come out & play!

Located in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia, Jefferson County is just a short drive from Washington, DC and Baltimore, MD. We’re a favorite getaway destination for folks from both of these cities, as well as visitors from Northern Virginia, Pennsylvania, and all over the U.S.

So why do people love to come here? We are blessed with stunning, scenic beauty, endless outdoor recreation activities, sites that changed the course of our nation’s history, fabulous dining and shopping—all set in one of the most beautiful areas of the mountain state!

The other reason people come here is our relaxed atmosphere and friendly people. You won’t feel like a visitor, you will feel like you belong here. We love showing off our beautiful county and helping you discover everything that makes it great.

Jefferson County features three charming towns that offer visitors a unique experience. Historic Harpers Ferry, nestled at the confluence of the Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers, will transport you back in time and will challenge outdoor recreation enthusiasts. Shepherdstown, named one of America’s coolest small towns in 2013, is home to a wonderful downtown filled with quaint shops, local eateries, and historic inns. Charles Town, named after George Washington’s brother Charles, boasts gaming and thoroughbred racing, an eclectic arts community, and many historical assets.

When you’re in town, come see us at one of our Visitor Centers: 37 Washington Court, Harpers Ferry or Charles Washington Hall, corner of George and Washington Streets, Charles Town. In Jefferson County, we’ll make you feel right at home!

Outdoor activities are common in Jefferson County, WV. In fact, any reason to be outside is a good one when there’s scenery like this to be enjoyed. The natural areas of the county are ideal for cycling, hiking, fishing, or just enjoying the day in a nearby park.

It's common to see serious cyclists out enjoying the terrain. There are also plenty of opportunities for hikers to go for a short stroll or an invigorating multi-mile trek. In fact, the famous Appalachian Trail runs right through Harper’s Ferry.

The Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers converge here in Jefferson County and offer some truly spectacular rafting and floating opportunities. River Riders and other rafting and tour outposts can help you gear up before you head out.

The Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers are perfect for anglers who want to catch a variety of species of fish. Both self-guided and professionally-guided fishing are allowed. Jefferson County also has several wildlife management or wildlife viewing areas where you can get a glimpse of the local fauna.

Harpers Ferry National Historical Park

A visit to this quaint, historic community, at the confluence of the Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers, will transport you into the past. Stroll the picturesque streets, visit exhibits and museums, or hike our trails and battlefields. Significant sites include the former United States armory and arsenal, and the site of John Brown’s raid that precipitated the Civil War.

Harpers Ferry was the first command of Thomas “Stonewall” Jackson and location of five Civil War battles. The largest battle in modern-day West Virginia, involving over 40,000 troops, happened here, resulting in the largest surrender of US troops during the Civil War.

Harpers Ferry played a key role in the education of former slaves through the establishment of Storer College. Harpers Ferry also hosted the civil rights Niagara Movement that laid the foundation for the NAACP.

quaint & historic small towns

Jefferson County is home to three unique small towns all filled with culture, history, and activities. Shepherdstown is an eclectic college town filled with great shopping and dining venues. Harpers Ferry is famous for its rich history and outdoor recreation opportunities. Charles Town features exciting racing and gaming in a town steeped with Washington family heritage. Explore all three of these beautiful towns and discover their individual charms.

Bloomery Plantation Distillery

Inspired by the art of crafting home-grown, natural fruit cordials, the passionate Bloomery staff will share the entire process, from fruit tree to bottle, at this 12-acre farm in Charles Town. Savor a great spirit in a casual and relaxed tasting room. Experience inventive cordials and cocktails, attentive service, and a friendly atmosphere in this historic 1840s log cabin distillery.

This charming mini-distillery makes artisan cordials by hand from the farm’s own lemons and raspberries. Bloomery makes a limoncello that rivals any Italian limoncello. They have been recognized with 20 international awards. They have also crafted a variety of SweetShines, including Chocolate Raspberry, Peach, Raspberry Lemon, and the popular “Moonshine Milkshake Cremma Lemma.”

Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races

When you visit Jefferson County you’ll find the thrill of gaming and racing with ease and convenience. Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races is a full entertainment experience featuring 2,700 slot machines as well as the hottest new games and high-tech machines. Hollywood Casino features Las Vegas style table action with live blackjack, craps, roulette, and poker. And the casino is open 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year.

Experience the thrill of live thoroughbred racing—under the lights, all year long! Home to the $1,500,000 Charles Town Classic and West Virginia Breeders Classic, Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races offers some of the nation’s best full-field, nine-race cards.

In addition to gaming and racing, Hollywood Casino is known for great food, including the Wine Spectator Award-winning Final Cut Steakhouse where you can savor prime cuts of steak, or 9 Dragons featuring authentic Asian cuisine and sushi.

Stay at the Inn at Charles Town, a convenient, comfortable hotel that offers first-class amenities including shuttle service to the casino and race track.

Charles Town is an ideal place to slip into the past. If you don’t know its stories, just walk the historic downtown. Streets such as Washington lead to landmarks and hint at Charles Town’s history. 275 years ago, Charles Washington—youngest brother to George—founded this town. Stroll past his former residence, a Classical-Revival treasure called Happy Retreat, and visit Zion Episcopal Church Cemetery, where numerous Washington family members are buried.

Downtown, a green cupola marks the Jefferson County Courthouse, where John Brown’s saga came to an end in 1859. (Don’t miss interpretive exhibits inside the courthouse, or seasonal ranger-guided tours that depart from Charles Washington Hall.)
Stroll back in time to an historic and quaint village at the confluence of the Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers in Harpers Ferry, West Virginia.

Picture an exceptional and rare setting as you wander through our historic downtown filled with distinctive shops and scrumptious cafés all surrounded by one of America’s gems, the Harpers Ferry National Historical Park. Home to the famous John Brown raid, Civil War battles, and the foundation of the NAACP, this town provides you a wealth of choices from hiking and ziplines to exploring the C&O Canal or the Appalachian Trail. Whether you’re searching for the great outdoors, sweet treats, or rich history, Harpers Ferry will leave you wanting more.
play

Two rivers create a world of adventure within Harpers Ferry. Spend a leisurely day plying placid waters on a stand-up paddleboard—or conquering raging, class-III rapids. River Riders can help you arrange either excursion or something different altogether, such as a zipline tour through the verdant tree canopy.

remember

Harpers Ferry immerses you in history and nature. The two combine seamlessly inside Harpers Ferry National Historical Park. Start here with a ranger-guided tour of the U.S. Armory and Arsenal held by John Brown and his army for three fiery days in 1859. Next, walk the campus of erstwhile Storer College, where a forerunner to the NAACP was shaped.

Just steps from landmark sites such as these, epic hikes await: Cross the footbridge over the Potomac River to trace the historic towpath along the scenic C&O Canal, once the lifeline of communities in the region. Drop into the heart of the Appalachian Trail, where challenging climbs are rewarded with panoramas of the mystic Blue Ridge Mountains and the Potomac and Shenandoah River Valleys below. Now that’s a way to discover it all.

Take a deep breath of fresh air when you vacation in lovely and historic Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

History abounds in West Virginia’s oldest town, where the steamboat was invented in 1787, and the Maryland Campaign ended in 1862. Backroads and trails invite cyclists, hikers, and runners, as the Potomac invites kayaking and fishing. Home to a world-renowned theater festival, two film festivals, and live music of every kind, Shepherdstown will never bore visitors. There are no chain stores or eateries here; boutiques and restaurants are genuinely local. Shepherdstown has been called one of the coolest small towns, one of the best small Southern towns, and one of the best weekend getaways. Come see for yourself, and we know you’ll return.

In Shepherdstown, go for fine dining at The Press Room (imagine grilled rack of lamb drizzled with mint pesto), or a relaxed meal paired with local craft beer at domestic.

