

U-Verse and Your Rights

What is it?

U-Verse is a television, internet, entertainment and phone service, housed in a private utility box. AT&T plans to install 726, 5' wide, 4' tall, and 2' deep boxes in neighborhoods all over the city.

What are my options?

- Protest the box on public sidewalks
- Permit AT&T to use your property
- Accept the box as a permanent part of our public realm.

How you can protest:

Contact the City using the sample protest letter below at smf@sfdpw.org and CC: jonathan@sfbeautiful.org, by mail at the Bureau of Street-Use and Mapping, Room 460, SF, CA 94102, OR fax to 415.554.6161.

Permit AT&T to use your property:

AT&T is required to attempt to contact 3 property owners before placing their cabinets in the public right of way. If you are interested in housing a cabinet, contact Tedi Vriheas at 415.778.1221 or tedi@att.com
