TRANSLATION OF DOCUMENT 892-PS
OFFICE OF U S CHIEF OF COUNSEL

Pages 51-52 of Das Soziale Leben im neuen Deutschland unter besonderer Berücksichtigung der Deutschen Arbeiterfront (Berlin, 1933) by Willy Müller.

"The Supreme Direction of the Political Organization ("P.O.")
The Staff Director

Munich 21 April 1933

Circular Letter Nr 6/33

On Tuesdays, May 2, 1933, the political coordination of the free trade-unions begins.

The direction of the entire action lies in the hands of the Action Committee.

The Action Committee is composed as follows:

Dr. Robert Ley, Chairman
Rudolf Schmeer, Deputy
Schuhmann, Commissar of the General German Trade Union Confederation ("ADGB")
Pepler, Commissar for the General Independent Employees Confederation ("AFA")
Muchow, Organization
Bank Director Muller, Commissar, Director of the Bank for Workers, Employees and Officials
Brinckmann, Commissar Chief Cashier
Biallas, Propaganda and Press

All the commissar directors of the union belong to the broader Action Committee.

The essential part of the action is to be directed against the General German Trade Union Confederation ("ADGB") and the General Independent Employees Confederation ("AFA"). Anything beyond that which is dependent upon the free trade union, is left to the discretion of the Gauleiter's judgment.

The Gauleiters are responsible for the execution of the political coordination action in the individual areas. Supporters of the action should be members of the National Socialist Factory Cell Organization ("NSBO - National-socialistische Betriebszellen Organisation").

SA as well as SS are to be employed for the occupation of trade union properties and for the taking of personalities who come into question into protective custody.

The Gauleiter (i.e. Regional Director) is to proceed with his measures on a basis of the closest understanding with competent regional factory cells director ("Gaubetriebszellenleiter").

The action in Berlin will be conducted by the Action Committee itself.

In the Reich the following will be occupied:

The directing offices of the unions;
The trade union houses and offices of the free trade unions, the Party houses of the Socialist Democratic Party of Germany insofar as trade unions are involved there;
The branches and paying offices ("Zahlungstellen") of the Bank for Workers, Employees and Officials, Inc.
The district committees of the General German Trade Union Confederation ("ADGB") and of the General Independent Employees Confederation ("AFA")
The committee localities of the General German Trade Union Confederation ("ADGB") and of the General Independent Employees Confederation ("AFA")

EXHIBIT B

It is not as if we wanted to disrupt and destroy the unions. On the contrary, we have never disturbed anything which has, in any way, value for our people and we shall never do so in the future; that is a National Socialistic rule. This certainly goes for the unions which serve with hard work and were built up by the pennies taken from the mouths of the worker. No workers' organizations are sacred and unimpeachable to us National Socialists. I myself am a poor peasant's son and understand poverty, I myself was 7 years in one of the biggest industries of Germany and I know the exploitation of anonymous capital, and I know, above everything else, of its stingy commercial methods, for, on account of my opinion I was fired from my occupation in 1928.

Workers, I swear to you we will not only keep everything which exists, we will build up the protection and rights of the worker even further, so that he can enter into the new National Socialistic State as a completely worthwhile and respected member of the nation.

Workers and peasants on a broad front together with the free occupations and skilled labor, - so we shall build a new Reich of well being, honor and freedom. Forward with Hitler for Germany.
