The 2018 vintage

The 2018 vintage is, at Domaine de Bellene, an unexpected vintage. After a succession of low yield vintages due to climatic problems such as hail storms and frost, this new vintage is opulent in every sense of the word. Thanks to a frost-free vegetative cycle with no rain during flowering, no hail, no fungal infection and no heatwave, vines produced a large amount of quality grapes. For this 2018 vintage, Domaine de Bellene harvested on average 51 hectoliters per hectare - all appellations included. The maturity of the grapes is exceptional regarding both sugars and polyphenols. We started harvesting on September 4th the parcel Nuits Saint Georges Aux Chaignots, which already had a 13.5% alcoholic potential. Harvest time stretched to September 21st and ended in our Hautes Côtes de Beaune plots. We decided to practice long vatting times, from 21 to 31 days, in order to minimize our interventions. The wines are definitely of the highest quality, they are very aromatic with silky tannins, and show a complex structure. These wines may be drunk young but also have an important ageing potential.
