Port Washington Village Council

No backyard chickens allowed in the village

By Lori Feeney

Port Washington Police Chief Rocky Dusenberry issued a reminder during the April 4 council meeting that a village ordinance requires all golf carts and slow-moving vehicles to be inspected before they can be driven on village streets.

To schedule an appointment for an inspection, email the police department at portpd@sbcglobal.net or call Village Hall at 740-498-6098. Inspection fees do apply, and anyone operating a golf cart of similar vehicle on village streets must have a valid driver's license and proof of insurance.

Dusenberry also told council he is patrolling the village and will issue written cleanup notices for residents who are in violation of village ordinances governing junk vehicles, trash and excessive debris.

Farm animals prohibited in village

Dusenberry addressed the issue of residents having chickens within the village corporation limits, which is prohibited by an ordinance unless the animals are for 4-H projects. In that case residents must attend a council meeting to request an exception.

cil meeting to request an exception.

In response to a request made by councilman Nate Penrod at the March 21 council meeting, Dusenberry said a report outlining calls and traffic stops will be submitted monthly to council. He also said if proof of hours worked is needed, the county sheriff's department would have a record of login and log-out times for any officer.

Reports to council

Mayor Tom Gardner issued a reminder for all winter flowers to be removed from the cemetery by the end of April. He also said cleanup dates for the cemetery are April 22 and 29, both Saturdays, starting at 9 a.m. He issued a call for volunteers and asked anyone who can to bring rakes, saws and post-hole diggers.

Council President Joe Bourne spoke on the need for residents to pass an income tax increase on the May 2 ballot. Bourne said making maintenance of village streets a priority in past years has resulted in some of the best, well-maintained streets in the county. However, he said the cost of asphalt has increased over the past year from 89 cents to $1.03 per square foot.

Councilman Ed Steffek said $5,506 of the $6,900 needed has been raised for the LoveTusc Sculpture Project. Anyone interested in donating toward the project should call Village Hall at 740-498-6098.

Approved expenses

—The purchase of a gas-powered power washer for cleaning village vehicles and equipment.

—The purchase of a grapple hook for the street department from Clark Equipment in the amount of $3,909.

Port Washington Council meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. at Village Hall, 107 W. Main St., Port Washington.

Dennison to host cleanup

The Village of Dennison has scheduled its spring cleanup for Tuesday, May 2 and Wednesday, May 3. This is an opportunity for residents to clean up their properties and dispose of items at no charge.

Items include stoves, refrigerators and freezers with the Freon removed, washers and dryers, home furnishings, large outdoor items, mattresses, computers, microwaves, and auto parts. Items will be recycled if possible.

No tires, fluorescent lights, hazardous materials, liquids, paint, batteries, oil and regular trash will be accepted. This service is free to all residents who reside within the corporation limit of the Village of Dennison. The village reserves the right to limit the number of items picked up at each residence.

For pickup of items or questions, call Tammie Taggart at the mayor's office at 740-922-4072 ext. 4 with an address and brief description of the items to be picked up. Items should be placed curbside on the day of pickup. No items will be picked up after Wednesday, May 3.

For lawn items such as grass clippings, small branches and leaves, the village has a waste bin at the street department garage located at 20 Welch St. that is available for use by all residents of the Twin City area throughout the year. This is free of charge and for residential use only. No commercial mowers or landscapers are allowed.

Art on the Alley invites visitors to ‘Chalk the Town’

Presented by Tuscarawas Arts Partnership and the Art on the Alley Committee, Art on the Alley will celebrate its sixth year in the community on Sunday, May 7 in downtown New Philadelphia from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. with the event's theme being “Chalk the Town.”

For the May event, the community is invited to a series of chalkboard kiosks and chalk drawings along Art on the Alley's sidewalks, where local art students will create artwork throughout the event.

Attendees can expect a variety of local arts and creative vendors set up to demonstrate, sell and exhibit their work. A number of downtown New Philadelphia businesses will be open during the festivities to add more stops for guests to visit. Food trucks and restaurants will be open for guests.

Entertainment will feature the following:

At the north stage, Brothers will perform from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Tuscarawas Philharmonic Children's Chorus from 12:45-2:15 p.m., and Aaron Troyer and The Blue Winter from 2:30-4 p.m.

At the south stage, there will be performances from local students.

At Fresh the Market, entertainment will include NONNAS Bunny Farm from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Nick Bonner from 12:30-2 p.m. and Clyde Hensley from 2-4 p.m., as well as artisan tastings.

