MAKING THE WORLD
A BETTER PLACE
ONE BEER AT A TIME!

Proud to be Oklahoma Owned

Where are Mustang Beers Brewed? We are asked often where Mustang's beers are brewed, so we thought it best to clear up any confusion. First and foremost, Mustang Brewing Co. is an Oklahoma-based company. We live in OK. We pay taxes in OK. We proudly raise our families in OK. Mustang is licensed by the federal government to distribute our beers nationwide, but not yet licensed by the state to brew in OK. We are patiently going through the steps to get this done at both the state and local levels. To get our beers from recipe to bottle, we currently brew through partnerships with some larger, established breweries in WI and MO; some of whom have been brewing for over 100 years. All the recipes we brew are our own. Some are based on personal favorites; others were created from scratch. We work closely with our brewing partners to ensure each batch meets our strict standards to be labeled as a Mustang product. Every brew is tasted for quality control and consistency (my personal favorite part of the job). Once the beers are bottled or kegged, we truck them to Republic National Distributing Co's warehouses in OK. From there they are sold to licensed wholesalers. In addition to Mustang, Republic represents Sam Adams, Shiner, Old Style, Modelo, and others. We brew the beer, Republic handles storage, sales and distribution. We could not ask for a better partner. Our network of partnerships allow for us to brew and store large quantities, ensure a consistent product, and never fall short of meeting demand. This is common practice, and smart business, for a number of big name breweries. To be fair, even though we are locally owned, we do not call our products "local" beers. Our plan is to eventually brew in OK, but we will not do so until we can make sure our beers continue to meet the flavor and quality standards you have come to expect. Our philosophy at Mustang is to make a great beers in the most efficient, cost-effective way possible. We think we do that quite well. Thanks for your support. If you have any questions, please send us an e-mail. Cheers!
