Dear Kathy,

The November 27, 2005 Technology Day was professionally done, informative, experiential, and just about the best thing I have seen in a long time. I want to thank you, Scott, Jerry, Trudy, and Mom for all your hard work and the very nice lunch.

It is rare to find a business that puts educational quality, schools, and student needs above making a profit. The approach of Schoolware is a rare find. It has been a privilege to work with you and your outstanding staff.

You gave students an opportunity to see something that could make a huge difference in their lives. The evaluations revealed the excitement and appreciation of both the teachers and students. More than one student said they thought the day was awesome. Be assured that you seldom see a group of 28 alternative students, or any students and teachers become engaged and excited and remain interested for the entire day! You did that!

We look forward to more technology days and the time with our staff and your facts program.

If we can help you in any way please let us know. Again thank you so much for the time and effort. I have enclosed the letter of recommendation for your review. If you would like any changes in that letter please let me know.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

For the past two years it has been my privilege to know and be associated with Kathy Robinson, CEO of Schoolware, Inc. and her staff.

I have worked in education for 32 years and have seldom met a more dedicated educator and staff. Kathy and her team of experts are willing to assist all schools with materials that fit their needs. Any vendor could tout that comment but this group is not just about making the sale. They ask questions about their specific needs and then they assisted educators with cost effective options to meet their needs. They are also unique in that they provide on-going technical assistance and training.

The Schoolware staff is one of integrity, knowledge and professionalism. They have a clear understanding of the needs of education and how to help schools make good choices.

I would highly recommend the Schoolware, Inc. to anyone seeking to improve educational opportunities that effect change for students.

Sincerely,