Inside Alley Cats Marketplace, there will be live demos of watercolors by Deb Walker and pottery by Susan Nolts-Banks, singing by Zak Rusk from 11 a.m. to noon, Lacey's Performing Arts Dancers from noon to 1 p.m., and Dan Gribble from 1-4 p.m.

Alley Cats Marketplace and Fresh the Market will have more than 115 artisans, demos, entertainment and more. The south stage will feature student performances from area schools and organizations.

Presented by Tuscarawas Arts Partnership and the Art on the Alley Committee, Art on the Alley will celebrate its sixth year in the community.

The Tuscarawas County Public Library System and local nonprofits will provide arts and crafts activities for children. During the event the library will have yard games, and attendees can contribute to a sidewalk chalk mural.

Get up close to butterflies and caterpillars, courtesy of the Tuscarawas County Park Department and All A Flutter Butterflies.

M.A.D. Bros. Games will have oversized games outside its store and cosplayers around Art on the Alley.

Be Unique Studios will have activities for the whole family. Visit Around the Corner Frames and Tuscarawas Arts Gallery to purchase artwork from local artists and hear music by Roxanne Timberlake.

Custom Needle-Print will sell limited-edition Art on the Alley T-shirts. Proceeds for each T-shirt sold will go to Tuscarawas Arts Partnership in efforts to cultivate and support the arts landscape for the community. Pre-ordering is available until Friday, April 21 through the Art on the Alley web page on Tuscarawas Arts Partnership's website and social media pages.

Limited quantities will be available for purchasing the day of Art on the Alley on Sunday, May 7. Custom Needle-Print also will sell $1 grocery bag totes on the day of Art on the Alley with limited quantity.

Ricardo's Patio will be open during Art on the Alley and will have barbecued chicken, and its bar will be open.

The chalk board materials for the kiosks were donated by Marlite Inc.

There will be a rain date of Sunday, May 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the event of inclement weather.

Those who would like to be a sponsor with Art on the Alley can email info.aota-tusc@gmail.com or visit the web page to access the Online Sponsorship Form at www.tuscarawasartspartnership.org/art-on-the-alley.

Spring Into The Arts

with Tuscarawas Dance Arts Center

By Teri Stein

Enjoy a weekend of the arts at two events sponsored by the Tuscarawas Dance Arts Center of Dover in April: Spring into the Arts on April 21 and a performance of “Peter Pan and Other Works” on April 23.

Spring into the Arts, a benefit for the Tuscarawas County Center for the Arts, will be held Friday, April 21 from 6-8 p.m. Presale tickets will be available at the TDAC for $10 by calling 330-364-3060. Tickets at the door will be $12. The TCCA is located at 461 Robinson Drive SE in New Philadelphia.

The event will feature an evening of dance, live music and visual art. There will be featured artists including Quentin Mamarella and Jeff Beitzel displaying their work. Live music will be provided by Beitzel, Bob Ventre and Clint Alguire. Magic Mugs will sell coffee with the proceeds going to the TCCA. The dancers will perform, and one piece is to live music performed by Timothy Brown.

The Beitzel family has been involved at the TCCA for years, whether it be dance arts, painting or jazz music.

“My brother and I grew up going to shows there; my brother’s a musician and has played there. It just holds a lot of family value for us, so we try to do our part,” Lee Beitzel of TDAC said.

“We’re hoping people will take more time to look around the gallery and see the different activities,” said Shelly Beitzel, TDAC owner.

As a friend of the Beitzel family, artist Mamarella will help with the fundraiser. He has had a lifelong interest in art.

“I got started in art when I was little. My grandma had a little art studio,” Mamarella said of Norma Haglock. “She kind of got me into

it. But my sister lives in D.C., and I went to a museum there called the Torpedo Factory, which is a bunch of different artists in Alexandria, Virginia, and that kind of resparked my interest in art.”

Mamarella creates contemporary pop art but also does all genres.

“I like to kind of challenge myself. Once I get kind of good at one thing, I start to do something else,” Mamarella said.

Some of the same dances may be presented at both shows. A TDAC alumni, Jennifer Ames also will choreograph a dance.

“Peter Pan and Other Works” will be held Sunday, April 23 at 2 p.m. at the Ohio Star Theatre, 1387 old state Route 39, Sugar-creek. Tickets are $15 and can be purchased by calling 855-344-7547.

The TDAC middle school through high school dancers have been rehearsing since January for the two shows. Many of the dancers practice for four hours on Saturday and usually two other times during the week during their normal classes.

