

The End of a Season!

I want to thank all of you for your faithfulness, support and prayers during this great adventure I have been on. I have grown so much in my faith and even my own identity in Christ. I have watched God do amazing things through me overseas as so many have come to Christ and even more have been trained and deepened in their faith. I have sensed God's anointing on my teaching and relationship building. But I really think when we serve the Lord we usually receive more than we give. Our sacrifice becomes God's way of bringing his healing. I have no doubt that much of this journey was suppose to lead to this place.....

On August 16th Bill VanZandt proposed to me on Siesta Key during sunset. It all is so perfect and right! We both feel God's favor on us as we have spent much time in prayer and discussion about God merging our lives together and this is the first step. Our wedding is set for Jan. 29th, 2011 at VBC. I'm so glad so many of you got to meet him before he proposed. It was so special being back at VBC for the weekend and sensing what God is doing there.

At first I really thought I would continue to stay with GRM from a distance. However, I recently learned that my funds are very low. This all made me re-evaluate if this was still where God's calling was for me. The timing of my move and all the transitions of my life made seek God's direction. After much prayer and seeking God's heart it has become clear that God is moving me out of ministry with GRM. I have given my notice here and will be finishing my time by October 16th. I will then be driving with Bill to Michigan to start a new life and ministry near his side. As you know, I will always be ministering to others and seeking his lead to use my life and gifts for his Kingdom.

My Funding Needs:

As stated before my funds are very low and I'm in need of support to finish this season well. If you would pray about giving to my need that would really be a blessing at this time. For those of you who are monthly supporters I want to thank you for your incredible faithfulness through the month of October. Words cannot express my humble gratitude for your partnership. If you have been an occasional giver your gifts often came at times that built my faith and I would be grateful for your partnership to help me finish this season out.

Financial Needs:

$900 towards my next Romania trip (Sept.27-Oct.7th)

$1000 for relocation fees and my final weeks here (my support is stretched thin)

Thank you for sharing in my joy and I hope you can reserve our wedding date on your calendar. If you would like to RSVP early you can visit <http://www.mywedding.com/billandcaye/>