An extensive menu of German and American fare lovingly prepared by master chefs, is the hallmark of the Bavarian Inn located overlooking the beautiful Potomac River.
Above all, you must experience the performing arts in Shepherdstown. Shepherd University anchors the scene with its Performing Arts Series, an annual line-up that might feature a blues master one month and the Appalachian Heritage Festival the next.

In summer, Shepherd University hosts the Contemporary American Theater Festival. This is your chance to see as many as six new plays performed in one month (July)—plays so innovative, critics and fans nationwide are drawn to the festival. Back downtown, catch a show at the Black Box Arts Center, founded by a group of local actors, or grab a seat at historic Shepherdstown Opera House for a film screening or live music—local and national touring acts alike come through this venue. For a retro feel, drop into O’Hurley’s General Store on a Thursday evening, to hear free, live, traditional folk and dance music.

Shepherdstown may be West Virginia’s oldest town, but its vibe is fresh. Discover a true arts community with boutique shops and art galleries throughout walkable downtown Shepherdstown. Locally owned, uniquely stocked, and perfect for leisurely browsing.

Budget Travel editors and readers named Shepherdstown one of America’s “Coolest Small Towns.”

For travelers, that sort of endorsement packs the promise that here, you can discover it all—whether you’re cycling the historic C&O Canal towpath or kayaking along the forested banks of the Potomac River; whether you’re downtown enjoying a delicious meal at an original restaurant or browsing works by regional artists.
Fly through the sky on a zipline or conquer the rapids on a guided trip with River Riders. Bike or hike the Appalachian Trail or the C&O Canal, or try your luck at Hollywood Casino. Whatever your passion, you can find it here in Jefferson County.
Shepherdstown and Harpers Ferry both provide easy access to the C&O Canal and welcome cyclists for pampering and relaxation on their journey.

CITY OF CHARLES TOWN

It would be an understatement to write that Jefferson County is history rich. Wherever your historical interests lie, you will find that remarkable and nationally significant events have occurred here. Explore for yourselves our Revolutionary and Civil War histories. Go back and learn about the first steam engine or come into the present and find out about the Israeli-Syrian Peace talks. Both of which contributed to a county unbelievably steeped in history.

The Civil War changed Jefferson County and the nation forever. Civil War markers, battle sites, and museum exhibits share this transformative story. Located on the border between the United States and the fledgling Confederacy, Jefferson County was trapped between two nations at war. Jefferson County's strategic location made it a target for both North and South during the Civil War. Battle action occurred here every year. The largest engagement in present-day West Virginia happened here when Stonewall Jackson captured 12,700 Union troops in the Battle of Harpers Ferry—the biggest surrender of U.S. soldiers during the war.

John Brown altered America's destiny when he targeted Jefferson County to launch his war to end slavery. The fiery abolitionist attacked the U.S. armory and arsenal at Harpers Ferry on October 16, 1859, in an attempt to obtain weapons for his gathering army. Though the raid proved unsuccessful, Brown captivated the nation with the letters he wrote from jail. During his widely publicized trial at the courthouse in Charles Town—still in use today—Brown was tried, convicted, and sentenced in one of the most famous trials in American history.

During the Civil War, thousands of former enslaved persons sought refuge behind Union lines at Harpers Ferry. The Lockwood House in Harpers Ferry became the first school house for former slaves in Jefferson County, and it then grew into Storer College—the first institution of higher learning in the state of West Virginia for African Americans, and one of the first in the former Confederacy.

President Thomas Jefferson had a great vision—to explore the Louisiana Purchase. He chose his secretary, Meriwether Lewis, to command an expedition known as the Corps of Discovery, along with the assistance of William Clark. In the spring of 1803, Lewis arrived at the U.S. armory and arsenal at Harpers Ferry to gather supplies for the trek, including bullet molds and gun parts. He also worked with armory designers to develop an experimental collapsible boat before embarking on the Corps of Discovery.