“This is a very busy time of year, a lot of dances in the kids’ heads,” Lee Beitzel said.

The dancers also help their community.

“We typically did a fundraiser for the Tuscarawas County Center for the Arts, and we have kind of changed it and made it more of like trying to explore the arts and get other artistry involved,” Lee Beitzel said. “That’s why we’re having artists and the live music. Then ‘Peter Pan’ has developed over the years. This is actually our sixth year that we’re going to be doing it.”

This will be the first year “Peter Pan” will be performed at the Ohio Star Theatre.

“We’re excited to see it on a bigger stage and to try to get some more community involvement,” Lee Beitzel said. “That’s what our goals are with these different events — trying to get people that normally maybe wouldn’t know about these events and show the community we are involved here and doing things in the art community.”

In the past the TDAC dancers have performed “Peter and the Wolf,” “Little Red Riding Hood” and more for the spring show. With “Peter Pan” always a favorite of Lee Beitzel, she decided to choreograph ballet moves to the story.

“It just took off so much that that’s kind of the one that we’ve stuck with,” Lee Beitzel said. “It was always a dream of mine honestly — since I was like a little kid — to do this.”

Lee Beitzel and her mother Shelly enjoy watching the dancers grow and develop their abilities.

Teri Stein

Dancers practice at Tuscarawas Dance Arts Center in Dover.

“To see that progression of when they first start in year one and then maybe six years later is pretty cool to watch,” Lee Beitzel said.

In the winter the TDAC dancers also perform “The Nutcracker” at the Performing Arts Center at Kent State Tuscarawas.

Classes for all ages are available at the Tuscarawas Dance Arts Center starting with Mommy and Me.

“We do offer adult tap classes, and we offer everything from ballet and point, to jazz and hip hop, to modern. We really try to make sure that kids have an opportunity to get a well-rounded dance education,” Lee Beitzel said. “And at certain levels, if they want to be considered company or apprentice company, they have to take a certain amount of classes a week and be a part of a certain amount of things. These kids are really dedicated.”

The TDAC has been located in Dover for more than 30 years.

Cy Young Days Court

Alliyah Moore served as the 2022 festival princess

By Teri Stein

Travel, pretty dresses and luncheons made being on the Cy Young Days Festival court a fun experience for Alliyah Moore, 11, of Newcomerstown. Add in helping your community and being a role model and the title of being the festival's princess is one she is happy to fulfill. She has previously served as mini-queen and attends Newcomerstown Middle School.

Moore only has to look at her sash to remember the many festivals she's attended throughout the year with her family: parents Gene and Crystina Moore; brother Creed, who serves as the little slugger; and sister Madison, who serves as the junior queen. Traveling as a family, they visited at least 15 or more festivals throughout the year.

"I like to travel," Alliyah Moore said, adding her favorite out-of-state spots to visit are Myrtle Beach and Tennessee. Two favorite festivals she visited as Cy Young Days Festival princess are the Barnesville Pumpkin Festival and the West Lafayette Homecoming.

The sixth-grader is interested in science, her favorite subject in school. She enjoys learning about cell specialization and also likes learning about history. She plays on her school's volleyball and basketball teams and takes dance classes.

Teri Stein

Alliyah Moore, 2022 Cy Young Days Festival princess, enjoyed the travel, attire and food while traveling to numerous festivals to promote her hometown festival.

Moore's service to the court will serve her well in the future as she has to do public speaking to promote the Cy Young Days Festival and be comfortable meeting new people.

Moore is interested in the field of cosmetology or becoming a baker. "I make cakes, brownies and cookies at home," she said.

Moore would encourage others to serve on the court and would advise them to not be shy when they are participating in court duties.

Queen coordinator Jen Lindig said she was happy to have the family's help throughout the past year.

"They all did great. They're all great kids, great parents," Lindig said.

Sometimes when visiting a festival, they take a trailer for the court to ride on, and Crystina and Gene Moore also helped with that. It's sometimes safer to keep the court together during parades and easier to keep track of them.

"It's been an enjoyable season," Lindig said.

There are some changes in the ages for this year's festival royalty titles.

Titles for the court this year will be princess and little slugger, grades k-2; mini queen, grades 3-5; junior miss, grades 6-8; junior queen, grades 9-10; and festival queen, grades 11-12.

There are various requirements for each title, and applications can be found online at www.cyyoungdaysfestival.com or at the Newcomerstown Library. Those applying must be of good standing in the community, someone who displays pride and love for their community, has a service-above-self attitude, and a commitment to volunteerism and helping others. Applications also are being taken for senior queen.

