

COMP110 - Spring 2020

Lecture 15 - Updates and Announcements

Upcoming

- Unit 2 Worksheet - Due Tuesday, 3/24 at 11:59pm EST
  - Late deadline: Wednesday, 3/25 at noon EST
  - Answer key will post on comp110.com after late deadline for study
- Unit 2 Review Session - Tuesday at 4pm EST
  - Zoom link will appear in Course.Care ahead of event starting
- Office Hours are OPEN virtually
  - Zoom Instructions: Topics > Getting Started > Zoom Office Hours
  - Works via Course.Care just as it did before, except we join your zoom meeting
- Quiz 2 - Thursday 3/24 at 9:30am - More detail announced Wednesday

Lecture

- Lecture content will be delivered asynchronously
  - Zoom limit of 300 is less than the size of our class... and even if it weren't, limited value in a large lecture zoom since schedules are disrupted.
  - No lecture on quiz days
- Broken into many videos, participation credit via Gradescope
  - Go ahead and open today's Lecture assignment on Gradescope
- The assignment for each lecture will be due 24 hours after lecture open
  - i.e. Due on 9:30am EST Weds / Fri

Tutoring

- Zoom based small discussion
- Reopens 3/24 at 5pm
- Look on Course.Care for the Zoom join URL
- We will be tinkering with format of this, open to feedback!

Pass / Fail

- My advice: wait until after final grades post to decide P/F
- Historically, about 50% of students who declare P/F mid-semester wound up failing
- If you are considering major/minoring you will want to know your grade.
  - Rule of thumb: you really want to finish COMP110 with an A to continue on.

Feedback Wanted!

- We are navigating this new landscape as best we can and know you are, as well.
- Our intent is to be flexible where possible while still staying on track to close out the semester on time and as strongly as possible.
- If you have feedback, please submit it on comp110.com
- Thank you for all the hard work you have and will continue to put in!