

Social

The standout Instagram account that's capturing our attention right now.

@george_byrne

Painter-turned-photographer George Byrne doesn't capture any particularly extraordinary subjects—just the city of Los Angeles, where he's based. But by often taking his subject matter out of context, he turns his shots into geometric abstractions. "It's all about the form and getting lost in it," he says. 85,700 followers