2010/HOME/351	Affaires intérieures	Directive on the confiscation and recovery of criminal assets in the European Union	HOME	octobre 2011	Traité sur le fonctionnement de l'Union européenne: to be determine by LS	procédure législative ordinaire (COD)			Programme de travail de la Commission / 2011 / Initiatives stratégiques EU Action Plans on organised crime constantly highlighted the need to attack the proceeds of crime through an enhanced use of confiscation and asset recovery procedures. The 2008 Commission Communication "Proceeds of organised crime Ensuring that crime does not pay" notes that organised crime activities are profit-driven. At present the number of freezing procedures and confiscation cases in the EU seems to be relatively limited and the amounts recovered from organised crime seem modest if compared to the estimated revenues of organised criminal groups. An increased and more effective use of confiscation procedures seems desirable.

2008/JUST/123	Justice, Droits fondamentaux et Citoyenneté	Proposal for a Regulation facilitating cross border debt recovery: the European Order on the freezing of bank accounts	JUST	20 juillet 2011	Traité sur le fonctionnement de l'Union européenne: Article 61(c) EC and second indent of Article 67(5) EC, new 81	procédure législative ordinaire (COD)	O		Programme de travail de la Commission / 2011 / Initiatives stratégiques Programme de travail de la Commission / 2010 / Annexe II The initiative aims at improving the cross-border debt recovery in the European Union that is of particular importance in times of economic crisis. As a protective measure it will allow creditors involved in cross-border disputes to secure the effective enforcement of their claims abroad, thus also improving the efficiency of enforcement.

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS / PROPOSITIONS LÉGISLATIVES

2011/HOME/002	Affaires intérieures	Regulation on administrative measures with regard to capital movements and payments, by natural or legal persons, groups or non-State entities to fight terrorism within the EU	HOME	décembre 2011	Traité sur le fonctionnement de l'Union européenne: Art 75	procédure législative ordinaire (COD)			Programme de travail de la Commission / 2011 / Annexe II Building upon the new legal base introduced by the Lisbon Treaty (Art. 75 TFEU), the initiative aims at closing a gap by allowing for the freezing of assets of persons/entities related to terrorist activities inside the EU, supplementing Regulation 2580/2001 which covers terrorist activities outside the EU. The existing deficiency has already had a negative impact for EU Member states as regards compliance with the global standards on counter terrorist financing and on the ability of up-dating existing terrorist lists. Moreover, a regulation based on Art. 75 TFEU could serve to set up a high standard of legal certainty and of protection of fundamental rights, following the critical stance of the European courts
2011/HOME/006	Affaires intérieures	Proposal for a review of the Directive 2006/24/EC (Data Retention)	HOME	décembre 2011	Législation secondaire: Directive 2006/24/EC	procédure législative ordinaire (COD)			Programme de travail de la Commission / 2011 / Annexe II The evaluation looks at the minimum harmonisation that the Directive ought to bring (period of retention, types of data to retain, categories of crime for which they can be used), the levelling of the playing field for economic operators (reimbursement of costs), and avoiding removal of the distortion of the internal market. Moreover, data protection concerns remain, but relate most of the time to access and use of the retained data that are until now, covered by national law. The cross-border use of retained data is very low.

They can be a vital tool for maintaining business reputation and preserving customer relationship and trust. ADR has not reached its full potential. Not all consumer disputes can be solved through ADR due to the lack of schemes in certain sectors. Consumer and business awareness of ADR remains low. Promoting ADR will improve consumer confidence in shopping across border and the functioning of the Internal Market. Promoting online out-of-court dispute resolution for cross-border ecommerce transactions will contribute to the development of a Digital Single Market.

Experience with handling recurrent product safety alerts, the complexity of establishing useful safety benchmarks, the globalisation challenges, are the main drivers. An internal market of safe goods for consumers needs simpler, clearer rules for more effective enforcement. Businesses deserve a genuine level playing field. Better coordination of action by Member State authorities is key to improvements. The RAPEX system is already widely recognised, yet it could even better help ensure that all Europeans enjoy same levels of safety if the legislative framework were upgraded.

2009/SANCO/024	Santé	Review of the provisions related to the total feed ban: Commission Regulation amending total feed ban provisions (the use of non-ruminant animal proteins in aqua feed)	SANCO	décembre 2011	Législation secondaire: Article 23 (a) of Regulation (EC) No 999/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 May 2001 laying down rules for the prevention, control and eradication of certain transmissible spongiform encephalopathies			Other simplification This initiative refers to the re-introduction of non ruminant processed animal proteins in aqua feed. Since 2001 there is a total EU wide suspension on the use of processed animal protein in feed for any animals farmed for the production of food. The introduction of this measure will introduce specific labelling and channelling requirements which will again allow the use of non ruminant processed animal proteins in aqua feed. Taken into account the very specific industry for aqua feed production and the aqua feed sector, the absence of species specific detection methods can be balanced by stringent channelling requirements, dedicated establishments and the use of rapid screening methods.
2009/SANCO/025	Santé	Review of the provisions related to the total feed ban: Commission Regulation amending Annex IV to Regulation (EC) No 999/2001 with regard to the introduction of a tolerance level for fishmeal in ruminant feed	SANCO	décembre 2011	Législation secondaire: Article 23 (a) of Regulation (EC) No 999/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 May 2001 laying down rules for the prevention, control and eradication of certain transmissible spongiform encephalopathies			Other simplification The initiative introduces a tolerance level of fishmeal in ruminant feed, currently prohibited in feed intended for ruminants and with specific conditions applying for non-ruminants. Total feed ban provisions have a zero tolerance approach. Any finding of fish meal in ruminant feed is considered a breach. Although fishmeal is authorised for non-ruminants, feed mills are reluctant to use this derogation due to the potential cross-contamination which would be a breach of the total feed ban requiring tracing and destruction of contaminated consignments. This tolerance level will prevent a disproportionate destruction of feed consignments where the scientific evidence indicating that there is no risk linked to this contamination.

Under the total feed ban provisions a zero tolerance approach is taken. Based on available scientific evidence and if the control tools are available to quantify the amount of processed animal proteins in feed, a tolerance level for insignificant amounts of processed animal proteins in ruminant feed might be considered. This tolerance level will allow preventing a disproportionate destruction of feed consignments where the scientific evidence indicates the negligible risk linked to this contamination.

There is however no question to re-introduce ruminant meal in feed. The mandatory treatment of mammalian proteins (133°C, 3 Bars, 20 minutes) results in very small fragments of animal proteins which are hard to detect by the current analytical methods. When species specific detection methods become available to differentiate between animal proteins from pig, poultry and ruminant origin, the use of animal proteins from non-ruminants in feed while respecting the principle of cannibalism i.e. PAP from pigs in poultry feed and vice versa might be envisaged while introducing specific labelling and stringent channelling requirements.
