II. BACKGROUND

2. TRS is a telephone transmission service that enables persons who are deaf, hard of hearing, deaf-blind, as well as those with speech disabilities to communicate by wire or radio with hearing individuals in a manner that is functionally equivalent to voice communication services utilized by those without such disabilities. Section 225 of the Act obligates the Commission to ensure that TRS is “available, to the extent possible and in the most efficient manner” to persons with hearing or speech disabilities in the United States. In addition, the Act directs the Commission to adopt implementing regulations that encourage the use of existing technology and do not discourage or impair the development of new technologies.

3. The Commission has approved various forms of TRS, including traditional Text telephone (TTY), VRS, and IP Relay. The Commission also has taken numerous steps to protect the TRS Fund from abuse and ensure that it only covers the cost of compensable minutes generated by eligible users. In 2008, the Commission adopted a new numbering system to assign VRS and IP Relay users ten-digit numbers linked to the North American Numbering Plan. These dedicated numbers are similar to the 7 TRS users do not pay to use the service. To cover the costs of TRS, telecommunications carriers and Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) service providers collect a surcharge from all subscribers as part of the billing process. 47 C.F.R. § 64.604(c)(5) (establishing the method for recovering the costs of TRS from subscribers of interstate and intrastate telecommunications (e.g., mobile telephone, operator services, voice telephone services, toll free number services, international, etc.) and VoIP services and contributions to the TRS Fund). These monies are then paid into the TRS Fund and used to reimburse eligible TRS providers for the costs of providing TRS. 47 U.S.C. § 225(d)(3). Section 64.604(c)(5)(iii)(D) of the Rules requires TRS providers seeking compensation from the TRS Fund to submit true and adequate data to the TRS Fund administrator to, among other things, facilitate payments.

telephone numbers used by persons without disabilities, allowing VRS and IP Relay users to more easily make and receive calls, ensuring direct and automatic routing of emergency calls,\(^9\) and reducing the misuse of IP Relay.\(^{10}\)

4. After December 31, 2008, VRS and IP Relay providers were prohibited from providing non-emergency service to a new VRS or IP Relay user unless the provider first registered the user and assigned the user a ten-digit number.\(^{11}\) To further guard against misuse and help ensure that VRS and IP Relay are used only for the intended purposes, the Commission subsequently required VRS and IP Relay providers to institute procedures to verify the information provided by users during registration, including the user’s name and address, and to obtain a self-certification whereby the user verifies that he or she has a medically recognized hearing or speech disability necessitating their use of TRS.\(^{12}\) The Commission also emphasized that certain TRS calls are not compensable on a per-minute basis, including calls by provider or subcontractor employees.\(^{13}\)

5. On March 11, 2011, the Bureau’s Telecommunications Consumers Division (TCD) issued a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to AT&T seeking information on the Company’s VRS and IP Relay service offerings, emergency call handling processes, submissions to the TRS Fund administrator, and registration and verification of VRS and IP Relay users assigned ten-digit numbers, among other things.\(^{14}\) On January 23, 2012, the Bureau issued a supplemental LOI to AT&T requesting more detailed information on AT&T’s process for registering and verifying users of IP Relay.\(^{15}\) The Bureau simultaneously issued a subpoena to AT&T for certain records related to TRS reimbursement requests.\(^{16}\) AT&T timely filed responses to these inquiries.

III. TERMS OF AGREEMENT

6. Adopting Order. The Parties agree that the provisions of this Consent Decree shall be subject to final approval by the Bureau by incorporation of such provisions by reference in the Adopting Order.

10. Second Internet-based TRS Order, 24 FCC Rcd at 809-810, para. 38 (noting that the ten-digit numbering systems eliminates the anonymity previously associated with using the service).

7. Jurisdiction. AT&T agrees that the Bureau has jurisdiction over it and the matters contained in this Consent Decree and that the Bureau has the authority to enter into and adopt this Consent Decree.

8. Effective Date; Violations. The Parties agree that this Consent Decree shall become effective on the Effective Date. As of the Effective Date, the Adopting Order and this Consent Decree shall have the same force and effect as any other order of the Commission. Any violation of the Adopting Order or of the terms of this Consent Decree shall constitute a separate violation of a Commission order, entitling the Commission to exercise any rights and remedies attendant to the enforcement of a Commission order.

9. Termination of Investigation. In express reliance on the covenants and representations in this Consent Decree and to avoid further expenditure of public resources, the Bureau agrees to terminate the Investigation. In consideration for the termination of the Investigation, AT&T agrees to the terms, conditions, and procedures contained herein. The Bureau further agrees that in the absence of new material evidence, the Bureau will not use the facts developed in this Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute on its own motion any new proceeding, formal or informal, or take any action on its own motion against AT&T concerning the matters that were the subject of the Investigation. The Bureau also agrees that, based solely on the record developed to date in this Investigation, and in the absence of new material evidence it will not use the facts developed in this Investigation through the Effective Date, or the existence of this Consent Decree, to institute on its own motion any proceeding, formal or informal, or take any action on its own motion against AT&T with respect to AT&T’s basic qualifications, including its character qualifications, to hold Commission certifications, licenses, or authorizations. AT&T further represents and warrants that it used this process to verify all IP Relay users by the end of June 2012. AT&T further represents and warrants that it has removed from the iTRS database any and all assigned ten-digit numbers that correspond to AT&T registered users who failed to provide the required self-certification as to their disability and eligibility or who could not be verified through the Company’s verification process (i.e., verification of the registrant’s name, address, and a link between such name and address). AT&T also represents and warrants that the Company’s last request for reimbursement for IP Relay was submitted to the TRS Fund administrator in January 2012, and that the Company has received no reimbursements for IP Relay from the TRS Fund since February 2012, other than true-ups attributable to reimbursements for months prior to January 2012.

AT&T shall repeat the compliance training on an annual basis and shall periodically review and revise the Compliance Training Program as necessary to ensure that it remains current and complete and to enhance its effectiveness.

(d) Acts or Omissions of Contractors and Agents. AT&T acknowledges that the act, failure to act, or omission by any independent contractor, subcontractor, or agent of AT&T, acting in such capacity, that results in a violation of the Act, TRS Rules, or this Consent Decree constitutes an act, failure to act, or omission by AT&T. In the event that this Consent Decree in its entirety is rendered invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, it shall become null and void and may not be used in any manner in any legal proceeding.

22. Subsequent Rule or Order. The Parties agree that if any provision of the Consent Decree conflicts with any subsequent Rule or order adopted by the Commission (except an order specifically intended to revise the terms of this Consent Decree to which AT&T does not expressly consent) that provision will be superseded by such Rule or Commission order.

23. Successors and Assigns. AT&T agrees that the provisions of this Consent Decree shall be binding on its successors, assigns, and transferees.

24. Final Settlement. The Bureau conducted the Investigation into AT&T’s possible violation of Section 225 of the Act and the TRS Rules. AT&T neither admits nor denies any such violations, and the Commission does not concede or otherwise represent that its claims are not well-founded.