The various titles also have different commitments for participation in other festivals and activities throughout the year as directed by the queen coordinator.

Applications and a $10 fee must be received by Wednesday, May 24. In addition, there will be a mandatory meeting on Wednesday, May 31 at 6 p.m. at the Cy Young Park Pavilion by the pool to go over contest information and answer any questions.

Details of the Cy Young Award winner luncheon are now available. Eric Gagne, a relief pitcher with the L.A. Dodgers when he won the Cy Young Award in 2003, will be honored at the luncheon and serve as parade marshal.

Gagne was 23 years old when he began playing for the Dodgers in 1999. He also has played for the Texas Rangers, Boston Red Sox and Milwaukee Brewers. His nickname was Game Over.

The luncheon will be held at the Labors Local Hall #134 at 150 N. River St. at the corner of River and Main streets in Newcomerstown on Saturday, June 24. Doors will open at 11:30 a.m., and lunch will be at 12:30 p.m. Tickets are $25 for adults and $15 for children under 12. Reservations can be made by calling 740-498-8562 or 740-227-1544 or by emailing chaney.janet8@gmail.com.

This year's Cy Young Days Festival will be held June 23-25 with activities held at various locations around Newcomerstown.

Claymont High School income tax agreement has not been honored

Mayor Greg DiDonato said he will notify Village of Dennison Council members the regularly scheduled council meeting will need to be rescheduled because the village solicitor has scheduled depositions on April 19 with Mayor Mark Haney, their finance chairperson, and current and former city auditors in the lawsuit filed over the Claymont High School income tax.

The agreement that was unanimously approved in July 1998 by 21 elected officials, five Claymont school board members, the mayor and eight council members of the City of Uhrichsville, and the mayor and six council members has not been honored. The agreement was written by attorney Brad Hillyer.

Following the site selection in Uhrichsville for the new high school, both communities agreed all the land from the Uhrichsville corporation limit to the new high school would be annexed into the city of Uhrichsville.

Payments from the Claymont High School tax began when the school opened in 2001 and were paid regularly until the end of 2020. Payments of 37% of the collected tax from the high school were sent and received with little attention for 19 years.

Beginning in 2021, no payments have been received. The auditor did not comply with paying the tax to Dennison despite the council voting

(4-3) to pay Dennison. The auditor resigned saying, “(I) felt pressured to not make the tax payment to Dennison by Mayor Haney.”

She also was told, according to Council President Buck Cottrell, the mayor said she would be cited by the state auditor’s office for making the payments.

Cottrell said, “(Mayor Haney) has overstepped his authority,” in the Times Reporter Jan. 15, 2022 edition.

Both towns have been audited by the Ohio auditor of state office for the last 20 years, and no issues have ever been raised in those audits about the tax-share agreement, as many of these types of agreements exist all over the state.

The current amount of taxes owed to Dennison is $44,276.29 as of April 6: $20,240.52 for 2021, $18,611.86 for 2022 and $5,423.91 for 2023 through April 6. The village filed suit in February 2022 to get the tax payments paid. The village has not spent any dollars on attorney fees to date. Uhrichsville has spent tens of thousands of dollars to fight this agreement, which has not yet made it into the court.

Kennedy to headline Lincoln Day Dinner

The Tuscarawas County Republican Party's annual Lincoln Day Dinner will be Tuesday, April 25 and will feature Sharon Kennedy, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio. A VIP reception will take place at 5:30 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Kennedy first joined the court as an associate justice in 2012, having been elected to fill an unexpired term. She was elected to her first full term in November 2014 and re-elected in November 2020. Prior to her term on the Ohio Supreme Court, she served at the Butler County Court of Common Pleas Domestic Relations Division, beginning in 1999.

Kennedy began her career in the justice system as a police officer at the Hamilton Police Department. During her time as an officer, she also worked undercover operations, implemented crime-prevention programs, and assisted in drafting police policy and procedure for the accreditation program as a civil assistant.

Alex Triantafilou, the newly elected chairman for the Ohio Republican Party, will share updates and insight from the ORP. Triantafilou has devoted his career to supporting Republican causes. Most recently, he served as chairman of the Hamilton County Republican Party in Cincinnati and was an active member of the state central committee of the Ohio GOP.

The event will be held at The Tool Shed at Breitenbach Winery and includes dinner. The cost is $75 per person or $135 per couple. Reservations can be request-

Spending time with students

Bob Hall, a local auctioneer with Cronebaugh Auctions and a realtor with The Barnett Realtors, stopped by to visit the pre-k students at Immaculate Conception School in Dennison.

