EXT. HUNTING LODGE - EVENING

Vinny sits outside on the porch going through a mountain of papers. She paces.

VINNY

What's the matter with you?

MISS

I don't know.

VINNY

You're acting like you're nervous or something?

MISS

Well, Yeah, I am.

VINNY

What are you nervous about? I'm the one under the gun here. The trial starts tomorrow.

MISS

You wanna know what I'm nervous about? I'll tell you what I'm nervous about. I am in the dark here with all of this legal crap. I have no idea what's going on. All I know is you're screwing up and I can't help.

VINNY

You left me a little camera, didn't you?

MISS

Oh, Vinny! I am watching you go down in flames and you're bringing me with you and I can't do anything about it.

VINNY

And?...

MISS

Well, I hate to bring it up, because I know you got enough pressure on you already...but we agreed to get married as soon as you won your first case. Meanwhile, ten years later, my niece, the daughter of my sister is getting married!

My biological clock is tickin like this

(she stomps the ground)

And the way this case is going, I ain't never getting married!!

VINNY

I don't need this. I swear, I do not need this right now. Okay? I got a judge who's just aching to throw me in jail; an idiot who wants to fight me for $200;
slaughtered pigs; giant loud whistles; I ain't slept in five days. I got no money, a dress code problem, and a little murder case, which in the balance holds the life of two innocent kids, not to mention your biological clock, my career, your life, our marriage, and let me see...what else could we pile on?? is there ANYTHING ELSE WE COULD PILE ON TO THE TOP OF THIS CASE???

(looks up to mock think)

Is it possible???

Beat.

MISS

Maybe it was a bad time to bring it up.
