

LOOK AT OKC

JUNE 22 - JULY 9
VOL. 7, ISSUE 13
LOOKATOKC.COM

LOOKatOKC readers, you look like you could use some sun. We are happy to oblige.

Welcome to the 2011 LOOKatOKC Swimsuit Issue, a bright and breathtaking oasis in our normally night-life-obsessed schedule. This year, we showcase our models in a range of exciting settings, from an ultra-modern new Midtown home designed by Fitzsimmons Architects to the lush, liquid beauty of Turner Falls. The radiance of an Oklahoma summer can be staggering, and these pages reflect that blast-furnace heat.

We thank Duncan Bros. Salon, L.A. Sun & Sport and Fitzsimmons Architects for their kind and invaluable assistance in making all of this possible. And these pages are only the beginning: for more photos and more models, go to Lookatokc.newsok.com/swimsuit.

This is how LOOKatOKC does summer.

How To Avoid a DUI

Stopping by for a beer/drink or two is not a problem for most people. Going out on the town though is a different matter for everyone. There are several solutions to avoiding a DUI, or worse, having an accident after over indulging.

The First and most preached about solution is to have a designated driver for the evening.

The Second is to have someone drop you off and pick you up.

The Third is take a taxi.

If you find yourself out later than you planned and you drove to the tavern, then you can:

Call two taxi cabs--one carries you home and the other driver drives your car home and then returns to his cab via the second cab.

The Fourth is to call a tow truck to get you and your car home at the same time.

The Fifth is to leave your automobile parked and walk home.

If you think you can sleep it off in your car--you might get away with it, but there are certain "caveats" to be aware of (check with your lawyer for legal advice) and you might still be arrested for public intoxication.

There is no public transportation to speak of in our locality (except for taxi service) so it really becomes a BLACK and WHITE issue to think before you drink!

Many mornings we find 15-20 cars in our parking lot from customers who made the right decision.

A DUI arrest is embarrassing and much more expensive than any of the solutions listed above.

Think before you go out to drink.
Help each other make the right decision.
