"I think I'm going to go home now," Christopher Trump-Retchin said one Sunday evening to Raina Dieterle after dating for two months. "Really?" Raina replied, not wanting him to leave. He stayed and it was then that the couple realized it was love and they have been together ever since.

On August 30, 2006, after dating for three and a half years, and on the first night in their new apartment in Chelsea, Christopher planned a romantic dinner for two. Having asked Raina's father for her hand on July 4th, he had patiently waited to propose until their new home

"Satisfaction (I Can't Get No)," calling it Christopher's favorite song until he met Raina. "It was so fun and loving," Raina laughs.

"I wanted to slow down the night," Christopher recalled nostalgically. "It was everything I wanted. I'd like to do it again, the whole weekend."

The couple honeymooned for 10 days at the Le Taha'a Island Resort & Spa in French Polynesia. > Written by April Miller
