The Church of the Nativity

December 6, 2017

God's family at the historic Church of the Nativity is joyfully and energetically committed to sharing Christ's love and healing by proclaiming the Good News of the Gospel through worship and service to the world.

Advent is the beginning of the new church year. Derived from the Latin word adventus—coming—Advent is the season to prepare for Christ's coming again in power and great glory. It is also a time to prepare for Christ to be born anew in our lives. This image is comforting as we imagine Jesus cradled in our heart, bringing peace of mind and solace for the soul. Wearily we cry, "Come, Lord Jesus!"

CHURCH
EPISCOPAL

Est. 1843

C.S. Lewis, in Mere Christianity, gives us another image of God coming to dwell within us. "Imagine yourself as a living house. God comes to rebuild that house.... He starts knocking the house about in a way that hurts abominably and does not seem to make sense. What on earth is He up to? The explanation is that He is building quite a different house from the one you thought of—throwing out a new wing here, putting on an extra floor there, running up towers, making courtyards. You thought you were going to be made into a decent little cottage: but He is building a palace. He intends to come and live in it Himself."

The Church of the Nativity is another living house where God obviously dwells. In the days ahead, God will be guiding us through the process of remodeling in order to prepare for a new rector. None of what makes Nativity special will be discarded. Strengths of the past will be reinforced to provide a solid foundation upon which the future will be built. Walls will be inspected to ensure there are no barriers to honest conversation and collective discernment. Bright lights of mutual respect will illuminate every corner. And in ways yet to be revealed, God will put down extra floors of understanding, run up towers of enlightenment, and make courtyards bloom with inspiration and anticipation.

In the midst of it all let us sing "Come thou long expected Jesus." Let us courageously pray, "Let the remodeling begin!" Virginia+

Special Senior Cross Presentation

Sunday, December 3rd during the 11:00am service David DiFranco, one of our senior Acolytes was presented with his Senior Acolyte Cross. David is graduating early (December) from Madison County High School and will be leaving to join the Army. In January, he will start basic training at Fort Jackson, SC followed by 4 months Advanced Individual Training at Fort Sam Houston where he will train to become a Combat Medic. He then plans to complete Airborne and Ranger Assessment School at Fort Benning in GA.
We're very proud of David, and thankful for his many years of faithful Acolyte service!

Prayers of the People Each time we gather for worship we recite The Prayers of the People. These prayers are a most important aspect of our life together. Margaret Gunter notes in The Practice of Prayer, "They draw us together and remind us that we are knit together in a community much larger than our families or our parish." Intercessory prayer moves us beyond ourselves and assures us that we are connected, that we are not isolated or alone. Gunter says, "Pushed back to its Latin roots, intercedre, the word simply means to 'to stand between' or 'to stand in the midst'. When we "stand between" God and a child, spouse, friend, or the friend of a friend, we connect at the same time to God and the person we name before God.

In order to be more aware of those who are still recovering and those who have been restored to health, we will leave a name on the spoken prayers for a month. At the end of that time, if you wish to have the name remain on the list for an additional month, please call the office.

Available date for Baptism

The next opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Baptism will be Sunday, January 7, The First Sunday after the Epiphany. Please call Rev. Bonnie McCrickard, 256-533-2455 ext. 222 as soon as possible if you have a child (or adult) you would like to be baptized at that time.

The Stewardship Committee asked several Nativity parishoners to share their stewardship journey, and we want to share those reflections with you. Every individuals journey to generosity is different, and we are grateful for everyone who gives, of their time, talent and money, to help make Church of the Nativity a wonderful place to grow together in Christ's love.

Stewardship means taking care of what is entrusted to us. Not just with our money, but through time and prayers. For two years now, my husband and I have been giving regularly to The Church of the Nativity. This past year we added giving of our time: we serve on Stewardship Committee and I am also on the Altar Guild. Through these acts of stewardship, I feel a deep connection to the church. - Elizabeth Pate

My reflection on Stewardship. OK. Here's the deal. I am OBLIGED to pledge to The Church of the Nativity. It's my mother's fault. She drummed it into my head: Pay your way. Pay your way. Don't mooch. You use it, you pay your way.

Jerry Ellis and I moved to Huntsville in 1965. Nativity has been saddled with us ever since. I owe Nativity.

I don't think Jesus was very much concerned with money. And I'm not talking about giving back to God what is God's. I'm talking about paying my way. For lights and air conditioning, for John and Marlin and Amy and Beverly, for the organ and the beautiful wood floors and the stained glass windows forever etched into my soul, for the courtyard and Ridley Hall, for the silver and the linen, for copies of "Forward Day by Day," and particularly for me, the music. I owe Nativity. I don't give much. But I pledge and I honor the pledge. I am obliged, and I am glad. -Mickey Ellis

How I Decide What My Pledge Will Be? I will tell you the question I ask myself each year as I decide what my annual pledge will be. I first heard these words from Bishop Stough many years ago. The question I ask, is how much of God's money am I going to keep? I do believe what we have is a result of God's generosity. Granted we work hard for what we have but He has given us the ability to earn.

I am a retired teacher living on a fixed income but it was through God's grace that I was able to have the opportunity to work in education for 24 years. I am not tithing at this time but I am increasing my pledge every year as I work toward that goal. I believe that together at Nativity we are providing a nurturing place for all of us with special emphasis on our youth who are our future. I also believe our outreach programs are answering God's command to love our neighbors as ourselves. So may I suggest you ask yourself as you decide on your pledge, how much of God's money am I going to keep? - Dot Milirons

If you have already returned your pledge card, thank you! If not, please respond to God's generosity in your life by generously pledging to support God's work through Nativity. You may return pledge cards through the mail, in the offering plate, or pledge online. Please contact Beverly Franklin at the Church office for more information.

