

2010 Artist Application - Call for Artists

Table Top forms and Free Form Projects Only

The Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction committee is seeking artists for the 6th Annual Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction, an exciting community visual arts event held in Custer City, SD and the surrounding Black Hills! As we have seen in years past, this event draws thousands of people to Custer City and the Black Hills as they peruse the area in search of buffalo art. This is a great opportunity for an artist to connect with the public.

Artwork opportunities

The Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction committee is seeking artists who are enthusiastic about being part of the 6th Annual Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction. The event involves a variety of bison artwork that can be embellished in any medium for interior or exterior display. Artists will supply all of their own materials and be responsible for any exterior coating process to make their piece weatherproof.

The committee will select ten (10) table top artists. The cost for the fiberglass forms will not exceed $200. Cost of the forms will be deducted from the sale price of your artwork after the commission is calculated (please see attached sample of the calculation) so there is no upfront form cost to the artist.

Artists are also encouraged to participate in the "Free Form" category and create an original piece of bison artwork of any size or medium. However, any piece weighing 200 pounds or more will be the responsibility of the artist for transportation and placement throughout the course of the project.

Only completed applications will be considered.

Artist Selection Criteria

The following criteria will be used by the selection committee to evaluate all completed applications:

1. Artists demonstrate professional practice and accomplishment through work and if applicable, in the field of public art.
2. Excellence in artistic vision and sensitivity to the integrity of the bison as well as its cultural meanings.

Additional information

If you submit a design for a free-form life-sized exterior artwork, please include some type of "anchor" to secure it to the sidewalk or in the grass. Artists chosen to use a fiberglass form will be responsible for picking up the form and delivering the completed piece to Custer. Artists will also be responsible for putting a "clear coat" type finish on their form, if appropriate. Selected artists will be notified when the forms become available.

Promotion

The Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction committee will extensively promote the event and the art pieces at no cost to the artist. However, it is highly recommended that chosen artists also promote their piece to their constituents and patrons. Artists will give all rights of photos, biography, and interviews to Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction for promotion of the event. The original artwork created for the Custer Stampede Buffalo Art Auction is not to be reproduced or duplicated by the artist for monetary gain. Artists In Residence Program

This community has been very supportive of past buffalo artists participating in the artists-in-residence program. It is an opportunity for out of town artists to visit, work, and get to know the community. Typical residencies last up to one week. In the past, rooms and meals have been donated to the artists-in-residence program. The committee will likely see the same kind of community support this year. Please specify the dates you would like to come and develop your bison artwork between March 1, 2010 and May 21, 2010. Please check the appropriate terms below and fill in the dates for the Artist in Residence program should you choose to participate.
