to year. So yes, you should expect to receive another letter next month.

The ANOC gives a summary of any changes in your plan's costs and coverage that will take effect Jan. 1 of the next year. The ANOC is typically mailed with the plan's evidence of coverage, which is a more comprehensive list of the plan's costs and benefits for the upcoming year.

You should review these notices to see if your plan will continue to meet your healthcare needs in 2023. If you are dissatisfied with any upcoming changes, you can make changes to your coverage during fall open enrollment, which runs from Oct. 15 to Dec. 7.

Here are three types of changes to look for:

accept your plan in the coming year.

Drugs

If you have prescription drug coverage, look through the plan's formulary, which is the list of drugs the plan covers. Formulary changes can happen from year to year, so make sure the medications you're taking will be covered next year and they're not moved to a higher tier, which will affect your copay. If you see any changes that will increase your costs, you may want to select a different drug plan that covers all of your medications. If the formulary is incomplete or you do not see your drugs on the list, contact the plan directly to learn more.

If you have not received an ANOC by the end of September, you should contact your Medicare Advantage plan or Part D plan to request it. This notice can be very helpful in determining whether you should make any changes to your coverage during the fall open enrollment. Reading your ANOC also can prevent any surprises about your coverage in the new year.

Shopping, comparing and enrolling in a new Medicare Advantage or Part D plan during the open-enrollment period can easily be done online at Medicare's Plan Finder Tool at www.Medicare.gov/find-a-plan.

Or if you don't have a computer or internet access, you can call Medicare at 800-633-4227, and they can help you out over the phone. Your State Health Insurance Assistance Program, which provides free Medicare counseling, also is a great resource to help you make any changes. To find a local SHIP counselor, visit www.ShipHelp.org or call 877-839-2675.

Send your senior questions to Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit www.SavvySenior.org.