What are You Reading? A Man Called Ove

By: Fredrik Backman

Contributed by: Camille Sommer

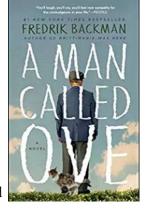

Nature rules Planet Earth. Drive around Huntsville and you will see spaces once occupied by restaurants or shopping centers, long demolished, taken over by grass, weeds, and wildflowers. Nature fills in the vacancy left by change. And nature, human nature, intervenes to fill the voids once inhabited and enriched by other people.

Take the primary character in the novel "A Man Called Ove" by Frederik Backman. Ove is a stereotypical grumpy old man. He has reached a point in life where he feels obsolete. Challenged with living in a world that no longer makes sense, with people who defy the rules of "The Way Things Should Be Done," Ove questions why he should continue to live at all. His nosy neighbors irritate him, but one by one, their presences fill the holes left vacant by loss and disappointment. Ove does not change too much, but he helps transform and support the lives of those around him.

Just when we might wonder, "Do I really matter?" or "How do we go on when the world changes around us and life gives us lemons along the way?", reading Ove's story reminds us that yes, we do matter. Each of us is that one piece of the puzzle that would leave the picture incomplete. We stand stronger as a community.

Please let us know what you are reading by contacting: Mary Johnson maryjohnson2@knology.net or Laura Malone lpmalonepi@gmail.com 'What are you Reading?' is a book review column brought to you by Nativity's Spiritual Development Committee.

Men's Wednesday Night

Bible Study With Charles Morley

We will gather on January 10, 17, 24, 31 at 6:00pm, in Joffrion Hall Library to consider certain non-controversial issues like "Did the Resurrection Really Happen and Does it Matter?" and "Does Evil Exist As a Tangible Power in the World?" (hint: Jesus certainly thought so.) We'll consult Rob Bell, C.S. Lewis, John Ortberg, J. B. Phillips, Anne Lamont, Matthew, Mark, Luke and of course, Rev. Virginia Monroe.

Jesus promised that "....where two or three come together in my name, there I am with them." Mat 18:20. My only promise is that the class will not run longer than 50 minutes. Oh, and for the Episcopalians, there will be NO collection taken up! So mark your calendars and open your minds and bring a friend!!! Shalom, Charles

Stewardship of Creation

Thoughts on Buying Local by Marilyn Evans

Here are some short excerpts from two sites that I think give very solid reasons - economic, social and health, for supporting any local business:

- (*) Locally grown food is full of flavor. When grown locally, the crops are picked at their peak of ripeness versus being harvested early in order to be shipped and distributed to your local retail store. Many times produce at local markets has been picked within 24 hours of your purchase.
- Eating local food is eating seasonally. Even though we wish strawberries were grown year round, the best time to eat them is when they can be purchased directly from a local grower. They are full of flavor and taste better than the ones available in the winter that have traveled thousands of miles and picked before they were ripe.

- (§) Local food has more nutrients. Local food has a shorter time between harvest and your table, and it is less likely that the nutrient value has decreased. Food imported from far-away states and countries is often older, has traveled and sits in distribution centers before it gets to your store.
- ( Local food supports the local economy. The money that is spent with local farmers and growers all stays close to home and is reinvested with businesses and services in your community.
- (§) Local food benefits the environment. By purchasing locally grown foods you help maintain farmland and green and/or open space in your community.
- Local foods promote a safer food supply. The more steps there are between you and your food's source the more chances there are for contamination. Food grown in distant locations has the potential for food safety issues at harvesting, washing, shipping and distribution.
- (§) Local growers can tell you how the food was grown. You can ask what practices they use to raise and harvest the crops. When you know where your food comes from and who grew it, you know a lot more about that food.

At the most basic level, when you buy local more money stays in the community. The New Economics Foundation, an independent economic think tank based in London, compared what happens when people buy produce at a supermarket vs. a local farmer's market or community supported agriculture (CSA) program and found that twice the money stayed in the community when folks bought locally. "That means those purchases are twice as efficient in terms of keeping the local economy alive," says author and NEF researcher David Boyle. Indeed, says Boyle, many local economies are languishing not because too little cash comes in, but as a result of what happens to that money. "Money is like blood. It needs to keep moving around to keep the economy going," he says, noting that when money is spent elsewhere—at big supermarkets, non-locally owned utilities and other services such as on-line retailers—"it flows out, like a wound." By shopping at the corner store (or local Farmers market) instead of the big box, consumers keep their communities from becoming what the NEF calls "ghost towns" (areas devoid of neighborhood shops and services) or "clone towns", where Main Street now looks like every other Main Street with the same fast-food and retail chains.

To add another, more personal, reason is that buying local by supporting the Greene Street Market does all of the above as well as supporting the outreach ministries of our parish and that makes my community better and makes me happy.

Acolyte Schedule December 2017

This month has a few folks scheduled twice, what with all the extra services on Christmas Eve, plus our annual Lessons and Carols service at 5 pm on the  $3^{rd}$ . If you are not able to serve as scheduled, please arrange a substitute and let us know who will be filling in. Our Advent and Christmas seasons are always so special at Nativity, and we thank all of you who make them that way!
