

Giving at CrossWinds Church

While we encourage you to give both generously (1 Timothy 6:18-19) and cheerfully (2 Corinthians 9:6-7), each verse bears another significant truth.

The 1 Timothy 6 passage points out the principle of INVESTING FORWARD. Generosity results in eternal reward for the giver and is described as “Truly Life”. Generous givers experience fulfillment and reward extending long into the future.

1 Timothy 6:18-19

They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life.

The 2 Corinthians passage not only encourages cheerful giving but also EXTRAVAGANT GIVING. The Law of the Harvest plays out as one reaps in the same sense as one sows.

2 Corinthians 9:6-7

The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.

As you read this document recognize what we encourage you to give from a grateful heart. While we address questions from a tax-related perspective, we give to worship and serve not to get a tax benefit!

Are gifts to CrossWinds Church tax deductible?

Generally, “yes” including gifts to the following funds: General Fund, Benevolent Fund, and a variety of lesser used funds approved by the Leadership Board.

What gifts are not tax deductible?

Gifts are not tax deductible if you receive something “in kind”. Purchase of a CD, Bible or a T-shirt, or retreat registrations are examples. Voluntary dues are deductible.

How do I know what is or is not?

First, most funds are tax-deductible. Outside the above guidelines, we will do our best to inform you whether a fund qualifies.

Some items are simply hard to discern. Expenses related to volunteer or charitable service may be deductible if you keep detailed personal records. The only correct answer would be to direct you to get clarification from a tax advisor.

Can I give money to CrossWinds Church to help someone in need? And are these gifts tax-deductible?

Certainly! That is the purpose of our Benevolent Fund. However a distinction must be made. For a gift to be tax-deductible, it must be given to this Fund “unattached”, it cannot be directed to an individual.

Benevolent Funds are independently distributed by CrossWinds Church elders. The elders must have the freedom to decide to whom and at what amount someone receives assistance.

Let’s take “George” as an example. You know “George” has an unusual financial need. You can give to the Benevolent Fund, tell the elders of “George’s” need but the elders have the freedom to distribute more, distribute less or deny providing funds.

To be guaranteed “George” receives what you desire, you must give a personal gift to “George”.

We can “pass through” a gift to an individual in the amount you direct, but those gifts would not be deductible.

A final word on the Benevolent Fund. We always encourage giving to this fund because there are many other “Georges” out there that you may not even be aware of. And even if you are not able to give to the Benevolent Fund yet are aware of a need, we encourage you to inform the elders.

What about giving to missions?

Here we go with a classic “yes”, “no”, “maybe”.

“Yes”. The CrossWinds Leadership Board budgets giving to a team of missions partners as recommended by the Missions Team. When you give to the General Fund, a portion of your giving is allocated to that budget. You can join “Missionary Update Group” on the City to keep pulse of these partnerships.

“Yes”. Giving to a specified missionary through a qualifying missions organization is tax-deductible. However you may have to give directly to that organization not through CrossWinds Church.

“Maybe/Likely/Partly”. Sometimes the Leadership Board approves a project like a mission or service trip. Gifts to such projects are deductible. However, if you are a trip participant, we ask you to consult your tax advisor to provide direction on how you might deduct expenses you may incur.

“No”. If someone performs missions work or service work, but are doing that work outside of the endorsement of a tax-approved organization, gifts to that person directly or through the church would not be deductible. The only value of giving through the church would be confidentiality.

Can I give a gift to Pastor X? He is underpaid!

Sure you can always give him a gift but it is not tax-deductible. If we were to “run it through the books” it would be subject to personal income tax. Our suggestion would be to give it to him through a mutual friend, sneak it into his briefcase, or buzz his doorbell and quickly hide behind a tree!

I am planning my year-end giving. What is the deadline for making a donation?

The date on your giving receipt depends on when we receive your gift, not when you date a check. A gift will be posted in the year the gift is received. Stated another way we must receive your gift before year-end to qualify as deductible that year.

Will I get a receipt for my gifts?

Yes. You can generate your own giving report by logging into the City and querying the “GIVING TAB”. If you are unable to do that, you can request your giving report and we will be happy to provide it.

Cash receipts will be added to this report as well so long as you are identified as a giver.
