EDUCATION

I graduated from Frans Schartau High school after three years of studies of Social economy concentrated on the European Union and linguistic studies on Spanish. I consider myself fluent in both English and Spanish (Nine years of English studies, seven years of Spanish studies, additional 4 months of Spanish studies at Complutense, University of Madrid and several months spent abroad practicing the two).

WORK AND PRACTICE EXPERIENCES

Perfect Fools

From September 05 – January 06 I did an internship at a publishing agency concentrated on interactive web design by the name Perfect Fools. I have done almost everything from simple colour correction to being involved in larger productions.

Stockholm City Mission

I have worked for the Stockholm City Mission for more than five years, both in a coffee shop and as salesman in one of their stores. Besides this I have done some voluntarily work by creating some of their ads and designing various posters for the café. I'm currently creating a new web campaign for them.

Traffic

During two weeks I freelanced on an advertising agency by the name Traffic. I mainly took care of their archival problems but felt I grasped the environment and got an idea of how such an agency actually work.

Hard Rock Café

In February 2004 I did my High School practice at Hard Rock Café in Madrid. The practice comprised various work responsibilities and I was allowed to try them all. During my time there, I worked as a waiter, bartender, salesman and runner.

Additional Freelance Work

I have been freelancing for some years now handling projects ranging from ordinary poster and t-shirt design to larger web campaigns, wall paintings and motion graphics. Examples of former clients: Stocholms Stadsmission, Scandinavian Trading Service, Publicis, Handjort Stockholm,
