To Whom It May Concern:

I am the superintendent at Colbert Public Schools, a PK-12th grade school, with 850 students. Kathy Robinson, CEO of Schoolware, Inc., has been serving schools in this area for a number of years. She is very responsive to our needs as a school and works diligently to help us obtain products at a reasonable price. She asks for feedback from our staff about what works plus how any changes in a product would be beneficial. One of these products is A Matter of Facts. We have purchased this program and have been using it the last two years. The comments made by one of the teachers in an elementary lab are very positive. She says the students are excited about using the product and it is one program the students can utilize in their home. Parents have made positive comments about the A Matter of Facts program as well. Parents said their students would work with the program until they had to tell them to stop.

The bottom line is A Matter of Facts works, it is user friendly, the students enjoy using it, and it improves their math skills. When you combine good products with a company, this equals to success. I really do support Kathy Robinson in her endeavors to improve out students skills.

Sincerely,

JARVIS DOBBS, Superintendent
Colbert Public School