Hall talked to the kids about numbers and counting, fast and slow, and the importance of listening. He explained what his job involves, and after showing them how he counts, he taught them how to do it.

They counted by ones, twos, fives and tens, repeating after him like they were an auctioneer.

After all the practicing, Hall did a small auction with the children where they were able to bid on items. The students made paddles in class with their name and a number. After the auction was finished, each child went home with an item they had bid on.

“It was a fun, hands-on learning experience for everyone,” teacher Ronna Coventry said.

Hall, who had gone to school with Coventry, also talked to the kids about the importance of being kind, listening and doing nice things for others without being asked. The children shared some of the class projects they do to give back to the community and for those in need.

“It was a nice bonus to what I expected to come from the learning activity,” Coventry said.

Hall also took the time to take pictures with the kids before returning to work.

Library to host appraisal event

The Tuscarawas County Public Library System will partner with local auctioneer Jason Adams to host an antique appraisal event on Thursday, April 27 from 5-7:30 p.m.

“Adams will appraise one to two items for up to 75 people at the main library in New Philadelphia,” public service associate Andrew Kamban said. “A wide variety of items can be appraised including but not limited to automotive items, fine art, furniture and toys.”

All items must be able to be carried by their owners, and participants must register in advance to have an item appraised. To reserve an appraisal spot, visit the library’s online event calendar at www.tusclibrary.org or call 330-364-4474.

According to Kamban, the following items will not be appraised during this event: weapons including guns, swords and knives and fine jewelry including precious gems.

Adams will share information about each piece’s history and what makes it special. Opinions of value are informal and may not be used for insurance or charitable donation, which require a certified appraisal.

Earth Day cleanups set

Earth Day is April 22, and the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District is celebrating with an Earth Day Cleanup Challenge.

“The MWCD lakes provide a destination for millions in our region to enjoy outdoor recreation,” said Adria Bergeron, director of marketing and communications. “Keeping the water and shoreline clean is imperative for wildlife to thrive and to keep the lakes beautiful. Earth Day serves as a reminder of our responsibility to care for nature and our environment and to engage with the community for their help.

“The MWCD rangers and staff conduct cleanups year round, not just on Earth Day. We are inviting the public to get involved by attending an organized cleanup to earn a free night of camping or clean up on their own and enter to win a cooler full of goodies as our way of saying thank you.”

Organized cleanups will be held April 15 at Charles Mill, Clendening, Piedmont and Pleasant Hill lakes. Additional cleanups will be held April 22 at Atwood, Tappan and Seneca lakes. Free camping coupons will be issued one per household.

Groups wishing to participate should call Ethan Zucal at 330-556-4814 or email ezucal@mwcd.org. Cleanup details for each lake are available at www.MWCD.org.

If unable to attend an organized cleanup, walkers, hikers and boaters are encouraged to grab a pair of gloves and a trash bag to pick up litter between Saturday, April 15 and Sunday, April 23. Post photos of your cleanup to an MWCD Facebook or Instagram page using #MWCDEarthDay2023 and be entered into a drawing for a cooler filled with prizes and a gift certificate.

Greco band ready for a new season

The Dominic Greco Band is back for another season. Continuing the tradition of old-fashioned concerts in the park, the directors have been busy working to get the music selected and concerts scheduled.

“Dover City Schools have made things so easy to get back together again. We are very grateful for their cooperation and permission to use their facilities,” co-director Brian Botdorf said.

In addition to the regular concert schedule, the Dominic Greco Band has a new venue for a performance this summer. Claymont High School will host a concert on the stage.

The band’s original founder Dominic E. Greco became the band director at Uhrichsville High School in 1931. Although his hiring was prior to the community merging and becoming the Claymont District, the directors want to recognize the connection to the band.

“It’s exciting to host a concert at our high school and show the relationship between our founder Dominic Greco and the Claymont District. It’s also a privilege to be the first female head director for Claymont and to also direct the Dominic Greco Band,” co-director April Linard said.

Co-director Cheryl Graham said, “Musicians love to play, and we are able to get together again. Our goal is to be back in rehearsal and quality performance mode for the 2023 Summer Concert Series.”

If interested in joining the Dominic Greco Band this season, join them for the first rehearsal on Thursday, April 27 at the Dover High School band room from 6:30-9 p.m.

Dover High School is located at 520 N. Walnut St. in Dover.
