Key Risk & Insurance Components

- Professional Liability exposures may be moderate or very significant, depending on the type of consulting work performed.
- Automobile Liability exposure depends on whether or not any transport is involved, such as shuttle for temporary workers or transport to job interviews. The automobile exposure will increase significantly if any transport is offered or if employees use their own vehicles for company business.
- Workers' Compensation exposures can be limited to office-type hazards if no employees of the company are leased or rented out. Exposures can increase significantly when workers are leased or rented out as the company has little control over the client's work premises or hazards.
