Things to know

Double Coverage

Today's matchup to watch: Oklahoma State LT Russell Okung vs. Texas A&M DE/LB Von Miller

Miller leads the nation in sacks with nine sacks in four games (2.25 sacks per game). Okung is a proven All-American who shut down 2008 Big 12 defensive player of the year Brian Orakpo of Texas last season. Miller is a pass rushing demon but Okung is ready for the challenge.

Last triplet standing

Today's player to watch: Zac Robinson, QB, Oklahoma State

With Dez Bryant ineligible and Kendall Hunter at less than 100 percent with his ankle injury, Robinson is the last man standing. The senior quarterback has the talent, poise and moxie to make big plays. Expect him to use his legs to test the Aggies defense more than he has in any game this season.

In the crosshairs

Today's players who will be tested: Hubert Anyiam, WR, Oklahoma State

The redshirt sophomore is likely to start in Dez Bryant's place. Coaches and teammates speak highly of Anyiam's size/speed ratio and overall talent. But potential is just a word. Production is a fact. Which one will Anyiam display against Texas A&M?

Watch out for...

Unknown player who could make an impact: Uzoma Nwachukwu, WR, Texas A&M

While you're thinking about how to say his name, he's running by you towards the endzone. The true freshman from Allen, Texas has four touchdowns (three passing, one running) and averages 18.7 yards per touch. He has quietly emerged as a playmaker in his first four games as an Aggie.

Clippings

Oklahoma State 45 ... Texas A&M 27

"The Texas A&M defense hadn't faced anyone with a pulse before last week, and now it has to face a rested and grumpy OSU offense that should be able to do whatever it wants to. The Aggie secondary can't handle the OSU receivers, even without Bryant."
