

New Library Cabinets

Photographs by Tina Collison

Over the last few years, our library cabinets have become well-worn and as our collection of DVDs and other materials has grown we needed bigger and better cabinets. Showing the true spirit of volunteers, four of our CMW members stepped forward and designed and built our two new cabinets. These were put into use at our March 19th meeting. The four men, shown in the photo below (L to R) are Karl Kelly, Aubrey Rogers, Jim Kilton and Curt Downing. They are also members of the Greenville Woodworkers Guild, where they built the cabinets in their new Maldin, SC facility. These men donated their time and CMW only had to pay for the materials used. Thanks again men for your professional work. The cabinets are beautiful!
