

in a suburban desert
a fast food high
we swipe at peeling paint swat away flies

the crawling milk-fed
squawking cream-filled
hominids
ids

immune to broken
to wasted time
to bolts of lightning

bungee together
your body's guards
the bloodiest bond
blacking out the dark

the darkest flame
the darkest waltz
a sun burnt snarl
thrashing and parched

a singular desire
to drive into the dirt
no lust, no gluttony
we're free as algae

those with an all-consuming passion in lockstep

immune to broken
to naked shame

to broken flame
to broken waltz
to sun burnt snarls
